EX-DELEGATES COME TO BLOWS

RATE BILL IN THE SENATE

Fight to Death Now With Supporters of Railway Interests.

EX-SPEAKER HENDERSON'S DEATH

Special to Evening Citizen.
Washington, Feb. 26.—Senator Tillman in reporting the Hepburn railway rate regulation bill said:
"I move its consideration, at the conclusion of the statehood bill, unless that shall hang on the hook too long; then I move consideration sooner."

RAILWAY REGULATION

BILL IS REPORTED.
Washington, Feb. 26.—Expecting a spirited discussion over the report of Senator Tillman on the Hepburn bill, the galleries of the senate were crowded when the session was called to order this morning. Tillman decided that he was not prepared to make a formal report and that the resolution effective to simply report the bill in accordance with the resolution adopted by the committee, which provides that the members are left free to exercise their individual judgment concerning the amendments that may be offered in the senate.

As soon as the vice president called for report of outstanding committees a number of senators rose but Tillman was recognized. He announced that he had been instructed by the committee on interstate commerce to report the bill, which had been made for publication of 10,000 copies.

Tillman gave notice that he will press the bill to the earliest consideration.

As soon as Tillman concluded, Aldrich was recognized and said:
"The majority of the republican members of the committee did not join in the favorable report which has been made by the senator from South Carolina, for the reason that in their judgment an attempt should have been made by the committee to remedy by proper amendments some obvious and admitted defects and omissions in the bill, and this a clear and adequate report should have been made for the committee affecting rates, to judicial review. They believed these amendments are not only necessary to protect the rights of all parties, but that they are essential to the vitality and efficiency of the measure itself. With these amendments the minority members together with the senator from Ohio, who is opposed to all government rate making, were ready to give their support to the house bill."

Culberson said:
"I take it in a large degree the committee's action is no more nor less than a transfer of the controversy from the committee room to the senate chamber, therefore I offer a substitute for the bill just reported. This substitute is in effect a bill upon the same subject which I previously introduced."

The bill was ordered printed and to lay on the table until the rate bill shall be taken up.

IN MEMORY OF LATE EX-SPEAKER HENDERSON

Washington, Feb. 26.—Ex-Speaker Henderson's death, which occurred yesterday, was the burden of the prayer by the chaplain in the opening session of the house today. Later in the day adjournment will be taken, after passage of appropriate resolutions, as a mark of respect to his memory.

MARY HEINDEL GIVES HER SIDE OF THE CENSUS STORY

SAYS ENUMERATOR ACTED VERY UNGENUINELY WHILE AT HER HOUSE.
Mary Heindel, who conducts the majestic rooming house, on South First street, called at The Citizen office this morning, and gave her side of the story relative to the complaint made to the police that she had refused to give information to the census enumerator.

PRESIDENT AGAINST SENATE AND THE BIG STICK MUST NOW DECIDE

All Hope of Compromise Has at Last Been Abandoned by Both Sides to the Railway Rate Regulation Controversy.

COURT REVIEW ON WHICH NEITHER WILL YIELD

House Will Unite With President in Coercing Senate by Refusing to Adjourn Till Bill Passes as the Country Wants It

Special to The Evening Citizen.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—There is no more hope of a compromise in the rate bill fight. Negotiations between President Roosevelt and the senate are at an end. Senator Aldrich has been told in almost so many words to do his worst. It's a fight to a finish.

For nearly a month the advocates of rate legislation have been trying to reach some understanding with the opposition which would insure the peaceful passage of the law. The only stumbling block remaining was the clause relating to review by the court of the orders of the commission. It was hoped that this could be fixed. President Roosevelt was ready to agree to any kind of a review amendment, which would not prevent the rate going into effect pending the decision of the court.

This was the point which the railroad opposition would not yield.

This point was vital. The president argued that the law would be no better than it is today if the rate was to be held up pending final determination by the court. No amount of bonds or securities put up by the rates could prevent the injustice worked by the interminable law's delays.

The final break came when Senator Knox offered his amendment, which proved to be the same that Kilgus and Aldrich had been trying to get. Attorney General Moody suggested some slight changes in the Knox amendment. The Pennsylvania senator declined to accept them and went off in a huff. That ended the negotiations.

It also ended the president's efforts to forward his legislation by kind words. He will now let Mr. Aldrich have a taste of the big stick.

The president knows that the House of Representatives is behind him in the coming battle with the senate. If the railway members of that body succeed in getting a vicious review clause incorporated into the rate bill he will veto it. This statement is not made on a guess or on harmony. It is absolutely and authoritatively positive. What is more, if the senate gets balky and tries to adjourn without passing a good rate bill, the house will decline to pass the joint resolution necessary for adjournment, and will hold the senate in Washington until the hot term sweats something out of them. Altogether the situation is growing daily more warlike and interesting.

HADLEY GOES TO OKLAHOMA

Garfield Instructed to Give Names of Persons Who Know Law Violated.

Pueblo, Colo., Feb. 26.—Following the action of the special grand jury, last Saturday night, which returned indictments against the officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, the Colorado Supply company, and the American Smelting company, for violating the law in using the "script" system, caplanes were issued today for the arrest of F. J. Hearne and D. C. Beaman, the attorneys for the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, for a conspiracy to violate the law, and against all the directors and officers of that company for actual violation of the laws. In its recommendations for proceeding against these companies, the grand jury demanded that the attorney general of the state at once institute suits against the offending corporations for the purpose of revoking their charters.

He turned over to the department of justice about 700 names of persons who said they knew of violations of the law.

TITLED EXPLORER CHANGES DIRECTION OF NEXT TRIP

Turin, Italy, Feb. 26.—The Duke of Abruzzi is making preparations for a new exploring tour, which, instead of taking him to the polar regions, will take him to the little known districts of equatorial Africa. It has been his ambition for some time to explore the mountain regions of inner Africa and to ascend some of the mighty peaks which rear their heads in the great equatorial mountain chains of Africa. He is rapidly completing his plans, and will start in a few weeks. He intends to make an attempt to ascend the mighty Mount Ruwenzori. He has engaged the famous mountain guide Petzner, and his son, Laurent, of Courmayeur, who were with the duke on his polar expedition, to accompany him on his African expedition.

PADILLA'S SALOON IN THE WOODS BECOMING NOTORIOUS

AUSTRIANS RESENT ASSAULT MADE UPON TWO OF THEM, AND HAVE SURROUNDED THE JOINT-WAR THREATENED BETWEEN FACTIONS.

Special to The Evening Citizen.
Thoreau, N. M., Feb. 26.—In a fierce saloon brawl yesterday evening, in Joe Padilla's notorious saloon at Ketter, out in the Zuni woods, two Austrians were badly kicked and jumped on, and then thrown bodily out of the place. When the Austrians came to, they fired a fusillade of shots through the saloon door, which was closed and bolted. The Austrians replied, shooting through windows and transoms. Numbers of shots were exchanged, but strange to say, no one was injured by the shooting. The Austrians then went up to Camp No. 5, where a number of Austrians are employed, and securing a dozen or more of their countrymen, returned to the saloon. They camped around the saloon, threatening to burn it and shoot and kill Padilla. Padilla is equally determined not to be shot, and has bolted the doors and windows, and with himself and four other men, all of whom are heavily armed, will hold the fort until officers of the peace can arrive and settle the matter. Padilla's saloon has become notorious of late, on account of the many brawls which have occurred there, and in every instance the wandering patrons of the house, who have anything on their persons, are beaten up and robbed. Last Friday a man named Slocum wandered into this saloon, and was cruelly assaulted. His death occurred later, in Albuquerque.

THINKS BILL WILL PASS WITH FORAKER AMENDMENT

DISTRICT ATTORNEY CLANCY RETURNS FROM WASHINGTON AND GIVES HIS VIEWS OF THE MATTER.

District Attorney Frank W. Clancy has returned from Washington, D. C., where he argued the case of the Territory vs. the Santa Fe Railroad company, wherein a question of taxes alleged to be due Grant county, on assessed valuation of that company's property, was the point involved, before the United States supreme court. While absent from Albuquerque, Mr. Clancy also visited Boston and Chicago on personal business. Speaking of the outlook at Washington, for the passage of the joint statehood bill, Mr. Clancy, in conversation with the representative of The Evening Citizen, said:
"Judging from 'signs of the times,' it looked to me as though the joint statehood bill would not pass the senate without the Foraker amendment attached, and in that event I believe the bill will be defeated. The bill may not come up for hearing for some time yet, as it is a pretty good thing to prevent other legislation with, and some of the senators are in no hurry for it, as advocates of the bill may take all the time they can get to strengthen their forces. Of course there is no telling what may take place in politics, and I do not care to predict; I merely state my views."

UNITED STATES ATTORNEY RETURNS TO ALBUQUERQUE

IS REPRESENTING APACHE INDIANS IN FAMOUS TULAROSA WATER RIGHTS FIGHT—CASE WILL TAKE ALL SUMMER TO SETTLE.

Assistant United States Attorney E. L. Medler has returned from Alamogordo, where he has been representing the government in the case of the settlers of Tularosa, the province of Sonora, the Apache Indians, in the now famous Rio Tularosa water rights case. Mr. Medler stated that the plaintiff's side of the case was almost concluded at the recent hearing, but that the case itself would drag through the summer before being finished as the government's side of the case was yet to be heard.

"It's one of the most important cases that Tularosa has ever had," said Mr. Medler, "and it is attracting wide attention in that part of New Mexico. The point of law chiefly involved in the case is the statutes limitation. The Indians have been using the water for more than ten years, the government has about doubled the water supply through cleaning out springs, clearing creeks, etc., and although the settlers of Tularosa seem to think that an injustice has been done to them, there is always two sides to any question. By agreement, the water is being divided up among the settlers and Indians until the case is definitely settled."

MASSACRE HAS ALREADY BEGUN

Missionaries Have Been Killed and Property Has Been Destroyed

GERMANY WEAKENS A LITTLE

Russian Minister Will Remain If the Government Changes Policy.

