BRUTAL STORY OF CHANDLER MURDERS

STEVE ADAMS' ALLEGED CONFESSION REPEATED

Hired Assassin Tells How Claim Jumpers Were Slain in Northern Idaho; Implicates Federation Leaders.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Spokane, Wash., Nov. 12.—The confession of Steve Adams, made in the office of the warden of the Idaho state penitentiary, February 27, 1905, in the presence of James McFarland, a Pinkerton detective, of Boise, and W. B. Hopkins, introduced in evidence at the trial of Adams for the murder of Fred Tyler, at Rathdrum, Idaho, today.

In the confession Adams is quoted as saying that he met Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone in Colorado "the summer following Arthur Collins' assassination at Telluride" and that he had been intimately acquainted with them up to the time he left Colorado. "They told me to go to Idaho and meet Jack Simpkins," Adams is quoted as saying. "That he wanted to see me on some business in regard to ex-Governor Steunenberg and that I would meet him near Wallace; at Warden, I believe."

The confession continues: "The confession was made with preliminary talk about the proposed assassination of Governor Steunenberg. This talk had occurred shortly after the dynamiting of the depot at Independence in 1904. It was about a month after that Adams started for Idaho. The talk had taken place in Pettibone's back room and, besides Adams, there had been present Haywood and Pettibone."

"The confession continues: 'They just told me to go up and see Simpkins, as he wanted to see me and he would probably tell me about the Steunenberg matter, as they wanted to get Steunenberg.' 'Did you get any money?' 'They gave me $200 to go up there on.' 'Who gave you the money?' 'George Pettibone.'"

"After the meeting with Simpkins Adams says he lingered but a short time in Warden and left soon for Simpkins' claim, about 14 miles above the head of navigation on the St. Joe."

"There were some claim jumpers," Adams is quoted as saying. "Simpkins said that if I helped him to get rid of those fellows he would give me $500. Two of those men were killed."

"Who assisted in the killing of these men?" "Newt Glover, Jack Simpkins and myself."

"How did you carry out the murder of Tyler?"

"We went in one night, Newt Glover, Alva Mason and myself, some coffee and had breakfast and then we went over to try to catch Tyler in his cabin on Simpkins' claim. He was gone, so we waited until about a month later, and we started up to a spring and while we were drinking we heard someone coming. I said, 'All right, I am glad of it.' I got into the cabin and saw the body of the man who had been killed. I saw it was Tyler coming. He had a big gun buckled on him. I stepped out on the trail and told him to get out. He took his gun and went on. I then took him to Simpkins' cabin and stopped there until morning, when we took him three miles out in the timber and killed him."

"Who was done with the body?" "It was left lying between two logs." "Who did Tyler say placed him on the claim?"

"A fellow named Louis—a banker, I think, from Spokane—but I cannot say positively."

"After that what occurred?" "I went down and told Simpkins at Harrison and told him what I had done, that he did not have any jumper on his claim."

"In a week or thereabouts, or probably two weeks, we went back up in there and met a fellow named Boule and another man coming down the trail near Simpkins' cabin. We opened fire on them, killing them both. Simpkins, I and Newt Glover. There was another man with us at the time whose name I do not know."

"How did it happen that the other man got away?" "We missed him; he was dodging. We shot at him."

"Following the confession of the shooting, Adams relates how he and the other men went back up to the state militia of Colorado, occupied the witness stand in the Steve Adams trial at Rathdrum, Idaho, this afternoon. He testified to first having seen Adams on May 27, 1906, at Orchard, Idaho, on the Oregon Short Line, about 20 miles from Boise City. He went there to meet him and go to Colorado with him. Adams was with two men, Gene Johnson and S. C. Thiele. "City Marshal W. W. Rannels, of Telluride, Colorado, accompanied me on that trip," said Wells. "Adams had stated that he could locate at Telluride the remains of a man named Barney, who had been killed in the labor trouble there. Deputy Warden Mills, of the Idaho state penitentiary, went with us on the trip."

Adams told the witness of a number of crimes in which he had participated. They had some conversation at that time in reference to crimes in the St. Joe country in northern Idaho, the killing of a man named Tyler, and a man named Boule. No one but Adams and the witness was present during this conversation. Witness positively stated that at that time, or prior to that time, he had offered no immunity or reward to Adams to make the statement to him nor did he make any threats to Adams. "I know of some crimes that had been committed in the St. Joe country," said the witness. "The conversation was in the course of a general talk. Adams spoke of himself in connection with another matter. Adams told me that after the Independence explosion he had gone to northern Idaho, to the St. Joe district, to help Simpson dump off two men who had been giving him trouble over his timber claim. It probably came up again during the week I was with Adams on the trip to Telluride and back to Boise."

Nothing of importance was brought out on the cross-examination. In re-direct examination Wells said he found the body of Barney at Telluride just where Adams had mapped it out for him.

On cross examination Mr. Wells, who is a member of the Colorado state railroad commission, said he was in charge of the special train that took Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone to Boise from Denver. He said, as a member of the mine owners' association, being manager of a mine in Telluride, he had an interest in the prosecution of these men, as he believed from what had been said by Adams and Orchard that they were guilty of instigation of the murder of Steunenberg.

Wells said that he and the guards made arrangements to protect Adams, whom he said, had expressed fear lest he meet some member of the Western Federation of Miners.

"Why?" he was asked. "Because Adams said that if any member of that organization recognized him, he would be violently dealt with for the statement that he had made in exposing its officers."

Warden Hopkins, of the state penitentiary at Boise, was called when Mr. Wells had finished and he retold the story of Adams as to the killing of Boule and Tyler. About the only difference between the two stories was that Newt Glover, Alva Mason and Adams led Tyler out to die the morning after the night they had kept him prisoner, while Tyler said he was taken to the suit brought by Mr. Van Cleave as president of the Buck Stove and Range company of St. Louis, against President Gompers, and the federation's executive council, the Manufacturers' association comes out flatfooted with the statement that it will fight the boycott and the blacklist to the finish.

