FLAGSTAFF CAPITALIST GETS INTERESTED

T. A. Riordan, of Flagstaff, Ariz., yesterday purchased through P. F. McCanna the real estate and fire insurance agent, the three lots at the northwest corner of Railroad avenue and Fourth street. The consideration was $15,000. The lots have a frontage of seventy-five feet on Railroad avenue on the ground at present occupied by the Woman's exchange and two small frame buildings. Mr. Riordan, who is a prominent lumberman and a business leader in Flagstaff, intends to erect a four-story, modern office building on the site in the near future. The Citizen well-buquerque, and considering the fact that three others were after the property, this paper congratulates Mr. Riordan in securing some first-class inside real estate at bargain figures.

The Citizen also learns that, in a time, arrangements will be made for the erection of several large substantial business buildings, proving conclusively that great faith is being placed in the future of Albuquerque by men of means.

HONORS ARE MANY FOR MAIMED HERO OF THE RAIL

Grand Island, Neb., Jan. 6.—A tribute to bravery was the letter received by George Poell, the hero of the Powell, Neb., life saving incident, from the president of the United States, advising him that he had been awarded the first medal of honor given under the act of February 23, 1905.

The act provides for the awarding of bronze medals upon heroes who by extreme daring endanger their own lives in saving or endeavoring to save lives from any railroad wreck, disaster or grave accident, or in preventing or endeavoring to prevent such wreck, disaster or accident.

The daring feat accomplished by Mr. Poell was at Powell, Neb. Mr. Poell was a fireman on a St. Joseph & Grand Island railway train. As his train was entering Powell the fireman saw a little girl standing on the track.

Mr. Poell crawled through the cab and alongside the boiler of the moving engine and stationed himself on the pilot, grabbing the child, who was the daughter of Paul Seary, of Powell, sweeping her off the track and out of harm.

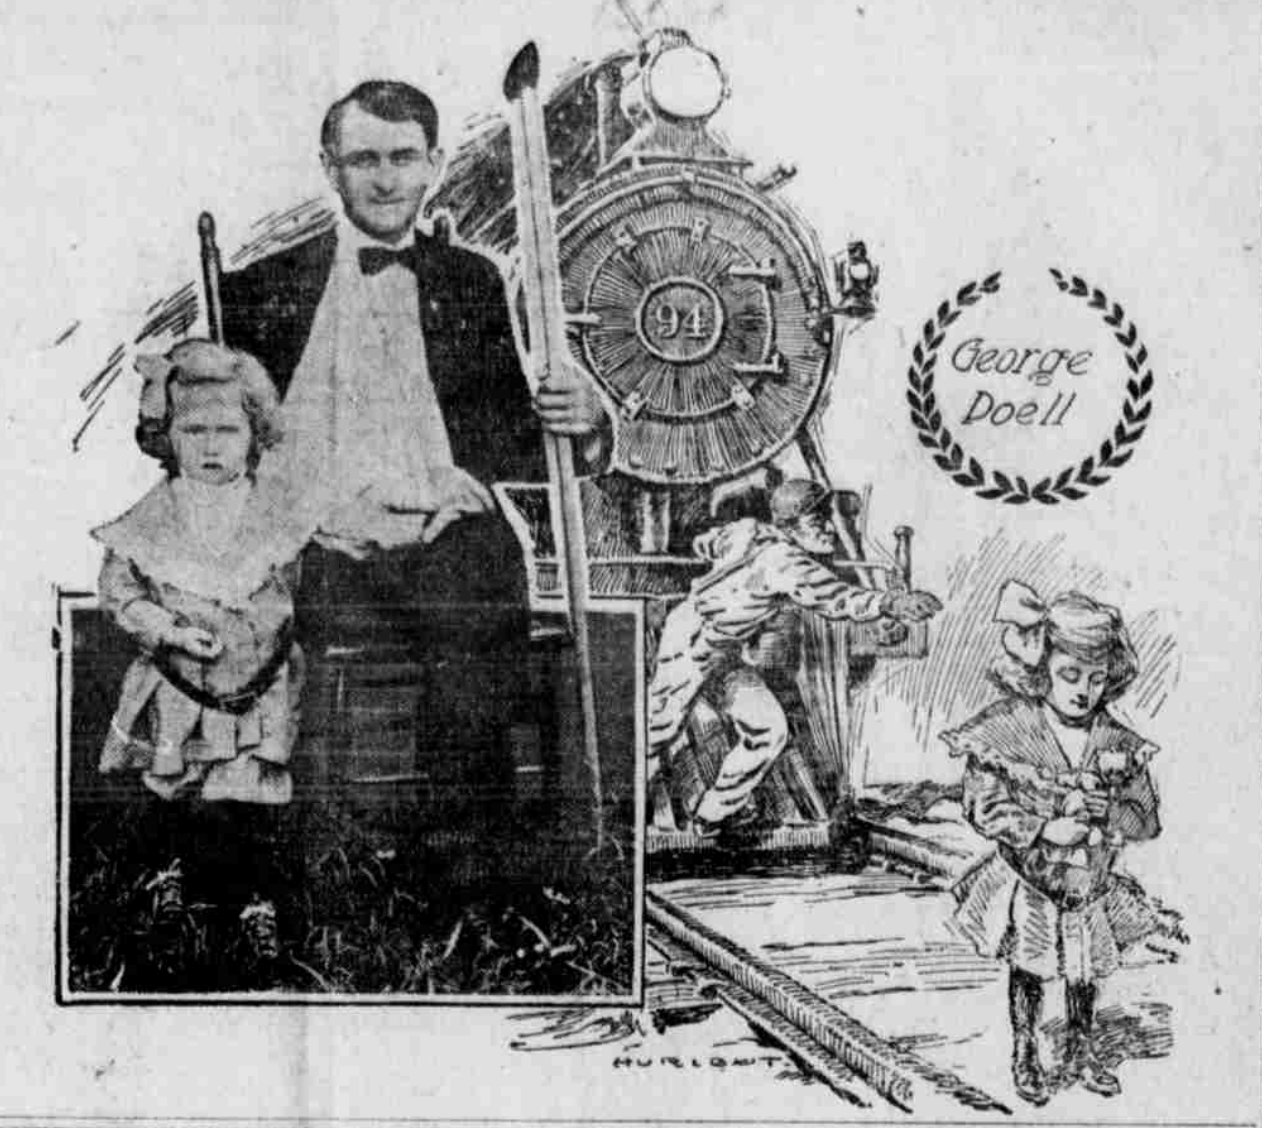

In performing this heroic act, however, Mr. Poell slipped and dragged a distance of 130 feet before the engineer could bring the engine to a stop, forty feet of which was over a bridge. The brave fireman's right leg was terribly torn, necessitating amputation, and he was otherwise injured.

The letter from President Roosevelt over his own signature, is as follows:

My Dear Mr. Poell—You have been awarded a medal of honor provided under the act of congress approved February 23, 1905. You have, by extreme daring, endangering and almost losing your own life, saving the life of a child at the cost of crippling yourself permanently. The enclosed statement of facts sets forth what you did. No man could have shown greater coolness, greater skill and daring, or more heroic indifference to his own safety. It is not in my power to make you any material amends for the crippling injuries you received when, in saving the life of a helpless child, you so nearly lost your own. But I trust that the medal will at least be proof to you that your countrymen realize that you have performed a deed which will serve as an inspiration to every American who hears or reads of it, and which lifts by just so much the standard of the citizenship of which we are so proud.

With earnest hopes for your welfare, believe me, sincerely, yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Poell was elected county clerk of Hall county at the recent election and he assumed his duties on January 4.

CELEBRATION OF BEN FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—The two hundredth anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin is to be celebrated on a large scale throughout the country and the government has taken some interest in the plans that a commission was appointed by congress, consisting of Dr. Hugh Mitchell, Harriet F. McKim and Dr. Edgar Smith, to select a design for a medal to be struck in commemoration of the anniversary. The medal is now completed and is the work of Louis St. Gaudens, brother of the famous sculptor, Augustus St. Gaudens, and is a beautiful piece of art and worthy of the great event it commemorates.

BECAUSE OF CHANGE

DENVER BANK WRECKERS

A motion for a new trial was overruled, but the prisoners were given a thirty-days' stay for appeal to the supreme court.

MILLER'S REVIEW OF COTTON MARKET

Condition Generally Favorable to Continuation of Good Prices.

RUSSIA SITUATION FACTOR

Spinners Getting Low in Stock and Must Soon Buy Freely.

