NO PLACE IN PLANSEvelyn Nesbitt Thaw Will Repeat Thrilling Story of Alleged Wrongs at the Hands of Her Husband's Victim.[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
New York, Dec. 29.—Harry K. Thaw will be called a second time before a jury to make his defense to the charge of having murdered Stanford White. There has been no change in the date of the second hearing of this noted case, but it is said now there will be no further delay.

It is announced that Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the defendant, is expected in the city by next Saturday. Mrs. Thaw has been in poor health, it is said, but it is believed she will be able to come on to be with her son during the opening hours of his second fight for life and freedom.

Other members of the family circle, including Mrs. George Carnegie, Harry Thaw's sister, and Joseph and Edward Thaw, his brothers, are also expected to reach the city during the week and will remain during the trial. The Countess of Yarnmouth, the defendant's sister, is at present in England, and is not expected to attend the second trial.

The second trial, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, who has been a daily visitor at the Tombs ever since the first Thaw jury disagreed, will be held on Monday next.

There are many rumors as to the place of the defense for the second hearing of the case and it has been predicted that an entirely new line of action might be followed. It can be authoritatively stated, however, that the defense will again be the same as that which Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw will again relate her story to the jury and that an imposing array of expert witnesses will again undertake to establish the theory that Thaw was insane at the time he killed Stanford White in the Madison Square room garden but has since recovered his mental balance so that time as to be no longer a menace to the community and therefore is entitled to his freedom.

This theory was expounded at length during the first trial but after the taking of much testimony and after a jury commission had declared Thaw sane, at the present time the plea of temporary insanity was practically abandoned in the summing up speech of Delphin M. Delmas, the California attorney who made an almost direct appeal to the so-called "unwritten law."

In the coming trial, it is said there will be no mention made of a higher, or unwritten, law, but the defense will adhere strictly to a plea of legal insanity at the time the act was committed. There were mistakes made at the first trial which it will be the attempt of the defense attorneys to avoid during his second hearing. In the expert testimony, for instance, they have been able to separate the wheat from the chaff, and will only have to the jury which proved most effective before. And having once felt the sting of District Attorney Jerome's skillful cross-examination on all phases of insanity affecting the victim, the jury will be more secure position than they were at the first trial, when the prosecuting officer's wonderful knowledge of medicine fairly amazed the jury and completely dumfounded a witness.

Evelyn Thaw it has been variously reported, would and would not take the stand in her defense. It is now said that she will do so. Without her testimony it would be difficult for the defense to predicate a plea of insanity. During the first trial the entire structure of mental derangement rested upon the story of her alleged mistreatment at the hands of Stanford White, told by her to Thaw one night in Paris when he had asked her to become his wife. It was after he had heard this narrative that Thaw wrote the queer letters which were introduced in evidence afterward that he made his plea of insanity to the jury.

District Attorney Jerome will of course be prepared to combat the testimony of the insanity experts. His formidable hypothetical questions, which was asked before in omnibus style to nine state experts in a row, and upon which they based opinions entirely opposite to those entertained by the experts for the defense, will be taken up for use in rebuttal. The state's direct case will again be very brief. It will have added to it the testimony of James C. Smith, brother-in-law of Stanford White, who met and talked with Thaw the night of the tragedy. Mr. Smith's testimony, which Mr. Jerome regards as highly important and as showing a calm, cool, calculating state of Thaw's mind but a few minutes before he fired the fatal shot was taken before on rebuttal, having been discovered after the trial was well under way.

Martin W. Littleton, of Brooklyn, who nominated Alton B. Parker for president at the last democratic national convention will act as leading counsel. He will have the assistance of Daniel O'Reilly and Russell Peabody, both of whom went through the first trial. O'Reilly is ill with the grip, but will probably be well again when the trial starts.

Thaw is looking forward anxiously to the beginning of the new fight. He feels that all chance of further delay has passed and will enter the courtroom with the same confidence of acquittal which has marked his attitude from the start. The work of securing a jury will be more or less laborious and may occupy two or three weeks. The special venire summoned for the case numbers 300. It has been definitely decided that the jury will be locked throughout the trial.

Secretary Taft Goes to Boston.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Secretary Taft left here at 5:45 p. m. for Boston, where tomorrow he will deliver three addresses, the most important being at night before the merchants association. In the morning he will speak at the meeting of the Boston ministers and in the afternoon will address the members of the Elysian club. He will return to Washington New Year's day.

ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS
FORECAST FOR THE WEEK

Although the dullness of the holidays still makes itself felt in the news field the week promises a number of events of more or less importance and interest. Not the least of these is the speech of Secretary Taft on Monday night before the Merchants association of Boston. This will be the secretary's first public appearance since his return from his trip around the world, and reports from Washington say that his friends have urged him to seize the opportunity for some demonstration in his capacity as a candidate for the presidential nomination. Mr. Taft's subject will be "The Philippine question," but it is probable that he will avoid politics. It is probable that his remarks will be important as amplifying his recent interviews on the various phases of the Philippine question, particularly with reference to the pending tariff proposals.

With the return of President Roosevelt, early in the week, from his outing in Virginia, it is not improbable that some new development may occur in the navy department sensation which last week brought about the resignation of Admiral Evans. The son of the bureau of navigation, and sent him to the retired list. Chief interest now centers in the admiral's resignation, and there are indications that it may be made public even before it is brought out by the anticipated congressional legislation.

Ambassador Aoki, whose recall to Tokio was recently issued, will take his departure from Washington this week. It is understood he will proceed directly to Japan, and shortly after his arrival the appointment of his successor will be formally announced. It is generally understood that General Takaoka will be returned to Japan, but his appointment has not been announced, nor has any intimation come from Tokio as when the new ambassador will assume his post. The Japanese representative at Washington is represented at Washington only by a charge.

No little interest attaches to the meeting of the new congress on Monday. It is felt that the coming together of the new republican leaders may have some decided effect on the Hughes movement for the presidency. The body of the Hughes message also will probably have an interest broader than state lines, by reason of the belief that he will treat the Hughes movement with a more than friendly attitude. The Hughes message also will probably have an interest broader than state lines, by reason of the belief that he will treat the Hughes movement with a more than friendly attitude.

At least one of the many puzzling phases of the famous Bruce duke of Portland mystery, promises to be cleared within the next few days by the opening of the coffin supposed to contain the body of the duke. The Baker street merchant, who is alleged by some to have been one and the same with the fifth duke of Portland. When the grave, more than forty years old, is opened, it will be shown whether it contains the body of a man, or a roll of lead as declared by witnesses. The date of the exhumation will be carefully kept secret beyond the fact that it will occur this week.

New Year's week finds the battleship fleet at sea after its Christmas rest at Port of Spain. The battleships, which cleared from that port Sunday, are now headed for Rio, on the second stage of the voyage to San Francisco. Nearly 2,000 miles of steaming ahead of them and they are scheduled to reach Rio on January 11. There the fleet will remain for ten days, and during its stay an elaborate program of entertainments has been arranged.

The week probably will see the end of several notable trials, which for a long time have held public attention. The indications are that by Wednesday or Thursday the four trials of Catesby Powers, of Kentucky, will have been concluded and the case will be in the hands of the jury. There also is a bare chance that the Pettibone trial at Boise, will come to a conclusion. A few days should also see the end of the second stage of the voyage of Herr Hardin in the famous Berlin scandal libel suit, and at St. Petersburg the trial of the members of the last domino party, which probably will conclude on Monday or Tuesday. An international pugilist contest of more than ordinary interest in the sporting world will be decided at San Francisco on Wednesday. Abe Attell, the recognized champion featherweight, will meet Owen Moran, the clever little English boxer, in a 20-round contest, and one of the favorite ring affairs. Attell is a strong favorite, although Moran finds much favor with those who have seen his previous performance in this country.

GEORGE JAMES FEET STEMS SPARKS CALLS
RANKS OF DRY FOR SOUTH AMERICA
STATES TOGETHERPROHIBITION LAW GOES
INTO EFFECT JANUARY 1Ten Thousands Persons Lose
Employment When Liquor
Traffic is Outlawed in Southern Commonwealth.[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 29.—With the advent of the new year the law preventing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors passed by the last session of the legislature becomes effective, making Georgia the first of the southern states to be placed in the prohibition column. The law is very drastic in its prohibition and prevents the selling or giving away of liquors in public places and imposes a tax of $500 on clubs whose members are allowed to keep drinks of an intoxicating nature in their individual lockers.

Notwithstanding the passage of this law, there is some agitation to have it declared unconstitutional. This action may be brought in the United States courts in the course of the month. It was claimed that Atlanta would lose in license taxes $135,552 and that the property value of saloons and breweries here, which will go out of business on January 1, is from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. For the rest of the state, the property value involved are about $3,000,000. It is estimated that 10,000 persons will lose their employment when January 1 rings its bell on the sale of intoxicating liquors.

That the prohibition law will be enforced, there is no question. Governor Smith and the city court officials have been frank in their statements that they intend to enforce the law.

