Exciting and Unworthy Scene Between Members of Committee

MURPHY'S STRONG DENIALS

Heat of Arizona Delegation Doing Damage to Their Desired Plan.

IRRIGATION WORK AT CARLSBAD

Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—There was another stormy meeting of the house committee on territories today. Chairman Hamilton and Representative Lloyd had an angry exchange of words over Hamilton's former position on the statehood question. Former Governor Murphy of Arizona, declared that it was useless to appear before the committee, as the verdict was signed against them. He denounced as false the charge of corruption made against Arizona men who opposed joint statehood.

Members of the anti-joint statehood league of Arizona were again before the committee, but they played a less important part in the hearing than did Representative Hamilton and Representative Lloyd, who had a tilt which threatened to end in blows.

Hamilton was asking a question, which showed his leaning towards joint statehood when Lloyd remarked that the change of attitude of Hamilton on statehood was most remarkable. Hamilton denied emphatically that he had changed front, and Lloyd said that it was strange that the member from Michigan had not joined in the minority report against joint statehood when the house committee on territories at a former session reported favorably on the measure to admit Arizona and New Mexico. Hamilton explained that he was in Michigan attending a convention at this time, and consequently was not responsible for it. Lloyd said that he would accept the apology, and started for his chair. He suddenly regained his composure, and the hearing continued.

Dwight Heard, former governor of Arizona, was the first speaker. He read from the report of yesterday's hearing and said that the Arizona delegation felt that an explanation should be made by representative Powers of his intimation that Arizona was under corporate influence. Powers denied that he made any statement which could be regarded as making any such intimation. Former Governor Murphy of Arizona made a heated speech, denouncing the representatives that said railways and mining interests were using corrupt methods to defeat the joint statehood bill.

"I hereby denounce as false, libelous and slanderous any charge of corruption regardless of where it comes from," said Murphy. "I feel it utterly futile for us to appear before the committee and discuss our views on statehood. The verdict is signed and sealed against us, but I cannot refrain from denouncing this charge of corruption against our party. It would be just as fair to credit the report that hands are being put into the government's purse to take money for buildings to be used in passing the joint statehood bill."

IRRIGATION WORK TO BEGIN AT CARLSBAD

Special to The Evening Citizen. Washington, D. C., Jan. 18.—In the committee on territories today, Delegate Smith of Arizona, said that a "permitted report had gotten through out the country that he had made an object apology to Governor Powers, and to the committee." He claimed that not a dollar had been improperly used, the anti-statehood people, only using legitimate arguments. He defied any one to show to the contrary. The Arizona delegates are now talking in the committee.

The order to start work on the Carlsbad irrigation project is expected to be issued the last of the week. It will probably start with three shifts of men at work.

RESOLUTION IS CARRIED 54 TO 8

Washington, Jan. 18.—At 12:35, Tillman offered his resolution for introduction of the Morris incident. After a brief statement, in which he said that Hale had challenged him to introduce the resolution, Daniels of Virginia moved to lay the resolution on the table. Carried 54 to 8.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES GETTING ACTIVE TODAY

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 18.—The republican primaries are held here today and there will be a lively contest for the republican nomination for mayor. The number of candidates for the nomination is unusually great and the candidates are men of high standing. J. Benjamin Dimmick represents the reform element, although the Municipal League, through its head E. H. Sturgis, disclaims the assertion that Mr. Dimmick is the candidate of any faction. He has not been connected with politics except as a member of the school board. He is one of the officers of the Alliance Française, and is an accomplished French scholar. Another candidate is Mark K. Edgar, Director of Public Safety, under the present administration. He is a young man of ability and has been successful in his present position. Benton T. Jayne, Director of Public Works, and one of the leading members of the Board of Control, is also a candidate as is F. L. Wormser, ex-Director of Public Safety.

GRAND BOUNCE

To Representative of Venezuela---Moroccan Conference.

SERIOUS RIOT IN HAMBURG

Barricade Erected and Police Fired on With Fatal Effect.

FIRST POLITICAL CONVENTION

Paris, Jan. 18.—The official confirmation of Venezuela's treatment of M. Talany, the retiring French charge d'affaires at Caracas has reached the foreign office. The government immediately decided to adopt the most energetic measures to secure satisfaction. Through officials will not make direct statement, it is understood a naval demonstration is under preparation.

Mansourguet, charge d'affaires of Venezuela here, this afternoon received official announcement of his expulsion from French territory. He will leave tonight for Belgium.

MOROCCAN CONFERENCE HOLDS CLOSED SESSION

Algiers, Jan. 18.—The Moroccan conference assembled privately this afternoon, even the secretaries not being admitted. It soon developed that Spain had taken the initiative in solving the problem of trade in contraband arms, in a way satisfactory to France and Germany. The draft of the Spanish plan was drawn up this morning for discussion this afternoon. The main feature is joint legislation on the part of the powers penalizing contraband trade in arms, with recommendation that the sultan concur with the powers in its rigid repression.

A SERIOUS AND FATAL HAMBURG DEMONSTRATION

Berlin, Jan. 18.—The demonstration at Hamburg yesterday against the proposed new election law assumed a more serious aspect last night. A barricade was erected in one of the streets leading to the fish market, and the police were fired upon. Fire was opened on the police and twenty police were wounded, one having since died.

FIRST POLITICAL CONVENTION EVER KNOWN IN RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—The first national convention by a political party in the history of Russia, that of the constitutional democrats, opened here today.

NAVY BUYS FERRY BOAT OF BUNKER BUILDERS

New York, Jan. 18.—The Navy Department has practically decided to purchase from a certain bankrupt shipbuilding firm in this city a ferry boat at a cost of about $23,000. The authorities have been looking into the subject and have agreed that it would be to the advantage of the navy to acquire this vessel, which is intended for use between the naval torpedo station at Newport and the mainland. It was found that a boat of this type, which was needed at the station, could not be built for such a sum as the ferryboat now available, could be purchased for. Otherwise it is likely that the Secretary of the Navy would have asked for permission to use naval construction funds for the building of the ferryboat at the New York Navy Yard.

AGGREGATE RENTAL OF OVER THREE MILLIONS

New York, Jan. 18.—Papers were exchanged today in the biggest single transaction in factory property ever closed in this city. Through the agency of Easton & Co., real estate brokers, the Higgin's Carpet Factory property was leased to a client for ninety-nine years. The lease involves an aggregate rental of more than $3,000,000. The property is owned by Eugene Higgins and comprises twenty-four factory buildings, occupying all but four lots of the entire block bounded by West Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets and Eleventh and Twelfth avenues. The buildings have a floor capacity of more than 400,000 square feet. Easton & Co. have already sublet more than 100,000 square feet of this space for the new lessee. Until a year ago the property was occupied by the Hartford Carpet Corporation, successor to the Higgins Carpet Factory.

KANSANS DISCUSS MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Fort Scott, Kan., Jan. 18.—Municipal ownership will be the keynote of the principal discussions at the meeting of the Kansas Municipal League, which opened here today. An excellent program has been prepared for the meeting and many distinguished speakers will address the members. Municipal Ownership of Public Utilities will be extensively treated by J. P. Hindman, city attorney of Olathe, and F. T. Burroughs, city attorney of Beloit. It is expected that both papers will lead to a long and interesting discussion of the general subject of municipal ownership. Addresses on other subjects of interest to municipalities will be delivered by H. E. Cullison of Topeka, H. M. Head of Junction City, W. B. Talbott of Holton, R. A. Levitt of Salina, E. J. Crego of Burlington, Ralph Nelson of Kansas City and others.

TRAIN BURIED UNDER SNOW

Slide Was Between Denver and Leadville and Twelve Were Injured.

Annapolis, Jan. 18.—The trial of Midshipman Meriwether was continued today. Testimony has been shown that he hazed in a good natured way and without brutality, and that all his offenses were committed before the fatal fight with Branch.

Midshipman Charles M. James, of Grinnell, Iowa, a member of the second class, was served today with a charge of hazing, having eight spectators. Most of them allege that different physical exercises were required, but one or more contain the charge that James used profane and abusive language towards the under classmen.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Donald McLean, president of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, arrived here this morning, on her tour through the country, and will be the guest of the local daughters of the American Revolution during the three days she intends to spend in the city. The local Chapter of the order has made the most elaborate preparations for the reception and entertainment of the distinguished visitor, and there will be a succession of social functions, official and private, given in her honor. This afternoon she will attend the anniversary meeting of the Louis St. Clair Chapter, and this evening she will be the guest of honor at a banquet which will be given in her honor at the Wayne Hotel, and at which the regents of the twenty state chapters and the representatives of the various patriotic societies of the city will be present. ERIN AWAKES, THE GEM OF THE OCEAN

Wonderful Industrial Progress Brought About by Agricultural Organization.

