have a call to the women and children to get out of the danger zone. He was the first to get out of a panic and he did it in his power to avoid a catastrophe. The cheering was almost incessant and in the wild confusion the children and the women were carried off their feet and men had to fight back the onslaught of humanity. When the crowd arrived at the platform it was a solid mass of people. The cheers that greeted the arrival of the baby began as soon as the headlight met the first ray through the crowd. It was repeated in an infinitely greater volume when the president's car came and they came into view. Mr. H. Clay Evans, the first person recognized by the president, was at once invited to the car platform. To a newspaper man who was standing near the president said: "I am glad to shake hands. If we're to begin there will be a panic here. That crowd will surge here in a force no power can resist. I don't care. I like to shake hands." The president then glanced about him, rising up the crowd that cheered them; any indication that it would break apart. Evans, who was standing for silence, but he had as well beckoned to a roaring cyclone on approaching avalanches.

"My fellow citizens," said Mr. Evans to his fellow citizens, heard him

SHACKLED JAIL BIRDS VANISH IN THE NIGHT

REMARKABLE ESCAPE OF FOUR U. S. PRISONERS

All But Three Chinamen Captured of Bunch that Escaped From the Juguado at Las Cruces.

The United States Marshal's office in this city yesterday received word of the escape of four federal prisoners from the jail at Tucuman, Quia county, the advice further stating that none of the men have been captured. In spite of the most strenuous efforts of the officers. The jail break occurred Saturday night, and according to the story of the jailer, the get-away was one of the most remarkable on record, two of the men being shackled and locked in their cells.

"I left the jail about 7 o'clock Sunday evening to get shaved," said the jailer. "Before leaving I securely locked the prisoners in their cells and shackled the two who made their escape later. When I returned I lit a match and looked in the cells. Everything was all right apparently. In the morning upon opening the cells the prisoners had gone, but the shackles were there, and the cell doors were still locked."

Two of the prisoners were Americans and two Mexicans. Two were in for misdemeanor and the other two were held awaiting the next term of the district court.

ONLY THREE CHINAMEN MADE GOOD THEIR ESCAPE

Particulars of the jail break at Las Cruces Saturday night were received by the United States marshal's office yesterday. Of the twenty-one prisoners who made their getaway, only three Chinamen succeeded in evading the officers. It is believed that they managed to make their way across the border line into Mexico. Nine of the prisoners in the Las Cruces jail were federal offenders, and all were Mongolians, charged with being unlawfully in the United States. The message stated that the prisoners dug their way to their cells, while other prisoners attracted the attention of the guards.

DIRT IS FLYING RAPIDLY AT THE STATION

Third Track Has Been Placed in New Position and Trains Are Now Running Over It—Platform Contract to be Let.

The new third track at the Santa Fe station has been moved into its position several feet further east and trains are now running over it. A big force of section men is still at work rearranging the tracks and as soon as their work is completed the contract for the new brick platform will be let. As soon as the latter is completed the iron fence which is to extend the whole length of the promenade will be erected. The announcement that the tracks are to be moved in his case with general approval, not only from trainmen and carwashers, but from the traveling public. Hoarding and loading trains will be made much easier when the crowds are kept off the tracks and out of the cars.

TRAINMEN WANT BAGGAGE MAN REINSTATED

Brown, Discharged by Superintendent for Shipping Prospective Employee's Stuff Free Says it is the Custom.

The local trainmen are circulating a petition asking for the reinstatement of Night Baggage Master G. L. Brown, who has just been discharged by Superintendent W. K. Eiler of the Rio Grande division. Brown received his walking papers for permitting baggage belonging to trainmen seeking employment to be shipped free. Brown, who occupied the office for six months, declares he merely followed the custom observed by his predecessors in office.

About two weeks ago two brakemen, who had been discharged from the road lines, came here and learning that they could get a job on the Horseshoe division, secured a pass to San Marcel, and then requested Baggage-master Brown to "deadhead" their baggage through, which he did.

