NUMBER 16

TYPOS' STRIKE NOW FULLY ON

Probably Will Prove One of Most Hotly Contested Strikes Known.

HAD YEAR'S PREPARATION

Whole Contest Turns on Work Day of Eight Hours.

LARGE WAGE ADVANCE IS MADE

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Two hundred and forty-five employees of printing houses joined 175 members of the Typographical union in the general strike here today. Three-fourths of the master printers having refused to sign the eight-hour agreement, the strike was declared. The Typographical union is the national organization of printers, and is making efforts to obtain non-union printers.

NOT ALL EMPLOYERS ARE CALLED MILITANT.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—The national eight-hour work day of the Typographical union was declared by that organization to be in effect today in this city. The introduction of the program in this city was not marked by a strike of any magnitude, the bulk of the militant employers having anticipated the movement several weeks ago by locking out their union men, and continuing their shops with few non-union men they were able to obtain.

MORE PLEASING PICTURE OF INCREASED WAGES.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 2.—Beginning with today 30,000 hands employed by the American Woolen company of this city will have their wages increased 10 per cent. The increase becomes effective in the thirty plants of the corporation, which are located in seven states, and it is expected that several mills, not owned by the company will grant a similar advance. The Scotia Worsted Mills of Woonsocket, R. I., controlled by an independent concern and employing 175 hands, has also increased the wages of their men 10 per cent, beginning with New Year. It is estimated that the advance will give the hands of the American Woolen company an aggregate of about $1,000,000 more each year than they have been receiving. Of the mills affected, are fourteen located in the state of Massachusetts, seven in Rhode Island, three in New Hampshire, four in Maine, and one each in Connecticut, Vermont and New York.

UNION IS ON TOP IN AMERICA'S METROPOLIS.

New York, Jan. 2.—One thousand printers went on a strike here today in support of the demand for an eight-hour day. In sixty-two shops the militant employers declared a lock out against their employees, but in 160 shops the Typographical union gained the victory without a man quitting work, as those shops readily granted the eight-hour day and closed shop.

STRIKE OF HOUSESMITHS AFFECTS 200 BUILDINGS.

New York, Jan. 2.—The majority of 6,000 members of the Housemaids and Bridgemen's unions in this city went on a strike today. They demand an increase from $4.50 to $5 per day. Work on 200 new office and factory buildings was affected.

IOWA IS ALMOST UNIT IN STRIKE.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 2.—Twenty per cent of the printers in Iowa are on a strike today. The eight hour day was granted in many cities in the state except Des Moines, Council Bluffs, Cedar Rapids, Keokuk and Creston.

AGRICULTURAL MEETS NORTH AND SOUTH

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 2.—A series of important meetings arranged for the State Board of Agriculture and the presidents of different organizations, was opened this morning with a meeting of the State Fair Board, which will hold an all-day session, for the purpose of reorganization and for the arranging of the program for the current year. This evening, the State Wool Growers' Association will hold its regular annual meeting at the state house.

TOMORROW MORNING THE SWINE BREEDERS' ASSOCIATION WILL MEET.

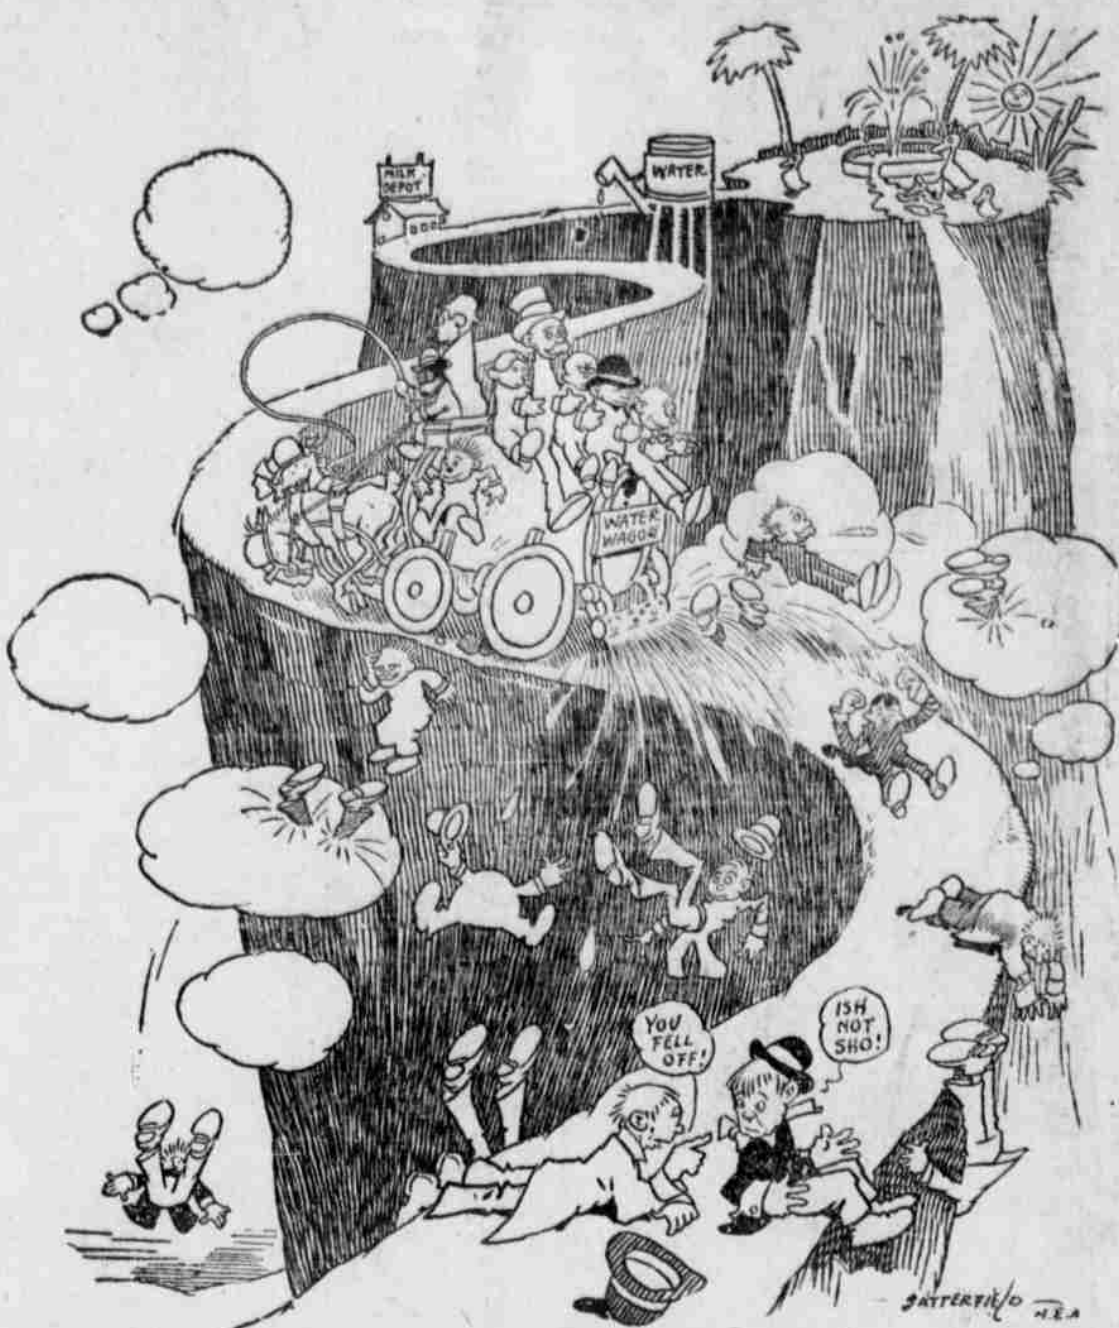

On Thursday the Farmers' Mutual Insurance company and the Indiana Potato Growers' Association will hold all-day meetings. All these sessions will be held in the state house.

COTTON GROWERS ARE NOW GETTING ACTIVE.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 2.—The state convention of county delegates of the cotton growers of this state, opened here today. The delegates of the various counties had been elected by the various district conventions, and the object of the state meeting is to elect delegates to the Interstate Convention to be held at Hot Springs, Ark., to reorganize the Southern Cotton Growers' Association by the election of a new set of officers. Similar meetings for the election of delegates to the Interstate Convention have been held in all southern states.

Spelter, St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 2.—Spelter, Brm. at $6.50.

FALLING, FALLING, FALLING!

(Note.—Yesterday The Evening Citizen announced that a number of Albuquerque citizens were on the water wagon, but Satterfield, who is sojourning in the city for a few days, drew the above cartoon, showing the water wagon going up the hill to the water and milk depots, and several prominent citizens, who had made good resolutions yesterday, falling off the wagon. If this cold weather continues, it is almost certain that the New Year resolutions will all be in line on the other side in a very short time.)

JEROME GETTING READY FOR JUMP

Will Land on Sundry High Insurance Officials Soon.

CHARGED ABUSE OF TRUST

Squealers Will Aid Him in at Least Four of the Companies.

New York, Jan. 2.—The World today says: "District Attorney Jerome will today begin the serious work of preparing for the prosecution of the officers of the life insurance companies, who have abused their trusts. It was stated yesterday by a man in a position to know what is going on within the various insurance companies, that District Attorney Jerome will doubtless receive aid from unexpected sources. He added that before a month shall be out, Jerome will receive overtures from at least one 'squealer' in each of these companies: the Mutual Life, Provident Savings Life, Life Insurance Association of America, and the Mutual Reserve Fund association."

PITY SORROWS OF POOR OLD MAN WITH RICH WIFE.

New York, Jan. 2.—John A. McCall, president of the New York Life, has paid to the company, $235,000 advanced to Andrew Hamilton, and so far not accounted for by Hamilton. Thomas P. Fowler, chairman of the company's investigating committee, appointed by the board of trustees, received today a check from McCall for $25,000, and a note for $150,000. One of the members of the investigating committee of the New York Life said today that the reason that all was not paid in cash was because McCall is a poor man. It is said he will go out of office with practically nothing except his life insurance policy for $500,000, and that in order to pay the note of $150,000 he may have to get assistance from his wife's friends.

PROTECTORS OF GAME AND FISH ASSOCIATION.

Barre, Me., Jan. 2.—The Maine Sportsman's Fish and Game Association met here today in annual meeting, at the Penobscot Exchange. Among the various important questions which will come up for consideration at the meeting, will be the question whether any regulations are needed regarding the carrying of firearms into the hunting sections of the state during close time; also, whether residents should be allowed to carry firearms into the woods in open season without first having secured a permit or license to hunt birds or other game, and what, if any changes are necessary to better protect fish or game during the close season. The attendance is unusually large.

FAMILY SLAUGHTER BY REFUSED LOVER

Horrible Crime Committed by Dental Student Mad With Infatuation.

WOOL BUSINESS IS FAIR

Dealers Think Future Trading Will Continue to Be as Promising.

Calendonia, Minn., Jan. 2.—Infatuated with Pearl Wheaton, daughter of S. N. Wheaton, one of the richest farmers in southern Minnesota, and rendered desperate by her refusal to marry him, Matt Syer, a dental student at the University of Minnesota, broke into the Wheaton home near here last night and shot Pearl, his sister Ruth, her mother and himself. Pearl is dead and the others are fatally wounded. When he entered, he was met by Ruth, who armed with a revolver, attempted to protect the remainder of the family. Syer wrested the revolver from her and shot her twice. He then turned on Mrs. Wheaton, shooting her twice, also, and then bounded upstairs to the room of Pearl. Breaking in the door, he shot the girl through the heart and then shot himself. When help arrived Syer was found with his head on the girl's breast, she dead and his barely alive. The only other occupant of the house, a child of ten, escaped by leaping through a window.

TERRITORIAL WOOLS ABOUT ALL IN.

Boston, Jan. 2.—A fair amount of business has been done in the wool market. Dealers express confidence that a strong undertone exists and that future trading seems promising. About all the present territory clip has passed to dealers or manufacturers, but there is still a large amount of fleeces remaining in the country speculators' hands.

LAWN TENNIS HAS A NEW YEAR TOURNAMENT.

Nice, Jan. 2.—The usual New Year's lawn tennis tournament opened here today. It is for the club champions, which are now held by Miss Vera Warden and J. B. Alexander. The lawn tennis courts are never closed in this city and are in excellent condition all the year round. The Golf Club of Nice, which is a rather recent addition, is also flourishing, and a number of matches will be played here during the months of January and February.

CASES IN COURT OF VARYING INTEREST AND DIVERSE PLACES

Philippine Tariff, Contempt by Paper Trust, Against Senator Clarke for Land Grabbing, Chicago Drainage Canal.

