DEATH OF DIAZ ALLEGED PLAN OF PLOTTERS

Prisoners Accused of Inciting Yaquis to Massacre, and Conspiring to Overthrow Republic and Kill President.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire.)
Los Angeles, Nov. 27.—The case of the government against the four Mexican revolutionists whose extradition is sought on a charge of plotting against the Mexican government, was materially strengthened today when the proceedings were lifted out of the commonplace by the identification of letters alleged to have been intercepted by the federal authorities, and which contain reference to plans for the assassination of President Porfirio

The prosecution, which professes to be familiar with the details of the plot, affirms that Ricardo Flores Magón, one of the men arrested here seven months ago, had been picked up as the successor of President Díaz after the fall of the latter. Magón, Gutiérrez de Larrea, are the three men who, with Marón, are facing extradition proceedings before United States Commissioner Van Dyke.

While not denying that they were plotting to plan to overthrow present government of Mexico, the natives said they had no intention of organizing an expedition within the United States and claimed this is the only offense for which they can be extradited from this country.

Letters alleged to have been addressed to leaders of the movement, produced no evidence during today's hearing before Commissioner Varney. According to one letter, the leader of the junta, presumably one of the men in custody here, was to be extradited to the United States to be committed to the Federal House of Detention in Chicago, where he had been committed to induce the release of the leader of the Mexican Indian to join the

The revolutionary movement.

In another letter purporting to be from Salvador C. Haro, of El Paso, La., the following statement:

"It has occurred to me to go to the capital and take the life of Diaz. Give me instructions about the mode of preparing the bomb."

This letter was dated August 6, 1906.

BRYAN HAS NO CINCH ON TAMMANY SUPPORT

Murphy Denies Hagau's Authority to Order Migration to Nebraska.

New York, Nov. 21.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, declared today that James J. Hagan has no authority to pledge Tammany hall's support to William J. Bryan for the democratic nomination for the presidency, as he did at the Bryan dinner in Washington last night. When Mr. Murphy's attention was called to Mr. Hagan's action he said:

"James J. Hagan, not for Tammany hall. No one is authorized to pledge the Tammany delegation if Mr. Bryan is the nominee of the democratic party for president. Tammany hall is not loyal. If we are, we are not pledging ourselves to any candidate at this time."

PETITION FOR RECEIVER FOR BREWERY COMPANY

Heaver, Pa., Nov. 27.—Eleven petitioning members of the Heaver Valley Brewing company, which owned a $500,000 plant at Rochester, Pa., entered suit here today for a receiver. The petition charges that the majority of the directors removed Vincent Wyse Thalmann, as president; Louis Thumm, as secretary; and George M. Johnson as director, without sufficient cause; and have since made requests from a majority of the stockholders to call a stockholders' meeting.

It is also charged that excessive salaries are paid to the officers; that the assets are being divided among the controlling directors. The deposed officers are among the eleven petitioners.

Lawyers Object to Bank Holidays.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 27.—At large meeting of the Sacramento Bar association held today, with one voice in the negative only, it was decided that the special holiday legislation is vicious and dangerous, and a committee was constituted to prepare legislation

Helped capture Jefferson Davis.
Toledo, Mich., Nov. 27.—Charles Paddock, a veteran of the civil war, died at his home here today, aged sixty-four years. Mr. Paddock was one of those who helped capture Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, for which he received his share of the reward.

Kid Farmer Loses to Sullivan.—Los Angeles, Nov. 17.—Kid Farmer, of Chicago, managed to stay thirteen rounds with Mike (Twin) Sullivan, of Boston, before the Pacific Athletic club tonight, after escaping defeat for five rounds. Farmer was no match for his opponent, and his seconds threw up the sponge when a knockout was inevitable.

EXPECT CROWD AT STATEHOOD MEETING

MANY NEW MEXICANS TO MEET THE GOVERNOR

Gathering Expected to Outline Plan for Campaign in Congress During the Coming Session.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 27.—(Indications now are that there will be a large attendance of representative New Mexicans from all parts of the territory here Saturday to attend the statehood meeting called by Governor Curry. Reports from near by counties are to the effect that many delegates are coming by appointment and that a good many citizens are coming on their own hook. The plan is to have this meeting outline a plan of campaign to be carried out in Washington, during the coming session of congress, which will place New Mexico's claims plainly before the congress and the people. To this end it is probable an effort will be made to send a large delegation to Washington during the winter.

Governor Curry has issued cards for a large reception to be given at his home following the statehood meeting Saturday night.

ALAMOGORDO ORGANIZES STATEHOOD LEAGUE

Business Men Get Together and Appoint Delegates to Attend Santa Fe Meeting.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Alamogordo, N. M., Nov. 27.—As a result of a call issued by the Alamogordo Business Men's club, a mass meeting of citizens was held this afternoon at which the Alamogordo statehood league was formed. H. J. Majors was elected chairman, and J. D. Clements secretary. J. E. Wharton, C. R. Edson and Charles Meyer were elected delegates to attend the statehood meeting at Santa Fe on November 30. A resolution was adopted asking all citizens of the county to come to the meeting at Santa Fe.

JUDGE SCORES JURY FIXERS IN KENTUCKY

Declares Action of Partisans in Powers, Ties Deference to Any Court in the Land.

Georgetown, Nov. 27.—Investigation as to the summoning of the Grant county venire on which was based the defense's challenge for dismissing the last division of the venire occupied the forenoon session of the State Powers trial. The defense offered to withdraw its motion to set aside the second venire and to accept the objection of the commonwealth, court sustained the motion. This cleared the atmosphere somewhat. Judge Morris expressed surprise at today's revelations. He said it was unprecedented in any court in the land for a sheriff to be followed by a gang of men purporting to represent two political parties. He said:

"Had the court been apprised of this at the time the party went into Grant county, I would have ordered the arrest of all of them." The court then ruled that all the names of both venires be put in a box and a jury drawn from the whole.

When court adjourned tonight eight jurors had been accepted. Altogether seventy-six men were examined for jury service today, many of them being disqualified for expressing conscientious scruples against capital punishment.

POSTOFFICE CHANGES IN NEW MEXICO

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal.) Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.—David L. Crowwell has been appointed postmaster at Santa Fe, N. M. Vice W. S. O'Brien resigned.

The name of the postoffice at Pecos, Sandoval county, has been changed to Jones Springs.

CANAL ATTRACTS WORMEN

Chief Engineer Warns Against People Coming to Isthmus Without Funds Or Previous Appointment.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Discouragingly so applicants for work on the isthmus without appointment. All permanent positions are filled and no increase contemplated. Unemployment without funds are a source of embarrassment.

The above dispatch from Chairman and Chief Engineer Guthrie, of the Panama canal commission, was received at the Washington office today. Applications for work on the isthmus are coming in at the commission's office at the rate of 200 a day, an increase of 25 per cent in the last month. They are due, the officials here think, to the circulating of various enterprises in the United States and the more settled, comfortable and healthy conditions which now obtain on the isthmus.

It is estimated that 80 per cent of the employees engaged by the commission at the isthmus are permanent, as compared with a percentage of approximately 50 in that class some time ago.

HILL REPORTS NORTHWEST BOOMING

Million Bushels Moving Toward Both Coasts Daily, Declares Head of the Vast Great Northern System.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Nov. 27.—James J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern railway, arrived here from the west today with stories of the golden flood of grain that is being rushed eastward and also to the Pacific coast as fast as the freight trains of the granger road can haul it.

With the grain and livestock movement the northwest is booming and earnings of the northwestern roads are still even passing their previous records, according to Mr. Hill.

"The Great Northern," said Mr. Hill, "is carrying eastward three quarters of a million bushels a day. Then there is a grain movement toward the Pacific coast on all the western roads which aggregates 250,000 bushels a day."

LITTLE PROGRESS IN PETTIBONE CASE

Regular Venire Exhausted With Seven Men in Jury Box Subject to Challenge.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Boise, Idaho, Nov. 27.—After the first day's examination of witnesses in the case of George A. Pettibone, charged with the murder of former Governor Frank Steiensen, seven men are in the jury box who have answered questions as to their qualifications satisfactory to counsel of the state. Much better progress than was expected was made. The regular venire ordered Sheriff Hodgson to be exhausted before noon. An adjournment to this afternoon, and 70 or 100 will report Monday morning, when the work of securing a jury will be continued. Judge Wood intimated today that he would not allow the latitude in challenges that he permitted in the Haywood trial. He also announced that longer sessions would be held each day in order to conclude the trial as quickly as possible.

L. H. Rutin was excused because he was opposed to capital punishment. J. R. Compton said that he had a fixed and settled opinion in the case, and the challenge of the state was allowed. Charles H. Schriener could not meet the requirements because of opposition to capital punishment. Joseph Kinkaid, a farmer, was accepted by the state. John Gakey was the man who was called in the Haywood trial, and who was excused for business reasons, but failed to qualify because of convictions against capital punishment, and the next five witnesses examined were excused for the same reason. P. Clark, farmer, stated that he had no opinion as to the guilt or innocence of Pettibone, and was passed for cause. The last name the venire was that of William Goodall, who failed to pass for cause as a juror in the Haywood trial. He said that he had an opinion, but could lay it aside and try the case fairly. He was accepted by the state. Judge Wood ordered Sheriff Hodgson to bring a special venire of one hundred from the county and ordered court adjourned until Monday morning.

CASHIER WILL APPEAR IN COURT AGAINST BANKERS

New York, Nov. 27.—It was said tonight by one interested in the prosecution that ex-cashier Arthur D. Campbell, of the Borough bank of Brooklyn, would appear as a witness for the state when the cases against other bankers who had dealings with the Borough bank were brought to trial. Campbell himself is under indictment on two charges of grand larceny and one of forgery, and though he has been released, he was said to have been committed to a special venire of one hundred from the county and ordered court adjourned until Monday morning.

DAUGHTER OF SECRETARY ROOT WEDS U. S. GRANT

Grandson of Famous President Wins Washington Society Belle.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The wedding of Miss Edith Root, daughter of the late Secretary of War, and Lieutenant U. S. Grant, corps of engineers, United States army, was solemnized at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. B. Root, formerly chaplain at West Point, officiating.

In the bridal party were the bride's cousin, Ruth Wales of New York, and the bride's sister, Miss Edith Root, of Chicago, as maid of honor and best man, and the following gentlemen: Elmer Root, Jr., and Edward Wales Root, brothers of the bride.

The invited guests numbered about 100, gathered from many points. President and Mrs. Roosevelt were present and the former escorted the bride to the dining room, where he offered a toast to the "long life and happiness of the couple."

TREASURY BUYS SILVER

Washington, Nov. 27.—The treasury department purchased today 100,000 ounces of silver for delivery at San Francisco at 27.52 1/2 per fine ounce.

FRESH GRIEF FOR YOUNG DENVER BLACKMAILER

Bigelow Must Answer for Sending Dynamite Bombs to Prominent Denver People.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 27.—The motion to quash the new case, filed against Kemp V. Bigelow, who sent bombs to a number of prominent Denver men, argued today before Judge Bliss, was refused.

Bigelow's attorney argued that after a jury had found the defendant guilty of simple assault in sending a bomb to David H. Moffatt, he could not be prosecuted on similar charges as the sending of the several bombs constituted one offense. The court refused to sustain this motion and Bigelow will be tried on these other cases and also on the charge of attempting a confidence game. After the state authorities learn how he will be turned over to the federal authorities.

"The Great Northern," said Mr. Hill, "is carrying eastward three quarters of a million bushels a day. Then there is a grain movement toward the Pacific coast on all the western roads which aggregates 250,000 bushels a day."

When asked about the report of a strike between the Hill and Herriman interests, Mr. Hill said that it was a revival of an old story. He declined to discuss the subject, but said that there were no disputes between Mr. Herriman and himself.

RECEIVER APPOINTED FOR SILK CONCERN

Financial Stringency and Inability to Raise Ready Money Assigned As Cause of Company's Difficulty.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Nov. 27.—Being hampered by a lack of ready funds with which to continue its business, the American Silk company, which has a capital stock of $11,000,000 and operates mills in several cities, was placed in the hands of a receiver today by Judge Wood, of the United States circuit court. The application for the receivership was made by L. J. Hunt, a lawyer, representing Lotte Brothers company and Samuel Ruby, both of York, Pa., and who, in the complaint stated that the American Silk company operates a large plant in West Chester, N. J., and owns and controls the stock of the York Silk Manufacturing company, of York, Pa., the Monarch Silk company, also of York, Pa., and the American Silk company, of New Jersey, in addition with a plant at Reynoldsville, N. J.

The main offices of the company are in this city. The petitioners set forth that the American Silk company is indebted to the sum of $4,215.

The petitioners further represent that besides the amount due them there are now outstanding notes and bills payable to the amount approximately of $475,000, a portion of which is due to the petitioners.

The company in its answer admits its inability to raise sufficient money to carry on the business. This situation, they say, is due to the present financial stringency.

Judge Wood appointed Bernard Shulberg of York, Pa., and Charles V. Lohr of this city, receivers for the company and gave them authority to continue the operations of the company and take any steps necessary to keep the business going. It is understood that the assets are sufficient to pay all creditors in full.

