GERMAN KAISER HAS BIRTHDAY

Celebrates Forty-Seventh Anniversary With Great Eclat.

GERMANY GENERALLY GALA
England's Intention Not to Be Represented at Marriage Celebration

CAUSES CHANGE IN PROGRAM

Berlin, Jan. 27.—Emperor William is forty-seven years old today, and the anniversary of his birth is celebrated throughout the German empire. According to a conservative estimate, twenty thousand thanksgiving services were held in the churches in all parts of Germany this morning. The official celebration of the day took the form of military reviews, of which there were probably more than one hundred in all parts of the empire. In this city the Bourse and nearly all business places were closed today in honor of the day and not even the newspapers appeared. The city was profusely decorated with flags, evergreens and bunting, and the streets were crowded with people, all day, particularly in the vicinity of the Palace Unter der Linden. There was a great deal to see, state carriages bearing members of the royal family and representatives of other German courts driving to and from the castle at short intervals. The emperor was an extremely busy man all day, and his whole time was practically taken up with receiving his royal and other visitors and his congratulations. During the morning hours the emperor received the congratulations of the members of his family, and of the members of his immediate household. Then came the members of his cabinet, and the two houses of parliament, members of the diplomatic corps, special envoys from various European courts, reigning and other princes and depositions of the army, the navy, the various branches of the civil government, and of the various federal governments, and finally the representatives of various civic and military organizations from all parts of Germany. As usual, there will be a grand court reception in honor of the emperor's birthday, this evening, which will be attended by about one thousand guests. The emperor and all the members of the royal family will be present, and the scene will be unusually brilliant. In honor of the day several diplomatic dinners will be given, among them one at the United States Embassy. This evening there will be many hundreds of banquets and celebrations by the officers of the army and navy, government officials and hundreds of civic organizations. It is an interesting fact that "Kaiser's Birthday" is the only day in the year when military etiquette excuses officers of the army and navy for becoming intoxicated. It is not considered improper to become intoxicated by drinking the Kaiser's health. Emperor William II was born on January 27, 1859, and succeeded his father, Emperor Frederick III, on June 15, 1888. He is the ninth monarch of the House of Hohenzollern to rule over the Kingdom of Prussia, and the third of the same house to rule over the Empire of Germany. He is a descendant of Queen Victoria; while French blood flows in his veins through one of his ancestors, Louis de Coligny, the French admiral, the great admiral. On February 27, 1881, he married Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein-Sonderburg-Augustenburg (born October 22, 1858), with whom he has had six sons and one daughter. The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the emperor and empress will be celebrated on February 27, of this year. It had been intended, at first, to make the celebration a magnificent state affair and preparations were already made for the reception of a number of royal visitors. This program has been abandoned, however, and it has been semi-officially announced that no invitations to take part in the celebration of the event would be sent to any European court. This change of the original program was a very clever maneuver of the emperor, which diplomatically took all the wind out of the sails of the British court, which had decided not to be represented at the celebration, as a pointed rebuke of some of the things that Emperor William did and which displeased his majesty, King Edward VII. Notwithstanding this change in the original program the celebration will be on a magnificent scale and throughout the German Empire extensive preparations are made now for the grand festivities which will be held in honor of the Silver Wedding Jubilee of the Imperial couple.

WOLVERINE PEOPLE
HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

New York, Jan. 27.—The Wisconsin Society of New York will hold its annual banquet at the Hotel Astor this evening, and it is expected to be a great success. The principal feature of the banquet will be addresses by Senator Spooner and Senator La Follette, the former governor of Wisconsin, who resigned his position recently to take his seat in the United States senate. Several other prominent Wisconsin men will come from the west in a private car to attend the banquet.

Van Schaick Gets Mild Sentence For One Thousand Killed.

MIDDY MANN IS ACQUITTED
Packers Endeavor to Bribe Newspaper Reporters With Money.

THE FACT IS FULLY ESTABLISHED

New York, Jan. 27.—Capt. Wm. H. Van Schaick was today found guilty of criminal negligence in failing to have the fire drills on the steamer General Slocum, which he commanded June, 1904, when the steamer burned with a loss of over 1,000 lives. He was immediately sentenced to ten years imprisonment by Judge Thomas, of the United States district court. The jury disagreed as to two other counts in which he was charged with criminal negligence in the tolerance of life preservers of poor quality on the steamer.

PRESIDENT'S APPOINTEE DECLARED NOT GUILTY.

Annapolis, Jan. 27.—Midshipman Richard H. Mann, a presidential appointee and member of the first class, has been acquitted of the charge of hazing and restored to duty. Another Not So Successful. The secretary of the navy has directed the dismissal of Midshipman Chester A. J. Bloebaum, of Missouri, in the execution of the sentence imposed by the court martial at Annapolis, on a conviction of hazing. The cases of Midshipmen Merriweather and Miller are under consideration at the navy department.

WOULD BUY REPORTERS WITH CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—The Record-Herald today says: "The revelation from Washington, dealing with the attempt to influence two reporters in favor of the Chicago beef packers, by alleged offering of bribes, was not wholly a surprise to the majority of newspaper men who have been connected in professional ways with the governmental investigation of the packing business, and the subsequent proceedings resulting in the indictments under which the packers are being prosecuted. The proof that offers of money has been made to reporters, came into possession of United States District Attorney Morrison while the grand jury was making the investigation. No evidence could be obtained, however, that money had been accepted. Now it is stated that Attorney G. W. Brown, representing Nelson Morris, gave Frank Hasler of the Inter-Ocean and Hector Elwell, of the City Press association, $100 each as 'Christmas presents.' Elwell claims he returned the money."

GRIDIRON CLUB WILL GRILL THE PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—President Roosevelt will be the most distinguished victim to be broiled and roasted at the annual winter dinner of the Gridiron Club, which will be held at the New Willard tonight. The Gridiron Club is that famous organization of the Washington correspondents of the various large newspapers and other publications, represented in the National Capital. Its dinners are among the most interesting functions in the life of the capital and have a reputation of their own throughout the country. At these dinners no mercy is shown, no respect for any individual or institution, no matter how high or dignified. With caustic wit, cutting sarcasm and the most merciless persiflage, men and affairs, alike, are dissected and criticized and ridiculed. Special efforts have been made for this occasion, and those who are in a position to be well informed, say that tonight's Gridiron dinner ever given in brilliancy and interesting features. It is expected that President Roosevelt will be the principal victim to be placed on the gridiron and "done brown." Besides the president, the members of the cabinet, many distinguished senators and members of congress, the ambassadors of the foreign powers and other prominent men will attend the dinner.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 27.—The largest indoor athletic meet ever held in this city will take place at the Armory today under the auspices of the Cincinnati Gym. It is to be an interscholastic meet, in which teams and individual representatives of various universities will compete with teams and individuals from the local high schools and various educational institutions in this district. The entries are very numerous and among the individual competitors entered are some of the best college athletes of the middle west. Even some of the eastern schools, like Brooklyn Trinity College, will be represented in some of the events. There are also teams and individuals from Oshkosh, Wis., and other universities, Woodward, Franklin and Walnut Hills high schools, the Ohio Military Institute of College Hill, and other schools and colleges.

MOVEMENT FOR WESTERN CLUB OF ATHLETES

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 27.—In accordance with an invitation of the New Illinois Athletic Club, sent out by President William Hale Thompson, representatives of the Missouri Athletic Club of St. Louis, the Milwaukee Athletic Club and the Chicago Athletic Club met here today with the directors of the New Athletic Club to consider and discuss the proposition of forming a Western Athletic Club League. As the clubs mentioned have previously expressed themselves in favor of such a movement, there is little doubt that the league will be formed in the near future. The league will be formed for the purpose of promoting inter-club track, boxing, swimming, billiard and possibly, association football contests. It is also suggested to hold a championship meet at one of the clubs each winter at which the western indoor championships in the different branches of sport shall be determined.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—The open boxing tournament which will be held here today under the auspices of the Missouri Athletic Club, is attracting considerable interest in sporting circles, owing to the fact that one of the principal features will be a battle between Joe Barth, the Scotch Broadway Athletic Club champion, and John Sauter, the crack boxer of the Missouri Athletic Club. Barth has done remarkably good work in the past and the south siders are confident of his success in the battle against Sauter.

RIOTOUS, EXTRAVAGANT, SELFISH SOCIAL LIFE IN OUR CITIES

New York, Jan. 27.—"It is an unhappy truth that the whole tendency of social life in the big cities of America is for the worse." This is the statement of the Rt. Rev. David H. Greer, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of southern New York, in an interview upon the wild abandonment of extravagance and the pursuit of pleasure that marked the opening of the new year.

In New York alone, upwards of $10,000,000 was spent in entertainments in private mansions, in the fashionable hotels and restaurants and in the theaters during the twelve hours that lapsed between 8 o'clock p. m. of the old year and the first dawn of the new.

Bishop Greer for more than twenty years was rector of St. Bartholomew's church, which holds the most fashionable congregation in New York. He devoted himself, with the aid of the Vanderbilts, to the foundation and upbuilding of the now famous St. Bartholomew's mission.

Riotous Expenditure.