New York, Jan. 6.—In their weekly review of the cotton market Miller Company say: "The holiday feeling, which pervaded the cotton market during the week between Christmas and New Year, still continues to some extent, although the market is a little firmer than during the past week, when owing to the lack of interest on the part of the trade the bears made several attempts to hammer the market. Liverpool is still more or less uneasy over the Russian situation which, however, had, seems to be improving. Of course a nation does not recover from such a succession of staggering blows in a hurry, and business will be at low ebb in the great empire for many days after peace and quiet shall have been restored. The increase of Mr. Buxton's crop estimate from 11,250,000 maximum to 11,500,000 bales of actual growth, was used as an argument in favor of lower prices, but it must be remembered that before Mr. Buxton started on his southern trip he stated that if this crop should not be more than 10,500,000 bales he would be one of the biggest bulls in the whole market. It is hardly likely that this small increase in his estimate will make a radical change in his views regarding the future of prices. Spot business, always small during the holiday season, is still comparatively small, but holders seem less disposed to sell on the decline than they have been heretofore. After this week, it is expected, the spinners will buy more freely, as it is plain that a good many of them are running low in stocks. The next sensation, in a market way, will be furnished by the census report of cotton ginned in January 1, with which to make comparisons."

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY OF HUDSON'S VOYAGE.
New York, Jan. 6.—Francis Bannerman, a member of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, has made an offer to the committee in charge of the arrangements for the big celebration of the voyage of Henry Hudson up the river which bears his name, and it is quite possible that the proposition will be accepted. Mr. Bannerman has offered to erect, at his own expense, on Colonel's island, in Newburg Bay, a monumental bronze statue of Hudson, upon a stone pedestal, the whole to be about seventy feet high. Many other suggestions have been made, among them, one to widen Fifth avenue, between Fortieth and Forty-second streets, and create a large public square, in the center of which a Hudson column, similar to the Vendome Column in Paris and the Trafalgar Column in London, shall be erected.

FROM THE EARLY MORN TO LEEPERY MIDNIGHT.
Rome, Jan. 6.—Today is the feast of "La Befana," which is merely a corruption of "Epiphania." This is one of the great Roman holidays, and as far as noise is concerned, the nearest approach to the American Fourth of July. From early morning till late at night boys and even grown people, dressed in their best Sunday clothes, march through the streets, beating tin horns, whistles, rattles and other instruments of torture, capable of making hideous noises, and the din increases from hour to hour until it reaches its climax at the hour of midnight. It is especially a feast for the poor and the wealthy Romans beat the thousands of foreigners visiting Rome and other instruments of torture, capable of making hideous noises, and the din increases from hour to hour until it reaches its climax at the hour of midnight.

HONORS ARE TO A DISTINGUISHED IRISHMAN.
Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 6.—Dr. Douglas Hyde, the head of the Gaelic League, who is now on a lecture tour through the United States, to arouse interest in the study of the ancient Irish tongue, arrived here this morning for a day's visit. This evening he will deliver an address before a large Irish meeting to be held in the old city hall. Dr. Hyde is not only an ardent champion of the Gaelic language, but in Ireland is regarded as the coming man and a leader of the Parnell class. The proceeds of his lecture will be used to advance the interests of Irish rule in Ireland.

THE UNITED IRISH SOCIETIES of this city had made elaborate preparations for the reception and entertainment of the distinguished visitor. Upon his arrival he was received by a committee headed by John F. O'Laughlin, whose guest Dr. Hyde will be during the day. In honor of Dr. Hyde a reception will be given in the afternoon and a banquet in the evening.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—Tomorrow the Russians all over the world will celebrate Christmas. Their celebration comes later than that of the other Christian nations, because they still adhere to the old Julian calendar, which is now thirteen days behind our calendar. At the Russian embassy the day will be celebrated in the usual manner, and in the evening the ambassador and his wife will entertain a select party at dinner. It will be a rather quiet, semi-diplomatic affair.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Tomorrow is Christmas, but the usual holiday spirit which is manifested for many days before the day of the celebration is absent this year. ALL ACCOUNTS OF OFFICERS RIGHT

So Says Territorial Auditor,
Mr. Charles V. Safford, of Santa Fe.

NO DEFALCATIONS IN 1905

"As a result of our system of checking up the accounts of treasurers and collectors, there have been no defalcations in these offices in New Mexico during the year just passed."

This statement was made by Charles V. Safford, territorial auditor of the territory, who has recently returned to the territorial capital from checking accounts in Eddy and Roosevelt counties. He was absent about two weeks and in that time visited the towns of Carlsbad, Artesia and Portales.

Correction of Mistakes.

"There are twenty-five counties in this territory," said Mr. Safford, "and while I do not think that all men are dishonest, yet there is always the possibility that a defaulter will turn up at any time. The greatest check on such work is the fear of detection and that fear is always with an officer when he knows that his accounts are apt to be called into question at any time. During some of my trips in the past I have quite frequently discovered mistakes amounting to several hundred dollars in the accounts of officials. However, when their attention was called to them they at once drew their personal checks and placed them to the credit of their respective counties."

"Supposing those mistakes had not been found, they would have been defalcations, although they never had any idea of stealing public funds. I have been greatly aided in my work by the fact that most of the public funds are on deposit in banks, and the money is there to show for itself. This simplifies the work greatly."

In nearly all the surrounding states and territories during the year 1905 there were cases of default, some of them for large amounts, while on this side of the line we have got happily along in the straight and narrow road."

Good Officers.

"New Mexico citizens should feel proud of their officers—county treasurers and collectors."

"The new depository law, which requires the treasurers to designate the banks in which funds are deposited, and also requires of the banks bonds sufficient to insure the safety of said funds is another safeguard which I cannot commend too highly. The county treasurers of the territory, as well as the bank officials, favor it, and are complying with its terms. I have no difficulty in that respect."

"I think that New Mexico is as free from fraud in the way of defalcations of county funds as any state or territory in the Union. It is my desire to keep it so in so far as I can."

Mr. Safford suffered severely from the cold and was glad to be able to return to the temperate climate of Santa Fe.

Practically all of the colleges are in favor of foot ball reform, but none of them evinces a willingness to take the initiative. Columbia dropped out of the game entirely, but that wasn't reform—that was an acknowledgment of inability to cope with the question of modifying the rules. In a way, Columbia will be missed, but not to the extent that Columbia will miss the gridiron game. Simply because a few colleges abandon the game does not mean that it is in danger of extermination. The game will be played before larger crowds next year than in 1905. The rules probably will be modified, and those colleges that have abandoned the gridiron sport will undoubtedly be among the chief mourners over their hasty action.

The year that has just passed into Time's morgue witnessed the retirement of three noted ring fighters—Jeffries, Walcott and Fitzsimmons. It also brought conspicuously before the public Battling Nelson and Philadelphia Jack O'Brien.

Is thirteen Robert Fitzsimmons' unlucky number? He began his career by whipping Dempsey in thirteen rounds and he ended it by losing to O'Brien in the same number of rounds.

MUSEMENTS AT THE ELKS THEATRE

ELKS' MINSTRELS PLEASED LAST NIGHT

"Gentlemen, be seated!" "So spoke the interlocutor, and the merry minstrelsy was begun. For over four hours last night the delineators of the burlesque art, known as the Elks minstrels, kept a packed house at the Elks opera house, in one continuous roar of laughter, with the exception of the five minutes' intermission between the first and second parts.

While some of the "gags" bore the earmarks of the early days of minstrelsy, still there were enough new ones to recompense for this, and the songs, while the titles may have been rather old, were never sung before as they were last night. "Everybody Works But Father," "Lew Dockstader's old favorite, sung by Gus Thelin, captured the house, as did the "Nobody Just Like You, Sweetheart," of Mr. Coulthard's. "Dear Old Girl," of the sentimental variety, was well rendered by Mr. Delaney, and received the usual encore. In fact, encores were the order of the evening. Many others on the program, which is given in full below, came in for their share of the applause, and all in all, from a monetary standpoint, and artistic as well, it was a complete success.

Following is the full program as rendered:

"SHADOWS ON THE HEARTH" AND "AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS"

After a lengthy negotiation, Manager Matson of the Elks theatre, has induced Arthur C. Alston to bring his noted aggregation of players here on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 12 and 13. The company will appear Saturday night in the great story of the south entitled "At the Old Cross Roads," which has become a standard play with theater goers all over the country. The opening bill, Friday, will be an entirely different play called "Shadows on the Hearth," which is a rural comedy-drama with the scenes laid in Jamestown, N. J., on the famous Delaware river. This play enjoyed a run of 150 nights in New York city, Chicago, Kansas City, and was also presented a whole month in San Francisco recently.

Manager Alston has retained all of the original people who appeared in these two excellent plays in New York, which comprised Estha Williams and James M. Brophy, the well known leading artists, supported by a large cast of twenty-five. Special scenery is carried for both productions, which have been highly endorsed by ministers of the gospel in every state in the Union.

AN ARTISTIC CALENDAR.

For Richness, Beauty and Artistic Merit, the Malt-Nutrine Calendar for 1906 Outstrips All Others.

The Art calendar for 1906, issued by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association, is an unquestioned triumph of artists' genius. It is composed of five panels, each 24x10 inches in size, representing the four seasons, the extra panel being a calendar of the year.

