MONSTER BATTLESHIP WAS LAUNCHED TODAY GREATEST EVER BUILT

Unequaled in Size, Speed, Armament and Destructive Ability--Great Secrecy is Maintained as to Principles of Construction.

ENGLAND ONLY CAN USE JAPAN'S EXPERIENCE

Cause of Secrecy is British Fleet May Have Benefit of Leviathan at Least Two Years Before Other Nations.

Portsmouth, England, Feb. 10.—The monster battle ship Dreadnaught, which, when finished, will cost $7,000,000, was launched today by King Edward. The ceremony was the most simple possible, the king having vetoed pageantry on account of the recent death of his father-in-law, King Christian, of Denmark.

H. M. S. Dreadnaught is at once the greatest battle ship in the world and the most fearful engine of war and destruction known. The Dreadnaught was built with as much privacy as surrounds the drawing up of a secret telegraph code in war times.

The vessel is the embodiment of all the lessons learned by naval constructors through the Russo-Japanese war. Of all the nations of the world, only Japan knows the secrets that are being put inside the Dreadnaught's hull. The confidential reports of the Japanese naval officers on the fighting value of Togo's battle fleet have been placed at the disposal of Japan's ally, and the naval experts of every other power would be willing to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars in secret service money to learn what those secrets are. Then, too, Great Britain was the only power having attaches or observers on the Japanese ships during that war.

No such interest as that taken in the Dreadnaught has ever before been fastened about a new type of battle ship. British naval men believe the Dreadnaught is destined to revolutionize battle ship construction in the twentieth century to as great an extent as the discovery of steam revolutionized naval warfare in the nineteenth century. It is declared by those familiar with all the details of the Dreadnaught, that four of her class could send to the bottom of the sea the entire American navy without difficulty.

A few details concerning the new vessel have become known. The most important is her armament. She carries nothing but 12-inch guns and 3-inch quick firers, the latter, numbering eighteen, being solely to repel torpedo boat attacks. Of the huge 12-inch rifles, the Dreadnaught will mount ten, six more than the most powerful of American battle ships. There will be no 8-inch, 7-inch or 6-inch guns aboard. The Far Eastern war has shown them to be useless, ac-

According to Japan and British opinion, and they are to be discarded from all future battle ships of the two nations. The great 12-inch battery will be capable of firing 8,500 pounds of projectiles every minute, with sufficient velocity to send them twenty-five miles, or to penetrate sixteen inches of armor plate at two miles. This is twice the projectile force of any other warship afloat.

The engines of the Dreadnaught will be turbines, the first time the new type of driving power has been used for a battle ship. They will send the huge mass of steel through the water at the rate of nineteen and a fraction knots an hour, at least a knot faster than any other battle ship can travel. The vessel will have a displacement of 18,500 tons, 2,500 tons larger than any other American warship.

Other details concerning the leviathan are not known. How her vitals are protected, what the new mechanical arrangements inside are and her total resisting power are secrets jealously guarded. Though her power is so much greater than any other floating fortress, one of the most surprising things about the Dreadnaught is that her cost is 10 per cent. per ton less than the most recent battle ship additions to the British navy. Her time in construction is also making a record. She was not laid down until October of last year, so it took only four months to prepare her for launching. Her completion will have occurred in February, 1907, making sixteen months from the time work was started on her to her readiness for battle.

The Dreadnaught is the only battle ship provided for in the British naval estimates for the present year. Four armored cruisers are being built as the year's contribution to England's sea strength, and when they are finished the British navy will be on the following remarkable footing, supported at a cost of $150,000,000 a year.

WHERE THE CHURCHES ARE NOW TRYING TO RUN CITY CAMPAIGN

Allegheny City, Pa., Feb. 10.—"Graft and the brother must go" is the slogan of the most remarkable campaign ever waged for mayor in Allegheny City. With the banner of reform raised on high, the ministers of the gospel and the church people are arrayed in a desperate struggle to wrest the control of the city from the party which has ruled it for the past quarter of a century.

This unique campaign is a sequence of the anti-graft and anti-vice crusade which swept over the city one year ago, and which resulted in the conviction on charges of grafting of the superintendent of police, one police captain, a street commissioner and two policemen, and the punishment of the proprietresses of 200 houses of ill repute.

That crusade revealed the fact that in Allegheny, which is famous for its many churches and beautiful public parks, the city officials collected graft from various sources amounting to over $200,000 annually; that in this city of 113,000 souls there were 410 brothels; that the city sheltered over 3,000 disreputable women and 500 known thieves, and that two wards were given over almost entirely to vice and crime.

These facts were enough to arouse the ministers, and they have united in an organization known as the Federation of Churches in an endeavor to root out branch and stem the city administration at the coming municipal election, Feb. 20, to which they attribute this appalling immoral condition of affairs.

Each congregation has been organized as an auxiliary of the federation. There is no party and no creed recognized. Roman Catholics, Presbyterians, Methodists, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Congregationalists—all are working together.

The fight is directed against the republican organization, whose candidate for mayor is Chas. F. Kirschler, a well-known banker. The church people's candidate is Geo. B. Logan, a business man unknown in politics, trained in his methods, and who never held a public office except school director.

Rousing mass meetings are being held almost nightly throughout the city, but they resemble church gatherings more than political rallies. A minister always presides, the meeting is opened with prayer and dismissed with the benediction, and a church choir of mixed voices relieves the monotony of speech-making by rendering such gospel songs as "Onward, Christian Soldier," and "I Need Thee Every Hour."

Every candidate assessed eleven dollars and must be white democrat.

PLAN DEVIATES FROM OLD

Every Candidate Assessed Eleven Dollars and Must be White Democrat.

Under the new rules every candidate is assessed $11. Polling booths are in every precinct and three commissioners preside at every voting place. The qualifications for voting stipulates the payment of the poll tax for 1904 and 1905, and registration.

Every voter must be a white democrat, and is subject to being challenged. Should a second primary be necessary to select candidates, it will be held on February 15th, and the expenses of the second primary must be borne by the participants and not more than two candidates shall run for the same nomination.

The only two available candidates are those who received the highest number of votes at the first contest.

The Republican Parish Committee has decided to put in nomination candidates for the lower house and senate. It was held that the election would not warrant the excitement of such a campaign on the part of the minority party.

President of Pennsylvania Railroad Denies Charges by Governor Dawson.

BECAUSE ROAD OWNS NO COAL

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 10.—A brief hearing on the temporary injunction, secured yesterday by President Patrick Dolan, president of the Pittsburgh district of the United Mine Workers of America, against the 139 delegates attending that district convention, restraining them from interfering with his powers as president, was held today before Judge Frazer.

A session lasting one hour was held by the convention this morning previous to going into court in a body. It was the stormiest meeting yet held and there was opposition to every matter presented by President Dolan.

National Vice President Lewis announced that President Mitchell had instructed him to remain in Pittsburgh a few days.

Senator Tillman read a letter of Governor Dawson of West Virginia to Senator Tillman, which was read to the Associated Press denying the charges contained in a letter of Governor Dawson of West Virginia to Senator Tillman, which was read to the Associated Press denying the charges contained in a letter of Governor Dawson of West Virginia to Senator Tillman.

Mesilla Valley is in Great Water Luck With Secretary Hitchcock.

ASTONISHINGLY LIBERAL TERMS

Special to Evening Citizen. Washington, Feb. 10.—Messrs. Luna and Andrews were today at the departments of the treasury, postoffice and interior. They also visited the forestry bureau of the department of agriculture.

The senate committee on territories yesterday agreed by a unanimous vote to report favorably to the senate on next Monday, the confirmation of J. Wallace Reynolds as secretary of New Mexico.

Secretary Hitchcock has done better by the water users in the Mesilla valley than even the most sanguine of them had even dared to hope. The original agreement was by means of an agreement to advance $200,000 for the construction of the Leasburg diversion dam, the incorporations of water users giving bonds for the repayment of the money within two years.

APPROPRIATION REDUCED FOR TARGET PRACTICE.

Washington, D. NOT MUCH ICE FOR HOT MONTHS

New York, Feb. 10.—When the Chinese Imperial Commission came to town it was as if a particularly bright rainbow had been caught from some favoring sky and had been flung athwart the streets. The Chinese faces were not any more captivating than the Russian vocabulary, but their gorgeous raiment not merely aroused the inmost yelling powers of the hoodlums on the sidewalk, but enraptured all beholders. Where a company of American or British officials would have gone along in solemn somberness, clothed in monotonous black, these fifty orientals, come down to us from the most ancient of ancestors on the globe, and worshippers of that ancestry to the very root of the whole tree, came in brilliant silks and satins, which they wore with dignity. They were plainly delighted with New York, and have been feasted and feted, but it is reported that they are carrying their investigations into the realms of food as well as in other departments, and instead of ordering birds' nests served in different styles, they partake of the food of the vicinia, even to corn beef and beans. They have made it evident that they like Americans and American ways. With many visitations like the present one, Americans may come to like the Chinese.

POLICE SQUAD CLEARS CONGESTION ON CROSSINGS.

New Yorkers are certainly a queer set. One reform that has been established in New York City streets, is the regulation of street traffic. Captain Piper of the Police Department, was sent to London to get fresh ideas on the regulation of the travel in that great city, and as a result, squads of policemen were stationed at crowded crossings, and they soon established rules that reduced the tangle of the vehicular travel to a minimum. They also cleared the railroad tracks, and obstinate, mulish truck drivers are no longer able to block street cars by the dozen while their heavily laden wagons are drawn along at a walk, but are turned to the side, where they can make better time themselves. They are angry, of course, having all the street to themselves except the car tracks, they want to use the car tracks instead of asphalt, because the rails afford easier haulage. The difference in the streets created by the new regulation is wonderful. At the crossings, where formerly they used to be a constant congestion, with an indescribable mixup, the improvement is charming, and the safety of pedestrians is vastly increased, as well as the faster passage of vehicles in both directions. And yet somebody is engineering a movement in Albany for the legislature to abolish the traffic squad, and turn us back to the horrible old system. It is simply incomprehensible how any sensible person could ever dream of a desire to break up the most sensible and most popular regulation that the city has ever had. The move must be made in the interest of the truck drivers, and yet even they, if they were asked if they did not gain time and cover more ground with their trucks in a day's time because of the new regime would be obliged to admit that they are able to perform more service in a given time than they did before just because the traffic squad has smoothed the way for them in putting their teams out of the way of others. CROWDS DISCOMFORT THE NOTED SHOPPERS.

