Time Set For Taking Vote in Senate Committee on Rates.

GOES OVER UNTIL FRIDAY

Senator Tillman Asked it Because He is Threatened With Pneumonia.

GAMBLING BILL RECOMMENDED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—The Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce will hold an important meeting today, which, in a way, will decide the preliminary fate of the railroad rate question. In accordance with a previous agreement, the committee will today decide by vote which one of the railroad bills is to be reported back to the senate, with the sanction and approval of the majority of the committee.

There are three measures which are before the committee, between which a choice is to be made, and so uncertain is the situation, that even now, only a few hours before the meeting of the committee, it is impossible to forecast which one of the three bills will be selected by the majority of the committee. The three measures from which the selection is to be made are the Dilliver-Clapp bill, the Elkins bill and the Foraker bill. The measure which receives the largest number of votes will be reported back to the senate as the majority measure. It is quite likely that both the unsuccessful bills will be brought before the senate as minority reports.

The Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce is composed of Senator Elkins, the chairman of the committee, and the following other members: Cullom, Aldrich, Keen, Dilliver, Foraker, Clapp, Crane, Tillman, McLaughlin, Carmack, Foster and Newlands. It will be seen that four of the thirteen members of the committee are specially interested in one of the three bills, which leaves nine who are not identified with any one of the bills. It is understood, however, that most of them have decided preference for either one of the bills, and will vote accordingly. If their number were evenly divided between the three bills, it would give the Dilliver-Clapp bill the advantage of one vote, and it would be reported back as the majority measure.

It is well understood, however, that the fact that one of the bills will be presented as the majority bill necessarily means that it will be approved by the senate.

Later News Received.
It is not certain whether the railroad rate bill will be brought to a vote in the senate committee on interstate commerce during the day according to the agreement reached more than a fortnight ago, but prospects are believed to be against it.

Goes Over to Friday.
All important amendments to the railroad rate bill pending in the interstate commerce committee will go over until next Friday, Senator Tillman has sent a letter to the commission saying that he is threatened with pneumonia.

Membership Raised to Nine.
The senate committee on commerce today by a vote of 6 to 5 agreed to the amendment increasing the membership of the interstate commerce commission to nine members.

GAMBLING BILL IS FAVORABLY REPORTED.
Washington, Feb. 16.—The senate committee on territories today authorized a favorable report on the bill prohibiting gambling in Alaska, Arizona, New Mexico, Indian Territory and Oklahoma.

OF INTEREST ONLY
Special to The Citizen.
Washington, Feb. 16.—Delegate Andrews has introduced several new bills among which are:

A $20,000 additional building for the Indian school at Santa Fe, giving court of claims jurisdiction to adjudicate Indian deposition claims; to increase pension for Elias Lacerda, formerly of Albuquerque, and for Matthew H. Bellamy and John C. Patterson.

Andrews has been attending a session of the committee on agriculture, discussing Texas fever and other matters.

DELEGATES TO DISCUSS UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—Delegates appointed by the governors of every state in the union met here today at the request of Governor Pennypacker of Pennsylvania, to discuss the question of divorce laws and the best method of bringing about uniformity in the divorce laws in all the states.

Governor Pennypacker has always taken great interest in the matter, and personally requested the governors of the different states to appoint delegates and send them to this conference in the city. At different times in the past efforts have been made to get the various states governments interested in the matter of uniformizing the divorce laws, but nothing was ever accomplished.

IT WAS JAPAN THAT ROUSED CHINESE AGAINST US

Hostility of the Brown Men to America the Cause of All the Trouble—Japanese Made a Regular Campaign Against the United States in China—Will We Fight Them, Too?

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—While the government is rushing preparations for war with China, that which renders the situation the more serious is the suspicion which has grown to a well founded belief that foreign influence—and that chiefly Japanese—is largely responsible for the growing hostility of the Chinese to Americans.

At the close of the war with Russia the Japanese government took prompt steps to make sure of the spoils of war. Not the least of these was China—commercial China. It is said that no less than 10,000 Japanese agents, mostly of the student class, were sent to the trade centers and even to the interior cities and towns of China, to pre-empt the Japanese trade. Through these and other agencies the Japanese government took pains to spread the gospel of "China for the Chinese."

The United States, by reason of its great advantages of geographic location, was feared by Japan as the greatest rival for the new Chinese market. To head off the Americans was the first step, and the characteristically oriental method employed was to play on the native prejudices of the people of China.

The similarity of language and race, and their familiarity with Chinese customs and habits of thought, made this an easy task to the Japanese.

The influence of Japan at the court of Peking is paramount. Previous to the war, it had been Russia. Since the treaty of Portsmouth, the empress has been little more than the tool of the mikado. Thus the failure of the Chinese government to suppress the anti-American boycott is charged directly to the unfitness of Japan.

Which adds a serious complication to the situation.

The commercial hostility of Japan is accentuated by the attitude of Germany. The emperor has been pursuing a very aggressive policy in the orient, and has far overstepped the provisions of the agreement reached by the powers after the Boxer uprisings. In the great Shen Tung province the German influence has been extended until it amounts to an exclusive monopoly of that part of the empire.

It is the belief in diplomatic circles that Emperor William is moving for a partition of the Chinese empire, confident that the only alternative is the complete absorption of China by Japan, with the other powers left to take the crumbs of commerce which may fall from the mikado's table.

France has interests also in the orient, but with the present strained relations with Germany, this nation cannot be a great factor in the game which is going on in the Far East.

Italy and Spain are willing to abide the course to be determined on by the United States.

Great Britain is bound by the new treaty of alliance with Japan to act with the Japanese in any trouble which may come. The chief importance of the alliance is the effect it has in depriving the United States of its strongest friend in any trouble in which Japan might be involved.

So, strange as it may appear, about the closest ally to whom the United States might turn in the event of any trouble in the orient, will be Russia, defeated and rent with internal dissensions. Russia is fully apprised of the purposes of Japan in China, and it is naturally averse to seeing them carried out.

Hong Kong, Feb. 16.—Since the events of 1900, when the Chinese army consisted of a mass of unskilled, undisciplined fanatics, with a worthless equipment, long needed reforms have been introduced. China at present, possesses the makings of a real army, organized and drilled on the model of the Japanese forces.

The international leaders during the Boxer troubles found the Chinese inferior in every way to the armies put in the field against them. In addition to their lack of skill and poor equipment, they were found to possess no idea of the meaning of war. They even held a belief that any attacks of the "foreign pigs" who fought against them could not result in disaster.

Since that time, however, armed with the example of the success of the

SIX THOUSAND AMERICANS

Dwelling Now in China Are Declared to be in Imminent Danger.

SHANGHAI DISPATCH DENIES IT

Washington, Feb. 16.—Nearly 6,000 Americans, men, women and children, are in the peril of death at the hands of Chinese mobs in the threatened Boxer uprising. To rescue as many of these as possible from danger and take drastic action in every case where an American is molested is the purpose of the president, through the state, navy and war departments.

Activities in this direction have been going on for weeks but great secrecy necessarily prevails. Aside from the known fact that the Philippine force has already been greatly increased, the Asiatic fleet increased, the state department is keeping its program secret.

Of the total number of Americans now in China, it is estimated that no less than 1,400 are engaged in Christian mission work. Three thousand are engaged in commercial pursuits, and the rest have heretofore been employed by Chinese merchants and manufacturers. These last have been driven from their employment and the merchants are suffering from the boycott.

Nearly all the anti-foreign sentiment is said to be against the Americans. Therefore if Peking is taken again as it was in 1900, the feat is likely to be accomplished by Americans alone. That all preparations are being made on a scale commensurate with this task is indicated by the unprecedented activity at the various army posts and munition factories.

STORY SEEMS NOT TO BE CREDITED AT SHANGHAI.

Washington, Feb. 16.—The state department has received a cablegram from Shanghai, China, stating that conditions in that city are not such as to cause any alarm. Although the boycott has not diminished, it is reported that a great fear is entertained of an outbreak.

TROOPS SENT RECENTLY TO PHILIPPINES AT MANILA.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—A large part of the troops which recently sailed from New York and San Francisco, will be quartered in a large camp near Manila. The principal camp will be under the command of Brigadier General J. M. Lee, who has been relieved, at his own request, from duty in the command of the Department of Texas, for duty in the Philippines, where he will serve until his retirement in January of next year. General Lee is a member of the famous Fighting Ninth Infantry, and one of the important official papers, which have never been published, is that officer's defense of the regiment against the criticism of its work in China and elsewhere. It was expected that General Lee would succeed W. H. Carter in command of the Department of the Visayas, but some other officer evidently will be detailed for the duty. There is still much speculation as to the employment of these troops, which will be, for the present, under the command of General Lee. The only statement which has been officially made is that the troops were sent to the Philippines at the urgent advice of General Leonard Wood.

HIGH NOON TOMORROW ALICE GETS MARRIED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 16.—At noon tomorrow Miss Alice Roosevelt and Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, will be married. The ceremony will take place in the east room of the White House, Rev. Bishop Sartorius, officiating. The decorations will be the most elaborate that the famous east room has ever seen. The work of preparing the room for the occasion is well under way. The guests will number 1,000,000. Immediately after the wedding a buffet breakfast will be served in the state dining room. Photographers and special newspaper writers from all over the country have been arriving in Washington. Some have even come from Europe. However, only a limited number of writers for the press have been invited. The reception of fees will be closed all day tomorrow.

LARGEST COTTON POOL IS FORMED IN THIS COUNTRY.

New York, Feb. 16.—The recent rumor of the formation of a cotton pool, the object of which is to buy up 400,000 bales of cotton of the last crop is now definitely confirmed. The syndicate, which has contributed a fund of more than $2,000,000 to finance the pool is headed by Edward R. Thomas, a young New York broker, largely interested in the Consolidated National Bank and the Mechanics' and Traders' Bank. He will be the manager of the cotton underwriting syndicate. With him will co-operate a number of prominent men of finance, among them Joseph H. Hooley, who succeeded to the position vacated by Daniel J. Sully, when failure overtook that famous cotton market operator. It is understood, also, that the Southern Cotton Growers' Association will co-operate with the new syndicate. The object of the pool is said to be not to influence the speculative cotton market, but to help the southern cotton dealers to obtain 13 cents a pound for their unsold cotton. The pool is the largest cotton pool ever formed in this country.

DANISH KING LAID TO REST

Sorrowful Cortège of Royalties and Foreign Representatives.

GERMANY IS RECALCITRANT

Countess Castellane is Moving Promptly in Her Divorce Matter.

WANTS A DECREE IMMEDIATELY

Copenhagen, Feb. 16.—The body of King Christian was removed from Christianborg church here today to the cathedral at Roskilde, where it will be buried Sunday among the tombs of the Danish kings, who for a thousand years have found their last resting place in the ancient capital of the kingdom.

The whole capital is given over to mourning. Business is at a standstill, while emblems of sorrow are displayed everywhere. Shortly before noon, the kings of Denmark, Greece, and Norway, Queen Alexandra, the dowager empress of Russia, other royal relatives, and the representatives of foreign sovereigns reached the Christianborg church where a brief service was held, at the conclusion of which a simple funeral cortège was formed and passed slowly to the railroad station. This is the first time in the history of Denmark that a king was transferred by railroad to the burial place. At the time of the death of Christian's predecessor, Frederick VII, in 1883, the use of a railroad for conveying a king's body was not considered suitably dignified.