JAPAN AMBASSADOR TO ENGLAND

Washington, Feb. 26.—Consul General Rodgers, at Shanghai, cabled the state department under today's date that the American mission stations at Nanchang in province of Kiangsi had been destroyed. The cause is probably local. A telegram received from those points states that fourteen American missionaries, whose places were destroyed escaped; but the Klingham family, English, consisting of two adults and two children, are reported killed. The American gunboat Elicano, at Nankin, has been ordered to proceed immediately to Kiangsi, where she will probably arrive Wednesday. The scene of the trouble is 400 miles up the Yangtsi Kiang river.

News is Confirmed.
A cablegram from Commander Fletcher, senior officer of the Raleigh at Shanghai, received at the navy department today, confirms substantially Consul General Rodgers' report.

Order Has Been Restored
A later cable from Rodgers says the reports of the Nanchang trouble are conflicting. It is reported the trouble originated between French Jesuits and the Chinese officials. In the riots which occurred yesterday six Jesuits and two members of the Klingham family were killed though the Chinese troops were attempting to protect them. The American mission building, it is understood, was saved and order is now restored.

PRESIDENT'S SUSPICION HAS BEEN AROUSED

Washington, Feb. 26.—President Roosevelt has grown suspicious of the good faith of the Chinese government as a result of the policy of duplicity which it seems to be pursuing. He has been given assurance through Minister Richthofen which are not in keeping with the acts of the Peking authorities. Apparently such tactics have been adopted at the Chinese capital as were observed in 1900 prior to the Boxer outbreak. The diplomatic corps was told in a most positive manner that the reports of a general uprising were without foundation and the government was amply able to suppress all local disturbances. It appears that the present situation is a parallel to what happened prior to the Boxer outbreak with the exception that the present threatening aspect is not confined to two provinces in the north but prevails all over the empire. Missionaries are being warned to leave unaccessible spots and concentrate where they can be protected. Both the army and navy departments are making every effort to be ready to act at the moment the president gives the word.

BOYCOTT DECLARED SUBSIDING

The Chinese minister received a cablegram from the viceroy at Canton saying the boycott agitation has subsided and reporting everything quiet.

NATIONAL ASSEMBLY MEETS ON MAY 10TH

St. Petersburg, Feb. 26.—An Imperial ukase was issued today announcing that the national assembly will meet May 10th.

Timiriazoff, minister of commerce, who resigned February 19, said today that he had come to no decision regarding the withdrawal of his resignation but that if he should be given sufficient assurances of the change of the policy of the government he is willing to yield to pressure and remain in the cabinet. He said that he would have an interview with Premier Witte today and would announce his decision tomorrow.

GERMANY WILLING TO CONCEDE SOMEWHAT

Berlin, Feb. 26.—The German government has decided to make further concessions to French views on the Moroccan question provided France will also yield something. The ex-empire remarked, he will become known only at Algiers where they will be communicated to the French delegates. Emperor William and Chancellor Von Buelow, it is understood, would rather make an effort to reconcile the French claims and Germany's interests than to allow serious a situation to drift.

Some effort was made by certain small financiers to create a war scare out of the emperor's reply to the congratulatory address of his generals yesterday on the occasion of his military silver wedding at which time the emperor remarked, he prayed God war would not come, but if it should come he was convinced that the army would acquit itself as efficiently as it did thirty-five years ago.

MEMBERS OF FIRM RESIGN FROM SIX BIG COMPANIES

New York, Feb. 26.—The members of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb and company, had determined to retire from all railroad boards on which the firm is represented because the demands of their own business did not give them time to perform their duties as directors. They have resigned from the following boards: Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago & Alton, Denver & Rio Grande, Oregon Railroad & Navigation, Southern Pacific and a number of subsidiary corporations. It is understood that they will not retire from the boards of various banks, trust companies and similar corporations, with which they are identified.

MITCHELL IS LIKE LEWIS

Predicts No April Strike of Miners in Bituminous Fields.

GIVES NO REASON FOR IT

Anti-Injunction League Inaugurated by Striking Chicago Printers.

START WITH 7,500 MEMBERSHIP

New York, Feb. 26.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, today endorsed the opinion that there will be no general strike April 1st, next, which was given out last night in Indianapolis, by Vice President T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers. Mitchell was shown the vice president's statement, in which the latter said, in addition to the assertion that there will be no general strike, April 1st, that the operators will restrict the reduction accepted by the miners, two years ago, and perhaps will do more, and that an era of peace will be established for another period of years. After hearing the statement, Mitchell's aid: "I guess that is right."

INJUNCTION OF LABOR UNIONS TO BE FOUGHT.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 26.—Asking the co-operation of all labor unions in the country, Typographical Union, No. 16, yesterday launched an anti-injunction league, with the purpose of opening a general fight against the issuance of restraining court writs during the time of strikes and other labor troubles. The Federation of Labor will be asked to promote the league, and, if possible, to make it national in its scope. The league will start, it is expected, with membership of 75,000 trade unionists in Chicago. It is declared by the originators that more than fifty labor organizations in the country have been enjoined during strikes. As these organizations have a membership close to 10,000,000, if they are allied in action, a strong political force might be exerted against the issuance of labor injunctions.

A DOUBLE WEDDING IN WEALTHY FAMILIES

FESTIVITIES BEGAN AT 7 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING AND WILL CONTINUE UNTIL TONIGHT.

Rev. A. M. Mandalari, priest of the Church of Immaculate Conception at 7:30 o'clock this morning spoke the words which made Miss Clara Candelaria Mrs. Mabel Mirabal and Miss Prudencia Mirabal Mrs. M. A. Landelaria, thus uniting by a single ceremony two of the oldest and wealthiest Spanish families of New Mexico and Arizona with the bonds of matrimony. Then followed a very elaborate festival, which will continue until the close of a ball, which will take place in honor of the newly married couples at Colombo hall tonight. After the ceremony, the wedding party assembled at the home of Sylvester Mirabal, 421 West Copper avenue, where two long snow white linen covered tables laden with fruits, delicacies, wedding cake and wines awaited their coming. The wedding breakfast continued until about 1:30, guests present sitting at the feast in relays, so many were they that only about one fifth of them could be seated at one time. The perfume of fresh cut flowers filled the rooms. This afternoon the newly married couples were driving about the city in two double carriages. Mabel Mirabal is the daughter of Mr. A. M. Mirabal, who resides with her brother at 421 Copper avenue. He will take his bride to San Rafael, Valencia county, where he conducts a general merchandise store and is engaged in raising sheep. His bride is the daughter of Juan Candelaria, a wealthy sheep owner of Cocho, Arizona. Manuel A. Candelaria is the son of Juan Candelaria of Cocho and is engaged with his father in raising sheep, and newly wedded Mrs. Candelaria is the daughter of Sylvester Mirabal, of 421 Copper avenue, who is engaged in raising sheep in Valencia county. Mirabal is county commissioner of Valencia county.

Each of the families united by this double wedding has recently made large investments in Albuquerque real estate.

HERE FROM THE GREAT SALT LAKES

Jerry Gonzales, who holds a lease on salt lakes of west of Socorro county, is in the city, coming here to see how Mrs. Gonzales is getting along, after an operation which was performed upon her some time ago. Mrs. Gonzales and two children have been in the city the past couple of months, and the husband and father, much to his gratification, finds that Mrs. Gonzales' health is so much improved that she and the children will return home with him in a few days. Mr. Gonzales was introduced at the office of The Evening Citizen this afternoon, and he stated that within a certain distance of the salt lakes more than a hundred thousand sheep, owned by various parties, constantly graze, and that they are in the finest condition imaginable. These lakes, which supply tons of salt for natives, who, occasionally migrate to Albuquerque with sack loads, are located about 110 miles west of Magdalena, and the adjacent country presents most excellent advantages for grazing, producing nutritious grass in abundance, with all the water holes full of good water.

GOVERNOR OF IDAHO SPEAKS

Says Orchard Confessed to Twenty Six Murders in Labor's Cause.

ORCHARD IS DENIED BY WIFE

Moyer and Party Not Examined, Awaiting Grand Jury Call.

LAWYERS SPEAK OF TREATMENT

Boise, Feb. 26.—Governor Gooding has issued an order for $5000 damages with respect to the Steunenberg assassination case. He said that Harry Orchard made a full confession of the manner and motive of the assassination of Steunenberg. In that confession he implicated the men under arrest, and other including J. L. Stimpkins. He told the story of twenty-six murders in which all the accused parties are implicated, and said that there is no doubt that the accused will get a fair trial.

Orchard's Wife Objects.
None of the suspects under arrest in connection with the murder of Steunenberg were taken to Caldwell today, and none will be called before the grand jury until tomorrow. Floyd R. Thompson, secretary of the Western Mine Owners' association, has arrived from Cripple Creek, Colo., and will appear before the grand jury tomorrow to testify the prisoners. Thompson today stated that Harry Orchard's wife, who lives at Independence, Colo., has denied that the man under arrest here is her husband. The preliminary examination of Moyer, Haywood, Pettibone and Adams, which was set for tomorrow, will be postponed pending the proceedings before the grand jury. Attorneys representing the Western Federation of Miners continue to complain of the treatment accorded their clients at the state penitentiary. They are imprisoned under the same regulations, the lawyers say, as govern the keeping of convicts. The electric lights have been taken out of the cells and candles have been substituted. "This was done, it is said, to lessen the opportunity for suicide."

The condition of Orchard, which last week caused the prosecution some anxiety, has so far improved that recovery seems certain. He is with out favor.

BRINGS HEAVY DAMAGES AGAINST TRACTION CO.

SEVERIANO LUCERO SUES FOR $5000—WIFE KILLED BY TROLLEY CAR.

Severiano Lucero has filed in district court an action for $5000 damages against the Albuquerque Traction company as a result of the death of his wife caused, he alleges, as the result of being struck by one of the company's electric cars while being negligently operated.

Lucero deposes that on the 30th of September, 1905, while riding in a wagon drawn by a team of horses in company with his wife, Josefa Duran de Lucero, the vehicle was struck by a car at the corner of Tenth street and Railroad avenue, the violent concussion throwing both himself and wife to the ground where she was trampled upon by the horses, sustaining injuries that resulted in her death the same day.

The case is scheduled to come up at the regular jury term of district court next month.

OTHER CASES FILED.

Other cases filed are Donaciano Gallegos vs. Michael Mandell, E. M. Sandoval and O. P. Hovey; the First National Bank vs. E. M. Sandoval and James E. Haines vs. H. S. Arnold.

