MINNESOTA is still waging her war upon the wearers of tight, and the bill making it an offense for actresses to wear these articles of clothing has passed the senate by a vote of 37 to 12.

THERE is now no longer any doubt but that the Kansas Farmers' Alliance gets its inspiration direct from the rain-bow chasers of the nation. Their latest war-cry is "rain-bow chasing." This isn't rain-bow chasing, then what is it?

A LITTLE over 20,000 votes were cast in the recent Denver city election, a gain of over 6,000 from the vote two years ago. This represents a gain in population of over 1,000 a month, a showing that is very satisfactory indeed, and one that is equalled by no city in Denver's class.

OUR little flare-up with Italy has already started the clamor for coast defenses. New Yorkers pretend to be not a little exercised over their defenseless condition, and they are resolute in as to the necessity of Uncle Sam coming to their rescue and constructing suitable fortifications. As a matter of fact, this matter, as well as that of providing an adequate navy, ought to have received attention long ago. Now it probably will.

JAY GOULD's present western trip is said to be for the purpose of taking a final look at the situation before he gives the word for consolidating the railway enterprises of the Union Pacific, A. T. & S. F., Missouri Pacific and Southern Pacific. What a combine this represents! Yet Gould is able to carry it. Twenty years ago the man to suggest such an enterprise in the west, representing as it does 40,000 miles of railroad, would have been proclaimed a full brother to the immortal Col. Sellers.

SECRETARY TRACY has introduced a new departure in the naval department of the governmental machinery, for which the masses who have at heart the real welfare of the government, will thank him. He says the navy shall no longer be a part of the political machine, and that hereafter no politics, simply the fitness of men, will be considered in the employment of men by the naval bureau. This is right. The navy ought to be made the pride of every American, but it can not be made so until there has been such a beginning as Secretary Tracy proposes.

THE NEW LICENSE ON LIQUOR.

The new graded license act takes effect in New Mexico May 1. The law has already been twice published in these columns and in several other newspapers of the territory, and those most interested in its provisions are doubtless familiar with them. As to the county boards, however, having any "official notification" that the law exists and goes into effect on the date named, none is required nor should it be expected. The law was duly passed, received the signature of the governor, has been published in full and in a few days will be issued to the public along with all the other acts of the 20th legislative assembly. It speaks for itself and those who undertake to evade its provisions will certainly find themselves in the midst of a sea of troubles.

The law excuses no man for ignorance. There is but one of two things to be done in the premises, either the license for retailing liquors required by this act must be paid, for one year and in advance, or the retailer must shut up shop and go into some other business. The NEW MEXICAN Printing company has new in course of preparation a large number of blank forms in the nature of applications for licenses, which county officials will require in the execution of this law, and about which inquiries should be addressed to the business manager of this newspaper.

MOVING EARLY.

The transcontinental roads report the tourist traffic from the east to the west as setting in much earlier this season than usual, and just what to make of it is a puzzle to some. It is an ill wind that blows nobody any good, however, and unquestionably this early rush to the mountainous regions is attributable to the extraordinary winter just experienced in the east and the unusual sickness that has attended it. In a word, la gripe has set the people who, coming from the damp, raw atmosphere of the east, to the pure, dry air region of the west. It seems to be a fact that while la gripe is no respecter of persons or localities, it is nevertheless scarcely ever fatal in the higher altitudes.

As to its fatality in the lower altitudes, one has merely to glance at the terrible record of mortality statistics coming almost daily from the entire country east of the Mississippi valley. From New Orleans to the northern lakes and from the New England states comes the same sad story, la gripe numbering its victims by the thousand. An epidemic of cholera could scarcely be more disastrous, particularly in those localities where throat and lung troubles abound. In New York city there were 2,200 deaths last week, mostly caused by this disease. Is it any wonder then that the people who can be scurrying away to the pure air of the Rockies?

THE MORTGAGE SCARE.