GERMANY STILL STANDS AGAINST FRENCH WISHES.

Algiers, Feb. 16.—German delegates to the Moroccan conference say that they are now awaiting the reply of the French to their proposals which contemplate a small commission to have the direction of the Moroccan police.

COUNTRESS ANNA MEANS BUSINESS STRICTLY.

Paris, Feb. 16.—An "urgent" writ was today served on Countess Anna de Castellane, making him the defendant in the separation proceedings instituted by his wife, formerly Anna Gould. This decisive step was taken after renewed efforts to effect a reconciliation had proved fruitless. The count accepted service of the writ. A bill of complaint was filed at the same time. It follows closely the prima facie of the countess showing when she first asked the court's permission to take action against her husband. It is stated with absolute positiveness that the countess is in her intention to secure a decree at the earliest date possible. The count will not contest the granting of a decree.

VICTOR COAL COMPANY ON THE QUI VIVE

CHIEF OFFICIALS OF CORPORATION IN SECRET CONFERENCE AT THE ALVARADO.

The mysterious presence in the city of several officers of the Victor Fuel company, and the mysterious manner in which they have been holding secret consultations with their attorney, H. M. Dougherty, of Socorro, W. H. Hahn, local agent for the company, and Joe E. Sheridan, territorial coal mine inspector, has caused some speculation, if not anxiety, among local users of coal.

In the party are George W. Bowen, president, and W. W. Murray, superintendent, both of Denver, and C. F. Heaton, California manager for the company. Each of them is non-committal as to their mission in New Mexico. They say that it is nothing of importance, but the grave and secret manner in which they have been holding consultations with each other leads to the belief that there is a "hen on" and that the meeting has something to do with the fuel supply of the city. It is known that the party spent yesterday at Madrid, where the company's mines were recently closed down, cutting off to a large extent the source of supply of the Cerrillos yards and yards in other cities of the territory, where Madrid coal was being used.

The closing down of the Madrid mines has put the Victor company in the hole on filling their contracts in New Mexico, as the haul from the Colorado mines to New Mexico is too great for large profits in competition with coal from the Gallup district, but it is not under operation. The opening of the property, however, may be the subject of this gathering, or it may be the opening up of the San Antonio mines, where the Victor company has other coal property that is not in operation.

The strike which is to take effect on April 1, is not likely to be the subject under discussion, as all coal mines of the territory are worked by non-union labor.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY INVADING EUROPE

Marvelous Expansion of Automobile Factories in the United States.

HUNDRED THOUSAND FOR US

While Have Exported Two Million and One Half Dollars' Worth.

New York, Feb. 16.—Some highly interesting figures are contained in the statistics just published concerning the marvelous growth and present state of the automobile industry in the United States. According to the figures the number of automobile manufacturers in the United States reached 70, with an aggregate capital of $2,313,000, and the number of automobiles produced in these factories last year was 29,500, valued at $14,250,000. An industry, which shows a record five years after its establishment, is surely one which is entitled to a leading place among the industries of the country.

It is estimated that the number of automobiles now in service in the United States is more than 100,000, and this figure is increasing with enormous leaps every year. If they were all lined up on a macadamized road between New York City and Buffalo, they would form a line extending their average length at ten feet, more than 183 miles long. If they were placed twenty feet apart, to give them safety and steepest road the line would reach from New York City to Rochester. Piled on end, in a perpendicular line they would attain an altitude 75 times higher than that of Pike's Peak, and there would be enough automobiles towering in the air to bury the great mountain and its supposed heart of gold. The average weight of an automobile is about 2,000 pounds. With this estimate as a basis, the automobiles in use in the United States, would reach the enormous weight of 200,000,000 pounds, a figure which can scarcely be realized by the human intellect.

One of the most magnificent features of the industry is the fact that already the export branch of this American automobile industry has attained a very important position. From figures furnished by the Treasury Department in Washington, machines to the value of $2,269,621 were sent abroad during the first ten months of 1905. Of these the largest portion went to Great Britain, which is the best foreign customer. British North America came next, and France third in line, according to the value of the machines sold. The records show an increase of $792,744 over that of the same ten months in 1904, and $1,057,561 over the exports of 1903 for the corresponding period. During the eleven months ending with November, 1905, the aggregate appraised value of automobiles imported into the United States was $2,800,000, so that the difference between our sales and our purchases abroad is not so very great, after all.

MINING MATTERS AT STANDSTILL

Sub-Committee Begins Arduous Task of Formulating Miners' Demands.

NOTHING DOING THIS WEEK

President Patrick Dolan Declared Deposed by Pittsburgh Miners' Convention.

New York, Feb. 16.—The anthracite miners' sub-committee of seven, appointed at yesterday's conference between the coal operators and the special scale committee of the union, today began the work of formulating the propositions which have already been presented in a general form to the employers. The task is an arduous one, and it will probably be at least a week before the committee will have its report to the miners' union. The sub-committee of seven appointed by the operators, in the meantime, there is likely to be no development in the situation, as the operators will not be able to make any move until they learn specifically what the mine workers will demand.

RESOLUTION DECLARING OFFICE VACANT, PASSED.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 16.—The delegates attending the Pittsburgh miners' convention unanimously adopted a resolution at noon today declaring the office of president and vice president of the Pittsburgh district of miners, vacant. President Dolan presided at today's session and refused to entertain the resolution, but it was passed over his head.

PLEAD INSANITY BUT COULDN'T MAKE GOOD

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Robert Newcomb, colored, was executed in the county jail today. His neck was broken by the fall from the scaffold and death was instantaneous. Newcomb was hanged for the murder of Police Sergeant John P. Shine, but he had killed two other people before shooting the officer.

John Mueller, who had also murdered three persons, was hanged. Just as Newcomb was hanged a message was received from the governor declining to interfere in Mueller's behalf, and preparations were at once made to hang him. His attorneys had made an effort to save him by a stay of execution until he could be examined by an alienist, but failed to get the judge to grant the stay. One judge, while he declined to issue the order for a stay of execution, requested the sheriff to postpone the execution until an examination could be made. This delay was granted, and an expert examined the prisoner in his cell. He declared that he was sane and the execution followed.

MEXICAN MINING DEAL COMPLETED

Big English and American Corporation Buys Famous Silver Mines.

NEAR TO CITY OF MEXICO

Spanish First Worked Them One Hundred Years Ago—Sold For $5,000,000.

New York, Feb. 16.—The details of one of the biggest deals in Mexican mining property ever reported in this country, has just been given out by Frederick W. Baker, the president of the Ventura Corporation, Limited, of London and this city. The company has just purchased the Real del Monte silver mines at Pachuca, Mexico, sixty-two miles east of Mexico City. The property consists of over 6,000 acres, and includes 170 different mines. Mr. Baker says that this is the most important group of mines which has ever come out of the hands of the Mexicans into the control of Americans and Englishmen.

The mines were purchased from the Cuevas family, which has controlled them for generations. The purchase price was $5,000,000, and, in view of the fact that for the last four years the production of silver has been over $4,000,000 a year, in Mexican money, the deal looks like a bargain for the purchasers. The mines were first worked in 1520, when the Spaniards conquered Mexico, and have been operated at intervals ever since. They are among the oldest in Mexico.

The Ventura Corporation, Limited, obtained prominence through floating the Dolores Copper mines, which are, at present, paying large dividends. It has offices in London and in this city.

BIG TRUST FORMED OF CORN PRODUCTS REFINERS.

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 16.—A meeting of the stockholders of the recently incorporated Corn Products Refining company has just taken place for the purpose of voting on a proposition to increase the capitalization of the company from $30,000,000 to the present amount of $80,000,000. The reorganization of the company is practically the formation of a big trust, which will control the Corn Products company, the New York Glucose company, the Warner Glucose company, and also a starch concern.

MCCALL REPORTED BETTER

Depositors to be Paid But Stockholders Lose All They Put In.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Arthur Meeker, general superintendent for Armour & Co., testified in the packers' case today. He declared that Special Agent Durand had given him men instructions to show Meeker all tables of statistics before they were taken from the Armour office. "As far as I know that was faithfully carried out," said the witness. He also declared that Commissioner Garfield had told him that before the report was published he would permit the packers to look over it and see whether anything it contained was injurious to the packers. "He assured us of his good faith," said the witness, "and explained that the Martin resolution called for results and that was all he would publish."

MCCALL'S CONDITION IS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED.

Lakewood, N. J., Feb. 16.—A slight improvement in the condition of John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance company, was reported today.

DEPOSITORS TO BE PAID STOCKHOLDERS LOSE ALL.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Receiver Healy of the Bank of America, whose failure was announced yesterday afternoon, issued notice this afternoon saying the savings accounts will be paid in full on Monday and that the commercial depositors will receive forty per cent of their money within a few days and the balance in a short time thereafter. The receiver declared, after looking over the books today, that while the depositors will be paid in full, the stockholders will lose every cent they have put in the bank. The cause of the failure is said to have been judicious loans.

NAVY POWDER FACTORY CLOSED AT NEWPORT.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 16.—The navy powder factory located in this vicinity will shortly be closed indefinitely. It is a rather small plant, of no great producing capacity, and the other sources of supply, governmental and by contract, are considered as sufficient for meeting the needs of the navy in this respect. Besides, the cost of production of the small amount of gun powder made at the Newport plant is greater than it should be, according to the recent calculations made by the Board of Ordnance. The machinery will be kept in good condition, so as to be ready for use at any future time, should it be necessary to have an additional source of supply.

GEN. WOOD WHO WILL COMMAND IN CHINA

If the "yellow peril" should make it necessary to send troops into China, the invading army from the United States would be commanded by Gen.
Leonard Wood, the dashing commander of the army in the Philippines.
Gen. Wood is not a West Point graduate. His military training was acquired through fighting Indians on western plains and in the American invasion of Cuba. He was educated as a physician and entered the army in 1886 as a contract surgeon.
In the battles with the Apaches he performed distinguished services and was promoted to be captain and assistant surgeon.
During the Geronimo campaign he acquitted himself so favorably that he was commended and awarded a medal for bravery. After the Indian uprising he practiced medicine in Arizona

THE BICYCLE A BABY SWALLOWED

TOWN OF BELEN GROWING RAPIDLY

AN ENTHUSIASTIC CORRESPOND-ENT WRITES HIS OBSERVA-TIONS IN SMALL PARAGRAPHS.

Special Correspondence.
Belen, N. M., Feb. 15.—There is no doubt but what the construction of the Belen depot, Harvey eating house, new fifty-two stall round house, machine and boiler shops, will begin in a short time, as there are now forty cars of cement waiting on the siding for that purpose. The company has already graded its extensive grounds for the commencement of the work.
Fifty men are now at work fixing switches. There will be fifteen side-tracks built at once.
Owing to the vast amount of work on this new route, the company grew short of engines, and therefore, sent for an additional supply to help out the work.
Several rock crushers will arrive in Belen in a few days, to go out to the canyon. The rock crushed will be used to ballast the track.
Dr. W. Radcliffe will build a new hospital in a few weeks. It will be an immense building, which will occupy from five to seven acres.
The Belen meat market will build a new meat market three miles south of Belen.
Belen stores are doing a good business of late. The Mercantile company is selling goods at 10 per cent below cost. It will also have a fire sale in the near future.
Carl Becker, who is attending school at Albuquerque, visited his parents here last Saturday and Sunday.