Last Saturday, W. K. Eiler, General Superintendent of the Rio Grande division, requested Mr. Brown to resign, saying that it was a violation of the rules to permit baggage transported free of charge. While Mr. Brown protested that his predecessors had followed out the custom and not save his official head.

Dress Goods Days

Just as the line gathers the rays of the sun and focuses them at a single point, our dress goods department has gathered the best and beautiful in dress and fabric and concentrated them in the exhibit ready here. These materials from the best mills abroad and at home—mills that excel each in its own particular grade. French, German, English and American are chief contributors to this international exhibit of dress goods.

Let this fact guide your selection. The nearest materials resemble men's goods. The more thoroughly they are liked.

Hence, a decided tendency to select effects most women will decline the extreme patterns. Our stocks are notably strong in just the desired styles.

Brookings are in very great request this season, and justify this prominence by the remarkable variety of effects in which they come—they have fully invaded the domain of the fancy dress fabric.

Fancy Brookings in pattern lengths only, each a gem and every one different per pattern, each $10.00 to $25.00

COAL MATTER IS IN HANDS OF THE COMMISSION

District Attorney Clancy Transmits Report of Grand Jury on Coal Combine to Chairman of Interstate Body.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ALSO HAS A COPY

Solitary Complainant as to the Sunday Lid is Not Discovered Even After Thorough Search.

The recent report of the Bernalillo county grand jury in regard to the methods of the coal combine in this city and the price asked for coal, which was declared a "public grievance," has been transmitted to the chairman of the interstate commerce commission by District Attorney F. W. Clancy. The district attorney has also sent a copy to the United States attorney general and there is good reason to believe that a thorough investigation will be made of the coal matter.

Announcement to this effect was made yesterday in the final report of the grand jury after its two days' adjourned session. The report was as follows:

In the District court of the county of Bernalillo, in the territory of New Mexico, at the September term, 1907, sitting for the trial of causes arising under the laws of said territory.

To the Hon. Ira A. Abbott, Judge of said court.

The grand jurors for said county at the said term of the district court, respectfully submit this report as to the business transacted by them at the adjourned session of the grand jury beginning October 21, 1907.

We have been in session two days and have had before us thirty-one witnesses, and have returned into court ten indictments.

Regarding the coal investigation, the district attorneys have reported to us that he has transmitted the former report of this grand jury touching this matter to the chairman of the interstate commerce commission, and also to the attorney general of the United States, and we trust that this will lead to a thorough investigation of the coal business of this territory to the end that any violation of the statutes will be corrected and proper punishment meted out to all guilty parties.

Referring to our previous report regarding the violations of the Sunday closing law, we beg to state that this grand jury have received several unsigned letters of complaint that the law is not enforced. We have also received a letter signed "James Crosby," but have been unable to find or locate any such person in this city. The sheriff's office reports that they have been unable to locate the said "James Crosby" after a thorough search of the city.

We have examined all of the witnesses brought before us, but have been unable to obtain evidence sufficient to warrant the finding of indictments.

Having concluded all work now before us, we respectfully ask to be excused from further attendance, and finally discharge.

Are you doing anything for the community except teaching arithmetic and reading? J. R. Ribera, Jessie Moody, Adelle Goss.

Boston Wool Market.
Boston, Mass., Oct. 22.—The volume of movement in the local wool market is still considerable and wool prices are averaging nearly five mills. The demand is not confined to the worsted mills, but extends to all lines of manufacture. It is believed that nearly 75 per cent of the local holdings have been disposed of.

In the local trade the heaviest dealings continue in territory wool.

LUNA IS CONVICTED OF FORGERY IN DISTRICT COURT

RECOMMENDED TO THE MERCY OF THE COURT

Was Drunk at Time Worthless Check Was Drawn—Carlos Apodaca Found Not Guilty by the Court.

