STATEHOOD IS SUPERCEDED

Temporarily the Bill Is Laid Aside As Senate Morning Business.

DOLLIVER ON RATE BILL

A BIG INCREASE IN THEIR PAY

Special to Evening Citizen. Washington, March 1.—Senator Long today gave way to Senator Dolliver, that the latter might make the first speech in favor of the Dolliver-Hepburn rate bill. Senator Nelson then moved that the statehood bill be temporarily laid aside as morning business.

DOLLIVER ARGUES FOR RAILWAY RATE BILL

Washington, March 1.—A large audience greeted Senator Dolliver in the senate today when he spoke on the Dolliver-Hepburn rate bill. His was the first speech made in support of the bill.

Senator Dolliver began his speech at 12:30. Immediately after the routine business had been completed. The senator outlined the bill, pointing out wherein it amends the existing interstate commerce law, saying that after all the changes are comparatively few. "Instead of undermining the law, the bill fortifies it," he said, and he declared that if the present law had been treated with the reverence and sanctity which it deserves, the American people would have approached the subject in a frame of mind very different from that which now prevails.

He said that the railroads are unable to protect themselves against the flagrant abuses of the private car companies under Section 1 of the present law. He has not favored the abolition of these cars, but he did not believe that these car companies could be regulated by holding responsible the railroad companies. Referring to the rebate question, he said that he did not agree with either Foraker or Bacon that such secret practices have been abandoned. He did not believe the Elkins bill adequate for protection against these practices. "The difficulty about rebates is not in punishing violations," he said, "but in discovering them, and we have undertaken to amend the law so as to cover that defect."

WANTS BIG INCREASE OF WAGES ALL AROUND

Washington, March 1.—Senator Gallinger has introduced a bill to readjust the salaries of the general officers of the government to take effect March 4, 1909. The bill proposes the following salaries: President, $75,000; vice president, $15,000; speaker of the house, $12,000; members of the cabinet, $15,000; senators and representatives, $7,500.

Washington, March 1.—The house today agreed to the senate joint resolution which continues the tribal government of the five civilized tribes in Indian Territory until the tribal property and land is disposed of.

IMMIGRANTS FROM ACROSS THE WATER FOR CANADA.

Winnipeg, Man., March 1.—The local officers of the Salvation Army are busy making preparations for the large body of immigrants who will arrive here from England during the coming summer. About 3,500 British people will be directly under the care of the army, and the first steamer, with part of these immigrants, started from England today. This is an undertaking of the Salvation Army, prompted by the double intention of relieving the situation in Great Britain, caused by the existence of a large number of unemployed in the large cities of Great Britain, and to supply much needed help to the farmers and businessmen in the west of Canada. Of the 3,500 to come to Winnipeg, it is expected that about 1,500 will be located in Manitoba, while the rest will go to Saskatchewan. The Salvation Army does not intend to bring the paupers and the scum of the British population to this country, and deals only with hard working and willing people who may be temporarily out of employment or wish to better their condition.

THE CREDITORS OF CASTELLANE

Want to Levy on Family Household Goods for Boni's Debts.

FAMINE IS BAD IN JAPAN

Empress Dowager Not Dead. Dowager Queen Wont Visit Here.

THIS COUNTRY GETS ONLY TWO

Paris, March 1.—Application was made to the civil tribunal of Seine today on behalf of a money lender for permission to levy on the household goods in the Castellane mansion to satisfy a claim for money advanced to Count Boni. The lawyer of the family resisted the request on the grounds that the goods are separate property and the case finally was referred to the judge in chambers. It is considered a test affecting numerous creditors.

FAMINE GETS MATERIALLY WORSE IN NORTH JAPAN

Seattle, March 1.—The steamship Dakota brings advice from Nagasaki that the famine situation in northern Japan is steadily growing graver. In December it is estimated that 680,000 persons out of a population of 2,821,000 were on the verge of starvation. Since then the situation has been getting even more serious.

DR. THOMAS MADE TRIAL BUT COULDN'T GET IN

New York, March 1.—The American entries for the balloon race for the Bennett cup, to be held in France this year, are closed, and instead of three contestants, as originally planned, the United States will only be represented by two contestants, Lieutenants Frank S. Lahm, United States army, and Mr. Santos-Dumont, now in France, both experienced aeronauts, have been selected. Dr. Julian P. Thomas, an enthusiastic member of the Aero club of America, made a determined effort to become the third American representative in the race, but his entry was declined by Messrs. Post and Bishop, the members of the committee on American entries. Dr. Thomas offered to have a balloon of 55,000 cubic feet built for the race and was exceedingly anxious to be selected, but his entry was rejected after careful consideration on the ground that there would not be enough time for Dr. Thomas to get in practice and ready for the race, as he is not an experienced aeronaut.

NORTH CAROLINA COTTON GINNERS ARE MEETING.

STANDARD OIL AFTER ANOTHER RAILROAD

New York, March 1.—All Wall street is feverishly watching the battle for control of the great Illinois Central railroad. Standard Oil's "railroad general" is leading the fight on Stuyvesant Fish, for many years president of the road. Fish is fighting desperately, but there is danger that he will lose. The war is for revenge because Fish, an investigator of Muller's life, balked at the plans of the Standard Oil party, headed by H. H. Rogers, to gobble up the insurance concern.

It is claimed by some of Harriman's lieutenants that he really now controls the Illinois Central through holding a majority of the capital stock, as well as a majority of the board of directors. It is learned, however, that Harriman and his associates really hold but 300,000 shares of Illinois Central, which is one-third of the outstanding capital. The Illinois Central has always been a Fish family railroad and its stock has been widely distributed, principally in the middle west, among small holders. For a long time past Harriman has been known to be reaching out for Illinois stock holdings wherever they appear. One big firm of brokers has a standing order to accumulate these securities for this interest. Fish's friends declare that his fighting capability had been "very much underestimated." W. H. Truesdale, president

Builder of Brown Palace Hotel, [Denver, is ill in San Diego.

San Francisco, Cal., March 1.—Henry Tenney, who was knocked out last night by Frankie Neil, bantam champion pugilist, died at 8 o'clock this morning. Death was undoubtedly the result of the beating he received in the ring. From the time he was carried to his corner, last night, Tenney sank rapidly. News of his death spread quickly over the city. Orders were at once given at police headquarters to take all concerned into custody. Neil soon surrendered, as also did James Coffroth, Eddie Grancy, Willis Britt, Morris Levy and Mark Shaughnessy. Brazil Constructing Immense Hydro-Electric Plant For Her Capital.

ORDER IS VERY IMPORTANT

Suit to Oust School Inspectors Because the Funds Were Embezzled.

New York, March 1.—The Rio Janeiro Tramway, Light and Power company, in which New Yorkers are considerably interested, has placed contracts here for the initial equipment of a 100,000-horsepower hydroelectric plant to be built about 85 miles from Rio Janeiro for generating electric energy to be transmitted to the Brazilian capital. The plant is to be equipped with machinery capable of developing 45,000 horsepower. It is the most important order ever awarded in this country for electrical equipment to be shipped to South America, the Germans and British having hitherto executed almost all the big electrical work in that part of the world.

The Rio Janeiro company is controlled by interests identical with those controlling the Sao Paulo Tramway, Light and Power company, the Trinidad Electric company and the Havana Central Railway company and the Havana Electric company. These companies represent an aggregate investment of nearly $10,000,000. The present plans will involve an expenditure of more than $25,000,000. Among those interested in the enterprise are Sir William Van Horne, F. S. Pierson and William L. Bull.