Don't Deceive Yourself.
Don't deceive yourself. If you have indigestion take Kodol Dyspepsia
Cure. It will relieve you. Rev. W. E.
Houtt, South Mills, N. C., says: "I was troubled with indigestion for several years; whatever I ate seemed to cause heartburn, sour stomach, fluttering of my heart, and general depression of mind and body. My drug gist recommended Kodol, and it has relieved me. I can now eat anything and sleep soundly at night." Kodol digests what you eat, makes the stomach sweet, palatable, strengthening and affords quick relief. Sold by all druggists.

ADDING NEW AND INTERESTING RELICS

TO THE COLLECTION OF THE
NEW MEXICO HISTORICAL SO-CIETY AT CAPITAL CITY.

The New Mexico Historical society has just obtained a curious copper cross, of Indian manufacture, about three inches long by two inches across which was dug up in a field at the Pueblo of Pojoaque.
Among the documents recently obtained from the papers of the late Governor Donaciano Vigil, that were left with his son in San Miguel canton, is a manuscript proclamation dated
July 26, 1815, on a sheet 24 3/4 by 6
1/2 inches, with the stamps of 1814 and 1815, made by Don Bernardo Bon-avia y Zapata, whose official titles occupy five long lines, governor of the eastern island provinces of New Spain, warning the people against the Mexican revolution then in progress and calling upon them to bear true al-ligiance to King Ferdinand VII. It especially denounces the Licentados,
Jose Maria Sotero and Jose Maria Ponce de Leon, who had signed the new constitution as delegates from Durango. This will be placed in the case of documents in the Historical rooms.
President Prince also has just obtained from the east an excellent engraving of General Kearney, for the set of portraits of governors, in the main exhibition room. This is a medallion, engraved by T. B. Welch, from a daguerotype for Graham's Magazine more than fifty years ago.

LINCOLN AND FLAG DAY IN CITY SCHOOLS

Superintendent Clark Submits a Communication on Way Observed.

EXERCISES WERE INTERESTING

To The Evening Citizen.
In view of the comments that have been made by those who were not at all informed concerning the observance of Lincoln's birthday, and of Flag day in our public schools, it may be well to present a brief statement of what was done last Monday throughout the grades in the Central building and the ward buildings.

Central School.
Patriotic songs.
Meaning of the flag.
Comments on life of Lincoln.
Lessons of industry, honesty and kindness.
Exhibition of papers printed during Lincoln's time.

First Ward School.
Pupils from all grades participated in the following program:
The Star Spangled Banner.
Roll Call—(Responded by quotations).

Lincoln's Boyhood.
Our Nation's Colors.
Our Flag.
Flag Exercises.
I Ought to Love My Country.
Barbara Freitchie.
The Flag that Betsy Made.
Lincoln, the President.
Lincoln, Class Exercises.
A Patriotic School.

The Three Little Sisters (Red, White and Blue).
My Country's Flag.
Weathers for Lincoln.
America.
Flag was draped around the bust of Lincoln in the room where the exercises were held.

Second Ward School.
Taught the Flag Salute.
"We give our hearts, our hearts, and our hands to one country, one language, one flag."

Story of the Flag.
Talk on Lincoln.
Essay on Lincoln.
Flag was at full mast all day in spite of the bad weather.

Third Ward School.
Lincoln the basis of language work in the grades.
Story of the Flag.
Points from Lincoln's life.
Anecdotes concerning Lincoln.
Talks on Flag Day.

Fourth Ward School.
Lincoln exercises in every room.
Talks on Flag Day.
Meaning of the Flag.
Lincoln's life.
Lessons from Lincoln.

More than usual time was given to special exercises.
One ward principal sent a special invitation to the ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, but on account of the weather none could attend.

A list of days on which the flag shall be placed either at half mast or at full mast has been in the hands of the principals the entire year, but it is not expected that the flag shall be placed over the schools if the weather is such that the principal thinks it unwise. Some principals thought it unwise to order the flag raised on Monday. If the flag was on the staff, it was serving the purpose of decoration elsewhere.

No further comment is necessary. In the foregoing, there are many good texts for as many good "sermons."

If anyone had suspected the public schools of forgetting Lincoln Day or Flag Day, he might have satisfied his curiosity without inquiry by simply stepping into any of the school buildings and noting the decorations appropriate to such days.

Respectfully,
Superintendent City Schools.

MODJESKA'S ELEVATING ART

Mme. Helena Modjeska's farewell appearance in this city at the Elks' opera house, Saturday, February 24, being as it will, the last time we will be privileged to enjoy an art as rare as any that the modern stage has known. In an occasion which is commanding the attention of every element of the community, those who attend the theater but seldom taking as much as great interest in it as are regular patrons of the play. The reason is not far to seek. Such art as Modjeska's, which, though, certainly, is on a far higher plane than the acting that is done for mere amusement. It appeals to the intellect, touches the highest sensibilities, stimulates ambition, clarifies pride, embodies self-reliance, raises the soul above the sordid and gives a clearer view of life than any other theater. Being the antithesis of the many low forms of farce, musical comedy, hodge podge burlesque and other coarse performances which have caused many self-respecting citizens to shun the theater, it affords a much desired opportunity for diversion that carries with it mental and moral stimulus. What makes this occasion of paramount importance to this part of our public is that it will be the last time Modjeska ever will act in this city. Little wonder, then, that they have determined to make the performance a testimonial, at once to show their appreciation of a great actress and a good woman, and to express sorrow that her retirement from public life—well earned by her as a long rest has been—will take from them the occasional chance to enjoy art that satisfied their natures. Many "farewells" are of the nature of a sentimental farce. It is not this that Modjeska's will be permanent.

Seats are on sale at Matson's Monday, February 19, at 8 o'clock, for subscribers only. Sale opens to the public Wednesday, February 21.

Subscription to Modjeska closes on Saturday night, February 17.

A Healing Gospel.
The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharen Baptist Church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a God-send to mankind. It cured me of a lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. It's made a new man of me. Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at all druggists. Price 50c."

J. Frank Werner, of the United States geological survey, and his assistants, F. W. Williamson and Edward P. Blanchard, who were at Bernalillo, have returned to Santa Fe. They were at Bernalillo examining surveys of land grants made by United States deputy surveyors.

ADDITIONAL NEWSTAKEN AT LARGE

Colonist Rates for the West Already Have Been Put on.

SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 16.—In accordance with the decision of the Transcontinental Passenger Association, at its meeting last fall, the colonists' rates to the Pacific coast went into effect, yesterday. This if fifteen days earlier than usual, the opening date for the last few years having been March 1st.

The establishment of the colonists' rates by the transcontinental railroads has resulted in heavy movements to the Pacific coast. Whether the earlier date will result in an increase of business remains to be seen. It is said that the earlier date was selected at the request of the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern, the Burlington and the Union Pacific lines, while the Santa Fe line was opposed to a change of date. It was maintained by the northern roads that the earlier date would give settlers a chance to get on the ground early enough to cultivate their land in the spring in time to get some yield from it that season. The fact that the settlers will be able to do this, and thus save practically a whole year, may cause many prospective colonists to go west.

SALE OF TRACTION LINES.
Columbus, O., Feb. 16.—Under orders of the United States Court, the Appoyard traction lines will be sold this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon at various points in this state. The Dayton, Springfield & Urbana will be sold at Springfield, the Bellefontaine, Urbana & Northern at Urbana, the Columbus, London & Springfield at Vienna station, the Columbus, Grove City & Southwestern and the Central Market Street railway, at the court house in this city.

COSTLY CLUB HOUSE SOLD.
Asbury Park, N. J., Feb. 16.—Sheriff Francis will, this afternoon, sell to the highest bidder the $200,000 Allenhurst Clubhouse. The sale was made by the court as the result of the suit of Charles Francis Ballard, trustee for the mortgage bondholders. The clubhouse was built, four years ago, on the site of the Allenhurst Inn, previously destroyed by fire. The club proposition proved a failure. Efforts were made to change the stock into hotel company shares, but the plans were not carried out. Besides the real property, all personal property of the club will be sold, including the furnishings, valued at $60,000. It is believed that a syndicate of hotel men intends to bid in the property and conduct the clubhouse as a hotel.

KENTUCKY BAR ASSOCIATION.
Louisville, Ky., Feb. 16.—The Louisville Bar Association will hold its annual banquet at the Gault House, this evening. Invitations have been sent out to a number of distinguished Kentucky lawyers in this and other states, and it is expected that there will be an unusually large attendance. Judge Gordon will be one of the principal speakers of the evening. He will speak on the new method of settling cases for trial.

BRILLIANT MILITARY BALL.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 16.—The Forty-second Squadron Company will hold its big annual ball at the armory this evening, and it promises to be an unusually brilliant affair, as Governor Higgins and his entire staff will attend the ball in full uniform.

DRUMMER DRUMS HIS DRUM.
Columbus, Ga., Feb. 16.—There is a strong agitation among the traveling men in this state in favor of the bill, which the president of the Commercial Travelers Protective Association has requested Representative McMichael to introduce and push through the legislature. The bill provides that a hotelkeeper shall not assign his guest to any room in which the bed linen has not been changed since it was last occupied. Traveling men in all parts of the state are carrying on a vigorous campaign in favor of the bill and an effort will be made to exert sufficient pressure upon the legislators to induce them to pass the proposed law.

J. Frank Werner, of the United States geological survey, and his assistants, F. W. Williamson and Edward P. Blanchard, who were at Bernalillo, have returned to Santa Fe. They were at Bernalillo examining surveys of land grants made by United States deputy surveyors.

C. T. Brown, well known Socorro mining engineer and expert, who has for the past four weeks been in Sonora and Chihuahua, Mexico, examining mining properties for eastern capitalists and who, during the past few days did similar work in southern Arizona, has returned to his home at Socorro.

LAS VEGAS PROUD OF MIDSHIPMAN GLASSFORD.

Las Vegas is proud of the record made by Midshipman Wayne Glassford of this city, says the Optic, Saturday reference was made to his leading the graduating German at Army hall at Annapolis. The statistics of the class have been made up and Mr. Glassford makes a splendid showing. An even hundred received their diplomas from Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, today, and Mr. Glassford ranks among the first twenty-five. The young man will reach home soon to visit his mother, Mrs. S. B. Davis, before embarking on a year's cruise.

The Ready Letter Writer.
A letter from a plumber to a customer, explaining some points about a bill:

Benevolent Sir:
Your letter of yesterday complaining about my bill of $145 for placing a new valve in your bath room faucet, pains me more than my feeble pen can tell. I have never had a difference with one of the many customers whom I have served in the past 18 years, and in my business transactions with you I have come to regard you as a man of liberal views, a man of the live and let live policy, so my pen is the deeper when you write me charging you an exorbitant price. Were you a picaune, a man who would haggle over every penny, because your niggard soul forced you to, I would dismiss your letter with a smile, but as I have a high regard for you, I will endeavor to explain.