SCIENTIFIC LABORATORIES

Numbering 300-400 Schools-200 Agricultural Banks and 800 Cooperative Societies.

Dublin, Jan. 18.—Amazing evidence of the extent of Ireland's industrial awakening will greet the visitor to Dublin's great World's Fair next year. Preparations for the exposition are being pushed forward with an energy in no way impaired even by the activities of the seven political parties who are taking part in the general election. Of the change that has come over the Irish spirit there can, in the political field, be no more impressive evidence than the astounding array of Oratorical speakers in Cork and Dublin when they declare that Catholics and Protestants must be Irishmen first, and make their main object the welfare of Ireland.

This is one of the indirect results of the campaign for industrial and agricultural improvement that began in 1899, with the establishment of the Irish Agricultural Organization Society. Later, the government department of agriculture and technical instruction took up the educational work of the younger body. The Dublin International Exposition of 1907 will show that these two organizations have not worked in vain. Their well planned efforts to show the Irish farmer how to make the most out of his land, how to co-operate in the purchase of modern machinery and the marketing of his crops, and the establishment of more than 200 agricultural banks have had splendid results. In all, over 300 co-operative societies (twenty of them for home industries) have been formed by the "I. A. O. S."

In the industrial field the department of agriculture and technical instruction has done even more for the betterment of Ireland. It has established 300 scientific laboratories and manual training schools, and its general program of scientific education is in operation in 400 schools which have nearly 40,000 pupils. The fruits of this five years' work are seen every day in the increase of Ireland's manufacturing output. Over 70,000 people are employed in textile industries, and the home or "cottage" industries are likewise prospering. There never was so large an output of nor a better demand for Irish lace and embroidery. Ireland is training its own skilled labor for all kinds of manufacturing industries and educating the most skillful dairymen, poultry raisers, farmers and craftsmen. The exposition of 1907 will worthily celebrate the progress Ireland is making. The necessary funds have been guaranteed, and nothing now stands in the way of the entire success of the undertaking both from a national and international point of view.

BUDDING LAWYERS MUST BE EXAMINED

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY DEATH AND SUICIDE

Ayer Shoots Himself When Told His House Had Burned Down

DESTROYING ALL HIS FAMILY

Of Seven Persons--Police Suspect Him of Their Previous Murder.

Pembroke, N. S., Jan. 18.—The authorities today are investigating a grim tragedy in which seven persons met death and one committed suicide. Yesterday the home of Charles Ayer, in North Pembroke, burned and Mrs. Isaac Lakeman, his mother-in-law, and his wife and five children, burned to death. Ayer was away at the time, and when informed of the destruction of the property, shot himself. The police believe that Ayer killed the family with an axe and then set fire to his home. He had been brooding over financial trouble. In the search of the ruins the bodies were discovered this morning but in such a condition that it was impossible to tell whether or not they had been murdered before the fire.

ORGANIZED FOR SIMPLE THEFT

Weighters in Kansas City Stock Yards Conspire to Cheat Shippers

OVER AND UNDER WEIGHTS

Traders Were in Collusion With Them to Divide Unhoiy Gains

BY FORTY AND SIXTY PERCENT

Kansas City, Jan. 18.—The evidence of the existence of the stock yards in this city, of an organization of men to defraud shippers by a system of overweighting and underweighting, was disclosed in a trial here of Jay J. Miller, a trader charged with perjury. Miller's trial is the first in the cases of eleven weighmasters and others at the stock yards, who were indicted last year, following investigation by a committee of the traders' exchange.

Miller testified before the grand jury that indicted the men that he knew nothing of the existence of the alleged crookedness, and the prosecution is trying to prove he did. A. J. Judy, present chairman of the finance committee of the traders' exchange, admitted candidly on the stand that he knew about the combine, that he profited by the thefts and was a party to them. Judy testified that Carl Wrightmire, weighmaster, and one of the men under indictment, had asked him to enter the combine and he had done so. "He told," testified Judy, "all about the organization that had been arranged to short and overweigh. He said there was already a number of men at the yards in it, and that when they bought cattle, they were underweighed. He offered to pay me on the list, I to give him forty per cent of what we made and to retain sixty per cent, and he to divide the money among the men who weighed the cattle at the yards. He said that already in the combination were Henry Nichols, Jay J. Miller, Ray Bowen, Cy Van, George Wright and some of the Whitlites."

BIGELOW PLAYS THE BOLD HAND

Refuses to Give Source of Information to Senate Committee.

TO PRISON OR BANISHMENT

Will Go Rather Than Tell Who Told the Tale to Him.

COMMITTEE CONSIDERING CASE

Washington, Jan. 18.—Poultny Bigelow, a magazine writer who was denounced by Secretary Taft for his criticism of the management of canal affairs, declined to disclose to the senate committee the source of his information. Upon being instructed to answer, he declared:

"The committee can put me on bread and water, or even condemn me to Colon, but it cannot compel me to divulge that which was given to me in confidence."

The committee went into executive session to determine what course should be taken. Bigelow's statement was made when the public hearings, in their investigation of questions relating to the Panama canal, were begun today before the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals. Bigelow was the first witness.

On motion of Morgan the oath was presented to Bigelow but the witness said he was a Quaker, and was therefore permitted to "affirm." Bigelow was allowed to tell his story in his own way. Going to a map of the isthmus, he pointed out that the laborers were landed in an oozy swamp of a pestilential character, and he asserted that the sanitation was of the worst character at Colon. Bigelow said he spent most of his time on the isthmus investigating the sanitary conditions.

M. O. CHADBOURNE LEAVES THE TRACTION COMPANY

Orders were issued from the office of the Albuquerque traction company today announcing that all employees of the company would hereafter receive their orders from Frank A. Stortz instead of Superintendent M. O. Chadbourne as the latter had severed his connection with the company. These orders were signed by President W. H. Greer. Mr. Chadbourne stated, when asked to confirm the report that he had severed his connection with the traction company, that he and Mr. Greer had fallen out over a personal matter and his dismissal from the service of the company was the result. He had made no arrangements for the future as to whether he will continue his residence in Albuquerque or not.

President Greer stated that he would give his personal attention to the management of the street railway in the future and that no successor to Mr. Chadbourne would be appointed.

AMERICAN LUMBER COMPANY LOSES GENERAL MANAGER

RESIGNATION DUE TO FAILING HEALTH--SUCCESSOR NOT YET APPOINTED

Richard Jones yesterday tendered his resignation as general manager for the American Lumber Company, and it has been accepted by the company. Mr. Jones has made no public statement as to the cause of his leaving the lumber company, but it is presumed that it is failing health. W. P. Johnson, president of the company, has shouldered the duties of general manager until Mr. Jones' successor is appointed. Mr. Jones has a two-year lease on the apartments he occupies in Park View terrace, and it is very likely that he will continue to make Albuquerque his home for some time.

HAGERMAN'S NOMINATION HAS BEEN CONFIRMED

It seems that the nomination of a number of people who are in doubt concerning the confirmation of Herbert J. Hagerman, to be the Governor of New Mexico, The Congressional Record, on the 10th inst., states that Mr. Hagerman's nomination was confirmed by the senate the day previous. Therefore, there is no doubt that the inauguration ceremonies will take place at Santa Fe, Monday, January 22d. The oath of office will be administered by the chief justice of the supreme court of the territory to Mr. Hagerman, at 12 o'clock, noon, in the chambers of the supreme court.

CONTRACTOR HAYDEN SAYS STATEMENTS ARE FALSE

DENIES ACCOUNT OF RECENT CARPENTERS' STRIKE IN LOCAL LABOR PAPER.

Some weeks ago The Evening Citizen told exclusively of a strike declared by carpenters in the employ of Contractor A. W. Hayden. In connection with the same affair the Labor Advocate says:

"A. W. Hayden, contractor and builder, has been declared UNFAIR by all organized labor of Albuquerque. He discharged all his carpenters—13 in number—on December 22. They were all old residents of this city, well known and respected. He evidently prefers to employ non-union help and cheap labor, especially men of an unsavory reputation; men that other contractors would not employ under any circumstances.