The discomfort which a crowd, so easily gathered as one in a city, gives to any person in anywise noted, is well illustrated in the case of Miss Alice, the daughter of the president of the United States, who spent some time here shopping and her approaching wedding. It is not to be supposed that any person in New York wished to discommodate or annoy or displease the young couple in any way, yet she and her fiancé were chased up and down the streets, made to pose for an army of women friends, and in almost every way made to feel that it was a very disagreeable trip to go about New York if known to be a prospective bride and groom. It was really shameful, but nobody has, as yet, invented a plan to prevent such intrusions on privacy. Ten persons in a group here always attracts ten more, and so the numbers pile up, and there is a great crowd, a large portion of which may not know what is going on. A man looking steadily down into a grating at New Gate, caused a mob to gather, and a riot developed, and the crazy people tore down the walls to rescue a supposedly escaping prisoner, whom the steadily gazing news had only pretended to see. So in New York City no dozen of people can deliberately stop and appear interested in anything than another dozen spectators, without the slightest knowledge of what it was all about. But the guardians of our peace must bestir themselves to create a system that will protect our visitors from such a continuous outrage as that perpetrated upon Nicholas Longworth and his charming bride to be.

MANY TIMES RICH FIND BOOT TO SPEND MONEY ON.

The greatest one of them all is here. He brought with him a "Magic Boot," and he has disposed of many pairs of these boots for $5,000, $1,500, $2,000, and prices like that for each pair, proving conclusively once more the truth of the assertion that the uncured boot will buy anything so long as the price is made so high that the ordinary lot of people cannot buy it, and those who do buy are thus distinguished as the owners of what the mass of people can never possess. Prof. Matthew Hilgert is the genius who brought the "magic boot" to town, and such has been his success that he keeps fifty men constructing his costly fakes. Charles M. Schwab paid $5,000 for a pair, and Bishop Potter put his doctrinal feet in a $1,500 pair, while the wideawake John T. Brush of base ball fame, invested $2,000, only to declare that they had only tickled his feet a little, but had done no good to any of his foot ailments. They worked to some degree on the feet, for they were sprinkled with white pepper. The law is trying to hold Mr. Hilgert, but with people high in the community willing to be fooled, why should Hilgert not be allowed to sprinkle white pepper at perhaps a thousand dollars a pinch?

WARM WEATHER HAS DESTROYED ICE CROP.

People are beginning to worry about the ice crop. Ice is such a necessity in the city that any possibility of the supply being cut off portends a dreadful condition of things in the hearts of the summer months, when a bit of coolness from crystal blocks is a luxury to people in mansions and workers in the tenements. To be sure there are the ice factories, whose product is not to be despised, as they are now delivering large quantities of the superior in cleanness and purity to the ice gathered from the rivers. But their total is still but a drop in the bucket, being about seven hundred thousand tons of the four million tons required. And so New Yorkers await with anxiety tidings from the ice fields, and grow nervous as the newspapers tell them that owing to the semi-spring weather up till the 1st of February, not one of the Hudson River ice houses has gathered a pound this winter. Up on the banks of the Hudson there has been waiting because the ice ticket was not. The ice ticket constitutes almost the entire currency in that region during the winter and ice tickets—red tickets, white tickets, blue tickets, yellow tickets, pile up in cash drawers of merchants, grocers, butchers, and the dealers of all kinds. The whole population goes out to earn these tickets when the ice season is on, laboring men, sometimes clerks from the stores, boys to drive the teams, and they shiver and almost freeze upon the gleaming, wind swept surfaces of the river, from dawn to sunset, to earn the money which is paid to them in these tickets and so far this winter not a single ice ticket has been paid out by the companies.

ALREADY ICE HAS ADVANCED IN PRICE.

When the Hudson River ice crop fails the dealers turn to bleak New England, but this year a large share of New England has failed to supply any promise of a crop, the Boston ice dealers having sent their workings down to Vermont and New Hampshire to cut up the surface of the lakes with high sounding names. Fourteen inch clear ice is reported on some of them, despite the season, but to harvest ice in large quantities in these remote regions without the accustomed facilities is more difficult and costs a great deal more, and that cost the consumer will have to pay, or he will fail to get even a little lump to cool his parched tongue, and he as badly off as the rich man on the other side. Already the Boston dealers have put up the cost to three prices, and they can truthfully say that they have only a few pounds to charge it on. With plenty of ice-barges sailing the ocean blue, off the coast, it would seem that the ingenuity and enterprise of our ice gatherers might bring in some huge blocks from them. The dealers could be lathered with cannon balls, and the floating masses hauled in with superior tackle. Let the price get high enough and this will surely happen.

SPRINGER IS NOT SPRIGHTLY

Its 700 Inhabitants Live Off Resources of Southern Part of County.

OTHER ITEMS OF COLFAX COUNTY

Special Correspondence.

Springer, N. M., Feb. 9.—The 700 inhabitants of this place live off the stock, fruit and agricultural interests of the southern part of Colfax county. The Santa Fe has a station here, but the time schedule makers of the road do not think the place of sufficient importance to have No. 9 and the limited trains stop at it.

The town is built on the east bank of the Cimarron river and east of the Santa Fe railroad, but it will awaken some day west of the railroad, as the work of changing the track is already in progress. At present the track follows the river too closely for safety. This became evident last year when a flood not only washed out considerable part of the track, but gave the lower part of Springer a ducking as well.

The change of line necessitates a new bridge of 400 feet waterway. This bridge will be built of cement, similar to those on the Santa Fe cut-off, which have attracted wide attention because of their substantial construction. The people of Springer as well as those of Raton, do not feel at all alarmed over the building of the Santa Fe cut-off. The reason is that the Santa Fe will have sufficient business to tax the full capacities of both routes. One of the finest double tracks on the system has just been completed between Raton and Trinidad.

A Freight Rate Mystery.

The distance coal is hauled has very little to do with the freight rate or its cost to the consumer.

While the people of Raton pay $2.50 and $3 for coal, at Springer, it costs the consumer $4.50 a ton. The distance from Raton to Springer is about forty miles. Springer is also about the same distance from Dawson, one of the important coal camps of Colfax county, which was taken over the first of the year by the Phelps-Dodge company, owners of the Dawson railroad, that crosses the Santa Fe seven miles north of Springer.

Coal is hauled from Gallup, through Albuquerque and through Deming, a distance of 100 miles, to Silver City, and sold for the same price that it brings in Albuquerque, which is $5 per ton. At Deming the consumer pays $7 for the same coal, and Holbrook, ninety-eight miles west of Gallup, across the line in Arizona, pays $7.50 per ton for the same coal.

The Colfax county mines are operated by non-union labor, foreigners in the majority, and the strike of union coal miners which is threatened, will have no effect on them.

There is a wide difference of sentiment among the people of Colfax county on statehood. The people of Raton seem loath to discuss the subject. The question as to how the people feel about it usually brings the answer that they are too busy to discuss it. There is a universal opinion, however, and that is that the coal camps and corporation concerns will vote solidly against it. Colfax county casts about 2,800 votes. More than 1,000 of these may be placed in the class above mentioned. A jury commissioner of the county is quoted as saying that out of 400 votes cast in the Dawson precinct at the last election, the commission in examining the ballots and registration books, could find but seven persons who were fit for the jury box.

Johnson's Mesa is reported to be strong against joint statehood, but this same report given out at Raton concerning the people of Springer and the rural districts has been found untrue. I find the people of Springer, if anything, in the majority in favor of joint statehood. The lukewarmness with which the weekly papers of Colfax county support statehood may be contributed to very much the same reason that several papers of southern Arizona are against it, and that is that mining and other corporate interests are the ruling powers. As to the stock and agricultural interests, a man from the Sweetwater Creek district told me that a year ago he and his neighbors were very much opposed to joint statehood. Now they are in favor of it. However, should the Hamilton bill pass, there will be plenty of missionary work for its supporters to do in Colfax county.

"Boots" Darnell, the alleged racing partner of John W. Gates, is far from being popular on the Pacific coast, because of the in and out racing of his horses so frequently. The recent defeat of Locust, the filly for which he paid $12,000, was the straw which broke the betting camel's back. Locust was a 2 to 5 favorite and was beaten by a selling plater. It is claimed Darnell's horses have a habit of winning when they are at long odds and losing when the price is on form.

The international billiard tournament will begin in New York on April 9th and will continue afternoons and evenings until finished. It will be at 15-inch ball line, two shots in. The entries to date are Cure, Hoppe, Shaffer, Skoson, Morningstar, Cutler and probably Vignaux. Following the tournament at the contestants will go to Chicago to engage in a second tournament.

For language unbecoming to a jockey Buchanan was fined $500 at Ascot Park, last week. Buchanan expressed his opinion of Starter Holliman and he did it so fervently that Holliman asked him $200 on the spot. When the matter was laid before Judge Hamilton he added $300 to the fine.

"THE WHOLE DAMM FAMILY."

A play, bearing the above name, was presented last night at the Elks opera house by the Ethel Tucker Stock company, to a rather small audience. It was labeled on the program as a comedy, written around the famous cartoon of the same name, but if one could have uncovered any connection between the cartoon and the conglomeration that was dished up to the patrons of the Elks' theater last night, that person is certainly entitled to the prize as the "best puzzle guesser." As a delineation of "dampfoolishness," it was a rip-roaring success, but as a comedy, to make people laugh—well, it was the farthest appearance of this company, and the writer will merely add that he wishes "God speed" to "the whole damm family."

