MURDER WITH ROBBERY RAGES

Burglars Fired Upon and Killed While Robbing Railway Shops.

VILLAGE GREATLY EXCITED
Wealthy Banker Found Bound Hand and Foot With Head Crushed.

NO ATTEMPT MADE AT ROBBERY

Chicago, Jan. 20.—One burglar was killed and another fatally wounded early today at Des Plaines, a suburb of Chicago, in a battle between detectives on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad and five men, in an attempt by the latter to steal from the repair shop of the railway company. Three men were killed and the others were badly wounded. The men had exhausted their ammunition.

KILLED BY CRUSHING HEAD WITH FLATIRON.

Warren, Ohio, Jan. 20.—The people of West Farmington, a village near here, are greatly excited today as a result of the mysterious murder, last night of E. K. Lewis, a wealthy banker and farmer. An unknown man came to the home of Lewis in a carriage. Lewis and the man, it is said, were in conference for an hour. At the end of that time, the hired man found Lewis dead with his head crushed, while his hands and feet were tightly bound. Lewis' skull had been crushed with a flatiron. Lewis held many thousands of dollars' worth of chattel mortgages, and it is believed that a quarrel over one of these resulted in his death. The murderer made no attempt to rob Lewis. It is believed, as the latter's watch and pocketbook were found on his person.

HOME FOR VETERANS AND WIDOWS OF WAR.

New York, Jan. 20.—The members of the recently organized War Veterans' and Widows' Home Association will hold their second meeting this afternoon, at the residence of the president, Mrs. C. L. Morehouse. It was originally proposed to hold the meeting in the morning, to enable the men interested in the plan, to attend the meeting, but some of the veterans pointed out that the movement would depend almost altogether upon the good will and patriotism of the women, for whom it would be easier to attend a meeting in the afternoon than in the evening. It is proposed to incorporate the society as a state organization and present a petition to the mayor and the board of aldermen, for the use of the Jewel Mansion as a soldiers' home. A great deal of interest is manifested in the plan and funds are coming in from all directions in a highly satisfactory manner. It is expected that several prominent war veterans will attend the meeting, this afternoon, and will deliver short addresses in favor of the movement.

CARNATION DAY HONORS

MEMORY OF MCKINLEY.
Canton, O., Jan. 20.—Today is the anniversary of the birthday of the late President McKinley, and it is generally observed by the friends and admirers of the late president as "Carnation Day," in all parts of the country. Nearly everybody in this city, where the president had his home, is wearing carnations today, and the tomb of McKinley, in the cemetery, was profusely decorated with carnations, the favorite flower of Mr. McKinley. The Carnation League of America, which was founded shortly after McKinley's death, has done much to keep the memory of the lamented president awake, and its members, who are scattered all over the United States, never fail to observe the birthday and the day of McKinley's death by wearing one of his favorite flowers in their buttonholes.

JAPAN'S METHOD OF FINANCING HER DEBT

Tokio, Jan. 20.—The Japanese parliament, reopened its session today, with the usual ceremonies. The present session will have to deal with many highly important questions, none of them more important than the problem of providing for the financial policy of the country. A new loan of $215,000,000 is to be raised and $75,000,000 of that amount is to be paid to the soldiers and sailors of Japan in recognition of their services.

It is the intention of the government to have the entire loan paid at home. Of the total amount $100,000,000 will be raised in the open market, which is not likely to feel a pressure on this account, because in the course of the year the government is to redeem exchequer bonds for the benefit of the market. Of the remainder of the new issue, $75,000,000 as already stated, will be paid to the soldiers and sailors of the late war, and $40,000,000, which need only be issued gradually, is to be taken up by the Government's Savings Deposit Bureau. The reimbursement of the maintenance of the prisoners is not included in this financial scheme, because the amount has not yet been ascertained. The new issue will be payable by the amount of the payment receivable from Russia for the 700,000,000 yen with the war, are estimated at $115,000,000, and are to Denver Judge Gets Red Headed and Commits District Attorney.

TOOK CASES TO ANOTHER COURT

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 20.—Fred T. Sherman was arrested in Seattle today, charged with having bribed George T. Wright, mayor of Tacoma, with $6,000. Sherman had been employed by both the Barber and Independent Asphalt companies, and the bribery is alleged to have been committed during the issuance of extensive paving contracts in Tacoma recently. Mayor Wright denies having received any money. Bribery or an attempt at bribery is a felony in Washington.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY GOES TO JAIL FOR DOING DUTY.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 20.—Judge Frank Johnson today fined District Attorney George Stiger $500 for contempt of court, and ordered him committed to the county jail until the fine shall be paid. The trouble arose over the gamester cases, which were begun by Judge Johnson in October, but which were taken from his court by Stiger and removed to the west side of the criminal division, for trial. The judge said that Stiger was obstructing the administration of justice. The district attorney said that there is a statute which provides that criminal cases shall be tried in the criminal division, and that he simply did his duty. The judge gave Stiger a terrible scolding in open court.

NEW YORK COUPLE WILL TRY WEDLOCK.

New York, Jan. 20.—Mr. Lloyd Aspinwall, a great-grandson of the late William H. Aspinwall, after whom Aspinwall, the eastern terminus of the railroad crossing the isthmus of Panama, and completed in 1855, was named, and Miss Bessie Moulton, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Arthur Julian Moulton, and a great-granddaughter of the late Moses Taylor, were married here this morning at the Church of the Incarnation. Miss May Moulton was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Constance Pratt, Miss Adelaide Bayless, Miss Louise Vanderhoof, Miss Annie Leffingwell, and Miss Jane Lewis acted as bridesmaids. Stanton Whitney, George M. Kolbe, Carleton Hunt, Emerson Armstrong and Howard Marshall were the ushers, and Roswell Johnson of California, the best man. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the house of Mrs. Moulton, on Fifth avenue.

MORMON ELDERS NOT UP TO USE OF GAS.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 20.—Walter L. Wilson, of Safford, Ariz., and S. L. Cox, of Idaho Falls, Idaho, Mormon elders, were taken in an unceremonious condition from a room in the Oregon hotel this morning, both having been overcome by gas. A railroad ticket and $95 in money, which it is stated Cox had placed under his pillow, are unaccounted for. Both were unfamiliar with gas jets, and it is presumed that they failed to entirely shut off the flow when they retired. It is believed that both will recover.

FUTURE KING OF THE STANDARD OIL

WM. G. ROCKEFELLER, NEPHEW OF JOHN, HASN'T THE SOLEMN VISAGE OF THE REST OF THE KEROSENE FAMILY—HIS LAUGH A FEATURE—PEN PICTURE.

Wm. G. Rockefeller, the nephew of the great oil king, and who is looked upon as the future head of the Standard oil company, is the only one of the family who appears to have any sense of humor, or takes the least enjoyment of life.

John D., and his son, John Jr., seldom smile or laugh, at least they do not while the public is an onlooker. Not so with Wm. G. Rockefeller. One of his chief characteristics is his laugh. It is all the more striking on account of the solemn society of the other members of the billion-dollar family.

The revelations of the Missouri oil investigation may not prove of material service to the world at large, but one thing it has proved and that is that one of the members of the family of the king of trusts eat and does laugh. Young Mr. Rockefeller is like his uncle in one particular, however. He is nearly as bald, and he is prematurely so, too, for he is scarcely 30 years old. His head is a strange mingling of youth and maturity, for the top appears aged, with his shiny top, while the sides have the thick brown locks of a lad still in his teens. It is from his father that William G. has inherited the most of his facial characteristics. He has the large nose of the Rockefellers, intensified and longer than any other member of the family, and it ends in a well defined hook. His mouth is not so large as his father's, and is partially concealed by a heavy brown mustache, which is cut short and is rather shabby.

His head is well shaped, but it has not the bumps of his financial uncle, the extraordinarily wide and high forehead of his father. His eyes are hard, so that the laugh which was frequently on his face during the investigation, was of the lips, and not of the mouth. In height Wm. G. Rockefeller is near to six feet tall and he has a well developed figure. He is inconspicuous in his dress, and has so little of an air about him of either style or wealth that he would pass unnoticed in a large gathering of men.

WM. G. ROCKEFELLER.

REPRESENTATIVE CITIZENS ON THE WATER PLANT PURCHASE

Majority Oppose Stated Price and Favor City Putting in an Up-to-Date Modern System and Plant.