DENY CHRISTMAS IS ABOLISHED

Ruling of New York Board of Education Permits Singing of Carols By Pupils.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) New York, Nov. 27.—Christmas carols may still be sung and the holiday will be observed along traditional lines in the public schools of this city so far as the local authorities are concerned. Late today the board of education unanimously adopted a resolution which permits the singing of carols in the schools.

The board's action was not as opposed to the observance of the holiday as the board of education had previously indicated. In fact, members of the board declared afterward that there had never been any intention of abolishing these programs and that the agitation has arisen from a misunderstanding.

A resolution adopted by the board last February. This resolution provides that strictly sectarian matters must not be introduced into the schools, and it was reported that all reference to Christmas had been stricken from the program. The board's action today was a reversal of this position.

The board's decision was based on the fact that the singing of carols is a secular activity and that the board has no objection to the observance of the holiday in a secular manner.

SOUTH DAKOTA BANK FORCED TO SUSPEND

Hot Springs, S. D., Nov. 27.—The Hot Springs National bank closed its doors at 8 o'clock this morning owing to the financial stringency and inability to realize on collateral.

The causes of the failure are generally rather than local. The bank's deposits have gradually fallen off during the past six months and while its securities are considered good, they were unable to realize upon them from eastern sources. The assets of the bank are about $165,000, with liabilities of about $130,000. The deposits amount to $184,000, with loans and discounts of $111,000. G. D. Hoarse was cashier and principal stockholder and believes the depositors will eventually be paid in full. None of the business men were seriously involved by the failure.

FATAL LOGGING HOUSE FIRE

Seven Bodies Taken From the Blazing Ruins of Kansas City Building Believed to Contain Other Dead.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Kansas City, Nov. 28.—Fire caused by an explosion of natural gas in a rooming house occupied by 200 railroad laborers at St. Louis avenue and Santa Fe street, this morning, resulted in the death and fatal injury of many of the inmates. Seven bodies, burned beyond recognition, have been taken from the ruins. The fire was a frightful one and another was fought by jumping from a second story window.

FUGITIVE INVADERS CAPTURED IN BRAZIL

Rio de Janeiro, Nov. 27.—Dispatches received from Ithaca state that all the fugitives who made their escape from that town after they had given fight to the authorities there Monday, have been captured and are now in the hands of the police at the town of Mocimbo, about thirty miles distant from Ithaca, after a brief engagement with the police.

The companion of Rigall, who was killed after the assault of Ithaca, was known as Major Davies. The man who was captured at the same time in a Scotchman by the name of George Gordon.

FORGETFUL WITNESS IN TRIAL OF BANKER WALSH

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Assistant District Attorney Dobyns, who is chief counsel for the government in the trial of John R. Walsh, on charges of misapplying funds of the defunct Chicago State bank, made an unsuccessful attempt to impeach the testimony of B. B. McKay, former private secretary to the defendant, in the federal court here today.

The forgetfulness of McKay brought an early clash with Mr. Dobyns. The witness was shown a certain deposit slip for $200,000, and asked if he had deposited it with a check for a like amount to Mr. Walsh's private account. On his failure to remember, Mr. Dobyns asked if he had not so testified before the federal grand jury that indicted his former employer.

The happenings of a grand jury are supposed to be secret, interrupted Attorney Miller, for the defense. The government cannot impeach its own witness in this manner.

Judge Anderson sustained the procedure, but ruled with the defense because foundation for impeachment had not been laid. The government attorney then endeavored to establish such a foundation. But the failure of the witness to recollect anything except generalities balked him. The court finally ordered an adjournment until Friday.

ORDERS VAGRANCY LAW STRICTLY ENFORCED

Louisiana Governor Determined Idle Men Shall Work or Move.

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 27.—For the benefit of the cotton and sugar fields, Governor Blanchard today sent instructions to every sheriff in Louisiana, strictly to enforce the vagrancy law. This means that idle men will be forced to seek work or leave the community. Agricultural laborers are much needed.

What Would You Do?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator, and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces of the body, such as the throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large per cent of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the lungs, the throat, the stomach, the bowels, or the bladder, or any other mucous surface. FREE MUSIC FOR THE MASSES BY THE MANHOLE ROUTE

CURIOUS CONCERT FOR THE BROADWAY CROWD

The Most Difficult Book in the World to Publish Just Bought
Out in Gotham.

New York, Nov. 28.—Musical man-hous on Broadway, from which issued sweet strains of well known selections, have proved the sensation of the week. New York's streets have never been noted particularly for their cleanliness, but as purveyors of free music for the masses by the manhole route their success, judged by their first accomplishment, is undoubted.
The first discovery of this subterranean melody was made by two negroes who, while strolling along Broadway, were surprised to hear music pealing from a manhole near the corner of Twenty-sixth street. It was a ringing cornet solo, rendered with great spirit, and the two immediately fell into a violent discussion as to what the player was doing under the street, and how he had gotten there. Before they could decide to call the police a large audience had collected and when the solo gave place to the strains of a full band the applause was enthusiastic. Further applause at the end of the selection tailed to produce an encore, but when someone dropped a nickel down the manhole, as a contribution to the band, supposedly concealed beneath it, with others following suit, the music suddenly began again continuing enthusiastically through many hours.
Eventually members of the traffic squad had to disperse the audience of music lovers which was completely blocking the streets. Meanwhile the occasional pauses the music continued through the night to the delight of thousands, and not until the following day the cause brought to light.
Then it was discovered that there was a leak in the electric wires over which music is sent by a company which transmits it from a central producing station to hotels, halls and private residences. It was one of these wires which had short circuited, thus giving Broadway a free concert, a mystery, and a sensation all at once.

New York is now to out-rival the splendor of the ancient Roman baths of Caracalla, famed as the most sumptuous the world has ever known.
Father Knickerbocker's effort in this kind unless the whole department hardly be called for service of the line, however, is to be in the equipment of the fire ready for dynamite duty, but they, of course, would meet of a barrier, and the $150 will really merit the much abused name of "tonorial palace." The new regal hair-cutting and shaving establishment is to be in the corner of the great railway terminals now being built. The whole construction is to be of marble and glass. Each barber chair will be surrounded by a canopy and velvet hangings. There are to be ten shower baths, all finished in marble, and each man will have a little glass apartment all his own.
Marble benches like those in the Roman baths will line the walls, and each barber chair will be directly in front of its own marble washstand. It will undoubtedly be the costliest and most splendid barber shop in the world, but it is not yet known whether the finest suggestion of all to the effect that only mutes be employed in it will be adopted.

For the first time in the history of the New York fire department the much talked of, but never used, famous "three-five" alarm was rung in this week. This is the call for papers and mites, to be used only when a conflagration has gotten so far out of control that dynamite must be used to stop the flames. The call itself makes it incumbent only on the lieutenants of each fire company in the district designated to rally to it. The lieutenant was the first to be heard when the call was received. The horror of such a conflagration as the "three fives" would indicate, for the whole matter was merely a test on the part of Chief Crocker to discover how the fire department would respond to an alarm which none of its members had ever heard rung in. A lieutenant was on hand with a watch, and a list of the men to check them off as they arrived, and the results showed that while New York is not anxious for a repetition of the Francisco catastrophe, her firemen can be depended on for very prompt action if the necessity ever arises.

The appearance of the fall edition of the New York telephone directory has caused some interesting facts to be brought to light in connection with this publication. One is that it is the most widely circulated book in the city, not exempting even the Bible and the city directory, which are its nearest competitors. Another is that the growth in the use of telephones in New York has caused the Bell companies to build up a publishing department larger than that of many prosperous book houses just to handle the preparation and delivery of this single volume. Something like 250,000,000 pages are required for each edition of the book and if all the copies were placed in a single pile they would form a column seven and a half miles high or about two feet higher than the loftiest mountain in the world. The popular novelist who could secure such a demand for his works as exists for the telephone book in the matter of income. That an enormous bill for printing and publishing forms one of the costliest of the company's telephone service is a thought that probably never has occurred to the writers who daily consult the big directories. It is said that the account of the endless changing of addresses which is going on all the time in New York and the tens of thousands of new names that have to be added for each edition, this is the most difficult book in the world to edit, print and publish.

The most novel invention to come to the metropolis in many months has just arrived in the shape of what French designers call a "canot-volant." Translated into every day American this is a canoe-car, and the new machine is just what its name implies, that is a combination of an automobile and auto-boat, which actually run both on land or water, as the case may be. When running on land this strange craft or car has much the appearance of a rowboat partially decked over, or that of a small torpedo boat mounted on wheels. Like the ordinary auto it has four wheels, which as the new creation is intended primarily for war use, are armored and non-puncturable. The screw, which is taken aboard when the canoe-car is running on land, is projected in the rear when it takes to the water, and the wheels which are placed considerably below the body, sink out of sight, leaving it in appearance much like an ordinary motor boat. The car proper is about eighteen feet long, is supplied with high power gasoline engines and is capable of high speed on both land and water.

To see it skim along a river, approach the bank, surmount it and chug on over some highway is an event causing much surprise. There is a ready talk of a "canot-volant" for pleasure trips, a feature which would provide tourists with yachts capable of running on land, and are equally adaptable to navigating the water, a suggestion which offers great possibilities for extended cruising. Then, too, the owner of a "canot-volant," if pursued by a policeman on land for speeding, could take to the nearest water and easily escape.

LANGDON, FOE OF GRAFT, IN NEW YORK

District Attorney to Edilights Goth-amites on Methods Pursued in San Francisco.

New York, Nov. 27.—William H.
Langdon, district attorney of San Francisco, who led the legal fight against business and political corruption in this city, arrived here tonight.
He will visit Washington and then return here to speak before the Civic Forum on the democracy of graft on December 11. Mr. Langdon said that the recent election in San Francisco had had a good effect and that conscience, which had been wavering, was restored. It had been shown clearly, he said, that labor had decided to keep out of politics. Mayor Taylor had the confidence of honest labor leaders and was acting independently. He said there was no doubt that any city could be cleaned politically if the same lines were followed as in San Francisco.
Mr. Langdon said that the Japanese problem was a big one on the Pacific coast and would continue to be so until it was removed by legislation. He said he thought the question would be raised in the next national conventions. When shown a report from San Francisco which stated that he had come from San Francisco to be married, he said:
"The district attorney pleads 'not guilty.'"

PRINCESS THREATENS BELGIAN COURT SCANDAL

Brussels, Nov. 27.—During the course of a hearing today on an appeal of the creditors against the court's granting a delay of three weeks in the sale of the jewels of the late queen Henrietta, of Belgium, a touching letter from Princess Louise, to whom the jewels were willed, was read in which she relates her sufferings. "I have kept silent," says the princess, "to keep sacred the memory of my mother, but our adversaries desire a scandal and they shall have it."
In the letter the princess announces her intention to die her former husband and the trustee to the estate before the court to render an accounting of the property entrusted to them by her marriage contract. She accuses the trustees of having abandoned her interests when she was confined in an asylum, allowing Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha to enjoy her property. She adds that under the marriage settlement it is the princess who is responsible for the payment of her debts. Judgement in the case will be rendered on Monday.

The Laziest Man.
One of the contractors in Panama was much annoyed by the exceeding laziness of the sixty native workmen under him. He resolved to try to make them ashamed of their indolence, so one day he lined them up and said:
"Now, I've got a nice easy job for the laziest man in this company. Will the laziest man please step forward?"
Fifty-nine of them stepped forward.
The contractor turned to the other who stood still, looking almost too indolent to stand, and said:
"Why didn't you come forward with the others?"
And the answer came in a weary voice:
"I'm too lazy."—Judge's Library.

CONVENTIONS WHICH HELP TO BUILD BIG CITIES

What the Transmississippi Commercial Congress Has Done for the Town of Muskogee, Oklahoma.

A LIVE CITY THAT IS MISSING NO BETS

An Interesting Story of Conditions in the New State; Its Troubles and Advantages, by Will C. Barnes.

(By Will C. Barnes.)

Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 22.—If meetings such as the Transmississippi congress did no other good they would be a good investment both for the town in which they are held and the men who attend them.

When you throw together a thousand or fifteen hundred wide-awake, active Americans, drawn from all over the west, from Oregon to Illinois, the exchange of ideas, the widening of their views, is worth untold sums to the country at large and the citizenship.

To the most of us coming to this meeting Muskogee was a surprise. The whole country of Oklahoma was, too. Over and over again one heard delegates expressing their unbounded wonder and astonishment at the city, its business blocks, paved streets and general air of prosperity. While we all expected to see a wide-awake western city—few looked for as much development.

Lying as it does right in the center of a great coal and gas belt, on top of which is one of the finest agricultural soils in the whole west, watered by splendid streams of pure, soft water, it certainly has all the conditions for growth and greatness.

While the town is an old one, it is just in the last six years, since congress passed a township law by which a title to the city could be secured, that it has jumped from a straggling little village of 3,000 or 4,000 to a city of 25,000.

With five lines of railroads passing through it, they have plenty of good railroad facilities, while they hope to get congress to take hold of the project to dredge out the channel of the Arkansas river, which here receives the flow of the Verde river and Grand rivers, making it from here down a good sized stream and needing but little work to restore it to its former usefulness in that respect.

