STATEHOOD BILL STATUS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Debate on the Philippine tariff bill was continued in the house today. Clark of Iowa, in stating the democratic position on the bill, said that his friends would vote for it, although it was a tariff bill, because the democratic party had not been supported by the republicans.

Having his attention called to the sugar trust by a member of the committee, Clark declared dramatically: "I'll tell you about the sugar trust! If you sugar beet people over there will vote with us to wipe out the differential tariff of 25% cents on refined sugar, we will kill the sugar trust as dead as a mullet."

CONDUCT OF CANAL COM- MITTEE IS SUSPICIOUS.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Because of the absence of Chairman Millard and several of the other members of the senate committee on the Isthmian Canal, there will be no meeting of the committee to consider the nomination for members of the Canal Commission until after the senate reconvenes on Monday next.

The committee intends to give any person desiring it opportunity to be heard for or against the confirmation of nominations. After the confirmations of commissioners shall have been disposed of, it is said the committee will take up the question of reorganizing the staffs to be paid the employees.

BILL FOR STATEHOOD O STILL WITH COMMITTEE.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—The house committee on territories continues the hearing of the joint statehood bill, which was begun Monday. Possibly they will be ready to report to the house on the 15th. After reasonable time for debate, it is expected that the bill will pass the house.

MORE MONEY WANTED FOR LIBERTY STATUE.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Congressman Joseph A. Goulden, representing the Eighteenth Congressional District of New York in the House of Representatives, has acted in accordance with the wishes of a large number of New Yorkers, when he introduced the bill asking for an appropriation of $25,000 to be used in supplying an electrical equipment sufficient to adequately illuminate the statue of Liberty, by Bartholdi, which stands on Bedloe Island, in the harbor of New York, and is supposed to illuminate that harbor at night. Ever since the government took the statue in 1903, only $35,000 a year has been allowed for the purpose of maintaining the light in the torch of the statue. The inadequacy of the light has been ridiculed by thousands of visitors, and for a long time there has been a sentiment in favor of adding some way to the illumination, so as to make the outlines of the statue visible at night. As it is, the statue cannot be seen at night, excepting that part of the torch nearest the light.

NATIONAL GUARDS NOW OVERRIDE THE CAPITAL.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—The national capital has been invaded by representatives of the militia of the various states, who have come here to attend the annual convention of the Interstate National Guard Association. The session was opened this morning by the president of the association, General Charles Dick of Ohio. Many prominent national guards officers are in attendance, among them General O. Moulton of Illinois, Colonel E. D. Evans of Nebraska, General John F. Frost of South Carolina, General N. H. Henry of New York, General F. J. Stewart of Pennsylvania, General William Stoddard of Massachusetts, General C. R. Foster of Virginia, General L. Riege of Maryland, General Armfield of North Carolina, and many others. After the president had read his annual report, and the other officers had submitted their reports for the past year, a number of interesting papers on military subjects were read by several distinguished officers of the United States army, who had an opportunity to observe the late Japanese-Russian war at close range. Among the papers were some on the efficiency of various arms, powders, etc., on improvements in the signal service and on medical matters. The convention will last until January 22nd.

EMERGENCY RATIONS WANTED FOR MAY.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—It has been decided by the naval authorities to equip the navy with army emergency rations, and in the near future 5,000 of these rations will be purchased for the use of landing parties and in the exercise of "abandon ship." The navy has never had an emergency ration of its own, but it is the wish of President Roosevelt that more work shall be done by landing parties extending over several days. This requires some special provision in the way of food, and it is realized by the navy officers that nothing better can be obtained than the emergency rations which have stood the test of practical service in the field.

PAID REWARD FOR EACH FOUND

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—The government's victory over the revolutionaries has been quite decisive, although open revolt continues in many places in the interior. The military is employed mercilessly, and gradually the movement is being stifled. These fires of revolt, however, are smothered but not extinguished, and the main fear is that the government, encouraged by success, will fall into the very error of which the revolutionaries were guilty, and attempt to press its advantages too far.

Already there are signs that the policy of repression may be carried to a point which is sure to again arouse the resentment and discontent of the very classes which shrink from the violent program of the "reds." In St. Petersburg, for instance, the wholesale and close search by the police has been succeeded by a particularly offensive measure of the prefect of police, which practically gives the dvorniks, or house-porters, a free hand to search private lodgings for arms and suspicious persons for documents, offering them a premium of fifty cents for the discovery of every revolver or bomb, and twenty-five cents for each knife. Such a measure naturally will arouse the enmity of the house of porters, and restore the intolerable system of personal espionage.

MORALE IMPEACHED.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Cable advice received today from the state department from San Domingo, announced that the revolution is practically at an end. The troops are dispersing to their homes and the country is again becoming quiet. A proclamation has been issued announcing the decision of congress to impeach the fugitive president, General Morales.

Bluefield, W. Va., Jan. 5.—Eleven more bodies were removed from the Coaldale mine, where many were killed in an explosion last night. This makes a total of twenty-three—five whites and eighteen negroes.

LAWYERS STILL TRY TO SAVE HOCH.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—The attorneys for Johanna Hoch, who is under sentence of death in Chicago, for wife murder, today filed in the state supreme court a motion for the rehearing of his case.

Manila, Jan. 5.—Great activity now prevails among the troops in the garrison at Manila. Three regiments are under field orders in view of possible eventualities in China.

State of Missouri vs. Standard Oil.

New York, Jan. 5.—Representatives of the State of Missouri and of the Standard Oil company appeared before Commissioner Henry Wollman this morning, when the case of the State of Missouri against the Standard Oil company, for alleged violation of the anti-trust law, was called for a hearing. Attorney General Hadley of Missouri and several assistants represented the State of Missouri, while the Standard Oil company was represented by an imposing array of legal talent. Among those present were a number of prominent officials of the Standard Oil company, who had been subpoenaed to appear as witnesses at the hearing before Commissioner Wollman. Among them were Henry F. Rogers, James C. Moffat, of the executive committee of the company; Frank Q. Barstow, and Howard Page. In all, twenty-three directors and officials of the Standard Oil company have been summoned to appear as witnesses.

MERE SIGHT SEERS MUST BE REFUSED

Rome, Jan. 5.—The practice of American tourists, to consider the Vatican as one of the curiosities to be included in their sight seeing schedules, will be restricted to some extent in the future, at least so far as visits of the pope are concerned. The privilege of having audiences with the pope has been abused recently, by Americans, in several instances, and each of these cases has given considerable offense and caused a great deal of annoyance and mortification to the Vatican authorities. It will be remembered that on one occasion, several months ago, several Americans, although fully instructed as to the ceremonial required upon presentation at the Vatican, refused to kneel, when the pope appeared. On another occasion, an

LOOKS LIKE PUTTING THE BOOTS TO STANDARD OIL IN MISSOURI

ATTORNEY GENERAL HADLEY, FIGHTER, IS GETTING THE GOODS ON THE BIG MONOPOLY IN THAT STATE—HAS UN-EARTHED SECRET OF HOW IN-DEPENDENTS ARE KILLED AND THEN OIL BOOSTED AWAY UP TO CONSUMERS.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 5.—Driving the Standard Oil company and its cunningly conceived subsidiary companies from the state of Missouri, is not proving an easy task, but Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley has faith in his ability to accomplish that end. He has begun procedure to forfeit the charters of the subsidiary companies and to bar the Standard Oil company from the state.

In the depositions that have been taken at St. Louis, Kansas City and Joplin, it developed that the Standard Oil company, for the purpose of fooling the people into the belief that they were deriving the benefits of competition, organized the Republic Oil company and the Waters-Pierce Oil company. Their connection with the parent concern was one of the oil trust's secrets.

The Standard Oil company did not seek to kibble the entire Missouri field, as long as an independent concern did less than 10 per cent of the business of a community, it was permitted to exist. If the independent concern sought to branch out, the Republic or the Waters-Pierce company entered the field and drove it out, the Standard standing innocently in the background.

The wagons of the independent concerns were followed from store to store, traffic officials of the railroads were corrupted to supply information, everything known to the price of schemers was resorted to to learn the names of customers of the independent. Prices were then quoted them that invariably took the business from the independent concerns.

The Standard Oil company ships its products in iron tank cars. The independent use wooden tank cars. The railroads, at the request of the Standard Oil company, placed a higher tariff on the wooden tank cars than on those of the Standard Oil company, thus giving a direct profit to the Standard.

But this was not enough. The Standard forced the railroads to issue an order that oil would not be received at points where there were no receiving tanks. Before this order was promulgated the independents distributed their oil from the tanks on the cars on side tracks, while the Standard owns receiving tanks at all distributing points. This was the final blow to some of the strongest of the independents and they withdrew from the field.

It is a matter of record that as soon as the independents quit, the price of oil doubled and trebled. The retailer made as much profit as before, because his prices advanced at a corresponding figure to those of the trust.

Woman.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—In an opinion by Chairman Knapp, of the interstate commerce commission today announced its decision in the case of the St. Louis-Indiana Grain company, against the Illinois Central railroad and the Mobile & Ohio railroad, in favor of the railroads. It was held that the fact that the through rates are less than the sum of in and out rates is not of itself valid grounds of objection, nor is it unlawful for defendants to maintain recognition rates which are higher in some cases than the proportion of through rates, and also that the fact that the recognition rate is sometimes the same as the portions of other rates does not warrant the inference of illegal conduct or support the charge of discrimination.

CRIME TOO INHUMAN TO BE IMAGINED.

Havana, Jan. 5.—Domingo Boucart, an old negro, and Victor Molina, a mulatto, were arrested at the prison here today. Both men were regarded as witches by their associates. Their crime was heinous, being the murder of a white baby for the purpose of procuring the heart of a white female child, which the witches had prescribed as a poultice for a certain woman to get rid of barrenness. The child's body was found smoked and sated, weeks after the commission of the crime. A dozen other men and women are imprisoned in connection with the horrible affair.

