WASHINGTON IS AGAIN HEARD

Andrews Offers More Bills For the Benefit of New Mexico.

WANTS LAND LAW CHANGED

Philippine Bill is Before the House and Will Be Passed.

NO INDEPENDENCE IS PROMISED

Special to The Evening Citizen.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—Delegated Andrews has offered a bill to amend sections 1 to 10, act of June 21, 1898, granting land to New Mexico, by making the act of February 28, 1891, applicable to New Mexico.

The Philippine tariff bill will pass the house.

Eugene Van Patten of Las Cruces, has been nominated for register of the United States land office for that district.

L. F. Parker, of Arizona, has been confirmed. The committee declares that the charges brought against him were an outrage.

PHILIPPINE TARIFF BILL BEFORE THE HOUSE.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The Philippine tariff bill was amended by taking rice from its place on the free list under the terms of the bill and providing a duty of 25 per cent of the Dingley rates on it—the same as on sugar and tobacco.

Freedom Voted Down.

Chairman Olmstead of the committee of the whole, ruled out of order the amendment by McCall declaring that it was the settled policy of the United States to grant the Philippines independence as soon as they are capable of self-government. McCall appealed from the decision. The vote on McCall's appeal resulted in the chair being sustained 198 to 123. Only three republicans voted to overturn the chairman, McCall, of Massachusetts, and Purdy of Michigan.

Taking up the Philippine bill for amendment, Payne secured the adoption of the committee amendment, when William Alden Smith took the floor. He offered an amendment making the duty on sugar 60 per cent of the Dingley rate instead of 25 per cent, as provided in the bill. This was defeated by a vote of 197 to 73.

DEATH TAKES AWAY MERCHANT PRINCE

New York, Jan. 16.—At 9 o'clock this morning Marshall Field's physicians issued the following bulletin: "Field's condition is worse than it was last evening. There appears to be a spreading of the disease. While the case is critical, it is not hopeless." At 3:10 it was announced that Field's friends had given up all hope. Marshall Field died at 4 o'clock.

Reverend Cleveland Died.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—Rev. W. N. Cleveland, brother of former President Grover Cleveland, died last night from the effects of paralysis, aged 73. Mr. Cleveland was a retired Presbyterian minister. Former President Cleveland has been notified of his death, and the funeral arrangements await word from the family. The funeral will be held in this city, where the interment will also take place.

MURDERED CHICAGO LADY HAS FRIEND HERE

MISS HOLMQUIST SANG IN SAME CHORUS WITH MRS. HOLLISTER IN WINDY CITY.

When Miss Adela C. Holmquist, deputy district clerk of Bernalillo county, read the report as published in The Evening Citizen of the murder of Mrs. Franklin C. Hollister of Chicago, she was shocked, indeed, for the lady who met so tragic a death, was an intimate friend of hers.

Mrs. Hollister, before her marriage sang in the same church choir with Miss Holmquist. She is described by Miss Holmquist as being a most amiable young woman, pretty, agreeable and one who could never incite such a horrible crime.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Hollister was passing a carpenter shop, in which was one Richard Ivin, when she was assaulted. He attempted to assault her, she resisted and he pulled her into the shop and strangled her to death by means of a wire which he placed about her neck. Ivin confessed to the crime.

ALL MEMBERS OF COMMERCIAL CLUB REQUESTED TO ATTEND

All members of the Commercial club and those interested, are requested to be in attendance at the special meeting tonight, at which time the statehood question and other important subjects will be discussed.

Besides the statehood matter, the entertaining of the delegation of the Chicago Commercial association, which will arrive tonight at 10:45 o'clock, will be taken up and discussed. As all subjects to be discussed at this meeting are of vital importance to all citizens and members of the Commercial club, it is hoped that all members will be present that the views of the entire organization may be secured upon the statehood and other questions. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock p. m.

WILL THE ELECTRIC CHAIR YET BLOT OUT LAWYER PATRICK?

After a Wonderful Fight For Life Lasting Five Years, Doom of Slayer of Millionaire Rice Seems to be Approaching—Man Who Did the Killing is Free.

New York, Jan. 16.—After a remarkable and desperate legal battle, in which he directed the course of his high priced attorneys and drew many of the court documents in his cell, Albert T. Patrick, the accomplished lawyer, who plotted the murder of

MORMON PROFESSOR CREATES GREAT STIR

Resigns His Position and Withdraws From the Church.

RESULT OF MEXICO VISIT

Says Plural Marriages Are Prevalent in Mexico and Arizona.

Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 16.—Wm. M. Wolfe, a professor of theology in the Brigham Young college, a Mormon institution at Logan, Utah, has created a stir in Mormon circles, according to a dispatch which the Tribune prints today. He not only renounces his belief in the Mormon faith, but refuses to pay tithes and has severed his relations with the college.

According to Prof. Wolfe, as the Tribune quotes him, his change of faith was due to a trip to Mexico, which satisfied him, he said, that the Mormon church had receded from the Woodruff manifesto, and had recanted its polygamous marriages. He found many young women who had recently entered into the plural marriage relation with leading elders of the Mormon church. Wolfe is quoted as saying:

"The Mormon settlements in Mexico are closely in touch with those of Arizona, and in each case polygamy is practiced as freely today as it ever has been."

He is further quoted as saying that he sought an explanation of these conditions from Apostle John Henry Smith, asking how these polygamous marriages could be reconciled with the Woodruff manifesto, and he is reported as quoting Smith as follows: "Why, Brother Wolfe, do you not understand that the manifesto was only a trick devised to beat the devil at his own game?"

Wolfe is a native of New York, son of a Presbyterian clergyman. After engaging in newspaper work he came to Utah ten years ago and became a convert to the Mormon church.

MIDSHIPMAN MERRIWETHER RESIGNS FROM ACADEMY.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 16.—Midshipman Minor Merriwether, Jr., has sent in his resignation from the naval academy. It is said that it is not likely to be accepted as there are now charges pending against him, and for the further reason that he is under sentence of confinement to the academy grounds for one year on account of his connection with the fight in which Midshipman James R. Branch received fatal injuries.

tion to the United States supreme court, Patrick suddenly lost the steel nerve that has characterized him since his arrest more than five years ago. His great frame shook with emotion. Where heretofore, he has spent his time in reading testimony and law in his wild, incessant search for technicalities upon which to base a new action, he now paced the death cell and faced his distress.

Should Patrick finally be executed the state will end a life that might have been illustrious. Patrick covered the vast fortune old man Rice had accumulated. On September 23, 1900, Rice's death was announced by his valet, Charles F. Jones. He had been ill and there was no suspicion of foul circumstances, until the business friends of the old man observed the unusual hurry of Rice's lawyer to have the body cremated.

Port of Monte Cristi Surrenders and End Dominican Revolution.

BLOODY HUNGARIAN FIGHT

The Russian Government Captures Workmen's Council and Many Documents.

San Domingo, Jan. 16.—The port of Monte Cristi, on the north coast, which recently was in the hands of revolutionists, capitulated to the government forces today, the latter, guaranteeing to protect the lives and property of the rebels. The revolution is now ended and all is quiet.

PEASANT-GENDARME FIGHT OVER ELECTION.

Budapest, Jan. 16.—A sanguinary fight between peasants and gendarmes took place today in connection with the election of a judge at the village of Bilke, in Bacska district. Six peasants and two gendarmes were killed and a number of each were wounded.

GOVERNMENT MAKES GOD BIG HAUL.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—All the members of the workmen's council, numbering twenty-two persons, were arrested during the night. The police seized many revolutionary documents and a mass of correspondence. The government officials consider that the future action of the revolutionists will be hampered by the capture of members of the council and of the revolutionary documents.

MATTERS OF INTEREST IN FINANCIAL WORLD.

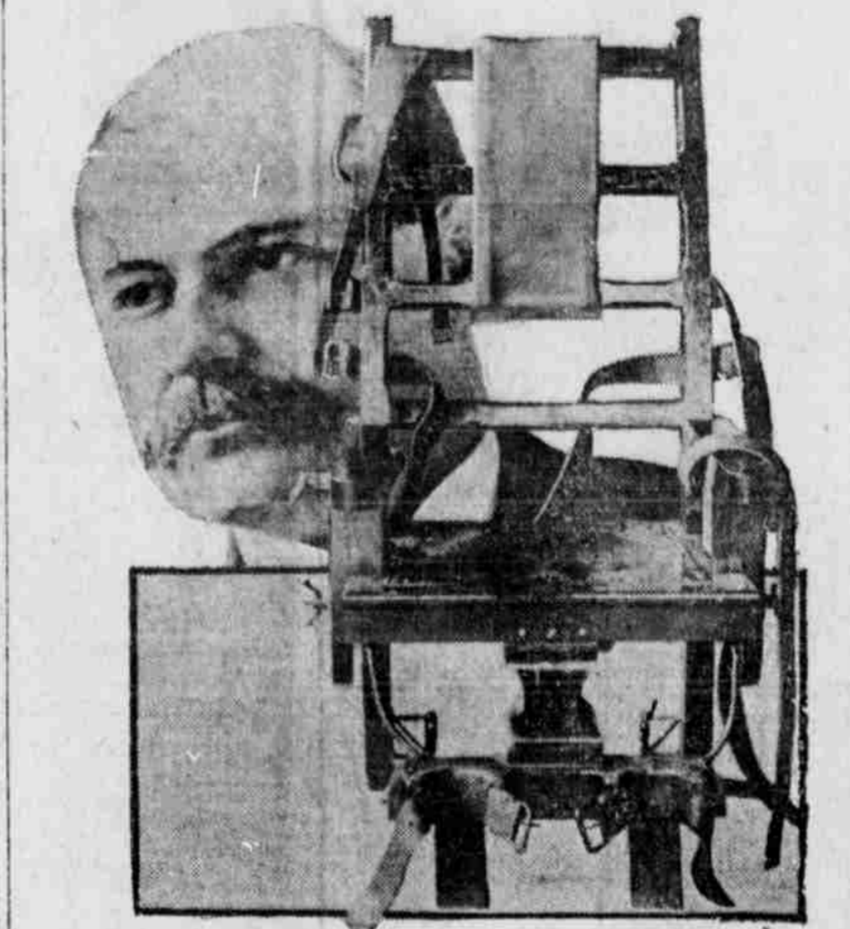

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 16.—The office of Wm. T. Dever & Co., stock brokers, were closed today. No statement of the cause of suspension is obtainable, as Edward Brady, manager and principal owner, is out of town. The firm did not hold membership in any stock exchange, but handled a large stock business on margins in eighty offices in New York state and Canada.

Prior's Indebtedness Great.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 16.—According to an official statement issued today by the bankers committee investigating the affairs of J. P. Morgan, Prior & Co., who failed several days ago, the liabilities of the firm (including forged bonds put out by L. W. Prior, will aggregate $2,000,000.

conducted at the Rice home on Madison avenue when the police appeared and seized the body. Examination proved that the old man died from chloroform suffocation and that he had been given slow poison. Patrick and Jones were arrested, Jones was convicted and then gained his liberty as a reward for a confession that he was Patrick's tool in a plot to induce Rice to will his millions to Patrick, and then murder him.

The valet dramatically told the story of how, when slow poison did not work quickly enough, Patrick forced him to fill a sponge with chloroform, place this in a coneshaped towel, and hold it over the face of the old millionaire as he slept.

Patrick hitherto had borne an excellent reputation. He was a church worker and a member of the Y. M. C. A. After his conviction he married the mistress of the boarding house in which he had formerly lived. This, as he said, proved how sure he was of being exonerated. In his fight for life, every measure known to the criminal law, which applied to his case, was resorted to. Barring the remote possibility of his case being acted favorably upon by the United States supreme court, he will die, while Jones, the actual murderer, though weak tool of Patrick, enjoys his liberty. The execution is set for 8 a. m., January 22.

Patrick is a rather handsome man, large of stature, and shows few physical marks of the criminal.

CAISSON COLLAPSED WITH FATAL EFFECTS

Twenty Feet Below the River Level Death Sought His Victims.

TWO HEROES SAVE SEVERAL

And Themselves Narrowly Escape the Rush of Death Dealing Waters.

New York, Jan. 16.—Two negro tunnel workers were killed by suffocation or caisson disease, two were drowned, two others were seriously overcome and the white foreman and his assistant suffered severely in rescuing those who survived, when the compression air pipe burst in the East river tunnel under Man-o-War reef, opposite Forty-second street, early today.

The bodies of the two drowned men are still at the bottom of the shaft, twenty feet below the river level. The other two dead were hoisted to the surface by the foreman and his assistant, who also rescued those whose lives were saved.