MISS ROBERTS TONIGHT.

The engagement of Florence Roberts at the Elks' theater tonight is of more than ordinary interest to theatergoers, in that the clever emotional actress will be seen in the leading role of "The Strength of the Weak," a new, modern play, by Alice M. Smith, and which Miss Roberts produced with much success. Her interpretation of the young orphan, just about to graduate from a woman's college, and the succeeding complications arising from the fact that she has written a book, the story of her life, which was published anonymously, provides Miss Roberts with excellent material. Max Fisman, the well known comedian and stage director, heads the company with Miss Roberts this season, and includes such capable players as James E. Wilson, Eugene Ormonde, Lucius Henderson, Robert McWade, Gregory Rodgers, Adelaide Manolis, Joseph Hazelton, Florence Robinson, Ruth Allen, Lucille Yorkie, Mary Bertrand and Lilian Armby.

GEORGIA MINSTRELS.

A big program of novelties is promised by Richard and Pringle's Georgia Minstrels. They have retained this season such people as can change their act and put on something new. Clarence Powell, Happy Blueguard, James Crosby, Fred Simpson, Lester McDaniel, Frank Kirk, who will furnish the fun, are old timers, and are the very best that can be secured.

The olio contains March Craig, the Human Enigma; Kirk & Cooper, the musical photographers; the three Tonoyas, remarkable acrobats; introduced by James Crosby; Clarence Powell, in a late up to date monologue.

The singers are: Robert Logan, Robert Williams, Charles Burton, William Denton, John Fitzgerald and Edward Harper.

The entire performance to conclude with Clarence Powell's afterpiece, "Jim Jackson and His Mishaps." Street parade daily.

At the Elks' theater on Wednesday night, February 14.

"SCOTTY'S MELODRAMA IS A SURE THING THRILLER."

"Stand back, villain! Take one more step and it shall be your next!"

With these words, "Scotty," the Death Valley miner, rushes to the rescue of his sweetheart, Madge, the belle of Death Valley mining camp, who is struggling in the arms of her rough assailant.

"And who are you?" snarls the villain.

"Scotty, the Death Valley miner," fairly shouts the hero.

And then the sultry gods get in their work. When the applause has partly died away, "Scotty," the hero, says:

"Come, my love; let's away to yonder nook, where the sun is shining

JILTED THIS ONE FOR MRS YERKES

MISS ALICE ROOSEVELT, IN A FAVORITE POSE.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 10.—It is reported in Denver theatrical and society circles that Miss Edith Crater, the young actress of this city, is about to institute a breach of promise suit against William Mizner, who married the widow of Chas. T. Yerkes.

Miss Crater is said to be one of the most beautiful young women on the American stage today. She is a blond with perfect features and form, and the adjective "beautiful" hardly does her justice.

She and her sister, Allene, were born and reared in Denver. Allene Crater is now the wife of Fred S. Jones, the Denver actor, now playing the "straw man" in George Ade's "Wizard of Oz."

Miss Crater met the man who is reported to have jilted her in California two years ago.

lightly and the butterflies are making butter; where the little brook bubbles as through 'twere on a jag; come, dear, let's away—let's away." And the lovers stroll off.

"Curse on that 'Scotty,'" mutters Deadwood Dan, Death Valley's daring desperado. "I'll be even with him yet!" He sneaks off. End of Act I.

Act II—Ditto.

Act III—Ditto.

Act IV—Now for the real thriller. "Scotty," the Death Valley hero, is seen, approaching on muleback. His faithful redskin guide is with him. Rocks are on every side. Suddenly a shot is heard, and five Death Valley desperados spring from behind the rocks.

"Tip with your hands!" cries Deadwood Dan, the desperado.

"Never-errrr! I'll die first," retorts "Scotty," the miner.

"Then curse you, take that!" Bing! "And that! Likewise this, and those, and them!" Bing! Bang! Bang! Bullets fill the air, for "Scotty" is fighting the famous Death Valley fight. (See copies of the Los Angeles Examiner.) The Indian runs. The mule is shot. God! It's all up with poor "Scotty." But no; see—the mule rises. "Scotty" is shot in the leg. (He says so.) Manfully, he fights on, in spite of the odds, until five desperados lie around in more or less picturesque attitudes—all dead ones—and the curtain descends on the final act, with "Scotty" falling faintly from the mule's back into the arms of his true love, Madge, and the saltery goes wild.

Thus ends the famous play of "Scotty, the Death Valley Miner."

Only about 100 of the nearest relatives will be given space close to the altar. These are the Roosevelt and Lee relatives of the bride and the Longworth-Walker clan of the groom. The numerous second and third cousins and collateral relations will have to take chances with the other guests. A special place will be marked off for the diplomatic corps and the cabinet families, but it will not be in the same portion of the room as the relatives.

As the arrangements now contemplate that Miss Alice shall stand facing the eastern windows, in the exact spot which six of the White House brides have chosen, the relatives will be allotted room on the right of the altar and the ambassadors and high dignitaries to the left.

Lee Gardner was given his preliminary hearing at Winslow on the charge of embezzling letters from the mule. He was bound over to await the action of the United States grand jury under a $300 bond which he furnished.

HELP ALICE ON BRIDAL MORN

FOUR YOUNG FRIENDS, A FRENCH MAID AND THE DRESSMAKER, WILL DRESS THE WHITE HOUSE BRIDE IN HER BEAUTIFUL BOUDOIR—THE GRAND PAGEANT DOWN THE STAIRS JUST BEFORE THE WEDDING—LAST DETAILS FOR GREAT DAY.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 10.—Now that the wedding invitation problem has been cleared away by the Roosevelt family, the all absorbing and principal detail left is the course of the bride's pageant from the upper regions of the White House to the main room, where the ceremony will take place.

The grand process of robing the bride in her magnificent white satin brocade will occur in Miss Roosevelt's boudoir, the French maid who always "dresses" Miss Alice, Marie Chabot, and the modiste who built the costume.

It remains to be decided if the pageant will descend the private stairway between the state dining room and the breakfast room, and make a grand procession down the main corridor, which is 120 feet in length, and thence to the east room, where the officiating clergyman and the groom will wait.

This has been suggested as better than to descend the main staircase, which is only a few feet distant from the door of the east room, and which would permit only a few bars of the wedding march being played before the party would reach its destination.

There will be eight ushers, who will meet the president and his daughter at the foot of whatever staircase they choose, proceed to the arch which divides the corridor from the east room, and then with two white satin ribbons form an aisle across the room to the floral altar.

The Marine Band will be stationed as on all state occasions in the lobby, and it will play the march, probably the wedding march from "Lohengrin," after which the music will be furnished by the boy choir of St. Johns.

All the members of the two families will proceed to the east room about 10:30, to a space which will be set apart by a floral barrier. As the president will meet his daughter, the proud dignity of being his mother's companion will fall to young Theo-odore, who will be one of the ushers. Only about 100 of the nearest relatives will be given space close to the altar. These are the Roosevelt and Lee relatives of the bride and the Longworth-Walker clan of the groom. The numerous second and third cousins and collateral relations will have to take chances with the other guests. A Mongrel Ticket

The democrats having proposed that delegates to the constitutional convention for the state of Arizona, shall be elected regardless of political lines, the New Mexican very ably and properly condemns the proposition, and shows that the very genius of our government requires and the whole history of our country approves the practice of electing delegates to legislative bodies entirely upon political grounds and by and through the familiar and efficient party organizations and machinery.

Of course, the party knowing itself to be hopelessly in the minority very naturally favors the dropping of political lines, and can generally be found advocating fusion or even worse, proposing mongrel, nondescript, no-party tickets. But the most to be condemned of all is an effort upon the part of axe-grinders to deny party organization and party tickets, because through party elections they neither can punish enemies nor reward friends.

That the Morning Journal should seek to deprive the republican party of its hard-won and nobly sustained supremacy in the government of New Mexico's chief city is not surprising; for that paper never had a true republican thought or an honest republican purpose in all its life. Hence, at the very time when republican supremacy is most needed in view of probable approaching statehood, the Journal advises with a great intemperance that the republicans lay down their supremacy, endanger their party organization, dim their prestige and undo what years have been necessary to accomplish.

The Evening Citizen was started for the defense of republican principles and for the upbuilding of the republican party at a time when the paper now called the Morning Journal was doing all that its position and capacity could accomplish against the republican party, its principles and success. In the meantime the Journal has changed owners, changed name, and professedly has changed principles, but that it has ever become republican in its course has emphatically denied. The Citizen has twice changed ownership, but never its name nor its principles. It is today as it was on the day it first saw the light—a republican paper, the fidelity of which to party and principles has never been questioned.

On party grounds and for party reasons The Citizen absolutely refuses to approve the suggestion that the republican party abrogate its position in the government of Albuquerque. If any of the present members of the city council desire another term of office, let them announce themselves as candidates for nomination by the republican party. If the party nominates them, well and good; but otherwise they cannot receive the support of The Citizen.

Questions to Consider

To give $250,000 for the present water plant, and then to be under the necessity of spending $100,000 more to make the plant adequate to the city's needs, as many claim, the water company among them, is a pretty big thing for the city of Albuquerque to tackle. Will the purchase require $250,000? Can the city on that cost reduce the water rates, or was the present company correct when they declared that they could not, with the plant now offered for sale, supply the city with water at less price than now charged? Can a new and different kind of plant be installed for little more if any than $100,000, amply adequate to supply an abundance of water at not more than 10 cents per thousand gallons, as against the present 35 cents?

These are questions on which the people need information. If the purchase of the present plant at the price charged, is to inflict upon the city a heavy burden with no appreciable improvement in quantity and price of water, the people want to know it and to refuse to commit such folly at the polls.