Only a little while ago the Democratic journals of the country were howling themselves hoarse over the mortgaged condition of western farmers. Since the census bureau has investigated the matter, however, the Democrats and their allies, their arguments failing to hold water by several jugs full. According to the official reports there was, a year ago, in the state of Iowa, a real estate mortgage indebtedness amounting to about $100 per head of population, as against a ratio of debt in England to each unit of population of $225, and in Germany of almost an equal amount. The census figures show that less than 10 per cent of the farm acreage of Iowa is mortgaged, and that the average value of mortgages throughout the United States is between $500 and $600; and, further, that in nearly every case the mortgage indebtedness has been incurred for the development of business, and not because of the property owner's poverty. In other words, enterprise is at the bottom of the mortgage indebtedness of the country. A singular illustration of the truth of this fact is found in the statement that there are more mortgages held on Chicago property than in almost any other large city—and Chicago, as every one knows, ranks with the most prosperous and successful business communities in the world.

ONE OF THE NEEDS OF THE HOUR.

While it is true that New Mexico is making progress in all things modern these days, and is going forward at a surprising rate, as a rule, in all her departments of industry, still, in the way of manufactures the whole territory is away behind the times. It ought to be the policy of every wide-awake community henceforth to promote and encourage in every way possible the establishment of manufacturing enterprises. All the conditions, generally speaking, are in our favor in this matter. True, we have the railway's policy of favoring the long haul to contend with, as in the past, but this is by no means as big a bug-bear as it has been made out to be, besides, the chances are that whenever a legitimate business is started it can secure by going about it in a proper manner, every reasonable encouragement from the railway lines. Hence there is really no good reason why manufactures should

WHY DO YOU COUGH?

Do you know that a little cough is a dangerous thing? Are you aware that it often fastens on the lungs and far too often runs into Consumption and ends in Death? People suffering from Asthma, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption will tell you that.

"IT STARTED WITH A COLD."

Can you afford to neglect it? Can you trifle with so serious a matter? Are you aware that Options, lease of real estate and personal property blanks for sale at the NEW MEXICAN printing office.

for Coughs, Colds and Consumption is beyond question the greatest of all Modern Remedies? It will stop a Cough in one night. It will check a Cold in a day. It will prevent Croup, relieve Asthma and cure Consumption if taken in time. "You can't afford to be without it." A 25 cent bottle may save you $100 in Doctor's bills—may save your life! not pay in New Mexico. Many might be named that should prosper from the very start, among them, a tannery, a woolen mill, particularly a wool scouring plant; cement and plaster of paris works; great beds of fire-clay exist in almost every section that can be profitably utilized in many ways; there is room for at least two more big smelter plants in the territory, and there ought to be a flour mill or two established somewhere between Raton and Deming that would keep thousands of dollars at home that now go into Kansas and Colorado. Certainly nature has done all that is necessary for the establishment of such institutions in New Mexico. Labor is cheap and patient, and willing to be taught; the soil is productive to a high degree; fuel is abundant, and in fact all the conditions are most favorable.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Can Never Hope to be Either. The Las Vegas (N. M.) Optic says that it "would rather be right than be president." This suggests a puzzling question as to which would be easier for that paper.—Denver Sun.

That Horrible McKinley Bill Did It.

The price of tin is falling. H. R. Deliet & Co., of New York city, have written to the American Economist that they have received 100 boxes of American-made roofing tin from a manufacturer in Pennsylvania. They say "the quality is excellent" and "the price is a little lower than for the corresponding quality and weight of imported tin-plates." Where are the Mogwumps and Democrats who last fall asserted that this country never could and never would produce a pound of tin-plate? Where is the blatant demagogue who last fall assured the workmen of this city that they would soon be paying 75 cents for their tin dinner pails? All the free trade clubs in our large cities deluged the country with their copious misinformation about the coming rise in the price of tin. Now it is cheaper than ever before. The Welsh producers have lowered their prices. Why have they lowered them? Solely on account of American competition. What caused this new competition? The protective duty on tin, imposed by the McKinley bill. Heretofore the prices of tin were kept up by the McKinley tariff. The McKinley bill has broken the back-bone of their trust by introducing new competition. This is McKinleyism, and it is but a question of time when it will bring tin down to much lower figures.—Cleveland (Ohio) Leader.