Many of the more prominent clubs have declared that they will go one better than the law and prohibit the keeping of liquors within their doors. The constitution of Georgia in its provision for school maintenance is very specific, according to one Atlanta lawyer. The question which now arises is whether the funds for the maintenance of the public schools will come from the tax on the liquor business, and it is said that a considerable increase in the tax rate may result.

Governor Hicks Smith made this statement to the Associated Press tonight.

"There is nothing in the effort to attack the prohibition law on account of the provision of the constitution appropriating special liquor taxes to the purpose of the constitution authorities, but does not require a special liquor tax."

The concerns which quit the liquor business are not lost. The brewers and distillers are prepared to manufacture and sell soft drinks with which they can play a fair profit on their investments. There is plenty of work in Georgia for those who go out of the liquor business and plenty of work for all of the time of those who have wasted their time through the use of liquor."

MRS. EDDYRelatives Seek to Stop Christian Science Leader's Gift of
Million Dollars to Charity.[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Boston, Dec. 29.—Disputing the power of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, head of the Christian Science church, to make disposition of so large a part of her fortune, formal notices have been served upon Trustees Mary Baker, Fernald and Baker, having in charge Mrs. Eddy's estate, ordering them not to make the gift of $1,000,000 to found a charitable institution recently announced of any other appropriation from Mrs. Eddy's estate, pending the outcome of litigation.

According to former United States Senator William E. Chandler, this action is to be followed by a new law suit involving the Christian Science head and her trustees, brought by the "tax" friends. Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover, his daughter, Mary Baker Glover, and Mrs. Eddy's adopted son, Dr. Ebenezer J. Foster, of Waterville, Vt.

The contents of Mr. Chandler is that the proposed appropriation of a million dollars is in direct violation of Mrs. Eddy's deed of trust of March 6, 1897, by which she turned over her property to the three trustees for life, reserving only the right to use the income and certain realty and which act marked the partial termination of the litigation against her and the trustees by the "tax" friends a few months since.

The action is declared, will be entirely independent of another suit now pending against F. S. Straker, Mrs. Eddy's attorney in Concord, demanding information concerning the deed of trust for $125,000 not made by Mrs. Eddy for the benefit of her son, George W. Glover, and his daughter.

RIO JANIERO JANUARY 10Trinidad Turns Out En Masse to Bid God Speed to Admiral Evans and His Floating Fortresses.[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Port of Spain, Trinidad, Dec. 29.—The American battleship fleet weighing anchor at 4 o'clock this afternoon and steamed for the Janera. Accompanying the fleet were the supply ships Colunga and Glacia. Early in the morning the signal went up from Rear Admiral Evans' flagship Connecticut to prepare for departure at 8 a. m. but owing to a delay in the coaling of the battleships, Maine from the collier Fortuna, it was necessary to change the time of sailing.

Long before the hour set a myriad of small craft, chiefly launches and steam yachts, moved up and down along the lines of anchored warships, the merry parties aboard shouting farewell to the departing vessels. Thousands of residents climbed the surrounding hills to view the great white ships as they moved outward on their journey of 3,000 miles and more, while boat loads of excursionists went to the small islands in the kull and others to the floating docks to catch the last glimpse of the ships that were so royally welcomed.

The fleet presented a magnificent appearance as it steamed out in four columns with the supply ships trailing, a distance of four hundred yards. With the Connecticut in the lead, the battleships headed for the Rose and steamed majestically through the Grand Boos and thence along the north coast of Trinidad, an average of from ten to eleven knots an hour will carry the fleet to the end of the second lap of the 14,000 mile journey in about twelve days, and it was announced by Admiral Evans, in his departure that he expects to reach Rio Janiero on Friday evening, January 10.

During the week of their visit here the American officers have received every courtesy at the hands of the residents. Sir Henry Moore Jackson, governor of Trinidad, Colonel Swain and other high officials have shown the fleet the greatest honor of the commander of the fleet and his officers and there were scores of excursions and entertainments for the men, all of whom enjoyed more the ordinary amount of shore liberty.

The newspapers here and the residents are unsparring in their praise of the exemplary behavior of the fleet and the values exemplified by Admiral Evans in the various terms expressing to him and his men the best wishes of the people of Trinidad and hope that they will soon return.

Yesterday an unusual number of steamers with many excursionists aboard, put out to the port and in spite of the racing and many other attractions the visitors availed themselves of the opportunity of seeing the largest fleet of battleships ever anchored in these waters. William W. Handley, American consul, paid his farewell to the fleet and yesterday afternoon believing that the start for Rio Janiero would be made at an early hour. He was accorded the usual honors and a salute was fired on his departure.

