MAGILL TELLS OF WIFE'S DEATHSAYS NAGGING DROVE WOMAN TO SUICIDE*Illinois Banker on Trial for Life Denies Infatuation for Fay Graham While Former Spouse Was Alive.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 17.—The early part of today's session of the trial of Fred and Fay Magill, charged with having caused the death of Magill's first wife, Mrs. Fay Magill, was occupied with the reading of the seven letters identified by Magill's daughter, Marguerite, when she was on the stand yesterday as having been written by her deceased mother while the latter was propped in bed previous to her death.

After the reading of the letters Magill himself was placed on the stand as the first witness of the day. Magill told of his first wife's despondency, and said he saw her propped up in bed with pillows writing letters. He told of the incident testified to yesterday by Marguerite, when a veterinarian was called to chloroform a horse, and said that Mrs. Fay Magill stated upon the occasion that she wished the chloroform was intended for her instead of the horse. He said that Postmaster Davidson of Clinton, had told him that Mrs. Magill had told the postmaster that she was taking chloroform, and that Davidson had told the witness that he said to her: "You had better get a gun and kill yourself instead of taking morphine." He said that on the night Mrs. Magill died she had requested Marguerite to phone to Fay Graham not to forget the promise, whatever it was, that Fay had made to Mr. Magill.

Just before he retired that night, the witness said his wife requested him to get her a bottle of beer. He gave her a bottle from the ice chest and then retired.

In the morning when he awoke he saw that his wife was not in the room. He made a search of the house and found her in the square room, lying down, with a blanket wrapped tightly around her. He spoke to her but got no reply and upon examining her, he found that she was dead. Magill said he detected the odor of chloroform.

Cross-examination brought out that Fred Magill is 38 years old, that he formed for a while had been a locomotive fireman, and for a year a bookkeeper in a small bank, and a bartender for six weeks.

Asked what in his opinion caused his wife's despondency, he replied: "Her headaches and the nagging of my mother and sister."

"You never heard her mention any other trouble?"

"Didn't you know people were talking about you running after Fay, and that was not your wife worried about that?"

"She knew people were gossiping about Fay and she was mad about it."

"Were you infatuated with Fay Graham before your wife died?"

"I was not."

"Were you in love with her?"

"I was not," the witness replied.

"You simply married Fay to carry out your wife's instructions?" the witness was asked.

"I married her to see her protected and because Marguerite urged me to," Magill replied.

"You were not adverse to her?"

"It wasn't compulsory at all. I wanted her protected from gossip."

"If your wife hadn't died you would have got a divorce, wouldn't you?"

"No, sir; divorce was not mentioned."

"You say that the night before she died your wife put her arms around Fay and kissed her?"

"Yes, and told her that if anything happened to her she must take care of Marguerite."

"There must have been a strong attachment between your wife and Fay."

"There was."

Magill's cross-examination concluded after the witness had spent four hours upon the stand. His testimony closed the defense's case, and the other defendant, Fay Graham Magill, was not called.

TAFT PLEASED AT FILIPINO PROGRESSDENIES DISAPPOINTMENT AT ELECTION RESULTS*Confident That Legislators Will See Wisdom of Upholding Present System of Government.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Manila, P. I., Oct. 17.—Secretary Taft was entertained at luncheon today by Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the military division of the Philippines. This afternoon and evening he attended receptions. Taft is not inclined to discuss the Philippine issues until after the official banquet, to be given him Monday night, when he will outline the future policy of the government toward the islands.

Secretary Taft toured Manila in an automobile and inspected improvements since his last visit. He said the progress was great and expressed pleasure with the conditions of affairs here and the reports of the governors of the provinces.

Mr. Taft reiterated his denial that he was disappointed by the result of the recent elections. He expressed confidence that the delegates to the assembly would see the advantage of upholding the present system of government, said he was satisfied with the election of Osmena to the presidency of the assembly, of whose ability he spoke highly, and added that he thought the assembly had made an auspicious beginning, which presaged good work in the future.

Secretary Taft will spend all his leisure time here in catching up with his correspondence.

A joint session of the Philippine commission and assembly took place this afternoon to hear the message of Governor General Smith on the state of the islands. He reviewed the history of the Philippines and pointed out what had been accomplished by the Americans in comparison with the Spaniards, showing that the American rule had meant improvement, the reduction of taxation and a better distribution among the rich and poor alike of the expenses of government, which were less than in any other country in the world having a similar population. He advised spending on schools the money which had hitherto been used in the suppression of disorders.

The governor general criticized the Filipino municipalities for their indifference, neglect and extravagance, and advised the adoption of laws for a better administration of municipal affairs.

Much of the lack of development of the islands, he said, was due to this maladministration, especially the failure to maintain in good condition the roads which the government had built.

The governor general said the assembly would be held strictly to account by the people in connection with the finances of the island, and gave the figures for the receipts, expenditures, etc., of the fiscal year of 1906-07.

YOUNG MEN SHY AT MINISTRYCongregational Council Discusses Problem of Supplying Pupils; Increased Pay Urged as Solution.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Cleveland, O., Oct. 17.—The allurement of commercial life and fear of the "ministerial dead-line" are assigned as reasons for the alarming decrease in the number of young men enrolled in the ministry by the Congregational council, which held its final meeting here today. The report of Prof. C. S. Nash of California, on "ministerial training and equipment" aroused the discussion. A score of delegates engaged in the argument. Increased pay for ministers was the only solution suggested. "The greed for the dollar is dragging our young men into commercial life, to the detriment of the ministry," said Dr. C. L. Morgan, of Illinois.

"Congregations seem to think that a minister should labor for nothing. We cannot blame young men if they do not venture their own lives and their families in such a precarious career as the ministry affords."

Dr. William Park of Chicago, said that the fear of losing their pastorate after they reach middle age deterred many who would otherwise enter the ministry.

AGED INDIANS BURNED AT STAKEREVOLTING SAVAGERY IN CANADIAN NORTHWEST*Sick and Helpless Tribesmen Done to Death to Relieve Relatives of Burden of Caring for Them.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Winnipeg, Manitoba, Oct. 17.—That Indian tribes living within a few hundred miles of Winnipeg have reverted to the most brutal savagery was brought out at the trials of chiefs of the Saulteaux tribe just ended at the Hudson Bay company's fort at Norway. Sick and helpless members of the tribe were strangled or burned at the stake for no other reason than to relieve their relatives of caring for them. Chief Joseph Pesequau was convicted of murder and sentenced to die. Chief Jack, of the Sucker band of the same tribe, strangled himself to death in his cell the night before the date set for his trial. Two brothers named Rae are in jail at Norway house awaiting trial for several murders.

Eyells, a brave of the Craneband, gave sensational testimony, specifically describing five strangulations and tortures in which he participated. In one instance the strangulation was not complete and the victim was placed on a platform over a huge fire, where he was slowly roasted to death.

After the execution of Chief Joseph, Eyells will be sent back to the north to tell his tribesmen what happens to murderers.

STANDARD OIL HEARING IN NEW YORK NEARS CLOSEWilliam Rockefeller Last Witness to Be Called.

New York, Oct. 17.—William G. Rockefeller, assistant treasurer of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, will be the last witness called in the hearing of the federal suit against the oil combine whose sessions will be adjourned tomorrow afternoon for a period of four weeks. Mr. Rockefeller today telegraphed that he would be prepared to take the stand.

Mr. Kellogg, the government attorney, is particularly anxious to know about the $22,000,000 loan made by the Standard of New York to "interest" other than the Standard" during 1906.