Alberto Luna was found guilty of forgery in the district court yesterday afternoon. The jury recommending the prisoner to the clemency of the court. Luna, on December 17, 1906, passed a worthless check on the bartender at Graham Brothers' saloon. The evidence showed that, while intoxicated, Luna offered in payment for drinks a check for $75, purporting to be signed by Andres Romero and endorsed by Luna. The check, which was made out on the First National bank, was at once found to be a forgery and the indictment of Luna resulted. His father in the meanwhile made good the amount of the check. Luna's self defense was that he was very drunk and did not know what he was doing.

Apodaca Acquitted.
Carlos Apodaca, charged with seducing and enticing away a girl named Chavez, was acquitted by Judge Abbott, who took the case from the jury, stating that the evidence did not prove the allegations set forth in the indictment.

Other Cases.
Natividad and Isidro Baez, indicted for perjury; Leopoldo Apodaca, indicted on two counts for rape; Salvador Garcia, indicted twice for assault with intent to commit murder; and Antonio Samora, indicted on a similar charge, were arraigned in the district court yesterday afternoon. Pleas of not guilty. Their trials will be set for next week.

Suits Filed.
Three suits were filed in the district court yesterday, one each for Bernalillo, McKinley and Valencia counties, two to collect judgment on a debt and one to procure a divorce. The cases are as follows:

Mrs. E. Teutsch, plaintiff, versus Martha H. Alexander and William D. Alexander; Summers Burkhardt, attorney for plaintiff; for collection of a debt.

Mrs. Mary O'Rourke, plaintiff, versus George M. O'Rourke, McKinley county, for divorce, charges desertion; B. F. Adams, attorney for plaintiff.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. NEW MEXICO

LET US GET READY FOR IT.

The National Irrigation Congress, which is now the largest and really the most important of all the various industrial movements that are claiming the attention of the public, is an association that originated in the minds of the progressive men of Albuquerque, and held its first meeting here, under the auspices of the Commercial club, a good many years ago, hence the people of Albuquerque, and especially the members of the club, have a right to claim close kinship with it, and since the association, which has now attained its maturity and reckons its members by the thousands, is coming back to its birthplace to hold its next annual meeting, our people will be extra in the eyes of the world if they exhibit a reasonable degree of pride in its robust proportions, and put forth a special effort to give it a thoroughly Albuquerque welcome.

But we must remember that we have no time to lose, and if we expect to do ourselves proud, or even hope to do ourselves justice, we must "get a move on" right away, because there is a great deal to be done, and no time at all to be wasted.

In the first place, and to begin with, we must find a hall for the congress to meet in, and that is to be found only by building it, because the number of persons who will be here as delegates, or as spectators anxious to see and hear all that is done, will be so great that we have no room in the town that could be fixed over in such manner as might make it serve even for a makeshift. That fact we must recognize right at the start, and not deceive ourselves and injure the reputation of the town by trying to shut out eyes to the truth or talk around it. We must have a hall of sufficient capacity to accommodate fifteen hundred delegates, and at least that many spectators—or, in other words, we must have a hall big enough and good enough to afford first class accommodations to at least three thousand persons, or else give up the job, and tell the world we "can't"—and that would make it necessary to put a new word in the Albuquerque lexicon—namely, that the people of this town have never yet had to use that word, and we do not apprehend any danger that they will allow themselves to be driven to the use of it in this connection.

There is absolutely no reason why we cannot make arrangements at once to purchase the site for the arena, and thus acquire the immediate right to use the twenty-five hundred dollar territorial appropriation, in the erection of a permanent and creditable building, which will not only accommodate the Irrigation Congress in first class style, but will be valuable to the city ever in enabling us to offer good accommodations to any great meetings or conventions that it may be desirable to hold here.