BEFORE U. S. SUPREME COURT ON THE DOCKET

Patrick Employs New Counsel—Boddler Hill in Toils of Court at Philadelphia for Defrauding City. Peculiar Georgia Case.

Washington, D. C., January 2.—A number of highly important cases have been set for hearing today. One of the most important cases which will come up today is the rehearing in the cases of Lincoln and Walker, Barnes & Co. against the United States, involving questions of Philippine tariff. Oral arguments will be heard today upon the one question only: "Has congress the power to ratify what the president did in the matter of collecting Philippine revenue under his war power, after the treaty of Paris had been ratified and before there had been any legislation on the subject?" The case was originally decided by the Supreme Court, against the United States. If the decision is confirmed on rehearing, it will mean the refunding by the government of several millions of dollars paid by the plaintiffs.

The Wisconsin Paper Trust contempt cases have been advanced for today by the Supreme Court, and with them the appeal in the St. Paul cases, in which fines for contempt were imposed by Judge Vandeventer. Another case, which is to be called today is the case of the United States against Senator Clark of Montana, involving the alleged illegal acquisition of timber lands.

The hearing in the case of the State of Missouri vs. the State of Illinois, involving the status of the Chicago drainage canal, is also among the important cases set for a hearing today. Patrick still fighting month. New York, Jan. 2.—Albert T. Patrick, who is under sentence of death, has retained new counsel to carry his case to the United States supreme court. This was made necessary, and involving the status of David B. Hill. The counsel are Archibald C. Shennstone, of Shennstone & Harding, and former Senator Lindsey of Kentucky. The lawyers are to ask the supreme court for a writ of error in order to prepare the case, and it is said they will ask Governor Higgins to grant a stay of execution. Patrick is sentenced to die next month.

MEDICAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE READY

Founded by Rockefeller in Memory of Dead Granddaughter

$3,000,000 IN EQUIPMENT

Offers Facilities in Original Investigation Inobtainable in This Country.

New York, Jan. 2.—The Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research is almost completed, and will be ready for its opening within a few days. This institution was founded by John D. Rockefeller in 1901. The immediate cause of his action was the death of his little granddaughter, five years ago, by dysentery. He felt that a place in which this and other diseases might be studied by experts would be of great service, and in a short time he had the general plan of the institution in his mind. As soon as it was founded, and preparations for plans and buildings begun, the board of directors established scholarships in various laboratories in this country, and sent several physicians to Europe to pursue investigations there. Meanwhile a site was obtained in this city, at the foot of East 66th street. It covers twenty-six city lots, and the main building, five stories high, provides for physiological, chemical and pharmacological laboratories, gives the third and fourth floors to experimental pathology and bacteriology, and the fifth to photomicrography and general photography. The first floor contains the library and assembly hall, and the necessary administrative offices. Besides the main building there are several smaller buildings, for social purposes. For the buildings and equipments Mr. Rockefeller has given $2,000,000, and it is understood that any endowment needed in addition to what has been given, will be added. The possibilities of good results from an institution thus equipped and maintained are almost beyond calculation. It is expected to offer such opportunity for original work of a most useful kind as cannot be had elsewhere in the country, and it is expected that scientists in this country will avail themselves of this rare opportunity.

Wool Still Satisfactory.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 2.—The wool market is steady; territory and western mediums, 25 1/2 to 30; fine mediums, 22 1/2 to 26; fine, 19 1/2 to 21.

PET STOCK AND FINE POULTRY SHOW.

New York, Jan. 2.—The seventeenth annual exhibition of the New York Poultry, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association opened today at Madison Square Garden and will continue through the week. Henry V. Crawford, counselman for the first ward, Montclair, is the secretary and manager of the association, which position he has held for fourteen years. One of the special features of the exhibition will be the New York Cat Show, under the supervision of the Atlantic Cat Club, which will begin tomorrow and will close on Friday evening. The cat show will be held in the Convent Hall of Madison Square Garden. The poultry and pigeon show is unusually fine this year and the number of entries larger than ever before. The list of prices is also larger than in any previous year.

RUSSIAN NEWS QUITE MEAGER

Moscow's Loss Placed at Huge Sum of Five Millions.

CITY RESUMING BUSINESS

American Factories Were Not Destroyed During the Insurrection.

PEOPLE BEWAILING THEIR DEAD

Moscow, Jan. 1.—Monday night—Except for numerous police patrols in the streets and pillars of smoke lazily floating above the ruins of factories and houses in the Presnol district, there is little to recall the nightmare of the past ten days. As if by magic, in twenty-four hours, the appearance of the city has changed. Stores everywhere have been reopened and the streets are filled with holiday shoppers making purchases for the Russian Christmas, which according to the Julian calendar, falls on Sunday.

As early night fell, the guards were doubled, but electric street lamps brilliantly lit the shop windows. The Presnol district, however, presented another picture. There people by the hundreds, who had been burned out, were excitedly searching the ruins or bemoaning their loss of dear ones, while the police and troops continued their hunt for revolutionists.

The only warlike incident was a rear attack by a body of druzhins upon a detachment of troops stationed at a bridge with instructions to cover the work of the firemen. The soldiers when attacked, turned right about and fired a volley, killing three students and wounding several others.

Losses of casualties and losses of property are being compiled at Governor General Doukassoff's headquarters, and are promised tomorrow.

At the Bourse today, a prominent manufacturer estimated the damage done in the burned district at $5,000,000. The American factories, of which the New York Air Brake company, the Barry Boiler company, and the Singer Manufacturing company, are the principal, have not suffered. Most of the undamaged factories have resumed work. The railroads and telegraph lines are resuming work slowly.

MONEY ON CALL DID NOT DO AS EXPECTED

New York, Jan. 2.—The belief expressed last week in Wall street that the stringency in the money market, which had sent rates for call money soaring to record heights, would be relieved in a marked degree by the release of funds which had been gathered for the payment of yearly dividends, was not realized today. The first call of the new year for money was made at 50 per cent per annum. From 50 the rate ran back to 30 per cent.

During the afternoon call money was offered as low as 25 per cent, but just before the close the market loans were made at 60 per cent.

HOW THE MARKET WAS AT CLOSING HOUR.

New York, Jan. 2.—Prime money (10 paper, 6 per cent. Silver, 6 1/2 per cent. Money on call was strong, 25 to 60 per cent; closing bid, 50 per cent; offered at 60 per cent.

SECRETARY SHAW WILL ANTICIPATE FEB PAYMENT.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—Secretary Shaw announced today that the treasury department will anticipate payment of interest due February 1, 1906, on government bonds. The amount anticipated will amount to about $1,700,000.

TWO NEW YEAR'S PARTIES WERE BRILLIANT AFFAIRS

The Woman's club last evening entertained the husbands and other male friends of members of the organization, with one of the most successful social events of the season. At least 100 guests were present in the rooms of the club in the Commercial club building, and the banquet, consisting of one of the most delicious and dainty menus the members of the club have ever served, was a success in every sense of the word.

The guests present, in nearly every instance, responded to toasts offered by the toastmistress for the occasion, Mrs. E. L. Medler, and the evening was pleasantly passed in a flow of good natured repartee and wit, the guests not departing until a late hour. Probably one of the merriest New Year parties that was given in Albuquerque yesterday was that of the party that assembled in the afternoon at the home of Fred Newman, from whence they proceeded on a skating and snowballing expedition that lasted until almost dusk. Upon the return of the merry-makers they proceeded to the home of Al. Frost, where an elegant repast was in waiting, to which the guests did ample justice. During the course of the evening Miss Ida Bremen, the pianist, favored the assemblage with several piano selections. Among the other guests present were: Mesdames Frost and McDonald, Misses Bremen, Childers, Hunt, Stranling, Elizabeth and Betty Willey, and Messrs. Alger, Frost, Hadden, Hertzog, McDonald, Newman, Pickard, Staab and Stamm.

MORE FACTS ABOUT GOVERNOR'S RECEPTION

Inauguration and Brilliant Ball at Santa Fe, Monday January 22.

COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

It is the expressed wish of Herbert J. Hagerman, appointed governor of New Mexico, to succeed Governor M. A. Otero, that the ceremonies of his inauguration be devoid of all ostentation.

It is his intention to take the oath of office on Monday, January 22, probably at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, in the chambers of the supreme court of the territory at the capitol, in the presence of the entire bench, Chief Justice William J. Mills to administer the oath. Governor M. A. Otero will accompany Mr. Hagerman to the supreme court chambers which will be open to the public.

Public Reception.
In the evening of the same day Mr. Hagerman will be tendered a public reception at the Palace hotel from 8 to 9 o'clock. After the reception he will attend the inaugural ball in the same place, to be given in his honor by the citizens of Santa Fe.

To make arrangements for this simple program, an executive committee consisting of J. W. Reynolds, Amado Chavez, Arthur Seligman, Paul A. F. Walter, Jose D. Sena, Levi A. Hughes and A. B. Renahan met on Saturday evening at the residence of A. B. Renahan on Palace avenue. Mr. Reynolds was chosen chairman and Mr. Renahan secretary. After a careful discussion it was decided to extend a general invitation through the press to the people of the territory to attend the reception.

To the ball, owing to the limited floor space at the disposal of the committee, admission will not be free. Tickets will be sold at $5 per couple and there will be no free or complimentary list, even for members of the committee. Only about 200 tickets will be printed, and these will be placed on sale with J. H. Vaughn, cashier of the First National bank to be sold to the first comers.

It was decided to place the matter of refreshments in the hands of the Woman's board of trade. Jose D. Sena was asked, and consented to be master of ceremonies at the reception, and the following sub-committees were appointed, the chairman to report to the executive committee on next Saturday evening at 5 o'clock at the office of A. B. Renahan:

Committees Named.
Finance—Arthur Seligman, L. A. Hughes, J. H. Vaughn, A. Staab, A. J. Fischer.

Arrangements—A. B. Renahan, Amado Chavez, Samuel G. Cartwright, A. C. Ireland and N. B. Laughlin.
Decorations—A. M. Berger, J. W. Reynolds, O. C. Watson, J. D. Sena, and Frank Owens, with such ladies as the committee may select.

Printing and Publicity—Paul A. F. Walker, Percy F. Knight, Edmund C. Abbott, J. A. Masie, David Knapp, Music and Dancing—R. C. Gortner, S. Spitz, A. L. Morrison, Jr., James L. Seligman, C. F. Sasley.

Floor Committee—Levi A. Hughes, Frank McKain, Frank Crandall, Charles C. Catron and Clarence Pierce.

Reception.—J. W. Reynolds, R. J. Pailon, A. R. Gibson, John R. McFie, George W. Prichard, H. O. Bursum, John P. Victory, Marcelino Garcia, Pedro Perez, M. B. Jewell, H. P. Bardshar and S. B. Grimsdew.

The inaugural ceremonies being confined to a reception and ball, it will be sought to make these brilliant and memorable. About $1,000 will be raised for that purpose. It is believed that many visitors will be present from every part of the territory and from beyond the boundaries of New Mexico.

Further details of the program will be announced by The Evening Citizen as soon as the final arrangements are made.

PUBLIC FUNDS RECEIVED BY TERRITORIAL TREASURER.

The following funds have been received for the month of November by Territorial Treasurer J. H. Vaughn:

J. D. Walker, treasurer of Eddy county, taxes for 1905, $12.66; taxes for 1904, $400.48; taxes for 1905, $540.32.

J. H. Candling, treasurer of Lincoln county, taxes for 1904, $571.57; taxes for 1905, $3,702.53.

Tomas Gonzales, treasurer and ex-officio collector for Rio Arriba county, taxes for 1902, $434.82.

Eugenio Romero, treasurer of San Miguel county, taxes for 1902, $3.20; taxes for 1903, $15.72; taxes for 1904, $142.89; taxes for 1905, $16,977.23.

W. R. Williams, treasurer for San Juan county, taxes for 1902, $6.41; taxes for 1903, $12.82; taxes for 1904, $165.25; taxes for 1905, $2,069.70.

W. C. Barnes, secretary cattle sanitary board, on account cattle indemnity fund, $2,000.

MERRY TIMES AHEAD FOR THE FARMER

GRAIN PRICES NOT LIKELY TO BE LOWER AND MONEY SHOULD BE PLENTIFUL—OUTLOOK FOR THE GRAIN TRADE IN 1906.

BY DOUGLAS M. WYLIE,
President Baltimore Chamber of Commerce.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 2.—The general business of the country has continued on an enormous scale during the past year. No better evidence of this can be secured than the fact that although the transportation companies have placed large orders for equipment, still, when the time arrived to move the large cereal production of the country to the seaboard, the same old difficulty of lack of cars was early heard, and as a consequence the volume of grain traffic has been curtailed.