Bishop Greer said: "The men and women of the cities are drifting from the honest elementary principles, the simplicity and directness that have done so much to promote the greatness of the country. The spirit of the age is all towards artificiality, display and riotous expenditure. 'Go into the Metropolitan opera house on a star night, wander around the restaurants of the fashionable hotels, or any of the 'affairs' in private houses, and you will see a ghastly spectacle of reckless luxury—an illustration of the selfish self-indulgence, of vanity, of the insolence born of the possession of wealth, power, social position, only comparable with the courts of Louis XIV or Louis XV, in the fifty years that immediately preceded the French revolution. There seems to be among these people an utter indifference to the world outside their own circle, to the suffering amount the gaunt, famished creatures of the slums."

Pernicious Example.

"Does the blame for all these things rest with the four hundred?" said Bishop Greer, in answer to a suggestion. "Certainly not. To pretend that this collection of gayly plumaged birds exercise any pernicious influence upon the nation at large is to insult the nation. But their pernicious example has inspired the other limited classes in this metropolis to excesses and similar habits of life. 'Class imitates class. Behind the inner ring of society we have several outer and larger rings. Below the lowest ring of fashionable society comes the wealthy bourgeoisie of the well to do trading class aping the dress, the customs, the manners of society, and behind them, the flat dwellers 'keep up appearances' on small incomes and make a desperate attempt to keep pace with their wealthier neighbors."

Family Life in Peril.

"Right through this various strata runs the habit of reckless expenditure, of living beyond or up to every cent of one's income for the sake of the pleasure of the moment. 'The greatest of all dangers that threaten the future of this country is in the disintegration of family life. For this, the restaurant, with its savoury, save-labor tendency, is responsible. There is in these days little of the simple, beautiful union of families, the love of each other, brother and sister. The ego rules. All things are for self. 'What the end will be I do not know. But I do not, like the pessimist, cry 'chaos.' For after all, American men and women have the great heart, large sympathy and strength of purpose that make the greatness of a nation. The pursuit of money within limitations, has its good side. Our mighty danger is that this commercialism will develop into a fever. 'I have hope, and my hope for the future of our people lies not in the cities, but in these thousands of quiet little towns and cities scattered over New England and the west, where people learn to live. For it is in these places that you find the true ideal of pure and unselfish American womanhood and manhood. All the grand simplicity of the true home life is to be found there. From these places come every day the men who are to make history. And in them lies our best hope."

AFFAIRS IN RUSSIA

Revolutionists Are Given Short Shrift Before Being Shot.

FIGHTING AND BURNING IN

Gomel District Where Peasants Aid Rebels and Elect Authorities.

Wander, Livonia, Thursday, Jan. 25.—The pacification of the Baltic provinces is reaching the final stage so far as the agrarian movement is concerned. Nearly 250 revolutionists have been shot, several hundred have been arrested and 5,000 rifles have been captured. Three Russian generals are now operating in the Wander district with 10,000 troops. They have the names of the leaders of the revolutionists, who are to be tried by court martial when caught, and either shot or imprisoned.

INSURGENTS ARE NOT ALL PACIFIED YET.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 27.—A dispatch from Gomel says that the half of the town is in flames and that fighting is going on in the center of the town between troops and rebels, the latter having been reinforced by the peasantry of the surrounding districts. The disorders extend to five counties around Gomel. The peasantry, as in the Baltic provinces, have deposed the old authorities and have elected rebels to fill their places.

Vladivostok Not Subdued.

Beyond the fact that the revolt at Vladivostok is not subdued and that the mutinous sailors and soldiers are still standing by their guns at the Holy Innocents battery, the war office had nothing to give out today regarding the situation at the fortress.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 27.—In continuation of the policy of retrenchment by weeding out the inactive members of the military organization, the retirement on half pay of twenty-two generals and three admirals, who hold sinecure and three admirals, who hold sinecure on the Alexander committee for the care of the wounded, will shortly be gazetted.

BURGLAR SHOT AND KILLED IN THE ACT.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 27.—James Paul shot and killed Pete McCoy while the latter was trying to rob his residence early this morning. McCoy made an assault on Paul, when discovered, and Paul shot in self-defense.

Eight Hour Law Won't Apply to Alien Labor on Canal.

PENSION BILLS MOVED QUICKLY

Special to The Citizen.
Washington, Jan. 27.—This few amendments to the joint statehood bill for New Mexico and Arizona, made by the senate committee on territories are unimportant. The opposition to statehood claims sixteen republican senators. Fire Alarm Foraker will lead the opposition fight with a speech thirty days long, so it is said. However, the administrationists claim that the bill will pass.

The Stephens resolution for an investigation of the Hagerman land entries in the Pecos valley, was voted down by the house committee on public lands, owing to its improper wording. But Stephens says he will re-write and re-introduce it, and push it to a final consideration.

The case from New Mexico against the Santa Fe railroad has been taken under advisement by the supreme court.

PENSION BILLS PASSED
FAST AS 4 A MINUTE.

Washington, Jan. 27.—By a vote of 150 to 108, the house today waived the eight hour law for alien labor on the Panama canal. The provision is contained in an amendment in an urgent deficiency appropriation bill, which passed. By special order, the house began to clear the pension calendar, there being 262 private bills to be acted upon.

COMMISSION REPORTS FOR A LOCK CANAL.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The Isthmian canal commission met today and concluded its consideration of the report of the board of consulting engineers with respect to the type of canal that should be constructed.

MOROCCAN CONFERENCE
MAKES HASTE SLOWLY.

Algiers, Jan. 27.—The plenipotentiaries of the powers resumed their sessions today and spent a couple of hours going over the work of the committee on Moroccan revenues. The powers have several important objects in examining the Moroccan system of taxation, or rather lack of system, and trying to equalize it. The sultan is always in need of money, and will be in a better humor to cooperate with the powers in the work of reform if he can be supplied with more of the foreign luxuries of which he is so fond, and which are a scandal to his pious subjects.

THE ONLY FIREPROOF
THEATER IN COUNTRY

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 27.—How many theaters are safe from fire? Is the Ironquols disaster in Chicago forgotten? Underwriters figure that three theaters, three public halls, and twelve churches are burned up in this country every week. It is this problem which is causing fire insurance people and architects to do some hard thinking these days.

"A theater audience is like a crowd of people sitting before a fire place made of dry wood, crammed with inflammables, and with the chimney top covered with a stone slab," says John R. Freeman, president of the Rhode Island Fire Insurance company, and an expert on the theater fire hazard. "If a match should be applied to such a fire place, you can imagine what would happen."

A Pittsburg architect, who has made a special study of the subject, supports this alarming description by the assertion that there are not more than half a dozen safe theaters in the United States. The safe theater, he describes as one in which the stage, its surrounding walls, roof and curtain form a fire proof box, virtually independent of the auditorium. This is the main consideration. The most important feature of theater construction is the means of exit.

On the stage of the Ironquols theater, at the time of the disaster which cost nearly 500 lives, there were 10,000 square yards of canvas, 3,000 yards of gauze, 10 miles of rope, and 8,000 feet of dry white pine. The burning of the gauze alone would have produced 1,000 degrees of heat. This shows that the theater stage must have adequate smoke and heat vents, always ready to open instantly. These vents are to a stage what the chimney is to a fire place. But the stage fire place, like any other, must be itself unburnable in order to be safe.

Pittsburg has recently built a real safe theater. Its stage is constructed exclusively of steel beams and built fire proofing—the same material which the insurance companies choose to use in constructing the model unburnable Underwriters' Laboratories in Chicago. The bridges on either side and the grillwork above are of steel. A tile roof with amply spaced rafters is supported by a thick brick wall extending over the stage portion of the building well above the roof of the auditorium.

Embodiment of the most recent lesson in fire proof construction, is the Majestic Theater, just completed in Chicago. Among other novelties it has a steel fire proof curtain. Through this great building, of which the theater is but a portion, the latest designs of steel and hollow tile fire proofing are used. This structure deserves still further interest from the fact that its exit number forty-two. These are but samples of the most recent forms of construction. Great holocausts like that of the Ironquols Theater and the Paris Bazaar are soon forgotten. But those who have studied this problem carefully say that such catastrophes are likely to happen any day, until all places where large numbers of people gather are as unburnable as the steel frame and hollow tile office building.

London, Jan. 27.—Voting is now practically over, only ten contests remain to be decided. The totals now are: Liberals, 371; Unionists, 157; Irish Nationalists, 87; Laborites, 50.

TWENTY-FIVE OF THE DIPLOMATS OBJECT

Caracas, Jan. 26.—Thursday, via Port of Spain, Jan. 27.—Twenty-five members of the diplomatic corps today delivered to the Venezuelan government a formal note stating that they cannot accept Venezuela's position, that M. Taigny, former French charge d'affaires here, has been deprived of his official character, and that he only ranked as a French citizen at the time of his forced departure from this country.

ANNIVERSARY DAY OF THE GREAT MOZART

Vienna, Jan. 27.—Musical societies and the people of this city in general are celebrating the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, the great Austrian composer, whose popularity has never been surpassed by any other composer. Thousands of people joined in the pilgrimage to the Schmelzer Cemetery, where the body of Mozart lies buried under wreaths and other floral gifts in profusion were deposited at the base of the monument marking the great composer's burial place. The Musik Verein, the Mozart Society, and many other musical organizations of the city have arranged to hold celebrations this evening in honor of Mozart's birthday. Special programs, including compositions by Mozart, have been prepared.

