GREAT MEETING OF COTTON MEN

Every Branch of That Industry Represented at New Orleans.
FIVE THOUSAND MEMBERS
Growing, Ginning, Selling, Planting, Higher Prices Claim Attention.

BETTER LABOR IS DEMANDED

New Orleans, La., Jan. 11.—Figuratively speaking, the eyes of the entire cotton growing south are upon the Washington Artillery building, in this city, where the second annual convention of the Southern Cotton Association will open its three days' convention this afternoon. For weeks the subject of the convention has been before the people of the cotton states; first, when the parish and township delegates were chosen, then, when the county delegates were chosen, and finally, when the delegates to the various state conventions were selected. At the state convention, the members of the executive committee of the organization were chosen, to represent their states at the national convention, which opens here today. At the big meeting, about a year ago, when the organization was launched, about 3,000 cotton growers, farmers, bankers and other representative citizens of the cotton growing states were present. It is expected that fully 5,000 delegates will attend the meeting, which opens in the large auditorium of the Washington Artillery building today.

In his call for the meeting President Harvey Jordan strongly urged the necessity of selecting for the meeting the best and most influential men of the cotton district. Judging from the men who have come here to attend the meeting, the people of the south have done their best to comply with the injunction of Mr. Jordan, and it is safe to say that there has never before been a larger and more important meeting of the most representative men of the cotton growing states of the south than the present convention.

The first informal meeting of the convention was held this morning. The convention was called to order by President Harvey Jordan, at 10 o'clock. After prayer by one of the local ministers, the Hon. John Parker delivered an address of welcome on behalf of "The Progressive Union and the City of New Orleans." W. L. Foster of Shreveport, La., responded. Then President Harvey Jordan delivered an address on "The Southern Farmer," which was afterwards informally discussed. E. A. Calvin, President of the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union, followed with an address on "Cooperation of Farmers," which was also briefly discussed. After the appointment of committees, the convention adjourned until afternoon, when the first business session will be held.

In the afternoon session, Hon. Chas. Scott of Rosedale, Miss., will speak on "Foreign Labor in the Cotton Fields." Hon. D. A. Tompkins of Charlotte, N. C., on "Value of Manufactured Cotton Compared to the Raw Product," and John D. Walker, President of the First National Bank, of Sparta, Ga., on "Closer Relations Between Bankers and Farmers." There will also be an evening session, at which addresses will be delivered by Hon. J. A. Brown of Chadbourne, N. C., Walter Clark, President of the Mississippi Division of the Southern Cotton Association, and Hon. H. M. Jacaway of Dardenelle, Ark.

Many matters of the utmost importance to the cotton growers of the south, and in fact the entire cotton belt, will be considered and discussed at this convention, which will remain in session three days. The discussion will cover the importance of holding the balance of the unsold crop for 15 cents, so as to bring the average of prices for the season as near 15 cents as possible; extending the organization of the Southern Cotton Association; the importance of speedily bringing about direct trade relations between the spinners of the world and the cotton producers; the imperative need of securing facilities for handling the crop south of the cotton belt; the standard built warehouses, where cotton may be weighed and classified by expert managers and the receipts underritten, so as to make them negotiable in and financial center or where they can be bought by exporter or spinner and tendered for delivery of cotton at such time as it may be needed for consumption. In this way it would be possible to market the crop slowly and regulate the supply so as to meet the legitimate demand of the spinners. This plan would tend to limit the range of fluctuations, avoiding the present wide fluctuations, and are injurious both to the producer and spinner, and place the future handling of cotton on a sound and conservative basis. Another suggestion which will be considered, is to secure from congress an appropriation for the purpose of purchasing cotton to be sold to foreign countries in the interest of extending the use of American cotton and cotton goods. Other matters will be the consideration of the question of immigration to the south, the establishment of closer relations between farmers and bankers, and various other questions of the greatest importance to the entire cotton growing south.

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY IN THE WALTER H. JONES KILLING

Full Text of the Verdict, Blaming Gregory Page For Crime, Exclusively Telegraphed to The Evening Citizen.

AMENABLE TO LAWS AS OTHER TRANSGRESSORS

This Paper Gave Only Facts in the Deplorable Affair With No Intention to Do Mr. Page Injustice—Attorney Dobson Gives His Version of Crime.

Special to The Citizen.
Gallup, N. M., Jan. 11.—A copy of the coroner's jury sitting on the dead body of Walter H. Jones, was obtained by your correspondent and sent exclusively to The Evening Citizen. It is as follows:

CORONER'S JURY VERDICT.
Gallup, N. M., Jan. 9, 1906.
We, the undersigned, justice of the peace and jurors, who sat upon the inquest held this 9th day of January, 1906, on the body of one Walter H. Jones, found the coroner's No. 2, in the county of McKinley, territory of New Mexico, find that the deceased came to his death indirectly by an assault and blows from one Gregory Page and from complications arising from such blows, and from his own negligence after assault. (Signed)

ARCHIE BROWN,
Justice of the Peace.
E. F. KENNEY,
J. M. CARMAN,
S. E. ALDRICH,
FROM COMMISSIONERS ARISING FROM SUCH BLOWS, ETC.

[Note.—The verdict of the coroner's jury, published in full above and exclusively in this paper, provoked the coroner's jury specifically state that Jones came to his death from an assault and blows delivered by one Gregory Page, it would certainly seem that some harder substance than mere facts were used.

SHOULD PROVE HIS INNOCENCE OR GUILT

Special to The Citizen.
Gallup, N. M., Jan. 11.—If being responsible, directly or indirectly, for the death of a fellow being is a punishable offense in New Mexico, as the people think it is, then Gregory Page should be arrested and tried as any other citizen, that his innocence or guilt may be proven.

STATE ACTION SOUGHT AGAINST FIRE TRAPS

Special to The Citizen.
Chicago, Ill., Jan. 11.—Promoters of the movement to secure state building laws are greatly encouraged by the favorable reception of their plan. The International Society of Building Inspectors are the official sponsors of a bill under the caption of "State Fire Protection," which will be presented in every state legislature this year.

The main object sought is to have the state fix fundamental building regulations, prescribing minimum precautions against fire, and so to form a safe foundation upon which cities will be left free to erect complete building codes.

is alleged, by Mr. Page. But as Mr. Page is the political boss of this county, and therefore able to use his influence, he has not as yet been arrested, although it has been two days since the verdict was rendered.

DOBSON GIVES HIS VERSION OF THE AFFAIR

According to a morning paper, E. W. Dobson, of this city, who is Page's legal adviser in the above matter, and who yesterday returned from the city in which the death of Jones occurred, his client has been misrepresented.

Attorney Dobson stated that Page merely assaulted Jones with his fists, but reports from Gallup state that a chair was used in the assault, and as the coroner's jury specifically state that Jones came to his death from an assault and blows delivered by one Gregory Page, it would certainly seem that some harder substance than mere facts were used.

Mr. Dobson also stated that the coroner's verdict was incorrectly quoted, but the above coroner's jury verdict is most certainly not misquoted, and is taken from the court records.

