80,000 TIES NOW READY FOR THE PRESERVER

BUSY SCENES AT SITE
OF PICKLING PLANT

Another Mile Long Siding Being Laid—Forms Going Up For Walls of Main Buildings.

Eighty thousand cross ties, approximately, have been unloaded at the site of the new Santa Fe tie-treating plant south of this city, to be put through the mill when the big plant begins operation. New ties are daily unloaded and stacked and the work on the plant is going forward rapidly. About 10,000 untreated ties from the Las Vegas works have been unloaded for the extensive trackage to be put in. "Track No. 4," which is to be a mile long or more is now being laid on the west side of the site, near the right of way, and a large force of workmen yesterday were laying rails on this siding, which will be completed in a few days.

A dozen or more carpenters are at work putting up the forms for the concrete walls of the buildings. The big impregnating cylinders arrived and were unloaded yesterday and other machinery is coming in regularly. The pipes for the tie-treating system are to be put in at once and work in general is to be prosecuted with the greatest dispatch. As the work proceeds it becomes more apparent that the tie-treating plant is to be one of the biggest establishments on the Santa Fe system or in the country.

Thousands of ties are now being cut on the Santa Fe land grant in Pecos county, to be hauled to the Rio Grande and floated down to the boom above Domingo, whence they will be shipped to the tie-treating plant as soon as the Santa Fe completes its spur line from Domingo station to the river. Large consignments from other points on the upper Rio Grande will also be started down the river.

The Santa Fe has solved the problem of railroad ballast, said a tourist yesterday, "and retained only $1,000. He had $1,200 in bank in San Francisco at the time of his death. It is told that his wife refused even to tell him goodbye in spite of his entreaties when he left California, and it is likely dependency over the separation as well as over his physical condition, caused him to take his own life. Matthews had been suffering acutely for many days, and had been told that his death was inevitable in a short time.

The brother, upon going to the telegraph office yesterday, to wire the news to the deceased's father at Santa Cruz, was met by a messenger saying that Mr. Matthews, senior, had already started for Albuquerque, summoned by the news that his son was in a critical condition.

Another brother in California has been apprised of Matthews' death. It is likely the burial will be here. The remains were taken to Borders' undertaking establishment yesterday, and an inquest was held by Justice of the Peace McElroy, and a coroner's jury returning a verdict about noon in accordance with the foregoing facts. Matthews was married three and a half years ago.

Passenger Train Ditched.

Passenger train No. 6 on the San Jacinto branch of the Santa Fe was ditched Sunday morning on Box Spring hill, about twelve miles from San Bernardino. The accident was caused by a broken axle on the engine. Luckily, the train being on a heavy grade, was traveling at a low rate of speed at time and this is probably all that prevented the wreck from being a serious one. As it was no one was injured and the damage done was not great.

RAILROAD NOTES.

John Ellis has resigned as waybill clerk in the yards at Abajo.

Claude Beaton, of San Marcial, division engineer on the south end was in the city on railroad business yesterday.

R. M. Matthews, formerly substitute carrier in the local postoffice, has been appointed to the railway mail service and is now busily engaged in weighing the mails for the transfer room. The weighing of the mails under an order of the department began the first of the month.

On account of a blockade at Isleta last night, in which three freight trains and two passenger trains were mixed up, Nos. 4 and 8 did not arrive here until long behind their regular schedule. No. 4 was an hour late, while No. 8 was twenty minutes late.

A letter has been received at the office of Superintendent Hitchcock of the Santa Fe, from J. Merrill, who was the conductor of the ill-fated freight train which was wrecked near Devore, killing five men.

His communication, written from Albuquerque, is a remarkable one. In it Merrill makes most slight allusion to the wreck, yet calmly discusses other matters. He states that he is en route to El Paso, Tex. The Santa Fe officials have not fully decided as to whether to attempt to bring Merrill back, but it is not likely that this will be done.

SPEEDY TEAM FOR FIREMEN'S MEET

American Lumber Company
Preparing to Make Some Records—Shops Also Working Hard.