NEW YORK NEWS LETTER

New York, Jan. 27.—The community is wondering whatever possessed Judge Denel and the Town Topics people to sue for libel Editor Hapgood of Collier's Weekly. It appears in the progress of the trial to have been the most reckless bit of work that it ever occurred to a bluffer to have undertaken. Judge Denel and the paper which he ran from his judicial bench, have been completely ridiculed. Osborne, counsel for Editor Hapgood and Collier's Weekly, has stripped all the flesh from them and hung them up as living skeletons, with the winds blowing through their bones a sepulchral tune. It has been proven that gentlemen who would not subscribe to that remarkable work of art—Fads and Fancies—were abused afterwards in the Town Topics, so that the blackmailing feature has been made perfectly clear, even to him who reads as he runs. We are all pitching into the rich, condemning them for this, that and the other, but when we consider how many harpies they have to endure, what abuses they are subject to, how the secrets of their private and business life are laid bare to the public, and how freely they are made the subjects of men and women, who prey on real or manufactured scandal, the public might well resolve that for a whole year it will not suffer them to be attacked. Let them catch their breath, at least. As for Town Topics and Judge Denel, it would seem that they are going out with the tide. Many other men, along the shore are waiting for them, but if the waves of public scorn wash these latest additions to the driftwood to a landing place, we doubt that the other wrecks will feel like giving them room.

FIDDLING MASHER IS GIVEN JUST DESERTS.

A good story comes from Paris, of a fiddler of the Gypsy persuasion, who has come back to the merry capital with much less money than he counted on. He is one of the class like Rigo, with whom susceptible women become infatuated, and do all manner of silly things. This fiddler had a job in a New York restaurant, where he fiddled with great skill, and peculiarly tender expression. A doctor's wife, with plenty of money at her command, became so charmed with his playing that she made a pretext of seeing relatives for going abroad, leaving her husband, who is a prominent doctor. The fiddler was to follow her. But in the meantime he had discovered that he had another string to his bow, and just stopped over a steamer or two to capture another pretty woman, or rather, her money. Her husband is an elderly millionaire so she has unlimited means. She had formed the habit, whenever she took a meal at the restaurant, of leaving a little pile of one dollar bills to reward him for his splendid playing. Naturally the fellow thought that he had made a conquest, and he became bold, until at last he told the lady that she must pay him $10,000 or he would exploit a scandal. Then came the first moment of sense. The woman had had in many a day, for she went directly to her husband and told him the story. Like the business man that he was, he went about the business in a business like way. He sat down and wrote a check for $10,000 and told his wife to give it to the hope for blackmail. But when the rascal came to the bank to cash the check, he was detained on the pretext that he must be identified, and was shown into a room where the husband and two detectives were awaiting him. He was soon made to see that prison doors were opening for him, and he concluded to surrender the check and leave the country at once. He at once set out for Paris, but whether he met the other silly woman again has not been cabled.

POLITICAL COMBINE

OF MUCH POWER.
Ex-Judge Parker, ex-President Cleveland, and Mayor McClellan, who happily escaped the prefix "Ex" which Mr. Hearst designed for him, have unquestionably set about trying to reconstruct and reinvigorate the democratic party. They have all the money that can possibly be needed or used, as Thomas F. Ryan and August Belmont are making yellow boys behind them. All good citizens, whether democratic or republican, in their political affiliations, say—"More power to their elbows."

Everybody who knows anything about politics knows that the city, the state, the nation, are best served when there are two strong parties opposed to each other, sufficiently near in point of strength to each other to keep each other in fighting trim, and bring discussion to the point where every public question is thoroughly threshed out, and the life-giving force of public opinion clears up the atmosphere and puts in power the party that is most in the right. The gentlemen named can work very advantageously as they are men in whose sincerity of purpose the public has full confidence. With some trimming up on the republican side, and in addition the birth of some great issue involving great principles, and not merely money, and we could take a long breath without being nauseated by the foulness of the campaigns. All agree that one of the consummations most devoutly to be wished for, is the putting of Tammany Hall and kindred organizations so far beneath the surface that they will never be heard of in the campaign.

MR. JONES GOT A GOOD KNOCK OUT.

It doesn't do for elderly men to come into the city from the suburban or inland towns, and imagine that they can go to the city with "visions in blue" as they may meet in the thoroughfare. John Jones, of Binghampton, came here, and when he saw a "vision in blue" come sailing down the avenue, he just took leave of his senses and became entirely fresh. Thereupon the "vision in blue" walked straight up to him, let fly with her gloved fist and hit him squarely on the nose. Now a blow on the nose makes a masher pause, and there is an element of surprise about it when the blow comes from a young woman, that tends to stun the masher. And so Mr. Jones, when he felt the touch of that gloved hand, promptly sat down, laboring under great astonishment. It seems that athletic schools are getting in some very fine work when they turn out women who can trip up in such handy style a masher in a lively state of eruption. The noble art of self defense is certainly being put to the best use when it puts into the little fist of a woman the power to protect herself in such a manner as astonished Mr. Jones. And we hear of many women nearly every day who are doing just what this lovely "vision in blue" did.

TAKES PROFESSIONAL PRIDE AS HANGMAN.

Van Hise, the official hangman of the state of New Jersey, who is sent to every sheriff in the state to relieve them of the gruesome task of hanging condemned murderers, doesn't like the talk that is springing up all over the state, and causing widespread and vigorous action for the substitution of electricity for the rope. Van Hise really takes pride in his work, and grows enthusiastic when he dilates on the beauty and symmetry of a neat and nice "swinging off" of the culprit. He has his own gallows, and it is stated that he etches it every time he sees a new gallows erected, like a duelist nicks his pistol when he lands a fresh victim. We are told that Van Hise has 56 notches on his gallows frame, and longs to make it a full hundred, as Russell Sage longs to round up his age to par. Only give him condemned murderers enough and Van Hise will realize his ambition, for nobody in New Jersey envies him his self appointed mission in life.

NEW BENEVOLENCE MAKES PEOPLES' BEACH.

Our benevolent people are on the lookout continually for new means of providing refreshing amusement and entertainment and mental, bodily and spiritual enjoyment for people in the common walks of life, who lack means to procure these blessings for themselves. Now we are to have a "people's beach" on the Long Island coast, where a worn out, tired worker can just lie on the beach and let the tireless waves of the sea just do the work for him, while his eyes, limbs and faculties find rest in seeing work done that costs no labor. Fresh air for children will be a specialty with this enterprise, and every description of benevolent enterprise will be given a show. There is a whole lot of air that is positively fresh concerning over Long Island, and no matter how much one person takes there is enough for any other that wants it.

OLD TIMER.

SUPREME COURT

ALL WORK IS UP TO SCHEDULE.—ADJOURNMENT TAKEN UNTIL NEXT MONDAY.

The supreme court continued its session at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the chambers in the capitol building. The following business was transacted:
The disbarment proceedings brought against J. M. Palmer, practicing attorney of Farmington, were certified to the court and by the court referred to the grievance committee of the territorial bar association for investigation. Attorney Palmer is charged with unprofessional conduct. After the committee makes its report the supreme court will act upon the matter.

Case No. 1092, entitled William P. Cunningham, et al. plaintiffs in error, vs. Eugene A. Flske, defendant in error; decision of lower court affirmed. Rencahan, attorney for plaintiffs and Flske, attorney for defendants.

Cases Nos. 957 to 961, entitled Atlas Assurance company, et al. plaintiffs in error, vs. Santa Fe Mercantile company, defendant in error; motion to recall execution, argued and submitted. Childers, Laughlin and Ortiz, attorneys for plaintiffs, and Rencahan, Catron, Gortner and Spless, attorneys for defendant.

Case No. 1129, entitled Benjamin H. Daniel, appellant, vs. City of Roswell, appellee; appeal dismissed.

Case No. 1121, entitled J. J. Hagerman, Roswell Land and Water company, appellants, vs. Arha Meeks, et al. appellees; argued and submitted. Richardson, Reid and Hervey, attorneys for appellants, and Evans, attorney for appellee. Court then adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

"Excuse me, congressman," said his constituent, "are you in favor of a bill for two-cent fare?"
"No, I can't say that I am," he replied. "I am in favor of a return to the old custom of issuing railroad passes."

Perfection Attained.
Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken, displace, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. W. H. How, Houston Tex., says: "For years I have used Little Early Risers Pills in my family. No better pill can be used for constipation." Sold by all druggists.

"Jenkins is absolutely lacking in all sentiment. I asked him if he had heard of Bilson's romantic wedding, and he said, 'I heard of his wedding, but I can't say anything romantic in it.'"

"Oh, well, you must remember that Jenkins has been married twice."

SOME MORE ABOUT TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. T. B. Keyes Gives Evening
Citizen Another Interesting Interview.