The foreman and his assistant left the bottom of the shaft and were hoisted to the surface just in time to escape drowning.

COL. GREER RETURNS FROM VISIT TO GRANT COUNTY

SAYS CATTLE OUTLOOK IS BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE IN HISTORY OF BUSINESS—PLENTY OF WATER—EVERYBODY HAPPY.

Col. W. H. Greer, president of the Albuquerque Traction company, who has been in Grant county, on a visit to the cattle ranch of the Victoria Land and Cattle company, in company with his wife, has returned to the city.

"Never has there been so much rain and snow fall in that part of the country," said Mr. Greer today to a representative of The Evening Citizen, "in the history of the cattle business. The cattle have not suffered any, and the last five days of warm weather has started the weeds growing. Every indication points to one of the best years the territory has ever had. People in all localities in Grant county have had a prosperous year, and all are happy."

Mr. and Mrs. Greer were guests at the Apache Tejo headquarters ranch. Mrs. Greer did not return with her husband, but is still at the above ranch, where she will visit, with a party of friends, the remainder of the week.

CONFERENCE AT MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Imposing Appearance of the Body Which Elects Its President.

WHITE IS MUCH PLEASED

Points Conference Will Discuss and How Difference May Arise.

INDEPENDENCE AND OPEN DOOR

Algeciras, Spain, Jan. 16.—The Moroccan conference has opened. The duke of Almodovar, the Spanish foreign minister, delivered the speech of welcome. It was noticed that the French and British delegates drove to the conference together. Great animation prevailed. The American delegation arrived at the hall following the Spanish, French, German and British delegations. Herr Von Radovitz, chief of the German mission, proposed the Duke of Almodovar as the president of the conference, and the other countries represented, including the United States, seconded the proposal.

The Duke of Almodovar was unanimously elected president, and the conference adjourned at 3:55 p. m. until tomorrow. Ambassador White was much satisfied with the result of the conference, as the Duke of Almodovar emphasized the necessity of the independence of Morocco and the open door policy, in which he was immediately and strongly seconded by the French and German delegates.

On the eve of the Moroccan conference it is well to define the essential issues to be presented, as they will clearly indicate the general scope of the meeting and of the danger of the issues involved. On September 28, last, M. Rouvier, for France, and Prince Radolin, for Germany, reached an agreement on the exact program of the conference. This program was quite short as it was part of Rouvier's skillful diplomacy to bring the conference within the closest possible limits. This is the program agreed upon:

The two governments are in accord in proposing to the sultan the following:

First.—Organization, by international accord, of the Moroccan police except along the Algerian frontier.

Second.—Surveillance and repression of contraband arms, except along the Algerian frontier.

Third.—Financial reforms, with the creation of a state bank having privilege of issuing currency.

Fourth.—Study of customs and new means of raising revenues.

The agreement contains some minor features, but the foregoing are the essential questions to be presented. France throughout the controversy and up to the opening of the conference has maintained that she has a special or privileged position in Morocco.

That is the vital question about to be considered, for questions of contraband and customs are largely matters of detail. If the special position of France is recognized, then the coming conference will turn over to France the organization of the police, the military and the surveillance of contraband. In short, all of the other questions involved hinge upon the main question as to whether special position of France is to be clearly recognized.

MOVEMENT FOR GOOD OHIO ROADS BEING PUSHED.

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—The annual State Good Roads Convention met here today in the Board of Trade building. The attendance is large and every section of the state is well represented. It is the largest convention of this kind ever held in this state. Efforts will be made by the convention to induce the legislature to appropriate money with which to build good roads in this state, after the pattern of the roads planned and constructed by the National Good Roads Association.

Will Probably Determine Peace or War in the Coal World.

TO CONSIDER CONDITIONS

In Anthracite Field and Difference Between Miners and Operators.

INCLINED TO BE CONSERVATIVE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16.—The question of war or peace in the coal fields will largely depend upon the result of the seventeenth annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which opened here this morning in Tomlinson Hall. The convention was called to order by President John Mitchell, who delivered an address, explaining the present situation and gave a clear statement of the decisions of the Anthracite Miners' Convention at Shamokin. The rest of the morning session was devoted to the appointment of committees and other routine business.

There is a strong feeling of determination to stand together among the delegates to the convention, based on a full realization of the present situation and of the probable precipitation of a serious crisis, in case it should be impossible to bring about an agreement between the miners and the operators.

All agreements as to wage scale, etc., between the miner and operators, in the bituminous and anthracite coal fields, expire on March 31st. While it cannot be said that the conditions in the bituminous fields are ideal, it must be admitted that they are by no means as serious as in the anthracite fields. The miners in the bituminous fields are not confronted with as serious problems as those in the anthracite fields, owing to the demands recently formulated by the anthracite miners at the Shamokin convention. The miners in the bituminous coal mines will undoubtedly make certain demands beyond the conditions granted by the operators under the present agreement, but it is believed that an agreement will be quickly reached without the anthracite miners.

It is different with the anthracite miners. All that can reasonably be hoped for is that the operators, after mature deliberation, will consent to submitting the matter to arbitration. The principal obstacle in the way of a settlement is the demand of the miners for recognition of their union. Many operators are known to be bitterly opposed to a recognition of the union, as it would practically destroy any opportunity of dealing with them individually. A compromise is scarcely to be expected, as the miners fully understand the vital importance of the demanded recognition, without which no permanent improvement of their condition can be expected.

The demands of the anthracite miners will be the first matter to be considered by the convention, and there is but little doubt that the convention will strongly endorse these demands. President Mitchell and his trusty lieutenants, District Presidents Fahy, Nicholls and Dettrey, who are conducting the campaign, are confident that the convention will back up the anthracite miners. At the same time they will do their utmost to hold down the radical element among the delegates and keep them from committing any indiscretions which would precipitate a war between the miners and operators without hope of a final adjustment of the existing differences.

CARNEGIE'S GIFT TO THE ENGINEERS' CLUB

New York, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, a few days ago, laid the foundation stone of the United Engineers' Club, for the erection of which Andrew Carnegie gave $1,500,000.

When finished it will be an imposing structure, 12 stories high, with a frontage of 100 feet; overlooking Bryant Park and New York Public Library.

The idea which led to its erection was to bring to gather the various engineering societies of the United States, where they would have a common ground for annual meetings and conventions, scientific lectures and demonstrations, and to provide quarters for the national Societies of Mechanical, Electrical and Mining Engineers, as well as for such associate societies as might require headquarters in New York. While each is to maintain its individual character, all are to unite to advance the engineering arts and sciences.

The location of the building is near the Grand Central Railroad station, in the heart of the hotel district and of everything characteristic of the varied life of the metropolis.

The building itself will contain a large auditorium, capable of seating 1,000 persons. Provision has been made for assembly rooms and lecture halls suitable for ordinary meetings and demonstrations. Space has also been provided for receptions and conversations.

It was seen that the club would become a storehouse of most valuable scientific records and materials, and that if these were to be adequately protected from fire it would be necessary to construct a building that, above all else, would not burn. The architects made an exhaustive investigation into the merits of terra cotta and concrete fire proofing, and finally fixed upon hollow tile construction as being the best. The building, accordingly, will be of standard hollow terra cotta construction, the floors of segmental arches, and the girders, columns and structural iron covered with porous terra cotta.

The crowning feature will be the free public library on the top floor. Here, therefore, owing to the headquarters of the various societies being situated, there had been a great deal of duplication in their libraries. Under the new arrangement all the libraries will be brought together. This centralization will give the Engineers' Club the finest and most complete library of its kind in the country.

NATURAL CHILD OF C.
R. LLOYD GETS $55,000

Will Contest by Daughter Born Out of Wedlock Recalls Sensational Scandals in Father's Life.

Oakland, Jan. 16.—The long-contested suit of Mrs. Elizabeth Lloyd Nix has been virtually decided in her favor by the judge requesting her attorneys to amend the complaint in conformity with the evidence. She sued for a child's share of the estate of Charles R. Lloyd, valued at $300,000, which Lloyd had bequeathed to his widow, nephew and his niece, cutting her off with only $5000. The contendant claimed to be a natural child of Lloyd, and that he frequently promised her that she should have an equal share of the estate. Judge Ellsworth held that the promise was morally and legally binding, and that the relationship had been proven.

MRS. ELIZABETH LLOYD NIX

This is the outgrowth of one of the most sensational scandals in the legal history of California. Lloyd owned a great deal of property in San Bernardino, where he also had a residence.
At his house were living his nephew and niece. The niece charged him with seducing her, and upon this statement the nephew shot and fatally wounded his uncle. The young woman qualified her charges which somewhat strengthened the prosecution, but afterwards renewed them.
Friends of Lloyd charged that the shooting grew out of an attempt to extort money from the aged capitalist, who refused to be blackmailed.
Finally, the nephew was admitted to sail. Lloyd was persuaded to take a trip to the Orient for his health.
He was accompanied by his wife,
and died in Japan, soon after arrival.
The accused nephew was acquitted, as there seemed to be no one willing to prosecute, and the scramble for the dead man's estate began.

GIVE HER A CHANCE.

Old Dame Nature Knows How.

"Old dame nature has a sure way of curing sick people by food. I kind she wants is supplied the body and the person don't interfere with drugs."

She prescribes such things as fresh air and sunshine, exercise and right food as her principal agencies.

Grape-Nuts is a wholesome food, prepared from wholesome grains with no drugs nor chemical ingredients or processes, and is shipped from the factory in such predigested fitness that the weakest stomach will readily assimilate it.

An Ohio woman who suffered for twelve years from nervous prostration, night sweats, imperfect circulation,
insomnia, etc., tells how Grape-Nuts food restored her to health and happiness in less than twelve weeks.

"I was so reduced in strength with untold suffering, without vitality or ambition, bed-ridden and unable to even wait on myself, that I felt obliged to doctor all the time, taking one prescription after another, but deriving no permanent benefit from any. Sometimes I would feel better for a little while, but soon the effects of the medicine would pass away and I would lapse back into my former condition."

"Last May, at my mother's solicitation, I concluded to quit medicines and try Grape-Nuts food. It did not work a miracle at once, but slowly and surely, day by day, it built me up and strengthened me. I soon began to sit up, then work a little, and then get out to see my friends, gaining meanwhile in sleep, till at last, by the end of June I was able to leave home for a visit, (taking my Grape-Nuts with me, to be sure), returning after a few weeks, completely restored, with a healthy interest in my domestic duties, and, thank Heaven, the strength to perform them!"

"That is so, and that I am stronger in mind also and quicker and more vigorous intellectually, is due to the use of Grape-Nuts food." Name given

WALK! WALK! WALK!

HEALTH IN EXERCISE.

By Ella K. Dearborn, M. D.

When there may be many people who get too much exercise in their daily work, there are equally many who do not get enough, and even those who overwork with their muscles, are benefited by a change.

Judicious exercise and proper food
make perfect health.

Gymnasium exercise is better than none, but it is not to be compared with that taken in the open air.

To get oxygen, one must breathe
pure air, and few people breathe correctly—the shoulders are held forward and crowd the lungs.

Try to touch the shoulder blades together in the back, and while doing so, inhale slowly all the air the lungs will hold, retain it three seconds, and slowly exhale.

You can do this while walking about the house, or on the street,
when at your desk in school or office;

it relieves headache and nervousness
through equalized circulation.

Rapid walking in the open air is excellent exercise. With "head up,"

chin in, chest out and shoulders back, take long, swinging strides, with the arms swinging freely at the sides, or clasped behind the back.
Be sure to walk on the sunny side of the street, unless the day be hot.
The average person dislikes to walk
for exercise, and it is to be deplored that the cycling craze has gone by,
for never was there a fad that combined at once so many desirable and pleasant things, and had so little on the other side of the balance.

To a debilitated person who is taking exercise for its therapeutic value,
a little caution is necessary.
Do not overdo—watch the heart rate, if it is over 100, rest until it is below 90, but persevere in the exercise and the heart will soon become strong. The heart can rest faster if the patient assumes a horizontal position.

For sleeplessness, a walk or bicycle ride, in the evening, the distance depending upon the patient's strength, will relieve the overcharged nerve cells and induce refreshing sleep, and is worth more than a barrel of somniferous drugs.

Exercise before meals—rest or sleep after meals—avoid too much spending on the couch after lunch is of untold value to those who must rush
the rest of the day—but do stretch out as limp as a rag and make the most of that ten minutes.

Walking or cycling is the best exercise for a torpid liver, and for indoor liver exercise, walk on the hands and feet (all fours); this is also said to prevent appendicitis.

The laugh that invariably follows
this last exercise is worth $10. Lay aside your dignity, and let the baby ride while you give your liver its needed stimulus.