MOST REMARKABLE COW IN THE WHOLE WORLD

Manitowish, Minn., March 1.—Blue Earth county boasts of the most remarkable cow in the world. She is a Guernsey named Yeksa Sunbeam, and bred by the late W. D. Richardson, of Garden City. A record was kept of her achievements in the milk and butter line during the year 1905. She produced 1,000 pounds of butter, or almost her own weight, which is not quite 1200 pounds. The test was made under the supervision of the Wisconsin experimental station, and showed that the cow gave 14,229.8 pounds of milk during the year from which 857.15 pounds of butter was obtained, making an average of 5.74 per cent. The highest Guernsey record before this was made by the Imperial Rose with 14,623 pounds of milk, and Imperial Princess Bhea, 775.69 pounds of butter fat. So the Blue Earth county Sunbeam is 287 pounds ahead of any other cow in the world. She is 14 1/2 months old, weighs 81.46 pounds, and has the highest record in butter fat. Yeksa Sunbeam was nine and one-half years old at the beginning of the year test. She is large, rather spare, yet carrying plenty of flesh, and in no way showing any strain from her work.

Hearst, demanding that the attorney begin proceedings to annul the charter of the Inter-Borough Metropolitan Holding company, under which merger of the New York Traction company is intended to be effected. LESSONS FROM CENTURY OF INCORPORATED LIFE

Williamsport, Pa., March 1.—On March 1, 1806, just 100 years ago today, the straggling village wherein was the "county seat" of Lycoming, was incorporated by act of the legislature as the Borough of Williamsport, by a like enactment sixty years later it became a city. The centennial of the corporate existence of Williamsport will be properly celebrated by the citizens of the old town today. Many people from Lycoming county and other parts of the state are here to take part in the celebration, which will be a public character. There will be a parade symbolizing the growth and development of the city during the 100 years of its existence, a large meeting with addresses and music and in the evening a large banquet and ball.

The history of Williamsport dates back to the early beginnings of Lycoming county. Soon after the act of assembly creating the new county of Lycoming, in the spring of 1795, Michael Ross, owner of the tract called "Virginia," secured the services of William Ellis and Joseph Williams, noted surveyors of the time, to lay out on the north bank of the charming West Branch a town, which he named Williamsport and which he proposed to make the county seat. Ross had two rivals, who also laid out towns in close proximity to the proposed Williamsport and which they named Jaysburg and Newberry. Both these towns now form part of Williamsport. There was considerable rivalry between the three towns for a while, as each aspired to become the county seat, but Williamsport finally won the victory.

James Russell built the first house in the new town, corner East Third and Mulberry streets. It was long famous as the Russell Inn. The first courts were held there and it was a place of considerable note until its destruction by the big fire of 1871. Here was born William Russell, the first native

NAVY DEPARTMENT WELL SATISFIED WITH DRY DOCK.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—There is considerable satisfaction among the officials of the Navy Department over the reports of the safe arrival of the Dewey dry dock off the Canary Islands. It was not expected that there would be any difficulty encountered by the expedition, for it was known that the weather conditions were reasonably good, the trip of the dock having been timed by the hydrographers, so as to take advantage of the fair winds across the Atlantic. It is now realized, however, that those who estimated the time to be made by the expedition gave the dock too much credit for speed. The builders of the structure had insisted that under the best conditions the expedition could not make greater speed than ninety miles a day on average, making no allowances for the accidents to the hawsers and the transfer of the stores. The officials of the Navy Department maintained that the Dewey would be able to travel considerably faster. Some officers have been predicting that the structure could not make the trip, and it was realized that the mobility of the dry dock would go a long way toward supporting the theory of the strategic usefulness of the dock and assisting the plan to obtain an appropriation for another in the present session of congress.

CURES WORST CASES OF CATARRH.

J. H. O'Reilly & Co. Sell Hyomei Under Guarantee That It Cures Nthing Unless It Cures.

Hyomei cures the worst cases of catarrh simply by breathing the remedy through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit.

Stomach dragging often causes dis-ordered digestion, and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomei not only kills the germs in the throat and nose, but penetrates the minutest air cells in the lungs, and enters the catarrhal germs in the blood.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a vest pocket inhaler and medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei costs only $1. If this outfit is used a complete cure, extra bottles can be obtained for fifty cents.

J. H. O'Reilly & Co. know of many people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. They believe in it so thoroughly that they offer to refund the money in case it does not cure.

BLOW-PIPE SYSTEM AT LUMBER PLANT

Los Angeles Company Finished Installing Today
Now in Operation.

FACTORY TO BE STARTED IN CITY

The Los Angeles Blow Pipe company finished today installing its system at the plant of the American Lumber company. This work which has been in progress for some weeks and has been personally superintended by the head of the company, F. A. Rickard, represents an expenditure of several thousand dollars by the lumber concern but at the same time is one of the most profitable and indispensable additions that this thriving local company has installed in years.

A perfect net work of galvanized pipe pierces the mammoth plant from end to end. A reporter from The Evening Citizen staff experienced the pleasure yesterday afternoon of viewing the work and Albuquerque's chief industry at the same time. Mr. Rickard, accompanying the scribe on the journey of inspection.

The purpose of the blow pipe system, as will readily be surmised, is to carry away from the wood-working machines such saw dust and refuse as accumulates from the operation of the machinery. That the blow pipe system is accomplishing its mission, a visit to the plant will suffice to prove. On every machine in the plant the pipes extend, and like magic all dust and refuse is drawn into them and hurled on to the boilers, into which all drops and is burned. In both the factory and the saw mill, in both the electric light plant, thus furnishing perpetual fuel for the boilers there as in the lumber plant, the system is accomplishing its mission. In this connection it might be said that both the electric light and lumber company exclusively depend upon this dust and other bits of waste lumber for fuel, the latter being transported to terminals by means of an endless chain elevator.

The blow pipe system, costing in the neighborhood of $13,000, will, it is figured, pay for itself in a year or more as without it the company has found it necessary to stop the machinery at different intervals in order to gather up and cart away by hand this refuse. It is only by the necessity of stopping the wheels of industry now to insert newly sharpened saws, etc.

Mr. Rickard, with the assistance of several employees, manufactured the blow pipe and its equipment, in a shop erected for his special purpose, north end of the saw mill door factory. Four double fans are in use.

Mr. Rickard informs The Evening Citizen that he intends opening a blow pipe factory in this city in the near future.

PENITENTS ARE READY FOR LENTEN RITES

IT BEGAN WITH YESTERDAY, ASH
WEDNESDAY AND CONTINUES FOR FORTY DAYS.

Lent, the penitential season, began Wednesday, February 28, the fortieth day before Easter, which this year falls on Sunday, April 15. Palm Sunday this year falls on April 8. Monday, Tuesday and Good Friday on the 12th, 13th and 14th of the month, respectively. The third Sunday before Lent and the seventeenth day—reckoning in round numbers—before Easter occurs on February 11; Sexagesima Sunday on February 18, and Quinquagesima Sunday on February 25.

Lent is always regarded with more interest in this section of the country than any other for the reason that the strange religious sect known as the Penitents are most active, practicing their rites of flagellation and other peculiar ceremonies.

Last year they were quite active all through the section of country surrounding Trinidad, and it was related that a native at Torres in volunteering to permit the sect to practice extreme excesses upon him, perished by being crucified on a cross. The truth of this weird tale, which gained wide prominence at the time, was never fully established, and neither was it ever authoritatively denied.

NEW CITY MAP FOR ALBUQUERQUE

OUTLINE INCLUDES LUMBER MILL, TRACTION PARK AND
NEW RESIDENCE ADDITIONS.
WILL BE TWICE AS LARGE AS

Albuquerque is soon to have a new city map, and the people will have the J. M. Moore Realty company to thank for it. The city has so outgrown the last map, made in 1898, that a new map is imperative to any use whatever, as far as calculating on any part of the city outside the original townsite, is concerned. In fact, the new map which is now being compiled in the office of the Albuquerque Eastern Railway company, in the N. T. Armijo building, will cover twice as much ground as the old map and will be more than twice as large as to the paper it will cover. The old map is about 33 feet, while the new one will be 45 feet.

