LITTLE DOING OVER BIG POND

Algenciras Conference Remains Idle Awaiting Developments.

SHEPARD ESCAPES JAILING

Russia is Engaged in Punishing Evidences of High Patriotism.

BONI AND ANNA ARE IN COURT

Algenciras, March 17.—Neither the Moroccan conference nor the committee met today. Everything has been deferred until the French and German agree on the remaining details.

SWITZERLAND NOT CONSIDERED

Paris, March 17.—Official advice show that Switzerland had not been consulted and does not approve of the Austro-German plan of placing a Swiss commander over the Franco-Spanish police in Morocco.

MONEY IS ABLE TO ATONE FOR CRIME

Paris, March 17.—The authorities have granted a six months' delay in the case of Elliott F. Shepard, of New York, who was sentenced to pay an indemnity and to serve three months' imprisonment for running over and killing a little girl, while driving his automobile at St. Quentin, April, last. This is considered a virtual abandonment of the imprisonment part of the sentence, which will ultimately be changed to an additional fee.

TRYING TO DISGRACE STOESEL FOR DEFEAT

St. Petersburg, March 17.—The evidence taken in the course of the investigation of the surrender of Port Arthur by Stoesel, will probably drag on for six weeks longer, and will heavily damage the reputation of Stoesel, who is now demanding that General Nogi and other Japanese commanders be summoned as witnesses to testify to the heroic character of his defense.

WOULD NOT FIRE ON UNARMED COUNTRYMEN

Moscow, March 17.—Captain Shamsky, who refused to order his company to fire on the people during the riots here, last summer, has been sentenced by a court martial to dismissal from the service and a confinement of eighteen months in the fortress.

THE CASTELLANES ARE SUMMONED TO COURT

Paris, March 17.—Judge Durr, president of the First Tribunal of the Seine, has summoned the Count and Countess de Castellane for the purpose of seeking a reconciliation under the wife's last application for absolute divorce. The countess was present, with her attorney, Edmond Kelly. The count's attorney presented a certificate from his doctor, saying that the count was sick and unable to be present in court. The hearing was then adjourned for a fortnight.

WANTED TO COUNT DEAD MAN'S VOTE

PENA BLANCA DITCH ELECTION CONTEST BRINGS OUT CURIOUS TESTIMONY.

The taking of testimony in the regular annual contest over the election of officers of the Pena Blanca irrigation ditch has just been brought to a close in Referee Madison's office. The contestants were Preciliano Ortiz, Alejandro Montes Vigil, Robert Ortiz and Emilio de la O, while the defendants were Marcelino Baca, Esquiliano Baca, Blauteria Leyba and Feliciano Montoya. The only very interesting feature in the case was the attempt of the contestants to accomplish the resurrection of one Antonio Gurela. In their sworn statements they stated that Gurela had appeared at the election and offered to vote for them, and that his vote had been wickedly and wrongfully rejected. Gurela has been dead since August 29, 1905, and the election was held on October 2, 1905, nearly two months after his death, and the contestants failed to show whether he had come back from above or below, to vote for them, and in the absence of any evidence on this point, it is probable that the vote of Gurela is forever lost.

A church of Pena Blanca erected a record of the death of Antonio Gurela on the 29th of August, 1905, in the book of records of deaths, page 123, signed by P. Camilo Faugmann, priest at the time of the demise of Gurela at Pena Blanca.

The evidence in the case is all in, having been finished before Referee Madison yesterday morning, and it is more than likely that when the summing up of the case takes place before the regular judge, he will decide upon the momentous question as to whether a "dead man's" vote can be legally counted or not.

H. C. Roehl and T. F. Walsh left this afternoon on train No. 2, for the east. Mr. Roehl is returning to Chicago to resume his work in the office of the general purchasing agent of the Santa Fe, and Mr. Walsh is going to Buffalo to work at his trade. Mr. Walsh is a machinist, who learned of his trade at the local shops.

D. J. Nussbaum returned this morning from a hurried professional trip to El Paso.

Chicago Live Stock.

Chicago, Ill., March 17.—Cattle receipts, 3,000; market, steady; hives, $2.40@2.45; cows and heifers, $1.50@1.55; stockers and feeders, $2.50@2.55.

ST. PATRICK'S CELEBRATION

England, Ireland, and the United States Do It Honor.

WEARING OF THE GREEN IS GREATLY IN EVIDENCE WHEREVER THE SONS OF ERIN HAVE LEFT HOME AND MIGRATED TO FOREIGN LANDS

London, March 17.—Never before was St. Patrick's day celebrated as generally in this city as today. The Irish flag was displayed in many public buildings and clubs. Special services were held in all Catholic churches in the morning and every Irishman as well as many who are not natives of Erin, wore shamrocks in their buttonholes. As usual the Irish troops in the various garrisons were given a day's leave. Queen Alexandra, following the precedent established by Queen Victoria and observed by her ever since she became queen, sent a quantity of shamrocks to the Irish guards on duty at the tower. The shamrocks were distributed among the men at parade this morning.

Boston Has Two.

Boston, Mass., March 17.—Today was a great day for the Irish as well as for the American patriots in this city. The Irishmen are celebrating St. Patrick's day while the American patriots are celebrating the 130th anniversary of the evacuation of Boston by the British troops. The Irish organizations of this city will hold a parade as in former years and it is expected that there will be at least 15,000 men in line on this occasion. In the evening there will be a large number of banquets and patriotic meetings. There were special services in all Roman Catholic churches this morning.

In honor of Evacuation day many of the patriotic organizations of the city held meetings in the morning and in the afternoon they will visit points of special historic interest. There will be a parade in the afternoon, in which military organizations and various veteran and patriotic societies will take part. In the evening many societies will have banquets and memorial meetings in honor of Evacuation day.

Both Irish and Welsh.

Seranton, Pa., March 17.—There is a double celebration in this city today. The Irishmen of Seranton and vicinity are celebrating St. Patrick's day, while the Welshmen of this district hold their annual Eisteddfod at the North End auditorium. The double celebration has attracted many hundreds of visitors from the surrounding districts and the town presents a festive appearance. The Eisteddfod comprises three events. The first is a singing contest, which will be held this morning and the third and final one in the evening. The great St. Patrick's day parade will be held this afternoon and will be under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Several Irish-American societies will give St. Patrick's day banquets in the evening.

New York's Parade. New York, March 17.—The Irishmen of New York and Brooklyn and the various Irish organizations in particular are observing St. Patrick's day in the usual manner. As usual there will be a big parade under the auspices of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of New York county and it is expected that it will be much bigger than for many years. A big ball will be held in Selzer's Harlem River park, not in Madison Square Garden, as the latter will be the scene of the Pastime Athletic club games tonight. There will be no parade, but the St. Patrick society and many other Irish organizations will give banquets in honor of the Irish patron saint.

Dublin Does Her Duty.

Dublin, March 17.—St. Patrick's day was observed with more than ordinary zest and enthusiasm today (ann for many years and more generally than ever before. There was the usual St. Patrick's day parade at the Dublin castle, which was attended by the Earl and the Countess of Aberdeen. The viceregal pair was received with great enthusiasm. Many thousands witnessed the ceremony.

Parades and Banquets.

Well, Mass., March 17.—The Irish organizations of this city will celebrate St. Patrick's day with a parade this afternoon, which promises to be the largest ever held in this city. Many prominent Irishmen and invited guests will review the marchers from the grand stand erected for that purpose in the evening there will be a number of banquets in honor of the Irish patron saint.

Baltimore Holds Banquets.

Baltimore, Md., March 17.—The various local divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will celebrate St. Patrick's day by holding banquets tonight. There will be no parade.

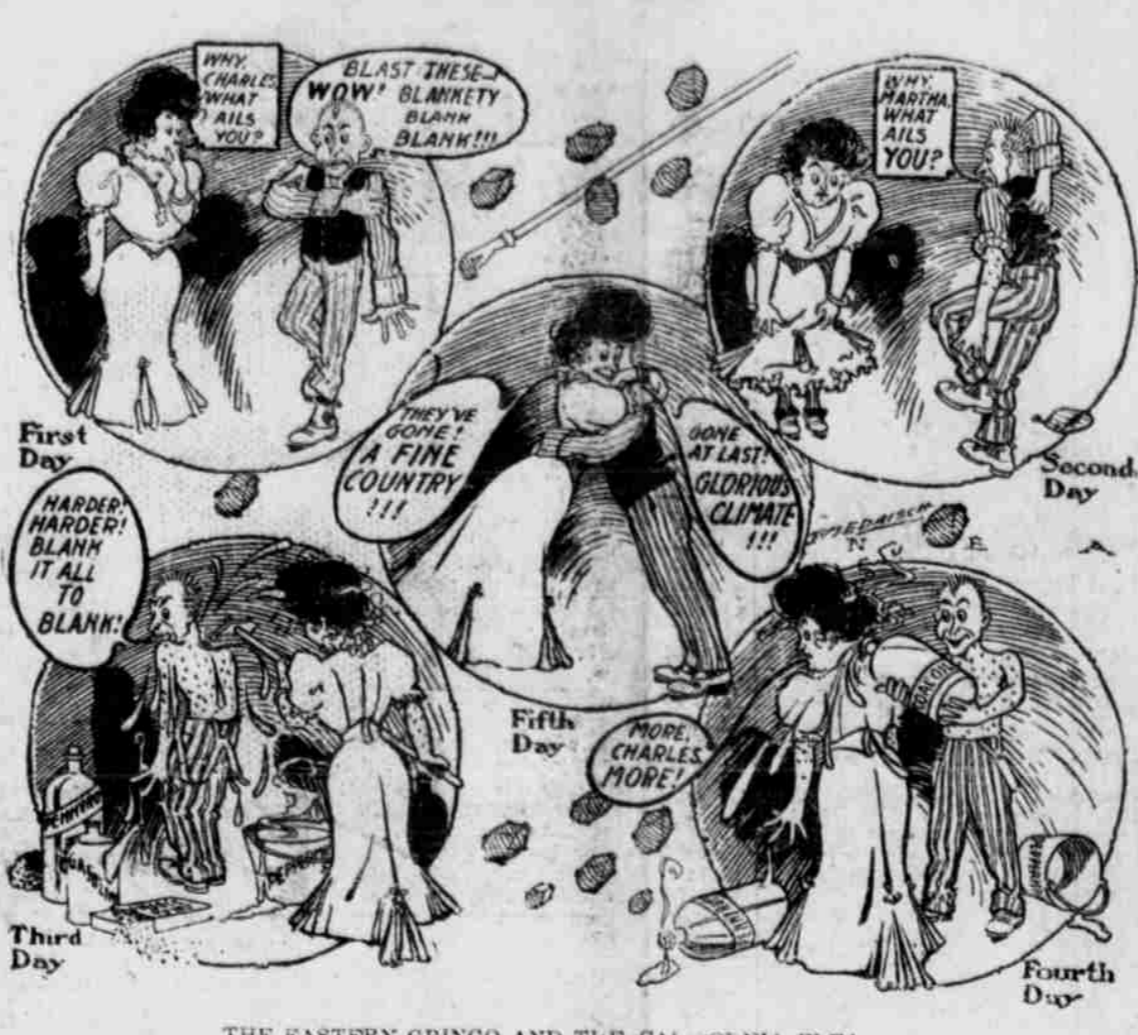

Porkopolis Participants.