The main point is to get to work, and not waste any more time about it. There is a great deal to do, and we ought to be doing it. The congress is its next next summer. It takes some time to build and prepare a big hall. Building arrangements progress very slowly through the winter, at best, and it could be hurried by the use of the time for the meeting some around and catch up before we are ready after having had a year's delay. And then, no satisfactory hall can be made in the way of making other provisions until the matter of a hall is definitely settled—that is the foundation, which has to be laid before we can do anything in the way of putting up the superstructure. For that reason it gives us much pleasure to be able to inform the public that the necessary steps are now being taken to have that work put under way at once. There is money enough in the hands of the Commercial club to enable us to meet the emergency by purchasing a site for the arena, and this in turn will guarantee the erection of a creditable building, but before that action could be transferred to this purpose it was necessary to get the written consent of a sufficient number of the subscribers to a transfer of their money to such purpose. This has already been done, and in the course of a few days the site will be purchased by the club, and the public will soon be given a building which will not only afford ample accommodations for the congress, and be a credit to the town, but will be highly valuable in the accommodation of great gatherings ever after.

The Topeka Journal thinks it is quite evident that bearskin rugs are not to be cheap this winter as a result of the efforts of the national administration.

"The honest man has nothing to fear from this administration," said Mr. Roosevelt, and immediately a lot of Wall street financiers began to howl some more about the president's policies.

Farmers residing in the vicinity of Buckhorn mountain, fifteen miles from Williamsport, Penn., have been invited to President Roosevelt in hunt for bears in Lycoming county, and assist them in exterminating the pest that is destroying corn. Many farmers are obliged to guard their fields each night.

Miss Lewis Wilson, aged keeper of the Lime Rock Lighthouse, off Newport, R. I., has been singled out by the Society of the American Cross of Honor as the bravest woman in America. The society finds after investigation into very many cases of "courage and bravery," that "Miss Wilson," as she is called by seafaring men, "has rendered greater service tending toward the saving of life than any other woman in the country."

Now the people of Suffolk, Va., are going to send an invitation to Mr. Roosevelt to come to their neighborhood and hunt for bears. A Suffolk dispatch says: "A number of prominent citizens have decided to ask the chief executive to come and have a sure enough hunt for bears and other big game, with the promise that he will be shown more bears in one day than he has found in a week's travel in any other section of the south or east. Not only do bears abound in the fastnesses of jungle, but there are many wildcats, wild boars and wild bulls, with plenty of deer and an occasional panther." The president is beginning to find out that the bears, like John Randolph's Greeks, "are at your doors."

MY KINGDOM FOR A HORSE!

The army officers who were supposed to have been disgraced from active military service by long service in the bureau of the war department got far and away the best of the horseback riding display. They acquitted themselves in a soldierly way and showed that they are prepared to take the field whenever "the powers that be" so nominate. The joke, if there is one in the proceeding, is entirely on those who projected the ride. There was not one of these officers, according to the most veracious accounts, who did not deport himself as skillfully as the commander-in-chief himself did when he pranced through the streets and outlying highways of the District of Columbia with the graceful Prince Henry of Prussia. The next time we have an eminent foreigner to entertain let the bureau officers be ordered to horse. The show would be more expert, entertaining and instructive than a run of the Washington fire department.

THE WORLD UPSIDE DOWN.

The well-known Methodist minister, Dr. Charles Edward Locke, declared in a recent sermon, that the world is in need of being turned upside down. Only when that feat is accomplished, he said, will things be as they ought to be.

"The iron heel of justice is on the neck of the poor," he said. "The nation is in the frenzied grip of criminal and deadly graft; the exact shop still endures its numerous victims, and the political boss holds tenaciously to his job for revenue only." The opportunities are many for those who will band themselves together to turn this old world upside down that it may be right side up.

WAITING FOR A SIGN.

