DEMOCRATS GATHER IN DENVER JULY 7

Hundred Thousand Dollars Offered by Colorado Capital Proves Irresistible to National Committeemen.

STRONG OPPOSITION TO TAKING THE MONEY

Auditorium With Seating Capacity of Fourteen Thousand People Now Being Erected to Care for Gathering

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Washington, Dec. 12.—After deciding to hold the next democratic national convention at Denver and fixing the date of the meeting for July 7, 1908, the democratic national committee late tonight entered upon a spirited debate on the propriety of accepting more of the $100,000 offered by Denver for the convention than actually needed to meet the expenses in that city. The opposition to the acceptance of the contribution took the form of a resolution by Representative Clayton, of Alabama, that money not actually needed for convention purposes, but after a long debate the resolution was laid on the table by a vote of 21 to 14.

Mr. Clayton, Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, and Governor Smith, of Georgia, also spoke in favor of the passage of the resolution. Mr. Smith was especially emphatic in saying that the $100,000 which had been offered to the democratic national committee, and which had been offered and accepted by the democratic committee, had been offered and was about to be accepted by the democratic committee, but when Chairman Taggart, representing the national committee, had turned down the offer because it was regarded as in the nature of a bribe, and that the democrats, in view of the circumstances, could not afford to accept it. Mr. Williams spoke in a similar vein, as also did Mr. Clayton. Mr. Taggart, in reply, said that the acceptance of the $100,000, saying it would be needed now even more than it was needed in 1900, and that at that time it would have been practically impossible to have opened headquarters for the convention in that city, and that the extra money secured from St. Louis, where the convention was held.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, made a long speech, in which he favored the acceptance of the money. Mr. Clayton declared that the acceptance of this money would be in line with the very practices in campaign contributions that had been condemned by the committee. The view was antagonized by Senator Stone, who declared that the transaction was open and above board, and that it was not to be compared with any of the improper contributions of the past. Many people, he said, would go to Denver, and the young and growing city was glad to make this contribution for the advantages it would receive. Money, he said, would be badly needed in starting the campaign. Mayor Tom Johnson advocated the acceptance of the money offered by Denver. He said money for campaign purposes is contributed by corporations, by the view of securing advantages in legislation or otherwise, while the contribution of Denver could not be ascribed to any such purpose. The people of Denver, he said, have been generous in their support of the party for the purpose of attracting conventions to the city for business reasons, and it was perfectly proper for the democratic national committee to accept the offer.

Senator Tillman opposed the acceptance of the money. "Let the local democratic organization of Colorado," he said, "have the money to fight their next campaign. I suggest that the money be deposited upon the view of the money for the republicans. Now give the democrats of Colorado a chance, and let them use the money to return Senator Tillman."

Mr. Tillman, however, voted against the motion to lay the resolution on the table. Mayor Dahlgren, of Omaha, expressed the idea that the money could be profitably employed in opening the campaign, and said he had no doubt that Denver had made its proposition in good faith, and that it should be accepted in the same spirit in which it had been made.

Charles F. Wilson, sitting as a proxy for the member of the committee from Colorado, assured the committee that Denver had no desire to appear as unduly influential in the matter. He said that there is a business men's league in Denver, an important part of whose duty is to secure conventions, and that the proposition to the democrats to go to Denver had been made as it had been to secure many other meetings. He said the Denver people would be disappointed if the entire sum was not accepted.

The motion to table Mr. Clayton's motion was made at the conclusion of Mr. Wilson's speech, and prevailed by the following vote:
Yeas—Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming, District of Columbia, Alaska, Indian Territory—31.
Nays—Alabama, Arizona, Florida, Idaho, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, Puerto Rico—14.

On the first ballot Denver received 22 votes, as against 15 for Louisville, five for Chicago and one for St. Paul.

July was selected as the date for the convention, after a very brief discussion.

WILD REJOICING FOLLOWS

ANNOUNCEMENT IN DENVER
Denver, Dec. 12.—Immediately after the receipt of the Associated Press flash announcing the selection of Denver as the city in which will be held the next national democratic convention, the public was apprised of the fact by the firing of bombs at the office of one of the local newspapers. There is general rejoicing over the news, and the opinion is generally expressed that ample accommodations and entertainment will be provided for the delegates and other visitors who will be in this city during the session of the convention.

C. M. Day, president of the Denver Central league, held an impromptu reception in his office when the news of the selection of Denver as the convention city became public.

"It was by the greatest thing that ever happened for the west," he said. "People thought we were crazy when we went after the national convention, but this news shows we know our business."

"The city auditorium will be completed and ready for use by the end of April, and the delegates to the convention and all visitors will be given a royal welcome."

At the Traffic club, one of the largest commercial organizations in the city, the members began an immediate justification and celebration are being planned by other organizations.

The auditorium where the convention will hold its sessions is modeled after the St. Paul auditorium, but contains many up-to-date improvements that make it the most comfortable and complete convention hall in the country. Its exterior is imposing, and the arrangements of its interior as perfect as money can make it. When completed and fully finished, the auditorium will represent a total cost of $500,000.

The building is being erected by the city, a special bond issue having been authorized by the people for that purpose.

The auditorium will seat 14,000 people, and it is claimed that at least 14,000 more can be accommodated in case of necessity.

The democratic national committee met in executive session at 4:30. The chief business before the body was to vote for a place and time for the next convention. During the recess which followed the morning session, advocates of several cities were busy but when Chairman Taggart reported the meeting to order the contest between Louisville and Denver, to which cities it was practically confined at that time, was still on, neither being able to claim a victory. Quite a number of men went into the meeting declining to pledge themselves for any city.

Democratic members of congress were admitted to the executive meeting, but all others were excluded. The first vote was promptly taken, Denver securing 22 votes, Louisville 15, Chicago 5 and St. Paul 1. The vote in detail follows:

For Denver—Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Alaska, Indian Territory—Total 31.

PRISON SENTENCE FOR EXPERT COUNTERFEITER

Convict Calmly Admits Manufacturing Half Dollars in Order to Raise Funds to Build Airship.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
New York, Dec. 12.—Herman Heng, who made silver half dollars so well that only experts could distinguish his product from that of the mint, was sentenced today to six years at Sing Sing prison, and to pay the government $250 in real money. Heng's method was to melt up Mexican dollars and remold the bullion into counterfeit United States fifty cent pieces. The counterfeiter calmly admitted having made the coins and set up the defense that his money was as good as the government's and consequently no one had been defrauded. He was making money, he said, with which to build an airship, as he was certain that he had solved the problem of aerial navigation.

Heng came from San Francisco and began business in a cottage on the outskirts of Suffolk, N. Y. The curiosity which led a party of boys to peep through a window of the cottage recently proved his undoing.

House Bill Aims to Prevent Injunctions Against Operation of State Laws Pending Final Hearing.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Washington, Dec. 12.—A bill designed to restrain the United States circuit and district courts and judges from issuing temporary injunctions against the operation of state laws was introduced in the house today by Mr. Clayton, of Alabama. The bill provides that it shall be unlawful for any circuit or district judge or any circuit or district judge of the United States to issue any injunction restraining the execution of any state law except in cases where final judgment has been rendered holding such state law to be in violation of the constitution, laws or treaties of the United States.

