ANOTHER MIDSHIPMAN TRIED

New York, Jan. 26.—The jury in the Town Topics case returned a verdict that Editor Norman Hapgood is not guilty of criminal libel. Prosecuting Attorney Jerome, in his closing remarks, intimated that Hapgood should be acquitted, although he stated Town Topics and incidentally scored yellow journalism.

The jury was out about ten minutes. Hapgood was charged with criminal libel of Justice Deul. The complaint in the case was based on an editorial in Collier's, in August last, bearing on Justice Deul's connection with Town Topics.

MAYOR WAS BRIBED.
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 26.—Proceedings against Fred T. Sherman, charged with paying a bribe of $6,000 to Mayor Wright in connection with paving contracts, were dismissed today by Justice Link, on the ground that there was no evidence to sustain the charges.

ONLY FORTY SAVED

FROM SHIP VALENCIA.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 26.—Word was received last night at Bamfield from Captain Ferris, who left with a party from the steamer Valencia to bring in nine survivors of the Valencia, who were at Darling river, about fifteen miles from Bamfield. The party was twelve hours on the trail and the survivors suffered great privation. Some had to walk in their bare feet and others were insufficiently clothed.

News has also reached here that four survivors have been rescued from Turrell island, where they landed from a raft. This brings the number of survivors so far as known, up to thirty-seven persons.

The Curtain Falls.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 26.—The steamship Topoka brought survivors of the Valencia save those already reported saved. The total number saved, according to figures of officials of the Pacific coast, is forty, including three men found on Turret island, and one man believed to be alive on an island, but who it is expected has been located by Indians. This also includes three survivors reported on the beach near Kianewak. The tug Pioneer, returning from the wreck last night, reported nothing left of the hull of the Valencia.

IDEA OF RESIGNING.

Princeton, Jan. 26.—Former President Cleveland when asked about the truth of the report that he was thinking of giving up his post as arbiter of rebates for the insurance companies, replied: "There is not a particle of truth in the report, nor any excuse for its circulation."

AUSTRALIA OBSERVES

FIRST SETTLEMENT

Melbourne, Jan. 26.—One hundred and eighteen years ago today the first white settlement was established in Australia, in the present province of New South Wales. As usual, the anniversary is celebrated in all parts of Australia, and by Australians in all parts of the world. In all government seats official anniversary banquets are held today, with addresses and toasts. All newspapers contain special anniversary reviews in honor of the occasion.

New York Colony, Also.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Australian Society of New York, will celebrate the one hundred and eighteenth anniversary of the first settlement by whites in Australia, by a banquet in the Hotel Vendome this evening. A number of prominent men have been invited to attend the banquet and toasts to President Roosevelt, King Edward and the Australian colonies will be responded to by distinguished orators.

CHURCHES PREPARING

FOR LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

New York, Jan. 26.—The American Missionary Association has issued an appeal to Congregational churches, especially to their Sabbath schools, and Young People's Societies, to observe Sunday, Feb. 11, in recognition of the ninety-seventh birthday of Abraham Lincoln. The association expects that at least 20,000 young people will respond to this appeal this year, and that the Methodist denomination will unite in the observance of the day. It is applicable to other denominations to do likewise, as that Lincoln Memorial Sunday may become an interdenominational observance, inclusive, at least of the leading Protestant denominations in the country. The Rev. Dr. Adams, corresponding secretary of the association, is in communication with Grand Army Posts, literary societies and many patriotic organizations to join in the celebration. He expects generally favorable responses.

THE TWO CHIEF CUSTOMS PORTS OF VENEZUELA.

THE HARBOR OF LA GUAYRA.

THE WHARF AT PORTO CABELLO.

Caracas, Monday, Jan. 22, via Port of Spain, Trinidad.—In reply to a request sent him today by the Associated Press correspondent for a statement of Venezuela's attitude concerning the Franco-Venezuelan situation, President Castro immediately telegraphed as follows:

"You can transmit to the Associated Press the following:

"M. Taigny, the French charge d'affaires at Caracas, not only violated diplomatic etiquette, as is proved by the fact of his presenting a protest against the Venezuelan government when the French Cable Company was calmed, and had been almost arranged with, but the protest has brought the disagreeable situation between France and Venezuela to the point of a rupture of friendly relations. But, not content with this, he, having been deprived by his government of the diplomatic character with which he was invested in Venezuela, violated as a French citizen the laws of the Port of Laguaira by embarking on a French liner, whereupon the Venezuelan government, in order to avoid new difficulties and after its police had been treated contemptuously, resolved not to permit Taigny to reland."

UNION PACIFIC IS A BIG SPECULATOR

Made Immense Gains Through Buying and Selling Stock of

CERTAIN OTHER RAILROADS

Stocks Were Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Northern Securities.

New York, Jan. 26.—In well informed financial circles it is understood that the Union Pacific company has sold a part of its holdings in Great Northern preferred at an average price of $390 and that the balance of the stock will be sold when the time is considered right to do so. In June the Union Pacific owned over $18,000,000 of Great Northern stock, over $24,000,000 of Northern Pacific, nearly $13,000,000 of Northern Securities and $624,000 of Northern Securities stock. Prior to that time it had sold over $7,000,000 of Northern Securities for about $10,000,000, and by December 1st it had converted all of its Northern Securities stock, receiving $3,338,196 of Great Northern, $4,596,080 of Northern Pacific and $128,500 of stub stock. After the conversion the company held 25,024 shares of Great Northern, which, if sold at $300 a share, would net Union Pacific $15,000,000 more than the initial cost of the Hill stocks owned by the company. The Harriman venture into Northern Pacific in 1901 has netted the Union Pacific company $78,275,815, this calculation being based upon the supposition that the Great Northern stock can be liquidated at $300. By the investment of the cash profit from the sale of Great Northern at 5 per cent, together with the dividend on Northern Pacific and Northern Securities stocks, the company would receive an amount equal to 1 1/2 per cent a year on the entire amount of its common stock and convertible bonds.

TO HONOR MEMORY OF

LATE PRESIDENT HARPER.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 26.—The sentiment among the professors, students and alumni of the University of Chicago to honor the memory of President Harper, not by the erection of a chapel, but by the erection of an enormous library, is constantly gaining ground, and the Board of Trustees has decided to hold a conference for the purpose of considering the proposition. Many prominent alumni of the University have expressed themselves in favor of the plan and it is believed that a large amount of money could be collected without difficulty to carry out the plan on the most generous scale. The plan will be submitted to the late President Harper, at an expense of $1,500,000.

Food Stuffs and Money Are Both Solicited For Needy People.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—A movement has been started to appeal to the American public for contributions of food stuffs and money to relieve the distress in the famine stricken northern provinces of Japan. According to information received at the Japanese embassy here the northern provinces of Japan are suffering from a severe famine, which only the quickest relief will be able to check. According to the information obtained, the rice crop this year has been only about fifteen per cent of the average crop and that the famine is causing considerable suffering in the three northern provinces of Fukushima, Miyagi and Iwate, which have together a population of about 2,700,000. Many of the people are engaged in the silk trade and the failure of the silk output has augmented the general suffering.

In answer to an inquiry made by persons in this country whether any help from a foreign country would be accepted, the Japanese government has sent a cable message to the charge d'affaires in this city, saying that such help would be very welcome at this moment. The dispatch adds that the government investigations into the conditions in the above named provinces has confirmed the extreme seriousness of the situation. The plan of the government is to establish works and give employment to the distressed population instead of distributing money promiscuously.

Angeles as Heavy Weights.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 26.—Unless the authorities interfere or some other unexpected complications arise, Terry McGovern and Battling Nelson will fight six rounds for the championship at the Light Guard Armory this evening. The fight was arranged after considerable dickering and after it had seemed several times that it would be impossible to bring about a satisfactory agreement between the managers of the two fighters. According to the terms of the agreement, Nelson will get 45 per cent of the gate receipts, McGovern only 35 per cent. It has been stipulated that both contestants to weigh 133 pounds at the ringside just before the fight. This condition at first threatened to prevent an agreement, but it was finally accepted, with the proviso that the party violating this condition should pay a forfeit of $1,000 to the other. Both men have been carefully training for this event and are said to be in excellent condition. Both are confident of their ability to win and the opinions of the experts are divided on the question of superiority between the two men. In the betting Nelson is but slightly favored.

FIND WATER BY DIVINING ROD

St. Petersburg, Jan. 26.—Col. Proskorovsk, chief of gendarmes at Penza, east Russia, has been informed by a local revolutionary organization that the recent murder of Col. Lissovski, commanding the seventy-eighth infantry division, by members of the organization, was a blunder. He had been mistaken for Col. Proskorovsk, and the organization notified him that the error would shortly be rectified.

All Discipline Gone.

According to advices received here, a mutiny has broken out again at Vladivostok. No details are available, the censorship being operative over press and private telegrams, but the report that General Selivanoff, commander of the army corps, has been wounded, is confirmed. The war department officials are unable to give the particulars or the seriousness of the mutiny, which is due to reserve men. These troops are thoroughly undisciplined and are clamoring for their immediate transportation home, though the government has given them precedence over the trans-Siberian railroad in addition to chartering all available steamers.

Algiers, Jan. 26.—Count Von Tattenbach, and M. Regault, respectively German and French specialists on Morocco, today began the first of a series of detailed private discussions, with the object of reaching an agreement outside of the Moroccan conference.

PLENTY OF GOOD WATER.