"The regulation that threatens peril to the railroads and the commerce of the country today is the regulation of the shares," said Robert Mather, president of the Rock Island road, in his speech before the Chicago Association of Commerce. And the Record-Herald said it warmly indorses Mr. Mather's comment on the subject and insists, like him, upon federal control, while it deprecates the injustice that results from regulation under state laws. It also agrees with Mr. Mather as does the Morning Journal that among the reasons that have made railroad securities unavailable are the misdeeds of the railroads themselves, and it would ask why the railroads have not resorted to some effective discipline on that account. Among the misdeeds Mr. Mather notes the following: "Directors are undisciplined to have purchased the securities of corporations of which they are trustees and to have sold property of their own to the corporations, making personal profit through their dealings with the trust estate. There surely is a case in which exemplary discipline should come from within. The guilty directors should be reprimanded. An executive officer who acted as manipulator and speculator should be deprived of his office. But when we apply the principle to the operations of Mr. Harrison we find that gentleman still glorying in his power.

Impotent as the impotent reforms have been and farcical as the insurance elections have appeared in some respects, there was certainly a concession to public sentiment in the treatment of offending officials. But the railroad corporations have clung to their old idols. Far from giving an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace, they have remained completely obdurate. Large stockholders continue to support men who are notorious for their misdeeds. They thus proclaim their contempt of the public and invite an increase of public hostility.

Such being the case, what right have they to blame the public for seeking to discipline them through any governmental agency whatsoever? The perils of which they complain may be traced to their own doors.

NEW LINE TO CUBA.

The first direct message from New York to Havana over the new line of the Commercial Cable company was sent by Clarence H. Mackay, president of the company, last Friday, to Governor Magdon. It read:

"Allow me to congratulate you on the establishment of this additional and closer link between the great administrator and his native land. Peace and prosperity to Cuba. This is the first message over the new cable."

To this message Governor Magdon sent a reply, saying:

"I thank you for your good wishes in the first message to Cuba over your new cable. I congratulate you on the promptness with which the cable has been laid. Any link between Cuba and the United States cannot fail to be of great benefit to both nations. In the name of the Cuban people, well done!"

BY THEIR RIGHT NAMES.

Somebody who is plainly familiar with the customs and language of Central America reads a short, interesting lecture on names and designations. He wants to know why we should call the people of Panama Panamanians, when they are really Panamanos. "Panamanians" is also suggested. An inhabitant of Guatemala is properly a Guatemalteco. One of Honduras is not a Honduran, but a Hondurano. One of Costa Rica is a Costarricense. Some of these are a little long to say, but some trouble ought to be taken to show the beauties of the Spanish language. It is capable of many graceful combinations and variations. Care as to names of places, peoples and persons is a virtue. One of the best all-around editors the writer ever knew always insisted on reporters being punctilious as to the orthography of proper names. "It is a public affront," he would say, "to spell a man's name wrong in the paper. It is a mortification of pride, but he has to pretend to be indifferent." One of the mean acts of a leading lawyer is to acknowledge a witness by purposely mispronouncing his name.

Solos by the Second Fiddle

RUSH the Garbage Can.

WHAT THE city wants is a scavenger who scavenges.

THE HON. Granville Pendleton seems to be up against it.

HEART trouble is the prevailing ailment in Santa Fe this week.

THE ESTANCIA valley is made up of the bone and marrow of property.

LITTLE Willard has burst into poetry again. Evidently he needs a vacation.

IT IS just possible that the eminent attorney general may revise his opinion on New Mexico land frauds.

MAX SAYS he has "A good deal on his hands just now." It is feared he has a good deal more on his mind.

WILLARD frankly declares there is absolutely nothing in the land fraud imbroglio. Willard, why this eagerness?

MR. BURRUM'S Evening Instrument seems to be a little slow in publishing the proceedings of the Santa Fe grand jury.

MEANWHILE, United States Attorney Honorable William Henry Harrison is busily attending to his official duties.

THE COUNCIL'S proposition to impose a license on the coal dealers is a happy thought and should have a real comfort to the Common Council.

IT MAY BE well to remind Mr. Harrison that though the people want stationery they are able to keep more than one thing in mind at a time.

LITTLE WILLARD struggles bravely up with the land fraud story after it is twenty-four hours old. The Evening Instrument is getting more conservative than ever.

"GAP IN BRAIN finally kills," says the Los Angeles Times of a man who succumbed with a revolver. But the sad part is that too many people with gaps in their brains continue to live.