The tournament of the New Mexico Firemen's association to be held in this city during the fair next week promises to be a great deal of an event and to furnish a great deal of first class entertainment. Several fast teams are entered and the tests will be fast and hard. The American Lumber company fire department has entered a team which appears to be in a fair way to make some records. It is composed as follows:

E. R. Wright, spokesman; Homer Stitzer, blugman; Charles Winkler, hose puller; Henry Harrison, breaker; James Peters and Percy Newman, pipemen; and J. F. Bean, H. Trautwein, P. Hamm, H. Onstead, Nick de Blumie, Joe Myers, John Bisher, and P. M. Hartz. The team is in daily practice.

The team from the Santa Fe shop department is also composed of speedy men who have had daily practice for many weeks and who will prove a formidable rival for the lumber company.

REVOLVER CHEATS WHITE PLAGUE OF VICTIM

DESERTED BY WIFE
CONSUMPTIVE SUICIDES

Former Californian Knowing
Death is Near Puts Bullet
Through Heart at Second Street Rooming House.

After suffering acutely with tuberculosis of the intestines and knowing that death was only a matter of a few days or weeks, Emanuel Matthews, aged thirty-one years, shot himself through the heart about 5 o'clock yesterday morning at his rooms at 1164 North Second street. Matthews killed himself with a revolver while lying in bed, covering himself with the bedclothes to deaden the sound of the report. His young brother, William V. Matthews, who accompanied him here, and who was sleeping in the adjoining room, heard the report and rushed in, at once, calling a doctor in the hope of saving his brother. Death, however, was practically instantaneous.

The story of Matthews, as nearly as it can be learned is a pathetic one. He was a rising young machinist and electrician in San Francisco, finally becoming an expert chauffeur, and saving enough money to start an automobile line of his own. As he was about to embark in this enterprise, however, he was attacked by the white plague and developed a severe case of tuberculosis of the intestines, the most deadly and hopeless form of the disease.

A doctor at once ordered him to Santa Cruz, where his father, a retired physician in comfortable circumstances, resides. His wife, however, refused to accompany him there, and he went alone, being later ordered to go to New Mexico if he had any hopes of saving his life. According to the story, his wife again refused to go with him, and demanded a settlement of the property, upon which Matthews settled about $4,000 of it upon her and retained only $1,000. He had $1,200 in bank in San Francisco at the time of his death. It is told that his wife refused even to tell him goodbye in spite of his entreaties when he left California, and it is likely dependency over the separation as well as over his physical condition, caused him to take his own life. Matthews had been suffering acutely for many days, and had been told that his death was inevitable in a short time.

The brother, upon going to the telegraph office yesterday, to wire the news to the deceased's father at Santa Cruz, was met by a messenger saying that Mr. Matthews, senior, had already started for Albuquerque, summoned by the news that his son was in a critical condition.

Another brother in California has been apprised of Matthews' death. It is likely the burial will be here. The remains were taken to Borders' undertaking establishment yesterday, and an inquest was held by Justice of the Peace McElroy, and a coroner's jury returning a verdict about noon in accordance with the foregoing facts. Matthews was married three and a half years ago.

A BIG GRIST OF TRUE BILLS BY GRAND JURY

NUMEROUS ARRESTS IN CRIMINAL CASES MADE

Bad Check Men Prominent in
List of Those Who Receive
Favors from Bernalillo County
Body.

The Bernalillo county grand jury which made its report to Judge Abbott in the district court yesterday, had a list of forty-two indictments to show as a result of an unusually strenuous session. Of the true bills returned the following have been arrested or are out on bond:

Jack Stewart, indicted for larceny. Stewart is the man who as agent for the Singer Sewing Machine company absconded with the mountaineer with his wife and a pony and wagon and a sewing machine belonging to the company.

John Franklin, who threw a rock through a window of a Santa Fe train.

Ramon Velasquez, assault and battery.

Alberto Luna, issuing a bad check.

Carlos Apodaca, seduction of a minor.

Leopoldo Apodaca, attempt to enter a house to commit rape.

John Corretto, three indictments for selling liquor to Indians.

Jack Rogers.

Edgar Smith and John Williams, colored, house-breaking. These are the negroes who entered the house of Jacob Weinman some weeks ago and were discovered by Mrs. Weinman in the act of attempting to burglarize the house.