IS OF INTEREST TO ALL

Dr. Thomas Bassett Keyes of Chicago, who intends shortly to erect a tent colony on the Highlands, this city, for consumptives, particulars of which appeared in a recent issue, was approached last evening by a reporter from The Evening Citizen, and asked more concerning his treatment of tuberculosis. Dr. Keyes said:

I wonder if the public ever realize how closely the non-eating and non-digestion of fats are related to tuberculosis? Let us question some of our patients as to whether they eat the fat from their meat, a good supply of butter, cream and oils, and what will be the result? This question has been answered before by many physicians. Consumptives do not eat fats. The habit of not eating fats may have commenced from the weaning period of infancy and may have had its inception from the example set by tuberculous patients. I shall now see how this habit of not eating fats leads to their non-digestion, malnutrition and tuberculosis.

It would seem on account of the plasticity of organic materials, that habits implanted from birth, as abstaining from fats, would lead to a condition not favorable to their digestion; especially is this true of fats on account of the manner in which they are digested.

Fats are digested in the intestine, where they are split into oils, by the pancreatic juices and bile, after which their digestion is not agreed upon by all physiologists, which shows that it is not exactly understood, some believing that the fats are saponified; others that they are not; then they pass through the walls of the villi of the intestine. If conditions are favorable, in the walls of the villi of the intestine a heavy meal and under normal conditions, there are many white blood cells, which seem to be in waiting to absorb these fats like animals waiting to be fed. If there never were any fats to be digested and absorbed from the intestine then the juices which are used to break up the fats would come lessened, as all digestive juices do when not called upon, as is indicated in the "fadists" who go without breakfast, and soon they have no demand or appetite for it.

People who do not eat hearty meals on account of lack of appetite will soon become of "full habit" when they are trained to eat regular and large meals, as indicated with the tuberculous patient who, troubled with anorexia and loss of appetite, when placed upon a forced diet and made to eat a given amount, will under these conditions experience a return of appetite in a very short time. Signs drawn from the habit of not eating fats are everywhere pointing to the conditions which produce tuberculosis, prominent among them written in very strong characters is the blood.

The blood shows proof as to its condition in the tuberculous patient. Examination of the blood of a great many tuberculous patients was made by Dr. L. Applebaum. He divided his cases into groups corresponding to the stage of the disease. In the first stage of tuberculosis the blood changes are not typical. In the type of patients in which tuberculosis is a matter of years slow development, the tall, thin, pale, rapidly growing young subject, with poorly developed chest, anemia is present in the first stage of tuberculosis; the erythrocytes are diminished in number, the hemoglobin reduced, the specific gravity lessened, and coagulation delayed. In the class of individuals having good color and a liberal panniculus adiposus, the blood is normal during the first stage of tuberculosis. In the first group the toxic effect is of a long standing but as yet not advanced tuberculosis is apparent. In the second group of tuberculosis the blood is seemingly normal, estimated by the ordinary means for the determination of its character, but autopsies show that the organs of patients dying during the second stage of tuberculosis are very markedly anemic. The fact that there is a diminution in the blood mass, a loss of water elements which conceals the true state of affairs by presenting normal findings when the formed elements are counted or the hemoglobin tested. In the third stage of tuberculosis the anemia is no longer concealed under the mask of oligemia. During this period hemoglobin averages about 45 per cent, erythrocytes 2 to 2 1/2 million, specific gravity 1.040 to 1.042. The leucocytes are increased and may number 10,000 to 20,000 at the end of life. In the hyperleucocytosis of the final stage, the polymorphonuclear leucocytes are relatively increased and constitute 85 per cent of the total number of white blood cells. Without producing the various evidences which are furnished by different observers on the blood findings, let us analyze briefly these conditions which call for nourishment, and particularly oil nourishment, since in subsequent alimentary action oil is the only product which to any extent appreciably furnishes force to the body, and increases cell formation. In the group of cases referred to in the classified examinations of the blood we find that in the first stage, and those who have some fat, that before this adipose tissue is wasted, it yields itself to keep up the normal constituents of the blood so far as possible, but in the second stage and as the disease progresses, there is no adipose tissue to supply the blood, which then diminishes in quantity, and while nature endeavors to force her limited powers into armies of leucocytes which to destroy the enemy, the disease, she has nothing to feed these defenders upon, the system is completely bankrupt, the adipose has been used, and all nutrition of the body has yielded in endeavors to supply it with nutrition. The patient is emaciated and wasted. He cannot digest the food required, and nothing is to be derived from the system. Had subcutaneous injection of oil been instituted early in the disease, the nutrition which the blood requires for destroying the disease would have been furnished.

Oils when injected are undoubtedly digested and used in nutrition and to produce force. The constituents of the blood, grow and material is supplied to heal lung cavities. Cell activity is promoted, and all of the great theories of immunity in the prevention and cure of disease are met in a most remarkable way. For injections I use both olive oil and sperm oil. Sperm oil is thinner and more easily injected, but seems longer in being absorbed than the olive oil. Both oils are to be recommended and sometimes one oil will seem to act better than the other. The average dose which I inject is 20 c. c. daily, using a syringe which I have had especially constructed. To the piston I fitted a thumb screw for lowering the piston, and thus enables one to make the injection without shaking the needle and causes less pain.

The following inferences may be drawn from this interview: That the non-eating of fats leads to their non-digestion, malnutrition, and tuberculosis. To re-establish the habit of digestion of fats and oils, a plentiful supply of them should be eaten. There must be a constant continuity of training. And that subcutaneous injections of oil form the most valuable part of the treatment of tuberculosis.

CORN IS URGED AS AN EXCELLENT CROP

BETTER THAN WHEAT IN NEW MEXICO, SAYS C. B. ALLAIRE, OF
SAN ANTONIO, AND REASONS
WHY.

C. B. Allaire of San Antonio, N. M., has been experimenting in raising corn, and his conclusions he gives in a letter to the Socorro Chief. The Citizen makes the following extracts:

The farmers of Illinois and other states in the Mississippi valley are spending hundreds of dollars every year in their efforts to breed seed corn of the highest possible standard. In the class of individuals having good color and a liberal panniculus adiposus, the blood is normal during the first stage of tuberculosis. In the first group the toxic effect is of a long standing but as yet not advanced tuberculosis is apparent. In the second group of tuberculosis the blood is seemingly normal, estimated by the ordinary means for the determination of its character, but autopsies show that the organs of patients dying during the second stage of tuberculosis are very markedly anemic. The fact that there is a diminution in the blood mass, a loss of water elements which conceals the true state of affairs by presenting normal findings when the formed elements are counted or the hemoglobin tested. In the third stage of tuberculosis the anemia is no longer concealed under the mask of oligemia. During this period hemoglobin averages about 45 per cent, erythrocytes 2 to 2 1/2 million, specific gravity 1.040 to 1.042. The leucocytes are increased and may number 10,000 to 20,000 at the end of life. In the hyperleucocytosis of the final stage, the polymorphonuclear leucocytes are relatively increased and constitute 85 per cent of the total number of white blood cells. Without producing the various evidences which are furnished by different observers on the blood findings, let us analyze briefly these conditions which call for nourishment, and particularly oil nourishment, since in subsequent alimentary action oil is the only product which to any extent appreciably furnishes force to the body, and increases cell formation. In the group of cases referred to in the classified examinations of the blood we find that in the first stage, and those who have some fat, that before this adipose tissue is wasted, it yields itself to keep up the normal constituents of the blood so far as possible, but in the second stage and as the disease progresses, there is no adipose tissue to supply the blood, which then diminishes in

I do not believe that irrigation is at all necessary or advisable for a crop of corn on our low valley lands. The ground should be plowed in the fall so as to be in a condition to absorb and retain near the surface all the moisture falling in the winter. Then plant as early as possible, or as soon as the ground is warm enough to promote germination of the seed. As soon as the corn is up begin to cultivate. Cultivate every ten days or two weeks so as to thoroughly pulverize the surface and keep it in condition until the crop is at least two feet high. This will prevent evaporation of the moisture from the soil and the underflow in low lands will, by capillary attraction, provide an ample supply of moisture to meet the demands of plant growth, this making irrigation unnecessary.

I believe corn can be made a far more profitable crop here than wheat, especially if it can be grown without irrigation, by a proper selection and treatment of soil. A bushel of corn is worth more than a bushel of wheat. In either case the cost of preparing the land is the same. The seed for an acre costs less than for wheat, the crop is at least twice as large, and the work, except husking, can be done by horse power, and the harvesting can be done at leisure without hiring extra labor, while the stalks remaining in the field make excellent and valuable winter pastures.

We do not need to develop strains of corn for various uses. We have no starch factories, glucose factories or distilleries to utilize the crop. We should aim to produce the largest possible number of bushels per acre, regardless of color, shape or size of ear or cob. When we can produce corn at a cost of 40 cents per bushel (50 bushels or less) we can then profitably in combination with our alfalfa, fatten our own hogs and cattle for our home market, thus stopping two of the heaviest drains on our purses and be able to retain at home the enormous sums we are now sending east every year for these two necessary items in our food supply.

INDIAN SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Malcolm R. Odell and wife, from Vancouver, Wash., have been appointed as teacher and housekeeper, respectively, at the San Felipe day school. They reported for duty on Thursday, and Miss Spears and Mrs. Hunt, their predecessors, returned to the city last evening.

Miss Bevoe, superintendent of the Indian school at Tanahiti, is a guest of the local school. She is acquainted with a great many of the Navajo Indian boys who are at school here, as a number of them came from her school. She expresses herself as much pleased with the progress they have made.

The land recently purchased for the use of the school is being enclosed by a new fence, which improves its appearance very much.

