Havana Growing in Population.
Havana, Nov. 16.—It was announced tonight that the recent census taken in this city shows that Havana has a population of 299,578, being an increase of 46,880 over the census of '09.

BOARDS SOLE CASE OF CRISIS

SECRETARY CORTELYOU
POINTS OUT REMEDY

Restore Money to Channels of Trade and Complete Resumption of Business Will Follow in 24 Hours.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
New York, Nov. 16.—"I believe," said Secretary Cortelyou to the Associated Press, "that if the money of the country were restored to the channels of trade, the situation would be within twenty-four hours an almost complete resumption of business operations." It is upon the situation thus adverted to that attention has been focused in the financial world during all of the past week.

The solution of the difficulty was the subject of constant and somewhat differing discussion but the differences did not check the diligent and powerful efforts to remedy the difficulty and the declining tendency of the premium on currency increasingly indicated that in reality, a discount on bank checks, caused by the dilution of exchange operations growing out of the widening of the shock, or the upset in banking affairs following the runs on trust companies in New York.

It is actually observed, however, that the payments for the currency and for the premiums in these transactions have been in certified checks on banks and that the proceeds of the transactions have found their way into bank deposits, notwithstanding that the holding of the currency was supposed to involve a distrust of the banks. It is this it is inferred that the conditions were precipitated in no small part by the deliberate hoarding of money on a large scale by speculators who sought to profit in the operation. Several advertisements on such a course of conduct have been heard. It is estimated, however, that the effect of the holding of currency has already been to draw out from hoarding a very large proportion of the cash which was withdrawn from the New York trust companies during the runs and restore it to the channels of banking operations.

Another factor in the depletion of currency which has received growing attention has been the movement of money into interior banks where it has apparently disappeared in large part as completely from the channels of the circulation as the sums previously hoarded in New York. The condition of the interior exchanges in New York reveals this fact. Deposits of interior banks in the New York banks have been drawn to such an extent that exchange on New York is almost unobtainable at many important outside centers. Remittances to New York in payment of obligations are correspondingly difficult and are made, in many instances, by checks on interior banks. When these are deposited in New York they are accepted only subject to collection and this involves a delay to await receipt of cash as deposits in New York are inadequate to meet them. Criticism is heard that the condition is due to heavy accumulations of cash in the reserves of interior banks which were prompted as a precautionary measure against the decided shock of the original disturbance, but which, it is urged have been excessive.

It is notable that the seeming famine of currency exists in the face of an annual volume of money in circulation available for circulation, larger than ever before. The monthly statement of the treasury showed an amount of all kinds of money in circulation on November 1 to be $1,876,865,000, which was an increase compared with October 1 of more than $150,000,000, represented largely by the deposits of government funds which were made with the banks after the crisis developed in October. Since that time runs on about $100,000,000 of gold and a rapid expansion of bank notes has literally replenished the November 1 supply. With the stream of incoming gold running still at full tide early relief is looked for from the present condition, notwithstanding the first evidence of distinct relief which is expected that all barriers will quickly fall which are at present withholding cash from the channels of activity and the return of the gold will come with a rush. The time when this will happen is being gauged by the state of mind of the whole people rather than on events in the material world. The happy and prompt results to follow from the attainment of this state of mind which are so conspicuously depicted by the words of Secretary Cortelyou are so obvious that hope is strong that it will come at an early hour and release the country from the worst of its present embarrassment, arrest the harm that is being done and leave the way open for immediate recovery.

DYING RUSSIAN IS MARRIED ON DEATHBED

Berne, Nov. 16.—A pathetic marriage took place on Thursday in a suburb of Berne.
Stephane Lerczinsky, a Pole, who was dying, was carried out to his deathbed, where he was married to his sweetheart, Irene Doyevod, of the same nationality.
Lerczinsky readily responded to the usual questions, and his young bride was most of the time in tears. After the ceremony the bridegroom was carried back to his bed. He died yesterday.

It appears that Lerczinsky had escaped from a Russian prison where he had been confined for his political activities. His treatment in prison had undermined his health, and recently, on being informed that there was no hope of recovery, he persuaded his sweetheart to marry him.

EFFORT TO ESTABLISH ALIBI FOR STEVE ADAMS

Rethelium, Idaho, Nov. 16.—The defense in the Steve Adams case in the district court continued its efforts today to prove, as added for Steve Adams by the testimony of Orville Adams and Floyd Mason, sons of Alvin Adams, Orville went over the occurrence of July and August, 1904, with some few discrepancies from the story as told by his father yesterday. He said Adams, or Dixon, came alone to this father's place the latter part of August. He came from the direction of Marble Creek. Witness said he never saw Adams after that until the trial in Wallace last spring. Floyd Mason's testimony was practically the same as Orville's.

INSOLVENT BANK MAY PAY DEPOSITORS IN FULL

Officers of California Trust Company Turn Over Property for Benefit of Creditors.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—According to a statement made tonight the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, which suspended two weeks ago, has deposited $2,951,000, David F. Walker, president, J. D. Duffell, Brown, general manager, and other officers of the institution, it was stated today transferred their homes and other property to the value of $425,000, to the Metropolitan Securities company, to be converted into cash for the benefit of the depositors. When the stockholders pay the 120 a share that they have been asked to contribute, and the treasury stock has been subscribed for, the assets of the bank are given at $13,593,000, or $14.47 for every $1 deposited.

T. ROOSEVELT AND PROHIBITION

Senator Alee Will Appeal to People of Delaware on Unique Platform.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Dover, Del., Nov. 16.—Former United States Senator J. Frank Alee on his return to his home here from Washington declared that he intended to be a candidate for delegate to the next republican national convention, and if successful would vote for the nomination of President Roosevelt. He said:

"I am going before the republican party of my country and will seek the co-operation of the people for the following line of action:
"That I and three others of their choice be elected as delegates to the republican national convention to vote for and insist upon the nomination of Roosevelt for president of the United States and to insist and vote for a prohibition plank in the platform of the republican national convention."

BANDITS TORN TO PIECES BY FRENZIED VICTIMS

Turkistan Pays for Awful Revenge on Men Who Raided Villages.

Moscow, Nov. 16.—The Turkistan press gives an amazing picture of the barbarism of the local police officials. For months past open war has gone on between the police and the native population and a brilliant Abdul Haidi, Abukadir, defied the police with success. At last the natives organized their own expedition and surprised and burnt out the bandits' hideout. Two bandits, killed. The police came up to witness the surrender of the remainder, and the bandits, while the prisoners were being lynched.

Two prisoners were torn to pieces by a mob of men and women. The police made no attempt to rescue them, and when a third prisoner attempted to escape, they recaptured him and handed him over to the mob, who threw him into the burning building. The bodies of the dismembered bodies of the lynched men.

DEMOCRATS DOMINATE PANEL FOR POWERS TRIAL

Defense Declares Intention of Challenging Entire Venue.

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 16.—The entire morning in the Powers trial was consumed in examining of talesmen, when the first installment of a speed trial was held. Harrison county had been exhausted out of its mind, and its political complexion is a mix of democracy and republicanism. Walter S. Bensch, an admitted socialist, was admitted to the court today by requesting to be excused, saying that political prejudice was so strong that he could not give the defendant an impartial trial. He was excused.

The defense announced that it would challenge the entire venue of two hundred alleged discrimination in selecting. The court adjourned until Monday.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP TURNED DOWN

American Federation Fears
Federal Control of Mines and Railroads Might Be a Deathblow to Organized Labor.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—The American Federation of Labor by a vote of 14 to 1 today refused to endorse itself as favoring government ownership of railroads and mines. The question came up on a resolution to include railroads and mines in the action taken at Minneapolis last year favoring "nationalization" of telegraph and telephone properties.

The opponents took the grounds that government ownership of mines and railroads would prevent all such a matter how peacefully they might be conducted and that with a federal government supposed to take it might prove a death blow.

PRINCETON USES FASTEST GAME OF SEASON

THIRTY-TWO THOUSAND
CHEER YALE TRIUMPH

Hardest Fought Gridiron Battle
This Year Ends in Score of 12 to 10; Football on Many Fields.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
New Haven, Conn., Nov. 16.—The Yale Bulldogs won over the Princeton Tigers on the football field this afternoon with a score of 12 to 10.

Thirty-four thousand football enthusiasts fanned the hardest fought football game of the season, the result being in doubt until the referee's whistle blew the end of the game. The first time since 1903 the Orange and Black crossed the goal lines of the Blue, and, aided by the toe of Harlow, added the score of the field goal to her touchdown and goal. It was 10 to 0 against Yale at one stage of the game, but Yale's grit came to her rescue and good generalship found holes in the weakest Princeton fighting in the second half. Through these holes her men bored, and Coy was driven over the line with a force that trumped the Princeton line. Twice this year Princeton's defense has kicked the sorely needed goals.

With the margin of two points to the good, Quarterback Jones uncovered the Yale line, made a fake kick, a formation for goal from placement and a deceptive line-up for a fake forward pass, which meant a run either by Coy or Jones or the real action half-back, who intercepted a Harvard on-side kick nearly in the middle of the field and ran through the outstretched hands of six Harvard players to the goal line. Captain Glaze kicked all three goals. From touchdowns and supplemented his work by a pretty goal from placement from the 25-yard line.

The third touchdown was made on a brilliant play by Ingersoll, the speedy Harvard half-back, who intercepted a Harvard on-side kick nearly in the middle of the field and ran through the outstretched hands of six Harvard players to the goal line. Captain Glaze kicked all three goals. From touchdowns and supplemented his work by a pretty goal from placement from the 25-yard line.

Miners Defeat Colorado College.
Denver, Nov. 16.—Before a crowd numbering 10,000 people the State Normal School of Mines football team defeated Colorado college for the football championship of the state by a score of 15 to 0. The Miners kept the ball in their opponents' territory throughout almost the entire game.

The first half resulted in a score of 9 to 0, in favor of the Golden men, a goal from the field and a touchdown from which an attempt at goal failed. The second half started with a goal by the Miners, who succeeded in scoring a touchdown and goal, making the total score 15 to 0.