Relative to the action taken at last night's meeting of the city council, a representative of The Evening Citizen called upon a few of the taxpayers and representative citizens of Albuquerque with the following questions: "In view of the proposition made to the city council, last evening, by the Water company, do you think it advisable for the city to purchase the water plant, and if so, at what price? Or do you favor extending the present franchise on more favorable terms to the consumer, or do you favor the city putting in an up-to-date, modern plant of its own?"

As a result of the canvass of the citizens, the following views on the matter were extracted:

W. Mandell, Clothier.—I favor extension of franchise on more favorable terms to consumers.

A. J. Maloy, Grocer.—I favor building new plant. Never did like second hand goods.

W. H. Greer, President Albuquerque Water Co.—Think the city should put before the people of Albuquerque, and be decided by majority vote.

J. C. Baldridge, Lumber Merchant.—Am against extending the franchise under any circumstances.

J. A. Weinman, Golden Rule Dry Goods Co.—Favor building new plant. Possibly no extension of franchise.

G. L. Brooks, President J. M. Moore Realty Co.—Under no circumstances extend franchise. Favor building new plant.

P. J. Hawley, Stationer.—In favor of buying plant at reasonable price.

W. B. Childers, Attorney.—Am in favor of letting it alone—not in favor of extending the franchise or purchasing the property at the price named.

William Farr, of Farr's Meat Market.—I favor the city putting in an up-to-date modern plant of its own, unless the city can buy the old plant for what it is really worth.

F. H. Kent, Real Estate Agent.—I favor the city putting in a new plant, unless the present works can be purchased for not more than $250,000.

R. W. D. Bryan, Attorney.—I am opposed under any circumstances, to the extension of the present franchise, for the reason that it will be impossible to secure as reasonable terms for water as it would be possible for the city to furnish water under municipal ownership. From what I can hear, having no actual personal knowledge, it is my opinion that the present owners of the water works could well afford to sell them for $250,000. I believe it would pay the city to purchase the plant, even if we had to give the price asked.

John F. Pearce, Physician.—I think the city council should purchase the water plant for what it is really worth and no more. If it cannot be bought for that, let the city negotiate for the building of its own water plant.

James H. Worth, Physician.—While I think the valuation as expressed by the company is greater than a conservative estimate would figure the valuation, I am in favor of the city purchasing the plant. I am opposed to extension of franchise and favor municipal ownership.

Arthur Everett, Jeweler.—I do not believe in extending franchise. Do not think council should offer more than they did yesterday. It is my opinion that unless water company accepts offer at once offer should be withdrawn and city set about at once to install new plant.—I consider $250,000 a very generous offer.

Simon Storm, Clothier.—Buy the plant for what it is worth. If franchise is extended rates should be readjusted equitably.

F. E. Sturges, of Sturges European.—I don't drink water. See some of the other merchants.

John Borradine, Second Hand Merchandise Dealer.—Do not believe in extending franchise now. Wait till Albuquerque Eastern railroad is built into this city before taking action.

Frank P. Trotter, Grocer.—Build a plant of our own, and start with a new and decent outfit.

G. C. Bowman, Real Estate and Insurance Man.—I know the history of the purchase from the grant estate of the water system and I know that $150,000 would be a big price for the present system. Don't believe in taking any action, however, for at least ten years.

T. Y. Maynard, Jeweler.—Am against extending the franchise as I believe in municipal ownership of such things. I believe in leaving the matter of building or buying to the city council.

David Weinman, of The Economist.—I am in favor of the city putting in its own water works, or purchasing the old plant at what it is really worth, to be determined by competent expert authority on such matters.

MIDDIES ALL ANXIETY ABOUT THEIR HAZING.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 20.—Recent events have caused something like a panic among the midshipmen at the Naval Academy, who have reason to fear that they will be disciplined for violating the rule against hazing. It is said that an effort has been made to intercede in behalf of the guilty midships and induce the president to treat the offenders with clemency, when their conduct is officially investigated.

FAST FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED AT GRANTS

Special to The Evening Citizen.
Gallup, N. M., Jan. 20.—The eastbound Santa Fe freight, No. 24, which left here this morning at 7 a. m., was wrecked at Grants, spilling four cars of bonded merchandise in the ditch, and otherwise damaging the rolling stock. No casualties have been reported, but traffic is being interrupted temporarily. The wreck occurred at 1:45 p. m. for the scene of the accident.

ACROSS THE BRINY DEEP

Powers Begin to Feel Distrust of France and Germany.

HIDE THEIR REAL PURPOSE
Foreign Interests Prevent the Venezuelan Blockade By French Ships.

BY CONSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRAT

Algiers, Jan. 20.—Behind the screen of amiability that envelops the relations of the envoys of the powers to the Moroccan conference, a rising feeling of distrust is observable; due seemingly to the unwillingness of both France and Germany to define its position, beyond reaffirming somewhat wearisome adherence to the open door, sovereignty of the sultan and integrity of his territory. The French delegates, in all their conversation with their opponents, have been unable to learn precisely what is the position of Germany, nor apparently have the German representatives been able to ascertain the joint intention of France and Great Britain.

CASTRO WITH FRANCE PROVES SLY DIPLOMAT.

Paris, Jan. 20.—Officials here agree that France's action in Venezuela is hampered by the peculiar situation that foreign claims on customs are regarded as placing a blockade almost out of the question. It is feared that if France should stop commerce, Castro would immediately seize this as a pretext for refusing to comply with Venezuelan obligations towards other nations. Preparations are going forward for the reinforcement of the French squadron, but the object of this step is still undefined. This much is regarded as certain: France's next move will depend on the result of M. Jusserand's conference at Washington.

POSITION OF RUSSIA'S CONSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRATS

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—The role of the constitutional democratic party in the national assembly, according to a resolution adopted at the convention which opened here January 18, will be to obstruct all ordinary legislation. However, in case the attempt at the first session to convert the assembly into a full-fledged constituent body is unsuccessful, the members of the constitutional democratic party will endeavor to secure the passage of an election law for a general, direct and equal suffrage, together with statutes guaranteeing liberty of speech, of assembly, of the press and of religious opinion, and for the pacification of the country.

SCHOOL SHIP STARTS ON A PLEASURE TRIP.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 20.—The schooner Saratoga, of the Pennsylvania Nautical School, started today on a cruise to the Windward Islands, which will, approximately, last until April 14th. After leaving the Delaware Breakwater, the Saratoga will take a straight course for Barbados, thence to St. Kitts, St. Croix, and St. Thomas, spending about one week at each place. The ship is well equipped and the boys will have a fine outing, besides enjoying the benefit of the training, which is the principal object of the cruise.

FOLK AND BONAPARTE ADDRESS BOSTON MEN.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 20.—The annual banquet of the Boston Merchants' Association, which will be held this evening, promises to be of more than ordinary interest, owing to the fact that Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte and Governor Folk of Missouri will be the principal guests of honor on that occasion. Both are on the program for addresses, and much interest is manifested concerning the nature of their remarks.

LAST CHANCE FOR SCRAPPING

Ex-Delegate Rodey Ably Addressed Committee on Territories.

WAS OFTEN INTERRUPTED
By Democrats and Arizonans Whom He Scored Quite Mercilessly.

BILL TO BE REPORTED TUESDAY

Washington, Jan. 20.—B. S. Rodey, former delegate to congress from New Mexico, appeared before the committee on territories today delivered a speech in favor of the joint statehood bill, which afforded the democratic and republican members of the committee an opportunity for a final tilt on the statehood question. Rodey was repeatedly interrupted by questions from members of the committee and by heated arguments, designed to bring out the attitude of the administration on statehood.

Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, asked Rodey if it were not true that the president and the speaker of the house were forcing the joint statehood issue. Rodey asked to be excused from answering that question, and Chairman Hamilton intimated that the democrats were being forced by their organization to oppose the bill.

Representative Moon of Tennessee, interrupted the argument to say: "I object to the gentleman from Michigan and the gentleman from Missouri having this fuss here, when in private they express opposite opinions." Rodey desired the control of the taxation in both New Mexico and Arizona and said that corporate influence have been draining both territories and holding down their own tax. Under joint statehood, he said, the people of the two territories unite and curb these influences, prevent their public domain from being stolen. He pronounced the denunciation of the Mexican population in New Mexico as ridiculous, as said that the Mexicans were lawless and law abiding, and in no sense a menace to the welfare of the proposed state.