Berlin, Jan. 26.—Prior to the interview with the announcement that Emperor William has commissioned Herr Von Usar, the chief government official of Apenrade, province of Schleswig-Holstein, to proceed to German Southwest Africa and find subterranean springs by means of a divining rod. Von Usar has a wide reputation as a water finder, but scientists refuse to admit that he has discovered water by means of a divining rod. The emperor heard of his ability to locate water and decided to utilize his power for the purpose of alleviating the chronic water famine in German Southwest Africa, where the German troops are seriously handicapped by lack of water.

ALMOST MIRACULOUS

ESCAPE OF TRAIN.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 26.—A Missouri Pacific express, westbound, dashed into a freight train standing on the main track today and nearly 200 passengers were bruised, but none seriously hurt. The freight caught fire and ten cars were burned. The express was running at full speed, and he it rounded a curve it ploughed into the freight. Only one truck of a car in the passenger train left the rails and only the engine was damaged.

NAVY APPROPRIATIONS BETTER ARMY COOKING

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—There is every reason to believe that the House Naval Committee will still further reduce the naval estimates in its revision of the departmental recommendations used as the basis for the annual naval appropriation act. It was hoped by those in charge of public works at navy yards and stations that congress would be more liberal this year than usual. Last year the appropriation for naval increase amounted to $49,000,000, while that for public improvements such as the equipment of naval repair plants, was $25,000,000. This is not considered a fair proportion, and it has been maintained that with the increase in the navy and the larger volume of work which must be performed at naval stations there should be a more adequate provision for improvements of the yards and ships and a betterment of the working facilities. The chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks has been before the House Naval Committee several times, and has strongly urged the claims of his department. It was evident, however, that the committee was disposed to reduce at every turn the bureau estimates for yard improvements and it will not be surprising to the Navy Department authorities if they find their recommendations materially reduced.

ALBUQUERQUEANS

ARE TO ASSIST

In Preparing History of New Mexico Which is Soon to Be Published by

PACIFIC STATES PUBLISHING CO.

Those people of New Mexico who for any length of time have been identified with the progress and prosperity of the territory are exhibiting considerable interest in the work of writing a history of New Mexico, an undertaking which was inaugurated by the Pacific States Publishing company, under the management of George B. Anderson, in the spring of 1905.

The plan of the work contemplates an exhaustive historical narrative of a comprehensive character, which will cover the history of the territory from the days of the earliest Spanish explorations to the close of the year 1906, or the beginning of 1907. A monumental work of this kind is manifestly too great an undertaking for any one individual, if the work is to be completed within a reasonable time after its inception; and convinced of this fact, those having the matter in charge have arranged
for the cooperation of a number of well known citizens in the preparation of the manuscripts for the work, which will be issued within a year or so in two handsome royal octavo volumes.

So great is the variety of topics to be covered, so limited and unreliable
are the historical works hitherto published, and so fertile is the field offered to the historian of New Mexico,
that in order to obviate errors in fact,
no portion of the manuscript for this gigantic work will be handed to the printers until it has been carefully
revised by competent local authorities.
Some chapters will be looked over by several persons in various parts of the territory.

Among those who have consented to assist in the revision of various portions of the manuscript are Hon.
Frank Springer, of Las Vegas; Chief
Justice Wm. J. Mills, Hon. William B.
Childers, Dr. G. W. Harrison, Hon.
Wm. D. Lee, Prof. Hiram Hadley, superintendent of public instruction, Rev.
Father A. Jouvean, of Park View,
Rev. Father George J. Julliard, of Gallup, Rev. Father Albert Daeger, of Pena Blanca, Hon. F. W. Parker, of
Las Cruces, Hon. S. M. Ashenfelter,
and Judge James Corbin of Silver
City, Col. Richard Hudson, of Dem-
ing, Col. E. W. Eaton, of Socorro, W.

NEVER INTENDED.

Man Prevents the Intent of Providence.

We do not believe that Providence, which placed us in a world filled with countless delights, ever intended that we should ourselves, bring on diseases, and live cheerless, unhappy and pain-filled lives.

On the contrary, the joys of each day should make us look forward with pleasant anticipations to the coming of the next; without health this is impossible.

We have to an extent, the power to command that health.

A lady writing from Meadville, Pa.,
says that for twenty years she was a great sufferer from headaches, (which were frequent, and confined her to bed for twenty-four hours at a time),
and kidney troubles; that she employed numerous physicians from time to time and took much medicine, but got no help; that one doctor said her spine was afflicted, another that her sufferings came from female weakness, a third that her eyes brought it
all on her, etc., etc., but that when the truth was reached it was found that her coffee-drinking habit was alone responsible—that she was "coffee poisoned."

So the good Samaritan told her about
Postum Food Coffee, and she determined to quit using the old kind and see what the new would do for her.
She consumed the medicine bottles to
the trash barrel, along with the coffee
canister, and began to drink Postum.
"At first I did not like it," she says,
"but when I learned how to prepare
it I found it a most agreeable and refreshing beverage. I soon began to feel better, the headache grew less
and less frequent, and severe, my sleep became natural and restful, and now, after two years' use, all my troubles have disappeared, including the affection of the kidneys, of which I was at one time most apprehensive."

"My weight increased twenty-two pounds."

"I wish to speak within moderation,
but I tell you the truth when I say that life looks bright to me now, and I could not if I would, and would not
if I could, give up Postum and go back to the old kind of coffee again." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in picks.

UNDER WHICH KING?

A Test of Government in This Republic.

BY DR. WASHINGTON GLADDEN,
Moderator of the Congregational Church.

I have been moving about the country considerably since the grapple of the state of Missouri in the courts with the Standard Oil system, and I hear quite frequently the opinion expressed, that in this case, and in the following cases in which the federal government proposes to try conclusions with the same dynasty, the government will be worsted, and that the "system" will win out.

It is not that the people expressing their opinion have any doubt that the government has a good case; they are clear in their belief that the "system" has been a flagrant transgressor of law, and that it ought to be punished; but they do not expect that it will be. That it will find ways of defeating the ends of justice they have and despairing way, to accept this view of the matter, and to believe that the government lacks the power to compel these people to obey the law. The existence, the prevalence, of such a feeling as this ought to startle and alarm every man to whom free government is dear. If the people have no more faith than this in their laws and their administrative officers, where are the foundations of righteous rule?

The first thing to do is to silence this kind of talk. Every man who utters such a sentiment ought to be shamed of it. If the people believe their government to be impotent, it will be impotent; it will be just what their belief makes it. The only force that rules in a republic is public opinion. If public opinion says that the nation is too weak to cope with the trusts, it is too weak. If public opinion decrees that the trusts shall obey

"UNDER THIS KING!"

Is the answer of the despairing public, according to Dr. Washington Gladden.

no doubt. Its shrewd lawyers will entangle the case in all manner of technicities, and its money will be used to corrupt courts, to tamper with witnesses and jurors and to prevent any clear decision.

Standard Oil is bigger than the government, men say. You'll see, they won't be punished; they'll come out on top.

This is not the universal opinion;
there are many who take a more hopeful view, but on this fact, those having the matter in charge have arranged
for the cooperation of a number
of well known citizens in the preparation of the manuscripts for the work, which will be issued within a year or so in two handsome royal
octavo volumes.

So great is the variety of topics to be covered, so limited and unreliable
are the historical works hitherto published, and so fertile is the field offered to the historian of New Mexico,
that in order to obviate errors in fact,
no portion of the manuscript for this
gigantic work will be handed to the
printers until it has been carefully
revised by competent local authorities.
Some chapters will be looked over by several persons in various parts of the territory.

Among those who have consented to assist in the revision of various portions of the manuscript are Hon.
Frank Springer, of Las Vegas; Chief
Justice Wm. J. Mills, Hon. William B.
Childers, Dr. G. W. Harrison, Hon.
Wm. D. Lee, Prof. Hiram Hadley, superintendent of public instruction, Rev.
Father A. Jouvean, of Park View,
Rev. Father George J. Julliard, of Gallup, Rev. Father Albert Daeger, of Pena Blanca, Hon. F. W. Parker, of
Las Cruces, Hon. S. M. Ashenfelter,
and Judge James Corbin of Silver
City, Col. Richard Hudson, of Dem-
ing, Col. E. W. Eaton, of Socorro, W.

On the contrary, the joys of each
day should make us look forward with pleasant anticipations to the coming of the next; without health this is impossible.

We have to an extent, the power to
command that health.

A lady writing from Meadville, Pa.,
says that for twenty years she was a great sufferer from headaches, (which
were frequent, and confined her to
bed for twenty-four hours at a time),
and kidney troubles; that she employed numerous physicians from time to
time and took much medicine, but got
no help; that one doctor said her
spine was afflicted, another that her
sufferings came from female weakness, a third that her eyes brought it
all on her, etc., etc., but that when the truth was reached it was found that
her coffee-drinking habit was
alone responsible—that she was "coffee poisoned."

So the good Samaritan told her about
Postum Food Coffee, and she determined to quit using the old kind and see what the new would do for her.
She consumed the medicine bottles to
the trash barrel, along with the coffee
canister, and began to drink Postum.
"At first I did not like it," she says,
"but when I learned how to prepare
it I found it a most agreeable and refreshing beverage. I soon began to feel better, the headache grew less
and less frequent, and severe, my
sleep became natural and restful, and
now, after two years' use, all my
troubles have disappeared, including
the affection of the kidneys, of which I was at one time most apprehensive."