Kansas City, Dec. 29.—"Kansas for Christ" is to be the slogan in a state-wide evangelistic campaign which is being conducted simultaneously in every county of the sunflower state next year. Hundreds of ministers from various denominations, together with laymen, are being organized to hold revivals. An entire year will be spent in the movement and an effort is to be made to demonstrate to the whole country what may be accomplished in concerted religious work carried forward on strictly business lines. The great revival is to be under the direct leadership of Rev. William Edward Biederwolf, who planned the movement.

The undertaking will be subject to the general supervision of an advisory board composed of two ministers and two laymen from each denomination. The board will select the evangelists, and will have already been organized with 15 denominations represented, has selected Edward S. Taylor of Philadelphia, to act as secretary.

The plan is to have a large number of the best known evangelists in the country, aided by local pastors, give the entire season to the work, and everywhere union meetings are to be held on and directed by Dr. Biederwolf and the advisory board.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Senator William H. Allison of Iowa, chairman of the committee on appropriations, favors action by congress looking to the care and support of ex-presidents of the United States. In an interview tonight he referred to the recent addresses of former presidents Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison and said he would undoubtedly receive it. In the case of Thomas Jefferson, who died poor, Mr. Allison said the government should have taken care of him. At present Mrs. Garfield is receiving an allowance from the government and he said that to make provision for ex-presidents would cause no considerable drain on the treasury, as rarely have there been two of them alive at the same time.

EXISTENCE OF
DENIEDPORTUGUESE LEGATION
RESENTS BOER'S CHARGESRefuges From South African Territory Taken By British Accused of Designs to Establish Republic.[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.]
Washington, Dec. 29.—The Portuguese legation tonight issued a strong denial to the statements recently made by Joubert Pienaar, a former officer in the Boer army, as to the existence of slave trade in Portuguese West Africa. The statement is a denial of the allegations, and says in part:

"Joubert Pienaar was a refugee in Portugal during the closing stages of the Boer war. When peace was declared, he in common with many other Boers, settled in the south of the Portuguese colony of Angola. It soon became apparent that those Boers, noted from the Transvaal by the British, had a plan on foot to seize part of the Portuguese colony in West Africa, and to set up there a new independent Boer republic. This was in accordance with the constant practice of treking further afield in order to establish a new state each time conditions became unfavorable in their old haunts for their peculiar mode of existence."

It was further ascertained that Pienaar was the prime mover in this conspiracy. For this reason and for no other he was expelled from Portuguese territory.

Pienaar's complaints as to the arbitrary confiscation of his property and cattle are merely the vapourings of his defeated ambitions. "No information has been received at the legation as to the alleged mortality among a batch of five hundred laborers sent to the island of Principe, of which only twelve survived."

Pienaar's story, it is possible, that some vessel taking natives to the island may have been wrecked on the coast and that only twelve managed to get ashore. It is equally absurd of the epidemics which have sometimes wiped out whole villages in equatorial territory, broke out among the men. To that extent the story may be true. But it is simply absurd on the face of it to say that any such loss of life could have occurred normally or through preventable causes. Even setting aside all considerations of humanity, no one would incur the heavy expense entailed in transporting laborers to the islands were they, as a rule, exposed to become unfit for work almost as soon as they arrived.

"That little is left undone on the islands of St. Thome to insure the health and comfort of the native laborers is the opinion given to the world by nearly all distinguished visitors who have lately visited the island and among others by such men as Michael Chevalier, Gravier, Schulte, Spengler, Monet and by that distinguished African official and explorer, Sir Harry Johnston."

"The mortality among the natives, not only on the islands, but all through the length and breadth of equatorial Africa, is a lamentable one, is very high; it is even appallingly so when compared to that of more temperate zones. But whether this arises from the natural features of the country, or from peculiarly disabling of the race by which it is inhabited, it is evident that an improvement in the conditions can only be gradually attained, even supposing the most energetic is possible. The death rate among the native laborers on the much abused island of St. Thome is no higher than that of the natives working in the mines of the Transvaal, in a comparatively good and temperate climate. Even on the most unhealthy plantations of the island, death does not exact so heavy a toll as it does in the mines of the Transvaal employed in those mines."