You telephoned me Monday morning that the faucet was leaking, and I at once sent a workman to the association, of which I am a member, not from choice but from necessity, I could not send him in a wagon or in a car, so he walked. It took him five hours to reach your house to examine the faucet. Finding what was necessary to be done, which consumed two hours, for which I am forced by the association to pay at the rate of $5 an hour, he returned to the shop for another five-hour trip. Yesterday, says the New Mexican, he went at once to the office of Dr. J. M. Diaz, where he was given prompt medical attention. Officers shot the dog while Mr. Muller was at the dog's office. When Dr. Diaz heard that the dog had been trading in Santa Fe, he offered a piece of advice, which it would be well for all to remember: "It is all right to kill the dogs," he said, "but they should be shot before being allowed to bite persons. If a dog bites a person that animal should be tied up, well fed and kindly treated for several days, until it can be determined if he is suffering from the rabies. Then the animal should be killed. Often a doctor is forced to treat a person suffering from a dog bite without knowing the condition of the animal. If the dog shows indications of rabies, then the person bitten should be given treatment accordingly."

Sheep Man is an Embezzler from Texas.
A sensation was caused at Roswell by the arrest of John W. Harrison, a well known sheep man, on the charge of embezzling $1,500 in Robinson county, Texas. Harrison bore a good reputation at Roswell, and had been a resident of the Pease valley for five years. He admitted his guilt, and accompanied Sheriff Roswell to Robinson county without requisition papers.

WOULDN'T IT MAKE YOU SICK--

After you had plunged in to the very jaws of death--

And had slain the raging beast in hand-to-hand conflict--

And had bravely faced worse than the pestilence that walketh in darkness--

If suddenly you found yourself ordered from pillar to post by a flock of feminine persons? WELL!

ALL BITING DOGS SHOULD BE SHOT.

Edward Muller, a well known farmer at Tesuque, was severely bitten by a cur dog while trading in Santa Fe, yesterday, says the New Mexican. He went at once to the office of Dr. J. M. Diaz, where he was given prompt medical attention. Officers shot the dog while Mr. Muller was at the dog's office. When Dr. Diaz heard that the dog had been trading in Santa Fe, he offered a piece of advice, which it would be well for all to remember: "It is all right to kill the dogs," he said, "but they should be shot before being allowed to bite persons. SECRETARY OF EAGLE LODGE AN EMBEZZLER.

Charged with embezzling funds of the Tucson Eagle Lodge, the Secretary of the lodge, Joseph Severance, formerly city book-keeper for A. Steinfeld & company, is now in Cananea, a fugitive from justice, says the Tucson Citizen.

"He was seized by police," is the charitable explanation which is offered for Severance's misdeeds. It is not known whether he will be brought back from Cananea or not.

Tae Eagles decline to state just what the shortage is. It is known to be about $300 so far, but it is feared that the amount may be much larger. A committee is at present making an investigation.

Mrs. Severance, who was cruelly deserted, is nearly prostrated with grief.

Severance was in Bisbee three days last week. He claimed to be the representative of a big Cananea company. He was shabbily dressed, wearing khaki pants, an old coat and a frayed hat. He was thought by Bisbee people to be demented, owing to his peculiar actions. Severance was secretary of the Eagles.

Eat What You Like

Don't Starve or Diet, but Use Mi-o-na, and Cure Your Stomach Troubles.

The average treatment of stomach troubles consists of a rigid diet, which often half starves the patient. Of course it would be foolish for anyone who knows that some foods are positively harmful and poisonous, to continue eating them, even while following the Mi-o-na treatment, but in ordinary cases of stomach troubles it is not necessary to starve or diet if Mi-o-na is faithfully used, a tablet before each meal.

The scientific remedy for the cure of stomach troubles, acts upon the whole digestive system, and strengthens the organs so that they are able to digest any food that is eaten, without fear of distress.

J. H. O'Reilly & Co., have so much confidence in the power of Mi-o-na to cure stomach troubles and resulting ills, that they give a guarantee with every fifty-cent box to refund the money unless it cures.

Trust Companies

The following facts The Citizen has been able to gather concerning trust company banks. They are published with the hope that they may be of interest to the readers of this paper:

New York trust companies now have over $1,000,000,000 of deposits and are constantly reaching out after more. In search for new business other than mail accounts the really pushful trust companies do not stop when they have covered their own immediate territories. They go anywhere and everywhere for business. Some of them have specialized their activities so as to get hold of a lion's share of business in particular lines. The Mississippi Valley Trust Co., of St. Louis, for instance, takes a leading part in financing new telephone lines, and has not only built up its own business in this way, but has contributed largely to the development of means of communication, especially in the middle west.

The Mutual Alliance of New York has made itself an important factor in financing the cotton crop. Another company, the Eastern, makes a specialty of handling the finances of naval officers. The Home Trust Co., of Brooklyn, caters to Scandinavian customers, issues banking information and other literature in the Scandinavian languages and provides facilities especially adapted for handling the local and foreign business of its Swedish, Norwegian and Danish customers.

This same Brooklyn institution has organized an investment bureau which accepts any amount over $100, combines these small investments into high class mortgages, and divides up the return, less one-half per cent. commission. This nets each investor four and one-half per cent. or more, which is better than the savings bank can do. Millions have been drawn from savings banks to trust companies in this and other ways in which the concerns with the broader range of activity offers customers the best service.

Trust company advertising is another great factor in the expansion of these institutions. They invade the newspapers and street cars with aggressive announcements which completely overshadow the modest ads. of the more conservative banks. "Make Your Will—It Costs Nothing If We are Named as Executor"—is a sample of this kind of advertising.

The highest paid experts are engaged by the trust companies to prepare elaborate advertising booklets, costing as much as 25 cents each, and setting forth in the most convincing manner the many ways in which the Blank Trust Co. can serve you. It is the safest executor and guardian. It will invest your money, pay your taxes and gas bills, and collect your checks for almost nothing. It has a ladies' parlor, with a maid in attendance, a reference library—in short, "every modern convenience."

If you wish, the up-to-date trust company will send a polite young man to your office every day to get your deposit, thus saving you a trip to the bank. The simple slot bank in which the depositor was supposed to accumulate money for ultimate deposit in the trust company has been superseded by elaborate bronze affairs, with a clock in the front. Any depositor can get one of these home banks by opening an account of $1. Needle books were lately distributed all over the East Side by a New York company which had started out to work up business in this section of New York.

In competition with such methods, the old style banker is in much the same fix that the old style merchant was in when confronted by the department store. The small merchant has not disappeared, and neither will the banker, but in New York, and probably elsewhere, it is realized that the banks must wake up and extend their field of operations if they are to keep up with the trust companies.

Cloud in the East

Clearly, China is looking for trouble, and if her present tactics are kept up she will surely find it. The boycott of American goods is only a part of her exhibition of ill will directed against all foreigners. The old "Boxer" spirit seems not to have been quite effectively whipped out of her. Even over in Japan, which nation occupies much the same protective attitude toward China that the United States occupies toward Latin America, the resident Chinese insult westerners with impunity. The disorder which the Chinese students have been causing in Tokyo, is only one phase of a dangerous spirit of self-assertiveness which the young Chinese everywhere are displaying. The Chinese seem to feel that it would be a good thing to drive out all foreigners from their country. The demonstrations of enmity are rapidly spreading and increasing in violence.

Though the imperial government protests to the world that everything possible is being done to allay and check the feeling, the truth has become known that the viceroys, almost without exception, are doing all they can to stimulate it. Meanwhile, the Chinese army is being rapidly reorganized and increased, not along lines to make it effective in suppressing disorders at home, but along those which fit it to encounter European military methods. Resentment of American exclusion of Chinese, so much talked about and made to figure so largely in China's motive, is really only a small incident. It is against foreigners in general that China has her imagined grievance.

Many of the clearest-sighted statesmen in the world predict that a conflict between the combined east and the combined west, is sooner or later, bound to come. Where the present Chinese question may end no man can say. But that it must be settled somehow and for all, and soon, none can doubt. If a great conflict comes, the United States, by reason of our large interests in the far east, as well as of our location, will necessarily be in the thick of the fight, and our Pacific coast will be the chief naval base of the western world.

Will Be Too Big

The Citizen has received a copy of an article from the New York Times, in which a correspondent of that paper contrasts the size of the proposed state of Arizona—235,600 square miles—with the fact that Rhode Island, Delaware, Connecticut, New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont—the seven combined—equal only 42,296 square miles, or less than one-fifth of the proposed state.

Again he shows that the proposed state is 188 times as large as Rhode Island, 115 times as large as Delaware, 47 times as large as Connecticut, 30 times as large as New Jersey, 25 times as large as Massachusetts, 25 times as large as either New Hampshire or Vermont, and almost 5 times as large as New York. As to population, he says that New Mexico has 325,000 inhabitants; Arizona, 175,000. These figures compare with those of some of the states of the union as follows: Nevada, 65,000; Wyoming, 101,846; Delaware, 188,000; Idaho, 250,000; Montana, 265,000; Utah, 300,000. Is it not absurd, he asks, in the light of all these facts, to say that Arizona and New Mexico are not fitted to enter the union as separate states? At all events, even if Arizona should be told to hide her time and remain a while as a territory, should not New Mexico be permitted to come in by herself? He also argues that as there was a clause in the Texas admission act, allowing that state, if it subsequently desired, to divide into five states, so the state of Arizona should enter into the union with an easy bill of divorce already prepared for it.

Several of the express companies doing business in Texas have decided upon litigation to determine the constitutionality of the recent law providing a tax of two per cent upon the business done in Texas. The American and the Wells Fargo companies tendered $18,000 each in payment, but this was refused, the state officials claiming $40,000 from each company under the law. Next to Standard Oil and the packers' combine, the express companies are the greatest leeches feeding on the people of this country.

Word of Warning

By Ex-Secretary

Stanch Republican.

WM. E. CHANDLER.

created by legislation and established through appointments coming from the president and confirmed by the senate, to provide for reducing an extortionate railroad rate to a reasonable rate and making it unlawful to charge more than that rate. The only objectionable words in the bill are those requiring a rate fixed by the commission to be not only just and reasonable, but also "fairly remunerative."

The commission should for the present decide what is just and reasonable, uninstructed by congress. The only object of the railroads in now trying to introduce qualifying words into the act is to lay the foundation for prolonged litigation which will make the decisions of the commission unavailing. Here is the whole future contest at this session of congress. The railroads are working to substitute a court for the commission in the fixing of a remedial rate. A conclusive answer to their demand is that, while a commission can lawfully make such a rate, a court cannot lawfully do such an unduly work. This inability of the court to make a rate is the very reason why the railroads try to put such a provision in the bill. It is now the only railroad hope, to be accomplished by the subtle efforts of some of the new converts to rate legislation—not yet wholly free and fearless men. The Esch-Townsend-Hepburn bill amply that a court may suspend or set aside an order of the commission. But it gives the courts no power which they do not now possess. If the court has power to declare a rate unlawful because confiscatory, this bill does not undertake to destroy the power. On the other hand, the friends of the bill should resist to the utmost any attempt to amend by inserting power in the courts to suspend or set aside a rate upon some specious principle, to be inserted in the bill, upon the strength of which assertion some one subservient judge may be found somewhere who will suspend every order of the commission which the railroads choose to resist. When a long lawsuit begins over a suspended rate the shippers' hope will be gone. A bill which allows it will be worthless. On this point the pending legislative contest will go forward to victory for the people or the railroads. Which?