"My weight increased twenty-two pounds."

"I wish to speak within moderation,
but I tell you the truth when I say
that life looks bright to me now, and I could not if I would, and would not
if I could, give up Postum and go back to the old kind of coffee again." Name
given by Postum Co., Battle Creek,
Mich.

The successful prosecution of these great commercial and financial law breakers will be worth more to this nation, in strengthening the faith of the peo-

It is also true that the existence of such a pessimistic view of government ought to cause our courts and our prosecuting officers and our executives to do a great deal of sober thinking. Why is it that so many people have lost faith in the possibicolossal offenders? It is because there

NECKLACE ENGAGEMENT SYMBOL.
THE PRINCESS ALICE RECEIVED

BEAUTIFUL CIRCLE OF JEWELS SUBSTITUTED FOR THE CON-VENTIONAL RING—BUT CON-GRESSIONAL LONGEVITY IS GENEROUS, AND RINGS FOL-LOW.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—Miss Alice Roosevelt chose that her betrothal gift should be, of course, a mystic circle, which symbolizes eternity, but not a ring. The token is a magnificent necklace of diamonds, with a pendant of diamonds and pearls. The jewels, the size of the ordinary solitaire, are set in dull gold and hang from a fine wrought wire.

Since the giving of the necklace and the public announcement, Mr.
Longworth has given his fiancée no less than three rings. The first was a circle of Tuscany gold with five large diamonds embedded, and with in it bore a date sacred to the young lovers. He has known Miss Alice as a child of 7 or 8, but it was on a day in October, 1902, that he met her for the first time since she had grown to womanhood.

The second ring was a large sapphire set in Roman gold, and was the engagement symbol of the prospective groom's grandmother, and a revered relic in his family. Mr. Longworth is showing almost oriental generosity towards his fiancée, purchased for a Christmas souvenir a ring with three glorious pigeon blood rubies, surrounded by diamonds. Thus Miss Alice may be said to have become betrothed with one diamond necklace and three beautiful rings.

Mrs. Longworth gave her son's sweetheart a jeweled belt buckle, and she has received some handsome gold ornaments from his sister, the Marquise de Chamburn, and from his aunt, Mrs. Bellamy-Storer, wife of the American ambassador to Vienna.

GOOD SHOW SATURDAY NIGHT

The performance by the Franklin-Houston company at the opera house last night was a success both from the view point of the patronage accorded it and the attractiveness and satisfactory character of the exhibition. The audience appeared to enjoy the show thoroughly and there is every evidence that the company will play to a most successful business tonight. The management of this company realizes what is required in addition to good acting to make an entertainment popular in the south, and hence presents a program every part of which is interesting and all of which is rendered by ladies and gentlemen of high character as well as of superior talent. The show from beginning to end enlists the close attention of the audience and produces laughter and applause, and for the entire two hours of last night's performance there was never a manifestation in any part of the audience of other than thorough enjoyment. The curtain never goes down during the evening's performance, nor is there among old folks or young even an indication of weariness or inattention. The audience gets a little of the circus, coupled with the tragic and magic, and with comedy galore. It is just the kind of a show which after witnessing if you will say, "Well, they give you so much, and all of it is good and you more than get your money's worth."

If the Hillsboro people could always have an opportunity of witnessing such performances the opera house manager would invariably do a land office business.—The Evening Mirror, Hillsboro, Texas.

At the Elks' theater, one night only, Saturday, January 27.

BEN HENDRICKS COMING

An attraction, which is possessed of much merit and originality is that of the clever Swedish dialect comedian and Northland singer, Mr. Ben Hendricks, in his romantic comedy drama, "Ole Olson," which comes to the opera house next Tuesday.

Mr. Gray has reason to be proud of the enthusiastic reception of his star wherever seen. Mr. Hendricks, the star of the attraction, is said to have verified and even exceeded all predictions as to his success in this field and is acknowledged as a leader in romantic Swedish comedy. As a singer, he is counted one of the best, having a voice of much purity and power and sweetness, together with a knowledge of how to use it to the best advantage. His songs are new and fresh and will become popular.

THE BOLERO COAT

The bolero coat is more in vogue at the present time than it has been for some years past. The velvet bolero, with tiny fur, edging, is used extensively with dinner and ball gowns, of silk and chiffon. When the colors are happily chosen, the effect is stunning.

KILLS ACTRESS AND SELF IN A JEALOUS RAGE.

Jealousy is believed to be the cause of a double fatality at the city of Chihuahua, Mexico, in which Manuel Altaga de Terreros and Senora Maria Belg, both were seriously wounded, says a special dispatch from El Paso, dated January 23.

The two cannot recover. Terreros is a member of one of the foremost families of the City of Mexico. Senora Belg is an actress in the Virginia Fabrega company, which was playing a protracted engagement at the Teatro de Los Hueros.

While Senora Belg was seated in her room in the Palace hotel before a mirror, Terreros entered and fired two shots, both of which passed through her head. He followed by sending a bullet through his own head. A note written by Terreros said that it was his own business why he committed the deed, which he said, he had deliberately planned.

PECULIAR SALE OF A PECULIAR FARM.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 26.—Sheriff Gillis of New Castle county, Delaware, will, this afternoon, publicly sell the farm of a bankrupt farmer, named John T. Johnston, near this town. The sale is attracting considerable interest owing to the peculiar circumstances and conditions surrounding the sale. The farm is located at a point where the states of Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware meet, and parts of the property are situated in each one of the three states. Ordinarily a sale of this character would present a rather difficult problem, and would be almost impossible for the purchaser to obtain a clear title. Sheriff Gillis, however, has solved the difficulty by making arrangements with Sheriff Biddle of Cecil county, Maryland, and Sheriff Griswold of Chester county, Pennsylvania, to be on the spot at the time of the sale, this afternoon, and to divide the parts of the farm located in their respective counties, at the same time. It will be necessary for the bidders to leap from one state into the other to announce their bids, for the three sheriffs can stand within handgrasp distance of each other and still remain within their respective states.

CUBA'S MINISTER TO THE UNITED STATES.

He expects to remain here until tomorrow morning, and will be the Board of Trade and the principal speaker at the sixteenth annual banquet of the Board of Trade this evening. Mr. Quesada was educated in the public schools of the city of New York, and took the degree of Bachelor of Science, in 1888, at the City College, New York. He afterwards spent a year in the School of Mines, at Columbia University, and obtained the degree of Bachelor of Laws in 1891, at the University of New York. He was secretary of the Cuban revolutionary party, and in charge of Cuban affairs in Washington in 1895, to the end of the war with Spain. During the regime of the military government he represented the Cuban Commission in Washington. He was a member of the Cuban constitutional convention, and was elected to the first Cuban congress from Pinar del Rio. ## About Venezuela

For political purposes the democrats and corporation congressmen of both houses, are making a great hue and cry against the president, charging him with endangering the Monroe doctrine by sending American representatives to the Moroccan conference, and by giving France a free hand in Venezuela. Secretary Root has made it plain to all but those who are blind because they do not want to see, that the envoys of this country will have nothing whatever to say or propose on the political questions with which the conference will have to do. Their mission is commercial only. On the second charge—that the Monroe doctrine is sacrificed in our attitude toward France and Venezuela—the St. Louis Globe-Democrat has this to say:

No assault on the Monroe principle is being made by the United States in consenting to France's attack on Venezuela. The provocation in France's case is ample. It is Castro, however, and not Venezuela, which France threatens. No seizure of territory is to be made. As a matter of plain, sober fact, neither Castro nor Venezuela is likely to be injured much in the melee. It is a difficult case to handle. Castro's capital is inland. It can not be reached by France except at an expenditure of money and time which would be absurdly disproportionate to the gains which would come from capturing it. Castro could easily go somewhere else if an invading army approached his fastness. This is well known in France and the United States. We have a grudge against Castro on account of one or two issues of recent times. Once we went to the point of threatening to make a naval demonstration in Venezuelan waters. But Castro was not frightened. He is not frightened now, even though we are virtually on France's side in this movement against him. There will be no military expedition into the interior of Venezuela, either by the United States or by France. The demonstration on the coast, even if it is made by France, will not be serious. Paris and Washington have been doing some bluffing to get Castro to recognize that his country has some duties to perform and some amenities to observe as a member of a family of nations, and perhaps in the end we shall succeed, and the episode will be closed.

President Baiting

There are many senators and congressmen, says the San Francisco Chronicle, who hate the president because of his insistence on the exposure and punishment of rascals. That is a plain statement of an unquestionable fact. Every rascal who has been nabbed is a protégé of some influential man who wants him let alone. The laying by the heels of three senators and one representative as the result of pernicious activity of the president has made him many enemies. As a result, congress and especially the senate, is always ready to take any action which may tend to impair his influence.

As for the senate, continues the Chronicle, it might direct its judiciary committee to inquire whether the agreement of senators to contribute from the treasury unearned mileage to one of their number convicted of felony, constituted a conspiracy to defraud the government, within the meaning of the statute, and whether an official who only saw that senator through an open door in a cloakroom would be guilty of perjury if he swears—as we understand that he will be told to swear—that he saw him in his place in the senate. The less mud a gang like that throws the better, in the end, it will be for them.