Mr. Kellogg spent most of the day's session in endeavoring to learn the identity of the purchasers of the Conshohocken oil company of Ohio, whose plant was bought and then dismantled by the Standard. Several witnesses were called during the day and statements giving costs and freight for oil for domestic and foreign shipment were placed in evidence.

TELEGRAPH SERVICE RESTORED IN CLEVELANDCompanies Open Branch Offices for First Time Since Strike.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 17.—Eight branch offices were opened by the telegraph companies here today for the first time since the strike of telegraphers nine weeks ago. Four branch offices each were opened by the Western Union and Postal companies, and it was stated that every branch office of consequence in the city is now in operation. Several striking telegraphers, it is stated, have been reinstated each day this week, and large numbers of applications are on file, exclusive of several that have been rejected.

COPPER DROPS ONE MORE NOTCHSENSATIONS THICK IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES*Failures Announced From Hamburg, Germany; Butte, Mont.; and Houston, Texas; Heinze Quits New York Bank

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
New York, Oct. 17.—Sensations followed each other in rapid succession in the financial district today as the result of the collapse of the projected corner in United Copper and the suspension of a prominent brokerage firm yesterday. The firm of Otto Heinze & Co. was suspended on the stock exchange.

F. Augustus Heinze, the Butte copper magnate, resigned the presidency of the Mercantile National bank of New York. The Amalgamated copper company, at its directors' meeting, cut its quarterly dividend from 2 per cent to 1 per cent.

The directors of the Boston and Montana Copper company declared a quarterly dividend of $6 in place of a former dividend of $12. The failure of Otto Heinze & Co., prominent bankers of Hamburg, Germany, with liabilities that may reach $7,000,000, was announced. The State Savings bank of Butte, Mont., of which the Heinzes are the principal stockholders, suspended.

As a result of these sensations the stock market was halting and irregular, but there was apparent feeling that the break of the attempted corner in United Copper had cleared the atmosphere somewhat, and the market rallied before the close. The suspension of Otto Heinze & Co., of which firm Max M. Schultz is the stock exchange member, was based on a complaint to the exchange made by Gross & Kieberg, the stock exchange firm which failed yesterday. In a communication to the president of the stock exchange, this was charged.

Otto Heinze & Co. with refusing to accept 3,211 shares of United Copper said to have been bought on order of the Heinze firm. This action, Gross & Kieberg state, was responsible for their failure. Attorneys for this firm stated today that the amount owed to the firm by the Heinze firm aggregated $600,000.

The Heinze firm announced that it is perfectly solvent and that all its legal obligations will be met. The attorneys say that the suspension by the stock exchange was accepted by the firm in order to give the latter an opportunity to lift its legal obligations from numerous claims which have been made against it which, it is alleged, they are not legally obliged to pay.

The resignation of F. Augustus Heinze from the presidency of the Mercantile National bank, it is said, was decided on at a midnight meeting at the home of C. W. Moore, who is largely interested in the bank.

It was announced this morning that Mr. Heinze at the same time gave out a statement in which he said that his resignation was due to the fact that he wished to devote all of his time to straightening out the business of his brother's firm. He stated positively that he had not disposed of his holdings in the bank, and that the control would remain where it had been, and that he would continue as a director.

William B. Ridgely, at present United States controller of the currency, has been tendered the office of president of the Mercantile National bank, but has not decided whether he will accept.

The low price of refined copper, which dropped even lower today, and the disorganized condition of that metal in the market, is the reason given for the reduction of the dividends of the copper companies. The announcement of the Amalgamated quarterly dividend of 1 per cent came as a surprise. The failure of the Hamburg firm and the Butte bank both followed closely on the news of the suspension of the Heinze firm on the stock exchange.

The Butte bank was largely controlled by the Heinze interests. F. Augustus Heinze's suspension from the stock exchange and the failure of the Hamburg firm precipitated a run which immediately caused the suspension of the bank. In a statement issued by the officials it was declared that the bank is perfectly solvent and that suspension is solely for the protection of depositors and of obtaining time to arrange the bank's affairs.

A number of meetings were held today in the offices of Otto Heinze & Co., but no statement of any sort was given out. It is said that the claims against the firm growing principally out of the attempted corner in United Copper, may reach $2,500,000.

HAMBURG BANK GOES TO WALL; LIABILITIES $7,500,000

Hamburg, Oct. 17.—The old private banking firm of Otto Heinze & Co. failed today. The liabilities of the firm are variously stated, and it was estimated early in the day that they were in the neighborhood of $3,000,000, but the Hamburgische Nachrichten says this afternoon it is informed by a banker who is in a position to know the facts that the liabilities reach $7,500,000. This will make the crash of this firm the biggest bank failure in Germany since the famous bankruptcy of the Leipziger bank in June, 1901. The assets of the firm have not yet been ascertained, but in banking circles the capital of the partners is declared to be $2,500,000. Nearly all the joint stock and private banks in Hamburg are affected in varying degrees by this failure, but a number of them say the claims are adequately secured. Among the firms' liabilities are acceptances for $3,750,000. The largest amount held by any individual house seems to be $175,000 in the hands of the Vereins bank. The difficulties of the firm arise chiefly from its connection with a mining company at Tepitz, Bohemia, in which much capital was locked up. In addition the firm had interests in several coal mines in Austria, and was concerned in several real estate ventures. Near Vienna it had established a so-called "caumacite works," designed to exploit a new method of developing unusually high temperature in furnaces. In connection with this enterprise was a glass factory. It is also declared that Otto Heinze & Co. had put considerable sums in real estate mortgages. All these assets are hard to convert quickly into cash without heavy loss, but the bankers holding the paper of the firm believe the liabilities probably can be met if liquidation is not too much hurried.

Haller, Soehle & Co. had been in existence for seventy years and ranked as one of Hamburg's old patrician houses. It has for a long time enjoyed a very high reputation, and its paper was everywhere regarded as safe and sound. The firm has been a partner in the credit of the house has been on a less assured basis. One of the older members of the firm died within a short period. The present partners are Dr. L. O. Soehle and Oscar Luebbers. Both men occupy positions of trust in other financial institutions.

Dr. Soehle is a director of the Weschler bank and the carbonate explosives company. It is probable that the position of the firm has been partly weakened through settlement with the heirs of the deceased members. This absorbed considerable capital. It has been known for some time in some circles of bankers that Haller & Soehle were in a rather precarious condition, and some of the foremost Hamburg banks instituted an investigation of the financial condition of the firm with a view of arranging the condition of the two banks.

The failure created a panicky condition on the bourse, and various sensational rumors were in circulation. According to one report, Haller, Soehle & Co. were heavily hit by the falling copper, and affected by the difficulties of Otto Heinze & Co., but this apparently is a mistake.

Further Failures Feared.

Berlin, Oct. 17.—The Housen Courier publishes a dispatch from Hamburg saying the proprietors of the firm of Haller, Soehle & Co. have only $1,250,000, and it is expected that the creditors will get 50 per cent if the affairs of the bank are wound up slowly.

The Tageblatt publishes a Hamburg dispatch saying that further failures are expected in that city.

OLD ESTABLISHED TEXAS BANK FILES ASSIGNMENT

Houston, Texas, Oct. 17.—One of the oldest banking houses in Texas went to the wall this afternoon when T. W. House, banker, filed a general assignment under the state law. W. B. Chew, W. D. Cleveland and J. S. Rice were named as assignees. They qualified by giving bond in the sum of $100,000. It is stated that the resources are amply sufficient to pay creditors one hundred cents on the dollar.