Attorney Dobson's version of the affair, as stated, is as follows: "Jones went to the Page hotel and engaged a room. He made an insulting remark to an 18-year-old girl employed at the hotel and later to Mrs. Page. Mr. Page was down town at the time. Upon his return, an hour later, the incident was reported to him and he met Jones in the barroom. No one else was present but Bartender Christman. Page asked Jones if he was the man who had made the insulting remark regarding the character of the house. Jones said he was, but 'did not mean anything by it.' 'Well, you made a mistake,' said Page, and struck the man with his fist. Jones returned the blow and Page knocked him down. He fell down in front of the bar. The bartender picked him up and Jones went to the toilet room and washed his face. He then ordered his grips sent to the Hinch hotel. The next night he called a doctor, who treated his wounds. Wednesday, a crisis developed. Thursday, in violation of the doctor's orders, he was down town drinking. Friday he did the same and was in the barber shop getting a shave when the first symptoms of lunacy appeared. The barber testifying that he talked incoherently and ramblingly while in the chair. He was out on the street Friday night. The doctors insisted that he be kept in his room, so the hotel porter locked him in. He then climbed out the window on the one-story shed roof adjoining, walked over to the edge and fell eighteen feet to the frozen sidewalk below. He was carried to his room and died twenty-four hours later."

AN AMERICAN HERO RECALLED

Anniversary of Alexander Hamilton's Birth Celebrated Today.

STOOD HIGH IN COUNCIL

Noted Especially in Forming the Financial Scheme of Our Country.

HIS NOTED HOME STILL STANDS

New York, Jan. 11.—Today is the anniversary of the birth of Alexander Hamilton, one of the framers of the Constitution of the United States, and patriotic organizations throughout the country will celebrate the event by memorial meetings, banquets and in other ways. The name of Alexander Hamilton is one of those indelibly engraved upon the pages of this country's history. He was born in the West Indies, on January 11, 1757, and was still a comparatively young man, when he became closely identified with some of the most important events of that eventful period of this country's history. His was one of the master minds of the epoch which developed our constitutional government. To his brilliant and far seeing brain the country owes its financial system. During the period of the war and the subsequent dark years, Hamilton was one of the pillars of strength. His versatility was only equalled by the strength of his grasp of matters which concerned the colonies.

During one of the most peaceful periods of his eventful and stormy life, in the year 1800, Hamilton built himself a fine mansion, in what was then the suburbs of New York, but is now traversed by 143rd street and Convent avenue. He built the house out of timber presented by General Phil Schuyler and cut from the general's land at the headwaters of the Hudson River. There the house stood for over a century, withstanding the destructive effects of time and climate. A few years ago the Board of Aldermen of Washington Heights, as that district is called, decided to extend 143rd street, and the "Grange," as Hamilton's mansion was called, would have to be torn down, to make room for the street, had not a thoughtful real estate man purchased the ground and house and prevented the cutting through of the street. He moved the house far enough toward the center of the block to permit the cutting through of the street, and later he moved the house again a block further south, to a site adjoining St. Luke's Church, to make room for a row of modern apartments which were built upon the land formerly surrounding the "Grange," and since then an effort has been made to preserve the "Grange" as a national memorial and to create a small park around it.

RECIPROCITY EFFECTED WITH SWISS FEDERATION.

Bern, Switzerland, Jan. 11.—There is great rejoicing throughout the Swiss Federation over the proclamation of President Roosevelt, conferring upon imports from Switzerland to the United States of crude tartar, still wines, vermouth, brandies and works of art the reductions provided for in Section 3 of the Dingley Act. The new arrangement is the result of negotiations for a reciprocity convention between the United States and Switzerland, and its granting was preceded by the voluntary announcement of the Swiss government to extend the favored nation treatment to American imports, without, at the same time, preferring any request whatever for a return of similar preferences on the part of the American government. It is believed that this new arrangement will be of the greatest benefit to the Swiss industries.

BANK MAKES BIG ADDITION TO CAPITAL.

The bank was opened on December 5, 1892, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, and the proposed increase, which will undoubtedly be voted by the shareholders, will double the original capital stock of the bank in the thirteen years of its existence.

The bill will be introduced during the present session of congress.

It is understood that extensive improvements will be made under the new owner, and that several new mines will be opened on the property. The coal lands purchased by Mr. Muecklew are situated in Fayette, Raleigh and Kanawha counties. This is the first step in a great consolidation of West Virginia coal properties, which, it is understood, has been contemplated for some time.

He argued that he could not say what had occurred when the question was under discussion in the secret session, but when pressed, said that if permitted to do so he would say that the resolution itself had never been considered at any time. On the suggestion of Morgan, the senate, at 1:25 went into secret session for consideration of the subject.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DESERTION AND ABSENCE.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—The military authorities in New York and other places continue to have trouble with deserters, whom they desire to regard in no such light, principally that the government may be saved the expense of paying rewards and to avoid the responsibility of making disbursements of this sort. There has always been more or less trouble in determining between absence without leave and desertion, in a case where the culprit has been captured and returned for trial. One of the latest cases to engage the attention of the War Department, is that of Private E. E. McDuffie, of the 48th Company of Coast Artillery, who tried to get away from Fort Wadsworth, N. Y., and who was captured at Harrisburg, Pa., on a train going westward. The Fort Wadsworth court merely fined McDuffie $5 for absence without leave but General Grant disapproved the sentence, on the ground that McDuffie was guilty of desertion.

CZAR CLAIMS AUTOCRAT YET

Won't Grant Constituent Assembly, Says Witte. Perhaps None.

NO DISCUSSION MEETINGS

Conditions in Trans-Caucasia Worse Than Represented. Must Be Reconquered.

POLICE PREFECT ASSASSINATED

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—Premier Witte, according to Novoe Vremya, at his reception yesterday, of the delegation headed by the mayor of St. Petersburg, which called upon him with a request for the relaxation of the orders of the prefect of police against meetings in the interest of the electoral campaign, declared emphatically that the government will not go an inch beyond the imperial manifesto in the question of transforming the national assembly into a constitutional assembly for the purpose of formulating a constitution; and that it will not tolerate any attempt to do so, for this would make it a revolutionary assembly and subject to dissolution by the emperor. The Novoe Vremya also claims that the premier announced that the emperor had not abrogated autocratic power, and can still, by imperial manifesto broaden, abridge and even abolish the rights granted to the people.

CRY FOR HELP COMES FROM TRANS-CAUCASIA.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—According to the Slavo, the consular report of Count Von Veronoff-Doroff, viceroy of Caucasus, shows that the situation in Trans-Caucasia is much more alarming than was outlined in the published statements. Portions of the report indicate that the whole country south of the mountains will have to be practically reconquered. It also contains an urgent appeal for reinforcements.

REVOLT COLLAPSING NOW IN ESTHONIA.

Reval, Jan. 11.—The revolt in Esthonia is collapsing. Cavalry are operating up to the border of Livonia. The town of Leuhaf, Livonia, where a large band of revolutionists is located, has been surrounded by General Orloff's troops.

ANOTHER POLICE PREFECT MEETS HIS DEATH.

Irkutsk, Jan. 11.—The prefect of police has been assassinated. The murderer escaped.