Cincinnati, O., March 17.—The United Irish societies of this city will hold a big celebration in honor of St. Patrick's day at Central Turner hall this evening. Many prominent speakers will address the meeting.

New York Money Market.

New York, March 17.—Money on call, nominal; no loans; prime mercantile paper, 5.5@5.75 per cent. Bar silver, 65c.

POINTERS FOR SUMMER TOURISTS

AMERICA'S ONLY VICE PRESIDENT

Will be Sixty Nine Tomorrow and Friends Will Celebrate.

MR. CLEVELAND HOLDS AGE

Is Peacefully Declining Into the Psalmist's Extra Limit of Life.

Princeton, N. J., March 17.—Former President Grover Cleveland will be 69 years old tomorrow and his friends are preparing to celebrate the anniversary of his birth. Mr. Cleveland enjoys the distinction of being the only ex-president of the United States living at the present day. Although no longer actively engaged in politics he is still considered a man of strong political power and influence. It is a remarkable fact that there has been scarcely any change in his appearance since his retirement from the presidency, concerning which judgment and advice was sought. He is probably a greater man now, at least in a wider sense, than when he was president, although his strength lies not in his party affiliations.

Mr. Cleveland has lately been brought into prominence through the reorganization of the insurance companies after the scandalous exposures of the investigation. When the scandal covered officials of the insurance companies faced the difficult task of winning back public confidence, they saw that it could only be done by placing in charge some man who had the absolute confidence of the American public. In that crisis they turned to Grover Cleveland and finally secured his consent for him to become the head of the Equitable board of trustees, to bring a new regime into the company that the Hydes and Alexanders had discredited.

Mr. Cleveland is still hale and sound. He is a believer in the precept of moderation in all things and there is no man more devoted to fishing and hunting than he. His aspirations in that line do not run toward big game. He is satisfied with smaller game and enjoys it immensely to spend his leisure time in the woods or along the streams, hunting and fishing.

OARSMEN MET TODAY IN NEW YORK CITY.

New York, March 17.—The annual spring meeting of the executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen will be held at the New York Athletic club this evening. The main object of the meeting is to fix the time and place for the annual regatta during the coming summer. It is expected that there will be several contestants in the field, but the general opinion is that the committee will locate the regatta either on the Connecticut river at Springfield, or on Lake Quinsigamond, near Worcester, Mass. Philadelphia will be among the bidders, but it seems to have little show this year. Another decision, it is expected, will be reached at this meeting, as to whether or not all races in the future shall be rowed over a straightaway course. It is considered more than a mere probability that the committee will adopt the straightaway idea, as it is held to be much more satisfactory than a course which involves the negotiation of a turn.

NATIONAL EXHIBITION OFFERS IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Ill., March 17.—The National Business show at the McCormick will open tonight. The exhibit of office furniture, appliances, systems, accessories and other things pertaining to office equipment is remarkably complete and interesting, particularly in the display of labor-saving devices.

Lead and Copper.

New York, March 17.—Copper and lead, quiet and unchanged.

DISASTERS OCCUR ON RAILWAY LINES

Farther Particulars of Yesterday's Horrible Accident in Colorado.

DISPATCHER FELL ASLEEP

From Overwork and So Failed to Give the Orders Intended Causing Death.

Pueblo, Colo., March 17.—While the exact number of lives lost in the Adobe wreck near Florence on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, will never be known, it will undoubtedly take rank among the great disasters in the history of railroading. In other wrecks there have been greater loss of life, but none have been so productive of horrors. There was not a single entire body removed from the wreckage, with the exception of the engineer, who, although horribly mangled, were not reached by the flames. Bits of charred flesh and piles of bones were all that indicated the holocaust, but the bits of bones were picked up, and from these it is estimated that no less than thirty-six perished. Seventeen charred and mangled and utterly unrecognizable bodies lie in the Pueblo morgue, several others are known to have perished, and possibly a score were burned to ashes.

All the injured, it is said, will probably recover. Patrick Murphy, the Florence city well driller, was prominent in the work of rescue. After escaping from the burning car and dragging two others to safety, he dashed back in search of other unfortunate victims. S. T. Lively, the operator, whose failure to deliver the train orders to the westbound train which resulted in the disaster, has been acting at Swallow's station about ten days, although he is said to be an experienced man. It is alleged that Lively had worked excessively for several days and had been deprived of his natural sleep. It is claimed by the railroad that the operator assumed a longer shift on the night work than had usually been required of him, for reasons known only to himself. Lively was not yet arrested for his culpable plan of the failure to deliver the orders is simply: "I was asleep. That's all."

FIVE ARE INJURED, BUT NONE KILLED.

Louisville, Ky., March 17.—Train No. 8, on the Missouri route, which left here for Chicago this morning, was derailed at Horsehead Bend today. Five passengers were injured, but none were killed.

COUNT WITTE DEPLORES ATROCITIES AGAINST JEWS.

Chicago, Ill., March 17.—Adolf Kraus of this city, president of the executive committee of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, received the following cablegram from Count Witte. "Adolf Kraus, Chicago.—I am sure you have not doubt I can only approve of violence no matter against whom directed. The deplorable events which have taken place were the result of riots. You may be assured that the government will use all possible measures to prevent violence against peaceful inhabitants, without regard to racial nationality (religion) they belong." (Signed) COUNT WITTE.

MANUEL GARCIA WAS 101 YEARS OF AGE TODAY.

London, March 17.—Manuel Garcia, the well known professor of singing of the University of London and in vogue of the large opera, who made his professional debut eighty years ago at the old Park theater, New York, is celebrating his 101st birthday today. He is still enjoying remarkably good health. King Edward and many high officials and members of scientific societies sent their congratulations.

RED DAY IN SPORT AMONG THE ATHLETES

Madison Square Garden is the Scenic of Attractive Program.

FAMOUS SPRINTERS THERE

Representatives to Coming Grecian Games Will Take Part in Show.

New York, March 17.—The championship games under the auspices of the Pastime Athletic club, which will be held at Madison Square Garden this evening, give every promise of being among the most interesting and important athletic events of the season. The program for the event is unusually attractive and the entries far above the average. Several of the large colleges of the east will be represented by teams in the relay races and by individual contestants in the field events. Some of the most famous sprinters and runners from all parts of the country will compete for the valuable prizes. One of the features of the games will be the special events taken from the program of the olympic games. The American athletes selected to represent the United States at the olympic games in Greece during the coming season will compete in the races, which will be something of a preliminary tryout for them. One of the events will be a one-mile race for high school boys.

Rev. Peters Will Not Back Down.

New York, March 17.—Rev. C. Peters has stirred up a hornet's nest by the assertion that a number of ladies demolished a number of bottles of champagne at a sitting, and that the drinking habit is common among women in the higher walks of society, and that ladies could be seen in the dining rooms of hotels quaffing their toddy on equal terms among men. The ladies have denied Dr. Peters' statement in the papers, and they have had him before one of their societies and tried to get him to retract his assertions.

But he stuck to his guns, and when they said it wasn't true, he said he could prove it. Of course he can. It is pure cheek for the ladies to attempt to discredit the statement. It is only so, but it would be impossible for one to fail to see it if one only visited the dining rooms. The women of New York are becoming drinkers to a remarkable degree.

UNITED MINERS GIVE MONEY TO Defend Accused Officials of the Western Federation of Miners.

FIVE THOUSAND AND MORE

Charges of Conspiracy Are Denied by the Idaho Officials.

CASE GOES OVER TO TUESDAY

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America voted $5,000 for the legal defense of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone of the Western Federation of Miners, who are under indictment in Idaho, charged with the murder of Steunenberg.

One Thousand Marched. The executive board is authorized to expend additional funds for the defense of the men if more money shall be found necessary. The convention adjourned till Monday, in honor of St. Patrick's Day. Nearly 1,000 delegates marched in the parade.

Ryan Resolution Shelved.

It is reported this afternoon upon what seemed very high authority, that the report of the scale committee, made in the convention, yesterday and adopted, will be regarded as virtually repealing the Ryan resolution, which was adopted at length, and quietly faded into oblivion, and no efforts will be made to revive it. This course would permit of each district signing the wage scale independent of the others.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED ON OFFICIALS WON'T STICK.

Caldwell, Idaho, March 17.—The sensational allegations made against A. B. Moss, foreman of the grand jury which indicted Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, were not sustained when the testimony in the matter was taken today before Judge Smith. Moss testified that he had talked with no one about the case outside of the jury room, and he further testified that he had never expressed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused men. The affidavits of Governor Gooding and Attorney J. H. Hawley, denying that they had any conversation with Foreman Moss in regard to the evidence in the Steunenberg murder case, were also introduced. The motion of the defense to quash the indictments was denied. The questions raised by the defense on demurrer were argued at length, and taken under advisement by the judge until Tuesday, as was the question of admitting the defendants to bail.

LOW WAVER RATES AT DEMING

RATES CHARGED BY WATER COMPANY OF THAT TOWN ARE LOWER THAN AT OTHER PLACES.

The Deming City Water company is making rates far below those at other places, says the Headlight. They have an unlimited supply of pure soft water. Their mains circle the town, and all laterals are connected at each end with the mains, giving a complete and continuous circulation—no possible stagnation, no standing stagnant water in old decayed and mosquito-breeding tanks, but a pure, clean and healthy flow at all times. No poisonous gasses emitted from defective sinks and cess-pools, and the best of all is that the rates are so reasonable that everyone can afford to throw away his old windmill and take pure, fresh, soft water from the town, and all laterals are connected at each end with the mains, giving a complete and continuous circulation—no possible stagnation, no standing stagnant water in old decayed and mosquito-breeding tanks, but a pure, clean and healthy flow at all times. "Have you begun to save up for next summer's vacation?"

"Sure. Began a month ago."

"How much have you got together?"

"Three railroad guides, two steamship books and five hotel advertisements."

The cowboys have been playing jokes on Ellhu Root, Jr., who left college for a ranch in order to regain his health. What's a cowboy like to a man who has been hazed?

"I'm happy in the thought that no woman ever will be able to run my son," said the proud mother.

"He's very independent, is he?"

"Not so very; but he's too lazy to be run."

A WIFE BEATER.

"Fierce luck," said the manager of the stock company. "Miss Rantington and her husband have settled their troubles and she's gone back to him."

"Oh, she always was a great woman for revivals."

"How did your husband like your new spring bonnet?"

"He liked it immensely."

"Did he entice over it?"

"No, he never said a word—didn't even ask what it cost."

A GOOD SENDOFF FOR WILLARD.