New York, Jan. 5.—Lyman J. Gage, former Secretary of the Navy, said today that he agrees with Jacob H. Schiff in the opinion that a great panic is inevitable, unless steps are taken to remedy the elasticity of the existing currency system. Gage said he approved of Secretary Shaw's recommendation of an emergency circulation of heavily taxed bank notes, with certain modifications. He did not care to go into details in a short newspaper interview.

THOUGHT PASSING TRAIN WOULD HIDE CRIME.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 5.—Wm. J. Moran, aged 19, confessed today to the killing last night of Robert Collier, aged 37, during a quarrel, after which Moran says he placed Collier's body on the railroad track, in the hope that a passing train would hide the evidence of the crime. The accidental discovery of the body before a train had passed, disclosed the fact that Collier had been killed by a pistol bullet.

OVERCOAT THIEF HAS BEEN APPREHENDED

THOUGH STOLEN GARMENT HAS NOT BEEN FOUND—ONESINO
CHAVES SENT UP FOR THIRTY DAYS.

Onesino Chaves, the native who stole a valuable overcoat belonging to Carlo Piopioni from the saloon of C. A. Grande, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Joe Salazar, of the local force, at Santa Barbara, and brought back here. Chaves admitted stealing the coat. He said that he was drunk at the time and had no knowledge of what prompted him to commit the theft or how or when he did it. Chaves said that he sold the coat to a man who afterwards went into the country. He does not know the name of the party, consequently all the satisfaction the complainant got, or will probably get, was to see Chaves sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail. As the native has a wife and four children dependent upon him for a livelihood, the confinement of Chaves will perhaps be more keenly felt by them than by the prisoner himself. The court had no other alternative, however, in enforcing the law.

DEADLY EARTHQUAKE OPENS THE GROUND.

New York, Jan. 5.—A cable dispatch to the Herald from Rome, Italy, "At Genesio, a town of 8,000 inhabitants, in the province of Polesina, the earth suddenly opened on Thursday, engulfing ten houses and shattering many others, which now threaten to fall. Many persons were buried in the ruins. Fourteen dead bodies have so far been recovered."

EVERY LEGAL DEVICE EMPLOYED

New York, Jan. 5.—The taking of testimony in the proceedings of the State of Missouri against the Standard Oil company began this morning before Frederick H. Sanborn, special commissioner, appointed by Governor Folk. Rush C. Lake, assistant attorney general of Missouri, came in advance of his chief, and when seen last night at his hotel, said: "I am not at all anxious to see the case go to the jury."

It is our purpose to set wheels in motion promptly, and to proceed expeditiously. This hearing in New York is by no means the beginning of our work. We began taking testimony in Missouri four or five months ago, and have already obtained testimony showing a division of territory, and in Missouri, between the Standard and the Waters-Pierce company. We expect to secure cumulative evidence on that point, and also to show that the Republic Oil company, which poses as an independent company, was organized by clerks in the office of the Standard Oil company, and was backed by the money of the Standard.

Witnesses today.
New York, Jan. 5.—Wm. G. Rockefeller, nephew of John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil company, was one of the witnesses who attended the hearing today before Frederick H. Sanborn, special commissioner appointed by Governor Folk of Missouri, to take evidence in suits against the Standard and companies alleged to be allied with it. Other witnesses expected to testify today are W. H. Rogers and John Archbold, vice president and director of the Standard, E. T. Bedford, director in the Standard, was the first witness.

WHO APPEARED AS WITNESSES TODAY.

New York, Jan. 5.—Wm. G. Rockefeller, nephew of John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil company, was one of the witnesses who attended the hearing today before Frederick H. Sanborn, special commissioner appointed by Governor Folk of Missouri, to take evidence in suits against the Standard and companies alleged to be allied with it. Other witnesses expected to testify today are W. H. Rogers and John Archbold, vice president and director of the Standard, E. T. Bedford, director in the Standard, was the first witness.

QUIBBLES EMPLOYED TO DEFEAT JUSTICE.

Bedford said he had been engaged in the business of refining oil since 1870, and was formerly with Boyd & Thompson.

"Was the latter company absorbed by the Standard Oil?" asked Attorney General Hadley.

"We object on the ground that the question has no bearing on the issues," said Mr. Hagerman of counsel for the corporation.

Attorney General Hadley insisted on the question being answered. Wm. V. Rowe, of counsel for the companies, instructed the witness not to answer, but Mr. Hadley said witness had no right of counsel. The commissioner directed Bedford to answer, but Rowe interposed, saying:

"Witness shall not answer. We are pleading the laws of the state of New York."

"We are proceeding under the laws of Missouri," replied Hadley.

"I want you to take down my objection," said Rowe.

"I shall not do it, unless directed by the court," said Commissioner Sanborn.

When the question was repeated, the witness replied:

"By advice of counsel, I decline to answer."

Bedford refused, on advice of counsel, to answer what was his employment or what was his business three years ago.

IOWA AGRICULTURISTS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING.

Ames, Ia., Jan. 5.—The annual meeting of the Iowa Agricultural Union opened at the Iowa State Agricultural College this morning, with a large attendance. Many prominent alumni of the college, and others interested in the agricultural development of the state, are in attendance. The meeting will be highly interesting, as reports on the experimental work carried on by the members of the organization will be submitted. Several professors of the college will speak at the banquet tonight.

ENTIRELY NEW TYPE EXPECTED FOR AUTOS

Paris, Jan. 5.—French automobilists are greatly pleased with the decision of the International Association of Automobile Clubs not to hold an international cup race this year. The decision was reached after the delegates from France, Austria, Germany, Portugal, Switzerland and Belgium had declared that their clubs would not take part in the international contest, should it be arranged for this year. A postponement of the international Cup Race till next year is considered desirable, owing to the fact that the development of automobile construction has, at the present time, reached a serious crisis. It is at present in a transitory state, from which it is expected, an entirely new type of machines will be evolved. It is strongly believed by many lovers of the sport, that high speed racing will become an entirely independent branch of automobilism, an exclusive

London, Jan. 5.—The announcement that the second squadron of the North Atlantic fleet, commanded by Rear Admiral Sigsbee, will be at Gibraltar, which is near Algiers, about the time when the Moroccan conference will assemble, has aroused interest here in diplomatic circles.

WAR MAY SPRING FROM IDEAL PLACE.

Algiers, Spain, Jan. 5.—No more charming spot could have been selected for the meeting of the International Conference on the Moroccan question than Algiers, which is a town of about 15,000 inhabitants, situated pleasantly on the Gulf of Gibraltar, only about five miles across the bay from Gibraltar. The climate is almost tropical at this time of the year, and most beautiful and pleasant. The accommodations of the town are quite fair, as it is frequently visited by the tourists of the "globe-trotter" species, who know a good hotel from a bad one, and insist upon having the best any city may offer. The government has placed one of the government buildings at the disposal of the conference, and has made the most elaborate preparations for the convenience of the representatives of the foreign governments attending the conference.

The conference will be formally opened this afternoon by M. Paul Revoil, the principal French representative, who will undoubtedly play a leading part in the conference. It is a highly important gathering, and it is well understood that the peace of Europe depends, in a large measure, upon the results of the deliberations of the conference. The latter was called at the request of the Sultan of Morocco after all negotiations between Morocco and France concerning the latter's demand for positive assurances from the Sultan of Morocco regarding the security of the frontiers had failed. France was not willing, at first, to consent to an international conference for the settlement of differences, which, in the opinion of the French government, concerned only France and Morocco, a matter, however, became the subject of extensive negotiations between the other powers, and Germany took so decided a stand in favor of Morocco, that France finally assented to the holding of the conference.

The situation between France and Germany, already strained by the antagonistic position taken by Emperor William, was aggravated by the publication in France of certain dispatches and official documents, which involved severe criticisms of the attitude of the German emperor. To offset the effect of the statements contained in the Yellow Book published by the French government, Germany published a White Book, which was practically an answer to the charges and criticisms contained in the French Yellow Book. This added to the friction, and what aggravated the situation still more, was the fact that M. Rouvier insisted upon selecting M. Revoil as the representative of the French government at the conference, notwithstanding the plain hints given out by the German official organs that M. Revoil was persona non grata in Berlin.

Practically nothing will be done at the opening session today, as the representatives of the powers will merely exchange their credentials, and will then probably hold a mere informal meeting, for the purpose of arranging for the time of the meetings, the methods of procedure and other details, which have to be adjusted before the actual work of the conference can begin.

KILTIES' BAND IS AN EXCELLENT ORGANIZATION

DELIGHTED A LARGE SIZED AUDI-ENCE AT THE ELKS' THEATER
LAST EVENING.

It is very seldom that a band is capable of so thoroughly and continually delighting an audience as the famous Kilties' aggregation did in its concert at the Elks' theater last evening. There is no better test as to such an organization's abilities and popularity than the impression made upon the auditors during the rendition of the program. It was astonishing, almost, in this connection, to gaze into the enraptured faces of those present last evening and see them respond to the inward satisfaction over the musicians' efforts by vociferous applause. It certainly would have been perceptibly gratifying to the Kilties had it not been just the sort of a reception they have been receiving all over the country.

Under the skilful direction of L. Addison, a program of Scotch classics, light ballads and concert selections were played in such a manner as never to be forgotten.

The Water Wagon's Trip.

Dryden Clearwater, the grand marshal of the water wagon parade, held his Waterbury watch in his hand, closely watching the hands that he might give the signal for the parade to move the instant the New Year was born. Old Hi Rivers, the veteran driver of the water wagon, kept his eye on Clearwater, and when the latter waved his hand for the start Hi cracked his whip fiercely, his horses plunged forward and the procession was on. After passing through the principal downtown streets, the procession moved to the water works, where the annual entertainment was given. Everything was carried out according to program and the parade was the most successful in years. There were a few disappointments. No word was received from John I. Sullivan, but undoubtedly he will sign the pledge before the end of the week. The audience refused to allow Miss Carrie Watters to sing the "Old Oaken Bucket," thereby contributing much to the success of the entertainment.