CANAL ENGINEERS DEAL WITH GIGANTIC FIGURESConcrete Used in Great Locks Would Suffice to Build 22,842 H. H. H.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The engineers on the Panama canal are dealing in vast figures these days and the canal record just received conveys in a graphic manner an idea of the magnitude of the work to be done upon the locks of the canal. It is said to indicate that the amount of concrete to be used in building these locks would suffice to construct eight-room houses of the generous size of 30 by 30 feet with two stories and basement and with concrete floors and with concrete roof to the number of 22,842. Adding each of these houses a 75-foot lot they would make a continuous street from Philadelphia to New York with enough houses left over to make a row on a side street from Philadelphia to Washington. The houses would furnish a suburban homes for 120,000 people. According to city standards would have a population equal to that of the city of Minneapolis.

People of Silver City Will Make Determined Effort to Secure New Presbyterian Sanatorium Now Being Planned.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal.) Silver City, N. M., Dec. 28.—A rich strike of copper sulphide was made at Copper Flat in the Central mining district last week. The strike was made at the 300-foot level and cross-cutting on the body is in progress at a distance of 50 feet with no wall yet in sight. From all indications the strike is a valuable one and will prove of great value to the Exploration Syndicate of America, who are the owners.

George Sublett, rancher, mine owner and prospector, of the Burro mountains, has demonstrated what can be done in this part of New Mexico, even in the mountainous districts, with a little water. Mr. Sublett brought a turnip to town measuring 21 inches in circumference. The turnip was raised on Mr. Sublett's ranch and he expects to raise vegetables to supply the camps at Leopold and Tynone. At a public meeting held last night it was decided to make a strong effort to get the proposed Presbyterian sanatorium to locate at Silver City. T. L. Lowe, assistant cashier of the Silver City National bank, will attend a meeting of the church committee in Albuquerque and will invite the committee to visit Silver City and see its many advantages for the location here of such an institution.

Silver City is now the home of more sanatoriums than any other city in New Mexico. The United States government sanatorium for tubercular soldiers is at Fort Bayard, but nine miles from Silver City and is the largest of its kind in the United States. That the sanatorium was located here put the government seal of approval on our matchless climate.

"Babe" Dove Tells Court 110-Proof Vertigo Maker is the Cause of His Fall From Rectitude; Has It In for Judge.

Algernon Dove, or "Babe," as he is known to the police of all northern Arizona counties, is again in the toils, his philosophy that it was better to wait for a "schmoozer" than to accept a "floater" being responsible for his present position. Until after the dawn of another year "Babe" must while away his leisure hours in the range vile, the Prescott city recorder having sentenced him to five days, just twenty-four hours after he had been released on a ten-day "floater."

"D-ahem!" was the opening exclamation of "Babe," when he found himself before the court. "This 110-proof vertigo-maker and the mile-high altitude, combined with school-ers that for size make the Pacific battleship fleet look like a Japanese rowboat, is the cause of my fall from rectitude, your honor," he confessed to the judge. Then he proceeded to tell his life story.

"I came from poor, but honest parents, a long time ago. From early childhood I looked upon whiskey as the curse of the world, and when I grew to blooming manhood, I hated it. Then my father took to drinking, and I looked in vain for a better life than ever. One day father suddenly quit breathing. The doctor said whiskey. Then I swore revenge. I went out, that was thirty years ago, got some of the vile stuff, shook it savagely, and I said: 'You killed my dad, but I'll kill a lot of you before I croak.'

"There, your honor, you have my pitiful story. I'm carrying on a great work. If there were a few more like me there'd be nothing left for the temperance lecturers to work on. I went to Phoenix, intending to rid that town of the treacherous fluid, but it was to close too the foolish factory, so I made a noise like a handcar and blew back. Yes, I know I promised to do the Angel Child stunt the last time I was before you, but yesterday was the day the elder ones hand out the guff about Santa Claus, and remembering the teachings of the old folks, I made myself a few Christmas presents. I tell you what, you let me go and I'll get a job from the city council driving the sprinkler."

This seemed so incongruous to the judge that he gave "Babe" five days instead.

As the latter was lead away, he cast a malignant look backward and said: "Somebody ought to give that old fellow a Christmas present of a sleep punch, with a half-Nelson chaser, then ring up Ruffner and call the coroner. I'd like to catch him asleep. I'd skew the skin of his fuzzyout in six places at once. The idea of a man like me starting the new year in seclusion."

SOUTHWESTERN NOTES.

Five itinerant gentlemen in Deming are working out ninety days on the streets as a result of their enterprise in carrying off the bedding from the rooms of the Williams rooming house. The gentry were found peacefully sleeping on their stolen kivers behind the Santa Fe round house and run in.