"He told me that when the man leading Boule had reached a certain spot he stopped and said: 'This is good enough for him' and shot him. He said they cased his body there and went away and left it. Whitney said that afterward Adams told him the story and said that he believed the shooting of Boule and Tyler was justified, as they had been sent into the country by some of the jump claims and had not a just fate."

In the last hour of court the confession of Adams was read to the jury. It was made to James McFarland, a Pinkerton detective, soon after Adams was arrested in February, 1904, and put in the Boise penitentiary. It was admitted by Judge Wood during McFarland's direct examination. At the time it had not been made voluntarily and that inducements and promises of leniency had prompted it.

Rapid Progress in Selecting Jury to Try Alleged Chicago Financier.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—The trial of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, on a charge of misappropriating the funds of that institution, commenced today in the United States district court before Judge E. Anderson. The indictment under which the trial is being conducted contains 16 counts. The offense charged is punishable by a term of five to ten years in prison. It is generally believed that the trial will last at least one month. The chief issue is whether Walsh used the funds of the bank to aid his own enterprises.

It is also charged that Walsh borrowed from his own bank more than the legal amount of 10 per cent of the capital stock, but the trial will not touch the latter question.

Twelve jurors were tentatively accepted yesterday by attorneys for the government when court adjourned. Eleven of them were tendered to the defense. The twelfth man will doubtless be accepted and it is thought the entire panel will be agreed upon tomorrow. A preliminary hearing on the prosecution was held today in lieu of compliance with a subpoena directing T. J. Jackson, cashier of the defunct bank, to produce in court 250 books of the bank to be used by the defendant, Judge Anderson ruled against the defendant's lawyers, having a prolonged argument and abruptly adjourned court in compliance with the subpoena.

DELAYS BETTERMENTS

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 12.—At a meeting today of the board of directors of the Central Georgia railway the resignations of Messrs. Oakleigh Thorne and J. M. Brown, directors, were accepted. Mr. Thorne is president of the Guaranty Trust company, of New York, in which institution E. H. Harriman is a director.

President Hanson, of the Central, said after the meeting: "What is needed now is an end to the agitation against railroads which has destroyed confidence in their securities. The work of improving cannot be resumed until confidence is restored and this will happen only when business rather than political considerations, shall determine on public policies with respect to corporations."

This statement by President Hanson is taken to mean that the election of new shops at Macan at a cost of about $1,000,000 will be discontinued.

New York, Nov. 12.—That there will be war between the Federation of Labor and the National Association of Manufacturers was evidenced today at the session of the Federation of Labor here. The federation has already taken the aggressive by looking to the establishment of a fund to fight the manufacturers of the country against organized labor to the detriment of the latter, it is alleged. The manufacturers combat this in a statement made today by James Van Cleave, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, in which he holds that the object of its association is to put labor unions on a basis whereby they may be held responsible for their contracts. As an instance he called attention to the pending suit in New York of the Typographical union against the pressmen, alleging the break from the contracts by the pressmen. On the issue made by Mr. Gompers today in seeking funds to fight the suit brought by Mr. Van Cleave as president of the Buck Stove and Range company of St. Louis, against President Gompers, and the federation's executive council, the Manufacturers' association comes out flatfooted with the statement that it will fight the boycott and the blacklist to the finish.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR

Washington, Nov. 12.—The thirty-first annual meeting of the general assembly of the Knights of Labor (incorporated) convened here today with forty-five delegates in attendance. Thomas A. Cannon, general secretary and treasurer, in his report called attention to the vast number of laboring men in the country who have refused to join the trades union movement on the ground that the labor question of today is not a question of wages and hours, but of control of the community not controlled by capital. He said that with each increase in wages the cost of living is increased from 25 to 30 per cent.

W. HARRIMAN REFUSED TO ANSWER

QUESTIONS COMMERCE COMMISSION'S POWERS

Acts About Which He Was Questioned Concerned Matters Beyond Jurisdiction Even of Congress, Attorneys Claim

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Nov. 12.—The reasons given by E. H. Harriman, why he should not answer certain questions put to him during an investigation by the interstate commerce commission, are set forth in a brief which has been filed by former Judge R. S. Lovett, counsel for Harriman. The proceedings brought by the commission to compel Mr. Harriman to answer the questions is to come up before Judge Hough, of the United States circuit court tomorrow. The principal point in the brief is the contention that the acts concerning which Mr. Harriman was on the stand, did not relate to interstate commerce, and were not in violation of the interstate commerce act, but were designed to compel a disclosure by him of transactions which "had taken place, neither the commission nor the congress of the United States could afford a constitutional remedy."

The brief also sets forth that Mr.
Harriman does not admit that the interstate commerce commission has any powers other than those conferred by act of congress approved February 4, 1877, and the amendments thereto.

The questions to which Mr. Harriman objected related to the purchase of stock of other railways in the interest of the Union Pacific, and to the Union Pacific dividend. In regard to the $25,000,000 of Illinois Central stock purchased at $175 a share, the questions Mr. Harriman declined to answer were as follows:

"Were the 30,000 shares sold by yourself, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Stillman purchased?"

"Was it acquired for the purpose of selling it to the Union Pacific?"

"Was the stock purchased by you at a lower price than $175, with the intention of turning it over to the Union Pacific?"

"Did you have any interest in 15,000 shares sold at the time by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. to the Union Pacific?"

"On the subject of the Union Pacific dividend which was advanced from a rate of 6 per cent to 10 per cent per annum on August 15, 1906, with a consequent increase in the price of the stock, Mr. Harriman declined to answer the following:

"Were you directly or indirectly interested in any stocks that were bought between the 1st of July and the 17th of August that appreciated?"

"Did you or any director buy any Union Pacific stock?"