Inability to realize on securities not readily convertible into cash is considered the only cause of the assignment. Prior to the action, which placed the matter in the hands of the Houston clearing house held a prolonged session, but nothing was given out for publication. The Houston bank was established in 1835 by the father of the present banker. It has weathered successfully every financial storm since that date. It was a private bank, unincorporated, and had never made a statement of any character of its affairs.

The bank has enormous holdings of land and other investments in many portions of the state, and has been rated since he engaged in business as one of the state's wealthiest citizens. It is stated that the bank had deposits of more than $2,000,000 when the doors were closed.

In a statement Mr. House says: "The action taken by me was due to the general falling of the money market and the further fact that so much of my estate consists of real estate, which, although of the highest and most productive quality, in stringent times cannot be considered a quick asset."

Late tonight an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in federal court against the T. W. House bank by J. M. Rockefeller, J. Sweeney and T. M. Ford. Creditors, the allegation being that in filing the general assignment, T. W. House committed an act of bankruptcy. He filed an answer admitting that he had made a general assignment and the matter being referred to referee, he named W. D. Cleveland, J. S. Rice and W. B. Chew as temporary receivers.

These are the same as was made assignees.

CONDITION OF AUSTRIAN RULER CONTINUES GRAVE

Vienna, Oct. 17.—The condition of Francis Joseph this evening is as follows:

The catarrhal affection is slightly better, yet the coughing is frequent, dry and violent. The recurrences of the fever have taken "much milder form and now amount to slight uneasiness." In spite of these improvements, however, the general condition of his majesty is not quite satisfactory, because he has experienced more fatigue than he did yesterday.

ALARD GOES BUSY COUNTING TO PEN FOR ONE YEARGRAND JURORS DECLARE INDICTMENT AN ERROR*Roundly Scored by Judge McFie for Betraying Secrets of Grand Jury Room—Verdict Shock to Prisoner.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.]
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—Ricardo Alard, who shot Camille Martinez, a police officer in this city two years ago, has at last been sentenced. He was convicted as this term of the district court of assault with a deadly weapon, although he was tried under an indictment charging him with assault with intent to kill. Two witnesses testified at the trial that they had heard him threaten to kill Martinez, only about an hour before the shooting took place, but Alard was confident that the jury would not find him guilty of assaulting the officer, who was killed about six months later by Nazario Alard, for which crime the latter is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary.

Contrary to his expectation Alard was found guilty of assault with a new trial and also a motion for arrest and a new trial was granted. Every judgment was made by his attorney. The verdict of the jury was rendered a number of days ago, but the argument on the motion for a new trial was not heard until yesterday. A. B. Henahan and C. A. Spices argued the motion for the defendant, and District Attorney Gortner argued the motion for the territory. Every possible point was brought up by the attorneys for the defendant in favor of the granting of a new trial. A number of the grand jurors stated, under oath, that they did not vote for an indictment in the case and that the indictment in this case was inadvertently signed by the foreman and in reality no indictment had been found by the grand jury. Judge McFie held that the proceedings within the grand jury were secret and that the jurors had no right to testify as to what had transpired in the grand jury room except that it be in relation to crime which might have been committed in the grand jury room, and he stated that he would, in future, hold jurors in contempt of court for such action as had been taken by these grand jurors.

Affidavits of some of the members of the petit jury which tried the case were produced to show that some of the jurors, at least, thought that the crime for which the defendant Alard was punishable by a fine of not more than $1 and not more than $25. These affidavits were submitted in the hope of securing the leniency of the court, but Judge McFie considered that it would be ridiculous to impose only a fine in a case of this kind where the defendant had actually shot and wounded a person with a deadly weapon as was the case in this instance, and he stated that he could not impose a sentence of less than a year in the penitentiary. He accordingly sentenced Alard to a year at hard labor in the territorial penitentiary, and fixed his bond at $3,000 pending a decision of the supreme court in case of appeal, notice of which was given.

Alard and his friends firmly believed that he would never be convicted, and the disappointment was great when he was convicted and it was plain to be seen that there was more disappointment when the judge overruled the motion for a new trial. It is beginning to be apparent that crime cannot be committed with impunity in this county.

Before it was definitely announced that the proxy committee would not be able to report, the attorneys on both sides were somewhat startled by the suggestion that the transfer books of the company were now open. When the stockholders' meeting was originally called it was not thought that it would last over one day, and the announcement was made that the books would be open again on October 17. After a hasty conference it was decided that there was no way in which the books could be closed today, and it was therefore decided that they should be allowed to remain open until 2 o'clock in the afternoon when they were again closed until next Tuesday at 11 a. m. It was agreed between the attorneys that no effort should be made on either side to purchase stock during the day.

The situation remains unchanged. Both sides claim they expect to control the meeting and both are hunting earnestly for proxies or for the revocation of proxies previously given.

Mr. Harriman is credited with sufficient confidence in the outcome to have offered a directorship to a prominent banker of this city.

MOTHER SHOOTSTEN YEAR OLD SON WITH A SHOT GUN

Frightful Accident Near Santa Rosa Turns Quail Hunt Into Deplorable Tragedy; Mother Nearly Crazed.

HEAVY CHARGE GOES CLEAR THROUGH BODY

Discharge of Two Boilermakers Precipitates Shortlived Strike in the Southwestern Shops.

[Special Correspondence Morning Journal.] Santa Rosa, N. M., Oct. 17.—This town has been plunged into mourning by a shocking accident which happened here last night. Mrs. Charles Terry accidentally shot and instantly killed her little ten-year-old son with a shotgun while the two were out on a quail hunt near town. Mrs. Terry was carrying an automatic shotgun which she started to hand to her boy, muzzle foremost. In some way the boy reached out his hand for the weapon it was discharged and the whole contents of the gun entered the little fellow's body just above the heart, killing him instantly. The mother, almost crazed at the sight of what she had done, grasped the little body and staggered along for a mile with the bleeding child in her arms, until she reached the home of a neighbor where she could summon help. Mrs. Terry, who is a frail woman herself, is in a critical condition.

SHORTLIVED STRIKE

IN THE RAILWAY SHOPS
A strike in the roundhouse at Santa Rosa yesterday was precipitated by the discharge of the boiler makers. Master Mechanic Carson arrived today and the matter was amicably adjusted and the strike called off. The two discharged boiler makers will be transferred to another point on the Southwestern.

Eugenio Romero, of Las Vegas, is in the city on business connected with his new lumber yard here.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 17.—The suffragan bishops bill was passed by the house of bishops of the Episcopal convention tonight, thus settling the negro question so far as the Episcopal church is concerned.

AUTHOR WILL SEE HIS PLAY FOR FIRST TIME

Interesting Little Story in Connection With "Under Southern Moss" by the Twins Tonight.

Something out of the ordinary will happen tonight, when "Under Southern Moss" will be presented at the Elks theater.

Four or five years ago there was a dramatic company touring Louisiana, and in this troupe were the Hollingsworth twins, who at that time were about ten years old, and a Mr. W. R. Orendorf. The twins had a huge home day of being at the head of their own show, and wanted a play written for themselves. Orendorf promised to write one, and "Under Southern Moss" was the result. It was not until a year after the premiere was made that the play was finished and delivered to the twins, and in the meantime the company had disbanded and the people separated. Mr. Orendorf, leaving for Kansas City, where he was eventually connected with the Crystal Palace of Theaters, and the twins accepted another engagement. "Under Southern Moss" was first presented at Shreveport, La., and the Hollingsworth twins had a play that suited them exactly and was destined to make them stars.