In answer to questions from Representative Moon, Rodey made a detailed statement of how the corporate influences control the territorial governments, which are dominated by the federal office-holders. He frankly said that he and Delegate Smith and other well known men ride on railroad passes and place themselves under obligations to the companies. Under statehood, he said the governors would be responsible directly to the people and the public demand for increased taxation of corporate interests would be respect for political reality. Rodey's speech closed the hearing before the house committee.

ANDREWS AND COMMITTEE WON'T STAND 'GREASER.' Special to The Citizen.

Washington, Jan. 20.—In the house committee on territories for the first time Delegate Andrews heard an Arizona delegate use the word "greaser." He made a positive protest against applying the word to New Mexico people. The chairman rapped vigorously and said: "The objection is just and correct, and the word must not be used again in this committee room."

Andrews has secured an order permitting the sheep men to continue in the Jemez forest reserve.

Rodey made a joint statehood speech. He was interrupted many times by members of the committee, particularly by the democrats, and also by the Arizona delegates. The committee will report Tuesday with the rule that the bill pass on Wednesday. The bill will pass the house and probably the senate.

SOMETHING NEW IN THE BUILDING WORLD

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 20.—An absolutely fireproof hotel, twelve stories high, built without a single brick, steel beam, girder or column, is Atlantic City's latest novelty. The like of the structure is not to be found anywhere else.

For various reasons—one being that the noise of erecting a steel frame building would have driven away guests from adjoining hotels—the builders and architects were called upon for plans by which it would be possible to put up a structure 326 feet long and 100 feet high, without the racket made by steel riveters and stone workers. The first exclusively hollow tile and cement building on a large scale is the result.

The necessity for keeping comparatively quiet was only one trouble of the building of this architectural wonder. At the very outset, the builders, the National Fireproofing Co., were confronted with a foundation problem which was finally solved by driving 1,300 piles into the sand of the beach by jettisoning. On this foundation a frame of concrete uprights and girders, strengthened with steel rods, was raised. Next came the walls and floors, all of fireproof hollow tile. Outside the tile is pebble dashed, and makes a very handsome and substantial appearance. Inside, the plaster is applied directly to the tile. In the floors hollow tile is also used between reinforced cement, thus saving weight and making of the traverses, as well as the upright partitions so many impenetrable fire barriers.

Comparatively low cost, great saving in time and fireproof qualities approached in any other form of construction, are the special advantages claimed for this new style of building.

Beginning work on Jan. 17th, the builders will be able to promise to complete the job so quickly that the hotel could be furnished and ready for business on February 1st. Noteworthy features of the new sea shore palace will be that every room will have a bath and a bay window. There are two sun parlors, one 25 feet wide and heated by six elaborate fireplaces, overlooking the board walk, and another running along the length of the hotel. But from the viewpoint of the hotel patron, the best thing about this new structure is that it cannot burn. Engineers and builders are more deeply interested in the novel features of construction developed in this hotel (the Marlborough-Blenheim), and many experts have been here to inspect it.

TAFT CONSIDERS BIDS FOR ISLAND RAILWAYS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 20.—The new bids for concessionary contracts or grants for the construction of railroads in the Philippine Islands, which have been submitted to Secretary Taft, after the bids submitted in answer to the previous call for proposals had been rejected, were opened this morning at 10 o'clock, and submitted to the Bureau of Insular Affairs, for computation. The former bids had been rejected because of the departures from the terms of the circular calling for proposals. Secretary Taft, after a number of conferences with Governor Wright and Mr. Forbes of the Philippine Commission, and Colonel Edwards, chief of the Insular Bureau, rejected all proposals, and readjusted for bids. The terms of the proposals were somewhat modified.

NEWS LETTERNew York, Jan. 20.—There is a fly in the amber of the enjoyment of Russell Sage when he recalls the delicious thrill that passed through his soul as he once more counted the shekels of profit that poured in upon him on the eventful days when the brokers went borrowing and paid enormous rates for the money. Mr. Sage is reported to have loaned some $20,000,000 in that sharp action, and to have made some $70,000 on the deal. Perhaps Mr. Sage took the profits home and counted them over and over to tickle his ears, that had not for some time listened to their entrancing chink-chink as one coin struck another, or the rustling of the crisp new bills, as he lovingly pulled them through his hands. But the tax assessors have been cars, too, for he saw that money gives out as it passes from hand to hand, and they said to each other, wisely, "Verily, this is that rich man who last year asked us to not require him to visit us in person to swear off his assessment, or some portion of it, and we did reduce the total at his request by better
Well, we won't do it this time. If Russell Sage can run into town to bag
a fortune in a few days, he can come to see us, and we will see if a man who can loan $20,000,000 from his pile of ready money, cannot pay a tax on $2,000,000." Mr. Sage will have to pay the full amount this year without a murmur. But it is only the master thought of his mind—to whistle down what is against him, and pile up what is for him. It does not really make any difference to him whether he pays taxes on $2,000,000 or on $1,000.

Cause of Bright's Disease.

Dr. Samuel G. Tracy sounds a note of warning against the danger attending the excessive use of common table salt, using as his text the death of Charles T. Yerkes from Bright's disease. There is certainly one good resulting from death of prominent persons whose wealth makes a good talk in the world, if they die of diseases that reap a large harvest from poor humanity—they serve to "point
a moral and adorn a tale." The prominence of Mr. Yerkes serves to bring the doctor's warning before many persons who would never otherwise have heard of it. As the mortality from kidney diseases is greatly on the increase,
it is worth while for people to take heed to what the wise physician has to say. The late Dr. Millard, during his life a noted specialist on Bright's disease, once told the writer of this,
that one cause, and a principal one,
of Bright's disease, was the exceedingly slow action of humors clogging the pores of the skin. He said that the cold aided to close the pores, and thus more work was thrown on the kidneys, which eventually succumbed.
The preventive, he said, was to ex-pell all dampness from dwellings and business places. This cause operates in such a marked degree that a consensus of opinion in an interior city found that a small stream running through the place, with dwellings close to either bank, was fringed with deaths from Bright's disease and kindred ailments.

Newly Risen Trio.

New York City, having swept away
a lot of politicians, will of course immediately take up another lot, and exalt them to the skies, obeying their slightest nod or whisper. We are now to have on the democratic side, as rulers for an indefinite period in New York City and measurably in the state—a new triumvirate, composed of the Sage of Princeton, Grover Cleveland; the mercenary parexcellence, Thomas F. Ryan, and Mayor McClellan, who has the handling of the city's offices, and who makes it clear that he will use them
as much as he can, coming on too far for the debt capacity of the city
can be raised to such figures that it can build the new subway with its own money, without being dependent upon the Rothschilds and Tom Ryan, individually. Of course, the latter will come in for his share as one ofthe Big Three in Possession, but the new subway can go on independently of the Belmont syndicate, and it will be possible to ride a foot or two in this big world from Belmont drawing a dividend from it.

Sky-Scraping Church.

A skyscraper church is to be New York's latest. The Westminster Presbyterian congregation, which has a dingy old church edifice on West Twenty-third street, which is never filled, and has a hard time raising the necessary funds to prolong its existence, is about to branch out in a new style and put up a skyscraper building, in which it will receive for itself a modest place of worship, occupying some portion of its big building for church purposes, its auditorium to be placed in the rear, and offices for its benevolent and other work taking a few of the offices, while the others are to be devoted to the purpose of raising revenue for its outside work. A church in Chicago, it is reported, is about to do the same thing. These two churches that are about to go into the new style of church building are not the pioneers,
by any means, for Rev. Dr. Judson,
the son of the great Baptist missionary, Rev. Adoniram Judson, has a church of this kind already on Washington square, his tall building—not a skyscraper, to be sure, but a tall building of many stories—being let to young men boarders. It is understood that enough profit comes from those young men to pay for all the activity of the church. It is very easy to see the advantage with its many agents,
to reach the public, to make a skyscraper pay, and pay well, too. When the Westminster Presbyterians get their new enterprise under full headway, there will be no longer any anxious appeals for money to meet ordinary expenses, and the members can devote their contributions to the spiritual work of the church. The money may as well be brought in by business efforts, as from the profits of socialists, fairs and the like, in which the sanctuary is sometimes the principal factor of profit.

Mills and Ford Ward.