RICH COPPER FIELDS
ARE FAST BEING DEVELOPED

H. R. TAYLOR, A COPPER EXPERT,
WRITES SOME INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT THE COPPERTON
DISTRICT.

Coperton, N. M., Jan. 15th.—Minerals head the list of the sources of our nation's wealth. Gold, copper, iron and coal have not only contributed largely to the enterprise and op-ulence of America, but at this very moment they exert a commanding influence in political circles. No one can foretell the grandness of the commercial power that is sure to rise on their foundation. Our country is not yet half developed. Treasures lie undiscovered in our mountains and under our hills.

Some will be accidentally discovered; but the majority will require a lot of patient toil and persistent effort.
For if we wait for mineralogists to develop our country, we must wait a millennium.

Coperton Hill is situated in township 11 north, range 12 west. One in meandering over Coperton Hill will be scattered over the surface very plentifully, a green colored rock. This is copper ore, scientific name malachite, running 50 to 80 per cent in copper.

There is also quite a lot of azurite
at different places.

Now and then you will spy, a short distance ahead of you, a mound of fresh dirt and rocks. This is the dump of some poor and honest prospector's shaft or drift, where he has, by toil and the sweat of his brow, tried to develop a profitable prospect, and in quite a number of places he has been successful, and proven that his claim is valuable, not as a shipping proposition, but by the erection of a plant on the ground.

This copper ore can be handled by some cheap process, and leave a good margin to the one that gets it first, and secures the best claim.

I have always contended that by the leaching process the ore now in sight would justify the making in of a small plant, and in the working up of that in sight there probably would be ten or twenty times as much more ore developed.

The formation of Coperton Hill is stratified, and the copper ore is in blanket form, from two to eight feet thick, and the assays run from 1 per cent to 40 per cent in copper, and several ounces in silver.

Five per cent copper ore, at the customary price of 18 cents, would be worth $18 per ton. An acre of this four foot thick, would be worth $17-50, and a hundred acres would be worth
$1,750,000.

There are ten or twelve claims located on this same copper-producing ground. One cannot imagine the vast amount of wealth that lies almost on the surface; at some places, two feet under the surface, and from that to ten feet deep. Any one can see that the cost of mining would be almost nothing.

In various places on Coperton Hill,
when one is prospecting the surface,
you will find the remains of ancient workings, supposed to have been done several centuries ago.

Undoubtedly, this was done by the Spaniards, and if they could work these deposits, in their rude and crude way, and make something, when copper was not worth half its present
price, why cannot it be done now, with all of the late improvements and cheap processes that we now have at our command?

There, within a stone's throw, are the ruins of stone buildings. By the number of rooms that can be distinguished, there must have been lived over one hundred people for quite a number of years, all going to show that this was a paying proposition,
even at that early date.

Gathered Around the Plum Tree.

orable one to many this year, as it

PLENTY OF PRISONERS
IN POLICE COURT

THEY TOLD JUDGE CRAWFORD
PLENTY OF HARD LUCK TALES,
BUT COULD DIG UP NO MONEY.

As has been the case for some time,
Judge Crawford was called upon this morning to dispose of a number of alleged law breakers, who had excuses for being vagrants or drunk, as the case might be, but with less than twenty cents between them.

V. Roden and Charles Bowman, colored, were given five days each on the vagrancy count. Roden worked about forty minutes, since coming to Albuquerque, it appeared, and Bowman not at all.

Arthur Clough, a piano tuner and finisher, who hailed from Las Vegas, was commanded to go forth and get money. Clough said he made less of money at Las Vegas, which he gave to the gambling man and booze dispenser.

Fred Waller was declared a vagrant
in spite of his explanations to the effect that he was on a leave of absence from a job in the east, and was waiting for a check from "mother." To the city dirt pile went Waller.

W. A. Murray, fresh from the Belen out, was unfortunately, accosted in a bar room Saturday night by a policeman, when he was shy of money.
He was removed to the city ice box for his audacity. Murray showed Judge Crawford where brighter days were coming, and that it would not be long before he would be firing an engine in the local yards with money to burn at his command. Murray was sentenced to the sunlight of Terasas avenue, with the accompanying information to where the Santa Fe yards were.

"I'm Bill Taylor, I is," drawled out a dinky skinned alleged vagrant, in court this morning. "I work at Belen, made some money there and came here and spent it. I'm going back there and make some more to bring here to spend." "You'll spend five days on the streets first," said the court. Bill didn't say he wouldn't.

Charles Williams, 17 years old, secured a bottle of whisky, Saturday afternoon, drank of his "homeboy"
sweetness, was made gloriously drunk, and while feeling like conquering Albuquerque, with "Dogtown" drum in, was snatched up by a blue-coat. He would not tell the court who gave him the whisky, and was given ten days in which to change his mind.

James Gorman and Will Allen, the first an accused vagrant, and the other a drunk, were sentenced to five days each in the chain gang.

"ADV." WRITER JAFFA

A FINE PIECE OF HIGH CLASS
FULL SHEET POSTER PRINTED AT THIS OFFICE.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 12.

Mr. R. H. Jaffa, Albuquerque, New Mexico:

Dear Sir: We are in receipt of your "Green Tag" circular, and note that you had no difficulty in carrying out the little suggestions made to you by the writer.

It makes one of the nicest appearing circulars I have seen this season, and in this connection I suppose, we must give a little of the credit to the printer for carrying out our combined ideas.

We certainly hope that it was a successful sale from a financial standpoint.

With best wishes, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

KUH, NATHAN & FISHER CO.

(Note—Mr. Jaffa is the "adv." writer for the clothing store of Simon Stern, and the "Green Tag" circular, receives such high compliment, was set up and printed at The Evening Citizen job office, the best for such high class work in the southwest.)

SPORTING...
...BREVITIES

Johnny Reiff will sail for France to commence work for the winter's campaign on March 11th. His riding weight is 114 pounds.

"Ducky" Holmes has been given his release by the Chicago White Sox so that he may become the owner manager of the Lincoln, Neb., team in the Western League.

The owner of the blacksmith shop at Sioux Falls, S. D., which collapsed under the Cornishman was making souvenir horse shoes, has sued Ruby Robert for $500 damages.

Any college professor who wishes to occupy the limelight can gratify his desire by taking a few rap at foot ball. It's the cheapest notoriety imaginable and the most fleeting.

Matty Matthews, who made such a poor showing against Gene Bezenah other night, is seeking a return match with the Orio lad. "It was an off night with me," says Matty, "and I was outboxed, but not whipped."

Bernard Schreiber has secured second call on the services of Herman Ratke, the premier jockey on the Pacific coast. Schreiber has a big stable of horses and has been without a rider since Schade went to Ascot Park to ride the horses there.

The knocking out of the Tennessee anti racing law by the lower courts was good news to the horsemen, as the southern state has been a bulwark of strength to the racing game. An appeal is to be taken by the state from the interior court's decision.

Eugene Hildebrand, the jockey, has decided to branch out as a horse owner, thus following the footsteps of other noted riders. William Hayward, Jas. McLaughlin, and Edward Garrison, are among the best known jockeys who developed into owners.

If Willie Hoppe defeats the veteran Vignaux in their match at Paris then Schaefer and Slosson will challenge him. Otherwise Hoppe will have to wait for the chance to play these wizards of the cue. The match at Paris is at 10-noon ball time, one shot in 500 points up.

Eddie Santry made his second re-appearance on earth the other night, when he defeated Jack Balm, from Denver, in "Horse flies" was carved on Eddie's grave marker long ago. His reappearance indicates that there's a careless sexton at the pugilist's graveyard.

Wrestlers Tom Jenkins and Fred Beel are talking like a pair of champions soaked prima donnas. Each tells the other he doesn't do it. As a matter of fact, it looks as though neither of these mat artists is anxious to meet the other in a test for supremacy.

Men by the name of O'Brien who wish to register at New York hotels must be fortified with alibis that they were never in Philadelphia, and that they do not carry a concealed alias about their persons. A Philadelphia O'Brien couldn't break into the Waldorf-Astoria with a Jimmy and a rope ladder.

Now the Independent (otherwise outlaw) base ball club managers are preparing to get together and trim the salaries of the outcast stars. If this thing of lopping off dollars continues it may yet be necessary for base ball players to save up their winter salaries so that they can afford to play ball in the summer.

This is Jimmy Callahan's busy season. Besides writing articles on "Scientific Base Ball," turning down an offer to manage the Terre Haute team, whipping a Chicago foot pad, the versatile Jimmy has brought two more teams into his City League organization—and all within one week's time.

During 1905 there were 512 stake races run in the United States and Canada, and they were won by 120 different riders. Frank O'Neill leads in number of stakes won, as he piloted the winners of 31. J. Martin comes next with 26, Davis follows with 24, Lynde 22, Burns 20, Hildebrand 16, Shaw 16, Knapp 15, Nicol 15, Balrd 13 and Redfern 10.

18 New York hotel keepers have formed a new secret order called the "Society for the Prevention of Accommodations to Philadelphia Jack O'Brien." Only those who have refused to permit the pugilist are eligible to active membership. Those who express a willingness to refuse may become honorary members. The pass word is "what the hotel."

The Waldorf-Astoria, St. Regis, The Netherlands, and one or two other first class hotels in New York declined to house Philadelphia Jack O'Brien when he arrived in that city with his mother and sister. There was nothing against O'Brien except the fact that he was a pugilist. He neither drinks, smokes nor swears, as he could not be persona non grata because of his habits. In pugilism all fighters are classed on one level, by the world "above." There is no hair-

LOST EYESIGHT

Through Coffee Drinking

Some people question the statements that coffee hurts the delicate nerves of the body. Personal experience with thousands prove the general statement true and physicians have records of great number of cases that add to the testimony.

The following is from the Rockford, Ill., Register-Gazette:

Dr. William Langhorst of Aurora, has been treating one of the queerest cases of lost eyesight ever in history. The patient is O. A. Leach, of Beach country, and in the last four months he has doctored with all of the specialists about the country and has at last returned home with the fact impressed on his mind that his case is incurable.

A portrait of the optic nerve has been rendered, rendering his sight so limited that he is unable to see any-splitting distinction. The O'Briens, and Corbets, men of the world, well groomed, well educated, of the best of habits, are placed on a level with the Sharkeys, the Ryans, and "Spiller" Kelleys. It's pretty tough on the "gentlemen" pugilists.

After one of the best years in its history, from a financial standpoint, the Wisconsin faculty has come out against foot ball and wants it discontinued for at least two years, or until rules can be formulated that will eliminate roughness and brutality. The action of the Wisconsin faculty can be regarded only as an honest attempt to improve the standing of the game and safeguard the welfare of the players.

"Orator" O'Rourke, of the Connecticut League, makes Tennyson's Brook appear like a transient in an old-settled community. O'Rourke has been playing the game longer than any man on the diamond, and he says he is still good for a dozen seasons. Last summer he caught over 100 games for the Bridgeport team. His son, a Yale alum, is a member of his nine, and they make a lively pair of base runners, especially when the elder O'Rourke is at the front end of an attempted double steal.

The automobile is having a strong influence on suburban life. Through automobile clubs the agitation for good roads is bringing about better highways. The means of transportation has facilitated travel from cities to country homes, and an extent that suburban real estate has shown a decided advance in price. A delightful spin over well kept country roads is like a tonic on which to start the day's business, while the ride home after a day of worry has a quieting effect upon the nerves and a stimulating effect upon the appetite.

"When it's all going out"—then the hard luck stories are revived. The latest on Fitz is to this effect: When Fitz came to this country he stopped off in Denver. A stranger walked up to him and introduced himself as Mr. Huntington, son of the owner of the Southern Pacific railroad. Of course, Fitz was delighted, because he had heard all about Huntington's father in California. They took the usual walk and fell into one of the "bank joints" with which Denver abounded at that time. The usual game of cards was played, and suddenly "Mr. Huntington" found himself short of ready money, and, of course, Fitz cashed his check for several thousand dollars. When this was gone they left for the depot to take a ride on Mr. Huntington's private car. Then suddenly Mr. Huntington excused himself, and Fitz for three hours searched the depot for "Mr. Huntington's private car."

ATTENTION APPLICANTS FOR RAILWAY MAIL CLERK

EXAMINATION FOR NEW MEXICO, ARIZONA AND CERTAIN STATES, JANUARY 31.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination on January 31, 1906, at the places mentioned in the accompanying list, to secure eligibles from which to make certification to fill vacancies as they may occur in the position of railway mail clerk in the states and territories mentioned below.