All about the city rise great oil wells, and the oil is pumped out of the very highest grade.

They took us out to see a 1500-barrel gusher, and turned the oil on for our pleasure, and saw it spout up over a hundred feet in a lawn, only fountain, with a roar like the escape from a locomotive. Most of the wells require pumping, but many do not, the gas giving them plenty of force.

The oil is piped off by the pipe line company to the refinery.

Coal is plentiful, and about like ours in New Mexico. Natural gas is piped everywhere and is used for fuel at about three cents per thousand feet. The city itself is a well built city. There are probably thirty or forty blocks in the business part of two, three and four, and in one or two cases six-story brick and some buildings that would do credit to any of our largest cities.

The policemen are all in uniform.

CHARITY BALL WILL BE CHIEF EVENT OF THE DAY

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR ANNUAL FUNCTION

Liberal Patronage For Annual Society Gathering Held For the Benefit of the Needy.

The chief social event of Thanksgiving day in Albuquerque will be the annual Charity ball of the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society, in Elks hall tonight. The charity ball has become an established institution here and each year the attention given it is greater and the ball becomes a more important social event. Its mission is a worthy one, for every dollar received from tickets goes for the assistance of the poor during the winter months. There are a great many people in Albuquerque this year who need assistance. The resources of the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society are very limited and almost its only source of large revenue is from this ball. Every man in Albuquerque who cares to help along the most worthy of all causes, should go to the ball tonight, or at least should provide himself with a bunch of tickets.

In addition to the worthiness of the object, the ball is always a remarkably enjoyable event and tonight's affair promises to be the most pleasant of them all. Mrs. Alfred Grandfield, who is in charge of the arrangements, assisted by the members of the Benevolent society, has spared no effort to make the ball a success and the arrangements are complete.

The dancing will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Committees in charge of floor and on reception are as follows:

Floor—Sam Pickard, John Lee, Clark, D. A. Macpherson, Harry Weiler, Harry P. Lee, Felix H. Lester, Walter Jaffe, D. S. Rosenthal, E. Abern.

Reception—Ira A. Abbott, O. N. Miron, J. O. O'Reilly, P. A. Hubbell, Frank McKee, J. Glover, M. W. Plourde, Alfred Grandfield, J. M. Wilkinson, G. L. Brooks, Noa Ufford, H. Day, W. S. Strickler, P. W. Blaney, D. H. Carns, J. Viskard, J. W. Blaney, J. Viskard, J. W. Blaney.

The American Lumber company's fire department will give its second annual ball in Columbus hall tonight. The committee in charge has arranged for a very large attendance and the ball promises to be the most brilliant event of a year ago. The sale of tickets indicates an increased attendance. The best of music has been obtained and the firemen are prepared to give their guests a royal good time.

Many Social Affairs.

The Thanksgiving day and evening will be marked with a great many small social affairs, dinner parties, etc., showing that Albuquerque people are in the spirit of Thanksgiving.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 19.—A Sunday without a newspaper, no street cars to ride on, no telephone or telegraph service, no tobacco, confectionery, soda water on sale, and, of course, no open saloons—these are the conditions that still exist in Albuquerque, New Mexico's largest city, if the court holds that the present Sunday closing law is constitutional.

The matter is now being tested in court and the decision is anxiously awaited. Warrants have already been served on the proprietors of shops and saloons that have pleaded guilty, declaring that hereafter they will obey the law. The managers of the Morning Journal and the Bell Telephone company were also served with warrants.

With the county treasurer's office closed today on account of the legal holiday, just two days remain in which to pay taxes for the first half.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

John Marr, the recruit who "worked" the United States consular offices here and at Las Vegas, and who was arrested at Trinidad, Colo., and who was discharged, as the war department does not care to prosecute him, and the Trinidad authorities have no charge by which they can hold him.

All of the wholesale houses in Albuquerque will be closed all day today on account of Thanksgiving.

THE NON SECTARIAN BALL WILL TAKE PLACE THIS EVENING IN THE ELKS BALL ROOM. PATRONS MAY SECURE THEIR TICKETS AT MATSON'S.

of the present year. The delinquency law goes into effect on taxes unpaid after Saturday, November 20, and with only tomorrow and Saturday in which to pay up, business promises to be good at the treasurer's office. For the past week the business has been doubling itself every day, and the treasurer's deputy and assistant have been the busiest people in the county. They expect to be swamped during the two remaining days.

Taxpayers on almost every street car during business hours are heard to moan bitterly on the irony of having to give thanks on one day and cough up the tax money on the next.

One Variety of Advertising That May Or May Not Prove Valuable to the City.

That Albuquerque is getting one variety of advertising just now which is of questionable value is shown by dispatches appearing in smaller newspapers all over the country, describing the horrors of Sunday closing here, as enforced under the blue law. The United Press, a secondary news distributing association, has the following which has appeared in all its papers:

HUNTING IS GOOD IN NEW MEXICO THIS YEAR

Albuquerque Hunters Return With Trophies of the Chase and All Sorts of Stories.

From the stories told by hunting parties from Albuquerque how returning from the hills, this is a fine season for game in New Mexico. Almost every party that comes in from the mountains brings in a story of a big kill, including almost everything from jack rabbits to mountain lions.

Yesterday Dr. D. H. Carns and his brother, Lee Carns of Pittsburg, Pa., returned from a week's hunt in the Mogollon mountains. They brought with them two fine sets of antlers, taken from two buck deer killed on this hunt, together with several wild turkeys, a coyote skin and a wild cat skin.

Dr. Carns and his brother went to the Mogollon country from the Puerco ranch near Magdalena and the eastern man says that he has encountered no finer sport anywhere than he found in southern New Mexico.

Another Hunting Story.

R. H. Greenleaf, Ed Steiner and Ed Becker returned yesterday from a three days' hunt in the Rio Puerco country. They are ready to swear to the following record: 123 rabbits, 2 mountain lions, and 2 wild turkeys.

RAILROAD NOTES.

R. D. Constant, night ticket agent at the depot, is confined to his room on account of sickness. Harry J. Potts, day ticket agent, is taking care of both jobs as a result.

M. R. Woods, traveling auditor for the coast line, was a railroad visitor here yesterday.

D. A. Shupe, general foreman of the B. & O. department at Fresno, Cal., returned to California yesterday morning. He was formerly located at Winslow, Ariz.

WONDER WHY TAFT CUT OUT ALL MONARCHS

IN ORDER TO BESTOW ATTENTION ON CZAR

Change in Itinerary of the War Secretary Cause For Lively Speculation Among Diplomats At Washington.

[Special Correspondence Morning Journal.]

Washington, Nov. 24.—There has been much comment in Washington among the members of the diplomatic corps and politicians as to why the itinerary of Secretary Taft on his way home by the way of Europe should have been so changed as to include a visit to the czar. It is generally avoided a meeting with the ruler of any other European people. The war secretary will spend two, and possibly three, days in St. Petersburg and every possible attention will be shown him by the officials of the Russian government. Ever since he set foot on Russian soil at far off Vladivostok Russian officials have been eager to look after his comfort and make his visit and his journey safe and pleasant. The private car used by the former governor Alexieff was put at the disposal of the secretary and his party and while the journey across Siberia might have been very comfortable in an ordinary sleeping car, it undoubtedly approached something luxurious in this official vehicle.

Those who look for some political reason for this attention to the American secretary and for some inkling of the purposes of the administration in permitting Mr. Taft to avail himself of it, naturally find it as an outgrowth of the recent anti-American sentiment on the part of Japanese people. It is held by many far-seeing Americans that if the Japanese ever did force war between this country and the government of the mikado an alliance with Russia would be a very good thing to have on hand as a military weapon. It is no secret that Russia in endeavoring to recover from the ill effects of her war with Japan and that she is learning from the lessons that campaign taught her.

That Russia can fight under proper conditions history proves, and the war with Japan showed Russia was not prepared for that encounter. Nor is it reasonable to suppose that the "great bear" has abandoned hope of ever recovering the prestige it lost in the fight with the Japanese. Anything that would weaken the Japanese would be welcomed by Russians and the attitude of the representatives of that government at the recent Hague conference, when they refused to let their own hands concerning Russia in her ports, indicates that Russia would be only too willing to afford all possible assistance to the United States in the untoward event of war with Japan.

Whether it be true or not that the visit of Secretary Taft may be utilized to sound the call of a personal conference, it is apparent that the diplomatic corps put this construction on his visit. The big battleship fleet will be in the Pacific early in the new year and if there is any serious rumbling in the Orient over the drawing near of this fleet it would be comfortable for the administration to know precisely what might be depended upon in the neighborhood of the Japan sea if the American ships were in that vicinity and needed the assistance of a friendly port. All this may be but idle talk but the fact remains that the visit of Secretary Taft to St. Petersburg has opened up the whole field of conjecture in connection with the relations of the United States and Japan.

For some time the war department has been making experiments with the equipment of the army with the end in view of removing everything that would make the enlisted man a target for the enemy. While this is a war cloud on the horizon, the most exhaustive experiments along this line have been conducted and it ever the American soldier is again required while on march against an enemy he will be an inconspicuous object while on the march and in action as he can be made.

The problem of ridding the military equipment of everything that will reflect the same rays and thus become a target upon the eyes of the men is rapidly being solved. While this of itself is a distinct advantage, the more important consideration is the fact that which attracts the sun's rays of the sun presents a shining surface for the sharpshooters of the enemy.

One of the most conspicuous objects of this character was found in the tin cup which ordinarily is carried outside the haversack or saddlebag. Among the suggestions to overcome the light reflected by this piece of tin was one prepared by General Kuroki, the Japanese general when in this country. This consisted of Japaning the tin, which gives it a dull color, but the results of the test were not satisfactory. The cups were next covered with canvas, but still the results were not encouraging. Now it has been decided that collapsible cups that can be carried inside the saddlebags or haversacks shall be used, and that much of the problem has been solved.

Another portion of the soldier's outfit that would attract the eye at long distance in the sunlight is the tin tin packet containing the "first aid to the injured" outfit, which every soldier carries. It is usually strapped to the belt and as its surface wears shiny, it makes an excellent target and a target on a vital portion of the human figure. This packet is to be covered with canvas and strapped to the belt in a way to produce the least amount of reflection. It is not practicable to carry this in a haversack, as that portion of an equipment is thrown aside in action. No way of preventing the glistening of the guns or sabres has yet been devised.

Elias S. Holaday, of the Fifth Indiana district in congress, is one of the oldest members of his state delegation, an estimable old gentleman whom everybody loves. He, also, is the only old soldier from Indiana in congress. When one knows the absolute impossibility of the old man in re-member names and faces, until he has become well acquainted, he wonders how so poor a political mixer could ever get in congress. This, however, is the only fault Mr. Holaday has.

At Washington, at the beginning of the 27th congress, "Jim" Watson, of Indiana, the republican "ship" dock, him in hand to make him feel at home. In doing this Watson introduced his colleague to everybody who came along and particularly the members from Indiana. As they were sitting in the republican cloak room one morning discussing Indiana politics, Representative Brick, also from the Hoosier state, dropped in and Watson introduced Mr. Holaday to his fellow Hoosier.

"And where do you come from?" asked Mr. Holaday.

"I'm from the 13th district, from South Bend," replied Mr. Brick.

The next day Watson and Holaday were again together when Brick happened along. Seeing that his colleague did not recognize Brick, Watson said: "You remember Mr. Brick, don't you Mr. Holaday? You know I introduced to him yesterday."

"Oh, yes," responded Mr. Holaday, and falling to locate him, asked: "And where do you come from, Mr. Brick?"

"Oh, I'm still from South Bend," replied Brick without the shadow of a smile, while "Jim" Watson had to retire suddenly to the cloakroom to prevent his colleague from witnessing his convulsive laughter.

Mr. Holaday knows his colleagues now, however, and there isn't a better working member than the forgetful statesman from the 13th Indiana district.

WILD TRIBESMEN INVADE ALGERIAN PLANTATIONS

Paris, Nov. 27.—Advice received here from Algeria state that the agitation among the turbulent frontier tribes is unabated. The governor of Algeria telegraphs that two thousand of the tribesmen invaded Algerian territory ravaging many gardens and burning haystacks, after which they retired. The governor has received an urgent request for troops from the mayor of Nemours, who says that the town is threatened by hordes of Arabs. Accordingly additional forces will be sent there to exact exemplary satisfaction.

SMALL PROSPECT OF ANTI-JAP LEGISLATION

Washington, Nov. 27.—It is improbable that any legislation looking to the exclusion of Japanese will receive the approval of the executive until an opportunity has been had to test the efficacy of the new regulations that the Japanese government is preparing with a view to regulating immigration. Such advice as the state department has received indicates that in preparing these regulations the Japanese government is acting in perfect harmony with the desires of our own government and it is deemed only proper that they should be submitted to a test before any legislation is attempted.