WILLING HELPERS.

What's the use of a helper, if he isn't willing? Willingness is an ample mantle which will almost cover all the sins of service. But a classified advertisement in The Evening Citizen is a willing helper that is not only absolutely competent, but also is a willing worker. It works all the time for you. It is the best and most economical publicity in the world.

It looks more than ever as though O'Brien and Jeffries would never meet in the ring. In the first place, Jeff has retired; in the second, O'Brien says he has not challenged him.

In case Bobby Riggs, the heavy hitter of the Peoria team, drafted by Philadelphia, does not make good in the major league, he will go to Toronto to be given another year of seasoning.

Rube Waddell is now in Philadelphia, and is undergoing treatment for his pitching arm. The story that he was unfit to take part in the world's series is borne out by the fact that unless he gets relief his best days as a twirler are over.

Jimmy Britt says he makes it a habit to always keep in good training and within a few pounds of his fighting weight, so that when the opportunity presents itself to do a little ring work he is practically fit and ready for the engagement.

A burlesque manager has placed the sum of $5,000 on deposit with a New York newspaper as a deposit for Marvin Hart to meet any white man on earth for the heavyweight championship. The dispatches do not state whether it is stage money.

A special purse of $3,500 will probably bring together Proper, Eugene Burch, Bearcatcher, Callaghan, San Nicholas, Lubin, and Dr. Leggo, at Ingleside track, on January 10th. Such a field would furnish the best race seen on the Pacific coast in years.

Young Corbett seems to be having a great deal of trouble getting into condition for his fight with Aurelia Herrera, the Mexican. The mill has been twice postponed on his account, and there is some doubt whether he will be in shape on the date last named, January 12th, at Los Angeles.

The "Venetian," of the old Roman days is recalled in the terse description by Philadelphia Jack O'Brien of his fight with Robt. Fitzsimmons. "I outgeneraled him, made him miss and finally got him." And yet it is claimed that pugilists are talky.

Won't somebody please close the cemetery gate? It is enough to give the undertaker a chill to see George Dixon, Kid Griffo, Joe Bernstein and the rest of the cadavers shuddering their grave clothes and hopping about in the square arena like motion pictures on white canvas in a darkened theater. "Oh, death, where is thy victory?" if the coffin lid won't stay on?

The American Association's "laundry day" at Chicago last week did not send all the linen through the wash, and another meeting is to be held this month, at which it is hoped to get all the clothes on the line. There is a possibility that the courts may be called upon to straighten out a few matters that are too much for the managers, one of which is the question of ownership of the St. Paul club.

Olympic games will be held at Athens, Greece, from April 22nd to May 2nd, and by the record established, it will be made up as the official record of the Greek Olympiads, after they have been approved by the committee of umpires. The contests embrace almost all forms of athletics and only amateurs qualified by the known amateur unions will be eligible for entry. American entries must be made before March 12, next.

Wise Bill Adams.
About Bill Adams (this tribe's increasing fast).
Awoke from a deep dream night before last.
And saw within the moonlight in his room.
Making it rich and like a lily in bloom.
An angel writing in a book of gold.
Bill trembled and his brow grew damp and cold.
"I'm on," said Bill, "and when a man can see
An angel strolling 'round his room,
Why, he should cut it out." Bill's friends, on New Year's Day,
Saw the water wagon when it got away;
They watched it as it rumbled down the street.
And, lo! Bill Adams had the driver's seat!

THE BULL'S HORNS.
That is the Place to Take Hold.
A man says:
"Some years ago while employed as an inspector by a large wire fence company, I was compelled to give up my position because of ill health brought on by coffee poisoning. From childhood I had used coffee freely, and for many years had no thought that there was possible harm in it.
"But as time went on I gradually became the victim of indigestion, then of heart trouble, then of nervous headaches, and finally was completely knocked out by nervous prostration, which lost me a good and profitable job that I had held for years.
"At first I scarcely knew what to do, as medicines seemed to have no lasting effect, but it was up to me to do something, and I turned my attention to my diet. Having read more or less about the injurious effects of coffee, I concluded I would experiment to see whether that was the cause of my troubles.
"At first I cut down my coffee allowance one-half, using Postum for the other half of my table beverage. This helped me some, but did not do what I wanted—it did not relieve me entirely. I still suffered more or less with headache and nervousness. So I just took 'the bull by the horns' and cut the coffee off short. From the day that I began to drink Postum exclusively my health began to improve and I have continued its use, as I as I expect to do for the rest of my life.
"The result is that I have not had a headache in years, no man has better digestion, my nerves are like iron, and my mental powers are clearer, more vigorous and accurate than ever before.
"I shall be glad to testify at any time that Postum Food Coffee did all this for me, and keeps me hale and hearty. I can do no less." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Uncle Sam's Felons Build Most Magnificent Prison in the World

ALREADY OCCUPY THE PALATIAL STRUCTURE UPON WHICH THEY HAVE TOILED SEVEN YEARS.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 5.—Eight hundred men whose names have changed to numbers, toiling in silence, building walls behind which to expiate their crimes against society—sullen soldiers of ill fortune, whom the world has cast from its heart. Such is the great army that moves each morning in double file from the strong white cells of the federal prison to labor without compensation, that Uncle Sam may have the finest prison house in all the world—a prison house of such magnificent appointments that the blinding shame of its helpless inmates turns to dull amaze in contemplation of its architectural beauty.

For seven years this refuge for the nation's unruly has been building, and for seven more years convicts will toil ten hours a day, six days a week, before it is finished. If the prison were built by free labor its cost would aggregate $2,500,000. The walls are 900 feet long on the north and south and 800 feet long on the east and west, and rest on solid bedrock, twelve to fifteen feet below the surface of the earth. The walls are 35 feet high, 5 feet wide at the base, 2 feet wide at the top, and built of vitrified brick, so smooth that nothing human or animal can gain a foothold on it.

Sixty armed guards superintend the work of the convicts. The brick was all made by the convicts. A steam railroad connects the prison one-half a mile from the city. A government stone quarry one-half a mile away, and convicts quarried the stone, hewed it and put it in place. The electric wiring, the plastering and the placing of the cells were all done by prisoners.

With the exception of the hospital and administration building and two great cell houses, all of the buildings inside of the enclosure are finished. Probably a cleaner, more sanitary, finer appointed prison house exists nowhere in the world than this one. The interiors of all the buildings are as white as paint can make them. The massive tiers of cells have white-coated iron steps, surmounted by highly polished rails.

Strictly Up to Date.
In the four cell houses windows twenty feet from the floor admit a flood of light from three sides. There are 42 cells on a gallery, 84 on a tier, and 420 in the room. Each cell is electric lighted and has running water in it. Immense fans automatically supply the cells with fresh air every seven minutes. Twenty-five feet above the floor are isolated galleries from which, in case of mutiny, armed guards can command every inch of the cell house. These galleries can be reached only from the outside.

The buildings are of iron, steel, concrete, stone and brick. No wood is used in the construction. There are 1,981 prisoners under Major R. W. McClaughey's care: 659 are white, 294 are colored, 108 are Indians and seven are Mexicans. There are 51 military prisoners.

Feast Under a Dome.
The prisoners eat in a dining room finer than those boasted of by a majority of the first-class hotels of the country. Two thousand prisoners, six at a table, can sit down at once in the immense room. The walls are of white enamel brick, wainscoted with white marble six feet high. Windows on connected that each may be reached by corridors 20 feet wide. These are paved with a composition called lithosite—rubber and wood fiber woven into the cement—which gives the effect of walking on rubber matting, and deadens the footfall.

A VIEW OF THE INTERIOR OF THE PRISON.

CONVICTS RETURNING TO THEIR CELLS AFTER A DAY'S WORK

three sides make the room as light as day. Hundreds of electric lights send the walls and ceiling. The ceiling is 50 feet high at the center, and spreads over the room like a great white inverted bowl.

The kitchen is immaculately clean. It has a range large enough to cook for 2,000 convicts. Two immense ovens, revolved by electricity, are used in the kitchen and dining room. The chapel will seat 2,000. One-half of it is given to the Protestants and one-half to the Roman Catholics. There is a large stage at the end for concerts to be given by convicts. An ice plant of two tons per day capacity is now building.

Easy Walking.
All of the main buildings are so

MURDERER CHENOWETH STILL AT LARGE.

There are no new developments in the Chenoweth jail escape, and the prisoner is still at large, while the general belief is that the chance for his capture is very small, as he is undoubtedly in Old Mexico by this time says the Silver City Independent. From the quick disappearance of the escaped prisoner, it is becoming evident that the plot for his escape was a well laid one and that relays of horses had been provided along the route clear to the Mexico line and that Chenoweth and his rescuer made a flying trip to the border possible without the forty-eight hours succeeding his escape.

PLENTY OF SNOW ON THE LEVEL GROUND.

Cattle Inspector Con Dennis writes from Eppis to the secretary of the cattle sanitary board at Las Vegas that there is from thirteen to fifteen inches of snow there still on the level and that in many places the snow has been swept into high drifts. When he wrote the Rock Island train was stalled at Eppis. "I am going to leave tomorrow for Eppis," writes the Honorable Con, "but God knows when I will get there, as I will be the first one over the road in two weeks."

LAS VEGAS MAN ROBBED IN PHOENIX.

Chas. Coe had a strenuous experience in Phoenix, where he was attending the races last week, says the Optic. While crossing a dark street late one night, he was seized by the throat by two men, who robbed him of several valuable diamonds he was wearing. Mr. Coe promptly reported his loss, but so far nothing has been learned of his assailants.

Andrew Carnegie is about to begin work on his autobiography. Andy seems determined to fill his libraries

HARDEN TO CLASH

THE PRISON RAILWAY AND EQUIPMENT

The old prison is still used for the records and a few records, but eventually will be turned into a military prison. Major McClaughey, the warden, is one of the noted criminologists of the country. Prison experts from all over the world have visited the new prison here, as it is regarded as a model. A German expert said he would recommend to his government the construction of prisons along the lines of this one.