There is only one way to answer these questions, and that is by the people getting together, discussing the question, and if not satisfied with present sources of information, secure the report of a competent and disinterested expert on the whole question, in its varied aspects.

See It Squirm

The morning paper in its foppings around in the water question discussion cares as little for consistency as it does for truth. This morning it confesses that it "knows nothing at all about the value" of the present water plant, and then it proceeds to read a reproof to those who not knowing yet undertake to instruct the public. But this same confessedly ignorant paper—and no one doubts its ignorance—on Wednesday of this week told the public that the purchase of the present water plant for $250,000 was "at bargain counter rates."

Again, on yesterday, the Journal said: "We propose to leave the matter entirely to their (the people's) judgment, without any attempt on our part to influence or prejudice their minds one way or the other." Yet in the face of this assertion, and with the absolute ignorance confessed this morning, the Journal yesterday said: "If we decide to go into municipal ownership, there are just two ways open to us—first, to buy the present plant, for $250,000, or second, to put in a new plant, which, to be as good, but no better, would cost us $300,000."

Surely a paper which can so conspicuously stultify itself, and make itself the laughing stock of all intelligent people, must be very anxious to get the money coming to it from the sale of the present water plant.

Usual Unreliability

The following is taken from the Tucson Citizen of a recent date. Councilman Drachman yesterday received the following letter from the Albuquerque Journal, admitting that Mr. Drachman was misrepresented in a recent alleged interview published in its columns:

"Albuquerque, N. M., Feb. 1, 1906.
"Mr. Mose Drachman, Tucson, Ariz.
"Dear Sir—Replying to your letter of January 29th, we desire to say that we have investigated the matter of the interview with you, published in the Morning Journal, and find that you were undoubtedly misquoted by one of our men. We regret this very much and enclose you under separate cover copy of the Morning Journal containing your letter in full.

"We regret very much that you could not have written to us calling our attention to this matter before giving it to other newspapers, as it appears to us that a subsequent interview purporting to have been given by you is a trifle more violent than the matter warrants. The Morning Journal never hesitates to correct an error.

"Yours truly,
"THE MORNING JOURNAL."

A Soft Thing

The morning paper on Wednesday told the people that they should pay $250,000 for the present water plant, because that is a bargain counter rate for the property, and then told us on Saturday that it did not know anything about the value of the plant, on Friday let out a little more of its information, and this time, for a wonder, that paper is correct; because, being on the inside of the water plant's putative sale to the present company, it knew what the new company would make if only it could get the city to extend the franchise of the company for a long period of years or, better still, buy the plant at a very high price. It was this knowledge which the paper inadvertently let out, when it confessed that "the water supply company had a soft thing."

For once, in this controversy, the organ of the water company and sharer with it in the profits to be made, forgot itself and actually told the truth, saying that "the water supply company had a soft thing."

Impressed Him.

Cipriano Castro's Own Private History

Born, State of Tachira, Venezuela, 1860. Mother a negro; father an Indian—a Venezuelan patriarch of decidedly Mormon tendencies who had over sixty children. Illegitimate for the most part. ("Ex-Diplomat" in Public Opinion, May 6, 1905.) Kept small store and cared for father's estate.

Personal characteristics: small stature; dress extravagant—affecting a gray frock coat in imitation of Napoleon. Conspicuous at social affairs for his fantastic capers. Courage illustrated when during earthquake of 1900 he abandoned his wife in palace and jumped twenty-nine feet to the ground.

Penniless when he usurped presidency six years ago, annual salary $12,000; now has millions. Owns the finest ranches in Venezuela, "houses without number," including two palaces; also steamers of the former Orinoco company and of Lake Maracaibo, Tachira railway, Puerto Cabello wharf bonds, two-thirds of Dutch diplomatic debt, $2,000,000 of Venezuelan debt, and "millions on deposit in English and French banks." (President Guzman Blanco established custom of accumulating large sums in Paris against day when he should flee the country; often suggested that Castro is following same plan.)

Political Career.

1892 Castro took part in unsuccessful revolution of Palacios; upon failure fled to Colombia. Emerged into public life 1893 as a deputy from Tachira under President Andrade. May 23, 1899, disappointed with treatment by Andrade, Castro raised revolt. Aided by Hernandez, Mendoza, Matos and other leaders, Castro defeated government and entered Caracas, October, 1899, and immediately proclaimed himself president. March, 1901, elected president after putting down the revolts of various leaders who deserted him when he usurped presidency. Most serious of these revolts continued until October 13, 1902, when Castro defeated forces of General Manuel A. Matos. 1905, Castro elected for second term of six years. "It being a well known fact that nobody dared cast his vote against the country's master, the officials were so well aware of the result that everything was prepared beforehand." (North American Review, Sept., 1905.)

Treatment of Foreign Capital.

As president, began immediately policy of oppressing foreign capital and monopolizing home industry. Created for himself and his friends monopolies in the exportation of cattle, fresh beef trade, alcohol, tobacco, matches, hides and leather, milk, charcoal, and control of navigation of Lake Maracaibo and Orinoco. "By means of these unjustifiable monopolies he has ruined thousands of farmers, manufacturers, and workmen." ("Ex-Diplomat" in Public Opinion, May 6, 1905.) Fate of foreign capital under Castro's regime exemplified in ruin of the Caro railway, the Callao and Inatata mines, the Manos Co., several irrigation and steamship companies. Example—Orinoco Steamship Co.'s concession for the navigation of the river annulled by decree and awarded at once to Castro's friends. July, 1904, seized asphalt lake owned by New York & Bermudez company, refusing request of United States for suspension of proceedings pending investigation. Property sequestered in hands of representative of Castro who has since sold and retained proceeds of asphalt mined. With exception of asphalt and French cable companies, which are still fighting for life, industries have dwindled away and disappeared, ruined by adverse judicial decisions and the extortion.

Foreign Entanglements.

1902, as result of policy of despoiling foreign industry, Great Britain, Germany and France, joined by other powers, blockaded Venezuelan ports, December, to enforce claims of citizens. Puerto Cabello bombarded December 13. San Carlos bombarded January 17, '03. Castro extricated from this difficulty by insistence of United States that disputes be arbitrated. Protocols signed February 13, provided for payment of $400,000, adjustment of remaining claims, and arbitration of preferential treatment question. 1903-1904, Castro continued policy of resisting foreign claimants, including awards of mixed commissions. Asphalt lake owned by Americans seized July, 1904—see above. Harassment of French Cable Co. begun. 1905-1906, Castro's hostility toward French Cable Co. and insults to French minister led to severance of diplomatic relations January 10.

Miss Eva Booth's Crown of Glory

Clad in the tattered garb of a London flower girl, Miss Eva Booth, head of the Salvation Army in America, told an audience of 5,000 in New York the other night the secret of her success in rescuing the perishing. Four words sum up the total of her ideal—Love, Sympathy, Sacrifice, Action—and each word typifies a chapter from the life of this useful young woman, who through all her years has been battling in the shadows to make better men and women of the world's hopeless, forlorn and forsaken multitudes. Her Christianity is broader than creed, her charity knows only want, and the Lord's vineyard is the world which lies about her.

"My name has been associated with sorrow," she told that immense audience. "From childhood the broken sob of the little child has gone straight to my heart, and I have never stood between anyone and happiness. Think of that, in these days of money-grasping, of petty ambitions, of heartless crushing of fellow-men and women. How many of us can rise in our place and truthfully say, 'I have never stood between anyone and happiness?' Every day of the week is the Lord's day with Miss Eva Booth. The unfortunate to whom she carries a practical message of hope need her love and sympathy and sacrifice as much on Tuesday as they do on Sunday. Their broken cries touch her heart as deeply at the week's end as they do at its beginning.

A few rich men, who have wrung sweaty dollars from underpaid workmen, have, in their declining years, built marble halls, endowed colleges and scattered immense sums broadcast with amazing prodigality as a sort of salve to conscience, but there was the metallic ring of the dollar to every contribution they made. Love, sympathy and sacrifice were lacking. It is no sacrifice for a millionaire to give $20,000 or $50,000 to charity, or to a college, or for a library. And that is one of the reasons why when some of the world's greatest rich shower their gold on their per institutions the public neither honors nor respects them for so doing. The love of human kind is lacking. Miss Booth has tolled in the ranks of the forlorn, always with a message of love on her lips and the light of the Master in her eyes, and she has won for herself a crown that money cannot buy, she wears a scepter that kings might envy; and she won them with love, sympathy, sacrifice and action.

A Vain Boaster.

A farmer in central New York state has in his employ a man named George, whose understanding is not very acute. One day as his employer came out to the field where he was working, George hailed him. "Say, boss, who do you like best, Mr. Gorman or Mr. Carney?" naming two ministers whose churches are in the neighborhood.

"Well," said the farmer, "I couldn't say. I never heard Mr. Gorman preach."

"I don't like that man Carney," said George; "he brags too much. I went to his church last Sunday and he didn't talk about anything but his father's mansions and brag about how much finer they were than any one else's."—Lippincott's.

Good Heavens!

"They say she married him for his money."
"Yes. And now they're so poor that she has to press his trousers."
"Alas! A real case of the irony of fate."—Chicago Record-Herald.

CHURCH, CLUB AND SOCIAL GATHERINGS

The Elks will give a masquerade ball at their hall, on Monday evening, February 13. All Elks, with their ladies, are requested to attend.

A ladies' meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance union met at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. L. T. Delaney, on Ketchikan avenue.

The noted lecturer, Rev. Robert McIntyre, of Los Angeles, will appear for the third and last time this season, in the Lead Avenue Methodist church, Thursday, February 12, to deliver his lecture, "The Sunny Side of Soldier Life," for the benefit of the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic. Admission 50 cents.