"It is reported that the building committee of the Presbyterian church demands the work be performed by union men, in keeping with the sentiment of that denomination."

Relative to the above, A. W. Hayden says:

"Let me, through The Evening Citizen, explain to you as they exist. The statement that I discharged the thirteen carpenters referred to, is an absolute falsehood. Previous to December 22nd, I did discharge out Pat Ward, an agitator, and a very undesirable employee. Among other things, Ward would go among the men and tell them to take it easy, and in other ways make himself obnoxious. On the 22nd the local union called the remaining thirteen men out. Contrary to the statement in the union paper, they were not old residents, but rather, men who had been in the city but a short time. Relative to my alleged preference of hiring non-union help, will say that I never ask any man whether he is union or non-union. If he is competent, that is all I require. The non-union men at present in my employ are securing the same wages that the union men did when they left my employ, which will explain the malicious statement in the local labor organ that I insist upon cheap labor.

At present I have eighteen men working for me, and have not suffered in the least, as a result of the strike. As far as the statement is concerned relative to the building committee of the Presbyterian church demanding that the work on this temple of worship be performed by union labor, will say that the said building committee has not dictated to me who I shall employ."

A GOOD THING.

When it Comes Along Don't Let it Get Away From You.

"I really feel that it is hardly possible to say too much in favor of Grape-Nuts as a health food," writes a Chicago woman.

"For 9 or 10 years I had suffered from indigestion and chronic constipation, caused by the continued use of coffee and high, heavy, greasy foods. My ailments made my life so wretched that I was eager to try anything that held out a promise of help. And that is how I happened to buy a package of Grape-Nuts food last spring.

"That ended my experiments. For in Grape-Nuts I found exactly what I wanted and needed. From the day I began to use it I noticed an improvement and in a very few weeks I found my health completely restored. My digestive apparatus now works perfectly and my chronic constipation has been entirely relieved. I have gained in weight materially. My life is a very pleasant thing to me so long as I use Grape-Nuts once or twice a day. I have found by experiment that if I leave it off for a few days my health suffers.

"A physician in our town has great success in treating stomach troubles, and the secret of it is that he compels us to use Grape-Nuts food.

"It always brings back the power of digestion." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

GREATEST PHILANTHRO- PIST OF THE AGE

Public sneers and ridicule, then contemptuous tolerance, then timorous patronage, and at last enthusiastic commendation from the greatest religious leaders and political rulers of the world have marked the recognition of the work of General Wm. Booth, the greatest practical philanthropist of this age.

He who attempts to lift the fallen has more than the weight of the fallen themselves to contend with—the far more cruel resistance of established custom and prejudice. But it is a fixed law of God that every effort for the uplifting of humanity shall, in spite health, hope, and become independent and good citizens.

The doctrine of the "landless man to the landless land" was not an inspiration. It was the result of long study and investigation of conditions. Mr. Booth was a Methodist minister in his early years, and it did not take him long to discover that there is a great class of people that the regular churches cannot reach. He took religion into the streets and slums.

But he observed, too, that religion alone cannot cure poverty, and misfortune, and ignorance, which form great social cess pools in all large cities and cause most of the woes of humanity. The treatment of these dis-of all opposition, have good result somewhere, sometime, whether we understand or not.

The two and a half million converts and the 8,000 branches of the Salvation Army in 47 countries are a tremendous accomplishment for a lifetime.

But it is not all. At the age of 76, and after 60 years of labor at the head of the Salvation Army and the Christian Mission, out of which it grew, General Booth has crowned world wide philanthropy with the greatest of all practical philanthropies, in the movement to establish the poor of the cities on the vacant lands of the earth, where they may find food, purpose, cases in a practical way is the crowning purpose of his life, and his method wherever tried has proved successful.

What ultimate complete success may mean for the happiness of the world is more than the imagination of man can grasp.

Here is the Christianity that does things. Here is the greatest practicing Christians of our times. The central fire of his character is simplicity. His soul is one white, steadfast devotion to one ideal, and this flame burns up the irrelevant chaff and dust and debris which choke the spirits of men who are interested in themselves.

WILLARD ORGANIZES BOARD OF TRADE

ELECTS OFFICERS, AND ARE NOW
READY TO BOOST FOR THE ES-TANCIA VALLEY.

Special Correspondence.

Willard, N. M., Jan. 16.—At an enthusiastic meeting of the business men of Willard held last night at the office of Mr. L. Means, the Willard board of trade was organized, with the following officers:

President—Louis A. McRae.
Vice President—Benton S. Jackson.
Secretary—Frank L. Walrath.
Treasurer—Alf L. Means.
Executive Committee—Carl A. Dal-

The matter of a constitution and by-laws was referred to the executive committee and they will report at a special meeting, called for that purpose, whenever their report is ready. Willard has made a most remarkable growth during the few months of its existence in 1905, and the outlook for the new year is most encouraging. During the extreme cold weather, here, as elsewhere, work was practically at a standstill, but with the coming of warmer weather, the sound of the saw and hammer is again making music for the busy people who are shaping the destinies of the future business metropolis of the Estancia valley. The Willard board of trade has become a necessity in the development of this part of New Mexico, and the enthusiasm manifested indicates the kind of people who are to lead in the work of building up and making Willard and vicinity a good place to live in.

Several matters of importance were introduced and discussed at this meeting, which will be disposed of at the next meeting. Every member of the organization is a thorough business man, alive to the opportunities now presented, and it is the purpose to so work in harmony and union that any good thing will have to hurry to get around Willard.

CORRECTION IS MADE

AS TO SHEEP ASSESSMENT.
President J. S. Duncan, of the territorial board of equalization, has made the following correction as to the action of the board regarding the assessment valuation of sheep, as published in The Citizen and other papers:

He says: "Whereas, the former valuation had been fixed at $1.25 per head for common sheep and $1.50 for grade sheep, a general and uniform valuation was placed on all sheep at $1.25 a head."

By placing grade and common sheep on the same general level an incentive is offered to all sheep men to improve their grade of stock, since one costs no more than the other and sells to better advantage. Sheep men generally are pleased with this action of the board.

SANTA FE ELKS WILL GO TO DENVER

ANTLERED HERD OF THE CAP-ITOL CITY ARRANGING FOR A TRIP IN JULY.

The Elks of Santa Fe met last Monday evening at their lodge hall to form a Denver club. The object of the club is to pay into a common treasury a monthly payment, which will enable the members to attend the meeting of the grand lodge at Denver, July 16 to 19, inclusive.

A number of the Elks signified their intention of joining the club, and many names were enrolled. Those who have not as yet placed their names on the list should communicate at once with President N. L. King or Secretary J. A. Fischer.

It is the intention to go in a body and to wear an appropriate general costume. It is safe to say that the jolly fellows from this city will make a good showing in the Queen City of the Plains. Committees on arrangements, uniforms and transportation and accommodations were appointed.

GOVERNMENT TO HELP

PHOENIX IRRIGATIONISTS.
A. B. Fowler, president of the Water Users' association, Phoenix, has wired Secretary F. H. Parker that Secretariat of the Interior Hitchcock has formally offered to purchase the holdings of the Arizona Water company in the Salt river valley.

It is presumed that the price the government proposes to pay is based on the value fixed by the appraising commissioner, which is $304,161. Of this amount the farmers' holdings are valued at $25,000, leaving $279,161 to be paid the water company.

Secretary Hitchcock's action fills the farmers with delight, as it in all probability will insure water for the coming season.

WEDDINGS IN HIGH SOCIETY CIRCLES

Also Bitter Railway Warfare in Local Buffalo Belt Companies.

OTHER IMPORTANT ASSEMBLIES

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 18.—The wedding of William McK. Smith, owner of Trinity hall, where the Military School is, and Mrs. Lucy Butler Patton, which will take place here this evening, promises to be one of the most brilliant social events of the season. Both the bride and the bridegroom are prominent in society, and their engagement, a few months ago, attracted considerable attention here and in other cities, where the two have numerous acquaintances. After an extended wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Washington, Pa.

CUPID AND HYMEN

WORK IN UNISON.
Boston, Mass., Jan. 18.—Alderman Edward L. Canby, a leading politician, and business man, of this city, and Miss Della M. Ney, one of the most beautiful society girls of Charleston, were married here this morning. The wedding took place in St. Catherine's Church, to which Miss Ney has been longed for a number of years. Miss Ney has been prominent in social and church circles for several years, and is a general favorite in the younger social set.