NO INJUNCTION TO BE ISSUED AGAINST ANY STATE OFFICER OR OTHER PERSON IN ANY CASE EXCEPT WHERE FINAL JUDGMENT HAS BEEN RENDERED HOLDING SUCH STATE LAW TO BE IN VIOLATION OF THE CONSTITUTION, LAWS OR TREATIES OF THE UNITED STATES.

For Chicago—Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina—Total 5.

For St. Paul—Minnesota—Total 1.

A majority of the votes cast being necessary for a choice, another vote was ordered.

Mr. Sullivan then arose and withdrew Chicago, and gave its five votes to Denver. Urey Woodson promptly followed by withdrawing Louisville, and moved to make the choice of Denver unanimous, which was done.

The committee then proceeded to vote on the date for the holding of the convention. June 23 and 30, and July 7 and 14 were all suggested, but the sentiment was largely in favor of July 7, and a vote resulted in the choice of that date.

WAS FLEET MAY CIRCLE THE GLOBE

SHIPS CARRY CHARTS COVERING SEVEN SEAS

Plans for Presidential Review Completed and Everything in Readiness for Departure Monday Morning.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Old Point Comfort, Va., Dec. 12.—Final word of "Ready" was flashed from every vessel in the battleship fleet today. This signal meant that the sixteen most powerful armor clads of the American navy were ready not only to start next Monday morning on their projected cruise to the western coast of every vessel in the battleship fleet, but are just as ready to go anywhere in the twin hemispheres of the world and do any work. It meant that hulls are sweet and clean; that they are at their task; that officers and men are trained to the hour; that bunkers are overflowing with the best steam coal the mines of the country can produce; that larders are stocked with provisions and that magazine doors are closed upon the greatest stores of ammunition ever placed on board American vessels of war.

The cars with which the ships have been groomed for their forthcoming voyage and the completeness with which they have been stored with all the necessities of a battleship's usefulness in peace or war, leave no doubt of the mobility and self-reliance of the fleet. Even the officers themselves are just a little bit surprised at the amount of work that has been accomplished and the quiet confidence that has marked every step of preparation. If the ship were destined for immediate conflict little more could be done to make them ready for the fray. The distinctive white and buff paint which has brought so much distinction to the American ships when pitted on parade against the gloomy hulled navies of other nations, would of course have to give way in favor of the safer tone of leaden gray, but that is a matter of only a few hours' work.

There is an entire absence of enthusiasm, but a manifest atmosphere of serious devotion to duty, surrounding the departure of the fleet. The orders and the published itinerary offer little prospect of entertainment or amusement en route. Sea duty drills and target practice are the outstanding features of the trip through Magellan straits to the South Atlantic and Indian huts of Magdalena bay.

One of the points of the complete readiness marking the present status of the fleet is to be found in the chart houses of the navigating officers. When the fleet was first ordered to prepare for the Pacific voyage the navigators of each ship were supplied with specially prepared charts leading down the South Atlantic coast, through the treacherous waters of Magellan straits and along the Pacific coast to San Francisco. Several weeks ago the charts were supplemented by others showing the way to the tropics, and the fleet has since been equipped with charts, capable of guiding the fleet all the way to Gibraltar.

The issuance of these charts has given rise to gossip that the fleet is destined eventually to circle the globe, and that there may be something more beyond Magdalena bay than San Francisco.

Plans for the review of the fleet and its subsequent departure on Monday morning have been completed. The Mayflower, bearing the president and secretary of the navy, together with other high officials, will arrive soon after 8 a. m., and after being saluted with twenty-one guns will anchor near the center of the fleet. Flag and commanding officers will repair on board and be received by the president. The fleet will sail at about 10 o'clock a. m., being preceded by the Mayflower, which will anchor at ten knots an hour, and in single column. Saluting again as they pass, the ships will proceed to sea. A searchlight drill tonight by all the vessels was a brilliant spectacle.

JAPANESE SERVANTS

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 12.—According to the report of petty officers on shore leave tonight, when the fleet pulls out Monday for the Pacific, there will not be a Japanese cook or servant on any of the battleships. This report is to the effect that the Japanese are being quietly but rapidly weeded out by order of the commanding officer, and their places are being filled by negroes. No reason is given for the order.

GARFIELD AROUSES FIRE OF SENATE

Members Resolve to Stop Practice of Executive Departments of Sending in Bills for Passage.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Washington, Dec. 12.—The practice of certain of the executive departments of sending drafts of bills to the senate for passage of bills which have been immediately referred directly to committees, was discussed in the senate today. Senator Carter, of Montana, presented a prepared list of instances where the heads of executive departments had addressed the senate, requesting the passage of certain bills. He said that Senator Teller, of Colorado, had himself sent bills to the senate for passage when he was secretary of the interior. Senator Aldrich said that no matter how old the practice, it should be stopped; that the executive departments had no right to seek legislation in such direct manner.

Senator Bacon said that the law which required the departments to make certain reports to congress does not include other communications.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, said that a recommendation by Secretary Garfield that a certain Indian relief bill be enacted into law by the senate and house, "peculiarly objectionable, in that it assumed a form of committee communication, not enjoyed by senators themselves, except by consent of the senate."

Senator Lodge called attention to the fact that bills going direct to committees from departments heads or subordinate officials of the legislative department, found their way into print without any readings at all, hence senators were deprived of their rights to object to such bills. He thought that this might easily result in extensive inquiry.

Senator Aldrich observed that department heads "have the right to petition or memorialize congress, or to communicate with them through the president, but," he said, "it is intolerable to suppose that we are to receive dictation from anybody as to what measures we shall or shall not enact into law. He moved that the secretary of the interior's communication of yesterday be referred to the committee on rules, with Senator Heyburn's motion to promptly report as to what action should be taken by the senate to correct the practice of direct communication by department heads."

This motion prevailed. After a brief executive session the senate, at 2:16 p. m., adjourned until Monday.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The first formal outcome of the Central American peace conference was made public today in the form of an abstract of the general treaty agreed upon last night by the delegates, providing for the establishment of a permanent court to settle all disputes that may arise between the countries of Central America in the future.

The high contracting parties, in order to avoid the employment of force for the settlement of disputes, agree to establish the Central American court of justice, to which they bind themselves to submit all controversies or questions that may arise between them in the future.

PLAGUE EPIDEMIC IS ALMOST STAMPED OUT

Only Three Verified Cases Reported in San Francisco This Month.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—Only three verified cases of plague have occurred so far this month, and the sanitary campaign that is being waged for the eradication of the disease by the marine hospital corps under Dr. Rupert Blue, is proving effective.

Approximately 11,000 rats have been killed, 7,139 premises inspected, 187 houses disinfected and three houses destroyed. There has been a marked decrease in the number of rats caught by the sanitary forces. Only 2,500 were killed last week, against 15,000, the maximum number, for one week in October.

The total number of verified cases to date are 122, deaths 69, recovered 44, under treatment 9, suspected cases 38.

Operators Fail to Make Good Promise to Resume Operations on Open Shop Basis Yesterday.