St. Louis 17, Kansas 9.
St. Louis, Nov. 16.—St. Louis University defeated Kansas University 17 to 9 in a strongly contested game. The victory was due to work on the St. Louis backs. Kansas was able to halt the St. Louis line effectively time after time, but was unable to score. Captain Rose of St. Louis was badly injured in a scrimmage in the first half and was taken to the hospital.

Krebs and McLean
WIN SIX-DAY RACE
Only Few Feet Separate Winner and Second in Race; 1,417 Miles
Top Score.

Boston, Nov. 16.—Floyd Krebs, the partner of Hugh McLean, carried his team to victory in the six day bicycle race at the Park square rink tonight, winning in the final sprint from Root, Fogler and Mitten, the representatives of the three other leading teams. Krebs' victory was sensational in that he apparently saved himself through the long grind of the contest and in the last two laps of the final when he had started to sprint Krebs pushed his wheel to the front and outsped the finish line the victor with apparent ease. Fogler, on the Moran and Fogler team, was a fairly good second, being only half a wheel behind the leader, while Root was given third place, although he finished apparently almost even with Mitten, who takes fourth place. The total distance run by the leaders was 1,417 miles and one lap. Four other teams represented by Downing, Sherwood, Anderson and Holtbrook, who occupied second place in the riding during the night, being one lap behind the leaders. Finished in the order named, and will share the money. The Connelly and Wages team was ninth, and the Harts-Hill team last to finish.

Words of Praise

For the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, as given by leaders in all the several schools of medicine, should have far more weight than an amount of non-professional testimonials. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has the badge of honesty on every bottle-wrapper, in a full list of all its ingredients printed in plain English.

If you are an invalid woman and suffer from frequent headache, backache, nervous distress, in stomach, periodical discharges, catarrh, pelvic drain, dragging down distress in lower abdomen or pelvis, perhaps dark spots or specks dancing before the eyes, faint spells and kindred symptoms caused by female weakness, or the derangement of the feminine organs, you can not do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The hospital, surgeon's knife and operating table may be avoided by the timely use of "Favorite Prescription" in such cases. Thereby the obnoxious examinations and treatment of the family physician can be avoided and a certain cause of successful treatment carried out in the privacy of the home. "Favorite Prescription" is composed of the very best native medicinal roots known to medical science for the cure of women's peculiar ailments, contains no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs.

Do not expect too much from "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; it will not dissolve or cure tumors. No medicine will. It will do as much to establish vigorous health in most weak and ailments peculiarly incident to women as any medicine can. It must be given for a reasonable length of time. You cannot expect too much from it as a substitute for this remedy of proven composition.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is graded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. J. C. Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic. Easy to take as candy.

And the second on the 25-yard line. The third touchdown was made on a brilliant play by Ingersoll, the speedy Harvard half-back, who intercepted a Harvard on-side kick nearly in the middle of the field and ran through the outstretched hands of six Harvard players to the goal line. Hollenbach outpunted Hammond throughout the game and Schell also played with brilliancy. For Michigan the work of Schell, the giant center, was the one of the features. He outplayed Dwyer and broke through repeatedly, making a number of brilliant tackles.

Boston, Nov. 16.—Floyd Krebs, the partner of Hugh McLean, carried his team to victory in the six day bicycle race at the Park square rink tonight, winning in the final sprint from Root, Fogler and Mitten, the representatives of the three other leading teams. Krebs' victory was sensational in that he apparently saved himself through the long grind of the contest and in the last two laps of the final when he had started to sprint Krebs pushed his wheel to the front and outsped the finish line the victor with apparent ease. Fogler, on the Moran and Fogler team, was a fairly good second, being only half a wheel behind the leader, while Root was given third place, although he finished apparently almost even with Mitten, who takes fourth place. The total distance run by the leaders was 1,417 miles and one lap. Four other teams represented by Downing, Sherwood, Anderson and Holtbrook, who occupied second place in the riding during the night, being one lap behind the leaders. Finished in the order named, and will share the money. The Connelly and Wages team was ninth, and the Harts-Hill team last to finish.

FEAR KAISER'S HEALTH IS FAILING

FAMOUS THROAT DOCTOR
SUMMONED TO PALACE

Official Assurances That No
Cause for Alarm Exists Not Entirely Satisfactory to the German Populace.

(By Walter Dunkirk.)

Berlin, Nov. 16.—The fact that the kaiser has decided to spend "some weeks" in the island of Wight, at a time when his presence at home is of great importance in view of the coming opening of the reichstag, has created considerable anxiety here, as it is feared that the health of the emperor is not at all as satisfactory as the official press makes it appear to be.

Since the Harden trial Emperor William has been seen in public but very little, and those who have seen him agree that he looks pallid and careworn and that he frequently carries his hand to his throat, as he did before he was forced to submit to an operation for the removal of a growth which threatened to deprive him of his voice.

Even the kaiser's own physicians admit that their patient's throat is affected, but declare that it is nothing more than a slight catarrh. People here refuse to believe that, and as the climate of England is anything but favorable to persons suffering with catarrh, it is said that the kaiser goes to England because he refused to postpone his trip, and that his "few weeks" on the island of Wight are a fore-runner of a longer sojourn on the island of Corfu or a Mediterranean cruise.

The fact that the famous specialist in throat diseases, Professor Frankel, of the University of Berlin, was hurriedly called to the imperial palace about a week ago, is cited to show that everything is not as well with the kaiser as might be wished.

The German press in general is very unfavorable in its comments upon the recent financial panic in the United States, and declares that the worst is yet to come.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that a currency reform taking away from the national bank the power to issue paper money and vesting that power in the government alone, is the only way out of the difficulty and there are even those who predict a revolution unless this is done.

The papers described the "American bank quagmire," and sharply condemn the reckless speculation of American financiers.

It is to be the same old story when the reichstag opens—new objects of taxation must be found and enormous amounts must be raised as the expenses of the government have greatly increased, and the new taxes imposed by the last reichstag have failed to produce the expected revenue. This is especially true of the tax on railroad tickets which has proved a great disappointment. The railroad budget alone shows a deficit of more than forty million marks.

It is almost certain that a heavy tax will be put upon alcohol and cigars. It is even considered to make the production of alcohol a government monopoly which would give increase of government revenues of at least seventy-five million marks a year.

Although the supreme court of the German empire has decided that no American dentist is to be allowed to practice his profession in Germany unless he has passed the regular German examination, the dentist attending a German dental college for two years, the kaiser has taken no steps to change his dentist, whose position for years has been filled by an American, who does not fulfill the conditions imposed by the court. Curiously enough, the American dentist was called to the kaiser and spent more than an hour chatting with him on the very day the decision had been rendered.

A rumor comes from St. Petersburg that a party of revolutionaries at court are trying to bring about a war with Turkey. In the hope that victories abroad might put an end to the unrest at home and make the present regime popular.

Whether this rumor be true or not, it is a fact that there is considerable friction between the czar's ambassador at Constantinople and the Turkish government.

For weeks the Russian ambassador, Sinowjen, has made certain proposals concerning the Persian question to the Turkish grand vizier, but no attention has been paid to them, the rather undiplomatic reply given him the other day, that Turkey was better informed as to what is going on in Persia than is Russia.

The czar seems to think that the friction is due to a less important cause, but the will of the "autocrat" does not carry much weight in Russia nowadays.

While on their way to exile between Tobolsk and Tiumen in Siberia, twenty-two convicts were last month slaughtered by their guards, and the massacre have only just reached St. Petersburg.

The convicts, led by a man named Neu, plotted to attack their guards by night at a village named Kostyabiki, shoot them with the captured rifles, and flee into the forest.

On the night of the attack half the soldiers were drunk. Only one was left to guard the door of the prison, where the convicts were supposed to be asleep. Neu knocked him insensible with the chains on his wrists. His twelve followers raised the soldiers' room, released four officers and began a fusillade. Six soldiers were wounded. Those who remained whole returned the convicts' fire, killing three. The convicts were about to flee when one of the drunken soldiers came sufficiently to his senses to lock the yard gate.

The surviving attackers were immediately slain. The soldiers beat and bayoneted them to death, and striven to kill their own sergeant who tried to dissuade them.

The convicts who were not in the plot had remained quiet in their room. Hearing the shooting, eleven took to their heels and got away safely. The remaining nine, too exhausted to flee, remained passive. The infuriated soldiers, having disposed of the attackers, burst into the room and massacred eight.

The last victim, a boy of thirteen, went on his knees and prayed for mercy, but the soldiers, after promising to spare him, dragged him through the blood of his comrades to the upper story of the house, and threw him headlong on a spiked fence.

When the massacre was finished, the soldiers carefully examined the twenty-two bodies, and ran their bayonets through all which showed signs of life. Of the eleven fugitives not one has been recaptured.

A group of members of these new duomo have undertaken to bring in a bill providing for secular inspection of all Russian monasteries and convents.

This is the result of a whole series of monastery scandals which would have made the monks of Boccaccio blush. Apart from universal drunkenness and immorality, there have been recently numerous instances of robbery and even murder by the ascetics of the Orthodox church.

In order to gain means for their loose lives, a number of monks of the Trinity monastery near Moscow plundered the adjacent villages, and even stole hens and sheep, which they sold to the superior. The moment the signal for bedtime came, the monks donned peasant garb, and raided the villages. Where they did not steal they drank and misconducted themselves.

A similar state of affairs exists in the Alexander-Nevsky monastery in St. Petersburg. The monks, who spend the day in prayer, steal out of the monastery at evening and spend the night in outrageous orgies, violating both the criminal laws and the moral code.

The monastery council has actually had to issue an order in regard to locking of doors, and to appoint sentries to patrol the corridors, and prevent the monks leaving their cells.

During the past year there have been nearly twenty cases of murder in monasteries. In three cases the monks murdered women in their cells; the other murders were inspired by jealousy or cupidity. In Soudal monastery a monk, arrested for murdering a woman, was found to have accumulated 7,000 roubles by petty thefts.

The high monastery authorities are usually no better than the monks and lay brethren, and of Irish manufacture, the east Russian religious houses, the superior was the chief criminal. This holy man's vicious tastes developed finally into criminal mania, and he pursued a career of debauchery and crime successfully for seven years. Not until he had murdered four young girls was he found out.