In the grain trade we produced the largest crops of corn and oats ever grown, the combined production being largely in excess of the world's record, and while a large crop of wheat was produced, still, conditions operating in the trade have made it a very peculiar and exceptional season.

The stock of old wheat was practically exhausted when the crop of 1905 became available, and consequently there was an instant and large demand for the new crop, interior mills being active in their competition against the ports, so that good wheat has, until now, found a market from these interior sources and prices are very much higher than the export demand has so far evinced an inclination to pay.

The accumulation of supplies in this country has not been on a very large scale, and on the other hand, the export movement has not been large. Scarcely any actual wheat has been shipped to Europe, the movement being composed in a large measure of the manufactured products and the shipment of Canadian wheat via United States ports, consequently, the trade in wheat has been rather irregular in character, and so far the foreign movement has been disappointing, it being assumed that with a total production of 682,000,000 bushels there would be inevitably a large surplus for export purposes.

Europe has so far been indifferent, Russia, the Danube and the Argentine contributing a total, which up to this time has made European buyers comparatively independent of the United States; but with the turn of the year, in view of the small reserves generally admitted in European countries which are compelled to import wheat, this phase of the situation is likely to change rapidly, and if the visible supply of this country continues its present showing, with speculative support recognizing this condition, the price on the seaboard is not likely to be very much lower.

Coming as this does, after two or three years of unsatisfactory conditions and protracted dullness, the trade and the country is to be congratulated that such influences are so general, because, with corn ruling cheaply, and wheat in the neighborhood, with such a crop as this is limited, we have produced, there should be an ample supply of money in the possession of the agriculturists, and this being true, all line of trade, whether manufacturing, distributing or otherwise, must participate in the advantages which such conditions enforce.

The chartering of steamers to carry this grain to Europe has been on a very large scale, and while the bulk of the purchases were for December and January shipment, still Europe has evinced a desire to extend the demand as far as the early summer, and it would seem there is every assurance that a large and constant trade in cereals during the present cereal year will result.

Placed in a line the ships now contracted for would cover a space of four miles. Many of these vessels will cost more than $500,000 each.

Manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer all tell the same story—unparalleled prosperity, abiding faith in continued trade activity. Industrial activity at home, no vexing international problems to scare the financial world, with work for everyone, the New Year will be ushered in under the most flattering auspices ever experienced by all the people at any time.

A remarkable feature of the present conditions is that every class of industry shares in the great wave of prosperity that has rolled across the country. The conditions that have brought about this happy state are manifold. An unbroken chain of good crops, which made the farmers lenders instead of borrowers, contributed materially to the general prosperity of all classes.

The industrial world is practically at peace. The stability of the currency is not being attacked by any of the isms. An air of confidence pervades every branch of business life. There comes a nearly being right now for every man willing to work as will ever exist in this or any other country.

According to the final returns to the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture the total value of the 1905 crop was $1,116,092,735. The wheat crop yielded $518,372,727. The aggregate value of oats, rye, barley, buckwheat, flaxseed and rice was $286,749,765. The potato crop poured $109,821,080 into the farmers' laps, while they got for their hay the fine sum of $515,959,784.

The cotton crop, with the prevailing good prices, has added largely to the prosperity of the southland, which, under the quickening impulse of outside capital is awakening to its immense possibilities along manufacturing lines.

Of course, good crops mean continued activity, and unbroken prosperity for the makers and manufacturers of agricultural implements.

Iron trade conditions present such a stupendous array of figures that the imagination is staggered. The production and shipments of 1905 have been far in excess of any previous year, but the sales for 1906 already greatly exceed those of 1905. Over 34,000,000 tons of ore were shipped by water and rail from the Lake Superior mines during the season just closed. There is not enough available steel to supply the demand for it. The demand for steel for buildings in the great trade centers surpasses anything heretofore experienced. A heavy export business has helped to curtail the home supply. It is said that 16,000 additional men will be employed in the iron industry in 1906.

Six hundred million dollars, according to conservative estimate, will be expended by the railroads for improved equipment, additional lines and general betterments. The railroads will begin making inroads into this vast sum during 1906, but several years will be covered by the entire expenditure. In the line of ship building enough contracts for the new year have already been made to break the record. Placed in a line the ships now contracted for would cover a space of four miles. Many of these vessels will cost more than $500,000 each.

WILLING HELPERS.
What's the use of a helper, if he isn't willing? Willingness is an ample mantle which will almost cover all the sins of servitude. But a classified advertisement in The Evening Citizen is a willing helper that is not only absolutely competent, but also is a willing worker. It works all the time for you. It is the best and most economical publicity in the world.

CONDITIONS GOOD

A correspondent at Logan, Quay county, writes The Evening Citizen as follows:

"We are having fine weather, and so far this season, have had little snow. Cattle and sheep are in good condition and there is plenty of grass on the range. There have been no losses of stock in this country."

"A good many people have been here examining the public lands and a number of them have made homestead entries. Settlers generally are improving their homesteads and putting more land under cultivation. There is not much water, but, by means of intensive farming, fair crops were raised during the last season."

We Be Brethren

The following from the New Mexican is kindly, fraternal, and true to the letter. The Citizen most heartily endorses the statements and especially approves the sentiment which the article breathes. "Behold, how good and pleasant it is," said one of old time, "for brethren to dwell together in unity." The press of New Mexico, and especially the dailies, because of their larger fields and greater facilities, are or should be laboring for the best interests of New Mexico; and while we may not always agree as to what is the best, or as to the means by which desired conditions can be secured, we can at least credit each with the sincerity and honesty which we claim for ourselves. The Citizen truly wishes success to its contemporaries and hopes from its heart that 1906 shall witness a kindness of intercourse and a unanimity of effort for the upbuilding of themselves, their towns and the territory, which unfortunately has not always been exhibited by the New Mexican press. The New Mexican says:

"The three daily evening papers in central New Mexico, namely, the Optic, published at Las Vegas, the Citizen, published at Albuquerque, and the New Mexican, published in Santa Fe, have arranged for an increase of Associated Press service. This will commence immediately, and should occasion require will again be increased. The added expense in the publication of these papers will amount to a handsome sum per year. Their managers, however, in order to keep up with the times and to give their readers the best and latest Associated Press news, have concluded to bear the expense. They believe in improvement and in improving and desire to be foremost in the van of progress and advancement of the people of this territory, which are steadily and irresistibly going on."

"These papers compare more than favorably with daily papers in cities east containing double or more the population of Santa Fe, of Las Vegas, and of Albuquerque. They are always alert and doing for the good of the people. At times they may differ on questions of public policy, and naturally each paper stands by its own town and the section it is published in, upon the very strong principle, 'strong at home first.' The New Mexican hopes that the increased expense will be repaid by advertisers and readers of the three publications."

"It must say that in this respect, the Citizen at Albuquerque and the Optic at Las Vegas, stand a much better chance than the New Mexican, as they have more populous immediate communities and greater business centers to draw from. However, the New Mexican will not be behind them and will spare no expense and no work to give its readers the news of the day in as attractive a form and in as pleasing a manner, as any paper in the territory can or will be able to do. It is not envious of its contemporaries because of the better chances for profitable business they enjoy. It has stood by this old burg for 43 years and hopes and trusts that it will be able to do so for many, many years to come."

This Year's Prospects

Henry Claws, the New York banker and broker, in his Weekly Financial Review for Jan. 2, asks, "What are the prospects for 1906?" The following is a part of his answer to his own question:

"That is a question more difficult to answer than usual. The present upward wave has been in progress since the panic of 1893. Judged by ordinary standards of measurement, a reaction is already overdue, and the tide should be turned in the opposite direction. Already there are symptoms of the boom having reached its zenith. For instance, a speculative fever is rising in real estate; money supplies are running low and firm rates are ruling throughout the world, and we are also in the midst of an epidemic of loose and fraudulent business methods which often accompanies the climax of a prolonged upward movement. Real estate is generally the last market to feel the stimulus of a boom, either because it has become the safest form of investment, or because prosperity induces many to buy their own homes, or because development of new industrial enterprises stimulates land values. Money supplies have already been much exhausted by the too rapid turning of capital from floating into fixed form, and an era of loose practices seems unavoidable at a time when all sorts of get-rich-quick schemes prosper and are easily foisted upon an innocent public. In these respects it appears that we are near if not at a period of reaction."

"While these are the facts which suggest reaction and consequent prudence, there are elements in the situation which do not yet support the theory that reaction has begun. On the contrary, there are many good reasons for anticipating a continuation of present commercial and industrial activity, at least until the next harvest."

Cost of a Sea Level Canal

The cost of a sea level Panama canal is estimated by the engineers at about $230,000,000. Although this amount seems much larger than the amount necessary for the construction of the lock canal, it is claimed by the advocates of the sea level plan to be in reality only in comparison slightly higher. It was pointed out in the recent meetings of the board that a lock canal would necessitate between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 as payment for the private grounds and the lands belonging to the republic of Panama, which would be inundated by the construction of the lock system. This item in the view of the majority of the board is entirely done away with by the adoption of the sea level canal. The plans for constructing a lock canal at thirty feet altitude were never discussed, and from the beginning the board was divided into two groups of eight and five members, one in favor of the sea level plan and the other in favor of a lock canal. A compromise plan was never brought up at any time.

The United States supplied more than one-half of the petroleum produced in the world in 1904. A statement of the world's production of petroleum, prepared by the British Board of Trade, which has just reached the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, puts the petroleum production of the world in 1904 at 2,305,000,000 gallons, of which 1,935,000,000 gallons were produced in the United States, 3,650,000,000 gallons in Russia, 292,500,000 gallons in Austria, 205,500,000 gallons in Java and Sumatra, 135,000,000 gallons in Roumania, 105,500,000 gallons in British India (principally Burma), 49,000,000 gallons in Japan, 20,000,000 gallons in Canada, and 18,500,000 gallons in Germany.

On behalf of a large number of taxpayers, Attorney John F. Cox has filed a petition in the courts, asking for the appointment of viewers under the act of May 8, 1876, for the purpose of acquiring, for the county, the Ninth, Seventh and Sixth street bridges between Pittsburg and Allegheny, Penn. The viewers are to inquire and report whether these bridges are necessary for the accommodation of public travel, whether the payment of toll thereon is an "unjust burden" upon the traveling public, and assess the amount of damages if any, sustained by the corporations owning the bridges, by reason of taking the same as county bridges, free to the public.

In the adjacent column The Citizen is able—through the courtesy of E. D. Ewers, local manager for R. G. Dun & Company—to present its readers with a summary of the astonishing prosperity enjoyed by this country in the year 1905. The summary is taken from the "advance proof" of the R. G. Dun & Co.'s Annual Review of Trade. The Citizen will present its readers with other interesting extracts from this remarkable thesaurus of information, upon which has been expended great care, much time and large sums of money.

Prosperity of The Year Just Ended

Published in Dun's Review.

In the history of the youngest, yet most virile of the great nations, the year 1905 stands out as the one of most rapid progress and greatest success. It has become so customary to establish new records in this country of apparently unbounded resources and opportunities that statistics of unprecedented achievements occasion little comment. Yet the past year has been so exceptionally prosperous that the attention of a busy people should be called to some of the most noteworthy accomplishments.

If over a million immigrants were absorbed in a single year without glutting the labor market, in any other nation sociologists would ponder the problem with amazement, but such an unheard-of occurrence in the United States arouses little comment. So as to reports of foreign commerce and practically every measure of internal trade, to say nothing of agricultural production and transportation.

The mileage of the railways has steadily increased and the issues of stocks and bonds are beyond precedent; yet the market value of the sixty most active securities has risen far above all previous records, the earnings are much greater than ever before, and frequent complaints have been heard because traffic facilities were inadequate. Manufacturing plants have turned out quantities of products much in excess of any earlier year without causing accumulation; in fact, it was often the case that goods could not be delivered as specified, and in the iron and steel industry orders will be carried over into 1906 equal to the entire annual production a few years ago.

Prices of commodities, as shown by Dun's Index Number, have risen to the highest position in twenty-two years, a striking evidence of the consuming capacity of the people, for it is not possible to maintain the quotations of an unsurpassed production of the various necessities of life unless there is a commensurate broadening of demand. Failures are fewer in proportion to the number of firms in business and liabilities are at a premium ratio to solvent payments through the clearing houses, which have also reached a new high-water mark.

Faster than the growth of population has been the increase in the amount of money in circulation, the average now standing at the heretofore unequalled sum of $31.75 per capita, and the stock of gold in the federal treasury has eclipsed all previous records of this or any other nation at over $765,000,000. Nevertheless, commercial and other demands have so drawn upon the available supply of funds that rates for loans rose so high during December as to suggest the possibility of serious stringency. This is another index that tells a story of national prosperity to the student of economics.