The democratic party, under the lead of Mr. Bryan, is acting wisely and patriotically, not to make party capital, but to get upon the statute books a law beneficial to the people. It acted in like manner when it stood solidly for the war with Spain and forced the money-power-republican leaders in congress to yield to the demands of humanity for enslaved Cuba. So now its solid front for the Esch-Townsend-Hepburn bill will make the law stand as a rare monument to the patriotism and fidelity to popular interests of the democracy of the present day. The republican party will do well to pay heed to the present unmistakable symptoms of popular discontent. If the pending bill, unopposed by deadly amendments, does not become a law at this session, the 100 republican majority in the present house will be turned into 100 opposition majority in November next; and neither insurance, bank and railroad contributions, nor even another Roosevelt will save the party in 1908, but Wm. J. Bryan will be the next president of the United States.

Teaching Farmers

While They Wait

From Railway World.

Valuable aid will be rendered to the farmers of the central west by certain of the railroads of that territory which have planned special trains for the purpose of giving a "good seed" lecture course under the charge of experts from the agricultural colleges. The Burlington and the Kansas City Southern were prominent in this class of service last year, and this year the Illinois Central, the St. Paul, the Burlington, and the Canadian Pacific have made plans for a similar campaign of education.

It is expected that the Illinois Central's special train of six cars, to cover a distance of 2,000 miles in twelve days in the latter part of February, will cost that road $12,000, for which no immediate return can be looked for. The train will stop at 126 cities, towns, villages and crossroads stations. Each stop will be of forty minutes' duration, during which there will be a lecture on seed and soil. The tour will be in charge of Professor Hopkins, of University of Illinois, assisted by professors from agricultural schools. Representatives of the Illinois Central will accompany the train and will tell of the results in the way of increased shipments that have come from improved methods of farming. The professors, about eight in number, as well as the railroad representatives and members of the press, will eat and sleep on the train.

The train is scheduled to leave Chicago early Tuesday morning, February 20, and will be in commission by the end of the month, and for those to be given at night halls, where available, will be used. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul started its special for the wheat fields of Minnesota, Iowa and the Dakotas the past week. The train will visit many towns on the system and will carry lecturers from the agricultural colleges of the states visited. The trip will take ten days, and lectures of forty-five minutes' duration are planned. The meetings have been well advertised among the farmers.

W. H. Mansie, industrial commissioner of the Burlington, announces that that company will run a special train over a distance of 2,000 miles, making 123 stops for lectures under the direction of Professor Hopkins. Two years ago the Burlington ran a similar train through Iowa, and the corn crop of that state has increased twenty per cent.

The western wheat territory covered by the Canadian Pacific is now being visited by a "seed grain special" provided by that company, carrying a dozen experts to impress upon the farmers the importance of clean grain, to describe the various noxious weeds, and to give instructions how to get rid of them. At each place a stop of one hour is made for a lecture. Farmers are invited not only to hear the lectures, but to bring specimens or seeds of troublesome weeds in order that these enemies may be identified and the farmers instructed how to overcome their depredations.

RECEPTION WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Most Brilliant Event Ever Held in Rooms of Albuquerque Commercial Club.

GOVERNOR MADE HIMSELF AT HOME

With myriads of colored incandescent lights strung throughout the rooms, with the stars and stripes effectively draped in every nook and cranny; with the rooms well filled by Albuquerque's most beautiful women and representative citizens, all in formal attire, and with the guests of honor in an exceptionally happy mood, the reception tendered Herbert J. Hagerman, chief executive of the territory of New Mexico, by the Albuquerque Commercial club last evening was one of the most brilliant and successful social functions held in this city in recent years.

Shortly before 9 o'clock the guests began to arrive and soon the spacious club rooms were comfortably filled. At 9:30 o'clock, the governor arrived and made his way to the room, in which he met and was introduced to those present. Beneath a cross of flags, formed of "Old Glory" and the colors of Company G, National Guards of New Mexico, the governor took his stand, with the receiving line, composed of Mrs. W. S. Hopewell, Col. Hopewell, George W. Prichard, attorney general of the territory; Mrs. M. W. Flournoy, J. C. Baldrige, Miss Baldrige, C. E. Newcomer, Mrs. W. S. Strickler, W. S. Strickler, Mrs. Wallace Hesselton, Wallace Hesselton and Adjutant General Tarkington. In the order named, on the left of the governor, with Maynard Gunsul and O. N. Marron on the governor's right, Mr. Marron introducing the guests to the governor as they passed in line before him.

In spite of the formal nature of the affair there was an appreciable lack of stiffness about the presentations, and each guest received a hearty handshake and a pleasant smiling word from the governor. In about an hour's time the entire assemblage had paid their respects to the governor and the dancing was begun. The governor mingled freely with the guests, dancing several times and stopping here and there to chat with different groups of those present, making himself so entirely at home as to win the everlasting friendship of those having the affair in charge. Shortly before midnight light refreshments were served, after which the dancing was continued, the reception not breaking up until 3 o'clock this morning. A number of out-of-town guests were present at the reception, among them being several of the bankers who are here for the bankers' convention, and a number of Santa Fe citizens.

Today the governor arose early, in spite of the strenuous day and night he had experienced and met several of the local politicians for a conference on political matters pertaining to the appointment of a probate clerk.

At noon today the governor lunched with Judge Ira A. Abbott, as that gentleman's guest, and spent the afternoon in meeting and chatting with friends and acquaintances. Tonight the governor will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given at the Alvarado hotel by the bankers. Governor Hagerman will return to Santa Fe tomorrow.

EXECUTIVE INFORMATION OF OFFICIAL CHARACTER

Governor Hagerman's Action in Conley's Hanging Case—Attorney of Conley Believes in the Insanity of His Client.

NAME PROBATE CLERK PROBABLY TOMORROW

If John Conley is alive tonight when the sun sets, he will have The Evening Citizen to thank for such a continuance of his earthly existence.

Late yesterday afternoon this paper received a telegram from Taos, via Embudo and Santa Fe, to the effect that John Conley, the condemned murderer, who was to have been hanged today, was violently insane.

The message was immediately rushed over to the Alvarado hotel, and shown to Governor Hagerman.

At first, the governor stated that he would take no cognizance of the news, inasmuch as it was not official, but after deliberating upon it for awhile, and wanting to give the condemned murderer every chance that he should be entitled to for his life, he decided to grant a reprieve of one week, full particulars of which was contained in yesterday's issue of The Evening Citizen.

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the governor wired to the sheriff at Taos, via Embudo, that a reprieve had been granted. As there is no telegraphic communication between those two towns, a messenger on horseback was dispatched from Embudo to Taos with the official message, leaving Embudo last night at 7:30 o'clock, and not intercepted and held up by friends of the murdered man, he should have arrived at Taos this morning between the hours of 1 and 2 o'clock.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Fornoff, acting as the governor's messenger, left this city last night for Santa Fe, bearing the official notice of the reprieve, with instructions to deliver it to the sheriff at Taos as fast as possible and to investigate into the man's alleged insanity.

There is much speculation as to whether the messenger that left Embudo for Taos, with the official telegram, will be in time to delay the execution, as it has been freely hinted that in the event of a reprieve being granted at the last hour, friends of James Redding would see to it that the messenger would not reach the sheriff of Taos county in time to save the life of the condemned man.

The delay last night in reaching Embudo, after Espanola and Tres Piedras had been tried and no one secured to convey the official reprieve telegram across the mountainous and sandy country to Taos, gave rise to the report that the messenger had been held up by not only the friends of James Redding, murdered, but also by the friends of Charles Purdy, who was killed at the same time. However, a later telegram, as announced above, was received, stating that the messenger was secured at Espanola, and left that station at 7:30 o'clock last night for Taos.

EXECUTION DID NOT TAKE PLACE

Governor Hagerman, who is not in Santa Fe, but in Albuquerque, regardless of the sensational Conley story wired to the Associated Press today from Santa Fe, late this afternoon received a telegram from Embudo that the messenger, who left that station last night, reached Taos at 2 o'clock this morning, and a few minutes later had handed to Sheriff Lucero the governor's telegram granting Conley a reprieve for one week, so he could investigate into the report of Conley's alleged insanity.

Fred Fornoff, deputy United States marshal, who left this city last night for Taos, to investigate into the sanity of Conley, has also reached Taos, but the Embudo messenger got there several hours before, and it was after that, not Mr. Fornoff, who reached Sheriff Lucero in time to stay the hanging for at least one week, although Mr. Fornoff, from all reports, tried hard to get to Taos first with the reprieve news.

Some one at Santa Fe has been imposing on the Associated Press all day today, for if the agent for the big news gathering corporation at Denver wanted correct information on the time of reprieve, all he had to do was to have read the news under Al-

COLONEL GREER HAS GUBERNATORIAL BEE

According to the San Diego Union, a marked copy of what was received at this office, Colonel W. H. Greer, president of the Albuquerque Traction company, who at present is journeying in California, with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. S. T. A. Loftis, of Chicago, is out for the governorship of the proposed combined state of New Mexico and Arizona. This will be news to the many friends of Colonel Greer in this city, as they had no idea that he had the "gubernatorial bee" in his bonnet when he left here for California. Colonel Greer is expected home in the next few days, although Mrs. Greer will remain the longer, touring California with Mr. and Mrs. Loftis. Mrs. Greer and Mrs. Loftis were school girls together at the Marlboro seminary in Los Angeles.

ELKS WILL ENTERTAIN THE NEW GOVERNOR

AT SANTA FE, FEBRUARY 20, TO WHICH THE LADIES WILL BE INVITED.

The Santa Fe lodge of Elks is preparing to entertain Governor Herbert J. Hagerman at their lodge rooms in that city, February 20, at which time each member will escort a lady, and several prominent citizens, who are not Elks, will be invited. After the governor had accepted the invitation, he was consulted as to what date would best suit him, and finally fixed on Tuesday evening, February 20. It is said that a delegation of Albuquerque Elks will attend the Santa Fe entertainment.

LAS VEGAS NEXT MEETING PLACE

So Decided Bankers' Convention at This Morning's Session.

PROGRAM OF TONIGHT'S BANQUET

The session of the New Mexico Bankers' association passed off in perfect harmony, barring one incident, that referring to membership of bankers outside of the territory.

The constitution as read, permitted all bankers who are non-residents of the territory, "non de plume" members, that is, the right to participate in all meetings of the association, but without the privilege of a vote.

Mr. Hoskins, of Las Vegas, moved as an amendment that the bankers of the towns of Trinidad, Colo., El Paso, and Amarillo, Texas, be allowed to become members, with the same privileges as members representing New Mexico banks, for the reason that banks in those towns were in close touch with the business interests of the territory as were the New Mexico institutions, and it seemed to be only fair to the bankers of those towns to grant them the same privilege that was granted to the bankers of this territory.

The vote on the amendment showed 8 for and 13 against, hence it was lost, and the organization was made exclusively New Mexican.

Organization Christened.

Until O. N. Marron, of this city, offered the motion naming the association the New Mexico Bankers' association, its name was the Bankers' Association of New Mexico. The vote was unanimous for the motion.

Executive Committee Named.

The convention named the following gentlemen as members of the executive committee:

Three Year Term—Cashier E. A. Cahoon, of the First National bank of Roswell; W. D. Murray, of the Silver City National bank; and W. S. Strickler, vice president and cashier of the Bank of Commerce, of Albuquerque.

Two Year Term—D. T. Hoskins, of the San Miguel National bank, of Las Vegas; Nathan Jaffa, of the Citizens' National bank, of Roswell, and Frank McKee, cashier of the First National bank, of Albuquerque.