"In the brief the following reasons are given why Mr. Harriman should not give the information sought by the commission:

"First, said questions did not relate to commerce with foreign nations or among the several states, or with the Indian tribes, or to any transactions in such commerce, and, however answered, would tend to show the violation of the provisions of the said act to regulate commerce or any other law of the United States or any law which congress could constitutionally enact and make operative upon any corporation created by it or deriving its franchises and powers from a state, but said questions did relate to the business and affairs of the interstate commerce, having no relation to commerce and were designed to compel a disclosure by this respondent to a purely administrative body of transactions for which he had taken no place, neither the said commission nor the congress of the United States could afford a constitutional remedy."

"The second ground is that if the act approved in 1877 be construed to give the interstate commerce commission power to inquire into the business of such companies:

"Mr. Harriman having no relation to interstate commerce, the commission is in violation of the constitution of the United States and void."

"The third contention is that to compel response to the questions asked above in a court of competent jurisdiction would deprive the respondent (Mr. Harriman) of liberty without due process of law, contrary to article of the amendments to the constitution of the United States. The fourth contention is that the questions did not relate to the business of the Union Pacific railway company, the Southern Pacific railway company, the Oregon Short Line railway company and the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, as common carriers, but to the interstate transportation of goods or persons by such companies."

"It is set forth in the fifth paragraph of the contentions why response should not be given, that the commission's inquiry at the time the questions were asked was not based on any complaint of anything done or omitted to be done by the companies named above, in contravention of the interstate commerce law."

"The sixth point raised by Judge Lovett is that if the interstate commerce act be construed as authorizing and empowering the commission, in the conduct of an inquiry or investigation without any complaint having been made to it, or any statement of charges contained in any such complaint having been presented to any such common carrier, or the respondent (Mr. Harriman) to put the said questions to this respondent and require him to answer the same, such act is in that extent in violation of the provision of article 5 of the amendments of the constitution of the United States, which provides that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

"The seventh and last declaration is that the order made by the interstate commerce commission on November 15, 1906, on the subject is so general, vague and indefinite in its terms as to fail to define any matter as being in investigation, either with respect to the Union Pacific railway company or any other persons or corporations, and the said questions were not pertinent or relevant to any inquiry alleged or claimed to have been alluded to thereby."

CONSTITUTIONAL CARRIES FAR REACHING CONSEQUENCES Counsel for both sides today were in active preparation for what promises to be a legal battle, the result of which may have an important bearing on not only the direct interests involved, but on the province and limitation of the commerce investigations in the future.

The arguments will be made by distinguished counsel before Judge Hough in the United States circuit court; the government will be represented by Henry L. Smith, Frank B.
Kilgore, of St. Paul, and S. E. Severance, while former Senator John C.
Spencer, of Wisconsin; former Judge R. S. Lovett, of the Union Pacific, and J. Nathan, of the same city, will appear for Mr. Harriman.

Mr. Harriman, at the investigation, declined to answer certain questions regarding the purchase of stocks and his sale to the Union Pacific, and in answer to the commission's petition, which has just been filed, counsel for Harriman contended that Mr. Harriman's acts in the matter did not relate to interstate commerce and therefore the commission had no right to put the questions and to demand answers. It was learned tonight that in the brief which was filed in the federal court, it was claimed that the interstate commerce commission, in making this investigation, was virtually a congressional committee of inquiry and was exercising the in-quisitorial powers of congress. It is stated in the federal brief that under section 12 of the interstate commerce act the commission has authority to inquire into the management of the business of all common carriers doing an interstate business, and under section 21 is required, on or before December 1 of each year, to make and transmit to congress its report, the report to contain such information and data collected by the commission as may be considered of value in the determination of questions connected with regulation of interstate commerce, or with such recommendations as to national legislation relating thereto as the commission may deem necessary. It further claimed that it has been held by the supreme court of the United States that full information necessary, as a basis of intelligent legislation by congress from time to time on the subject of interstate commerce, cannot be obtained, nor can the rules established for the regulation of such commerce be efficiently enforced, otherwise than through the instrumen-tality of an administrative body, consisting of the whole country, always watchful of the general interests and charged with the duty not only of obtaining the required information, but of enforcing by lawful methods the obedience to such acts. It appears in this case, the brief claims, that the Union Pacific railroad has become a great investment concern, that it has substantially outstanding in the extent of $12,000,000 which have been used for the purchase of stocks; that it is the duty of the commission to inquire into this state of affairs and to report to congress, so that it may be informed and recommend to congress whether the acquisition of stocks by railroad companies in other companies or by their officers, shall be prohibited. Furthermore, under section 26 of the interstate commerce act, it is the duty of the commission to require reports of railways showing all the details of their capital stock, the amount paid therefor, the dividends paid, the funded and floating debts, the cost and value of the carriers' property, franchises and equipment, and a complete exhibit of the financial operations of such carrier each year. Counsel in the brief declares that the commission, therefore, has a right to inquire not only into the management of the railway, but of all securities and other property purchased, from whom purchased, whether in good faith or "whether the Union Pacific railroad has been used as a speculative banking house for its officials." The commission therefore has a right to require Mr.
Harriman to disclose whether he had been dealing with his own company whether the stocks were purchased by a pool or for the purpose of selling them to the Union Pacific railway company, what they had cost him as being on the security and bearing on the recommendation which the interstate commerce commission should make to congress with a view to preventing such transactions by financially unscrupulous persons. The value of the property, its cost and the good faith of the purchase, whether it was the result of a bona fide purchase or a fraudulent transaction, is a matter which the commission has a right to investigate, whether it bears on the company shall charge, because it has a right to earn a reasonable income on the fair value of its property used in the carrying business. It is also claimed in the brief that congress has power to inquire into the investment enterprises and financial operations of a carrier engaged in interstate commerce. Under this clause of the constitution congress may create state state corporations, regulate their capital, rates of transportation, the duties of their officers, the relation of the line to the lines of other railways, provide for rates of dividends and dividing between officials and the company. It has, in fact, full power over spectators saw the snake strike the victim in the mouth as he was holding the reptile before his face and a panic ensued while physicians were hurriedly called and administered every attention possible. It is not be-

Big Preparations at Mesilla

With Albuquerque Men This Week.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.)
Las Cruces, N. M., Nov. 12.—Great preparation is being made by the athletic department of the agricultural college for the football game next Saturday between the college team and the Albuquerque team, which will be played at Mesilla park. This will be one of the best games of the season.
The El Paso high school football team defeated the agricultural college second team at Mesilla park last Saturday, scoring 12 to 0.