The panels are lithographed in twelve colors, picked out with gold, and are bound together with silken cord.

The subjects, from the brush of Mand Humphreys, the celebrated artist, are idealized female figures, hand-drawn with the chaste, delicacy and feeling which characterizes a Miss Humphreys' work.

Surrounding the central figures are descriptive border designs from the brush of C. A. Etherington, a pupil of Mucha, Paris, the greatest living decorative artist. These are representative of this great artist, and in common with all his productions are indeed a symphony of color harmonies.

We understand that this handsome calendar, with the season panels entirely free from advertising, will be sent to any address upon receipt of twenty-five cents, or the tops of twelve old tin-foil caps from Malt-Nutrine bottles, sent to the Malt-Nutrine department of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association, St. Louis, Mo.

GRAND MOVING PICTURES TONIGHT

The International Bioscope company, with the very latest moving pictures, will appear at the Elks theatre tonight. The Trinidad, Colo., Daily Advertiser, in its comments on the shows, says:
"It was a highly pleased crowd which last night packed to its utmost capacity the opera house to see the presentation of the pictures by the International Bioscope company. There have been moving pictures exhibited without number in Trinidad, but until last night Trinidad people did not know what real moving pictures were. The several scenes were true to life and there was a noticeable absence of the flicker usual to the moving pictures which has at times been an absolute bar owing to the eye strain caused by the intolerable flicker."

"HELLO BILL" HERE MONDAY NIGHT, JAN. 3

"Hello Bill" and "Mr. Plaster of Paris," at the opera house, Jan. 8 and 9, respectively, and "A Turkish Bath," Jan. 10. Again we have the coming of George Samuels' attraction to the Elks theatre next week. Mr. Samuels and his favorite company of artists will bring to this city three of the funniest of comedies, "Hello Bill," "Mr. Plaster of Paris," and "A Turkish Bath." The George Samuels attractions are too well known here to need much local advertising. All the theater going people want to know is the date and that is a guarantee for a good house. The company will be seen at their best in the three plays, with all special scenery and electrical effects. New songs and new dances. Mr. Samuels is sure to deliver the goods to the fullest measure and as the majority of the theater goers look for.

MORE PETITIONS

FOR STATEHOOD

Large Ones From Sandoval and Socorro Counties Received by League.

SENATORS VIEWS ENCOURAGING

During the past few days the officers of the joint statehood league have received, among other petitions, two important ones of much length, one from western Socorro county, and the other from Hagan, Bernalillo, San Ysidro and Sandoval, in Sandoval county. A smaller one has also been received from Laguna.

Personal letters are being sent by the dozens to senators and representatives by merchants and other individuals, urging the passage of the measure. As near as can be ascertained, the majority of these come from people in Albuquerque, Las Cruces, Silver City, Alamogordo and Gallup.

The officers of the league urge that citizens of New Mexico and Arizona, who favor the bill, continue to send in personal letters written on their personal letter-heads, to the senators and representatives requesting the passage of the bill.

"It's the least they can do for their country," said an officer of the league at the league headquarters, this afternoon. "No citizen needs a personal acquaintance with a senator to write to him; any citizen can write, women as well as men, for all have an equal interest in the creation of a future state, and there is no telling how much good these letters will do."

Yesterday the league sent a long message to Senator Beveridge, which reached him in time for the first meeting of the senate committee, hoping that he would see to it that the word "not" in line 19, page 30, of the joint statehood bill, be stricken out.

In explanation of the above it is stated that during the Fifty-eighth congress Secretary Hitchcock sent a letter to the senate committee suggesting some amendments to the joint statehood bill. The letter was received by the committee while it was in executive session, and the suggestions were adopted. Delegate Rodey did not know of the amendment until the bill was printed as amended. The amendment will prevent the new state from selecting indemnity lands for the four school sections in each township, contained in national parks, game preserves and other reservations, and if the reservations include the forest preserves, it would deprive the state of vast quantities of school lands. It is hoped that the committee will strike out the word "not," or so amend it as not to apply to forest preserves. When attention was called to this clause last session the battle on the floor of the senate was so fierce that the committee did not care to offer any amendments to its own bill, but promised Delegate Rodey that they would amend it in conference. However, the bill died in conference, and was therefore never amended. It is now thought that Senator Beveridge will see to it that this clause of the bill is amended before it reaches the senate.

This morning ex-Delegate Rodey received a letter from a prominent democratic senator to the effect that while he, (the senator), did not intend to vote for the bill, he would not participate in any filibuster against the bill, indicating that he will, insofar as he is concerned, agree upon a day for a vote upon the bill. Mr. Rodey stated that this, coming from a democrat, was very encouraging, and all that could be expected of a democratic senator, by friends of the statehood bill.

"But suppose the statehood bill is defeated, after all, Mr. Rodey," inquired the representative of The Evening Citizen.

"Well," replied Mr. Rodey, "we'll live through the defeat, I guess, but let me tell you, young man, if I was in the gallery next session of congress, when six representatives from Oklahoma, the state, and two senators from Oklahoma, the state, walk down the aisle, raise their right hands and are sworn in as representatives and senators of the new state of Oklahoma, and there were no senators and representatives from this territory beside them to take the oath of office also, I'd hang my head and creep off into some dark, cold cranny of the capitol building, and die of shame and mortification. And so would any other citizen of the territory if they had a spark of pride about them and should witness such a scene. God forbid!"

Jack Sullivan, one of the twins, is still waiting for a reply to his challenge to Jack O'Brien, but the Philadelphia is asking his time. He is going to take in some easy stage money before he fights again. O'Brien is a pretty fair pugilist, but he is a better business man, and if he has a little luck he will be one of the richest men that ever quit the ring when he finally "gets his." Fighting is purely a business proposition with O'Brien. He fights because there are dollars in it for the winner. It is just as reasonable for him to fight on a financial basis as it is for a banker to loan money at 6 per cent. The "good fellow" of the prize ring may hear the empty applause of a turtle-headed following as long as he is winning and spending his money. There are a dozen pugilistic wrecks on the horizon now who might be living on the sunny side of Easy street, if they had possessed as much sense as the Creator gives geese. But they were "good fellows," and as Parson Davies once said, "the world house is filled with good fellows."

LONGWORTH HAS A READY FURNISHED HOME
AWAITING MISS ALICE, HIS BRIDE-TO-BE

THE LONGWORTH WASHINGTON RESIDENCE AT 18TH AND Q STREETS. SIDE DOOR IS ENTRANCE TO MR. LONGWORTH'S OFFICE AND DEN.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—For a family place, when the change in least two years after Miss Alice Roosevelt's marriage to Congressman Nicholas Longworth her residence will continue to be in Washington, as Mr. Longworth's second term is just commencing. The Cincinnati Lochinvar and his mother have leased the handsomely furnished home of Mrs. John D. Jones, who has taken up her permanent residence in Europe.

This house is unpretentious in appearance, but spacious enough with its four stories to serve amply for the young couple.

It has been occupied by Mr. Longworth's mother and other members of his family who have been in Washington this winter. Mrs. Longworth brought with her oriental rugs of her own, her own table linen and the

THE LONGWORTH PARLOR.

The drawing room is spacious, wood work in white, and has a large open fire place with a huge old-fashioned mirror over it. The hangings and the upholstery are of red dark damask. A splendid replica of Guido Reni's "Beatrice Cenci" is the most valuable of many old oils that decorate the walls. A grand piano and many shaded lamps lend the room a touch of charming warmth.

The dining room is sufficiently large to comfortably accommodate a dinner party of twenty-four persons. At one end is a massive chimney piece supported on either side by a carved Cupid. There is a beautiful carved buffet and two serving tables of Florentine design. The dining table is of solid walnut and the chairs are of walnut, beautifully upholstered in tapestry. On the east wall hangs a Gobelin tapestry on which Christ and the disciples are pictured fishing. Opposite this are three small panels of tapestry with fruit designs. The hangings are olive green, lined with old rose plush, these tints repeating the main tones in the tapestry. An exquisite canopy lamp over the table is of more modern design than the other appointments, but harmonizes with the color scheme.

A little gem is the reception room between the drawing room and dining room. It is furnished in Florentine style with furniture, daintily upholstered in a light salmon plush. On the walls are four handsome Florentine mirrors with candle sconces. The hangings in this room are of deep cream damask.

All in all, the future home of Miss Roosevelt is elegant enough to satisfy the heart of any American girl.

SHE NEEDS THE JOB

The following letter received by an employment agency in this city in answer to their advertisement in one of the daily papers for an educated woman to take charge of a private school, certainly bears the earmarks of education:

Bingham, Pa., Dec. 26, 1905.
dear sir—I am written you for a job you got in a school. I have a education from the public school of Bingham and am married to my husband. He is got out of jail here now but the police here want left him alone so we want to move to your town. Please do me for what you can as I need the job and oblige me and husband. Yours truly,

RETTA MOORS, (Mrs.)