The little god of love has settled the fate of two hearts and in the hereafter those two hearts shall beat as one. We refer to our genial friend Mr. Willard Hyde, who stole a march upon his many friends and hid himself to Gloucester station where he threw off single blessedness and put on the double harness of matrimony. The happy bride was Miss Eva Carter. They will be home in their large and commodious house which Mr. Hyde owned previous to his marriage.

A very fine reception was given them by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Armstrong, at which the choicest viands and all the delicacies obtainable were served in a manner characteristic of the hostess. Willard, may peace, plenty and prosperity be ever thine.—Barnesville (O.) Enterprise.

THE TWO SNAKES THAT WAITED.

Madison, Va., March 17.—Your correspondent has submitted to a number of local naturalists the Groversville story about the intelligent snake that chattered the cream and ate the butter and takes pleasure in stating that they announce the story is not at all improbable.

"The reason I don't doubt it, snh," said Ben Beaton, who collected rattlers for Barnum's circus in 1879. "Is that I knew two snakes that showed the same ordish of intelligence. I had a hen that was a great layer, but one spring she seemed to go stale—not an egg from her. I began to take notice to find out what was the trouble. She cackled all right once a day, but nary an egg. I watched and at last I found there was a snake that hid in the grass not far from her nest. It would wait until the hen cackled, then sneak up and steal the egg."

"Then there was another snake that would wait around the cowbells until the milking was finished. When I heard the cowbells I would crawl through a hole in the shed and lick up the milk that had been spilled. That same snake learned the sound of the cowbells, and it picked out a Jersey cow and followed her all the time and milked her every day. It wouldn't follow the common cow at all. Finally we switched bells, but the snake soon got on and we had to change bells every day for a month. Then we managed to kill the snake."

BOWLING ENTHUSIASTS ARE Gathered in Louisville to Attend the American Bowling Congress.

Louisville, Ky., March 17.—Between 8,000 and 10,000 bowling enthusiasts from all parts of the United States are assembled in this city at present and for the next ten days or two weeks Louisville will practically be owned and run by the bowlers, who have congregated here to attend the greatest bowling tournament in the history of this country. The American Bowling Congress, which is the official name, begins today and owing to the unprecedentedly large number of entries for the great bowling contest, will probably last about fourteen days.

Never before in the history of bowling in the United States has there been so much enthusiastic interest in a national bowling tournament as in the case of the present event. The list of prizes is far greater than ever and aggregates over $20,000. This monster prize list means that between 300 and 400 teams, composed of men each, will take part in the contests, while the doubles and singles will be in proportion. There is scarcely a large city in the country that is not represented by at least one team. To accommodate the large number of contestants sixteen entirely new alleys have been constructed in the Armory building, where the tournament will take place.

Large as the Milwaukee tournament last year was, the present tournament surpasses it in every respect. In the number of teams as well as in the amount of prizes. Entries from points as far west as San Francisco have been made and the east will be unusually well represented. New York, which did not take part in any national tournament since 1902, will be represented by about fifteen teams. The farthest delegation is from Chicago, which has entered not less than forty-five club teams. Louisville comes next with twenty-five teams; Philadelphia and Detroit with fifteen each; Milwaukee with only seven; Peoria and Buffalo are also represented by seven teams each. Besides these there are scores of cities and towns which have sent from one to five teams. Among them are Pittsburg, Denver, St. Paul, Washington, D. C., Chattanooga, Minneapolis, Newark, Memphis, Nashville, New Orleans, Atlanta, Little Rock, Mobile, Montgomery, Birmingham, Jacksonville, Savannah, Seattle, Omaha, St. Louis, Galveston and many other cities in all sections of the country.

The arrangements for the tournament are as complete and perfect as they could be made under the circumstances and great credit is due to the management of the local team. For the first time in national tournaments bowlers will be allowed to roll three events in two days, thereby entailing a detention from business of only three days for players within 300 miles. The plan this year is to have a man roll his team games at night, his doubles the following morning and his singles in the afternoon. The first balls will be rolled at 9 o'clock every morning and the last before 11 o'clock at night. This will save the complaints that were registered in the past against rolling long after midnight.

The new armory building is an ideal place for holding such a tournament. The building is large enough to accommodate the enormous crowds and every facility will be offered to the contestants in the great tournament. The large drill hall of the armory where the alleys are laid, is admirably adapted for the purpose. The floor space is so large that the alleys only occupy about one-eighth of the space. The hall offers seating accommodations for more than 10,000 persons.

The tournament begins today and, in honor of St. Patrick's day Irish teams are given the precedence. The hall itself formed the center of interest all day and thousands visited the scene of the tournament during the forenoon. Even a larger attendance is expected in the afternoon and evening.

During the week of the tournament the National Bowlers' league of America will hold its annual meeting here and the politicians among the bowlers are already pulling the wires in the interest of their candidates and cities. It is generally believed that Charles H. Ebbetts of Brooklyn will be the next national president. It is considered practically settled that the tournament next year will be held in Philadelphia. The Chicago bowlers do not seem to have any aspirations concerning the presidency but it is understood that they are quietly laying their plans to secure the tournament to be held in 1908. It is believed that they will find many supporters of their claims.

LAS VEGAS TO TRY THE DRY FARMING PLAN.

The Commercial club of Las Vegas has taken up the matter of dry farming by the Campbell system, and will give it a thorough test. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of rich mesa lands in this vicinity, where the rainfall is fourteen inches a year on the average. The experiments will be made on a scale large enough and thorough enough to demonstrate whether crops can be grown hereabouts without irrigation.

Mrs. Richle will remain at 1117 Alamo avenue, in that city, for several months. Mr. Richle returning to this city in a few days.

A. W. Austin, a dentist of Pittsburg, Pa., has arrived in the city, and will remain several days, looking over the city, with a view to locating here at some future time.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, March 17.—The vogue of the Empire styles are having their effect upon blouses and there is one called the Empire blouse; it is quite a novelty, built upon the 1906 lines but has the comfort and charming effects of the 1906 modes. In the first place, it is a popular idea to make the Empire blouse of the same material as the dress, elaborately decorated, in that case, with some contrasting fabric or handsome trimming; but as it will be quite the mode to have one more extra blouse to wear

STREET COSTUMES

A stunning street costume is in banana cloth. The skirt is short, three inches from the ground, and the front panel is continued over the hips, giving the necessary fullness. The coat is close fitting, and a slight belt defines the waist line. This garment is collarless; the waist is outlined with a narrow black braid, and the straps on the shoulders are similarly trimmed. Double cuffs have the braid, and medium buttons of dull metal fasten the coat and decorate the sleeves.

A stiff low crown straw hat is worn with this costume. The hat is of loghorn, trimmed with ruching of dull pink ribbon, and a black aigrette is at the left side.

FOR LITTLE GIRL

In fine prunella cloth a stunning outside coat for Sunday wear is made for a child of 8. It is of ivory white, and it is pleated back and front. Six plaits are used, the upper part of the coat being held snug by a belt.

Hands of Irish crochet lace are about the yoke and adorn the boxed pleat where the coat opens. The little full sleeves are also trimmed with it. The belt is of soft white kid, and it is fastened with a button of the same material.

Napoleonic style of hat, exaggerated in form goes with this coat. The hat is of fine straw, beche beige in color, with a white edge. A bunch of tea roses are in front with a soft white quill tucked through them.

With the Empire and Princess gown, there will be fine Empire blouses of lace and net, and chiffon for evening wear, embroidery and fine diaphanous cloths for the afternoon. Later on in the season a jacket will be worn, but these for present use with the still needed coat should have their sleeves of the simplest form and most

STYLES FOR SPRING FROM DRESSY PARIS

Allover Broderie Anglaise plays an important part in a sheer linen waist that is charming for dress occasions.

The linen used in this waist is the fine handkerchief, tough the sleeves, yoke and plastron is of the embroidery.

A fulness is given the blouse by a group of tiny tucks at the bust, while scalloped edging is used to finish the plastron and is formed into graceful cuffs.

A high stock is at the throat, while a deep belt of white moire ribbon is at the waist line. This is finished with four small buttons formed of brilliant filine stones.

TIPS FOR THE HOME MILLINER

The fad for gold and silver cloth braid is as decided as ever and touches of it are seen on a majority of the smart hats.

When used artistically this trimming is very effective, but care must be used in applying it, as it is easily overdone. A simple touch is enough to give a hat character, while another may spoil it.

One of the simplest of the "gold braid" decorations is the carbochon (see figure No. 3). It is easily made by cutting a circular piece of canvas, of the size desired, and, starting at the center with the gold or silver braid, bringing it around until the pattern is covered. These carbochons are especially pretty as a finish for the stem of a quill, but may be used for numerous other purposes.

One pretty hat of white Irish crochet lace, with low round crown and moderately wide brim, had an inch binding of cloth of gold around the edge of the brim and was trimmed very simply with a soft chiffon scarf, embroidered in gold thread and sequins, draped about the crown of the hat, with the fulness falling over the brim on the left side, where it partly concealed a mass of pale pink rosebuds placed under the brim (see figure 1).

Another hat of violet maitre, tipped high on one side to show a cluster of shaded plumes, and for its only trimming about the crown a row of dainty hosiery, made of gold braid (detail shown in cut No. 2).

Numerous ways of applying a touch of this popular "gilding" will suggest themselves to the milliner, and you may be quite sure that, no matter how it is used, with flowers, lace, ribbon, feathers, anything, it will be "all right," if you will only remember and don't overdo it.

chemisette—tucker, a fancy collar outlining it. The standing collar is high at the back, cuffs corresponding in outline with the fancy collar, turn back over and sleeve puffs, finishing then in short length. The skirt and corsage was of blue chiffon cloth made with many gores, the fullness around the waist being taken up with tiny tucks.

A Princess skirt of the inverted box-pleated order had an Empire blouse of all-over eyellet embroidery with round neck and short sleeves finished with tiny ruffles of fine batiste embroidery.

A charming example of the Princess dress was constructed from radium silk in two shades of grey in pin-stripes. The dress was made over a nine-gored slip and the outer dress was made with as many as fifteen gores which fitted perfectly over the hips under a high crushed girdle, while at the edge of the skirt was a deep nun's fold. The neck was slightly open to show a dainty front of lace over which the bolero fronts, tucked on the shoulders, with curved lower outline crossed in surplice style with gold buttons for ornaments. The sleeves were in one large chiffon puff finished with a narrow lace ruffle. Grey elbow gloves, grey shoes, a grey hat trimmed with pink roses and a parasol carrying out the same color scheme completed the costume.

But all the blouses are not of Empire style and neither are all the dresses modeled after the Empire or Princess modes. For morning wear we have the two-piece suit and for those women, to whom the style is particularly becoming, it is best to adhere to that model. But with these two-piece costumes we will generally wear a belt that is inclined to extreme depth, and give the short waisted effect, necessary when wearing the short jacket, for nothing is so badly as a bit of the blouse between the belt and the jacket.