Funston Investigates Affairs in Goldfield

Leaders of Both Sides Interviewed by General, Who Forwards Official Report to President Roosevelt.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 12.—The day of the attempt to reopen the mines of Goldfield without the aid of the Western Federation of Miners has passed and there has been no sign of a resumption of operations. Unarmed picketers of the Goldfield Miners' union have approached as close to the scene of operations as the armed guards of the Mine Owners' association would permit and have succeeded in inducing some of those who had signed the agreement to return to work. General Frederick Funston arrived at noon and his coming seems to have helped the situation greatly and to have strengthened the resolve of the striking miners that the fearful incidents of strikes in other mining camps are not to be repeated here.

It is said tonight that the leaders of the strike have secured what evidence they want to prosecute some of the mining operators under a statute of the state of Nevada, which makes it a crime, punishable by a fine of not less than $50 or more than $500, or imprisonment for not less than twenty days or more than 150 days, or both, to induce or attempt to induce any person to become a member or remain a member of any labor organization. Arrests may be expected at any time. It is said by some who agree not to become a member or remain a member of any labor organization. Arrests may be expected at any time.

After a conference with President Charles H. McKinnon, of the Goldfield Miners' union, General Funston sent a report to Washington tonight regarding the situation here. The conference with President McKinnon took place at 8 o'clock and was the last of a series of conferences which General Funston has been holding since his arrival here today at 12:30.

Governor Sparks, Colonel Reynolds, in company with the troops, and President Dowlen and Secretary Erb, of the Goldfield Mine Owners' association and others were called into these conferences. General Funston wanted no time in acquainting himself with an outline, at least, of the conditions that prevail here.

While General Funston refused to say to the correspondents of the Associated Press what is contained in his report to Washington, he said that it contains nothing in regard to the probable outcome of the strike in Goldfield, but would be confined to the need for them at the present time.

The regulars will be here at least until after the arrival of the labor commissioners from Washington, said General Funston. "This means they will be here for another week and I have no doubt that the number of regulars will be much larger than that, or at least a portion of the number now here will. I am hearing all sides of the question as to the necessity for the troops in fact, it is my idea that the regulars are here to take the place of the state militia during the present crisis."

Colonel Reynolds remains in command of the troops now encamped here, and I am here to make a report on the situation and to direct things in the event of serious trouble.

"No man can say what amount of trouble is to grow out of this situation, of course, but I am trying to get at the possibilities for the trouble and for that reason I sought an interview with President McKinnon and other leaders in the local miners' union in order to hear their side of it, and to judge for myself of their frame of mind and disposition to bring about any disturbance."

General Funston did not visit the military camp until late in the afternoon and it was not until before he could find time to go over the ground and acquaint himself with the lay of the land and the location of the mines and military.

President McKinnon stated after the interview with General Funston that he had told the general that he Stoessel Court Martial Shows Up Viceroy Alexieff in Unfavorable Light; Kuropatkin on the Stand.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) St. Petersburg, Dec. 12.—The conduct of General Fock, who is charged with responsibility for the defeat at Nanchang, and the subsequent retreat to Port Arthur, also was reviewed by the court and the evidence of General Kuropatkin was helpful to this officer as well.

General Kuropatkin declined to answer several questions on the ground that to do so would make known military secrets, but he did say that the whole plan of the war was based upon the supposed invincibility of the Russian fleet, and that the original scheme for the defense of Port Arthur could not be carried out successfully after the squadron had been crippled by the treacherous opening attack of the Japanese.

According to the indictment, General Fock's retreat from Nanchang jeopardized the fortress, but General Stoessel produced orders from General Kuropatkin and Viceroy Alexieff justifying Fock's retreat, and he obtained the admission from General Kuropatkin that the position was untenable without the assistance of the fleet, over the fleet General Stoessel had no authority.

The name of former Viceroy Alexieff, who has declined to appear as a witness, was mentioned continually today in an unfavorable light, and a ripple of merriment was provoked by a phrase in one of his orders saying: "The chief task of Fock is to retreat at the proper time."

COLORADO BANKER IN LAND FRAUD DRAG NET

Witness in Tallmadge Case Ordered to Remain Within Jurisdiction of the Roswell Court.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.) Roswell, N. M., Dec. 12.—It developed today in the Tallmadge land fraud case now on trial that a prominent Coloradoan, T. M. Moninger, banker and wealthy citizen of Loveland, Colo., was to a certain degree mixed up in the alleged land fraud cases of the Pecos valley. He testified today that he came here on December 7 to testify in a suit brought by J. S. Naylor, of Loveland, where in Mr. Naylor is alleging fraud to recover the purchase price of certain land he claims to have bought. It developed from Moninger's own testimony that he induced friends and neighbors to come to New Mexico and buy land which he sold at exorbitant prices, and that the land sold to J. S. Naylor is some of the land involved in the land fraud cases now on trial. Upon the completion of his testimony Moninger was ordered not to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

The subsidy will expire in August next, and evidently it is not to be renewed. Governor Takes Steps to Force Retirement of Official Who Resigned.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 12.—Governor Warner today formally instructed State Attorney General Bird to draft charges against State Treasurer Frank P. This action follows Governor Warner's call upon Treasurer Glasgow at his home yesterday, and his demand for Glasgow's resignation, which the treasurer refused. The charges against Mr. Glasgow upon which the governor will base the removal proceedings grow out of the closing of the Chelsea (Mich.) ## Construction Employee on Belen Cut-Off Brought to Hospital in This City, Suffering From Painful Injuries

In attempting to cross the track at rock crusher No. 7, on the Belen cut-off, yesterday morning before a work engine, Thomas Sullivan, an employee of the Sharpe Construction company, was struck and dragged some distance, receiving internal injuries, which may result in his death. He was brought here last night from the south and taken to the St. Joseph's hospital for treatment.

Dr. Radcliffe, of Belen, brought Sullivan here, suffering intensely from the mass of bruises and cuts on his body. Dr. Radcliffe said that it was a miracle that he was not killed outright. Sullivan is about fifty years of age. He was starting for work when run down. According to the story told by felice employees, he left his tent and started for a big bonfire opposite to reach the fire he was compelled to cross the track, seeing the engine and some cars coming, he attempted to "beat them to it," but he miscalculated the distance.

He was taken to the hospital in the Borders ambulance. Dr. Reidy was called to assist Dr. Radcliffe in attending the injured man. William Henry, a companion of Sullivan, accompanied him to the city.

After Once Tasting Vinol

no one wants an old-fashioned cod liver oil preparation or emulsion, because Vinol is a much better body-builder and strength creator for old people, weak children, and for coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc. If it does no good we will return your money.

plan to plunder every place possible without loss of time. The following are the latest additions to the list:

The Elks' club grill room, whisky, cigars and other stuff stolen, furniture damaged to the extent of $15.

The Briggs Highland pharmacy in the Occidental building, drugs, holiday goods and stock to the value of $35 stolen.

The T. A. Lindville grocery store, 595 West Central avenue, groceries and staple goods stolen, value $20.

It is suspected by some that the work is being done by a bunch of bad boys. If this is true they are developing into expert criminals at a pretty rapid rate, as evidenced by the fact that so far they have left no clue to their identity.

ESTANCIA AUTOS HEAVY LOSS BY A BIG MEETING HELD WILL RESUME CONFLAGRATION AT ALAMEDA TOMORROW AT TORREON

Regular Schedule to Valley County School Superintendent Will be Established—Big Improvements on Route During the Suspension.