As but few applicants who are legal residents of the states and territories named apply for the examination held on December 6th, qualified persons are urged to enter this examination, as it is desired to use eligibles from this register in making appointments for service during the coming season.

Persons who failed to pass this examination may, upon filing new applications in due time, enter the examination to be held during the spring season.

As it is something of a coincidence that the Coffin case should be up in the having investigation at Annapolis. As examination papers are shipped direct from the commission to the places of examination, it is necessary that applications be received in ample time to arrange for the examination desired at the place indicated by the applicant. The commission will therefore arrange to examine any applicant whose application is received in time to permit the shipment of the necessary papers.

For New Mexico, the examinations will take place at Albuquerque and Las Vegas; and for Arizona, at Phoenix, Prescott and Tucson.

FOREST RESERVE

ADJUSTMENT TO BE OFFERED

PECOS COPPER COMPANY—CAT-

PLE ARE BEING IMPROVED.

Acting Supervisor Leon F. Knapp and Ranger T. Stewart of the Pecos Forest Reserve, left Santa Fe for Cowles in regard to the case of the Pecos Copper company.

It is probable that an adjustment will be offered the copper company in the shape of a heavy payment for the wood alleged to have been used out of the reserve and for the timber cut on the mining claims, roadways and clearing away for the water ditch. If the company accepts the offer, the case will be dropped, otherwise it will be prosecuted for trespass.

The number of cattle in the reserve is steadily increasing on account of the charge for grazing. Two years ago there were 7,900. This number was reduced during the past year as the grass was good outside the reserve. The indications are that there will not be over 5,000 in the reserve this season.

J. W. Harrison, merchant at Pecos, who has had a number of cattle, has disposed of them, it is understood, at low prices. Messrs. Windsor and Dock will have all disposed of some cattle, and Messrs. Williams, Lewis and Gilmore have sent a number of fat steers to Kansas City, where good prices were realized. Littleton Lewis and J. H. B. Gilmore went to Kansas City. Rancher Lewis has returned with a number of fine Aberdeen Angus bulls which will be used for grading up the stock on the reserve. Rancher Gilmore has gone to his old home in Kentucky, for a visit. Jewell Lewis and James Sweeney report plenty of snow in the valleys.

Dr. Shier and M. Gonzales have recently sold a bunch of fat steers to Santa Fe butchers.

Fluoridians may not return to the stage after all. He is considering a plan to establish a physical culture school in New York, scattered after the one now conducted in Gotham by William Muldoon.

Perfection Attained.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, disperse, while DeWitt's Little Early Bile Beans simply expel all putrid matter and leave the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. For years I have used Little Early Bile Beans in my family. No better pill can be used for constipation. Sold by all druggists.

Consent of Governed

Some of the anti-Joint statehood papers have recently been making a great row about the consent of the governed, in connection with the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as one state. It is really astonishing how long an old gag can be made to do business. The people are pleased with a certain collection of words which jingle well together, and they go on using the phrase or sentence utterly oblivious of the fact that it is sound without sense. Really their lack of both truth and reason is what commends the use of these old gags to many, who are thereby enabled to get off a lot of rot under the guise of argument.

One of the oldest, and certainly one of the emptiest, of these threadbare phrases is that about the "consent of the governed." It had no application at the time of its invention. Did the negroes in this country consent to any kind of government down to the emancipation proclamation? Did the poor people and the ignorant ones consent in the early history of the United States when almost every state had a property or an educational qualification? Did the Indians consent when the white people concluded to take their lands and to govern them chiefly by killing them? Is it by the consent of the governed in our country when the president may be at any time and has been at several times elected by a minority vote? Is it along the line of consent by the governed when the supreme court of the United States, appointed without even the consent of the people, votes an income tax passed by the representatives of the people? Have we the consent of the governed when minority representation is unknown from corner stone to pinnacle of our political edifice? Is it consent of the governed when the rural and village population of a state adopt prohibition instead of local option, against the wishes of the residents of cities? Were the southern states brought back into the union by consent of the governed or by the power of powder and lead? Are the Philippines, by consent of the governed, held as dependencies of this country, denied alike self-government and the privileges of American citizenship? Did the province of New Mexico become United States property by the consent of the governed or by conquest from Mexico? Was the territory of New Mexico split in twain, and the name Arizona bestowed upon one part, by the consent of the governed, or by a few broken down office holders making places for themselves?

But why multiply questions? Though you bray a certain class of people in a mortar, their folly will not depart from them; and no doubt this hoary headed absurdity will continue to bob up serenely as long as dearth of thought and lack of ideas shall render it useful to public disputants.

The fact is that a territory knows nothing about the consent of the governed. If congress should so will, Arizona could be blotted off the face of the map, parts of it being put back into California and Utah, and the remainder put back into the territory of New Mexico. New Mexico herself might be partitioned between Colorado and Texas. Nor need there be, in this getting rid of the troublesome territorial question, the least attention paid to the wishes of the people in the territories, the mere will of congress being all that is needful. As it is, our chief officials are selected without our consent, and our laws are made by a few men without our consent. Go to, then, and let us hear no more twaddle, in this important matter, about the consent of the governed.

The United States are a closed corporation. Those who are on the outside can get in only by the consent of the corporation. That corporation is willing to give the southwest admission to the corporation, allowing it two directors, or one-twenty-third of the whole power; but they say, and they mean it, that they will see us everlastingly in a hotter country than this rather than give us eight directors, or one-twelfth of the entire power. Unfortunately they mean what they say, and they have the power to carry it out.

A New York exchange says truly that those who are actively interested in the statehood bill or in the Philippine tariff bill spend their time in alternating fits of elation and depression, attended respectively by chuckles and groans. Both bills will probably pass the house some time, for the house leaders are not apt to let any bill reach the stage at which these have already arrived. The pity of it is that such measures are so seldom treated and disposed of in a straightforward business way on their merits. Those who wish to see the exact condition of affairs in Washington, with reference to the question of statehood, will find the latest and fullest statement in The Citizen's Washington correspondence, published Monday.

About Morocco

That the United States has no business in being represented at the Moroccan conference, to begin at Algiers today, is the well known universal sentiment of the American people. However, to satisfy the desire of The Citizen's readers for information, the following facts about the country have been gathered from various sources:

Within a coast line washed by the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, of nearly 1200 miles, and reaching south to the great desert of Sahara, the Empire of Morocco has a total area of nearly double that of Great Britain and Ireland combined. Its area is stated to be about 250,000 square miles, or about equal to Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Missouri combined. The population is unknown. The gazetteers give it as 5,000,000. Two French authors who employ natives to obtain information for them, have recently published a book in which they assert that there are fully 70,000,000 people in Morocco. Mr. Perdicaris thinks there are 15,000,000, and possibly 20,000,000, and very few people know the country as well as he. For many years he has been one of its most conspicuous and influential residents, and his capture by the revolutionary leaders created a world-wide sensation. The people are chiefly engaged in pastoral pursuits—raising cattle, sheep and goats—and they ship $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 worth of hides and skins to Europe and the United States every year. The only trade we have with Morocco is in that line, and we do not buy enough to make our commerce important. We send a few articles over there, but seldom more than $300,000 or $400,000 worth a year.

Several ranges of the Atlas mountains traverse the country, and abound in minerals and valleys of extraordinary fertility, while the rainfall is abundant. It possesses a soil which for the variety of its products, is, perhaps, without a rival. On the great plains and undulating champaigns of Shawia, Abda, and Doukala, you may travel for days through unbroken fields of wheat, barley, beans and maize. Hemp and coriander need, tobacco and nearly all the fruits and flowers of the Mediterranean littoral flourish in profusion. From the Atlas spurs and the province of Soos, one port alone has shipped $1,000,000 worth of almonds in a year. The same port, Mogador, sends annually $500,000 worth of Morocco leather in the shape of goat skins, to London and Hamburg, the bulk of which is transhipped to the United States of America. In a year of normal fertility, this same port furnishes $500,000 worth of olive oil, a total which a really "good" year doubles and trebles. In the same list of exports we had precious gums of the Sudan to the value of $500,000, the resin of the arar tree, sandalwood—grown nowhere but in Morocco—eggs (mainly for London), ostrich feathers, argan oil, garbanzos, and a host of minor items, all of which point to a productive power far exceeding that of any of the other countries on the southern shore of the Mediterranean sea.

Yet the total trade of Morocco, approaching $20,000,000 annually, gives no idea of what it will be under other conditions. The Moorish agriculturalist guides a plow which might have been used in the days of Abraham.

Machinery, outside the treaty ports, is absolutely unknown. The unimproved bullock is still the only means of threshing the corn. Anything like state or other encouragement to plant trees and breed fine cattle is undreamed of. A writer says: "Why don't you imitate your fathers and lay out a new orchard?" I asked a farmer friend, in my days of ignorance. Pitying which, he remarked gently, "And have my taxes doubled?" Add to these obstacles the total absence of canals, of roads fit for wheeled traffic, or of rivers navigable (though to make them so would be a simple task), and of any general system of irrigation. The country presents the amazing spectacle of a government taxing its own exports $20 per ton on oil, nearly $2 per quarter on maize and beans, and treating most of the other kindly fruits of the earth in like fashion. But even worse is the working of the iniquitous taxes placed on these same goods on their road from the grove to the seaport, taxes levied at every few miles of the route on the pretense of "protecting" the caravan. The marvel is, not that Morocco today exports so little, compared with its boundless capacity, but that it gives so much.

A New Way to Treat

Hired Girl Problem

From Chop Suey.

Auntie Fuller took a new position last week that looks as though it might last to eternity. Eternity, in the sense that I am using it, means three months. Since the time that Auntie Fuller condescended to love and honor me and forgot herself to the extent of promising to obey me, she has hired herself out to forty-eight different girls and the longest that any of them has kept her, has been three months. In these forty-eight cases Auntie Fuller assures me that she has employed forty-eight different and distinct methods of holding her job but none of them have worked out right and she has been fired after working on an average of about two weeks.

I have reason to know that when Auntie Fuller is in an unbecoming mood, she can say some very cutting things and I have on more than one occasion suggested that the hired girl may not know where she gets on but she always knows where she gets off and after forty-eight of them have got off within five years, it's about time to throw away false ideas, come down to the stern realities of life and acknowledge that the hired girl is it. Now, you can't take hold of the hired girl proposition in the same indifferent spirit that you would assume in purchasing the commodities for a boiled dinner, and so I told Auntie Fuller that she had better let me dictate the general policy the next time she went to work for a new servant girl. I advised Auntie Fuller to put a pair of white kid gloves on her temper and if anything came up that caused her eyes to snap and her cheeks to flush, to put a cold compress on her head, go out and look at the thermometer and call me up over the phone before answering back. There's nothing that annoys the average hired girl more than being answered back when they wish anything done.

My plan is working fine; that is, so far as the hired girl is concerned. She seems perfectly satisfied. To be sure, Auntie Fuller is going around with a cold cloth on her head most of the time, and when she isn't out looking at the thermometer, she's talking to me over the telephone; but that's to be expected with a woman of Auntie Fuller's warm temperament and I've got a hazy idea that if I can maintain the treatment long enough, it may effect a permanent cure. At any rate, the hired girl is happy and contented and what difference does it make if the whole shabang is on the bun, so long as the hired girl is satisfied? And that's why I say that Auntie Fuller's job will probably last to eternity. It certainly will if the cold water treatment to hot headed ladies or if conversation with enlightened persons over telephones is soothing and edifying.

Just before going to press Auntie Fuller called me up and told me that the hired girl was packing up her things—we had run out of ice.

Craze of Collectors

On Pedigreed Things

Some people cannot understand why some other people were willing to pay almost fabulous prices for the articles auctioned off in London out of the Irving collection and in Philadelphia out of the collection relating to Benjamin Franklin.

Why should a big price be paid for a small table having nothing to commend it but the fact that it was made from a beam which once supported a stage upon which Garrick played? Why should a battered old snuff box be deemed valuable simply because it once belonged to a man of renown? These are questions that must be answered in human nature. The connoisseurs will give thousands of dollars for a certain postage stamp faintly engraved or for a certain edition in which the binder was stupid enough to turn some of the pages upside down.

The disease—if it is a disease—lies deep in human nature. Observe that uncivilized ruffian, the small boy; never has there been, never will there be, a more earnest collector than he. Whether it be stamps or birds' eggs, moths, coins, butterflies, or marbles, he displays a natural power of bargaining. The boy disingenuously lays bare the depravity that fills every collector's soul. Ask a grownup collector why he does it, and he will fence with your words. He will solemnly assure you that in treasuring the old things he finds an outlet for his artistic nature. But as a matter of cold fact, the antiquary's mania has no more to do with artistic taste than the boy's has.