MAY BE EQUIPPED WITH TURBINE POWER

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—The naval constructors and the engineering experts of the Navy Department are engaged on plans and specifications for the two 16,000-ton battleships authorized at the last session of congress. The designers are proceeding with their work on the theory that congress will not be asked to increase the displacement. Of course, naval opinion is in agreement upon changes of such displacement increase, but there are other considerations which evidently control, and which have led to the conclusion that it is just as well to provide for the ships of smaller size. Accordingly, the various bureaus of the Navy Department are engaged in preparing the estimates of weights which are to be credited to each bureau in the completed vessels. It will be some weeks, of course, before proposals will be invited by the Navy Department. In the meantime, the shipbuilders are evincing the keenest interest in the requirements of the Department. It is under consideration whether or not one of the ships shall be equipped with turbine power instead of the ordinary reciprocating engines. The result of the tests with turbine steamers have been so favorable, that a strong sentiment in favor of that method of propulsion has developed among progressive experts.

RAILROAD ATTORNEYS
BEFORE THE BOARD

Asking For Reduction in Taxes
For the Railway Companies They Represent.

TELEGRAPHERS WANT REDUCTIONS

The territorial board of equalization continued its session yesterday, convening at 10 o'clock in the morning in the office of Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford, in the capitol building, Santa Fe. Those present were:

President James S. Duncan, Secretary Venceslao Jaramillo; board members J. A. Mahoney, J. F. Hinkle, Alejandro Sandoval, Martin Lohman,
Robert P. Erylen.

Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford
was also in attendance.

Fighting Assessments.

The Santa Fe Railway company was represented by Judge H. L. Waldo, of Las Vegas.

The Rock Island was represented by W. A. Hawkins, of El Paso.

The Colorado & Southern was represented by J. A. Israel, of Denver.

The Denver & Rio Grande was represented by James Corey, of Denver.

The Santa Fe Pacific railroad was represented by J. P. McGinnis, of Los Angeles.

The Western Union Telegraph company was represented by A. A. Gargan, assistant superintendent.

Immediately upon the convening of the board Mr. Gargan appeared before the members and asked for a cut in the company's basis of assessment of from $50 per mile to $25. A similar request was made Monday by W.
C. Black, superintendent of the company. The cut was not made and it was from the few companies which it was possible to secure from the board members, the reduction will not be granted.

Railroad Representatives.

The railroad representatives consumed the remainder of the morning until the board adjourned for dinner in presenting their views regarding the railroad assessments. There was a great deal said pro and con, which included an able speech by Judge Waldo, in which he presented interesting facts of value to the board in deciding these important matters.

The consensus of opinion, however, seems to be that the railroads would not fuss to any great extent if matters were left just as they at present stand with perhaps a few minor changes.

The board took no action
in regard to revising the present system of assessing the railroads, but will undoubtedly do so soon. Yesterday afternoon, the members spent the time in discussing ways and means. It is probable that some definite plan will be arranged for the meeting today at which time the railroad representatives will again be called into consultation.

Judge Waldo expressed the sentiments of most of the railroad companies when he said that his company was willing to be more than fair in order that all might be amicably adjusted.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION.

How Food Heeded Off the Insidious Disease.

The happy wife of a good old fashioned Mich. farmer says:

"In the spring of 1902, I was taken sick—a general breaking down, as it were. I was excessively nervous, could not sleep well at night, my food seemed to do me no good, and I was so weak I could scarcely walk across the room."

"The doctor said my condition was due to overwork and close confinement and that he very much feared that consumption would set in. For several months I took one kind of medicine after another, but with no good effect—in fact, I seemed to grow worse."

"Then I determined to quit all medicines, give up coffee and see what Grape-Nuts food would do for me. I began to eat Grape-Nuts with sugar and cream and bread and butter three times a day."

"The effect was surprising! I began to gain flesh and strength forthwith, my nerves quieted down and grew normally steady and sound, sweet sleep came back to me. In six weeks' time I discharged the hired girl and commenced to do my own housework for a family of six. This was two years ago, and I am doing it still, and enjoy it. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

MACAULEY, THE MAN WHO HANGED A VERMONT WOMAN

THE DEPUTY SHERIFF WHO PUT MARY ROGERS OUT OF THE WORLD, SAYS HE DID HIS DUTY, BUT THE PEOPLE POINT HIM OUT AND THE CHILDREN YELL "HANGMAN" AFTER HIS LITTLE GOLDEN HAIR GIRL.

DEPUTY SHERIFF MACAULEY.

Wilder, Vt., Jan. 10.—"There goes
the man who hanged Mary Rogers."

That is the way the people of this town now designate Angus MacAuley, the deputy sheriff who sprung the gallows trap that brought death to Vermont's most notable criminal.

"Hangman! Hangman!" about the children of the town at pretty little Mary MacAuley, the golden haired daughter of the deputy.

And little Mary, with tears streaming from her eyes, seeks the comfort ing arms of her sweet faced mother to sob out her troubles and heartaches caused by thoughtless playfellows.

But with the father it is a different story. Many years of his life have been passed in this quiet village. He knows every man, woman and child in it. When it was known that he was to spring the trap that would send a woman plunging to disgraceful death many of his neighbors and friends thought he ought to resign.

"It isn't a man's work," they told MacAuley.

"But it's my duty," he answered.

"It is a distasteful task, but no man should play the coward by trying to evade his sworn duty."

MacAuley is of Scotch parentage.
He knows not the meaning of fear.

As a soldier he would march to the cannon's mouth if his superior commanded him to do so. As an officer of the law he would administer the law as it is written because his superior, Duty, commands him to do so.

When the children of his neighbors taunt his little daughter with cries of derision MacAuley grinds his teeth in rage. He does not like being pointed out to strangers as the man who hanged Mary Rogers, either.

"For God's sake, man, change the subject," he said when approached for an opinion concerning the attitude of his neighbors since the execution of the Rogers woman. "I want to think of something else. I did my duty and I did it without flinching.
I did not hang Mary Rogers. The law did that. I was merely an instrument of the law. The law is above us all and unless it is enforced the whole fabric of government is rent asunder."

Already the neighbors of MacAuley are saying in whispers that he is going to move away—that he is going some place where the children will not cry "hangman" at his little damsel, and where fingers will not be pointed at him and voices "will not whisper: 'There goes the man who hanged Mary Rogers.'"

SUCH A LOT OF BILLS
FOR INSURANCE ILLS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—All sorts of remedies have been suggested for that attack of had insurance under which the country is laboring.

Senator Dryden of New Jersey, himself an insurance magnate, wants federal supervision, and thinks that the question of whether insurance is interstate commerce should again be submitted to the supreme court. He isn't the only doctor. Fred Landis of Indiana, and Butler Ames of Massachusetts, each has chosen publicity as his nostrum.

Dr. Morrell of Pennsylvania has introduced not fewer than five bills dealing with the insurance problem. One provides "for the extension of the sovereign visitatorial power of the United States," so as to include the inspection, supervision and control of every life insurance corporation, and part of whose assets is invested in the capital stock of any trust company or banking association; also the inspection of the trust or banking associations, by the controller of the currency, who may appoint receivers for such institutions, as in the case of national banks.