One charming design and one that is generally becoming was developed from white silk organza to be worn over a pink slip. The straight front

An Easter gown, which is finished and carefully hung away awaiting the end of the penitential season, is of mordore brown lansdowne. Oriental lace, dyed to the exact tone of the fabric, trims this costume, while a brown straw hat of the same shade completes the costume.

The skirt has panel insets of the lace insertion. These reach to the hips, the latter fitting smooth and plain.

The bolero is short and tight. It is surplice in effect, the right side overlapping the left and the lace is introduced in the yoke. It again appears between the bolero and the high snug-fitting girdle.

A broad, round collar reaches out to the shoulders and is edged with a narrow, full meaning of silk.

The girdle of Louisiana is held in place by three jeweled buttons. These are of topaz set in dull bronze.

The hat has a brim of graduated width. It turns up slightly in front and high in the back. About the crown is a wreath of pink roses with biscuit-colored plumes.

TIPS FOR THE HOME MILLINER

Novelties in Buckles.

Large "Art Nouveau" buckles are seen on many of the most exclusive pattern hats this year, and are a decided novelty, being made of enameled velvet in tints to harmonize with the color scheme of the hat. At a little distance they can scarcely be distinguished from the expensive hand-embroidered buckles. (See cut No. 1.)

Buckles of mother-of-pearl in all shapes and sizes in a few styles are shown in cuts Nos. 2, 3 and 4) are exceedingly good this season, being used to advantage on almost any style of hat. A smart hat of gray chip straw with a couple of dark gray quills thrust through a large smoked pearl buckle is extremely "natty."

and nothing could be prettier than the dainty lingerie hats with small pearl buckles of the pure white iridescent variety cunningly embroidered or ribbons.

In passing, another decided novelty somewhat along this line is worthy of attention. This is the use of a half-shill, highly polished, as a finish for the stem of a quill or aigrette.

An example of this fad is shown in cut No. 5.

A clever idea is pictured in cut No. 6. These buckles are made by cutting a heavy foundation of cardboard in any shape desired, and covering it with pompadour silk in pretty shades to match the color scheme of the gown.

Jeweled buckles, as well as those of gold, silver and enamel, are used to some extent, but are not new.

lace yoke and a plastron extension, reaching to the lower edge, and the blous, portions are tucked or gathered to the yoke. The tucks at each side of the back plastron extend to the waist line and a standing collar affords neck completion, or a Dutch round neck may be used. The full length sleeves show tucks about the deep or shall-w ruffs as preferred, or the fullness may be disposed of in gathers, and sleeves in shorter length could be finished in narrow bands. A kid belt or one of the material, or a crush girdle may be worn with equal appropriateness.

A very attractive waist was shown in silk batiste, dotted net yoke outlined with an all-over lace border of which material were made the puffs of the short puffed sleeves. A body lining was used. The waist, closed at the back, and a yoke in plain or scalloped outlined and a yoke tucker was provided. The neck was high and completed with a standing collar. Tucks were arranged to simulate a box-pleat at the center of the front, and at each side of the front and back with narrow ruffs in groups between.

For a smart, walking costume over-checked drap d'ete and oriental banding was selected. Like many of the designs for spring the skirt was made with plaits in round length. The plaits are deep enough to give a pretty effect as they spread in walking and the plaited gores alternate with the plain gores, elegant in all being used.

The dress is one of the new plaited modes decorated with oriental banding, the latter outlined the jacket which opens over a vest of white handkerchief, reduced by delicate tracery of gold and silver braid. With this suit was worn a wide shouldered shirt waist of cream "home spun" silk, its tucks giving the effect of Duchess seams. The stitching terminates at yoke depth and the front opens over a tall yoke of cream lace. Lace misaine ruffs are added to the short, small glove gloves, which show below the short elbow sleeves of the jacket. Grey rosettes completed a stylish costume.

Before having your Empire or Princess dress made you must give some attention to your corset. The new models which have been developed for the Princess gown are higher than the corsets of several seasons back and reach longer over the hip to insure the exact fit for the gown, and the front is a modified straight front. Because of the close fitting of the Princess models the fluffy bows and frills so much used of late have to be discarded; but they are none the less decorated by beautiful flat trimmings of embroidered and lace "insets," appliques and open work embroideries.

One of the newest ideas in neck wear is the Empire scarf, a long wide scarf of lace or chiffon wound round the neck several times, while a larger and wider scarf of the same material is used to throw about the shoulders and head. One may now look for the revival of the old-fashioned Spanish lace shawl and scarf which made such a setting off for the face; and lucky is the woman who owns one of these heirlooms worn by her mother or grandmother.

A perfect craze exists for little bolero jackets of lace, Irish lace being the favorite, and in many cases there are two or three sorts of laces used in its construction.

Coat collars and cuffs of lingerie are more elaborate than last season, but cut along the same lines. Lingerie cuffs in regular cuff shape go with coat collars, only the cuffs are tucked at the elbow instead of at the wrist below which fall the lace frills or sleeves or the long gloves are worn to touch them.

Stoles, both flat and round, are extensively worn, especially those made of catton, and there are muffs to match. All sorts of fancy socks,

ATHEATER WAIST

A theater waist is of white lace. It is worn with a white broadcloth skirt and the waist has appliques of the broadcloth introduced in the bolero and on the sleeves. The lace is the ever-popular Irish crochet, and the waistcoat is of the broadcloth. This is fancifully trimmed with narrow gold braid, and small bits of the gilt stars the lace of the bolero.

With this is worn a black suit of chip with a stiff quill of blue coming from the left side. Where the hat is lifted on the right a large bow of blue liver of satin ribbon is massed on the band.

round neck pieces of lace, having capes, are worn, cape finishes, cape boleros, deep collars, little boleros, jackets of lace, embroidery or having some of its parts—the sleeves in particular—made of the dress material.

In all cases the skirts of the shirt waist suits, both in the tailor and feminine effects are short and generally show shoes in tan or grey or grey as the wearer wills.

Lace and lingerie tuckers are worn by those who hesitate to adopt the open tasset waist without some protection.

SAY, WILL YE LET YOUR WIFE WEAR THINGS LIKE THESE?

SOME FIERCE STYLES IN HEAD-GEAR WHICH HAVE JUST LANDED FROM PARIS.

No. 1 is the new French sailor shape. The distinctive features are the large, rather high crown and narrow brim.

The model shown is made of maitre, stretched smoothly over a wire foundation. The crown is ornamented with a band of chiffon embroidered with gold and silver thread and iridescent sequins. Toward the front on the left side is an "art nouveau" buckle of shaded velvet. Under the brim at the back is a large cluster of green foliage and buds.

In shape, No. 2 reminds one very forcibly of the "plum" hats our grandfathers wore in the days of "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too"—but in material! The model illustrated is built of rose-colored chiffon laid on a wire frame, in tiny ruffles; those on the crown facing upward, and on the brim outward. A band of satin ribbon, deeper in shade than body color of hat, encircles the crown, and a huge cluster of beautifully shaded roses and foliage is placed directly at the front. A small cluster of the foliage is also tucked under the brim at the back.

Hat No. 3 takes one back to the antebellum days; and to our eyes, accustomed to the modern styles, it looks very eccentric.

However, PARIS has set the seal of approval upon it, and far be it from us to disapprove!

This hat is of white straw with a band of black about the edge (you can hardly say "brim," as it is merely the semblance of a brim), across the front is a band of green velvet ribbon, and loops of the same combined with small flowers are placed under the "brim" at the back. On the right side is a "made" bird, having for a tail a huge cluster of peacock plumes, bleached to a light cream color.

Afflicted With Rheumatism.
"I was and am afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Bayne, editor of the Herald, Addington, Indian Territory. "But thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm am able once more to attend to business. It is the best of liniments." If troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief it affords. One application relieves the pain. WILLING HELPERS.
What's the use of a helper, if he isn't willing? Willingness is an ample mantle which will almost cover all the sins of servitude. But a classified advertisement in The Evening Citizen is a willing helper that is not only absolutely competent, but also is the time for you. It is the best and most economical publicity in the world.

Some Good Advice

Roswell Record: Every property owner should beautify his grounds with trees, grass and flowers, to harmonize with the excellent streets and perfect sidewalks in Roswell.

New Mexican: This paper desires to say right here that the citizens of the capital should take this advice, (the above), to heart, for themselves, take due notice and act accordingly. It is nearly time to commence the setting out of shade trees on the residence avenues of this city for the present year. The more trees in good condition on these streets the more beautiful, the more healthy, the more attractive and the cleaner will be this city.

Las Vegas Optic: The administration that takes up the reins of city government in April will soon learn the existence of a mighty lively demand for a sewer system and cross walks, to be provided at the earliest possible moment. Furthermore, there is considerable interest in the matter of a gas franchise, since several companies stand ready to install a plant.

The star of empire still westward takes its way. The influx of immigrants into New Mexico is phenomenal, as far as this territory is concerned. The larger part of these immigrants come unprepared as to local conditions other than the railway advertising, or the supplanting of such advertising by local effort. Three things Albuquerque needs in order to secure her just part of the influx of settlers.

They are: 1. Beautifying the town, securing the extension of electric power over the adjoining country, and the advertising of the resources and advantages of this section. In these matters The Citizen has been instant in season, and, as some, perhaps, are ready to say, out of season, but the fact cannot be gainsaid, that by these means, and the keeping down of taxation in the city, the future of Albuquerque must be secured.

Party City Government

Secretary Taft's advice to the Roosevelt Republican club of Cincinnati to exercise a spirit of independence in municipal affairs was not so emphatic that he ignored the benefit of party organization or the good which may be accomplished in the field of "practical" politics, which he truthfully said, was the only kind of politics.

Upon the motto that "municipal government is business and not politics," men have erected hopes and theories that for a time have reached a great elevation, only to topple over at last into ruin. The political factor in municipal government cannot be ignored. It is an essential part of our system of popular rule; and in this sense it is most fortunate that it persists.

The very fact that municipal government comes so closely home to the people, affecting them in their every day business and social life, makes it impossible to exclude the political factor. Men assert themselves in regard to the things in which they take a lively interest. It is the far-away federal government, which the people can hardly reach, though they stretch their arms to the utmost, which can be conducted most easily on strictly business principles. It is the strictly business government which in course of time develops a bureaucratic system, buttressed and bulwarked on all sides against popular interference. Shut the people out, establish a system of bureaus, and it will be entirely practicable to conduct a municipal government on what are called business principles. But it will not be American.—Denver Republican.

Belief in Self

A poor farmer boy in Norway dreamed of America, the land of promise. His dream ripened into ambition; he borrowed money for his passage and arrived in Madison, Wis., penniless and among strangers. But he was not alone, for with him came belief in himself. He knew scarcely a word of English, but language is not the best means of expression. He made himself understood through his work. He lived so wisely that, no matter how small his wages, he always saved a little. Nor did he waste his energies and weaken his spirit by pining for what he could not have; but, little by little, with longer strides, he pushed his way up out of poverty and obscurity. Today he is governor of Wisconsin. Every step upward in this splendid march was based on belief in self. Don't begrudge your years of poverty and struggle; they are the richest in your life. They are the years in which you give no energy and thought to making a show; and in which the best there is in you is growing stronger than the obstacles in your path, stronger than the limitations that shut you in.