It is needless to add that she is still looking for the job.

J. E. Bell, better known among the habitués of a printing office as "Smoky" Bell, was taken suddenly sick in a Railroad avenue restaurant last night. He was placed in a hack and conveyed to his room on South Third street. He is up and around today, but is still complaining. It is understood that Bell, on the water wagon the past few days, astonished his stomach by taking a dose or two of medicine to get himself in good trim for a long siege of total abstinence, when the stomach revolted, and the medicine in turn affected his head, hence his sudden illness. "I am on the water wagon to stay," said Bell, this morning, "and King Alcohol nor the devil can make me break my New Year's resolution."

More than 10,000 bills have been presented in congress. But that is not a marker to the number that will be presented out of congress.

Joint Statehood

"New Mexico and Arizona have made stupendous progress during last year," said A. M. Hove, of Carlsbad, N. M., in the New Willard last night.

"The splendid resources of these territories, agricultural, mineral, and industrial, are attracting capital from all over the country and abroad," said he. "Immigrants are above the average in intelligence and enterprise. Our section of the Pecos valley has received hundreds of farmers from the corn belt in the past two months, who understand how to make the desert bloom."

"Those who pay taxes are waking up, and practically every one in our section wants joint statehood. Six months ago the advocate was a lonesome man. Reports from all sections of the territory indicate a marked change in favor of jointure. The same is also true of Arizona. Tucson, for instance, now has an enthusiastic joint statehood league, while two months ago no one would mention joint admission. The statement of Representative Tawney that when he visited the territories he found little sentiment in favor of joint admission was correct."

"Taxpayers have been thinking, and now believe that one set of state officers, legislatures, courts, etc., would be cheaper than two. With a large state instead of two small ones, they believe schools and public institutions generally would fare better."

"The appointment of Gov. Herbert J. Hagerman as governor of New Mexico met with general approval. President Roosevelt has won the admiration of the people irrespective of party."—Washington Post.

General Prosperity

Nothing more strikingly demonstrates the general prosperity of the country than the recent resolution of the "wool trust" to raise the wages of its 25,000 mill hands, an increase of pay wholly unsought by the latter and quite voluntarily offered by the former. Following is the announcement:

The American Woolen company has announced a 10 per cent increase in the wages of its mill hands, to take effect the first of the new year. The decision was reached unanimously at a meeting of the managers of the various plants and the officers of the company at the Waldorf-Astoria. The increase will add more than $1,000,000 to the annual expenses of the trust, which employs upward of 25,000 hands.

A member of the executive committee of the American Woolen company said that the wages had been raised in order that the hands might share in the general prosperity of the company. No demand for increased pay had come from the men. The company had run open shops since the unsuccessful strike of three years ago.

Most of the trust mills are scattered through New England. The only plant affected in New York state is the mill at Oswego, which employs about 1,500 hands. The salaried officials and clerical force do not participate in the raise.—American Banker.

Undoubted Facts

The Globe-Democrat of Wednesday had an able article under the caption, "The Republican Line is Solid." In answering the assertion of the democrats—in which the wish is father to the thought—that there is discord between President Roosevelt and congress, the Globe-Democrat says:

"So far as regards the house of representatives, these stories of discord are manifestly untrue. Mr. Roosevelt and Speaker Cannon are in harmony on all the leading issues of the hour. This is so well known that no sane democrat will have the hardihood to deny it. On rate regulation, statehood, the tariff, the Panama canal and the other questions of national moment the president and the republican leaders in the house are in complete accord. A rate-regulation and a statehood bill will be passed in the house within the next ten or twelve days."

"The talk about differences between the president and the senate is exaggerated. All the republicans in the senate except a corporal's guard are in favor of the passage of the statehood and the Philippine bills. The statehood bill which has been reported to the senate is on the same lines as that which is before the house."

Western Stock Market

The managers of the Western Live Stock Show to be held at the Denver union stock yards, Jan. 29 to Feb. 2, 1906, have the assurance of the packers at Denver yards that satisfactory prices will be paid for all fat stock that is sent there. It is to the interest of the packers, the stock yards people and every producer in the west to make Denver a good market.

A representative of the packers said: "If we get a lot of fat stuff here and pay for it less than the owners could have sold it for at the river markets, the shippers will never come here again. Such a policy would be very short-sighted, because we want good stock to come here." Henry Behrard, president of the Colorado Packing & Provision company, says: "The fat stock shown at the Western Live Stock Show will be purchased here at a good strong price, and will be killed in the Denver plants." C. K. Boettcher, general manager of the Western Packing company, says: "We are interested in the success of the Western Live Stock Show and expect to handle the fat stock that comes here at a good figure."

Looking Forward

If satisfaction with the past and confidence in the future are at all reliable guides, 1906 is likely to equal, if indeed it does not surpass, the year drawing to a close. The volume of orders booked ahead exceeds any previous year in the country's history, and high prices as yet seem to exercise no effect upon consumptive demand. Iron and steel of all kinds are heavily sold ahead, as are also shoes, cotton and woolen goods, lumber, hardware, and a myriad of other products.

It is, perhaps, too early also to forecast the effects of the pushing to the front by labor organizations of the demand for union recognition in the coal and other trades. It would seem as if the preeminent necessity in 1906 should be conservatism, particularly in labor matters and in financial affairs generally.—Bradstreet's

New Mexican: It is rumored that assessments on railroads in New Mexico are to be raised to a higher figure than heretofore obtained by the territorial board of equalization at its next week's meeting in this city. The people will stand such action on the part of the board with a great deal of equanimity and good temper. The New Mexican cannot watch that the same will be the case with the tax agents and the managers of the several railroad companies interested. This is a case in which different people look upon the same subject and have different views thereon. So runs the world away.

Mining Reporter: Arizona has organized a mining congress of its own. A territorial affair. We think this would be a good thing for New Mexico people interested in mining to do. It would no doubt lead to good results as it is known that when a camp or district organizes to promote their interests they are always more successful than when each one acts on his own volition.

A man, twenty years ago, invested $500 in Denver real estate and the other day he sold his holdings for $115,000. Real estate judiciously bought in a developing city or country, like Albuquerque and the rural sections adjacent, is always a safe investment.

Wedding Presents For Miss Roosevelt

There is no occasion for all the fuss being made over the proposed wedding gifts to Alice Roosevelt. Persons desiring to send presents to her will find nothing to prevent. This is a free country. It is particularly free in regard to wedding gifts. Conventions in this respect are limited only by people's means to buy, and very often not even by that. Presents which givers cannot afford and which recipients do not want contribute immeasurably to the supposed joys of weddings in all grades of life.

So, nobody wishing to send Miss Alice a present need be dismayed by President Roosevelt's protest. This is not his wedding, but Miss Alice's. She is of age, and besides, at her marriage passes from under her father's immediate control. Let there be no misconception as to the president's power and authority. The constitution confers upon him certain clearly defined functions and with these his power ends. "He is no all-round despot. He cannot prevent the humblest citizen from sending all the wedding gifts to Miss Alice, or to anybody else, which such citizen may desire to send. Thus may we occasionally realize the full joys of liberty."

If there is to be any proper and effective protest against presents to Alice, it must come from Miss Alice herself or from her Nicholas. And such protest need not be feared. The cargo of costly gifts brought back by Miss Alice from the orient proves her amiability in this respect. Certainly, since as a daughter of this nation, she has honored savage sultans and barbarous potentates, by acceptance of their gifts, she cannot refuse to honor the people of America by the same amiable attitude.

Life is More Than Mere Money Getting

We have lately been given an unusual number of striking examples of the simple but so often disregarded fact that money getting is not necessarily success. Chas. E. Hughes, the lawyer who was conducting the investigation of the big life insurance companies, has had as intimate a view of business corruption in high places, perhaps, as it has ever been any one man's lot to witness. "What we need," he says, "is a revival of the sense of honor. We want to hear less of the man who began poor and amassed riches, and more about the man who lived unselfishly, though he died poor."

No one will charge Mr. Hughes with being a mere idealist. His searching questions during the life insurance investigation have shown him to be a hard-headed man, whose views of life are sternly practical. What the times need is less "success" and more heart—less individual triumph and more regard for the rights of all. Business is not, after all, the main thing in the world. The "captain of industry" is not the only great leader of human interests. Material things shape their own remedies. When commerce must be greater, commerce is greater. When waterways must be opened, they are opened. They are the world's appetite, and when thirsty drink is sought and found, and when hungry food is obtained and eaten.

The higher and gentler side of human nature is more modest. It must have some sort of an invitation; in a measure be sought, and in reciprocation it seeks. To make it part of the daily duty that no seeking of this kind remains unfulfilled, so long as it is within our power to satisfy it, is just as noble an endeavor and will give employment to just as great a force of tremendous energies as does this continual and overriding race for anything that can be classed as riches. Frankly, don't you know that life would be a great deal pleasanter for you and for the other fellow, if you less often left out the heart?