After being compelled to abandon its service on account of bad roads and defective machinery, the Albuquerque-Estancia Auto company will tomorrow morning formally resume its schedule between this city and Estancia and Willard. The first car will leave the Sturges hotel at 8 o'clock, arriving in Estancia about 1 o'clock, and at Willard thirty minutes later.

Duncan McGillivray, general manager, and F. M. McCloskey, two officials of the auto company, arrived here yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Estancia valley in auto car No. 1, operated by Chauffeur Pearl Bacon, Car No. 2, operated by Chauffeur Hendricks, arrived shortly afterwards.

Car No. 2 will start from Willard this morning at 8 o'clock, arriving at Estancia at 8:30 o'clock, leaving at 9 o'clock and reaching Albuquerque about 2 o'clock, returning to the Estancia valley Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.

"During our enforced stop we have been busy getting the roads from Tijeras to Estancia in passable condition for any sort of weather. We have built two bridges across arroyos between Moriarty and Estancia, and our next great task is to avoid the great climb up the Sedillo hill, by constructing a road which will skirt the San Pedro mountains to the west, and parallel the Santa Fe Central railway to Moriarty," said Mr. McGillivray last night.

Since the rains a month ago, the road through the Tijeras canyon is in excellent condition, and with some little labor the few bad spots can be eliminated, according to Mr. McCloskey.

As soon as a regular schedule is finally established, the Albuquerque-Estancia Auto company will apply for the contract of carrying the United States mails from Albuquerque to Moriarty, McIntosh, Estancia and vicinity.

Freighters Engaged to Haul Lead Ore from Hunter Properties to This City—Ready to Sink at Alvarado

A number of freighters have been secured by Colonel Albert P. Hunter, the local mining man, to haul the ore found in his lead mines in Hell Canyon, to this city, where the ore will be loaded into cars, and shipped to the smelter at El Paso. Colonel Hunter states that the assays made from the lead and galena already taken from the property indicate that the veins are practically inexhaustible.

Work on the Alvarado copper and gold mine in Coyote canyon owned by L. G. Rosenfield, is progressing satisfactorily. The preliminary work for sinking the shaft has been completed and sinking will be started within several days. Considerable development work on other properties in Tijeras canyon, Hell canyon and Coyote canyon is being done at present.

Interest in Lectures by Messrs. Garcia and Tinsley Increases Rapidly; Seventy-five Farmers Present.

The meeting in the interest of better farming and good roads, held at Alameda, north of the city, last evening by Superintendent Stroup, Professor Tinsley and Professor Garcia, of the experiment station, was perhaps the most interesting and most successful yet held in the county by the school experts. There were over seventy-five persons in attendance at the school house, the meeting beginning at a quarter after 6 o'clock and lasting for two hours. The agricultural experts were listened to with close attention and an unusual discussion was a most animated and helpful one. Today a similar meeting will be held at Los Grillos and Saturday afternoon the first one will be held at the court house in Old Albuquerque.

The questions asked the visitors by the farmers is a good indication of the interest taken. Among those asked yesterday Superintendent Stroup asked the following:

How can we get rid of the grasshoppers?
When is the best time to harvest onions?
Suggest a selection of the best variety of onions.
Why do not potatoes grow better in the valley?
Why, in many cases, do the chills begin to die after doing well for a while?
Is it the same often true of tomatoes?
Is it necessary to hill up grapes?
Must all grapes be killed up?
Are there any varieties of strawberries that do well here?
Wanted—Advice on growing celery. How about sugar beets for feed?
What can be done for the worm that eats alfalfa?
How about the bug that eats the beans?
How can we exterminate field rats?

Sugar Beet Raising Will Make Rio Grande Farms Eclipse Famous Poudre Valley in Colorado Says Expert.

(By Carl B. Stow.)

The Poudre valley in northern Colorado, is one of the most prosperous and thickly settled agricultural sections of the United States, and in the past few years the farming lands there have advanced in price with wonderful rapidity. $200 and $300 an acre are not unusual prices for improved farms. This highly developed agricultural locality, which is unrivaled in any way even by the older farming sections of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, has won its enviable distinction because of the intelligence of the farmers and the wonderful productivity of the soil, combined with abundance of sunshine and absolute control of the water supply.

The transformation which has taken place in the Poudre valley during the past twenty years has changed that locality from a desert with sage brush and cactus as its only vegetation, to a beautiful developed region of model farms and dotted with growing and substantial cities, populated with a prosperous and progressive lot of people as the sun shines upon. This unprecedented progress and advancement with which this valley in northern Colorado has been favored, should be an incentive to the people of Albuquerque and vicinity to awaken to the wonderful possibilities that lie unexploited at their very door. The same soil of incredible fertility, the same abundance of sunshine, and the same methods of applying water to the growing crops can be found in this locality as in the prosperous agricultural section above referred to, but the one important factor which we must admit is lacking, is either the shortsightedness of the people to refuse the great agricultural possibilities of this valley, or the lack of

Some pretty fast playing is promised the people who witness the basketball game tonight at the Casino between the girls' team of the Las Vegas Normal school and the girls' variety team of this city. The Las Vegas team, with a bunch of supporters, will arrive here this afternoon on the flyer. The game will be called at 8 o'clock. Immediately after the conclusion of the game a dance will be held.

The line-up of the varsity girls is as follows: Belle Franklin, Clarice Pugh, forwards; Lucy Edie, center; and Alice and Lucy McMullen, guards.

The varsity five has been practicing each day since its defeat by a close margin in Las Vegas. Thanksgiving night, and Coach Heald believes that the Albuquerque girls will win, and play all around the Meadow City girls.

Arrangements have just been made for a double-header basketball game at the Casino the night of December 22, when the varsity girls will play a game from the Indian school, after which the varsity boys, who have just begun practicing, will play a team from the Gallup public schools.

Hearing of Santa Fe Conductor On Charge Sworn to by J. H. Springer, Continued Until Next Monday.

Jose Miller, Santa Fe conductor, was arrested Wednesday upon a warrant charging Miller with assault and battery. The case was due to come up before Justice of the Peace W. W. McCallister yesterday, but was continued until Monday. The case is another outcome of the trouble that has existed for some time between the two families.

No other food deteriorates so rapidly as the oyster, its habits in the ocean. It requires moisture and absolute freedom from exposure to the air in order to retain its delicate flavor and its wholesomeness. REALSHIP OYSTERS are brought directly to us from the choicest beds of America. They are shucked into porcelain cases, sealed and packed in ice, which never comes in contact with the oysters. The use of Sealship Carriers is the secret of their superiority. Realship Oysters received daily.

knowledge on their part as to the art of farming by irrigation. The real value of a farm is based largely upon its actual producing power, which is the net amount received each year from the sale of crops raised, and just so soon as the farmers in this locality learn that as much can be realized from the crops raised on one acre of this land, as from the crops raised on four acres of the best corn land in Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, then the actual development of the agricultural possibilities will begin and advance with the same success as in the Poudre valley of Colorado. Every acre of corn land in Iowa that will produce forty bushels of corn worth 35 cents per bushel will sell readily at $100 an acre, and every acre of corn land in this locality farmed intelligently by properly rotating the crops will produce four times the amount received by the Iowa farmer, making the value of the farming land in this valley $400 an acre. These are facts which no person can deny, and if a model farm is established in this locality under the management of some agriculturist who is familiar with the art of scientific farming, the development of this valley will be assured and the prosperity of the farmers unequalled in any part of the arid region. By scientific farming is meant the raising of all crops adapted to this particular locality, and in using the proper methods of cultivation, irrigation and rotating to attain the best results.