OVER TWO FEET OF SNOW AT PASTURA.

A. A. Sena, of the county clerk's office, Las Vegas, has received a letter from his brother, Leandro Sena, saying that there is two feet and a half of snow on the plains about Pastura, and that it is over three feet deep in the mountains. Stock and sheep are suffering greatly from lack of food and he and his brother are at present cutting down pine trees for the starving animals to feed on.

"You told me you would back my bill," said Senator Grafton. "You have broken your promise."
"Not at all," replied Senator Hood. "I am backing it. I'm not pushing it, am I?"

Because of the complaints over receipts last season, the Southern League has decided to employ traveling auditors to see that there is a fair division of the cash.

Value of Franchises

A recent press letter from New York city says that Thomas F. Ryan, having disposed of Mr. Harriman, and fixed himself permanently in control of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, will now take up the United States Independent Telephone company, and push forward the movement in which it is interested. That company is seeking to enter the city upon a franchise granted many years ago, and then considered worth $5,000, to the Mercantile Electric company, to enable it to perfect a burglar alarm system. This franchise, which originally was considered as worth only an insignificant sum, is now valued at $12,500,000, and bonds worth a face value of $25,000,000 have been issued upon it, which shows that any right given to dig under the streets of New York city contains a gold mine among its possibilities, and that every inch of space traversed is of almost incalculable value.

The letter adds that a pretty fight will grow out of Mr. Ryan's effort, for the city authorities will fight the movement, at least until some portion of that $12,500,000 has materialized in their neighborhood. Great sums of money must inevitably be expended for there is the New York Telephone company with untold millions continually multiplying, to which it is worth millions to keep the company out of the city.

Of the date of Wednesday, the Denver Times, speaking of another matter, says incidentally that "the Metropolitan Street Car company, controlling the elevated railways, and the interborough, controlling the subway, have been formally merged, and the consolidated power represented is colossal. It includes over $200,000,000 of stocks and bonds, which are based upon nothing but the franchises from the city."

Of the same day and date, the Globe-Democrat, on the subject of "Tests of Municipal Ownership," says: "This subject is one of the growing issues of the day. The inhabitants of cities can see that the public service franchises obtained by corporations are immensely profitable to private interests, and, as a rule, lead to largely watered capitalization."

"It happens that municipal ownership in one particular is more advanced in the United States than in England, and that is the water supply in cities. This service, on the whole, is fairly well managed in this country, though it cannot be praised for economy. As water is an article of universal use, and is put on a cash basis by the facility with which the supply can be shut off, a great revenue can be readily obtained. Nearly half the inhabitants of London get water from private companies. In this country three-fourths of the cities of over 30,000 population have their own waterworks."

Panic Predicted

Jacob H. Schiff, of the New York banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., has always been regarded as a level-headed, conservative, clean financier. Hence, his statement before the New York City Chamber of Commerce, predicting a serious panic unless our currency system shall be rendered more elastic, produced no little sensation in the realm of finance.

In so far as Mr. Schiff does not regard the threatened panic as imminent, he stands in line with Dun, Bradstreet, Henry Cleave—in fact, the leading financiers of the country, about all of whom have little or no doubt that the present prosperity will continue for a number of years. Indeed, it is difficult to imagine what should produce a panic, short of senseless flight leading to removal of money into stocks, bonds in the ground, safety deposit boxes, and unopened bank vaults.

There is plenty of money in the United States, the sum total and the per capita being larger than ever before known. Production in no department is in excess of demands either at home or abroad. Wages are good and the consuming power of the people is keeping step with the increasing power of production. The ineffectuality of the currency works no detriment, as was seen the other day when call money went well up into the second hundred of per cent in New York city, and the demand was immediately met by the rush of money from the surrounding country. This proves that the stringency in New York was local and artificial; for when the rate was 100 there for call money, it was 10 to 12 in Boston and 8 to 10 in Philadelphia. All this is proof positive that it was solely the speculative movement in Wall street which caused the abnormal rates.

And even Wall street speculation cannot, under present circumstances, provoke a panic; for as the American Banker of Dec. 30 said: "Were the New York Stock Exchange to close its doors—it has already done so on several occasions—the volume of the currency employed for all other purposes, including the transactions on all the other stock exchanges, would be doubled."

Republicans and Statehood

By a strong majority the caucus of republican members of the house of representatives decided to support a bill admitting New Mexico and Arizona as one state. This was after the same caucus had agreed unanimously to support a bill to admit Oklahoma and the Indian Territory as one state.

The attitude of the republican members of the house in this particular is in line with the position taken a year ago in the congress preceding the present one. A large majority of the republican members of the senate take the same position, which is that of the administration.

It is beyond question that a majority of the people of the United States would approve the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as one state, although within those territories there is great conflict of opinion on the subject. At one time there was marked opposition in Arizona to the proposed union, and this would reappear in its old force were the hope of independent statehood for Arizona as strong as it was a year ago.

The attitude of the east is so pronounced against the admission of either Arizona or New Mexico as a separate state that if joint statehood is rejected by the people the two territories will probably remain in their dependent condition for many years to come. As territories neither will grow with great rapidity, whatever they might do it admitted, and the contrast between them and the large states of the east and the middle west will become more and more marked.—Denver Republican.

Lordsburg Liberal: The Douglas American got into the swim this year by issuing a special holiday edition that was a bird. It was larger and better, considering size of the towns, and the country covered, than the enormous edition of the Los Angeles Examiner, recently issued. The American of the 20th consisted of seven sections of four pages each. It was filled with interesting descriptions of affairs at Douglas and Bisbee, telling of the wonderful growth of these two towns during the past few years, illustrated with fine cuts. Perhaps the most interesting thing in the paper was the speech delivered by Professor Douglas at the miners' convention in El Paso last fall.

New Mexican: New Mexico has had thirty-six legislative assemblies since it became a territory of the United States. The record of these assemblies will compare more favorably with those of the great state of New York, or the powerful commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or of the old state of South Carolina, or of gay Louisiana, or of mineral-rich Colorado, or damp and wet Oregon and many others in the sisterhood of the union. The people of New Mexico need take no lack when it comes to comparing records of assemblies with those of the oldest and proudest states of the union. Facts are facts and talk and wind do not away with them.

The protest, which has arisen over the proposal of Secretary Bonaparte to destroy the Constitution, calls to mind the poem, "Old Ironsides," written about 1830 by the late Oliver Wendell Holmes when a similar proposition had aroused the public ire. This is the poem, which is credited with doing much to save the historic ship:

Ay, tear her battered ensign down!
Long has it waved on high,
And many an eye has danced to see
That banner in the sky;
Beneath it rung the battle shout
And burst the cannon's roar—
The meteor of the ocean's air
Shall sweep the clouds no more!

Her deck, once red with heroes' blood,
Where knelt the vanquished foe,
When winds were hurrying o'er the flood
And waves were white below,
No more shall feel the victor's tread
Or know the conquered knee—
The harpies of the shore shall pluck
The eagle of the sea!

O, better that the shattered hull
Should sink beneath the wave;
Her thunders shook the mighty deep,
And there should be her grave;
Nail to the mast her holy flag,
So every threshold sail
And give her to the god of storms,
The lightning and the gale!

Holmes Helped to Save Old Ironsides

Guthrie, Okla.—"The experiences of members of the English aristocracy in the cattle business in the United States have left a fund of amusing anecdotes in the southwest," said R. L. Carlin, of Guthrie, who was an employee of the Texas & Pacific railroad company in western Texas in the early '80s.

"I have a keen remembrance of the Earl of Aylesford, who bought a ranch near Big Springs, Texas, about 1884 or 1885. I was living at Big Springs and saw the earl and his companions almost daily. His family name was Finch, and with him were two brothers, 'Clem' and 'Dan' Finch, a rollicking blade known as Lord Harry Gordon, and an Episcopal clergyman, known as Bishop Bernard.

"Locally, the earl was called 'Judge,' which he did not resent. He was reported to have an income of $50,000 a year, and his expenditures indicated that his means were large. He bought a frame hotel at Big Springs which he used exclusively for himself and party when they were not at his ranch. He once was owner of a Big Springs saloon for one night. He paid $5,000 for the establishment and presented it next morning to the man from whom he had bought it. I never saw any members of his party pay for anything. They played pool and billiards frequently in a local resort, smoking the best cigars, and taking their drinks regularly. At the close of their games the tickets were cashed by the earl.

"The earl and his friends were great sportsmen. In the field they often used 20-caliber guns for birds, shooting pin-fire shells imported from England. The earl had hunted in all the big game countries of the world, and his collection of furs, skins and heads was of great value. His ranch house was filled with them. In cedar chests he kept photographs and mementoes of his life abroad. His ranch house was burned by accident one night, and was destroyed with all its contents.

"I was invited once to join his party in a winter hunting trip, and during the expedition saw a surprising illustration of the bath-loving Englishman. The weather was cold and I had arisen early, chilled to the marrow, and was shivering near the cook's fire, when Gordon crawled from his sleeping bag to dress. About fifty feet distant was a pool of water, covered with a thin coating of ice. 'Bless me, son!' shouted Gordon, 'what a joy! chance for a bath,' and he plunged into the water, breaking the ice as he went, and followed by the earl and his brothers. The sight was excruciating to a warm-blooded American, but the bodies of the Englishmen glowed pink and red in the frosty air.

"Despite his youth—he was about 35—the earl was looked upon as an elderly man by his companions. He had gone the pace, and soon paid the penalty. When his physician called one morning the earl, who had been in bed several days, asked that his pulse be taken. 'Well, judge, I should say that you have about fifteen minutes to live,' said the physician, after making his examination. 'If that be your opinion,' replied the earl, without a tremor, 'give me a good, big farewell drink of American whiskey.' He emptied his glass, and with a long sigh, turned on his side and was gone.