Engineer J. R. Farwell, who is compiling the J. M. Moore Realty company map, says that as he is not able to devote his entire time to the work, he will be several months in completing it. The outline includes the lumber mill, traction park and all of the new residence additions recently added.

NONE OTHER EQUALS THE GOLD COIN FLOUR

Terry McGovern announces that in case he takes Nelson's measure at their coming battle he will meet Gans for the lightweight championship.

Jimmy Burke, formerly manager and third baseman of the St. Louis Nationals, will manage the Kansas City Blues in the American association.

Miss May Sutton, the tennis champion, is playing on the Pacific coast. She recently won the championship of the Coronado Country club at San Diego in two magnificent straight sets.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glidden, who are making an auto tour of the world, have reached Calcutta. Thus far they have visited twenty-seven countries and have traveled 29,500 miles in a motor car on the trip.

It is said the jockey club stewards will refuse to grant trainers' license to "Boots" Durnell and J. J. McCafferty, the rival horsemen, who have stirred up such an ill-smelling scandal at Ascot park.

Pitcher Lew Moren will not leave for the south with the Phillies. He is dissatisfied with the terms offered him and as his father has much money, he can loaf the year round and rub one dollar against another every day in the week.

A bill has been introduced in the New York legislature to prohibit racing within four miles of a court house in that state. The measure is directed at the proposed Garden City grounds, but if it becomes a law will result in closing Belmont park, which was constructed last year at a cost of $1,500,000.

For a prize fighter who a few months ago was said to be entirely out of the game, Joe Gans is cutting a pretty wide swath. His trouncing of Mike Sullivan, followed by his confession of fake fighting, has given him the spotlight, and he casts a black shadow over all the other little fellows in the ring.

"Kid McGowan, who received a severe drubbing at the hands of Arthur Cote a week ago, is at his home in Providence under a doctor's care. His mind has been deranged since the fight, the result of several hard blows on the head. Goodman is 21 years old and has been a pugilist since he was 14.

The sudden reversal of form of Dixie Lad has gotten W. H. Parker into trouble with the Oakland stewards. The horse has been an inconsistent actor, but in a high class selling race of nine furlongs showed such remarkable improvement that Parker was immediately suspended while evidence is being sought to show that the needle was unlawfully used.

From the Antipodes comes the news that Nigel Barker, the well known Sydney sprinter, will compete in the Olympic games at Athens. Barker defeated Arthur Duffey on the occasion of the latter's visit to the Antipodes, and his athletic record, covering a period of five years' active competition in school, college and national contests, proves him to be of exceptional caliber.

The attempt to test the Missouri racing law at Kansas City was something of a failure, because the prosecuting attorney refused to enter into the scheme. In Missouri it is not unlawful to hold a race, but it is illegal to register a bet. To test the law a race was run at Elm Ridge track, the bet being telephoned to Kansas City, Kas., and registered in the Suawflower state. After the race the winning number on the ticket was telephoned from the Kansas town to the Missouri track. Little time was lost in the transaction, as direct telephone connection was made between the two places. Prosecutor Kimbrell said he would not enter into a combination with lawbreakers to test a law, but that he will prosecute the track owners if a regular race meet is held there. Friends of the management will file information, anyway, and force the prosecutor to make a test case, if possible.

Always Keady Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. Tariff Trouble

The tariff agreement between Germany and the United States, of July 10, 1930, expired today; but by action of the reichstag, reciprocal tariff rates have been extended to the United States till June 30, 1937. Although the threatened tariff war between the two countries has thus been temporarily averted by a mutual agreement, placing the United States on the basis of the "most favored nations," until a reciprocity treaty between the two countries can be negotiated, it is feared that this arrangement merely means the postponement of a fierce struggle between the two countries.

The situation is very peculiar, and the friends of an amicable arrangement in this country clearly understand the difficulties and obstacles which threaten to precipitate a tariff war which would be equally disastrous to both countries. If one of the countries were purely an agricultural, the other purely an industrial country, there would be little trouble in arranging a reciprocity treaty between them. As it is, both countries have not only powerful agricultural but also great industrial interests. The only difference is this: While in Germany the industrial interests preponderate and the exports of agricultural products are comparatively small, the reverse condition exists in the United States. The German agriculturists are opposed to the importation of American meats and cereals, and want to make the tariff on these imports practically prohibitive. The German manufacturers are by no means opposed to low duties on American agricultural products, so long as they can obtain low duties on their own products exported to the United States. On the other hand, the American farmers are anxious to take their products to Germany at the lowest possible duty and would be willing to grant the most liberal concessions to the German manufacturers, but that does not suit the American manufacturers, who fear German competition under favorable tariff conditions.

Unfortunately, the agrarians are as powerful in the reichstag, as the manufacturing interests are in the American congress, and it is difficult to imagine how the various factions can be reconciled in such a way as to make the amicable settlement of the tariff questions between the two countries possible. The German agrarians have struck the keynote of their sentiments in the matter by forcing a provisional bill, exorbitantly increasing the duties on American cereals, through the reichstag. If these increases should become effective, in case no settlement of the reciprocity question can be reached, they will practically put a stop to the exportation of American cereals, meat and other agricultural products to Germany.

Germany has reciprocity treaties with Belgium, Italy, Austro-Hungary, Russia, Roumania, Switzerland, and Serbia, and it would be of great advantage to the United States, as well as to Germany, should a reciprocity treaty between Germany and the United States be arranged. The more conservative members of the reichstag thoroughly appreciate the seriousness of the results of a tariff war between the two countries, and are anxious to have peace preserved even at a moderate sacrifice. The agrarians, however, are extremely difficult to deal with and their extreme views are likely to prevent an amicable settlement of the differences, even if the American congress should be inclined to compromise.

John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in the world, is in the business of dodging subpoenas. He is playing the part of a common thief who uses every feint to throw the officers of the law off his track. Is he afraid of the law? By his actions he makes confession of his guilt; or he indulges some sort of belief that he is above the law, and should not be made amenable to it. From the beginning of the action of the state of Missouri to discover the methods of the Standard Oil company, its officials have used the plea of avoidance. H. H. Rogers refused, "on the advice of counsel," to answer questions, and John D. Rockefeller flees from the process like a criminal. Innocence presents no such front to prosecution. The big corporation must be guilty of the things alleged against it; silence is confession.

Henry Clews: One of the most important events of the week was the decision of the Supreme Court regarding the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, holding that a railroad cannot be both a carrier and seller of coal. This establishes a vital and far reaching opinion, adopting a principle which will prove of great public benefit. So far the effect has not been adverse upon the coal stocks; but the ultimate outcome of this decision is yet to be seen, since it separates two functions which have previously been exercised by a single corporation. It is quite proper to ask, how far will this decision apply to the private car system and the oil pipe lines owned by producers?

The New Mexican suggests to the tax assessors of the several counties to read carefully the excerpts from the revenue laws, and the instructions printed on the tax schedules of the present year. These are comprehensive and easily understood. If the provisions of the law as to assessments are conscientiously and carefully carried out by the assessors, there will be a great increase in the value of taxable property and a corresponding decrease in taxes for the year 1936. The attention of the boards of county commissioners of the various counties is also called to this matter. It is of the greatest importance to the people and especially to all honest tax payers.