It must be remembered that in the development of the irrigable lands of this valley, the raising of sugar beets must be made the leading industry. The raising of this crop is absolutely necessary in order that the valley may make homes for hundreds of farmers, as the raising of sugar beets is the only crop that will cause the land to be divided into small farms, and is the only industry that will make the farmers prosperous and independent. The raising of alfalfa, sugar beets and grain, and the feeding of sheep are the secrets of the success achieved by the farmers of northern Colorado, and the same will be true of this valley. The raising of alfalfa, sugar beets and grain, and the feeding of sheep are the secrets of the success achieved by the farmers of northern Colorado, and the same will be true of this valley. The raising of alfalfa, sugar beets and grain, and the feeding of sheep are the secrets of the success achieved by the farmers of northern Colorado, and the same will be true of this valley.

National Capital at Height of Its Beauty; the Horse Rapidly Disappearing; Washington Has Skating Craze.

(By Will C. Barnes.) Washington, Dec. 7.—It is unfortunate that in the early days of the republic they could not have foreseen the immense growth of the country and located the capital of the nation somewhere nearer the center of the country, so as to be more readily and cheaply reached by us from the far west.

For it is a far west when you look back over the 2,000 miles or more between the city of Washington and Santa Fe.

St. Louis, many years ago, made a fight to get the capital moved out there, promising, if I remember rightly, to move every public building then erected and re-erect it there, and also move all the records, etc., free of charge.

But it fell through, and, of course, today such a thing is out of the question.

But it is unfortunate because Washington is a city that every loyal American citizen should visit, not once, but many times. It is a city for us all to be proud of, and as time goes on will be more and more attractive to the visitor.

The first entrance into the city through the new Union station is a foretaste of what the city has in store for one.

This splendid station, which has cost fourteen million dollars so far, stands unequalled in the world, and of its kind, in size, splendor, and grandeur.

Like most of the public buildings here, the white marble enters largely into its construction, and it certainly forms a splendid gateway to our national capital.

And the city itself, with its wide and well paved streets, its many parks and open places where green grasses, trees and flowers are growing, where overhead wires are unknown and the trolley only found in the suburbs. How can any American visit it and not be a better citizen ever afterwards.

And the city of today, splendid as it is, is no doubt still harder to start in its growth and improvement.

One is struck with the number of autos seen on the streets, especially the electric, which seem to be great favorites here. There is very little fast running, too, and the speed limit seems to be pretty generally enforced. Well, Fargo, Lee, Adams, and other express companies use autos almost entirely for city work.

It may be that in spite of all prediction that the auto is not replacing the horse, but it is hard to believe it is not the case when you watch a fashionable wedding or about the theaters at night, for there is an auto for every carriage at such places, and sometimes two autos for one carriage.

Now if the autos were not there the people would be using horse-drawn carriages, hence they surely have displaced the horse that much at any rate. Of course, the demand for and scarcity of horses is always pointed to as an evidence that the auto does no harm in the demand, but to me it only proves that the supply of horses is very low and when the country began to expand had it not been for the auto the price for horse flesh would have been vastly higher and the scarcity more marked.

They have the roller skate craze here in a very virulent form. The smooth asphalt pavements offer an ideal place to use them and hundreds of skaters of all ages, boys and girls, young women and men, and older persons of both sexes, crowd the streets on pleasant evenings just as you see ice skaters out on the ice. Here a dozen boys, laughing and shouting, there a young fellow and his best girl side by side with clasped hands crossed in front of them just as if it were on an ice pond. One evening on one street the crowd was lined up for a whole block on both sides watching some fifty or sixty skaters who were all experts at it and doing all sorts of fancy stunts. They went up and down this block and the exhibition of fancy skating was something worth seeing.

This past week has been a lively one, even for Washington. The opening of the National Drainage association was naturally an event, then the Rivers and Harbors convention was in session for three days, which attracted great crowds and many noted men addressed it.

Then on two days the republican national committee was in session and that, in itself, was no small affair, sounding, as it did, the first cry of the coming national campaign.

Mr. Sol Luna, our national committeeman, who never misses anything where either New Mexico or the republican party is interested, was a prominent figure at the committee meeting and also attended the Rivers and Harbors convention as a delegate from New Mexico.

When asked what interest New Mexico had in such a meeting we referred the inquirer to the legal opinion of the United States courts as to the navigability of the Rio Grande and the possibility of an appropriation for making it a deep waterway as far up as possibly Las Cruces or Socorro.

Last week they held a meeting here of the National Drainage association, and it struck me as an odd condition of affairs and also shows the widely divergent interests of our country. This drainage meeting was to urge federal aid in draining some eighty million acres of swamp land lying

TIME TO WAKE UP.

The Morning Journal is in receipt of numerous expressions of approval of the policy recommended through these columns, the other day, by Mr. M. P. Starn. And such expressions do not come from those who speak first and think afterwards, but from our soundest and most thoughtful citizens, who recognize the fact that owing to various circumstances, but chiefly the great immigration that is at present pouring into New Mexico, and the great number of broad and far-reaching enterprises that are being prepared for launching, Albuquerque stands just now at the parting of the ways, and that it is up to us to choose, and to choose now, whether we shall put forth the necessary effort to maintain the proud position we occupy today as the principal city of New Mexico, or whether by sleeping upon our chances we shall permit the opportunity to pass by us unimproved, and allow some other point to grasp the prize that is now within our reach, and which we can make ours by the mere taking of it.

This is no ordinary question, which we have to pass upon during the next few months. The map of the western states is dotted all over with towns, or rather the wrecks of towns, whose people drove them on to the shoals by the same fatal mistake that some of our people are inclined to make now, of supposing that they were so big, and strong, and important, that everything was forced to come to them anyhow, and without any effort on their part. The old heathen philosophy tells us that "the gods help those who help themselves," and that was never more true than it is in the present day and generation. If we are to profit by the growth and development of New Mexico we must show ourselves worthy of such good fortune, and show it by our own efforts. The "old timers" still among us can tell you how such things are done. They can tell you that Albuquerque, founded less than thirty years ago, and regarded as a mere upstart among towns that reckoned their ages by centuries, forced herself to the front, and captured the proud position she now occupies, by her own hard work, and her own hard-earned money. It takes both to do it, but when it is done your money, and the compensation for your labor, both come back to you a thousand fold. The million dollars that Mr. Starn would have to spend for public improvements would not be a contribution, not by any means, but on the other hand would be an investment, paying a ten-fold greater rate of interest than anything else you could put your money into.