Russian monks do not work, but live entirely at the cost of the peasants, whom they give no help to, even in sickness. Even the most superstitious murkik looks on them with contempt as parasites.

The superior of the rich Sergeys monastery on the gulf of Finland is a noted offender. For years past he and his chief assistants have systematically annoyed lady bathers, and even assaulted them. A year ago the St. Petersburg "Slovo" exposed their misdeeds, but the synd took no action, nor was the newspaper prosecuted for libel. Even men fear to pass the monastery after dark lest they should be assaulted and robbed.

INDIAN COWBOY'S SISTER'S SLAYER BEHIND BARS

Pretty Little Maiden Shot in Cold Blood by Husband
Whose Cruelty Drove Her Away.

A Prescott dispatch says: Finding the slayer of his sister safely behind prison bars in the Yavapai county jail at Prescott, Jim Whitehead, the well known Indian cowboy, returned to this city yesterday satisfied to let the law take its course.

The tragedy occurred at Clear Creek, in the Verde valley, about a month ago, and was the result of a quarrel in which Whitehead started out to run to earth the man who, in cold blood, had murdered his sister. When he reached the eastern portion of the territory and had run the trail for a week or ten days, Whitehead learned that cowboys and Indians had captured the man and turned him over to the Yavapai authorities.

Two years ago Edna Whitehead, a pretty little Indian maiden, went to live with Diaz Diaz, whose English name is Robert Dash. For a few months their domestic life was tranquil, but during the past year Diaz became abusive and a few days before Edna was murdered she abandoned him. This so incensed the Indian that he secured a rifle and going to the locality where his wife was living watched his chance and shot her. He then escaped to the hills. Cowboys and Indians took up the chase and after a week's hunt succeeded in capturing the Indian without further trouble.

Dia, or Dash, is well educated, having attended school at San Carlos for a year and later spent two years at a school in Genoa, Neb. He is well known in Globe.

Automobile on Fire.

At the Gila farm, in Grant county, last Friday night an automobile belonging to the Magellan Motor Road company caught on fire. The hour was late and while the chauffeur was filling the tanks with gasoline in some manner it caught fire and in an instant it was ablaze. By dint of great energy the fire was put out, as was supposed, but after every one had retired at the Gila farm it again blazed out fiercer than ever. Mrs. Lyons discovered the second blaze. This blaze gained considerable headway, but was controlled after it had destroyed the wood work of the auto. The machinery was uninjured and repairs will soon place the machine in commission again for active service on this popular route. The mails and express were uninjured. The auto was fully insured.

TELL SOME DAYS WHEN HARRY KUCHENDORFER FINDS MANY CHANGES

Man Who Has Made His Stake
in South America Visits Old Stamping Ground and Old Friends.

"I understand that you close up here and go to sleep Sunday," said Harry Kuchendorfer, of Bogota, Colombia, South America, yesterday afternoon, as he took a look up and down the wet vista of Central avenue. "It was not like that in the old days, and somehow I don't feel at home here, although this town ought to be home to me."

The speaker was a resident of Albuquerque twenty years ago, when he was a conductor on the Atlantic and Pacific railroad. He left here during the exciting period of the local Atlantic and Pacific strike and since that time he has lived in almost every country in South America, being now engaged in business in the capital of the always excited republic of Colombia.

"South America," said Mr. Kuchendorfer, "offers some very wonderful opportunities for the man who knows how to take advantage of them. I never advise people to go there any more, however. Once I advised two of my friends to go to South America. They both died from the fever within a year, and I've quit giving advice. My own health, however, has been wonderful. The country seems to have agreed with me. I am going to an average weight of 180 pounds up to 200 and over, and have remained at that weight for years. Several of the South American countries are now coming forward very rapidly and will continue to do so. The resources are practically undeveloped and several of them cannot be called discovered countries as yet, and not more than half of the continent has been thoroughly explored. American capital, however, is coming in in bunches and as in always the case, results are following. I am going back to Colombia in a short time, expecting to sail from New York about the 15th of December. This is just a visit to old scenes and old friends."

There has been a very wonderful change in Albuquerque in the four years since my last visit here. When I first came here what is now Central avenue was a cow path and you had to hunt to find it. I came into Santa Fe from Colorado on the first train through, thence to Albuquerque. There are few of the old comrades left. I find Conductor Frost still on the line. He used to be in a grocery store years ago and we thought it the coldest combination on earth. Frost always said that Winter from him out, Albuquerque has grown from a whistling post into a life-size city and the prosperity I see here is pleasing. But I can't see Albuquerque as it used to be. I guess they would better now in every way, but the turquoise tone is gone and New Mexico has come down to the prosperous, solid, everyday life of the rest of the country. The old days were a little too high for a steady diet and a lifetime of it wouldn't do, but I guess there are lots of men who would like to see a few more days like those in this country in the years between the time the railroad came and '93."

NEW CONROY STORE ONE OF THE FINEST IN THE CITY

Elegant, New Delicatessen Establishment Expands to Meet Phenomenal Growth of Trade in the Highlands.

Mr. Charles Conroy's new grocery store on South Arco street, in the Highlands, just opened for business on the site of the old store, one of the most attractive and handsome stores of any kind in the city. Mr. Conroy has been in business in the Highlands grocery for some time. He has seen his store grow from a modest to very large dimensions. In fact it grew so fast that the old quarters were nowhere near large enough to accommodate the expansion, and it was up to the proprietor to expand the place of business to keep in the scales. The result is a beautiful modern store building, novel and attractive in architecture, without and finely finished and convenient within.

The store building, of pressed brick, and measures fifty by fifty feet. The front on Arco street line, large arched plate glass windows, among the largest in the city, and the measuring twelve feet. The display facilities inside are excellent, with new and modern portable racks to accommodate the attractive line of goods visible inside. The floor is of hard wood and the interior woodwork is very handsome. The ceiling is fifteen feet high and many big windows make the interior both airy and well lighted. The counters, shelves and other accessories are of the finest maple.

One of the best of the display paraphernalia is a large portable rack in the center of the store, higher than one's head and splendidly adapted to display purposes. Underneath there is a basement 25 by 50 feet, which affords fine storage facilities.

roy believes in always keeping just a little ahead of the demand, even though it does keep him hustling. He started unpretentiously in the grocery business in Albuquerque in 1883, and is thus one of the business pioneers of the city. He has kept steadily enlarging his quarters since the first box like frame store in which he started. At one time in 1899 he started a store on South Second street. He started in business in the Highlands in a small way in the year 1900, and the development of the business since that time to its present ample proportions is rather remarkable.

Mr. Conroy handles all kinds of canned goods, the best coffees, teas and spices, pickles, jams, preserved goods—in fact, everything any well regulated grocery store of the better class is supposed to carry. The store is one that would be a credit to the heart of the business district of a bigger city than Albuquerque. Mr. Conroy has succeeded in business by pure hard work and ability, and his success is just another striking example of what a live business man can accomplish in Albuquerque.

road's Monthly Pay Checks.

If there is a shortage of currency in this part of the country it isn't causing much trouble. In fact, there seems to be little evidence remaining in this city at least, that there has ever been any cause for care in conserving the coin. The same condition seems to be true all along the line of the Santa Fe in New Mexico and Arizona. Yesterday was the railroad pay day in the south-west, and at every division point big bunches of money were turned loose. In Albuquerque it is estimated that at least $100,000 in cash was turned loose yesterday to the thousands of men and women who paid in cash, merchants giving money for them in all cases where desired, and the banks giving cash for the checks. At Los Alamos, where the money was paid for the railroad checks, and as a result a very large amount of currency will be in circulation Monday in New Mexico. Conditions in this territory appear to have returned almost entirely to normal.

MAIDEN VOYAGE OF MAURETANIA.

New Cunarder Sails for New York, Bringing Largest Cargo of Gold Ever Sent on One Vessel.

Liverpool, Nov. 16.—The departure of the Cunarder Mauretania today on her first transatlantic voyage inspired the mighty crowd that assembled to a degree of enthusiasm like that shown when her sister ship, the Lusitania, sailed away from Liverpool on her first voyage a few months ago. The giant Cunarder was a remarkable spectacle, with her many tiers of electric lights, when she was towed into the stream at 7:30 p. m. Whistles were blown and people cheered.

Considering the season the Mauretania carried an unusual number of passengers, of whom there were 300 in the first cabin, while the second cabin and the steerage were booked nearly to the limit, making a total of 2,000 passengers aboard. The passengers included Prince Andre (Poniatowski) and Princess Depox, Sir Clifton and Lady Robinson, Professor Berles, Anthony J. Drexel, S. S. McClure, Dennis O'Sullivan and J. J. Astley. The consignment of gold carried by the Mauretania is believed to be the largest ever transported on one vessel. It was conveyed on six cars, which were specially guarded, and amounts to 2,500,000 pounds. The commander of the new ship is Captain Pritchard, who began his career as a cabin boy on a Welsh coaster. The Cunarder officials say that no special attempt will be made to break the record on the first voyage, nevertheless, great things are expected. The Mauretania was built in Tyne, and her sister ship, the Lusitania, which now holds the record, was built on the Clyde, and there is keen interest as to which of the rival ship builders will make the better showing.

SCHMITT AWARDED $7500 DAMAGES BY THE JURY

WINS SUIT AGAINST BREWERY COMPANY

Jury Out Seven Hours Deciding Sensational and Hard Fought Suit by Man Who Was Scalded a Year Ago.

"We, the jury, find the issues for the plaintiff and assess his damages at $7,500, less $910.10."

"N. KEMMERER, Foreman."

The reading of the above verdict in the district court yesterday morning closed the trial of the sensational and hard-fought suit by Joseph Schmitt against the Southwestern Brewery and Ice company for $25,500 damages. The verdict came after nearly two weeks had been spent in hearing evidence and stubbornly contesting every technical point throughout the trial. Neil B. Field handled the case for the plaintiff, W. B. Childers and O. N. Marron appearing for the defense. Immediately on the reading of the verdict the defendant's attorneys gave notice of a motion for a new trial. The jury in the case was out about seven hours, returning after 4 o'clock Friday and handing in a sealed verdict at 11 o'clock Friday night.