BOARD OF FISHERIES

MEET AT NORFOLK.
Norfolk, Va., Jan. 18.—The annual meeting of the State Fisheries Board will be held here this afternoon. The meeting is of special importance, as it is the last meeting before the expiration of the terms of the officers of the board, in March. The reorganization of the board and the reading of various reports will constitute the principal business of the meeting.

LOCAL PEOPLE ENGAGE

IN RAILROAD WARFARE.
Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 18.—The State Railroad Commissioners will meet here today to hear arguments in the matter of the applications for a certificate of necessity, for a terminal by the Buffalo, Lake Erie & Niagara Railroad company. The company wants to run a belt around Buffalo. The line covers practically the same territory as that traversed by the Buffalo Terminal Railroad company, which has also applied for such a certificate. The two companies are composed of rival business men, and the commissioners will have considerable difficulty in solving the problem before them. The frontier company was denied a certificate last year, and the present application is practically a renewal of the former application. The Railroad Commissioners will have to decide on the strength of the testimony and arguments offered, which one of the two rival companies, if any, is entitled to a certificate. It is safe to say that, no matter what the decision of the Railroad Commissioners may be, the company ruled out will appeal to the courts to have the decision of the commission set aside. The result may be that the line will not be built for several years.

STOCK BREEDERS AND DRY MEN MEET.

Speakers for the Dairy Union will be ex-Governor W. D. Hoard of Wisconsin, C. B. Lane, are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach and digestive tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

MRS. LORING NICHOLS, Peas Vau, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

Joint Statehood

The Daily Optic does not agree with The Citizen either on government or grammar. In quoting from this paper the statement that the United States are a closed corporation, the Optic quotes the word "are," supposedly for the same reason that a writer often puts quotation marks around slang words. This writer begs to inform his esteemed brother of the Optic that he is thoroughly familiar with the controversy—which was waged about the time the said brother began to imitate the milk that nourished his infancy—as to whether it is correct to say the United States are or the United States is. Without entering more at length into this controversy, The Citizen man calls the attention of the Optic writer to the Constitution of the United States, which he will find in amendment XI, the expression, "against one of the United States;" and in section three of the original constitution, this language—treason against the United States shall consist only in the levying of war against them, or in adhering to their enemies." It may be added that the expression "United States is," does not occur in the constitution, and only with exceeding rareness in the writings or speeches of the fathers during the first half of the government's first century.

Nor does our brother succeed any better in his argument that joint statehood should be dependent upon the consent of the governed. Presumably, again, he means the kicking corporations of Arizona, their owners and their hired men. For never a joint statehood advocate has ever objected to submitting the question to a vote of the people of New Mexico and Arizona—the combined people who are to be affected by the measure—and letting the question stand or fall by the expressed will of a majority of those voting. Why should New Mexico be kept out of the union by Arizona votes, any more than Arizona be forced into the union by New Mexico votes? The new state will have a definitely known boundary. Whether or not such state shall be made, can be determined in fairness only by the vote of a majority of the people living within that boundary. If New Mexico were to be made a state in any event, and the question were for Arizona to say whether she desires to be a part of that state, then the vote on that question should be submitted also to Arizona; but when the fate of the proposed state is made dependent upon the vote of a minority of the people to be affected, and the entrance of New Mexico into the union is taken away from her decision and given to Arizona alone, we have an example of consent of the governed with a vengeance.

The Optic is unfortunate in its argument in another point. It says: "In addition to the declaration which our forefathers made and which has been generally subscribed to by our people, there is a constitutional provision that no single state may be made from two or parts of two without the consent of the people of both states. This provision, as the Kansas City Journal says in an editorial quoted elsewhere, should in equity and in morals apply to the people of territories as well as of states."

It does not apply in the constitution to territories, but granting that it does apply in equity and morals, as the Optic and the Kansas City Journal contend, The Citizen would ask either of these papers whether New Mexico gave her consent to the partition of her territory at the time the county of Arizona was segregated and made into another territory to please certain office seekers? Most assuredly she neither consented nor was asked to consent. If, then, the separation was immoral and inequitable, should not congress undo what it did by reuniting what it discovered? For congress to allow the Arizona bill to pass the dog, when the very existence of Arizona is a crime, say the Optic and the Kansas City Journal, is a continuance of wrongdoing, for which no plea of palliation is possible.

Curtis on Statehood

W. E. Curtis writes a long letter to the Chicago Record-Herald, from which The Citizen makes the following selections:

"It looks very much as if the joint statehood bill, making two states out of four territories, would be passed by both houses, but the opposition is evidently strong enough and determined enough to secure the adoption of what is known as the Foraker amendment, providing that in the case of Arizona and New Mexico the union of the two territories as one state shall be contingent upon the consent of the people. Without that provision the bill cannot pass the senate."

"The advocates of joint statehood insist that a majority of the people of both territories are favorable to their proposition. They also repudiate the suggestion that they are forcing a union upon an unwilling community. Hence they cannot consistently refuse the 'ad referendum' amendment. I understand that even Senator Beveridge is willing to accept it. He told me that he had no objections, but that far has not officially signified his assent, and it is expected that he will insist that a majority on joint ballot, so to speak, shall be accepted as final. That, however, will never be agreed to by the opponents of the joint statehood bill. The Foraker amendment provides that unless a majority of lawful voters in each of the territories shall accept the constitution, the action of congress shall be null and void and that the two territories shall preserve their separate existence as at present until further legislation."

"The disposition of the senate generally is against forcing joint statehood upon an unwilling people, and there is a decided majority in favor of a referendum. The opposition to the Beveridge bill includes some of the strongest men on both sides. Senator Craker will, as before, take the lead. He will be supported by Senator Spooner, who has been indifferent to the question until this session, and by Mr. Flint, the new senator from California, who brings with him such a reputation for ability and force that Mr. Beveridge declined to permit him to become a member of the committee on territories, of which he (Beveridge) is chairman."

The unreliability of Curtis in statements of fact is well known in New Mexico, where his recent slanders of the territory and her people will not soon be forgotten. That his going to Washington has in no perceptible degree increased his ability to be accurate, is fully demonstrated from the following extract from the same letter:

"Until recently no one outside of Albuquerque, which hopes to be the capital of the joint state, and a few scattering politicians in New Mexico, was in favor of joint statehood, but, since the president has declared himself so strongly in favor of the proposition, nearly all the office-holders, the Republican central committee, and other ambitious politicians have wadded around, which shows how influential a man we have in the White House. And his determination to do everything in his power to secure the passage of the joint statehood bill, recommended by his messenger, is indicated by the fact that he would not reappoint Governor Otero because of his attitude on the question, and would not announce the nomination of young Mr. Hagerman as Governor Otero's successor until that gentleman had climbed on the platform and declared himself. Since those declarations I understand that public sentiment has been changing quite rapidly."

Governor Hagerman, whose appointment as chief executive of this territory was confirmed by the senate on yesterday a week ago, will be sworn into office at Santa Fe, in the supreme court chambers, next Monday, January 22, at the hour of noon, by Chief Justice Mills. The noon ceremony will be followed by a public reception and a subscription ball the same evening.

"Yes," said the musical young woman, "we spent the whole evening trying to play a new sort of polka."

"You don't say," replied Jack Potter. "What was the limit?"

Some Information
On French Election

The French National Assembly, which yesterday elected M. Fallieres to be president of the republic, consists of two bodies—the Senate and the House of Deputies—and the aggregate membership of the joint body is about 900, the vote yesterday for the two highest candidates totaling 820. The election was held not in Paris, but at Versailles and in the royal and historic palace built there by Louis XIV.

M. Fallieres, who takes possession of his office about the middle of next month, will be the eighth president of the third French republic, his predecessors having been Tiers, Maréchal MacMahon, Jules Gravy, Sadi-Carnot, Casimir-Perier, Felix Faure and Emile Loubet. Of them M. Casimir-Perier is the only living ex-president of France.

The election of a new president is always a momentous matter and causes great stir in Paris as well as in Versailles and throughout France in general. For weeks and months the various candidates, and there were quite a number of them, had been conducting their campaigns with more or less eclat and energy. The newspapers, taking the part of this or that candidate had been carrying on a bitter war and many articles of a personal nature appeared on the editorial pages of the various papers, with a view of strengthening or weakening certain of the candidates, as the case might be.