Las Cruces is to have a fine new hotel. Col. J. H. Hagan will build a $25,000 hotel, which will be modern and very roomy. It will be four stories high. The ground floor will be occupied by the office, bar, dining room and five store rooms; the second floor will have twenty large rooms with private bath. There will be ninety sleeping rooms.

Las Cruces is in need of a fine hotel.
The city is growing very fast and cannot meet the present demand for hotel accommodations. If the number of winter visitors is as great this year as former years, together with the people coming to the college, the home fine opportunities to buy valley land, it is a problem to know what to do with them. At present there is not a room vacant in town.

SOLOMON HELD FOR THE THEFT OF DIAMOND

CAUGHT WITH GOODS BY ALBUQUERQUE POLICE

Man Arrested Here Yesterday Will Be Taken to Los Angeles to Be Tried for Robbing a Pawn Shop.

Sam Solomon, who says he has been until recently an employee of a pawn shop in Los Angeles, was arrested by the Albuquerque police yesterday morning as he stepped from the Santa Fe's east-bound Atlantic express, and jailed on a charge of stealing two diamond rings valued at several hundred dollars. The arrest was made on telegrams to Chief McMillin from Chief of Police Edward Kern, of Los Angeles, who furnished an accurate description of Solomon, and who asked that he be held for the arrival of a Los Angeles officer.

When taken from the train Solomon at first protested his innocence, and said he was merely wasted in Los Angeles as a witness. After a short, but pointed, conversation with Chief McMillin, however, he changed his mind and told the story of the theft and handed over the two diamonds, which are being held for the arrival of the California officer.

Solomon says he was employed in a pawn shop in Los Angeles, and that seeing an opportunity to get away with two diamond rings, he decided that opportunity seldom knocked more than once in that particular way, took the rings and hiked for the Santa Fe station. His departure was discovered shortly after he had left town, as was also the theft of the rings.

Solomon is a neat looking young man, of attractive appearance, and clever manner.

BERNALILLO GETS BIG SLICE OF SCHOOL FUND

TERRITORIAL MONIES ARE APPORTIONED

Over $21,000 Divided Among Public Schools by Territorial Superintendent James E. Clark.

Bernalillo county gets $1,766.50 out of $21,223.50, territorial school fund, apportioned among the various counties Monday by Territorial School Superintendent James E. Clark. The apportionment is made on the basis of 25 cents to each person of school age, as shown by the census of 1907. The census shows 4,984 persons of school age in the present year in New Mexico. San Miguel county, which is considerably larger than Bernalillo, alone gets a larger slice of the fund, amounting to $1,908.75, the census showing 7,634 children in that county. The apportionment to the other counties is as follows: Chaves county, $598.88; Colfax county, $3,856.36; Dona Ana county, $2,930.88; Eddy county, $2,910.88; Grant county, $4,392.41; Hidalgo county, $2,908.41; Lincoln county, $1,981.41; Luna county, $1,127.28; McKinley county, $67.16; Mora county, $3,861.41; Otero county, $3,360.41; Quay county, $4,838.41; Rio Arriba county, $4,861.41; Roosevelt county, $4,829.41; Sandoval county, $4,411.41; Santa Fe county, $1,866.41; Sierra county, $1,196.41; Socorro county, $2,266.41; Taos county, $2,460.41; Torrance county, $1,116.41; Union county, $2,618.41; Valencia county, $3,934.41.

LOTS OF ROAD WORK ALONG THE RIVER

County Teams Busy From One End of County to the Other Fixing Up Highway That Carries Most Travel.

A period of very active road improvement has arrived in Bernalillo county. With the crops out of the way the people are giving more attention to the road improvement campaign instituted by the county commissioners and some very substantial betterments are being made. There is a demand for the county's team and road tools from almost every precinct along the river. Leonardo Hunick, who was recently made supervisor of precinct 12, has begun to repair the road between old town and Duranes and has already filled all the mud holes and will soon have a first-class roadway from end to end of his precinct. Work is also being done in Paredas, in San Jose, at Los Grigiosos and at Alameda. If the present industrious period can be continued through the next month, the county roads will be in better condition than ever before.

The Kidneys Need Constant Help.—Albuquerque's People Depend on Doan's Kidney Pills.

The constant strain of busy life. Wears out the kidneys, and in later years the kidneys cry for help. Old backs will ache, day in, day out. Urinary ills will add their weight of woe.

Until the kidneys have the help they need.

Aid the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Restore a perfect filtering of the blood.

Cure the kidneys when they're sick.

Albuquerque people endorse this great remedy.

T. A. Barnett, retired, living at 814 S. Broadway, Albuquerque, N. Mex., says: "For years I have been more or less troubled with kidney complaint, the ailment becoming more pronounced than ever about two years ago. Besides having pains in my back and a general weakness extending from my hips down my condition was so that my little exertion would tire me so that I would have to sit down and rest. There was also a too frequent action of the kidney secretions, disturbing my rest as often as two or three times a night. At times I had no control at all over the secretions, this being so during the day as well as at night. About a year ago I had the good fortune to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured them at the drug store. I can say that no medicine ever afforded me the benefit derived from them. They have spared me a great deal of annoyance and inconvenience and they not only give strength and tone to the kidneys but invigorate me generally."