Tucson is up against the burglar proposition hard. The latest robbery is that of the hardware store of F. J. Villaseca, from which stuff worth $120 was taken. In spite of a placard posted on the safe by the proprietor declaring there was nothing in it but papers, the marauders nearly ruined it trying in vain to get it open.

News has been received of the death by freezing of a man named Dayton, near Des Moines, N. M., last Saturday night. Dayton, with some friends, started for the ranch in a driving snow storm and the victim became separated from his friends and got lost in the snow.

DEATH KNELL OF THE TIGER RINGS NEW YEAR'S EVE

GAMBLERS HIKING TO MORE FAVORED FIELDS

Picturesque Phase of Old Life in the Southwest Comes to an End at Midnight Tomorrow
Night in Albuquerque.

At midnight tomorrow night the last sad rites will be said and the days of licensed gambling in New Mexico will be a thing of the past.

The anti-gambling law, which banishes the tiger to the untrodden jungle goes into effect January 1, 1908, and the utterances of the attorney general and the general tenor of public opinion indicate that the law will be enforced to the letter and that gambling has to go.

It is one of the biggest and most important changes for many years in the territory and one which marks the passing of probably the most picturesque phase of life in the southwest. Since the pioneers wrested from the Apaches and the desert a place to live and prosper in the Land of Sunshine, the gambler has followed the advance of civilization all over the southwest. He has been one of the types of frontier history and although opinions may differ as to the credit of the coast, he has played in it, there is no denying that he has everywhere played an important part. Thousands and hundreds of thousands of dollars have passed back and forth over the green cloth and the fascinating colored squares and many a lucky prospector has parted with his new found wealth in a single night over a game of faro or roulette; many a murder has been committed as a result of gambling and the unanswerable argument of the Colt 45 has been the arbiter of many a card dispute.

Albuquerque gamblers are taking the matter philosophically. Many of them have already gone to Colorado and elsewhere and there will be a general exodus after the first of the year to greener fields.

A gambler once a gambler is at ways a gambler, and it is not believed that many of the Albuquerque gamblers will remain in this city to go into other lines of business.

The Anti-Gambling Law.
The anti-gambling law, passed at the last session of the legislative assembly in Chapter 64, page 125 of the Acts of 1907, follows:

An act to prohibit gambling in the territory of New Mexico, C. B. No. 48, approved March 21, 1907.

Be it enacted by the legislative assembly of the territory of New Mexico: Section 1. It shall hereafter be unlawful to run or operate any banking games of chance such as faro, monte, pass faro, pass monte, twenty-one, roulette, chuck-a-luck, hazard, fan-tan, poker, stud poker, red and black, high and low, craps or any other banking games or games of chance played with dice or cards by whatsoever name known in the territory of New Mexico.

Sec. 2. Any person who is the owner or possessor of the games mentioned in section 1, or any person engaged in operating any such games, or who is in actual possession or control of any lessor or otherwise, of the premises upon which games are operated, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500 and shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than six months.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of all district attorneys to report any and all violations to the grand jury and it shall be the duty of the grand jury to investigate for themselves and cause indictments to be brought against any violator of any of the foregoing offenses mentioned in section 1 of this act, whether in operation at the time of investigation or at any other time after the passage of this act and within three years of the date of the commission of the offense.

Sec. 4. The fines assessed and collected under the provisions of this act shall go to the benefit of the school fund of the school district, town or city in which said offense is committed, except in towns or cities of over one thousand inhabitants, in which case one-half of all fines shall go to the town or city.

Sec. 5. All laws and parts of laws authorizing the licensing of gambling in the territory of New Mexico, and all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are repealed.

Sec. 6. This act shall take effect and be in full force from and after January 1, 1908.

Loss of Over $10,000.
It is estimated that a loss of over $10,000 will result with the passing of the tiger in Albuquerque. The attitude of the district attorney and the authorities on the matter makes it unlikely that any attempt will be made to conduct gambling games "upstairs" or on the quiet after the first of the year. The attorney general has expressly instructed the district attorneys in the various counties to enforce the law strictly and as the law is backed by public sentiment this will undoubtedly be done.

Millions of bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar have been sold without any person ever having experienced any other than beneficial results from its use for coughs, colds and lung troubles. This is because the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is the only package containing all the ingredients of the famous "Foley's" and is the only package containing no opiates or other harmful drugs. Guard your health by refusing any but the genuine. J. H. O'Reilly Co.