Southern Mill Village

John Nolen, member of the American Civic League association, recently said:

A visit to the mill village of the Monaghan mills at Greenville, S. C., in company with its public spirited president, Thomas F. Parker, was full of interest. The mill is situated on high ground, from which a fine view of the Blue Ridge mountains can be obtained. The property includes an area of 300 acres, and around the mill are clustered cottages of the operators. Each family has a house of its own, with a small plot for vegetables and flowers. Everything possible is done to awaken an interest in gardening; seeds are provided free of charge and flowering shrubs at a nominal cost. Many of the families have their own cows and pigs and many of them keep horses. These are all kept in barns and free pastures are provided by the company. Mr. Parker is deeply interested in the comfort and convenience of the mill hands and in the good appearance of the grounds surrounding their little homes.

Industrial Advertiser: The franchise of the present water company has about thirteen years more to run, and there is no immediate necessity of action upon the part of the people of this city. A $30,000 city hall is demanded, and the people all know that a bond issue for sewerage must be voted. The people of this city can get along with the present water company for a few years yet, but the present sewer system cannot be endured, and that must be a municipal affair. When the advocates of the purchase of the water company property for a quarter of a million dollars tell you the water plant will be self-sustaining, they should be asked to show it to be that, if any reduction is to be made in the water rates. If the city buys the plant it will be for the purpose of reducing the water rates, and at that price not one cent of reduction can be made, particularly as another bond issue will be necessary to get the system in shape. But without another bond issue, it has not been shown that any reduction can be made.

New Mexican: The action of the republican caucus in the house of representatives yesterday means that the Hamilton joint statehood bill will go into conference and that there may be an agreement. But this is only problematical. The chances for the favorable consideration of the bill and its enactment into law are slim. The logical action would be to admit Oklahoma and Indian Territory as one state, to give New Mexico separate statehood and let Arizona wait. This does not look probable, however, as there are too much passion and heart burning in the present situation.

Daily Optic: Governor Hagerman is right and the county commissioners of Santa Fe county are wrong in the contest over the appointment of an assessor. The law explicitly gives the governor the appointing power in case of a vacancy in such offices as are filled by the votes of all the electors of the county. In offices within the county, the power unquestionably goes to the commissioners. The county commissioners in the present case seem to be actuated by a desire to make trouble.

New Mexico Mining

Is No Small Thing

The Mining World.

Mining in New Mexico antedates all other industries of the territory, and in importance as a wealth producer and employer of labor stands second only to agriculture and stock raising. During the past hundred years the territory has produced $27,000,000 worth of gold and $30,000,000 worth of silver, and the annual value of the mineral production at present averages $3,000,000. The producing mines number as follows: Coal, 30; gold and silver, 100; copper, 20; precious stones, 10; quarries, 10; zinc, 4; iron, 2; all others, 10. The number of officially surveyed mines aggregates 995. During the past ten years the territory has produced $4,885,000 worth of gold; $5,552,120 worth of silver; $5,640,000 pounds of copper and 60,640,000 pounds of lead. In 1904 the gold production was valued at $231,929; silver, $124,103; copper $646,382, and zinc, $839,556. The area of coal lands aggregates 1,500,000 acres, and the amount of coal is slight, is stated to be 9,000,000,000 tons, valued at approximately $11,000,000,000. The quantity of coal produced during 1904 was 1,672,406 tons, and of coke, 76,737 tons, the latter is an increase of 200 per cent over previous years.

Campbell System

In This Territory

Las Vegas Optic.

Mrs. Louise Whiteman Palmer, a special representative of the Campbell System Dry Farming association, and also a correspondent and representative of the Scientific Farmer, the official journal of the association, is spending a few days in the city, in the interest of the movement.

The lady is an enthusiast. Also she is thoroughly posted on every detail of dry farming, as it is practiced by Campbell and his associates. She delivers lectures on the subject from time to time and boosts the propaganda in every section of the west where there is sufficient precipitation to justify expectation of results.

Many ladies have made a success of farming by the old methods and of farming by irrigation. Mrs. Palmer has gone them one better and has made a success of the new scientific method of dry farming.

"The claims of the dry farmers are usually misunderstood and misrepresented," said Mrs. Palmer to the Optic this morning. "We are sometimes called cranks, by those who imagine we claim to be able to convert the most barren lands, where only three or four inches of rain fall in the year, into fruitful fields.

"But we do not make such claims at all. We consider that in order to make success certain, there should be twelve inches of precipitation during the year, though it is a fact that fine crops have been raised when the rain fall was less. But given twelve inches of moisture and a soil that is at all passable, and success is sure. And it may be said that nearly all the desert soil of the west will return excellent crops if the water can be supplied.

"The Campbell system is merely designed to assist nature, and that assistance comes by virtue of the additional work on the part of the man. In some regions after the land is plowed and the seed sown, man has little to do but watch results. But there is more work to do in order to make the Campbell system successful.

"The science of the Campbell system consists in retaining the moisture that is in the soil, in making it all available to the growth of the plant and in utilizing every particle of the moisture. The deep plowing, the surface cultivation, the packed-earth covering, all contribute to this result. The Campbell system means a little more work, some special machinery, but when it is considered that its application means the transformation of millions of acres of land fit only for stock grazing into productive farms, it is certainly worth the trouble. In Colorado, in western Kansas, and Nebraska and Dakota, in Wyoming and Idaho and in the Panhandle of Texas, we have achieved remarkable success.

"But New Mexico offers a most attractive field. You have millions of acres of rich uplands, where from twelve to eighteen inches of rain falls each year—such lands as that stretch for miles eastward from Las Vegas. Dry farming can turn these fallow lands into farms producing a large variety of crops and producing them bountifully.

"Should your community or any part of it want to join the dry farm association, you can make arrangements to have a firm established and maintained under the immediate supervision of the Campbell association. Should you make such arrangements, it will mean that you get your seeds free, your machinery at cost, and you have a Campbell man to direct your undertaking. Our Campbell farms usually consist of 1,000 to 2,000 acres. In the dry Panhandle region, in Colorado, wherever our farms have been established, they have achieved complete success."

Woman's Age Is an

Inviolable Secret

In his effort to force Miss Minnie Gaillard of Texas, to tell her age, District Attorney Jerome, with all his official prestige, and backed by the power of the court, was ignominiously worsted. That a woman cannot keep a secret is eternally disproved by this interesting incident. The Texas woman stood pat on her proposition that her age had no bearing upon her testimony, and that it is a personal matter, which is no part of the business of a court or the public. Jerome, defeated in the contest of wit, resorted, manlike, to brute force, threatening imprisonment; and much good it did him! Miss Gaillard's age is still a mystery. If the dignity of the New York court has suffered it is Jerome's own fault. He should have recognized earlier that women have rights and know how to maintain them.

Ludwig Fulda, the German playwright, has caused a sensation by declaring that "woman has played first fiddle and man second fiddle" for the last half century. Fulda has suddenly found himself in the center of a storm of indignant denial. Jerome, who has now had experience at the second fiddle, should hasten to his support. There yet remains the force that can compel a woman to tell her age after it has ripened into a strictly personal and private possession. Anyway, one's age is a hearsay matter and not one of personal knowledge.

Mixed Wives.

In the early part of the last century there lived in an old New England town a Mr. Church, who, in the course of his earthly life, was bereft of four wives, all of whom were buried in the same lot. In his old age it became necessary to remove the remains to a new cemetery. This he undertook himself, but in the process the bones became hopelessly mixed. His "New England conscience" would not allow him, under the painful circumstances, to use the original headstones, so he prepared new ones, one of which bore the following inscription: "Here lies Hannah Church, and probably a portion of Emily."

"Sacred to the memory of Emily Church, who seems to be mixed with Matilda."

"Stranger, pause, and drop a tear,
For Emily Church lies buried here,
Mixed, in some perplexing manner,
With Mary, Matilda and probably Hannah."

The Tariff Question.

"Do you understand the tariff question?"
"Perfectly," said Mr. Chumox. "All raw material I use in my business should be admitted duty free. Everything else should be taxed."—Washington Star.

CHURCH, CLUB AND SOCIAL GATHERINGS

We want to call attention to the fact that the next dance to be given by the Young Men's Association will be held at 7 o'clock in Odd Fellows' hall.

Regular services of John A. Logan circle No. 1, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, will meet to sing at 7 o'clock in Odd Fellows' hall.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the ladies of the Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met in the library building to hold their annual praise service and tea. A large number of guests were present to participate in the services and partake of the dainty refreshments.

Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Woman's club of Albuquerque met in their club rooms in the Commercial club building, at which time one of the most interesting programs of this club many meetings was rendered. Misses Huntington and Nohr rendered a piano duet and responded to a hearty encore. Mrs. De Wolf and Mrs. Drury, after their rendition of a mandolin and piano duet, were called back twice to respond to encores. Mrs. Carns read a paper, "The Origin of the Family," followed by Mrs. Cassidy, with a paper on "Life Lessons from Luther Burbank." Dr. Mary Hunter read an excellent article on "Value of Food," following the lines of pre-digested foods. Just prior to the meeting the ladies of the club were the guests of Mrs. Pennell, the well known exponent of health cookery, at her apartments in the Gleckler building, just across from the Commercial club, at which time they partook of several dainty dishes prepared by Mrs. Pennell.

The annual ball of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, given in the Elks' hall room was a decided success from every point of view. The hall had been gaily decorated for the occasion with red, white and green signal flags, with red, white, blue and green lanterns hung in profusion throughout the hall. At one end of the hall, done in green letters, was the legend, "B. of L. F. 467," while at the opposite end of the hall two engine headlights added to the charm of the decorations. Each person attending last night was given a chrysanthemum, 700 of which had been ordered from California for the event. Phillips' orchestra furnished the music. Those in charge were:

ALBERT FABER HAS FORMAL OPENING

Store Excels All Competition For Elegance and Vastness of Stock.

PLACE HANDSOMELY DECORATED

Albuquerque woman has witnessed many openings during the past few years, but the opening of the new Albert Faber store, which is located in the new St. Patrick's building, and is this St. Patrick's Day, is the most elegant and the most complete. It is a store of a different type, and the host is showing his visitors, old customers and prospective new ones, what doubtless they had not expected—a store, magnificent in its greatness, filled with goods more elegant than the most expensive could possibly anticipate, so elaborate and complete has Mr. Faber selected his stocks.

On entering the store, those who attended Mr. Faber's reception today, passed between two windows in which were suits of furniture, that made them green with envy. In the window on the south was a dining room suit of old English style, complete even to the fireplace. A green, Axminster seamless carpet, an inch thick, covered the floor, and curtains of the same shade of green draped the double doorway leading from the scene.

In the north window was a scene very different, but more elegant in its simplicity, which is the style of the day. This scene portrayed a bedroom suit, that made one drowsy. The furniture was solid mahogany. In the center of the room, a large, round rug that covered the floor of this place of Morpheus was of Royal Wilton quality, conventional style. Oriental draperies hung from the walls.