FELTON'S APPOINTMENT PLEASES MEXICO CITY

Mexico City, Nov. 27.—Satisfaction is expressed here in railroad and general business circles at the appointment of S. H. Felton, former president of the Chicago and Alton, to the presidency of the Mexican Central. The appointment was made in the fact that Eben Richards, who has held the post, is too much occupied with his other duties at New York to give to the affairs of the Mexican Central the personal attention which the importance of the property and the growing developments of its business demands.

The charter of the system requires its president to be in active charge of operations in Mexico.

Mr. Richards will retain his former position as vice president and general counsel of the Mexican Central. It is learned from reliable officials that Mr. Felton's appointment does not in any manner effect the merger situation which is merely awaiting for its realization an improvement of conditions in the world's chief financial centers.

IMPORTANT EXTENSION OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Laying of Rails Has Begun on Line From Lafayette to Baton Rouge, Short Route Across State for Through Freight.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 26.—Laying of rails has begun on an important extension of the M. L. and T. railroad of the Southern Pacific system, from Lafayette to Baton Rouge. When completed this line will form a short route across the state for through freight shipments from New York and the east, which now move by way of New Orleans. Although the line is only fifty-three miles long, by cutting out the land detour southward to New Orleans it saves 180 miles, resulting in a great economy of cost and time on westbound shipments.

The most difficult part of the new road was the crossing of the famous Atchafalaya swamp, where it was necessary to construct twelve miles of trestle work. This will be filled in as soon as rails are laid to the eastern boundary of the swamp.

From Lafayette the extension passes through the Anse La Butte oil country, and then enters the Grand Point Prairie, one of the most fertile cotton sections of the state. Sugar cultivation will also be greatly encouraged by the new line. Sixteen miles from Lafayette the Atchafalaya swamp is encountered. Much of the swamp is overflowed part of the year, making very difficult the necessary trestle construction. Atchafalaya river is crossed by a trestle bridge 450 feet long.

Between the swamp section and the Mississippi the new line traverses about eight miles of valuable hard timber land. At the river there will be a passenger and freight ferry to the capital, similar to the ferry operated at New Orleans.

THOUSAND POUNDS OF TURKEY

BOUGHT BY ALBUQUERQUE PEOPLE THIS WEEK

To Say Nothing of Geese, Ducks, Little Roast Pigs and Every Day Meats—Currency Stringency Skidoo.

That upward of twenty thousand pounds of turkey, dressed and alive, have been sold to the people of Albuquerque within the past two weeks is the rather surprising fact brought out by a Morning Journal reporter yesterday through visit to a dozen or more local markets and from figures furnished by the larger dealers in poultry. The number of turkeys this means, it is difficult to compute, because turkeys vary in weight, according to the dealers, much more than do chickens, geese and ducks, and the turkeys this year are averaging greater weight than ever before. The reason for the increase in weight hinges out the further interesting fact that a very large proportion of the turkeys sold here this year were grown in the vicinity of Albuquerque and sold alive or fresh dressed and that there has been a sharp decrease in the number of cold-storage birds showing that Albuquerque is becoming a poultry producing center. The home bird invariably weighs more than the cold storage article.

At a late estimate, gathered from the statements of the dealers, more than six hundred turkeys will be consumed in Albuquerque this year. The going for Christmas and New Year's dinners. For apparently it is the custom of the prudent Albuquerque housewife to buy two or three turkeys at once, if she has a means of caring for them, the left over bird or birds being carefully fattened for Christmas or New Year's dinner.

"Talk about the financial stringency," said one of the big dealers in live and dressed birds yesterday. "Why, if there is a flurry it hasn't hit Albuquerque. About the first place people cut down, when hard times come, is in household expenses, and the demand for turkeys and Thanksgiving things has broken out here." The proprietor of this market said that his books showed a sale of more than 2,000 pounds of turkeys for this week alone, and the buying has been going on for two weeks. The other large markets show similar records for business and the smaller ones and those which only do an occasional poultry business have all had lots of trade.

And when one considers that turkey costs more this year than ever before, to the tune of two or three cents a pound, the sale of turkeys here does not make a noise like a panic. The Thanksgiving business this year has smashed last year's high record.

Kansas Product Still in Demand.

While the local product is rapidly gaining place in the market, the turkey industry is becoming important hereabouts. The Kansas turkey continues to hold the premier position in the market. The few Kansas turkeys in larger and generally fatter than the native bird, having been carefully corn fed on a system. Albuquerque birds have been a second choice, although a few feeders have been able to command top prices. Next year the dealers say some of the poultry raisers in the valley will have brought their birds up to the standard of the Kansas feature which has worked against the local raisers this year is that the turkey season was a little late, and a good many growers are holding their birds for Christmas, when they will have a good deal more weight.

Guiding their orders by the Thanksgiving demand, Albuquerque dealers are placing larger orders than ever before for the Christmas dinner turkey. Texas appeared on the market this year with some fairly good turkeys, but they did not take here with the Kansas or even with the home grown gobbler.

In addition to the call for turkeys, there has been considerable demand for ducks and geese, the former selling at from 15 to 20 cents the pound and the latter at from 18 to 25 cents. Not many chickens have been sold during the week ending here with the Kansas or even with the home grown gobbler.

PADIA HELD TO THE GRAND JURY

Case From San Rafael Has Some Interesting Features and Promises to Develop Others.

Zerachia Padia, justice of the peace at San Rafael, Valencia county, who was brought to Albuquerque Tuesday charged with violating a federal statute, and after an exciting experience with some of his fellow citizens at San Rafael, who allege that he bound them over to the grand jury as justice of the peace, after assuming them as a private citizen, was arraigned before United States Commissioner H. H. Whiting in Old Albuquerque yesterday, waited examination and was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 bail, which was promptly furnished. Padia's father, Marcel Padia y Chavez, a wealthy and influential citizen of San Rafael, came to Albuquerque yesterday and appeared in court with his son, whom he alleges, is the victim of some very determined enemies. Attorneys Chavez and Sedillo appear for Padia.

In the charge of violation of the Edmunds act, for which Padia is bound over to the grand jury, the complaining witnesses are Juanita Padia, wife of the defendant, who alleges that her husband has been unfaithful to his marriage vows and that he has been having an affair with some woman living in San Rafael. These charges were also made in a suit for divorce which Mrs. Padia filed in district court for Valencia county about the first of November. To this petition Padia has filed an answer in which he specifically denies all of the charges.

Padia's other troubles, in which he became entangled some days ago, will come up in justice court at Culiac, Valencia county, at noon on the 29th. The proceedings here are ended. The complainants in this case are Martin Ga-

PARIS THREATENED WITH ANOTHER DREYFUS CASE

Young Jewish Officer Seized For Looting Naval Archives; Attributes His Downfall to Opium Smoking.

(By Henri Dubois.)

Paris, Nov. 23.—Secret documents of the greatest importance stolen from the archives of the French navy department are, it is feared, in the possession of the Kaiser's government through the treason of Benjamin Climo, commander of a torpedo boat belonging to the Mediterranean squadron, who has just been arrested and who ascribes his downfall to opium smoking, the vice which has incapacitated so many French officers in the navy.

The affair, which promises to be as sensational as the Dreyfus case has stirred up a terrible sensation here and has caused the outbreak of anti-semitism as Ulmo like Dreyfus is a Jew.

The traitor, who is said to have made a confession, is twenty-five years old and until a few months ago was considered a loyal and promising officer. Recently he had lived very extravagantly at Toulon with a young woman known as "La Belle Lisbon."

During the last week of September the French minister of marine received an anonymous letter mailed from Toulon. The writer stated that he had in his possession valuable secret documents which he was ready to sell to the government for $5,000 francs. One of these was the key to secret naval correspondence and signaling.

When no notice was taken of the letter, a second one containing photographs of some of the documents was received by the minister, advising him that unless the money was forthcoming the original documents would be sold to Germany.

The letters were then turned over to the secret service and one of the cleverest detectives of the department, M. Seillie, soon discovered the identity of the writer and his accomplice, making friends with the traitor. They became quite intimate and obtained valuable proof of the double life Ulmo had been leading.

He confided to his new friends that the extravagance of "La Belle Lisbon" had ruined him but added that he expected soon to make a fortune from an invention of his.

When everything was ready an emissary from the government arranged to meet Ulmo in a lonely place near Toulon and hand over the money in return for the documents.

The emissary specially hired for the occasion was a well known professional boxer and when the two met he felled the traitor with a vicious swing to the jaw, whereupon detectives appeared from all sides and had the lieutenant handcuffed before he could get away.

The documents recovered concern the general coast defenses of France, the defense of the port of Toulon, and the harbor and the manner of construction of torpedo boats and submarines and the establishment of beacons and buoys in time of war.

Abbe Meignien, formerly the priest of a small parish in the Vosges, turned to the science of massage. He invented a new system of massage, and began to practice it. Things went so well with him that he thought he would come to Paris. He hired a small apartment and began to make a nice thing out of his massage.

Unhappily for him the French medical society, the members of which are very jealous of their privileges, heard of the matter and brought an action against him with the above result.

Now the abbe still either have to find out another way of earning his living or he must become a certified medical man, which as he is without resources does not seem to be a very easy thing for him to do.

In the Paris courts the other day a cattle merchant named Dupre, of Corbeil, obtained a judgment against the chauffeur of the King of the Belgians for nearly running over himself, killing him.

What is there in that? It is the commonest occurrence and happens nearly every day. But nothing can be conceived nowadays from the ubiquitous journalists—at least not for long.

It has been found out that this journey to Paris by night of the chauffeur and the automobile of H. M. Leopold II.—when M. Dupre and the whole of his herd escaped death within a few inches—concerns a fact of the greatest interest.

Par what did that royal automobile contain? Why, three doctors. These three doctors had just come from the chateau of the Baronne de Vaughan, of whose relations with the King of the Belgians the world is now more at least aware. Moreover, two of these doctors are the personal medical attendants of his majesty.

It has been found out that this journey to Paris by night of the chauffeur and the automobile of H. M. Leopold II.—when M. Dupre and the whole of his herd escaped death within a few inches—concerns a fact of the greatest interest.

is the chateau of the Baronne de Vaughan a male child, who was named Philippe Henry Francis Marie Delacroix, the mother being Blanche Zelle Josephine Delacroix, and the father—

"Unknown?" asked the mayor gentlemanly smiled at each other, and murmured "Not exactly unknown." Then turning to the mayor the spokesman added, "Simply put down, 'Father not declared.' But, Mr. Mayor, if I understand you with to impress it on you that not a word of this event be breathed to any one, and that especially no reporter or representative of any newspaper is to get within the gates."

The mayor promised, and the three doctors got into the automobile and hurried on to Paris. But the poor mayor can not do the impossible.

The mother of the child, Blanche Delacroix, is of course her who is the favorite of a king. She is twenty-four years old. She has lived at the chateau of Lormoy about six months.

King Leopold makes very frequent visits to her now, so much so that his ministers are very much concerned at his frequent and prolonged absences from Brussels. The happy monarch is seventy-two years old.

The champagne vintage of 1907 is a failure. Reports from Reims, the center of the champagne industry, state that the abnormal weather has been most unfavorable to the vintage, and that the growers and shippers have experienced heavy losses.

That is not all, says, she is followed by a fine September, which compensated for its unfavorable effect, but the harvest in October was spoiled by a hurricane and heavy rains.

She is the only princess of the French monarchy who has always lived in or near Paris.

Princess Marie, like many of the strictly "royal" princesses, is an excellent rider and her father, the emperor, has three European languages when she was a child employing foreign governesses. She now speaks English, German, Russian and Italian, besides her native French.

Undoubtedly the wedding will be one of the most brilliant seen in Europe in recent years. The bride's dresses, at any rate, will be the most gorgeous ever seen in the French capital.

management is pushing operations on all parts of their big property. At the Columbia a boarding house is being built to accommodate a largely increased force. The Chautauqua, Silver Princess and Sarsfield are operating in good ore. It is stated that the new telephone company will have about 50 connections in the district, and poles are already being planted.

Winkelman, Ariz.—No surprise has been caused by the announcement that the Rothschilds, of London, are to spend $2,000,000 on the development of the Oklahoma mine in this county. Shaft sinking to the 500-foot level is now under way, and it appears likely that the Oklahoma will become one of the largest copper mines in the southwest. Still another of the Pinal county mines that is now making a splendid showing in the way of rapid development and high grade shipments is the Two Queens, controlled by the Central Mining and Development company, a Kansas City corporation. The fourth ore shipment from this mine reached the market yesterday.

The El Paso smelter. It consisted of 20 sacks, every sack showing good panings, and the value running $100 and upward to the ton. This company's first shipment assayed $26.52 per ton.

The ore in both cases was taken from the same shaft, the vein, which showed a width of four feet at the surface, having widened out to 12 feet, with no indication of diminution.

Breckenridge, Colo.—One of the most successful ore tests ever made in this section has just been placed on record by the Old Union mill, after a long run for the Wellington lead and zinc mine. The first 100 tons of ore milled yielded 54 per cent lead, 40 per cent zinc and 20 to 25 per cent middlings that will require the magnetic process for final separation. Expert mill men supervised the test, and they expressed unbounded satisfaction over the result, especially in view of the fact that so small a percentage of ore will require further treatment after passing the jigs and Willey tables. Dozens of assays were made that yielded from 52 to 45 per cent lead, the average being about 49, which means a valuation of $25 per ton. It is estimated that the exposed ore in the Wellington workings must run well over $2,000,000 in value, and it is estimated that the entire mine is worth at least $5,000,000.