When President Loubet was elected president of the republic, he was president of the senate. M. Fallieres, who was also president of the senate and presided at the joint session of the National Assembly, was generally believed to be the strongest candidate for the position. The re-election of M. Loubet was entirely out of the question. In the first place he had absolutely declined to be a candidate again and, in the second place, it was extremely doubtful that he could be re-elected, even should he be a candidate. M. Loubet was born December 31, 1838, and is, therefore, too old to stand another term as president; he had proven himself too good a statesman to be able to command the votes of the senators and deputies of the various opposition parties; and, lastly, there is an unwritten law against any president of the republic becoming his own successor.

The president of France is elected for a term of seven years. He is scarcely more than a decorative figurehead, almost powerless in his relations to the legislative body. He can, it is true, introduce bills through his ministers; he can promulgate laws and is held responsible for their execution; but he has no veto power and may merely return an obnoxious law to the chambers with a request for further deliberation. Theoretically he commands the army and the navy and appoints all civil and military employees; practically he does nothing of the sort. Endowed with the gift of pardon, he rarely exercises it without being inspired by the ministry, and more rarely still without the demand by law from the chambers. He can and does, on the advice of the senate, dissolve the chamber of deputies. For all practical purposes, incidentally and customarily, he is the decorative head of the nation, the host of foreign potentates, who bids them welcome in the name of France and speeds their departure.

Next to M. Fallieres, Paul Doumer, president of the chamber of deputies, was the strongest candidate. He represents the younger and more active element. Although he is popular with the people of France, he is strongly antagonized by some powerful groups in both chambers. He is only 48 years old and a thorough Parisian.

Another strong candidate was Leon Bourgeois, who was a member of M. Loubet's cabinet in 1892 and is a personal friend of M. Loubet. He is 54 years old, is bright, and a clever statesman and, for that reason was highly objectionable to French politicians. Another objection to him was that he is a widower and would, for that reason, not be in a position to entertain distinguished visitors, especially when accompanied by their wives. Among the other candidates were Dr. Combes, Paul Deschanel, Jean Dupuy, M. Brisson, M. Rouvier and a number of others.

Pugilist Contrasts
Frenzied Financier

Jack O'Brien, prize fighter, drove from hotel to hotel in New York and was politely but firmly asked to seek other quarters. Jack is described by a friend as "a gentle sort of chap with mild blue eyes and soft voice," and by himself as "a decent fellow" who does not "drink, smoke or swear." There may be very reasonable objections to intimate relations with a prize fighter, but there are worse men in this world than prize fighters, men whose methods are more heartless and whose blows are more crushing, and these are not only freely admitted but warmly welcomed to the swiftest hotels.

Strangely enough, in one of the hotels which excluded the prize fighter, and on the same day, the house authorities rescued a millionaire trust magnate who had entrenched himself in his bathroom to escape the service of legal papers. A tale has long been in print, and never denied, that at another of these same hotels eight connecting rooms were cheerfully placed at the disposal of a pair of frenzied financiers, that they might escape the observation of a friend whom they were seeking to swindle.

The prize fighter must play his game fairly, under established regulations. His gloves must pass inspection, and he must not hit below the belt, nor hit his adversary when he is down. Of how many promoters, frenzied financiers, bucket shop keepers, and "captains of industry," who constantly haunt the corridors of Fifth avenue hotels, can as much be said? This is no defense of Jack O'Brien or his profession, but it is impossible not to observe that a prize fighter is a gentleman of honor and fine feeling, compared with the scheming, treacherous, heartless financial bruisers and slingers for whom the Fifth avenue hotels always have the glad hand.

Deadly Danger From Chinese Pigtailed

From San Francisco Chronicle.

German papers forwarded by Consul-General Guenther of Frankfurt state that the importation of Chinese pigtailed, which are imported into Europe in packages of 1,000 pounds each, was recently the subject of court proceedings in England. A laborer who was employed in preparing canals' hair, cheap foreign wool and human hair, had been taken sick with fatal inflammation of the spleen (miltbrand). In order to fix the cause it was ascertained that the pigtailed after being cut off the heads of the Chinese, were at once braided and packed. The possibility exists that the hair comes from the head of a Chinese who suffered from the plague or some other contagious disease. Two previous cases of "miltbrand" have occurred among the workmen of the English establishment. It is therefore indicated that these pigtailed should be closely examined under the microscope, and the result may be to prohibit their importation.

IGNACIO ARMIJO

IS DECAPITATED

Run Down By Engine 839 at 12:10 This Morning—Death
Was Accident.

LEAVES WIFE AND SIX CHILDREN

Because he failed to notice an engine that was backing down upon a track on which he was standing, Ignacio Armijo, a coach cleaner, was literally decapitated this morning at 12:10 o'clock, opposite the Alvarado, by Santa Fe engine No. 839, in charge of Engineer Williams.

Engine 839, which had brought in a freight, was backing down to the round house on track No. 2, which was the track next to the one occupied by train No. 4. Armijo evidently failed to hear or see the approaching engine, which was moving at a slow rate of speed, with the bell ringing.

His left arm from the shoulder to the finger tips was mashed to pieces and hung in shreds. The body was but slightly bruised, however, by the rolling, as he evidently fell on the outside of the track.

The most gruesome part of the accident, and the one that brought instant death, was the fact that the wheels of the engine cut from the front and top part of the man's head from his body, leaving one ear hanging to the skull and the other to the back part of the head which remained on the shoulders. Close up under his chin, and diagonally across the neck and lower part of his head, the wheels passed, cleaving the skull from his body as cleanly as though it had been done with the surgeon's knife. Strange to say the skull was positively not mangled or crushed in the least. The man had merely been decapitated.

An odd feature of the accident was the fact that a little silver watch, found in the pocket of the victim of the accident, was still running after the accident. A lead pencil, piece of chewing tobacco and one or two other little trinkets, were all that was found in the pockets of the deceased when they were searched by the coroner.

At the coroner's inquest, which was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, in Justice Craig's office, it developed that the deceased was standing between tracks 1 and 2, when No. 4, the Chicago limited pulled in, in charge of Engineer Jack Fenner, on track No. 1, and that at the same time engine 389, in charge of Engineer Williams, was backing down on track No. 2. Engineer Fenner stated that he saw two men standing between the tracks as his engine passed them, one at each end of a wooden horse on which they stand to wipe the windows of the cars. The second man, however, could not be located, as he disappeared immediately after the accident, and as yet cannot be found.

No one saw the accident at the time it occurred. The deceased's two companions were in the waiting room of the depot when the accident occurred, and discovered the body on coming back to where they had left Armijo before No. 4 pulled in. Becoming frightened at the sight, they fled to the round house.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death through accident, occasioned by his not seeing or hearing the engine that killed him. Transportation has been asked for the body and for Mrs. Armijo and her six little children to Sabinal, Socorro county, where the wife desires the internment to take place, which will be furnished by the Santa Fe company.

Deceased was apparently about 56 years old and has resided in Barajas for some time. He has been employed by the Santa Fe for several years.

WANTS 3c FARES
FOR WORKINGMEN
IN SAN FRANCISCO

Union Labor Supervisor Will Head
Crusade for Reduction of Street Car
Fares Between 5:30 and 8 a. m. and 5 to 7 p. m.

George F. Duffey.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 18.—A crusade for 3-cent street car fares will be inaugurated by Supervisor-elect Geo. F. Duffey, of the Union Labor Party, who will introduce an ordinance to that effect this month. While such legislation is not new, Duffey's has the original quality of aiming to benefit working men and women only, inasmuch as the 3-cent rate is to apply only between the hours of 5:30 and 8 a. m. and 5 and 7 p. m. The business man who rides to his office at the comfortable hour of 9 and leaves for home at 4 will pay the regulation fare, as will, also, the afternoon shopper and participant in urban night life. Duffey claims to have sufficient support to make the measure a law, but the street railways claim such an ordinance is invalid and will put up a strong fight.

"Capital," remarked the great authority on finance, "is timid."

"It is," assented the man who was not so great an authority, but who was a close observer. "It is—when you're trying to get hold of it. But not when it's after you."

JOINT STATEHOOD FAVORED IN RESOLUTIONS BY COMMITTEE

Of the County Republican Party at Meeting Held This Morning--Vacancy on Committee Filled By Electing Don J. Rankin.