Not until the twins and Mr. Orendorf happened to be in Albuquerque at the same time, had he seen the girls since he left them two years ago. Tonight when "Under Southern Moss" is shown at the Elks theater, the twins will have the first opportunity of seeing the play.

"Camille" attracted a good house last night, and the company closes Saturday night with "Texas" a play that has never been seen here. A special matinee will be given Saturday afternoon.

Hollingsworth county will not be a cotton center. L. E. Hoffmann has brought into Louisiana the first bale grown this year in that section, and fully fifty or seventy-five bales will be produced in the county this season. This is the first time a thorough test has been made in eastern New Mexico, and it has demonstrated that cotton can be grown with the greatest success.

The four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Beatrice Vigil, of Santa Fe, was kicked on the forehead by a horse the other day and the frontal bone was broken, making her unconscious for several hours. An operation was performed, the bone was raised from the brain and the child will recover.

Katie Pacheco, charged with kidnapping a child, was released.

NEW MEXICO BRAND BOOK IN STRONG DEMAND

MOST COMPLETE VOLUME OF KIND EVER ATTEMPTED
Some Curious and Interesting Features of Valuable Cattleman's Guide Now Being Distributed by Cattle Board.

The New Mexico Brand Book, recently from the press of the Morning Journal and issued by the Cattle Sanitary board of New Mexico, is just now attracting a great deal of attention among cattlemen throughout the territory and the demand for the book is so strong that it seems likely that one will be in the hands of every owner of cattle in the territory before many weeks have passed. The book is an extremely interesting one as showing the vast extent of the cattle industry in this territory and a careful study of the book brings out many interesting and many a curious fact.

The work shows all brands on cattle, horses, mules and asses, recorded under the provisions of the act approved February 16th, 1889, and all other brands recorded since May 1st, 1889, to December 31, 1906. The compilation of the work, as can be readily seen from a study of the volume, was a stupendous task, and its completeness and perfection reflects great credit on the cattle sanitary board, its officers and those who did the work. The book contains 536 pages of brands, and an index covering 109 pages. In all, a total of 24,656 brands are recorded, the records showing this number to be under 18,530 brands. The book is of convenient size, about 5x8, and is about three-fourths of an inch in thickness. It is printed on the finest of Bible paper, and the compilation was the most exacting work, requiring the entire time of two persons for two years. The name of the owner, postoffice address, N. M. Territory, will be sent at once by mail postpaid.

Some Interesting Facts.
An interesting analysis of the brand book has been made by the secretary of the cattle sanitary board which shows that the 24,656 brands recorded are under 18,530 brands, and that of these latter 102 are under the name of Archuleta; 281 under the name of Baca; 497, Gallegos; 181, Garcia; 321, Gonzales; 264, Jones; 104, Lopez; 159, Lucas; 203, Martinez; 374, Romero; 254, Sanchez; 232, Vigil.

Of the 24,656 brands, 274 are single "A" and 230 single "T." Under the letter "J," singly and in combination with other letters, figures and characters, there are 2,622 brands, 1,395 are recorded in the simple "8," and with it as the initial letter, 1,388 in "A," while "H" has 874, and "Q" only 48.

In the characters the diamond is the favorite, and there are over 300 on record. Others are shields, crowns, hearts, stars, ladders, hats, coffee pots, tin cups, anvils, acorns, nails and spears, hands, shoes, snakes, fish, flags, axes, pipes, boot-jacks, towels, hoes, anchors and birds, besides those classed as "Miscellaneous" which have no likeness to any known thing, showing the ingenuity of the cattlemen in selecting something entirely different from any other for his own.

The book as a whole is an intensely interesting one to cattlemen in those who are interested in livestock, and to the man who is actively engaged in the cattle or live stock industry, the work is invaluable.

HOW CAN YOU DO IT?
Here are some figures from the best source possible that ought to set you to thinking if you have kidney disease.

Dr. Loomis, of Bellevue Hospital, states from clinical observations and a large number of autopsies at Bellevue that practically all the deaths from kidney disease the last census year were really due to Bright's Disease. It is known that of 62,000—See U. S. Census for 1906.

Although Dr. Loomis is an authority and it is presumptuous, yet we cannot believe with him that nine-tenths of all people ought to have Bright's Disease. We think he would have been nearer the facts if he had said that nine-tenths of all people having kidney trouble have Bright's Disease, for the genuine cause cannot be denied and show conclusively that nine-tenths of all the dead from kidney trouble had Bright's Disease.

How can earth, then, one people with kidney trouble afford to take anything but Patton's Royal Compound, the only known specific for Bright's Disease?

It is superseding kidney medicine.

THIS MAN MAKES AN EVEN $100,000 A YEAR IN ALFALFA

How E. R. Smith, the Alfalfa King of Texas, Has Found Fortune in Growing Feed.

Sherman, Tex., Oct. 17.—An annual income of more than $100,000, more than twice the salary paid the president of the United States, represents the profits of one man from a Texas farm. This fortunate agriculturalist is E. R. Smith of Sherman. He is known as "the Alfalfa King" for all of his wealth comes from a ranch of fourteen hundred acres upon which alfalfa is grown.

Mr. Smith has developed from a practicing lawyer into the greatest alfalfa grower in the world in a period of thirteen years. He began his first experiment of planting alfalfa in 1894. At that time there was little known of this plant in Texas. He raised five acres with the seed. It thrived so well that he met with a difficult problem in keeping it cut. It was a new thing to him, and he found him an opportunity to begin the study of that particular branch of agriculture with a closeness of application that in a few years caused him to be known the country over as an authority upon the subject of alfalfa growing.

The growing and harvesting of the crop were not the only things to be studied and investigated. He conducted a long series of experiments with the various methods of feeding and fattening stock upon it. He made many new discoveries which have been of the greatest value in utilizing the product, and his income from the hog and other live stock which feed upon it amounts to more than the enormous sum which the alfalfa crop directly brings him.

When the first five acres enlightened Mr. Smith as to the possibilities of alfalfa he began to increase his acreage year by year. Even when he reached the point where he had one hundred acres in the feed stuff he was looked upon as the king of alfalfa growers in the southwest. That was a number of years ago, and since then many farms in the country have had a larger acreage of alfalfa than that of Mr. Smith. He has increased his acreage to one thousand and his income for that year was $78,000. Since then four hundred more acres have been added. Mr. Smith has placed no limit upon the acreage that he may ultimately reach. He has a big farm, and there are several hundred acres available for alfalfa.

The marvelous thing about Mr. Smith's alfalfa farm is that it is a dry land proposition. The crop is grown without irrigation. Practically all of the other alfalfa that is grown in the valley is by means of irrigation. By the cultivated methods used by Mr. Smith he is able to obtain as many cuttings and as large yield as usually obtain upon the irrigated farms. The old theory that alfalfa will thrive only upon bottom lands is disproved by Mr. Smith. It is growing in the valley and upon his high upland farm. The highest hills in this part of Texas are in this fourteen hundred acre alfalfa field. The crop which grows upon their summits is equal to that which grows in the valleys. The plant enriches the soil marvellously, and after the first cutting it is not long until the most barren spots are thickly carpeted. One of the hills in the big alfalfa field is called Mount Nebo, and from its summit every part of the fourteen hundred acres can be plainly seen.