ALBUQUERQUE — NEW MEXICO

THE MEN HIGHER UP.

A Santa Fe special yesterday morning told us that Alarid and Griego, the men recently sentenced for contempt of court because of attempted "jury fixing," had been indicted by the grand jury for perjury because they denied under oath that they had committed the offense for which they were punished. The dispatch of yesterday morning said:

Alarid and Griego, it will be remembered, were sentenced a few days ago by the court to imprisonment and fine, respectively, for the attempt at jury fixing, sworn to by a number of members of the grand jury, who testified that they had been approached by the men while indictments were pending. The defendants denied specifically all the allegations.

While justice demands that these fellows be punished for the crime they have committed, it must not be forgotten that in a much higher, broader and more imperative sense, justice and the public interest both demand that the real criminals in the case, the men "higher up," who are responsible for this crime, should be far more severely punished, because we merely make a farce of justice and law if we spend our energy in discovering and punishing the ignorant tool, and then fail to bring to bar the shrewder and more guilty rascal who used the tool.

Alarid and Griego amount to nothing. No man in the territory believes that they were using their own money or working for the promotion of their own schemes when they were trying to bribe members of the grand jury. Any man who would assert such a condition of things would be merely laughed at, because such an assumption would be too ridiculous to warrant a serious reply. They are simply a pair of poor, ignorant fools, who are fair samples of the sort that can be bought anywhere at any time to do any sort of a dirty job, and their punishment, while just and well deserved, does not give the public any guarantee against the repetition of the same corrupt acts by any other tools at any other time, but catch one of the big fellows, who hired these nonentities, and supplied them with the money they were using, and when you have put him in a striped suit you have done something toward enforcing a higher standard of morals among such people.

It is a matter of common belief that crimes of this character have been so common in different parts of the territory, and more especially at Santa Fe, and have gone on undisturbed for so many years, that the catching of even the two men referred to in this case will seem like the overturning of an established custom. The attempt of Messrs. McFar and Gordon to uncover such crimes, and which has succeeded to this extent, has created a decided sensation at the territorial capital. This is excellent work as far as it has gone, but the gentlemen who have done it must not forget that the indictment of Alarid and Griego is merely the beginning of the task which lies before them, it merely opens the door to the greater and far more important results which the people confidently expect to accomplish—and we shall freely admit that we have been most thoroughly deceived as to the character and ability of these gentlemen if they fail to "make good," notwithstanding the benevolent efforts that are being made by interested parties to have them called off, or to throw obstacles in their way. They have struck a rich lead, and all the honest people of New Mexico will say amen to the Morning Journal's prayer that they may have a fair chance to work it out.

A CHANCE FOR UNCLE JOE.
Most of the shrewd politicians in the country now begin to think that the next republican presidential nomination is going to be a free-for-all fight. Hitherto the office-holders have made so much noise, and monopolized the talking to such an extent that they have caused it to look as though the whole thing were cut and dried, and that Mr. Roosevelt's man or Mr. Roosevelt himself, would have a walk-over, but of late a good many straws, in a good many parts of the country, begin to point very distinctly to the fact that it is going to be an open arena, and the friends of Mr. Roosevelt, recognizing this fact, have gone to work in earnest in favor of the nomination of that gentleman and have been able already to do enough entirely noise. The speaker's home friends have taken hold of the matter, and they show from the start that they mean business.

These Illinois men take the ground that the field is open and that they should be up and doing. They glance at the neighboring state of Indiana and see a Fairbanks organization full of ginger; at the neighboring state of Ohio and see a Taft organization very much alive; and they hear from thoroughly reliable sources that in New York there is a Hughes boom tugging at the strings. Why remain inactive? Why not put their man into the field openly and formally, and drum for delegates?

As an exchange remarked some days ago, common sense supports their action. They have a strong candidate, and he deserves the best they can do for him. It is the day of hustle, in all things, but particularly in politics. It is just as true now as it was in pagan times that "the gods help those who help themselves." Mr. Cannon's friends would like to have him nominated, and Mr. Cannon would like to be nominated. The only question has been regarding the best means to be adopted for securing the prize. That question has now been settled, and "hustle" has been agreed upon as the means—henceforth, therefore, hustle will be the word.

With an open field and a fair fight, conditions which it is conceded the situation now presents, the aspirations of Uncle Joe stand about as good as chance to materialize as those of any of the rest of them. As a man, Mr. Cannon is attractive, and possesses the power of a rugged sincerity. His state has more votes in a national convention than either Indiana or Ohio. He is solid with his party at home. The Illinois republicans are not split into factions, nor can they be, on his account. All are for "Uncle Joe" with all their might. If his age is referred to the reply is immediate that he is the youngest man of seventy in public life, and if pulchritude is made an issue the admission that he is not handsome, may be neutralized by a reference to the fact that none of the other fellows are likely to win on their beauty.

A POINT WELL TAKEN.

We are fully in accord with the Topeka Journal that Senator Heyburn's "point of order" is well taken, and that the government should stop pouring money into New York till New York shows a willingness to divide with the rest of the country.

As a rule, says the Journal, treasury deposits in New York banks all the entire country if needed, because New York can then more easily meet the demands of outside banks to whom it owes money. But in the present instance New York had large deposits from all over the country, yet when it received $25,000,000 from Secretary Cortelyou to relieve the stringency, Wall street hung on to those deposits and the money that belonged to other banks over the country as well refusing to give out anything but checks.

The man who has money in his pocket but who won't pay his debts with it does not long command the respect of his fellows. But the man to whom some good friend loans funds with which to meet his debts and who then refuses to apply such funds on his debts, keeping them for speculation instead, is still worse.

Wall street played both these tricks on the rest of the country. It had big deposits from banks in the west and south, and it had money in its vaults, yet it refused to pay its debts with those funds. Then the government stepped in and loaned it $25,000,000 to help out, and it still refused to pay up.