At a called meeting of the republican central committee of Bernalillo county, territory of New Mexico, held this morning at the office of La Banderita Americano, upon motion of W. H. Greer, a member of the committee, a committee of three of its members was appointed to draft resolutions favoring statehood.

The committee appointed reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

Be it Resolved, That the republican central committee of Bernalillo county, territory of New Mexico, within which county is situated one of the largest and most progressive cities of the territory, Albuquerque, on behalf of the republicans of Bernalillo county represent that we are in full accord with the policy of the national republican party and of the national republican administration, at the head of which stands President Roosevelt, in our desire to be admitted to the sisterhood of states, under the Hamilton bill uniting New Mexico and Arizona as one state, as we think that the provisions of the said bill are just and liberal and for the best interests of all the people within the proposed limits.

Be it Resolved, That we are in full accord with the avowed policy of Hon. Herbert J. Hagerman, governor of New Mexico, as to the admission of New Mexico and Arizona as one state, and fully appreciate his sentiments as expressed by the press in favor of the proposed union.

Be it Resolved, That we are cognizant of the fact that for over fifty years we have been existing under a territorial form of government and have been knocking at the gates of congress for admission without success, although fully entitled under all circumstances to admission, and know that if not admitted now, under the present bill, New Mexico will remain as a territory for an indefinite term, may be another half century, to the detriment of the interests and progress of the whole people.

Be it Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to members of congress; to the chairman of committees on territories of the house and senate; to Hon. W. H. Andrews, our delegate in congress of the United States; to Hon. Bernard S. Rodney, who is now in Washington on behalf of joint statehood, and that they be published in The Evening Citizen.

FRANK A. HUBBELL,
W. H. GREER,
NESTOR MONTOYA,
Committee.

Notice of said meeting of republican central committee of this county was published in The Evening Citizen, and in consequence of the publicity given every member of the committee, except one, was present at the meeting this morning.

After the unanimous adoption of the above resolution, D. M. J. Rankin was chosen a member of the central committee, vice Thomas Hughes, deceased.

Discussion, pro and con, on politics and especially on the forthcoming campaigns in the city and county, this spring and fall, were indulged in, and as one member stated after the committee had adjourned, "it was unanimously agreed to fight the sore-head republicans and democrats with a solid united party this spring and fall, and win with the nominees on the republican tickets from top to bottom."

Murray and Mack, the old reliables, who are famous for their style of comedy, will present to their many admirers a brand new comedy upon their appearance here Saturday night, January 20, when they will present the first time here "Around the Town." This comedy is very much in line with their former successes as to movement, color and quickness of action. They have surrounded themselves this year with a very capable company, carrying every bit of scenery that they use in the production, and an expert electrician who has made a very close study with the light effects, and many pretty scenes are promised. Foremost in the cast this season may be mentioned the Trocadero quartet, four young men who have made themselves quite valuable in vaudeville. They will introduce their specialty in the third act. Miss Fanny Sanford will be seen in the character part of the spinster. Miss

Leaning over the wagon box Moran allowed his head to topple over inside, and there he lay in the embrace of Morpheus until his lodging place was transferred to Tijeras avenue. Moran was fined $5 this morning, and will cut out the ostrich act the next time the notion to get drunk strikes him.

BURGLARS WILL BE DISCHARGED

Under Statutes Judge Crawford Finds He Will Be Unable to Hold Them.

THEY WILL BE REARRESTED.

There is small probability now but what Judge Crawford will discharge John Johnston and Samuel Falls, the two alleged burglars, from custody, and that the men will be immediately rearrested on a misdemeanor charge. The police justice has been carefully looking up the law since yesterday, and though he is still searching the statutes, he has yet to find how he can legally hold the men on the felony charge, as at present preferred.

This morning Attorney W. C. Heacock, representing the defendants, submitted his brief, which stated that no claim was made that burglary had been committed or even pretended, and it was burglary with which his defendants were charged. The testimony of the prosecution exclusively showed that only an attempt had been made to enter the house of Carl Hoffman, which every legal authority showed could only be construed as a misdemeanor and not a felony. In view of this Attorney Heacock said his clients were entitled to a jury trial and could not be committed to the grand jury. He quoted from several authorities, all of which, in fact, which substantiated his argument. One of these was the decision of a Massachusetts judge that an assault with intent to murder was not a felony either at common law or by statute, but a misdemeanor, highly aggravated. Attorney Heacock asked for the discharge of his clients on the following grounds:

First—Because there was no evidence tending to show that any burglary had been committed or that the house named in complaint was ever broken into or entered by the defendants.

Second—Because if the evidence tends to show anything in this case, it is not more or other than an attempt to break or enter said house, and such is not a crime by any law of the territory of New Mexico.

Third—Because the evidence shows that these defendants attempted to break or enter said house, such would, if proven, amount to no more than a misdemeanor, and this court could not try the same without giving the defendants their right to a trial by jury, which they have not been waived by the defendants.

Judge Crawford has not yet rendered his decision.

PARTY OF HUNTERS HAVE LEFT THE CITY

J. P. Sipes, a diamond broker of Indianapolis, Ind., accompanied by his wife and A. S. Teague, a hunter's friend of Delta, Colo., who arrived in this city the other day from a hunt extending from Mangus, Colo., to this city, have left the city. Mr. Sipes and wife returning to Indianapolis, and Mr. Teague going to Santa Fe. The party traveled in a two-horse camping outfit and had with them three bloodhounds belonging to Mr. Teague, the guide. They stated that they succeeded in killing two large bears and several cubs and wild cats on the trip. Mrs. Sipes, who is an adept horsewoman, rode a pony most of the time in preference to the wagon, which was used mostly for carrying the tent, cooking utensils and other parts of the hunting outfit. Mr. Sipes stated that he would return to New Mexico next winter for another hunt.

WEAR A CARNATION IN YOUR BUTTONHOLE

ON JANUARY 29, AS A TRIBUTE TO WILLIAM MCKINLEY, THE MARY-
TYRED PRESIDENT—"CARNATION DAY."

Wear a carnation on January 29. Join with patriotic citizens of the United States in paying tribute to the memory of a great American, a martyr to his country and to patriotism. Such is the request that is being circulated all over the country from Dayton, Ohio, the headquarters of the Carnation League of America. It is for the purpose of keeping green the memory of the late President William McKinley, to install in the minds of the youth of the country the lessons of patriotic devotion to duty, of which William McKinley was for years the living example, that this movement was started two years ago. The insignia of the league is the carnation, the favorite flower of the martyred president.

Carnation day, January 29, has become known throughout the world, and all patriots are falling into line to honor the dead. It was in January, 1903, that the custom of wearing the carnation was started, and it has rapidly gained its ground that last year in many places the supply of carnations was exhausted early in the day. Many prominent men in public life, including the president, vice president and congressmen are directors of the league and are interested in spreading the lessons of patriotism.

Personal letters have been sent throughout the United States by Lewis G. Reynolds, of Dayton, Ohio, one of the trustees, reminding the people of the significance of the day and asking them to wear a carnation. The wearing of the carnation league is contained in the following:

"Believing that the future greatness of the country can best be assured by a growth of citizenship among all the people, and that good citizenship may be promoted by keeping fresh in our hearts and minds the best traditions of our country, and that this can, in a measure, be accomplished by a proper observance of all our national days, I charge myself from this time forward to give thoughtful consideration to the patriotic lesson presented by such day, and to endeavor to have others to do the same."

The custom of observing carnation day is growing rapidly among all Americans, regardless of party affiliations.

"Huh," said the fresh cigar salesman, "there isn't one man in a hundred who comes in this store that is a judge of a cigar."

"I can readily believe that," said the man who was lighting his. "In fact, that's why they come here."

LUNATIC CLAIMS ALDERMAN'S HOME

Pablo Pober Also Believes He Owns All City Property East of Railroad.

AN OFFICER'S EXCITING CHASE

Pablo Pober, a Slav, labors under the impression that a large part of New Albuquerque belongs to him, or to be correct, to himself and father. Pober now occupies a cell in the city prison and is suspected of being a lunatic. He will be examined as to his sanity later, and in all probability committed to the hospital for the demented at Las Vegas.

The estate of Pober, according to this queer individual, consists of all that property east of the Santa Fe railroad, within the city of Albuquerque. Certain places on the Highlands, however, seem to be ones which Pober feels it his duty to watch over, and for the time being he has taken possession of the house of Alderman A. E. Walker on High street. He says he bought the Walker residence.