On passing through the double doors, one was greeted by a French glass mirror, directly in front of the passage way. The scene on the interior was one to appeal to the patriotic pride of the son or daughter of Erin. Ropes of green crepe paper hung in graceful sweeps from one chandelier to another the length of the room. The balconies on either side of the room in which were displayed carpets on one side and pieces of furniture on the other, were bordered with green in undulating puffs. Between these borders of green had been arranged a lattice work of white. Ropes of snail had been wound around the pillars in the center of the room, from floor to ceiling. On an exalted pedestal in the center was a statue of bronze, holding aloft a cluster of green lights.

It would be useless to attempt to describe the assortment of goods found on this floor, as space will not permit their enumeration, and words are inadequate to describe them. It would be a task for a real word artist, so complete and gorgeous were they.

Broad aisles, with a flood of light, from both front and back, enable a fine display of anything on this floor the customer may choose to examine.

On the second floor the reception was greeted with the same green decorations that had been applied on the lower floor, interlaced with strings of red incandescent lights, and a forest of furniture, with no equal in the southwest. In this vast assortment of house furnishings one could find anything, from a kindergarten chair to a $150 leather upholstered settee.

Mr. Faber's new store would be a compliment to a city many times the size of Albuquerque. When the lights are turned on tonight, the place will present a brilliant scene.

Although Mr. Faber received visitors all day, at 7 o'clock, this evening, an orchestra will discourse music for the reception, and refreshments will be served. Souvenirs will be given each caller.

ALDERMAN GILLENWATER FINED ON ONE CHARGE

Late yesterday afternoon, after the Citizen had gone to press, Justice Crawford, of precinct 13, rendered his decision in the case of the territory against Alderman W. H. Gillenwater, for carrying a concealed deadly weapon, and the second complaint for using a weapon in a threatening manner.

After all the evidence had been introduced, the attorneys for the defendant agreed to allow evidence to go as to the carrying of a concealed weapon, and thus the alderman was fined $50 and costs for this offense.

On the charge of handling the weapon in a threatening manner, the justice discharged the prisoner.

INSANE ITALIAN AND THE MAFIA

Says Dread Secret Society
Is After Him to Kill Him.

CREATES EXCITEMENT AT NEWTON

Appollito Gagliani, the demoniac Italian, who leaped from Santa Fe train No. 1 near Las Vegas Thursday, as chronicled in these columns yesterday, appears to be suffering from the hallucination that deadly enemies are after his life. At Newton, Kan., the Italian, who had stopped off there, created a great deal of excitement. When accosted by the depot master, he was jerking at the "phone box and would probably have put it out of commission had not an officer arrived. When the officer flashed his star the Italian fell upon his knees and begged to be taken to jail where his enemies could not get him. The officer accommodated him, and he was kept in the city hall until the following day, when, appearing quiet, he was allowed to proceed upon his way to Los Angeles, where he said he had relatives. He was well dressed, the Newton, (Kan.) Republican says, and had about $200 on his person. He was put aboard of No. 1 Wednesday, the train from which he jumped near Las Vegas on Thursday.

When captured near Las Vegas, after his wild jump from the fast-moving train, he was placed in custody. The conductor of the train and Marshal Ward, of Las Vegas, went to the man's cell to interview him, after he had been locked up. When they arrived at the cell the found the Italian on his hands and knees on the cell floor and black and blue in the face from strangulation, having fastened two broken suspender straps around his neck, and attempted to hang himself to the bars, the suspenders breaking, however, under his weight, before he had strangled sufficiently to cause death. The straps were taken away from him.

It appears that Gagliani is, or imagines himself to be, pursued by the dread Mafia, or "Black Hand" secret Italian organization, which has brought terror to many Italian hearts, which, he says, are after him because he refuses to pay them blood money. Whether the Mafia is really after the Italian, or as a result of his own delirium, or whether he is merely insane and imagines these things, has not yet been fully decided by the medical men who have examined the Italian at Las Vegas. That he is insane, there is no doubt, but Gagliani contends that the persecutors of the members of the Mafia drove him insane, and that they are still after him.

The Mafia is a secret organization of Italy, which is supposed to remove all its enemies from the land of the living, appointing members of its society to perform this task, much as do the anarchists. Many mysterious murders, crimes of different kinds, and outrages, which the police of the larger cities have been unable to unravel, have been laid at the door of the Mafia secret society.

GRAMA GRASS IS KNEE HIGH

RANGES ARE AS GOOD THIS SPRING AS IN 1869, WHEN ONLY
JACK RABBITS WERE HERE TO EAT IT.

Nathan Barth is enjoying a visit from his brother, Sol Barth, of St. Johns, Ariz. The brothers arrived in the city last night from St. Johns, covering the distance by buckboard, in three days. In speaking of the condition of the country which they passed through, Mr. Sol Barth said:

"I came to this country in '69, and traveled over the same road that we have just driven over. There was nothing to eat the grass then but jack-rabbits and antelope, and it stood knee high. The grama grass stands just that high now. That's the condition of the grazing country this spring, and sheep never looked better."

The grass referred to by Mr. Barth is last year's crop of grama. This species of grass grows in this country as it stands, and furnishes excellent forage the year following its growth.

J. A. Speer, who came here a few months ago, from the east, is in destitute circumstances, and should be attended to. At present he has a room at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barnett, 1001 South Second street, and these cannot afford to keep the man without some compensation. He has been with Mr. Barnett for about five weeks, and has no means to pay for his board and lodging.

BOOZE LOSES WIFE FOR HIM

Mrs. Lapriest Informs Police
That She is Through With Husband.

HAS FACULTY FOR BREAKING STUFF

Mrs. M. J. Lapriest, who runs a boarding house on North Twelfth street, caused the arrest of her husband yesterday morning. She told the police that Lapriest came home drunk and threatened to smash up the furniture.

This morning in police court Mrs. Lapriest said that she was through with her husband. She had good his drunk as long as she could, but would have to call a halt now. When Lapriest was sober his wife said he was a good provider, but his savage manner while intoxicated, offset this good feature. Mrs. Lapriest said she was in Michigan when her husband wrote her to come to Albuquerque, promising to let strong drink alone. His promises failed to materialize, however. Mrs. Lapriest said that she warned her husband repeatedly that she must either cut out the booze game or her. He apparently chose the booze. "I do not want him to come near my house again," said the woman. "Tell him if he does, I will promptly arrest him. I am through with him forever more. He can in the future earn and keep his money, and I will do the same. Men who act like he does when drunk, sometimes commit murder. Tell him that I have left him for good."

After Mrs. Lapriest said that she left her husband was ushered in. He pleaded guilty to being drunk, was warned to keep away from his wife's home and then fined $5. Lapriest works at the plant of the American Lumber company.

'CHICAGO CAPITALISTS VISIT GRANT COUNTY MINES

SPEND DAY IN ALBUQUERQUE,
WHILE EN ROUTE TO THEIR HOMES AT CHICAGO.

From the arrival of train No. 10, 6:30 o'clock this morning, until the departure of No. 2 at 3 o'clock this afternoon, Albuquerque was host to the directors and stockholders of the Burro Mountain Copper company, owning and operating in the Burro mountains, fifteen miles from Silver City.

In the party were E. S. Sheppard and wife, J. Sweeney and wife, Alfred F. and Nathan F. Leopold, and wives, and A. E. Nausbaum and wife, all of Chicago. They were traveling in a private car, and had been on a visit to their New Mexico mining property.

Nathan F. Leopold, president of the Burro Mountain Copper company, and spokesman of the party, said:

"We were just out looking at our mining property, and brought our wives along. We spent one day in Silver City and three days in camp at the mines. It rained the afternoon, we staged it from Silver City to the mines, and we had some exciting experiences making camp over the slippery mountain roads in the darkness which overtook us. The ladies were frightened some, but we arrived at our destination without mishap, except a slight wetting. The weather turned off nice the next day, and the remainder of the trip was delightful."

"Yes, we think the Burro Mountain Copper company is all right. We have 250 men at work now, taking out and treating about 250 tons of ore daily, besides doing a large amount of exploration work. We are quite satisfied with the work being done."

PAPA DOES NOT SEEM TO CARE ABOUT SETTLING

DOES NOT ANSWER WIRES SENT HIM BY IMPRISONED SON IN THIS CITY.

Conrad Irwin sent a final appeal to "papa" in St. Louis this morning, for financial aid. Conrad is an occupant of the city prison. He has been confined in the battle for several days, on the charge of theft, preferred by L. G. Rosenfield, the pawn broker.

Yesterday, Conrad, whose name until recently was Miller, by the way, caused Constable James Smith to wire the senior Mr. Irwin in the Missouri town why he was under arrest. Conrad, who amount to an answer to settle the litigation. The amount evidently had a bad effect on Mr. Irwin, for he failed to answer the message, and at a late hour this afternoon had put in an appearance. As the messengers are all being transmitted "COLLECT" to "papa," he will, most probably, wire back very soon, to at least cut out the telegraph business. Conrad is waiting, meantime.

COLD NIGHTS PREVAIL IN ZUNI MOUNTAINS

AND SNOW FALLS ABOUT EVERY OTHER DAY, SAYS JAMES
BOYCE—ACTIVITY IN LUMBER INDUSTRY.

James Boyce, the well known boiler-maker, has returned from a trip to Ketchikan, in the Zuni mountains, where he has been doing some boiler work on the engines of the Zuni Mountain railroad. Mr. Boyce states that activity in the lumber business and operations are going steadily forward, and that Mr. Belknap, of the American Lumber company, is the right man in the right place, working from 5 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock at night.

"The nights are exceedingly cold up there," said Mr. Boyce, "the elevation being something over 9,000 feet, and it snows about every other day. I understand that work on the big government dam in the mountains will be commenced this spring, although I don't get up as far as the dam on my trip."

When asked concerning the toughness and lawlessness of that district, Mr. Boyce responded that he was under the impression that a man could find trouble there any time he looked for it.

EXPERT CHEF AT THE WHITE
ELEPHANT WILL SERVE A MER-
CANT'S LUNCH FROM 11 TO 2:30
DAILY.

THE MEETING DIDN'T MEET

Small Gathering Faded Away
Shortly After Newspaper Man Arrived.

MUCH MYSTERIOUS WHISPERING

In yesterday's issue of The Evening Citizen it was stated that there would be a meeting of the Good Government league in the armory in Elks' hall last night, which was a mistake; in fact, there was no meeting of any kind.

When a newspaper man arrived upon the scene, the hall contained about fifty of the faithful, seated around the hall on benches, all in deep and earnest conversation. Outside the sound of the steady tramp, tramp of marching feet could be heard; the members of Company G drilling in the street, having given over the armory to the mysterious meeting. Inside, only the animated whisperings of those present disturbed the stillness of the night.