Daniel Dugan. Dugan has already been sentenced, paid his fine and gone.

Clifford Hastings drew seven indictments for passing bad checks. Hastings is the man who got rid of a considerable number of worthless checks at the Alvarado hotel and a number of saloons and business houses in the city.

John Anderson, burglary. Anderson, who is a mere boy, stole cigars from Rosenwald's stand.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without an unnecessary loss of time is one to which we are all more or less interested. For the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases.

Mr. R. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best remedy for colds, coughs, croup, whooping cough, and all other lung troubles. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

PREDICTS CATTLE SHORTAGE IN ARIZONA

Dealer Says Territory Will Be Shipping in Beef For Local Slaughter Within Two Years.

(Nogales Oasis.) In conversation with the Oasis man, one day this week, a well known cattleman and dealer in meat, asserted that within two years Arizona will be importing cattle to butcher for a supply for the home demand. He stated that the ranges are denuded of all but cows and young stock, and that the great mining camps and growing towns are absorbing more beef each year than there are calves branded; and that as consumption in those quarters is bound to increase, the supply of beef steers cannot overtake the demand. Which, rightly interpreted, means higher prices for beef in years that are coming. It requires a plethoric pocket book now to meet regularly the meat bills of a small family; wonder what will compass the achievement in "the good time coming."

There was a short but rather exciting runaway on North Fourth street yesterday about noon when the sedate family horse driven by Miss Ada Phillips, the well known kindergarten teacher, halted, ran violently for two blocks and then stopped as suddenly as he had started. A little girl who was in the carriage with Miss Phillips, shrieked loudly, but no damage was done to horse, carriage or occupants. The horse, it is understood, shied at the spot where it had seen Albuquerque's first fire engine the day before.

SNEERS AT CLAIMS OF MODERN STAGE DRIVERS

"Sandy," Veteran of the Early 50s, Says Boasts of Later Coachmen of the Road are Childish.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 1. Editor Morning Journal:

Dear Sir: Well, I see by the paper that there is another in the field who thinks that he is the boss of the road because he once drove on a little line down in Sierra county. These modern stage drivers make me smile. Ask any of them if they have ever driven on a road where it was six hundred miles from door to door, and hostile Indians all the way. Once I remember we passed through bands of hostile Arapahoes, Cheyennes, Kiawas, Comanches and Utes on one trip. That was stage driving. We had a mail party consisting of a conductor, driver and whipper-in, who rode alongside and kept the six mules from jumping the trail. He used a whip we called a blacksnake in those days. Following the coach was a baggage and a chuck wagon with six mules, and an escort of eight or ten men, a government wagon and a relay of mules driven by a herder, so that our outfit consisted of thirty-six mules, and four or five horses. This was in 1857 and 1858. In those years it was a monthly stage line, and the schedule from Kansas City to Santa Fe was twenty-two days. I have known gamblers in those days to bet big money that the stage would get in on time with the mail, and this on a road 800 miles long and through hostile Indians. They were gamblers in those days, too.

I have helped to bury the mail party ahead of me, who were whipped out by the Indians, not one of the eleven men accompanying. I was a young man in those days, and if I didn't get scalped, I at least used to have my hair stand up until it seemed like the scalp would come off. Those were days when driving a stage meant something.

The fare from Kansas City to Santa Fe was $125, and the passengers were boarded along the way.

I have had notice a pioneer of this country on my stage. I recall among them ex-Governor Arney and Judge Watts. Don Miguel Otero, father of the former governor, Francisco Otero, who also served in congress; Ambrosio Armijo, Frank Manzanara, of Las Vegas, and can call the names of a hundred others. One of these men who braved the road in those days is Major Harry Whiting, of this city. I have often carried Hon. Tom Catron, of Santa Fe, and Stephen R. Elkins, who got to be a senator after he left New Mexico. And at one time or another I have hauled all the lifelids and Saabas and Spiegelbergs and the other pioneer merchants of this country.

Those were days when stage driving didn't consist of getting upon the driver's seat and whipping up a team of mules for twenty miles. In those days it was a business. Yours, "SANDY."