The "Invited Social" given last evening in the Highland Methodist Episcopal church, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Ames, under the auspices of the Ladies' Home missionary society, was a success in every way. The Reverends J. M. Solie and W. D. Clayton, and Messrs. Matthew Ridley, J. D. Emmons and G. E. Roddy delivered short addresses in reference to the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Ames who leave soon for Oakland, Cal., where they will reside in the future, which were very interesting and which were replied to in kind by both Mr. and Mrs. Ames, who thanked those present for the demonstrations of friendship displayed. Mr. and Mrs. Ames were two of the original six who organized the Highland Methodist church and have been active in its circles since its establishment. During the course of the evening refreshments were served and music was rendered. The church was crowded with the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ames, whose health is very poor, necessitating their removal to another climate. They leave February 15, for Oakland.

The Albuquerque Woman's club held one of the most interesting meetings in the history of the club yesterday afternoon in their club rooms in the Commercial club building. The program rendered yesterday was prepared by the literary department, of which Mrs. George F. Albright is chairman, and followed the various phases of life in the south. Dr. Mary Hunter rendered an excellent paper on "The Negro, as a Problem and as a Man," which was highly entertaining. Mrs. S. E. Newcomer discussed the revival of negro dialect in modern literature. Miss Mills sang several southern melodies, which was followed by the reading of a very interesting letter from Miss Lydia Moon, formerly of this city, but now a resident of southern Mississippi. The letter contained extracts of southern life on the Gulf coast as viewed by the writer, Mrs. Hinkley followed this with a paper on "The Southern Woman in Romance," giving a graphic pen picture of the part southern belles have played in life and literature. At the conclusion of the program an hour was devoted to discussing matters of importance to the members of the club, after which the meeting adjourned.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM SUFFERED DEFEAT

In the Fastest and Most Scientific Game of Season
'Varsity Club Won.

DANCE FOLLOWED THE BATTLE

University of New Mexico.....24
Central High School.....19

Thus resulted last evening's basketball contest at the Casino. These were the best of the 'Varsity colors, and the high school contingent forced to accept that bitterest of pills—defeat.

It was a snappy contest, check full of ginger from the first to the final whistle of the referee. Such "footing" as filled the auditorium has seldom before been heard on a basketball gridiron. First the lead, vehement cheering of the high school following rent the air, the students wildly waving their colors and shouting horns as horns are rarely tooted. Then the college boys would distinguish themselves. More blowing of horns, yelling unfurling of colors, only from a multitude of throats in a different part of the hall.

Such team work! It passed to and fro, from hand to hand, and so smoothly as well regulated machinery. The first half also brought out some terrific offensive work. When the college boys had the ball, the high school laddies fought, tiger fashion, for its possession, plunging into their opponents with building tenacity in the determination to break up the team work in an equally vicious manner did the 'Varsity boys attack their opponents. When the smoke from the field of battle cleared at the conclusion of the first half, the score was 12 to 11, in favor of the high school. The tables were turned in the second half, for the 'Varsity boys hit the basket with more regularity and thus secured a lead which the most strenuous work on the part of the high school team failed to offset, and by the narrow margin of five points the college team laid claim to the victory. Up to the last minute of play the high school team played gamely, but to no avail. The basket, shot by Frank Alvord, of the university, from the foul line, elicited merited applause. The teams lined up as follows:

University.....High School
Head.....Alvord
Left.....Collins
Center.....Collins
Right.....Collins
Tascher.....C. Benjamin
Allen.....C. Lemke
Referee.....Berger
Umpire.....Cannon
Timers.....Prof. Martin E. Angell and Frank J. Houston.

A dance followed the game, which was greatly enjoyed by all present. The belligerents forgot their sporting differences in the breezy two-steps and waltzes which took place.

DEPUTY SHERIFF HOVEY IS IN THE CITY

STATES THAT HE HAS A "BAD HOMBRE" IN JAIL AT BERNALILLO.

O. P. Hovey, chief deputy sheriff of Sandoval county, was in the metropolis today transacting business. Mr. Hovey reports everything in business and other lines in a very good condition in Sandoval county and says the people are all prosperous.

Mr. Hovey also states that he has in custody at the Sandoval county jail a pretty tough customer in one Harry McVean, alias Harry McDonald, who has two charges against him that will keep him in jail for some time to come; one of forgery and the other of horse stealing. McVean or McDonald, is charged with having on the 28th of January given a check to certain parties to which he had forged the signatures of the Colorado Telephone company and Morris Brothers Machinery company of Denver. At his preliminary hearing he was bound over to await the action of the Sandoval county grand jury, in the sum of $500 and $1,000 in each case, as he failed to give the required bond, still languishes behind the bars. Deputy Sheriff Hovey states that McDonald is an all round "bad hombre," and one that bears constant watching.

GRIFFIN SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS IMPRISONMENT

OLD OFFENDER AGAINST UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, HAS FINALLY BEEN LANDED BEHIND THE BARS.

Frank Griffin, well known to the United States authorities of this city, because of alleged bold work in violation of Uncle Sam's laws perpetrated in this city about four years ago, has finally reached a berth behind the bars of the penitentiary.

A report from Dallas, Texas, states that Griffin has been sentenced to serve a two years' sentence, having been convicted of conspiracy against the United States.

Griffin has possessed an inclination for many years for making an easy living by furnishing Chinese with fraudulent certificates that proclaim the Colonial a legal resident of the country.

He was arrested here in connection with the distribution of fraudulent Chinese certificates stolen from the immigration office at San Francisco. Griffin secured an acquittal then. The charge upon which he had just been convicted was for printing bogus certificates. Both he and a printer named Caldwell pleaded guilty. Caldwell was sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary.

MORTUARY.

Mrs. Charles W. Dudrow.

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at her home on Agua Fria road, in Santa Fe, Mrs. Charles W. Dudrow, well known to many Albuquerqueans, died suddenly from heart disease, resulting from an operation performed about two weeks ago. Mrs. Dudrow came to Santa Fe about twenty-four years ago, from Marshalltown, Iowa, and fourteen years later was united in marriage to Mr. W. Dudrow. She has many friends here and elsewhere in the territory who will bear with regret of her demise.

NATIVE ATTACKED ANOTHER WITH KNIFE

Third Workman Possibly Prevented a Murder This Morning at Coal Chutes.

BONITO JUAREZ WAS ARRESTED

According to Savina Romero, a native employed at the coal chutes in the Santa Fe yards, he was attacked by a fellow worker this morning and narrowly escaped being murdered.

The alleged assailant is Benito Juarez, who was subsequently arrested on a warrant sworn out by Romero, and brought before Police Justice Crawford.

Romero and Juarez had not been long at work together this morning before a controversy ensued over some trifling matter.

The wrath of Juarez was aroused, and snarling over words said to have been hurled at him by Romero, he picked up a chunk of coal and hurled it at Romero. The coal struck Romero on the wrist, raising a blister.

A bombardment of hot words, it is then said, was exchanged between the two men, the culmination being, according to Romero, an attack made upon him by Juarez, who hurled forth a glinting knife from one of his pockets. The angry native advanced upon Romero, holding the knife threateningly, and muttering a jumble of threats.

Romero expected that his time had come for a terrible gleam lurked in the eyes of Juarez. At a critical moment, however, another workman stepped between the two men, and disarmed Juarez, thus preventing possible bloodshed. Romero lost no time, in the meantime, in getting to police court, where he made his complaint.

ALLEGED AGGRESSOR IN FIGHT DID NOT SHOW UP

THOUGHT HE COULD FORFEIT $15 BOND, BUT CHIEF McMILLIN WOULDN'T STAND FOR IT.

Jack Dixon, who, it is alleged, worsted Frank Price in a fight which took place in front of the St. Elmo last evening, and with Price was arrested by Assistant Chief of Police Kennedy, failed to show up in police court this morning, thinking probably that the $15 cash bond which he put up for his appearance, would be allowed to be forfeited. Chief McMillin refused to allow the case to be thus disposed of, and will see that Dixon is in court at 5 o'clock this afternoon, to which he may stand trial.

According to information in the hands of the police, Dixon was responsible for the trouble, inasmuch as he walked up to Price, and without cause, decorated in his face, and then deliberately slammed the front door in Price's face, as the two were passing into the street. It is further asserted that Dixon has been looking for trouble for some time.

When the two men got outside of the St. Elmo, it is alleged that a savage fight ensued between them, in which Price was badly worsted. The prompt arrival of Chief Kennedy brought hostilities to a sudden termination and resulted in the arrest of both participants.

CAPTAIN RUPPE WANTS FEW MORE RECRUITS

SEVERAL SERGEANTS AND CORPORALS YET TO BE FILLED IN COMPANY G BY COMPETITIVE DRILL.

Captain Ruppe, of the National Guards, Company G, today informed a representative of The Evening Citizen that he was in need of sixteen more men to recruit the company up to its required quota, and that among these sixteen men two trumpeters were wanted. Young men, preferably between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one, are wanted as trumpeters, and Captain Ruppe states that the only requisite is to be able to make a noise on a bugle and be willing to study and learn.

Toward afternoon, weather permitting, the drill squad will go out to the range just below the Santa Fe-Pacific hospital, for rifle practice. The interest in range practice is growing daily, as it becomes evident that Albuquerque is to be represented at the next encampment by a rifle squad, and all are anxious to make the team.

Next month there will be a competitive drill, and Major Elder will hold a battalion inspection some time during March, also. There are several corporals yet to be filled in the company, and as Captain Ruppe plays no favorites every private, and every young man that becomes a member of the Guard before this competitive drill takes place, stands a chance of securing one of these officer's positions. Tuesday Company G will meet at the armory in the Elks opera house for drill duty.