Monogamous Marriage True Glory of Race

A noted physician has excited England by an elaborate argument to show that nature intended every man to have several wives. He points out that many of the races of the world have practiced polygamy in the past and that many still do so, and in electrical language he presents the conclusion that the condition must be a natural one. But he might have gone just one step further and shown just as conclusively that every woman ought to have several husbands. Many nations have lived under polyandry, meaning one woman to many men. Some are polyandrous now, the Tibetans for instance. He might by the same process show that nature intended men to eat one another, to kill off their weakling children, to slaughter the aged as soon as they are past work, to burn dead men's wives, and to sacrifice human beings to religious superstition.

It is more than amazing that in an enlightened land and in this enlightened age a learned man, with no saner argument than this, should outrage sense and sentiment alike by advocating a return to a marriage system which makes women mere slaves, mere breeders, and deprives them of their natural faculty for refining the nature of man. The people of this age are not seeking excuse for polygamous marriage. It is almost universally recognized that the highest, most beautiful relation between the sexes is that which exists when a man and a woman joyfully remain faithful to one another all their lives. Such a bond makes them lovers, helpmates, comrades. It is the best possible destiny for both.

It gives woman an assured position, an honored place in the community. It endows her with a sense of responsibility. The man's character is subtly influenced by that of his wife. Her tenderness soothes him in weariness and her devotion cheers him in disappointment. What man who has ever realized the restfulness, the stimulus, the joy of such wedded happiness would exchange his companionship for a whole harem full of the most beautiful women in the world? What woman with experience of a husband's strength to lean upon, a husband's character to influence, a husband's happiness to make, would not recoil with shame and horror from the prospect of being merely one of his wives?

Why the Delegates Smiled.

It was at the closing of the annual convention of a certain religious body held in a town near this city some time since, and the preacher who occupied the chair announced that they were $100 short of a desired sum and hoped that the amount might be raised before final adjournment.

"I will start the good work with $25!" cried a man who was a stranger to the preacher.

"Thanks, brother, thanks!" exclaimed the dominie, effusively. "I don't know your name, but may heaven bless your kind heart, and may your business during the coming year be doubled."

Instantly there was a laugh that was both loud and long, and the perplexed preacher gazed at the delegates in astonishment.

"What have I done?" said he. "What?"

"Nothing," replied a fellow preacher; "only the man who donated that twenty-five is an undertaker."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

EXCELLENT INSTANCE OF RAILROAD EXPANSION.

New York, Jan. 6.—The board of directors of the Delaware & Lackawanna railroad has authorized an expenditure of $6,000,000 for equipment and additional rolling stock, and the orders for the work have been given out. Much of the work will be done at the company's Scranton shops. The order includes 2,400 box cars, 200 stock cars, 100 carriage cars and four milk cars. About 300 men will be added to the present shop force of 700. The American Locomotive company is to build fifty engines to be delivered during next April and May. To the Barney & Smith company, of Dayton, Ohio, has been given an order for 500 steel gondolas, 500 steel hopper cars, 18 tank cars, 10 express cars and two vestibule coaches. The American Car & Foundry company is to build 18 coaches for suburban service, and three combination cars.

NAKED WOMAN FOUND SETTING HOUSES ON FIRE.

New York, Jan. 6.—A naked and insane woman, directed by a man who was warmly clothed, was detected applying a torch to the hallway of a five-story tenement house in Eldridge street about daybreak this morning. The strange pair fled when discovered, but the woman was captured. She said that her name was Helen Bauer and that she was housekeeper of the building she was trying to set on fire, but no one in the building knew her. The woman is evidently insane and she did not or could not disclose the name of the man, but it is suspected that the pair have been connected with other incendiary fires.

GREAT OPPORTUNITIES IN COLORADO

BY J. S. TEMPLE,
President of the Denver Chamber of Commerce.

Denver is growing rapidly and enjoying great prosperity. The building permits, the sales of real estate, and the bank clearings, show a large gain each month over the month before and promise continued growth at an accelerated pace during 1906.

The tourist travel has been nearly double what it was in 1904, and already 35 large conventions have been booked for 1906.

The production of the mines is constantly on the increase and the labor situation more satisfactory than for many years.

Many thousands of acres of new land has been brought under cultivation and the new system of arid land farming promises to revolutionize conditions throughout the whole Rocky Mountain country.

Three large beet sugar factories were built this year and a number more are under contract for next year. A considerable amount of railway construction is in contemplation.

Our undeveloped resources are still enormous and I believe no other part of the world offers as many excellent opportunities to both labor and capital as do Denver and Colorado.

THOUSAND POLL TAX SUITS STARTED

Those Who Have Not Settled Will Have to Face Justice of Peace Craig.

AMOUNT THEREBY INCREASED

Justice of the Peace Craig will not be troubled for lack of business for several days to come, anyway, inasmuch as one thousand actions have been commenced in his court for the collection of poll tax.

The time limit for the payment of this tax expired some days ago and as such date was thoroughly advertised there is no possible excuse for any one to make except the time-worn one that they are unable to see why they should be so "oppressed."

The poll tax is but one dollar and there are no exemptions. It is therefore within the means of everyone. Delinquents will learn to their sorrow that it is useless to try and dodge paying this levy for the reason that it will cost many times one hundred cents, in many instances, after being taken to the courts.

There is small probability but what judgments will be secured by the municipality in all cases. This means that every one of the thousand delinquents will be compelled to pay not only the poll tax itself, but $2.50 costs. If this is not promptly paid, an execution will be issued and placed in the hands of the constable. The serving of this instrument increases the amount from $2.50 to $5.00 and the poll tax. The constable has thirty days in which to dispose of the property of the delinquent and for every day occupied in selling it, he is entitled to $1 and the poll tax, or $31 in all. Paying in the cost of the justice court, the cost of the execution and the amount due the constable in case thirty days are required in which to dispose of property, the one dollar has swelled to $38.50.

There is no dodging the payment of this amount as the law has access to numerous ways in forcing the collection. It should serve as a lesson to those who try and defy the law in this direction and remind them that the easiest way is always the best. Justice Craig, in speaking of the matter, said that there is little trouble encountered among the single men, as a rule being the first to pay this tax. "It is the parties with families, with children in the schools and who thereby are the ones benefited the most, who balk at the payment of the tax," Justice Craig remarked.

"GIVE 'EM H-LL"

"Give 'em h-ll," said G. L. Altmeier, the retired merchant and capitalist, this morning. The gentleman referred to the city council and what brought forth the striking words was the fact that Mr. Altmeier hunted half an hour on more this morning on the Highlands, trying to find iron avenue. The gentleman was a little bit hot under the collar, although the weather is quite a pleasant morning, and, continuing his remarks, he said: "The council passes ordinances on naming and putting signs on streets, and numbering houses, and never enforces them, so give them h-ll." With these remarks from an out-raged citizen, who spent valuable time in trying to find iron avenue because it had not been properly labeled, Mr. Altmeier drove away perfectly satisfied with his declaration "Give 'em h-ll."

BUSINESS COLLEGE CHANGES HANDS

PROF. RAMSAY SELLS OUT TO R. O. STOLL, WHO WILL CONDUCT IT IN FUTURE.

The Albuquerque Business College has passed into the hands of R. O. Stoll. The deal to consummate a transfer has been in progress for some time.

George S. Ramsay, the founder of the college here, by the transaction, retires and will devote his time to other pursuits. The consideration is private.

Mr. Stoll, the purchaser of the college, bought a high interest some months ago and since has been actively identified with the thriving institution.

Prof. Ramsay sees the opportunity of doing a good business in the typewriter trade, a vocation more to his liking than teaching, and the reason consequently for his retirement from the college.

To Prof. Ramsay is due the present high efficiency of the Albuquerque college and its financial success. Mr. Stoll is a practical and very capable man and will unquestionably continue to run the institution with the same efficiency that has characterized it.

ALL THE WAY FROM ENGLAND FOR HEALTH

ARTHUR JONES FINALLY SUCCEEDS TO OVERCOME DISEASE OF THE LUNGS IN THIS CITY.

Arthur Jones, who died last evening in this city, came all the way from England hoping to benefit his impaired health. He has entered from the perspective of the lungs for some time. The man left his native shores and sailed for the United States. He came to Chicago and from there to this city. The disease was too far advanced, however, and neither the skilled medical care nor the dry air of Albuquerque could be expected to benefit the man to any extent. He was 40 years of age. He was a carpenter by occupation. It is said the man has relatives in the old country who are in comfortable circumstances. They have been notified of his demise and will probably order the body shipped to them.

SCHMITT WILL E (CIVIL FROM 'BAD SCALDS'

ONE HAND CAME OFF IN PERFECT MOULD, AND IS PRESERVED IN ALCOHOL.