The collectors are not to be laughed at. They are but helpless slaves of instinct. We must not laugh even when they are made dupes of cunning manufacturers, who turn out century-old antiques by the car load. One of the managers of the great china works at Coalport, England, who went to London and paid down $500 for a Sevres vase, took it back to the factory and handed it to the best man, with the hint that he might learn something valuable by copying it. "I don't think I shall," the workman grinned. "And why not?" "Because I made it myself, six years ago."

The First Peasant

French President

Next week a new president of France will be chosen. Loubet retires. This grand old man is tired of pomp and circumstance. He says: "I am wearing the end. I await my retirement on the 15th of February with extreme impatience. I want to enjoy my pipe by my fireside. There will be great doings in the flat where I will take my family." Loubet is 67 and tired. They want him to be president again, but he longs for slippers and peace.

The retirement of this simple, sturdy, brainy, courteous old man who has straightened out so many tangles of state is an era for the French. He is the first president who came from the plain people. He is peasant, peasant, and peasant as he is, he towers intellectually and as a gentleman over any prince of Europe.

Emile Loubet is the apostrophe of democracy in France. He has proven the possibilities offered and met by the humbly born and bred. Hereafter the son of the poorest Frenchman may aspire to the highest place. The peasant president has made the saying of our Garfield true, "Our society is not like the strata of the earth, each holding down the layer beneath; rather it is like the ocean where the lowest drop may rise and glisten on the topmost wave." Honor and blessing and a quiet hearthstone attend the closing years of the peasant prince of France.

HIGH COMMISSION
HERE FROM CHINA

Will Study All of Our Distinctive American Methods and Institutions.

WILL GIVE IT SCANT TIME

As Less Than One Month Will be Spent in This Country at the Present.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 16.—The Chinese of this city, for more than three days, were in a state of great excitement over the presence of the special commission sent by the Chinese government, to make an exhaustive study of American political, military, naval, educational and industrial methods. The steamer upon which the commission sailed, arrived here Friday afternoon. The commission stopped on its way across the Pacific in Honolulu for a few days and was treated with the distinction due to the prominent character of the dignitaries composing the commission. It consists of two Chinese officials of high rank, who are accompanied by a numerous and brilliant suite of secretaries, assistants and attendants. Everything was ready here for the reception of the commission and every facility was offered the members to begin their studies at once.

The commission left last night for Washington, which city they will reach about January 21st, and will take up residences at the Chinese legation. Secretary Root has already charged Charles Denby, the chief clerk of the Department of State and formerly secretary of the legation at Peking, with the duty of receiving and taking care of the visitors on behalf of the United States government. Notwithstanding the formidable task set before them, the Chinese commissioners expect to complete their investigations in three weeks, when they expect to return to China. At the head of the commission is General Tuan Fang, at present governor of the province of Huan and recently acting viceroy of Hunan and Nueph. He was governor of the province of Shensi during the Boxer uprising of 1900, and notwithstanding the massacres of foreigners which occurred in the adjoining provinces, not a foreigner lost his life in Shensi, because of the vigor and energy with which General Fang administered his office. He has been a prominent figure in the reform movement which has prevailed in China since the Boxer trouble, and is said to be a man of broad and liberal ideas.

The second member of the commission is the assistant secretary of the Chinese treasury, Tai Hung Chai. He is a Cantonese by birth.

Probably within a few weeks another important Chinese commission will arrive in this country, landing in Seattle, in stead of San Francisco. It will be headed by Hsiang Chai Hong, the present acting governor of the province of Shantung. This commission will cross the United States and go to Europe, to make thorough studies of the methods used in various European countries. The object of sending out these commissions is said to be to enable the Chinese government to select the best modern and civilized methods, which it proposes to introduce in China, closely following the example of Japan. Chicago will be the first stopping place en route to Washington.

NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE MEETS TO

INFLUENCE CONGRESS IN IMPORTANT TRADE LEGISLATION NOW PROPOSED.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—Delegates representing commercial organizations throughout the country are assembled in this city, and every train is bringing additional delegates. They have come to attend the annual convention of the National Board of Trade, which will begin its session here today. The convention will open with an informal reception and meeting this evening, while the first regular business session will be held tomorrow.

The convention promises to be unusually interesting, owing to the number of important matters that will come up for consideration at the meetings. One of the most important subjects to be considered is the question concerning the government control of railroad rates. Numerous resolutions on the subject of railroad rate control in accordance with the suggestions of the committee on Interstate Commerce have been introduced, and will be discussed in the convention. One of the strongest is by the New York Produce Exchange. It declares that it would be detrimental to the commercial interests of the country to invest any government commission with the power to make the rates, and strongly recommends other legislation to correct the evils of rate discriminations, etc. Other resolutions on the same subject will also be considered, which rather favor government control of some form of the power to make railroad rates.

Beginning New York, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Washington have offered resolutions on the subject of ship subsidies and development of our merchant marine. All favor some measure or measures that would have a tendency to encourage the development of our merchant marine, although some of the resolutions do not expressly advocate the payment of subsidies. All of them point out the great importance of an increase of American shipping for the commercial development of the country.

Other resolutions which will come up for discussion refer to the Consular service, postal affairs, the federal control of interstate insurance, tariff and reciprocity, river and harbor improvements, international arbitration, national currency, territorial possessions and the abolishment of the tax on alcohol for industrial purposes, changes in the national bankruptcy laws and other subjects of equal importance.

BELKNAP SAYS THAT
BLACK MAIL WAS ATTEMPTED

While John Belknap, the woods superintendent of the American Lumber company was in the city yesterday from Ketchikan, he emphatically denied several charges made against him by one Harry Roberts, who was granted a writ of habeas corpus by Judge Ira A. Abbott a few days ago, one allegation being that Belknap was intimate with Roberts' wife. Mr. Belknap characterized this accusation as "an absolute slanderous falsehood," as he says he never in his life met Mrs. Roberts and never saw her except at a great distance. To back up his assertions, Mr. Belknap showed the following statement made by Mrs. Roberts:

Ketchikan, N. M., Jan. 13, 1906.
I, Mary Roberts, wrote one letter to Mr. John Belknap and my husband, Harry Roberts, wrote the other. Harry Roberts said he would kill me if I did not write the letter. I do not know Mr. John Belknap and deny that he was ever intimate with me.
(Signed) MARY P. ROBERTS.
Mr. Belknap says that the purpose of Roberts was to blackmail him.

YOU WON'T NEED SO MUCH MONEY

to buy cigars that suit you, when you get the WHITE LILY. It's a cigar that pleases men accustomed to paying high prices for their favorite brands as well as the smoker who never pays more than a nickel apiece for his cigars. The size is there, the flavor, the purity, the art in making and that quality it would be hard for you to define. Yet the WHITE LILY sells for 5 cents apiece, $2.00 the box of fifty. You'll miss it if you don't try a WHITE LILY.

BURGLARS WERE IN GRANT BLOCK

Ransacked Offices of Dr. Cornish, E. V. Chaves and Paul Teutsch Last Night.

THEY MADE A SMALL HAUL

Burglars paid their respects to several offices in the Grant block some time during last evening. Entrance was gained first of all to the sanctum of Dr. P. G. Cornish. The door was found unlocked this morning and was either carelessly left that way last evening or the thieves entered through the agency of a skeleton key.

Once inside the office of Dr. Cornish to get inside those offices connecting with it was simple inasmuch as the doors are seldom locked. Articles were strewn hither and thither by the thieves in their search for valuables. The offices of Dr. Cornish, E. V. Chaves and Paul Teutsch being systematically ransacked.

Strange to say, there was nothing missing in any place except the office of Mr. Teutsch, the manager of the Household Loan company. There the thieves found about $2 worth of postage stamps which they appropriated.

It is apparent that the burglars were bent on securing cash for in Dr. Cornish's office were cases of valuable surgical instruments which were not molested.

The police were notified but they have no clue, as yet, to the identity of the guilty parties.

BOLD ROBBERY TOOK PLACE LAST EVENING

MASKED THIEF RELIEVED GROCER H. H. WARD OF $65 AT HIS PLACE OF BUSINESS.

After grounding the telephone wire to insure his escape, a masked thief entered the grocery store of H. H. Ward on Marble avenue between Third and Fourth streets last evening, between 8:30 and 9 o'clock, and at the point of a revolver compelled Mr. Ward to hand over a sack of money aggregating $65.

It had been a busy day for Mr. Ward. Being pay day at the plant of the American Lumber company, the receipts were unusually large. Inasmuch as many of the employees at the lumber company trade at the grocery store, and they had paid their bills during the day. This fact is believed to have been known to the bold thief.

A friend was with Mr. Ward at the time. He had just tied up the canvas bag containing the cash, preparatory to going home when the fellow opened the front door and lesteurously entered, with his bulging revolver cocked. He demanded the money, keeping both men covered with his weapon in the meantime. There was no alternative but to comply with the not to be misunderstood command, and the bag of money was handed over. Tucking the cash away in a pocket in the same lesteurously manner as characterized all of the robber's movements, he backed to the door and disappeared in the darkness, as effectually as though the earth had opened up and received him.

The police were notified and have since been carefully investigating the affair.

From Mr. Ward it was learned that the robber was not content with the bag of money secured, for upon getting it he coolly ordered the proprietor of the establishment and Mr. Ward's uncle, H. H. Hooper, to throw up their hands and face the wall. This was done, whereupon the robber went through their back pockets with one hand, while he kept the revolver ready for use in the other. A pocketbook, containing a few dollars and some valuable keepsakes was taken from Mr. Hooper. Nothing was found upon Mr. Ward, but had the robber examined the pockets of this gentleman high up he would have discovered a large wad of paper currency.

OLD ALBUQUERQUE HAS "BLIND PIG"

DISCOVERED SUNDAY TO HAVE ALL THE EAR-MARKS OF A WEEK-DAY SALOON.

It has come to that phase of prohibition in Albuquerque when we have what they call a "blind pig" in Kansas. This "pig" made its appearance in the old town on last Sunday, and judging from the number of hilarious drunks to evidence, it has its nose in a great many cups. Whether this "pig" dispensed native wine or imported brands of liquor, or whether it had in its possession a well known wheed, is not conclusively known, but that it had all the ear-marks of a week-day saloon, is testified to, and those who desire to observe the law are decidedly jealous, and more, too, they are weary to think that some are allowed to keep open while they are compelled to keep closed.

MANAGER McGREW ON FIRE INSURANCE

Adjuster Takes a Slam at the Albuquerque Water Supply Company's Plant.

HARTFORD AFTER NEW SECURITIES

W. A. McGrew, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming manager for the Hartford Fire Insurance company, is in the city looking after the interests of his company.

When seen by a reporter for The Evening Citizen, Mr. McGrew said:

"Well, I'm here to do all the good I can. Some years ago the New Mexico legislature passed a law compelling insurance companies to deposit $10,000 with the territory as a guarantee to the people with whom they are doing business. This deposit is to be made in New Mexico securities, which compels the companies to make New Mexico investments. The law was made to sell New Mexico bonds. Some of our old loans have come due and I am here for the purpose of closing these up and also to make new ones."

"What do you think of Albuquerque from a fire insurance point of view—don't you think it's a little high?" was asked Mr. McGrew.

"No, your rate is not high," was the answer. "Albuquerque is a low rate town, considering conditions. The property here, your three story buildings and some of your more congested business blocks is very much in jeopardy as a result of your poor fire fighting facilities. In the first place, you have a very poor water works. Your pressure is bad and your reservoir is small, and then there are times when there are not over five or six feet of water in the reservoir at that. There is more water in the river than in the summer and fall. If this town should have a big conflagration, the water at command would not last any time. With the pressure you have, what would you do with a fire on top of either the Barnet or Armijo buildings? It is doubtful if you could get water on top of them at all. But even at that, the insurance rate is lower in Albuquerque than in Denver, where they have paved streets and fire engines. That is, in the business sections. I believe that the residence rate in Denver is a little lower than here, which is the result of Denver's better fire fighting facilities."

Mr. McGrew thinks that a fire engine would be a good investment for Albuquerque.

HEATHMAN'S PICTURE IN THE ROGUE'S GALLERY

SUSPECTED OF DOING "STRONG ARM" ACT IN SALIDA, COLO., SOME TIME AGO.

Low Heathman, a well dressed young man pleaded guilty to vagrancy in police court this morning and was sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail.