Rawlins, Wyo.—After ore has been tested by a dozen assayers and then sent to the smelter and yielded a liberal profit, there is no longer any question as to the feasibility of developing the property from which the ore was taken. The productive possibilities of the Snake River Consolidated lead and zinc claims are now regarded as demonstrated, and the future efforts of the owners will be directed toward placing the whole property on a basis of heavy production at minimum cost. Silver is the predominant metal in point of worth, but splendid values are also shown in gold, copper, lead and zinc. Good quantities of ore are being sacked for shipment.

Searchlight, Nev.—In view of the fact that the Searchlight Quartzite is the largest free milling gold mine in the American continent, a small amount of interest attaches to the active preparations now going forward for the development of the Quartzite. The property covers an area of some 2,000 square feet, and is controlled by the Keystone Securities company.

Dawson, Yukon Territory.—Gold operations in this section are being revolutionized by the electric drive, capable of handling 3,000 cubic yards of earth per day of twenty-four hours, and requiring but thirteen men to keep it working. One notable result has been that the individual proprietor and placer miner have been driven to look for new fields of operations, as vast areas of gold-bearing lands are now controlled by dredging companies. Foremost among these are the Guggenheim interests and the Yukon Basin Gold Dredging company. The latter is said to have concessions on the Stuart and neighboring rivers of over 10,000 acres.

Local Druggists Say Hundreds Here are Taking the Simple Prescription Which is Easily Mixed.

That the readers of this paper appreciate advice when given in good faith is plainly demonstrated by the fact that one well known local pharmacy supplied the ingredients for the "vegetable prescription" many times within the past two weeks. The announcement of this simple, harmless mixture has certainly accomplished much in reducing the great many cases of kidney complaint and rheumatism here, relieving pain and misery, especially among the older population, who are always suffering more or less with bladder and urinary troubles, backache and particularly rheumatism.

Another well known druggist asks us to continue the announcement of the prescription. It is doing so much good here, he continues, that it would be a crime not to do so. It can not be repeated too often, and further states many cases of remarkable cures wrought.

The following is the prescription of simple ingredients, making a harmless, inexpensive compound, which any person can prepare by shaking well in a bottle: Fluid Extract, Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Karsin, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Any first class drug store will sell this small amount of each ingredient, and the dose for adults is one teaspoonful to be taken after each meal and again at bedtime. There is enough here to last for one week, if taken according to directions. Good results will be apparent from the first few doses.

Forest Reserve Changes.

Chief Inspector D. D. Brownson, of the forestry service in New Mexico and Arizona, has been advised that administration headquarters for the Black Mesa National Forest will be removed from Flagstaff, Ariz., to Showlow, Ariz., on December 1. The supervisor's office will be established at Showlow. The Black Mesa National Forest has been assigned to that forest as acting supervisor, until the regular assignment is made on January 1.

Raton: The Gate City of New Mexico

Modern, Progressive City, the Metropolis of Northern New Mexico; Center of the Greatest Coal Belt in the West; Not a Boom Town, But a Substantial City of Eight Thousand People Growing Rapidly Under the Stimulus of Sound Business Conditions and Tremendous Resources; the County Seat of Colfax County; Model Schools and Churches; Strong Banks and Business Houses; Energetic Citizens

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.)

Raton, N. M., Nov. 27.—The history of Raton, the Gate City of northern New Mexico, and one of the most progressive in the southwest, is confined, comparatively speaking, to a very few years, yet the progress has been so remarkable that one must needs wonder at the energy, enterprise and determination which has been the cause of it all. It is but the story of American push and indomitable energy that is told in the Raton of today.

When the Santa Fe railroad, that advance agent of prosperity, laid its rails through Raton Pass in the spring of 1879, the first to penetrate this practically undeveloped country, the only sign of habitation on what is now a part of the original townsite of this now bustling city was the Willow Springs ranch, presided over by one William Boggs, whose ranch house was used as a stopping place and tavern by the ranchmen who had come into this section as they journeyed to and from the old Santa Fe trail. It was about this time that George F. Face, then a young man, following the advice of Horace Greeley to go west, stopped at the Boggs ranch and opened up a small general store. The road pushed on to Otero, five miles southward, where a settlement sprung up like a mushroom. It was the terminus of the railroad for about a year, and was a typical frontier town, where scenes typical of the strenuous open border were daily enacted. In the fall of 1881 the railroad builders started to extend the rails further southward, which was the signal for an exodus of the inhabitants. They moved their worldly belongings and the business men their stocks of merchandise to what is now the townsite of Raton. The settlement steadily grew with the influx of people. The adobe dwellings and log houses of the pioneer gave way to more substantial and enduring ones. The growth was slow but substantial. The establishment of division headquarters and the building of the railroad shops in 1880 gave an impetus to its growth. Far-seeing citizens realized that Raton was coming into its own. Then came the development of the coal fields lying at her doors and an era of railroad construction tapping the coal fields and providing additional outlets for the product. Coal is king in Raton and Colfax county, the backbone of her present and future prosperity.

Location

Raton is situated 243 miles north of Albuquerque, and 125 miles north of Pueblo, Colorado, on the main line of the great Santa Fe railway system. It occupies a picturesque and inviting location in a sheltered valley and in the shadow of the beautiful Raton range of mountains at an elevation of 6,600 feet above sea level. It has an attractive, all-the-year-round climate. On account of the altitude, the temperature even during the height of summer is delightfully cool. The winters are mild and with very few exceptions the days are bright and sunshiny. The city is built in the foothills of the mountains, affording an ideal townsite of a gradual slope, with splendid natural drainage. The city has a solid and substantial appearance and one is forcibly impressed by the stores, business blocks, office buildings and the many beautiful and attractive residences. Its streets, both business and residence, are wide and well graded.

Population

The population of Raton, conservatively estimated, is close on to 8,000. In 1900 the population, as recorded by the United States census, was 2,450, showing that there has been a remarkable gain during the past six years. The population is almost wholly American and of the better class. Its citizenship, in intelligence, culture and refinement, compares favorably with that found anywhere in the nation. The business and professional men are as able as can be found in the territory, and the citizens are most enterprising, contributing by their industry to the general welfare and health of the community. They are hospitable and take great pride in their city.

Raton has no "boom" features, and has grown only as population and business expansion compelled. The development of the coal mining industry, the growth of Raton as a center, supply and distributing point with three railroads already here, are some of the sound reasons why Raton will double in not treble her population within the next ten years.

Building Activities

That Raton is growing rapidly is evidenced on every side. There is not a vacant store in the city and difficulty is experienced in securing them, and few if any houses are for rent. Within the past two years the city has made wonderful strides in the building line. During that time over four hundred new buildings of various kinds were erected. A noticeable fact in this connection is showing the faith of the citizens in their home town, and the stability and permanency of its growth, is that home capital has made the improvements. Real estate and property values have increased, and are increasing very materially.

Educational

No city in the southwest has done more towards the education of its youth in proportion to its size and wealth than has Raton. The high standard of excellence maintained by the public schools is the pride of her citizens. The best of educational training is obtained. Its public schools, of which there are four, have taken prominent rank among similar institutions in the territory. The enrollment of scholars numbers 1,200, and twenty-six teachers are employed. A. D. Hoeschel is superintendent. Charles O. Fisher is county school superintendent. Colfax county is divided into thirty-six school districts, and the total enrollment of scholars is 2,100. The sum of $44,820 was spent by the county last year in the maintenance of her schools.

Public Utilities

Raton is up to date in the matter of public utilities. The city is fortunate in having an inexhaustible supply of the purest water, furnished by the Raton Water Works company. The source of supply is from mountain springs up in Sugarloaf Canyon, four and a half miles northeast of the city, where the company has a series of storage lakes.

The Raton Electric Light and Power company operate a modern plant, supplying light, heat and power that is greatly appreciated by the citizens and represents an investment of $100,000 of local capital.

The Crystal Ice and Cold Storage company, another home institution, with a daily capacity of thirty tons, supplies the city and tributary country with ice and operates a modern plant.

The Colorado Telephone company maintaining a branch office in this city, furnishes an excellent local and long distance service. The company serves 550 local subscribers. They occupy a handsome building, which, with the equipment, represents an expenditure of $50,000. J. E. Hunt is manager.

The city has an up-to-date sewerage system installed, and is yearly improving and extending it to keep pace with the growth of the city. In point of completeness and sanitary features it is one of the best to be found in the territory.

Government

The city is divided into four wards and is governed by a mayor and board of aldermen, consisting of eight members. The city's affairs are ably managed along progressive lines. Its popular mayor is T. F. McAuliffe, a pioneer resident of Raton. The councilmen are Dr. J. J. Shuler, A. J. Broylet, J. A. Bush, Thomas McBride, Henry Jones, Patrick Boyle, J. M. Sandcock and Samuel Raton. Rufus H. Carter is treasurer, and John Joerna city clerk. The present administration has effected a number of needed improvements, such as an extension of the sewerage system, the grading of the streets and the putting down of many street crossings. Raton is a city where the rights and property of the people are safe and carefully protected.

The affairs of Colfax county, of which Raton is the county seat, are in the hands of capable executive officers. The board of county commissioners, one of the best Colfax county ever had, is composed of John C. Taylor, E. N. Burch, David Crow. The other county officers are George J. Pace, treasurer; Marion Littrell, sheriff; Eugene G. Twitty, clerk and recorder; John Hixenbaugh, assessor; C. O. Fisher, superintendent of schools; Price T. Wrigley, surveyor; T. B. Hart, county physician, and John Joerna, deputy clerk. The county court house, a handsome and commodious structure, is one of the finest public buildings in the territory.

Commercial Club

The Raton Commercial club, organized in 1903, which has an active membership of seventy-five, and maintaining handsome club rooms, is doing effective work along practical line in advertising and pushing the city to the front. Its membership is composed of representative business and professional men. Its president is A. C. Price. Peter Schmidt is vice president; C. N. Blackwell, treasurer, and its wide awake secretary is Dr. A. R. Sprecher. The members of this club are all boosters for Raton, first, last and all of the time.

Raton High School

Property Valuation

The assessed valuation of real and personal property in Colfax county, which includes the city of Raton, is $2,541,148. These figures show a marked increase over those of previous assessments. The property in the city is valued at $88,533.

Postoffice

The postoffice receipts, which show a marked increase yearly, illustrate the rapid growth of the city. The statement of general receipts in 1905 was $11,991.03. In 1906 it had increased to $12,782.47, and for 1907 was $15,616.87. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, 7,563 domestic money orders were issued, amounting to $66,897.26. In 1907, 12,118 orders were issued, amounting to $117,311.06. The international money order business for 1905 was $8,118.42, while that of 1907 was $23,588.44. The city has free delivery, three carriers being employed. Frank A. Hill is the efficient and popular postmaster, and John V. Stryker is his capable assistant.

Churches and Societies

The citizens of Raton are supporters of all that tends to uplift the individual along religious and educational lines, giving freely of their means in the upbuilding of a religious community. It supports a number of churches, some having handsome edifices of their own. The societies, both secret and fraternal, are nearly all represented, and the total membership is large.

Banks

Raton has ample banking capital, furnished by banks that sustain close and important relations to the business interests of the city. These are the First National, the National Bank of New Mexico, and the Raton National. The leading bank of the city is the First National, which transacts the largest business of any bank in northern New Mexico. The First National bank is progressive in its management and offers superior facilities for the transaction of the banking business in all of its branches. Its president is John Jeffs, a leading citizen and pioneer. Its popular cashier is C. N. Blackwell.

Newspapers

Two of the most widely known papers in the territory are published in Raton, the Raton Range, established in 1881, issued as a semi-weekly and published by J. R. Foster, and the Raton Reporter, George B. Beringer, publisher, issued weekly. Both of these newspapers are liberally patronized, edited with ability and ever found working for the upbuilding and advancement of this city and section.

Hotels

Raton has one of the handsomest, most complete and up-to-date hotels in New Mexico, the Seaburg hotel, which is popular both at home and abroad. Its building is due to the public spirit and enterprise of Hugo Seaburg, a leading and representative citizen of the Gate City. It is modern and complete in all of its appointments. H. D. Moulton, an experienced, popular and successful manager, is at the helm.

Theater

Raton has the distinction of having one of the finest modern theaters in the southwest, and the largest between Denver and Los Angeles, the Coliseum. With the idea in view that Raton was destined to become a convention and theater city, its enterprising builder and owner, Hugo Seaburg, built this beautiful and commodious amusement resort. It has a seating capacity of 1,500, and represents an expenditure of $22,000.

Railroads

Raton has three railroads, the great Santa Fe system, which transacts a large freight and passenger business, putting the Gate City in direct touch with the great centers of the north, east, south and west. The Santa Fe maintains division headquarters here and large machine, car and repair shops employing 500 men and disbursing a monthly payroll of $55,000, most of which money is spent here. This road has been an important factor of development in the growth of the city. G. V. Fisher ably represents the company's interests here as agent.