POPULATION OF ALBUQUERQUE PASSES THE 11,000 MARK

EVENING CITIZEN SEMI-OFFICIAL ESTIMATE LAST FRIDAY WAS CLOSE TO FIGURES.

Last Friday this paper published a semi-official estimate of the population of Albuquerque as ascertained by the four enumerators employed by the common council and exclusively stated that the number of the population would be between 10,000 and 11,000. The official figures of the census men are as follows:
First Ward 1394
Second Ward 3223
Third Ward 2451
Fourth Ward 3402
Total 11,070
This leaves the proposition to float $30,000 worth of bonds for the construction of a new city hall up to the qualified voters of the municipality. These figures do not include suburban towns, which would swell the population to at least 17,000; namely old Albuquerque precinct, Bernalillo, etc.

REO MOUNTAINEER CAME IN SUNDAY EVENING

The "Reo Mountaineer" automobile arrived in Albuquerque a few minutes past 6 o'clock last evening and was berthed for the night at Dodds' garage on Gold avenue. The machine was in good condition considering the hard usage it has had. Percy McGeard and David M. Fassel, who are driving the machine, expect to leave again for the case this evening or tomorrow morning. The machine was sized up by many localities last evening, among whom were several automobile experts. These persons were amazed at the excellent condition of the huge touring car.

FRIAR MASSACRE

IN 1681 REVOLT

The Historical Society of New Mexico Secures Most Valuable Book.

A LIST OF THOSE MURDERED

The historical society of New Mexico has just obtained the most remarkable interesting document that exists regarding the history of this part of the United States. It is most extraordinary that after more than 200 years, this record of events that occurred in 1681, should be returned to Santa Fe.The way that this acquisition occurred is interesting. Hon. L. B.
Prince, the president of the society, spends much time when traveling, in examining catalogues of rare books, from all parts of the world. In the hope of finding something of value regarding New Mexico. It is in this way that the society has obtained the very rare edition of the travels of Cabeza de Vaca, printed in 1555, and the expedition of Espejo, printed in 1588, and many other rare and valuable works.

Hears of Sermon.

Last November, when going to New York, Governor Prince was reading the catalogues of a large book store in Santiago de Chile, with little expectation of finding anything of importance, when he was greatly surprised to find the description of a pamphlet which contains the sermon preached in the City of Mexico on March 20, 1681, in commemoration of the twenty-one Franciscan friars who were killed by the Pueblo Indians in New Mexico, at the beginning of the revolt of 1680. No one here knew that such a sermon was ever delivered, much less that it was printed.Of course, nothing could be of greater interest and value in New Mexico than this account of the martyrdom of these twenty-one missionaries on August 10, 1680, written and printed at the very time of their death.
The great fear was that the precious book would be sold before a letter could reach Chile, so not a moment was lost in sending an order, and on Monday last this remarkable document was received in Santa Fe. It is somewhat injured by the knowing of rats, but not enough to impair its interest and value.The title is as follows, modernizing the spelling:"Oracion Funebre que dijo el Doctor
D. Isidoro Sarinanez y Cheuca, Chan-tree de la Santa Iglesia Metropolitana de Mexico, Calfador del Tribunal del
Santo Oficio de la Inquisicion, etc."

"El dia 20 de Marzo de 1681."

"Presente el Excmo. Senor Marques de la Laguna.""Conde de Paredes, Virrey de esta Nueva Espana en las Esquejas de Veinte y un Religiosos de la regular observancia del Serafico Padre San Francisco, que murieron a manos de los Moros Apostatas del Nuevo Mexico, en diez de Agosto del ano de 1680."

Those Dead.

The sermon is prefaced by short articles from Father Ayeta, the head of the mission, who was saved by being in Mexico at the time of the revolution, and others.It contains a full list of the twenty one friars killed, as follows:Padre Juan Bautista Pino, native of Victoria, killed at Tesuque, while celebrating mass. Padre Juan Bernal and Padre Domingo de Vaca, natives of the most noble City of Mexico, killed at Galisteo. Padre Joseph de Trujillo, killed at Xongopavi, (Moqui).
Padre Fernando de Velasco, thirty years a missionary, killed at Porciuncula. Padre Thomas de Tones, born at Tepozotlan, killed at Nambe. Padre Luis de Morales. Padre Antonio Sanchez, killed at Picuris. Padre Juan de la Pedrosa, killed at Taos. Padre
Manuel Tinoco, killed at San Marcos.
Padre Francisco Antonio Lorenzana, killed at Taos. Padre Juan de Luna-

Special Correspondence.

New York, Feb. 24.—It is to be feared that Norman Hapgood has been spoiled by the magnificent victory he won as editor of Collier's Weekly, over Town Topics, Fads and Fancies, and Colonel Mann. Everybody thought highly of him as one of the most courageous men in his profession, and also one of the most sure of his facts and best prepared to substantiate them by proof. But now he has charged upon the newspapers, like some Don Quixote attacking the windmill. At the Hudson theater Mr. Hapgood charged that every New York newspaper was corrupt. He didn't mince matters at all or beat about the bush, but gave names plumply and squarely, and gave specific cases. Now some people believe all the time that the editors of our big papers sometimes publish things, not entirely for the public good, but occasionally for a little profit for themselves. Who can tell the inner motives that animate the editors when they pen their articles, but we prefer to believe that all our great newspaper men are serving the public sincerely as their best judgment tells them. We are too apt to judge people harshly who hold different views from our own, and parties whose minds are filled with one idea are usually given to elevating that above all others. In considering public questions and the men who are connected with public affairs, Mr. Hapgood as editor, and the newspaper he edits, Collier's Weekly, have been campaigning for some time against patent medicines, and Mr. Hapgood and his newspaper evidently consider any publisher inserting advertisements recommending these nostrums perforce influences his editor as to silence on the subject, but that doesn't follow, by any manner of means.

Mr. Hapgood also took a shy at President Roosevelt, accusing him of inactivity. Many say nowadays to be disposed to fling at President Roosevelt so far as they dare, having in view his wonderful popularity. Mr. Hapgood seems to think that Mr. Roosevelt, having a profound sense of his own standing and position, takes advantage of it to beat down all who challenge his statements. This is a common practice among politicians of importance and very wealthy men. It is a very prominent trait of what are called the "respectable class," that they think their word should count for everything, and the other fellow's word for nothing. This is a trait which is impetuous, of strong convictions and fearless in expressing them, and when he wants anything he wants it very much, and so when he meets opposition he is apt to fling himself at it without stopping to choose his words, and in his haste says what which in his cooler moments he doesn't hold, and really thinks he never said. Mr. Hapgood was comparing him to Lincoln. That wasn't fair. Nobody can be compared with Lincoln, but we must remember that when Lincoln was living he had more detractors and enemies than any man in history. He has, since his death, lived in any public position in this country. The little accusations, insinuations, surmises and deductions against President Roosevelt are but as flies by him to those that were hurled at Lincoln so constantly that the air was fairly saturated with them, and with all that there was such a stream of live public abuse that it was fairly sickening.

YOUNG PASTOR FOR REMARKABLE WORK.

The Rev. Hugh Birchhead has accepted the pastorate of St. George's Protestant Episcopal church in Stuyvesant square, which was resigned by the great Dr. Rainsford. Mr. Birchhead is a young man, and there are many who fear that he is not strong enough for the position. St. George's is the oldest Episcopal, or Protestant church in the city. All the great preachers, and is a veritable hive or varied lines of work, all at high pressure. Rainsford was a giant, but the work broke down his health, and the famed rector of St. George's is now seeking recuperation in the shadow of the pyramids. J. Pierpont Morgan, who has been the great financial backer of the enterprise from the time St. George's was built up from nothing into abnormal strength, selected Mr. Birchhead, believes in him, and will sustain him so far as money goes. But that isn't all that is required.

NEW YORK FERRY QUESTION LOOMS LARGE.

It is very evident that the city will have to take over the ferry lines on the East river. The two bridges over the river—the old Brooklyn bridge and the Williamsburg bridge—have already killed the profit earning of the ferry lines, and the companies running them are practically bankrupt, there not being profit enough in the traffic to much more than pay expenses, and on some of the routes not enough to do even that.

When the bridges between the two now in working order are built and opened to traffic, there will be scarcely any travel at all on the boats, not even on the Fulton ferry, which has been a big money maker these many years, and from the start. Already some of the East river lines have taken off night boats, so sparse is the traffic. The dock commissioner thinks that eventually the city will have to run them, and it is advocated that there be no ferry charges. This is the style that London ferry boats are run, the theory being that the city is profited by bringing people to it, in order that they may spend their money within its limits. It will take a pile of money to make the deal, however, probably about

WHILE AT GLOBE.
J. C. Plemmons received a telegram from Globe, Ariz., saying that Charles Clark had broken his leg, says the Hillsboro Advocate. Mrs. Clark, who was visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis, was notified of her husband's misfortune and left at once for Globe.

BONANZA MINE ORE ISIMPROVING RIGHT ALONG.

The showing of ore at the Bonanza mine in Sierra county, is improving right along. They now have opened up 400 running feet of good ore; they have above them about 150 feet of stopping ground, which is known to exist 600 feet ahead of the present new workings. The mine commenced on the level where the recent strike was made and is now down twelve feet, showing a pay streak of two feet.

MEVICKER RETURNS TOGALLUP FROM CALIFORNIA.

William Mevicker, who was in California on business connected with the Gallup Fuel company, has returned to Gallup. He stated that there was no truth in the statement that he had been seriously ill while in Los Angeles. On the contrary, he enjoyed the best of health during his visit to the coast. Mr. Mevicker was successful on his mission to California, and within a short time great improvements will be made in the plant of the fuel company and the mine made ready to produce coal on a large scale.

PRESSMAN DIES FROMCONSUMPTION AT LAS VEGAS.

Roy Chester Johnson, aged 21 years, passed to the great beyond yesterday, says the Las Vegas Optic. About a month ago the young man came to the city from Indianapolis, Ind., suffering with tuberculosis. He improved, and appeared to have every chance of recovery, but a few days ago he contracted a severe cold, which developed into pneumonia. Mr. Johnson was married, and his wife and child arrived from Chicago the day before his death. His wife's sister, wife of A. R. Warren, of the Optic office, accompanied Mrs. Johnson to Las Vegas. The body will be shipped to Indianapolis for burial, the wife and child accompanying it.