Wall street has experienced a double sensational, one probably restoring the equilibrium disturbed by the other.
Old Sam Mills, one of the most notable figures Wall street ever had, has passed away, and Ferdinand Ward, General Grant's bete noir, coming back, rolling up his sleeves, and picking out the most available point at which to attack and build up a big fortune. Sam Mills was once Jay Gould's man, handling the latter's millions, and making millions for himself.
He controlled Wall street for a long time, and he turned over to Jay Gould
when they split, all the latter's big deposit in his hands without a quiver or flutter, and the millions were there to the last cent. Mills was prominent in the Union Pacific corner, and he went through the gold panic and Black Friday with Gould, and was finally ruined by Gould. And now Ferdinand Ward, the evil genius of Ulysses S. Grant, the greatest of generals, and who nearly ruined the mighty but simple minded soldier, is back on the street which once shivered at his frown. He will probably make money there, as he is nimblefitted, and Wall street has no predilection against Napoleon once dethroned, who have come back to their old stamping grounds. It is just as ready to try conclusions with the upright veteran of solid and staid ways
as the returned prodigal. It will lose money to him as easily as to any others, and will pick him clean as eager as though he were a tyro. But Wall street's loss from the retirement of Mills is not made up by a long shot
by the return of Ward.

Oil Greased Jokes.

The appearance of H. H. Rogers in the character of a humorist at the Missouri Investigating Committee hearing, was certainly a great surprise.
The Standard Oil people have been generally held to be the very quintessence of business, and yet, before Mr. Rogers came to the front as one of the funny ones, John D. Rockefeller, was hailed by the newspaper men as one of the best fellows out and full of fun. Now Rogers proves to be the same, and we must conclude that the oil greases the way for their jokes, so they come easily.

OLD TIMER.

THE NEW HIGHLAND
METHODIST CHURCHAN APPEAL WORTHY OF AT-TENTION AND ONE'S POCKET-BOOK

To the Public:

In planning for the building of this church, the most difficult problem that confronts us is, now shall we get the money with which to build? It has been said that "an honest confession is good for the soul," hence we confess in the outset, that our membership, while willing to do what they can, are not financially able to build without help, the class of building
that we desire, and the beautiful site
on North Arno and Railroad demands.
A nice church at this place will do credit to our beautiful city, while a poor one will not. The little congregation, while financially unable to erect a suitable building unaided, are too proud to undertake to palm off something in the way of a church edifice on the people of Albuquerque that would be unimproving. We further believe that the people of this city,
who have already shown their appreciation of nice churches for the city, by their liberal donations, despite the fact that so many are being built, and so many calls being made, will still respond to the good cause by aiding in procuring money to erect this church, we earnestly hope to escape the high pressure means that sometimes seem necessary to raise money for the church. As yet, we have not asked the people of this city for one dollar toward building the church. We have paid $1,000 for the lot, have a few hundred left and our present church property to begin the new building. Now, with this for a start, we appeal to the people at home. The plan decided on for raising money is this: A donation card will be presented either in person or by mail,
when donation may be made by weekly, monthly or quarterly installments, as may best suit the convenience of the donor. These payments may run through one, two or three years. We are prepared to appreciate highly any favor shown us, in the erection of this church.

Both cases were argued and submitted to the supreme court Wednesday. The attorneys in the cases are A. H. Harrison and W. B. Childers, representing the mining company, and Percy W.
Upton, representing James N. Upton.
The cases are the result of a dispute
as to the ownership of a small tract of property in the Santa Rita mining camp, sixteen miles east of Silver City, Grant county, upon which are located three stores. The company claims the right to the land, while Mr.
Upton makes a similar claim. Were these stores not located upon this one spot, it is said that no other merchant could compete with the mining company's stores because the company owns or controls all other property. The decision in these two cases has not yet been announced. Both cases were argued from the district court of Grant county.

FOR TUBERCULOSISIs Being Given a Thorough Test By the Eastern Physicians.

DISCOVERER WELL KNOWN HERE

Dr. S. C. Clark of Monroe, Mass., one of Boston's prominent physicians,
was in the city today visiting relatives, and will leave on the 6:30 train this evening for Adams, where he has been interviewing Dr. Alfred Goss in regard to the latter's method of curing tuberculosis, says the Waterbury
(N. Y.) Daily Standard.Dr. Clark has become deeply interested in the results attained by Dr.
Goss, and desires to utilize Dr. Goss' treatment among the thousands of consumptives of the Bay State. It has been practically decided that Dr. Clark will give the treatment a thorough test in Boston, where he plans to treat hundreds of consumptives at the same time with the idea of tabulating results very thoroughly. Dr. Goss has already made such cures that Dr. Clark believes that the Adams physicians have made the great medical discovery of the century, but the question that must be definitely answered is just how much recuperative power is left to a patient after the treatment
has removed the tubercular bacilli.
For over a year Dr. Goss has been treating, not the easy cases, but the very advanced stages of the disease, and has achieved a high percentage of cures.As the hostility of the Adams residents to the coming of Dr. Goss' patients and the limited facilities at the latter's disposal have greatly cramped him in his work, there is a possibility that Dr. Clark's tests are being thoroughly satisfactory. Dr. Goss will establish headquarters in Boston.As will be remembered, the Standard last spring printed exclusively a detailed account of Dr. Goss' theories, and showed how, by the introduction of a bacillus-killing gas into the lungs
by means of an electric current, the percentage of bacilli is daily reduced,
until after several days the patient's sputum shows no trace of bacilli, and the patient has begun to return rapidly to normal weight.Dr. Clark is a Lewis county man, having been born at Deer River. He has been practicing at Smithville, and in 1884 removed to Clayton, where he was health officer. Later, he practiced eight years in Rochester, and for a number of years has practiced in Boston.Dr. Goss visited Albuquerque something over a year ago, spending some time making observations of climatic and other conditions in regard to tuberculosis. He is an old friend and brother practitioner of Dr. R. I. Hust of the N. T. Armijo building.THE TERRITORIAL

COLORED CITIZENS MET AND PASSED RESOLUTIONS

Last night at a meeting held by the colored people of this city, the following resolutions, endorsing the national and territorial administrations, commending the appointment of Mr. Hagerman as governor and favoring the passage of the joint statehood bill were introduced and passed:

We, the colored people of Albuquerque, heartily endorse the Roosevelt administration in the appointment of the Hon. Herbert H. Hagerman as governor of New Mexico.

We are pleased that the governor-elect is in thorough accord with the president on the statehood question.

The colored people have abiding faith in the new governor in the belief that all meritorious citizens in New Mexico will receive just and fair treatment regardless of color or race, during his entire term of office and that the territorial laws will be faithfully carried out, thus preventing mob rule.

We extend hearty thanks to Hon. M. A. Otero, our retiring governor, for the fair and just treatment we received during his entire term of office.

We are pleased to learn that by the passage of congress of the Hodel-Hamilton joint statehood bill, no class of citizens can ever be disfranchised.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent by the secretary to Governor-elect Hagerman and to Senator Beveridge at Washington.

Perfection Attained.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, disperse, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter from the bowels, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. W. Memorial to Congress.

The Commercial Club of this city, at a recent meeting, having appointed a committee, consisting of W. H. Chidder, A. B. McGaffey and D. A. Macpherson, to prepare a memorial to congress, urging joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona, the following able document was prepared and unanimously approved, and certified by President Hopewell and Secretary McCanna, it will be sent to both houses of congress and to all city and commercial organizations throughout each of the territories interested.

The Memorial.

Your memorialist, the Commercial Club of the city of Albuquerque, New Mexico, respectfully petitions your honorable bodies to pass the act known as the Hamilton bill now pending in the house of representatives, to enable the people of the territories of Arizona and New Mexico to adopt a constitution and come into the union as one state.

Your memorialist represents that it is a commercial and social organization, composed of over 200 members, most of whom are residents of the city of Albuquerque, but many of whom reside in other parts of the territory of New Mexico. It further represents that it is distinctly non-partisan organization, in which all the business interests of the territory are represented.

The club further represents to your honorable bodies that the territories of Arizona and New Mexico were formerly one territory. That the division of New Mexico into two territories was not of diversity of interest, but for other reasons, perhaps principally for convenience of administration at a time when there were no railroads west of the Missouri river. That there is no diversity of interests; that such few differences in production of coal, iron, other mineral, and agriculture, as do exist, render each territory the complement of the other.

Your petitioner further represents that there is no real antipathy between the people of the two territories. It further represents that the efforts being made to impress your bodies that such antipathy exists, do not come from the people of either territory, but the factitious showing of interested corporations and office holders, in both territories, who are opposed, from selfish motives, to according to the people of either territory the full measure of American citizenship and the inalienable right of local self-government and representation in the congress of the United States, and a voice in the selection of the president of the United States.