TRAVELING SECRETARY OF Y. W. C. A. DID NOT ARRIVE

The young women of Albuquerque who were looking forward to a visit from Miss Margaret Kyle, of Chicago, traveling secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, who was expected to arrive in the city this morning from Mesilla Park, where she delivered an address a few days ago, were disappointed, as Miss Kyle failed to put in an appearance and it is now thought that she returned by way of El Paso, owing to the lateness of the trains, caused by a wreck near El Paso, on one of the young ladies of Albuquerque with a view to establishing a branch of the Young Women's Christian association in this city, and it was thought that Miss Kyle would do much good by a visit here, giving the movement additional impetus.

FIRST ORDERED BY MUNICIPALITY

And This Census Was Made Necessary by Desire to Build New City Hall.

BEFORE TODAY'S COUNCIL MEETING

The ordinance which was prepared last evening by City Attorney Hickey and presented to the council this afternoon relative to taking the census of the city of Albuquerque, bears the distinction of being the first ordinance of its kind ever considered by a Duke City council.

Never before in the history of Albuquerque has the city authorized the taking of an official census and probably never would have done so had not the desire to build a city hall made such a course absolutely necessary.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the council the matter received attention when City Attorney Hickey informed the aldermen that bonds could be floated for the erection of a city hall in cities having a population of 10,000 or more, providing two-thirds of the city's qualified voters sanctioned it.

"How many people is there living in the city now?" was asked. The reply was that the last United States census gave it something in excess of 6,000. "Postmaster Hopkins informs me," interposed the city attorney, "that a census taken recently by his carriers brought the population up to between 12,000 and 13,000. Of course, it must be remembered," explained Mr. Hickey, "that the carriers deliver considerable mail outside of the city limits where the census was not taken. In view of this," another alderman said, "the 10,000 mark will be little more than reached."

A general symposium on the subject followed. Alderman Leonard brought the issue to head by moving that a committee be appointed to select a responsible person from each ward to enumerate the populace. The city attorney perused several volumes of territorial laws and ascertained that the municipality had a legal right to count its residents if it so desired. "How long does a person have to live in the city to be included in the count?" inquired one of the city dads. "Five minutes," was the brief reply made by Clerk Lee. "Everybody is to be included, from the 90 year old grandpa to the one day old infant," stipulated the city attorney.

The council was then notified that the last day on which anything could be done on either the water, sewer or city hall matter was March 2 next, inasmuch as public notice for the sale of bonds, etc., must be published thirty days before the municipal election. "We will pass the ordinance tomorrow," said Mayor McKee, "and by Monday the enumerators in the various wards can get to work. The task ought to be finished in ten days at least." Until this job is finished, consideration of the city hall project will be at an end.

ENGINEER WILLIAM FISHER WILL DIE, IT IS THOUGHT

ATTENDING PHYSICIAN GIVES UP ALL HOPE OF SAVING VICTIM OF FREIGHT WRECK.

Dr. W. H. Vilas, who is attending William Fisher, the Santa Fe engineer, who was injured in the freight wreck beneath his locomotive, Wednesday day near El Paso, as the result of part of a freight train leaving the track, has given up all hope of saving Fisher's life, and so informed friends of the injured man last night at El Paso.

The external and internal injuries are so serious that the opinion of Dr. Vilas is only a question of a short time before Engineer Fisher will pass away.

All traces of the wreck were removed yesterday and the right of way placed in first class condition. It now appears that a quantity of dirt which had been left on the track by a gang of graders, and into which a train ran, caused the wreck. It is stated that a danger flag marked the location of the dirt, but either it was not seen by the engineer or was disregarded.

DERRICKS WILL LOCATE IN DOUGLAS, ARIZONA

Frank Derriks, proprietor of The Elite rooming house, who has been touring the southwest towns and even northern Mexico, looking up a location for a saloon, has returned to the city, and today informed The Evening Citizen that he has concluded to engage in business in Douglas, Arizona, he leaving for that town Monday or Tuesday evening next. He regards Douglas as one of the greatest mining towns in the country, and thinks that all kinds of business possibilities flourish down there. He and Mrs. Derriks will dispose of The Elite rooming house, a party from Silver City, expected tomorrow or Monday morning to look over it with a view of purchasing. Mrs. Derriks will not go to Douglas for several weeks.

ALDERMAN GILLENWATER MAKES CERTAIN DENIALS

SAYS ALLEGATIONS DID HIM A GREAT INJUSTICE—NOT INTERESTED IN GARBAGE COMPANY.

Yesterday afternoon, in The Evening Citizen, upon rumors on the streets and reports which had reached the office, it was stated that Captain W. H. Gillenwater, the alderman from the Third ward, was one of the members and financiers of the garbage proposition of the city. These allegations the captain objects to, and he denies that he is a member of the city garbage company, or has offered to finance the proposition. Mr. Gillenwater states that he is in no wise either directly or indirectly interested in the garbage contract, that he supported the ordinance because it met with his approval, and was recommended for passage by the board of health; and upon further investigation, which a representative of this paper made this morning, The Citizen is satisfied that he is not. This paper had no personal or political desire, in the publication of said article, except to give the news to our readers; had no desire to do the Third ward alderman an injustice, hence the above correction.

CITY COUNCIL MET THIS AFTERNOON

Contract With Water Company, Census and Sewer Considered.

ADJOURNED FROM YESTERDAY

The common council held an adjourned session this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which time several important matters were considered. Among these was the water proposition, the matter of extending the city sewers and the building of a new and modern city hall.

City Census Ordinance.
As instructed by the aldermen at yesterday afternoon's session, City Attorney Hickey submitted the ordinance relative to taking a census of the city. It provides for the selection of a responsible person in each ward to canvass the same for the purpose of ascertaining the exact number of residents therein, and specifies by blanks what the compensation will be for doing the work. The ordinance was accepted. The reason for its passage so hurriedly is to ascertain whether or not Albuquerque has a population of 10,000 this number of inhabitants being necessary if bonds are to be floated, not to exceed $30,000, for a new city hall.

Water Contract Presented.
The contract between the city and the Water Supply company, also drawn up by City Attorney Hickey, together with the ordinance pertaining to the same, were read by Clerk Lee. The contract in substance stipulates that the city of Albuquerque is to pay the water company the sum of $250,000 for its plant and all property belonging to it, the said plant to be turned over to the municipality free of all indebtedness except bonds held by the water company, amounting to about $185,000, with interest until maturity, these bonds to be included in the purchase price, the transfer of all being subject to the wishes of the qualified voters of the city at the regular election of the municipality, to be held in April. Both the contract and ordinance were passed upon favorably.

Engaging a Sewer Expert.
Alderman Walker brought up his sewer expert proposition again. He said that it was necessary to do something immediately, if the matter of improving the city sewers was to be brought before the voters at the spring election. The board of health, he said, was in favor of employing an expert to examine the present system and submit plans for improvements. Mayor McKee also expressed himself in favor of engaging an expert, as in his opinion, the city was greatly in need of improvements along this line. "I do not care to write any more letters to these parties," said Alderman Walker, "unless you intend engaging one." The sewer question was discussed, thereupon, at much length.

CITY REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE

For the information of republicans, The Evening Citizen publishes the city republican central committee, chosen in April, 1904, as follows:

First Ward—M. E. Hickey and T. Morelli.
Second Ward—L. W. Gailles and J. Stingle.
Third Ward—F. A. Hubbell and W. H. Gillenwater.
Fourth Ward—Thomas S. Hubbell and C. F. Meyers.
At Large—Samuel Watson.

RECORD STEEL RAIL ORDERS

RAILWAYS HAVE CONTRACTED FOR $98,000,000 WORTH THIS YEAR.

According to the best estimates, the railroads of the United States will spend fully $98,000,000 for steel rails during the present year. The demand for steel rails has never been so great in the history of railroading, and it portends a good deal of new construction, as well as haste upon the part of the railway managements to put their property in the best condition.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has just placed an order for 43,000 tons of making a total of 222,000 tons which will be delivered to that company in 1906, at a cost of $6,216,000. The total steel rail order for the year is estimated at 3,500,000,000 tons, which is 300,000 tons in excess of 1905. The Lake Shore and other New York Central lines have ordered nearly as much as the Pennsylvania.

All of the large western lines have orders in which are far in excess of those placed last year.

"MANY A MICKLE MAKES A MUCKLE."

Nine Million nine hundred and fifty-seven thousand seven hundred and fifty-three persons paid five cents for the Duluth Street Railway company last year as shown by the company's annual report filed with City Comptroller W. S. McCormick recently. The report sets out that this was the number of fares in money collected, including the bridge tolls received, while the total income was $19,826.75 after total expenditures had been deducted.

The cost of construction of lines is $21,889,000, on cars and buildings $1,300,000, equipment, $6,758.87, and machinery and tools, $2,768.99, making a total of $33,797.45. Depreciation for 1905 is set at $44,750.

The bond issue of which two-thirds is apportioned to Duluth and one-third to Superior, for the purpose of extending the line to Duluth and on the same basis.

Announcement.
To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for curing colds, flu, etc., the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form bottles the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

$1,000,000 was advanced by the Duluth-Superior Traction company on behalf of Duluth.

Under the option of current obligations are listed: Approved vouchers, $19,518.96; taxes accrued, but not due, $19,870.12; unpaid damage claims, two-thirds to Duluth, $7,956.67, making a total of $47,345.75. The total encumbrances, debts and obligations were $2,714,012.42.

The current expenses include damage claims paid, $24,456.30; legal expense, $3,250.00; interest on bonds, $83,333.34; interest on money advanced, $40,000.00; and operation, including taxes, $266,362.82.

SPORTING BRIEVITIES.

Wouldn't it be more to the point for those writers who keep insisting that Joe Gans is the lightweight champion to state that he is the darkey-weight champion?

Grinnell College, at Iowa City, Ia., is the latest school to declare against foot ball. Out there they say the game is so brutal it can no longer be tolerated by its long haired students.

Pity the poor foot ball coaches. What under the sun can they do to keep the cruel, cruel wolf from the door if their jobs are taken from them? How many coaches are qualified to step right out into real life and earn their living by actual work?