Shortly after the newspaper man's appearance, the personnel of those assembled changed rapidly. There was a deal of fluent speech in Spanish, some mysterious whisperings, and as some nods in the direction of the newspaper man, after which, one by one, the assembled meeting faded silently through the side door until finally only the newspaper man, Captain Ruppe of Company G and a pitiful corporal's guard were left.

With mouth agape, the newspaper man awaited the next move in this very mysterious meeting. After a bit more whispering it came. Some gentleman arose and officially announced that the meeting of the "Good Government league"—yes, those were the very words—was postponed sine die, whatever that may mean, until Monday night.

And thus this great secret political meeting came to an end, with the newspaper man still wondering what the game was.

Don't forget the free lunch at the White Elephant this evening.

THE FIFTY-CENT SUNDAY DIN- NER AT ZEIGER'S RESTAURANT CANNOT BE EXCELLED. TRY IT TOMORROW, FROM 12 TO 3 P. M.

The O'Brien sisters are holding a reception this St. Patrick's Day, in a patriotic as well as business-like style. It is the opening of the spring millinery season as far as they are concerned. Besides a large display of hats and millinery adornments, their parlors were decorated with ropes of green and white crepe paper, draping from the edge of a large Japanese parasol, to every part of the place, eclipsing the ceiling. An orchestra furnished music to the visiting shoppers during the afternoon.

NEW WRINKLES IN SHORT SLEEVES

The short puffed sleeve continues to remain in the height of popularity and some of its latest variations may prove interesting to those who are planning spring suits.

Sleeve No. 1 has three half-inch tucks at regular intervals around the cuff, below the cuff a cluster of silvers formed a cuff, which is finished at its lower edge with a smart frill of lace. This makes an especially pretty sleeve for an afternoon dress of silk.

Sleeve No. 2 is short enough to come well above the elbow and if preferred may be made with a long cuff. The distinguishing feature of the puff is a cluster of pleats, running crosswise of the sleeve.

The bottom of the puff is finished with a cuff effect, edged with velvet ribbon.

No. 3 has one large and one small puff, the latter hardly larger than a large shirt. The large puff has its fullness augmented by a row of horizontal tucks, each about three inches in length.

No. 4 makes a pretty sleeve for either coat or dress. It is very full and is finished with a cuff formed by rows of shirring alternating with corded tucks.

One of the best Sunday free lunches at the White Elephant this evening. All invited.

IN HONOR OF SAINT PATRICK

The Green Was Displayed on Many Proud Breasts
This Day.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCES OF DAY

The St. Patrick's Day, this day, and those of Irish birth or extraction in Albuquerque, the United States, and, in fact, the world over, will do honor to their patron saint.

With each succeeding year the observance of the day becomes more elaborate and the fame of the saint, instead of diminishing, as most things do with time, grows more and more intense. The time has long since passed when the observance of the day was confined to the inhabitants of the little island, whose fathers he converted to Christianity, as in nearly every large city in the United States March 17 has come to be almost a national holiday, and the green in worn by thousands of persons who cannot boast of having Irish blood in their veins.

A walk down the streets of Albuquerque today disclosed the fact that the "wearers of the green" were in evidence on every hand. The call for green ribbons at the different dry goods stores was unusually heavy, and many there were who had, alas, other things besides green ribbons and the shamrock on board.

With the increasing popularity of Ireland's patron saint, comes much argument as to what country gave birth to St. Patrick, the United States being about the only country not laying claim to this honor.

Almost as many countries arrogate the honor of having been the natal soil of St. Patrick, as made similar claim with respect to Homer, Scott, Land, England, France, and Wales, each furnish their claims. Father Reia, of Mexico City, after a good deal of study on the subject, has arrived at the conclusion that St. Patrick was born in Gaul, which was at the time of his birth, a part of the Roman empire. He was therefore, a Roman citizen and a patrician, as is easily seen from his name. He was born about the year 372, and when only sixteen years of age was carried off by pirates and sold by them into slavery to Ireland, where he was employed as a swineherd in the mountainous, here he passed seven years, during which time he acquired a knowledge of the Irish language, and made himself acquainted with the manners, habits and customs of the people. Escaping from captivity, he reached the continent of Europe after many adventures. After many years of study he became a priest and was selected by Pope Celestine to convert the inhabitants of Ireland to the Christian faith. After being consecrated bishop by the pope he set sail for Ireland, where he landed on the evening of Holy Saturday. He was 60 years of age at the time he landed in Ireland, and he labored in his chosen field for sixty years, dying at the age of 120 years. He was buried at Downpatrick, and the remains of Columkille and St. Bridget were laid beside him.

Not only in Albuquerque, but in every large city, Irishmen and their sympathizers will gather around many a festive board today and toast the memory of the little green Isle and its patron saint and the men who died for it in the old days that are gone forever.

Although St. Patrick's Day was primarily a religious holiday with the Irish people, it has now come to be also the national holiday of the Irish, without respect to religious denominations, and the day is honored as such by Catholics and Protestants alike. So popular has the saint become lately with all classes in Ireland that the Catholics will have a good deal to do if they succeed in keeping him exclusively for themselves.

Religious services were held in the Catholic churches today in memory of the saint, and while there were no parades or speeches in this city, the day was nevertheless well remembered.

DENVER ELKS DOING SOME ADVERTISING

IN THE HOPES OF BRINGING A BIG CROWD TO THAT CITY DURING THE JULY CONVENTION.

From the Denver Republican.

The general committee on reunion of Elks, which has headquarters in the Albany hotel in Denver and is pulling every string that can be reached to bring a great crowd to this city for the reunion next July, is doing some advertising in advertising the reunion. The means employed to make the people in different places sit up and take notice are many and various. One of the latest wrinkles devised by members of the general committee to secure attention for Denver in the coming meeting of the Elks, was to send out a long list of prizes on large posters, to be hung in conspicuous places by the secretaries of the Elks' lodges in every state in the Union. These posters seem to have made a hit.

F. P. Bertsch, secretary of the Elks' general committee in this city, received a letter yesterday from Secretary Thomas E. Boucher, of Lowell, Mass., who has charge of the Elks' lodge rooms and club rooms at that place. Secretary Boucher writes enthusiastically as follows:

"Your posters received last evening. Two of them I have placed in the club and lodge rooms and the third I have placed in a prominent place near the city hall where it will be seen by the entire population of Lowell, numbering 100,000 people. I am correspondent for four daily papers, and in less than nine hours after receiving your posters their contents were printed for all of these papers, which have a circulation of nearly 100,000 daily. I hope other secretaries will do as I have done. I send you by this mail copies of the Lowell morning papers."

The Lowell morning papers referred to contained an interesting and admiring account of the enterprise of the Denver committee in sending out such a list of prizes for their reunion. The prizes aggregate about $12,000 and other prizes are being added to the list daily, so that a supplementary list probably will be sent out in a short time, telling of other costly rewards that will be given to those who make the trouble to contest for prizes. Some of the most ingenious schemes yet devised for advertising Colorado have been planned in preparing unique prizes for the reunion.

Hyomei Cures Catarrh Breaths it—

No dangerous drugs or alcoholic concoctions are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the inhaler, the balsamic healing of Hyomei penetrates to the most remote cells of the nose and throat, and thus kills the catarrhal germs, breaks the irritable mucous membrane and gives complete and permanent cure.

Hyomei is the simplest, most pleasant and the only guaranteed cure for catarrh that has been discovered. Complete outfit, $1.00; extra bottle, 50 cents.

CALEDONIAN SUIT TO TAKE NATURAL COURSE

COAL COMPANY HAS MADE THE SANTA FE NO PROPOSITION FOR COMPROMISE.

Hon. Alex. Bowle, president of the Caledonian Coal company, operating in McKinley county, arrived this morning from a visit to El Paso, Mr. Bowle says no proposition has been made on the part of the coal company to compromise the suit against the Santa Fe for alleged discriminations against his company and in favor of rival concerns, and as far as he knew, the case would take its natural course in the courts.

The case is on the calendar to come up for trial in the Second district court next week.

EDUCATORS FINISH ANNUAL SESSION

Many Important Matters Considered—Tribute to Deceased Member.

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES RETURN

Prof. W. G. Ticht and Prof. J. E. Clark returned to this city last night after attending the session of the Territorial Board of Education, held at Santa Fe. The session finished up all business yesterday afternoon, and adjourned. The members of the board are:

Governor Herbert J. Hagerman, ex-officio president; Superintendent Hiram Hadley, secretary, and board members: Prof. Luther Foster, president of the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, Mesilla Park; Prof. E. J. Vert, president of the Normal University, at Las Vegas; Prof. C. M. Light, president of the Normal School at Silver City; Prof. W. G. Ticht, president of the University of New Mexico, at Albuquerque, and Prof. J. E. Clark, superintendent of the public schools, at Albuquerque.

The morning session was devoted to the adoption of a course of study for the public schools. Several addresses were made on the subject. The adopted course of study from the Illinois county schools which was approved at a recent meeting of the educators while in this city, was approved by the board and adopted for use, after considerable discussion, pro and con.

Tribute to Deceased Member.

The following resolution on the death of Peter J. Schneider, which was drawn up by Prof. Hiram Hadley, superintendent of public instruction, on a motion made by Governor Herbert J. Hagerman, was unanimously adopted, and ordered spread upon the minutes. Embossed copies will be forwarded to the members of the order of Christian Brothers and the faculty of St. Michael's College:

"Whereas, it has pleased Divine Providence to remove from works to rewards, Peter J. Schneider, (Brother Botolph), who has been a member of the Territorial Board of Education since its organization, in 1891.

"Therefore, be it resolved, by this board, That it place on record an expression of its appreciation of the faithful, conscientious labors of Peter J. Schneider, during the past fifteen years, and also an expression of the great loss it has sustained in being deprived of the companionship of him who was so gentle, so devoted, so refined by nature and Christian culture.

"That the above be placed upon the records of this board; a copy be furnished for publication; and a certified copy be forwarded to the president and faculty of St. Michael's College."

A plan was formulated by the board for the examination for five years and life certificates, which examinations the board may conduct when teachers make application for the same.

A resolution was passed, empowering Hiram Hadley, superintendent of public instruction, to outline and enforce a plan for the future conduct of county institutes for the examination of teachers. This move is a result of the laxity shown by the institutes in the past, and the determination to correct the evil.

Always Keeps Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. WORKING HARD FOR CAUSE OF GOOD ROADS

WHAT A WELL KNOWN NEWS PAPER HAS TO SAY ABOUT IT.

The National Good Roads association is a powerful force for good, and its work is accomplishing results in all parts of the United States, says the Morgantown Chronicle. It is engaged in many things that will benefit the people. One of the great schemes it has in mind and which it has set about to accomplish, is the repair and rebuilding of the great national road across Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana.

That memorable road was intended to be one of the highways between the east and the west, before railroads were built. It was built at great expense, costing the federal government over $7,000,000, and during the early days was a famous highway over which thousands traveled every week. When railroads came into existence the national road was neglected, and today it is only a skeleton of what it once was.