Now Senator Heyburn protests against the government giving New York further aid until New York shows some inclination to pay its debts. If the government wants to make any more deposits it should make them where the money will not be hoarded as New York is hoarding it. A few millions in the south to help the cotton movement and in the northwest to help the grain movement, will do much more good than the same amount will in New York, toward relieving the needs of commerce.

The rest of the country does not desire nor need New York's money. All it wants is that which is its own, and which Wall street has and refuses to give up.

BRYAN AND JOHNSON.

A ticket constructed as above has been suggested by our democratic friends as a sign in which they may conquer, or at least, as one that may enable them to get a little closer to "vines" than they have been before in a good many years.

The democrats of the District of Columbia were making preparations to have a grand banquet for the purpose of entertaining Mr. Bryan, and the Washington Star suggested that Mr. Tom Johnson be invited as the principal speaker of the occasion. The Star is a good republican paper, as sound as a dollar, but as a newspaper it always knows what is going on within the democratic household, and when it gives our democratic brethren advice it always advises them conscientiously, and points the way which they would generally find it profitable to follow. The following article from the Star on the Johnson matter is well worthy of careful democratic consideration, and it is also significant for some other things, not all on the democratic side of the fence. We copy:

"In speaking the other day of the plans of the District democrats for entertaining Mr. Bryan at dinner, the Star suggested that Tom Johnson might be second only to the peerless will be the case if Mr. Johnson is able to attend.

"From the democratic standpoint Mr. Johnson is the hero of this year's elections. He has won more than anybody else. More than Tammany, whose triumph was over a demoralized opposition and even then by one of the smallest majorities ever thrown. More than Judge Crothers of Maryland, who won with the aid of one powerful administration at Annapolis, and another in Baltimore. More than Mr. Bryan himself, who won nothing, Kentucky and Nebraska alike heard Mr. Bryan's grand, sweet song this year unmoved.

"But Mr. Johnson has a good deal more than the majority of Cleveland for another term to show for his effort. There are dangling at his belt the scalps of Theodore Burton, Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft, and he took them all unaided. Nobody went to his assistance. It was his own good right arm which cleared the way to victory. If he is not a Big Indian, entitled to the characterization by the opposition of 'Bad Medicine,' where may one be found?

"Mr. Bryan recognizes this. We have report of but one telegram of congratulation sent by him as the result of Tuesday's poll. If he rejoices in Tammany's success he makes no sign. If he has heard of the Maryland poll Judge Crothers is not aware of it. But Mr. Johnson knows by special message that his triumph at Cleveland fills Mr. Bryan with joy, and that the peerless leader wishes him many more returns of the same.

"Let us all hope that Mr. Johnson may not be defeated by business from this District function in Mr. Bryan's honor. He and his friend will look well together at this time, and work well together in creating democratic enthusiasm for the evening. Both are above the small jealousies of politics. Each is securely fixed in the affections of a large number of democrats, and the ticket of Bryan and Johnson has more than once been suggested. It lends itself easily to a shout, and it would stand for everything, from the single tax to free trade, and from sailors' right to government ownership of all things under the shining sun, sailors included. It would be a blanket appeal, covering all interests, in the heavens above, on the earth beneath, and in the waters under the earth. It might fail at the polls, but it would create more gaiety in the nation than even our beloved country had ever before enjoyed."

WORSE THAN ONIONS.
Bad Breath From Indigestion Cannot Be Overcome With Perfumes.

All of us suffer from bad breath—sometimes our own, but oftener that of our friends.

Nine-tenths of this bad breath comes from some stomach trouble, and cannot be overcome by breath perfumes or any other palliative measures.

If you occasionally have a bad breath, if there is heart-burn, flatulence and acid gurgles of undigested food, if the stomach is bloated or smarting, if there is sleeplessness, nervousness, headaches or any other of the many symptoms of indigestion, use Mi-on stomach tablets and get well.

Mi-on is not a mere stomachic or a physic, but a tonic, remedy that strengthens the muscles of the stomach and bowels so that the flow of gastric juices is increased, and the food is digested naturally and does not stay in the stomach to ferment and poison the breath with noxious odors.

A little 50-cent box of Mi-on stomach tablets lasts for a couple of weeks, and will ward off a dozen mild attacks of indigestion. If you suffer with a chronic case of stomach trouble, the use of Mi-on for a reasonable length of time will give you an absolute and complete cure. The J. H. (Special Correspondence Morning Journal.)

Alamogordo, N. M., Nov. 11.—With a population of 4,000, a superb climate, a matchless location and surrounded with great natural resources, Alamogordo, in Otero county, on the El Paso and Southwestern railway, is one of the most attractive towns in New Mexico, both to the healthseeker and the investor. Alamogordo got a good start. The men who founded it looked a little way ahead and had the foresight to lay out the future city on a plan that adds to the city's beauty as it grows. Its location is beautiful—lying almost at the foot of the lofty timber-clad Sacramento mountains, on whose summit nestles Cloudcroft, the peerless summer resort, amid the pines and the clouds. As a usual thing the impression one gets of a town from the railroad is usually the worst possible. Alamogordo is a shining exception. The first thing that greets the eye of the tourist, wearied with endless stretches of plain, is the Alameda park, a charming and careful stretch of green a mile long and six hundred feet in width, an oasis in the desert, with green grass carpet and verdant and rippling lakelet—it is a delight to the eye. The park is one of the finest in the whole southwest. Among the attractions are the lake plentifully stocked with ducks and containing an island whereon dwells in solitary grandeur the famous chimney hearth captured in the White mountains by Judge Mann and his friends. Alamogordo is one of the few cities in the territory that has strictly or-

SCENE IN BEAUTIFUL ALAMEDA PARK, ALAMOGORDO.