These corporate interests are able at all times to send to Washington all the representatives they wish, to advocate what they assume to be their interests; and when there, assume to represent and speak for all the people. The people themselves are not able to maintain such a brilliant lobby there, even if they desired to do so.

Your petitioner submits that the constitution of our country never contemplated a government of corporations, or representation by corporations, but "a government of the people, for the people, and by the people." Upon whom does the burden of the expense of protecting the property of the large corporate interests, railroad and mining, in the two territories, fall? An examination of the court records will show what that expense is. An examination of the court records will show that it does not fall upon these corporations, but upon the private citizens who pay taxes in the two territories, when a comparison of the public expense incurred for the protection of this property is compared with the taxes assessed and collected.

Your petitioner further represents that the two territories combined have made such progress, and reached such a permanent stage of development, as to insure, if admitted as one state, a great commonwealth, forever self-sustaining, creditable to its people as well as the union.

It further represents that while both territories are making rapid strides in the development of all their material resources, mineral, agricultural, and the cattle and sheep industries, yet it is a fact patent to every unprejudiced observer and every well-informed person, that after all the lands susceptible of being cultivated by natural and artificial means have been brought under cultivation, the two territories must forever, as a whole, remain sparsely settled, and that a greater part of the total area, where useful at all, must be used for grazing purposes. In making this statement it is not meant to detract from the value of the resources of the territories. They are great and permanent, and if they can be developed and fostered under the privileges of a state government and national representation, they will undoubtedly be shown to be greater than they at present seem. Nevertheless the fact that most of the area will never furnish permanent homes to settlers, as in the east or middle western states, is but the statement of what is patent to all.

Your memorialist therefore earnestly urges the immediate passage of the joint statehood bill. Do not hold this question longer in abeyance, to the great detriment and injury of the two territories. For years the people of New Mexico have not only been denied statehood, but whenever any relief has been asked from congress for any abuse, the answer has been that statehood would soon be accorded, and the evil complained of thus remedied. The people of the two territories should not have their rights longer sacrificed to corporate interests and political considerations, or their progress retarded. The welfare of both territories, as well as that of the whole nation, demands the immediate passage of the pending act and the prompt settlement of the status of these territories. Your petitioner therefore repeats that it earnestly urges your honorable bodies to promptly enact into law this measure.

Another Railroad.

A Durango, Colorado, special to the Denver Republican yesterday says that the largest deal ever made in that county had just been made public. The Southern Pacific railroad company purchased the Porter coal mines and the price is said to have been $1,000,000.

It has been known for some time that such a deal was pending, but details were kept quiet and the news only leaked out on Thursday, when J. A. Porter, president of the Porter Fuel company, and John A. McNeil, a banker of Denver and Durango, left for Denver. They had been closing up the details of the transaction, Mr. McNeil acting for the railroad.

The Porter mines are four miles from Durango, and contain 15,000 acres, and together with other coal lands recently located and bought by the railroad people, make the Southern Pacific now the owner of about 20,000 acres. The Porter mines are the largest producers of coal in southwest Colorado. Since early last fall, the Southern Pacific has been prospecting for coal over a large area of country southwest of Durango.

The Southern Pacific has for a year or more been making surveys from its coal properties near Durango, running in a southwesterly direction through northwestern New Mexico and southeastern Arizona, to a connection in its main line, the proposed road generally being called the Arizona & Colorado, the surveys for which cross the Santa Fe between this city and Gallup. This additional purchase of coal properties at no larger a price, would seem to assure the building of the proposed road and that right speedily.

The World Does Move After All

The world is growing better. The most important upward step in the modern history of the church took place at the recent interchurch conference in New York, when the evangelical churches formed a union for greater strength in their practical work for the betterment of mankind. This action is a sign of the times. Men's minds are broadening out from the deep, narrow ruts of opinion into the common channel of work. It cannot be long until this union will embrace Jew and gentile alike, unitarian and trinitarian—until men of all creeds work together in spreading peace and happiness abroad through the earth.

During the dark ages churchmen spent their time discussing occult problems, such as how many angels could dance on the point of a needle, while the robber barons were plundering traveling merchants. And now, in this twentieth century, the more earthly subjects of apple dumplings vs. beer has stirred the eloquence of ministers from Maine to California. Words, only words, while our Jewish brothers in Russia are suffering atrocities worse than those of the Spanish Inquisition! The church has always stood too much on the defensive. What is there to defend?

That pompous part of the British royal title—"The Defender of the Faith," which Henry VIII took for himself, is the greatest paradox in the English language. If there is one thing in the world strong enough to stand alone it is faith. Like a rock it has stood in a sea of doubt, and a rock it makes of those who have it. When that squat little monk, Martin Luther, alone and without a tremor, faced his judges, the assembled powers of Europe, with "I will not recant, here I stand—so help me God!" he was not defending his faith; he was faith personified. Faith makes a man strong to do. And now there is a step toward the union of faiths. If the churches will mass their strength against that curse of all our cities, the slums; if they will find a way, as the Salvation Army has done, to reach the poor and lowly in their ignorance and misfortune; if they will declare a war of work, instead of words—then their union will bear rich fruit. The union of churches has begun, and union means strength. In union, the question among churches will no longer be What do we think? but What can we do?

Whatever We Love Is Our Possession

By Charles Grant Miller.

This is a world of beauty not to them who have money to pluck and wear its roses, but to them who have souls sensitized to the sweet odors. With love of the beautiful in man, no one can be poor; without it none can be rich. Happiness is carried not in the pocket but in the heart.

The millionaire may make his thousand-acre park in the rich valley and by a fiction of the law call it his own; but it all is the front yard of the poorest squatter in the rudest cabin on the rugged hillside. The one who has paid for it owns it? No! It is most truly possessed by the one who most enjoys it.

What can a beautiful park mean to a man whose heart is smothered in a money bag? And to one who loves the trees, the brooks, the hills, the sky, what matters it who holds the title? Why, Adam and Eve never had a deed to Eden. Descendants of theirs today hoard deeds, but not possessions. It was not the land itself which was taken away, but the power to enjoy it. What we love is ours—and nothing more. We can really possess nothing that we sacrifice to our own selfish purposes. It is only to the man who is poor that wealth glows like a bright star in the night. The law of recompense always is in force. It is only when darkness shrouds our world that we see the light of a million others. Scientists tell us that if we could approach a star its glow and glamor would vanish and the star itself dissipate into dust.

Did we not learn in babyhood that the bubble is brilliant only until we grasp it? The gems in the fine lady's hair and at her throat sparkle not for her eyes, but for the eyes of others. She owns only some stones, never the light that dances in them. This priceless treasure is only for them who love it, and for them it is scattered broadcast at their very feet in countless myriads of frost flakes on the brown winter earth and in the morning dewdrops in the summer grass. Yes, what we love is ours; and in the same degree as we love we own. All that is good in the world we may own, if we will.

Work Blesses While Worry Undermines

"I am working too hard. My work is killing me." The man is mistaken. Work does not kill. It is medicine to the body and mind and spirit. Work is the salvation of men; it cures a thousand ills. Dissipation kills, and so does worry, the latter being largely a matter of nerves or indigestion or liver. Or it may be a quality of temperament, or it may spring from envy or some other hateful habit of thought. In most cases worry is concerning things purely imaginary—things that cannot be helped.

One of the best cures for the worry habit is work, hard work of body and mind. Work requires concentration of effort and thought, and thus makes one forget his troubles. In fact, work may be made a joy, and the joy of working there is no room for worry. Right living, right thinking, work—these are specifics for most of the ills caused by worry.

Dissipation kills, and dissipation is many-sided. Excessive use of liquors, gambling, carousing are not the only ways in which one may dissipate. He may dissipate in eating as well as in drinking, or in loss of sleep, or in any form of self-indulgence, or in a foolish worry that weakens; and not only so, but the man who does not read and inform himself about what the world is doing, the man who does not form the habit of self-thinking also dissipates. So does the man who neglects to take physical exercise or to practice deep breathing; and dissipation of whatever sort kills. The effort that requires man to earn his bread through reasonable and remunerative labor is a blessing, not a curse. Whoso goes to his work, eager to do, is blessed. Whoso puts his mind to his work will find the burden of worry slip from his shoulders. And the pleasure of the task well done will become his daily joy.

Particular.

"Any man with a sense of humor," once observed Frank Daniels, the comedian, "can always find something to his entertainment if he will stand near the box-office window of the opy-house in any small town and listen to the Rabes as they make known their wants to the man who peddles the tickets."