THE ETERNAL justice of things would be conserved if the Evening Instrument would allow the courts to determine whether or not there is anything in those land fraud imbroglios.

"TO AN OLD TIME subscriber who desires to know why the New Mexican does not keep up the fight which it has made so manifestly for many a day against certain incompetent officials, supporters of the recent false administration, this paper desires to say that for the present and some time to come it has decided in the cause of moderation and civility to be silent on this subject."

owns any other topic and affair that has been discussed in its columns during the past year and a half."—The Almanac.

Alack! The good people will have a dull time if the Hon. Em leaves the vaudeville stage, even temporarily.

MR. SCHWAB says he will spend a million dollars in San Francisco. He is there with a superb brand of nerve. Most people would rather put their money into town lots on top of Mount Vesuvius.

ONE MAN is dead, four wounded, and one will die as a result of a little misunderstanding about a street car transfer in San Francisco. For pure restlessness, give the blades every time in preference to Frisco.

IT IS LIKELY THERE are a number of gonorrhea in New Mexico who wish they had never been so unwise as to charge Hagerman with a fraudulent land transaction. How great a matter a little lies sometimes kindle.

ASSISTANT Surgeon General Heinemann, U. S. A., has "reneged" at the presidential order, requiring rough riding. Dr. Heinemann says that rather than travel fifteen miles on the hurricane deck of a bronk he will quit the army. He would prefer the application of mollycoddle.

THE REV. James Washington, presiding elder of the A. M. E. church of Arizona has been in Prescott investigating the case of Rev. Henry Hawkins, charged by one Taylor with swiping a pair of pants. Rev. Hawkins has been court-martialed from all sorts in connection with the lifting of the nether marmoset but in order to promote peace in the fold, has been transferred to another field of usefulness.

"AN EXAMINATION of the tax rolls of Santa Fe county, discloses the fact that the falsest men, the tax dodgers and the scoundrels who are giving some of Santa Fe's best citizens a black eye whenever they can on the street corners, the saloons and in private conversations, are tax dodgers pure and simple."—The Almanac.

In view of the Hon. Em's recent attitude in court, he said his Prestige and Standing as a witness in Tax Dodging, the above frank admission is charming.

WORK COMMENCED ON COAL CHUTES AT BELEN YARDS

SANTA FE IMPROVEMENTS RAPIDLY PROGRESSING

Commercial Club Gives Series of Entertainments—Public Schools of Outfit Town Are Prosperous.

Special Correspondence Morning Journal. Helen, N. M., Oct. 21.—Work was commenced on the coal chutes at Belen yards. The capacity will be 150 tons of coal a day. The chutes are of the latest improved pattern so that the loading of the many engines operated over the cut-off may be accomplished in the shortest possible time.

Commercial Club Boys.

The Belen Commercial club elected five new members at its last meeting which was held a few days ago. The club has now thirty-five active, and associate members who are all well known. The first of a series of five entertainments was given at the club October 18, consisting of a musical, instrumental and vocal, and a musical entertainment, which was greatly enjoyed. A large audience was present.

Belen Public.

The public school of Belen is fast filling up with pupils for the winter work. The rolls show that there are in attendance at the present time, under the able management of the new principal, Prof. Smith, Mrs. Smith and Miss Martin, the students are not only well educated, but the work is better organized than ever before. The Felipe Chavez school school has in attendance about sixty students. Mrs. Chavez is the efficient principal and Miss Reed the assistant.

Business Good.

All kinds of mercantile business report a splendid business during the past month and say trade is flourishing as the fall season advances.

Mrs. (Mrs.) C. E. Burroughs is becoming quite a feature of the Belen hotel where Miss Reed is the hostess. She continues to extend an affable welcome to her scores of patrons.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to be healthy. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. It is sold on our merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle. Name of Swamp-Root, by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Attention! This paper when written to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Rutherford, N. J., Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Rutherford, N. J., on every bottle.