While the damages assessed are far below the sum asked by the plaintiff, the outcome of the case is a signal victory for Schmitt, and he was the recipient of many congratulations yesterday. The amount deducted from the total damages awarded is the amount paid by the company for Schmitt's medical expenses and salary paid him while he was off duty.

The public has grown familiar with the details of the case. About a year ago, while working at the brewery, Schmitt was scalded by a vat of boiling water and the hot substance splattered all over Schmitt, severely scalding his head and hands. It was alleged that the vat was defective and the company was aware of the fact and that Schmitt worked on the promise of the company to repair it. The defense plead a release from liability said to have been signed by Schmitt while working at the brewery. The plaintiff contending that the paper had been signed while Schmitt did not know what was going on.

WIDOW TO SUE FOR $5000 DAMAGES

Mrs. Armijo of San Acacia Will Seek to Recover From Santa Fe Company on Account of Killing of Husband.

Mrs. Armijo, wife of Melquiades Armijo, of San Acacia, Socorro county, who was run down and killed by a Santa Fe train last July, will file suit in the district court for Socorro county soon to recover $5,000 damages from the Santa Fe railroad company on account of the death of her husband. Mrs. Armijo will allege that the crew of the construction train which hit Armijo were grossly negligent and gave no warning to her husband in time for him to escape. Attorney A. A. Sedillo, of this city, will appear as attorney for Mrs. Armijo.

KIDS AND MINORS TO PLAY AGAIN

Second Game of Series Between Well Matched Basketball Aggregations for Next Friday Night.

The second game to be played this season between the "Kids" and the "Minors," the two strong local basketball teams, will be played off at Colombo hall next Friday night, and a warm game is in prospect for the teams are very evenly matched and both out for glory. The line-up for the game this week will be as follows:

BUM UNIVERSITY ATHLETIC SEASON IS IN PROPECT

Failure of Railway Company to Furnish Satisfactory Rates
Puts Crimp in Basketball Games With Outside Teams.

The prospect for varsity athletics is not very bright this year. A very cold and very wet blanket has been spread over the football situation and now it appears that several basketball games planned with outside teams will probably fall through on account of the failure to secure reasonable rates from the Santa Fe railway. A crack team or two which had also been anticipated, will likely have to be called off for the same reason.

The University of New Mexico basketball team was scheduled to play a game at Las Cruces yesterday with the "Farmers," but as negotiations for a low railroad rate fell through, the game had to be postponed to December 7. Arrangements are now being made for a game at that time—if rates can be secured—in conjunction with a track meet in which local athletes would fair back up against the brawn of the Agricultural college.

The girls' basketball team of the varsity had also planned for a game with the Las Vegas Normal at the Meadow City Thanksgiving night, the Las Vegas team to play the locals several days later. However, Lawrence Lee, manager for the several athletic organizations of the varsity, said last night that should the girls make the trip to Las Vegas or to Las Cruces it would cost approximately $350 for the round trip.

LARGE CLASS IS CONFIRMED BY THE BISHOP

Most Impressive Ceremonies at Immaculate Conception
Church—Lectures by Rev.
Father Sherman Begin Tonight.

Rev. J. B. Pitaval administered the sacrament of confirmation to a large class at the Immaculate Conception church last night, the beautiful and impressive service being commenced by the singing of "Veni Creator" by the Immaculate Conception church choir. The service concluded with the benediction of the most blessed sacrament, the choir rendering excellent music. The church was attractively decorated and illuminated for the occasion.

Bishop Pitaval will say low mass this morning after which he will proceed to the Church of San Felipe de Neri in Old Albuquerque and again administer confirmation. This afternoon at 2 o'clock he will confirm another large class at the Sacred Heart church in the southern part of the city.

Father "Tom" Sherman, the distinguished son of General Sherman, who has arrived in the city for his course of lectures here, will say the Children's mass at 8:30 o'clock this morning. High mass will be said by Rev. Father Mandelari, the sermon to be preached by Father Sherman. Tonight at 7:30 Father Sherman will open his series of lectures in the Immaculate Conception school hall on North Sixth street. His subject will be "The Soul's Bridgroom." The lectures will be continued throughout the week.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The Non-Sectarian Benevolent society of this city, one of the most worthy organizations that is assisting the poor in Albuquerque, will give its annual benefit ball Thanksgiving night at the Elks' theater. The officers of the society yesterday began a canvass among the business men to secure donations. Tickets for the ball will be placed on sale shortly.

The Tongue Pressed Brick and Tile company, which is erecting a fine brick plant at the ruins of the old Tongue Indian pueblo, near Algodones, N. M., has practically completed its plant and from present indications the plant will be in operation by January 1.

E. J. Strong, of Philadelphia, Pa., for many years connected with the stationery business, has purchased from the trustees the stock of books and stationery owned by S. E. Newcomer, bankrupt. He expects to improve the appearance of the Newcomer book store and open it for business on Friday. Mr. Strong expects to keep in stock a good line of magazines, books, newspapers, stationery and sundries. S. E. Newcomer, who conducted the Newcomer book store for some years, filed a petition in bankruptcy August 11, and since then the store has been closed. Yesterday a number of men were busy cleaning up the place and getting it ready for its re-opening.

The Woodmen Circle held its regular meeting last Tuesday. During the session seven new members were admitted, making the present membership of the circle near the hundred mark.

Will C. Barnes, chief supervisor of the forest service in Arizona and New Mexico, arrived here yesterday morning from Phoenix, Ariz., where he has been attending the Arizona annual fair.

Al Mathieu, the traveling man, returned home yesterday morning from San Marcel, He leaves tonight for western New Mexico.

On account of inclement weather the dedication ceremonies of the memorial chapel of the Harwood High school and industrial school, north of the city, which were to have taken place this afternoon, were postponed until Sunday, December 1. Rev. Thomas Harwood, who was to have interpreted the dedicatory sermon of Rev. J. C. Rollins, decided yesterday afternoon the ceremony should be postponed on account of the rainy weather.

PRISONERS WILL BE SENTENCED ON MONDAY

NEW TRIAL MOTIONS TO BE HEARD BY COURT

General Call of Remaining Cases on Criminal Docket
Will Be Made by Judge Abbott Tomorrow Afternoon.

The prisoners found guilty of criminal offenses during the September term of the district court for Bernalillo county will be sentenced Monday morning by Judge Ira A. Abbott. Motions for new trials will be heard by the court and tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock Judge Abbott will call the remaining cases on the criminal docket in order to set cases for the adjourned session which convenes December 2.

The defendants who pleaded guilty or were convicted during the term are as follows:

Jack Rogers, carrying deadly weapon; Ramon Velazquez, assault and battery; Charles A. Bartlett, alias Clyde A. Brown, drawing and uttering worthless check; Charles A. Bartlett, ditto; Albert Aron, alias Pedro Morales, burglary and larceny in a shop; Edgar Smith and John Williams, burglary; Al Stevenson, forgery and uttering forged, recommended to the clemency of the court; Zenobio Sanchez, murder in the second degree; Alberto Luna, obtaining money on a bogus check, recommended to the clemency of the court; George Elwood and William Korte, burglary; Nicolas Anaya, abandoning wife; sentence suspended providing parties become reconciled; Jose Griego, assault and battery; John Cornejo, selling liquor to Indians, time for filing motion for new trial extended to Nov. 15; Levi H. Thompson, larceny.

Bachechi Gets Verdict.

The civil docket in the district court was finished yesterday noon when the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the case of O. Machechi versus G. Glom, to collect judgment on a promissory note for $34.75. Frank Ackerman for the plaintiff and M. C. Ortiz for the defendant were the attorneys.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Grant, of Los Angeles, are in the city for a short visit.

The Albuquerque Elks will give the first of a series of parties Wednesday evening of this week, in the hall room of the Elks building. The hall room has just been remodeled and refitted and is one of the handsomest hall rooms in the west.

Miss Mary Menaul will leave within a few days for a visit to her mother in Chicago. Miss Menaul expects to be away until the new year.

Mr. C. H. Reynolds of Chicago, who is spending the winter here, expects his wife and daughter on Wednesday of this week. They will make their home on South Fourth street.

A number of the university pupils entertainment at the Women's club building Friday night with a very enjoyable dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Tupper E. Asplund entertained the party.

In memory of many very charming diners which have been tendered them during the past year, the Ten Ladies entertained their wives at a very elaborate dinner party at the Alcarado
on Tuesday evening.

The Misses Lee entertained a party of friends at their home on West Cupper avenue Wednesday afternoon at the second of a series of bridge parties.

Mrs. William P. Johnson, 1122 West Central avenue, entertained at a large dinner Saturday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Samuel Johnson, of Cleveland. Receiving with Mrs.
Johnson were Mrs. Charles F. Wade
and Mrs. Marcus B. Koch. Mrs. L. H.
Chambers, Mrs. T. S. Hubbell and Mrs. W. S. Brackley assisted Mrs.
Johnson. The house was attractively decorated in chrysanthemums, roses and carnations, and miniature rose bushes bearing pink rose buds were the favors.

Mr. Melville H. Summers, who is to be married during the week to Miss Mabel Hunt, of Owen Park, Cal., gave a dinner to a party of his friends at the Sturgeon Cafe last night. Mr.
Summers left immediately following the dinner for California.

Mrs. D. S. Rossmore has leased cards for a party to be given on Wednesday of this week at her home on West Copper avenue.

Mrs. Andrew Burdett, 609 West Gold avenue, entertained a large party of ladies on Monday afternoon at the second of a series of card parties. Sixteen pink rose buds were the favors.

E. L. Edgar was the winner of the first prize. The general prize, for which all the ladies cut, was won by Mrs. Wylder.

The Misses Chapman entertained at a very pleasant dancing party in the Women's Club building Thursday evening. The affair was a sheet and pillow party, and the guests were all disguised in costumes made of those articles.

Mrs. C. E. Ganton, of Winslow, Ariz., is the guest of Mrs. E. J. Gibson, of West Coal avenue.