The calamity which befell Joseph Schmitt, the man scalded with hot mash at the brewery the early part of the week, was more horrible than first reported. His physician says that although there is little doubt about his ultimate recovery, it will be six months or more before he is able to return to work. The skin has come off from both his hands, his face and his neck, and the hair slipped from his head like the bristles from a scalded hog. One hand presents a more repulsive spectacle than the other. The skin came off of this hand in a mould, the fingers retaining their normal shape with the nails clinging to them. This part of the hand peeled from the flesh as Schmitt took hold of a door immediately after the accident.

Schmitt was an employee of the Southwestern Brewery and Ice company, and was working on the first floor of the plant when a mash tank on the third floor exploded, the congealing him. The brewery company is seeking by Schmitt and has promises of hot mash coming down and ised to wash through his trouble.

The hand mould spoken of as coming off whole, has been embalmed, and has been placed in the laboratory of Dr. C. H. Carrs in the Grant building.

COST FIVE SPOT FOR THREATENING CRIPPLES

EARL A. SMITH USED VIOLENT LANGUAGE TO LEE EDWARDS—COURT PUNISHED HIM.

Earl Smith used violent language to one Lee Edwards, who conducts a rooming house and is alleged, invited Edwards into the street to fight. Under the territorial laws, such behavior is a misdemeanor and a warrant sworn out by Edwards charged Smith with assault. The latter was arrested and arraigned before Judge Crawford, police court, yesterday. Smith pleaded not guilty, was given a trial and found guilty, the court imposing a fine of $5.

Judge Crawford has but little time for persons who vent their spite upon a cripple, for such Edwards is.

JUDGE ABBOTT HOME FROM THE CAPITAL

CAME TO ALBUQUERQUE ON ROCK ISLAND TRAIN—ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Judge Ira A. Abbott returned this afternoon from Santa Fe where he has been attending supreme court. The judge arrived in the city shortly after 1 o'clock on a Rock Island train which was detouring over the Santa Fe as a result of the snow blockade on its own route. "I got on at Lamy," said Judge Abbott, "and they did not want me to ride, explaining that it was a request of the Santa Fe company that they haul no passengers over their line. I induced them to permit me to come to this city, however."

Judge Abbott informed The Evening Citizen representative that the several cases relating to the deceased Bernillo county officers would be taken up and heard together on January 23 and 24. These cases have been appealed from Judge Abbott's court here.

The district judge said that Judge Pope and his new wife arrived in Santa Fe Thursday and on yesterday evening were tendered a reception by Judge and Mrs. McFie.

Judge Mills returned home to Las Vegas Friday morning to see his son off to Yale today.

The last case is set for February 2, but whether the business will be finished by that date, Judge Abbott did not know for certain.

THE CROWD DID NOT WORRY HIM IN THE LEAST.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—A bright blue tie, a foot of green silk handkerchief protruding from his pocket, a bland and innocent countenance below a wide expanse of baldness, six feet five of easily carried stature rising upon toes turned outward—such is the rather striking appearance of Ollie James, the most conspicuous man in the Kentucky delegation in the house of representatives.

But it is not his physical or sartorial oddities which have most impressed his colleagues. The one thing most intimately associated with his personality is a well remembered picture, which he presented at the last democratic national convention, when to the amazement of hundreds of on-lookers, he was observed hunching quietly off a bottle of beer and a can of tomato soup.

Imperturbable superiority to conventionalities is his dominating note.

TRIMBLE ARRESTED ON ADVICE FROM GALLUP

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY TODAY ON A WARRANT—NO CHARGE MENTIONED IN MESSAGE TO CHIEF McMILLIN.

Acting on advices received from Gallup last night, Officer Alex Knapp, just before noon today arrested one S. W. Trimble and lodged him in the city bastille, to await the coming of Sheriff Harry Coddington, of McKinley county, who wired that he held a warrant for Trimble and would arrive tonight.

The message received from Coddington by Chief McMillin did not give any particulars further than a description of the man wanted, and it is not known as yet what Trimble is wanted for, but Trimble is of the opinion that his wife at Gallup is responsible for his arrest. They have had more or less trouble. It is supposed that she charged him with desertion.

Mr. Vandiver's failure to oust the other companies is explained in his office as following a desire to wait until the courts decide the issue of his discretionary power. HOW IT STICKS.

Albuquerque Has Found It Hard to Shake Off. Hard to bear, harder to get rid of, is any itching skin complaint. Eczema or itching piles. Doan's Ointment relieves and cures. All itches of the skin are given up. Albuquerque people endorse this statement:

A. M. Whitcomb, nurseryman, corner Eighth and Tijeras streets, says: "In my estimation there is no ointment for the purpose that can equal Doan's. There was one spot below my knee which annoyed me for ten years. Unlike eczema it did not spread out, but at times it itched so exasperatingly, particularly after I went to bed or sat by the stove, that I scratched it until it smarted before relief came. I tried every salve and ointment I came across, when one did not help I bought another and applied it. Reading about Doan's Ointment induced me to go to a city drug store for a box. In a few days the itchiness ceased, and the life of the part affected was killed. For up to date, and it is now over six months since I stopped the use of the salve there has not been a symptom of its appearance."

ALBUQUERQUE QUITE THEATRICAL CENTER

Half a Dozen Stage People Here—Arthur C. Aiston Will Buy Property.

SOME BIG SHOWS NEXT WEEK

It is seldom that so many noted show men meet way out here in New Mexico, but when they do then the show business is hashed over in fine shape, and all kinds of sad as well as funny experiences are related. That is why there was so much excitement around Manager Matson's store this morning.

Arthur C. Aiston, whose standard plays appear here on Friday and Saturday of next week, arrived from Los Angeles on the night train after paying a New Year's visit to his company.

Then Wm. Warrington, the old veteran with West's Minstrels, and Geo. Samuels arrived soon after and accidentally met at Mr. Matson's, each coming from a different direction of the world and they had not met for some five or six years, and still they all have been traveling continually.

Manager Aiston expects to buy some property here and he, with several eastern people, are going to open up an industry in this section that will be very beneficial to this community and will give employment to over eight hundred men and women.

The nature of this industry will be announced in The Citizen in the early spring.

Mr. Aiston is also a great lover of Indian blankets and expects to add eight or ten to his already fine collection of thirty-five which he has in his Indian room of his beautiful apartments in New York city. This popular manager is en route to New York, where his new mammoth production is in preparation.

Short Notes.

Arthur C. Aiston, proprietor and manager of "Shadows on the Heath" and "At the Old Cross Roads" company, arrived in the city last night and is stopping at the Alvarado for a few days, from where he will go direct to New York city.

Wm. Warrington, one of the oldest theatrical men on the road, arrived this morning in advance of West's Minstrels, which plays an engagement here soon.

Geo. Samuels, who will present his company in three successful comedies next week, arrived in town today in the interest of his attractions and is stopping at the Alvarado.

Rod Wagoner, business manager of Arthur C. Aiston's attractions, has about completed his business here and will leave tonight for El Paso, where the company appears one night en route to New Orleans.

Aftermath of the Minstrels.

Bones—Mr. Interlocutor, in this state of mind, which do you prefer, joint or unjointed?

Interlocutor—Joint or unjointed? You mean joint or single, don't you?

Bones—No, sah; dah's nothin' single about it; we're both married.

Interlocutor—Then where does the unjointed come in?

Bones—Well, you see, Governor Hagerman says he is going to knock out gambler, and if there's no gambling, there will be no joints, and if there's no joints, that's unjointed, ain't it?

"I May Be Crazy, But I Ain't No Fool," that was to have been sung by Mr. Horton, was conspicuous by its absence, the music having been misplaced at a late hour.

Alvin Waas, author and star comedian of "Fun in a Detective Agency," missed his vocation in life when he failed to become a merry burnt cork minstrel man.

Some there were who didn't understand the joke about the rubbers of M. Mandell, but as the end man said, "We'll leave that to Mr. Mandell."

The "old maids" came in for their part of the gags.

AN EASY WAY TO THAW FROZEN WATER PIPES

The latest conquest of electricity is ice. President Roderick Stover, of the Southwestern Electric and Construction company, stated this morning that it is the easiest thing possible to thaw out frozen water pipes with electricity, and that it can be done without the inconvenience of digging them up or tearing up the floor of the house. Wires carrying electricity are attached to the pipe on both sides of the obstruction. The pipe immediately becomes heated and the ice melts.

Apparently, it is up to the plumber to take out an electrician's license or the electrician to take out a plumber's license.

ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM NATION'S CAPITAL

The officers of the non-partisan joint statehood league today received word from a reliable source in Washington that one of the new senators, elected from a western state, "has been won over to the cause of joint statehood. The senator in question, is a very prominent man, and it is said that word comes direct from the floor of the senate that he is doing all in his power to secure the passage of the bill.