Joe Gans admitted in Chicago, the other day, that he faked in his fight with McGovern and other men he had met in the ring. "But I am through with crookedness in the ring," says Joe. And yet he is on his way to Baltimore.

The Chicago and Michigan foot ball contest is in a bad way, and unless conservative counsel prevails these two schools may sever athletic relations. Each charges the other with bad faith in the recent Chicago conference, when radical provisions in the present foot ball revision were drawn up. The section over the abolition of the professional coach is the one that is causing the trouble.

"EVELESS EDEN OF THE WEST" LONGS FOR EVES

IN THE BIG HORN COUNTRY, WHERE THERE ARE TEN BACHELORS TO ONE MARRIAGEABLE GIRL, THEY HAVE ISSUED A CALL FOR WIVES.

Meeteetse, Wyo., Feb. 10.—Big Horn county, the "Eveless Eden of the West," is now wrestling with the question of how to supply wives for its 1,642 bachelors. The state census shows more than ten unmarried men to one marriageable girl, and the Gray Bull Club, a commercial organization, issued a call for wives in the hopes of changing the ratio.

Meeteetse is the storm center of the unique campaign, and has a greater percentage of unmarried men than any other locality. The owners of two of the finest ranches are bachelors, worth at least $75,000; three of the largest wool growers in the west live here at the hotel in single blessedness; many of the merchants are similarly situated, while ranch men with independent fortunes live singly and in clubs.

It is the expressed determination of many of these bachelors not to marry a "mail order wife," as they express it. They demand to see the goods in advance, and just as the club had prepared an elaborate scheme to supply them with a list of eligibles from the east, it is forced by this objection to adopt other tactics. It will conduct an employment agency on a large scale.

Observing members of the club point out the fact that school ma'ams are scarcely given time to get acquainted with their pupils before they are enticed from their duties to become mistresses of some ranchman's home; domestics quickly succumb to the strenuous wooing of some Big Horn county swain, and stenographers and bookkeepers and saleswomen win homes just as fast.

Recently a young widow from the east, a clerk in a dry goods store, married a Meeteetse wool grower with 40,000 sheep on the range, a domestic is now the wife of one of the leading merchants. A young lady from Indiana, who visited a married sister has been led to the altar by a mine superintendent.

It seems certain that if the marriageable women can be found positions here, the bachelors will attend to the rest. The greatest need is for domestics and housekeepers. The "lured girl" of Wyoming is to all intents a member of the family, and attends church, dances, and social functions with the best people, if her character is good. The average domestic here is paid from $15 to $20 a month, with good board and room.

The publication of the Gray Bull Club's plans has already brought many inquiries from the east, and these letters are filed and given a number and answered in their order. Thus far every school teacher and housekeeper applying has been offered remunerative employment, and it is expected the next state census will show a marked change in the number of lonely bachelors.

AN ORIGINAL JOINT STATEHOOD MAN

Col. Hopewell Gives His Views and Believes the Bill Will Pass.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Hon. W. S. Hopewell, vice president of the Santa Fe Central railway and of the Albuquerque Eastern railroad, while in Santa Fe Thursday, upon being accosted by a representative of the New Mexican concerning the passage of the joint statehood bill in the senate, said he thought the bill would pass, and that the people of New Mexico would be called upon to vote upon a constitution and for state officials this year.

He is the original joint statehood man as far as New Mexico is concerned and advocated joint statehood as early as April, 1904.

Concerning the holding of a constitutional convention, Mr. Hopewell said:

"Constitutional Convention. 'I believe the constitutional convention should be of a non-partisan character and I am in favor of aiding in the election of non-partisan delegates to the constitutional convention. I think we can get up a better code of the fundamental laws of the new state in this way than we can in any other. In order to have a strong and prosperous state, we must have the proper superstructure, and this can be better accomplished, in my opinion, by a non-partisan convention than by one in which politics predominate. A lengthy argument upon this subject is not necessary.

"I believe that a majority of the people of New Mexico and Arizona would take this course were it properly advocated by the leaders of their parties and by newspapers in the two territories. I am taking up this subject wherever I travel through the territory and find that many people agree with me.

Wants Arizona.

"I hope that the state of Arizona will be an accomplished fact by the first of January of the coming year. Judging by the 1904 election reports, both in New Mexico and Arizona, that the republicans may carry the new state for state officers and for the legislative assembly. This, however, will depend a great deal upon circumstances, and upon the character of the men who shall be put upon the state and legislative tickets, as well as upon their geographical position.

"The republican territorial organization in this territory, I know, is strong and is compactly and well organized. I am not so well posted upon Arizona and I think in that territory the democratic party is in better shape than is the republican party. But, as New Mexico has many more voters than has Arizona, it looks to me as if the republicans had the advantage. I should very much like to see that party take the stand that I am advocating, namely, the holding of a non-partisan constitutional convention."

VENERABLE BROTHER BOTULPH IS DEAD

Was President and Principal of St. Michael's College at Santa Fe.

HE DIED IN LIFE'S WORK

Brother Botulph, 74 years old on the second day of this coming month, director and head of St. Michael's college, and a member of the territorial board of education, died at noon yesterday in St. Vincent's hospital, at Santa Fe, of asthma and catarrh, superinduced by advanced old age. He had been unconscious since 6 o'clock Thursday night and the end was expected for some time before it came.

The body was prepared for burial and then taken to the San Miguel church, which is the college chapel, where it remained in state, surrounded by lighted candles, until this morning.

At 6:15 o'clock this morning low mass was said in the San Miguel chapel and the body was then moved to the cathedral, where the solemn requiem mass was said at 10 o'clock. After customary prayers the body of the venerable instructor was laid to rest in the Rosario cemetery, near Santa Fe. The requiem mass was conducted by the Rt. Rev. Bishop J. B. Pitaval, assisted by Very Rev. Father Antonio Pourcellegue, vicar general. The board of directors of the college offered to retire Brother Botulph from active duty, but he refused to quit, saying in reply:

"I have been too long here to wish to abandon the work now. I want to die in the harness."

His wish was granted, as with his last consciousness, he continued to direct the affairs of the school, through Brother Mathew, who is now in charge, until a successor is appointed.

Thirty-five Years Here.

Brother Botulph has spent the last thirty-five years of his useful and pious life in work at St. Michael's college, and was well known all over the southwest as one of its most conscientious and valuable pioneer teachers.

Owing to the personal efforts and his excellent management, the old adobe college buildings were torn down one by one and replaced with handsome brick structures, costing $60,000. The institution now has an attendance of 125 boarders and eighty-five day pupils, and is entering upon an era of prosperity of which the foundation was laid by the venerable man whose death has just occurred.

Brother Botulph's family name was Peter J. Schneider. He was born in Prussia, near the present city of Cologne, but early emigrated to America and entered the order of Christian Brothers in the year 1852. Three of his brothers also entered the same order. Two are dead, but one is now teaching in a college in Baltimore, Md. A sister is also an inmate of a hospital conducted by the Sisters of St. Francis at Newark, N. J. Both were afflicted with death, but owing to their age they did not come to Santa Fe for the funeral.

After joining this pious order, the Brother taught for some time in colleges at Montreal, Kingston, Detroit, Baltimore, Rochester and Philadelphia, but was finally sent to the then frontier of New Mexico. As a result of his upright and hard working life and his ability and energy, he soon won the respect and confidence of all whose pleasure it was to know him, and the news of his death caused universal regret and mourning throughout New Mexico.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible, are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious, and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. For sale by all druggists.

Harry Steinfeldt has disposed of the rumor that he will not play ball this season by signing a Chicago contract.

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured. MRS. LORENE NICHOLS, Penn Yan, N. Y.

I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me. D. KAUFER, Nevada, O.

Santa Fe Cheap Rate to California

Californians raise gold—they don't mind much how. An easier way has been found than that. It is now obtained by farming. The alchemy of nature converts the oranges, lemons, grapes, wheat, alfalfa and other products of the soil into good clothes, comfortable residences, and assuring bank accounts. This being done every day in California, wouldn't it pay you to inquire into this? Better yet, why not go there?

ONLY $25.00

FAVORITISM IN RAILROAD RATES

Here is an odd circumstance. Denver money and St. Joseph money look different. At least, the railroads take that position. For instance: Fifty cents of St. Joseph money will pay the freight on 100 pounds of sugar from San Francisco. But it takes 60 cents to bring that much sugar to Denver from San Francisco. Yet Denver is 500 miles nearer Frisco than St. Joseph. All of which indicates that 50 cents of St. Joseph money is better than 60 cents of Denver money. Denver charges that the railroad rates make it look like 30 cents.

RAILROAD TOPICS

R. Emerson, of the Santa Fe system, was in the metropolis today from his headquarters in Topeka, Kan.

Colonel R. E. Twichell, of the legal department of the Santa Fe, residing at Las Vegas, is in the city for a few days to transact some legal business for the Santa Fe company.

H. Gallagher, connected with the Santa Fe system at San Marcial, arrived in Albuquerque this morning, and will remain a day or two on company business.

The Santa Fe is expecting a rush of tourists and excursionists and is making extensive preparations to accommodate all those wishing to visit the land of flowers and sunshine.

Mrs. Gaston, who has been a guest at the home of Mrs. E. J. Gibson, wife of the superintendent of the Winslow division, on West Coal Avenue, left this morning for Winslow, where she will visit with friends for a few days.

W. H. Mills, formerly trainmaster of the Arizona division of the Santa Fe, has resigned his position and will take up other work. Mr. Mills has many warm friends in that part of the country who will wish him success in any undertaking.

The Santa Fe Railroad company has had a gang of surveyors at work at Algodones for the past few days, so reports Deputy Sheriff Hovey, of Sandoval county, who was in the city today. These surveyors are making a survey of the lands that were damaged by the floods caused by what is known as the El Rito arroyo, built by the railroad company. The company intends purchasing this land from the owners so that in case of floods in the future they will not have to pay damages as they did on account of last spring's floods.