"Out in Ohio one afternoon, I was standing near the box-office window a few minutes before the beginning of a matinee given by a friend's combination. A fine old boy from the country—one of the kind that sees about one show in two years—approached the window, his roll in his hand, and delivered himself of the following:

"Say, young feller! (In a voice loud enough to be heard a block away) 'Gimme a good seat! I want it right down in the middle lane, and close up to the exercises!'"—Harper's Weekly.

At His Word.

She—So these are the china bargains you advertise? Dealer—Yes, um'm, and they're going for little or nothing. She—All right. I'll take that blue dish for nothing.

Wife Was Starving That Medicine Might be Procured For Dying Husband.

WORKED ABOUT NIGHT AND DAY

Alone in their Mountain road abode, Mrs. Alice Landaker and her dying husband, who had been sick for nearly the pangs of hunger until their sad plight was discovered by parties in the neighborhood and their needs attended to. The Landaker home consists of one miserably furnished room. On a bed there lies the head of the household. He is a victim of tuberculosis, and his hours on earth are few. It is the question of but a short time before the deadly germ will have finished its work on the lungs of Mr. Landaker, and he will be no more.

The self-sacrificing manner in which the wife has labored for the man she promised to love and cherish, only yesterday came to the surface. While he lay on his cot unable to hardly help himself, she has some forth and worked in the factories. She had no profession to fall back on, so her earnings were but $4 or $5 per week. On this sum the necessities of life were procured, the rent paid, and the medicine the husband had to have purchased. It is understood that lately it took about all the plucky woman could earn to buy medicine with. When friends entered the house yesterday morning there was not a bite to eat in the place. Then the struggle with adversity Mrs. Landaker had experienced came out. A touch of nature will make the whole world kin. The hearts of all were touched. The grocery was communicated with. Like the butcher shop, physician's office and drug store. The pantry was soon replenished and the sick man made more comfortable. Then a warmer house was rented and the sick man moved into it. The Non-Sectarian Benevolent society was also notified and it was understood that they will render financial help toward making the last days of the sick man on earth pleasant, and permit the greatly fatigued woman needed rest and contentment, inasmuch that her loved one can die in peace.

WRITER ON MINING VISITING NEW MEXICO

EVIDENCE THAT THE TERRITORY MINING POSSIBILITIES ARE ATTRACTING THE OUTSIDE WORLD.

Blakely Graham, who has the reputation of being one of the most conservative and able mining engineers in the country, passed through the city yesterday, and visited the Stubbs Investment company. Mr. Graham has come direct from New York, on a special mission for the Mining and Engineering Journal, to investigate the mining possibilities of certain sections of New Mexico. He says that more than ordinary interest is being taken by eastern mining capitalists in the mines of New Mexico, and states that we are on the eve of a great mining boom. As Mr. Graham is well informed as to our mineral deposits, having been identified with the practical development of some of the largest producers in the territory, and is a great believer in the future of New Mexico, we feel warranted in saying that his report will be of undoubted benefit in furthering the development of an industry which we have always held will place New Mexico in the first rank as a producer of the precious metals.

In the matter of cigars until you have smoked at least one White Lily. True, there are some cigars that will afford a measure of satisfaction—it remains for the White Lily to fill the whole bill of prime tobacco, flavor, making up, shape, style and great value for little money. For, astonishingly enough, the White Lily sells for as little as five cents for a single one, and $2 for a box of fifty. If you can crowd more comfort in the smoking line into cigar shape than you'll find in this all-to-the-good cigar, tell us. We'll bet it if we can—we haven't learned how, to date.

THE CITY COUNCIL OFFERED $250,000 FOR WATER PLANT

But Company's Representative Refused the Liberal Offer—Interesting Special Meeting Held Last Night.

The city council held a special meeting in Clerk Lee's office last night for the purpose of discussing the water question.

The council on being called to order, immediately went into a committee of the whole. Alderman Walker was the first to speak. His talk was along the line of whether the plant would be a paying investment for the city. He believed that it would be a paying investment at anything less than $200,000.

Alderman Gilenwater followed Mr. Walker. Mr. Gilenwater explained that regarding additional expenditures the city would have to make in extensions would be for increased business and should not be considered as a dead investment nor a part of the purchase price.

Alderman Walker offered a second to Mr. Hanley's resolution.

Then followed a debate, and Mr. Hanley's resolution received many amendments and knocks before it finally reached its goal.

Alderman Hild said that he wasn't in favor of buying anything that wasn't for sale. "If it's for sale," he said, "let the company make an offer. It's against all principles of business to try to buy anything that's not for sale."

As to Mr. Walker's statement that we have to pay interest on $200,000, it is a fact. We don't have to sell the bonds unless we need to.

Then Mr. Hild said that he would like to know something about the bonds now covering the water works. A. B. McMillen, who was present, representing the water company, stated that $10,000 of them were due in 1912, but were payable at the option of the company at any interest paying date, which dates are twelve a year. The $25,000 of them were payable in 1915. Both issues bear 6 per cent interest.

"If what Mr. McMillen has stated is true," continued Mr. Hild, "if the water company does not care to sell its plant, let's call the business off. This last statement of Mr. Hild brought Mr. McMillen to his feet. He said that he was not there to advise the council, but he did not think that $250,000, the offer set forth in the Hanley resolution, was a fair offer.

"I have demonstrated that the property is worth more than I will make this offer," continued Mr. McMillen. "I want to understand that this was made after the stockholders of the company had held a meeting, and that it is final. We will transfer our business to the city on July 1, 1906, at all rights and privileges, franchise included, the company to pay all obligations and collect all bills, for the consideration of $275,000."

Alderman Harrison took the floor for the first time during the meeting. "I firmly believe that the city will have to renew in this city within a very short time," he said. "I was here when A. A. Grant built this plant, and we old settlers were glad to have him do it, but he built a plant for a village and not for a city like Albuquerque has grown to be. I heard Mr. Burke, manager of the water works, say in the Arkansas river valley, where conditions are very similar to what they are here, the life of a calamine pipe was not over twelve or fifteen years."

"I would like to know the condition of these pipes. I, as a member of the council, requested that the property be excavated and any of these pipes, but he failed to do so. In fact, I haven't been able to find where he dug up any pipes."

Then Mr. Harrison defined the calamine pipe. He said that it was composed of tin, lead and zinc, and in its estimation, was no better than a stove pipe.

Dr. Harrison concluded by saying: "I firmly believe that if we should buy these water works at $275,000, we would have to issue a half million dollars' worth of bonds to carry it."

Alderman Walker took the floor for the first time, and stated briefly that he was in favor of municipal ownership, and that if he was going into the water business himself he would be willing to pay $225,000 for the plant.

Mr. Walker's declaration started the amendment to the Hanley resolution, that $225,000 be inserted as the purchase price, instead of $250,000. This amendment was lost by Wilkerson, Isherwood and Leonard voting "no," and Hanley, Walker, Harrison and Hild voting "yes."

The Hanley resolution was finally adopted with a few minor alterations by Wilkerson, Hanley, Isherwood, Leonard and Walker voting "yes," and Hild and Harrison voting "no."

FIRST MESSAGE SENT TO DENVER

A. E. McKenzie of That City Bears Distinction of 'Phoning It Last Night.

IS THE FIRST LOCAL PATRON

A. E. McKenzie, of Denver, the great shooter who is in the city as the guest of Joe Barnett, bears the distinction of being the first person in Albuquerque, outside of the telephone exchange employees, who has talked with Denver, using the long distance service in any way out of the city.

Early last evening Mr. McKenzie left his call with the toll operator from the Alvarado, his ticket was made out, and the electric current was in a jiffy later whizzing over the wire to Denver, 328 miles away. Denver answered promptly, and in less time probably than it takes to tell it, Mr. McKenzie's party was roused and talking to him. It cost Mr. McKenzie $2.80 for the three minutes he "chewed the rag," but he says his money was well spent for the service was simply great.

Today many local persons conversed with other points on the line. Attorney Harry P. Owen held a three-minute talk with Santa Fe this morning, he being the first resident of Albuquerque to break in the new toll line.

The operator at the local exchange says that one call from Santa Fe was received today. No complaints thus far have been filed relative to the service so it is to be inferred that it is satisfactory.

TO-NIGHT

"AROUND THE TOWN" BY MURRAY & MACK AT ELKS OPERA HOUSE.