The production of oil seeds purely for their oil-yielding properties is a factor of greater importance in the agriculture of British India than in any other country in the world. Flaxseed, sesamum, rape and mustard seed, poppy seed, peanuts and castor beans are produced on extensive scales and constitute a large proportion of the agricultural products exported. Cotton seed, produced, however, not primarily for oil, but as a by-product of the cotton crop, has also become an important article of export. To the cultivation of four varieties of oil seeds alone, viz. flaxseed, sesamum, rape and mustard seed, upward of 10,000,000 acres are annually devoted.

New Mexican: Even in the rich and productive Pecos Valley, where tens of thousands of tons of alfalfa can be raised, alfalfa now sells at from $12 to $14 per ton in average seasons, from three to four tons per acre of that feed stuff can be easily raised in the valley. The land is there; the water is there and the farmers are coming in. There seems to be hardly a limit to the growth and prosperity the Pecos Valley in New Mexico will enjoy from now on.

The Citizen returns thanks to Chas. E. Linney of Santa Fe, section director of the climatic and crop service for New Mexico, for advance copy of reports on stock condition and farm work; and to Prof. Hiram Hadley, territorial superintendent of public instruction, for copy of his admirable report on the schools of New Mexico.

Perhaps Uncle Sam can square himself with that Chinese boycott by turning over the entire laundry industry to the slant-eyed Celestial.

The Armstrong report looks mighty good to the policyholder. But who is going to choke Ryan and Rockefeller until they drop the bone?

Another Method of Satanic Attack

A well dressed young man, coat collar turned up tightly about his throat and hat drawn down over his bleared eyes, staggered into a brilliantly lighted drug store and leaned heavily against the counter. A clerk asked for the order. The young man drew a handkerchief from his pocket, coughed, sneezed and then asked for an alleged catarrh cure, which is two-thirds cocaine. The clerk smiled cynically, passed a small package into the customer's hand and rang up 10 cents on the cash register. The young man tore open the package, snuffed into his nostrils a large pinch of white powder, sneezed again, laughed hysterically, and zigzagged his way out into the dark street. "That is one of the things that the devil is up to," said the clerk. "That fellow is a dope fiend. He comes here on an average of five times a day after that stuff. Toward morning he will be in the throes of the horrible morbid aftermath of cocaine poisoning. His next place will be the river or a psychopathic ward."

Physicians declare that the drug habit was never so common as it is today. The use of cocaine the devil makes easy. One druggist said that he believed that no less than 10,000 men and women in New York alone obtained the insidious drug in this respectable form. Down in Hell's Kitchen, New York, where respectability is regarded lightly, hundreds of unfortunate men and women practice what the police know as "blowing the burners." Cocaine is blown into the head through a rubber tube, to which is attached a small bellows. Instantly the victim's eyes dilate, his face becomes fine fawn, his shuffling home a palace and the squalid street a boulevard. In an hour, however, he will be delirious, haunted with a sickening stupidity, and nothing will appease his shattered nerves but more of the drug.

Reclamation Fund
All Appropriated

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

Consulting Engineer C. E. Grunsky, who is in the city for a few days, is reported to be enthusiastic over the prospects for good results from the work now in progress under the reclamation act. Plans have been made whose completion will result in the irrigation of about 6,000,000 acres of arid and semi-arid land, and all the money likely to be derived from the sale of lands for some time to come has been appropriated to these projects. No additional projects, therefore, can be taken up until the money begins to be returned to the treasury from payments made by settlers, or from sales of land some years in the future. It is not considered possible that there can be any such annual sums received from land sales hereafter as have been paid in during the last few years.

The plan is being tried on a great scale, and the financial results must determine whether congress will add to the reclamation fund from sources other than the receipts from land sales. If the land reclaimed is promptly taken up and promptly paid for there will be no trouble in getting all the money required for the most extensive development. If, on the other hand, the land is not taken, or if when taken the settlers are not able to produce from the lands what will pay the cost of reclaiming it, congress will be certain to assume that we have begun the work a generation too soon, and will wait, before providing other money, until the country seems to require it. It is evident that the cost of reclamation will be from $20 to $30 per acre and sometimes more. The fact, however, that the available reclamation fund is all appropriated is no reason why we should cease our efforts to promote new projects. The most profitable projects will be those which irrigate the best and most accessible land, and that is nearly all in private ownership. The service is quite willing, as, under the law, it can, to store water for the irrigation of such areas as the Sacramento valley, but not a dollar will be expended to assist great land owners to rent land at high rentals. The object of the law is to create homes, inhabited by their owners. Under no circumstances can any one get water from government works for more than 160 acres of land, and in such districts as the Sacramento valley the water allotted to one person is likely to be much less. Nothing can be done in such a place until the owners have contracted to subdivide their land to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Interior. It will require a long time to get the almost unanimous agreement which will be required, but very likely the agreement will come easier, now that no money is at present available. We are inclined to think that a unanimous agreement to subdivide in the Sacramento valley would bring the money as the land would evidently easily bear the cost of irrigation.

Few Rich Families
Have Proven Prolific

Success Magazine.

Andrew Carnegie has no son, and only one daughter, so his hundreds of millions will start no line of Carnegie kings. Russell Sage has neither son nor daughter and his fortune will be scattered among strangers. Leland Stanford had only one son and he died. C. P. Huntington had no children. Frederick Vanderbilt has no children. Perry Belmont has no children. And three of the younger Rockefellers, though married for ten years or more, have no children. So we might go on through the list of millionaires, and while we will meet with some exceptions, like William H. Vanderbilt with eight children, George Gould with six, and J. P. Morgan with four, we should quickly establish the fact that the average number of children in our very rich American families is far below the general average; instead of approaching four it would probably not reach two. And I have it, on the authority of Dr. Gifford, register of vital statistics in New York, that the Fifth avenue residence section, where our multi-millionaires live, shows by far the lowest birth rate of all sections of the city. I may add that a doctor of great authority on the subject assures me that as riches increase not only is there a rapidly diminishing number of births, but there is an increasing number of crimes against life. Probably this is a new and it may be a passing condition, for we are told that seventy-five years ago rich New Yorkers were accustomed to have large families. Thus we read in "New Yorkers of the Nineteenth Century," that Colonel Nicholas Fish and Elizabeth Stuyvesant had five children and fifty-nine great-grandchildren; that Colonel William Duer and Catherine Alexander had eight children and 190 great-grandchildren, etc. Which shows how things have changed since then in the fashionable set.

Very Serious.

"Well," said Sublime, "I don't know where my next meal is coming from."

"What?" exclaimed Naylor. "Why, what's the matter?"

"Oh, my wife had a fight with the butcher again, and she's looking for a new one."

MURDERER'S STORY OF SLOCUM KILLING

Victor Telles Tells of Affray That Resulted in a Death.

PADILLA DENIES CURRENT REPORT

Out in the Zuni woods where the American Lumber company and the Horabin-McGaffey company have their logging camps, sawmills and railroads, foreigners of almost every nationality, working as lumber jacks, are to be found. As a rule, they are the riff-raff of the countries in which they first saw the light of day. Poles, Swedes, Germans, Russians, Austrians, Mexicans and Italians, with an occasional American, go to make up the humanity of these lumber camps.

Location of Camps. Fifteen miles from Thoreau on the Zuni Mountain railroad is situated the headquarters camp and roundhouse of the American Lumber company. Half way between Thoreau and this camp a branch logging railroad leads off into the woods. On this branch road is situated the Horabin-McGaffey Lumber company's camp, beyond this is Camp No. 4 of the American Lumber company, and just beyond is Camp No. 5. Three miles from Camp No. 5 is a saloon owned by Joe Padilla and conducted on percentage by a native named Victor Telles. Two miles from headquarters camp is another saloon conducted by Joe Padilla.