Sorrow For Things That Mar Man's Life

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

There is much that makes me sorry as I journey down life's way,
And I seem to see more paths in poor human lives each day.

I'm sorry for the strong, brave men who shield the weak from harm,
But who, in their troubled hours, find no protecting arm.

I'm sorry for the victors, who have reached success to stand
As targets for the arrows shot by envious failure's hand.

I'm sorry for the generous hearts who freely shared their wine,
But drink alone the gall of tears in fortune's drear decline.

I'm sorry for the souls who build their own fame's funeral pyre,
Derided by the scornful throng like ice deriding fire.

I'm sorry for the conquering ones, who know not sin's defeat,
But daily tread fierce desire's scorching and bleeding feet.

I'm sorry for the anguished hearts that break with passions strain,
But I'm sorrier for the poor, starved souls that never knew love's pain.

Who hunger on through barren years, not tasting joys they crave,
For sadder far is such a lot than weeping o'er a grave.

I'm sorry for the souls that come unwelcomed into birth,
I'm sorry for the unloved old who cumber up the earth.

I'm sorry for the suffering poor in life's great maelstrom hurled;
In truth I'm sorry for them all who make this aching world.

But underneath whatever seems sad, and is not understood,
I know there lies, hid from our sight, a mighty germ of good.

And this belief stands firm by me, my sermon, motto, text—
The sorriest things in this life will seem grandest in the next.

Failure of Wealth At Too Great Price

For years Chas. T. Yerkes had been a mighty world power in finance; today he lies alone, as poor as the poorest. For years, powerful bankers turned over their gold at his summons, legislative bodies submitted to his will, and vast enterprises moved with the wave of his hand. But today he lies as helpless as a stone, with wealth, ambition, power stripped from him, with few in all the wide world to do him reverence.

Of what avail to him, or anyone, is the wealth, ambition, power which fail to embrace the love of wife, the honor of children, the faith of friends? What is it worth to a man to own millions and command legislatures and courts and control the destinies of thousands while he lives, if he has not created in any heart enough love to close his vacant eyes with tender touch and to enshrine his memory with the salt of tears? What is the good of a great, marble mausoleum, if there are few virtues to record thereon?

Yerkes has been a conspicuous type of the men who get rich no matter how. To him, as to many others, if an end was to his interest any means were justifiable. It is said, he had a lawyer at his elbow every minute to tell him just how far he could go and yet evade the laws. In Chicago he was the center of a constant cyclone of charges of corruption.

Looking upon him as he died, with his long-estranged wife holding aloof, and as he lies today, with friends forgetting him to discuss his property, and with the public prints of the world retelling only shady reminiscences of him! Does it seem that his "success" has been worth while? Is such a life a fit example for anyone to follow?

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WERE IN SESSION

RECEIVED AND APPROVED BONDS OF F. A. HUBBELL AND JUSTO R. ARMIJO—OTHER MATTERS.

The county commissioners met in regular session at the court house this morning.

Carmel Torietta was appointed constable for precinct 28, vice Trinidad Anaya, resigned.

The district attorney was authorized to prosecute all suits involving the recovery of money wrongfully paid from county funds and to recover all property wrongfully withheld from the county.

E. W. Dobson, in behalf of Frank A. Hubbell, submitted to the board a bond for the signature of Frank A. Hubbell as treasurer and ex-officio collector of the county of the sum of $50,000 executed by the National Surety company of New York. It was approved by the board as to form and consistency with the proviso that this action is not to be considered as any recognition of F. A. Hubbell's right to the office named in said bond.

The commissioners ordered the refunding bonds for $70,400 destroyed by burning, which were returned by N. W. Harris & company because they bore the signature of Frank A. Hubbell as county treasurer. This company requested that the same be replaced by bonds bearing the signature of Justo R. Armijo, the present incumbent.

The bond of Justo R. Armijo, treasurer and ex-officio collector of Bernalillo county, executed by the titled States Fidelity and Guaranty company of Baltimore, in the sum of $47,000, was received and approved by the board.

This practically embraces all the business transacted.

PROBATE COURT

Jesus Romero, probate court judge, presided at a session of court held today.

In the matter of the estate of L. S. Trimble deceased, the executor was discharged.

In the matter of the estate of D. J. Abel, deceased, exceptions were filed, and Monday, January 8, the date set for a hearing.

In the matter of the estate of Margarita Montoya de Armijo, the petition of F. Armijo y Otero, asking to be appointed administrator of said estate, was presented and approved, the administrator to furnish a bond of $1,000 and appraisers to be appointed on February 5, notice of same to be published in a newspaper.

In the matter of the estate of Robert H. Schuchler, deceased, claim of D. F. Gill for $1.50 for services rendered deceased from November 8 to May 6 and goods destroyed, presented to court. Bill presented to administrator and payment refused. The court allowed the bill of $161.50.

The petition of Policarpo Armijo, asking to be appointed guardian of Liberato Iturbide, a minor, was approved, said guardian to serve without bond.

The bond of Virginia Burgos de Sanchez and Severo Sanchez, administrators of the estate of Carlos P. Sanchez, deceased, was approved.

The matter of guardianship of Maria Moya, a minor, plea in abatement presented. Taken under advisement.

The petition of Maximiliano Apodaca for a certificate of adoption of Mercedes Padilla, a minor, granted.

The claim of J. Badaracco vs. the estate of Padilla C. de Badaracco, deceased, was presented, and Carolina Kerr de Carabajal cited to appear before the court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The bill of George B. Somers, deceased, presented, and Monday, February 5, the date set for a hearing.

The matter of the estate of Walker Allen, deceased, received attention, and the following claims allowed: Ortiz & company; J. C. Baldrice; J. P. Palmer; C. H. Thomas, and the White company. Court then adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

FUNERAL OF JEROME MARTIN TOMORROW

Special to The Citizen.
Las Cruces, N. M., Jan. 2.—The funeral of Hon. Jerome Martin, the register of the United States land office here, will take place tomorrow morning, and the remains will be buried in the cemetery near this place.

Sketch of Deceased.
Jerome Martin was born September 28, 1861, near Fort Pimlico, Dona Ana county. He was a son of Captain John Martin, a well known pioneer, and who served honorably in the First California volunteer infantry during the Civil war.

Captain Martin, after the war, started a ranch on the Jornada del Muerto, and was the first man to find water on that extensive plain. The boy was raised on the ranch, and afterwards attended private schools in Mesilla, Las Cruces and Santa Fe. He became a farmer and stock raiser and was engaged in that business until March, 1904, when he was appointed register of the United States land office at Las Cruces, by President Roosevelt, and moved from his ranch in Sierra county, to take up his residence at the county seat of Dona Ana county.

Associated Charities Meeting.
Meeting of Associated Charities Thursday afternoon in Commercial club parlors, at 3 o'clock. Everybody requested to be present. Fifteen members to serve on the board of directors will be elected. After that the work will practically be begun and the organization be ready for charity work. The Woman's club has taken up the department of restaurant work and foster home, reading room, etc., and will be ready for work soon. We need an enthusiastic meeting to start the work in the right direction.

Keep in mind the date of the Elks' minstrel and when the time comes go hear F. H. Lester sing that touching ballad, "I Love to Pick Cherries Out of Papa's Cocktails."

"COAL IS KING" IN ALBUQUERQUE

Man Who Knows Says That Railroads Are Responsible For Pending Famine.

DEARTH EXISTS THROUGHOUT LAND

"There are a number of reasons why Albuquerque is in the throes of a coal famine," said a man this morning who is in a position to know. "In the first place people must learn to store up coal in the summer for winter use. Of course, this is unprecedented cold weather for this country, and it may never occur again, but it is always wise to be on the safe side. The coal men know this and they advocate it, but few people do it. Some have no place to store coal, and others are too poor to be able to pay for coal for several months."

"Down at the Cerrillos yards they had fifty tons stored up for just such an emergency as the one which has come to pass. If it hadn't been for these fifty tons the town would have been out of coal a month ago."

"But the real reason for the present scarcity of coal, which exists everywhere as well as here, was a great dearth of coal cars on western railroads several months ago. The whole fault is with the railroads—not just now, but several months ago. The railroads have plenty of cars at present, but they have no coal. The mines quit mining when there were no cars to market the coal, and consequently they got behind. Now they can't get out enough coal to fill the cars placed at their command, and the few cars that are placed in transit are not delivered very promptly."

"And then the railroads are not backward about taking what coal they need for their own consumption. This is one of the main reasons why we have no coal. A railroad will place an order at a mine for a number of cars of coal, and it will haul no coal from that mine until it gets its own. It is no use for the mines to haul out any for commercial use, as the railroads will confiscate it if they need it."

"Coal is King. Not only the only city left out in the cold without coal," continued he, who seemed to know. "Bismarck is out of coal. It is very scarce in Tucson and coal is more than king at El Paso. It is clear down there. I heard that only three cars of soft coal were unloaded in the Pass City during last week."

"Denver has its troubles, too. Coal is scarce in Denver, but the people up there are accustomed to using coke for furnace coal. It makes less ashes than coal, is cheaper, and although it is a little bulky, they find it very satisfactory furnace fuel."

"The Supply on Hand. According to the man who seemed to know, there is little reason for any cold buildings in this city where furnaces are in use."

W. H. Hahn, proprietor of the Cerrillos coal yards, stated this morning that he had coke, and was selling it in many instances in the place of soft coal. "I tell you," said Mr. Hahn, "people in the east like hard coal better than soft. It isn't so dirty, and it burns fully as well, only it is a little hard to start. To start a fire with hard coal, the kindling wants to be burned up well before the coal is put on; then it burns all right. We have 100 tons of hard coal, and there is no need of anybody going without coal."

Prices of Fuel.
Soft coal, per ton $6.00
Hard coal, per ton $8.00
Coke, per ton $7.75
Lumber mill wood, green, per cord 2.25
Lumber mill wood, dry, per cord 2.75
Native wood, sawed, per cord 5.75
Native wood, sawed and split, per cord 6.25

According to Mr. Hahn, the hard coal costs no more than the soft, as it makes more fuel.

Mr. Hahn stated that he had orders ahead for ten cars of soft coal, and that these cars were on the road and were expected this afternoon, and that the coal would be delivered as fast as the teams of the Cerrillos yards and all of Trimble's transfer teams could do the work.

MIERA'S SHEEP WILL NOT STARVE THIS WINTER

RANCHMAN AT THE HEAD OF THE RIO PUERTO KEEPS 4,000 TONS OF ALFALFA ON HAND.

The heavy snowfall is greatly alarming sheep raisers in different parts of the territory, for fear their flocks will be, thereby, shut off from food. This is not so in the case of F. Epimene Miera, a prominent ranchman at the head of the Rio Puero, and well known in this city, according to Attorney W. C. Heacock, of Albuquerque, who says that Mr. Miera has about 4,000 tons of alfalfa on hand, to be used in just such an emergency. Not one ton of this alfalfa will Mr. Miera sell, it being for the exclusive use of his flocks in case the snow becomes so deep that grazing is impossible.

SNOW IS TWO FEET DEEP AT WILLARD

EMPLOYEES OF JOHN BECKER COMPANY GO TO BELEN TO ATTEND HUNING FUNERAL.

Hon. C. A. Dales and H. Emory Davis, of the John Becker Company, were in the city last evening between trains, while en route from Willard to Belen. Mr. Dales and Mr. Davis were at work taking inventory of the Willard branch store of the John Becker company, when they received the news of the death of their friend, Carlos Huning. They went to Belen for the purpose of attending the Huning funeral, which took place this afternoon.

Mr. Dales, in speaking of the weather in the Estancia valley, said that several times within a fortnight the temperature had fallen as low as 18 degrees below zero. Between Willard and Mountainair, snow lies from two to three feet deep on the level. Mr. Dales said that range stock were suffering from exposure and want of feed in the vicinity of Abo, and that at least 1,000 sheep had already been lost as a result of the weather in the same vicinity.

JOSEPH SCHMITT TERRIBLY BURNED

Mash Kettle at Brewery Exploded Covering Schmitt With Fiery Fluid.

NARROWLY ESCAPED CREMATION

Joseph Schmitt, of 113 Marble avenue, narrowly escaped being burned to death early this morning at the plant of the Southwestern Brewery & Ice company in this city.

At about 6:30 o'clock Schmitt was working on the first floor of the building, when the mash kettle on the third floor, exploded, blowing its bottom out and allowing the boiling hot substance to fall down upon Schmitt who was standing upon a platform.

Schmitt was covered from head to foot by the fiery mash, and removed to his home suffering terribly. A physician was called and he was the unfortunate man as comfortable as could be expected.