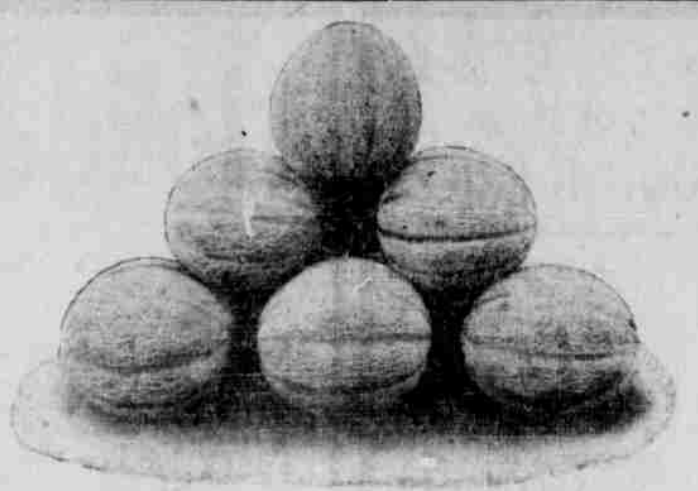

Work on the Old Pueblo Club building in Tucson is progressing rapidly. It will cost $40,000.

There was an exciting brocade busting exhibition Christmas day for the benefit of the 80 patients at the New Mexico cottage sanitarium at Silver City.

PUBLIC SPEAKER INTERRUPTED.
Public speakers are frequently interrupted by people coughing. This would not happen if Foley's Honey and Tar were taken, as it cures coughs and colds and prevents pneumonia and consumption. The genuine contains no opiates and is in a yellow package. J. H. O'Reilly Co.

"BUSTER BROWN" AT THEATER TONIGHT

Clever, Musical Comedy Has Pleased Large Houses Where-ever It Has Appeared; Good Entertainment is Promised.

"Buster Brown" is on the boards at the Elks' theater tonight and from press notices the play this season is a clever and entertaining one.

Of all the musical comedies played in the past few seasons, none have met with such universal commendation and generous patronage as has been the lot of "Buster Brown." Its admirers are a legion and their ranked are apparently being constantly added to. The play has been changed here and there but it still retains the most conspicuous of the old characters in conjunction with which some new ones have been introduced. In its current version the book has been brightened with crisp, snappy dialogue and the musical portion is made up of the class of airs that compels humming. Master Rice continues to portray "Buster" in the manner that has endeared him to the theatergoers generally.

As the mischievous young fellow, Master Rice looks it and is it. According to the critics he fully revels in the character "Buster" would be if it could be brought to life. "Figs" Buster's intelligent dog, still continues as chief aide in the perpetration of his master's pranks. "Jack" still acts the role of the dog in most life-like manner, and the character of the Irish cook is still in the keeping of Mattie Quashie, who created it. Nettie V. Nichols as "Susan Sweet" and Daisy Latta Cantano as "Mary Jane" are happy cast. Others in the company are Beatrice Flint, Lulu Thode, E. C. Anderson, Roger Gray, George Yeoman, Perry Walling, and a chorus of forty. Spectacular production is being given and the same applies to the costumes. None of the former specialties are retained others of a higher class having been substituted, chief among which are the "Hughes Musical Trio," vaudeville headliners.

Best Is Coming.
We are told by the energetic press agent to console ourselves, that the best is yet to come.

The best in this instance is "Red Feather," an original comic opera from the pen of the author of the most brilliant and successful modern play builders, to-wit: Reginald De Koven, Charles Klein and Charles Emerson Cook, who have given us such wonderfully successful theatrical comedies as "Robin Hood," "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Music Master" and "Happyland." Indeed it would seem that the best were yet to come with such playwrights generally so to speak, behind the gun.

The assertion is quite pertinent; yet the aforementioned plays and operas are so exquisitely good that it does not seem at all probable that the claim is entirely pretentious.

"Red Feather" will be presented by Cheridah Simpson and an exceptionally worthy cast at the Elks' theater Wednesday.

Royal Slave Here Next Saturday.

"A Royal Slave" is one of the most elaborate and beautifully melodramatic productions on the road. The scenery is the finest that the studios can furnish and is painted from photographs made in Mexico. The costumes and stage accessories are very rich and the powerful and thrilling dramatic situations, make the play a serious stage picture.

Though it is a melodrama of the sensational sort, there is not a shot fired during the entire play, and it is possession of a real literary and dramatic merit of a high order.

This great production represents more than half a year's work by an able corps of scenic artists and skilled mechanics, and will give our people a chance to see, not only the best of scenic equipment but decidedly the most original play on the stage of this country.