This vicinity has been the scene of many a desperate affray between the many classes of foreigners who work at these different camps. Especially is Camp No. 5 noted for its lawlessness and the many bloody fights that have occurred there. Stories of deadly battles, drunken brawls and rifle and gun plays are of almost daily occurrence.

Scene of Fight. At this camp took place the fight between Victor Telles and Peter Slocum, a full and detailed account of which has been published in these columns in previous issues, that resulted in the death of Slocum in this city, to which place he was brought for medical aid and the making of a murderer of Telles.

Telles was brought to this city last night by Padilla, owner of the above mentioned saloons, and also a deputy sheriff, and during the day prisoner and guard called at the office of the Evening Citizen for the purpose of being interviewed and giving their side of the story and their version of the affray that resulted so disastrously to Slocum.

Padilla's Version. "About a month ago," said Padilla, "a party of eight Austrians, including Slocum, came to my saloon near Camp No. 5. It was Sunday and the saloon was closed. Telles, who conducted the saloon for me, was asleep in the bar room. It was about 10 o'clock in the morning. Going to the kitchen door they forced an entrance, thence on into the saloon. They demanded whiskey. Telles refused. They jumped on Telles and hit him unmercifully. Slocum, who was at headquarters camp that Sunday, came down and investigated. Things quieted down until last Thursday when the same party, including Slocum, came down to the saloon again. Late Thursday night, or maybe it was Friday morning some time early, Telles started to close up. He heard somebody growling on the back porch. He went out and investigated and found Slocum in the snow, dead drunk. He hit him in the face with a pail for him to get up, and went to sleep."

Telles finishes Story. In the narrative Padilla told Telles to tell his version of the affair and what happened afterward, up to the time of the murder.

"After I placed him near the stove," said Telles, who is a native, short in stature, and of light weight, "I laid down and went to sleep. When I awoke near day break Slocum was gone. I went to the cash drawer, and discovered that $50 was missing. The money was in two twenty dollar bills, three five dollar gold pieces and a five dollar bill. I suspected Slocum. I tracked him in the snow to where some Austrians were saying 'loose near Camp No. 5, and thence to a haystack at Camp No. 5. On top of the haystack I found Slocum asleep. I went back and got Malcolm Smythe, another bartender for Padilla. Together we went to the haystack, woke up Slocum and demanded the money. 'No saved,' says Slocum. 'I want that $50,' says I. He wouldn't talk or nothing; wouldn't give up the money, so I took my sixshooter and pounded him over the head with it until he fell back, dead-like. I searched him and found the three gold pieces and five dollar bill and a check for $30. I took the money but left the check. Then we went away and left him. He must have given the other $20 away to the Austrians. I wrote all about it to Padilla, who was at headquarters camp. Then I went to see my folks at Gallup. I returned from there Tuesday night at midnight and gave myself up to Padilla. Smythe had nothing to do with it. He just looked on. If anybody is guilty it is me, but I don't think I did anything wrong. I was just trying to get that $50 back."

Telles of Other Fight. Padilla, in speaking of the fight between Austrians and Swedes that took place last Sunday, and which it was reported, occurred in his saloon, made the following statement:

"In the first place my saloon was closed on Sunday. These Austrians and Swedes go into a fight among themselves about 2 1/2 miles from my headquarters camp, saloon. I saw a number of them and later heard six or eight shots fired. Later when I investigated I found one Russian shot through the left shoulder with a 32-caliber bullet. He refused to tell me who shot him. He is not seriously wounded and is getting well. I positively deny that I took place in my saloon or that I or any of my men had anything to do with it."

Smythe Under Bond. Padilla stated that Smythe, who was with Telles when Slocum was beaten into unconsciousness, was out under $500 bond, furnished by himself, and that Smythe would be given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Don Edridge Saturday morning. Padilla will turn his prisoner, Telles, over to Sheriff Carlos Baca, of Valencia county, here, who will take him to jail at Los Lunas where he will be held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

A MUKDEN BANKER THINKS REPORTS EXAGGERATED

SAYS NEWSPAPER REPORTS OF TROUBLE IN CHINA ARE MISLEADING.

T. Friska, manager of the Russo-Chinese bank at Mukden, Manchuria, who has spent much time in northern and central China, was in the city, yesterday, en route to St. Petersburg, Russia, via New York.

Speaking of the threatened outbreak of the "Yellow Peril" in China, Mr. Friska said:

"I am inclined to think that the report of threatened outbreaks of the Chinese against foreigners is greatly exaggerated and that the newspaper reports are misleading. When I left China, there was a talk of an uprising, and the districts that I visited were quiet, with peace prevailing between the natives and foreigners."

"I was manager of the Russo-Chinese bank in Mukden, and escaped from that city with the funds of the bank just four hours before the Japanese entered the city. The bank has been closed ever since, but I think we will re-open in the near future. I am en route to St. Petersburg, now, and will sail from that city to Mukden soon after I arrive."

"The retreat from Mukden to Harbin was very exciting. We loaded the funds of the bank onto sixteen Chinese carts. Several of our followers were wounded in the retreat. I lost all of my personal effects and had my horses shot from under me."

Speaking further of the trouble in China, Mr. Friska stated as his belief the fact that while there might be disturbances in some parts of China, there was no danger of a general uprising, and that he did not believe there was a general anti-foreign sentiment prevalent in China. He also stated that, in his opinion, the Japanese had nothing to do with the boycott of American goods by the Chinese.

Mr. Friska left, last night, for El Paso, from which point he will go east over the Southern Pacific, by easy stages, stopping at different points of interest.

"This is my first visit to America," he said, "and I am anxious to see as much of it as I can. It is a great country, and one to make a foreigner gasp at on first beholding the methods in use here in business and other lines. No, I do not believe the reports of war between the United States and China are well founded."

BELIEVED A RAILROAD MAN STOLE WINCHESTER RIFLES

J. STOLTZMAN PLACED UNDER ARREST WITH TWO NEW GUNS IN HIS POSSESSION.

The police have under arrest J. Stoltzman, a railroad man whose connection with two new Winchester rifles is rather puzzling just at present. A few days ago Stoltzman, it is alleged, left two span fire new rifles at the corner of First street and Silver avenue. The man disappeared about that time but was arrested last evening and now occupies a cell in the city bastille. Stoltzman offers several conflicting explanations as to how the Winchester rifles came into his possession but which the police and railroad detectives shrug their shoulders at in doubt.

It is the opinion of railroad sleuths, however, that Stoltzman, while probably acting in the capacity of a brakeman, secured possession of some way bills, which some times a conductor or trustee one of his crew with, and removing the rifles from a car, destroyed the bills. If such was done it would require considerable time and trouble in tracing the car, so robbed. In the meantime Stoltzman will be held pending an investigation.

GOVERNOR STOVER AS HUMANE OFFICER

Understood That He Has Signified His Willingness to Serve.

MARSHAL M'MILLIN SUPPLANTED

An ordinance, read the first time at the last meeting of the council provides for the appointment of a humane officer, whose duties will be to care for dumb animals, see to it that the same are not abused, cause the arrest of those who do treat with cruelty these animals, and superintend city pound work.

As a matter of fact, the new officer does away with the city dog catcher in name only, for, although the ordinance specifies that the humane officer's duties shall include those of pound master, it allows him to hire such men as necessary in carrying out the work. Hence it is believed that "Col." Ward will still be permitted to rope in horses, canines, etc., as of yore.

It is learned, upon good authority, that Governor E. S. Stover has signified his willingness of being humane officer, and that the governor will furnish his services free of charge, in the interests of humanity. At the last meeting of the council the candidacy of Mr. Stover was favorably discussed, informally.