Pober has been hanging around the Walker home for some days. As he has formed the opinion that the occupants of the house have no right there, his presence has caused considerable alarm on the part of the women folks, who feared the fellow might do them bodily harm.

This morning before Mr. Walker took his departure, Pober had endeavored to enter the house. The police were called and Officer Joe Salazar responded. As soon as Pober caught sight of the officer he took to his heels and though a man well advanced in years, he proved himself a good sprinter. Down one street and up another the pursuer and pursued. The chase finally led to "Dog Town." Pober dashed into a house there, and was a few feet behind. Into a room dashed Pober. He lifted up the quilts on a bed and sprang beneath them. Here he was found by Officer Salazar. Pober was apparently sound asleep, and was highly indignant when the policeman aroused him.

Pober's makeup would frighten any one. His face is covered with a thick, black beard, through which a pair of wild eyes radiantly shine. It is said he owns the house into which he fled when pursued by the officer.

CHURCH AND SOCIAL GATHERINGS

The Catholic Ladies' Aid society will give a card party in St. Mary's hall Thursday evening, January 18, for the benefit of the society. An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged, which includes cards and refreshments.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. W. G. Hope, on Copper avenue, the regular meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society was held, at which time refreshments were served, all present enjoying themselves immensely.

The regular meeting of the Missionary society of the Congregational church was held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Shoupe, 409 South Arno street. A large number of the members of the society were present and the meeting was a thoroughly delightful affair in every particular.

The two piano recitals given by the pupils of Mrs. Gideon, assisted by herself and Mrs. Miller as vocalist, and Mr. Hadden as violinist, in the hall room of the Elks' opera house yesterday afternoon and evening, was very largely attended by the parents of the pupils and friends of the different performers and was a decided success from an artistic point of view. The pupils showing in their efforts the great care and attention their training had received at the hands of Mrs. Gideon.

A social will be held at the public library building this evening, the property of which will be applied to the building fund of the new Presbyterian church. An excellent program has been arranged, in which the Presbyterian male quartet will take a prominent part, besides there are a number of vocal and instrumental numbers. A nominal admission of twenty-five cents will be charged at the doors, which will also include refreshments.

POOR OLD BURRO HAD TO STAND ALL

It's all about a mule. This burro has been dragged to the courts, because in the first place Bachechi & Glom, the liquor dealers, claimed its master, one Baleno Garcia, of Arisco, owed them something like $40. The liquor men sued, secured a judgment, failed to secure the cash from Garcia and left the matter in the hands of Sheriff Arujo, who for want of something else attached the donkey. Garcia proceeded to Justice of the Peace Chavez in Old Town, and had his burro replevined. This morning Justice Chavez decided the litigation by ordering the burro restored to Garcia. Attorney Marron took an appeal to this decision for his clients, Bachechi & Glom, and the case will be sent to the district court for disposition.

CHICAGOANS WERE TIRED BUT HAPPY

When They Waved Farewell to Albuquerque Last Night. Royally Entertained.

THEY PRAISE OUR HOSPITALITY

The Chicago Commercial association delegation, who are touring the southwest, have come and gone, and with them has gone a lasting impression of the hospitality and good cheer to be found in the metropolis of New Mexico, as exemplified through the efforts of the entertainment committee of the Commercial club and the citizens at large.

Tired and weary, with the strong hospitality of Albuquerque's style of entertaining indelibly impressed upon their memory, the delegation sought their berths in the two Pullmans in which they are traveling last night, with mingled feelings of relief and regret; regret that once again they could rest their weary bones, and regret that the association in which they had been entertained by Albuquerque's population was at an end.

The entertainment committee from the Commercial club, composed of Messrs. Greer, Marron, Coffin, McGaffey, Macpherson, Hesselgren, Gunnaf, Hubbell, Stover and Strubbe, did all in their power to make the delegation feel that for the time being the city was their own, and that the committee succeeded in this endeavor goes without saying. Each member of the committee deserves all credit for the manner in which they discharged their obligations.

After a strenuous day sightseeing and romping around the town, in which the playful "tiger" was bucked occasionally, "just for pastime," as Neil Satterlee, with a pocketful of silver dollars, put it, the delegation was entertained by the members of the Commercial club with an informal reception and dance at the club rooms, which was largely attended by members of the club and their ladies, and it was not until close to the leaving time of No. 7, 11:59 p. m., on which train the delegation left, that night for the west, that the merry party of dancers began to depart.

At last night's reception given the delegation the statehood question was discussed and W. M. Thompson, chairman of the Chicago Commercial association, wired a message to Speaker Cannon, which was read in congress today, to the effect that during the delegation's trip through New Mexico all sentiments expressed had been for joint statehood and that they do not see why Arizona should object, inasmuch as the class of New Mexicans that they had met were all highly educated and intelligent, and as it was their humble opinion that the jointure of the two territories would benefit them and the country at large.

Before leaving, several members of the party spoke with much enthusiasm of their reception here, and spoke highly of the drive around the city, the visit to the American Lumber company's plant, and other amusements that had been furnished for their special delectation, and stated that they would always have a large spot in their hearts reserved for Albuquerque.

THE MEANING OF "FARCE COMEDY"

Few persons understand precisely what farce comedy now implies. Some years ago there were only five styles of entertainment on the stage, drama, comedies, operas, vaudeville and concert.

"Farce comedies" comprise almost all these known styles of entertainment. This is especially so in the production of "Hooligan's Troubles," which is soon to appear here. The plot of the piece makes it in the nature of a drama, and as it is full of diverting situations it is also a comedy. There are specialties of a vaudeville nature and songs similar to those of comic opera as well as grand opera. Hence it is a musical farce comedy and actually a rendering of the best in all stage productions.

"Hooligan's Troubles" will appear at the Elks' theater on next Tuesday evening.

Ira Thomas, who caught for the penman winning Providence team in the Eastern League, last season, has signed a New York American contract for 1906. Before his signature was accepted, Griffith took Thomas to a specialist, who examined his arm, to see if it were all right. Thomas hurt his arm last season, and Griffith was talking no chances to annex a dead one.

Colloquialisms of the diamond are pretty apt to become current throughout the country as the shifting of players makes the spread of pat sayings easy. "Rubber collar managers" is the latest appellation given to the managers of minor league ball teams by the players. It is a felicitous designation of the bush league autocrat, and in the words of Rube Waddell, contains just enough sting to give it a lovely plunger.

FAVORITISM IN RAILROAD RATES

What a funny balance. It shows 100 pounds of paint heavier than 100 pounds of paint. Also, it is bearing down on the short arm of the balance. The railroad must go by such a balance. For, see, the rate on paint from Chicago, to Ogden, Utah, is $1.35. And the rate from Chicago to San Francisco is 80 cents; and San Francisco is 824 miles farther than Ogden. This is worse than the balance the ice man uses.

RAILROAD TOPICS

The case of the Phoenix & Eastern railway versus the Arizona & Eastern railway is before the Arizona supreme court. They are contending for right of way along the Gila river.

The new Union depot at El Paso will not be ready for occupancy and use before the first of March, according to the contractors who are erecting the building.

D. A. Shope, superintendent of bridges and building for the Arizona division of the Santa Fe, arrived in the city yesterday on company business, from his headquarters in Winslow.

H. J. Moore, traveling passenger agent of the Santa Fe, with offices in Los Angeles, arrived in the city yesterday and accompanied the Chicago Commercial association delegation on their trip west last night.

W. R. Brown, division freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe at El Paso, who has been in the city several days with the delegation of the Chicago Commercial association, left for his home in El Paso last night.

G. A. Davidson, former cashier in the treasurer's department of the Santa Fe, has succeeded W. G. Taylor as auditor of the coast lines of the Santa Fe. Davidson is well known in Albuquerque among the railroad men.

V. C. Proctor, connected with the bridge and building department of the Santa Fe, in the capacity of foreman at Winslow, Ariz., and who has charge of the bridge work west of this city, was in the city yesterday, returning to headquarters last night.

Eugene Martineau has arrived in the city from Winslow, Ariz., and assumed the duties of stenographer in the office of J. J. Custer. John Brennan, whom he relieved, has gone to Winslow, and is in the office of Superintendent E. J. Gibson. In Martineau's place.