THE ANGLO-JAPANESE FRIENDSHIP IS GENUINE

BRITISH JACKIES PROVE IT WHEN THEY VISIT TOKYO AND ARE ROYALLY ENTERTAINED.

ENGLISH SAILORS PROVING THEY ARE POPULAR.

London, Jan. 6.—When the British China squadron appeared in Japanese waters and took part in a grand review in Tokyo Bay the men of the fleet met with a splendid reception. The friendly Japanese entertained them royally and with evidence of their popularity were numerous. The above photograph shows that even the dainty representatives of the fair sex were not backward in conforming to the spirit of the occasion.

NEW YORK NEWS LETTER

New York, Jan. 6.—There is great distress on Riverside avenue and the hearts of the people of New York City go out to Mrs. Isaac G. Rice, who has made public the agony suffered by the residents on that slightly avenue. They have the most beautiful river on the planet to look upon, and there is a wide prospect on beyond the lovely stream that carries so much freight and so many passengers to the city or the sea. But, alas, the great river is infested by swarms of boats of greater or less degree, and each one has a whistle and that whistle is blown many times in the course of a day and a night. And the hearing of these whistles has almost, she avers, made Mrs. Rice crazy, and her neighbors also fear aberration of their intellects. The toot-toot of these whistles goes on all through the night, and it is so tantalizing at times that Mrs. Rice has to just sit down and count them. Three thousand toots in a night is a common record, while on one night 7,000 toots were counted. It is quite probable that the counter got tired and sleepy at times and missed some toots, possibly some hundreds of them, as there is a soundness about a toot that makes it very difficult to catch at it. All the hospitals in the neighborhood are in the fight with Mrs. Rice, and backed up Mrs. Rice when she waited upon Police Commissioner McAdoo and asked him to remedy the matter. What to do the poor man was at loss to say. A whistle is a very useful thing in its way, and frequently prevents a collision, and with it pilots tell each other which side to steer without having to wait until they get along side of each other and are able to make instructions by word of mouth. It is necessary, of course, for Riverside people to sleep at times, and perhaps if they did not make themselves so exceedingly wide awake on the tooting question they might be able to take a good sound nap or two occasionally. Some 12,479 persons are going to lay the matter before the law department of the custom house and pray that body to give them sound, refreshing slumbers.

ANDREW CARNEGIE IS DAILY WAKED BY MUSIC.

Not so far from Riverside Drive a good man, who has done some good in his day and generation, is sleeping to beat the land every night. The whistles may toot and toot, but they do not disturb Andrew Carnegie. He just retires at a reasonable hour and drops into slumber, dreaming of the chance of establishing a few more libraries or putting aside a few more millions for some new benevolent enterprise. And he sleeps on, Andrew Carnegie does, the canny Scot, until morning, and then he has his awakening done by music from a sweet-toned organ played by an expert. Late morning the organ was supplied with a full choir of sweet voices and those eyelids of the slumbering millionaire were pried open in just no time at all. And Mr. Carnegie just lies still and listens. While Mrs. Rice, on Riverside Drive, would plug her ears, Carnegie opens all the pores of his soul and takes in the entrancing strains until he gets thoroughly awake and tuned up for the day. And Andrew Carnegie awake is a steam engine of many thousands of horse-power.

GRAND MERGER OF THE CITY STREET CAR LINES.

Mr. August Belmont has kindly taken on charge of all our street car lines, from the cars that scurry along the highways to those that swish through the subway, not forgetting those which fret the upper air. That is handy. If one wants to know anything about a car or car line, all he has to do is to go down to see Mr. Belmont, or if he has a complaint to make all he has to do is to pour into the ready ear of Mr. Belmont, which will work nine hours a day, no matter what is the result of the printers' strike. And there is Mr. Ryan, who no sooner bobbed up in insurance circles than he disappears down the subway, leaving Mr. Belmont to face a frowning world as mad as a hornet over being chiseled out of its possessions. And yet there are some people in this town who think Mr. Ryan has not disappeared from the car properties, but is more in them than ever, and that he will shovel millions out of the merger.

He will assist Mr. Belmont in building all the subways that are to follow, and will take his little dividends. Now why isn't this nice and considerate in these two gentlemen? Why do people berate them for not letting them worry and fret over these pesky holes in the ground, while these gentlemen will build them and the public need not worry their heads about the matter until the subways are put on exhibition, spike-spawn, gleaming, glistening, in all the brilliance of WAR HORSE HEARS AND ANSWERS BATTLE SOUND.

The old fire is in the old flint after all. Money rates no sooner began to soar than Russell Sage dusted himself off and appeared in Wall street once more after many months' absence, apparently as alive as ever and certainly capable of taking in the varying rates that money jumped to from 30 to 125, Sage's average being 90 to 95. What a luxurious feeling must have been conveyed by Mr. Sage to have that profit passing through his hands once again, those hands so shriveled that one might well suppose they never could have handled cash again. Seventy thousand dollars is said to have been the profit that Sage derived from a little day's work. They pump salt into moribund arteries and the patient takes a breath or two more of life. But Mr. Sage has suffered no hypodermic injection. He has simply suffered money making under high pressure and out he comes to enjoy the making of a few more millions before he leaves the scene for good. Why couldn't Mr. Sage and his kindred soul—Mrs. Hetty Green—be induced to give a dialogue describing the delights of taking in money—and keeping it? What thrills of joy must be running through their veins when they find the dollars coming in and staying in. We have an idea that Sage experiences more joy in taking in the cash, while Mrs. Green delights more in packing it away. We get an insight into her character when we read that of all the creatures on this earth she has chosen a terrier to endow for life.

VITAL ADVANTAGE IN LANKY MOTORMEN.

A talk, lanky motorman is altogether the best, indeed, it is clear that they should be made that way. Motorman Welch, for instance, is tall and lanky, and as he was cruising gaily along with his trolley car he saw a boy sitting on the track sucking a stick of candy. The power was turned off instantly and the brake applied, but the car was sliding along toward the boy and he was sure to be crushed, candy and all. Then it was that Welch's lank legs came in play. Clinging with them, bent like a jack-knife blade, he clung with them to the front board and letting himself down he first reached out his long arms and with his ready hands he scooped that candy sucking boy just as easy. What would a short, fat motorman have done in such a case? And the little boy went on sucking his candy and Welch nearly hugged him to death in his joy at not having crushed him to the horrible death. Clearly the home-made fender motorman has qualities that make him the premier of his profession.

BENEFITS OF McCLELLAN'S BEING DECLARED ELECTED.

We have had assurance that we will have a major, not as a hold-over, but as one declared elected by the board of canvassers. This is much better, for although Mr. Hearst may push out Mr. McClellan by quo warranto proceedings later on, it is much better to know meanwhile that the man in office is there by the decision of the body properly qualified to judge and declare the result officially. To have the forms of law followed and the decision made in accordance therewith removes the city from discussion and the question of who would profit any one to question the authority of the municipal head. In quo warranto proceedings another authoritative decision will be reached, and whether Mr. McClellan goes out or stays in he will do according to law. It will be a great relief to Mr. Hearst if the judges in the quo warranto proceedings tell Mr. McClellan quickly to stay.

OLD TIMER.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

It is evident that the Needles Eye, during the past year, has been imposed upon by "free" advertisers, and on January 1 the paper published the following, which should be followed by all other papers:

Beginning with the year 1906, all advertising in The Eye for entertainments, socials, etc., the purposes of which are the obtaining of money, or at which there is an admission fee or other charge made, must be paid for at regular rates. The Eye will continue to carry all notices of church or charity meetings and will be glad to do so free of charge, but entertainments for the purpose of gain must pay regular advertising rates. This is the usual newspaper custom throughout the country, the management reserving the right to give such amounts as are by him deemed proper for all church and charitable work, but the columns of the paper represent the amount of business which he is doing, and not the amount which he is devoting to church and charity.

Good Mr. Miles has been relieved—by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

MOST ANYTHING

A Word From Josh Wise.

The reason most people can't make both ends meet is that they keep each both headed in different directions.

Fremont Still booming. The wooden Indian in front of Youngman's cigar store has made his appearance in a new suit of winter clothes, and appears as bright and fresh as ever. Splendid, the sign painter, did a good job on the old fellow. Fremont, (O.) News.

The fact that Bob Fitzsimmons, who passed through Albuquerque Wednesday morning, lost face championship one week and his sobriety wife the next, is convincing proof that he can't be unlicked always.

"Remember, it is more blessed to give than to receive," said the Standard magnate.

Noticing Tom Lawson passing at that moment, he cried loudly: "Give it to him! Give it to him!"

Imitating the managers of Saran Bernhardt's farewell tour, the manager of the musical comedy had booked his company for a performance in the dining room of the palatial hotel.

"I tell you, it's no use," protested the stage manager. "The chorus will never appear there."