FORGER RAE NOW INJAIL AT SANTA FE.

James B. Rae, arrested at Estancia, Torrance county, last Sunday evening on suspicion of being the Stenwall county bank robber, was taken to Santa Fe by S. S. Phillips, a deputy sheriff of Torrance county, and placed in the jail there for safe keeping. He will be held there until the Texas authorities have been heard from. Rae would not discuss the arrest, except to say that he is the victim of mistaken identity. As previously published, he was arrested on complaint of Station Agent John F. Kennedy at Estancia, who alleges that Rae asked him to cash an express order for $25, after having first presented and withdrawn a draft for $300, on the First National bank of Chicago, signed by Treasurer A. C. Tarbell, of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railway company. Pictures of the man who was arrested have been sent to the police authorities at Houston, Texas, for identification.

MINE OWNERS WILL SOONGET OUT GOOD ORE.

Dr. J. E. Jess, manager of the Keystone mining property near Cerrillos, drove overland to Santa Fe the other day to buy supplies. He was accompanied by C. W. Green, in charge of the shaft work on the property. They have returned to Cerrillos. In speaking of the Keystone mine, Dr. Jess said:

"We expect to have all of our shaft work completed by the end of next week and in a short time will be able to take out ore. We have reinstalled a concentrating plant for copper ore, and we expect to start shipping ore early in the spring but have not decided just where we will send it as yet. There has been some talk of the opening up of the smelter at Cerrillos, but I think nothing definite has been decided on. When we begin active mining we will probably employ twenty-five men, but this number will be increased as we open up the property. I am confident that we will find a plentiful supply of lead and good values in zinc and silver, as we go deeper into the ground."

SUIT FILED AGAINSTEX-COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

District Attorney Merritt C. Meekins, for the counties of Quay and Guadalupe, who attended to legal business in Santa Fe, is preparing a petition in the case entitled the County of Guadalupe, plaintiff, vs. Raymond Harrison, James M. Abernethy, Well, Leon Fanebough, ex-members of the board of county commissioners of Guadalupe county, defendants, who retired from office January 1, 1905. The petition will be filed with the clerk of the Sixth judicial district court at Alamogordo. In this case the County of Guadalupe is suing the old County of county commissioners for the sum of $2,583.70, which amount it is alleged was misappropriated by that board. When Guadalupe county was subdivided into Quay county and Leonard Wood county, (now Guadalupe county), the latter county received the sum of $12,087. There was at this time, the petition states, a floating and unsecured indebtedness of $9,497.30, which the board of county commissioners paid. This should have left a balance equal to the amount for which suit is brought, but it is alleged the commissioners paid off debts with the amount remaining, which said indebtedness had been made void by law.

WILL BE A CRIPPLE ASRESULT OF ACCIDENT

Charles W. G. Ward of Las Vegas, who spent Sunday here, returned to his home last night. Mr. Ward stated that the accounts of the street car accident, in which Governor Hagerman figured, at Las Vegas, was not exaggerated in the least, and that the Governor had a very narrow escape. He further stated that in all probability, Mr. Buddecke of Las Vegas, who was the most seriously injured in the accident, would be a cripple for life, if death itself did not result from his wounds. Mr. Buddecke's leg was badly crushed, the bones being shattered in such a manner as to make the proper setting difficult.

STEER CLEAR OF THE DRESSCUTTING SYSTEM MEN

If a glib talker, smooth in manners, should call upon you, ladies of Albuquerque, and try to interest you in a dress cutting system for which he will ask you to give up a few of the shekels you have filched from your husband's pockets, list not to him, for he is a pay deceiver, according to a Trinidad paper's account of his dealings in that city. His game is to make a house to house canvass with a dress cutting chart, offer to teach the system, collect a few dollars in advance, and never come back. He worked this way. Look out for him.

BURSOM WILL NOT RESIGN

Superintendent H. O. Bursom of the territorial penitentiary, at Santa Fe, who was in the city for a short time last night, en route to his sheep ranch in Socorro county, in response to inquiries propounded by a representative of The Evening Citizen, made the following declaration in reference to the rumor that he would resign the superintendency of the penitentiary:

"You may say," said Mr. Bursom, "that at present I have no intention whatever of resigning."

Chance for Profit Offered The Evening Citizen Readers. Let No One Fail to Benefit.

If one can only recognize the symptoms of indigestion in the early stages, he is in a position to promote himself by proper attention. "He is twice armed who is fore warned." Now is the time to be benefited. Just as soon as you find that your food can be tasted after eating, when the abdomen swells of bloating, when the tongue is furled, the breath heavy, the appetite poor, the head dull and aching occasionally, then is the time for treatment with Mi-na. This reliable remedy is a perfect restorer and strengthener of the whole digestive system. It restores lost functions to the stomach, strengthens the nervous system, and enables one to eat what he likes, without fear of distress or trouble. So uniformly successful has Mi-na been in curing all stomach troubles that J. H. O'Brien & Co. give a signed guarantee with every 50 cent box to refund the money if it does not cure. The risk is all theirs.

NAVAL EXPERTS SAY MORE DISPLACEMENT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—In the discussion by the naval experts concerning the designs of the battle ship or several large ships to be authorized at the present session of congress there is already observed a difference of opinion concerning the displacement. The general naval board is in favor and has urged recommended a displacement of 15,000 tons, as compared with 16,000 tons, the former displacement plan, which is considered in favor to battle ships of more recent design now under construction by Great Britain, France and Russia. It is believed, however, that the 2,000 additional displacement recommended by the general board is not sufficient, at least. Such an opinion is expressed by certain naval officers, including Rear Admiral Capps, the chief constructor of the navy. It is pointed out that if the displacement of the new battle ship is to be increased, it might as well be made 20,000 tons. It is considered that the 2,000 tons extra will not give the benefits of speed and increased battery, which will compensate for the extra cost of the enlargement. It is evident that the discussion of this point will be most interesting, and that out of the agitation will develop a battle ship in this country, which will surpass in size, speed, protection and armament, anything of the same class designed or now building abroad. Each year these advances in battle ship designs have been considered as marking the end of their development, but each year some new feature has been adopted, so that it is considered that the development of the battle ship has by no means terminated. The matter is still under consideration by the naval authorities, and it is expected that even after a definite decision has been reached, the fight over the tonnage may be carried into congress.

Beautify Your Homes

The New Mexican says that "one of the most important social questions of the day is how to improve and beautify the cities of the country. The people of America have been the busiest people on earth. The first comers have been the Indians, who lived in the forests and ploughed the prairie to earn the means of existence. After a while came the building of towns and cities. The first attempts were crude and unsightly, but they served the purpose of the times. Soon more artistic buildings, on wider and more commodious streets were erected, and for a while the people were satisfied; but not for long. A desire which has become a demand has arisen for planting trees along the residence streets and such streets are not considered perfect without them. The best example of how beautiful a city can be made under very unpromising circumstances, is Washington, D. C. Fifty years ago it was one of the most raw, unsightly cities in America. General Grant and "Boss" Shepard might be called the creators of the Capital of the Nation. They began and amid much opposition and opprobrium persevered in the good work. For all time they will be regarded as the greatest benefactors of that city. The many stately avenues are lined with trees from end to end, which impart a beauty which nothing else could and affords a delicious shade beneath which people can walk at all times in comfort. Probably no more beautiful sylvan scene can be enjoyed anywhere than the view of Washington from Arlington Heights. With the exception of the Washington Monument, the Capitol and a few other very high buildings, the entire city is lost to view amid the verdure of leafy trees and umbrageous foliage. The general effect is charming beyond description."

The Citizen has not infrequently urged upon the people of Albuquerque, property owner and tenant alike, both the importance and the duty of beautifying our city. Arbor Day will soon arrive, and on that occasion, not a man, woman or child—except in the decrepitude of age or the helplessness of infancy—should fail of making some addition to the permanent adornment of the Duke City. The city census, but just taken, for school purposes, is most satisfactory. By all means it should awaken each citizen to renewed pride, energy and action, and in the resulting efforts for continued advancement along systematically adopted lines, home beautification should take the lead.

The Parcels Post

Postmaster General Cortelyou is quoted by W. E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald, as thinking that the country at present is not prepared for a parcels post; and yet Cortelyou, if Curtis guesses him correctly, has given the strongest possible refutation of his own position. He said, according to Curtis:

"The record made by the postal service during the Christmas holidays shows what it is capable of, however, in handling packages of merchandise. There was never so severe a test before, and, notwithstanding the fact that an enormous quantity of extra letters, post cards and packages were thrown upon us, beginning with the 20th of December and lasting until after New Year's, there was not the slightest confusion or delay. Every day's business was cleared up and every package was started on its journey before the offices were closed, and the deliveries were just as prompt and thorough. We did not get swamped anywhere. No carrier failed to make his regular deliveries on time, although loaded down with as much weight as he could carry. We beat the express companies in time and promptness of delivery throughout the entire holiday season, and if you had taken the trouble to inspect their offices and compare them with the postoffices during the holiday season you would appreciate the zeal and loyalty and the hard work that was done by our men."

Brooklyn (N. Y.) Eagle: Open air treatment of the sick is obviously to be undertaken only under the guidance of a physician. But there is no doubt that those of us who call ourselves well might be a great deal better if we doubled the number of hours which we spend out of doors. The open window for sleeping rooms is now impressed on the entire rising generation. Perhaps the time may come when we find it practical to keep on overcoats and caps and do office work with all windows open. Where is the genius who will invent a glove loose enough for warmth and yet flexible enough to permit of using a pen or typewriter expertly? The sky-scraping office buildings of New York make an ideal field to experiment with work in the open air. The winds that blow from the lower bay at this season have ozone enough to overcome either tuberculosis or pneumonia. The old notion that they would overcome the man reckless enough to breathe them seems to be giving way before the progress of experiment.

New Mexican: The Mounted Police will do well to pay attention to the desperadoes who are said to have assembled in the Mogollon mountains in western Socorro county. The hold up and kidnapping of Robert W. Hannigan, a few days ago, in that section, calls for more than ordinary action. Indeed, extraordinary efforts should be made by the officers of Grant and Socorro counties and by the Mounted Police to apprehend Holliman, the desperado who was the chief actor, and his confederates. They were guilty of several crimes which demand speedy and condign punishment after due trial and conviction. Their capture, trial and conviction will mean much for the cause of justice in the St. Albans Territory.