He has another remedy, entitled "a bill to place all insurance companies under the supervision and control of the Department of Commerce and Labor." Another Morrell bill places insurance companies and all subsidiary trust and banking companies under the supervision and control of the Treasury Department and under the National Banking Act. Another bill is "for the protection of the workingmen of the United States and their families," by requiring insurance companies to refund one-half of the payments when policies lapsed by reason of non-payment of installment premiums. And again, he would provide that no minor, under 15, shall have his life insured in any company which has not deposited its charter with a superintendent of insurance, created by the bill under the direction of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor.

Robinson of Arkansas, in an insurance bill, provides for a special committee of five senators and nine representatives, to be known as the Insurance Investigation Committee of the Fifty-ninth Congress.

Davis of Minnesota wants to make an annual report to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, upon penalty of being denied further use of the United States mails. And Senator Millard of Nebraska provides for the creation of a Bureau of Insurance in the Department of Commerce and Labor.

appeared while herding goats in a snow storm in the Sacramento mountains. The goats were found on Saturday, but the boy undoubtedly perished from the cold.

Reports are coming in from all points of unusually heavy losses by sheepmen on account of the extraordinary cold and unusually heavy snows, which however, have been moderating during the last few days.

"Shuffer is one of the cleverest men at card tricks I ever saw. We were sitting in a poker game one night, and he dealt me four aces and lost Smith four."

"That looks a great deal like double dealing."

TWO DEATHS FROM COLD WEATHER REPORTED.

A special dispatch says: Two deaths from the cold were reported today. James Yates, living in the White mountains in Lincoln county, after leaving his cabin to feed his chickens, lost his way in the blinding snow storm and was found dead two miles from his cabin, with his hat and scarf under his head as a pillow and his hands crossed on his breast. Numerous tracks, circles within circles, gave evidence that he had wandered aimlessly about until overcome by cold and exhaustion.

The other death was that of Charles Newton, a 20-year-old boy, who dis-

WILLING HELPERS.

What's the use of a helper, if he isn't willing? Willingness is an ample mantle which will almost cover all the sins of service. But a classified advertisement in The Evening Citizen is a willing helper that is not only absolutely competent, but also is the time for you. It is the best and most economical publicity in the world.

Perfection Attained.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expect all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion, W. H. How, Houston Tex., says: "For years I have used Little Early Rise Pills in my family.
No better pill can be used in constipation." Sold by all druggists.

A Modern Miracle.

"Truly miraculous seemed the recovery of Mrs. Mollie Holt of this place," writes J. O. R. Hooper, Woodcoughing up puss from her lungs.

Doctors declared her end so near that the family had watched by her bedside forty-eight hours; when, at my urgent request, Dr. King's New Discovery was given her, with the astonishing result that improvement began,
and continued until she finally com-

HEARST ON RAILROAD RATE LEGISLATION

He Opposes President's Recommendation on the Subject of Pooling.

HE IS VISITING MEXICO MINES

Hon. William Randolph Hearst, congressman from New York city, and publisher of the Hearst newspapers, taking a respite from his labors and a needed vacation after his fight in the recent New York election, passed through El Paso the other day, accompanied by his family and the Sunday magazine editor of his papers, Morrill Goddard, for Mexico, on a rest and recreation trip, and to visit some mining properties he and his mother are interested in.

Mr. Hearst seemed in the best of spirits and said he was enjoying the weather, which was brisk and cold, snow filling the air while he was at El Paso.

"What is the outcome of the New York campaign?" he was asked. "Oh, the majority campaign," he repeated. "It is a protracted fight. When the end will come I do not know. Every subterfuge is being employed to defer its coming to a head. The criminal cases are progressing right merrily," he continued, with a twinkle in his keen blue eyes. "Sixteen men are in Sing Sing, and indictments have been returned against sixty others."

"It was only because of the pressure of circumstances that I took the candidacy this time. I cannot help believing that there was a secret understanding between the republicans and Tammany."

The congressman turned from speaking of the fight of the past to the fight of the future. "Railroad rate legislation is the subject that will attract the most general interest in the present congress," he said.

"Your views coincide with those of President Roosevelt, do they not?" he was asked.

"The president has recommended conferring upon the interstate commerce commission enlarged powers," he said, "such as are provided for in the bill which I submitted a little more than two years ago. My bill, however, is more comprehensive."

Long Fight Futile.
"I first became acquainted with the need of legislation affecting the railroads when the beef trust agitation was up. At that time I learned that a fight of three or four years, during which a case goes from the commission to the supreme court, accomplishes practically nothing. Even if the commission rules, and the supreme court sustains the ruling that the existing rate is unjust, the railroad can place in effect a new rate only a cent lower and the whole fight must be made again."

"My bill which was submitted at the first of this session is exactly the same form that it was submitted previously, providing for the extension of the power of the commission to allow the commission to make a rate. It also provides for a trial court which shall have final jurisdiction in a great majority of cases."

"The court, it seems to me, is a matter of great importance. It would greatly shorten the period of time during which litigation would be pending. Having entire power vested in one court would give great prominence to that body, and it would be likely to be free from the influences which too often hamper the work of the federal judges."

"Another great advantage would be the uniformity that would result from having all decisions rendered by a single court."

"How do you regard the president's recommendation that pooling be permitted under certain conditions?"

"It appears to be a concession to the railroads to render them less hostile to the legislation which the president urges."

Mr. Hearst was silent a moment and then went on: "It may be for the best, and it may not. I should think not, myself. I am inclined to doubt whether any legislation of importance will be secured until the president has urged it more strongly than he did in his last letter. Too often it seems that words are used chiefly to obscure meaning. A few paragraphs to the point might have accomplished more than 28,000 words."

Mr. Hearst declared that no other one subject was likely to attract attention at all proportionate to that aroused by the rate regulation question. "As I am a member of the committee on labor," he said, "I shall have opportunity to do a good deal of work in that direction."

SUPREME COURT

JUDGES ARE KEEPING WELL ABEAST OF THEIR WORK—ONLY TWO CASES TODAY.

The supreme court continued its session yesterday morning, convening at 10 o'clock in the chambers of the Capitol building, Santa Fe. The following were present: Chief Justice William J. Mills, Associate Justice John R. McFie, Associate Justice Frank W. Parker, Associate Justice William H. Pope, Associate Justice Edward A. Mann, Associate Justice Ira A. Abbott, Jose D. Sena, clerk of the court, was at his post.

The territory of New Mexico was represented by Attorney General Geo. W. Prichard, United States Marshal C. M. Foraker was represented by his deputy, John Wiley.

The following business was transacted:

Case No. 1996, entitled, The Territory of New Mexico, appellant, vs. Ignacio Gutierrez, appellee; submitted on briefs. Clancy and Prichard were attorneys for appellant and Chavez and Burkhart attorneys for appellee.

Case No. 957 to 965, entitled, The Atlas Assurance company, et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. the Santa Fe Mercantile company, defendants in error. Motion to substitute defendants in error by T. B. Catron and A. B. Renahan, assignees. Granted.

Court then adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

"When I married you, I supposed you were a brave man."

"Humph, that's what everybody thought."

President Harper.

Yesterday afternoon, through its telegraph service, The Citizen announced to the people of Albuquerque the death of President Harper of the Chicago University. This sad but expected event has cast gloom over hundreds of people in every part of our broad country, for one of America's greatest and noblest men has ceased to labor and to live. The following monograph was kindly prepared for The Citizen by Mr. Kelly, a student of the Chicago University, who is now filling the pulpit of the Baptist church of this city, during the absence of the pastor.