It is something to be able to say that at least we can herald the coming of a new play, full of new ideas, situations and startling effects. Such is true, however, of the forthcoming production of "A Royal Slave" which is put on in a most artistic manner complete in every detail. Mr. Clarence Bennett has always brought us the finest attractions and he assures us this is his best. The play will be seen at the Elks' theater on Saturday, January 1.

Little Girl in Estancia Painfully Burned in Conventional Manner; Ten Inches of Snow Last Week in Valley.

(Special Correspondence Morning Journal)
Estancia, N. M., Dec. 27.—Lillian Booth, the 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Booth, who runs the Estancia rooming house, was painfully burned about the face and arms last week. It is the same old story of kindling fire with the coal oil can, that runs the "unloaded gun" a close second, and like it never tires of finding an occasional victim and getting in its work. Prompt aid prevented more serious damage than severe burns and saved the life of the little girl. About ten inches of snow fell last Saturday over the valley, which was Train No. 1 last night brought a score or more of visitors and others arrived later with a few to come in on this morning's trains.

Following a session of the council at 8:30 o'clock this morning at Hadley Science hall at the university, the first session of the society will be held at 9 o'clock in the lecture room with President Charles R. Van Hise, in the chair. President W. G. Tipton of the university, will make the address of welcome which will be responded to by Prof. Van Hise. Next will come the report of the council including reports of the officers, the election of the auditing committee and the announcement of the vote for officers for 1908, and the declaration of the vote for Fellows of the society. J. J. Stevenson will deliver a memorial of the late James M. Stanford, followed by H. E. Gregory, who will deliver a similar eulogy of the late Angelo Heilprin, both deceased members of the organization. Then will come reports of committees and new business and adjournment.

At the afternoon session at 2 o'clock there will be the reading of papers.

At 7:30 in the evening will be held the annual dinner of the society followed by the reading of the president's address.

Fortunately for the reputation of the really perfect climate of Albuquerque and New Mexico, it cleared up yesterday beautifully after a cloudy and rainy Saturday, and the day was all that could be desired.

From the arrivals so far it is evident that the attendance at the meeting of the society is going to be excellent, considering the remarkably long distance that has to be traveled by many of the delegates, especially those who hail from the northern part of the Dominion of Canada.

Hotel Almost Swamped.

When train No. 1 arrived from the east last night some three hundred late, it disgorged a big bunch of scientists and their families, who swarmed into the Alvarado hotel in such numbers that there appeared to be scores and scores.

There were so many, in fact, that the capable and efficient night clerk was kept scrambling sideways for half an hour to get them assigned to rooms.

Rooms ran out after a while and the perplexing clerk was obliged to double up on a number of guests. The same was true in other hotels. Several were turned away from the Sturges and the crowd of visitors will be extremely large by tonight. Many of the scientists have brought their wives and families along.

Among those who arrived last night were Alfred C. Lane, of Lansing, Mich.; E. O. Hovey, of New York; Henry Gans, of St. Louis; M. Miller, of Lexington, Ky.; J. A. White, of the University of West Virginia, Morgantown, W. Va.; C. M. Hayes, of Washington, D. C.; John E. Wolfe, of Cambridge, Mass.; H. P. Cushing, of Cleveland, Ohio; and Herbert S. Gregory, of New Haven, Conn.

THE BAIN WAGON CO. DON'T WAIT.

Take Advantage of Albuquerque Citizens' Experience Before It's Too Late.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic.

Till serious kidney troubles develop. Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by an Albuquerque citizen's experience.

Mrs. L. A. Benson, of 208 Beca avenue, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "I never had backache to speak of until I came here five months ago, when it set in and became an almost continual annoyance. If I would stand long, and when I would wash my back, was so painful as it seemed to kill me. The persistent aching made me so nervous at times that I could hardly control myself. A friend and neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me, so I procured a box. I had not used more than half of them before the distress in my back had ended and I was relieved of headache, an annoyance which had distressed me a great deal. Now, if I notice any sign of backache, I immediately appeal to Doan's Kidney Pills and a few doses suffice to dispel every indication of the trouble."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Wool Machinery Arrives from Tucumcari

Will be Installed at Once in Local Plant, More Than Doubling Already Large Capacity.

The machinery of the wool scouring plant at Tucumcari, recently purchased by the Albuquerque Wool Scouring mill, arrived in the city yesterday over the Santa Fe and is now sidetracked at the woolen mills ready to be unloaded. The new machinery includes a complete and up-to-date outfit which will not only double the capacity of the local plant, but will make it the chief wool scouring mill in the southwest and the one with the largest capacity.