These words from the Chronicle sound the true note, to which nearly every American mind and heart give responsive answer. Yet the opponents of staidhood for New Mexico have already, in some instances, announced their satisfaction that this very element in the senate—this corporation serving, president baiting element—may be able to prevent the passage of the enabling act, even though in the minority, by purely obstructive tactics. It is strange indeed, that self-interest can have so destructive an effect alike on certain citizens of New Mexico and certain disgruntled American senators.

Coney's Big Tower

Features of the Friede Globe tower to be erected on Surf avenue, Coney Island, will make it the most wonderful place of amusement in the world, says an exchange. It will be one-eighth of a mile high, and have 500,000 square feet of floor space. There is to be a pedestal roof garden, 150 feet above the ground and 900 feet in circumference, which is to contain a popular price restaurant, theater and roller skating rink. An aerial hippodrome, 250 feet above the ground, will provide a continuous circus, besides many other attractions.

There will also be a moving café and dance hall, 300 feet above the ground, which will afford patrons a continuous panoramic view of Coney Island, the ocean, the surrounding country and Greater New York. An aerial palm garden, 400 feet above the ground, which is to be the most unique of its kind, will contain a fashionable restaurant, falling cascades, statuary, scenic railroad—the highest in the world—and other novelties.

In addition to other attractions, this marvelous structure will be crowned with a government weather bureau, which will be the highest observation room in the country, and will be equipped with modern devices, a wireless telegraph system and the largest revolving search-light in the world.

Oro Grande Times: Nowhere in the southwest are there greater deposits of mineral than in the Jarilla mountains. The width of the veins, and their richness make of them sources of supply that may be counted upon to yield enormously, and add to the world's supply of the red metal, the demand for which is greater than the supply at the present time. But the wealth of Jarilla does not consist of copper alone. Associated with the red metal is found gold, silver and lead, while the deposits of iron, in the form of mountains, that yield 60 and 70 per cent, are the greatest in the west. Nowhere else in North America at any rate, is there such a deposit of high grade native bodies as is the case at this point—and the iron carries from 80 cents to $8 gold to the ton. It may be mined for 22 cents a ton. If this record can be matched any other place in the union, we would like to hear its name.

New Mexico: It is estimated that the Eastern Railway of New Mexico from Mexico to Rio Puerto, a distance of over 300 miles, will be in operation by the first of the coming year. The road is opening up a rich section of the territory to which nobody paid attention heretofore but which is now attracting many, many settlers who are making homestead entries on the public domain in Roosevelt, Gaudalupe, Lincoln and Torrance counties. Where five years ago there were not five hundred people in the country along this road, there are already several thousand, and when the census of 1910 rolls around there will be a large population and several good sized towns of from three to five thousand population in the counties named. New Mexico is all right.

The Optic says: "President Roosevelt's desire that the Panama canal be completed in time to benefit the present generation is safe enough. Some of the present generation are only a few days old, and the allotted life of man is three score and ten years." Yes, that is true, but there is such a large majority of people in the world who do not get their just allotment, either in age or any other matter, that the average generation has been placed at thirty-three and one-third years, or three generations to the century. According to this calculation, the present generation has already used up nearly one-sixth of its allotted time.

The Worst Ever.

"Yes, indeed, he's the homeliest man in public life today. Haven't you seen him?"
"No; but I've seen caricatures of him."
"Oh, they flatter him. You should see him."—Catholic Standard and Times.

World Wants Men

Who Are Competent

By Chas. Grant Miller.

"I have two hundred millions in my coffers," said Napoleon, "but I would give them all for Marshal Ney." The great cry, since the world began, is, "Give us a man!" The scarce thing in the world is a man—a man who can accomplish things, a man of force, a man with concentrated energy, a man who has a definite purpose and knows how to fling his life out to it with all the weight of his being.

Managers and superintendents of great institutions everywhere are hunting for good men to fill all sorts of positions. They say it is almost impossible to find efficient heads for departments. There are applicants for every vacant place, but they either show signs of dissipation, are rude or brutish in manner, are slothful or slipshod in dress, are afraid of hard work, lack education or training or application, or have some other defects which bar them out. "If you should take twelve prize medal men from Harvard or Yale and put them in a sinking ship, they would all drown through inability to construct a raft." This is Dr. Edward Everett Hale's way of expressing the great need of practical men. Millions of people in this country are hunting for good chances and seem to think they have nothing to do but find them and be happy ever after. But, no matter where you seek, young men and young women, no matter what your family, what school or college you attended, or who pulls for you, your best opportunity lies within yourselves.

In proportion as you cultivate your own efficiency and strength of purpose you create your own opportunity. Opportunities come not of chance conditions, but of fixed ideals. The ideal is the seed germ of purpose and of power. The world will gladly do its part for you, if you only will meet it half way as a man. Power and fortune are lying all about you, awaiting the eye that can see, the mind that can comprehend, the hand that can do. Success is there; get it who can. In any marble slab there dwells a Madonna, and anyone may find her by knowing the parts to chip away and the parts that must remain. In visions of the night an artist fancied he heard a voice saying, "Rise up and carve!" The only word he could find was a charred ember still smoldering on the hearth. Out of that ember he wrought an image divine. Look what Bret Harte got out of California! Gold? Yes, of a finer assay than miner ever dreamed of, gold that the thousands of eager gold miners utterly overlooked. The world wants and waits for men who can see and do.

Tree Planting Time

Good Local Reading

From The San Francisco Chronicle.

The movement for the adornment of country roads and public grounds in rural districts, which began a few years ago in Stockton, has extended to a good many parts of the state. How well it has been followed up, and what measure of success has been attained, we do not know. Our country exchanges, as a rule, are silent in the matter. We commend the subject to them as one well worth the attention of any rural community. With a state renowned throughout the civilized world for the beauty of its scenery, it is a shame that in any part of it man's handwork serves only to deface. But that has been the fact in many parts of California. We know that conditions are improving in many sections of the state. We hope they are improving everywhere. In some localities, of course, the homes of the residents are exceedingly attractive, but even in these the roads and the school and church grounds are sadly neglected. The movement for outdoor adornment is actively promoted in all parts of the United States. It was well advanced in the east before California caught the spirit of it. The most attractive roadsides in California are in districts recently settled by eastern people. There are throughout the country men, women and societies actively engaged in directing public sentiment toward the appreciation of the beautiful, both in city and country. We trust that they will also keep the roads in order which pass by their own premises. Sometimes enthusiasts in good causes seem unable to take hold of anything not very large. But there is nothing like good examples. There is no doubt, also, that estheticism wisely directed is extremely profitable. It raises the price of land—not so much for the pleasure received from the beauty of the adornment as by the evidence which it gives of the public spirit of the people. Whatever our own character, we all of us like to get into a public spirited neighborhood. There is a feeling that the neighbors will make things attractive whether we help any ourselves or not. And so we will pay something extra to get there.

Good Outlook For ### Us in the Orient

According to a report made by Special Agents Burdell and Crist to the bureau of manufactures as to which conditions in China and Japan are such as to offer encouragement for American manufacturers, to enter that field, American steel men are advised to send an expert to those countries to investigate the possibility of introducing steel into the construction of the Jirrikasha, the most commonly used vehicle in the Orient.

Special Agent Crist reports that "there can unquestionably be an enormous trade of assured permanency established." He also says China offers a field for American enterprise far superior to that of Japan. "Not only is this a good field for American-made jirrikashas," he says, "but from the information obtained regarding the prices of other vehicles, such as dog carts, broughams, landaus, etc., the opportunities are quite as good. Two that I priced in Tientsin had just been sold at $185 each, while a third was offered at $170. Broughams bring $350 and landaus can be had of Tientsin make at $525."

He says these vehicles find a ready sale among foreigners and wealthy Chinese. They are, however, ungraceful in their lines, of heavy and clumsy construction, particularly in their metal parts, which, with the exception of their axles, are all forged there. According to government reports, there are 165,087 jirrikashas in use in Japan.

Had Heard of It.

The present era of Franklin episodes and the celebration of Franklin anniversaries seems to have infected the school children, and has been the cause of some very humorous incidents. At a public school in West Philadelphia, a music lesson followed the celebration of the Franklin birthday anniversary, and the teacher had occasion to use the word "pendulum" of a clock as an instrument to illustrate rhythm. No pendulum being convenient, the teacher was about to use her hand to show the motion, when it occurred to her to ask the children if they knew what a pendulum was. There was silence for a few moments, then one small boy raised his hand. "And what is a pendulum?" asked the teacher of the eager child.

"Why, we all know what pendulum is," he replied, "We've been talking about Pendulum Franklin all week."—Philadelphia Record.

ANNIVERSARY TO BE CELEBRATED

Third Birthday of Knights of Columbus Lodge Will be Remembered Fittingly.

GRAND BANQUET AND BALL

Friday, February 2 will be the third anniversary of the establishment of the Knights of Columbus in Albuquerque and the day will be fittingly celebrated by the members by a banquet, card party and ball, which, if predictions come true, will be one of the most brilliant social functions that has occurred in this city for some time.

The Knights have become famous for the elaborateness of their entertainments and banquets and unless something unforeseen happens, the coming event will be no exception to the rule.

The entertainment will take place in the banquet and ball rooms of the Elks opera house and is scheduled to start at 8:45 p. m., beginning with a card party. The same to be played will be progressive high five, with beautiful and costly first and second prizes for ladies and gentlemen.

Then there will be the banquet, arrangements for which have been going on for some time and which will be something that will eclipse any of the elegant spreads which the Knights have given in times gone by. Hon. O. N. Marron, territorial deputy of the order, will act as toastmaster.