William Ramey Harper, the great educator, is dead. It is safe to say that no other man in the educational world ever accomplished so much in so short a time as he. The wealth of Rockefeller has been the financial backing needed, but the University of Chicago stands today before the world as the creation of the master mind of the one who today lies silent in death.

President Harper's life has been a triumph of youth and youthful energy. At nineteen years of age he was graduated from Yale university with the degree of doctor of philosophy. At the age of twenty-two he was offered choice between the chairs of Greek and Hebrew in the same institution. Before his twenty-fifth year he was considered throughout America as one of its greatest linguists. At the time of his death he was held as the greatest Hebrew scholar living.

In 1890 the University of Chicago was yet unborn. In 1891, through the generosity of John D. Rockefeller, the Baptist Seminary at Morgan Park, Illinois, was given an assured financial future, and it was moved to the South Side of Chicago. It became the nucleus around which the great university was built. Professor Harper of Yale, became the president at the age of thirty-five. He was the youngest university president in America, and held that honor until the time of his death.

In sixteen years' time an educational institution has come into existence. It has today professional schools unexcelled in America, if not in the world. It has a faculty in which are numbered men known the world over as authorities in their particular lines of study. It has a student body numbering 4,000. Upon the main campus of the institution there stand twenty massive and ornate buildings in gray stone, models in architecture and equipment. Aside from these, there are the buildings of Rush Medical, the Yerkes observatory at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, the buildings of the preparatory schools which need not be mentioned here. All this is but testimony to the indomitable energy and able judgment of the great man whom the educational world mourns today.

President Harper was beloved by all who knew him. None will mourn him more than those whose privilege it was to be taught by him. No one who ever came under his teaching will fail to be a better man or woman because of this privilege. His influence, making toward righteousness and making toward a high regard for truth and nothing but the truth, was immeasurable; and he will still live, for in a very important sense, no truly great man ever dies. President Harper surely was a great man.

For Health Seekers.

The Citizen has received a copy of the Journal of the Outdoor Life, published at the Adirondack Cottage Sanitarium, Trudeau, N. Y. Its purpose is to aid in the educational crusade against consumption. It seems wisely connected to that end and well calculated to be helpful to all persons leading an outdoor life for their health; and especially to those who suffer from lung trouble or are threatened with it. It advocates fresh air, nourishing food and carefully regulated outdoor exercise.

Among its contributors are, Drs. Vincent Y. Bowditch, visiting physician to the Massachusetts state sanitarium; Charles L. Minor, director in the National association for the study and prevention of tuberculosis; Robert H. Babcock, professor of diseases of the heart and lungs, Northwestern university, Chicago; S. G. Bonney, of Denver, Colorado; F. M. Pottenger, of Los Angeles, California; Hugh M. Klinghorn, of Saranac Lake, N. Y.; and Norman Bridge, of Los Angeles, California. Besides the articles on the prevention and cure of consumption, the Journal of the Outdoor Life will publish many articles of interest to persons who are not threatened with illness, but who take a deep interest in open air pastimes. The subscription price is $1.00 a year.

It has come everywhere to be recognized that while high and arid localities furnish the very best climatic conditions for the cure of incipient consumption, yet in the clearly developed cases even climate will not prove efficacious unless supplemented by fresh air, sunshine, nourishing food and properly regulated outdoor exercise.

The Citizen is confident that the Journal of the Outdoor Life will prove of great value to every health seeker in New Mexico.

Is There No Remedy?

The wealth of the Rockefeller family, made in the lifetime of a single man who is not yet past the prime, is placed at $1,000,000,000. At the same time that this man is heaping up other millions and piling up his daily interest, which is of the value of 1,000 pounds of gold—at the very time this is going on there are in this same country, 1,000,000 children strutting their lives, debasing their moral natures and earning calamity for the country, by the long hours of their labor in factories, sweat shops and mines. At the same time also there are in this land of plentiful production, 10,000,000 people on the border line of want, who live only from day to day, from hand to mouth, the labor of one day providing food—scanty food—for the day that follows. Yet upon every one of these millions, Rockefeller daily levies his tax and takes his greedy part from their pitiful supplies. But worse than all, because showing how low has sunk our boasted supremacy of the people and the majesty of the law, when efforts are to be made to show the notorious methods by which these talented gains have been gathered, Rockefeller attempts to block the very courts by toiling in Virginia while his lackey, Rogers, contemptuously tells the representative of a sovereign state that he doesn't think it worth while to answer his questions.

Will Save Nine.

From all accounts, the watersheds in southern Colorado and northern New Mexico, whence the Rio Grande derives its supplies of flowing water, are covered by vast fields of snow, both deeper and more widely extended than even last year. This ensures an immense flow of water for the coming season; and shall the melting be gradual and well distributed during the proper months, the supply will be ample for greatly extended irrigation throughout the Rio Grande valley.

There is strong probability, however, that as was the case last year so will it be again in the approaching season. Warm rains, warm winds, a warm spell of weather unusually early and with high temperature, will result in excessively high water.

For this probability, which is almost a certainty, Albuquerque should be prepared. The Citizen understands that the dikes above town have been considerably damaged during the winter and need repairing before being subjected to the strain upon them which high water will impose. This repair work should not be put off till the flood has actually come upon us. It can be done much more thoroughly and economically if undertaken beforehand, while labor is cheap and time abundant, than it can possibly be done later when the enemy is thundering at the door. In this case emphatically, a stitch in time will save nine.

Oh! an Oh! an Oh!
or May's Visit West
By Alfred Damon Runyan.

My cousin May, from way back east, came out to visit me. And she is just a tenderfoot an' green as she can be. She hadn't never seen a ranch, an' thought it awful fun to see th' cowboys chase the steers an' whoop 'em on the run. I guess back east there ain't no folks 'cept 'em 'at's awful slow.

For everything 'at May could say was "Oh!" an' "Oh!" an' "Oh!"

Jes all 'at she could ever say was "Oh!"

In such a funny sort o' way—"At 'Oh!"

Her eyes 'ud open wide an' gray. She seemed to think it all was play—An' all 'at she could ever say was "Oh!" an' "Oh!" an' "Oh!"

I showed her where our Buckskin Sam killed Pater Pater one day. (She said back east folks doesn't do them things in thataway).

An' when I pointed out the limb upon the very tree They hung Jose, the cattle-thief, she only looked at me. An' said like this—her voice way down an' speakin' mighty slow,

An' drawin' in her bief way deep—"at 'Oh!" an' "Oh!" an' "Oh!"

She say 'at, everything she see—Jes "Oh!"

An' look an' look an' look at me "Oh!"

I show her anything an' she "Oh!"

Ud look at me so serious, "Oh!" an' as solemn as could be, "Oh!" an' "Oh!" an' "Oh!"

I showed her to six rattlesnakes what come from off a snake My pa killed it a buggy whip down by the Bar Z lake. I let my pony pitch for her, an' caught her prairie-dogs. An' showed her to th' centerpedes which live in holler logs.

But she is such a funny girl—at all the things I showed, She only opened up her eyes an' "Oh!" an' "Oh!" an' "Oh!"