Then let us "get a move on" ourselves, and without any further delay send a committee of business men to Washington, to get congress to pass an act giving us permission to bond our own property, for the benefit of ourselves and those who are to come after us. This is not a wild dream—it is simply a matter of business. Every great undertaking in this age of the world is put through on borrowed capital. The men or the communities that have the money never do anything. The world is moved by the men who have the nerve, and the construction of the public improvements for which this bond issue would be used would give the town a position so eminently permanent that it would never be questioned, and the growth of the place that would be superinduced thereby would give us such an enlarged basis of taxation that the expenses of the city government, including the interest on the bonds, would require a much lower per cent than we have to pay today. It is time to wake up and go to work—and put the town on the shelf.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

"Political gossip at the most finds a deep significance in the selection of Chicago as the place of meeting for the republican national convention. It is regarded as a distinct setback for the Taft boom, and at the same time the selection is regarded as evidence of successful activity on the part of the Cortesley following."

The foregoing paragraph sets forth the right in which our California contemporary, the San Francisco Call, reads the lesson taught by the location of the republican national convention at Chicago, and upon this foundation the Call builds as follows:

"Mr. Cortesley has undoubtedly come into greater prominence in the past month by reason of his important gency. He has had a vast volume of advertising and yet it is not at all certain that on sober second thought his part in the events of the past month will gain the full approval of the people. Doubtless he did what circumstances compelled and precedent had warranted, but people will ask whether it was necessary to borrow enormous sums while the treasury was full and overflowing. No one will attribute to Mr. Cortesley anything but the best intentions, but it may be that he was carried off his feet by the clamor and insistence of interested financiers. It now seems to be conceded that the Panama loan and the proposal to issue $100,000,000 in government certificates were unnecessary."

All that is true, but it is not by any means the whole truth, and very unfortunately for Mr. Cortesley, the large part of the truth which the Call leaves untold, is a great deal more significant than the small part which it has told. The crystallized opinion of the country now is that Mr. Cortesley, with the merest smattering of information upon the subject of finance, rushed recklessly in where life-long students of the subject feared to tread, and ordered the issuing of a hundred and fifty millions of bonds and ship-plasters, which could not do any good, and which would likely do a great deal of harm. We agree perfectly with our California contemporary that "no one will attribute to Mr. Cortesley anything but the best intentions," but he is said to be paved with good intentions, and our federal government is not under obligations to furnish paying material for that reason. The one and only redeeming feature in Mr. Cortesley's big blunder is that he saw his mistake, and stopped the issue before it was half out, and in doing that, Mr. Cortesley became entitled to much respect because some public men refuse to stop after they see their mistake, or at least, after everybody else sees it. And still, we can't see where or how that fact and the location of the national convention have any direct or indirect bearing upon each other, either for or against the Cortesley boom.

And as to the Taft boom, it is still more difficult to discover how or why the location of the convention at Chicago is a setback to that movement. Mr. Taft is very popular throughout the west, and is recognized as in every way a man fully big enough to be president of the United States in his own right, and if the location has anything to do with the nomination, Chicago would probably be better for Taft than any of the other places named. According to all present appearances, his most formidable competitor will probably be Governor Hughes, and the governor's friends would undoubtedly have chosen any eastern city in preference to Chicago. Mr. Cannon is probably very well pleased with Chicago, but so far as all the others on the list are concerned, it is doubtful whether any one of them would have made that city his first choice.

THE FURY OF THE WAVES.

It is still true that the lot of those who go down to the sea in ships is not always a happy one, and it appears also that Neptune is not yet ready to surrender his scepter without a desperate struggle. Two great modern vessels arrived at New York, a few days since, after a battle with the elements which would have sent to the bottom the best ship afloat only a few years ago. We copy from the Herald of Monday morning:

"After a battle westward, against terrific seas on voyages that both captains said were the worst they had experienced in ten years, the Lusitania, of the Cunard line, from Liverpool, and the American line steamship Philadelphia, from Southampton and Cherbourg, arrived yesterday, on that great turbine liner, the Lusitania, built sixty feet above the water were torn and bent, steel cargo booms weighing many tons were wrenched from their fastenings and the forecastle deck was so strewn with wreckage last Tuesday that Captain J. B. Watt slowed the ship down to make the threatening spars fast."

"On the Philadelphia, a gangway door far up on the promenade deck was torn off by a huge sea that came on board in the morning, westerly gale that both ships met, driving mountainous seas before it, last Monday."

"It was just at the dinner hour when the Lusitania's bow fell into the trough between two high waves, and the oncoming sea, which is described in the log as 'mountainous,' rushed over the ship."

worked to fasten the drifting spars. The forecastle had also slackened, and it was necessary to set them tight, lest the forecastle should give under the terrific strain."

"That movement down at Las Cruces gives the irrigation congress a grand send-off."

Alfalfa, cuttings and sugar beets promise to be the three great crops of New Mexico. And there's millions in them.

The most of the saloon men are now willing to admit that the enforcement of the anti-gambling law will not injure their business in the least.

That show, down in Virginia, by which Uncle Sam was roped in to the tune of a million or more, is now commonly referred to as the Jesse Jamestown expedition.

The suggestion of a big round license for the sale of ardent spirits and a modified license for the sale of lager beer, is now quite generally approved, as a temperance measure.

We have hinted to our Santa Fe neighbor, several times, that he didn't know a republican paper when he saw it, and now we have the proof of that fact in his own words.

The immigration boom that New Mexico is now experiencing is but a repetition of the experience which made populous states in a few years, out of the unbroken wilderness of Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas. Make a place, Uncle, for that other star.

What the Editors of the Southwest Are Saying

Least of His Troubles.
At any rate, President Diaz has got past fooling over the third term question.—Window Mail.

Cut It Out.
Girls, stop trying to think, Dr. Cantrick, of Cleveland, says you can't do both, and nobody could expect you to give up the gum.—El Paso Herald.

It's Deadly Work.
This awful attitude has gotten in its nefarious work again, it seems. We are told the telephone rate to Dayton has crawled up another five cents per message.—Arizona Advocate.

And Those Gum Shoes.
Unswerving zeal, tireless energy and unusual political acumen are making Delegate Andrews the most successful representative New Mexico ever had at Washington.—Carlsbad Outlook.

Editor's Been There.
"There are no banks in Hades," asserts the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Aside from wondering how the editor found it out, we have a suspicion that the same cannot be said of bankers.—Tucson Citizen.

Rather Remote.
A scientist has figured out that Adam lived 18,000,000 years ago. One can get some idea of what this means from the fact that Bryan had not begun running for president in Adam's life.—Phoenix Republican.

He Shines the Shoes of Plunderbund.
Blackleg boots in some of the northwestern towns seems to be much better and more profitable than gold mining in Nevada. A Tucson bootblack has just raked up a fortune of $60,000.—Hon. Em. Complementer Front.

Long Felt Want.
Last week's Arizona Advocate contained a good editorial on "Common Sense in Government." If there is anything that this great country is in need of, it is a little economy in connection with government affairs.—Dustin Echo.

Take a Pill.
With Saturn's rings falling in and the sun troubled with tongues of flame, it need not surprise us to hear that the canals on Mars are overflowing their banks and that the astronomers are expecting to hear of Mercury going down.—Window Mail.

Spooning Becoming Deadly.
An Arizona, B. L. young man contracted blood-poisoning by holding the hand of his best girl. No wonder gangrene is going out of fashion. Contracting is attended with perils in these latter days that were unknown to our grandparents.—Phoenix Republican.