"I don't see why not," said the manager. "Sarah Bernhardt intends to play in the dining room of the Palm Beach hotel, and if a great artist like her is willing to play there, I don't see why the people in my company won't."

"Yes, yes," impatiently answered the stage manager. "But think of the sad memories it would awaken."

All About the Water Wagon.

The water wagon executive committee has elected Bob Fitzsimmons a life member of the association. Mr. Fitzsimmons is "considered eligible, since he has lost his punch."

The committee is also preparing a congratulatory message to the citizens of Cleveland on the decision of the city officials to build an Edge-water-Brookside boulevard.

There will be at least one gymnastic act in the entertainment at the water works, but the committee has decided it shall be a horizontal bar performance.

The committee has requested the secretary of war to furnish it the name of the officer who first used the water cure in the Philippines. A medal will be sent to him.

Sure Mike.

The undersigned wishes to notify the persons who use his store as a loafing place that they must stop it; also the spitting on the floor must be stopped. Business is business, and it is detrimental to business to have loafers around. Yours truly, T. C. Mike.—Cynnet, (O.) Review.

WATER FOZE IN BOILER OF ENGINE, DELAYING TRAIN.

The Santa Fe Central train, due on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock did not arrive at Santa Fe until Thursday forenoon at 10 o'clock. The reason for the delay was the cold weather, the water in the boiler of the engine having frozen and the fire having been put out by the cold. As it took quite a while to get the water in the engine heated, the train was necessarily delayed.

Perfection Attained.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, disperse, while DeWitt's Little Early Riser simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. W. H. How, Houston, Tex., says: "For years I have used Little Early Riser Pills in my family. No better pill can be used for constipation." Sold by all druggists. Try a Citizen want ad.

S. A. McCoy, connected with the engineering corps of the Santa Fe, on the Belen cut-off, was in the city last night from that place to attend the Elks' minstrel. He returned home early this morning.

A Pullman conductor tells the following: A little girl was being put to bed in the car, and her mamma requested her to say her prayers. She replied: "Oh, what's the use of praying about God tonight? The engineer will take care of us all right, won't he?"

Charles E. Pugh and family, of Philadelphia, passed through the city last night in Mr. Pugh's private car, No. 180, en route to the Grand Canyon and California. Mr. Pugh is second vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

S. L. Bean, superintendent of motive power for the Santa Fe coast lines, is in the city from Los Angeles, having arrived yesterday. He is accompanied by his private secretary, S. H. Smith, both of whom have a large list of friends in Albuquerque. They will remain several days transacting business.

A luxury the Rock Island has engaged in since the snow blockade closed up traffic near El Paso a week ago is the free boarding of the passengers on some of the snowbound trains. One train which had been out of Chicago for a week, was the guest of the Rock Island at the Alvarado this morning. This train carried 240 people. The way these people put away Fred Harvey's good breakfasts testified to the fact that they were hungry.

King Bound Over.
Machinist J. J. King, charged with putting emery in the eccentric cups of a passenger engine, had a hearing yesterday before Justice Otero at Las Vegas, Judge E. V. Long appearing in his behalf. King was bound over to the grand jury under a bond of $3,000.

COPELAND APPOINTED SECRETARY
E. L. Copeland, of Topeka, Kan., has been appointed secretary and treasurer of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company, to succeed Edward Wilder, who died at Topeka two weeks ago. Mr. Copeland was Mr. Wilder's secretary for almost eight years, and during the latter's illness acted as secretary and treasurer. Mr. Copeland's first official act after his appointment was to appoint A. D. Gray to be his successor as cashier of the company. Mr. Gray was formerly assistant cashier. Mr. Copeland, in an interview, stated that all other officials in the treasury department would be retained in their old positions.

ROCK ISLAND TRAINS BURIED IN SNOW

GALE FILLS TWENTY-FOOT CUTS BEFORE SNOW PLOW IS SCARCELY PAST—BLOCKADE MAY LAST SEVERAL DAYS.

The indications are that the Rock Island will be tied up several days by a snow blockade. Conductor J. S. O'Shea, on Rock Island train No. 29, which arrived here from the north at 7 o'clock and left for the south thirty minutes later, after the passengers and train crew had been fed at the Alvarado, said that the Rock Island officials had been prepared for most any kind of an emergency, but they were not equal to that which has come to pass. The situation is really critical. The trouble exists between Gallinas and Eros. Cuts twenty feet deep are filled level with snow, and in this snow in several places are

SPORTING... ...BREVITIES

An entirely new infield is promised New York fans by Clark Griffith, of the Americans. There will also be a shakeup in the outfield, though Keeler will remain at his old station in right field.

Now that Mike Kelley has gotten control of the Minneapolis franchise in the American association, his friends, and they are legion, will watch his efforts to gather together a winning team. Kelley is an inspiring leader, and his clean methods in the diamond have made him deservedly popular with fans around the circuit.

Fred Tatal and Harry Lewis, at one time favorite jockeys on the American turf, but who were finally discredited by owners for younger jockeys, have been riding in England and Austria for the past five years, where they are regarded as leading jockeys, especially at Vienna. Last season Tatal headed the list of American winners, with 48 winners out of 292 mounts.

Farmer James J. Jeffries has a way of saying things and sticking to them that is refreshing. When he declared that he had retired from the ring, the scoffers entered the merry hah-hah, that had done duty on various similar occasions with other champions. The veteran Delaney thought to draw Jeff out of his retirement, but failed. Now Jack O'Brien has made a finale of inducing the big fellow to enter the ring again. Jeff is out and for all time, so preparations might as well be made to let O'Brien, Hart, Rubin and the rest of the aspirants fight it out and pass the crown to the winner.

CHRISTIANITY SPREADS THROUGH HEATHEN LAND.

New York, Jan. 6.—The Rev. E. E. Strong, secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions, has given out his annual report for the year 1934, which contains some interesting figures. It shows that there are 6,093 men and 5,154 women missionaries, 63,286 native laborers and 1,325,845 communicants at the 20,441 stations and out-stations. This is an increase in the last year of 102,732 communicants. There are 901,112 persons under instruction. The total income of all societies in the United States, Canada, Great Britain and Continental Europe is $15,151,368; of those in the United States alone, $7,069,701. The secretary says in his report that the promise made last year by the Turkish government, that it would give the American educational and religious institutions the same privileges that have been granted to those controlled by Europeans, has not been fulfilled, and that the porters declined also to fulfill the stipulations made. "It is not to be expected," says Secretary Strong, "that our government will fail to insist upon the fulfillment of these stipulations, which are essential to the maintenance of the institutions of the American board already established in the Turkish empire."

DIVIDEND DECLARED AND WAGES RAISED.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 6.—The dividend declared by the Cleveland Electric Railway company, amounting to $58,500 was payable yesterday. The company is prosperous, and not only the stockholders profit by the fact, but also the employees, who share in the profits by receiving an increase in their wages. The increase for the more than 2,000 motormen and conductors of the company amounts to about 10 per cent per hour. The increase in the wages of the employees was decided upon by the Board of Directors recently, after they had increased the regular dividend from 4 to 5 per cent. The action of the company in raising the wages of their employees was entirely voluntary. There had been no request by the men for higher wages and they were apparently satisfied with what they were paid. The increase becomes effective with the first day of this month.

Elavio Vail, former school commissioner for Bernillo county, yesterday turned over to A. B. Stroup, the present incumbent, the type writer which he removed with him after giving up the office in the court house.

The Glory of Maternity.
Nature, if left alone, will cure for itself, this might have been true at some prehistoric time, but since for ages it has not been left alone, but has been bound down and fettered by ignorance and mandates of society, it can no longer cure for itself.

At no time does the truth of this appeal to us more strongly than at that period of a woman's life when she is about to become a mother. Nature must be assisted at this crisis, and for this very contingency has been devised that the muscles and tissues improved and weakened as they have been by the stress of our higher civilization, may fulfill without undue suffering and possible lasting harm, the functions for which the Creator intended them.

Mother's Friend by its kindly office softens and relaxes these parts and enables the mother to be, to pass through the parturient period and actual crisis with practically no suffering to herself and an easy delivery of her offspring.

It is especially necessary as a massage, and is a non-injuring, soothing, and most efficacious remedy. Price, All druggists. Our book "Motherhood" sent free on request.

are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heart burn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and put up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

Our Shoes Fit

The most important point in shoes is fit. Be shoes ever so good, they are weak if they lack this essential feature. Fit will atone for other lapses in shoe making, but perfection in all the other parts will not redeem a bad fit. A bad fit is either an eye-sore or a disturber of the peace. If it does not hurt it looks bad.

Our shoes are fitters, perfect in this respect, without any exception. You will notice this the instant you put your foot in one of them.

President Roosevelt will not be inaugurated the coming March, for such ceremonies occurred on March, 1905.

However, while back in the east, Major Meyers will visit Washington and hobnob with the national lawmakers and talk joint statehood for a few days.