The children had a party last evening, and all enjoyed themselves very much.

BLAND IMPROVING.

Assessment Work Has Shown Up Some Good Ore Bodies.

George Hoffheim, the Bland miner, was in the city this week, on business, and freely talked of things in his district.

Nothing much more than assessment work has been done in the district this year, but even that work has been the cause of opening up several good bodies of ore.

The camp goes into the new year looking more promising than ever, but the character of the ores in that district make it no poor man's proposition. Expensive machinery is necessary for the treatment of the ores in the district, and it is a hard matter to interest the required capital since the work of mining is not a sure thing at the district.

The machinery of the old Albermarle mill is gradually being taken away, but at the rate the work is being carried on it will take some months yet to see the last of it.

THE FARMERS MET DEFEAT

By Local Varsity Team--The Game Was Exciting But One-Sided.

PRESIDENT TIGHT DENIES WINNER

In one of the most exciting, though rather one-sided basketball games of the present series that has been played in this city this season, the "Farmers" from the Agricultural college, at Mesilla park, went down to defeat before the quick, snappy and heady work of the local Varsity team, by a score of 16 to 28.

Casino hall was packed last night when the two teams lined up for the struggle. On the side of the building were early decorated college girls and boys, wearing the colors of the team who had their sympathy. There were lots of tin horns, megaphones, rattlers and other noise-making instruments, and ever and anon would come the different college yell, to stir the favorites up to victory.

The playing of the "Farmers" was a disappointment to some of those who were there merely to see a game of basketball, as their work was slow, and but little team work displayed. Miller, the captain of the "Farmers," has a bad habit, also, of trying for baskets from the center of the court, as a grand stand play, which resulted last night in failure at every attempt.

Head, the captain of the Varsity team, was in bad repute with the crowd of disinterested watchers last night, also, as he was repeatedly caught fouling, and, as the referee was eagle-eyed, only resulted in the home team being penalized. All in all, though, it was one of the most exciting games that has as yet been played in the Casino building.

The Varsity team dug into their opponents from the start and at the end of the first half the score stood 22 to 5 in favor of the home team.

In the second half, however, the "Farmers" took a brace and when the whistle sounded on the last half the total score was 28 to 16.

The line-up of the two teams was as follows:

Farmers--Johnson, left field; Gallagher, right field; Miller, center; Patterson, left guard; Kinsler, right guard. University--Alford, left field; Clancy, right field; Head, center; Allen, left guard; Tschert, right guard.

After the game a war dance was indulged in by the college girls from the university, after which the usual dance was given. Later in the evening the winning team was tendered a banquet at the Alvarado by President Tight of the university.

OLD CRIPPLED WOMAN STILL HOLDS THE FORT

AT THE SANTA FE DEPOT--IS COINING MONEY AND EATING FROM SIX TO EIGHT MEALS A DAY.

The old crippled woman, giving her name as Mrs. P. H. King, who has been making her home in the ladies' waiting room of the Santa Fe depot since her arrival in the city Thursday, still holds the fort, and it begins to look as though she was here to stay. Yesterday she succeeded in "working" charitably inclined people who chanced to drop into the waiting room for three breakfasts, and after having disposed of the last one, walked over to the ticket agent and asked him if he couldn't help her to get something to eat, as she was hungry and had had nothing to eat in two days. He informed her that he had seen her dispose of three breakfasts, whereupon she sought other and more glib people and continued her supplications.

"She must have gotten at least $10," said an attaché of the depot this morning, "during her stay in the city yesterday, besides about eight meals all told during the day. She's a fox old woman, too. She is dead wise to the fact that she can't be put in a poor house, and laughs at the officers when they mention vagrancy, for she says that she has money to prove that she is no vagrant."

To the ticket agent at the depot she confided the fact that she was afraid of tramps and thieves, as she had quite a bit of money, "but" she is at- tended to have said, "if they (meaning the police), think I am going to spend my hard-earned money for food and railroad fare, they are away off."

All who have conversed with the old woman declare that she is an impostor--a beggar, pure and simple.

MASKED MEN ROB LAS VEGAS SALOON

A passenger from Las Vegas tells The Evening Citizen that the Opera saloon of that city was robbed by masked men Thursday night and considerable money taken.

A special dispatch from Las Vegas says: Three men were in the room of the saloon, where the gaming tables are located, playing and the money on the table amounted to about $300. A masked man appeared suddenly, covered the three men with his cocked pistol and with one grand swipe secured all the money on the gaming table, putting it into a bag, backed to the door and disappeared.

The front door of the saloon was guarded by another masked man who also with his drawn pistol kept passersby away. The two men disappeared in the darkness and there is no clue to their identity at this time. The men were so disguised no one could recognize them.

The whole affair did not last two minutes. Much excitement was caused by the occurrence and the authorities are making all possible efforts to locate the robbers, but so far without avail.

IS SHERIFF OF TWO COUNTIES

Perfecto Armijo Cares For Sandoval County Prisoners With His Own.

SHERIFF SANDOVAL ILL HERE

Sheriff Perfecto Armijo seems destined to act in his official capacity for both Bernalillo and Sandoval counties some time to come at least. Sheriff Emilliano Sandoval, of the infant county, is incapacitated from duty, has been for some weeks, and is likely to be for some little time longer.

According to reports brought to this city from Bernalillo it would appear that without Sheriff Sandoval at Bernalillo there is no keeping jail and the place has consequently been deserted.

Last evening Sheriff Sandoval was removed to the St. Joseph's sanitarium suffering from rheumatism. He was only a few weeks ago that Mr. Sandoval was discharged from the same hospital. He went to a relative's home in this city but became worse again and had to go back to the sanitarium. Officers with prisoners committed to the Sandoval jail have in the meantime been unable to get into the place and find it necessary, in consequence, to bring them to Sheriff Armijo's sanctum here.

This is how Constable Frank Blake happened to bring Governor Jose Guadalupe, of Jemez pueblo, and three other Indians from that place, namely, Pablo Toya, Francisco Maese and Victoriano Lilepe, to the Bernalillo county jail, after they had been committed to the Sandoval county jail. This is why, undoubtedly, all other criminals destined there will be brought here.

Sheriff Armijo does not fear any loss of money from keeping the prisoners here now or those to come, for he has in one sense of the word been deputized as sheriff of Sandoval county by the present sheriff of that territory. Sheriff Perfecto Armijo to keep all prisoners, take the same care of them as he would of his own for which he will settle at the legal rate.

SCHUSTER-SNELLENBURG WEDDING MONDAY

MORE PARTICULARS CONCERNING MARRIAGE OF POPULAR COUPLE NEXT WEEK.

Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the wedding of Miss Irma J. Schuster, of this city, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schuster, to Abraham Snellenburg, of Philadelphia, will be solemnized. The ceremony will be performed at the Congregation Albert temple. Rabbi Kaplan will perform the ceremony that will make the happy couple man and wife.

Miss Schuster's maids of honor will be Miss Hortense Snellenburg, a sister of the groom, and Miss Margaret Schuster, her sister. Milton Snellenburg, a brother of the groom, will act as best man.

At the conclusion of the services at the church the bride and groom will be driven to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kempenich, a sister of the bride's mother, where an elaborate wedding dinner will be served and the formal reception held.

Among those who are already in the city to attend the wedding are: Mr. and Mrs. R. Snellenburg, Mrs. C. A. Snellenburg, Stanley Snellenburg, Harry Snellenburg and Milton Snellenburg, all of Philadelphia; Mrs. Josephine Elchholz of Düsseldorf, Germany. Mrs. Elchholz is the mother of Mrs. Max Schuster and Mrs. L. Kempenich of this city. She will remain in the city as their guests for two or three months. The Philadelphia relatives of the groom will journey to Southern California after the wedding on a sight-seeing tour before returning home.

The bride and groom are keeping secret where they intend going on their bridal trip. It is believed, however, that California will be their destination.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schuster, relatives of the prospective bride, are here from Los Angeles to attend the nuptials. Mr. Schuster is a member of the firm of A. & B. Schuster, general merchants of Holbrook, St. Johns and Concho, Ariz.

Max Schuster, the father of Miss Schuster, came in from Holbrook the other day.

THE EXACT HOUR OF EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS

AT GALLUP AND FLAGSTAFF--SECOND SHOCKS DID MATERIALIZE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Special to The Evening Citizen. Gallup, N. M., Jan. 27.--Regarding the earthquake which was felt here on the twenty-fifth, inquiry has been made from Albuquerque wanting to know for scientific purposes the exact time at which the regulator at the depot stopped and whether it was correct.

At 9 in the morning when time was taken the clock was correct to the second and it stopped at 1:33 and forty-nine seconds. That was probably the time when the first few tremors struck here and they continued for from twenty to forty seconds from the time the first quiver was felt until things ceased to rattle and tremble.

That the people were well scared is shown by the credence given the statement from the weather bureau at Flagstaff that the same territory would be visited by another and stronger shock at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. The shock did not materialize, but the schools of Flagstaff and those of Gallup were closed for the afternoon.

It was probably well for the people to be on the safe side and close the schools as such disturbances are liable to be followed by others even worse. In fact, while it is not probable, it is possible that some of those old craters in the San Francisco range may again open up and belch forth destruction.