Schmitt's head, face, arms and legs were badly scorched. The skin of the face peeled off with the mash when it was removed, and the man's hair came out as the physician's hand was rubbed over it. The mash ate its way through Schmitt's trousers from the knees down, and likewise wrists, the skin peeling off readily at the touch. Very fortunately for Schmitt was the fact that he was bundled well about the waist, else he would have been burned to death, the physician believes, as generally burns that cover two-thirds of the body and of such a nature that Schmitt received, result fatally. The man will in all probability be disfigured for life, but his recovery is anticipated.

Schmitt is married and has five children. He carries an accident policy, which will stand him in good need during his confinement.

EMPLOYEE OF ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

CHARLES SCHAEFER, 20 YEARS OLD, FOUND IN HIS ROOM IN AN UNCONSCIOUS CONDITION—DUE TO STROKE OF APOPLEXY.

Charles Schaefer, who has been employed at the electric light plant for several months past, was found unconscious this morning about 5:45 in his room at the Blythe boarding house, at the corner of Eighth street and Mountain road.

Schaefer is about 20 years old, ate a hearty supper and retired last night, in perfectly good spirits, and apparently in the best possible health. This morning at about a quarter of six, when the landlady called Schaefer for his breakfast, there was no response, and she called and called. The front door to his room was locked, and the landlady becoming frightened, forced an entrance into his room through another door. Schaefer was found in his bed in an unconscious condition. Dr. Wylder was hastily summoned, but could not arouse the unconscious man, and after a careful diagnosis of the case, pronounced his condition due to a stroke of apoplexy, or in other words, a hemorrhage of the brain.

Every effort was made to arouse Schaefer, but all the tests known to medical science proved of no avail. Up to the hour of going to press, Schaefer was still in an unconscious condition, and but little hopes of his recovery are entertained by the attending physician.

COL. WOOD ELECTED AS PRESIDENT

WILL INSTALL NEW MACHINERY AT THE MINES OF THE GOLD BULLION MINING COMPANY.

Col. J. A. Wood, of the Gold Bullion Mining company, of Golden, New Mexico, who has been in the city the past few days transacting business for his company, will leave tomorrow morning for Golden. Col. Wood has but lately returned from New York city, where he went to attend the meeting of the stockholders of the Gold Bullion Mining company. The colonel has long been manager of the company, and at the recent election of officers he was elected president of the company.

Col. Wood states that his company is experiencing great difficulty of late in securing miners and carrying on the work at the mines, owing to the continued adverse conditions of the weather. The new machinery, which has been ordered for the mines, is now on the way, and will be ready to arrive. Altogether, the company will spend about $150,000 on new machinery. The colonel has been very ill during his stay in Albuquerque, being confined to his bed part of the time, but is feeling somewhat better today.

KILTIES' BAND HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Of more than ordinary interest is the announcement of the coming of the famous Kilties' band of Canada, who have so successfully toured Europe for the past eight months. This wonderful organization, which consists of forty bandmen, four bagpipers, seven soloists, four British military buglers, six highland dancers and one piano drum major, who is over seven feet in height, is reinforced by a splendid vocal choir of sixteen voices. The Kilties will give one concert at the opera house on Thursday night. The band appears in full kilted uniform, and is splendidly equipped with every accessory necessary to the conduct of a high class concert band. Of particular interest to all will be Mr. Roderick Bain MacKenzie, the drum major of the organization. Mr. MacKenzie stands over seven feet in his stocking feet, and when wearing the feather bonnet of the organization, he is over eight feet tall. He is as good natured as he is big, and is a thorough master of the business.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. John Stramquist, 807 East Tijeras avenue, a daughter.

NEW MEXICO BAD WEATHER

Snow Storm Which Prevailed Here Yesterday Reported to be General.

REPORTS FROM MANY POINTS

The snow storm of yesterday was general throughout New Mexico. From Santa Fe comes the report of several inches of snow. At Estancia and Torrance the snow fell to a depth of four inches. Trains were blocked at Torrance for sixteen hours on the El Paso & Southwestern. The weather in that section was so cold that the water froze in the tanks in coaches, despite the fact. Snow plows had to be pressed into service before the trains could proceed.

Las Vegas has been having extreme cold weather, the thermometer registering yesterday in the neighborhood of 5 and 8 above zero. At Belen the snow fell to a depth of from six inches to a foot, and in the mountains near there to a depth of three feet.

Reports from the Zuni and Datil mountains are to the effect that from two to six feet of snow cover the mountain sides. The sheep raisers in those sections report heavy losses of sheep as a result of the cold.

Cattle Inspector Walter O'Brien states that so far there has been no loss of cattle but that there will be a shrinkage is positive. He also states that sheep men have suffered severe losses, especially in the neighborhood of Estancia and Torrance.

The thermometer in this city registered in the neighborhood of zero, and at six o'clock this morning the mercury had dropped to one degree above zero. Owing to the bright sunshine here the cold was not very noticeable today.

Telegraphic reports received today by The Evening Citizen from points in the surrounding country give the condition of the weather as follows:

North of Albuquerque: Two inches of light snow, drifting some at Chappell. Three inches of snow, very wet, and cloudy weather today, at Santa Fe. One inch of snow at Kennedy. Two inches of snow at Madrid, with zero weather. Snow four inches deep, sky clear, at Bernalillo.

South of Albuquerque: Two inches of snow and clear sky at Belen. Light snow at El Paso, with thermometer below zero this morning.

West of Albuquerque: Heavy snow storm at Grants, with 18 inches of the "beautiful white" and thermometer 22 degrees below zero; heavy losses of sheep. Three inches of snow on the level at Gallup, and very cold. About three inches of snow and exceedingly cold at Gallup.

WOODMEN'S ANNUAL BALL WAS A SOCIAL SUCCESS

HELD IN ELKS' BALL ROOM LAST EVENING—A LARGE CROWD IN ATTENDANCE.

In social annals, the ball of Albuquerque camp No. 1, Woodmen of the World, will be set down as one of the delightful social functions of the year of 1936, which, by the way, it celebrated, and at the same time, one which it would be difficult to compare with any similar event held during the year just passed, so successful was it from every point of view.

It was a gay crowd that participated. From the first note sounded by Prof. di Mauro and his band of music, the delightful harmony moved to the spirit of the dance, and so continued until the program was finished. There was close to 100 couple on the floor, and it was a pleasure for the spectator to gaze on the animated scene which presented itself to view when the music of the band moved to and fro over the glassy floor.

The floor committee was everywhere, attending to the pleasure of its guests, and thus no one was permitted to leave anything but a glorious and perpetual good time. The committees in charge were as follows:

Arrangements—P. A. Lillie, D. E. Phillips and W. F. Albertson.

Reception—C. A. Hall, E. W. Moore, P. A. Hook, Theo. Brodell, Joseph Brenning, P. A. Smith, F. A. Hopping, P. Schack and L. P. Maier.

Floor—D. E. Phillips, manager; P. A. Lillie and T. A. Insley.

THIS WAS THE COLDEST MORNING OF THE WINTER

THERMOMETER REGISTERED 4 DEGREES ABOVE ZERO AT WALTON'S DRUG STORE—STILL LOWER REPORT.

Residents of Albuquerque, who have kept a systematic watch on the thermometer this winter, agree that today, or rather this morning, the mercury reached the lowest mark yet. At Walton's drug store at about 7 o'clock this morning, the thermometer registered 4 degrees above zero. The lowest it has dropped before this winter was 11 degrees above the zero mark at the same location.

Jose Perez reports that at 6 o'clock this morning his thermometer tallied 2 degrees above.

MRS. HUNING'S DEATH EXPECTED

Esteemed Lady Dangerously Ill With Typhoid Fever at Her Home in Belen.

HUSBAND'S FUNERAL WAS TODAY

Mrs. Carlos Huning, of Belen, wife of the late Carlos Huning, whose death was chronicled in The Evening Citizen yesterday, is dangerously ill with typhoid fever at her home. This malady, which was directly responsible for the death of Mr. Huning, will, it is feared, claim the esteemed wife of the deceased. It is reported from Belen that the chances of Mrs. Huning's restoration to health are very slim.

The funeral of Mr. Huning was conducted from the Belen home this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. G. W. Wenning of this city officiating. The nature of the disease which caused the death of Mr. Huning and the precarious condition of Mrs. Huning, did not permit the large concourse of friends of the afflicted family attending the services. The beautiful profusion of flowers sent, however, attested the high esteem in which the deceased was held and the great and general sympathy extended to the family in its keen sorrow.

The remains of Mr. Huning will be brought to this city on the morning train tomorrow and removed to the undertaking parlors of Strong & Sons, where they will remain pending the termination of Mrs. Huning's illness. The body will then be shipped to Denver to be cremated, the ashes to be sent later to the old country for interment.

NO MORE ROOM IN ALBUQUERQUE SCHOOLS

BEGINNERS WERE REFUSED ADMITTANCE THIS MORNING, OWING TO INADEQUATE ROOM.

This paper was informed yesterday afternoon, too late for publication, that all beginners would be refused admittance to the public schools of Albuquerque this morning, owing to the congested condition of all departments and the utter impossibility of caring for more.

This deplorable condition was made known by Prof. Clark himself, who had just returned from a special meeting of the board of education. This morning a large number of children applied for admission, but were turned away.

Prof. Clark said it was a condition of affairs that the board hated to make known, but there was no alternative. He stated that every inch of room was occupied by those already registered, and that there was no money with which to procure additional teachers, even if the room was adequate.

Such a condition is strange in Albuquerque, and indicates that the city is growing much faster than the public schools are, a fact greatly to be regretted, as it is the worst kind of a black eye for any municipality, and one which should receive immediate attention.

ALBUQUERQUE FOR JOE BARNETT, SAYS HE PREFERS METROPOLIS TO PHOENIX—PLENTY OF COLD WEATHER IN THAT TOWN.

Joe Barnett, who recently returned from the coast and Phoenix, was glad to get back home. This was not because he did not have a jolly good time, but rather because a good time becomes monotonous as a steady diet, and then there is no place like home, sweet home. Mr. Barnett, in speaking of Phoenix, where he so successfully raced his horses at the territorial fair, says Albuquerque has it beat a mile in his estimation, and he would not care to reside there. There is colder weather in Phoenix, according to Mr. Barnett, or at least was while he was there, than in this city. The nights are "stingers" in Phoenix. Mr. Barnett claims, it requiring three or four blankets to keep the horses warm and then some. As for humanity, it is a perpetual shiver on side.

A full attendance is requested at the rehearsal for the Elks' minstrels this evening at 8 o'clock. All those expecting to participate will please be on hand promptly.

WASHINGTON NEWS FOR CITIZEN ESPECIALLY

How Christmas Indigestibles Produced Pipe Dream. Senators Getting Cautious About Opposing President, Who Takes to the Wilderness.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—Now it is claimed that Theodore Roosevelt aims to be the political boss of the United States.

The Washington correspondent of a New York paper says that on Christmas day, when he came down town to his office to work, but there was the usual Christmas dullness, and he couldn't find anything much to do. Tilted back in his chair, feet on desk, he drifted away into dream-land.

There was nothing very alarming in this, and there probably would have been no serious results had it not been for the turkey, fruit cake, and most likely mince pie. I am not certain about the pie, but results would seem to justify its inclusion in the menu.

Anyway, the correspondent's dreams were troubled. He saw hobgoblins, dragons with fiery eyes, and other monsters of terrific mien. But, most alarming of all, was a huge giant, with eye glasses, and prominent teeth. This giant, in the dream, refused all food but the flesh and bones of political bosses, great and small. One by one, they went wriggling to his awful mouth, were crunched between those terrible teeth, and disappeared forever.

"What might this fearsome monster be?" inquired the correspondent of his dream guide.

"See-ee!" whispered the guide, who had horns and a forked tail, "that is the Political Boss of the United States. The call him Teddy, the Terrible, he eats 'em alive."

The correspondent couldn't help but be impressed by his dream, and the more he thought of it the more he became impressed.

HIS TROUBLED DREAM PUBLISHED AS REALITY.

He sat him down, then, and wrote a piece for his paper. The coloring was as vivid, almost as had been his dream. The contest waged in New York over the speakership of the assembly, he said, was but the prelude to a struggle that was to be country-wide. The object of this struggle was to be the undoing of all other political bosses and the establishment of President Roosevelt as the supreme dictator of his party and the nation. When New York was conquered, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts were to be taken up in order, and other states were to follow as rapidly as Mr. Roosevelt could digest the bosses he had swallowed.

Root in New York, Taft in Ohio, Knox in Pennsylvania and Lodge in Massachusetts were depicted as lesser monsters whose business it was to run down and capture the bosses whom the president wished to devour.

THERE WERE OTHERS EQUALLY AMBITIOUS.

When the correspondent of an other New York paper read this story, his soul was filled with burning, bitter envy. An unfair advantage had been taken of him, he declared, because the eating of mince pie had never been recognized as a proper way of getting the enemies of the emergency demanded instant and heroic action.