"Around the Town," a new comedy, by Murray & Mack, will be the attraction at the Elks opera house to-night, and from the large number of tickets sold it is quite evident the house will be crowded. This is the most pretentious offering Murray & Mack have ever attempted, and their success all along the line this season has been most encouraging. While they have always been a record-breaking attraction, judging from newspaper notices, their success this season exceeds all previous efforts. This will make Murray and Mack's fourteenth consecutive season as stars at the head of their own organization, a record that has never been duplicated in farce comedy history. While Murray and Mack are comparatively young men, they are, with three or four exceptions, in point of continued activity together, the oldest team before the public.

An entire new equipment of scenery and a complete new set of gowns have been provided for the chorus, and the stars promise a bully, bristling entertainment.

CONCERT LAST NIGHT

GIVEN BY EPWORTH LEAGUE AT THE HIGHLAND METHODIST CHURCH.

The entertainment given by the Epworth League last night at the Highland Methodist church, was an unqualified success, the audience being as large as the church could properly accommodate, and the program rendered of a nature calculated to please all tastes. The recitations by Miss Elizabeth Brown and Miss May Owens were particularly appreciated and elicited well merited applause. Miss May Owens, by special request, gave an extra reading to substitute the number allotted to C. M. Wharton, who failed to appear owing to some indisposition. Schubert's Sonata, a special arrangement for cello, rendered by J. A. Blondin, and seconded by Miss Nellie Pratt, accompanist, won this artist his usual tribute of popular favor and demand for an encore. Wardwell and Ganserlet, baritone and violin solos by Berthold Havens were all keenly appreciated. Nothing was more evident than that the concert was exceptional. As regards general satisfaction, merit, and financial returns, judged by the large attendance.

POLICE COURT

Jim Thomas was arrested yesterday morning for intoxication and picking up money at the Red Light Saloon which did not belong to him. He pleaded guilty before Judge Crawford and was sentenced to either pay $5 or serve five days on the street.

George Gleason of Thornton, when picked up by the police last night, had something like $25.00 on his person, which it can be surmised he would not have possessed this morning if allowed to continue his drunk. It only cost Gleason $5 for the consideration the city had in his welfare. Duncan Picking, a vagrant, was sleeping in the gas house last night, when "pinned." Picking gave a good account of himself, and upon his promise to leave the city today if he failed in securing work, he was released.

John O'Grady got drunk last night and fell asleep in the street. Unless he can dig up today he will be a guest of the city for five days.

Claude Moore, a negro woman, was arraigned this morning, charged with being a prostitute and keeping a disorderly house. She pleaded guilty and will be given a trial later.

SENTENCE OF DEATH IMPOSED ON JOHN CONLEY

SUPREME COURT DECISION SETTLED FATE OF CONVICTED MURDERER OF YOUNG JAMES

At 2 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, at Santa Fe the supreme court reaffirmed the decision of the lower court of the First Judicial District, Taos county, which sentenced John Conley to be hanged on the 16th of February, at Taos, for the murder of James Redding, the 19 year old son of E. S. Redding, of Questa, Taos county.

Search For Lost Brother Brings Peter McNamara to Albuquerque.

DOUBLE CAUSES TROUBLE

Peter McNamara, from the little town of Winfield, N. Y., is without doubt a nobler and more heroic man than his shabby, time worn clothes would make him out. He is searching for a lost brother, whose absence is causing a mother and sister at home sincere anguish and all probability hastening the loving parent to a premature grave. To it, possible, relieve this mantle of sorrow from his loved ones, Peter McNamara is scouring the western country for his brother, Tom McNamara, suffering the greatest hardships, with the fortitude of the really Yankee.

Peter McNamara is now in Albuquerque on his quest. He has been here for two weeks past. He was in Colorado, at work in the farming country, when letters from home unveiled to him a rupture in the domestic tranquility of his brother's home. His brother had married, and at the suggestion of his wife, and against the wishes of his father, packed up and moved to Gilt Edge, Montana.

He went to work in the mines there and his happiness was complete, until one day a tragedy occurred between him and Mrs. McNamara. Both were stubborn, and would make no concession to the other. They separated and drifted apart. The wife and a beautiful baby went back to Winfield. Tom continued on west, and the last heard of, over a year ago, was in California.

Some time ago, a family by the name of Van Dram came to Albuquerque. At a Gold avenue boarding house Mr. Van Dram met who he was positive was Tom McNamara. He spoke to the man and even accused him of masquerading under an assumed name and of concealing his identity. Mr. Van Dram, who was from Wisconsin, immediately wrote to the people in Winfield of his discovery. The glad news was transmitted to Peter in Colorado, with the request that he proceed to Albuquerque and show a reality and induce him to return home. A little money, hardly more than enough to pay his car fare, Peter obeyed the wishes of the ones he loved so devotedly, and journeyed to this city. He called at the boarding house, but failed to locate the lost brother. He then, to locate the lost brother, he ran pell mell into Tom's double, however. He was the perfect picture of McNamara, indeed, and it was no wonder that Mr. Van Dram was so positive in his convictions. He was not so heavily built, however, as the missing man, but McNamara showed a reality and induced him to return home. STORK TIME to most women is a term of anxiety, serious thought and sweet anticipation. With the cessation of pain necessary to childbirth, there comes calm nerve, sleep and recuperation.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

does diminish the pain accompanying maternity. With its aids mothers can and do bring healthy, sweet dispositions and ideal babies into the world.

Morning sickness, sore breasts and excruciating pains caused by the gradually expanding organs, are relieved by this penetrating and relaxing liniment.

Among the manifold aids to childbirth Mother's Friend has grown in popularity and gained a prestige among rich women as well as poor; it is found and welcomed in the mansion as well as in the cabin.

To lessening the mother's agony of mind and diminishing pain a beautiful influence is wrought upon the child, and instead of peevish, ill-tempered and sickly forms you have healthy, laughing humanity, reminding a blessing ever to you and its country.

All I need is a cell Mother's Friend at $1.00. Write to our free book "Motherhood." THE HEADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ALBANY, N. Y.

FAVORITISM IN RAILROAD RATES

Why does the Isabella, Tenn., storekeeper look so cheap? It is because he lives in a jerkwater town. And the railroads seem to be onto the fact. It costs him 40 cents per 100 pounds to bring his consignment of soap from Cincinnati.

While he peruses his bill of lading he digests the fact that another consignment of soap from the same house will go to Atlanta at only 27 cents per 100 pounds.

The haul to Atlanta is only 116 miles longer.

Fine business for the merchant price out in the tall timber!

RAILROAD TOPICS

A HOBO ON THE LINE

A hobo without religion. Was flat broke in Albuquerque. There was lack of the collateral. And he swore he would not work. But a cop had his eye upon him. While he shadowed every step. And he watched his moves and motions.

To the box car where he slept. The sleeping hobo muttered. As the cop had him in hand. And he said "I make a motion. You let me send a telegram." He said "I will send notice. To an old-time girl of mine. For once I was pinched at Needles. At Needles, on the line."

"I'll tell her just how this happened. And when I can get around. To her I'll make good every penny. Guarantee it safe and sound. For, believe me, it's a sad mistake, sir."

And I came here for my health. My lungs are very weak and sore. You can tell from the way I belch.

And she never has refused me. When I told her of my hard luck. And I know she can't deny me—She will certainly dig up. Then everything will be straightened.

I'll have the cash to pay my fine. For she done it once at K. C. At K. C. on the line.

The weary hobo sent the notice. And waited for a reply, in vain. Always asking and being answered. With a reply about the same.

The jailer came in and told him. "My boy, this day is the last. For tomorrow you go on the rock pile. And they will keep you going fast."

The hobo muttered language. Which sounded most profane. And swore he would not labor. It would ruin his fair name. But, as it proved, his words were useless.

His previous record would not stand. Now he is doing time at Albuquerque. At Albuquerque, on the Rio Grande.

ed with the crime, and has been identified by the little victim he choked into submission to accomplish his fell purpose.

It is state day officials of the Harvey system that over $15,000 will be spent in fixing up the rooms at the new El Paso union depot, wherein they will have their concessions. All furnishings will be of marble, Mr. Huckel, a representative of the Harvey system stated, and glass partitions will separate the dining room from the lunch counter, and the silverware and linen will be of the finest.

The following statement regarding free transportation has been made public by the Atchafalpa, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company: Advertising contracts for 1906 will be made by the Santa Fe system on the same conservative basis as last year. We will continue to exchange tickets and transportation for advertising in mediums that bring satisfactory returns. In some instances we are paying cash for advertising space, where it is a display ad."

