HUNDRED NAVAJOS HAVE ARRIVED IN CAMP

INDIAN SHOW BIGGEST EVER ATTEMPTED HERE

Nearly Three Hundred Horses,
Posse of Cowboys and Picturesque Redskins Will Parade This Morning.

One hundred little and sleeky Navajos, clothed in their brilliant blankets and some with not nearly that much attire, arrived in the city last night after long overland trip from the reservation to thrill the spectators
at the Irrigation congress and exposition with their famous fire dance, which will be seen by thousands of people for the first time.

Dick Wetherill, the well known frontiersman, with a big posse of cowboys and 150 horses, arrived yesterday afternoon, reporting the Indians half way between here and Corralton
in command of Dick Brett, another well known old-timer in the San Juan region. They straggled in late last night and went into camp on Fifth street near the residence of Col. D.
K. B. Sellers, who is in charge of the Indian stunts at the exposition. The Indians brought 150 more ragged wiry cayuses with them and the whole wild west outfit will parade the streets this morning under command of Colonel Sellers and the venerable Chief Peschlikline, who comes to exhibition for the second time to lead
his bronze braves in the weird names of the fire dance. The Indians will perform at the exposition grounds on a program and will form one of the best attractions at the big show.

UNDERWOOD TYPEWRITER MAKES FINE SHOWING

Expert Operator to Give Demonstration of Capabilities of the Old Reliable in Manufacturers' Building.

Miss Marie E. Thede, champion typewriter-operator of the Pacific coast, will arrive from Los Angeles Wednesday and will remain in the city throughout the fair and congress
as an expert demonstrator of the Underwood typewriter. Miss Thede is one of the fastest machine operators in the United States and has won a number of championship contests.
Miss Thede's demonstrations of what the Underwood can accomplish will be one of the main features of the extensive exhibit which the Under-

DRY FARMERS HERE IN FALL FORCE FOR CONGRESS

JOHN T. BURNS TELLS OF
WORK IN WYOMING

Executive Committee of Trans-
Missouri Dry Farming Congress to Meet Here During Week.

The Wyoming delegation arrived with the Denver delegation at 8:15
last night, registering at the Alvarado and Columbus. Owing to delays in the train service at Cheyenne and Denver the Wyoming and Colorado delegates were not in full force but several delegates are on their way in later trains and will arrive today and tonight.

John T. Burns, secretary of the board of control of the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming congress and secretary of the Industrial club of Cheyenne, came loaded with material for boosting the dry farming meeting,
which will occur at Cheyenne during the fourth week in February.
Last several thousand neatly printed invitation cards will be mailed to the registered delegates during the legation congress and badges bearing the legend "Sixth Trans-Missouri
Dry Farming Congress, Cheyenne, Wyoming, February, 1909. Meet Me There" are to be placed on every delegate in the legation meeting.

"We are deeply interested in irrigation problems in our section of the country," said Mr. Burns. "We have some of the largest and best projects in the West already under way in Wyoming, and we look forward to rapid development of our state through the increase in irrigation encouraged by the opportunities opened under irrigation projects, but while irrigation promises much for Wyoming, as it promises and is accomplishing for every other Western state, we still realize that there is a limit to irrigation. When the waters of all available streams have been expended, what then?"

"Men like Prof. Campbell of Nebraska, and Dr. V. T. Cooke, of Wyoming, have demonstrated that it is possible to develop the greater part of the so-called arid acreage—where irrigation water is either scarce or an impossibility—through systematic cropping, deep plowing, alternate cropping, carefully selecting seed and measuring seed quantity. There is no mystery about it, and with the combined results of the government and state experiment farms, and the splendid crops produced on the patches where scientific methods
have been introduced, there is no need of further argument. Dry farming, as called, is a thing of reality,
and within ten years, under the advantageous methods to be employed by the Dry Farming congress, the agricultural resources of the West will be doubled. There are irrigators who still contend that it is a false and a money, to attempt to urge or encourage dry farming operations, but when one sees from twenty to forty bushels of fine wheat thrashed from average which sold but three years ago for $2.00 per acre, he knows that while the theory may be called a false one, it produces results. Three crops of splendid alfalfa, an average 275 bushels of the best potatoes ever taken from the ground, field peas,
as fine as produced under irrigation,
and even seven feet tall arceuthobium
that can not be disputed.