"Like the poor, beighted Hindoo," vowed the envious correspondent, "I'll do the best I kin do."

Rushing wildly to a nearby restaurant, he ordered Welch rarebit, lobster a la Newburg, and ham and cabbage. "Ha, yill-lain!" he muttered, as he swallowed the last mouthful, "I have you now!"

His dreams, as he had planned, also were troubled. He saw Mr. Roosevelt retiring from the White House on March 4, 1905, and immediately taking oath as a United States senator from New York. He saw the ex-president from his seat in the senate, ruling the country with an iron hand. Both the Republican and Democratic parties had disappeared, and in their places there was but a single party, known as the Rooseveltians. This continued for four years, when the people placed a crown upon the head of Senator Roosevelt and declared that he should be their king until he died.

He went to his coronation wearing an ermine gown, with top boots and a cowboy hat, and the people bowed low before him, crying: "Long live the King, our glorious Theodore!" The correspondents soon recovered from their indigestion and straightway forgot about their dream tales. Not so with the dwellers in little old New York. They accepted it all as gospel truth, and they, too, began to see things at night.

The final touch to the burlesque was given by Candidate Merritt, the rival of Wadsworth for speaker of the assembly, incorporated most of the things the correspondents had dreamed into one of his numerous official statements. After that, New Yorkers were afraid to turn out at night when they went to bed.

But in Ohio, too, they began to have creepy feelings. Solemn statements were issued on the subject by Governor Herrick, Senator Dick and others who might be considered fit subjects for the dream giant's maw.

It began to look for a time as if the whole country might have delirium tremens. And all because a correspondent's Christmas dinner had not agreed with him!

SENATORS GROWING WARY OF OPPOSING PRESIDENT.

It would not do to believe that the United States also had been dreaming dreams, but there are accumulating indications that the senate is not going to make the president any where near as much trouble as had been anticipated. There are yet differences on the railroad rate question, but the "insurgents" are not as warlike as they were, and the leaders in the senate finally have decided that a break with the administration must be prevented at all costs.

It is not so very long ago that predictions were made, even by republicans, that the democrats stood an excellent chance of carrying the next house. The minority in the house already has had a fight along the lines of the famed conflict between the Kilgenny cats, and the minority in the senate is threatened with a break over the rate measure that is to be framed, and which will be introduced after the holidays. The constitutional lawyers among the democrats are busy, and they have not hesitated to express their opinions that are now up for consideration. The railroad rate measure is the only one pregnant with real trouble for the administration. The terms of forty-eight senators will expire within the next three years, and nearly all are candidates for re-election. Realizing the popular sentiment behind the president, they are not really looking for trouble. The terms of thirty senators will expire March 4, 1907, and of those, sixteen are republicans.

MANY OF THEM MUST BE RELEASED SOON.

Party loyalty as well as selfish interests, will prompt a great many senators to fall into line behind the administration on most of the questions that are now up for consideration. The railroad rate measure is the only one pregnant with real trouble for the administration. The terms of forty-eight senators will expire within the next three years, and nearly all are candidates for re-election. Realizing the popular sentiment behind the president, they are not really looking for trouble. The terms of thirty senators will expire March 4, 1907, and of those, sixteen are republicans.

They are Alger of Michigan, also of Delaware, Burham of New Hampshire, Burton of Kansas, Crane of Massachusetts, Callom of Illinois, Poliver of Iowa, Dryden of New Jersey, Elkins of West Virginia, Frye of Maine, Gamble of South Dakota, Nelson of Minnesota, Warner of Wyoming, Wetmore of Rhode Island.

The terms of eighteen republican senators will expire March 4, 1908, and they will make their campaign for re-election during the last year of the Roosevelt administration.

They are Allison of Iowa, Ankeny of Connecticut, Brandegee of Connecticut, Dillingham of Vermont, Foraker of Ohio, Fulton of Oregon, Gallinger of New Hampshire, Hansborough of North Dakota, Hemenway of Indiana, Heyburn of Idaho, Hopkins of Illinois, Kittredge of South Dakota, Loomis of Kansas, Penrose of Pennsylvania, Perkins of California, Platt of New York, Smoot of Utah, and Spooner of Wisconsin.

GENERAL CORBIN WANTS TO BE CONGRESSMAN.

Considerable interest has been aroused by a story that comes from Manila to the effect that Major General Corbin aspires to a seat in the house of representatives when he returns from active service in the army. When he returns from the Philippines, he will be promoted to the rank of lieutenant general and then shortly will be retired.

General Corbin is a legal resident of Brown county, Ohio, and has voted there whenever his army duties would allow him to return at election time. This is in itself so unusual with an army officer as to be worthy of comment. Brown county is in the Sixth district, now represented by Judge Scroggy. If the general decides to enter politics in that district, the prayers of his friends will be needed, it is feared, for Brown county is the most uncertain district in the state. Judge Scroggy got the nomination away from Representative Hildebrand by an appeal to the courts after the regular convention had been split into many factions. Hildebrand was a candidate for Scroggy's seat, and Corbin will need all the acumen he acquired while adjutant general to make even a fair showing.

General Corbin has a commanding and imposing figure and he would make an attractive addition to the house. Should he secure a seat in congress, he might offer a solution of what to do with army officers who are retired by operation of the age limit law while still in bodily and mental vigor.

PRESIDENT FLEES TO WILDERNESS FOR REST.

This has been a week of rest for Mr. Roosevelt. He caused it to be officially announced that no appointments would be made for callers, and that he might offer a solution of what to do with army officers who are retired by operation of the age limit law while still in bodily and mental vigor.

At this rural retreat the Roosevelt family live the simple life with a few servants. Their only servants are the colored caretaker and his wife, and a great deal of the cooking is done by Mrs. Roosevelt herself. There the president is as far removed from politics and affairs of state as though he were in a wilderness.

KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION

A dispatch from Jarilla Junction, dated December 30, says: Lario Penallo, a young man employed as a blaster in the Garnet mine at the Jarilla camp was instantly killed 75 feet below the 500-level yesterday evening at 5 o'clock.

While it is known that the man's death resulted from the explosion he had set off, the circumstances attending the disaster are unknown. It had been customary for him to descend into the shaft, sit at a table to the dynamite, get into the windlass and signal to those above to be drawn up. For some reason Penallo failed to come up in the bucket after signaling, but whether he fell out of the receptacle is not known.

His body, which was covered with debris, was brought to the surface at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

SPORTING... ...BREVITIES

Fred Beel, who is wrestling in Chicago, is said by those who have been watching his career closely, to be a coming world's champion.

"I expect to see Deacon Phillippe pitch the game of his life next season," remarks Honus Wagner. Ach, du lieber Gott, what a choker was Herman already yet.

Arthur Irwin, who managed the Kansas City Blues in the American Association, last season, will pilot the Wilmington team in the Tri-State League next season.

Another blow has been dealt to baseball by the New York politicians, who have decided upon the selection of former Captain Jimmy Wadsworth of the Yale nine, as speaker of the state legislature.

Since Ned Hanlon has been chosen to pilot the Cincinnati Reds in 1906, the modesty of the Queen City scribes is not claiming the pennant is causing comment around the circuit. Cincinnati is the only city that has not claimed the pennant.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE HAS DECIDED TO PRACTICALLY WIPE OUT ALL SPORTS AT THAT SEMI OF LEARNING.

The undergraduates are unable to understand why baseball should be placed on the same level as foot ball, especially as the diamond sport has not been accused of the evils which beset foot ball.

Jimmy Callahan will retire from the ranks of the big league and manage a city league in Chicago, for the good and sufficient reason that he believes there is more money in it. The passing of Callahan from the ranks will mark the retirement of one of the most popular players of the country.

The purchase of the Providence Club, in the Eastern League, by J. T. Powers, former president of that organization, is welcome news to the many friends of the former president. Powers is one of the best base ball men in the country, and it would have been a distinct loss to the game had he stepped down and out.

Well, Old Fitz fought a good fight, anyway, but a bad stomach and the twentieth round of his agony, that would put nearly any fighter to the bad. Ruby Robert has contributed his share of payee to ring followers, and he can now return to the stage, where he drew the crowds even if he was lacking as an actor.

The decision of the directors of the Washington Park Race Track Association to cut the track up into city lots, marks the passing of one of the famous tracks of the country. Seventeen American Derbies have been decided over its course. The action of Mayor Harrison in prohibiting betting at the ring-side killed the racing game at Chicago.

In Mexico the wealthy classes have taken up the automobile, with an enthusiasm almost unparalleled. An auto club with 300 members has been formed in the City of Mexico, for the purpose of bringing about a system of road roads. This is one of the benefits conferred by the automobile. It is proving a potent factor in the development of a country's roads.

Webb Jay, who has flitted with death on various occasions, has decided to re-enter the motor racing game. When he went crashing through a fence at Buffalo at the rate of 100 miles an hour he made up his mind to quit the game, but the fever has taken possession of him again, and now he says he will enter the racing next season, when the Chicago Automobile Club holds its meeting.

What a lot of difference there is between English and American prize fighters. J. Palmer, heavyweight champion of the "light little isle," fought with Geoffrey Thorne, the other night, for a side bet of $750. Incense, Jeffries, or any of the other old time champions entering the ring at the height of their careers and battling for $1,250. That wouldn't be cigarette money for an American champion, though it would come in handy for some of the "once was" fellows.

Thos. H. Williams, president of the New California Jockey Club, will not race in the east next season. He says the yearlings he purchased at the Bunnys & Watson sale, a few days ago, will be reserved until their three-year-old form before they face the barrier. Mr. Williams has a theory that horses are raced too early in this country, and that better results for two-year-olds would be attained if the racing of the yearlings were curtailed to a considerable extent.

SEVERAL UNFORTUNATES ON THE SICK LIST

LIST OF THOSE WHO ARE UNABLE TO BE ABOUT—SEVERAL PROMINENT PERSONAGES.

Several well known residents of Albuquerque, or those residing near by, are confined to their beds, seriously ill.

E. M. Sandoval, the Naciminto merchant and sheep dealer, is at the Sisters Hospital, suffering from rheumatism. His condition today is greatly improved, however.

William Ruby is ill at his Marble avenue home.

Mrs. L. E. Fletcher, of 730 South Arno street, is reported seriously ill. Charles Bottiger of Old Albuquerque has been confined to his home for the past few days with an attack of sickness.

A child of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing, of 501 East Silver avenue, is seriously ill with typhoid fever.

Phil Hartman, the barber, has been indisposed for the past two weeks.

Wallace Douglass, a prominent ranchman, residing south of Albuquerque, is confined at the home of Mr. Holden, on North Eighth street, seriously ill.

Mr. Ketchum of North High street is suffering from pneumonia.

MOST ANYTHING

A former governor of Wisconsin, who devoted much of his time to fighting the railroads, has been admitted to an old men's home. However, the publication of the news at this time may cause some folks to think it a railroad press agent's yarn.

George Ade denies he is engaged to marry an actress in one of his plays. People will be inclined to believe George. He isn't a steel trust official.

Reporters Stuck, Too.

Cherryvale reporters are stuck as to what to do in writing up a coming wedding, that of Miss Simmons and Mr. Stuck. If the headline reads "Simmons-Stuck," it is a reflection on Mr. Stuck, and if it is called "Stuck-Simmons," it is an insult to Cherryvale (Kan.) Republican.

The Water Wagon Parade.

The water wagon will make its annual parade as usual, starting promptly with the last stroke of 12 at the close of the year. The committee has been working hard for several weeks to make the parade even better than it has been in years gone by, and no doubt success will attend its efforts. It will be formed as follows:

Grand Marshal, Dryden Clearwater, riding on a hose wagon.

Silver Lake quartet and the Grand Rapids cornet band.

The famous race horse, Water Boy, led by a sailor.

Platoon of United States marines, Watertown brass band.

Float, "The Pledge," posed by John L. Sullivan.

WATER WAGON, decorated, and with passengers.

United States senators, carrying water on both shoulders.

Niagara Falls lights infantry band.

Float, "Water, water, everywhere, and not a drop to drink."

Old-time fire engine and bucket brigade.

Hi Rivers, who has been the water wagon driver for several years, will drive in the coming parade.

The marchers will proceed to the water works, where an entertainment will be given. An effort will be made to induce Henry Watterson, of Louisville, to act as master of ceremonies. Handsome souvenirs, water color pictures of the Mississippi river, will be given to all who attend the entertainment, the program of which is as follows:

Song, "Wait for the Wagon," by Ben Wagner.

Paper on "Hydraulics," by Swift Brooks.

Cornet solo, "Shall We Gather at the River," by Miss Flora Lake.