$20,000 worth of property and a new dormitory is now being built at a cost of $5,000. The work is in charge of two experienced and capable teachers, Misses M. and W. Marks. A primary course and a college preparatory course have been added and commercial and music courses are to be started at once.

The Blind Institute.—Alamogordo is the site of the New Mexico Institute for the "Blind," an unique school which is doing a very important work. Superintendent S. H. Gill, who is himself blind, is one of the best men in his line, having come to New Mexico from the Blind Institute of Tennessee. The enrollment is now twenty-nine pupils. Every attention possible is given the children and many will recover their sight as the result of the careful treatment. The boys, in the manual training course, are taught to make books, cane chairs, bottoms, and wicker hammocks, and are also taught how to tone pianos. Head work is one of the many interesting pursuits which occupy the attention of the girls. The results already accomplished are really wonderful. The main building of the school, which cost the territory $20,000, measures 120 by 60 feet, with ing to be added, one at a time, as the number of patients increases. The completed plan contemplating two great rows of sanitary buildings facing a central plaza. The place may develop finally into a fraternal sanatorium, as ground will be donated free by societies wishing to erect buildings on the grounds. Already a number of fraternal orders are arranging to do so. The National Protective Legion of New York will put up a $15,000 building. George Cohn, the great actor, will erect a $10,000 building. The Knights of Pythias will also put up a building to cost about $15,000.

The situation is in a cove in the mountains, 4,500 above sea level, with a magnificent vista extending as far as 150 miles. An unlimited amount of fine mountain water is furnished free by the Townsite company. The charges will be only the actual cost of good living, $10 a week being now charged for board and room and medical attention. The aim of the project is seen in the following little extract from the articles of incorporation: "Under the charter of the sanatorium, no profit or dividend can or will be paid to any stockholder, making the movement purely humanitarian and co-operative."

There is little question but what the sanatorium will become one of the largest in the world.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE AGRICULTURAL RESOURCES

A neat little folder, issued by the Business Men's club, has the following interesting statistics regarding the agricultural possibilities of this section.

This valley land is as productive as any in the country and produces the very finest fruit, grapes, melons, berries, and garden vegetables, and also grows to perfection alfalfa, corn, milo, maize, sorghum, field corn, wheat, oats, barley, flax, buckwheat and millet, also sugar beets and stock feed potatoes, etc.

Alfalfa is one of the most profitable and never-failing crops, producing five tons each year and yielding at least 100 net per acre per year.

Apples, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, quinces, cherries, figs, grapes, etc., bear wonderful crops and find an immediate market at top prices.

The demand for garden vegetables is in excess of the supply.

The ranches and farms in the mountains are just as productive as the valley, the only difference being that no irrigation is required in the mountains and the growing season is shorter, but the soil and climate of the mountains is preferred by some.

Alamogordo Notes.

James Baird, one of New Mexico's wealthy cattlemen who spent some years in El Paso, has returned to Alamogordo. His many friends in the territory will be glad to learn that he has decided to make his permanent residence in New Mexico.

The El Paso and Southwestern railway has a fine railroad hospital here, in charge of Dr. Bryan, one of the best surgeons in the southwest.

The Alamogordo hotel, conducted by P. W. Vanost, is doing a good business these days. Mrs. Weigle runs a first class rooming house at the corner of New York and Ninth streets. The Massey hotel, refurbished and refitted throughout, has just been opened to the trade. It offers comfortable rooms and good board at very reasonable rates. Among the five business firms here is the Adams Real Estate, Loan and Insurance company.

The development of the aluminum deposits of the upper Gila river in New Mexico will open a new field of mining industry. Eastern capitalists are operating to develop the deposits which are said to be practically inexhaustible.

Mr. Edmon, who is manager of the Alamogordo Townsite company, made a strong effort to have the projected sanatorium of the Associated Fraternities established at Las Vegas. When that fell through on account of lack of money Mr. Edmon was not discouraged, and the establishment of the sanatorium here is a monument to his perseverance and ability. The townsite company gave the sanatorium 400 acres of land, beautifully situated about five miles north from the city. Already two substantial buildings have been erected, the Administration building and a large dining hall. Forty-five thousand dollars has already been expended and a number of patients are already here, with new ones arriving steadily. Other build-

MESILLA VALLEY TO HELP WITH THE CONGRESS

Fertile Garden Spot of Southern
New Mexico Anxious to Show Irrigationists Possibilities of That Section.

Las Cruces, N. M., Nov. 12.—Now that the Mesilla valley is blessed with an assurance of plenty of water for irrigating purposes by reason of the practically completed Leasburg diversion dam and canal, and with reasonable assurance of available funds to begin work on the big Elephant Butte reservoir, the Mesilla valley is particularly anxious that the next meeting of the National Irrigation Congress, which is to be held at Albuquerque next fall, shall be a grand success. That New Mexico, and particularly Albuquerque, secured the next meeting of the congress is of especial interest to the Mesilla valley. This will afford the valley a great opportunity to get before the irrigation experts of the whole country.

The Mesilla valley will help out in entertaining the visitors to New Mexico. All of the delegates and visitors will be much interested in the Elephant Butte project and it will be up to the people of the Mesilla valley and members of the Elephant Butte Water Users' association to get a special train at Albuquerque and show to the visitors from all parts of the world, the advantages of this rich garden spot.

H. B. Hall, president of the Elephant Butte Water Users' association, said: "We, of the Mesilla valley, are very fortunate in landing the next meeting of the National Irrigation congress at Albuquerque. I was a delegate to the meeting at Sacramento, California, this fall and we were royally entertained. Sacramento spent $75,000 in entertaining the visiting delegation. Albuquerque is a much smaller place than Sacramento and will not be able to spend so much, but the congress is to the interest of all of New Mexico and the whole territory should assist in helping out with the entertainment."

"The Mesilla valley should, and will, do her share. It will be a great opportunity for us to help our own valley, but to help Albuquerque. It will be necessary to spend at least $25,000 and we should contribute liberally."