FRANK BELL NOW DENIES

That He Assassinated Colonel Chaves--Repudiates Alleged Confession.

BELL NOT KNOWN AT TORRANCE

Special to The Citizen. Prescott, Ariz., Jan. 27.--Frank Bell, a stranger, came to the sheriff's office here, gave himself up, and said he had murdered Colonel J. Francisco Chaves. He afterwards denied this statement and said he could prove he was elsewhere when the assassination occurred. He is being held pending an investigation.

NOT KNOWN AT TORRANCE.

Special to The Citizen. Torrance, N. M., Jan. 27.--Frank Bell, who is held at Prescott, on confession that he murdered Colonel J. Francisco Chaves, is not known here or in this vicinity. It is supposed here that Colonel Chaves was assassinated by natives whom he had prosecuted for horse and cattle stealing.

The story in an Albuquerque morning paper to the effect that Deputy United States Marshal Fred Fornoff, acting on advice from Governor Hagerman, had left the city yesterday for Prescott, Ariz., to take charge of one Frank Bell, who is alleged to have confessed to the assassination of Colonel J. Francisco Chaves, which occurred November 26, 1904, is a canard, pure and simple.

Deputy Marshal Fred Fornoff is in Las Vegas, or near there, and has been for several days past. Furthermore, there has been absolutely no advice received from Governor Hagerman at the office of United States Marshal Fornoff in this city, regarding the alleged confession of Bell, who, the article stated, was in jail at Prescott.

Yesterday's issue of the Santa Fe New Mexican contained the following telegrams alleged to have been exchanged between James R. Lowry, sheriff of Yavapai county, Arizona, and Governor Hagerman, relating to the alleged confession of the prisoner, Bell:

Governor Herbert J. Hagerman, Santa Fe, N. M., to Sheriff James R. Lowry, Prescott, Ariz.: "Frank Bell, in jail at Prescott, Arizona, has confessed that he shot Colonel Chaves through the window, killing him. JAMES R. LOWRY, Sheriff, Prescott, Ariz."

Hold Frank Bell until arrival of officer to make investigation. HERBERT J. HAGERMAN, Governor.

The history of the assassination of Colonel Chaves is as follows:

Colonel Chaves had gone to Pinos Wells on the afternoon of Saturday, November 26, 1904, in company with Louis Tranter, a sheep and wool dealer of this city, and was a guest at the home of Juan Dios de Salas for supper. After the evening meal was finished Tranter went to the store owned by Salas. Colonel Chaves, Mr. Salas and a mail carrier named Donaciano Chaves remained in the house talking. The colonel was seated near a window, when suddenly a shot rang out and Chaves fell, pierced through the lungs by a bullet from a heavy caliber revolver, from the effects of which he died almost instantly, as the bullet had grazed the heart. Blood-hounds were placed on the trail of the assassin, and his footprints, leading from the window through which the shot was fired, were followed for several hundred yards, until the trail was obliterated by hard of Lopez crossing it. About thirty days later one Domingo Valles was arrested, charged with the crime, and is still in jail at Santa Fe awaiting trial on the charge of killing or aiding in the killing of Colonel Chaves.

PRINCESS ALICE AND HER NICHOLAS I

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 27.--Miss Alice Roosevelt and her fiancé, Congressman Nicholas Longworth, arrived here today, and, while Miss Roosevelt will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Griscom, the former minister to Japan, recently appointed ambassador to Brazil, Mr. Longworth will be the guest of Isaac H. Clothier.

Miss Roosevelt will stay with Mrs. Griscom at Dolobran, the country seat of Mr. and Mrs. Clement A. Griscom, at Haverford, and will attend a party of eighteen women who will be entertained by Mrs. Clothier at the Bellevue-Stratford this evening. At the same time Mr. Longworth will attend the dinner at the same hotel, which Mr. Clothier will give in honor of Lloyd C. Griscom. Mr. Longworth will deliver an address on his bill in congress, "To Provide for Residences for Diplomats Abroad and also on Improvement in Our Diplomatic Service." Addresses will also be delivered by General Grover of Ohio, and Seno W. Payne, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means. The ladies, entertained by Mrs. Clothier, will have an opportunity to hear the addresses.

SOMETHING ABOUT MORRIS AND GRAY

Seems These Crooks Skinned Everybody They Met in Arizona.

THEY TOOK IN HOTEL KEEPER

Chief McMillin is constantly receiving letters from Arizona and elsewhere about the two confidence men, Morris and Gray, who are held at the county jail, in default of bail, waiting action of the next grand jury of this county.

The last letter, received this morning, came from Prescott, and tells of the proprietor of the Hotel Birke getting touched by these two clever crooks to the tune of $40.

Morris and Gray landed in Prescott, carrying with them a letter of recommendation from the deputy United States marshal at Phoenix, lauding the two reprobates to the skies "as good fellows" and recommending them for any courtesy, etc.

At that time the writer was not aware of the dark ways of Morris and Gray, and it is safe to say that he also was taken in before the men left Phoenix.

It is learned that Gray "was making enough to land an old schoolmate, named Bethune, at Phoenix for $60," and, as the letter goes: "It looks now as if it didn't make a d--- bit of difference who the sucker was provided they got the money."

FORESTRY RESERVES AND THE STOCKMEN

Denver, Colo., Jan. 27.--In accordance with an invitation sent out by Gifford Pinchot, forester of the United States, a number of representative stockmen of the west, including F. C. Hagenbarth, president of the National Live Stock Association; F. K. Warren, president of the National Wool Growers' Association, and Murdo McKenzie, president of the National Stock Growers' Association, met here today in conference with Mr. Pinchot, to consider the question of cattle grazing in forest reserves. In his opening address, Mr. Pinchot said that President Roosevelt had repeatedly expressed the sentiment that the forest reserves were for use, following this expression of the president the forestry service is now trying to make these reserves as useful as it is possible to make them under the existing conditions. The fee for grazing in the forest reserves has already been established by the Secretary of Agriculture, with the full approval of the president and has been accepted as just and wise by a great majority of those who use the reserve for grazing, throughout the west. Many of the stockmen are already paying the fees and the object of this conference is to bring about a full understanding between the forestry department and the men representing the interests of the stockmen.

SUPREME COURT WILL ADJOURN NEXT WEEK

JUDGE ABBOTT LISTENED TO SEVERAL UNIMPORTANT MATTERS TODAY IN HIS COURT.

Judge Ira A. Abbott returned last evening from Santa Fe and today listened to several matters in the district court, among them being two applications for divorces. Judge Abbott says that the last case calculated in supreme court is set for February 2, but he understands that court will adjourn before that date. It is probable that Wednesday will witness the adjournment of supreme court.

THREE PERISH, MANY HURT IN HOTEL FIRE

Lowell, Mass., Jan. 27.--At least three lives were lost early today in a fire that badly damaged the Richardson hotel, one of the best known hotels in the city. It is believed that when the ruins of the hotel are searched, it will be found that the list of fatalities has been increased. Seven persons have been taken to the hospital and nearly a score are being treated by physicians. All the known dead are women. The fire is believed to have started from an over-heated stove in the kitchen. The dead are:

H. C. HARLING, CHRISTINE NELSON, JOSEPHINE KENNISTER.

GOVERNMENT MAY PARALLEL CANAL

While the Salt river valley farmer is sick with apprehension for fear the Arizona Water company will not accept Secretary of Interior Hitchcock's offer to purchase the company's canal system at the price fixed by the government appraising commission, the Arizona Water company will have to sell or lose its holdings without delay, as it is learned here on good authority that if the company does not sell, the government will parallel its canal system with other ditches, says the Phoenix Gazette. The moment the water company signifies its intention to accept the government's offer, L. C. Hill, the local government engineer, will be notified to proceed at once to make such repairs to the canal system as will be necessary to furnish water to the farmers during the coming season.

LUMBER COMPANY HAS BEEN ROBBED

Valuable Surveyor's Instruments Removed From the Office.

FENCE AND GUARDS NO USE

The American Lumber company is surrounded by a high board fence, its entrances are guarded by watchmen. Every conceivable device known is employed in protecting the premises against fire and thieves. To visit the plant is sufficient to elicit the exclamation of "how in the name of all that's mortal could a thief get away from here without getting nabbed!" Nevertheless, thieves have helped themselves to various articles and made their escape, and are now helping themselves to things not their own and getting away.

Just recently a bold thief entered the civil engineer's office at the plant. He picked up a valuable transit. The instrument was in a large sized box and made a cumbersome bit of plunder. The high fence near the guarded entrance did not prevent the thief from passing outside and getting away. The transit was a light mountain instrument and valued at about $150. The theft was missed almost immediately, but the officials attached nothing serious to this fact for the reason that each thought the other probably had occasion to use it, until a conference finally was the means of settling the suspicion that it had been stolen. A systematic search has followed, but now all hopes of recovering the transit have been banished.

This company has also missed many tools which have disappeared as effectually as though the earth had opened up and swallowed them. A pocket instrument from the office of the company worth over $100 is also among the missing.

RIDES HORSE INTO SALOON TO CATCH A THIEF.