Solo, "The Olden Buckle," by Miss Carrie Watters.

(Should the audience insist, Miss Watters will read this beautiful song, instead of singing it.)

Moving pictures, "Down by the Old Water Tank."

Address, by Mr. and Mrs. Water, speakers.

Song, "Little Sallie Watters," by the audience.

The committee earnestly requests all who attend the entertainment to wear either rubber boots or pumps.

However, E. H. Harriman didn't make all his money from his jokes.

POEM BY COL. JACK CRAWFORD PUBLISHED FOR FIRST TIME

Picture to yourself a man who at 62 is as straight as an arrow and lithe as a panther, whose steel gray eyes flash out at you with the gleam of a sabre, whose whole face lights up with every thought, and is a true mirror of the manly soul beneath, and you see Capt. Jack Crawford, who lectured at the Majestic, last night, says the Butler, Pa., Eagle, Dec. 22nd:

Born and reared amid the humblest circumstances, a soldier before he was 16, and wounded twice before he was 17, he saw the hopeless future ahead for him if he was illiterate, and going to work in an army hospital with a nurse for a teacher, and his bed of pain a desk, he learned to read and write.

He is a self made man, and, be it known, Capt. Jack Crawford did not spoil the job.

He numbers among his friends Elbert Hubbard, Opie Read, General Otis, General Chaffee, the lamented "Gene Field," and the martyred Lawrence, and considers too low for his contemplation those who cater to the dime novel reading class, and write blood and thunder stories which are throughout a tissue of lies.

It is a pleasure to hear him and it is a privilege to talk to him face to face. The personality of the man is so strong that one feels a thrill pass over him when the grizzled old veteran speaks.

Below is printed a poem given to an Eagle representative by Capt. Jack Crawford. It has never been printed before, nor ever spoken in public, being written last week:

Good-bye 1905, Welcome 1906.

A gint of gladness,

A hint of sadness,

A spray of sunshine,

A parting tear.

A hope unfailing,

Of smoother sailing,

The truth prevailing,

Good-bye, Old Year.

With joy bells ringing,

Glad tidings bringing,

Of peace and justice,

And naught to fear.

With songs we treat thee,

With prayers we meet thee,

With love we greet thee,

Dear, glad New Year.

ROSWELL PRISONERS ESCAPE

Earl Woodside and Mack Humphreys, prisoners at the county jail, made their escape at 6:30 o'clock last night, and although four men have been hunting them today, no trace of their whereabouts has been found.

says the Roswell Record. Jailer C. R. Young had permitted the two men to come to the cook room, on the second floor, to eat their supper, and while they were eating the telephone bell on the first floor rang. He went down stairs, expecting to return immediately, but a caller detained him. The prisoners took advantage of this delay and tied two blankets together, making a rope which they fastened to a water pipe, and escaped through a window, dropping to the ground from the end of the blankets.

The prisoners were brought here from Roswell county for safe keeping. They are charged with theft.

RAILROAD TOPICS

C. W. Ryus, chief of the claim department for the Santa Fe Railroad company, arrived in the city today from Los Angeles, and will transact official business for the company during the next few days.

E. A. Bartlett, connected with the right of way department of the Santa Fe, arrived in the city last night from Topeka, Kan., and will remain here several days transacting company business.

I. J. Custer, storekeeper for the coast lines of the Santa Fe, left last night for a short visit to friends and relatives in Chicago and Kankakee, Ill. Mr. Custer expects to be gone about ten days, returning to Albuquerque at the end of that time.

Mrs. T. E. Purdy, wife of the local Santa Fe station agent, accompanied by her little son, Joe, left this morning for her home at Oklahoma City, Okla., after having visited with her husband during the holidays. Mr. Purdy expects to remove his family to this city next spring.

A message to The Evening Citizen states that a freight wreck occurred there yesterday on the New Mexico side of the Raton hill. Two freight cars, jumping the track and becoming jammed across the track, necessitated the calling out of the wrecking crew. The flyer for the west was delayed several hours.

There is much complaint being heard in reference to the length of time the switching crews of the local Santa Fe yards have kept the Railroad avenue crossing blocked while switching. There is a city ordinance in effect that limits the time to five minutes, but several times of late the ordinance has evidently been overlooked.

Elmer Hay, conductor on No. 10, was taken suddenly sick while reaching in the dispatcher's office of the Santa Fe at Newton, Kan., the other day. The company physician was called and he pronounced the trouble heart failure. Restoratives were given and he was then taken in one of the Pullman sleepers and placed in his home in Kansas City. The train proceeded after a delay of twenty minutes.

The only train arriving in Albuquerque today on anywhere near schedule time was No. 10, from the south. Nos. 2 and 3 were two hours and twenty minutes late, respectively. The Santa Fe is making every effort in its power to run its trains on time. In view of the fact that the company is after the new mail contract that is soon to be let, but the weather and elements are against it. The lateness of No. 3 is due to the heavy snow between here and Chicago, and the lateness of No. 2 is due to the heavy fall of snow that occurred in New Mexico and Arizona yesterday.

HARVEY GETS EL PASO UNION DEPOT CONCESSION

MYSTERY SURROUNDS THE APPOINTMENT OF DEPOT SUPERINTENDENT, ALTHOUGH HE IS SELECTED.

General Manager J. E. Hurley, of the Santa Fe, who was here yesterday from El Paso, where he attended a meeting of the El Paso Union Depot association, of which he is president, stated that the most important thing accomplished at the meeting was the awarding of the eating house privilege of the new depot, which were secured by the Harvey system. The privileges granted the Harvey people include the news stand, check stand, dining room, lunch room and cigar concessions. The only condition exacted of the concessionaires are that they have every department in operation when the new depot is opened.

The name of the superintendent of the new depot was not given out, although he has been chosen. The only satisfaction that could be got from Mr. Hurley on this score was that the man was a man not residing in El Paso and not connected with any of the railroad entering the new depot.

INITIAL STEPS TOWARD MOVING LOCAL YARDS

SEEN ABOUT TO TAKE PLACE, FROM APPEARANCE IN THE CITY OF CLAIMS AND LAND DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS.

The presence in the city of E. R. Bartlett, of the land department of the Santa Fe, and Charles W. Ryus, of the claims department of the Santa Fe, both with headquarters at Topeka, Kan., should bear more or less significance, especially at this time, when the Santa Fe is looking covetously upon a large acreage of land in the southern part of the city, for the removal of the yards, which, as announced by General Manager J. E. Hurley in December, would take place shortly after the new year.

If the signs of the times are right, Mr. Ryus and Mr. Bartlett are here for the purpose of buying a strip of several acres of land east of the tracks and south of Coal avenue, although they announce that they came especially for the purpose of settling some claims made by people near Belenillo, where water dammed by the railroad embankment, flooded their ground, damaging their crops.

On moving the local yards the Santa Fe will necessarily need more land than is now in their possession in the vicinity of the Albuquerque foundry, and will have to buy some ground now occupied by buildings. Claims made for these buildings will be passed upon by Mr. Ryus, either now or at some future time, but as the time for moving the yards is ripe, it is more than likely that these claims will be passed upon now. It is obvious that in making these land purchases for the company, Mr. Bartlett would be the man to do it, so it is quite safe to presume that Mr. Bartlett is here for the purpose mentioned.

WORK ON THE BELEN CUT-OFF AT A STANDSTILL

Owing to the heavy fall of snow, work on the Belen cut-off at Camp No. 2 has been temporarily suspended. About 100 men are employed at this camp, which is just outside the entrance to Abajo canyon, and as the snow at that point is from two to four feet deep, it has been found impossible to make any headway with the work, and the men have been laid off until the weather moderates and the snow melts. Quite a number of the men employed there have arrived in this city and report the fall of snow there the past few days as being exceedingly heavy, and as having effectively blocked all work on that part of the cut-off for several days to come.

ATTORNEY GENERAL PRICHARD'S DECISION

ON A QUESTION ASKED HIM BY PROF. HIRAM HADLEY.

In reply to this question from Prof. Hiram Hadley, superintendent of public instruction for the territory of New Mexico, Attorney General Geo. W. Prichard has rendered a decision as stated below:

"In the hiring of teachers by boards of school directors, whether by power, or authority, has the county superintendent, either in the selection of the teachers, or in determining the price or compensation paid?"

In answer to this inquiry you are advised that under Sections 1534 and 1535 of the Compiled Laws of 1897 and the laws amendatory thereof, the board of school directors are given the power and authority in their respective districts, to employ teachers, and fix their compensation. That part of Section 1535 referred to, which bears upon the subject, reads as follows:

"The directors of the several school districts shall also employ, and pay school teachers, under the restriction imposed by this act, and shall have the general control and management of the schools of their respective districts, subject to such supervision as shall be herein conferred on the county superintendent."

The county superintendent may investigate the legality of all accounts before approving same, and he may reject a warrant of school directors when he deems the same has been illegally issued, but he has nothing to do with the employment of teachers, nor with fixing their compensation.

ANOTHER BIG YEAR FOR IRON AND STEEL

AND AS THE TWO METALS GO SO GOES THE BUSINESS OF THE COUNTRY.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 2.—It's iron and steel that makes the mare go in Pittsburg. Here they are synonyms of money. Both the millionaire, figuring on expenditures for pleasure during the coming summer, and the lowest laborer, figuring on where the bread and butter are going to come from, turn their eyes to the prices of iron and steel.

And the country over they say that as iron and steel goes so goes general business.

While many iron and steel men predict a record breaking year in the industry, even the most pessimistic concede that conditions point to more than ordinary activity and an augmenting of the prosperity that has prevailed during the past twelve months. It has been just two years since there was a depression in the iron and steel business, when pig iron reached the low mark of $14.40 a ton, and, it being generally figured that these periods come in cycles, it is believed that the business will advance in activity for several years to come.

Practically every one of the 300 furnaces in the Pittsburg district—the territory within a radius of 20 miles—and every rolling mill and pipe mill, is running full capacity as the old year goes out. In the majority of instances the orders have been piling up, and in many cases the land industry, such as the steel rail, pipe and armor plate, there are already sufficient orders on hand to keep the mills busy for the next six months.

If the industry prospers according to present indications, it will mean that the iron and steel products of the Pittsburg district for 1906 will exceed the enormous value of $200,000,000, which they were during the year just closing.

It will mean that instead of 160,000 men employed in the iron and steel industry, there will be a demand for at least 25,000 more men. It will mean that instead of the 1,800,000 cars required to carry the finished product from the mills, the necessity for 200,000 more cars.

These figures are somewhat staggering in their magnitude, but one need remember that the Pittsburg district produces one-sixth of all the iron and steel produced in the world. The entire production of the world in 1905 is estimated at about 40,000,000 tons, while the Pittsburg district put out about 7,000,000 tons.

During the closing year the United States Steel Corporation spent several million dollars in making improvements at its plants and in the erection of new furnaces. Its properties are in good condition, and the iron and steel works at Braddock, Home, and McKeesport, Duquesne and Rankin were never in better condition to cope with the increased demand for finished product.

The shipment of ore from the lakes has been phenomenally heavy, reaching over 54,000,000 tons in the past twelve months. Nearly a million dollars is to be expended by the Bessemer railroad—the steel trust's road for the lakes—for repairs in order to handle the increased business. Everybody is confidently expecting a great increase in the volume of the steel and iron business during the coming year.

LIVESTOCK ON FOREST RESERVES— RULES FIXED BY GOVERNMENT

GIFFORD PINCHOT, FORESTER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, EXPLAINS THE SITUATION.

A Washington special dispatch to the Denver Republican, dated Dec. 31, says: Gifford Pinchot, forester of the department of agriculture, has issued the following instructions to applicants for grazing permits on the forest reserves:

"In accordance with the forest reserve rules and regulations, on and after Jan. 1, 1906, a modest fee will be charged for the privilege of grazing all classes of live stock.

"The forest reserves belong to all the people, but of necessity, under proper management, their use for grazing purposes can only be allowed to a limited number. Therefore, it is fair and just that those who receive the grazing privilege should pay a small fee which will go towards helping to pay the running expenses of the reserves.

"In order to protect and assist homesteaders, a special concession will be made in the grazing fee on cattle for the season of 1906 as follows:

"The permits for each state or territory for the year 1906 will be listed in the order of cattle covered; then beginning with the smallest number of the permits will be counted off, and the number of cattle shown by the largest of these permits will be taken as a basis for this concession. Applicants for grazing permits will be charged only half rates on cattle up to the number thus established for their state or territory but all cattle over this number will be charged at full rates.

"In determining the amount to be charged, the advantages of the locality, method and cost of handling stock, transportation facilities, market conditions and the demand for range will be considered and the rate established accordingly. The number of stock to be allowed on each reserve will be fixed on the basis of mixed stock, as they are usually owned and ranged in the locality.