At the conclusion of the banquet, the Knights and ladies will retire to the Elks ball room, where the orchestra will strike up the music for the grand march, after which a very cleverly arranged dancing program will be indulged in.

Special committees have the different parts of the entertainment in hand and it is safe to say that every one present will enjoy themselves very much.

Although the Knights of Columbus have only been in existence in Albuquerque for the past three years, they have rapidly forced ahead in membership and popularity until it is now recognized as one of the most prominent fraternal organizations in the city.

The Knights of Columbus have many friends in Albuquerque and if it were possible, they would like to entertain them all, but owing to the limited capacity of the Elks banquet hall and ball room, it has been decided to restrict admission to the members and their lady friends only. The Ladies Devotee orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

The list of committees and members of special committees follows:

Banquet—M. S. Tierney, H. S. Knight.

Floor committee—Jos. R. Scotti, Will White, P. J. Donohue, Chas. White, R. J. Archer, J. Maher, Justo Armito, Geo. Powers, Roy Hannan.

Cards—Martin Ryan, J. B. McManus.

Executive entertainment committee—J. H. O'Reilly, T. E. Gargan, O. N. Marron, L. T. Delaney, P. F. McManus, D. A. Macpherson, Nestor Montoya, M. R. Springer.

CHURCH, CLUB AND SOCIAL GATHERINGS

The Knights of Columbus in this city are making great preparations for the celebration of the second anniversary of the founding of the local lodge which will take place Friday, February 2. Elsewhere in this issue will be found a full account of the entertainment that is to be given.

Yesterday afternoon at their residence, 14 West Railroad avenue, Mrs. Ross Merritt entertained a number of her friends with cards. Mrs. Jaffa captured the first prize and Mrs. Simon Stern won the consolation prize. Refreshments were served during the course of the afternoon and all present had a thoroughly delightful afternoon.

BRAGAW-LANDRUM

Yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. F. Witzel, Miss Minnie Landrum was united in marriage to Harry Bragaw, nephew of John Bragaw, a wealthy cattleman of Grant county, Idaho, and a cooper, officiating.

The bride is the sister of Mrs. Witzel, wife of A. F. Witzel, traveling representative of the Lemp Brewing company in New Mexico and has many friends in the city who will wish her well in her voyage over the matrimonial sea, while the young groom is well and favorably known to the people of Albuquerque.

After the wedding ceremony a dainty wedding supper was served and the newly wedded couple blithely received the congratulations of their many friends.

ROYAL BANQUET IN HONOR OF ROBBIE BURNS' BIRTH

The Festivities Occurred at Elks' Hall Last Night, and Proved One of the Nicest Birthday Anniversary Events in History of City.

For a' that, and a' that,
It's coming yet for a' that,
That man to man the world o'er,
Shall brothers be for a' that.

The Robert Burns club and guests, numbering about 100 of Albuquerque's best known gentlemen, assembled last night at the Elks' hall to celebrate the birth of Scotland's greatest poet, Robbie Burns, and the occasion will go down in the history of Albuquerque as one of the most complete and most enjoyable affairs of its kind ever held in the "Duke City of the Rio Grande valley."

As early as 9 o'clock those who had signified their intention to be present and participate in the festivities, began to gather, and for half an hour the clan mingled and got acquainted with each other, after which, at 9:30 o'clock, led by the toastmaster, Dr. John F. Pearce and members of the committee on arrangements, all present filed into the banquet hall, being seated in pretty arranged and decorated tables, where, at each place, was found a neatly printed program and a carnation for the guest.

All being seated and quiet restored, the following menu furnished by Zeller's restaurant and served by polite waiters, among whom were David Combs and James Grubbs, was enjoyed:

Some hot meat and canna eat,
Some can eat but hae nae meat,
But we hae meat and we can eat,
And so the Lord be thankit.

TOASTS AND RESPONSES.

After the serving of the feast of the "good things to eat and drink," Dr. Pearce, the toastmaster, rapped for order, and, after paying a most appropriate tribute to the memory of Robbie Burns, introduced R. W. Hadden, who had been assigned the task of speaking on the great poet:

"Robert Burns' Toast."

R. W. Hadden's toast to "Robert Burns" was as follows:
The twenty-fifth of January's come,
It sets our hearts a' throbbing.
That day is held the world o'er,
The birthday of our Robin.
Although he was a ploughman chiel,
And wore a Scotch blue bonnet,
Before he left he charmed the world,
Wi' many a song and sonnet.
Yes, gentlemen, this is the anniversary of the birth of Scotland's bard. It was on the 25th day of January, 1759, when "the wind blew in on Robin." His father was a small farmer, in rather poor circumstances, who died when Burns was a mere child. The loss of the father was a severe blow to the home. Some idea of the financial stringency may be gathered from the fact that for many years not a morsel of butcher meat was consumed at the Burns home. At the age of 15 years Burns was doing a man's work on the farm, on a boy's strength, and although he had a robust frame, the great hardships of his boyhood's days, over-taxed it and strained his nervous constitution. From this and his fiery temperament, arising in view of the poverty in a frigid atmosphere, grew the strong temptations on which he was largely wrecked. The thirst for stimulants, and revolt against restraint soon made headway and passed all bars. The customs of his time, too, and the environment in which he lived, had a little influence on the moulding of his character. Then, too, he was a man of more than ordinary passion and had more than average temptations, and it is not for us to judge his shortcomings, all of which were due to the surface and open, and no virtue in the man of temptation, who says that he does not drink, and it is safe to say that Robbie, with all his faults, was probably much more virtuous than the majority of the "unco guid" who have presumed to criticize him. He managed to secure a good education, and was an omnivorous reader. That he was a close observer of men, things and events, is evident from his writings, and where will you find one who brings you in closer touch with nature, or can play upon your heart strings with such effect? He was ambitious, the evidence of which is the following verse, penned in his early years:
That I, for poor old Scotland's sake,
Some useful plan, or book could make,
Or sing a sang at least.
Burns was a man of parts, as they say in Scotland. His philosophy is amusingly and thoroughly displayed in "Death and Mr. Hornbrook."

As for hypocrites, his contempt for them is clearly shown in his address to the "Unco Guid." And where was there ever penned by man a prayer to compare with "Holy Willie," or a sermon equal to "The Cotter's Saturday Night?"

His religious views were ahead of his time, and "The Holy Fair," with its sarcastic caricature of an ignorant pastor provoked offense. On account of his attitude to Calvinism there is, even today, a degree of antagonism between Scottish verse and Scottish theology, but then the views of churchmen in general were not very broad.
In fact, Dr. Crank says the generous verse of Burns springs out of the iron-bound Calvinism of the land like flowing water from Horeb's rock. To my mind there is no questioning the fact that his broad-mindedness and outspoken philosophic views banished from the breasts of the people many superstitious and foolish fears, and had a most beneficial influence on the sentiments of the people.
He was at all times deeply reverential, and ever against apocryphal, and always for truth, justice and character. He loved well any man who was an admirer of the fair sex. He hated wickedness because it hinders loving. He was subject to deep melancholy, and he was doubtless in one of his melancholic moods that he wrote, "Man Was Made to Mourn." On the other hand, he was the prince of good fellows, and a host and entertainer of the very best.

No writer of any age has run the gamut of the emotions of the human breast as has Burns. He was broadly sympathetic, and in his pages we find the presence of one who joys with those who rejoice and mourns with those in affliction.
He was genuine through and through, and Horace's rule, "Si vis me flere," is applicable in a wider sense than literally. Be true if you would be believed. Speak earnestly the condition of your own heart, for so closely are we knit together that others must, and will, give heed to you. In culture and extent of view, we may not be on an equal with the speaker, but if the ring of earnestness, and sincerity be present they will soon find a way to reach the heart, and so, so does the heart of man to man. And so it was with Burns.

Nativity I consider a matter of accident, and while we, who have Scottish blood in our veins are proud to call "Robbie" as a brother Scot, it is not as a Scot that we must admire and honor him, but as a man, a brother man, whose admirers are of all nationalities and of all classes and conditions of men.

The Sage of Chelsea, Thomas Carlyle, was pleased to refer to Burns as the "eighteenth century's greatest man." I think you will all agree with me.
While the cautious critics of the north were satisfied to endorse Burns as a poetic prodigy, it was reserved for William Macintosh to dignify his lifetime as a great poet, and one who would leave an everlasting memory.
Most of his poems were written within a year, and while but three lifetimes were published during his lifetime, the number of his poems that have been printed in the English language, since his death, over 350 editions.
He died practically in poverty, on the 12th day of July, 1796, but left behind him a name that will never perish.
The proudest personages in English literature have felt honored in appearing as his commentators and admirers, and while many eulogies have been penned to his memory, I know of none to equal that of an anonymous writer, from which we receive a portrait of "Robbie" in a certain sense here in Albuquerque, with the quotation of which I will close.
"We speak of Shakespeare's master art, and Byron's classic lays, Build granite arch and marble shaft, And let the world be proud to say, But a verse of Burns will thrill the heart when monuments are rotten, And memories tottering walls decay, And heroes are forgotten."
Gentlemen, I ask you to rise and drink a silent toast to the memory of Robert Burns.

"The President of the United States' Toast."