The ladies of St. John's Guild have resumed their monthly teas. The first one of the season will be given Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs.
Edgar, on South Third street, from 2 to 5 o'clock. There will be a table of home cooking, which is expected to prove an attractive feature.

After the regular meeting of the Women's Relief Corps, which was held at the Red men's hall last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Martha W. Mulligan, president of the corps, delightfully entertained the ladies and served an elaborate luncheon. Twenty ladies were present.

The Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church, held its annual business meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marsh. After the reading of reports the officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:
President, Mrs. A. M. Redden; first vice president, Mrs. D. M. Richards; second vice president, Mrs. C. E.
Buldt; secretary, Mrs. H. S. Lohgaw; treasurer, Mrs. W. O. Hoppling. A social hour followed the election of officers and light refreshments were served.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church held their annual praise service at the church Friday afternoon. A very program was given consisting of vocal and instrumental music, papers and readings, after which refreshments were served and a social hour was to attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bearup left last night for a visit of several weeks in California.

Mrs. George Wilson, 217 North Ninth street, entertained at a dinner party Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Hudson, of Los Angeles, who is her guest.

The following program was given at the regular meeting of the Women's Club on Friday afternoon, the meeting being under the direction of the do-metic science department. Piano duet, Mrs. Glen Bearup and Miss Hall, reading from "The Reign of Law," Mrs. Newcomer; vocal solo, Miss Lola Weber; paper, "Food Value of Nuts," Mrs. Rice.

Mrs. Agnes Morley Cleveland, who has been visiting in Albuquerque for several weeks, left Friday for her home near Magdalena.

Mrs. J. B. Henderson, 121 North High street, has issued cards for the first of a series of church parties for next Saturday afternoon.

Miss Virginia Goodman, of Gordons-ville, Virginia, is in the city to spend the winter with her brother, Mr. C. L.
Goodman, of North Sixth street.

The regular meeting of the Tuesday club was held Tuesday afternoon,
November 12, at the home of Mrs. E.
P. Bradley, on North High street. The program was devoted to the regular work of the club in Shakespeare.

MAGAZINE'S LIST HAS PASSED THE 300,000 MARK

Santa Fe Employees' Publication for November One of Most Interesting Numbers Yet Off
the Press.

The November number of the Santa Fe Employees' Magazine, just issued, is one of the most attractive and interesting numbers that has yet been published. That the clever periodical is prospering is moreover evidenced by the recent statement of its editor, Albert MacRae, who passed through Albuquerque some days ago. Mr. Mac-Rae said that his subscription list had passed the 300,000 mark and was still growing fast. This is doing pretty well for a magazine that is just a year old.

The principal article this month is entitled, "Archelon Claims the Honor," an interesting account of how an Archelon, Kas., man happened to be the real founder of the great Santa Fe system. The man in particular was Luther C. Chaffin, a financier.
Topoka, Kas., for years claimed the honor of being the birthplace of the

there is no room for questioning Archelon's right.

Other good things are a very complete and concise history of the Gulf lines of the Santa Fe, by Max Naumann, city passenger agent at Galveston, Texas; "Camels in the Southwest," a reprint from "Out West";
"Teamwork—Its Power to Win";
"Modern Brake Practice"; "Taking Care of Hot Bearings"; and an account of the farewell reception to Arthur Lovell, former superintendent of motive power.

A half-tone picture of Engineer
Charles Chambers, of the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix, is shown with the story of a little experience that Chambers underwent recently, when he prevented a wreck and still brought his train in on time.

T. J. Norton, from June, 1906, to October, 1902, assistant solicitor for the coast lines has been appointed general attorney for the Santa Fe, is probably the youngest attorney that has ever held a similar position with the Santa Fe. An excellent likeness of Mr. Norton is shown in the magazine.

ORATORS OF NEW MEXICO MEET ON DEC. 27

Third Annual Contest of Inter-Scholastic Association to Be Held in Santa Fe During the Holidays.

The third annual contest of the New Mexico Inter-Scholastic Oratorical association will be held in Santa Fe on Friday night, December 27, in connection with the annual meeting of the New Mexico Educational association. The contest will be divided into two parts, participated in respectively by the territorial institutions and the high schools. In the first class are the University of New Mexico, the Las Vegas Normal, the Silver City Normal and the Agricultural college, of Mesilla Park. The high schools represented are those of Santa Fe, Las Vegas, Raton, Alamogordo and Portales. The high schools of Albuquerque, Deming, Farmington and Roswell are considering sending representatives to enter the contest.

Secretary Rupert F. Asplund, of the association, said yesterday that he expected this year's contest to be by far the most successful yet held. The other officers of the Oratorical association are: President, Territorial Superintendent James E. Clark; vice president, President Luther Foster, of the Agricultural college.

The civil service examination scheduled to be held here November 26, has been continued until December 11, on account of a lack of application for the positions of letter carriers or post-office clerk. Secretary Long said yesterday that he would accept applications up to December 6. Additional information about the position, salary, working hours and the examination can be learned at the postoffice.

PECOS RESERVE IS TO BE INCREASED IN DIMENSIONS

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 16.—As a proposed addition to the Pecos River National forest in New Mexico, there has been withdrawn from all forms of entry except under the mineral laws unappropriated land amounting to about 613,329 acres west and south of the reserve. These lands lie in Santa Fe, San Miguel, Bernalillo and Guada-lupue counties in the Santa Fe land district.

pects to be able to state definitely by January 1, whether the war department will be in a position to honor requisitions for the 1903 model for equipping the militia in time for spring practice. As many of the Krag now in the hands of the militia have sadly worn barrels, it is hoped the new rifles can be issued in the spring to avoid the expense of drawing new Krag barrels only to be shortly discarded for the new Springfield.

The national board will also determine the place of holding the national matches of 1908. It is generally understood they will again be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, which range will be extensively improved by next August. The National Rifle association has already endorsed Camp Perry. Among other matters to be considered at the January meeting will be the increasing work of the national board. In 1903 congress created the board and provided for three national matches: a rifle team, an individual rifle and an individual pistol match. A small appropriation was made for the national matches, and a magnificent trophy was provided for the team match. From a handful of teams the competition has grown until next year every state and territory will probably be represented.
In addition to the money the army and navy expend in rifle practice, $500,000
is now annually given to the states and territories for this purpose. To handle the national matches this year required the services of considerable more than one hundred regular army officers and two battalions of infantry.
The importance of the national board has grown with the tremendous increase of interest in the sport and in many quarters it is felt that some steps should be taken toward the organization of at least a skeleton corps to handle the matches from year to year. While the national matches have not increased in number the National Rifle association is adding to its prize list of the national matches because being shot on the same range and one after the other, an attractive program is presented covering two weeks. It has been suggested that the prize list of the national matches be increased, not so much in amounts as in the number of prizes, especially in the national individual match, which this year had over seven hundred entries.

Department Gratified.
In connection with the revived interest in rifle practice the war department is highly gratified at the progress being made in the organization of rifle clubs throughout the country, including military and civilian clubs, practicing with rifle and revolver.
The National Rifle association, under the energetic direction of General James A. Drain, its president, is especially active in organizing such clubs, and Lieutenant Albert S. Jones is now devoting his entire time to the work of the National Rifle association, of which he has been secretary for a number of years. Affiliation with this association obtains for the clubs many favors in the way of reduced prices for government ammunition and rifles, medals and national marksmen's certificates, etc. The National Rifle association's permanent headquarters are in New York City.

While much attention is paid to the firing of great guns in the navy, the blue-jackets are quite as noted for their skill with small arms. To Commander Sims, naval aide to President Roosevelt, may be ascribed a large share of the credit for the excellence in rifle shooting displayed by the navy, as it was under his direction that the work assumed its present activity. In the national rifle match this year the navy won the team match. Midshipman W. A. Lee of the Naval academy, won the national individual rifle match and the national pistol match, and Midship-man H. T. Smith, also of the Naval academy, carried off the title of military champion. The navy has a splendid range at Guantanamo, Cuba, and utilizes other ranges wherever available. Practice is expected at least once in each six months and a number of prizes are awarded, the amounts depending on the number of men qualifying from each ship's crew. The last available report shows qualifications in the navy as follows: Thirty-six sharpshooters and marksmen, 374
first class, 1,019 second class, 1,792 third class, and 3,312 as fourth class.

To further encourage rifle and revolver shooting, especially on the superb range at Sea Girt, N. J., the Sea Girt Tournament association has been organized with Brigadier General H.
Heber Breinmann, president; Colonel Charles A. Reid, vice president, and Brigadier General Bird W. Spencer, secretary and treasurer. In addition to the above the board of managers will consist of Justice Charles W.
Parker, of the New Jersey supreme court; Lieutenant Colonel William Libbey and Major Arthur Rowland.
The new association will co-operate with the New Jersey State Rifle association, one of the oldest and most influential of the state organizations.

Many Millions Spent in Rich New Mexico Mining District

BIG SMELTER NOW IN FULL BLAST AT OROGRANDE

Immense Plant of Southwest Smelting and Refining Company Cost a Million and a Quarter of Dollars.

RICH MINES FURNISH ORE FOR THE FURNACES

Splendid Water Supply System Installed at Cost of $165,000; Vast Mineral Wealth Surrounds Modern Town.

(By Prof. George S. Ramsey.) Orogrande, N. M., Nov. 15.—Orogrande, the greatest mining center of eastern New Mexico, and one of the busiest towns in the southwest, is a brand new camp and at the same time an old-timer. The present town of Orogrande was laid out in 1905 and for a two-year-old town it is certainly an eye-opener. The town is 49 miles from El Paso and 37 from Alamogordo. The site is an ideal one, on a level plain. The streets are wide and the town well laid out and the mining field of which it is the center—the field of active operations—measures about four by fifteen miles. The upper part of the camp has the postoffice, formerly called Jarilla, now changed to Brice. There are now about 1,200 people in the camp, a population that is increasing rapidly and will soon double and triple itself. The blowing in of the big smelter has in itself caused a substantial addition to the population. Many mines that have been heretofore idle have started up with the blowing in of the smelter.