As the city marshal at present superintends all pound matters, the new officer will be the means of transferring the many troubles and tribulations connected with the same. And I am very joyful over it," said Chief McMillin this morning. "It certainly will relieve me of much annoyance."

MR. AND MRS. C. A. DALIES HOMEWARD BOUND

BRIDE OF VALENCIA COUNTY REPRESENTATIVE FORMERLY RESIDED IN ALBUQUERQUE.

Hon. and Mrs. Carl A. Dalies passed through the city this morning en route from El Paso to their home at Willard, the new town at the crossing of the Santa Fe Central and Santa Fe cut-off railroads, where Mr. Dalies is manager of a large store for the John Becker company of Belen.

Mr. Dalies is a benedict of but a few days, his marriage to Mrs. Marguerite E. Franz, recently of St. Louis, having taken place at El Paso only last Sunday. Rev. J. J. Barron officiating. Interment in Fairview cemetery.

In telling of the tying of the nuptial knot, Mr. and Mrs. Dalies say that there is no truth in the story started by the El Paso papers that they were in a hurry to get married. Mrs. Dalies had been in the Pass City two weeks prior to the wedding, arriving there from St. Louis, where she had resided since leaving Santa Fe, N. M., where she lived several years prior to two years ago. She is a very pretty brunette of about 30 summers, rather small of stature, well dressed and accompanied by a large number of the earlier residents of Albuquerque as Mrs. E. W. Franz, wife of one of the city's then leading hardware merchants. Mrs. Franz left Albuquerque for Santa Fe eight years ago.

Mr. Dalies is popularly known throughout New Mexico as speaker of the last territorial legislature, of which he has been a representative from Valencia county three terms consecutively. Mr. Dalies is also a member of the John Becker company, of which the Willard store is a branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalies will begin housekeeping immediately upon reaching Willard, where the groom has a new seven-room house furnished and ready for their occupancy.

ROBBED OF MONEY IN A SALOON

Frank Garcia Claims a Native Relieved Him of $7 in Drinking Place.

ALLEGED THIEF STILL AT LARGE

Yesterday afternoon Frank Garcia, a native residing in Barajas, approached Officer Knapp on Railroad avenue, and sobbing bitterly, informed the patrolman that he had been robbed. When asked where, Garcia managed to squeeze out between a couple of sobs, that it was in the New York saloon on South Second street.

Garcia then explained that he was in the saloon drinking, when another native robbed him of $7 and fled. Officer Knapp instituted a search for the alleged thief, and not succeeding in locating the man, informed Garcia that he had better call upon Judge Crawford and swear out a warrant for the arrest of the party who had "pocketed" him.

Garcia was under the influence of liquor, it is claimed by the police, when he reported the theft, but a young man, who was with him, told Officer Knapp that he saw the native take Garcia's money.

Garcia failed to show up in police court this morning, however.

BIG STRIKE IN BONANZA MINE

SIERRA COUNTY STOCK AND MINING INTERESTS ARE PROSPEROUS, SAYS COL. W. S. HOPE.

Col. W. S. Hopewell, general manager of the Albuquerque Eastern railroad, who returned to the city yesterday from a visit to Hillsboro, where he has mining and stock interests, says that there is a general awakening in mining in the camps adjacent to Hillsboro and that stock interests have not been better than at present in many years. Cattle are fat and calves are being dropped in large numbers.

Some impetus was lent to mining recently by a strike of ore in the Good Hope Bonanza, a property carrying three ounces of gold and 600 ounces of silver. This mine was formerly owned by John A. Lee and a number of other Albuquerque capitalists, but is now the property of the firm of Kassar and Brown, a couple of practical mining men who are engaged in developing it. Much new machinery is going into the district.

GUADALUPE COUNCIL
KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

INSTITUTED IN CITY OF MEXICO.
ALBUQUERQUE KNIGHT GARGAN RETURNS TO CITY.

T. E. Gargan, manager of the local office of the Western Union Telegraph company, returned yesterday from his trip to Mexico, and from him The Citizen learns that the institution of the new Guadalupe Council, Knights of Columbus, in the City of Mexico, was attended by about fifty of the leading Knights of the United States, nearly every state having a representative there. The degree work was exemplified by the Denver council assisted by the El Paso and San Antonio, Tex., councils. It was put on on two different nights in order to give the new officers experience in the work.

The visiting Knights were shown every courtesy, a program of events lasting three days, having been arranged for their entertainment.

On Washington's birthday the visiting Knights attended the famous Orin circus in a body, occupying the president's box.

The following day, President Diaz gave a dinner, at which the entire party were received at the White House of Mexico.

The banquet given by the candidates at the American club, in honor of Supreme Knight Hearne, was a very elegant affair. The national colors of both Mexico and the United States were in evidence and the tables artistically arranged with flowers, which were a marvel to the visitors from the north.

Archbishop Alarcon tendered a reception at his home to the party, Saturday afternoon.

Sunday morning, the Knights attended high mass in a body, at San Lorenzo church. Rev. P. C. McGivney of Middleton, Conn., the grand chaplain of the order, delivered the sermon, which was of more than passing interest.

A large number of ladies accompanied the party to Mexico, and were magnificently entertained by the society leaders of the national capital. Each afternoon of their stay was devoted to receptions given in their honor in different parts of the city.

The new council is composed of the representative business men of the city, and is distinctly American in its personnel. E. W. Sours, a former Albuquerque boy, now manager for R. G. Dunn & Co., of Mexico, is one of the high officers of the new council.

RESIGNS POSITION ON NEW MEXICAN FOR RANGE SERVICE.

Hugh H. Harris, who has filled the position of news editor of the Daily New Mexican very acceptably for the past three months, severed his connection with this paper today, in order to assume the duties of a ranger on the Jones Forest Reserve, says that paper. William F. Brogan, who has been on the editorial staff, succeeds him as city and news editor.

REV. CARTER BADLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY.

A runaway occurred, Monday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, on Main street, and Rev. G. H. Carter had a narrow escape from being killed, says the Record. The wagon team of R. L. Phillips broke loose and ran from in front of the store of Morrison Bros. and collided with the wagon and team driven by Rev. G. H. Carter in front of the Citizens' National bank. This stopped the Phillips team, and the Carter team got away by breaking off the two front wheels of the wagon. Mr. Carter lost control of the team, and as they dashed north he fell on the single tree and tongue. Opposite the Record office the tongue broke and the aged driver fell under the wheels, with the horses kicking at him. He held his hands to his face, and the wheels passed over his neck, breast and legs. Letting the team go, the spectators ran to the assistance of the driver, and he was carried into the second hand store, north of the Record office, and a physician called. The physician found no broken bones, but Mr. Carter was badly bruised on the face, hands, neck, breast and thighs. He is 67 years of age.

Mr. McIntosh and Mr. Garcia are both extensively interested in sheep raising and report conditions for sheep during the coming season the most promising they have ever known in the Estancia valley.

DEAD BODY OF
SHEEP HERDER FOUND

AND THREE MEN ARRESTED ON SUSPICION--A LINCOLN COUNTY TRAGEDY.

A correspondent, writing to the Santa Fe New Mexican, from White Oaks, tells of the finding of the dead body of a sheep herder who disappeared some time ago, and foul play is suspected, three men having been arrested on suspicion. The article says:

Last winter during the heavy snows a man by the name of Marcelino Canas was herding goats in the foothills of the Jicarilla mountains about ten miles east of White Oaks. Cas Otero and Salomon Gonzales, stepsons of Juan Chavez y Trujillo, a prominent sheep man of the county, living at Ravent, are also herding goats near by.

Disappeared.

During the cold weather, Canas was mysteriously disappeared, and the two young men were strongly suspected of making away with him, as the missing man was known to have about $600 concealed in a belt on his person.