It is rumored that Manager Pellow, of the Cardenas Harvey house at Trinidad, Colo., may go to El Paso to take charge of the concessions of the Harvey people in the new Union depot. Mr. Pellow has been in El Paso the past week with the other representatives of the Harvey system, inspecting the new depot, and while his appointment to the El Paso place has not been officially made, it is understood from a reliable source that Mr. Pellow will take charge of El Paso as soon as some one can be found for the Trinidad house.

George Haywood, an old colored man, who has been in the employ of the Lantry-Sharp Construction company as corral man for the past twenty years, and who but recently arrived in Albuquerque with two car loads of mules that were being transferred from the Belen cut-off to the New works at Needles, Cal., was kicked in the left temple by a mule yesterday morning and rendered unconscious. The doctors report this afternoon that the old man has improved, but that owing to a fracture of the skull and his advanced age, it is doubtful if he will pull through. He had gone into the corral to feed the mules and later was found unconscious. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where the doctors performed an operation on the skull in the hopes of saving the old man's life.

Miss Mamie Tyrrell, a waitress at the local Harvey house, the Alvarado, owing to the fact that she doesn't believe in banks, is out $135, according to her statement. Miss Tyrrell, who has been with the Harvey people for some time, had saved the above sum from her wages, and had been in the habit of keeping the money in a silk bag which she attached to her neck. Changing clothes Thursday, she laid the bag on her bed, and promptly forgot it. Later, when she looked for the sack it was gone. She reported the loss to the manager and a thorough search was made of the premises, but as yet the $135 has not been found, and Miss Tyrrell's trip that she was contemplating to her old home in Chicago, will of a necessity, have to be postponed.

Yesterday the Santa Fe put its force of graders at work again raising the main line between here and Isleta, work on which has been suspended some time, owing to the bad weather. When this has been completed, it is the intention of the Santa Fe people to move the freight yards further south, and use the tracks in front of the Alvarado and depot for passenger trains exclusively, as the switching of freight across Railroad avenue, with the growing of the city, is becoming not only somewhat dangerous to pedestrians and others, but is a source of great inconvenience to all who have occasion to cross the tracks on Railroad avenue, as often the crossing is blocked from five to eight minutes at a time, and some days the times are rather often.

UNION COUNTY PHYSICIAN SUFFERING WITH POISONING. Dr. E. J. Morgan, of Union county, N. M., is at San Raphael hospital, Trinidad, suffering from blood poisoning and the attending physicians are unable to determine at this time the extent of the danger, says the Chronicle. However, his case is alarming and the result cannot be foretold. The doctor owns a large stock ranch near Clayton, and a few days ago while about the ranch he accidentally ran a splinter into one leg near the knee. The splinter, which made a trifling wound, was removed, and no further attention was paid to it at the time.

The wound refused to heal however, and a couple of days later the leg began to swell, which was accompanied by severe pain. A thorough examination was made and remedies applied, but with little or no effect. Blood poisoning had set in and Dr. Morgan came to the hospital at Trinidad so that he could receive the best of care and medical attention.

The leg is still badly swollen and constantly pains him. Everything possible is being done and it is hoped that the trouble may be removed. Dr. Morgan is an old and highly respected resident of Union county and his many friends will be sorry to learn of his dangerous illness.

MR. AND MRS. JONES WILL VISIT CALIFORNIA

Richard Jones, whose resignation as general manager of the American Lumber company was announced in The Evening Citizen yesterday, stated today that he was leaving the city because of the poor health of Mrs. Jones. His health has always been the best, with the exception of the past few weeks, during which he had a slight attack of la grippe. He will leave the early part of next week for California, taking his family with him, and may locate there permanently, but he will not move his household goods from Albuquerque for a month at least. If they should not locate in California, and should finally decide to return to their old home in Michigan, they will not leave Albuquerque before March.

Sec. 3. The City Scavenger may contract for the removal of garbage, and other substances, from private premises to the city dumping ground, but in the absence of a contract the City Scavenger shall not be permitted to remove said garbage and other substances. For the removal and destruction of dead animals, the said City Scavenger shall charge not to exceed five dollars for each horse, cow, mule or burro, and not to exceed fifty cents for the removal and destruction of smaller animals. And in removing the contents of cess pools and privy vaults, the scavenger shall not charge to exceed two dollars per barrel or to exceed ten dollars per load.

Yesterday P. H. Kent, the real estate agent, sold to Colonel John Borradale the James Archer lot on West Gold avenue—the lot adjoining the building now occupied by the Star Furniture company; consideration, $1,000. It is understood that the new owner will soon improve the lot with a business building.

There is great danger to life and property in the vicinity of the Al-bright block on North Third street, which was partially destroyed by fire last spring. The block is playing with the tin roofing of the building, and if a gust should come along sufficient to tear it loose from its anchorage, great damage might result.

Thomas Lord of Chicago, has arrived in the city to look after the interests of his deceased brother, Philip Lord, who was one of the first conductors of the traction company's lines, and who died at El Paso last week as the result of being caught in a snow storm near his ranch at Estancia. Last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hubbell, Miss Ada Campfield entertained about forty of her friends with a card party. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion, two large elk heads, one at the main entrance, the other in the dining room, both trimmed with red and white incandescent lights, and a myriad of greenery, cut flowers and red and white carnations, making the rooms seem a perfect bower of spring verdure, and with the electric lights presenting a striking appearance. Winners of prizes at the card games were: Mr. A. J. Mayo, gentlemen's prize, a sterling silver cigarette case; Miss Ada Campfield, ladies' prize, point lace handkerchief and opera bag; Harry Weiller, general prize, and Mrs. E. J. The impractical joker that telephoned The Evening Citizen last evening that car No. 3 of the street railway company, had been held up in Barajas, and passengers had been robbed of $400 in jewelry and money, was too coarse for any use. The Citizen only telephoned to the Traction company office to find that the story was a fake.

PERCY WILSON TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN GRANT COUNTY

Percy Wilson, a rising young attorney of Silver City, was in Albuquerque yesterday en route home from a trip to Santa Fe.

Speaking of conditions in Grant county, Mr. Wilson stated that the mining and cattle raising industries were in excellent shape, and that cattlemen expected to break previous records this year.

"The building of a narrow gauge line from Silver City to Pinos Altos, by the Comanche Mining & Smelting company, has opened up much valuable mining properties in that vicinity," said Mr. Wilson. "Work in the Burro mountains is flourishing. The Azure company and the Hermosa copper company are extending their scope of work. Cattle ranges are in good condition, there is plenty of water, and altogether, Grant county is in a very prosperous condition."

LOUD HOWL IS HEARD ON SCAVENGER DEAL

PEOPLE OBJECT TO SEVEN YEAR CONTRACT WITH THE GARBAGE MAN, AS ENACTED.

How'd you like to be the garbage man? This was passed from mouth to mouth last evening when through The Evening Citizen it became known that the common council had passed an ordinance instructing the mayor to draw up a contract with the city scavenger for a term of seven years.

"It is a most unjust measure," one indignant citizen said. "The idea of such an ordinance passing is an outrage pure and simple and should be condemned generally by the people of Albuquerque. How would I like to be the garbage man? Well, possibly not now, but in about five years, yes. This city will be probably twice or three times its present size in seven years the way it is growing now. Ten cents a house for collecting garbage then? Why it is a graft for the collector. The city itself should be getting this money and hire the work done."

MISS ADA CAMPFIELD HONOR MISS SCHUSTER

A DELIGHTFUL, PRETTY AFTERNOON AFFAIR—MISS CAMPFIELD ENGAGED.

This afternoon Miss Ada Campfield was hostess at one of the prettiest afternoon affairs of the season. The guest of honor was Miss Irma Schuster, who will soon marry Mr. Abe Schellenberg, of Philadelphia.

Miss Campfield made a very charming hostess and the afternoon passed with remarkable rapidity. The guests played the game of hearts, after which delicious refreshments were served.

The dining room was tastefully and artistically decorated with ropes of smilax, red bells and Indian draperies. The place cards were miniature Indian blankets and the favors were swastika pins. Among those who enjoyed the hospitality of the young lady were the Misses Helen Rodley, Minnie Zuckenberg, Sue Dobson, May Hazledine, Mabel Strong, Erna Ferguson, Lillian Spitz and Irma Schuster.

During the course of the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Campfield, surprised the guests by announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ada H. to Mr. Howard Clarke, of this city. Miss Campfield received the warmest congratulations from her friends, who shared with her her great happiness.