After a hard and long chase after a Mexican suspected of being a pick-pocket, Juan Franco, an officer of the mounted police force, made a spectacular arrest by riding his steed into the Dos Bañeros, or Two Flags saloon, a drinking place frequented both by Americans and Mexicans, and making the arrest while he covered the crowd at the bar with his six-shooter, says a dispatch from El Paso.

Franco had seen the Mexican, Carlos Morales, by name, dodge into the saloon, and rather than lose him by dismounting he drove his horse straight through the door and into the barroom. Morales surrendered without further resistance when he saw the mounted officer upon him.

FAVORITISM IN RAILROAD RATES

See the difference between the faces of the men! One looks as if he had inadvertently chewed a quinine capsule instead of a julebe lozenge.

The other, however, is plainly all to the merry, merry.

The happy individual represents a Colorado state senator in business. It is charged that he is given the transcontinental rate of $1.15 per hundredweight on leather when shoes are shipped to him.

As for the ordinary dealer, he cannot get the transcontinental rate of $1 on cotton goods, but has to pay $2.24 on them from New York.

Wouldn't it make YOU peevish?

RAILROAD TOPICS

L. A. Beeson and family left last night for San Bernardino, Cal., where Mr. Beeson, who has been employed in the local Santa Fe round house and shops for some time past, will make his future home.

D. A. McKay, the "news butcher" in the employ of the Harvey system, was yesterday fined in marriage with Miss Lora Anderson, of Alexandria, Ont., Justice George R. Craig performing the ceremony that made them one. After a short honeymoon trip to California, the McKay will return to Albuquerque to reside.

Herman Switzer, manager of the local Harvey curio rooms, left last night for the Moqui Indian reservation where he will curio about a dozen of the "noble red men" and guide them from Oraibi to the Hopi house, another Harvey project, situated at the Grand Canyon. The Hopi house has proved one of the best paying Harvey houses on the Santa Fe system, and the management, in taking the wild and woolly Indians there, to be gazed upon with awe by the youngsters, with admiration by the fair damsels, and with disgust by the sensible, who gather at the Hopi house, is only trying to give the visitors from the effete east a little of their money's worth.

NINE HUNDRED THOUSAND SILVER DOLLARS ON BOARD.

A Santa Fe passenger train which arrived in Kansas City Wednesday from an express car in it which contained 900,000 silver dollars, en route from Mexico to some point in the east, the exact destination being a secret which the Wells-Fargo Express company refuses to divulge. The car was sealed and guarded by special express messengers. The silver dollars in the car were stored in 225 separate boxes, each box containing $4,000, and weighing 250 pounds, or a total of 23 and 1-8 tons. If the dollars had been laid edge to edge in a row, they would have stretched from Albuquerque to Isleta, and if piled one on top of the other, would have been almost as high as the Sandias mountains.

AN EAGLE FLEW INTO CAB OF MOVING ENGINE.

While the engine was moving at the rate of fifty miles an hour an eagle flew into the window of the cab of a Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific engine that was pulling the Rocky Mountain Limited near Aztec, Colo. The other day, striking Engineer Frank Barlow with such force as to knock him from his seat in the cab window to the floor of the cab, viciously attacking him with beak and talons and lacerating one arm. Barlow called for assistance and his fireman, William Brevington, responded, only to be attacked in turn, as was the head brakeman, John Snyder, who, noticing that something was wrong in the engine, crawled over the tender, only to have the eagle brace itself against the sides of the cab with its wings and fasten its talons in his arm. The bird was finally overcome by the three men and bound. When measured it was found that seven feet and eleven inches was the distance from tip to tip of the eagle.

WRECK OF SANTA FE LIMITED AT GLENDORA.

A Los Angeles dispatch, dated Jan. 26, says: Fourteen persons were slightly injured in the collision yesterday at Glendora, between the Santa Fe Limited westbound train and a local train. All the injured were passengers on the local.

The limited train was running 65 miles an hour when the collision occurred, according to Engineer Clemens, who was at the throttle. The engineer stuck to his post and was uninjured. His fireman also escaped unscathed.

All that prevented a more serious wreck was the fact that the local

NEW LINE BEING RAPIDLY BUILT

Frank J. Thomas, the general sales agent for the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific Coal and Coke company, has arrived in Albuquerque and will remain several days in the interest of the company he represents.

Mr. Thomas states that work on the new road his company is building is progressing satisfactorily, although the heavy snow held the workmen up for awhile. The new road is to be known as the "Rocky Mountain Route," and will be built from a point in the Taos valley to Des Moines, N. M., where it will connect with the Colorado Southern, thence to Raton, to connect with the Santa Fe. For a time, at least, the terminus will be at Keeler, where it will connect with the El Paso & Northeastern.

Mr. Thomas stated that a portion of the road is now in operation and that rolling stock was being ordered for the new line. He also said that the new road had given a great boost to Raton and northern New Mexico generally, and that real estate and business lines of all kinds were booming.

ALBUQUERQUE CHINAMEN ARE STILL CELEBRATING NEW YEAR

WHICH WAS USHERED IN WEDNESDAY, ACCORDING TO THEIR CALENDAR—THIS IS THE YEAR 32.

The Chinese population of Albuquerque have about completed their celebration of New Year's Day, which, according to their calendar, was last Wednesday, and have resumed their normal state, going back to their "washee, washee" and feed houses, to take up the cudgels of life after a few days given to celebrating the beginning of a new year.

Owing to the fact that the Chinamen of Albuquerque are so busy in their chase of the Almighty Dollar not as much time was given this year to the observing of their New Year Day as is usually the custom. While the Americans make somewhat more noise in the short space of time they celebrate, the Chinese greatly outdo them in the length of the celebration, as New Year festivities of the Chinese extend over a period of two weeks. However, the Chinese here, beyond a few days' praying to their joss, and a small display of fireworks in the rear of one of the Chinese restaurants, did not give much observance to the day.

The Chinese method of celebrating the New Year's arrival begins with prayers to the Great Spirit to come down and take up its abode in their joss. This joss, in the Flowery Kingdom, is usually the work of some noted Chinese sculptor, but in Albuquerque the work was done by a local Chinaman, and is represented by three painted figures, two being males, and one female. These figures are arrayed in royal robes, and after a prayer has been offered to the Great Spirit, they await what they consider a sufficient length of time to allow of the Spirit taking up its abode in the painted figures, after which the fireworks are started, punk sticks are burnt, incense fills the air, and the Chinamen's celebration of New Year is on.

All time, in the Chinese kingdom is reckoned from the ascension to the throne of the then ruling sovereign, and according to this the old year that went out Wednesday was the year 31, and the new year was 32. This year, according to local Chinamen, is to be exceptionally lucky, owing to the fact that it has superstitious Americans kindly take notice) thirteen months in it, instead of the regulation twelve.

In China the New Year is of additional interest to everyone because on that date every Chinaman who owes any money is in honor bound to pay his debts, and it sometimes happens that suicide follows a Chinaman's inability to meet his debts on this day, but in America, where the Chinese have imbibed the true American commercial spirit, no such occurrences ever come to pass.

MAIL CARRIER COMMITS KILLING

PARTICULARS OF THE FATAL SHOOTING OF T. C. LAKE BY ELIEL OGDEN, NEAR KINGMAN.

Last Monday afternoon, near the summit of Coyote hill, a terrible tragedy was enacted, Eliel Ogdren shooting and mortally wounding T. C. Lake, says the Kingman Miner. The wounded man was taken to town and lived until the following day at 11:30 o'clock, suffering the most excruciating torture. The causes leading up to the shooting have been given substantially as follows: Ogdren has been carrying the mail from Kingman to Cerbat and the postoffice being some distance below the town, Lake asked Ogdren to bring his mail to him. Not doing so, one day last week, Lake violently abused Ogdren and threatened to beat him up and that if he ever came into Cerbat again he would kill him. Ogdren brooded over the insult and Monday last in coming in from Cerbat he passed Lake at the Coyote Holes water, where the latter was watering his horses. Going up the long grade to the top of the Cerbat range Lake's team overtook the team driven by Ogdren. Stopping his horses Ogdren jumped to the ground, gun in hand, and demanded of Lake if he thought he could whip him, at the same time firing his gun in the air twice. Lake begged that he allow him to go to town and arm himself and that he would meet him on equal ground, but Ogdren again fired, the third bullet striking Lake in the abdomen, about two inches above the navel. Firing again the fourth bullet lodged in the fleshy part of Lake's left arm, close to the shoulder. After the shooting Ogdren drove off. Hugh Holland, and demanded of Lake, did everything that he could to make the wounded man comfortable and drove into town with him. He was taken to the hospital, where he lingered in awful agony until death relieved him. Another witness to the shooting was W. B. Campbell, of Cerbat, who tells practically the same facts as above related.

A coroner's jury was empaneled Tuesday afternoon and after inquiring into the matter brought in a verdict that T. C. Lake came to his death at the hands of E. Ogdren, and charging him with murder.

At a preliminary examination Wednesday last Ogdren was held to the grand jury without bail.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

Jan. 27, 1652.—President Castro's name did not appear in the papers.

Jan. 27, 1828.—A public speaker in New York state spoke highly of the United States senate.

Jan. 27, 1741.—Big life insurance companies declined to contribute to either Republican or Democratic national committees.

"That was a dirty deal those fellows in Wall street gave Softon."

"I don't see anything dirty about it. They cleaned him, didn't they?"