SMELTER ONE OF BEST PLANTS IN SOUTHWEST

The big smelter plant of the Southwest Smelting and Refining company, is capitalized at $1,250,000. The company also owns the townsite and is now working four mines to supply the smelter with ore. Since the new officers of the company took charge last spring affairs have moved rapidly to their culmination in the starting of the great plant.

The new officers are George J. Greene, of St. Joseph, Mo., president; George H. Gould, of St. Joseph, vice president; T. G. Travis, secretary and treasurer; General Manager J. J. Murray is in charge of the general operations at Orogrande, and E. C. Green is smelter superintendent. T. R. Boynton is storekeeper; M. M. Riggs, bookkeeper; H. D. S. Reynolds, chief engineer; Fred Boherman, mine foreman; J. T. Van Sickle, pit boss. Mr. Murray is a graduate of the School of Mines of Edinburg, Scotland, and also of the Michigan Mining college. He has had five years' experience in California mining and several years in Arizona. He is splendidly equipped for the work and has demonstrated what an experienced practical man can do with a pretty stiff proposition when he knows how to go at it.

The smelter has a capacity of 250 tons a day and has been so constructed that with a very little more expense an additional 250-ton furnace may be put up. Labor saving machinery of the latest and most approved pattern is used throughout the plant. Everything is operated by electricity. Three 150-horsepower Hoopes water tube boilers are used. There are two Corliss engines and two high-speed automatic engines and two direct connected generators delivering 350 volts to the plant. There is a first class up-to-date sampling plant run by electricity. There is probably no smelter in the country with more modern and efficient equipment than this one.

The company has on hand coal for three months and coke for seven months and will smelt ore from its own mines. These include: The Nannie Baird, with oxide gold ore, low grade copper of a basic nature good for flux, 30 tons a day. This mine in the past has produced over a half million in gold and is still a remarkable property.

The Lucky mine, a sulphide ore, gold and copper producer, 40 tons a day.

The Lucky Flat, having large deposits of silicious sulphide ore, copper and gold, 30 tons a day. The company will employ between 175 and 200 men when everything is running full blast.

Besides the work it does for the company the smelter will do a lot of custom work for the other mines in the camp. Many additional men will be put to work as a consequence, for poor men's properties that could not afford to ship to El Paso will be able to have their ore smelted at home and make some money while they are doing development work. The Southwest company has spent $250,000 developing their mines and $200,000 on the smelter.

HOW WATER SUPPLY IS BROUGHT TO CAMP

One of the most serious questions that at first confronted the company was that about a water supply. Finally the company purchased water rights on the Sacramento river, 25 miles away. They built a ditch eight and a half miles long with a fall from an altitude of 7,100 feet to 5,900 feet at the Juniper reservoir, thence to an altitude of 4,400 feet at the Nannie Baird and through a six-inch pipe with a pressure of 1,500 pounds to the square inch, one and a half miles from the Nannie Baird to the smelter. The Nannie Baird reservoir impounds fifteen millions of gallons of water of the greatest purity, fresh from the mountains. The reservoir supplies both the smelter and the town. Water is forced to the various mines where it is needed by hydraulic rams operated by the pipe line from the Sacramento. The rams run the water 200 feet above the Nannie Baird mine and it flows back by gravity to the point where it is needed. The company supplies the railroad with 250,000 gallons of water a day and furnishes another 50,000 gallons to stockmen daily.

The company has plenty to spare as its contract is for 3,000,000 gallons a day when needed.

The total cost of the great water works system, one of the finest private projects in the territory, was $165,000.

TEN COTTAGES ALREADY BUILT BY THE COMPANY

The company has already built ten cottages and is planning to build 18 more for their employees in the immediate future. The company owns the Hotel Sacramento, which has 30 rooms and is one of the most comfortable hotels in the southwest. It is managed by E. G. Nagel and wife, who are experienced hotel people.

J. W. Crawford conducts a first class short order restaurant in the camp. J. A. Brubaker runs a good meat market. D. J. W. Scott is the skilful and popular physician for the camp and is also mayor of the town. Frank Blair, a prominent attorney of Kansas City and an uncle of Thomas N. Wilkerson, of Albuquerque, is a resident of the camp at present.

P. Root has a general merchandise store. The T. N. Linton company has a good hardware and grocery stock. T. J. Cox runs a first class livery and has a good boarding house. Frank Dawson and company carry a large stock of general merchandise and do a big business; in fact the Dawson store is one that would do credit to a pretty good sized town back in Missouri where the genial proprietor comes from.

Spizgals Brothers and Wherry run a gent's furnishing and dry goods store. They are also interested in mining and are large stockholders in the Monte Carlo mine. Mr. Beasley, the well known druggist and newsdealer, also carries a line of dry goods and paints. Mr. Beasley has built up a large trade and is one of the prominent business men of the town.

Some idea of the extent of the business of the town may be obtained from the fact that the figures of the efficient agent for the El Paso and Southwestern, Mr. H. W. Nichols, for the month of October were $25,000. The business of the office is now averaging $1,000 a day. For a two-year-old town this is, to say the least, "going some."

MONTE CARLO COPPER COMPANY AND ITS MINES

The Monte Carlo Consolidated Copper company was incorporated in 1906 with a capital stock of a million dollars. It has twelve claims aggregating 240 acres in the district and its properties are being developed quite rapidly. Work has been done on four shafts, but the work is now being concentrated on one three-compartment shaft. This has been sunk 100 feet and is following a true fissure vein. They have already gone through some good pay ore, but they will continue to go down to between 500 and 1,000 feet, where there is every indication that they will strike large bodies of ore.

The company does not intend to do any shipping at present, but will first spend about $250,000 on development work. There is a fine location for a reservoir and the outfit will build a dam and arrange for the irrigation of a considerable part of their own lands. They will also sink several auxiliary wells. The company's camp is near timber, three and a half miles from the railroad, and it will cost very little to get the ore to market. Old-timers claim that this mine will become one of the very best, if not the best, producers in the camp. Charles P. Paul, of Stewartville, Mo., is president of the Monte Carlo company, the active management being in the hands of Charles H. Spriggs, vice president and general manager. Superintendent Thomas Ryan is one of the best practical miners in the district.

Vernon S. Wherry is treasurer, Henry H. Snyder secretary and Arthur D. Young assistant secretary. Messrs. Spriggs, Ryan and Wherry are all young, active energetic men.

The Alice Group.

The Alice group contains 180 acres and the claims are owned by Culver and Downs. This firm for the past the development of various properties and have done wonders for the district. The Alice group has been indefatigable in the development of the mine and the demonstration of the mineral possibilities of the camp. The Alice is a copper and gold property. The men are now down 250 feet and have begun to crosscut with all indications extremely favorable.

Culver and Downs also own the Last Chance group of 180 acres. One shaft here is down 150 feet and already a vein of good fluxing iron and copper ore has been uncovered. The mine will at once become a producer. The Golden Gem mine, of this group, has run a 124-foot drift from its shaft and cut a fifteen-foot vein of iron-copper ore.

Texas-Jarilla Placer Company.

The Texas-Jarilla Placer Mining company has 255 acres of an fine placer ground as can be found in the west. The company has already taken out at least $10,000 worth of ore and are now putting in new machinery to expedite operations. By the new apparatus they will be able to handle 100 cubic yards a day instead of five, as at present, and at very little extra expense. The Pierce amalgamator of Denver, will be used; three different sizes separating the cement from the sand and slaking the sand and gravel. Cement put through the amalgamator will, it is said, save 55 per cent of the gold. George K. Moffett, an experienced miner, has charge of the work on this property.

First National Mining Company.

S. Howard Leach has this property in charge. The company has, besides some good placer ground, copper properties that will be opened up as soon as the smelter is ready for custom work.

Lincoln Consolidated.

The Lincoln Consolidated Copper company, M. M. Riggs president, has begun to produce with a 70-foot shaft, the ore averaging $15 a ton. With this showing in what is comparatively only a prospect hole, the mine should become a good producer.

One of the chief advantages of the Orogrande smelter is that it can do business at a very low cost. Being on the main line of the El Paso and Southwestern, it can get its coal and coke direct from Dawson. The railroad has spurs running up to the mines and by the aid of a tunnel and a narrow gauge tramway cars can be loaded and the ore brought from the mines to the smelter at a cost of about 25 cents a ton.

At Brice there is a good school with two teachers, Miss Neatherlin and Cappelman, in charge, and an enrollment of over 60 pupils. Mr. Ambrose is the postmaster at this point and also conducts a large general merchandise store with a good business. There is another school at Orogrande with an enrollment of 35 pupils. The people here are not neglecting educational matters.

How to Treat a Sprain.

Sprains, swelling and lameness are promptly relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This liniment reduces the inflammation and soreness so that a sprain may be cured in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment. For sale by all druggists.

COLOMBIA STARTS ON FORESTRY POLICY

South American Republic Follows Example of the United States in Protecting the Timber Supply.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The world-wide movement for protecting forests and developing them has reached South America. The republic of Colombia has promulgated a decree regulating the use of its national forests and a translation has been sent to the United States by Consul L. A. Manning, of Cartagena.

It has been customary to consider the forests of the central and northern portions of South America as the forests of North America were once considered—inexhaustible. It has been clearly shown that North America's woods were not inexhaustible, and it appears that the business men of South America are convinced that theirs are not, and measures have been taken to protect them. Colombia has entered upon a forestry policy while it yet has plenty of timber. By using it wisely it will always have plenty. It is taking the "stitch in time."

Contractors who cut cedar and mahogany from public lands in that country are required to plant young trees of the same species in the cut-over space. Lumbering and planting must be carried on side by side.

Much care is given the valuable rubber tree in the southern republic. In Colombia's natural forests the rubber gatherer is required to give the tree periods of rest, when he must bind up the wounds with wax or clay to exclude the air and prevent the wood from drying. The size of the incisions and their location and number, are regulated by law. The tree is thus given a chance for its life. The forest produces, yet lives.

The Colombia regulations prohibit the cutting of immature trees for lumber. They must be ripe for the harvest. The saplings and sprouts, which will become trees, are carefully protected. The ivory-palm, the fruit of which furnishes vegetable ivory, must not be cut under any circumstances, nor must immature fruit be gathered. The value of this tree is in its fruit, not its wood.