She never'd even say "O my!"

Jes "Oh!"

She never'd ask th' reason why—Jes "Oh!"

She never scared an' wouldn't cry. She didn't think I tole a lie. She'd see all things an' pass 'em by "Oh!" an' "Oh!" an' "Oh!"

Our Millionaires
and Their Wealth
From Success, for January.

The great fortunes that have sprung up so amazingly in this country during recent decades, today, in the opinion of many serious thinkers, constitute a menace to our national well-being, says Cleveland Moffett, in writing of "The Shameful Misuse of Wealth," in Success Magazine. Without these great fortunes there would be no reign of luxury in America, no flaunting of feasts and follies, no riot of extravagance; with them we may expect all the evils that have in previous civilizations attended upon enormous riches. And many of these evils, as we have already seen, are actually with us.

It is admitted that we are the richest people in the world today—the richest people the world has ever seen. The vaunted wealth of Croesus is estimated at only $5,000,000, but there are seventy American estates that average $35,000,000 each. As showing the rapid growth of individual fortunes in this country there is interest in a list of rich men—printed in 1855 according to which New York city at that time boasted only twenty-eight millionaires. And a pamphlet some years earlier says that in 1845 Philadelphia could show only ten estates valued at a million or more, the richest being that of Stephen Girard, which reached $7,000,000. In contrast to which in 1892 there were over two hundred millionaires in Philadelphia.

As to New York city, the number of its millionaires, according to best information, is over two thousand, while the number of millionaires in the United States is at least five thousand or half the total number in the world. There is one family alone, at the head of which stands the richest and most powerful man in the world, John D. Rockefeller, and the wealth of this family is estimated at $1,000,000,000, a sum so huge that if at the birth of Christ, Mr. Rockefeller had begun making a dollar a minute and had let all these dollars accumulate day and night for all these centuries, he would not yet, in 1906, have amassed a thousand million dollars. And if Mr. Rockefeller should today turn this wealth into gold coin and take it out of the country, say into Canada, he would carry across the border three times as much gold as would then remain in the United States. Nor would he carry it himself, for the weight of it would be one thousand seven hundred and fifty tons. And if he loaded it on the backs of porters, each man bearing his own weight in solid gold (say 150 pounds), it would require twenty-three thousand men to move it. And if they walked ten feet apart the line of them would reach forty-four miles and would occupy fifteen hours in passing a given point. None of which takes any account of the daily interest on this fortune, which interest, if paid in gold, would require the strength of seven men to carry it, for it would weigh a thousand pounds. Such are the riches of a single family!

Phonocards Popular
Among the French

Consul General Guenther, of Frankfurt, Germany, reports that the so-called phonocard is finding much favor in France, and furnishes the following description of the novelty, which is taken from newspapers:

For producing the phonographic postal card an apparatus is used which records the human voice upon a piece of pasteboard of the form of the card. According to one report the phonocard possesses numerous advantages. The recording of the voice is done by an ordinary photograph of simple construction, by means of a pencil with a sapphire point. This pencil makes an impression upon a suitable substance called "sonorine," spread upon the surface of the card. The "sonorine," which can be easily spread over pasteboard, possesses all the properties of a wax cylinder, and is in reality the invention. The signs are impressed in the form of a spiral, beginning at the margin of the card and ending in a very small circle, and are impressed so deeply that the stamping by postal authorities can only destroy two or three words. The card has room for seventy-five to eighty words.

And He Would Use It.

WARM MEETING
OF CITY COUNCIL.Heated Discussion Caused by Wilkerson's Motion and Other Amendments.

GILLENWATER AND HARRISON MIX

A special meeting of the common council was held last evening, at which it was decided to submit to a vote of the residents of Albuquerque, the proposition to issue bonds for the purchase of the plant of the Water Supply company.

The committee appointed to investigate the advisability of making the purchase, made the following report: "We, your committee, beg leave to make the following report. In our opinion we think that the plant can be purchased for $300,000. The city water company don't set a price on their plant, but from the expressions of their views, we are satisfied that the plant can be bought for $200,000."

THOMAS N. WILKERSON.
THOMAS ISHERWOOD.
"LOUIS FELT."

This was received and ordered filed, following which an interesting symposium on the subject took place among the aldermen.

Alderman Gillenwater said he was a member of the water company, which organization had asked for an extension of the franchise some months ago, but that the municipal ownership proposition had been taken up by the city and an expert was appointed to inspect the local water plant to find out what its condition was, for which the water company had stood half the cost, the same to state $625. Mr. Gillenwater said that if the council did not want to buy the local water plant it would be agreeable to the company if the franchise would receive consideration.

Alderman Wilkerson then made a motion to the effect that "the city council submit to the people of the city the issuance of bonds for the purchase of the Water Supply company's plant," stating in his motion that he would make a second motion later naming the amount. He was asked by several members to state the amount in his original motion, but this he refused to do.

Alderman Ifield then amended the motion to the effect that "we invite bids for the building of a water plant for the city of 5,000,000 gallons capacity."

This amendment was lost, Ifield and Harrison voting "Yes," and Isherwood, Wilkerson, Gillenwater and Walker voting "No."

Alderman Harrison then offered an amendment to the effect that there be added to Wilkerson's motion the words, "or to build a new plant."

This amendment was also lost, Ifield and Harrison voting "Yes," and the rest "No," except Gillenwater, who did not vote.

Just prior to this Mr. Gillenwater undertook to catch Mr. Ifield as a "business man," questioning his motives, to which Ifield replied that he was not in the city council as a business man but to do his sworn duty in representing the people of Albuquerque to the best of his ability and for their best interests.

Gillenwater also stated that he thought the amendments of Ifield and Harrison would be unjust to the Water Supply company, to which Mr. Harrison retorted:

"Do you think, Mr. Gillenwater, that you, as a representative of and a stockholder in the Water Supply company, are a fit representative of the people in this matter. Do you think you have a right to discuss or vote on this measure?"

Mr. Gillenwater took the hint and thereafter did not take part in the discussion nor did he vote on any of the other measures.

The Wilkerson motion was then put, carrying unanimously, with the exception of Gillenwater, who did not vote.

During the discussion that followed just prior to adjournment, Alderman Harrison and Gillenwater had quite a heated dispute, but matters were quieted down by a motion to adjourn, which was carried.

It seems to be the consensus of opinion that a special election for the purpose of voting on the question would be a useless expense to the citizens of the city, inasmuch as it would cost but little more to build a new plant than it would to buy the old one at a fancy price.

TWO FINE PERFORMANCES
SCHEDULED FOR JAN. 12 AND 13

"SHADOWS ON THE HEARTH" TOMORROW NIGHT, AND "AT THE OLD CROSS ROADS" SATURDAY NIGHT.

Theater-goers of Albuquerque should consider themselves fortunate in having such a careful man as Manager Matson. Again he has shown his efforts to please by securing Arthur C. Alston's excellent organization, appearing in two of New York's remarkable successes, "At the Old Cross Roads," a charming story of the south, and "Shadows on the Hearth," a heart story of life in the neighborhood of Jamestown, N. J., which is located on the famous Delaware river. Both plays have been seen in the larger eastern cities for months at a time, and a few plays have been produced that are as popular.