Gallup Republican: The fame of the artesian well in Gallup is spreading far and near, and the strike of an artesian flow in the valley of the Puerco river is attracting considerable attention. The industrial commissioner of the Santa Fe railroad was informed by letter of the strike of the artesian water in this city, and has written to the editor of the Republican for particulars, and asks to be kept posted on the future developments of the well. He stated in his letter that he would see to the matter of giving the news of the discovery of artesian water in this valley the greatest publicity in the east, where there is great interest displayed in the agricultural possibilities of this immediate section of the southwest.

The Civic Improvement League of Columbia, S. C., an active branch of the American Civic Association, has received permission from the board of directors of the Timrod Library to place in one corner of the reading room a table containing civic improvement literature. The use of this literature is open to the public. At the beginning the collection is small, though the writings bear upon almost every phase of improvement work. Additions will be made from time to time as new publications appear. No doubt the directors of the Albuquerque Free Library could secure on application to the American Civic Association, a supply of similar literature.

The following statement of the increase of currency in this country in eleven months, would seem to indicate but little need of a more elastic currency. On January 1, 1905, the total money in the country was $2,839,103.1690. On December 1, 1905, it was $2,976,402.142, showing an increase amounting to $137,298.973, an increase monthly increase of $12,481.725, and a per capita increase of 63 cents. In eleven months, The National banks increased their circulation from $464,794.135 on January 1, 1905, to $533,329.258 on December 1, 1905, an increase of $68,535.122 in eleven months.

Charlotte, N. C. Observer: "My own personal ideas," says Jacob A. Rills, who is the president of the Rills, "are that he should be mayor of New York when he goes out of office here. If not that, I should like to see him in congress, where he could continue to do something for the people." It has been said, we don't know by what authority, that Mr. Roosevelt would like to go to the senate after the expiration of his presidential service, and there is no doubt about the fact that he would be very valuable in helping Mr. Tillman to keep that body patrolled up.

Hunting For Sport

Relic of Barbarism

An exchange tells of an Omaha preacher who went up in the northwest and spent several days shooting meadow larks. For the slaughtering of the birds he was arrested and fined $100. Which served him right. One wonders whether this minister knows anything of the Audubon Society, an organization of some of the best people in the world, which is spending money and energy, largely in vain—to save the birds from destruction and future generations from living in a birdless world. Down deep this minister of Christ is a Pagan, who enjoys the sport of killing meadow larks as much, in his way, as Nero did in killing Christians for fun.

Who that has listened long to the thrilling notes of the American meadow lark has not felt as if the liquid tones come down from the skies above—a message of love from the Lord of love? What sort of a man is he, preacher or what-not, who for the mere sake of killing, would be the assassin rather than the protector and lover of these feathered choristers of the field? Who would be cruel enough to hush the song of the little throat, almost bursting in praise of its Maker, and bathe it in its own innocent blood? Perhaps the preacher thought only of the hunt. He was just hunting—that relic of barbarism.

There was a time when hunting was the business of life and was justifiable. The primitive man must needs fare forth to find his food, wherever he might. The pioneer of new lands had a like excuse; but in this day there is no defense for the mere sport of hunting—the killing of birds and animals for amusement. It is the indulgence of barbarous instincts inherited from bloody ancestors. He must be a hard hearted man, who can, with no pity in his heart, look upon the innocent, fluttering bird that he has wounded to the death, weltering in its blood, agonizing in its throes. Somewhere in his veins, if he have no compunction, must be the coarse blood of the low assassin. Nor is the inducement of big game sufficient to justify the huntsman, who with horse and dog and gun, follows the inoffensive creature, who shoots down the gentle doe or reindeer. Veterans of the hunt have told how sometimes as they looked into the horror-stricken, almost human eyes of their prey, a great pity of the poor creatures, butchered to make a holiday, has come upon them. It is a long cry from the barbarous to the humane. The world grows humane but slowly. Some day the man who kills the innocent and the gentle for mere fun's sake will be despised by his fellow men.

PRIZE FIGHTER

ACCUSED THIEF

Guy Brahm Pitted Against Billie Pettis Gets Into Serious Trouble.

SENTENCED TO 10 DAYS ON STREETS

Guy Brahm, a young, muscular and finely developed young man of probably 25 years, was sentenced to serve ten days on the streets of Albuquerque this morning by Police Justice Crawford, on the vagrancy charge. The original charge against Brahm was securing money under false pretenses.

The police report states, in this connection, that Brahm called upon Lora Anderson yesterday, a rooming house lady, informed her that one Virginia Meestas wished the loan of $5, and Virginia had sent him for the "Y" spot. As the Meestas girl was a roomer at the place and had good credit, it is said that the money asked for was given to Brahm, and he disappeared. Later in the day Miss Meestas met the Anderson woman, notes were exchanged, and the facts in the money deal learned, and then there were two angry women. To the police they immediately took their troubles. The police found Brahm not long afterwards and to the city prison they took him, where he was confined over night.

In police court this morning Brahm denied receiving any money from the Anderson woman or from any other person. He said he was brought to this city to go on a boxing exhibition lodge. This fell through and he remained in the city at the request of certain members of the Eagles lodge, who were arranging for a similar event. This too, fell through, but still, friends of Brahm induced him to remain in the city.

Chief McMillin told the court that Brahm's familiar vocation was loafing. That he, himself, had repeatedly ordered the fellow out of town, and likewise had the rest of the police force.

It developed that the coat and vest Brahm had on belonged to another party, Brahm alleging that a friend and himself had simply traded, and that his recommendations as a switchman were in the vest that the other party had on. The "other party" says, however, that Brahm is wearing his clothes without permission, and he is wearing Brahm's through no choice of his own. Judge Crawford's sentence does not permit Brahm to pay a fine even if he is able to raise the money.

Kirk Bryan, Will Viles, R. Jafa, Ralph Taxcher, McGuire, Heald and Pearlstein, the chaperones being Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchener.

The musical and dance to be given by the Fraternal Brotherhood at Elks' Hall has been postponed until tomorrow night, owing to a conflict of dates with the party of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hubbell, which takes place in Elks' Hall, tonight. The Fraternal Brotherhood and their promises to entertain, by far, anything previously given by that lodge.

The ladies of the St. John's Guild will give a birthday party in Guild Hall, tomorrow evening, at which time a very excellent musical program will be rendered, including such well known local artists as Mesdames DeWolf, Fattelle-Gideon, Decker, Harrison, Hubbs, Lyon, and Miss Chestnut, and Messrs. Maynard, Maloy, Wright, McCallahan and Tolan.

Probably what will be one of the most elaborate dancing parties given in Albuquerque, this season, will be the party tonight in Elks' hall at which Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Hubbell will be the host and hostess. Over 500 invitations to the affair have been issued, and it is safe to say that the majority of these have been accepted, and that the ball room of the Elks' Opera House tonight will be well filled with guests of these well known and popular entertainers.

The Congregational church had one of the largest congregations present last evening that it probably ever has held, attracted there by the announcement of the sacred concert which was rendered by the celebrated harpist, Mrs. Sarah Wadhwa Brown, supported by a number of talented Albuquerque musicians. The program was excellent in every respect, and the auditorium was packed to the doors, standing room in the rear of the church and in the lobby. Mrs. Brown showed rare ability and proved immensely entertaining. Mr. Heatherington sang "The Holy City." "Help Me to Pray" was rendered by Mr. James Miss Campbell, Mrs. Washburn and Mrs. Gibbs also rendered vocal solos, and Mrs. Brown gave four harp numbers.

PUEBLOS CELEBRATE ACEQUIA DANCE

Many From Albuquerque Witnessed Spectacle at Isleta Yesterday.

FIESTA CONTINUED ALL DAY LONG

Yesterday all day, at their pueblos in Isleta, the Pueblo Indians celebrated the completion of work on their acequia, a task which has consumed much time and cost considerable hard labor.

The beautiful, warm Sunday, drew hundreds from this city and surrounding country, for the series of spectacles such as take place on these annual occasions, are well worth the time the trip to Isleta requires. By 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, there was scarcely a horse and carriage obtainable in the city, and if the reader could have stationed himself at some point on the Isleta road from this city, he would have witnessed hundreds of such vehicles winding their way toward the Indian settlement. Many others enjoyed the trip by train.

A thirteen-mile ride by the winding and rough pike takes you to the celebrated pueblo and into a spacious plaza, surrounded by white adobe houses and buildings of quaint architecture with blue coated doors and blinds.

On every roof, huddled in small groups, stood or sat the stalwart Pueblo Indian with his squaw and children wrapped in their multi-colored blankets of home weaves, in spite of the torrid sun. At about every dozen were similar gatherings. They, with 100 or more white spectators, were steadily watching a band of redskins executing a most eccentric dance, when The Evening Citizen reporter drove into the inclosure. One tall and stately Pueblo was engaged in slowly beating a tom-tom, while the others fell into a V shape. Every other one in line was a female, and there were also several children scattered through the line. The women, with their lower limbs snugly wound, and wrapped up, tight in their blankets, took hold of the hands of the men-folk. As the man at the tom-tom decreased the intervals between beats, those at the extreme left of the line began a strange cant, moving their hands backward and forward simultaneously, until the whole paean had caught it and were similarly engaged. Then in perfect time the dancers stepped ahead with the left foot, then back with the same foot, then to the right, moving the right foot a stride ahead at the completion of this time, back and back and right movement.

The strange cant, or prayer varied from a low pitch to piercing shrieks and vice versa. Gradually the V expanded into a straight line, and a minute or so afterwards, the cant ended, only to be repeated.

Another dance, wherein the tom-tom Indian had to literally pound his head off, was where all rapidly followed each other two abreast, accompanied by a series of war whoops, and in which a number of evolutions were prettily executed, the dance winding up in the yard of the chief, into whose house all repaired for his blessing and refreshments.

The Indian clusters on the house tops, those in their courts, or lying close to the buildings, the eccentric dancers on the plaza, and the gay blending of colors, formed a picturesque sight difficult to equal, and impossible to surpass.

Among the distinguished visitors were Judge Ira A. Abbott and General Manager Wells of the Santa Fe, and parties.