Heathman's picture and description appears in the last issue of The Detective, a publication issued in the interest of police work. It was sent to the periodical from Salida, Colo., gave a description of Heathman, and stated that he was suspected of doing some "strong arm" work there. In looking over the various pictures the eyes of the police alighted on that of Heathman, and it occurred to them that a person wearing that "mug" was in Albuquerque. His arrest followed. Heathman said the picture was a likeness of himself. It was after the hold-up at Ward's grocery store last night that Heathman was gathered in. It is not known whether he is the high wayman or not. He had no money, at least, when arrested.

INSTALLATION AND APPETIZING SUPPER

Benefit lodge No. 2, Ancient Order of United Workmen, installed the following officers last night for the ensuing year:

Past Master Workman—A. C. Bone. Master Workman—M. P. Sawtelle. Foreman—W. S. Garvin. Overseer—F. F. Kings. Guide—A. R. Werning. Inside Watchman—J. H. Shuffelbarger. Recorder—R. L. Goodwin. Treasurer—J. J. Votaw. Receiver—D. Johnson.

At the conclusion of the business session all repaired to Zeigler's cafe where an appetizing oyster supper was served.

WOLBACH-CHESTNUT

Last night at the residence of Otto L. Rice, on South Eighth street, Mrs. L. Rice, a well known young lady of this city, and Edgar Wolbach, a former employee of O'Reilly drug store, were united in marriage, only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties being present. Rev. John W. Barron, of the Congregational church officiated. The newly wedded couple will make Albuquerque their home.

CLAIM THAT SHE STARVED TO DEATH

So Say Friends of Mrs. S. Truby Who Died Sunday Morning.

CLAIM HUSBAND IS A DRUNKARD

The remains of Mrs. S. Truby, who died Sunday morning at 4 o'clock, still lie at the morgue, and as yet no preparations have been made for the burial of the body, as the husband of the deceased woman, S. Truby, is without funds.

It is claimed by neighbors of the deceased woman, who resided in the Highlands, that he is addicted to a lazy disposition, that he is addicted to the use of morphine and is a drunkard, and that he would spend all the money he made in satisfying his cravings for the drug and whiskey, instead of buying necessary food for his wife.

"It is my candid opinion," said one lady who has interested herself in the case, and a few doors from whom the Trubys have lived for the past two months, "that the poor woman actually starved to death. There has been times when to my personal knowledge, the husband, who claims to be a carpenter, has spent all his money for booze and left his poor wife so hungry. He claimed he couldn't get work very often, owing to his age, but when I offered him work doing odd jobs around my house, he replied that he refused to work outside of his profession."

It is understood that the deceased woman has a sister, Mrs. J. H. Skinner, of Cole Station, L. T., who is very wealthy, but as yet attempts at communicating with this sister have failed to elicit any response.

Mrs. A. A. Henry and Mrs. Fannie Bell, of this city, who live in the neighborhood of where the Truby family has lived the past two months, have interested themselves in the case to see that the poor old woman has a decent burial, and as a result are out soliciting today for the purpose of raising funds to be devoted to securing a coffin and paying the expenses incidental to the burial. They should meet with much success, as the cause in which they are laboring is of the worst.

The husband, S. Truby, claims to have been a member of the Odd Fellows at one time, but says he withdrew from the order some time ago. "Six Odd Fellows," continued Truby, "went down on their knees and begged me to join back, but I told them I was a morphine fiend and would not do it." Truly also claims to be an ex-member of the Grand Army of the Republic, but is no longer in good standing.

Arrangements for the interment of the body will be made tomorrow.

CHICAGO TRAVELER WILL ARRIVE TONIGHT

COMMERCIAL CLUB AT MEETING TONIGHT, WILL DISCUSS ENTERTAINING THEM—PARTY IS COMPOSED OF EIGHTEEN REPRESENTATIVES OF ASSOCIATION.

The delegation of the Chicago Commercial association, which is making a tour of the southwest, in the private cars "Sunset" and "Columbia," arrived in Las Vegas this afternoon at 10:15 a. m. and departed on No. 7 at 5:40 p. m. They will arrive in Albuquerque about 10:45 p. m. if No. 7 is on time.

At tonight's meeting of the Commercial club arrangements will be made for the entertainment of the delegation while they are in the city, and as they do not leave Albuquerque until 11:55 p. m. Wednesday, they will have ample time to see the sights of the city and its many up-to-date business houses.

W. R. Brown, general agent for the association in El Paso, met the delegation in Las Vegas and will accompany them to this city. From here the party will continue to the coast, making stops at San Bernardino, Riverside, Los Angeles, Santa Ana, San Diego, Bakersfield, Sacramento, San Francisco and other prominent cities in California. Returning the party will go by way of Phoenix, Ariz., Tucson, El Paso, Tex., and direct from that city to Chicago, arriving there February 5th.

Following is the personnel of the delegation, many of whom are accompanied by their wives and families: James R. Baker, of James R. Baker & Co., commission merchants; C. P. Coffin, credit manager, Illinois Steel Co., manufacturers; C. H. Crosse, Cutter & Crosse, men's furnishings; Frank G. Hall, Keith Bros. & Co., hats caps and gloves; E. L. Hasler, E. L. Hasler Co., fruit commission; W. P. Hynes, sales manager, Marshall Field & Co., dry goods; J. P. Mann, Morris, Mann & Reilly, dry goods and jewelry novelties; H. L. Saylor, general manager, City Press Association of Chicago; S. Shaw, president The Cable Co., pianos and organs; H. C. Slaver, president, Staver Carriage Co., manufacturers; W. M. Thompson, secretary, Kelley, Maus & Co., heavy hardware; Ralph Van Vechten, vice president, Commercial National bank; Fred A. Watson, Watson, Pinner Shoe Co., boots and shoes; S. E. Wood, Wood Bros., live stock commission; W. M. Thompson, chairman; W. P. Hynes, treasurer; Neil Satterlee, press representative; Augustus Knight, assistant.

ANOTHER CLIMATE STORY.

A lady residing in Albuquerque, who came to this city some time ago for the benefit of her health and who has improved greatly since coming, is very fond of telling the fact that she came here for her health, and never loses an opportunity to converse with any other health seeker with whom she comes in contact, on her favorite subject, climate.

A day or two ago, while in conversation with a business man of Albuquerque with whom she was not personally acquainted, she was surprised to hear him relate what climate had done for him. "Madam," he said, "when I first came to Albuquerque I was blind, had no control of my muscles, and could not use a single faculty, and was dependent on others entirely. I could not help myself in the slightest degree. I could not eat, did not have a tooth in my head, and was perfectly blind. Now look at me. I am six feet two inches in height, strong in every limb and muscle, have perfect control of every faculty, can see, hear and talk, and am a strong, robust man, in every sense of the word."

"My, my!" exclaimed the astounded woman. "Yours is a marvelous cure, indeed. Wonderful! Wonderful! When did you first come to Albuquerque?"

"I was born here, madam," he replied.

And the woman is still wondering why she was so easily gulled.

DEMAND "LID ON" IN "BETHLEHEM"

PEOPLE OF BELEN DEMAND THAT SUNDAY LAW BE ENFORCED THERE AS IN OTHER PLACES.

Special Correspondence.

Belen, N. M., Jan. 15.—Some dissatisfaction has been expressed because the saloons of Belen are not closed on Sunday. The "lid is on" in every other town in the Second judicial district, and it is strange that the "Bethlehem" of the territory, of all the towns, should be the only one not put under the ban. Gallup followed the example set by Albuquerque. Los Lunas also took the hint, and now it is up to Belen, which is considered one of the largest saloon towns of the district. Although no direct order has been issued by the court, the law is on the station and should be enforced, regardless of party or locality. It may be a greater hardship for the saloons of Belen to close up on Sunday than in any other town of the territory, because of the railroad laborers employed nearby, who have only Sunday on which to visit town and spend their money, but this is a good example of the law should be ruthlessly enforced. The best people of Belen demand that the law should be enforced and it is up to the sheriff of Valencia county to do it.

POPULAR QUINCY, ILL., COUPLE MARRY HERE

Tomorrow morning, in the church of the Immaculate Conception, Miss Maud Binkert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonie Binkert, of Quincy, Ill., and sister of J. P. Binkert and T. P. Binkert, of the Albuquerque Traction company, will be united in marriage with Fred Moller, a well known young business man of Quincy, Ill. Rev. Father Mandelari officiating.

Last Friday Mr. and Mrs. Antonie Binkert arrived in the city to visit their sons, the Binkert brothers, who are employed as motorman and conductor on the Traction company's lines. With them came their daughter, Miss Maud, and their future son-in-law, Mr. Moller, who accompanied them to this city for the express purpose of being married, thereby uniting their many friends in Quincy, who had made elaborate preparations to chidevarti them, as Miss Binkert is a member of a club in Quincy which believes in doing such things to its members who enter the wedded state. After the wedding tomorrow morning a late wedding breakfast will be served at the banquet hall of the Zeigler cafe, to which the friends of the contracting parties and family will be invited.

After the rest of the day has been spent in the city the newly wedded couple will leave on the flyer for California on their honeymoon.

ENTERTAINED WITH DINNER AND DANCING PARTY

Last evening at the Zeigler cafe a farewell dinner was given to Miss Webster and Messrs. Frank Curtin and Charles Bond, all of whom will leave soon for San Bernardino, Cal. After the dinner the Misses Everett entertained the party with dancing at their home. Following is the list of those attending: Misses Everett, Mrs. Sadler, Miss Kunz, Miss Jenks, Miss Webster, Messrs. Frank Curtin, Charles Bond, Dolliver Armstrong, Walter Dickey, Leonard Miller and Guy Rogers.

POLICE COURT.

John Guest will be a guest of the municipality for five days at the request of Judge Crawford. Guest is a negro who became intoxicated last evening and made himself obnoxious in front of the postoffice.

Frank Turner, a cripple, who navigates with the aid of crutches, made himself helpless last evening by the addition of a cargo of booze. Turner stopped several persons on the street and annoyed them by demands for money. He was sent up for ten days, sentence being suspended on condition that Turner leave strong drink alone.

SEARCH WARRANT FOR A WHITE SPOTTED PUP

LEGAL FORMALITY FOLLOWED IN CASE OF DOG ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN STOLEN.

Attorney Thomas Phelan caused a search warrant to be issued today for a brown and white spotted actor pup valued at $10. The information stated that the puppy was believed to be concealed in an outbuilding on the premises of Joseph Bodrich, on South Broadway. The dog was the property of the G. V. Tegner, and was supposed to have been removed from a kennel, on or about December 24th. The name of the supposed thief is not known, the complaint setting forth the defendant to be John Doe.

JONES NOT OUT FOR ALDERMAN

J. Porter Jones denies the report that he is out for the honors of the Third ward, stating that all his time will be given to the Albuquerque Brick & Tile company, the same filling a long felt want in this section, and the southwest. The company has a long lease on valuable shale properties, and coal deposits. The shale shows under skillful test to contain all that is required to manufacture all brick, sewer pipe, chimney tops, wall coping, conduits and all other clay products.

Mr. Jones is anxious to secure the interest of all business men in Albuquerque in this project, being a benefit to the city, and a profitable investment for its citizens.

Amusements.

WM. H. WEST'S JUBILEE MINSTRELS

DREW A PACKED HOUSE AT THE ELKS' OPERA HOUSE LAST EVENING—PLAY TONIGHT.

The William H. West Jubilee Minstrels drew a packed house at the Elks' theater last evening. The West minstrels are famed from coast to coast as one of the finest traveling organizations of its kind on the road today, the reputation being made by that great exponent of the burnt cork art whose name the troupe bears.

The olio, or second part, gave splendid satisfaction, each of the clever vaudeville acts eliciting applause that made the auditorium ring. The applause was more pronounced during this part of the entertainment than in the grand opening. The jokes were not as crisp as they might have been and the vocal efforts were good as far as they went. A pleasing feature was the rich scenery with which every act was set. The dancing of McDevitt and Kelly was the cleverest ever seen in Albuquerque, another feature being the "devil stick" juggling of Fred Smith, an act both novel and wonderful.

This evening the company will reproduce last evening's entertainment by special request, with a few changes in specialty features.

HOOLIGAN'S TROUBLES HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Another Hooligan is coming to Albuquerque, but this time it is "Hooligan's Troubles," a musical farce comedy from the Fourteenth Street Theater, New York, and the original copyrighted production. "Hooligan's Troubles" is from the pen of Mark E. Swan and with musical numbers by Prof. W. M. Stromberg. There is a chorus of pretty girls and besides the special numbers, there are specialties by the Three Golden Sisters, Miss Grace Aylesworth, Walter Mack, the Mahoney Bros., and others. The piece will be at the Elks' theater next Tuesday evening.

"AROUND THE TOWN"

IS MURRAY & MACK'S BREAD-WINNER THIS SEASON—AT THE ELKS' OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY, JANUARY 20.