"At the Old Cross Roads" will be presented Saturday night, and "Shadows on the Hearth" will be seen Friday night, January 12.

The original company, which includes some twenty artists will be seen in their noted characters, headed by Ethel Williams and James M. Brophy, the well known leading people. Special scenery is carried for each production.

The car began sinking in the sand and continued until only the headlights was visible. FAIR HANDS SORT THE MAIL; FAIR WOMEN ACT AS POSTMEN

FAMOUS RUSSIAN WOMEN VOLUNTEER TO ASSIST THE GOVERNMENT DURING STRIKE IN ST. PETERSBURG.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—The strike in St. Petersburg has played havoc with the postal arrangements, and has afforded an opportunity to a number of famous women to demonstrate their patriotism.

When it became impossible for the government to deliver the mail, volunteers were called for, and among those who responded were several women of title and a number of popular actresses.

Of course they do not tramp from house to house like the "regulars" in the service. The St. Petersburg woman postman of today drives to the door of the lucky recipient of correspondence in her carriage or automobile, and often a page or footman carries the parcels into the houses.

At the post office, many fair hands, manicured and bejeweled, are engaged in sorting mail. The air of the office, once stale with tobacco, is now fragrant with soft, sweet, soothing odors, and it is whispered in quarters where jealousy dwells, that there is more tea drinking than work performed.

Among the "postmen" are: Mile. Postkorska, the famous opera singer; the Princess Oroskoff, the Countess Mordvinoff, and Mile. Labunskaya, Papayan and Polakova, three popular actresses.

IMPORTANT FOR SOUTHERN PLANTERS

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 11.—The experiment of Colonel Maxwell, the largest individual cotton planter in Louisiana, with importing Italian families on his plantations for the purpose of obtaining laborers in his cotton fields, proved so successful that it is probable that an effort will be made not only in Louisiana, but also in Tennessee and other southern states, to import Italian laborers to supplant the negroes working in the cotton fields. Colonel Maxwell imported 21 Italian families last summer and they proved of the greatest value. He was so well pleased with his experiment that he has decided to fill every cabin on his plantations with Italians as rapidly as possible. He firmly believes that the importation of Italian laborers and their families would definitely and satisfactorily settle the cotton labor problem. The movement is rapidly spreading in other cotton states, and an effort will be made to bring a large number of Italians to the cotton belt.

James J. Corbett scored a genuine triumph in the initial performance of Bernard Shaw's play, "Cashel Byron's Profession." Corbett has tried to win historic laurels on his merit as an actor, and it would seem that he had succeeded.

TUCUMCARI TO HAVE WATER WORKS SYSTEM.

The county commissioners of Quay county, in a session held at Tucumcari, granted to S. C. Pandolfo a franchise to build a water works system, the franchise to run fifty years. Mr. Pandolfo announces that work will begin very soon on a fine, up-to-date plant.

Tucumcari people are jubilant, as a lack of an adequate and convenient water supply is one of the greatest drawbacks to that lively little town.

MUST BUY, BEG OR STEAL FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

H. C. Rhodes and G. F. Lewis, who are on their way from Cleveland, O., to Honolulu, traveling on motorcycles, were in Phoenix for a few hours and left for Yuma, from whence they proceeded to Los Angeles and San Francisco. They have garnered $2,500 with Robert Dorgan, of Lincoln, that they will be in Honolulu by February 28, with $500 in cash which they have earned, begged or stolen en route. Already they have $300 of the amount and are two weeks ahead of their schedule. When they arrive at San Francisco they will take a steamer for Honolulu.

SHOOTING AFFAIR REPORTED FROM LAS VEGAS.

David B. Davis was shot at 4 o'clock yesterday morning by Marshal Ben Cole, for resisting arrest. Davis came to Las Vegas several days ago, claiming to be a reporter for the New York World. He was drunk Monday night and tried to steal the money from the roulette wheel in the Antlers. When put under arrest he tried to draw a knife. Marshal Cole drew his gun and when Davis started to run the marshal called halt twice and then shot. The bullet entered the back and glanced on the hip bone. Davis lies at the Ladies' home in Las Vegas, very seriously and probably fatally wounded.

NEW MEXICO PIONEERS

ELECT OFFICERS IN ANNUAL MEETING—NO DEATHS REPORTED DURING PAST YEAR.

The annual meeting of the Society of New Mexico pioneers was held Monday afternoon at the office of the secretary, Hon. L. Bradford Prince, in Santa Fe. Hon. Amado Chavez, the governor of the society, presided and made the annual address.

The secretary reported that for the first time in a number of years, not a single death had occurred among the members of the society during the year. Various matters connected with the welfare of the organization were considered and appropriately acted on. The subject of the historical monument to be erected in the Plaza at Santa Fe was brought up and measures taken to have the matter vigorously pressed during the present year.

The unfortunate condition of the "Garcia" which is fast going to destruction owing to lack of care, was considered, and it was reported that the historical society made an attempt to purchase the building in order to preserve it, but has been unsuccessful. The hope was expressed that the owner of the property, Mr. Casper Ortiz, would either have this interesting relic of the Spanish government protected or consent to allow the city of Santa Fe or some particular society to keep it in repair.

The annual election resulted as follows: Governor, Amado Chavez; captain general, J. Amado Lucero; alcalde mayor, Hilario L. Ortiz; secretary, L. B. Prince; councilor, Felix Martinez; vice president, Santa Fe county, A. Staab.

INAUGURAL PLANS PROGRESSING NICELY

ARRANGEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE FOR SUPPER—FAMILY OF NEW GOVERNOR WILL BE AT SANTA FE.

J. W. Reynolds, chairman, presided Tuesday evening at the meeting of the inaugural executive committee at the office of A. R. Ronehan, Santa Fe. The only business transacted was the awarding of the contract for the refreshments at the inaugural ball to William Vaughn, proprietor of the Palace hotel, who will serve a buffet lunch from 10:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. in a room adjoining the dance floor.

The menu decided on is a tempting one, and with the acknowledged skill of Mr. Vaughn as a caterer, there is not doubt but that the luncheon will be an especially fine one. Provision will be made to serve 400 people, as the sale and inquiry from tickets, especially from outside towns, indicates that every one of the 200 tickets will be sold by Saturday evening of this week or early next week.

A PHOENIX MAN'S JAG GOT HIM IN TROUBLE.

W. M. Wise, a mining man, is temporarily in the county jail and will remain there until some arrangements are made about a wreck for which Wise is responsible. He was driving a heavy wagon along Adams street yesterday, says the Phoenix Republican. He had another wagon trailing behind it. He drove too close to the sidewalk, and took a couple of wheels of a wagon belonging to Pedro de Lama. A son of de Lama's who was sitting in the wagon, was thrown out and slightly injured. The accident is said to have been due to the intoxication of Wise, and that is where the criminal law gets hold of him. He was overtaken at Five Points by de Lama and declined to become interested in de Lama's troubles. A telephone message was sent to the office of the sheriff and Deputy Davis went out to see what was the matter and after a time induced Wise to come back. He agreed to pay for the repairs, and went away with de Lama to get the money. He changed his mind on the way and finally decided that he would rather go to jail.