Such dances as described above, with many others, together with feasting and merry making, continued all day. The canals were prayers for water to fill the acequias, and the other modes of celebrating those to commemorate the finishing of necessary work on the acequias or acequia, which are to bring the water to the farms of the Indians that they may be properly moistened and crop productive.

He was a very popular man in this city, who extended to the wife and son their deepest sympathy. ESTIMATE OF COST TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

Caused by Longworth Marriage, Made by Citizen's Special Representative at Washington--New Railway Regulation Dodge Is Too Thin

OTHER GOOD STORIES FROM NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 26.—Now that the wedding is a week gone by, and the bride couple have departed on the honeymoon, Washington is beginning to reach a state of mind when it can with patience contemplate some of the more serious, even if less absorbing, affairs of the nation.

Some one, wholly in good nature, has attempted to figure out what the marriage of Miss Roosevelt to Mr. Longworth cost the government and the people of the United States. With out taking into account the value of wedding gifts and the outlay for wedding feasts for 1,000 guests, two items of no mean aggregate, the estimate begins with the fact that for weeks preceding the event several thousand department employees spent on an average one-third of their supposed working hours talking and thinking about the marriage of the president's daughter.

On Friday and Saturday of last week, business in the department was almost wholly paralyzed. Many thousands of dollars were spent in telegraphic and cable tolls, furnishing accounts of the wedding to the newspapers of the world, and the mere cost of the white paper upon which these accounts were printed, would foot up an enormous total. Nearly every newspaper in the United States, and hundreds in other countries, published portraits of the bride and groom, each one of which cost money.

The above constitute some of the visible and immediate costs. By far the greater cost, this lover of figures has it, will be the example which has been set for future brides. No one of them, of course, will attempt to rival the wedding of the president's daughter, but the precedent is made, and the cost of weddings will be increased, say, on an average of $10 each for the next year, and a good many years will have to pass before the influence has wholly run its course.

Figures are given which run away up into the millions of dollars, and they are so manifestly lacking in any authoritative basis that they need not even be quoted. It doesn't take any longer to say a billion dollars than it does to say a million.

The American people always are willing to pay and to pay liberally for being entertained. In answering argument, therefore, is that no matter what the White House wedding cost, the people, as least the feminine half of them, got their money's worth.

DIDN'T KNOW TWO WORDS ARE IN "DAMNED YANKEE."

Representative J. Adam Bede's latest story is of a southern girl and a northern girl who leaned together over the railing of the house gallery listening to a debate. They were strangers and neither knew the geography of the other.

A member from a southern state waxed eloquent and warm over a pending question, and in the heat of argument his grammar slipped away from him. After a particularly vicious assault upon the king's English, the northern girl turned to her neighbor and said:

"Isn't it surprising what a vast amount of ignorance there is down south?"

"Yes, indeed," drawled the girl from Dixie, without so much as looking up. "Why, will you believe that I was 21 years old before I knew the expression 'damned Yankee' consisted of two words?"

NEW DODGE BY RATE
REGULATION OPPOSERS.

It will be a relief to the country when Congress finally makes an end of the railroad rate regulation business. That the subject is one of the most important with which the law-making body has had to deal in the memory of the present generation, cannot be denied, but nevertheless, every one will be glad when the agony is over.

The public mind is becoming hopelessly befogged with all the technical points that have been raised for and against the administration measure. It would seem that if the ablest lawyers of the land were unable to reach a common ground of agreement that the layman might as well give up hope, there is not an absence of suspicion, however, that some one is engaged in trying to throw dust in the eyes of the public. Lawyers, as a rule, have no patience with the old maxim that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. They prefer, if their case be not wholly a clear one, at least, to arrive at a given point through a maze of technicalities bewildering to the uninitiated.

Just now the lawyers of the senate are engaging themselves with the question of court review of rate decisions which it is proposed to empower the interstate commerce commission to make. The statement is made that the president no longer doubts the advisability of having in the law a specific provision for review. He has been convinced, it is stated on excellent authority, that unless the law carries this provision, the whole statute may be declared unconstitutional by the courts, and thus all the hard work done by himself and the supporters of his campaign for railroad reform would fall and the entire work would have to be done over.

amending the house bill so as to make it constitutional beyond reasonable doubt.

In support of this position it is pointed out that the constitution provides that private property shall not be taken without due process of law, and any statute empowering a commission to reduce or increase railroad rates comes directly under this provision.

In this purview of the subject, the rate fixed by a railroad, as private property, hence, if this rate is decreased, property is taken. If the rate is increased by the commission, property, by the same token, is taken from the shipper. The argument is plain that for the government thus to interfere with the rights of property is a due process of law must be prescribed by the statute giving this extraordinary authority. This, roughly, is known to be the basic argument of all the supporters of the president's railroad policy who are contending for an amendment of the Hepburn bill providing for court review.

Just how far the review to be provided for should go is still a matter of doubt and discussion. It is said to be held by so able a lawyer as Senator Knox, who has been chosen by President Roosevelt to draft the review amendment, that the court's jurisdiction, when once established, cannot be limited or circumscribed; that when a contested rate once gets into court, every issue involved will be tried by the court.

If this view shall be shown to be correct, the efforts of that element of senators who contend that the court should not be authorized to review the whole case de novo, and without being influenced to any extent by the findings of the commission, will be of no avail.

ABOMINABLE SYSTEM OF SPIES IN PRINTING OFFICE.

That his establishment known as the government printing office, needs to be a veritable brooding place of discord, the had taste left in the public mouth by the squabble between Public Printer Palmer and Foreman of Printing Ricketts, has not yet wholly disappeared, and now comes a fresh outbreak, inspired by some reform which has been inaugurated by Public Printer Stillings, the successor of Mr. Palmer.

A lot of "general orders" have been issued by Mr. Stillings which have got the big printers by the ears. The most radical of these, and the one against which the employees rail the most bitterly, forbids talking during working hours. They declare it now smacks of a penal institution, and they profess to wonder if the next "order" will not prescribe a working uniform of stripes. The restraint is regarded as a humiliation by the men and women who do Uncle Sam's printing, and the force appears to be pretty badly demoralized.

"Why," said a veteran printer, who has been in the office something like a quarter of a century, "if I ask my alley-mate for a chew of tobacco, I am violating the public printer's orders, and subjecting myself to some terrible punishment. I don't know just what. Anybody knows a printer can't work unless he's got a chew, and if I've left my plug at home the government will be a bigger loser than if I stopped every five minutes to beg a bite."

The printers object as much to the form as to the substance of Mr. Stillings' orders. They say they are drawn up in the style of army orders, but couched in language that might well be employed to convicts. They want to know when the lock-step is to be introduced, and make other comments that would not like to hear.

The most serious charge the printers make against Mr. Stillings and one which, if well founded, is entitled to consideration, is that a spy system has been introduced, whereby non-compliance with the general orders is reported to headquarters by workmen in minor capacities, instead of the foremen in charge.

CARNEGIE WILL PROVIDE FOR FORMER EMPLOYEES.

A pretty story is told of how Andrew Carnegie has come to the relief of J. H. Larcomb, a veteran employee of the pension office, who, by reason of advancing years, had been reduced in rank and salary.

Years ago, the published story runs, "Mr. Larcomb and Mr. Carnegie worked together in a telegraph office in Pittsburgh, the former being the 'boss.' The old-time friendship between the two men was brought out recently, when Mr. Larcomb, who is 80 years of age, was telling his trouble to his friends. His salary has just been cut down to $200 a year, and in talking of his prospects for the future, which appeared gloomy, he incidentally told of the past. He said that years ago Andrew Carnegie, who has since grown rich and famous, was one of the 'boys' who worked for him."

"Prof. J. Ericksen Richards, well known here as a writer, learned of the case, and determined to communicate with Mr. Carnegie, with a view to learning the facts. He received a reply in which Mr. Carnegie said that Mr. Larcomb at one time was his 'boss,' and that he was a mighty good boss. He suggested that Mr. Larcomb quit the government service, and said that he would provide for him the rest of his days. It is understood that Mr. Carnegie will give Mr. Larcomb a generous allowance. The old clerk will soon file his resignation, with the commissioner of pensions."

PAYS PENALTY FOR MURDER

FACTS ABOUT CONLEY.

- Born in Albany, N. Y., September 16, 1848.
- Came to New Mexico in 1879 and worked as a miner.
- On January 10, 1905, shot and killed, near Questa, James Redding, 19 years old, and Charles Purdy, 70 years old.
- Arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to hang February 16, 1906.
- Granted ten days' reprieve by Governor Hagerman.
- Hanged February 26, 1906, at 9 o'clock a. m., aged 57 years, 5 months and 10 days.

Special to The Evening Citizen.

Embudo, N. M., Feb. 26.—A courier on horseback has just arrived here from Taos, and announces that John Conley, the murderer, was hanged at Taos, N. M., at 9 o'clock this morning, for the killing of James Redding, killed 19 years old, and Charles Purdy, 70 years old, near Questa last year. The courier states that the condemned man went to pieces, when informed this morning that he must prepare for the hanging, and that he had to be carried to the gallows. The hanging went off smoothly and there was no hitch in the proceedings. No further particulars can be learned at this time until a second courier, who is now en route here, arrives.

At 9 o'clock this morning John Conley, condemned murderer, died on the scaffold, in expiration of the crimes of killing 19-year-old James Redding and a 70-year-old companion, named Purdy, near Questa, in Taos county, in January, 1905.

Dr. J. A. Maasie, a physician of Santa Fe, who went to Taos as Governor Hagerman's agent, to inquire into the alleged insanity of Conley, returned to the capital a few days ago, and made a report to the effect that the murderer was sane. Deputy United States Marshal Fred Forroff, who carried the official reprieve granted to Conley has also returned from Taos. In speaking of the insanity plea made by Conley's friends, he said:

"A funny thing in connection with this case is the fact that the condemned man resented the statement that he was insane. He said that mentally, he was all right, and submitted to an examination of his mental condition with rather bad grace. There was absolutely no question in his mind as to the sanity of the fact that a reprieve was obtained upon the insanity plea amounts to this—Conley was forced to suffer for ten days longer than was necessary."