Was handled by Judge B. F. Adams, in a most admirable manner, and his remarks elicited generous applause. Referring particularly to the president, the speaker said:
"Theodore Roosevelt has stood for long years the foremost figure in the eyes of his fellow citizens, has walked in the fierce blaze of light that beats on those who tread the paths of power, and he has borne himself that none have doubted the stovency of his faith and many have honored his creed because of him."

His reference to the interest the president has taken in joint statehood and his fight against official corruption and corporate greed, made a big hit, and in conclusion, he said: "Gentlemen, I propose, long life and very good health to Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States. Fill your glasses to the brim, for he is well worthy of it."

"The Commercial Interests of Albuquerque" Toast.

In the absence of Hon. O. N. Marmon, who was down on the program, this toast was taken by J. N. Coffin, secretary and treasurer of the American Lumber company, and although practically a newcomer among us, he handled the subject in fine style, showing a marked familiarity with Albuquerque from a commercial point of view, and predicting a great future for the city. He surprised his friends by intermingling jokes and stories in his remarks, and his reference to the McIntoshes and the MacPhersons of Scotch fame and their mighty strength, brought forth much cheering.

Mayor Frank McKee responded in a neat speech, in which he referred to the deposits of the local banks as a criterion from which to judge the commercial importance of Albuquerque.

"The Army and Navy" Toast.

Dr. W. G. Ticht was on the program for this toast, and he was present, as he said, unprepared to make an address suitable to the importance of the task assigned him; but he, nevertheless, gave one of the best of the evening. He gave an account of his trip to one of the small countries of South America, where the election of a new president is always followed by a revolution, and his ludicrous comparison of the soldiers of those countries to the well-fed, thoroughly equipped soldiers of the United States, "brought down the house" in generous applause. If Dr. Ticht was not at his best last night, his remarks were appropriate to the occasion, and seemed to touch every one present.

Colonel John Bursenal, the war horse of the territorial militia for the past twenty-five years, and a man who takes great delight in everything pertaining to the army, and national guard, responded, and acquitted himself in good order.

"The Press" Toast
Was assigned to W. T. McCright, of the Evening Citizen. He stated that God had endowed him with good health and a good trade, and that he had forgotten to give him the gift of oratory and the telling of a good joke, hence he, with the indulgence of his Scotch friends, who had assembled to celebrate the birth of Robbie Burns, would withdraw in favor of the only real joker in the newspaper business—D. A. Macpherson. However, before taking his seat, he proposed a slip to the press of Albuquerque and of New Mexico, especially those who had advocated joint statehood for New Mexico and Arizona. His remarks were greeted with appreciative applause.

Mr. Macpherson, of the Morning Journal, attempted to get out of making a response, on the ground of his unpreparedness for a speech, but the crowd would not have it, and with the aid of Colonel William McIntosh, he was assisted in moving a chair after which he told several amusing anecdotes, and claimed to be a direct descendant of the strong Macpherson alluded to by Mr. Coffin.

"The Ladies' Toast."
Maynard Gunsul, who has achieved somewhat of a record since becoming a resident of Albuquerque, as a good talker, took this toast, and in his remarks, paid a glowing tribute to the ladies. He told an amusing George Washington story, which has gone the rounds since George was first in peace, first in war, and first in the hearts of his countrymen, but it nevertheless fitted the occasion and was heartily enjoyed.

Dr. L. H. Chambliss, in the absence of Herbert F. Reynolds, who should have been present to make the reply to "The Ladies," made the response in a happy strain and elicited the usual appreciative applause when the ladies were referred to.

This ended the numbers on the program proper, but the festivities did not close for several hours afterwards. In fact, some are reported not to have left the banquet hall until the gray streaks of a winter's morning presented themselves, creeping silently over the tops of the Santa mountains to the east of the city.

The Extras.
Rabbi Kaplan delivered a most excellent "short order" toast in honor of the toastmaster, Dr. Pearce, and the committee on arrangements, R. W. Hadden, W. J. Johnson, W. T. McCright, D. A. Macpherson, Dr. W. N. Macbeth and George S. Ramsey, thanking them for furnishing such a delightful, happy entertainment and banquet. Dr. Pearce and Mr. Hadden responded.

Colonel Borradaile proposed a toast to "The Thistle and the Star Spangled Banner," which was accepted. Dr. Macbeth, who gave the first Robbie Burns birthday banquet in Albuquerque in 1883, at which several old-timers, including the writer, were present, was called upon for a few remarks, but the doctor instead, sang several old Scotch songs, which caught the inspiration of his friends, and they all cheered.

F. A. Hubbell was called upon by the toastmaster to make a few remarks on any subject he might choose. He took Scotland, politics, and statehood, and spoke briefly of the three subjects. He convinced his hearers that he was a direct descendant of some of Scotland's best blood, and had as much right to celebrate Robbie Burns' birthday as any else present. He spoke of politics, and advocated the statehood of New Mexico, and on statehood voiced the fact that he was in favor of joint statehood and hoped, when the bill becomes a law, that the people elect no one but the very best men to frame a constitution for the new state of Arizona.

Billy McIntosh was called upon for a short talk, but being of a modest nature, he declined, although he handed to the toastmaster a small piece of paper, upon which was written a "few lines from Burns," which were read and pronounced as McIntosh's sentiments.

Prof. Clark, superintendent of the city public schools, delivered a very pleasing toast on Scotland's bard, Robert Burns, to the chorus, "The Blue Bells of Scotland."

Dr. Cutler, who had absented himself professionally during the preceding evening, reappeared and delighted the gathering by giving a most appropriate recitation.

Messrs. McIntosh and Macpherson caused any amount of fun by dancing the Scotch reel, while the Highland fling was produced in realistic order by Mr. Hadden.

Messrs. Krebs, Blomfield and Hadden, three well known Scotch musicians, played several popular Scotch airs, and for their labors were the recipients of hearty, generous cheering.

"And Lang Syne" was sung in good fashion by Mr. Livingston, the following chorus:
"For auld lang syne, my dear,
For auld lang syne,
We'll tak a cup o' kindness yet,
For auld lang syne."

Being joined by every one present, and by this time they all sang.
"The Mining Industries of New Mexico" received attention from George W. Stubbs, while T. Y. Maynard, Dr. D. O. Norton and others, spoke a few words on various subjects.

The festivities closed with a dog and badger bout, the referee being a gentleman whose name the writer failed to remember.

BASKET BALL-DANCE.
The Casino will again be the means of delighting the Albuquerque public. Basket ball now holds the boards instead of the varied amusements offered so far. Tomorrow evening will witness one of the best games this season. The University of New Mexico plays the Agricultural College. The usual dance will follow the game.

MRS. ESPINOZA AND HER BURGLAR

Alone She Stands on Guard With Thief in Front Hall of the House.

SHE STAYED THERE THREE HOURS

Again comes a narrative chronicling the operations of a sneak thief who maybe is a member of the gang that is making almost nightly raids upon one part of the city or another.

Mrs. J. C. Espinoza, a lady residing at the corner of Eighth street and Marquette avenue, had an experience this time, which will long remain fixed in her memory.
She was alone in her house in the neighborhood of midnight. Her brother had just about taken his departure when the front door, leading into the hall, was heard by Mrs. Espinoza to open. Thinking probably her son, Prof. A. M. Espinoza, teacher of Spanish at the University of New Mexico, had called, she opened the door and found a man standing in the hall, and called out his name. There was no response. Again she called but no answer came. Surmising that all was not right, Mrs. Espinoza slammed the door, not a little frightened, and locked it. She listened. A second after she heard a mark was made on the strike a match and through the transom over the door she could discern the faint illumination the match produced when it ignited. The fellow evidently looking around for the purpose of securing his bearings, Mrs. Espinoza climbed onto a chair in such a way that she could look out of the transom into the hall. She thought the thief might light another match and if so she might be able to have a good look at him. Her face was evidently seen by the thief for he remained in the darkness from thence on, probably thinking Mrs. Espinoza would decide he had left the house and retire. Then he could accomplish his purpose of ransacking the place. Mrs. Espinoza was in no condition by this time to go to bed. She knew the thief lurked in the hall and she waited. At 3 a. m., the thief finally tired of his bivouac and opening the door, he stepped into the hall and escaped. Then Mrs. Espinoza drew a breath of relief. Securing the front door, she felt safe again. The incident goes to prove that the burglar thoroughly familiarizes himself with the house to be ransacked before making the strike. This fellow apparently knew Mrs. Espinoza was alone after her brother left and there was small probability of any one else arriving at that time of the night. It also indicated that he was on hand when Mrs. Espinoza entered the rooming house of Mrs. W. G. Willey, at 217 1-2 South Second street, was entered and a trunk in the bath-room belonging to an absent brother ransacked. It is not known whether any valuables were taken or not. A trunk belonging to Mrs. Willey and filled with many valuable articles was saved by being moved into the bed-room earlier the same evening.

ELABORATE TENT COLONY IN THIS CITY

DR. THOMAS B. KEYES, ASSISTANT CHIEF OF CHICAGO CAPITAL, WILL BUILD ONE—ALSO LOCATED ON HIGHLANDS.

Albuquerque will in the near future have a tent colony for the reception of those afflicted with tuberculosis, which will in no way detract from modern conveniences, eclipse any similar institution of its kind in the United States.

Dr. Thomas Bassett Keyes, a celebrated physician from Chicago who has cured many pronounced cases of tuberculosis from his cures of tuberculosis, has been in Albuquerque for a few days past looking over the ground with a view of finding a suitable location and learning more about the climate and conditions. He is thoroughly pleased with the city and expressed himself today to a reporter for The Evening Citizen.