The annual report of the general superintendent of railway mail service for the fiscal year of 1905, which has just been issued, shows the total number of miles of service by railroad, electric, cable and steamboat lines, to have been 376,584,037.

James Dun, chief engineer for the Santa Fe, arrived in the city last night from Topeka, Kas., and later left for Belen, where he goes to make an inspection of the work on the cut-off. He will remain at the works for several days, returning via this city after which he will make an inspection tour west.

B. H. Moore, of Wellington, Kas., who has relieved James Hughes in the store room department of the Santa Fe at Bakersfield, Cal., passed through the city yesterday en route to that place to assume his new duties. Hughes has accepted a position in the mechanical department of the Santa Fe.

P. J. Scullion, connected with the storekeeper's department of the Santa Fe coast lines, in this city, yesterday received word from Montreal, Canada, of the serious illness of his father, and left this morning for that place. Mr. Scullion is a member of the local Knights of Columbus and is well known in the city.

G. L. Cobb and Frank Eiter of Kansas City, general passenger agent and traveling passenger agent respectively of the C. M. & St. P. R. R. left for El Paso after spending the night with friends in Las Vegas. Mr. Eiter is a brother of W. K. Eiter, superintendent of the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe.

Governor Hoch of Kansas, in a speech a day or two ago, before the board of agriculture, advocated the purchasing of railroads by the people.

would suffer to any great extent in the spring.

A peculiar situation that has been existing in New Mexico this winter, said Mr. Rankin, "is the fact that the Rock Island's lines, which traverse New Mexico from north to south, and which are built in open prairie country, are blocked by the snow drifts, while the Santa Fe's lines, which run through the mountains, are troubled little, if any, with the snow drifts. Evidently we have the logical winter route."

Violet Dale, the vaudeville actress, who was injured in a wreck of the California Limited on the Santa Fe a few weeks ago, and who later brought suit for damages in the sum of $25,000, has compromised with the Santa Fe company, according to a high official of that road, she receiving $150 as payment in full for all her claims against the road.

Yesterday about fifty graders from the Belen cut-off, under contract with the Grant Bros. Construction company, arrived in the city and left last night for Wickenburg, Ariz., on No. 1, in charge of Angus Cashion, a superintendent for the Grant company. The men will work on the new line being built from Wickenburg to Ludlow, Cal., and which is a part of the Santa Fe's new short line to the coast. As all of the graders had several months' pay in their pockets yesterday they made things lively for a while, especially around the saloons and gambling houses.

CHIEF ENGINEER DUN VISITING THE CUT-OFF

MR. DUN REFUSES TO CONFIRM REPORT THAT HE WILL RETIRE ON COMPLETION OF THE NEW MEXICO EASTERN.

James Dun, chief engineer for the Santa Fe, and Charles Lantry, of the Lantry-Sharp Construction company, were in the city several hours last night while en route to Belen. They arrived from the east and traveled in Mr. Dun's private car.

Leaving the car at Belen they will make two trips out from the cut-off town, which will consume several days. One will be over the New Mexico Eastern, which is just being completed through Abo canyon, and the other will be a journey over the ground from Belen to Rio Puerco, where the work of extending the eastern will be started at once. The distance from Belen to Rio Puerco is about twenty-three miles and it is calculated that the road will be completed within two months after it is commenced.

Mr. Dun refused to either confirm or deny the report that he was to retire from active service with the completion of the cut-off, which will leave vacant the position of chief engineer of the Santa Fe.

MONTICELLO TO CELEBRATE APPROACHING MARRIAGE

January 20th, at the home of the bride's parents, at Monticello are the date and place set for the wedding of J. A. Grandpierre of Paraje and Miss Adela Bourquet, the charming and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Bourquet, says the Chieftain. The bride-elect is well known and much beloved in Socorro. She formerly spent some time here as a student at St. Carmel convent and has since been in the city two or three times in attendance at normal institutes. The lucky man is a brother-in-law of A. E. Roullet, the widely known Paraje merchant and stockman. The happy couple will, therefore, enter into the married state with the good wishes of a large circle of friends and acquaintances to cheer them on their way.

Mothers! Retain Your Youthful Figures.

To be beautiful is to be loved by all. If there lives the woman who is indifferent to this she is yet to be heard of. Yet from time immemorial society has recognized what they thought to be a detriment in the way of such a realization. The bearing of children has meant to them the marring of physical beauty of figure, without which beauty of face would be of little account. Nothing could be more remote from truth than this; childbirth is purely a natural phenomenon, accompanied by pain, to be sure, but if properly managed no more harmful in its effects upon the human form than any other natural function.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

It is essential in the proper management of every case of labor, it relaxes and softens the abdominal muscles, thereby enabling them to sustain the stretching that they must undergo and from this very fact it facilitates their return to normal proportions after childbirth, and it is obvious that pain must be greatly lessened from this very reason.

It is a salient, it is harmless, it is potent, it is powerful in its results, it is Mother's Friend. $1.00 per bottle at drug stores. (This book of priceless value sent free to all women.)

Hickox and T. Y. Maynard, the interested parties. Both stated that they would be as one firm on and after February 1, closing the store room now occupied by Mr. Maynard, but continuing the business at the place now occupied by Mr. Hickox.

This combination will indeed make a strong one in the jewelry business, for both gentlemen have followed this particular line of traffic for many years, and as they are thoroughly well known it is needless to say that they will do a big business in the future.

Mr. Maynard has been in business here for himself since 1895, and has been rated very successful. Mr. Hickox came here a short time ago and purchased the H. E. Fox stock. Years ago he was in business here, and in those early years was considered one of Albuquerque's strong business men. He has not lost any of his tact to secure trade, and with Mr. Maynard as partner, the new firm will surely force to the front in the future.

THE DAYS ARE LEAVING TONIGHT

IN THEIR DEPARTURE ALBUQUERQUE LOSES GOOD CITIZENS WHILE EL PASO GAINS THEM.

Darby A. Day, district manager for the Mutual Life Insurance company, returned this morning from El Paso, where he has fully arranged to move tonight. Mr. Day secured six rooms in the Coles building at the corner of San Antonio and Oregon streets for his offices, and a very good house at 1200 Magoffin avenue for a residence.

In speaking of the trouble he had in securing office rooms at El Paso, Mr. Day said that the people of the Texas City were doing business on a commission basis. After he had dickered for a considerable length of time for his office rooms, finally closing a contract for the suite for $25 more a month than the rooms had ever brought before, the new landlord rubbing his hands, said, cunningly: "Now, Mr. Day, if you buy any carpets and will let me introduce you to the carpet dealer, I will get ten per cent on the purchase and carpets will cost you just the same."

It is needless to explain that the grasping landlord did not get any commission on anything that Mr. Day purchased.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Day from the city is deeply regretted by their numerous friends and neighbors, and by Mr. Day's business associates. Their residence here for four years has been pleasant, to say the least, but then what Albuquerque is losing is El Paso's gain. Mr. Day is a gentleman of excellent business qualities and a good citizen. Miss Nellie Kennedy, sister of Mrs. Day, will accompany them to El Paso, and also others of the local office.

Mr. and Mrs. Day have made no disposition of their new home on West Railroad avenue, and they are as yet undecided as to what to do, rent or sell it.

COYOTES INVADE ANCIENT CITY

An Albuquerque attorney who returned from Santa Fe last evening, was asked what was new in the City of the Holy Faith, to which he replied: "Nothing, it is very quiet, in fact it is so quiet that the coyotes after sun-down come into the town and roam around the plaza and make the nights hideous, and about the only amusement is chasing the little brutes, which have become quite tame, and watching a fight occasionally between the coyote and some canine. It is understood that efforts will be made to get rid of them before inauguration day."

The New Mexican has the following to say about the coyote referred to: "A coyote was seen to cross Palace avenue last night near the sanitarium. Although these animals are frequently heard at night near the town, it is rare that one is seen in the city."

SHEEP IN THE BEST OF CONDITION

Pedro Borboa, one of the foremen on the "Y" ranch of Hon. F. A. Hubbell in western Socorro county, is in the city to enjoy metropolitan life for a few days. He reported to Mr. Hubbell that his sheep were in the best of condition; that the snow on the plains is melting rapidly and there is plenty of good grass with the arroyos and holes filled with water. Mr. Borboa says the mountains are yet pretty well covered with snow, but the sheep have weathered the cold snap in fine style, and the losses, if any, will be comparatively small.