One of Raton's Handsome Churches

The completion of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific railroad in 1905, giving an additional outlet by way of Des Moines, New Mexico, forty-nine miles east of Raton, where connection is made with the Colorado and Southern railroad, has proven of great advantage to Raton. The road is 106 miles long and taps the rich coal fields of Colfax county. The St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific company, an allied interest of the railway, are owners of 450,000 acres of coal lands adjacent to the road. Both companies maintain headquarters and offices in this city. The officers are Henry Koehler, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., president; J. Van Houten is vice president and general manager, with headquarters in this city. W. A. Gorman is general freight and passenger agent. The company has a daily freight and passenger service.

The Santa Fe, Liberal and Englewood railroad runs daily trains to Yankee, tapping the great coal fields in that section. The extension of the lines as contemplated by these two railroads means a great deal for the Gate City.

The new tunnel through Raton mountain, being built by the Santa Fe at a cost of nearly a million dollars and rapidly nearing completion, will facilitate the handling of its growing business.

Raton Industries

It is from the coal mining industry and from the large machine and repair shops of the Santa Fe that Raton draws its main support. It is in addition a distributing center for general merchandise, mining supplies and other commodities for northern New Mexico.

A large sum in the aggregate is spent here by the miners in the coal mines in Colfax county, and farmers and ranchmen, with whom the city is both a convenient and favorite trading point. The employees of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific and the Santa Fe, Raton and Des Moines railroads, are a contributing source of income to the city. New industries and enterprises are springing up continually as the shrewd business man and investor sees the opportunities for the investment of his capital and energy.

Mining Industries

One of the principal resources on which the present and future prosperity of Raton and this section is dependent is the mining industry of Colfax county, which is undergoing great development as a result of the investment of large amounts of capital by the two companies that are developing the great coal fields on a large scale. The St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific company, operating in the Sugarloaf Canyon and at the town of Yankee, nine miles northeast of Raton, is a large employer of labor. The development of the coal industry in the Raton coal fields is practically in its infancy. In time these coal fields are destined to become as famous as those of Pennsylvania.

The Maxwell land grant is rich in mineral riches. In the Elizabethtown district about the placer mines, since

This district, with Morena, Willow Creek, Gully, Ute Creek, South Ponto, Sulphide, Hemlock, West Morena, comprise an area of about twelve square miles, and are situated in the western part of the county. The mountains surrounding the placers of these districts have been prospected and show numerous contact and fissure veins, which indicate that the millions of placer gold originated from these veins. Many of these veins have been worked to the extent of producing good returns. Many conservative and practical mining men conversant with the district predict that the day is coming, and not far distant, when it will be a richly productive one, and the scene of much activity.

Points of Interest

Low freight rates and cheap fuel is destined to make Raton a manufacturing center, Colfax county, of which Raton is the county seat, is one of the richest counties in New Mexico. As a coal producer it exceeds all others. The county has an area of 3,371 square miles, and a population of 17,000. On the Johnson and Barcola mesas east of the city are 350,000 acres of tillable land, much of which is under cultivation. The farmers are prosperous. The staple crops are oats, wheat, barley and potatoes. The trade of the surrounding coal camps is transacted in Raton, which owns a monthly payroll of $100,000 in and about the city. The Santa Fe maintains commodious stock yards for the shipment and feeding of cattle.

Some of the Men and Business Houses Behind the Upbuilding of Raton

First National Bank

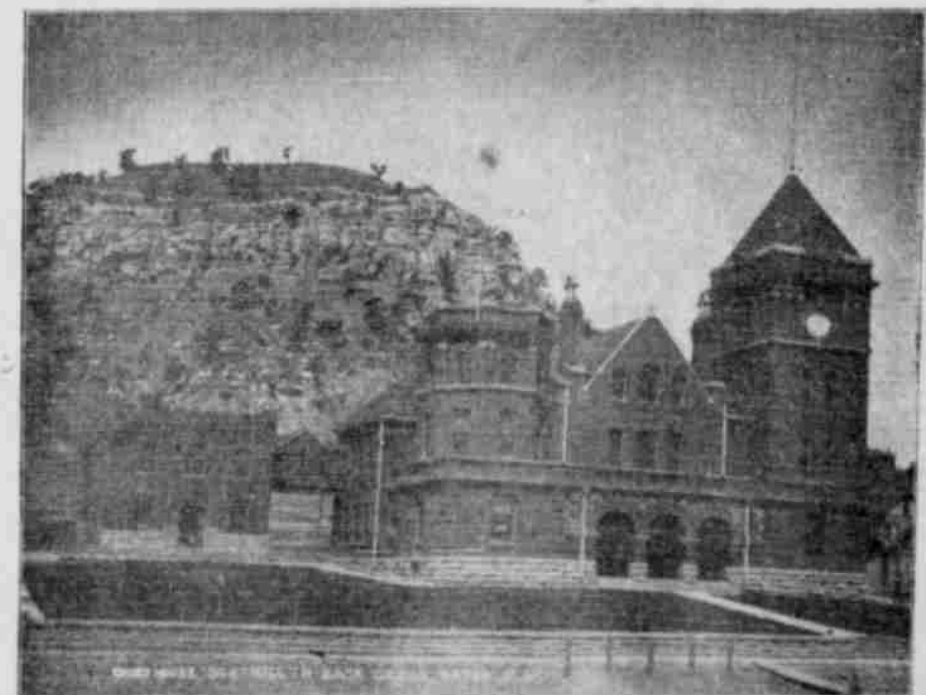

The First National bank of Raton for years has been recognized as being one of the best conducted financial institutions in the entire west. It has the additional distinction of being the oldest and largest banking institution in northern New Mexico, with a deposit account combined with other resources that foot up over a million dollars, giving it a prestige in the financial world second to none in the territory. Its record has been one of continuous, progressive prosperity since its establishment in 1882. In that year it was organized by C. N. Blackwell, a gentleman experienced in all branches of the banking business, and who is still active as cashier, and now, as then, its moving spirit. It started with a paid up capital of $50,000, which has since been increased to $100,000. For years it has been an important factor as a means of contributing to develop the existing resources of this city and locally, while its solvency, and rapidly increasing volume of business are guarantees of the financial and industrial interests of the city. It has a capital and surplus of $150,000, and a deposit account of $915,867.70, with loans and discounts of $662,987.05, a most creditable showing. It occupies a handsome bank building especially designed for its accommodation, complete and modern in all of its appointments and representing an expenditure of $20,000. It is provided with absolute fire and burglar proof steel safety and deposit vaults. Its president is the well known capitalist, Henry Goke, of San Miguel county, a leading citizen of the territory. Its vice president is John Jeffs, one of the pioneers of Raton and one of her best known and respected citizens. C. N. Blackwell, for years its efficient cashier, is one of the Gate City's foremost and public spirited citizens and popular with all classes. A general banking business is transacted and patrons both at home and abroad, are afforded every facility. It makes a specialty of handling collections and invites correspondence.

C. N. Blackwell

C. N. Blackwell, the popular cashier of the First National bank, and its organizer, is one of the foremost citizens of the Gate City, who has been ever active in promoting its best interests. He is a substantial and public spirited citizen in all that the term implies, and is deserving of the high esteem in which he is held by the people of Raton, Colfax county, and throughout New Mexico. He was the moving spirit in the organization of the New Mexico Bankers' association, and its first president. He is also treasurer of the Raton Commercial club. As a business man and citizen none stand higher in this community. His word is as good as his bond and neither has ever gone by default.

Electric Light and Power Co.

The Raton Electric Light and Power company, with a paid up capital of $100,000 and a home enterprise operate an up-to-date modern plant, furnishing both light and power, is one of the public utilities that is greatly appreciated by the citizens of Raton. It is equipped with the most approved machinery, dynamos, engines and boilers, and operates a 250 horse power plant, furnishing a day and night service such as first class light and power companies offer. J. R. Smith is its efficient and capable manager, since assuming the duties of this responsible executive position twelve years ago, he has added many new improvements and brought the plant up to a high standard of efficiency, meeting all demands of a large and growing patronage. This plant is one of the best equipped and managed in New Mexico. Besides being a practical, experienced electrician and a master of every branch and detail of the business, he is an enterprising business man and citizen, ever ready to do his share in pushing his home town to the front. Mr. Smith has been a resident of the territory since 1880, and is highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Raton Lumber Company

One of the best equipped and most complete lumber yards to be found in the territory is that operated and owned by the enterprising Raton Lumber company, of which Mr. C. W. Caracallen is the capable and experienced manager. He commends yards and outlying buildings and sheds are stocked with a full line of assorted lumber, such, doors, blinds, mouldings and general building material. In addition they handle brick, lime, Portland cement and building hardware. They conduct one of the best equipped planing mills to be found in the southwest. It is gratifying to note that by handling the best stock, the adoption of business-like methods and fair treatment of all customers, the

C. N. Blackwell

Raton Lumber company has established an enviable reputation and trade throughout this section. Manager Caracallen, besides being a successful young business man, is an enterprising and public spirited citizen, keenly alive to the needs of this section, in whose future he has unbounded faith. He is popular and has many friends among the citizens of Raton. Mr. J. R. Herndon, vice president of the State National bank of Albuquerque, and a leading citizen of the territory, is president of this progressive company.

Building and Loan Association

An enterprise in which the citizens of Raton take great pride, and which has proven a very important factor in the upbuilding of the city, is the Raton Building and Loan association, which since its establishment in 1889 has made a most enviable record, gratifying to its promoters and its shareholders who have reaped many benefits from their investment. This association, one of many scattered throughout the United States, belongs to the successful class and has proven a success from the start. The splendid showing made is of course to be attributed to the conservative and progressive management of its officers and board of directors, to whom has been entrusted the management of its affairs. The last fiscal year witnessed the transaction of business to the amount of $200,000, which returned a net profit of 12 per cent, a showing which few similar associations can present. The success of the Raton Building and Loan association is largely due to the business and executive ability, combined with energy and sound judgment displayed by its efficient secretary, C. M. Baxby, who has been tireless in his efforts in bringing the association business up to a high standard of attainment. In this effort, which has been crowned with success, he has had the hearty cooperation of his associate officers, John Jelfs, president; A. C. Price, vice president; C. N. Blackwell, treasurer, and the board of directors, who are among the leading and representative citizens of Raton. William C. Wrigley, a leading lawyer, is attorney for this progressive association.

Seaberg Hotel

Raton is favored with having one of the best and most popular hotels to be found in the territory, so pronounced by all travelers who have shared its hospitality. The Seaberg hotel is conveniently located in the business center, and is a substantial structure, modern in every way, and of pleasing architecture. It is fitted up with all modern improvements and conveniences for the safety and comfort of the guests, electric lights, call bells, telephones in each room, bath, etc. Its rooms are light, sunny and elegantly furnished, the cuisine is unsurpassed and the service prompt and courteous. Its deserved reputation as a popular resort is due to the capable management of H. D. Montan, who knows how to make the guests feel at home. It is headquarters for commercial travelers who want the best and who get it here.

Frank A. Hill

Frank A. Hill, the efficient postmaster of Raton, is one of the best known and popular citizens of this city and territory. He was appointed postmaster three years ago by President Roosevelt, and has the distinction of having served under him in the famous Rough Rider regiment in the late Spanish-American war. He is one of the recognized leaders of the republican party in New Mexico. He has made an enviable record as postmaster in the faithful discharge of the responsible duties of this office, rendering effective service both to the government officials and the people of Raton, among whom he has ever been popular. Mr. Hill has great faith in the future of the Gate City, and is ever fond promoting its best interests.

Woodward & Nutting

One of the leading firms of Raton is that Messrs. Woodward and Nutting, who conduct a first class up-to-date drug store, and carry one of the largest and most complete stocks of drugs and druggists' supplies to be found in the territory. The active management of this popular pharmacy is in the hands of Mr. Walter L. Nutting, a thorough druggist and pharmacist, as well as an enterprising and progressive young business man and citizen. The firm enjoys a very large trade which has been built up by close attention to their customers' needs, the sale of pure drugs and courteous treatment shown all. This firm makes a specialty of filling physicians' prescriptions with care, using only the purest drugs. Mr. Nutting is also assisted in the management of his large and growing business by E. L. Hahn and E. B. Lane. The firm has recently installed handsome and new store fixtures, including an up-to-date soda fountain.

Carter & Phelps

A leading real estate firm and one of the best known in the territory is that of Messrs. Carter and Phelps, of Raton, who transact a general real estate and insurance business. They make a specialty of handling city, residence, business and ranch properties, the collection of rents and looking after the interests of non-resident property owners. From a long residence here Mr. Carter is thoroughly familiar with property values and is a recognized authority in his line. He has great faith in the future of Raton, and takes an active interest in every movement that helps to build up the city. Mr. Carter, besides being a successful business man, is a public spirited citizen. He is city treasurer and has the esteem and confidence of the people, as his partner, H. B. Phelps, has. This popular and well known firm represent a number of the leading fire insurance companies. This firm is the exclusive agent for some of the best real estate holdings in Raton and northern New Mexico. Parties contemplating buying in Raton, or who are looking for investments in this section, will find it to their interest to correspond with or call upon Messrs. Carter and Phelps, who take pleasure in answering all inquiries.