George R. Duce, a wealthy Chicago photographer, and another Windy City capitalist, whose names will be divulged at some future time, will be associated with Dr. Keyes in the enterprise of erecting the tent colony. These gentlemen will come to Albuquerque in about two weeks at which time the plans for the tent city will be drawn and active operations commenced.

Mr. Duce will, it is expected, manage the colony and Dr. Keyes will treat the inhabitants of the same by his subcutaneous injection of oil process, such as was described in detail through these columns Wednesday afternoon. Dr. Keyes has effected many cures by this method.

A mammoth structure of wood, cement and brick will be constructed on the land purchased for the colony, to be utilized for eating and entertainment purposes. The tents will surround it, arranged in streets and avenues. No money or pains will be spared in making it complete in every detail and a pride to the lake city.

GOLD MEDAL FOR THE DIVINE SARAH

Boston, Mass., Jan. 26.—Seventy-five students of Harvard University, members of the Cercle Francaise de l'Universite Harvard, will attend the performance of "Phedre" at the Boston Theatre this evening. After the performance they will present Mme. Sarah Bernhardt with a gold medal, an honor which has heretofore only been bestowed upon men of eminence. No woman in the world possess one of the distinctive honor for Mme. Bernhardt is in recognition of her great services to French art and history.

Originally it was intended to have Mme. Bernhardt as a guest of honor at a matinee performance of Moliere's "L'Amour Medecin" at Jordan Hall, on January 10th, but the plan was abandoned as there is a rule in Harvard that no matinee entertainments shall be given during the school year. Similar medals have been conferred only upon eight persons, Rene Doumaud, Edouard Rod, Henri de Regnier, Gaston Deschamps, Constance Coquerin, Henri Leroux, F. Brunetiere of the French Academy, and Rene Millet.

YOUNG JAP CHASES NATIVE WITH KNIFE

Scrap at the Alvarado This Morning Results in Police Taking a Hand.

THE CELESTIAL BADLY WORSTED

Japan and Mexico clashed in a war this morning at the Alvarado hotel, in which K. Ota, the Japanese belligerent was badly battered up and Leandro Leyva, a native, had his hands full in saving himself from being murdered by the greatly stirred native of the mikado's realm.

There are two versions as to how the trouble started and what really took place after the battle was on. Naturally both participants tell different stories. In this Leyva has the advantage for the reason that he has a witness who corroborates his story while the Jap is without a person to prove his allegations.

According to Leyva, he was sitting in the employees' dining hall. Behind him was a woman employee. The chairs were close together. Ota entered the room and was unable to pass through the narrow aisle between the two chairs. He became angry with Leyva and shook his chair. Leyva asked him why he did not ask him to move whereupon the Jap, it is alleged, picked up a chair and struck the native over the head with it.

Leyva jumped to his feet, grabbed the Jap, who had, meantime, Leyva claims, drawn a knife. With one hand he held the arm of the Jap away that held the knife and used the other in keeping the celestial's body from getting too close. In this way a tub was reached. Leyva shoved the Jap onto the tub, freed himself and ran. The Jap regained his feet and followed into the laundry Leyva dashed. Ota was close behind. "Look out," some one yelled, "the Jap has a knife!" Some other natives took a hand in the melee at this point, seized Ota and led him away. Leyva is in the meantime made himself scarce. Another employee called the police. When the officers arrived they found the little Jap bleeding from a wound in the head, his left eye was closed, his forehead covered with blood, looking bumps, his shirt front covered with blood and his hands cut and bruised. Leyva's injuries consisted of some scratches on the neck. Ota was arrested and locked up.

The Jap, through an interpreter, claimed that it was Leyva who struck him with the chair over the head and that he drew his knife in self-defense. He had no witnesses to prove this claim, however, while the native did show through the woman sitting in the dining hall that Ota struck him, as claimed.

Manager Cheatham of the Alvarado, stated that the Jap was at all times a quiet, inoffensive boy who was well liked at the hotel. He informed Judge Crawford that his inquiries into the origin of the trouble showed that Leyva was to blame for what happened and that he struck the Jap first. Afterwards, Mr. Cheatham said, Ota was jumped upon by three Mexicans and terribly beaten. There was, likewise, an absence of evidence to substantiate these allegations. The court could do nothing else but reach the conclusion that the Jap allowed his temper to get the best of him; that he assaulted Leyva with the chair and tried to stab him with a knife. He accordingly found him guilty of assault and sentenced him to serve thirty days in the county jail or pay a fine of $50.

Manager Cheatham paid the fine and Ota was released. Ota does not resemble a Japanese very closely. Manager Cheatham explained this by saying that the young man's mother was a Japanese but his father was an Englishman. He talks no English and is slightly deaf.

FAVORITISM IN RAILROAD RATES

Let us do a sum.
All right, here is a sum as is a sum.
School books can be sent from Chicago to San Francisco at the rate of $1.40 per hundred pounds. What, then, will be the rate for school books to Reno, Nev., which is 245 miles nearer Chicago on the same railroad?
Let Mary answer. She says it will be about $1.26 2/3. Good for you, Mary, but you are away off.
Yes, you might all as well give it up. The answer is not in the school books that come from Chicago, nor any other place. It is only in the tariff sheets.

THE ANSWER IS, $2.69.
So you see, instead of us doing the sum, the sum has done us.

RAILROAD TOPICS

W. W. McCormick, trainmaster of the New Mexico division of the Santa Fe, is in the city from Las Vegas on company business.

C. O. Yeom, connected with the passenger department of the Santa Fe, with headquarters in El Paso, is in the city on company business.

Master Mechanic L. J. Hicks, of the local Santa Fe shops, yesterday entertained Frank D. Fenn, of Chicago, who spent the day in Albuquerque.

Mrs. G. W. Walker, of Oskaloosa, Iowa, accompanied by her little child, arrived in Albuquerque last night and joined her husband, G. W. Walker, a brakeman on the coast lines of the Santa Fe.

P. J. Donahue, a member of the Boilermakers' union of Albuquerque, left last night for Kansas City, where he has gone to represent the local order in a conference to be held at the headquarters in Kansas City. Mr. Donahue stated that he was of the opinion that the conference was to be held to take some action on the strike now on against the Santa Fe railroad by the Boilermakers' union.

The Santa Fe company has contracted with the Horabin-McGaffey company's new saw mill to furnish them with 300,000 ties this year, the majority of which will be sawed in addition to this the railroad company has arranged to use a great deal of bridge and construction timber from the Horabin-McGaffey company, and it is a certainty that their new saw mill will be kept busy the rest of the season.

J. V. Key, engineer in charge of construction on the Belen cut-off representing the Santa Fe's interests, arrived in the city this morning having come over on his railway motor car. Mr. Key stated that the road was working about 500 men at present and that the work was progressing nicely. He stated that the Missouri Valley Bridge company had about completed the bridge construction work in Abo canyon, and that the rest of the work would be pushed to completion as fast as possible.

IS A SANTA FE AND NOT A ROCK ISLAND PROPOSITION

THE BROWNSVILLE, HIDALGO & NORTHERN RAILROAD PROJECT PROVES TO BE A SANTA FE PROPOSITION—WILL GIVE THAT ROAD A COMMANDING POSITION.

The proposed Brownsville, Hidalgo & Northern railroad, which is to be built northeast from Brownsville to San Antonio, Texas, and to Eagle Lake, joining the Cane Belt railway which belongs to the Santa Fe, at two last named towns, now develops to be an Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe project, instead of a Rock Island proposition, as was at first given out.

The building of this line puts the Santa Fe in a commanding position in the railway construction contest now on between the roads of the south-west and will give them a short line to the City of Mexico. By the proposed route the Santa Fe shortens the distance between Chicago and Mexico nearly 300 miles. The new road will be extended south from Brownsville along the Rio Grande to a point twenty miles below Matamoros, and will then cross into Old Mexico. By this route the Santa Fe avoids the twenty-mile concession strip granted by the Mexican government to the Mexican Central railroad, which extends from Del Rio to Matamoros.

The Frisco people expected to extend their Brownsville road into Mexico, but it was cut off by this same concession strip. The new Santa Fe line will give that road a short wasn't disgusted, but later realizing that concealment was useless he turned on the electric light.

Through the deep layer of powder which he had spread on his face the discolorations from the blows he had received were plainly discernable. His left eye is in mourning and his nose is skinned and purple.

"I came by these marks in a scrap about a secret matter, which concerns only myself and my friend. And he got more than I did," he said, and then attempted to learn how the news of his fight got out. Seeing that to tarry was useless the reporter arose to go.

Wilson said many things, but principally to the point that he had the reporter good and fast and would keep him a prisoner until his (Wilson's) friends arrived, and then we'll know about you."

But he hadn't figured it possible reporters have ways and means of defying bolts and bars unknown to some, and when a slender steel in the visitor's hand readily shot back the tongue of the lock, and the door was thrown open, Wilson looked bewildered.

He was soon in his coat and vest and following his visitor, and passed his caller a block away, his face in a broad grin, having evidently disabused the lurking suspicion that there was something underhand afoot, which directly concerned him, and a friend having convinced him that his visitor was only a reporter looking for a "story."

GRAND JURY PUTS ON LID AT TRINIDAD

NEARLY EVERY SALOON MAN IN THE COUNTY INCLUDED IN 190 INDICTMENTS.