"The people who attend the congress are all interested in irrigation in parts of the United States. The representation service at Washington will be fully represented. Much of the farming lands of New Mexico are irrigated lands. Everyone who will attend the congress has heard of the Elephant Butte project."

Cured of Bright's Disease.
Mr. Robert H. Hays, of New York, writes: "I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all hoarse with dry throat and my eyesight was so impaired, I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50-cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the drowsiness had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease." J. H. O'Reilly Co.

GO TO BELEN

The Future Railroad Center of New Mexico

Located on the Belen Cut-off of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway. The new City of Belen is thirty-one miles south of Albuquerque, N. M.; is at the junction of the main line of the Santa Fe system—leading East and West from Galveston and Chicago to San Francisco and Los Angeles, from the Northern states to El Paso, Texas, and the Republic of Mexico.

The Belen Town and Improvement Company

(Incorporated)

Are the owners of the Belen Townsite, consisting of 1000 business and residence lots, size 25x142 feet, fronting upon eighty and ninety-foot streets and avenues, right in the business center of the new city and directly upon the Santa Fe Railway depot grounds. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company is now grading its extensive depot grounds and yard limits 800 feet wide and a mile long (capacity of seventy miles of side track) to accommodate its immense passenger and freight traffic. Heavy eating house, roundhouse, coal chutes, water tanks, machine shops, etc.

THE CITY OF BELEN

Has a population of 1500, and several large Mercantile Houses, the Belen Patent Roller Mills with its 150 barrels a day capacity, winery, etc. It is the largest shipping point for Flour, Wool, Wheat, Wine, Beans, Hay and Fruit in New Mexico. From its location upon the great trunk line leading north, south, east and west, to all points in the United States and Mexico its future growth as a commercial point can not be estimated. All fast limited, mail, express and freight trains will pass through Belen to Chicago, Kansas City, Galveston and the Pacific Coast. The water is good and the climate unsurpassed. Belen has a $16,000 public school house, two churches, a Commercial Club, three hotels, restaurants, etc. It needs right now a good up-to-date newspaper and a good hotel. The lots offered are low in prices and the terms are easy. One-third of purchase money cash, two-thirds may remain on note and mortgage for one year with interest at 8 per cent per annum. Title perfect and warranty deeds given. Come early if you wish to secure the choice lots. For further particulars and prices of lots call in person or write to served the Sunday law for the last four years. It has demonstrated that for Alamogordo at least the Sunday law is a good thing. The city has only one saloon and a clubhouse and these are well regulated. Alamogordo is the future model college town and the Colorado Springs of New Mexico.

The Alamogordo Improvement company owns a good deal of the townsite yet and is doing much for the town. The company furnishes water free for some forty miles of tree-bordered ditches. The Townsite company has spent $500,000 on the townsite. About $200,000 of this was spent on the water plant. The water for the irrigating ditches comes from one mountain canyon and the drinking water from another. The city water is furnished at a very low rate. It is of the pure sparkling mountain variety and is impounded in two large reservoirs three and a half miles above the city, the capacity of the reservoirs being about three million gallons. The pressure in the city is 116 pounds to the square inch. The water is brought from the reservoirs in a four-mile pipe. The reservoirs are in a four-foot-inch pipe. The reservoirs are of cement. The reservoirs are cleaned out once a month. They are also carefully fenced in and altogether the water system is about as perfect as one can be found in the west.

The overflow city water runs off in a large canal and is sold to ranchmen for irrigation. Besides that now in use there is enough more water available to irrigate 20,000 acres of land. The city water system is operated by gravity altogether.

ALAMOGORDO AS AN EDUCATIONAL CENTER

Alamogordo is already much of an educational center and is growing more so. The Baptist college here has Much credit should be given R. H. Pierce, who has given liberally of both his time and his money to make the institute a success. Mr. Gill is ably assisted by Mary E. Keebler, Louise Butler, matron, and Miss G. Brooks, secretary. The conduct of the institute is creditable, both to the management and the trustees. Dr. George C. Bryan, president of the board of directors, has ably seconded Secretary Pierce in the work.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB

The Alamogordo Business Men's club, composed of the pick of the city's boosters, has done and is doing much to build up the city. A fine club room has been furnished and John R. De Mier, as representative, is doing splendid work for the organization. The president is Dr. Gilbert J. D. Clements, secretary, and George J. Wolfinger, treasurer. With such strong and successful men in charge there is no wonder that the club is accomplishing great results in advertising and forwarding the interests of Alamogordo.

There was a wreck on the Dawson branch last Tuesday afternoon, 22 miles out of Tucuman, resulting in the death of three men and a dead engine, all of which went into the ditch. Nobody was injured, but traffic was delayed for twenty-four hours. The Hollingsworth train, which was behind the wreck, causing them the necessity of re-dating engagements.

Special Officer Chas. S. Patterson, of the Santa Fe, arrested Daniel McCarthy and Richard Clark, two hobo who claimed to be from Brooklyn, New York, Monday. The men were caught breaking into a box-car in the Williams yards and were promptly arrested. They had a bearing Monday before Judge Langin and were bound over to the grand jury. In default of bond they were taken to Flagstaff and lodged in jail to await action of the grand jury.

Not Many Sales Are Uninfluenced By Store Advertising!

The store sales today that are uninfluenced, directly or indirectly, by store advertising will not have amounted to ten per cent of the total business of the day. By the direct influence of advertising is meant the sales of articles specifically advertised. By the indirect influence of advertising is meant the articles sold that are not specifically advertised, but are displayed in the store window who are drawn to the store BY THE ADVERTISED ARTICLES in the Albuquerque Morning Journal. In the latter case, as surely as in the first, the advertising must be credited with the sale.

Observant merchants know that this is true. They should gain courage from the knowledge to strengthen their advertising campaigns to the point of matching their store-hopes and plans.