Dr. J. J. Shuler

A leading physician and citizen of Raton, noted for his skill as a physician and public spirit, is Dr. J. J.

Shuler, of this city, who is one of the pioneer physicians of the Gate City and northern New Mexico. For years he has watched the growth and upbuilding of his home town and has contributed much to its advancement and progress. He was formerly its mayor and is now a valuable member of the city council. He is a gentleman of intelligence and culture, and is held in high esteem by the citizens of Raton, among whom he has many friends. Dr. Shuler represented the city in organizing the Raton Water Works company in 1891, and under his administration as mayor the sanitary sewerage system was built.

Hydraulic Mining in Colfax County

M. R. Mendelson.

M. R. Mendelson, one of the pioneer merchants of Raton and a business man and citizen of the progressive public spirited type, who is doing much to put this city to the front, conducts a modern up-to-date department store that enjoys a large patronage from the citizens of this city and from throughout this section. The Golden Rule Cash store, a name typical and appropriate, inasmuch as it typifies the sound business methods of its proprietor, Mr. Mendelson, is one of the most modern and inviting stores to be found in the entire territory. They are complete outfitters for men, women and children, and in the handsome store building splendidly equipped, they display their extensive and fashionable stock of goods. These embrace domestic, staple and fancy dry goods, silks, etc., ready-to-wear clothing of the best material and make, shoes, millinery and most stylish goods' furnishings. All goods are sold at one price and under guarantee. The large trade established and the popularity of this store is to be attributed largely to the up-to-date methods of transacting the business which is yearly growing in volume. Mr. Mendelson has many friends and none stand higher in this community as a business man and citizen.

Mayor McAuliffe

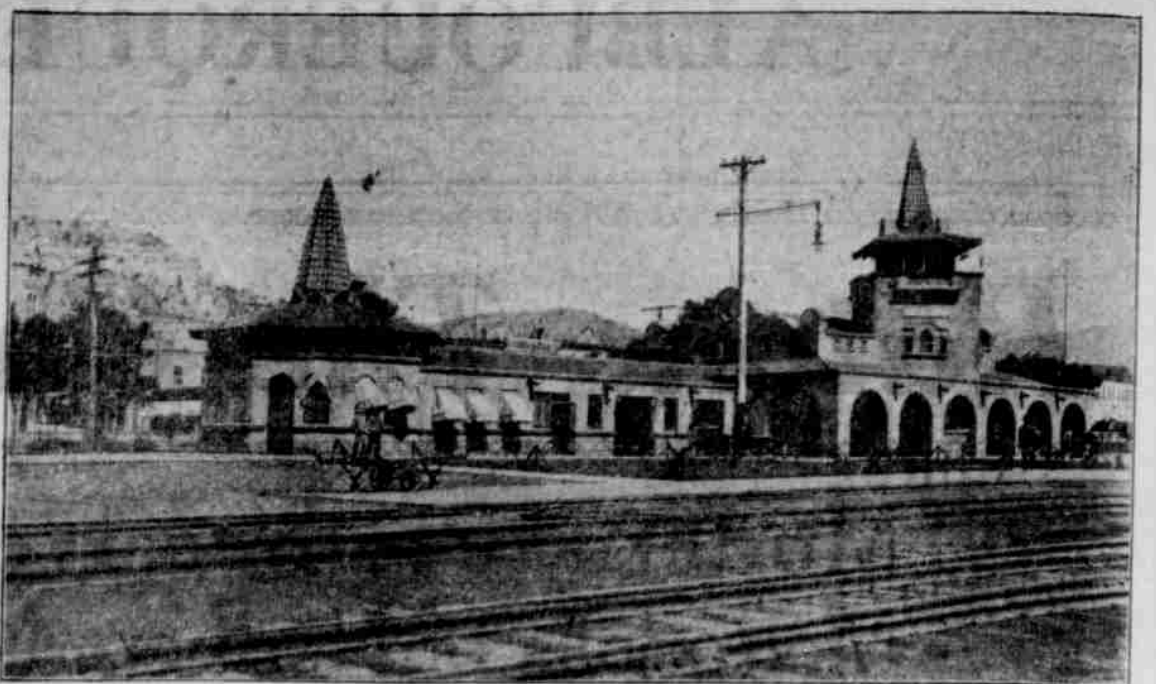

A pioneer and leading citizen of the Gate City and its popular mayor is F. P. McAuliffe. Mr. McAuliffe is one of the pioneer ranchmen of this section and has made an enviable record as the chief executive officer of the city's affairs. Under his administration many new and needed public improvements have been inaugurated. He has been a resident of the city since the town started. He is public spirited and is popular with all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance and friendship. He has great faith in the future of Raton and is active in promoting its upbuilding.

George J. Pace

One of the best known, popular and highly respected citizens of this community and of northern New Mexico is George J. Pace, the efficient treasurer of Colfax county. Mr. Pace was among the first to settle in this section and has the distinction of being the first man to establish a store and business on what is now a part of the townsite of Raton, but then known as Willow Springs Ranch. Ever since that time, 27 years ago, he has been identified very closely with the upbuilding of the Gate City and has ever been one of her most progressive and public spirited citizens. None stand higher in public regard. He has many friends who point with pride to the capable manner in which he has discharged every trust, both of a private and public character. Mr. Pace is a recognized leader in the republican party and is popular with all classes.

Maxwell Land Grant Co.

The Maxwell Land Grant company, with headquarters in this city, has done much towards the development of the land in Colfax county. This famous grant originally consisting of 1,714,264 acres of land, agricultural, timber and mineral, an empire in itself, lies in Colorado and New Mexico, 20,000 square miles being in Colfax county alone. Four railroads traverse the property and two irrigation systems enrich the land. Much of the land has been sold mostly in large tracts. It has still on the market 500,000 acres of unsold land which it sells to homeseekers on leases upon very liberal terms and contains some of the most fertile and desirable to be found in the territory. The company is progressive in its management, is doing a great deal towards bringing Colfax county to the front and in immigration of a desirable character to this section. C.

Santa Fe Depot at Raton

is recognized as a quality second to none in comparison with the most famous bituminous coals of the world. Extensive development work is being rapidly pushed and large sums of money appropriated for the opening of the new mines of this company. The machinery and equipment is all of the most modern type approved in up-to-date mining. The demand for Yankee coal is almost unlimited as is also the supply. Therefore it is easy to see the assured prosperity and growth of the Yankee Fuel company, of vital interest to Raton and Colfax county.

William F. Degner

William F. Degner, who conducts the Raton Meat Market, is one of the pioneer citizens and business men of this city who has witnessed its growth and upbuilding and who from the start has had unbounded faith in its future. His market is the leading one in his line and he has built up a large patronage. He handles only first class meats and is appreciative of his patronage. Mr. Degner is a director and stockholder in the First National Bank and president of the Raton Crystal Ice and Cold Storage company. He has a wide circle of friends among whom he is popular.

Marion Littrell

Marion Littrell, the popular sheriff of Colfax county, is one of the best known citizens of this section with an Colfax County Abstract Co.

The Colfax County Title, Abstract and Security company, of this city, makes a specialty of furnishing complete and reliable abstracts of title to lands in Colfax county. The company's abstracts are absolutely correct and are furnished by men who have a thorough practical knowledge of the abstracting business, derived from practical experience and knowledge. It makes a specialty of preparing quickly abstracts desired by patrons and the charges for such services are reasonable. Mr. Alfred Jelfs, the secretary and manager of this company, is recognized as one of the most skillful abstract men in the southwest, is well known and a thoroughly reliable business man. This company invites correspondence with persons or corporations who desire abstracts of title to property in Colfax county, and are in position to render prompt and satisfactory service. Mr. Jelfs also conducts a first class fire insurance agency and represents a number of the strongest fire insurance companies in the country. He is one of the representatives of the enterprising citizens of Raton, with great faith in the city's future, in whose advance he takes a great interest.

William C. Wrigley

A leading attorney and a representative citizen of the progressive public spirited type, is William C. Wrigley, the well known attorney who has been a resident of Raton for upwards of twenty years, having witnessed its growth from a struggling town of a few hundred inhabitants to one of several thousand. Mr. Wrigley is a recognized leader in his chosen profession with a thorough knowledge of both the law and practice. He transacts a general law business and has built up an extensive clientele. Besides being a successful lawyer he is a public spirited citizen and ever ready to do his share towards promoting the advancement of the Gate City in whose future he expresses great faith. He is popular, has many friends and is one of the best known lawyers in the territory.

Charles O. Fisher.

Charles O. Fisher, the popular county superintendent of schools, and one of the best Colfax county ever had, has been identified with school matters in the territory for the past five years. He was formerly principal of the school at Springer. He stands high as a public educator and the excellence of the county school is largely due to his untiring efforts. He is popular with the citizens of Raton and Colfax county among whom he has many friends.

He carries a large and elegant stock of fine jewelry, watches, clocks, silverware, diamonds and optical goods. He makes a specialty of diamond mounting and expert watch repairing. Mr. Whited has been a resident of Raton many years and is one of the city's most progressive and public spirited men. He enjoys a large patronage and is popular both as a business man and citizen.

J. A. McIntosh

A business man and citizen who stands high with all who know him is Mr. J. A. McIntosh, who conducts one of the best restaurants in the city which enjoys a large patronage and where are served most excellent meals at reasonable prices. From a small beginning and patronage his business has grown to one of large volume, as a result of strict attention to business, the service of first class meals and attentive service. Mr. McIntosh is a progressive public spirited citizen and is popular with the people. He is interested in a number of local enterprises and is secretary of the Raton Crystal Ice and Cold Storage company.

Hugo Seaberg

Among the representative and public spirited citizens of this city is the well known counselor-at-law, Mr. Hugo Seaberg, who has been a resident in a number of local enterprises and of the territory for twenty years.

The "Highbrow" and The Active Buzz-saw

(New York Sun.) We extract the following paragraph from the Evening Post: "It is carefully explained from the White House, however, that the reversing of the engines is to go much further than mere words. The president is to throw himself with all his energy into the work of restoring confidence." Pausing for a moment to rebuke the Post for its lapse into sensationalism in printing a statement so alarming, we confess that we are strongly reminded of the highly intelligent gentleman who, manifesting an unlighted interest in an active buzz saw, thoughtfully regarded his hand from which two fingers had departed. "How on earth did it happen?" said the horrified foreman. "Why," said the perplexed victim, "I only just did that," illustrating the words with an appropriate gesture. "And—" It was sufficient; the three remaining fingers joined their fellows.

An Accomplished Diplomat. Mr. Goldington—I am amazed, Mr. that you should propose to my daughter. You have not known her a week. The Wily Suitor—True, madam, but I have known you for some time, and everybody says your daughter takes after you. He got the girl—Exchange.

Starting Trouble. Mr. Jawback—Let's celebrate our golden wedding. Mrs. Jawback—How silly! We've only been married six years. Mr. Jawback—That all? How'd I get it into my head it was fifty.—Cleveland Leader.

At the Chop House. Mary had a little lamb, But later said with grief, That if she'd known how dear it was She would have ordered beef. —Chicago Tribune.

A Romance of the Slump. Her father was a bull, her beau Has always been a bear; The old man used to shake his fist And wildly rip and tear.

He told the girl a hundred times To send her lover down the steps; He kicked her over down the steps And smashed his hat one day.

The slump arrived; the maiden fair Still loved her bearded bear; As you may guess, he didn't care That things had tumbled so.

She proudly bears his name today; His table sets, adorned; Her dad has gone to live with them— The bull drew in his horns. —Chicago Record-Herald.

Intelligent. "Let us see, Private Girelino, if you have quite understood what are four points of the compass. Now the east is in front of you, at your left the north, at your right the south; what is behind you?" "My knapsack, captain."—Transatlantic Tales.

Force of Habit. Mr. Easy—Cherup, Mr. Peck, if we must go down, let's go cheerfully like men. Mr. Peck—But hang it all, Mr. Easy, if I don't go home my wife will never let me go fishing again, never. —Harper's Weekly.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 27.—The stock market displayed a spirit of caution in following up the advancing tendency which developed yesterday. The speculation showed a disposition to look at some of the efforts at stimulation in the way of "traps," and assessments of coming favorable developments regarding individual securities which were found impossible of verification. These factors entered largely around the Pacific and flooding and had to do in the view of some with rumors of an establishment of credit relations between the Harbison and Hill interests and in the other with plans of divestment of ownership of coal properties which would include a distribution of shares to a holding company. Reaching such heights. The shyness manifested by the professional element in following the assumed leadership was due in part, the suspicion that some selling to realize was perceptible on the advance in the prices. More was due, however, to the fear of premature investments in speculative commitments before the relief of the general situation had been proved.

Confidence continued to grow in the progress of amelioration from day to day are not important individually but they represent together a gradual accretion to the need of restoring confidence which is working actively towards the re-establishment of normal conditions. Some of the separate items that are today being reported that Chicago savings banks had sent for withdrawal and the news that tax collectors in New York were being anticipated in as large volume as usual although the possibility for delinquency does not begin until the first. The requirements for these tax payments make an addition to the needs of the December first money market and the desire to await the satisfaction of those needs supplies one of the motives for awaiting attitude towards the stock market. The holiday tomorrow supplies another, speculation invariably building on the eve of a closed interval in market transactions.