Good Suggestion.
It is suggested that if ten gallons of gasoline were given with each ton of the Trinidad coal that now afflicts San Marcelino it might be possible to burn some of it. Better give the operator ten years, so that he cannot mine any more of it.—San Marcial Standard.

Fixing Up the Town.
The city administration is spending a very considerable sum of money with most effective results in improving the streets of Silver City. The work is being done in a systematic and intelligent manner and the improvement to the streets is very good. For this improvement the mayor and the members of the town council are entitled to much credit.—Silver City Independent.

Still Taking Notice.
The Albuquerque morning yellow sheet is constantly attacking Governor Curry wherever it has a chance and it manufactures such quite often. It especially delights in covertly and underhandedly assailing the administration of President Roosevelt, as in doing so it imagines it can injure the present territorial administration. It is failing miserably as it ought to be, and it does not know any better and therefore its editorial provocations and silly assumptions are considerable of a laughing stock.—The Almatian.

ROSWELL TRAIN TO MAKE FIRST TRIP ON WEDNESDAY

ONE DAY SCHEDULE FROM HERE TO PECOS VALLEY

Train Will Run Clear to Amarillo, Texas, Connections
for Roswell and Carlsbad
Being Made at Texico.

Next Wednesday at 7:05 o'clock the first passenger train to leave for Roswell, via the Belen cut-off, will depart from Albuquerque, arriving at Roswell at 9:45 o'clock that night, and at Carlsbad at 1 o'clock next Thursday morning. At 4 o'clock Wednesday morning a train will start from Carlsbad, passing through Roswell at 7 o'clock and arriving in Albuquerque at 10:45 o'clock that night.

Santa Fe Agent T. E. Purdy received word late Wednesday night from Superintendent Frank L. Myers at San Marcial that the Roswell train service would commence next Wednesday. The schedule will be as follows:

Leave. Arrive.
Albuquerque 7:05 a.m. 10:45 p.m.
Belen 8:15 a.m. 9:35 p.m.
Texico 5:50 p.m. 11:45 a.m.
Amarillo 10:45 p.m. 8:30 a.m.
Roswell 9:45 p.m. 7:00 a.m.
Carlsbad 1:00 a.m. 4:00 a.m.

The train leaving Albuquerque will run to Amarillo, Texas, meeting a stub train at Texico for Roswell and Carlsbad, and the return train also starts from Amarillo, the Carlsbad and Roswell connection meeting it at Texico.

"The new train service will open up the entire Pecos valley to Albuquerque, giving us business that had heretofore been taken care of in Denver and El Paso. The Belen cut-off is going to help boost for that 30,000 mark in 1910," said Agent Purdy yesterday afternoon.

The local ticket office has not yet received a copy of the tariff for the Belen cut-off, and until one is received tickets will be sold only to Belen, the passenger paying the conductor from there to Texico.

With the opening up of the Eastern Railway of New Mexico will come a vast increase in the territory covered by the Harvey system of hotels, eating houses and news stands. Otto Haan, inspector and auditor for the Harvey system west of Albuquerque, will probably have jurisdiction over the cut-off, and with the inauguration of the Roswell service the Harvey news agents will be placed on the two trains, giving the passengers the Morning Journal hot from the press, every day, besides the other daily papers sold on trains.

Meals will be had at Belen, Vaughn, Clovis, Texico, Roswell, Carlsbad and Amarillo.

It is reported that the Rio Grande division will have jurisdiction over the Belen cut-off from Belen to Vaughn, or through to Texico, giving Superintendent Frank L. Myers a large territory as that now handled by Superintendent E. J. Gibson, of the Albuquerque division of the coast lines. H. W. Sharpe, general superintendent of the western grand division, will have supervision of the cut-off.

Orin Laxative Fruit Syrup, the new laxative, stimulates, but does not irritate. It is the laxative, guaranteed or your money back. J. H. O'Reilly Co.

HOW CAN YOU DO IT?

Here are some figures from the best source possible that ought to set you to thinking if you have kidney disease.

Dr. Leomin, of Bellevue Hospital, speaks from clinical observations and a large number of autopsies at Bellevue, that nine-tenths of men and women over 40 have Bright's Disease in some form. See Medical Times, December, 1907, p. 284.

And the census shows that over nine-tenths of all the deaths from kidney disease the last census year were really due to Bright's Disease, viz., 58,000 out of 62,000. See U. S. Census for 1900.

Although Dr. Leomin is an authority and it is presumptuous yet we cannot believe with him that nine-tenths of all people over 40 have Bright's Disease. We think he has had said that nine-tenths of all people having kidney trouble have Bright's Disease, for the census figures cannot be denied and show conclusively that nine-tenths of all the dead from kidney troubles had Bright's Disease.

Now on earth, then, can people with kidney trouble afford to take any medicine but Fulton's Renal Compound, the only known specific for Bright's Disease?

It is superseding kidney medicine. We are the agents. J. H. O'Reilly Co., druggists, Albuquerque, N. M.

both badly damaged and considerable track was torn up, completely blocking the main line for many hours. Wrecking trains from Raton and La Junta were sent to the scene of the accident, and also a number of physicians.

F. R. Frost, chief electrical engineer of the car lighting department of the Santa Fe system, with headquarters at Topeka, who spent Wednesday in the city, went to Gallup and Winslow yesterday morning.

James Kelly, of the Los Angeles news office of the Harvey system, has been transferred to the Albuquerque office, succeeding A. Medbury, transferred to the Los Angeles office.

The California limited arrived here yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, being delayed an hour and twenty-five minutes east of Las Vegas.

Frank S. Bamford, city passenger agent at Chicago, Ill., for the Pennsylvania system, is in the city visiting friends. He returns to the Windy city Sunday.

Air brake instruction car No. 99906 arrived here yesterday morning and will stay here until December 21. Instructor H. H. Burns is in charge and all trainmen will be given a course of instruction in the manipulation of the air brakes on freight and passenger trains.

CODDINGTON CASE WILL BE ARGUED THIS MORNING

Evidence Finished in District Court Yesterday; Defendant in Damage Case Takes the Stand in His Own Behalf.

The trial in the district court of Harry Coddington, sheriff of McKinley county, for alleged false imprisonment, was concluded at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when both prosecution and the territory announced that they were through. Judge Ira A. Abbott immediately adjourned court until this morning, limiting the attorneys for both sides to one hour for argument. It is expected that the case will go to the jury about noon.

Harry Coddington, the defendant, in the suit brought by Nicholas Henry, for $25,000 damages, took the stand yesterday in his own defense. Mr. Coddington stated that he arrested Hengel for being a principal in a fight, which took place at Gallup yesterday night. He said that he was not an eye witness to the fight, but was informed that Hengel was a leader, and therefore took the liberty of arresting and placing Hengel in jail. He declared that he believed himself justified in jailing Hengel.

On cross-examination Coddington admitted that he disliked Hengel, and that their enmity against each other was over political matters.

Attorney George S. Klock, one of Hengel's attorneys, will argue for the plaintiff, while F. W. Chaney, district attorney, represents Coddington.

Articles of incorporation for the Simpler-Shoe company, which has opened a store at 218 1-2 South Second street, were filed in the probate court yesterday by Jesse C. Clark, Alphonse Simpler and Frederick Simpler, as incorporators. The capital of the corporation is placed at $10,000, with 100 shares at the par value of $100 each.