"In calculating the number for which permits will be required, and the amount to be paid for the privilege of grazing cattle and horses, all animals 6 months old and over at the time of entering will be counted, but no charge will be made for calves and colts under 6 months of age at the time of entering, or for those born during the year for which the permit is granted. The intent is that calves and colts raised during any calendar year shall be paid for during the following calendar year.

"The fact that young stock requires less feed than old stock is taken into consideration in fixing the rate, and in all cases the charges will be reasonable in comparison with the advantages of the reserve.

"In counting sheep and goats, all animals 6 months old and over at the time of entering will be counted as grown stock, and each two head of lambs or kids under 6 months old will be counted as equal to one head of grown stock.

"When sheep or goats enter a reserve for the purpose of lambing or kidding there an additional charge of 2 cents per head will be made on the grown stock, and the permit number required and the amount to be paid for grazing the lambs or kids raised will be estimated on the average per cent of lambs and kids usually raised in the locality, two heads to count as one. Thus, a person who wishes to drive 1,000 ewes for the purpose of lambing on a range where the average lambing is estimated to be 80 per cent, would be required to have a permit for, and pay the grazing fee on 1,000 ewes or 800 lambs to be raised would be counted as equal to 400 grown sheep.

"It will be the aim of the forest service to restrict the allowance for which experience was to be the actual grazing capacity of the range under normal conditions, to make such range divisions among applicants and the different classes of stock as are for the best interests of the reserve and commonwealth, and to divide the grazing privilege fairly. The advantages given in the use of protected range are considered to be full compensation for the money collected, and the earnest cooperation of stockmen is solicited to carry out the policy of a conservative use of the range under such restrictions and regulations as will insure its permanent utility."

A Modern Miracle. Truly miraculous seemed the recovery of Mrs. Mollie Holt of this place," writes J. O. R. Hooper, Woodford, Tenn., "who was so wasted by coughing up pus from her lungs. Doctors declared her and so near that the family had watched by her bedside forty-eight hours; when, at my urgent request Dr. King's New Discovery was given her, with the astonishing result that improvement began, and continued until she finally completely recovered, and is a healthy woman today." COME TO BELEN, N. M.

The Future Railroad Metropolis of New Mexico

Located on the Belen Cut-off of The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway

Belen is 31 miles south of Albuquerque, N. M., at the junction of the Main Line of the Santa Fe system—leading east and west from Chicago, Kansas City, Galveston and points east to San Francisco, Los Angeles, El Paso and Old Mexico

The Belen Town and Improvement Company Own the Belen Townsite

Of 1,060 business and residence lots, size 25x142 feet, laid out with broad 80 and 70-foot streets, with alleys 20 feet wide, with beautiful lake and public park and grand old shade trees; public school house, costing $16,000; churches. Commercial club; a population of 1,500 inhabitants; largest mercantile establishments in New Mexico; the Belen Patent Roller mill, capacity, 150 barrels daily; large winery; three hotels, restaurants, etc. Belen is the largest shipping point for wool, flour, wheat, wine, beans and hay in Central New Mexico. Its importance as a great commercial railroad city in the near future cannot be estimated.

ALL FAST LIMITED EXPRESS, MAIL AND FREIGHT TRAINS OF THE SANTA FE ROUTE WILL GO OVER THE MAIN LINE THROUGH TO BELEN, EAST AND WEST, NORTH AND SOUTH.

The lots offered are in the center of the city, well graded, (many of them improved by cultivation); no sand or gravel. We need a first-class bakery, tailor shop, shoe house, jeweler, plumbing shop, planing mill, coal and wood yard, drug store, harness shop, etc., etc. Also a first-class modern hotel.

OUR PRICES OF LOTS ARE LOW AND TERMS ON EASY PAYMENTS; TITLE PERFECT; WARRANTY DEEDS.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Fair and colder tonight; Wednesday fair and warmer.

A young man whose name was Bill Shay, Took his girl out sleigh-riding today. But the horse ran away. And the people all say He was trying to slay Slay in the sleigh.

There will be a meeting of the Degree of Honor at Odd Fellows hall at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Pitt Ross, surveyor, left last night for the Zuni mountains, where he will spend several days making surveys.

Mrs. M. E. Hickey, North Walter street, is this week entertaining her mother, Mrs. S. J. Cones, of Lawrence, Kas.

A. J. Loomis, internal revenue collector, of Santa Fe, is in the city, and will remain several days transacting official business.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Gansul, today moved into one of the Maloy pretty residences on South Third street, near Lead avenue.

M. E. Hickey, city attorney, and Frank H. Moore, formerly with N. B. Field, have formed a law partnership with offices in the Barnett building.

E. C. Allen, connected with the Gallup Electric company, returned to that city last night after spending New Year's day with his family in this city.

Thomas F. Quinn, of the Goodwillie Box and Bottle Packing company, of Chicago, arrived in the city from that place, and will spend the winter here.

Lou Schoenecker, who has been spending the past six weeks at the Faywood hot springs resort, has returned to Albuquerque much improved in appearance.

Mrs. A. E. Galloway, postmaster at Silver City, who has been spending the holidays in this city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Sheridan, left last night for her home.

A meeting of Albuquerque Lodge No. 235, L. O. O. B., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present. By order of the president, Sam Neustadt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Downey, who have been spending the holidays with friends and relatives in Denver, returned last night. Mr. Downey states that the weather in Denver has been ideal.

J. C. Crowley, accompanied by his family, has arrived in Albuquerque from Belen, and will remain several days. Mr. Crowley states that he is contemplating making his home in this city in the future.

Isidro Sandoval, the sheep raiser, today sold and delivered 800 wethers to the Fair meat market and the Blanchard Meat and Supply company. The wethers averaged 100 pounds and Mr. Sandoval received top figures for them.

Dr. Albert Abrams, a noted scientist of San Francisco, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city last night and is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Bibb, at Parkview terrace. The doctor and his wife are en route to Europe.

The Knights of the Maccabees is another lodge of the city to accept the spacious lodge room in the Elks opera house building for a meeting place. On moving into their new quarters, the Maccabees adopted the first Monday night of each month as their meeting night.

N. O. Zink and D. E. Burke, alderman and superintendent of the Pueblo water supply, respectively, and Under-sheriff Tim O'Leary, all of Pueblo, who have been in the city the past few days, attending the meeting of the Knights of Columbus, left last night for their homes in Pueblo.

A few copies of the New Year edition of The Evening Citizen, still remain unsold. Those wishing copies to mail to friends in the east, or elsewhere can secure same for a small sum of five cents per copy, by calling at, or notifying this office. Secure them before the edition is exhausted.

The Conservative Life Insurance company's office was moved today from the St. Claire hotel building to the rooms in the N. T. Armijo building formerly occupied by the New York Life Insurance company's office. The latter offices are now located on the third floor of the N. T. Armijo building.

The Optic says: Several Las Vegas were in attendance on the big meeting of the Albuquerque Knights of Columbus yesterday, when thirty candidates were awarded the golden stars of knighthood. The conferring of the three degrees by a team of uncommon ability was followed by a sumptuous banquet.

L. C. Wymer, of Peabody, Kas., arrived in Albuquerque yesterday with two car loads of cattle and horses. The cows are all of Jersey stock, and the horses are blooded animals, among them being the famous two-year-old trotting mare, "Marcella."

which now belongs to Jake Levy. Steve Bailing has also purchased a driver from the lot, and other Albuquerqueans are contemplating making purchases. Mr. Wymer will remain in the city until he has disposed of the two car loads of stock.

Many kinds of sleighs were noticeable on the streets of Albuquerque yesterday and today. Buggies were utilized, by taking off the wheels and putting runners under the body. One ingenious youth, wishing a sleigh, took his mother's wash tub, put a sled under it and hitching the family horse to it, proceeded to enjoy a sleigh ride.

The report in circulation on the streets of Albuquerque today to the effect that No. 2 had been wrecked near Isleta, when investigated by a reporter for The Evening Citizen, proved to be nothing more serious than a detachment of one car in a freight train just ahead of No. 2, which delayed the latter train for some time, it not reaching the city until 3:15 this afternoon.

As the weather reports are for continued cold weather it will probably be several days before yesterday's fall of snow melts, and in the meantime "young America" is having lots of fun snow-balling the unwary pedestrian. Only one person today reported to the police that he did not like the sport, and would soon move to a climate where no snows are known to fall.

The Eureka Lodge, No. 19, A. F. & A. M., gave a grand banquet and literary entertainment at the Red Men's hall, on Gold avenue, last evening. Almost a hundred invited guests were present, including the wives and families of the members of the fraternity. Dancing was also indulged in, making the occasion a most enjoyable New Year's event. The entertainment was indeed, in all respects, a credit to the lodge.

In the rush of getting out our New Year's edition last Saturday, The Evening Citizen inadvertently made an error in the write-up of the Albuquerque Traction company, but the mistake did not prevent the patrons of The Citizen and the residents of Albuquerque, at large, from being able to peruse the article sufficiently to learn that the above company is one of Albuquerque's greatest industries.

O. A. Matson & Co., sole distributors of "Miniatures of Albuquerque," a novel little folder devised and made by Tom Jones of Cincinnati, Ohio, presented The Citizen office with one of the folders this morning. The folders contain some 28 or 30 views of Albuquerque, its finest residences, business blocks, industries, street scenes and views of the depot and Alvarado hotel, and are sold for a nominal sum.

It is understood here among the local railroaders, that at the meeting of the board of directors of the Santa Fe Railway company, to be held in New York city tomorrow, a successor to Edward Wilder, late treasurer of the company, will be named, and that E. L. Copeland, cashier under Wilder, will likely be named for the position. Mr. Copeland has been connected with the treasurer's office for sixteen years and is well fitted for the position.

Judge Frank W. Parker and Attorney H. B. Holt, of Las Cruces, were in the city this morning en route to Santa Fe, to attend supreme court, which convened there today. Judge Ira A. Abbott, of the Second Judicial district, was another passenger for Santa Fe, this morning for the same purpose. United States Marshal C. M. Foraker went up yesterday and Deputy United States Marshal J. M. Wiley followed him this morning.

New Year's evening was observed at the Alvarado last evening in a very befitting manner. The Alvarado Trio discoursed an excellent program of music and a large number of city people who went there to partake of the sumptuous dinner that had been prepared, gave the big hotel a real festive appearance. The cheerfulness of the surroundings, with a suite of burning fireplaces in the wide fire places of the lobby, drove away all memory of the cold and snow on the outside.

J. K. Piatero, who has charge of the individual dam at Canoncito Cojo, located about forty miles west of Albuquerque, is in the city, and with his brother, Verito Piatero, called on The Citizen this afternoon. The former is a Navajo Indian, and was educated at the local government Indian school. He talks the English language fluently, besides speaking and conversing in the Spanish language as well as many of our native citizens. Mr. Piatero says the land in the Canoncito Cojo district belongs to the government, but a number of the tribesmen have taken up homesteads there and last year raised a great deal of small grain, etc.

Men's high top shoes, box calf or oiled grain, extra heavy, vulcanized soles. Just the thing to keep your feet warm and dry, without any rubbers. Prices range from $2.50 to $4. C. May's Shoe Store, 314 West Railroad avenue.

NOTICE.

r. L. C. Wymer, of Peabody, Kan., is in Albuquerque with a car load of good Jersey cows in ten days. Don't buy a cow before you see them. Prices will be right. The cows can be seen at Blueher's garden, old town, on their arrival.

Announcement!

Wednesday will record the beginning of a Green Tag Sale. It will mark the inaugural of what we intend to make the greatest price-lowering event, which has ever occurred in this city.

Our store room is congested with an overflow of stock—winter goods still piled up on every side—in some cases, solid, complete lines, without a garment or a size sold. It's a wrong state of affairs for this time of the year.

A state of affairs which demands an immediate and big reduction of prices, which will move the stock and so relieve the tension.

First in Importance is the GREEN TAG SALE of SUITS

We have gone through the entire stock and have tagged every suit. The reductions are phenomenal—in some instances as much as $6 to $8 has been taken from the original price. In every instance we have made the price so low that thrifty men will buy for years to come. Then the sale of which will be decidedly interesting to all, as wonderfully small prices have been made on all lines.

The Sale of Furnishings and Small Articles

Will mean the saving of many a dollar. Here are just a few of the items:

25c Fancy Hosiery, 2 pairs for.....	25c
$1 Flannel Night Shirts	60c
75c Flannelette Soft Shirts	45c
$2 Wool Sweaters	$1 25
50c Four-in-Hand Ties	25c
$1 Gloves, Short or Gauntlet	60c

And so on, through a long list.

We advise you to look for the big Green and Black Posters—they tell the story—the greatest sale ever in a more complete way.