"The cablegram business at the little telegraph office of Big Springs for the next few days astonished the operators. The rate was $1.10 a word and the cable was used as if the senders were writing letters. One of the first messages of condolence from England came from the Prince of Wales, now King Edward. The body of the earl was taken home by all his retainers and none of them ever returned. Incidentally, the physician found that the earl's liver weighed fourteen pounds."

Encouraging Message On Good Man's Grave

Some day when the skies are overcast, when business is bad, when the world seems ungrateful, when life jars and grates, and seems hardly worth while; when duty is a burden that almost crushes; when to your distorted vision there seems to be no future for this nation or for you; then read the words that follow; that tell of the kindly optimism of a man who was really great, and who lived his life in the open.

This is the message that will stand in enduring letters on the tomb of Geo. Frisbie Hoar, in Concord, N. H.: "I have no faith in fatalism, in destiny, in blind force. I believe in God, the living God. I believe in the American people, a brave and free people, who do not bow the neck or bend the knee to any other, and who desire no other to bow the neck or bend the knee to them. I believe that a republic is greater than an empire. I believe, finally, whatever clouds may darken the horizon that the world is growing better; that today is better than yesterday, and that tomorrow will be better than today."

Fish in City Water Pipes

Hundred of fish, the size of brook minnows, are living in the water mains of this city, as is evidenced by the large number that are coming out of faucets at various places, and especially as evidenced by the taking of several dozen lake herring, four and one-half inches long, from a public watering trough yesterday.

No microscope was needed to detect the fish that were taken out of the public watering trough. This little basin, two feet in diameter and eighteen inches deep, was as lively with fish as an aquarium. The fish are supposed to come into the mains from the intake out in the lake.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A packed house greeted the Bioscope entertainment at the new theater last night. The entertainment was one of the most interesting ever given in the city, and fully deserves the patronage given it. The audience was highly pleased with every feature of the evening's entertainment, from the performance of the up to date magician to the moving pictures showing the Sioux Falls fire department in action. So great was the crowd when the theater was opened that Manager Bear, owing to the crush, had to stop selling tickets; the house being filled to its capacity. Probably 200 people had to be turned away.—Daily Argus-Leader, Sioux Falls, S. D.

SAMUELS' ATTRACTIONS

"You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time," is an old saying. Mr. Samuels, manager of the George Samuels attractions, thoroughly believes in it, as has been proven by his recent visits to your city with his different attractions. He promises you the best plays and the best special scenery, with all electrical effects, property, etc. He has kept his word up to date, and now he is going to give you something better than ever. Mr. Samuels has succeeded in getting for one trip over the circuit, at an enormous expense, two comedies that have seldom been seen outside of the largest cities, being "Hello Bill" and "Mr. Plaster of Paris." The first mentioned, "Hello Bill," is a companion play to "The Man From Mexico."

Mr. Samuels has been quoted as saying that any one who attends either of these plays and does not think they have received their money's worth, can go to the box office where the money will be cheerfully refunded. The dates set for "Hello Bill" and "Mr. Plaster of Paris," Monday night, January 8, and Tuesday night, January 9, respectively. Wednesday night, January 10, the company will render "A Turkish Bath."

TWO GUARANTEED PLAYS

Readers of popular fiction are at all times delighted with a new success story is announced, and for this reason, Arthur C. Alston's "Shadows on the Hearth" enjoys such popular distinction. It is unlike any other story that has been introduced to the public notice in years, and much credit is due Louis Bagan for his clever dramatization of it. The scenes are laid on the famous Delaware river, which is noted both historically and pictorially, and this knowledge alone signifies beautiful settings, in order to be appropriate and in keeping with the foundation of the story. Mr. Alston has spared no expense in having this production complete in the minutest detail, and he also deserves much credit for retaining all the original New York cast, including Estha Williams and James M. Brophy, two of whom are of the high standard of 150 nights in New York, Boston and Philadelphia and other eastern cities. Many managers spare no expense to make the original production in New York a triumph, but as soon as the play gains a reputation they immediately discharge the high standard artists, and in their stead they place cheap, inferior ones, and send the play on tour, overlooking the fact that the theater-goers in other places are just as wise as the New Yorkers, and are just as appreciative and deserving. Manager Alston has always considered this matter thoroughly, and it is through this one detail that he has gained a more than local following. "Shadows on the Hearth" will be presented here Friday night, January 12, followed on Saturday by "At the Old Cross Roads."

GAMBLING TABLES WERE DENE AULOFF'S RUIN

TRANSFORMED HIM FROM VALUED EMPLOYEE AND LOVING HUSBAND TO SOCIAL OUTCAST.

Dene Auloff's downfall can be traced, not directly to liquor, but rather to his mania to gamble. The man's arrest on complaint of his wife was mentioned in these columns yesterday. As forecasted in this paper, at the time, Judge Crawford allowed Auloff his liberty upon his promise to get out of town. The Santa Fe railroad company last evening furnished the man a pass, and he is now, according to reliable reports, on his way to Los Angeles, California, an outcast from his own town, where, had he behaved himself, he might be enjoying prosperity, a cozy home and a devoted wife. Auloff is recognized by heads at the local Santa Fe shops as an expert machinist. He made big money, but as quickly as he made it, the man would be for a gambling house, and his last cent was gone before he left the tables. His wife who it is said Auloff married at fifteen, remarried with him and tried to induce him to cut out these practices, but for her trouble was abused and finally was obliged to leave Auloff in order to keep alive. He still persisted in annoying her, and the authorities interfered and banished him from the community. When Mrs. Auloff learned this morning that Auloff had left Albuquerque, she seemed very much relieved. Many other persons feel equally joyful.

R. W. Gamble, who has been in the hospital the past two weeks suffering with neuralgia, rheumatism, is reported much improved today, and his attending physician gives Mrs. Gamble encouragement that her husband, if no relapse occurs, will be up and around in a short time. Mr. Gamble is an employee of this office, a member of the local Typographical union, and the latter organization is assisting Mrs. Gamble in looking after the wants of her husband.

COUNCIL HELD AN ADJOURNED MEETING

Important Matters Considered at Yesterday Afternoon's Session.

THE PROCEEDINGS OUTLINED

An adjourned meeting of the common council was held yesterday afternoon in the office of City Clerk Lee. The roll call showed the presence of a quorum, whereupon the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the clerk.

The first formal act was the reading of a large batch of bills and the motion ordering them paid out of their respective funds.

Alderman Walker informed the council that he had investigated the freight charge for sewer pipe and ascertained that a refund of $36.36 was due the railroad company. The same was ordered paid.

Alderman Walker reported relative to inquiries he made for his committee among civil engineers with a view of finding out what the cost would be for looking over the sewer system here, securing necessary advice, etc., in connection with the same. He read a letter from Alexander Potter of New York, which in substance stated that Mr. Potter was contemplating a trip through this section and would, in consequence, perform the work for $25 a day and expenses, or for $350, payable upon the completion of the task.

W. S. Scheens of Chicago also bid for the work. Alderman Harrison said that Henry Phillips, a prominent engineer of St. Louis, would be in Pueblo soon in connection with sewer work, and possibly his services could be obtained for a reasonable amount. The matter was finally laid to one side, without any action being taken regarding it.

The lighting committee reported favorably on a petition received from residents in the vicinity of Coal avenue and Arno street for a light on that corner. The council ordered the light installed.

Clerk Lee read several reports from city officials. The clerk's report showed that $208.25 had been collected in licenses, Chief of Police McMullen's that the sum of $620 had been received in fines, while that of the city treasurer showed $7,170.27 on hand. The report of the building inspector showed that thirty permits had been issued by him, and the estimated valuation at $48,645.

Building Inspector Whitcomb addressed the council in reference to a proposed amendment to the ordinance. By it the rates to be charged for alterations, repairs and additions to city property are to be made specific. Considerable discussion ensued, it being the general opinion of the city fathers that for amounts less than $100 no charge should be made; for $100, 50 cents; for $1,000, $1.00; for more than $1,000, the same fee as charged for the building permit.

An opinion from City Attorney M. E. Hickey, relative to the pavement of streets or alleys, stated in effect that the council had the power to order any street, alley or lot on abutting property with 6 per cent interest, and to make the property owner pay, within thirty days. This opinion, it was explained, had no reference to sidewalk, on which the city attorney will prepare an opinion, to be read at the next meeting.

At a recent meeting of the city council a city scavenger was appointed, who was vested with the authority to charge 25 cents per barrel for moving away garbage. Alderman Harrison said from the territorial law where the fees of the scavenger were fixed at a rate not to exceed 10 cents per week from each household. The matter was left with the street committee and city attorney to straighten out.

Alderman Gillenwater suggested that the city attorney prepare a resolution which would employ all contractors engaged in electrical work to employ competent workmen, and the necessity of these parties qualifying before the building inspector before being permitted to work. This is a provision to eliminate incompetent employees working buildings in the city, which so often results in fires and other accidents.

Clerk Lee called the attention of the council to the fact that Poundmaster Ward was short $40 in his accounts, caused by the loss of tags numbered from 111 to 150, which were removed from the scavenger's pockets when he was locked up in jail for refusing to turn over a dog to Assistant Chief of Police Kennedy. The clerk asked the council to give Ward credit for the lost tags, and if any of the missing ones turned up, to charge him for them. This the aldermen did, and after instructing the financial committee to investigate the advisability of compelling ticket scalpers to take out licenses, adjourned sine die.

HAVE GONE OUT OF THE SHEEP BUSINESS

Ilfeld Brothers Sold 15,000 Head to J. H. Nations of El Paso.

TO TAKE A TRIP THROUGH EUROPE

Ilfeld Bros., the prominent dealers in sheep, wool, hides and pelts, have gone out of the sheep business and will in the future give their attention to the wool business and hide and pelt departments exclusively.

Messrs. Ilfeld sold their sheep interests some time ago, at which time a deal in this line of considerable magnitude took place. The Ilfeld flock numbered something in excess of 15,000 head. Of this number just 15,000 were sold.