One Year Term—L. H. Brown, of the Bank of Commerce, of Albuquerque; Joseph Price, of Price Bros., Socorro, and H. B. Jones, of the First National bank, of Santa Rosa.

Governor Did Not Speak.

The program called for an address this morning by Governor Hagerman, New Mexico's chief executive was not present, however, and according to T. M. Wingo, of El Paso, who broke fast with the governor this morning, there were few chances of his putting in an appearance, for Governor Hagerman informed Mr. Wingo that he had not been invited to address the bankers, and did not know that he was expected to do so until that moment.

This Morning's Session.

At 10:15 o'clock this morning President Blackwell called the convention to order, and called upon Rabbi J. H. Kaplan for prayer. After the divine blessings had been invoked, a discussion ensued on practical banking questions.

Taxation of Banks.

O. N. Marron devoted about five minutes to a talk on the topic of "Taxation of Banks." He said that at present all banks were taxed for 60 per cent of their par value, which was out of all proportion to the taxation of any other property in the country. Mr. Marron said, property other than banks, was taxed at about 33 per cent of its par value, while in most communities in the territory, it was only about 15 per cent. This, he thought, was unjust discrimination, and should be remedied. Mr. Marron suggested that the association make a uniform return as to the par value of its banks, say, at 33 per cent, and if the assessors enlarged upon these figures, as unquestionably they would, to say, 60 per cent, to resist the same, appeal to the county board of equalization, and then to the territorial board of equalization, in order to get the matter properly before the courts. R. J. Palen thought there was a territorial law relative to this matter, and that the territorial board had no right to have a say as to how much banks should be taxed. Mr. Palen did not approve of the plan to fix a uniform rate, for, as he explained, that although two banks in one place might be capitalized for the same amount, the shares of one might be many times higher in value than the other. A general discussion then ensued, the result being that the territorial board returns as to the par value of its banks, say, at 33 per cent, and if the assessors enlarged upon these figures, as unquestionably they would, to say, 60 per cent, to resist the same, appeal to the county board of equalization, and then to the territorial board of equalization, in order to get the matter properly before the courts. The Next Meeting Place.

Three cities were proposed for next year's meeting place. O. N. Marron extended an invitation for the association to come to Albuquerque again next September, at which time the territorial fair will be in progress. D. T. Hoskins, of Las Vegas, spoke in favor of his home city. Mayor McKee united with the Las Vegas forces, and upon his motion, the clerk read a unanimous ballot in favor of Las Vegas. Mr. Hoskins said that the fair would be held there in September, which would be an excellent time for holding the convention. As the executive committee is vested with the power to select the time, nothing in this respect was decided upon by the convention. In all probability, it will be some time during fall week, however.

Communication Read.

The clerk read a letter from the Mexico City bank requesting membership, and a telegram from the American National bank at San Francisco, which in substance, wished the New Mexico Bankers' association a successful future. The same were ordered filed.

Invitation to Luncheon.

President Blackwell read an invitation from T. M. Wingo and A. P. Cole, of El Paso, which asked the convention to join them at luncheon at the Alvarado. The invitation was accepted with thanks, Mr. Cole took the opportunity to make an address, which in substance was that although Mr.

Wingo and himself had hoped to secure full-fledged membership in the association, they were satisfied with the action of the convention. He was in favor of harmony between the bankers of the territory, as only by harmony could successful banking be carried on and failures averted. He believed in crippled banks being aided financially by those enjoying success, and of honest methods being employed between competitors. He thought that the secret of success in New Mexico banking institutions, could be laid to the fact of the great conservatism displayed, and that the bankers are ex-farmers. "I must, in this connection, repeat what the secretary of the American Bankers' association at Washington remarked, in speaking of those bankers from this section of the country, i. e., that if you are not farmers, you certainly look like them."

Vote of Thanks Extended.

On motions of O. N. Marron and A. P. Kerr, of Silver City, a vote of thanks was extended to Messrs. Wingo and Cole, and to the bankers of Albuquerque, the people of the Duke City and the press, for generosity, excellent manner of entertainment and courtesies extended. The convention then adjourned.

Drives About the City.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the delegates met at the Commercial club parlors from where carriages were taken and drives to various points of interest in and adjacent to the city, enjoyed. Committees accompanied the visitors. Among those places visited were the Rio Grande Woolen mill, Albuquerque Wool Scouring mill, American Lumber company's plant, Indian school, court house, Old Albuquerque, the free public library and the University of New Mexico. All were very favorably impressed with what they saw.

The Banquet Tonight.

The banquet to be tendered at the Alvarado this evening will bring to a close the first meeting of the New Mexico Bankers' association. It is to be given by the local financiers, and will be most elaborate. YOUTHFUL WIZARD OF THE CUE WHO WON THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

New York, Feb. 16.—Wm. Fredrick Hoppe, billiard champion of the world, aged 19, is a man in thought, yet boyish and unassuming. When he arrived from Europe, after defeating Maurice Vignaux, the young American was greeted by a lively crowd of enthusiastic billiardists, who informed him that George Slosson and Jake Schaefer were hot on his track to capture his well-earned honors.

"I shall meet both of them," he declared, "providing they put up a forfeit and make the terms of the match agreeable. I feel that my experience with Vignaux has given me more confidence, and if either of my countrymen beats me he will know that he has been playing some before the final carom has been struck."

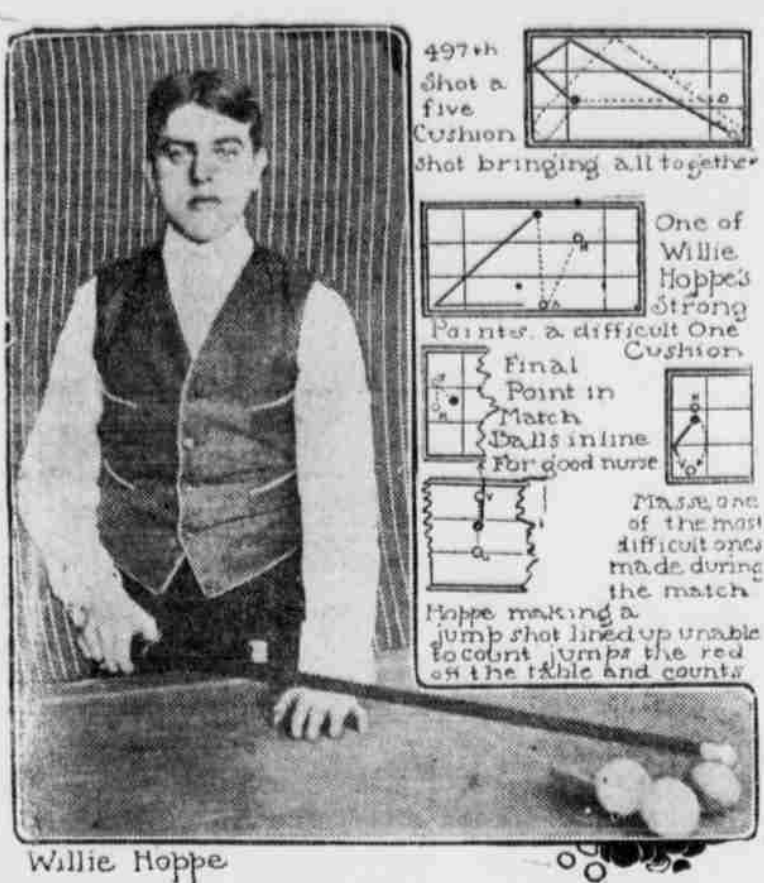

The match between Hoppe and Slosson will be played early in March in New York.

There was nothing about the lad's demeanor to impress the casual observer that the young fellow had won the highest honor a billiardist could achieve. The morning after his arrival in New York, accompanied by his brother, Frank, who was his manager during the European trip, and his father, the champion paid a visit to Costello's billiard rooms. This is the place where Hoppe did most of his preparatory work for the Parisian match, and, before the camera, he re-enacted the game.

Hoppe was born in Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, October 11, 1887, and began playing with the ivory balls on a pool table in that village, when he was about 7 years old. From the very beginning he seemed to have unusual control of the balls, and many who saw his early exhibition in New York rooms predicted a brighter future for him than that which was dimmed by the death of "Napoleon" Frank Fives.

That Hoppe has fully borne out these promises goes without saying. His defeat of Vignaux, who held the world's championship for years, was clean cut and decisive. The match was of 500 points at 18-1 billiards, the most difficult test so far given to experts with the cue, and while the Frenchman held an advantage during the first half of the contest, the young New Yorker ran away with the game in the latter half, winning by a score of 500 to 323, making an average of 20 to 24, with a high run of 93, the best on record at this style of billiards. Vignaux's average was 14 to 23 with a high run of 61.

The game was played at the Grand hotel, Paris, and during the first half the scoring was rather slow. At the intermission, the score stood 205 to 228 in favor of the French expert. Vignaux was a prime favorite, but the odds against Hoppe's chance of winning dwindled from 3 to 1 to even money during the second period and this was brought mainly through the persistence of "Nat" Goodwin, "Bully" Donohue, Geo. Sutton and a host of prominent Americans who accepted every wager offered against the Hudson river lad.

Frequently Vignaux gave evident signs of impatience. Once when Hoppe had made a carom when the three balls were almost touching, the Frenchman claimed that Willie had not scored. Count de Dree, the referee, who had not been watching the play closely, decided against Hoppe, who sat down, with an air of resignation, only to watch his opponent chuck off 61 caroms, Vignaux's highest run in the game.

After the intermission, Hoppe simply had everything his own way, as he modestly said, "the balls rolled a bit more kindly." His wonderful work in the 224 inning was a revelation to everyone who witnessed the contest. He made the high score with a four-cushion shot when he had made 57, bringing the balls together with wonderful tact.

Hoppe ran out the game with an unfinished run of 75, after getting out of a difficult position with a four-cushion shot when he had made 57, bringing the balls together with wonderful tact.

At the conclusion of the match the demonstration given by the Americans was almost equaled by the generous plaudits of the Frenchmen, and Vignaux made a little speech congratulating Hoppe, saying that he had played the victor by fair and square play as it is possible to do so. Some good fighting ought to be the result of the trust.

Jimmy Britt says he will retire from the ring after he has another chance at Nelson. Britt has been offered $5,000 to meet Eddie Hanlon, but he declines to do so, as he does not want to take any chances of being laid out before he faces Nelson again. Hanlon is a pretty dangerous proposition.

The story has been revived that Jeffries will come out of his retirement to meet the winner of the Hart-O'Brien fight. Coffroth, the California promoter, is said to have obtained a promise from Jeff to fight once more, only stipulating that the purse is of sufficient proportions to make it attractive.

Jimmie Callahan handed Sheekard a fine cutting from the conservatory the other day, saying he is one of the best base runners in the country, and an excellent all around ball player. This started the hammers to going, and Sheekard has been called all kinds of bad names by the chorus. A booster generally calls forth a lot of knacks.

SANTA FE ELKS PREPARE FOR DENVER CONVENTION.
The lodge of Elks at Santa Fe is making preparations to have an especially representative body at the Denver convention. Negotiations are now under way to secure the services of two expert Indian dancers to teach the members the art and to give advice in regard to the costumes. It is the intention not only to have the most correct and attractive dances, but also to have every detail accurate. To assure a number of the members going, a club has already been organized to place aside a good sum each month to defray the expenses.