"Three years ago there was a tendency on the part of some irrigation agents to fill the so-called 'dry' sections with people under the pretext that irrigation or special farming methods were unnecessary, and this sort of thing brought forth a demand for a movement to educate the farmers of the West, both irrigated and non-irrigated, into a knowledge of methods that would insure success
and protect the country against disaster. The first meeting of dry farmers was held in Denver. I was on the organization committee, and we prepared for fifty delegates. We had three hundred last January we held the second meeting at Salt Lake and had six hundred and twenty delegates. We elected Governor Brooks of Wyoming, president, and Governor Curry of New Mexico, vice president, and we will have a meeting at Cheyenne with more than a thousand delegates. We are here to interest the people of the Southwest in the congress."

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming congress will be held in the Alvarado hotel Wednesday evening.
Governor Curry presiding. Members of the committee are expected from several states.

on What Organization Has

The most hearty praise is due to the officers of the board of control for the splendid manner in which the program for this congress has been carried. The representation of women distinguished in the field of education and allied endeavor is more ample than we have had at any previous congress. Political representation is not so large, but the representation of different work who are doing it, is excellent and the conservation of our natural resources is most gratifying. I am sure that we have met our own terms, come home and we know his work. Mr. James is not so well known to Italian delegates to the congress but it is quite evident that his work has won more than will do. It is plain to that Alpine region. One wishes that

Mr. Warner says that he will be enabled to spend nearly all of each summer in New Mexico, believing that that he has greatly enjoyed his residence in Washington, which he is certain is the most attractive city in the world.

There are quite a number of famous service men in the city. Inspector J. D. Brannon, of this district returned last night from African, European, and the Middle East. He is well known here as well as Nelson LeGrand, supervisor of cutting at Fort Wingate, and other associates of the service. So far the only address on forest service matters on the congress program is that by U. S. Bureau of Forests.

F. B. Schwentker, Energetic General Agent for New Mexico, Has Novel Electric Sign.

F. H. Schwenitzer, the wide-awake general agent for the Pacific Mutual in New Mexico, has placed one of the most effective, distinctive signs in the city on the corner of his office last week. The Parth of Commerce. As every one knows the Pacific Mutual is the "Big Fish" in the "Little Pond" of Albuquerque with a "stage" stock history that is a record. This symbol is destined to become as popular as the Presidential's Rock of Gibraltar.

The sign is a giant slab of pine with rough bark edges nailed at the American Legion. It is 100 by 100 inches. And to have its stage stock is indicated by portrayed striding through the "Big Fish". Above Pacific Mutual is inscribed in electric letters, Altogether it is a striking bit of advertising and quite an addition to the city's scenery.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York, Sept. 28.—(By telegraph.) Philadelphia today New York retained the lead in the pennant race. A batting rally in the fifth inning gave the Giants a clean-cut victory, 7 to 6, but it was a heart-breaking effort at a crucial moment. The visitors that the going and ran ahead of New York in the seventh and things began to look bad for New York. In the ninth inning, however, Shanon fell in trying to get Brownback's pop fly and Brownback was able to double then smashed out a screaming triple, scoring the victor. Barry ran for Doolin, who had tripped his leg. Seymour, who followed, sent the first ball pitched into deep center, driving Barry in with the winning run. The team will play a double-header tomorrow.

HEARST AND HISGEN
TO BE HERE ON THURSDAY

Leaders of the Independence Party to Visit Irrigation Congress in Course of Journey Through the West.