Late advices from Taos state that Conley went to pieces as the time of the execution drew near, and that he had to be carried to the scaffold. In view of this possibility, the officers of the law who had charge of the execution had made arrangements to carry out the law's commands as expeditiously as possible. Ex-Sheriff Henry C. Kinsell, of Santa Fe, was at Taos, and assisted Sheriff Silviano Lucero in the execution.

CHARGE NOW IS MURDER

Slocum Is Dead and His As-sailant, Victor Telles, Is Yet Uncaptured

NOTHING KNOWN OF DEAD MAN

Poor Slocum, the lumber jack in the employ of the American Lumber company in the Zuni mountains, assaulted on Friday by Victor Telles, a saloon keeper of Joe Padilla's notorious place, died from his injuries yesterday, morning at St. Joseph's hospital, where he was brought in an unconscious condition on Saturday morning. The remains now lie in the undertaking parlors of O. W. Strong's sons, awaiting the disposal of friends and relatives, if any can be found.

Slocum's death was directly due to a blow on the head, said to have been delivered by Telles. The skull was fractured, and an operation which was made at the hospital yesterday morning, revealed a large clot of blood resting on the brain. The blood was removed, but the patient never regained consciousness. In fact, he never spoke after being found in the saloon on Friday, and his life was spared of even before the operation.

The death of Slocum brands Telles a murderer, and will probably stimulate the efforts of officers to capture him. Immediately after assaulting Slocum he left the logging camp on horseback and rode to Guan. Leaving his horse there, he disappeared.

Very little can be learned of Slocum. He wandered into the lumber camp several months ago, coming from, nobody knows where. He was industrious, and not given to making trouble. His friends at the logging camp do not believe the story that he stole money from Telles, and seem more ready to believe that he was murdered for his money, $20, which he was known to possess on going to the Telles saloon the day he was assaulted, and which was taken from his pockets after he was knocked unconscious.

Telles is said to have a family living in Gallup. He is a native by birth, and is about 30 years of age. His reputation is one that would not influence a judge or jury toward leniency, and if he should be captured, his punishment will doubtless be the extreme penalty of the law.

JOHN MITCHELL, A STUDY IN DESTINY AND DETERMINATION

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 26.—With another mammoth miners' strike imminent, one that will be the greatest in the history of the world, the searchlight of public attention is again turned toward John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers union, who has already led masterfully three industrial wars.

John Mitchell today has the greatest single purpose following in the United States. He sways at the most delicate touch exceeding 500,000 men when the issues once are drawn. And he is but 36 years of age.

Yes, this serious, round-eyed, clerical looking, dark little man wields more power in his poverty than the man of the most millions in the country, for his following is exclusively human—a half million of soldiers who compose absolutely the entire arm and largest of the vast host of industry.

And they worship him, like the legions of France worshiped Napoleon.

That's what makes the coming struggle, although it is afar off, impress the world with its parent.

Personally, Mitchell is modest, unassuming, simple and democratic. He has won the rare confidence of a mass that comprises twenty different tongues—heaven knows how many different religions—by a plain, unassuming devotion to the principles which union labor has adopted as its creed, and by a consistent and careful administration of the trust imposed in him by his fellow workers. He is a graduate of the pit, with original coal dust still lurking in the depths of his lungs. His life has been as much as possible that of a miner in spite of the high station and vital responsibilities that are his. He is rearing his family in the homely atmosphere of the mining town. He meets multi-millionaires and captains of capital on their own ground with courage and dignity. He is in the prime of a mysterious, impressive destiny, and at the dawn of a decisive battle for which he has prepared with foresight and prudence unsurpassed by the very Japanese.

This self-educated man, who was left motherless as a babe, whose father perished in a mine, who married a girl who was a "Little Mother" at 8 years of age, and who has been in the shadow of the coal tipple in good season and bad, will be in the world's eye from now on trebly magnified.

The life of the better class of miners' family is lived consistently by the better half and children of John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Spring Valley, Ill., Mitchell's native town, a typical mining settlement, has always been the family's home, although Mitchell himself is at headquarter

MRS. JOHN MITCHELL AND THE MITCHELL HOME, AT SPRING VALLEY, ILL.

ters in Indianapolis, or traveling most of the time.

The Mitchells own their own home. It is a double frame house. On-half is rented to another family. The four children go to the immaculate Conception parish school. Richard, the oldest, is an altar boy in the church. The Rev. John F. Power, the priest, is a close friend of John Mitchell and aided him to an education. He performed the marriage ceremony of the miners leader and his bride, who was a Carlin, Ill., girl.

Mrs. Mitchell is decidedly domestic in her tastes, and as little spoiled by her husband's eminence as a woman can be.

PROBABLY A NEW ATTORNEY GENERAL

It is very generally conceded that Governor Hagerman has shown excellent judgment in deciding to appoint Captain W. C. Reid, of Roswell, to be attorney general for the territory, says a correspondent writing from Roswell.

Captain Reid is a good lawyer and is studious and inclined to go to the bottom of things, which, with his naturally judicious temperament and disposition, will make him a safe adviser for the governor.

It is learned that Colonel Prichard will soon resign the attorney generalship.

DEATH OF MRS. GROSBRENNER AND RIDE TO NOTIFY HUSBAND

The Sierra County Advocate, which reached the city yesterday from Hillsboro, brought the following article of the death of Mrs. Grosbrenner, and a ride to notify her husband. The Advocate says:

Chas. Potter arrived here last Tuesday afternoon from the Mimbres, bringing the news of the death of Mrs. Grosbrenner, who died very suddenly at her home on the Mimbres at 2 o'clock that morning. Potter was on his way to the Gila reserve camp, on the Sece, to notify Mr. Grosbrenner of his wife's death. Potter reached the camp late in the afternoon, and returned at 10 o'clock that night with Mr. Grosbrenner. After resting two hours, the two men started on their journey over the mountains to the Mimbres, which place they expected to reach by 9 o'clock, the next morning, barring accidents. Potter's ride from the Mimbres to the Sece and back to the Mimbres, a distance of nearly 11 miles, without changing horses, over rough mountain trails over snow-capped mountains and swollen streams, within twenty-four hours, is a record sufficient to make Teddy, the strenuous, envious for years to come. Mr. Grosbrenner has the deep sympathy of his many friends here in his sad affliction.

THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Rapid Transportation.

By Hamilton Wright.

Bayombong, P. I., Feb. 26.—The greatest need of the Philippine Islands today is improved transportation facilities. Traveling from Manila to Bayombong, about 220 miles, into the interior, one is impressed with the fact that there is not an acre of ground along the whole route that is not fertile. It takes a week of hard traveling to make the journey now, but when the projected railway system are built one will be able to go in eight hours. The first railway will run from Manila through the interior of Luzon to Aparri, 350 miles. Only one pack train besides that of the writer, has ever undertaken to make the continuous journey from Manila to Aparri.

Magnificent Cattle Range.

Thousands and thousands of head of cattle could be raised in the high interior valleys of Luzon. Great areas could be cultivated to rice and coconuts, further down in the Cagayan valley millions of dollars' worth of the finest tobacco could be properly cured and raised. Yet, with the exception of the Cagayan valley, all this region of interior of Luzon is cut off from the world. The only produce raised is for home consumption. The Philippines are far more fertile than Japan, and with railroad facilities they will become tremendous exporters. In fact, the $35,000,000 worth of goods that the Philippines exported last year were the products of only a very small portion of the islands. The statement has been made that the Philippines are not a white man's country. Nevertheless the islands are richer than Java or India, where the Dutch and English have made a success.

Vast Timber Region.

The highest mountains of central and northern Luzon are covered with huge forests, containing some of the finest stands of hardwood lumber in the world. The forests in this part of the island have never felt the woodman's axe. There are two billion dollars' worth of lumber in the Philippines that will be available through improved transportation facilities.

There are wonderful opportunities for American capital in the Philippines. Already the American planter is here. In Bayombong there is a fine coffee plantation of 20 acres, planted just a year ago, by Governor Knight of this province. The trees are knee high already.

Americans Work Mines.

Americans are working the copper mines in Benguet. A mine worked by Chas. Kelly, has 2,000 feet of shafts and tunnels. This work was done by Igorrote labor at 5 cents a day American money. It cost $7,500 gold, and would have cost $20,000 in the United States.

The richest concerns in the islands is La Compania Tabacalera General (General Tobacco company), which has made millions of dollars dealing in tobacco in the Cagayan valley.

Money for the Americans.

There is lots of money to be made by American capital in hemp, tobacco, copra, coconuts, sugar and rice growing. The output of hemp has greatly increased since the American Harvester company went into the industry with American energy and improved methods of cultivation.

The government has guaranteed the bonds for 1,200 miles of railroad in the Philippines for a period of thirty years at 4 per cent. There is an abundance of timber for ties as the line progresses and after the road crosses the Caraballo range it will have an almost steady down hill run for almost 250 miles.

FORGER ESCAPES FROM THE BERNALILLO BASTILLE

James McVan, alias James McDonald, who has been confined in the Sandoval county jail at Bernalillo on charges of forgery and horse stealing has made his escape. Deputy Sheriff Hoxey, who was in Albuquerque a few days ago, described McVan as being a "bad humor" and one of the most desperate men he has had in jail there in many days. McVan made his escape by digging through the walls of his cell.

How to Exercise the Bowels

Your intestines are lined inside with millions of little suckers, that draw the Nutrition out of food as it passes them. But, if the food passes too slowly, the little suckers draw Poison from it instead of Nutrition.

This Poison makes a Gas that injures your system more than the food should have nourished it.

You see, the food is Nourishment or Poison, just according to how long it stays in transit.

The usual remedy for this delayed passage (called Constipation) is to take a big dose of Castor Oil.

This merely makes slippery the passage for unloading the current cargo. It does not help the Cause of delay at all.

It does slacken the Bowel-Muscles more than ever, and thus weakens them for their next task.

Another remedy is to take a strong Cathartic, like Salts, Calomel, Jalap, Phosphates of Soda, Apertient Water, or any of these mixed.

What does the Cathartic do?

It merely flushes-out the Bowels with a waste of Digestive Juice, sent flowing into the Intestines through the tiny suckers.

But, the Digestive Juice we waste in doing this today is needed for tomorrow's natural Digestion. We cannot afford to lose it.

That's why Cascarets are the only safe medicine for the bowels.