PUBLIC SERVICE RECORD OF THE LATE COLONEL J. FRANCISCO CHAVEZ, BEATS CASIMERO BARCELONA OF COLORADO.

Hon. T. E. Taylor, of the Colorado state senate has been sending to all parts of the state a circular letter drawing attention to the extraordinary length of the legislative service of Casimero Barcelona and another Colorado state senator, and asking whether there are any others who have served for a similar length of time in any state or territory.

In answer to this, Hon. L. Brainerd Price, as president of the New Mexico historical society, has sent to Senator Taylor the record of Colonel J. Francisco Chavez, which in congress and in the New Mexico legislature, covers a period of thirty-eight years, while counting the two additional years for which he was elected, but prevented from serving in the Thirty-sixth legislative assembly by his untimely death.

This is believed to be the longest record that can be produced from any state in the union. He remembered the Colonel Chavez also defeated the number of years to the service of his country as an officer in the army.

A Bit of Arizona Scenery.

By A. W. A.

Manuelitos, N. M., Feb. 15.—About seven miles from here, just across the border line between New Mexico and Arizona, lies a little canyon among the mountains, whose beauty has caused it to be a favorite haunt for two summers past, for parties of excursionists, during the heat of summer. To my mind, Luna, as it is called, is one of the most beautiful spots along the railroad, from Albuquerque to Winslow, and anyone who has ever seen it has agreed with me.

On the right hand the low range of hills rise in almost inaccessible, dome-like cliffs, surmounted by other cliffs as barren and as hard to scale. The real beauty of Luna, however, lies about a mile south of the railroad track, on the left hand side.

A stretch of sand, about a mile in distance, extends to the mountains, rocky base, which has numerous wind worn caves, extending back into its depths. The sandstone cliffs, themselves, their colors lit up and showing brilliantly in the morning sunlight, form a fitting background for the "Bottles" and the "Saddles" as they are familiarly known.

The Bottles, a perpendicular shaft of solid rock extending many feet above the surrounding rocks and sloping hillside, were given their name on account of one of them, in particular, slightly resembling a huge beer bottle. Its rocky base affords a slippery foothold to the adventurous climber, to the base of the main cliff, but further it is impossible to go.

A little to the left of the Bottles, the Saddles, another rocky shaft, whose base projects from the main cliff, rears its summit; which forms an almost perfectly shaped saddle.

Behind the saddle, the main cliff of the mountain rounds in, forming, with a low ridge of rock rising abruptly from the surrounding sand, a small canyon almost entirely enclosed by the surrounding rocky walls. The floor of the canyon is nearly covered with a grove of oaks; some of them large trees, growing along the rocky base and extending half way to the top. At the head of the canyon a little spring sometimes flows, and this, I suppose, supplies water to the trailing Virginia Creeper and wild grape vines; which have twined themselves about the trunks of the trees until the top is reached, when they have leaned over to join tendrils with the vines of the next tree. In this way, an almost impenetrable miniature forest has been formed in some places, and form bunches of vivid green; the brighter green on the oaks blending with the darker green of the five leaved vine.

When standing above, the grandeur of the scene, with the intense stillness broken only by the sound of human voices or by the song of birds, as they flit from the rocky sides to their nests among the vines and trees, reminds one of the first lines of Longfellow's "Evangeline," where the trees, "bearded with moss and in garments green, indistinct in the twilight, stand like Druids of old."

Following the base of the mountain east, for about a mile, a cave contains a supply of cool, nice tasting spring water may be found; surpassing the well water of any of the towns along the road—providing the drinker finds the spring before the sheep come to take their daily drink. Indians, though too lazy to dig out any one of the springs and make one good one, make use of the spring for their sheep, though none of them live near the place.

I can appreciate the enthusiastic appreciation of the conditions when down there, but I do wish they would pass on the way. Twice in one summer an excursion train has stopped for some minutes, and some of the women, as much as "big your leave," have rushed into the little garden spot which we have inclosed, and where we have succeeded in raising some fine beds of sweet peas and roses, and picked the place almost bare. No great care was taken not to spoil the vines, besides.

Though perfectly willing and glad to share our flowers with any one that cares for them, we would like a little more respect shown for them and us, by those going to the hills and green plants and vines to be found at Luna, an attempt has been made to establish a trading store for the Indians at Luna, but it has not been successful, so far; neither do the people seem willing to live there, on account of its loneliness, and so it is only when a chance party goes there, that the beauty of the southern cliffs and oaks are seen and appreciated, to be remembered long after and visited again at the earliest opportunity.

Rough Hands Made Smooth.

A man who once had rough, horny hands made them soft and smooth with Witch Hazel Salve, but he used the genuine—that bearing the name "E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago." For sores, boils, cuts, burns, bruises, etc., it has no equal, and affords almost immediate relief from blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles. Sold by all druggists.

MOST ANYTHING

A Paris dispatch says it is believed Count Boni will assume a gentlemanly attitude. Now you know what an optimist is. He's a man who can send a dispatch like that.

"Did you hear that new joke about life insurance?"
"No, and I don't want to. I can't see those jokes."
"You're not a life insurance agent, are you?"
"No, but I am a policy holder."

"Speedily has had bad luck with his stenographer."
"What's the row? Has she left him or demanded more money?"
"Neither. They were married last week."

"How was your auto trip the other day?"
"Great success. Didn't run over a thing except a bridge."

And Placed on File?
T. W. Messick has taken out the petition in his store room.—Stotts City (Mo.) Sunbeam.

A mean dig—Work on the Panama Canal.

"Did your father show any emotion when Percy asked him for you?"
"Indeed he did. He broke down—"
"Poor fellow! He must have felt dreadfully!"
"As I was going to say, he broke down a pillar on the front porch, trying to catch him."

The Paris newspapers haven't printed a line about Count Boni's trouble. A little thing like that isn't a novelty over there.

"The manager of the ball team says Tossman, the pitcher, is in fine shape this winter. Ready to play the game of his life."

"I believe it. I saw him playing dominoes at the engine house last night."

"The innocent bystander sometimes escapes the general opinion to the contrary."
"I never knew or heard of such a thing."

"I have, frequently, too."
"Where?"
"At a wedding."

"Slighter and his wife appear to be as far apart as ever."

"Yes, I guess that's so. He's in New York, and she's in North Dakota."

In the Hall of Hasbears.

Placed in nomination—Count Boni.

"I don't see why your sourestie tossed him over. He's worth at least $5,000,000, and the newspapers would have given her lots of advertising."
"Yes, that's so," said the manager of the musical comedy, "but he comes from Pittsburgh, and she says she prefers to try to land one from Peoria, Ill."

A Few Remarks on "East Lynne."

The inspiring and celebrated play of "East Lynne" is a general favorite. It can be truly said that the play will live forever, as it portrays life as it is actually lived. As we look through the vistas of the past, it still carries us to the edge of emotion. It is one in which can be seen the charm and pathos which hold us so interested to the last. In this play will be seen the ever pleasing and beautiful emotional actress, Miss Adeline LaPorte, in the title role, with her superb robes of beauty and elegance. In her brilliant and charming acting, she simply pleases; her artistic acting enriches the play from curtain to curtain.—Jasper (Mo.) News.

Alexander had finished his job of conquering the world, and sat down and wept.

"Curse the luck," he moaned. "Not one magazine to which I can contribute and the fools around me haven't had sense enough to establish a lecture platform."

The Ready Letter Writer.

A letter on foot ball, from a college president to the public:

To the Friends of Dubley College:
The recent agitation on foot ball is welcomed by all college officials and students because it will enable us to place the game on a higher plane, really to restore it to the high plane it held until a few years ago, when the desire to win became predominant and overshadowed the true purposes on which the game was founded and resulting in conditions that are deplored by both faculty and student body.

Foot ball is a grand and noble game, developing true manhood and elevating all who participate in it and enabling the spectator, but I regret to acknowledge the introduction of certain injurious elements. I would not say that I favor abolishing the game, but I do favor the introduction of restrictions that will lead to needed reforms. In this work I ask the co-operation of all friends of Dubley College, and if this is obtained I am certain that we will be successful in accomplishing those things on which our energies are so concentrated.

WORDEN WORDS.

A letter from the same man to the $5,000-a-year coach:
Dear Bill:
Of course you have kept posted on the foot ball question, and know how a lot of so-called friends of the college have been knocking it. I am sorry, for some of the heavy contributors to the endowment fund think the game should be abolished. We cannot offend them, for if they withdrew their support we would have to close the doors. And where would we be without foot ball?

I can't blame some of the people for knocking, for, honestly, Bill, we had a rotten team this year and the year before. When I think of it, I pray for the pen of a George Ade, that I might describe it as I see it. But if we had a good team there would be no knocking the game. You know that as well as I do. So the future of the old college is in your hands. If you can get together a team that will win our friends will be so busy yelling that they will have no time to knock. A friend of mine, by the way, one who has the price, has offered to stake the college to three first class men next season.

Yours for Victory.

In the World of Sport

Joe Gans, the ink boy, lost his suit for absolute divorce. What does a colored fighter want a divorce for, anyway?

The base ball colony at Hot Springs is growing. The latest to appear in Arkansas town are Bert Gilbert and Mike Donlin.

That Young Corbett is not all in is shown by the offer made to him at Denver to meet Dick Hyland, a pretty fair second rater.

McGraw and Tod Sloan have opened a rather pretentious cafe and billiard room at Forty-second street and Broadway, New York.

Breeding race horses is a costly business as less than one-half ever see the post and each youngster costs $2,000 before he is a racer.

Fred Landers, the western lightweight, who recently met defeat at the hands of Willie Fitzgerald, is going to try his luck in the east.

Coffroth, the California promoter, is working on a big outdoor fistic attraction and hopes to sign O'Brien and Ryan for a 20-round bout as one of the attractions.

"Happy Jack" Chesbro, whose arm gave him considerable trouble last season, is in good shape for this year, but will eliminate the spit ball from his repertoire of curves.

Frankie Neil, American bantamweight champion, will fight Harry Tenny 20 rounds in San Francisco on the night of February 27th. They will weigh in at 120 pounds at the ringside.

Jack O'Brien has given his mother a $25,000 house in Philadelphia, and Battling Nelson has made his father a present of $14,000. At least, stories to that effect are going the rounds of the press.

Jockey J. Daly has been ruled off the track at City Park, New Orleans, and Jockey Wishard indefinitely suspended. What a house cleaning those Crescent City judges are accomplishing—and it was needed.