On the grounds of abandonment, Carr C. Riley was yesterday granted an absolute divorce from Charles C. Riley by Judge Ira A. Abbott in the district court by default. Manuel Arboles, convict No. 2947, who escaped several weeks ago from a gang of convicts working on the scenic route out of Las Vegas, has been recaptured by Officer Orville Lane at Trinidad and will be at once taken back to the penitentiary. Lane got the drop on the man and carried him unharmed. The convict is a powerful six-footer, but made no attempt to resist.

PHOENIX ORANGES SELLING HERE

Salt River Valley Man is Dispensing First Car Load of the Fruit Ever Brought Here
From That Locality.

W. P. Crump, of Phoenix, is in the city with the first carload of Salt river valley oranges ever brought to this city. The oranges are of fine flavor and appearance and are selling rapidly.

One hundred cars are being shipped out of Phoenix," said Mr. Crump yesterday. "We got the first oranges into New York City by Thanksgiving, and will keep on shipping until after Christmas. The first boxes to reach New York brought eight dollars a bushel, and the Phoenix orange is much more in demand and always brings a better price in the east than the California and Florida varieties. Half boxes sell as high as $4.15. The oranges ripen earlier than the California oranges, are seedless, are sweeter and have a better color. In fact, they are without a peer in the world.

There is an immense acreage in oranges in the Salt river valley now, but with the completion of the Roosevelt reclamation project it will become vastly greater. The groves at present average between six and forty acres apiece. Lemons and tangerines are also raised in quantity. The crop is selling well in Albuquerque, and I believe after the oranges have once been introduced there will be a big demand for them here."

Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 12.—Today's political news received a favorable interpretation in Wall Street and was signified by many opening advances of from one to two points with the Harriman stocks displaying the most activity and strength. The action of the market alarmed the short interest and they bought extensively, giving an appearance of great strength and animation to the trading. The initial prices, however, proved to be the highest of receipts of favorable factors intruded themselves and the market lost all it had gained.

The failure of the bulls to follow up their advantage encouraged the bears to work diligently to break prices and by concentrating their selling against certain stocks in which the special consideration operated the latter caught the bull about a general decline. The principal stocks, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Missouri Pacific were targets for this selling at intervals with the result that the market closed lower. The failure of the bulls to follow up their advantage encouraged the bears to work diligently to break prices and by concentrating their selling against certain stocks in which the special consideration operated the latter caught the bull about a general decline. The principal stocks, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Missouri Pacific were targets for this selling at intervals with the result that the market closed lower.

Reports from the interior of improved monetary conditions are supported by the lighter shipments from here, but the position of the local banks has been essentially favored by this development, owing to heavy drain on sub-treasury operations. The banks have lost nearly $50,000,000 on this account during the week. Time funds continue unsatisfactory in large amounts, though rates though high are considered purely nominal. In spite of these unfavorable circumstances the market, as a whole, rendered fairly good account of itself and showed evidence of support at opportune times.

A large proportion of the day's business was transacted at the high range of prices, though the market was going in a dull and listless fashion until the list eventually fell back to a parity with yesterday's closing prices or below. The bearish attacks which occurred at frequent intervals during the day was aided in large part by the timidity of the bulls to revive the market from its lethargy and when the count operators offered large amounts of different stocks simultaneously the supporting odds were withdrawn and heavy loss order were uncovered.

The close was at 1 1/4 c. and 1 1/2 c. May corn opened unchanged to a shade higher at 53 1/2 to 54 1/2 c. and closed at 54 1/2 c. and 55 c. The close was at 54 1/2 c. and 55 c. # NEWSPAPER MAN IS MEANS SUCCESS OF VIOLENTLY INSANE CONGRESS

MISFORTUNE STRIKES HARD AT PIERRE PURCELL

Former Rochester Man Goes to Las Vegas Asylum After Running Amuck at Las Cruces.

Tragedy was written large on the faces of a little party of people who were in Albuquerque for an hour yesterday morning. They were on their way to the New Mexico Insane asylum at Las Vegas, and were in charge of Sheriff Lucero, of Dona Ana county. It was the grim tragedy of nerves and nerves.

Pierre Purcell, once a prominent newspaper man in Rochester, N. Y., now a raving maniac, was the central figure, and with him his wife, a sweet-faced woman, whose courage seems to be fully equal to the bitter task before her.

Early in the autumn Purcell came to Las Cruces suffering from nervous breakdown. His nervous system had been completely wrecked by overwork. For some time he had been acting strangely, but it was not until the beginning of this week that he became violent. Then he got up at night, went to the chicken house, secured an axe and carefully chopped off the heads of each and every chicken. Then he returned to bed. Next day he became angrier at some trifling thing and taking the axe, threatened to kill his wife and son. He was secured, but before the sheriff came Purcell had arranged to drive out on the mesa with his son, where he said he proposed to kill him at his leisure.

The mania to slay seems to have taken full possession of Purcell. On his examination before Judge Parker in Las Cruces, Purcell was asked if he had ever killed any one before. He replied cheerfully that he had killed fifteen or sixteen people.

The physician who examined Purcell, says his breakdown is purely the result of overstrain of the nerves, due to overwork. He was committed to the asylum by Judge Parker on Tuesday.

GOVERNOR AND HOPEWELL VISIT IN EL PASO

Governor Curry and Chairman Hopewell, of the board of control, were in El Paso yesterday, where they met a number of men who are interested in New Mexico, to take up the irrigation congress, and the statehood movement of the valley. They will reach Albuquerque this morning, the governor going through to Santa Fe. The party will return to El Paso in the near future when the irrigation congress will be the chief business taken up.

ANOTHER BIG TRIP IS NOW ON THE CARDS

The next journey to be taken by the irrigation congress board of control, will be into the Pecos valley, and it will cover a large portion of the territory. Governor Curry was invited some time ago to take a trip over the new Belen cut-off, on which daily train service between this city and El Paso is to be established on the 15th. The governor has accepted the invitation and will take with him on the trip, Chairman Hopewell, Colonel Twitchell and a number of other men who are prominent in pushing the interests of the congress. The journey will be from Albuquerque via the cut-off to Texico, thence down the Pecos valley line to Portales, Corral, Roswell and the smaller towns of the valley, it being the intention to cover the entire Pecos valley on this trip.

MESILLA VALLEY DEVELOPMENT COMPANY

Opens Office in Albuquerque for the Exploitation of Rich Lands Near Las Cruces.

H. H. McLeod, of the Mesilla Valley Development company, with offices in Las Cruces and El Paso, returned to the city yesterday from Las Cruces, where he accompanied the irrigation congress board on Wednesday. Mr. McLeod announced yesterday that he would open a branch office here at once for the Mesilla Valley Development company, and that Colonel D. K. Sellers will be placed in charge as local manager.

The Mesilla Valley Development company owns several hundred acres of rich lands under ditch, within one mile from Las Cruces. These lands are to be placed on the market in small lots for small farmers.

Mr. McLeod expects to remain in Albuquerque for some time, and for the coming two weeks at least will be at the Alvarado hotel. He is one of the enthusiastic backers of the irrigation industry in the lower valley, and sees in it a source of vast and continued income to Mesilla valley farmers.