"Around the Town" is Murray & Mack's bread-winner this season. It is a brand new vehicle, but strictly in line with their former successes. They made a plunge into comic opera last season, but have decided this year to stick to the line of work that has made them both famous and rich, so in creating their vehicles for this coming season they concentrated on the old-fashioned farce comedies, to fit them with a vehicle in line with their former successes, and to say that Mr. Selden has achieved his purpose is drawing it mildly. He has, undoubtedly, given them the best vehicle, as to comic situations, they have ever had. The piece is intensely funny and has a fairly good plot, upon which hinges most of the comedy situations, but as Murray & Mack have in past years always carried a big chorus, this year will be found no exception to the rule, and many pretty ensemble numbers will be seen. One of the prettiest musical specialties in the show is in the third act, by the Buster Brownies. They use twelve girls in this number. Six are made up as babies and six as Buster Brownies. Each girl is sitting in a swing and the boys are swinging them. During the course of the song these swings, rising higher and higher, eventually get to going way out over the orchestra. The effect at first is quite startling. One amusing feature of this number is the fact that the musical director, Mr. Robert W. Edwards, has to keep a watchful eye lest one of the girls stick a heel in the top of his head, so with playing his piano, trying to direct the orchestra, and at the same time trying to dodge those heels, he is leading a very busy life. Last week in Philadelphia the slipper of Miss Viola Grant came off and struck the hapless musical director square on the top of the head, and for a minute or two the air was filled with blue piano notes.

One yellow pony, brand on left hip, will be at the City Hall, Friday morning at 10 o'clock. THOMAS McILLAN, City Marshal.

SECRETARY RAYNOLDS DENIES OFFENSIVE PARTISANSHIP CHARGES

Preferred Against Him by Ex-Delegate B. S. Rodey.
The Secretary Has Been Good in Office
According to Answer.

The Evening Citizen, last Saturday afternoon, exclusively published a special dispatch from Washington, stating that ex-Delegate B. S. Rodey had filed charges against Territorial Secretary J. W. Reynolds, with Chairman Beveridge of the senate committee on territories, and that on account of these charges the nomination of Mr. Reynolds to succeed himself as secretary of the territory had not been confirmed.

In substance, the charges are: Offensive partisanship; building delegates to the convention in 1904, which did not re-nominate ex-Delegate Rodey as the republican candidate for delegate to the Fifty-ninth congress. The indiscreet pardoning of criminals; that through political effect and work, Mr. Reynolds secured a large increase in the fees of his office and so manipulated matters in the legislative assembly as to have it pass measures increasing such fees greatly; that Mr. Reynolds, in conjunction with Governor Otero, by unfair means, procured public lands for a sheep ranch in central New Mexico, on each side of the Arroyo Salado, eight miles wide and many miles long.

Secretary's Answer.

Secretary Reynolds is not in Washington, but in Santa Fe, hence his answer was not telegraphed as "special" from Washington, neither from Santa Fe, but clipped from the columns of the New Mexican. To questions, Secretary Reynolds replied as follows:

"It is rather difficult, in fact, almost impossible to give specific answers to such generalities as are charged in this dispatch. Replying, however, to the accusations as they appear, I can state that to offensive partisanship and building delegates, it has been my custom to attend all primaries for city, county and territorial conventions, but I have never been selected as a delegate from such primaries to any city or county convention, nor have I ever been selected as a delegate to any territorial convention. I have never been inside the hall of a territorial convention, even as a spectator.

No Influence Used.

"I have never attempted to influence or coerce any delegate to any convention by threat or offers of reward, political or pecuniary, directly, indirectly, personally or through an intermediary or otherwise.

"As for manipulation of office to increase fees, the fees of this office allowed by act of congress, June 19, 1878, and territorial statutes are substantially the same today as they were twenty years ago, except that in 1897 certain incorporation fees, heretofore retained by the secretary, were returned to the territorial treasury.

Returns Increased.

"During the four years of my incumbency my returns to the territorial treasury have averaged about $12,000 per annum, against an average of less than $4,000 per annum by my predecessors, and such efforts as I have made have been confined to attempts to increase the territorial receipts.

"With reference to the charge of pardoning notorious criminals for political effect, while acting governor, there is no board of pardons in New Mexico, hence the general rule was established by Governor Otero in 1897 that applications for executive clemency must be accompanied by favorable requests from the trial judge and the prosecuting attorney, or the recommendation of the board of penitentiary commissioners, and the superintendent of the penitentiary, and it is only in very unusual circumstances that any deviation is made from this rule.

Thanksgiving Pardon.

"During my incumbency I have acted favorably upon twenty-seven cases and those include but six pardons, five being for minor offenses and one for a high crime—murder.

"This one case was a Thanksgiving pardon, granted November 26, 1902, and the application was endorsed by the trial judge, the attorney who prosecuted the case, by the justice then presiding and the prosecuting attorney, and by the board of penitentiary commissioners as well as numerous citizens.

"In all other cases the action covered either a commutation of sentence or a reprieve subject to good behavior while at large. This latter form of action was first instituted in New Mexico by me in 1902 and since that time all my extensions of executive clemency in serious cases have been confined to the two methods, the reprieve being preferred to commutation as affording a check upon the recipient, who is required to report monthly in writing to the superintendent of the penitentiary stating his whereabouts and occupation.

"As to acquiring by unfair means eight miles on each side of an irrigation stream for a sheep ranch, Governor M. A. Otero and myself as individuals and as shareholders of the Salado and Lagunita Live Stock companies own a large sheep ranch on the Arroyo Salado in Guadalupe county, central New Mexico. This is not a series of water holes and springs in an otherwise dry stream bed.

Secured Recognized Rights.

"The lands were originally entered by homesteaders in tracts of 160 acres each, some of them as early as 1876, in the usual zig zag form, one-quarter of a mile wide and one mile long along the arroyo. United States patents had been issued for all of these lands long before either of us entered office. The lands had been bought and sold several times before we purchased and some of our abstracts of title include as many as thirty different documents, beginning with the original homesteader's patent.

"Not an acre of this land was acquired by us from the government and the persons who are now displaying so much interest in our affairs might have saved themselves much trouble by consulting the county records where every transfer is as easily traceable as are the changes in ownership of a city lot. So, instead of eight miles on either side of this stream we own at no place more than one-eighth of one mile on either side. We also own a few water ponds, so-called 'lakes,' lying out on the surrounding plains, and title to these were acquired by the purchase and location of the land scrip, amounting in all to less than 600 acres.

No Land From Territory.

"We do not own nor have we ever tried to purchase personally or corporately, directly or indirectly, one acre of land belonging to the territory or its institutions, as may be verified by the records of the land commissioner for New Mexico at Santa Fe.

"This method of answering charges without being in possession of specific facts is not satisfactory, but my attempt has been to cover each subject with sufficient fullness to meet the situation as indicated by your dispatches."

WATER COMPANY IS PREPARING ABSTRACT

UNDERSTOOD THAT LOCAL CONCERN WILL SHOW ITS CLEAR TITLE TO THE MUNICIPALITY.

For several days past the Albuquerque Water company has been secretly at work in the public court preparing an abstract. It is understood that the company will be able to show the City Fathers that the title of the water company is in every way clear. This will in all probability be done at the next meeting of the council.

It is understood that the Moore Realty company has been assigned the tender care of selling the plant. It has been offered to the city for $300,000. The council has left the proposition to the voters to determine whether they wish to be bonded to this extent in the purchase of the plant.

WHO IS THIS FRIEND?

YOUNG WIFE IS CRAZED OVER
DISAPPEARANCE OF HUSBAND
WHOSE NAME SEEMS A SECRET
—WHY THIS MYSTERY?

"What promises to be another mysterious disappearance in this city now turns up.

"A young man recently married and went to Albuquerque. He left his wife with friends there and came here on business, and then telegraphed his friend in Albuquerque to meet him here.

"This friend is now in the city and can find no trace of the young man for the last week. No one has seen him and he has not written to his wife or called at the postoffice for his mail.

"Though he sent a telegram last week requiring an answer, he left no address at the telephone office or has not called back for an answer.

"The young wife is said to be almost crazed by the suspense."

The above article was clipped from the Santa Fe New Mexican, and it falls short of being a news item in every respect. According to the story, there is a young man missing, and his loved ones desire to find him without divulging his name. The police of Albuquerque have not been requested recently to find a missing spouse, and there is some question as to whether or not the story is not made out of whole cloth.

SOLDIER FARNSWORTH OF CIVIL WAR FAME

WRITES A FEW LINES TO THE
FURNITURE CITIZEN FROM CALI-FORNIA.

Special Correspondence:
Soldiers' Home, Cal., Jan. 12th.—We are to have a fine library building in the near future. Prominent among the plans for the building, which will be a two-story, 75x140 feet affair, work on it will commence the 15th of the present month, and when completed it will be one of the finest buildings on the Home grounds.

The new barracks are nearly completed, and will accommodate 200 men when finished. Another building has been suggested by the board of managers for the accommodation of those who do not need medical aid.

It is too comical to see the invalids that hobble around on crutches and the cripples that have to wheel themselves around in roller chairs.

At present there are 2,406 Civil War veterans here, 132 Spanish veterans, and only seven Mexican War veterans. The Home has a band of twenty pieces that play for the boys while we eat our dinner.

EVEN COAL OIL BECAME ICE

The gentleman from Arizona, who had his fountain pen frozen until it popped open, came here with the ice which came out of itself his fingers were frost bitten, is gone one better by a gentleman from Zuni, N. M.

"It was one of the cold mornings of last week," he said, "that I was going to start a fire with coal oil. I picked up the can, one of the ordinary kind, and found that the contents were frozen tight. It was supposed to be the 'Standard grade' box' the man from Zuni concluded.

FAILURE OF AUTOMOBILE TRIP TO TORRANCE.

The first experiment of carrying the motor by automobile from Roswell to Torrance resulted in failure. B. G. Campbell, the driver of the car, who left here yesterday, returned at 1 o'clock today with the mail he took out yesterday. He got within thirty miles of Torrance, when he was stopped by the snow. The two big Buick automobiles that left here on Monday, driven by J. W. Stockard and Charles Barnes, are now stuck in this way with mail from Torrance, having not yet reached Torrance, being stalled by the snow. They are now at Wire Lake. The snow is from one to three feet deep. Manager Stockard has men and five teams at work, clearing away the snow and cutting out a road, so that the trip may soon be made through to Torrance.

Manager Stockard and Mr. Sharpe remained at Wire Lake to superintend the work of clearing a road.

Edwin A. Winter of Santa Fe, who left here Monday as a passenger for Torrance, returned today with the driver, B. G. Campbell. He says the experience was an unhappy one, for him, remaining three days and nights on the snow blocked plains. He stopped at Wire Lake with Manager Stockard, who did all possible for his comfort, furnishing plenty of bedding, fire and food. He will now go to Santa Fe by train.

Mr. Campbell asked the Record to say that Mr. Stockard did everything in his power to get through, but it was a case of insurmountable snow blockade.

GOVERNMENT SURVEY OF THE SALTON SEA

The changes now taking place in that part of southern California which is known as the Salton Sink, Salton Sea, Imperial Valley, or Colorado Desert, are of so wide spread popular and scientific interest that the director of the United States Geological Survey has ordered an immediate survey of the entire area.

What is now a fertile and populous valley was many centuries ago a great lake or inland sea, a hundred miles in length, into which flowed the waters of the Colorado river. Owing to the changes in the course of the river, the inflow ceased and the water of the lake finally evaporated. At the lowest point, the bottom of which was nearly 300 feet below sea level.

About a year ago an irrigation company cut a shallow ditch through the bank of the Colorado River into this basin. A little later, at a time when the water in the river was very high, the banks of this ditch were cut away and its bottom was scooped out by the rapid current, so that now practically the entire volume of the water in the river flows into the basin. During the past six or eight months thousands of dollars have been expended in various ineffectual attempts to control the inflow of the river. The salt marsh has been enlarged to form a lake forty or fifty miles in length, the water of which is rising at the rate of about an inch a day.

The proposed surveys will furnish data for an accurate map of that portion of the old lake that lies within the United States, and will enable the cartographers of the survey to show, in correct positions on the map, the numerous towns within the area, the channels of the two streams that carry the waters of the Colorado River to the lake, and various other topographic features. With these data in hand, a careful estimate can be made of the time that it would take to fill this great lake basin again, and should the course of the Colorado River not be changed.

SUPREME COURT

A LIGHT DOCKET YESTERDAY—
RECOMMENDED THIS MORNING
AS USUAL.