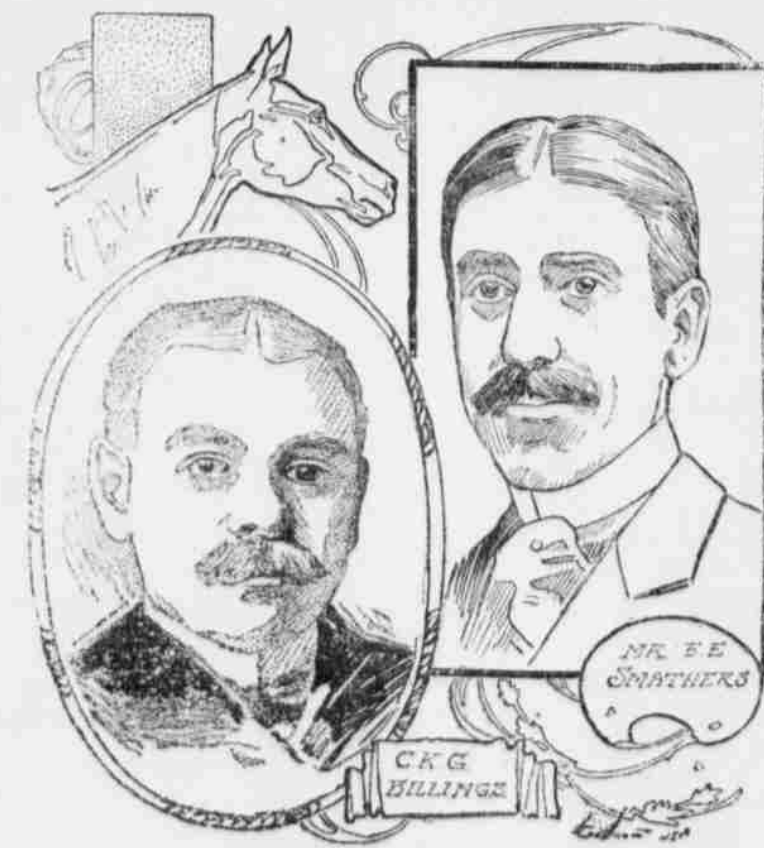

President Merrill of Coalgate College has decided views on foot ball. In a recent address he said: "Coalgate, gentlemen, will always be ready to play foot ball under any schedule of rules that may be provided."

Jack Root and Marvin Hart will probably meet in a 20-round bout in Salt Lake in the latter part of March. Root and Hart each holds a victory over the other. Root is to fight Fred Russell in Kalamazoo, Mich., on February 26th.

Pitcher Van Anda, who is said to have as many moving wheels as Rubie Waddell, has been sold by the Canton, O., team to Grand Rapids. Van Anda was drafted last season by Cincinnati, but was afterwards returned to Canton.

Adrian C. Anson, the old time base ball player, will manage a semi-professional team in Chicago, this season. The Callahan idea seems to be gaining headway in the Windy City, with the result that a strong league of near-professionals may be built up.

Friends of Buddy Ryan, the welterweight fighter, will give him a benefit in Chicago to raise funds to pay for an operation in the hope of saving

FAVORITISM IN RAILROAD RATES

How the New Englander must envy the middle west manufacturer (not).

For, see, to reach the southern market, Chicago need send her fruit of industry little more than half as far as the Boston manufacturer need send his.

He should not only get his goods there quicker, but much more cheaply.

But does he find transportation cheaper?

Well, no. Not so you could notice it. It costs him more.

From Chicago to Montgomery, Ala., the rate on first class freight is $1.35; from Boston, $1.20.

There is no danger of Chicago cutting into Boston's baked bean trade at this rate.

RAILROAD TOPICS

Thomas DeMott, who was seriously injured in the Morley wreck the other day, has finally been taken to the hospital at La Junta. All the other injured men are recovering.

The Dawson branch of the El Paso & Southwestern now boasts of a daily passenger train both ways each day, connecting with both an east and west Santa Fe train at French. It is said to be an experiment, and if it pays, will be made regular.

The other night the railroad men within a radius of 100 miles of Tex line, who could conveniently or inconveniently do so, congregated at the little city on the plains, celebrating the formal opening of the new Texline hotel, just completed by the Colorado Southern, which will be such a vast comfort to the men who are obliged to lay over in that city.

SANTA FE SUEDE

FOR $25,000 DAMAGES.
The damage suit of Ira Schroll against the Santa Fe Railway company, is now on trial in the district court at Newton. Kan. Schroll, through his attorney, Mr. H. H. Morgan, sues the company for $25,000 damages for the loss of his left arm. Schroll was employed by the Santa Fe as a hostler. While at work in the Newton yards one cold day last winter, he was knocked down and run over by an engine, losing an arm. The railroad company is represented by Bowman & Bowman, and W. R. Smith, of Topeka, one of the most prominent legal lights in the state.

ROAD FOREMAN ROSS

HIGHLY COMMENDED.
John A. Ross, of Las Vegas, who recently resigned as road foreman of engines on the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe, has received a very commendatory letter from S. W. Mullins, on his past services, and expressing regret at his resignation, says the Optic. In the letter, Mr. Mullins says: "I am sure, Mr. Ross, that your services while on the New Mexico and Rio Grande divisions in the capacity of road foreman of engines, was entirely satisfactory, and there was no fault at all found with your work."

Mr. Ross had acted in the capacity of road foreman of engines for about ten years, but resigned, as his duties took him too much away from home. He can again take an engine between Las Vegas and Albuquerque, but has not yet decided what he will do.

LAS VEGAS MAY NOT GET PHELPS-DODGE LINE

Negotiations between the Phelps-Dodge company and the Santa Fe for the Rock Island line between Santa Rosa and Tucumcari, N. M., says the Las Vegas Optic. With this stretch of track, fifty-nine miles in length, in its possession, the great copper company would own a direct line from the smelters in Douglas, Ark., to the coal fields at Dawson, N. M., a distance of 680 miles. For a number of months operations were pushed forward actively on the survey of a line from Dawson through Las Vegas, to a point near Torrance. Of late work on this line has been lagging. The preliminary survey has been completed, but the surveyors have not been revised, and the surveyors are given to understand that there is no need of haste in finishing the work. Of the officials of the road who are conversant with the situation, none are inclined to speak at present. It is generally understood that the two railroad companies are bargaining, and that no agreement has been yet reached.

FRENCHMAN BARRED OUT BY CASTRO

M. Oliver Taigny was charged with d'afaires in Venezuela, until January 13th, when he went aboard a French vessel in La Guayra harbor and Castro refused to allow him to land again.

Arrived in New York, February 7th, and is now in Washington to report to Ambassador Jusserand the French troubles in Venezuela.

M. Taigny says that the whole trouble with President Castro is a craze for gold.

He does not believe French people and property are in danger in Venezuela, because the people take no interest in Castro's troubles. Taigny denies that the French cable officials took part in the alleged Castro, in the conspiracy of Matos against the Venezuelan government.

He doubts that there will be any war as a result of the unpleasantness.

LOOKING THROUGH ONE GLASS ONLY

Harmony prevails at Albuquerque, so far as the coming city election is concerned. The Journal says there is a total absence of partisanship, and that a fusion ticket is probable.—Roswell Record.

It is evident to The Evening Citizen that the editor of the Record, the democratic paper of Roswell, can only see one side; or, in other words, looking through one glass only. While there is plenty of harmony here, neither the republican or democratic parties of Albuquerque will be so foolish as to follow the advice of the Morning Journal, a paper without a party, for the leaders of the two great parties are fully aware of the motives which prompted that paper to propose a fusion ticket with all the members of the present council succeeding themselves. Probably some of the present members of the city council have had enough of public life, but if they have not, let them come before the primaries or convention and announce their candidacy and not be "bamboozled" into running on a mongrel ticket at the dictations of the morning organ. No fusion for the republicans. They demand, and will get a straight republican ticket.

TOUR EUROPE FREE

THE COURIER-JOURNAL TO TAKE NINETEEN YOUNG WOMEN ABROAD AS ITS GUESTS.

The Courier-Journal is conducting a popularity contest that eclipses anything of the kind ever promoted in that section. Briefly, the Courier-Journal proposes to take on a seven-week tour broad nineteen young women from Kentucky and southern Indiana, all expenses paid, from the day the party leaves Louisville, July 12, until it returns to "The Old Kentucky Home," August 29. To give all a chance the Courier-Journal has divided Louisville and Kentucky and Southern Indiana into eighteen districts, and the most popular young woman from each district is to be the one to make the tour. The nineteenth young lady is to be selected in another way. Readers of the Courier-Journal are to select the guests for the paper, by ballot. It is estimated that the trip alone will cost the Courier-Journal about $15,000, to say nothing of incidental and other necessary expenses. There may be a young woman from this section who is a candidate for this tour. Write the Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky., for a list of candidates and full details of the tour.

A Raymond-Whitcomb excursion, loaded with Baltimoreans, bound for the Pacific coast, spent thirty minutes at the local station between 11 and 12 o'clock this morning. The passengers had so much fun taking kodak pictures of the Indians, that the conductor had to call the depot master to his assistance to get them back aboard the train, when the time came for departing.

"I have had a royal time. Albuquerque has certainly done herself proud on this occasion. I don't know when I have enjoyed myself like I have on this 'lark,' as you may call it." This was the way Colonel George W. Prichard, attorney general for New Mexico, expressed himself at the governor's reception given by the Commercial club before leaving for Santa Fe this morning. FRANK JOHNSON HAS DISAPPEARED NOW

CASHED AN ALLEGED FORGED CHECK—HE FINDS AN EASY "FRIEND" VICTIM.

Frank Johnson left the city last evening. His present whereabouts are unknown, but the police are desirous, very much so, in fact, of learning where he has gone, for a warrant charging Johnson with forgery, is in the hands of the authorities.

Johnson arrived in Albuquerque a short time ago. He said he was a health seeker and a former newspaper man on the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The other day Johnson induced one Morey Field, employed in the office of the Morning Journal, to endorse a check for $50 on the American National bank at El Paso. The check was signed by John P. Mitchell. The check was cashed at the First National bank here, sent to El Paso for collection, and returned here as a forgery. John P. Mitchell is editor and publisher of the El Paso News. He disclaimed the signature. It is understood that young Field will be obliged to make the check good.

TARKINGTON QUITE SURE OF ENCAMPMENT

ADJUTANT GENERAL CONFIDENT THAT GUARD CAN AFFORD AN OUTING IN THE FALL—HE BELIEVES IN ADVERTISING.

Adjutant General Tarkington, who spent yesterday in the city as member of the escort of Governor Hagerman, returned to Santa Fe this morning.

Regarding the New Mexico national guard, of which he is the head, Adjutant Tarkington said:

"I feel quite sure that we will be able to give the guard an encampment this fall. We have a surplus of about $5,000 on hand, and unless the inspection that will take place in the next couple of months should find us very short on equipment, there will be plenty left from the regular allowance needed supplies for the summer, to pay for a week's outing. Of course, you understand, the guard is compelled to keep up to a scheduled standard, both in equipment and quota of men. If there is a shortage of equipment, part of the regular allowance must be spent to supply the deficiency. If there is a shortage of men, the allowance is cut down accordingly. However, I do not believe that the New Mexico guard will be found short of either men or equipment, and that there will be enough of that $5,000 left when fall comes to pay for an encampment.

"I must congratulate Albuquerque on the energy of Captain Ruppe, of Company G. The manner in which he has recently filled in the depleted ranks of his company is commendable to Mr. Ruppe, and shows that he is heart and soul in the work. I believe that Mr. Ruppe credits much of his success to the newspapers, which have been giving him admirable support. I agree with Captain Ruppe in the belief that advertising pays."

TRAVELING AUDITOR SAFFORD RETURNS FROM ESTANCIA

Traveling Auditor Charles V. Safford was in the city yesterday, en route to Santa Fe from a trip to Estancia, where he examined the financial records of Torrance county.

"I found everything in good condition there," said Mr. Safford, "and the collector had secured $11,000 in the nine months that the money was due. Next year they will receive about $200,000 as the El Paso & Southwestern will pay increased taxes on its new valuation. Another thing about that country. Game eggs are quoted at twenty cents a dozen and fresh eggs at twenty-five cents per dozen, while here I understand you have to pay from forty to fifty cents."