Colombia has several species of trees chiefly valuable for the bark they produce. Peeling bark from standing trees is prohibited. This prevents waste. All the tree's bark must be taken, or none. The Colombia government does not propose that bark peelers in its forests shall take a little of the choicest bark and leave the rest to decay, even if there may be plenty more at present.

Forest resources in Colombia are great. The Magdalena and several smaller rivers penetrate hundreds of miles of navigable waters through primeval forests which cover thousands of square miles. With the rapid exhaustion of timber in regions whence the world's supply has been coming, lumbermen are turning their eyes toward the forests of South America.

The republic of Colombia understands the situation and seems to be proceeding upon the homely but excellent maxim, "Be saving while there's plenty."

BONUS SYSTEM MAY BE EXTENDED ON SANTA FE

Rumor That Engineers and Firemen Will Be Given Opportunity to Swell the Size of Their Checks.

According to a rumor that comes wandering out along the Santa Fe from Topoka, Santa Fe engineers and firemen are to have an opportunity to earn a bonus each month that will swell their time checks very perceptibly. That is if they prefer the bonus system.

For several days the question has been one of quiet discussion among the locomotive men. Some are in favor of the adoption of the bonus system, as outlined by the Santa Fe, while others prefer to work along the lines now in existence.

Pettions are being circulated and signed which will probably be looked upon in the light of a contract when the company puts the system into operation which will be within a short time. However, not all of the engineers favor such a system, and a number have announced that they will not sign.

The company proposes to give certain bonuses to the engineers and firemen in proportion to the number of miles they cover with their engines, without the necessity of sending them into the shops for repairs. In this way the company expects to arouse more interest in the engineers in looking after their engines. By using much care they can prevent breaks and calls for repairs in the shops.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

President Tamm expected a return from Washington in time for work Monday of next week.

Rev. Mr. Huggett, of Gallup, called on his daughter, Miss Lillian, at the University last Friday.

The faculty hunters, Professors Angell and Clark, went on their usual Saturday hunt yesterday.

Misses Lona and Vera, Flemming have left school to return with their family to Richmond, Indiana.

There has been such an increased call for the University catalog that the edition is exhausted so early in the school year. It is one of the little indications that people are inquiring about New Mexico.

Professor Hodgins is expected to leave some time this week for a trip into Mexico. He will look into the school system of the neighbor republic, visiting schools in Mexico City. His return will be across the Gulf of Mexico from Frontera to Galveston. He will also visit schools in Texas.

NEW GOLD COINS CAUSE LOTS OF TROUBLE

PRESIDENT'S ART IDEA
PROVES A FAILURE

St. Gauden's Design Was a Beauty, But It Caused the Treasury Department Men to Grow Gray Haired.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.)

Washington, Nov. 12.—Probably no set of American coins ever caused the mint bureau so much trouble as has resulted over the new gold pieces that have just been put into circulation. Nothing is said publicly about the matter by treasury officials, but when the new coins are talked about by any of them in private the blame for all the annoyance is placed upon the broad shoulders of the president.

It was Mr. Roosevelt who decreed that there should be a new "eagle" and "double eagle," as the $10 and $20 gold coins are known. The old coins did not meet the president's ideas as to what the coinage of a great nation should be. He regarded them as out of date and somewhat primitive in their appearance. With the president to reach a conclusion was to act, and he commissioned St. Gaudens to design two new coins.

The thing was done, but it fell out that this eminent sculptor knew more of sculpture than he did of the requirements of coinage, outside their purely artistic appearance. His designs were beautiful pictures and pleased the president immensely, but they were not proper coins from the practical standpoint of the mint bureau. What the first impression was struck off, the relief pictures were too high, and this defect made it impossible to pile the coins one on top of another. The idea of coins that would not pile up gave the mint officials cold shivers. Imagine coins on the counter of a bank that would not pile up neatly. They could not be handled nor could they be rolled into those convenient little packages in which the banks and the United States treasury keep those coins.

This defect was pointed out to the president, and he urged that some attempt be made to change the coin without interfering with the relief. The attempt was made, but it resulted in failure. Finally the president capitulated to some extent and the reliefs were shaved, but the impressions still exhibited the same defects. After prolonged discussions permission was obtained to make one more change in the die, and then a coin was secured that met with the requirements so far as ability to pile them up was concerned. But the mint bureau is not satisfied with the result as a whole, and from the practical viewpoint of these officials the coin is a failure.

The $10 piece has just been put in circulation, and is being sent throughout the country as rapidly as possible, that they may play their part in relieving the money scarcity. The "double eagle" will not be seen in public for some time. As fast as the old gold coins find their way back into the treasury they will be melted down and recoined into the new design. The first impressions of these new coins, made before the changes were authorized, have been kept securely in the custody of one official to prevent their getting into circulation. Numismatists would give a big premium to get hold of those particular coins. Later on they will be thrown into the melting pot as so much old gold.

SPEAKER IS READY WITH THE HOUSE COMMITTEES

WILL BE ANNOUNCED BEFORE THE RECESS

Cannon Says He Does Not Believe in "Special Pledgers" and Will Favor No Pet Legislation.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.) Washington, Nov. 14.—Speaker Cannon will announce the committees of the house for the sixteenth congress just before the holiday recess. Members can then adjust themselves to their posts of duty and the wheels of legislation will begin to revolve with some activity when congress reconvenes after New Year's. The selection of these committees is a matter involving a vast amount of labor for the speaker, and is usually accompanied by great bitterness on the part of disappointed members, for few obtain that which they seek or the assignments for which they think themselves peculiarly fitted.

Mr. Cannon will arrive in Washington on the 20th of this month and will then take up the matter of filling the committee vacancies. His private secretary, L. B. Byrd, already has tabulated the thousands of applicants of members and the endorsements of their colleagues for those places and when the speaker gets down to the business of filling out these applications he will have a laborious task confronting him. If the speaker could do so without causing revolution, he would establish a new method of filling the committees of the house. Discussing this subject recently, Mr. Cannon said he did not believe there should be "special pleaders" on any of the committees. The rivers and harbors committee, which deals with the enormous appropriations made for improvements under the engineer corps of the army, for the benefit of commerce, is made up entirely of men who come from sea coast ports or large river towns. This has been the policy since the beginning, but experience has shown that each of these men, as a rule, is a particular advocate of some project of local interest to his own region and that the rivers and harbors committee is made up to conserve these special interests with such other projects added as may be necessary to pass the bill. In this way the benefits to commerce are in the hands of men interested more in some one project than in the general good of the country.

The speaker does not believe in packing the jury. If he had his way this committee would be composed of men removed from any local influence who would be guided entirely by the recommendations of the engineers and then let the entire house sit in judgment on its own work. It was for this reason that the speaker in the last congress refused to appoint Mr. Small, of North Carolina, on this particular committee. There was nothing personally against Mr. Small. He is a good member, but behind him in his state and along the entire southern coast was the powerful sentiment favoring the establishment of an inside channel down the Atlantic coast, a proposition that involved the expenditure of untold millions, and the speaker declined to put a special pleader in the committee. It must take its chances in the house on its own merits. This same policy will actuate the speaker in making up all the committees. There are good men on these committees today who will remain because, under the custom of the house, they are entitled to their old positions unless removed by a vote. To remove them without great cause would reflect upon their status as useful members of the house, and the speaker will not assume the responsibility of revolutionizing the house in order to correct the errors of his predecessors.

There will be the jolliest kind of a row on in the senate, when the president sends in the name of his newly selected postmaster at Berkeley, the town just across the bay from San Francisco, and which is the site of the University of California. This town is in the district of Representative Knowland, and when the voters of the district recommended a man by the name of Thomas for the office. Before making this recommendation, Mr. Knowland is said to have conferred with both senators and the selection was satisfactory to them. However, when Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, heard of the recommendation, he went to Oyster Bay and urged the selection of Thomas and urged the president to appoint a man named Merrell, whom Mr. Wheeler designated.

No particular reason was given for the opposition to Thomas, save the fact that he did not suit the university authorities. Merrell was proposed in his name and from the viewpoint of the university men was the more capable of the two. This action of President Wheeler aroused the ire of Representative Knowland, who again consulted with Senators Perkins and Flint and found they would stand by him. He then opened up correspondence with the California delegation in the house and all of them agreed that the postmaster was a matter that belonged to the senate president, and not to the university president. Among those who agreed to this proposition was Representative Hayes, the owner of the San Jose Mercury. To the surprise of Mr. Knowland, this paper came out in an editorial endorsing the selection of Merrell, and giving copious reasons why he and not the man recommended by the congressmen should be appointed. The friends of Hayes attempted to convince the late Mr. Knowland that Mr. Hayes knew nothing of the editorial but Mr. Knowland declared that it was in matters of which only Mr. Hayes and he knew and he therefore charged Mr. Hayes with responsibility for the editorial. There is now war between these two members, but all the others stand by Mr. Knowland.

The appointment of Merrell was announced from Oyster Bay before the president returned to Washington from his vacation. As a salute to Mr. Knowland's "rump" feeling, it has been intimated to him that this appointment is to be temporary only and that the man of his choice will ultimately be appointed. The delegation has agreed to fight the nomination of Merrell and make it a personal matter.

if the name of Merrell is sent to the senate for confirmation. This postoffice case may precipitate a row between the California delegation and the president, something the president cannot well afford to have. The Japanese question needs careful handling and to handle it properly the president must have the co-operation—passive at least—of the California delegation. His program will be somewhat interfered with if he stirs up their opposition. The Berkeley postoffice gives promise of being a celebrated case, if Merrell is kept in office.

The white house editions of the president's speeches during the past year have become exhausted. The demand has been so great that a new edition will probably be put on the press. These speeches, beginning with that of the opening of the Jamestown exposition and including his addresses at Indianapolis on Decoration day; at Lansing, Mich., when the anniversary of the establishment of the first agricultural college was celebrated; the Provincetown speech, the president's addresses at Jamestown to the editorial association and his remarks on his Mississippi river trip, cover the field of public questions and contain many criticisms and strictures upon the activities of the corporations of the country. Each of these speeches has been printed on fine paper, in good clear type easily read and bound in paper and have been distributed to those who have asked for them. Thousands of people, anxious to read for themselves the precise words of the president's warning to his people, have applied for copies of these documents piled with so far as has been possible. There is no doubt but that if these speeches were compiled into a single volume and put on sale they would readily take their place among the "best sellers." As specimens of English writing and of the expression of thought they are well worth perusal. Mr. Roosevelt has never done better in the line of public speaking than in his remarkable speeches of the past year.