SANTIAGO MONTOYA IS TAKEN BACK TO CLAYTON.

Sheriff Garcia, of Clayton, N. M., arrived here Sunday after Santiago Montoya, who broke jail at that place with Pedro Baldanero, and who was captured here Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Frank Trujillo. Montoya is awaiting trial on a charge of horse stealing. Baldanero was arrested here some time ago on a description sent out from Clayton, but as the officers there failed to reply to Sheriff Davis' messages, he was released. Later he was again taken into custody by John Brophy, a member of the New Mexico mounted police and placed in jail at Clayton, escaping in a few days. He is still at large.

PHILADELPHIAN TO AVENGE HIS SON'S KILLING

FATHER OF BOB RUTHERFORD MAY CALL ON THE UNITED STATES AUTHORITIES TO INVESTIGATE.

The murder of Robert Rutherford, Jr., near Diaz, Mexico, promises to develop into an international affair, according to the Philadelphia Record. Says the Record:

Should the Mexican officials fail to locate the perpetrator of the crime, the United States authorities will be asked to take a hand. W. W. Rutherford, Sr., of No. 4411 Pine street, father of the young man, is not willing at this time to say what his next move will be, but he does not deny that no money or influence will be spared in the effort to find and punish his son's slayer. It is also likely that Consul Mills will be asked to explain his neglect in the matter.

The latest dispatch in the case comes from Patrick Garrett, sheriff and ex-customs collector at El Paso, Texas, and in it he predicts the early release of Finstad, the wealthy Norwegian ranchman, and "Shorty" Coughen, both of whom he declares are innocent. Garrett also says: "I am convinced that the story told by the Mexican officers that they found a hatchet is a fake."

It is this doubt of the finding of the hatchet that gives the dispatch a peculiar color, for the physician who examined the body stated that not only had death been caused by a hatchet blow, but that Rutherford was shot after death, with the evident idea of giving color to the bandit story.

"The hatchet was found in the room where the bodies of McMurray and my brother were found murdered," said Miss Anna Rutherford, the sister, who with Mrs. Rutherford, the murdered man's wife, was living on the Rutherford ranch when the murder occurred.

"It was that weapon, the corner said, that killed my brother. I do not believe the bandit story. If there were any bandits in or about Diaz or anywhere within miles of it none of our party ever heard of them."

"During the time I lived on the ranch, in my many rides into the mountainous district, or in my walks along the river, or in the by-roads, I knew no feeling of fear, for the Mexicans all around us were both respectful and courteous."

"The thing that appeals to my mind in the bandit story," said W. W. Rutherford, "is the fact that not a penny of money or a piece of jewelry was taken."

IMMIGRANTS LANDED AT NEW YORK POST.

New York, Jan. 11.—The official figures given out today by the bureau of statistics on Ellis Island show that the immigration during the year 1905 was enormous. It was far greater than in 1903, which had been the banner year, and also much greater than in 1904. The grand total is nearly up to the million mark. There was a slight increase in all classes, and despite the fact that the immigration figures were larger than ever before in the history of the port, the number of persons traveling in the cabins of the liners reached enormous proportions.

Of the total of 932,065 persons who arrived by the various lines from foreign ports, the largest number was carried on the ships of the North German Lloyd lines, from Bremen and Mediterranean ports. In 125 voyagers 177,916 passengers were landed in this port by the steamships of this line, and of these 15,774 were first cabin voyagers. Next in order came the Hamburg-American line, then the Cunard line. Of the total of 759,012 steerage passengers brought here, about 718,000 were immigrants.

ALBUQUERQUE PROPERTY TAKES BIG LEAP

GRAHAM BROTHERS PURCHASE RIORDAN'S PROPERTY, AT AN ADVANCE OF $2,500.

A few days ago, The Evening Citizen announced that Hon. T. A. Riordan, a prominent citizen of Flagstaff, Arizona, had purchased the three lots at the northwest corner of Railroad avenue and Fourth street, with property thereon, through the P. F. McCanna agency; consideration, $15,000. This purchase was made last Friday afternoon, and today this paper makes the announcement that the same property has changed hands, the new purchasers being Warren and Ike Graham, and it is understood they gave an advance of $2,500, making the total purchase aggregate $17,500.

This is pretty good for Albuquerque, showing a $2,500 faith in the future of the city in less than a week, and in conjunction with this paragraph, there are other big real estate deals pending which will no doubt materialize in a very short time.

Warren Graham was seen this afternoon and he stated that it is the intention of himself and brother, in a very short time, to remove the three erect thereon a two-story, possibly three-story, substantial brick business building, with three store rooms facing Railroad avenue, and one on the Fourth street side at the alley.

INDIAN GETS MARRIAGE LICENSE

FIRST TIME IN MEMORY OF CLERK SUMMERS THAT REDSKINS OBSERVE FORMALITY—ARE OF WEALTHY PARENTAGE.

This morning there entered probate court a party of five Pueblo Indians from Isleta, composed of Maria Guadalupe, a pretty girl of 16 years, her father, San Juan Guadalupe, a stately Aborigine snugly bundled up in a pretty blanket; Andres Lucera, 20 years old, a plainly dressed young man and his father, Remedio Lucera, a rather queer looking Indian, together with an interpreter.

Miss Guadalupe and Andres Lucera sought a marriage license. "They have loved each other for some time, and now only wait for the solemn words of the priest at Isleta to make their bliss complete. In just two jerks of a pig's tail the necessary documents were completed at probate court as a result of which two hearts were so beating faster in two young breasts and the receipts of Bernalillo county were swelled by a big silver dollar handed over by the proud fathers. Incidentally, probate court was duly honored for these Indians were real notables of the Pueblo tribe, all being quite wealthy. The prospective bride's arms were gaudily adorned with gold and silver bracelets. Strings of rich beads hung from around her neck and nestled beneath a homespun blanket shawl of beautiful weave and design. The visit of the Indians to probate court is also notable from the fact that this is the first time in the memory of Clerk Summers and Deputy Clerk Mrs. Plummer that a license has been issued to Indians. As both were under age, the records contain the signatures of consent of the fathers of the contracting couple.

The wedding will take place next week at Isleta, and according to the Indian who acted as interpreter and was the fifth member of the party, will be a quiet affair.

Green Tag Sale of Suits and Overcoats

Two Vital Reasons Force Us to Make Unequalled Price Reductions.

Congested Stock and Change in Our Clothing Department.

THE ONLY REASON we can give for being over-stocked is the fact that we over-bought—for we have had an excellent trade. We still have as complete a stock of Suits, Overcoats and Trousers as many a store can show at the beginning of the season—good sizes and some lines almost unbroken—surely a good enough reason for desiring to get clear of these goods, even at the ridiculously low price we quote. The other reason we give is also a weighty one—we are going to make some sweeping changes in our Clothing Department next season. We are not ready just now to state exactly what we intend to do, but can say that it will be a rather agreeable surprise to the public and will result in increased satisfaction with the service this store will give to all those who appreciate good Clothing—Therefore

Every Winter Suit On Our Tables Must Be Sold Now

We do not propose to be hampered when the time comes to make these changes, and a dollar on a suit now is no more to us than a dime at any other time. So it's to be a wonderful sale of suits.