"To me this is the most entailing eminence I ever beheld, not even excepting the magnificent mountain scenery of Colorado or the Shenandoah valley of Virginia," Mr. Smith said. "Here I have looked down upon fifteen hundred head of hogs, not one of which ever died of cholera. I have taken those same hogs from that alfalfa pasture at six months, and after topping them for ten or fifteen days on corn sold them at six cents per pound, each porker weighing from 225 to 250 pounds. The hogs make their growth from alfalfa alone, feeding through the dense mass of it almost hidden from view. They disdain all other feed."

The first season's cutting of alfalfa on Mr. Smith's farm takes place in April. The last cutting is usually made in December. The lowest number of cuttings in a year is four, and some seasons it is five or six. The yield for each cutting is never less than one ton per acre. The price per ton is never below $10, and it will average about $15 per ton.

In addition to the income derived through pasturage and its sale for forage one crop of seed is harvested. The yield of seed is, on an average, three bushels per acre. It sells for ten cents per bushel, and at sixty cents per bushel one acre will bring a revenue of $18.

But little calculation is required to show that at an average yield of four tons per acre and at an average price of $15 per ton the fourteen hundred acres bring in an annual revenue of $84,000 from the sale of the forage crop, while the seed crop at $15 per acre shows an additional revenue of $25,200, or a total of $109,200. No calculation is made of the amount of money received from the sale of the hundred head of hogs, cattle and other live stock that are fattened upon the alfalfa pasture.

Mr. Smith has taken the pains to trace the history of alfalfa back to its earliest origin. He found that it entered the United States by way of Mexico. It was brought to the latter country by the Spaniards soon after the days of the conquest by Cortez. It spread northward to the Rio Grande valley, where it was grown by the Mexicans in irrigated lands two or three centuries ago. From Mexico the plant spread southward also, and was grown in the Central and Southern States. It is still grown extensively in Chile and several of the other far southern countries. The native home of alfalfa is said to be Central Asia. It is now spread pretty well over the world, and of recent years it became the principal forage crop in some sections of the United States.

JURY DISAGREES IN THE CASE OF DIONICIO

CHARGED WITH ROBBING AN INDIAN OF $400

Jury Stands Six to Six--Wife Beating and Desertion Case Against Quintano is Dismissed.

At 5:40 o'clock last night the jury in the case of Leandro Dionicio, charged with stealing $400 from San Juan Lucero, an Isleta Indian in February, 1907, reported that it had disagreed. The jury stood exactly six to six on the case.

The trial of the case occupied the greater part of two days. Attorney W. C. Heacock appeared for the defense, the prosecution of Dionicio being conducted by District Attorney Clancy. According to the story of the Indian, he arrived in town and called at the saloon of Dionicio, whose father-in-law, P. Mitchell, conducted the saloon jointly with Dionicio. Lucero says he knew Dionicio and when the latter entered he greeted him cordially and invited him into a rear room after discovering that he had some money on his person.

Lucero had exhibited $50 to Dionicio, saying he wanted the bill changed. According to Lucero's story, after Dionicio got him in the back room he piled him with drinks until Lucero fell asleep on a bed in the room. The Indian says he woke up about 5 o'clock in the evening and found that four $100 bills that he had in an envelope in his hip pocket were missing. He got up and asked Dionicio what he had done with his money, whereupon Dionicio said: "Do you think I am a thief?" In some manner Lucero says he was induced to take another drink which it is alleged contained knockout drops or some other drugs, so that Lucero staggered back to the room and fell into a drunken stupor from which he did not recover all night. He says his mind was a blank until the next morning, when he came to himself and later went and complained to the authorities. Dionicio promptly disappeared and went to the mountains where it is alleged by the prosecution he went to get his hat, of the award changed. Exactly half of the $400 was found on the person of Mitchell. Dionicio declares he was not in the saloon when the Indian first appeared but arrived later. He says that Lucero was carousing in his rear room with a dissolute woman and denies the story of the Isleta Indian from start to finish.

Indian Up Against It.
The case of Lucero is a forcible illustration of the fact that the Indian is easy money when he goes up against the wily paleface. Lucero is said to have received $550 from the government on account of an Indian depredation claim. When his attorney got through with him he had not quite half of the amount left and when he left the saloon of Dionicio, according to his story, he had been separated from all but a few small bills.

Quintano Case Dismissed.
The case against Jose D. Quintano, charged with beating his wife and afterward deserting her, was stricken from the docket by Judge Abbott yesterday. The case was tried once and the jury disagreed. The husband and wife have since patched up their differences and are again enjoying a state of conjugal bliss.

BURGLARS BOUND OVER TO THE GRAND JURY

QUICKLY JAILED AFTER A BIG NIGHT'S HAUL

Robbery of Front Window of Yanow's Pawn Shop One of Most Daring on Record—Swag All Recovered.

George Elwell and a young man named Cordy, about twenty years old, were bound over to the grand jury last evening before Justice of the Peace W. W. McClellan for the robbery of the front window of Yanow's pawn shop, one of the most daring on record. The hearing before the justice was the final chapter in a fast and strenuous day for the two men, who early yesterday morning committed a number of the most daring burglaries on record.

While the boy watched outside, Elwell entered Yanow's pawn shop on Central avenue, and the Manhattan and New York saloons, on north second street, in quick succession, making a good haul from each. The two were about to begin operations on the Morris jewelry store in the N. T. Armijo building on Central avenue when they were arrested by Patrolman Highbarger in the alley back of the Bank of Commerce and taken to jail. The men were arrested, however, only after they had made a vicious attack on Policeman Rossi and knocked him down, and in general put up a noisy fight. They were quite subservient, however, after they reached the jail, and had no more fight left in them.

Yanow's store was entered about 4 o'clock. While the boy watched, Elwell placed a sheet of paper covered with soap on the shop window facing the alley and knocked a big section quickly scraped together thirteen revolvers, a bunch of Gillette safety razors, some field glasses and other stuff and the two made their escape up the alley to the Southern Hotel, where they concealed the swag in their rooms. About half an hour later they were in jail. Meanwhile, they had entered the New York saloon by smashing the glass in the rear door and unlocking the door. Here they got $25 from the slot machines and cash register; nine boxes of cigars, a silver watch, two bottles of whiskey and a 44-caliber Winchester revolver. In the Manhattan saloon the marauders got five dollars in change from the cash register, several bottles of whiskey and a bunch of cigars. They entered the Manhattan through a rear window.

The stuff stolen from Yanow was worth about $75, the plate glass window smashed also being worth at least $50. After being interviewed by Chief of Police McMullin and Assistant Chief Kennedy the prisoners made a clean breast of the whole work, and taking the officers to the Southern hotel, delivered up practically all the stuff taken from Yanow, part of the whiskey and cigars and about half of the money. Elwell claims he came here from Fort Worth, Texas. He has been in the city only a short time, but stands a good chance of securing a permanent residence in this locality.

The men waived examination before Judge McClellan yesterday and were held for the grand jury. Not being able to furnish bail, they were jailed.

JURY FINDS DEAD MAN WAS SHOT BY OLIVA

Coroner's Inquest Finished in the Case of Donaciano Archibeque, Who Was Murdered in Highlands.

The coroner's jury empaneled by Justice of the Peace George R. Craig in the case of the late Donaciano Archibeque, who was shot and killed some weeks ago while sitting on the steps of a boarding house on East street in the Highlands, returned a verdict at 7:30 last evening to the effect that the deceased came to his death as the result of a gunshot wound inflicted by Jesus Oliva. Little evidence came out at the inquest to shed any light on the causes that led up to the killing. Oliva, the murderer, is still going, or at least no trace of him has been found.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES.