No arrests were made however, at the time, but as soon as the snow disappeared a diligent search was made for the body by Sheriff Owen and others, without results. An amulet, or cross, which Gonzales wore, was found in the possession of a woman who was living with him in camp, also a buckle and a small portion of a belt were found near where Otero and Gonzales had their camps, which were supposed to be a part of the garments worn by the victim at the time of his disappearance.

Body Found.

The search was, however, never entirely given up by friends, and Saturday the body of Canas was found in an abandoned hole in the vicinity of the camp where an attempt had been made to conceal it by throwing in rocks. Upon this news being reported to him, the sheriff at once came from Lincoln and arrested, together with the two men mentioned, a woman who was supposed to be an accessory, and took them to the county jail. A coroner's jury was empaneled by Justice of the Peace Norton, of Jicarilla precinct, but what their verdict was has not yet been learned.

Biloxi, Miss.

Dr. Earl S. Sloan:

Dear Sir--Four years ago my little girl was dangerously ill with Scarlet Fever. She seemed to be dying, her body was drawn back and she suffered greatly. The doctor tried remedy after remedy, but failed to relieve the pain, until as a last resort he used Sloan's Liniment. My child began to experience relief immediately, and was well today. I always keep Sloan's Liniment in the house now, and use it for every emergency.

THE MAN WHO PUT THE MONSTER RAILROAD COAL TRUST IN THE HOLE

THE STORY OF HOW LOGAN M. BULLITT, THE RED ROCK FUEL MAN, WHO HAS SET CONGRESS IN FULL CRY AFTER THE PENNSYLVANIA-BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD COAL OCTOPUS.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 1.--Through the daring action of one man, who happens to have the courage, a body blow has been struck at the citadel of the greedy railroad trust.

A sweeping investigation is to be made of the trade methods of the spiderweb of railroads that dominate the hard and soft coal fields of the country. Disclosures into a monster plot to restrict trade in the great American commodity--coal, are promised.

The man is Logan B. Bullitt, president of the Red Rock Fuel company, a relatively obscure bituminous mining company, of West Virginia. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, one arm of the trust, refused to allow this little independent concern to do business. The worm turned, and the little concern carried its complaint before the interstate commerce commission. That body heard the evidence, and in scathing denunciation of the action of the railroad and peremptorily ordered the discrimination stopped.

The report of the commission was sent to every member of congress, and President Roosevelt became interested. Representative Gillespie, of Texas, fathered the resolution to investigate in the house, and "Pitchfork" Ben Tillman has declared his intention of fighting for a clean sweep of the matter in the senate. Next month Judge Dayton, of the United States circuit court of the northern district of West Virginia, will be called upon to enforce the order of the interstate commerce commission.

These plans are resultant from the bold action of Bullitt, who, as he said in a petition to congress, urges an investigation "in the interest of all independent coal shippers who have no railroad influence and the public generally, who have felt the oppressive force of railroad abuses."

The congressional investigation will be into the Pennsylvania railroad system, which is declared to be the skeleton of the coal-railroad trust.

The same gigantic money interests that control the Pennsylvania are associated in the control and domination largely through the Pennsylvania management, of New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio, Philadelphia & Reading, Jersey Central, Lackawanna, Erie, and numerous smaller lines, all forming a perfect network through the soft and hard coal fields of the east, south and middle west.

Though the motive for the investigation is to show that the combination is in restraint of trade and a violation of the anti-trust law, its ramifications are expected to show a system of arbitrarily fixing coal prices, freight rate discrimination of various kinds and

"OLD FIGGERS" IS DOWN AND OUT

Who will do the "figgering" for the republican party in 1908?

Nobody knows yet, because General Charles Grosvenor, familiarly and affectionately known as "Old Figgers," is down and out. He is the man who during the three last presidential campaigns made official forecasts, in numerals, for his party. And his figgers were remarkably close to the result.

Beer With Meals

It is reliably computed that practically one-half of all the beer consumed in the world today is taken with meals. Whether it be with the laborer's cold lunch, the bon-vivant's repast or the "home spread," observing ones must concede to good beer, the place it has won as the nation's health beverage.

BLATZ WIENER BEER

To be health inspiring, appetizing, nourishing--the beer must be good. Blatz Wiener beer possesses every element of beer quality. Its very fragrance and "body" suggests at once the honesty of its ingredients. The vitality of the malt and the aromatic properties of the hops are manifest in every glass. The Blatz method of preparing the malt and original style of brewing accomplish certain results peculiar to Blatz Beers--this is the secret of Blatz character.

Wiener as a Table Beverage

The hop bitters act as an appetizer and digestant--and the malt is nourishing and "foody." The result is eminently satisfying. Nature knows the value of Blatz Wiener as a dietetic. Intelligence fosters Nature's demands. As a culinary adjunct Blatz Wiener is the beverage par excellence. It gives you that well fed feeling. Order a case sent home.

RAILROAD NOTES

Train No. 2 arrived on the morning covered with snow, telling the tale of a snow storm, which raged on the continental divide last night.

The Santa Fe Central Railway company, Tuesday, handled two cars of graders and other machinery for the Grant Construction company, from Kennedy to Torrance. The machinery was then taken to Elyria via the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, for work on the Belen cut-off.

A reception and banquet was held Tuesday evening in the hall of the Railroad Division, No. 251, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in honor of C. C. Reynolds, who has been chairman of the grievance committee of this order for the past six years. The order presented Mr. Reynolds with a handsome gold watch.

Loris Collip, an employee on the Raton & Eastern railroad, while riding on top of a moving freight train, Tuesday, a short distance east of Raton, lost his balance and fell to the ground, alighting on his head. He is unconscious from concussion of the brain. Collip's father is an engineer on the Panama Canal. He has been notified.

Just an even $500,000 in silver passed through this city yesterday in a Wells-Fargo express car, carefully guarded, en route to New York, from which place it will be shipped to London to the Bank of England. The silver was in 167 strong boxes, and if laid edge to edge in a row, would have made a line of dollars over fifteen miles long, and if stacked in one large pile, would have been a mile and a half high. Each box weighed 138 pounds, and contained, with one exception, $3,000 each.

L. M. Moffet, who has been assistant ticket agent for the Burlington and Katy railroads at Kansas City, Mo., has resigned, to accept a position as agent for the Santa Fe railroad at Deming, N. M. Mr. Moffet was at one time traveling passenger agent for the Rock Island, ticket agent for the Rock Island at Wichita and also on Union avenue, in Kansas City. He went with the Burlington last November. J. A. Clarkson, assistant ticket agent at Chillicothe, will succeed Mr. Moffet with the Burlington.

If the United States authorities should desire to ascertain the enormous extent with which the contract labor traffic is being carried on with the natives of Mexico, they could get a good idea of the situation by meeting train No. 10 at the local station these mornings. The smoking car was loaded with men this morning. A similar number passed through on train No. 10 yesterday morning, and on Monday morning the number was even larger. Within the past three days at least 200 of this class of laborers have passed through Albuquerque en route north.

There seems to still be much doubt in the minds of many at Gallup as to whether or not she will get the new Arizona & Colorado road building through that part of New Mexico. The line as surveyed, runs several miles north of that city, crossing the Santa Fe tracks about seven miles this side of Gallup, and it is said that there are several difficulties in the way of channeling the survey. Of course, if the survey is not completed by morning, we'd rather the road would run 100 miles away than only seven miles away, at would mean the death of the building of a new rival line. The chief engineer at a dinner here in that city several days ago, stated that he would do all in his power to get the road into Gallup, but it is not a 'cinch' yet, by any means.

WORK COMMENCED ON ASH FORK DEPOT.