Residues multiplied today of the easing of the money strain. The high rate for call loans was six per cent. Only small sums of currency were sold at a premium today and the premium rate showed a decidedly yielding tendency. There was a relaxation in some of the interior markets in rates of exchange of New York, which marks a subsidence of the most embarrassing features of the late crisis. The tension in the foreign exchange market also relaxed and the market ease in the London discount market reflected the growth in confidence in the passing of our financial emergency. The fall in the private discount rate in London was so distinct as to give rise to expectation of a reduction of the bank of England rate. The prevailing on currency was quoted below one per cent. today for the first time since the financial emergency manifested itself. Opening at 1 1/2 it declined to 1/2 and later was quoted at 1/4 per cent. Call money was again freely offered below five per cent. In the securities market the improvement in bonds was much more pronounced than in the stock department. This movement is believed to be of excellent augury and has looked forward to with longing as a necessity to any effective recovery in the stock market. The profound penetration into which the bond market had fallen was illustrated in a range of quotations for many railroad mortgages. The first ones, especially those of refunding series, in the last period of depression after 1903, which are now lower in city history. The rise in bonds today was the first distinct and comprehensive movement of the support which has been continued irregularly throughout renewed liquidation appearing in some stocks, notably Missouri Pacific, but the market turned strong before the close. Another advance in the price of copper metal was a helpful factor in this direction. Bonds were strong. Total sales for value $2,552,000. United States bonds were exchanged on call. Closing stocks:

Clovis, New Mexico, is the New Santa Fe Division Townsite, Situated Nine Miles West of Texico, New Mexico, on the Belen Cut-Off

The surface of the land on which the townsite is located is level. Clovis is situated in the best portion of the level plains country and is in the center of the best dry farming and stock raising section of Eastern New Mexico. All this land is settled upon by homesteaders who are improving their land. The Santa Fe Land Improvement Company have 213,000 acres of railroad scrip land, commencing five miles north of Clovis, New Mexico, which is considered the finest farming land in Eastern New Mexico. This land will shortly be open to homesteaders and sold in small tracts on terms to suit purchaser. The country around Clovis, New Mexico, will command trade for fifty miles to the north, thirty miles to the east, twenty miles to the south and twenty-eight miles to the west. There is a settler on every 160 acres, which assures its future rapid growth and permanency. Clovis is on the main transcontinental line of the Santa Fe which is called in this territory, the Eastern Railway of New Mexico, or the Belen Cut-off. Clovis will be the division for the main line of the Santa Fe, the Pecos Valley line and the Brownwood Extension, thus making it a Division Point for three distinct lines of the Santa Fe System.

The Pecos Valley tracks will be taken up between Texico, New Mexico, and Carpio, New Mexico, and be moved west eight miles to make Clovis the northern division point of the Pecos Valley line. The Brownwood Extension will be run out of Clovis which will give a through line from California to Galveston, Texas. The Railroad Company has retained 320 acres for railroad purposes and there are extensive machine and car shops being erected at Clovis. Clovis will be the first division point west of Amarillo, Texas, and the Santa Fe have just completed a twenty-one stall concrete roundhouse, graded miles of siding and yards, are erecting a $30,000 concrete two-story depot and a $62,000 two-story Harvey hotel and $40,000 three-story recreation building for railroad employees. The recreation building will have a standard library, pool and billiard halls, swimming pool, auditorium and living rooms for railroad employees. All these buildings are of solid concrete and the latest style of mission architecture. The Company is drilling ten large wells to secure all the water that will be required for railroad purposes, the supply being inexhaustible. The Railroad Company will erect a one-hundred ton ice plant for icing refrigerator and passenger cars.

The concrete coal chutes, costing $42,000, are half completed and are the largest west of the Mississippi river. There are numerous other railroad improvements to be started, but the engineers' reports have not been completed and we cannot give data on the same. As soon as the Belen Cut-off and connecting lines of Clovis are completed, the Company will put all of its extra California fast passenger, freight and perishable fruit traffic on this line, which will be the shortest between Chicago and Southern California and Galveston, Texas, and New Orleans, Louisiana, and Southern California. It will also carry all the Pacific and Oriental mail which is now being largely handled by the Rock Island and Southern Pacific.

Clovis has two national banks with $25,000 and $35,000 capital, respectively. There is a water, electric light and ice company located in Clovis, owned and controlled by railroad officials, with equipment now in operation. A complete telephone system is in operation connecting with all adjacent towns and the long distance lines. There are thirty-five business houses, six hotels and rooming houses, four lumber yards, three livery stables, cold storage and other buildings already erected. Clovis has nearly eleven hundred population, is four months old and growing very fast. If you are looking for a business location or a new town for investments, look the situation over at Clovis. The lots being offered for sale are all residence lots and can be purchased at from $70 to $90 per lot, one-half down, the balance in six months at 8 per cent interest. On all sales over $500 10 per cent discount is allowed. On all cash sales, 10 per cent discount allowed. Clovis will make a city of ten thousand in a few years. This is the best proposition ever offered in New Mexico for small investors and now is the time to purchase these lots, as the prices will double within six months' time.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN ALBUQUERQUE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

NATIONAL HOLIDAY IS CAREFULLY OBSERVED

In Addition to Generous Contributions to the Poor Pupils Celebrate Day With Special Programs.

In addition to their generous contributions to the poor of Albuquerque, made through the Non-Sectarian Benevolent society, the school children of Albuquerque observed Thanksgiving day yesterday with appropriate exercises in all the wards. The contributions for the poor this year were unusually generous and included clothing, provisions, staple and fancy, and money. Five wagon loads were necessary to carry away the contributions from the several buildings. Thanksgiving exercises yesterday in the high school and ward schools were well attended.

In the High School. The Thanksgiving spirit has been very prominent in the high school. In the various classes exercises consisting of talks by the teachers, readings appropriate to the season, historical sketches and songs have been the means used to stimulate this spirit. Formal programs consisting of essays, recitations, readings and music were rendered in three of the rooms yesterday.

After a spirited song service led by Miss Carolyn Strong, Rev. Fletcher Cook addressed the assembly. He addressed the students in the high school assembly room. He chose as his subject "The History of Thanksgiving and Some Reason, National and Personal, for Thanksgiving." By his ready wit and his very evident sympathy with the feelings of youth, Rev. Cook at once captivated his audience and proceeded to show them that "While Thanksgiving in the present form is a distinctly American holiday, it did not spring, Minerva-like, from the brain of Governor Bradford in 1621, as some imagine."

He traced the origin of the institution back through the ages and the nations to the land of the Canaanites, from whom the Children of Israel copied many observances. He made allusion to the growth of the custom in England, especially in the days of Cromwell, when, it is said, no fewer than one hundred and six days each year were designated as national Thanksgiving days. Public officials refused to work on such days until Edward VI, seeing to what extremes the idea was being carried, annulled them all.

Coming to our own country, the speaker brought before his hearers in rapid review a series of proclamations issued by governors of colonies and other dignitaries, and observed that in most part by families and declared that our national Thanksgiving day, as observed all over the land, originated in the great big heart of Lincoln in 1863.

"The country for nearly three years had been in the awful throes of civil war, and not until General Grant's decisive victory at Gettysburg, following the battle of Vicksburg, did the dark clouds of defeat and despair begin to lift with brighter visions of a possible reunited republic."

No sooner had Chattanooga fallen than President Lincoln, feeling the pulse of the northern states, and an expression of his own sentiments, framed a national Thanksgiving proclamation, and ever since then no year has passed without a similar decree issued from the White House in Washington.

Lincoln, it must be remembered, was brought up in the wild and woolly west, where contact with New England was slight, and where men grew to look upon life from a far wider point of view than of possible to the New Englander, with his Puritan antecedents. We have no record or tradition that the old Puritan Thanksgiving day in Lincoln's mind when he issued his proclamation of November, 1863. It was something brand new that he did, since he gave us a national, as distinguished from a purely provincial, Thanksgiving.

"The staid descendants of Brewster and Carver and Standish listened for hours, on bitter cold Thanksgiving days, to long and dreary sermons on sin and hell, only to pass from the cold church to an equally cold dinner, washed down by copious draughts of whiskey. Instead of the freedom and joyfulness of the more light-hearted fathers of earlier days, it became a sin, as a Puritan Thanksgiving, to eat more than enough to keep body and soul together. Even the whiskey drink was taken more for warmth than for its exhilarating effects. Good fellowship gradually disappeared from the family board, and so day by day the modern Thanksgiving with less feeling of joy and thankfulness than was this latter Puritan Thanksgiving day. Even what remained of the original idea of Thanksgiving never partook of the nature of anything commensurate with what we understand today by a national Thanksgiving. It was entirely sectional in character, as it was bound to be, until the end of the revolution, there was no such thing as the American nation, so that the New England Thanksgiving day and its observances centered altogether in the narrow life of the family, as distinguished from the nation."

"Lincoln it was who, in 1862, by one stroke of his pen, gave us a national day, and thus incidentally freed New England herself out of her provincialism into the broader conception and observance of a Thanksgiving day that involves the whole American people."

At Fourth Ward School. It was plain from the exercises in the Fourth ward school yesterday that systematic training has been done in the minds of the students the true significance of Thanksgiving day. The old fashioned dishes, the chimney corners, Puritan dress, were appropriate to the occasion. Many Thanksgiving suggestions appeared on the blackboards. The reading, music and language lessons were also appropriate to the day.

Wednesday afternoon the pupils of the ten rooms, over four hundred strong, assembled in the main building for a brief but interesting Thanksgiving program. There is no assembly hall in this building, and the children were grouped in several of the larger rooms, the road, cabin plan of presenting recitations and songs being adopted, so that each child in the ward heard the entire program.

First Ward School. In the first ward school building the children of the first, second and third grades gave the following program:

Song, "Thanksgiving Joy." The School Recitation, "The History of Thanksgiving." The School Recitation, "The Pilgrim Fathers." Recitation, "Grandmother's Pumpkin Pie." Barbara Shelley Song, "Thanksgiving Day." The School Recitation, "The Contents of a Pumpkin." Five Boys Recitation, "Pumpkin Pie." Four Girls Concert Recitation, "Thanksgiving." Recitation, "How Thanksgiving Came About." About Edward Bradley Recitation, "A Magic Seed." Beatrice Hill Song, "Indian Summer." Dorothy Cox and Mary Leeson Recitation, "A Thanksgiving Lesson." Nellie and Josie Thief and James Mallett.

Concert Recitation, "We Thank Thee." First Grade Pupils Recitation, "At Thanksgiving Time." Irene Staehlin Song, "Harvest of the Squirrel and Honey Bee." The School Recitation, "November." Dorothy Brown Recitation, "To Give is to Live." Fay Zeiring Class Singing, "Beatrice Hill Recitation, "November." Albert Newcomer Song, "Thanksgiving Hymn." Eight Children Song, "America." The School Recitation, "Fourth and Sixth Grades gave the following program: "America." "November." "The Boy of the Grange." "Fourth Grade Thanksgiving Song." "Fourth Grade Thanksgiving Dialogue." "Sixth Grade 'How Thanksgiving Came About.'"

Dorothy Frank Thanksgiving Dialogue. "Fourth Grade 'A Good Thanksgiving.' Ruth Crum 'The Mayflower.' Fourth Grade Girls Thanksgiving Song. Sixth Grade Girls 'Harvest.' Evelyn La Pointe 'After Thanksgiving.' Ruth Cooper 'Out for a Walk.' Henrietta Weiser 'Coming Song.' Fifth and Sixth Grades 'Thanksgiving at Grandpa's.' Eddie Clifford Recitation, 'Thanksgiving.' Susie Whitesides 'Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean.' 'Thanksgiving.' Fourth and Fifth Grades 'The Star Spangled Banner.'

WHAT IS WRONG? Many People in Albuquerque Are Asking That Question of Late. Within the last few weeks, more people than usual have complained of frequent sneezing fits, tickling in the throat, stoppage in the nose, spasms of coughing, raising of mucus, drooping in the throat and offensive breath, and have asked themselves what is the matter. The trouble is that they are affected with catarrh and unless immediate steps are taken to remedy their condition, the disease will increase and spread through the delicate mucous membrane that lines the air passages, and a chronic and serious stage of the disease will result. At the first symptoms of catarrh, Hyomei should be used. There is no other treatment like it or just as good; none that can take its place and cure so quickly and at so little cost. It is a scientific medicated air treatment that does not drug and deplete the stomach, but is breathed in, directly destroying all disease germs that may lurk in the nose, throat and lungs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane. J. H. O'Reilly company, the local agent for Hyomei, so much confidence in the merits of the remedy that they offer it on trial to any catarrhal sufferer with the agreement to refund the purchase price of $1.00 for the complete outfit to anyone who is not satisfied with the results. You certainly can afford to test Hyomei with an offer like this. Get it now and be cured of catarrh.