Kidney Disease Causes Half the Common Aches and Pains of Albuquerque.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strain, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood. Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help. Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Albuquerque cures are the proof. Mrs. Ida Johnson, living at 414 N. Fourth st., Albuquerque, N. M., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills quickly and effectively relieved me of pain in the back, which had troubled me at intervals for some time. Any preparation which acts as fully up to the claims made for it as Doan's Kidney Pills, deserves unqualified praise, and as a genuine kidney medicine can have the confidence of every one."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TELLS HOW THE HOME MIXTURE IS PREPARED

Simple Prescription Which Is Easily Mixed at Home to Cure the Kidneys and Bladder.

A large health publication tells its readers of a number of simple and safe prescriptions that can be made at home. The following, however, for the cure of rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles, receives the greatest praise, viz., Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at little cost and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime, drinking a full tumblerful of water after each dose. It is further stated that this prescription is a positive remedy for kidney trouble and lamina back, weak bladder and urinary difficulties, especially of the elderly people, and one of the best things to be used in rheumatic affections, relieving the aches and pains and reducing swellings in just a short while.

A well known local druggist states that this mixture acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys; causes these spongy organs and gives them power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood which is the cause of rheumatism.

Cut take out and hand to some sufferer which would certainly be an act of humanity.

ALBUQUERQUE - NEW MEXICO

THE MATTER OF STATEHOOD.

When the present movement in favor of statehood for New Mexico was launched from the executive office in Santa Fe, the Morning Journal immediately enlisted in the cause, and bent its energies to the work with earnestness and enthusiasm. But after a time, when we discovered that the republican "machine" of New Mexico was treating the measure with still indifference, and that the leading republican paper of the territory stood practically alone on the republican side in seconding the efforts of a democratic governor in behalf of statehood for New Mexico, we could not escape just the faintest shadow of a suspicion that possibly we might be falling from grace; but now that we find such battle-scarred republicans as Childers and Fall lined up with us under the same banner, we are no longer obliged to feel any doubts as to our orthodoxy.

And that meeting at Santa Fe, the other day, was also an encouraging feature. It took the right position on the question, and foreshadowed the proper sort of policy to be observed in the conduct of such a campaign—indeed, the only sort of policy through which we can hope for any reasonable prospect of success in such a struggle as that which we now have before us.

If we are able to rise superior to party and faction, and stand together as one man in favor of the one grand object which we all profess to have in view, there is a chance—a first rate chance, indeed—that New Mexico may be admitted to the family of states during the coming session of congress, whereas, if we fail to pull together there may be no change for us at all. For that reason we have noted with much pleasure the surface indications manifested in the meeting at Santa Fe, but since the most of the gentlemen who made themselves conspicuous at that meeting have made records for themselves in New Mexico as supporters of only such measures of public policy as lead ultimately to opportunities for public plunder, they must not think it strange if the real friends of statehood for New Mexico party to take time to find out first what "little joker" may be concealed within or behind the professions of non-partisanship, before they enthrone too constantly over such an acquisition to the cause. When men whose aspirations and ambitions have never heretofore risen higher than self, are suddenly seized with such patriotic impulses that they are willing to sacrifice everything to the public good, they can not regard it as unreasonable that those who are familiar with their antecedents should think it prudent to accept them after the manner of our Methodist brethren, and take them a while on probation.

MISERY IN HIGH PLACES.

The heroic struggle against the king of terrors, which old King Francisco Joseph has kept up so bravely for some weeks past, has called the attention of the world to the sorry story of the Austrian monarch's life, and has served to call attention anew, and with added force, to the old, old fact, that peace and power, of themselves,
are not sufficient to bring happiness, thus showing how it may still be true that—

"More true joy Marcelus exiled feels,
Than Caesar with a senate at his heels."

The following outline sketch of the king's history was compiled by William E. Curtis, the well-known New-Yorker correspondent.

Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary, and Oscar of Sweden, are the last of a remarkable generation of governors, which included King Christian of Denmark, Queen Victoria of England, Victor Emmanuel of Italy, Louis Napoleon of France and Kaiser Wilhelm I. of Germany. Next year will be the sixtieth anniversary of his coronation and the seventy-eighth anniversary of his birth. Next to Queen Victoria he has ruled longer than any other sovereign of modern times, and in their experience; few have suffered so many great sorrows. His queen, Elizabeth, as you remember, was assassinated at Geneva by an anarchist in 1899; the Archduke Rudolph, his favorite son, and heir, committed suicide in a most tragic manner. Maximilian, his brother, was shot by the Mexicans at Queretaro. Ferdinand, his cousin, better known as John Orth, disappeared from the face of the earth and no one knows what became of him. His only surviving brother, Ludwig Victor, became involved in a disgraceful scandal several years ago and was dragged into police court like a common loafer.

Francis Ferdinand, his nephew and heir to the throne, is thoroughly disliked by his uncle. They have never been congenial. Francis Ferdinand has no learning, no taste, no interest in science, and, as a sarcastic Austrian editor remarked to me in Vienna a couple of years ago: "He knows all about horses and cattle, however, and would make a better veterinary surgeon than king." The emperor has never brought him forward, never goes to see him and never takes him as a companion. Their relations have been purely formal. The Austrians do not care for Francis Ferdinand, and the Hungarians hate him. He has shown his indifference to their opina-tion as well as their welfare, and has refused to learn their language. Francis Joseph speaks Magyar like a retard, and is also able to converse in German, Italian, Polish and Croatian, the principal languages of his subjects, as well as French and English.

Several years ago, much to the indignation of his venerable uncle and the rest of the imperial family and court, Francis Ferdinand married Sophie Chotek, a woman of excellent family, but no rank, and when, by the death of his cousin, Rudolph, he became heir apparent, rather than disavow her he made a solemn and formal renunciation of her rights as queen and the claims of her children to the succession. Therefore, when he becomes emperor, she can not appear on the throne beside him; she will have no place at court; she can not participate in ceremonial or social functions, nor can her children.
She is the same as a morganatic wife.

To give her an honorable rank for herself and her children the emperor bestowed upon her the title of Princecess Hohenberg, and her children will bear that name instead of the name of their father.

You can not help admiring the archduke for the loyal manner in which he stuck to his wife, and she is said to be entirely worthy of the sacrifices he made for her. She carried herself under these embarrassing relations with great dignity and is respected by everybody for her character and her graces. She is said to have a much better intellect than her husband and is criticized only for her narrow religious views.

IN COLD STORAGE 11 YEARS.

A Washington correspondent sends the Record-Herald a special in which Dr. Wiley, of the agricultural department, is reported as having said to the newspaper men: "I have just tasted some beef that has been in cold storage fourteen years." When asked whether he liked it, he refused to commit himself, but repeated that he had eaten it, just the same, and added: "I am now at work on a report covering experiments made to demonstrate the wholesomeness of cold storage articles. It will be submitted to congress early in December, and will give the result of the experiments which a board of which I am a member has been conducting under the law to ascertain whether the nutritive value and wholesomeness of articles of food are impaired by cold storage."

The poison squad, so-called, has not been utilized in those experiments.
It was too dangerous. I did not have the nerve to ask any of my young heroes to take the chances of plumbine poisoning. It is impossible by inspection to detect the poison, so, therefore, we have to be exceptionally careful. We have resorted to analysis, comparison, taste and smell to decide deterioration to storage, and have carried on our investigation to cover articles which have been frozen for two years.

We will continue the work after our report is completed upon our investigations to date, and express our opinion upon the effect of cold storage upon articles of food when frozen for a period longer than two years.