J. H. Nations of El Paso was the purchaser, the consideration being private. Messrs. Ilfeld have owned a few sheep on the mesa for their own use.

A report was current about the streets yesterday, to the effect that Ilfeld Bros. had gone out of both the sheep and wool business. To a reporter from the Evening Citizen, Mr. Louis Ilfeld said, when interrogated regarding the report: "No, it is only the sheep interests we have disposed of. We are still engaged in the wool trade."

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ilfeld leave in May for an extensive European trip. It is planned to visit all the cities of interest across the sea. Mr. and Mrs. Ilfeld expect to be absent from Albuquerque until about Christmas. The many friends of both will wish them a bon voyage and the best of luck and pleasure during their rambles about the old country.

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR THE ELKS' MINSTRELS

YOU WON'T NEED FEATHERS TO TICKLE YOU IF YOU ATTEND THE ELKS' MINSTRELS TONIGHT.

"Gentlemen, be seated." The final dress rehearsal has been given, the performers are better prepared than their parts, and the end men are crammed full of jokes. All is in readiness for the perfectly prepared pageant in modern minstrelsy that will hold forth at the Elks' opera house tonight, presented by the Elks' minstrel organization, numbering among its members the finest and funniest comedians of the black-face art in Albuquerque's home talent.

Interlocutor: "Bones, how are you getting along?"
Bones Wilson: "Oh, trimmily, trimmily."

To miss the minstrels tonight, is to be sad forever more. Manager Arthur Cavanaugh has devoted special pains to this entertainment, the songs are all up to date, the jokes are new, and those attending will witness a performance more funnily funny than the redoubtable Lew Dockstader himself could produce.

Special attention has been given to the olio, and as a result some of the best talent obtainable in the city has been secured for this part of the program. In addition, "Spot" Moore, the village cut-up; Edison Hixcox, the comedian with the funny impediment; Frank Delaney; Joe Sheridan, the Irish wit; M. E. Hickey, the little (?) fun maker; R. W. D. Bryan, an old favorite; Gus Thelin, John Steward, C. M. Horton, Joe Scott, the musical man; and Promoter A. W. Cavanaugh, the funniest of 'em all, will act as end men and do the leading stunts.

Without a doubt this will be the best amateur performance ever witnessed in Albuquerque, and with Mr. Matson's assurance that the opera house will be warm and comfortable, and judging from the advance sale of seats, the house will be crowded, and the "S. R. O." sign hung out early in the evening.

LONG RUN FOR A VERY SMALL FIRE TODAY

Shortly after dinner, today, an alarm of fire called the department to the Highland district. In some unknown manner a spark from the kitchen stove ignited the canvas forming the roof of a cottage at the corner of Iron avenue and High street, and occupied by M. L. Logue. A hole several feet square was burned in the roof. It was extinguished practically before the firemen arrived. The loss is insignificant and covered by insurance. The cottage is owned by E. V. Claypool, of North English, Iowa.

SHERIFF ARMJO'S MANY TROUBLES

His Wife is Injured, His Son Gets Sick and Now His Cattle Are Killed.

WONDERS WHERE IS THE END

Sheriff Perfecto Armijo expects to have plenty of troubles in connection with his office for an officer of the law that does not have troubles, is not one who is faithfully fulfilling his oath of office. Sheriff Armijo, is as a matter of fact, though, experiencing a grist of tribulations and troubles not on the bill of fare for the sheriff of Bernalillo county, or of any other county, for that matter.

A few days ago, Mrs. Armijo, the sheriff's wife, fell while at the ranch, fracturing a bone in her left limb. Particulars of this accident appeared exclusively in The Evening Citizen. It might be said, before going any further, that Mrs. Armijo is resting comfortably, it being only a matter of time until she will be up and around again.

Added to this misfortune, Sheriff Armijo yesterday received a telegram from Mexico City chronicling the serious illness there of his son, David Armijo. As the dispatch was very unintelligible, owing to the fact that part was in English and part in Spanish, the exact nature of the son's illness was not obtainable, and the telegram was sent back for correction. It is more than probable that the sheriff will be obliged to go to Mexico shortly.

Another streak of bad luck fell to the lot of the sheriff yesterday at his ranch, when one valuable Jersey cow was killed and another seriously injured as the result of an attack made upon them by two bulldozers, the property of a neighbor named Munzey. The vicious canines, after biting one bovine to death, attacked another, pulling her ears off, and no doubt they would have finished the cow had not a son of the sheriff appeared upon the scene with a gun and dispatched one dog to the happy hunting ground and wounded the other to the extent that death is expected to soon put an end to its sufferings. An unfortunate part of the bovine tragedy is the fact that Munzey is a particular friend of the sheriff, which makes the collection of money in payment for the cattle unpleasant, although Munzey has offered to settle.

"I hope," the sheriff said, "that I have reached the end of my unlucky streak. I certainly have had my share."

A nephew of the sheriff, Tranquilino Armijo, it will be remembered, died on December 27.

ROCK ISLAND TRAINS DETOURING OVER SANTA FE

As proof that the Rock Island is really snow bound, four Rock Island trains, two of them Golden State Limiteds, will pass through Albuquerque between 10 o'clock tonight and tomorrow morning. The snow blockade on the Rock Island is near Santa Rosa, and the trains which are expected here tonight, will leave their own road at Tucuman, detouring over the Dawson road to French, where they are transferred to the Santa Fe tracks to Deming, where they will go to the Southern Pacific tracks, with which road the Rock Island has a traffic agreement. It is not known here how soon the Rock Island people expect to have their road open.

ALL FAIR BILLS SHOULD BE PAID

Creditors of Last Year's Fair Are Anxious About Payment of Their Accounts.

THEY APPEAL TO NEW OFFICERS

Messrs. Greer and Sellers, officers of the late twenty-fifth territorial fair, inform The Citizen that they are in receipt of quite a number of communications inquiring what steps the new officers of the twenty-sixth fair, have taken towards paying the indebtedness of the last fair.

Inasmuch as Messrs. Greer and Sellers, as officers of the twenty-fifth fair, immediately hypothesized their subscriptions and gave individual notes for enough to pay in full all indebtedness of the twenty-fourth fair, some $2,200, they feel that something should be done by the officers of the twenty-sixth fair in the same direction, considering they now have about $5,000 subscribed for the next fair and that several of the $500 subscribers have signified their willingness to pay the cash at once.

Messrs. Greer and Sellers are also firm in their belief that the amounts owing should be paid in full, the same as they did with the 1904 indebtedness, and insofar as the subscriptions for the 1906 fair now amount to the net sum of fully $5,000. This matter should be attended to at once, and bills held against the fair of last fall should be paid as soon as possible.

THE COAL MAN SEEN DAYLIGHT

BOUNTIFUL SUPPLY FOR CITY'S NEED HAS BEEN SHIPPED UP FROM GALLUP MINES.

Coal is as scarce today as it has been since the supply ran out three weeks ago, but according to reports which come from the coal offices, relief is close at hand. Harry Bullard, office manager at the Cerrillos Coal Yards, telephoned this morning that he would have a bountiful supply of coal on hand the early part of next week. Several cars have been shipped from the Gallup mines, consigned to them, and arrangements have been made for more to follow. Mr. Bullard stated that at present, it required from three to ten days for a car of coal to reach Albuquerque, from Gallup, and it would only be a question of time before he would have a supply at hand sufficient to meet all demands.

ACTRESS LOVED BY GRAND DUKE CAUSE OF RUSSIA'S NAVAL ROUT

Mlle. Baletta amassed fortune of $3,000,000 in seven years—now blamed for the naval disasters, she has escaped to Paris—Alexis neglected all for her.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—Mlle. Baletta, the leading French actress of the Imperial Michael theater in St. Petersburg, who in seven years has obtained $3,000,000 because of the love of the Grand Duke Alexis, for her, has been compelled to leave the theater and return to Paris.

Because of his infatuation for the beautiful young woman, Alexis, who until the destruction of the Russian navy was commander in chief of the Russian army, neglected his duties, permitted the efficiency of the navy to decline, and allowed Baletta to accept bribe money from naval officers who wanted to shirk irksome duties or gain promotion.

In St. Petersburg, Mlle. Baletta is held largely responsible for the naval reverses of Russia during the Japanese war, and her position at the Michael theater has grown difficult since Alexis left Russia.

Finally, the manager, fearing there would be riots among the audiences, discharged her, being compelled to pay her $50,000 for breaking her contract.

Baletta left St. Petersburg like a queen. She engaged a special car for herself with a separate apartment for her three dogs. Her baggage weighed 800 pounds. The trip cost her $6,250.

Before leaving the actress had $150,000 transferred to Paris by the Credit Lyonnais, and insured her diamonds for $1,000,000. Her magnificent house in St. Petersburg she refused to give up, saying that the rich furnishings could not be sold for anything like their real value at present.

When Mlle. Baletta arrived in St. Petersburg, seven years ago, she was unknown, and had only slight histrionic ability. Because of her beauty she was engaged at the Michael theater, which receives a government subsidy for giving French plays four times a week.

Alexis had fallen madly in love with a daughter of a wealthy Russian physician, and insisted on marrying her. The girl died suddenly. Alexis believed she had been poisoned and his grief was fearful.

Then he met Mlle. Baletta. Her beauty fascinated him, and soon he forgot his former love. During the first week of their intimacy, the actress received $25,000 worth of diamonds from the grand duke, and then he made her a fixed allowance of $5,000 a month, besides furnishing and paying the rent of a splendid residence for her, and supplying her with dresses and horses and carriages.

Alexis introduced the actress to the czar and the grand dukes, who were charmed by her beauty, and accomplished.

When the naval disasters began to overtake Russia and Alexis fell into disgrace, the people of St. Petersburg turned against the actress and at the Michael theater the audience threw rotten eggs at her, shouting, "Down with Alexis' favorite."

Alexis left Russia and is now in France, but Baletta pluckily declined to resign.