A Trinidad special dispatch says: One hundred and ninety indictments were returned by the grand jury today after a session lasting over two weeks, but the names of the parties indicted are being withheld. The majority of the indictments are against saloon men and gamblers. This means that gambling has received its death blow for the present in Trinidad, and that the lid will be put on the saloons on Sundays. Except for a few short intervals, Trinidad has always been a wide open town.

According to the report, it is said there is not a church building in the city which has complied with the law in regard to fire escapes. Up to this evening twenty-five saloon men of Trinidad had appeared at the sheriff's office after being notified that they had been indicted and each gave bond for his appearance in the district court next Monday morning. It is given out that every saloon man of the county, with one or two exceptions, is indicted. Several of the saloon men of this city have from three to five indictments against them for keeping open on Sunday, and also for conducting gambling and slot machines.

EX-SURVEYOR GENERAL HOBART INJURED.

Ex-Surveyor General Edward F. Hobart, of Santa Fe, received a dislocated left shoulder yesterday by being thrown from his conveyance.

While driving on Grant avenue, the king pin broke, allowing the front wheels to be pulled from the wagon. General Hobart was thrown out on his shoulder. Friends quickly reached him, where his injuries were dressed.

General Hobart is the owner of the beautiful Round Mountain fruit farm and alfalfa ranch near Santa Cruz. He resides on Cerrillos road and was taken to his home after medical attention was secured.

THE INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM AND THE RECALL

GOV. JOSEPH W. FOLK, OF MO., POINTS OUT THE REMEDY FOR NEEDLESS LEGISLATION AND SABBOTAGING MEASURES.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 26.—"Missouri is the only state in the union that enforces all the laws on its statute books," said Governor Joseph W. Folk in an interview for The Evening Citizen on the subject of needless legislation and the best remedy for an evil that is fast filling the statute books of the states with laws that should never have been enacted.

"Of course, our laws are broken," continued the governor. "No law can prevent the commission of crime. The law can only punish the criminal and possibly deter others from committing criminal acts. In Missouri we enforce the laws—not the Sunday closing law alone, but all laws on our statute books."

"In your opinion, governor, what is the remedy for needless legislation and 'sabbotaging' measures?"

"The initiative and referendum and the recall. If we are to have a government of the people by the people the nearer it is brought to the people the better."

GOVERNOR FOLK.

"Isn't the initiative and referendum populistic?"

"Well, what of it? Isn't rate legislation populistic? The question is not so important as to source of origin as it is as to benefit derived. The Romans were the first to practice the initiative and referendum. Under the present plan of government an increasingly large number of measures are passed at the biennial session of the legislature. They go through with a rush, especially in the closing hours of the session. It is impossible for the executive to examine these bills with the care their importance deserves. The result is that many measures become laws that should have been vetoed; others that should have fallen beneath the sword of the veto."

"The veto is a good corrective for evil legislation, but the most effective is the initiative and referendum. 'The only place in the country where the recall is in effect is, I believe, at Los Angeles. It was not long ago that a congressman who had voted against the people's interests was recalled at a special election and another man who would represent the best interests of his constituents elected in his place. The recall is the standing command of the people to a public official to do his duty.'"

The Phoenix Gazette says: Charles Dagenett, of Albuquerque, is in Phoenix today. He is in the government service, his duty being to furnish Indians to work on different contracts. He furnished a number for work on the Tonto dam project. His territory includes Arizona and New Mexico.

John Belknap, woods superintendent of the American Lumber company, at Ketter, who arrived in the city a few days ago, has been promoted to general superintendent of the woods operations and to have charge of the local plant. Mr. Belknap will move his family to this city and will divide his time equally between Albuquerque and Ketter. While it was announced that there would be no manager appointed, this position virtually makes Mr. Belknap manager. George Cowley, who has had charge of the box factory, has been appointed superintendent of the plant here, under Mr. Belknap.

Daily the Evening Citizen receives visits from people looking for light housekeeping rooms, and although there are several advertised at times, it would seem that the demand is far greater than the supply.

Victors come from the east, who have been used to keeping house, do not, as a rule, bring their own furniture, and as a result, are on the lookout for furnished houses. It would be more than a paying investment for some capitalist to erect a row of modern flats and furnish them for housekeeping. One couple, who have been in Albuquerque two months, have not as yet succeeded in securing housekeeping apartments, and many others who have been here from one to six weeks, state that they find it impossible to secure adequately furnished rooms of houses for housekeeping, although there are furnished rooms galore. Here is an excellent chance for some one with capital.

Tonight at Casino hall the "Farmers" basketball team of the Agricultural and Mechanical college of New Mexico, located at Mesilla Park, and the "Varsity" team, will compete for basket ball honors, and as this will be the only game played in Albuquerque this season between a local team and an outside team, it is predicted that the Casino will be crowded. After the game a dance will be given by those having the affair in charge. An admission price of thirty-five cents will be charged. The game will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Since the weather has moderated horseback riding has again come into popularity, and many horseback parties are taking advantage of the spring-like weather to indulge in their favorite exercise. Few if any of the young men (and older) women who indulge in this form of pastime and exercise ride in the old-fashioned side saddle, which, as far as New Mexico is concerned, has become obsolete, but on the contrary, ride in the only sensible way, slantly termed "man fashion."

A. B. McGaffey, of the Horabin-McGaffey company, at Ketter, has returned to that place, and announces that his company will put their new saw mill, which has recently been erected at a cost of $5,000, and which will give employment to thirty men, in operation today. The company will furnish logs to the American Lumber company, 1,500,000 feet of logs having been contracted for by the last named company.

Train No. 10, on the Santa Fe, did not arrive in Albuquerque today until 12:30, almost five hours late, owing to the fact that a freight train on the southern division was off the track. No damage was reported further than the laying out of No. 10, and a general delayment of traffic on that branch for several hours as a result of the derailment.

H. Martinez, a prominent merchant and stock raiser of Tierra Amarillo, is in the city visiting with friends and relatives. This is Mr. Martinez's first visit to Albuquerque in thirteen years, and the gentleman expressed himself as being astounded at the wonderful rapid strides forward that the city has made since he was last here. Mr. Martinez will remain in the metropolis several days.

A machine shop has been installed in Ketter for the American Lumber company. It will be used for keeping the foreman for the company who has there in repair. The plant was installed at a cost of $7,500, and will give employment to eleven men. The American Lumber company's road out of Ketter is known as the Zuni Mountain railroad.

A Mrs. Eggleston, a man named Gillet and another whose name is Johnson, were arrested in the Gold avenue hotel early this morning on the charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. In police court this afternoon all were found guilty and sentenced to ten days each.

Comfort and durability in shoes are first consideration with people careful about their health and they are our first thought in designing our shoes, no matter how low the price or how dainty the design. And the stacks of shoes that we have here at the present time prove that these qualities need not be costly; nor need they be absent from the smartest and most stylish shoes that are made. C. May's Shoe Store, 314 West Railroad avenue.

THE KICK OF A ### MULE CAUSES DEATH

George Haywood, the old colored man, who for a number of years was corral foreman for the Lantry Sharp Construction company, and who was kicked by a mule here some two weeks ago, died last night at 6:30 at the sanitarium as a result of a fracture of the skull.

Haywood, at the time of the accident which resulted in his death, was in charge of some mules that were being transported from the Belen cut-off to the Wickenburg cut-off on the coast lines of the Santa Fe. The two car loads of mules were in the stock yards here for a few days. Haywood, who was about 60 years old, had gone into the corral for the purpose of feeding the mules. Some time later he was found in the yards unconscious and suffering from a fracture of the skull, where he had been kicked by one of the mules.

He was immediately taken to the hospital and an operation performed in the hopes of saving his life, but the old man's advanced age was unfavorable for his recovery and last night he passed away. The remains will be shipped to his former home in Topeka, Kan., tonight, accompanied by his wife.

SUSPECTS ARE BEING ARRESTED

POLICE BUSY, IN VAIN THOUGH—CUNNING CROOKS ESCAPE MESHES OF THE LAW—PUBLIC MUST HELP SOME.

The Albuquerque police department are not inactive during these nights of complaints from victims of sneak thieves and burglars. They are working seriously and faithfully, against fearful odds, however.

Last evening three suspicious characters were arrested. The police firmly believe that among the trio are some of the guilty parties, but they have not a particle of evidence to hold them on. They are suspects, that is all. Probably their conviction can be secured on the vagrancy charge but not as burglars or sneak thieves. There has hardly been a burglary reported of late, the police assert, but what the capture of the thieves could have taken place had residents or tenants taken the trouble to turn in the alarm upon hearing the miscreants at work. But no, they wait until morning, after the men have dropped from sight and then expect the police, without a clue, to find them.

The cunning gang of crooks at present working Albuquerque steal nothing but money or stamps. If the police caught on the right thief the next day, as they have already, the fact that he has money on his person is no incriminating evidence, even if it happens to be the identical cash "swiped," because all money looks alike unless marked in some way. It is a case of dismissing the charge against the suspect, in consequence. Then the keepers of rooming houses, the police claim, shield crooks at their places by refusing to give the officers any information simply because they fear the loss of a dollar or two of rent money. It is against such circumstances that the four men are against during one part of the night and the other three are against for the remainder of the watch. If some person would simply collect up enough nerve to notify the police while the burglars are in operation, it would be but the matter of a short time before arrests of importance would follow and the back of the nest of thieves broken effectually.