"Do you know why we read in the newspapers of people poisoned by eating ice cream on the Fourth of July?
Well, it is because of the practice which prevails among dealers to collect large quantities of cream in cold storage, to collect a supply sufficient to meet the many demands which come for ice cream upon our national holiday. Dealers in the spring begin to put cream in cold storage to collect a supply sufficient to meet the demand on independence day. Few articles of food deteriorate as rapidly as cream. It frequently happens that when this cream is manufactured into tempting bricks of frozen custard and ice cream, the deadly germs are lurking and that the corner houses certainly are full of plumbine poisoning."

Our prize fourteen-year-old beef was secured in Cleveland. When we commenced our investigations we wrote all cold storage plants asking information and a man in Cleveland was persuaded that he had a side of beef. He carefully packed it in ice and it reached us frozen.

"We are careful not to overindulge in cold storage products and are only eating enough to get a taste for comparison with the taste of fresh goods.
Our report will contain some very interesting suggestions."

IS COTTON STILL KING?

In his address of welcome to the members of the international conference of cotton growers and cotton spinners at Atlanta, Governor Hoke Smith of Georgia took occasion to point out that less than one-fifth of the land in that section of this country properly claimed as "the cotton states" is cultivated and not more than one-half of that under cultivation is devoted to cotton. In the rough, these cotton states comprise about seven hundred and fifty thousand square miles—only about one hundred and fifty thousand square miles of the land are cultivated and only seventy-five thousand are planted with cotton. Still nearly four hundred thousand square miles of this area are well adapted to cotton culture. In other words, the south could —if it would—raise more than five times as much cotton as it now produces without any increase from the present output per acre; with the requisite labor available, and on the supposition that the world-demand for the staple would warrant it, the south could put at least sixty-five thousand bales of cotton into the market every year.

Speaking of the great balloon race to take place next Monday, a prominent official of the weather service says, should it happen that a strong anti-cyclonic area of high barometer is passing over St. Louis when the race takes place—and this is not improbable—the winds may be expected to blow in the lower atmosphere from northerly or westerly points with considerable but not excessive force. In rising through such an anti-cyclone a few thousand feet the balloons will be in air which is gradually settling down toward the earth with no great horizontal motion, and it may be difficult to find any strong current at moderate altitudes. But over the high pressure area the chances are that the atmospheric motion will be to the eastward and that at an elevation of 3,000 feet the air masses will have all the velocity that the aeronauts desire.

Lord Rothschild does not approve of the president's speeches. And that forces the Washington Star to admit with appropriate sadness, that there is small prospect that Rothschild, Rockefeller and Roosevelt will ever get together on a chimney basis.

Governor Hughes has faith in the present standard of political honor.
Senator Platt has not. After all a man's views depend a great deal on the kind of spectacles he is wearing.

Mr. Bryan is still confident that the democratic platform can lose the splinters appropriated by Mr. Roosevelt and still be strong enough to hold a candidate.

It is feared the news from Los Angeles that the Santa Fe has been found out in giving rebates may make Mr.
Hipple even more gloomy.

What the Editors of the Southwest Are Saying

Here's Hoping.

The territorial grand jury which started to investigate the high price of coal, came up with a grand hurraing. The court fund which they found would not be large enough to carry on a respectable hearing against so large a concern as a coal trust.
Therefore they passed it up to the federal grand jury and it is to be sincerely hoped that that body will not let it take it up—Silver City Enterprise.

A Roosevelt View.

Governor Curry might as well start a "widespread campaign" in favor of sunshine as to make any special effort to arouse public sentiment for statehood. "Everybody wants it, except a few federal office-holders—and there is no use wasting time that might be better employed in demonstrating that the territory is fit for statehood."—Roosevelt Record.

YOU WILL OFTEN BE Pressed for Money

Often Because You Have No Advertising Bills to Pay than Because You Have.

Many a business man has been surprised find that his biggest advertising bills were the easiest ones to pay.

That is always true, assuming that they were contracted in buying advertising space in the best newspaper medium in the field. It would, of course, never be true if poor judgment were used in the planning and executing of the advertising campaign.

In the cases of prosperous merchants it always happens that big advertising bills and big bank balances grow, together, out of the same publicity campaigns.
Non-prosperous merchants—and half prosperous ones—may prove the truth of this matter in a practical way, and in their own experiences.

We are accustomed to seeing big stores filled with customers all the time—the direct result of big advertising expenditures. But we do not so often see the small stores and shops crowded. Too many of them are content to get the overflow patronage, the happened in people, the people who go to the nearest place.

Any little store whose advertising expenditures for newspaper space are doubled this year, will find its sales and profits correspondingly increased. Even a small increase of expenditure, in the right direction, for publicity, will bring a notable quickening of store activity, store profits.

SAVAGE YAQUIS TAKE LIVES OF WHOLE FAMILY

Another Wanton Outrage by Scourge of Land of Manana Reported From Sonora, via Tucson.

It has been several weeks since a real live Yaqui outrage has been reported, and the story of a quintuple murder by the savage Indians which comes from Tucson breaks the monotony quite effectually.

Tucson people who have just returned from Sonora bring news of the brutal murder on Thursday of a prominent Mexican ranchman named Luna, and his entire family, consisting of his wife and three children, by a band of blood-thirsty Yaqui Indians. The murders occurred on the road between Torres and Minas Prietas, about fifteen miles east of Torres.

Luna, with his wife and two young daughters and his son, were driving along the wagon road to his hacienda. He was accompanied by four of his servants. The wagon road parallels the railroad, for a considerable distance between Torres and the Minas Prietas and the massacre took place just a short distance from the railroad.

The Indians appeared suddenly from ambush and at the first fire the ranchman, Luna, who strove heroically to defend his family, was killed. His wife was also killed in the first volley. The servants, panic-stricken, made a wild endeavor to gain their freedom, leaving the children alone to their fate.

Two of the servants who were mounted on speedy horses, succeeded in breaking through the Yaqui line and reached Torres, where they gave the news of the attack. The other two servants were killed.

A passenger train between Torres and Minas Prietas came along a short time after the massacre, and when the engineer saw the bodies of the unfortunate ranchman and his family lying along the road a short distance from the track, the train was brought to a standstill.

There were several Tucson passengers on the train and they state that the Indians had mutilated the bodies frightfully. The two daughters of the ranchman had met death in a horrible manner. The youngest, who was a mere child, was found with her throat cut from ear to ear, while her sister, who was several years older, was found with her skull crushed in. The bodies were placed on the train and taken to Torres.

As soon as a force of rurales could be rounded up they were dispatched in charge of an officer to the scene of the killing. They were followed by a detachment of the federal troops, but when the force reached the place the Indians had disappeared. The two girls were found several miles, but the pursuit was finally given up and the rurales and soldiers returned to Torres.

Torres is located about twenty-eight miles below Hermosillo on the Sonora railroad. It is the junction point of the Sonora road and the Torres and Minas Prietas line which runs up to the big mining camp of Minas Prietas.

The prominence of Luna in that section of the country, combined with the sudden appearance of the Yaquis, who were supposed to have gone to other parts of Sonora, has caused great excitement and the natives who live outside of the town are in terror and fear constantly that the Indians will make further raids.

CHANGE OF BILL AT CRYSTAL THEATER

The initial midweek change of specialties at the Crystal theater occurred last night before an audience of considerable proportions, and made a big hit—in fact, the latter part of the week was considered by many to be a vast improvement over the former part.