Few Weeks Remaining Before Congress Meets Promise to Be Strenuous for Mr. Roosevelt; Message Nearly Completed.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.) Washington, Nov. 12.—The return of the President to Washington after his southern tour and his fortnight in the Louisiana case, breaks the signal for the politicians from all over the country to come on to Washington. The second administration of Mr. Roosevelt is a new thing, and the president, who has outdone himself, even in his advocacy of the reclamation of Mr. Roosevelt. The Oregon senator is so enthusiastic a Roosevelt man that he offered a prize of $1,000 for the best literary effort in the shape of an argument favoring the election of Mr. Roosevelt for another term.

The presidential visitors, however, are not confined to the personal champions of Mr. Roosevelt. In the case of many an important political caller it is a case of diamond cut diamond from the moment the conference begins until it ends. Legislators of the president will ask at the hands of congress when it meets in December, important as these questions are to men in public life, are not the things uppermost in their minds these days when they visit the executive. They are most interested just now in endeavoring to ascertain just how the weather stands on top of the White House is pointing. Does it indicate a third term, or is a stiff Taft breeze blowing? This is the question every man is asking himself, and the question few of them will have courage to ask the one man who can tell.

The few weeks remaining before the assembling of the Sixtieth congress give promise of being decidedly strenuous ones for the president. He returns from his hunting trip, however, in fine health and spirits, and the speaker of the house, never had any fears for Mr. Roosevelt, whose capacity for work appears to be almost boundless. So far as his annual message to congress is concerned, it is but little to be done. The document was completed in the rough draft before the president left Oyster Bay. It is understood it will be the longest document the president has ever written, and that it is saying a great deal for the Roosevelt messages to congress have been noted for their great length and the sharp thrusts they contained.

Having in mind what he will urge upon congress, the president will utilize his time between now and the first Monday in December in prosecuting among realists and possibly antagonistic members of the two houses, that he may have all the strength needed to compel submission to his views with regard to essential legislation. This will be no easy task, for some of the influential men in both houses are opposed to several of the president's proposed matters of legislation, and particularly in regard to the Philippine tariff, a subject that is close to the president's heart. In support of this proposition, however, he expects Secretary Taft, bringing back with him from the islands arguments and facts that will ride down all opposition and give the islands more intimate trade relations with this country. The struggle between the president and congress is now on, and as the president never gives up a fight until he is whipped, and whipped thoroughly, the outcome of the struggle is one that can not be determined until the votes are cast in the two houses.

The Alexandria, Virginia, district will send to congress to fill the unexpired term of the late John F. Rixey, a man who made his first entry into public life through an office presented to him by President Cleveland, for which he was not an applicant and at a time he was soliciting the favor for another demagogue, O. C. Carlin, the nominee of his party, who will be elected at a special election next month, began his life as a newsboy and climbed the ladder of success with difficulty. His habits were good, and while working for his maintenance he studied hard and finally was able to go to school. Then he studied law, was admitted to the bar and eventually became a successful practitioner at his profession.

GREW MISS CARROLL'S HAIR AND WE CAN PROVE IT

Beautiful Hair At Small Cost.

WITHIN the last decade great and rapid strides have been made in Materia Medica. Many diseases that were considered incurable fifteen years ago are now cured in a few days, and in many cases prevented altogether. The scientists of late years have been delving for the cause, the foundation, the reason and the starting point of disease, fully realizing that the actual and true cause must be ascertained before the remedy can be located. Hair troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp, and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grows, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do so earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, and when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all of its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural and logical thing to do in either case is, feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Dr. Knowlton's DANDERINE

is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is identical with the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It feeds and nourishes the hair and does all the work originally carried on by the natural nutrients or life-giving juices generated by the scalp itself. It penetrates the pores of the scalp quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One twenty-five-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself. Now on sale at every drug and toilet store in the land. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

ed law, was admitted to the bar and eventually became a successful practitioner at his profession.

It was during President Cleveland's second administration that Mr. Carlin joined a number of representative democrats of Alexandria and came to Washington to seek the nomination of a prominent member of the party who believed he ought to have the Alexandria postoffice. When the matter was laid before Mr. Cleveland by this delegation, the president listened attentively and said that under no circumstances would he appoint the man in question.

I'll appoint any one of you gentlemen," said Mr. Cleveland, "but never the man for whom you seek the office." Then, looking directly at Mr. Carlin, a very young man at the time and still young, for that matter, Mr. Cleveland said: "I should like to appoint you, Mr. Carlin, you gentlemen to out and talk it over." The delegation took it over. It was decided at length that inasmuch as the president was unshakable in his determination not to appoint the man whom the delegation desired, they decided that it would not be disloyal for them to favor Carlin. Carlin was indignant and the president notified. His appointment followed at once and that was his entry into official life. He has ever since been an influential democrat in his home city and congressional district.

The wheels of statecraft and diplomacy of the whole American government recently stood still for three hours one afternoon because of the death of a baby boy. The state department was without an acting head while Assistant Secretary Alvey A. Adee, who was acting secretary, attended the funeral and burial of his little nephew, who died at the age of only twelve days. The child was William Graham Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tyler. Mr. Tyler is the favorite niece of the noted diplomat, and upon learning recently that he was a grandchild, Mr. Adee became as joyous and as proud of the little fellow as if the relationship had been much nearer.

White Mr. Adee was busy at his

JOE SCOTT GOES TO THE CRYSTAL

Mr. Rogers, the illustrated song specialist at the Crystal theater, leaves tonight for Trinidad, Colo., to open the newly completed Crystal theater there. He will be succeeded by Joe Scott, the talented young singer of Albuquerque, who will render the illustrated songs. Behan, Alton and company, who have been appearing at the Crystal, go to El Paso to be succeeded here by Harry De Voe and company, of the Paso City. These clever people will do vaudeville stunts at the Crystal for a week or so. Polk and Martella, the jolly knockabout comedians and acrobats, will be another clever attraction. These gentlemen style themselves the "Rough House Comedians," and request their audiences to "count the bumps." The moving pictures this week will be as good as ever. The usual ladies' souvenir matinee will be held Tuesday and Friday afternoons, and the children's toy matinee Saturday afternoon. New shipments of handsome glass and china are expected the coming week, and new toys for the youngsters.

The bill this week will be a new one from start to finish and will undoubtedly draw large houses at the popular playhouse.

What Would You Do? In a case of burn or scald what would you do to relieve the pain? Such injuries are liable to occur at any time in any family and everyone should be prepared for them. Chamberlain's Salve applied on a soft cloth will relieve the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a very severe one, will cause the parts to heal without leaving a scar. For sale by all druggists.

All kinds window shades in stock and made to order. Furniture and house, west end of viaduct.

IMMIGRATION INSPECTOR SCHMUCKER TRANSFERRED

Well Known Official Will Become Chief of Naturalization Bureau in Southwest with Headquarters in Denver Instead of El Paso.

T. F. Schmucker, for the past three years inspector in charge of the El Paso immigration bureau, has at his own request been transferred from the department of commerce and labor to the department of justice, and assigned as chief of the naturalization bureau for the southwest with headquarters in Denver. The change will become effective December 1.

The El Paso Herald says: Mr. Schmucker some time ago asked for transfer and for the Denver assignment finally passed to the department of justice. A telegram from Attorney General Bonaparte stating that the transfer had been made and requesting him to make arrangements to take charge of the Denver naturalization bureau on the first of the month. The transfer to this department is a promotion for Mr. Schmucker in which his friends will rejoice.

In his capacity as chief of the Denver naturalization bureau, Mr. Schmucker will pass upon all applications for naturalization under the new naturalization law for that portion of the southwest between San Francisco and St. Louis. There are at present only the St. Louis and San Francisco bureaus in the west, and Mr. Schmucker will be the first chief of the newly established Denver bureau.

All the naturalization applications in El Paso will go to Mr. Schmucker in Denver for investigation before being finally passed to the department of commerce and labor. The establishment of these bureaus was made necessary by the new naturalization law which became effective last spring.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC'S NEW EQUIPMENT

Fourteen Thousand New Freight Cars, and 271 New Engines Bought Since 1902.

New York, Nov. 16.—Figures just compiled by the controller of the Southern Pacific railway show the great increase that has come about in the past few years in the cost of repairs to equipment and for replacing obsolete locomotives and rolling stock. This increase is one of the results of heavier traffic and of the necessity for providing larger and more durable cars and locomotives.

From $3,528,192, in 1902, the cost of locomotive repairs on the Southern Pacific increased to $5,717,667 in 1907. The average for the six years of 1902-1907 was $4,625,226. Against a cost for repairs of $2,666 per locomotive in 1902, there is a cost of $3,881 in 1907. In the six years the average annual charge for locomotives sent to the scrap heap was $281,262. From 1902 to 1907 repairs of passenger cars averaged nearly $1,500,000, and the average cost of repairs per car increased from $741 six years ago to $901 for this year. In the same time passenger cars valued at $156,000 were "scraped," that is, sold for what they would bring on junk.

In the figures dealing with freight cars, the increase of expenditure made necessary by modern conditions of railroading is even more strikingly shown. In one year, 1906, nearly 3,500 cars were withdrawn from service because they were too light for profitable operation. Repairs of freight cars increased in cost from $2,350,416 in 1902, to $3,875,936 in 1907. The value of freight cars withdrawn from service averaged 722,128 for each of the six years covered by the controller's figures.

Those outlays for repairs and the loss charged off for obsolete equipment are in addition to the $29,550,742 spent for locomotives, cars and steamships from July 1, 1901, to the end of 1906. This year the Harriman lines have bought 14,172 freight cars at a cost of nearly $20,000,000, and 271 new locomotives to take the place of worn out equipment and to move increasing tonnage.