They do not waste any precious fluid of the Bowels, as Cathartics do.

They do not relax the Intestines by greasing them inside like Castor Oil or Glycerine.

They simply stimulate the Bowel Muscles to do their work naturally, comfortably, and nutritiously.

And, the Exercise these Bowel Muscles are thus forced to back, makes them stronger for the future, just as Exercise makes your arm stronger.

ANGELONI MAKES THE BEST AMERICAN DOLLAR

HIS BEAUTIFUL DAUGHTER WAS AN AID IN GETTING RID OF THE COUNTERFEITS.

New York, Feb. 26.—A beautiful Italian girl of 18, Francesca Angeloni, is languishing in a cell of the United States prison here to day, declared to be one of the most skillful counterfeiters in the country. It is alleged by government secret service men that since this girl's 11th year she and her father have been engaged in manufacturing and passing spurious dollars. So perfect has been the work that many of the bad coins were passed through the treasury department at Washington. It is charged that the Angelonis have coined more than $10,000.

Giovanni Angeloni was an expert jeweler when he came to this country ten years ago. He commanded a large salary, but money did not come to him quickly enough.

He made ten golden eagles five years ago and sent his daughter out to pass them. Merchants became suspicious of the girl with "too much gold," and she was arrested. To save her father the girl said she had made the coins herself. Her youth and beauty appealed to the court and sentence was suspended.

When secret service men raided the

GIOVANNI ANGELONI.

Italian's home a few days ago they found the father baking a dollar mold in a charcoal fire. He and the girl were arrested.

Chief Flynn, of the service said that Angeloni and his daughter had made the best imitation of the American dollar of any he had ever seen. They had never used the same mold twice, and their coins were 750 fine, whereas the government makes them 550 fine, with copper alloy.

CAME IN ON THE "BLIND BAGGAGE" OF NO. 7

SPECIAL OFFICER PATTERSON MADE A HAUL AT THE DEPOT LATE LAST EVENING.

When No. 7 arrived at the depot last evening there stood on the head end, or in bumology, on the "blind baggage," three young men who found this mode of traveling a bit disagreeable, but cheaper than riding the cushions.

Sad to relate, however, the journey of the "sore-knuckledists" was interrupted here for Special Officer Patterson stood waiting for the trio as they alighted from the train, arrested them and locked them up in the city prison on the charge of vagrancy. They gave their names as M. J. Hoag, H. A. Tennant and T. B. Williams. The young men said that they had been working in the mines at Cripple Creek, shipped from Denver to Kennedy to work on the Santa Fe Central, arrived there to discover that the place had been misrepresented to them, and being out of money came on to secure work and money to take them to Bisbee, Ariz. They were given ten days each on the streets here.

Common Colds Are the Cause of Many Serious Diseases.

Physicians who have gained a national reputation as analysts of the cause of various diseases, claim that if catching cold could be avoided a long list of dangerous ailments would never be heard of. Every one knows that pneumonia and consumption originate from a cold, and chronic catarrh, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles are aggravated and rendered more serious by each fresh attack. Do not risk your life or take chances when you have a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure it before these diseases develop. This remedy contains no opium, morphine or other harmful drug and has thirty years of reputation back of it, gained by its cures under every condition. For sale by all druggists.

MODJESKA PLAYS TO A CROWDED HOUSE

AND DEMONSTRATES THAT SHE IS FAR FROM BEING TOO OLD TO ACT—PLEASURES IN HER INTERPRETATION OF "LADY MACBETH."

Madame Modjeska, one of America's foremost tragediennes, demonstrated to a packed house Saturday night in the Elks' theater that despite the fact that she is a grandmother, and well on towards the three score years and ten mark, still has all of her old-time fire and dramatic spirit.

If in the large audience there were any who went expecting to find a "has been," they were happily disappointed, for despite her many years on the stage, Madame Modjeska's art is still transcendent, her voice rings true, and is audible at the rear of the auditorium and she shows little sign of age. And yet her admirers could not be blind to the fact that the Lady Macbeth of Saturday night had more years than the creator of the character accorded her. One unconsciously feels that this artist has reached an age when she must have lost her strength. But not to this is due the restrained, the easy and natural delineation of the character of Shakespeare's ambitious woman. It is the perfection of her art by which the mere suggestion of a gesture or a move of the body discloses the workings of a turbulent mind. No loud speech, no declaiming, no pawing of the empty air, no screams, marked the Lady Macbeth, as seen Saturday night.

The support was good. Macbeth was essayed by Charles D. Herman, in workmanlike fashion. He is generally effective, generally convincing and always picturesque. Wadsworth Harris was a dignified and virile Banquo. Malcolm was capably done by Edwin Caldwell, and Macduff, by William Hazeltine. The settings were unambitious, but sufficient.

Others in the cast handled their parts in excellent manner, and kept up to the standard set by the star. On the whole the performance was clean and harmonious; it showed admirable direction; it was played vigorously and quickly, as fitted the quickest and most vigorous of all the Shakespearean plays.

RAILROAD NOTES

C. W. Cook, traveling freight agent for the Santa Fe was in the city this morning between trains while on route north.

General Manager W. S. Hopewell, of the New Mexico Fuel & Iron company, expects to leave for Pittsburgh and other eastern points on railroad business in a few days.

Harry Kisslingburg left Gallup to accept a position on the Zuni Mountain railroad. Mr. Kisslingburg, who is a locomotive engineer by trade, will be engineer on one of the mountain locomotives.

Contractor C. W. Whitney was in the city Sunday from his headquarters in Bolen, returning to that place last evening. He states that work on the cut-off is progressing rapidly with the fine weather now prevailing.

There is a larger demand for Gallup coal than can be filled, says the Republican. Recently it was reported that one of the local companies received an order from the Mexican Central for 800 cars of coal. There were so many orders ahead that it was impossible for the local company to fill the Mexican road's order.

The Citizen has just received the latest folder issued by the Santa Fe road for the benefit of tourist sleeper excursionists. It is profusely illustrated with half-tones of the southwest, notably the Alvarado hotel and depot, showing dining room and lunch rooms of this big hotel; Indian dance at Laguna; the petrified forest beyond Gallup; El Tovar hotel at the Grand Canyon, and many other choice views and scenery of the southwest.

The scarcity of cars in the local yards this morning speaks eloquently of the dispatch with which the Santa Fe is handling trains at present. During the twenty-four hours ending with this morning, sixteen freight trains arrived in the local yards, seven coming from the north, seven from the west and two from the south, but this morning there were not sufficient cars in the yards to make an average train. This business was handled, in addition to the eight passenger trains that arrive and depart daily from the local station.

The opening of the new Union depot at El Paso, which will take place tomorrow night, will be celebrated by a big "house warming." The whole populace of El Paso is invited. The huge building will be lighted from cellar to garret, music will be played, speeches will be spoken by the leading men of the Pass City, and the big dining room of the place will be given over to dancing. The opening has been set for February 28, but owing to Ash Wednesday coming on that date, the doings will take place one day earlier so as not to conflict with those who care to observe the beginning of Lent.

FORCE AT LAS VEGAS SHOPS BEING REDUCED

The following paragraphs are clipped from the Optic:

Macinist Volsky has resigned his position in the local Santa Fe shops and will accompany former Foreman Perry to the Rock Island railroad.

Macinist Helper Keyes and Boiler-maker Helper Clary Harmon drew their pay checks on the 15th, and have never again shown up at the shops, having undoubtedly left the city.

C. E. Perry, the day round house foreman of the local Santa Fe shops, has resigned his position and will go to the Rock Island. He has been succeeded by F. J. Priest of San Bernardino.

Boiler-maker Pat Fagan of the local shops failed to turn up on the morning of the 20th, and on investigation it was found that he had left the Sunshine territory without warning. A number of business men are mourning his sudden departure.

SHRINERS' SPECIAL TRAIN

SANTA FE WILL RUN FOUR FROM KANSAS CITY TO LOS ANGELES.

In order to handle some of the crowd which will be going to Los Angeles, Cal., to attend the annual meeting of the Imperial council, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, which is to be held in that city May 7 to 10, the passenger department of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe has made arrangements to run four special trains from Kansas City to Los Angeles. Two of these trains will leave Kansas City at 11 a. m., on May 1 and 4, and the others will leave there at 8:45 a. m., on May 2 and 5. An opportunity will be afforded those who travel by either of these trains, to enjoy on hour or two in Albuquerque and also to visit the Grand Canyon of Arizona. These excursion trains will not be limited to Shriners and their families. Any one may secure accommodations on them.

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist Church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "It's a God-send to mankind. It cured me of a lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in 50 minutes and feel like walking three more. It's made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for weakness and all Stomach, Liver and Kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at all druggists. Price 50c.

Philosophic Purposes and Pleasure. Prof. Calfee, with his physical geography class, on Monday betook themselves to the Coal Mountain on the south side of the village, for philosophic purposes, as well as for pleasure. "You don't intend to go horseback, do you, general?" asked one of his friends.

"I most certainly do," replied George.

"Haven't you read in the newspapers that the railroads have cut out all passes?"

"You seem to be contented here," remarked the visitor to the man who had been convicted of murder in the second degree.

"Contented! More than that! Say, I'm having the time of my life!"

"Can a man read his fate in the stars?"

"Yes, if he's a Pittsburgh millionaire, and they're in musical comedy."

"The English language," remarked the learned professor, "is being neglected."

"Well, you can't expect us to pay much attention to English and devote any time to golf or automobiles, can you?"

"What do you know about the pure food bill?"

"Nothing. I pay my grocery bill once a week."

"How on earth did you manage to get a confession from that fellow?" asked the Scotland Yard man.

"My dear fellow," replied Holmes,

"It was very simple, so simple that it is a trick I do not care about hiding. I merely told him that if he would write and sign a confession I would see that it was printed in the Sunday paper or one of the magazines."

"I don't see how you can afford to keep a cow."

Sun rose this morning at 6:35 and will set at 5:51, giving a day of 11:16. Moon will set at 9:10 tonight. The day has been bright and warm. Cooler weather would be good for the fruit, which may bloom too early, and be killed. Richard J. Gattling, inventor of the Gatling gun, died on this day, 1902. The second day of the week received its name of Monday, or Moonday, because anciently it was dedicated to the moon, just as Sunday was dedicated to the sun.