Beahan and company, comprising four people, opened the show with a very funny farce called, "McFee, the Senator." In this a young wife attempts to make her husband jealous, and to carry out her scheme, she hires an ignorant Irish hood-cutter to impersonate a supposed senator, (McFee). Of course the Paddy makes one horrible blunder after another, but he succeeds in infuriating the husband and the result is a duel with revolvers. Billy Beahan is great as the fake McFee, and Dory Cordier as the fake McFee's wife. Agnes Allen looked pretty, dressed stunningly and played nicely the acting role of the wife. Sig. Avignon, a deaf and dumb acrobat, did a very humorous jumping-jack servant.

Stanton and Sanberg were, as before, very laughable, and they sprang many new gags and a new parody on "The Cat in the Hat."

Martin, the man of muscle, concluded the performance with the strongest bit of Roman and flying ring exercise yet seen here. Had the stage room there is no limit to what might be expected of this artist.

A new and splendid example of photographic trick work is "Dolls to Toyland," a moving picture that every child in Albuquerque should see before it is withdrawn Sunday night.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; leads to vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free also a Book of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake; but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

NEW JOURNAL OF EDUCATION IS ATTRACTIVE

Bright Periodical Devoted to Advancement of Educational Interests of New Mexico Now Published in Albuquerque.

The first number of the New Mexico Journal of Education to be issued since the transfer of the office of that publication from Las Vegas to Albuquerque is just from the press of the Morning Journal, and is a magazine of first interest to educators who are engaged in any branch of the great work in this territory. The Journal of Education was first issued in Las Vegas under the direction and management of Dr. E. J. Vert, former head of the Las Vegas Normal school. After his departure from New Mexico the work was taken up by Albuquerque men, and is now under the direction of Mr. August F. Asplund, an experienced business manager, and Mr. C. E. Hodgkin as editor, both of the faculty of the University of New Mexico. The magazine for the present will consist of four editions each year, issued on October 15th, and thereafter on the 15th of December, February, and April. The price is fifty cents a year. The first number is an attractive book of twenty-six pages of reading matter with a considerable volume of high-class advertising, and will compare favorably with any publication of the same class in the country. Its editorial content is sound and timely, and its comment, news notes and special articles are of the first interest. The inside of the cover carries a complete educational directory of the territory, which will be found valuable.

"Among the Teachers" is the title of several columns of matter devoted to news of personal nature concerning the location and work of the many teachers employed in the schools of New Mexico. Short news columns are given to each of the larger territorial educational institutions, and there are brief sketches of several well known educators. The public schools of several cities are also given interesting reviews. The magazine, in a word, covers the educational interests of the territory fully and will fill its mission as a magazine devoted to the unification and advancement of the educational interests of New Mexico.

Among the special articles in this number are the following: "County Institutes in New Mexico," by A. M. Sanchez, assistant superintendent of public instruction; "The Educational Value of History," by Cyrus W. Hodgkin, Earlham college, Richmond, Ind.; "Selection of Books for Young People," by Della J. Sisker, librarian of the University of New Mexico; "Esperanto," by A. M. Espinosa, of the faculty of the University of New Mexico. The magazine has its page of jokes and clever anecdotes, and a large bank of information of great value to the teacher. It is a magazine which every up-to-date teacher must find it necessary to have.

COMMERCIAL CLUB LAYS PLANS FOR THE CONGRESS

First Steps Taken Toward Arrangements for the National Irrigation Association in Albuquerque Next Year.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF DIRECTORS LAST NIGHT

Committees From City and County to Co-operate With Club in Preliminary Movement; After New Members.

The first definite step in preparation for the meeting of the sixteenth national irrigation congress in this city next year, was taken last night at a meeting of the directors of the Commercial club, held in the club rooms when it was voted to ask that the city of Albuquerque and the commissioners of Bernalillo county each name a committee of nine members, such committees to co-operate with the Commercial club in making preliminary arrangements for the meeting of the congress. The three committees are to form a general committee of twenty-seven which will take charge of those necessary preliminary steps which Albuquerque as the convention city must take before the city can call on the officers and executive committee of the congress or the people of the territory to take an active share in the arrangements.

When this committee of twenty-seven has been named and organized it will take up the question of further organization and matters of detail and the big ball which is to roll big things toward Albuquerque and the territory will be fairly under way.

The committee of twenty-seven is but the preliminary step, the opening wedge which will make way for the larger and more definite organization to follow, and for that reason this preliminary committee is of the greatest importance since it will lay the foundation on which the success of the congress must rest. It is the plan to have committees appointed from each county, from among those energetic New Mexicans who are workers and many of whom had a hand in bringing the congress to this city.

The united efforts of the representatives of New Mexico brought the congress to Albuquerque and the whole of New Mexico will be the beneficiary, as it cannot help being with thousands of people being attracted here by the congress and the vast and widespread advertising which naturally precedes, accompanies and follows a convention of such magnitude. Albuquerque for a week will be constantly before the people of the entire nation and the resulting benefit to the city and territory will be incalculable.

The Commercial club directors last night took up the matter with vigor and determination and now that the first step has been taken complete organization for the campaign will follow fast. The national irrigation congress is Albuquerque's opportunity and an opportunity such as seldom comes. The city and the territory will make the most of it and with every enterprising citizen of New Mexico pushing it, the national irrigation congress of 1908 will be the greatest of them all.

The directors last night discussed the congress at great length. All its difficulties and advantages were taken up and handled exhaustively and the meeting was an interesting one. It is going to take money and it is going to take work, the hardest kind of work, to make the congress what it should be. The club directors fully appreciate this fact but Albuquerque has never failed in a public enterprise of this kind and the directors are confident of success. It is time they believe for every citizen not only of Albuquerque but of the territory to get through with the important details of the organizing machinery of the congress. This done, the rest will be but a question of the energy and ability of the men in charge and the support of the loyal citizens of the territory.

It is expected that the county and city will name its committees at once so that the general committee may get through with the important details of the organizing machinery of the congress. This done, the rest will be but a question of the energy and ability of the men in charge and the support of the loyal citizens of the territory.

At the same time the club is going to enter in a vigorous campaign to increase its membership and extend its strength and influence. Three new members were received last night and steps are to be taken which will probably result in a considerable increase in membership. It was determined among other things that the privileges of the billiard room in the club should be free to members after December 1st.

The members received last night were G. B. Van Landingham, Jacobo Vinasarri and George F. O'Brien.

STABLE MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Of Special Value to Many Here in Albuquerque.

The progress made in medicine during the last few years has been as a whole general rather than specific. One of the most notable discoveries and one that undoubtedly appeals more than anything else to many people here in Albuquerque is the combination of stomach remedies in the Micon treatment. This prescription has worked wonders, and there is now no excuse for anyone suffering with indigestion or weak stomach.

It acts specifically upon the muscles of the stomach and bowels, strengthening and stimulating them so that they readily take care of the food that is eaten. It also increases the flow of gastric juices, thus getting from the food the nourishment that is necessary for health and energy.

The symptoms of indigestion are numerous, such as distress after eating, flatulency, heart-burn, sick headaches, dizziness and irritability. These are all dispelled by a few doses of Micon when the trouble is recent, but just as surely in long standing and chronic cases if the treatment is followed for a reasonable length of time.

So positive are the good effects following the use of Micon, that the remedy is sold by the J. H. O'Reilly Co. under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it should fail to cure. With an offer like this none can afford to suffer long from indigestion or stomach troubles.

Do not think because of the quick benefits derived from the use of Micon that it is merely a temporary agent. It is a remedy that cures by making over the weak stomach into a strong one.