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuff, and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed free. All druggists sell. 50c. size, Ely Brothers, 65 Warren St., N. Y.

The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads best over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

DAY AND WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Sunday.

The Cudahy Packing company of Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha, have filed articles of incorporation with the territorial secretary, and will establish their headquarters at Albuquerque.

"Nick" Rapier, of Louisville, Ky., will arrive in the city in a few days to accept a position in the State National bank.

Mrs. James Bakins arrived last evening from Toronto, Canada, to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Brown of 112 North Edith street.

Miss Ella McClure, formerly with the Mutual Life Insurance company, has accepted a position with the Bradstreet mercantile agency.

E. R. Steen, of the M. Mandell clothing store, has returned from a trip to Omaha. He has been absent from the city for the past ten days.

A carload of carriages and wagons arrived yesterday from Columbus, Ohio, for Jacob Korber. The wagons are being unloaded and transferred to the carriage repository today.

Judge Ira Abbott and daughter, Miss Constance, together with Miss Abbott's guests, Misses Nichols and Jones, who have been in Santa Fe several days, returned home last night.

Superintendent W. K. Etter, of the Santa Fe, arrived in Albuquerque this morning on No. 10, in his private car, No. 408, and will remain several days looking after the interests of the company.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dillon, of Las Vegas, are the proud possessors of a little girl that arrived at the Dillon home a few days ago. Mr. Dillon is the road salesman for the Gross-Kelly company.

Leonard S. Crone, of Nashville, Tenn., stopped over in the city last night en route from California to his home, to visit with his old friend, J. C. Friedberg, the clerk at Sturge's European.

The remains of George Haywood, the old negro who died Thursday evening at 6:30 as the result of a kick in the head by a mule, were shipped to his former home in Topeka, today, his bereaved wife accompanying the remains.

Louis Schneider and daughter, husband and child of Mrs. Wilhelmine Schneider, who died in this city from consumption a few days ago, left last night for their former home in Bridgeport, Conn., accompanying the remains of their wife and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Matts and children will leave the city tomorrow night for Ottawa, Kansas, being called there by the serious illness of the father and a brother of Mr. Matts. The gentleman is the chief clerk at the local freight depot.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hook, residing on South Broadway, are rejoicing over the arrival of a bouncing baby boy, which came to their home Thursday night. Mr. Hook is an employee of the Santa Fe freight office, and the boys there are smoking cigars at the expense of the happy father.

The marriage of Miss May Maggey and James Janson occurred last evening at the home of Mrs. John Strumquist, Rev. E. E. Crawford officiating. Miss Heald acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Wilson as best man.

Following a short bridal tour, Mr. and Mrs. Janson will make their home in Michigan.

The undertaking establishment of A. Borders today received a new dead wagon and a new hearse, both of which are as fine pieces of workmanship as have ever been seen in this city or the territory for the matter of that, and would be a credit to any city several times the size of Albuquerque.

F. N. Gray, a special agent of the United States department of agriculture, has arrived in the city for the purpose of collecting data covering agricultural pursuits. Mr. Gray is connected with the bureau of statistics, field service, and will gather facts concerning the stock raising industries of New Mexico as well as the agricultural products.

The Porterfield real estate agency, doing business on Gold avenue, opposite the office of The Evening Citizen, yesterday sold the residence of W. A. Seidomridge, No. 893 South Arno, to Dr. Wells, who came to Albuquerque a few months ago from Hanson, Ky., and with Mrs. Wells and children, intend to reside here permanently in the future. Consideration for the residence private.

Louis A. McKee, a sheep raiser of Willard, and justice of the peace there, is in the city transacting business, and will remain until Monday, when he leaves for Denver to attend the Live Stock show to be held in that city. Mr. McKee stated that the Belen cut-off work was progressing nicely in that district and that fifteen miles of track had been laid east of Willard. He stated that the Estancia valley was fast filling up with settlers, that the snow was all gone and that the losses of sheep had been grossly exaggerated, and while there would, of course, be some losses as a result of the severe weather and snow storms, the losses would not be what sheep men consider heavy.

James F. Brown, who practiced law in this city for several years, having an office in the First National bank building, is now located at 444 East Adams street, Phoenix, Arizona. Mr. Brown sends The Evening Citizen a copy of the supplement issued by the Phoenix Gazette, on the day the joint statehood bill passed the house of representatives. Here are the headings of the supplement: "Joint Statehood Bill Passed the House," "Vote on the Measure Showed Substantial Majority in Its Favor," "Despite Every Effort of Friends of Arizona, Justice is Denied Her in the Lower House."

Donna United States Marshal Harry Cooper, who has been in El Paso and Deming on official business, has returned to the city. Mr. Cooper went to Las Vegas to assist another government official to take five prisoners to Deming for a hearing. He also received Judge Chaffee, whose leg was injured some time ago by a fall, had to have the limb amputated at the hospital in El Paso, and that the judge is holding up well under the ordeal.

Mrs. Duncan Brown, of Mexico City, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. F. Plund, at 415 West Lead avenue.

Richard Jones, formerly manager of the American Lumber company, who resigned from that position a few days ago, left last night for California and the northwest, where he goes with a party to engage in the lumber business, but in the event that he should fall to find a location to his liking, will return to Michigan, his former home.

The Franklin-Huston vaudeville aggregation arrived in the city today in their special car "Indiana," and put out on a vaudeville show in a rallyho. The company is said to be one of the best vaudeville attractions on the road today and their performance at the Opera house tonight will undoubtedly give general satisfaction.

M. O. Chadbourne leaves next Thursday for New York where he remains for some time visiting. R. W. Hadden will accompany Mr. Chadbourne.

Mrs. James F. Maguire is ill at her home, corner of North Second street and Granite avenue.

Special Officer Courtwright of the Santa Fe was in the city today on special business.

Blair Sandoval today in probate court filed his commission as notary.

Comfort and durability in shoes are first consideration with people careful about their health and they are our first thought in designing our shoes, no matter how low the price or how dainty the design. And the stacks of shoes that we have here at the present time prove that these qualities need not be costly; nor need they be absent from the smartest and most stylish shoes that are made. C. May's Shoe Store, 314 West Railroad avenue.

COMMISSIONER STROUP BACK FROM MOUNTAINS

COUNTY COMMISSIONER STROUP VISITED FOUR MORE SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

County Commissioner Stroup returned last evening from a 75-mile drive when he completed a trip to four more school districts in the mountains. Professor Stroup says that the districts were the poorest financially in the county, yet they are doing very well—the best they can in fact. He explained to all the plans he had formulated for the corn raising contest and much enthusiasm was manifested. Both the pupils and their parents are deeply interested in the plan and promise to give it their united support.

Professor Stroup says he did not encounter so much snow as on his previous trip into the mountains but found plenty of mud to annoy him.

"SHE" LIKES FLOWERS

Whether "she" is wife or sweetheart, the most acceptable remembrance is a bouquet of beautiful flowers. We just mention this, thinking, perhaps, you forgot.

IVES, THE FLORIST

PRESENT CONDITION OF OLD MAN BENSON

John H. Benson, an old carpenter and tinker at many other trades, is on inmate of the city building, and is a subject of charity, subsisting on alms furnished by City Marshal McMillin, the Non-Sectarian Benevolent association, and from those whom the old gentleman meets in his walks and are kind enough to render help.

Benson will be 81 years old June 17, 1906, if he lives till that date, and has been a figure around Albuquerque since 1883, working at carpentering, bridge building and other jobs, and even, some say, railroad.

In any event, seven years ago, while at Gallup and in crossing the railroad tracks there, he was struck by a switch engine, and suffered a dislocation of both the right hip and shoulder, from which injuries he has never been a well, strong man.

Now he has rheumatism, and barely drags himself along with the aid of two canes.

Years ago, Benson was one of the most powerful men in this section of the country, but a lonely, mispent life, coupled with the Gallup accident and more recent affliction of rheumatism, with old age, has put him on the bum, physically, mentally and financially. He really needs assistance, or, in other words, should be as provided for as to keep him from asking alms from those he meets on the streets.

"RETURN BALL WALKING CANE" INVENTOR HERE

F. L. Hall, of the McKinley gold mine group, near the celebrated Gold Standard bonanza mine, at San Pedro, Santa Fe county, was in the city today with his patent papers on a recent invention known as the "return ball walking cane," which, as an amusement for the young people, is bound to prove a success and a source of profit to its inventor. Mr. Hall, in connection with Mr. Strumquist, the postmaster at San Pedro, is also working on a very valuable device to be used in the postoffice department, the exact nature of which Mr. Hall is not quite ready to divulge, but which he states will be of inestimable value to the mercantile as well as the postoffice business.

NEWLY MADE BENEDICT RETURNS TO THE CITY

Henry S. Connelly, who left the city the other day for Denver, where on January 15 he was united in marriage to Miss Genevieve Rorick, of that city, returned last night, accompanied by his bride. Mr. Connelly is an attaché of the Bank of Commerce, and showed up this morning on crutches. Apparently it is a bad beginning for the young benedict, but he declared to his bank associates this morning that his present condition is purely accidental. Mr. Connelly and Mrs. Connelly are receiving congratulations of many friends today. The young gentleman is a relative of Hon. Solomon Luna.