The Flagstaff Sun says: Work on the new depot and Harvey eating house at Ash Fork has commenced at last. Monday, a large force of men and teams, with scrapers, started the excavation work a half mile west of the present establishment. According to contract, the building must be completed and ready for occupancy in seven months, so that work on it will of necessity have to be rushed, but it is thought it will be completed on schedule time. The frame work will be started next month. The building is to be on the order of the Alvarado, at Albuquerque, N. M., but not on so large a scale. It will be built on the Mission plan, with pebble cement finish, and will have under the one roof an ice plant, hotel and dining rooms, depot, ticket office, etc., and will be one of the prettiest houses on the line.

MANY POSTAL CLERKS KILLED AND INJURED.

In his effort to show that the railway mail cars which are being furnished the postoffice department are so poorly constructed as to be responsible for so many injuries and deaths of postal clerks in wrecks, Senator Tillman has had the senate call on the postmaster general for figures as to the number of wrecks and number of casualties to postal clerks. This data has been furnished the senate and

BIG SNOW STORM IN ARIZONA

Train 2 Arrived This Morning Plastered With Plenty of the "Beautiful."

PASSENGERS SAW SLEIGHING THERE

Arizona was visited by a severe snow storm yesterday afternoon and last night, according to passengers arriving on No. 2 this morning. The train itself bore every evidence of having passed through deep drifts of "the beautiful," as the trucks and coach sides were packed with it, and the windows, steps and roof coated with the "pretty little flakes."

A passenger informed The Citizen representative that all yesterday afternoon and last night the storm raged, depositing several inches of snow on the ground. The snow was accompanied by a heavy wind which tended to produce drifts. It was so light, however, that the monstrous Santa Fe engines encountered but little difficulty in smashing their way through, at the regular speed.

It was also very cold through Arizona, according to The Citizen informant. Although a high, chilly wind prevailed here during yesterday afternoon and last night, when it increased in velocity to a great extent, not a particle of snow fell in the Duke City, a fact which will be regretted by those anxious for another sleigh ride this year.

In most of the Arizona towns yesterday runners were hastily substituted for wheels, and to the music of jingling bells merry parties slid over the ground.

OKLAHOMANS MIGRATING TO NEW MEXICO

ONE FAMILY TAKES UP EIGHT QUARTER SECTIONS IN ESTAN- CIA VALLEY.

An example of the way large numbers of the early settlers of Oklahoma are migrating to New Mexico is found in the case of J. R. Nesbitt, who has just landed in the Estancia valley with bag and baggage and fifteen children. Seven of these children are 21 years of age and Mr. Nesbitt has located each with paternal pride upon 160 acres of rich land, not overlooking a fertile quarter section for himself, and in all they have taken up two sections, consisting of 1,280 acres. Several of Mr. Nesbitt's remaining offspring are also nearing 21 years of age and these he expects to locate as they cross the line.

Mr. Nesbitt is one of a colony of Oklahomans who have come to New Mexico from the neighborhood of Norman and Kingfisher, Okla. The reason they give for leaving Oklahoma is that it has not come up to their expectations in climate and fertility.

DAY AND WEATHER.

Snow in north and rain in south-east portion tonight and probably Friday. Colder in south portion.

Sun rose at 6:31 and will set at 5:54, making the day 11:23 long. Moon will set at 11:57 p. m. First quarter of the moon ends on Saturday morning at 4:13. The Jewish calendar for the month consists of Feast of Esther, on the 8th; Purim, 11th and 12th; Rosh Hodesh Nissan, 27th. Day has been windy and rather cold. March was, in old times, the first month of the year, and for that reason was named Mars, the god of war. On this day, 1897, Japan adopted the gold standard.

REPORT OF TRAINS.

At 4 o'clock No. 8 was reported due at 9:45. All other trains on time. Two sections of No. 7.

Hon. H. B. Ferguson left last night for Las Vegas, where he goes on legal business.

John Belknap, of the American Lumber company, returned last evening from a trip to Chicago.

Assessor George F. Albright began taking the assessment returns yesterday for the county, for the annual Bernalillo county tax rolls.

Schools in two districts of Bernalillo county, district No. 33, La Tijera and La Madera, have been discontinued, owing to the lack of funds.

The annual meeting of the Women's Club will be held at the club rooms, tomorrow afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

L. B. Crawford, of the Alvarado pharmacy, has returned from Santa Fe, accompanied by Mrs. Crawford. He had temporary charge of Ireland's pharmacy at Santa Fe.

Mrs. M. W. Flournoy, her guest, Mrs. Amy Cruise, of Kansas City, and Mrs. S. O. Andrus, composed a party who left last night for a few days' pleasure trip to California points.

Mrs. Frank Dow, of Superior, Wis., mother of Mrs. W. S. Bowen, of this city, is here today, and after a visit of a few days will continue to California, accompanied by Mrs. Bowen.

A bill of sale was recorded in the probate court today, whereby Pantoleon P. Martinez transferred to Teodosio Sandoval the barber chairs and fixtures located at 119 Railroad avenue for $250.

The damage done the city fire wagon in turning over on Tuesday will not be as great as first supposed. The wagon will be out of the shop tomorrow, and the cost of repair work will not amount to over $40.

Mrs. W. J. Cardwell, who has been visiting friends in southern California the past few months, has returned to the city and she reports herself in good health and as having enjoyed herself immensely in the land of roses and foggy climate.

Jack Seales, who represented the Armour Packing company in Los Angeles, has returned to the city. He has resigned his position with the above company, and will soon represent some other business, with headquarters and home in this city.

Fanned by the high wind, that was blowing a gale, a fire, presumably started from a spark from a passing engine, this morning began eating its way across a field of grass, east of the Santa Fe tracks, near Mausard's mill. The fire department had little trouble in extinguishing it.

The little confectionery store at the corner of Railroad avenue and Fourth street was entered the other night and a box of cigars and forty-five cents stolen. The matter was not reported to the police until yesterday, when the proprietor of the place got a clue as to who had the cigars.

The trucks of a car being side-tracked to the wool scouring mill, this morning, became derailed in such a way as to require several hours of diligent labor on the part of the yard force to replace it on the track. As the accident happened on a siding, no trouble was occasioned on the main track.

James H. Paxton, formerly a member of the University faculty, but now connected with the law firm of Moore & Hixon, of Las Cruces, was in the city last evening for a short time, en route home from Santa Fe, where he has been conducting business before the supreme court. A number of Mr. Paxton's old friends met him at the depot, and chatted relative to the old days when he was a school teacher. Mr. Paxton states that his partner, Horton Moore, who has been seriously ill for some time past, it having been reported in this city at one time that he was dead, was fast recovering his health.

Attorney A. B. McMillen went to Santa Fe this morning to attend supreme court, which is in session here this week. Mr. McMillen also has matters to come up before Judge F. W. Parker, of the Third judicial district, who is in Santa Fe sitting as associate justice of the supreme court.

Souvenir postal card dealers of the city, have received cards bearing a fine picture of Railroad avenue, looking west from the Santa Fe tracks. The scene contains an electric car, several trees, with the foliage green, which is evidence that the picture was taken in summer, and a rear view of James McCorriston, the cement sidewalk contractor, in his wagon going west.

Quite a number of Albuquerque citizens, who have received marked copies of the Chicago Inter-Ocean containing an article "Gallows for Veteran Tried by Mexicans," feel very indignant and bitter against the writer. The article is dated from Santa Fe, N. M., and the writer is known, so states several of the indignant people. The article refers to the Conley murders and hanging, the trial, the reprieve, etc., and all through and through, insinuations are cast upon the native people. It is known here that the most sensational stuff, ever manufactured by man, was sent out from Santa Fe about the Conley hanging, and several citizens here are investigating and will undoubtedly file official charges.