This picture shows a revolutionary cartoon, which has been circulated secretly in Russia, but reached this country on a post card. It represents Grand Duke Alexis presenting the Russian navy to Mlle. Baletta.

KAISER BILL ABOUT READY TO GIVE KING EDDIE A REAL HARD SLAP ON THE WRIST

"FOOL," "RAKE," "UNSCRUPULOUS," ARE SOME OF THE DESPERATELY HARD NAMES THEY ARE CALLING EACH OTHER. SOME FUN FOR TWO NATIONS.

London, Jan. 5.—Friction is increasing between the courts of Berlin and London, owing to mischief making tale bearers who are repeating unpalatable sayings of the Kaiser about his royal Uncle Edward.

The Kaiser, irritated by the large amount of newspaper space given over to King Edward's influence in European politics, recently said to a number of German court followers that "it is too ridiculous for me to pose as controller of the destinies of a great empire."

This remark was repeated to Edward, who replied: "That young fool, William, has committed the great mistake of meddling with my business. He will have to be taught better manners."

King Edward's cause has been taken up by Mr. Balfour, who said that England would crush any monarch that tried to emulate Napoleon and dominate Europe, and by Lord Lansdowne who has referred very plainly to the Kaiser as an unscrupulous potentate.

The Kaiser has been made fighting mad by these references, and on many occasions he talks disdainfully of the rumors of King Edward, all of his remarks being faithfully conveyed to the British monarch.

A few days ago the Kaiser ostentatiously slighted the English ambassador in Berlin, Lascelles. Lascelles reported the incident to his government, and was recalled to England, immediately. It was officially stated that he had taken leave of absence, but the slight offered to him was the real reason of his departure.

ONE OF THE VERY FEW PHOTOGRAPHS EVER TAKEN OF KING AND KAISER TOGETHER.

Efforts are being made to reconcile the two rulers, but hitherto without avail. The peacemakers, however, are counting on the coming jubilee celebration of the 25th anniversary of the

THE TERRITORIAL SUPREME COURT

PROCEEDINGS OF SESSION HELD YESTERDAY—APPLICANTS ADMITTED TO PRACTICE.

The supreme court met at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the chambers in the capitol building, Santa Fe. There were present: Chief Justice William J. Mills, Associate Justices John R. McFie, Frank W. Parker, William H. Pope, Edward A. Mann and Ira A. Abbott. Jose B. Serna, clerk of the court, was also present.

The territory of New Mexico was represented by Attorney General George W. Pritchard. Creighton M. Foraker, United States marshal, was also present.

The following business was had: The committee on examinations of applicants for admission to the bar of the supreme court of the territory of New Mexico made its report recommending that the candidates examined by it be admitted to practice.

Upon signing the roll and taking the oath of office, the following were admitted to the bar on certificates of practice in other states or territories: R. H. Templeton, Santa Rosa; D. S. Grantham, Carlsbad; William R. McGill, Fort Sumner; D. J. Thomas, Carlsbad; Edwin C. Crompton, Raton; R. R. Wade, Jarilla; John W. Armstrong, Carlsbad; Arthur I. Kelso, Las Cruces.

The following were admitted to practice by examination: Joseph W. Reed, Hillsboro; E. L. Enloe, Las Cruces; Alexander N. Speer, Jr., Santa Fe; Paul A. F. Walter, Santa Fe; H. M. Roderick, Raton; Charles A. Law, Clayton; Charles E. Davidson, Tucuman; Mark V. Thompson, Alamogordo.

With the exception of John W. Armstrong, all appeared in court and took the oath of office. Attorney Armstrong will appear later.

Upon the suggestion of ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, the attention of

BELL WENT TO EL PASO WITH A WOMAN

REPORT THAT HE HAD BEEN IN THAT CITY NEARLY TEN DAYS.

It is now reported that John R. Bell, who committed suicide in the Sheldon hotel last Sunday night, came to El Paso from his home at Amarillo about ten days ago and that he was accompanied by a young woman, says the El Paso Herald. It is said that the couple lived at a rooming house until Saturday, when young Bell left the woman, going to the Sheldon. Whether or not Bell and the woman quarreled is unknown, but the supposition is that Bell, being ashamed to return to his wife at Amarillo, decided to destroy himself.

The name of the woman is not known. It is thought that she is still in the city.

The body of Bell was forwarded last night to Amarillo.

A Modern Miracle. "Truly miraculous seemed the recovery of Mrs. Mollie Holt of this place," writes J. O. R. Hooper, Woodford, Tenn. "she was so wasted by coughing up pus, from whom lung doctors declared her end so near that the family had watched by her bedside forty-eight hours; when, at my urgent request Dr. King's New Discovery was given her, with the astonishing result that improvement began, and continued until she finally completely recovered, and is a healthy woman today." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c and $1.00 at all druggists. Trial bottle free.

A NEW YORKER PAINFULLY HURT. E. H. Haskell, of New York, who is spending the winter at Las Alamos, San Miguel county, had quite a serious mishap when driving in to Las Vegas. He managed to turn his sleigh over and fell underneath. His arm was painfully cut and he was otherwise cut and bruised.

Indigestion Overcome. Indigestion is easily overcome by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, because this remedy digests what you eat and gives the stomach a rest—allows it to recuperate and grow strong again. Kodol relieves indigestion, belching of gas, sour stomach, heart-burn, etc., and enables the digestive organs to transform all foods into the kind of rich red blood that makes health and strength. Sold by all druggists.

Always increases the Strength. A reasonable amount of food thoroughly digested and properly assimilated will always increase the strength. If your stomach is a "little off" Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest what you eat and enable the digestive organs to assimilate and transform all food into tissue-building blood. Kodol relieves Sour Stomach, Belching, Heart-Burn and all forms of indigestion. Palatable and strengthening. Sold by all druggists.

Perfection Attained. Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, disarrange, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. W. H. How, Houston, Tex., says: "For years I have used Little Early Risers Pills in my family. No better pill can be used for constipation." Sold by all druggists.

THE IMMENSITY OF BELEN CUT-OFF

Saves but Little Mileage but Increases Tonnage on New Route.

DIVISION POINTS WHEN COMPLETED

So much has been written about the Santa Fe's Belen cut-off of late, that it would seem as though every reader of newspapers should be familiar with the subject, yet there are many who do not realize the vastness of this undertaking of the Santa Fe, nor how mammoth a project it really is.

What the Cut-off Really Is.
In speaking of a "cut-off," people as a rule understand it to mean a short spur, or bit of track, between two points on the main line that materially lessens the difference between the terminals of the road. As a general rule that is what it does mean, but in the instance of the Belen cut-off, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company is constructing a cut-off that has a mileage almost as long as the distance between St. Louis and Kansas City, or in actual miles, 260, and even at that there will be but a small saving in miles between Kansas City and the coast, but it will permit the Santa Fe to handle many times as much tonnage on transcontinental freight as it handles under present existing conditions.

The Extent of the Cut-off.
The cut-off extends, or will, when completed, from Toledo to Belen and from Belen to Rio Puerco, a total distance of 260 miles. At present, all transcontinental freight from the east, handled by the Santa Fe, goes by way of Kansas City, Mo., Emporia, Kan., La Junta, Colo., Trinidad, Colo., Las Vegas and this city, but with the completion of the cut-off all these points with the exception of Kansas City and Emporia, will be cut off the routing, and the freight will go by way of the Pecos Valley route to Toledo, thence over the cut-off to Belen, and on to Rio Puerco, where it will again strike the main line into Los Angeles and San Francisco.

History of Building of Cut-off.
For many years the management of the Santa Fe tried to find means of avoiding the heavy grades at Raton and Glorieta. The grade over the Raton mountain is 4 per cent and at Glorieta 2 1/2 per cent. The expense of hauling heavy trains up these grades, together with the time lost in the operation, made the company anxious to find some new routing that would cut out these two mountain ranges. As a result, engineer parties were sent out by the management, with instructions to find a new route from Florence, Kan., to the coast, at any cost. The civil engineers discovered that the Pecos Valley line practically paralleled the coast line in New Mexico, and surveys were made from Toledo to Belen, showing beyond a doubt that a line could be built along this survey with an average grade of only 1/2 of 1 per cent. Although the undertaking was on a mammoth scale, necessitating the expenditure of over $10,000,000, the management immediately ordered the work done, and the Lawrence-Schulz Construction company was awarded the contract.

Division Points on New Route.
With the Belen cut-off completed, the mileage between Kansas City and Rio Puerco will be diminished twenty-three miles. This is but a small saving in mileage, but the management of the Santa Fe estimates that one locomotive will be able to haul the same amount of tonnage over the cut-off that it now takes four engines to haul over the Raton and Glorieta mountains. The new division points, where the cut-off is completed, will be Wellington, Kan., Woodward, Okla., Amarillo, Texas, and El Paso and Belen in New Mexico, the other western divisions remaining as they are.

Kansas Towns Scared.
While little has been said about the routing of transcontinental passenger trains when the cut-off is finished, it is understood that there is a flurry of excitement in Hutchinson because of the rumor that the management is seriously considering the sending of all the California trains, passenger and freight, the same way; that they will go south from Florence to Augusta, thence southwest to Wellington and over the Pecos Valley line. If this is done, Hutchinson and Wichita, while they will continue to be good towns from a railroad standpoint, will have the number of trains which pass through them greatly reduced.

Albuquerque Will Not Suffer.
With the completion of the cut-off, Albuquerque will not suffer any, as the shops, employing over 700 men, will still remain here, and though there will not be as many trains through here as formerly, it will still remain one of the chief stations between Kansas City and the coast, and being only thirty-one miles from Belen, will be easily accessible to the main line trains, in the event of the road diverting the limited and the fast overland passenger trains via the Belen cut-off.

SANTA FE SYSTEM HAS NEW LAND SCHEME.
Although the Santa Fe system claims it has no land to sell to emigrants and settlers, a company recently incorporated at San Bernardino, Cal., bearing the name of the Santa Fe Land Improvement company, and said to be a strictly Santa Fe system company, would indicate that the Santa Fe has some big land schemes on foot.