The supreme court continued its session at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the chambers in the Capitol building.

The following business was transacted:

Case No. 1102, entitled Bank of Commerce, appellant, vs. Baird Mining company, appellee, set for hearing January 25th, Childers attorney for appellant, and Wilkerson attorney for appellee.

Case No. 1128, entitled The Territory of New Mexico, appellee, vs. Rosario Emilio, appellant; motion to dismiss filed. Pritchard attorney for appellee and Barber attorney for appellant.

Court then adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

NEW YORK NEWS LETTER

New York, Jan. 13.—The authorities have arrived at the conclusion that taxing personal property doesn't pay; that in the main the city loses money by putting its personal property on the tax roll. Every little while a new set of reformers spring up with extravagant ideas of their duty to make everybody pay taxes; so they go through the city, building after building, and taking names from the door by door, putting the figures opposite to them on the assessment rolls.

But no stream of cash ever flows into the city treasury from these newly discovered places, for almost to a man the newly assessed swear off their names. The assessors have kept sharp eyes on the lists of incorporated companies of other states, who have filed papers in this state, and assess them by the million of dollars, only to find in perhaps two-thirds of the cases the incorporations have not perfected their organization, and in some cases not a cent has been paid in on the stock. All this has caused great loss to the city, not alone for the loss of expected collections, but because for each one of these worthless assessed ones there has been a reduction of the relative assessments of the good ones, and so the city has failed to collect a couple of thousand dollars by assessing it upon a worthless, who hasn't paid, of course, and the general assessment has been lessened by just that much, and the receipts of the total tax roll has panned out just so much less.

BERNHART COMPLAINS OF HIGH PRICED SEATS.

Madame Bernhart, who speaks by the card, says the ruin of the greater drama is before the public of greater cities because the price of seats is going up to $2 per piece, and that while vaudeville and automobiles are growing cheaper.

MAYOR McCLELLAN HAS DISAPPOINTED TAMMANY.

Tammany Hall doesn't like Mayor McClellan's utterances. In his speech upon taking office, when Mayor McClellan said the present one is the last office he will ever fill, they conclude that that fellow has cut the bridges behind him, and in the language of the boys, he doesn't care whether school keeps or not. The workers think that if he has aspirations for the future, they have at least held upon him for a public man, and can convince him in some way that he will need them to procure what he wants hereafter; but "what the use" when a mayor gets up and says, "I've got enough; I'll make a success if I can, but nothing else, thank you."

Then Mayor McClellan goes on to give New York City good government if he can, by putting good executive men in place, and then holding them responsible. Well, New York is ready for any surprise that may come to hand, and will have a surprise for sure in beholding the operations of a real businesslike administration in the metropolis. There are those who believe this cannot be done, but it is certain that Tammany fears that it can be accomplished. Certainly, Mayor McClellan is clean, himself, and with Murphy's efficiency and good sense, there is much hope that "Little Mac" will do something. Murphy has enough in the shape of contracts to enable him to rest outside the breastworks without his being distressed. Well, time is working wonders. Here has Philadelphia utterly smashed the graft and ring, with sledge hammer blows and lifting straight from the shoulder. And there was the Folk fight in Missouri and the overthrow of Cox in Ohio and of Odell in New York.

TRUE HERO WORE NEW YORK POLICE BADGE.

One of the heroes of the police force—"Ajax" Whitman—fell a victim to a swindle in New York city, by circumventing the grafters as it were. Well, any way, to get rid of them. But how Tammany Hall must hate its candidate for mayor.

FAVORITISM IN RAILROAD RATES

Here is a lesson in benevolence. Benevolence means the way the railroads treat the foreign manufacturer. It is nice to be a foreign manufacturer when you can send 100 lbs of crockery from Berlin, Germany, all the way to Denver, Colorado, for 78 cents. But if you live in East Liverpool, O., where the make crockery, also, you can't get it to Denver for less than $1.47. By all means, don't make your crockery in East Liverpool, O. No wonder Pittsburgh glass makers have been establishing factories in Germany. It is because the railroads will then be kind to them. Would it not be a funny joke on the railroads if the president would be given more power to regulate rates?

RAILROAD TOPICS

Fireman Wells, who some time ago quit the employ of the Santa Fe, has returned again to Raton, and taken a place as fireman.

Engineer DeLong and son, who have had charge of an engine on the coal run of the Santa Fe, Raton & Eastern railway, have resigned their positions.

S. A. McCoy, of Epris, and R. O. Locke, of Belen, both of whom are employed by the Santa Fe as the Belen cut-off, were visitors in the city yesterday and last night.

Loren Collip, formerly fireman on the Santa Fe, who resigned some time ago, has accepted a position in the same capacity with the Santa Fe, Raton & Eastern railway, out of Raton.

B. F. Manger, who is acting manager of the Harvey houses in this district, in the place of John Stein, arrived in the city yesterday from Kansas, leaving last night for El Paso.

W. F. Buck, master mechanic of the Santa Fe at Needles, Cal., arrived in the city yesterday and spent the day the guest of I. C. Hicks, master mechanic for the Santa Fe at this point. Mr. Buck is en route to Needles from a trip to New York, to which place he has been on company business.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company is making preparations in conjunction with the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Manhattan, Kas., to have the professors of the college deliver lectures on the culture of corn in all the farming localities in Kansas that are tapped by that road.

D. E. Smith, who has charge of the Hopi house, in the Grand canyon, arrived in the city yesterday to visit with J. F. Huckle, manager of the Harvey curio department, who arrived yesterday from headquarters in Kansas City, and who left last night for El Paso. Mr. Smith, who is accompanied by his wife, left last night for the canyon.

During the recent coal famine, which, as far as this city is concerned, still exists, it is said that the Santa Fe Central railroad seized all coal on its lines, as is the usual custom, when a coal famine is on, but that instead of confining it for the road's use, the sold it at an advanced price, to consumers along their lines. However, The Evening Citizen does not vouch for the truth of this rumor.

Owing to the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine meeting in Los Angeles, May 7-10, the Santa Fe will have a rate of one fare for the round trip to that city a few days previous to the above dates. The Santa Fe will also sell one fare tickets for the round trip to Los Angeles for the National Educational association which meets in that city July 9-13, and for the National Baptist convention, which meets September 16.

J. F. Huckle, manager of the curio department of the Harvey system; B. F. Manger, manager of the eating houses in this section of the Harvey system; and Herman Switzer, local manager of the Albuquerque curio rooms, at the Alvarado, left last night for El Paso where they go to complete the arrangements for their concessions at the new union depot, which consists of the eating house, curio, news stand, check stand, barber shop and club rooms.

F. L. Waterman, traveling passenger agent of the Southwestern, with headquarters in El Paso, returned from a visit to his old home in Texas.

and is already making arrangements to handle his car when it arrives. The party will leave Philadelphia, January 26, and will arrive in that city at the end of their tour, May 9, which means a trip of 103 days. The trip will cost Mr. Harrison in the neighborhood of $9,000 for transportation alone. The private car will cost him $50 per day, and he will have to pay fare for 18 persons, no matter how few accompany him on the trip. This item will amount to about $3,600 for the trip, and the private car for 103 days will cost $5,150, which makes a total of almost $9,000. This is for transportation alone, and does not include the cost of provisions for the party, the incidental expenses, etc. Altogether it is figured that the trip will cost Mr. Harrison in the neighborhood of $15,000.

RATON HARVEY HOUSE TO BE IMPROVED.
It is stated, on good authority, that the Santa Fe has made an appropriation of $6,000 to be used to remodel the old Harvey house at Raton. The reading room will be enlarged, a large wash room will be put in, with lockers for the benefit of the engine men's clothing. Steam heat, electric lights, four bath rooms, linen rooms, eight sleeping rooms, are the principal part of the improvements. This will be for the accommodation of the railroad men, and is a much needed convenience, which will be greatly appreciated by the employees of the Santa Fe company. The Reporter understands that the house will be under the present management, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Falk.

SANTA FE DISCRIMINATES AGAINST MIDDLE WEST TRAVEL

NO ACCOMMODATIONS FURNISHED ON LIMITED TRAINS EITHER IN OR OUT OF ALBUQUERQUE.

With the growing importance of Albuquerque, the Santa Fe will soon be duty bound to give this city at least two sections on its limited trains Nos. 3 and 4. There is seldom a day that there are not from one to ten people leaving on the flyer, either in one direction or the other and some times both, but more especially on No. 3, the west bound train, and how frequent it is that these people have to take an upper berth or wait for another train, with no guarantee of better accommodations on the slower and less convenient trains. On one occasion the writer noted thirteen people leaving on train No. 3, and there was an ungraceful scramble on the part of some of the more wise ones to get aboard first to secure any lower berth that might be vacant, owing to the disposition of the passenger department to ignore this city as far as the flyers are concerned.

Another tyrannical rule perpetrated upon the people of the east—Chicago for instance—who desire to come to the middle west and enjoy the luxuries of the limited trains, is the demand for full Pullman fare from Chicago to California points, though the passenger's destination may only be Las Vegas, Albuquerque or El Paso. And although the passenger may not the sleeper fare demanded and leave the train at Albuquerque or any of the other places mentioned, the Pullman conductor immediately resells the vacated berth or section, or drawing room, for the matter, to anyone who might care to buy it.

This is morally wrong, it is not a violation of the law, and an injustice to the public and should be corrected.

What Albuquerque wants is two sections on trains Nos. 3 and 4 placed at the local station.

CHARLES BRAGG MAY REGAIN HIS HEALTH

ENCOURAGING REPORT COMES FROM SISTERS' HOSPITAL THIS MORNING.

If Charles Bragg, the 12-year-old lad who sustained a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain as the result of a fall from a street car, Friday night, continues to improve as rapidly as at present, there is little question but that he will eventually get well.

A message from the hospital, this morning, states that the youth shows marked improvement, and strong hopes are entertained of his ultimate restoration to health.

As stated in this paper, the fracture young Bragg sustained was not serious enough to be necessarily fatal, although at the time so feared. The attending physician, Dr. Elder, said that had it been a trifle lower, the chances for the boy's recovery would have been slim indeed.

He Has the Price.
The cost of living in New York, that is, if you do live, is something frightful, and I find it very difficult to recover from the Bellefontaine, 10, 20 and 30 schedule while I have the price—New York letter from ye editor, Bellefontaine (O.) Examiner.

Mother's Friend
was introduced, but now tangible evidence in the shape of countless mothers of advanced years who have used it with entire success forces us to gladly refute the integrity of this statement. Old or young, the result is the same. The mother indulges during the parturient state, and absolutely invaluable at the critical time.

For external massage, easy and simple to apply, wonderful in its effect, it serves as a living monument to the truth of that old adage, "What's in a name?" We reply, "simply Mother's Friend." 50 c. at all druggists. Send for book, "Motherhood." It is free. Bradford Regulator Co., AT ANTA, GA.

EVERYTHING PEACEFUL IN TORRANCE COUNTY

Jesús Garcia, deputy treasurer and collector of Torrance county, arrived in the city Saturday evening from Bernalillo, where he attended the funeral of Hon. Pedro Perera. Before turning to Estancia, Mr. Garcia will spend a few days in Albuquerque, renewing old acquaintances. To a reporter from The Evening Citizen, Mr. Garcia said that everything was moving nicely in the new county. The people seemed happy and prosperous and were conspicuous by their orderly conduct. "Taxes are being collected to the satisfaction of the treasurer's office. We hope some day to handle as much money as Bernalillo county officers."

Laugh, an'th world laughs with you, but laugh a whole lot an' real loud an' it thinks you're an idiot.

Two Dyspeptics
If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat-producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatin.

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat
Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

LETTER TO MANAGER MATSON DISPELS RUMOR TO THE CONTRARY.

Contrary to the rumor which has been circulated to the effect that the original Murray & Mack will not be here in accordance with advertising in the press and on bill boards, Manager Matson of the Elks theater, has received the following letter:

My Dear Mr. Matson:—Thanks for your kind reply. We will certainly be with you in due time and assure you a great show. Will send you press clippings from here tonight. Best wishes.

OLLIE MACK.

This letter bore the postmark of Denver and was dated January 8. This is one of the companies that have been making Albuquerque in recent years with great regularity and have always pleased. Mr. Mack's statement that the show is a great one is accepted as true.

CLOSED UP A SALOON ON AN ATTACHMENT

The Southwestern Brewery and Ice company yesterday secured an attachment on the saloon of V. P. Noca, on the Mountain road, known as the "Summer Gardens." The place was closed up.

The management of the place is alleged to owe the brewery considerable money, the attachment being the result of fruitless efforts on the part of the company to collect the money.