It is proposed to rebuild it, and the National Good Roads association has undertaken to have it done by the government. The length of the road is about 700 miles, and it can be rebuilt for less than $7,000,000. That is about the cost of one good battleship, and we are building lots of them. The appropriation of that sum to make this old road across five states would do as much good as the average battleship, for not one such ship in ten will ever get into a fight. Then, when the old road has been put in good shape to the Mississippi river, it may be that the price of about three other battleships will be set aside to build the road to the Pacific coast.

One first-class continuous highway across the continent would be a great thing. Many a traveler would spend two or three months going and coming by team, bicycle, automobile, or otherwise. It would be easy for the nation to do a thing like this.

In 1905 150,000 Americans visited Europe, and for the privilege of going over the first-class European roads, paid over $500,000,000.

UNIVERSITY NOTES

President Ticht is spending two or three days in Santa Fe on university business.

A new base ball diamond has been laid out recently on the campus, just north of the gymnasium and reservoir. The team has been practicing faithfully on the new field in preparation for the game with the Albuquerque Indians this afternoon. It is hoped that the new suits will arrive next week.

"The Mirage" editors are busy with the publication of volume No. 2. Quite a corps of artists have appeared with sketches and cartoons of college interest. May 1 is the day set for the appearance of the annual.

The following contestants have entered for the oratorical contest to take place during commencement week: Kirk Bryan, Hugh Bryan, Albin Keller and Ralph Tascher.

"Mrs. Ploddings' Nieces" is a play to be given by the Estrella Literary society in the near future.

Prof. Crum is hard at work for the success of the university play, "She Sings, Conquer!" The following is the cast:

SERIOUS RUNAWAY AT ESTANCIA

MRS. WALTER M. TABER OF THE
CITY THROWN FROM BUGGY AND BADLY INJURED.

Thursday afternoon, Walter M. Taber of Santa Fe, in company with his wife, drove down to the water tank at Estancia, to water the team he had been driving. Arriving at the tank, Mr. Taber got out of the buggy, to unbride the horses, so they could drink, leaving Mrs. Taber in the buggy, holding the lines. As soon as Mr. Taber has slipped the bridle from one horse, they wheeled and ran for some distance, throwing Mrs. Taber out of the buggy.

The injuries received by her are quite serious, although no bones were broken and so far there are no signs of internal injury. She was hurt in the neck and face as well as about the back. There was a cut over one eye, which was sewed up by the doctor. It was necessary to take several stitches. One side of Mrs. Taber's jaw was badly bruised and so are parts of her back and hips. She is resting easy this afternoon, and the attending physician thinks she will recover and that there will be no permanent injuries from the accident.

You May Buy or You May Wait

But Things MUST Come Our Way!

You'll Have to, Also!

YOU May Think We Are SPECULATING

WE Know We Have a "GOOD THING"

Remember: That WE can afford to wait, but YOU cannot; in growing cities, the best residences are seldom built on the low lands. That we are the sole owners of the only heights overlooking the center of the city and which, covering over fifty square blocks, are but eight blocks distant from the heart of the business district. That, having held this tract intact for years, we now are offering it for residence purposes only, and that our deeds will exclude, for all time, all factories, stores, saloons, boarding houses, etc. That we are expending in improvements over FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS and TWO YEARS WORK and, at our own expense, are grading the lots and streets, building cement walks and planting trees. That we own our own water plant and will furnish you from deep wells, an ample supply of soft water at a price lower than the present rates. That the entire tract will be graded to a gentle slope, permitting to every residence the Best of Drainage, Broad, Low Terraces, and a Magnificent View of the Mountains, Mesa, City and Valley. That here you are above the dust and the dirt---or mud---the smoke and the noise of less favored localities. REMEMBER THAT:

The Natural Advantages We Had—We Made the Artificial!

That SILVER AVENUE, and its adjacent blocks, the only street now ready, the CREAM OF THE ENTIRE ADDITION. will be the FINEST IN ALL NEW MEXICO OR ARIZONA. That, beginning at one park and ending at another, and also parked on both sides throughout its entire length, it is a boulevard eighty feet broad, lying on the crest of the highest ground in the tract.

That on this avenue a thirty-foot building line is imposed, that the lots are sold only in sites of 100x132 feet, that no dwelling may cost less than $4,000, and that the purchaser insures to himself and his heirs, his home amid beautiful residences and the quiet and refinement of such surroundings. That the sixty sites on this avenue are so advantageously situated that nothing similar can ever again be offered in the City of Albuquerque.

Also Remember That the Majority of the Directors of this Company Have Bought Here and Expect to Build at Once.

RAILROAD TOPICS

The private car, No. 408, of Superintendent Etter of the Rio Grande division, was ditched to the rear of train No. 10, this morning, and is now en route to the Topeka shops, for repairs. Until No. 408 returns, Superintendent Etter will have to content himself to riding way cars, like any ordinary railroad man.

R. T. McDonald, chief engineer of the National lines of Mexico, has resigned his position, to take effect the first of April, and will return to his old home in Georgia. McDonald has been connected with the National for nearly a quarter of a century, and he is to take a long rest, if he does not retire from the railroad business permanently.

The Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company has created a new department, and W. C. Fuller has been appointed at the head of it and is to be known as fuel agent, whose duty it is to purchase coal for the entire system. Heretofore, the coal supplies have been handled by the purchasing agent's department. Mr. Fuller, whose home is at Cripple Creek, Colo., will have his office at Denver.

F. L. Murray, a Santa Fe brakeman, was badly injured Wednesday morning, in the Barstow yards, while switching passenger cars. He was caught between the fenders of two cars, as they came together, crushing his chest badly. Several ribs were fractured, and it was feared that he was otherwise injured internally. His injuries were given attention by physicians at Barstow, and he was hurried to the Santa Fe hospital at Los Angeles on the limited in the afternoon.

"See America First," is the title of a new booklet by Major S. K. Hooper, general passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, which has just appeared from the press, and will be widely distributed; thus following the suggestion recently made by the New York Central road. The book is artistically arranged and finely printed. In addition to a number of vignettes, it bears upon the cover, which is printed in gold and red, an emblem especially designed by Major Hooper. The moral that the booklet preaches is: "See Europe if you will but see America first," a phrase coined by Major Hooper, that is being widely quoted all over the continent. The Evening Citizen a few days ago contained an article on this important subject to tourists.

WORKED HALF AN

A. M. WILLIAMS FALLS FROM A CAR SHORTLY AFTER HE BECOMES A SWITCHMAN AT ALAMOGORDO.

A special dispatch to the El Paso Times, from Alamogordo, dated March 1, says:

A. M. Williams, who came to Alamogordo from El Paso yesterday and went to work today, labored only twenty minutes before he sustained injuries that resulted in his death tonight at the El Paso & Southwestern hospital in this city.

Mr. Williams, who obtained employment here as a switchman, by some means fell from a rapidly moving car. He was picked up by his associates and taken to the hospital, dying a few hours later.

His home is in San Marcial, N. M., where a widow and children live. The body will be shipped to San Marcial.

DESPITE DENIALS, RAILROAD MEN BELIEVE GATHERING IS ON SAN DIEGO EXTENSION.

A dispatch from El Paso, dated March 14th, says:

"Regardless of denials, railroad men in this section cannot help but believe that the gathering of high officials of the Rock Island in California has some bearing on the proposed coast line or San Antonio extension. Today another proposition for California, in the form of a bill introduced in the Senate by Mr. John J. Dill, of California, has been introduced. It is believed that the bill will be passed, and that the Rock Island will be extended to San Antonio. It is regarded as a significant move, and that so many are heading to the coast."

EXCHANGES COMMENT ON

"CITY WATER" GILLENWATER

THIS THIN-SKINNED ALDERMAN HELD UP TO SCORN OF LAW-ABIDING PEOPLE.

From the Las Vegas Optic.

Alderman W. H. Gillenwater, of Albuquerque, has thrown himself open to public censure and legal prosecution for making a threatening attack upon the manager of The Evening Citizen. We are not familiar with the article or articles in The Citizen which provoked Mr. Gillenwater's ire, but confidently assert that they are not of such a nature as to justify the gentleman proceeding to the newspaper office armed with a gun, and apparently with murderous intent.

We have a territorial libel law, which gives a man recourse if he has been improperly attacked by a newspaper. If his feelings have simply been lacerated by ridicule or criticism he must smother it out in his pipe and take his medicine, like the president of the United States, or any other man who is of sufficient prominence to attract newspaper notice. But when a man takes a gun and starts out to do business with it, he becomes a murderer in his heart, and his action must be condemned by every right-thinking man.

Why Shoot the Editor?

From Trinidad Advertiser.

On Wednesday last, a man by the name of Gillenwater, called at the office of The Evening Citizen, in Albuquerque, and announced that he was there to shoot the editor. He produced a gun of large dimensions and enormous caliber, whipping it out of his pocket with a flourish. But the editor didn't run, which of course Gillenwater counted on him doing, and would have been the natural and the proper thing for an editor to have done under the circumstances, but on the other hand he seized a small piece of gas pipe and playfully twirled it in front of the enraged man's face, when to the astonishment of every one, including the editor himself, Gillenwater, with his pistol in his hand, fled up the street, like a whipped cur.

Now it wasn't the gas pipe that frightened the would-be murderer, but he had counted on shooting the editor in the back, and when he found that he couldn't do that, he wouldn't shoot him at all.

Why any one should desire to remove from this world, before his appointed time, the editor of a newspaper, is more than we can understand. Of course, if a person has a grievance against a newspaper, he ought to have the liberty to tounce the editor and black his eye, but to remove him entirely from this world of trouble and care, and land him with in the portals of the "Pearly Gates" to tread the golden streets with angels, before having served the allotted time in this cold, cruel and unsympathetic world, is more than the average man can comprehend. Possibly this thought occurred to Gillenwater at the last moment.

VIOLATIONS OF DRUG LAW

COMMITTEE FROM BOARD OF PHARMACY APPOINTED TO MAKE INVESTIGATIONS OF COMPANIES.

The Territorial Board of Pharmacy is taking active steps against druggists throughout the territory, who do not conform with the law in selling drugs, a committee, comprising Captain B. Ruppe of Albuquerque, president of the board, and A. J. Fischer, secretary, having been appointed to investigate the matter. The investigation, so far, has shown that a number of druggists of Chaves and San Juan counties have been violating the law, and action will be taken against them. These druggists have never complied with the statutes, but as the committee has been given full power to investigate and prosecute such cases, they will undoubtedly be brought into line. Apart from these two counties, the committee has found matters in an excellent condition.

This committee has also made an investigation into the condition of the hospitals of the territory, and has found them entirely satisfactory. After adjournment at Santa Fe, on Tuesday evening, the board met in this city, on Wednesday, but no business of importance was transacted here.

As the term of W. C. Porterfield of Silver City, who has been a member of the board since its organization, will soon expire, there will be a vacancy, which will be filled by Governor Hagerman. It is believed that Mr. Porterfield will succeed himself.

Still, a soft coal strike will be hard enough.