The company was incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000, of which $3,500 was subscribed by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company. Its purposes are to buy, acquire, develop and dispose of lands, minerals, hotels, railroads—in fact, a little of everything pertaining to lands and railroads.

SANTA FE HOSPITAL BOARD TO COME TWICE A YEAR

ON THEORY THAT IF ONE TRIP
IS GOOD TWO TRIPS ARE BETTER.

Dr. J. P. Kaster, chief surgeon for the Santa Fe, with headquarters in Topeka, Kan., is in the city, accompanied by J. H. Griffith and James Thomas, two members of the board of control of the Santa Fe Hospital association. They arrived from the east last night and are spending the day in the city.

"We are here for the day, simply looking after the general interests of the association," said the doctor, at the Alvarado this morning. "Formerly we have only made one trip a year over the system, but the board recently decided that things were continually changing and that two trips a year, one in mid-summer and one in mid-winter, would be for the betterment of the service. We are now on our mid-winter trip."

The doctor then began discussing the weather. He stated that mild weather had prevailed in Kansas up to the time that he left a few days ago, and he was very much surprised to find it so cold in New Mexico. Dr. Kaster and party expect to leave for the east this evening on train No. 8.

ALBUQUERQUE TO REMAIN THE BASE OF SUPPLIES

CHANGE OF CUSTER'S OFFICE
MEANS CREATION OF NEW OFFICE
IN COAST LINES STORE-KEEPER'S DEPARTMENT.

The transfer of the headquarters of I. J. Custer, storekeeper for the Santa Fe coast lines, to San Bernardino, which will take place on or about March 1, includes simply that part of the department that has to do with line business. Of the fifteen clerks employed at the local storehouse, Mr. Custer will take five of them with him to San Bernardino, leaving nine or ten to attend to the disbursement of supplies, as Albuquerque will continue to be the base of stores. One thing will probably follow Mr. Custer's departure and that is the creation of a new office in the stores department of the coast lines. It is thought that an assistant will be appointed to the chief storekeeper, to take charge of the Albuquerque end of the business.

LECTURE IN SANTA FE
READING ROOM LAST NIGHT.
R. E. Hieronymus, the lecturer, accompanied by his wife, left last night for Denver, after remaining over in Albuquerque a day. Mr. Hieronymus, who has been delivering lectures along the route of the Santa Fe, in the company reading rooms, delivered his famous lecture, "Giving the Right of Way," in the local Santa Fe reading room last night.

A large number of railroad men and others as well, were present at the lecture, which was a masterful effort, and demonstrated the oratorical powers of the speaker. Mr. Hieronymus, who is president of the Eureka college in Illinois, has spoken in the reading rooms at La Junta, Raton, Seligman, Barstow and Needles.

Colonel C. E. Apponyi, Hungarian count, and an American railroad builder and civil engineer of some note, left last night for the City of

PRETTY STAGE MAIDENS ORGANIZE A UNION

THEY HAVE AN ORGANIZER AND A WALKING DELEGATE, WHO WILL INSIST UPON THEIR RIGHTS ALL THE TIME.

OFFICERS OF THE C. HORUS GIRLS' UNION.

Treasurer, Virginia Steinhardt. President, Olga May. Secretary, Therese Barron. Organizer, Annetta Martin. Vice President, Lucille Munroe. Walking Delegate, Louise McDonald.

New York, Jan. 4.—A chorus girls' union is the latest sensation in a theatrical way.

The pretty singing and dancing maids of Marie Cahill's company are responsible for this organized movement. What is more, one and all insist that they are in downright serious earnestness. For one occasion at least each dainty maid of the company eschewed a small bird, lobster a la Newburg, and other goodies, to hold a chapter meeting, where a number of lengthy, enthusiastic and vehement resolutions were adopted.

While the primary object of this chapter is to secure a living income for the girls during the long weeks when rehearsing for a production, during which period, under the present conditions, they receive no salary, yet these girls declare that this is by no means the only thing they intend to accomplish. To prove that they have other interests in view, Annetta Martin, one of the prettiest of their number, has become a general organizer. She has started bravely out to urge others to come into the union.

The first meeting of the union was held at the home of Marie Cahill, who was chosen as the honorary president and who impetuously accepted, with the assurance:

"I will stick to the union until the end."

Mexico where he will remain for two months or more looking after some mining properties. His family will remain in this city for the benefit of his wife's health.

E. R. Wells, former depot master in this city, left last night for his home at La Junta, Colo., where he will engage in agricultural pursuits. He will be succeeded by G. H. Gray, who is well versed in the art of hobo chasing. Mr. Wells made many friends during his stay in Albuquerque, who will regret to see him leave the city.

A carload of colonists from Norman, Okla., passed through Albuquerque last night en route to Agua Fria, Mexico, where they intend to invest in farming lands. The party was in charge of Morgan & Greiner, land agents of Norman, who have become interested in Mexico lands.

Superintendent Etter of the Santa Fe, accompanied by Trainmaster Ripley, in the former's private car, have left San Marcial for a tour of inspection over Mr. Etter's division of the road. This is Superintendent Etter's initial trip.

Twenty-four oil cars from the American Car and Foundry company, of Milton, Pa., have been delivered to the Mexican Central road, via the Santa Fe, at El Paso. This speaks well for the oil development of our sister republic.

The territorial board of equalization will meet in Santa Fe Monday, at which time assessment rates for railroads, telegraph companies and other corporate properties in the territory of New Mexico will be fixed.

W. R. Martin, at present superintendent of the Gila Valley, Globe & Northern railroad, has accepted the office of superintendent of the new union depot at El Paso, Texas, after twice refusing the berth.

C. W. Cook, Jr., traveling freight agent for the Santa Fe system, passed through the city the other evening en route to Las Vegas from a trip to El Paso, Texas.

A. W. Ley, formerly with the Santa Fe as office man in this city, left last night accompanied by his wife, for Kettner, where he has accepted a position with the American Lumber company.

C. H. Bowden, baggage agent for the Santa Fe at Las Vegas, arrived in the city last night and will remain several days visiting friends.

The block system recently installed between Newton and Dodge City, Kan., by the Santa Fe, will soon be ready for operation.

Our Shoes Fit

The most important point in shoes is fit. Be shoes ever so good, they are weak if they lack this essential feature. Fit will atone for other lapses in shoe making, but perfection in all the other parts will not redeem a bad fit. A bad fit is either an eye-sore or a disturber of the peace. If it does not hurt it looks bad.

Our shoes are fitters, perfect in this respect, without any exception. You will notice this the instant you put your foot in one of them.

Building Inspector A. M. Whitcomb received a box of cigars this morning from Robert Massey, who recently moved his cigar factory from Albuquerque to the city.

querque to Raton. Mr. Massey is doing a good business in his new location, but he is not particularly stuck on the Raton weather.

Mrs. E. J. Gibson is entertaining a house party this week at her home on East Central avenue, the guests being Mrs. Charles S. Carter and baby, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gibson, of Chicago; Mrs. W. C. Gaston, of Keyesville, Mo., and Major Ben All Lounsbury, of New York city.

T. L. Marshall, cashier of the O.K. City bank at Otago City, Kan., accompanied by his brother, S. M. Marshall, arrived in the city last evening en route to El Paso, and stopped off for a visit with their old friend, Chief of Police Thomas McMillin. Messrs. Marshall will continue their journey this evening.

Sidney Rosenwald, the dry goods merchant at the corner of Railroad avenue and Third street, who was at Denver the past week on business, and pleasure, has returned to the city. He reports having had a fine visit, and says that the weather in Denver during the holidays was exceedingly good for shopping, the merchants doing a big business.

John Wade, a business man from Aberdeen, S. D., arrived in the city yesterday to join his wife and the latter's sister, Mrs. James L. Baird, who is sojourning here for the past month. Mr. Wade expressed himself as being well pleased with Albuquerque, and contemplates moving here and engaging in the real estate business.

Chris Scheele, of Belen, who with several other friends, was poisoned at a dinner party Scheele gave, supposedly from eating roast pig, and who is confined at the local hospital here with what has been diagnosed as typhoid fever, was very much improved today. Carlos Huning, who attended the Scheele party, died, it will be remembered, a few days ago.

Justice Hovey, at Algodones, has discharged Miguel Archibque, an Indian residing at the San Felipe village for the alleged crime of carrying concealed and deadly weapons and for breach of the peace, alleged to have occurred in San Felipe Christmas morning during a fiesta being held at the home of a neighboring Indian.

There will be a regular meeting of G. K. Warren post No. 5, G. A. R., held in I. O. O. F. hall Saturday evening, January 6, 1906, at 7 o'clock sharp. At 8:30 o'clock sharp, G. K. Warren Woman's Relief corps No. 1, and John A. Logan circle No. 1, G. A. R., will join the post for public installation of officers elected for the ensuing year. J. G. Caldwell, P. G. W. W. McDonald, adjutant.

As a result of the thaw the crossings at Railroad avenue and Second street are rather sloppy. The city dads should instruct the street commissioner to put in better crossings. Only about 100 copies of the New Year's edition of The Evening Citizen remain unsold, and the demand is still good, so if you want copies, (wrapped ready for mailing, for five cents), you had better call soon.

Major Ernest Meyers, of the wholesale liquor firm located on Silver avenue, between First and Second streets, will leave Sunday morning for the east. He will go first to Louisville, Ky., where he will visit some of the big distilleries located thereabouts, and from there to New York city. He expects to be absent several months, and will probably attend the inauguration of President Roosevelt at Washington on the 4th of March.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning a thermometer at the corner of Railroad avenue and Second street, registered 14 degrees above zero. This morning the same thermometer at the same hour, registered 20 degrees above zero. Albuquerque's climate is resuming its normal self again. Attorneys returning from attending supreme court at Santa Fe say that it is ice cold at Santa Fe, and they are glad to get back where it is comfortable again.