The regular schedule of Santa Fe trains was as far off today as yesterday. No. 8, which was wrecked at Bellemont, Ariz., yesterday, and which was due here at 7:45 p. m., arrived at 10:30 this morning, and No. 2, due here at 7:55 a. m., arrived today at 12:20 p. m. The California limited, due here just before noon, arrived at 1 o'clock this morning, and No. 9, the El Paso train, arrived at 6 o'clock this morning, several hours late. No. 7, for San Francisco, also arrived several hours late. The Santa Fe this winter has won the nickname of the "hard luck route," and is still maintaining her recently acquired reputation for wrecks and delays.

UNIVERSITY NEWS

Mr. Preston gave a carefully prepared talk, yesterday, at the assembly period, on "Radium."

President Tight is improving rapidly and will be on the hill next week, though he may not take up his work actively for several days.

A game of basket ball between the "Varsity" and the "Scrubs" on the campus, Tuesday afternoon, resulted in favor of the former. Score, 43-11.

Prof. Crum is now preparing to give "She Stoops to Conquer," as the University play. A strong cast will be made up from the numerous students working in the department of Education and Oratory.

Among those entered for the elementary contest to take place in the near future, are the following students: Albright, Allen, Tascher, Horton, Keller, Misco, Finch, Franklin, Owens and Hill. For this contest, Dr. J. A. Henry has offered the first prize and S. E. Newcomer the second.

The Estrella society rendered the following program, yesterday: Song, Estrella chorus; recitation, Miss Harsch; oration, Miss Perkins; debate, "Resolved, That the Chinese should be admitted to citizenship," discussed by Misses Spitz, Hart, T. Allen and Keleher.

Base ball is beginning to engage the attention of the students at intercollegiate. Among the candidates for the Varsity team are Allen, Clancy, Alvord, Heald, Price, Cornish, Dye, E. Simmons, J. Simmons, H. Bryan, Selva, Ross, Donohy and H. Field.

The regular semi-annual election of officers of the Athletic Association was held last Tuesday. The members met in the assembly hall and after listening to the report of the nominating committee, H. Bryan, Howison, Misses Finch and Harsch, elected the following: President, Ross; vice president, Dolores Hunning; secretary, Worth; treasurer, Heald; board of control, President Tight, Prof. Angell, Miss Hickey, Tascher and Bryan. These officers will serve until next September.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

(Small Holding Claim No. 445.)
Department of the Interior, United States Land Office, Santa Fe, N. M., January 8, 1906.

Notice is hereby given that the following named claimant has filed notice of his intention to make final proof in support of his claim to sections 16 and 17 of the act of March 2, 1891, (26 Stats., 551), as amended by the act of February 21, 1893, (27 Stats., 470), and that said proof will be made before the United States court commissioner at Albuquerque, N. M., on February 15, 1906, viz: Beatriz C. de Sanchez, widow of Jesus H. Sanchez, deceased, for the S. H. C. No. 445, situated in Sec. 25, T. 7 N., R. 2 E., and Sec. 30, T. 7 N., R. 3 E.

He names the following witnesses to prove his claim: continuous adverse possession of said tract for twenty years next preceding the survey of the township, viz: Manuel Maes, of Valencia, N. M.; Mariano Perea, of Valencia, N. M.; Jose G. Chavez, of Valencia, N. M.; Miguel Silva, of Valencia, N. M.

Any person who desires to protest against the allowance of said proof or who knows of any substantial reason under the laws and regulations of the interior department why such proof should not be allowed, will be given an opportunity at the above mentioned time and place to cross-examine the witnesses of said claimant, and to offer evidence in rebuttal of that submitted by claimant.

NO ARMY BAND

FIRST ARTILLERY MUSICIANS TO BE MUSTERED OUT, HAVING PASSED THE AGE LIMIT.

The First Artillery band, which has furnished weekly concerts in the plaza, at Santa Fe, is to be mustered out of the service of the New Mexico national guard, because the players are 45 years old and over. Men of this age are considered too old for military service. The organization, however, is to be continued under the name of the Santa Fe band of Prof. Perez. The time for mustering the band out of service has not yet been set. All the instruments, uniforms and other equipments now in possession of the band, will be turned over to the adjutant general for storage. The musicians will therefore be forced to replace them, and have already begun soliciting funds for this purpose. In speaking of the work done by the band, Antonio Alarid, the manager, said:

This organization has been in the national guard service for eleven years and has never disclosed official orders. The members went into the territory's service as young men. We wish to thank our officers for the good treatment we have received at their hands and we ask the assistance of the citizens now in maintaining our organization.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

DAY AND WEATHER.

Local snow tonight and Sunday in north portion; rain in south portion.

Sun rose at 6:54 this morning, and will set at 5:35, so that the day will be 10 hours and 41 minutes long. The moon will rise at 7:17 this evening, and illuminate the remainder of the night. At this writing the sun is breaking through the clouds, the day having previously been cloudy all together. From about 9 a. m. to a little before noon, snow fell almost incessantly and in immense flakes, but melted almost as it fell, none remaining on the ground. On this day, 1876, Reverdy Johnson died, at the age of 80 years, having been born in 1796. He was an American lawyer, statesman, diplomat and United States attorney general.

Mrs. Ryan, of Las Cruces, is in the city on a visit to friends.

In probate court today Richard L. Wootton filed his commission as notary.

M. C. Roberts is seriously ill with pneumonia at his home on Marble avenue.

George Carson, of Albuquerque, was a visitor in the Capitol city yesterday on personal business.

A message from St. Joseph's hospital this afternoon states that Sheriff Perfecto Armijo continues to improve.

John Mennel, the market gardener, returned yesterday from an extended visit with friends and relatives in the east.

In probate court today a marriage license was granted to Francis M. Morgan and Glennie Holland, both of this city.

L. A. Macpherson left last night for the Payson Hot Springs, to join his wife, who has been at the springs the past week. Both will return to the city Monday.

A report from the bedside of Probate Court Clerk J. A. Summers this afternoon says that Mr. Summers is very weak and shows no improvement over yesterday.

H. H. Emmings, connected with the People's Exchange bank, in Golden, Ill., has arrived in Albuquerque and will remain some time the guest of the dairyman, H. U. Albers.

Miss Florence Roberts and her company of players arrived in the city this morning on delayed No. 9, after a rather vexatious trip, owing to the delays on account of the wreck near Trinidad.

Max Gussaroff is fast getting the storeroom on Second street, next the Postal Telegraph office, in shape for his pool and billiard parlors. He expects to be open for business by the middle of next week.

Leon Hertzog, the merchant, is contemplating an extended tour of Europe, and is making preparations to leave some time next week. He intends visiting several months at his old home in Alsace-Lorraine.

The Silver City Independent says: Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Witzel were arrivals in Silver City last Wednesday from Albuquerque and remained over visiting friends until Saturday. Mrs. Witzel accompanying her husband on his regular trip here. It is understood that Mr. Witzel has purchased a large beer and ice business in Las Vegas and will soon assume charge of the same.

At about 7:45 o'clock last evening some unknown person deposited a baby boy on the doorstep of Francisco Pino's residence, 704 West Gold avenue, knocked at the door and bent a hasty retreat. The baby was found a minute later by Mrs. Pino, who notified the police. As the woman decided to keep the child which was probably a month old, Chief McMillin who responded to the call, did nothing. The infant appears to be of American parentage. A doctor, the butcher, took the child home last evening and it might be properly fed, and returned it to Mrs. Pino this morning.

Plans and specifications covering the construction of a stone barn at the Zuni Indian school, Zuni, N. M., can be seen at this office, but prospective bidders who secure these plans and specifications, must remember beforehand that the government will not

DARTMOUTH PROFESSOR AFTER JAP COLLECTION.
Seattle, Wash., Feb. 10.—Dr. Kan-ichi Asakawa, lecturer on the far east at Dartmouth College, sailed today for Japan. He has been granted a leave of absence until September, 1907, and will spend several months in his native country, carrying out a joint commission from the Library of Congress and Yale University. Each of these institutions has set aside $10,000, to be expended by Dr. Asakawa in the purchase of a large and systematic collection of books from public and private sources.

MONTANA NEWSPAPER MEN START TO CALIFORNIA.
Butte, Mont., Feb. 10.—Nearly one hundred newspapermen from different parts of this state will start from here today on a trip to California under the auspices of the Montana State Press Association. Many of them have never been in California. The route will be over the Oregon Short Line to Salt Lake and thence by the San Pedro Line to Los Angeles. No time limit for the return of the excursionists has been set and they will be able to please their individual taste as the party will not return in a body.

CONGRESSMAN LONGWORTH CONFINED BY TONSILLITIS.
Washington, Feb. 10.—Representative Nicholas Longworth, who is suffering from an attack of tonsillitis, was reported as much better today. It will be necessary, however, it was stated at his home, for him to remain quiet for several days.

ELKS OF SILVER CITY INCORPORATE AND FILE PAPERS WITH TERRITORIAL SECRETARY—ANOTHER COMPANY INCORPORATES.

The following articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of Territorial Secretary J. W. Reynolds in the capitol building:
The Silver City Elks' Association. The incorporators are residents of Silver City. Their names and the number of shares subscribed by each are as follows: W. D. Murray, 100 shares; H. J. Burgess, 10 shares; C. Hinman, 10 shares; William H. Newcomb, 10 shares. The capital stock is $12,000, divided into 1,200 shares of the par value of $10 each. The time of existence of the company is fixed at 50 years. The principal office is located at Silver City, Luna county, and the agent in charge is William H. Newcomb. The objects of the corporation are to create, erect, own, and conduct lodge rooms and an amusement hall for the Elks, and to secure personal or real property necessary to carry on such business.