The Morning Journal was advised from the Chicago headquarters of the Independence party yesterday that William Randolph Hearst, Thomas L. Hearst, candidate for president of the Independence party, and several other party leaders will arrive in Albuquerque on Thursday for a stay of two days in the course of their trip through the western states. Mr. Hearst will deliver an address before the irrigation congress, having a place in the program for Thursday, and it is announced that Candidate Hearst will deliver a political address on Thursday night, at which Mr. Hearst may also appear.

In addition to the natural interest attaching to the coming of Mr. Hearst to Albuquerque, because of his connection with recent events in the national campaign, New Mexico has a keen local interest. Mr. Hearst has been a staunch friend of New Mexico during his more recent stay in the state, and at one time brought a large party of members of congress here to make for statehood. However, much of difference there may be with his political course, he has earned much of gratitude from New Mexico. The Hearst trophy for the exposition is a magnificent silver creation of great value and is one of the most coveted trophies.

There is additional interest in the visit of the party just now, in the political field, because of the understanding that the Independence party may determine to place a candidate in the field for delegates to congress.

UNIVERSITY CLUB
BRANDS CANARD

Declares it is for Octaviano A. Larrazolo of Las Vegas, First, Last, in the Middle and All the Time.

Editor Morning Journal.

There appeared in a recent issue of an evening paper an article on a meeting of the University Democratic club headed "University Democratic Club Endorses Ambrose."

Now under ordinary circumstances we give little thought to such an account of the proceedings given in this article in that paper and our total inability to see how the article could have been so distorted without it was purposely changed by someone at the editor's desk, we cannot allow the statement to go unchallenged. We have it upon good authority that the reporter who wrote the account of this meeting made no mention of Mr. Ambrose in the paper which he wrote, much less did he suggest the proposition that was given the name.

The University Democratic club is for the Hon. O. A. Larrazolo of Las Vegas, first, last, and all the time, and we are doing all we can and using all honorable methods that are within reasonable reach of us in the interest of his candidacy.

Very respectfully,
T. J. MARRY,
Chairman Committee on Resolutions.

A PESTIFEROUS GERM.

Burrows up the Scalp Into Dandruff and Saps the Hair's Vitality.

People who complain of falling hair as a rule do not know that it is the result of dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite burrowing up the scalp and digs down to the scalp in which the hair is fed to the scalp. Before long the hair root is strangled up and the hair drops out. If the work of the germ is not destroyed hair keeps thinning till baldness comes. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ, and until now there has been no hair preparation that would do it, but today dandruff is easily eradicated by Newmark's Herpicide, which makes hair glossy and soft as silk. Sold by leading druggists. Send for in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. R. H. Briggs and Co., special agents.

MODERN WOODMEN INSTALL CAMP

Newly Formed Organization Starts Off With Large Membership and Bright Prospect of Success.

The first camp of the Modern Woodmen of America to be installed in New Mexico was established last night at an enthusiastic meeting of members and candidates held in the "Big Hall." The new camp was officially declared to be in existence by District Deputy D. P. Granger, who presided over the meeting. A large number of candidates were admitted to membership, and the new camp commences its work with one of the largest membership rolls of any organization in the city. Another meeting will be held next Monday night, at which time will be discussed for the further advancement of the new camp.

JEFFERSON DEMOCRATS TO GET BUSY IN CAMPAIGN

That the Jefferson Democratic club expects to take an active part in politics during the fall campaign and that it desires to have notice of the time and place at which the county primaries will be held, is indicated by a resolution adopted at a meeting of the club held in the headquarters on West Central avenue, last night. The resolution, which was adopted unanimously, is as follows: "Resolved, That the corresponding secretary of the Jefferson Democratic club be directed to request the democratic county committee to call a county primary at some suitable time and place, with at least five days' notice of same, and that the club be opened for voting from 2 to 5 p. m., and that the Jefferson club be allowed to furnish one judge to act in each precinct at such primaries." Last night's meeting was attended by quite a number of local democrats and several new members were voted upon and accepted. The club received official notice yesterday that it had been placed on the roll of national clubs. The notice was signed by the chairman of the National democratic committee.

CALIFORNIA HERE WITH ACTIVE CROWD

Long List of Well Known Men
Arrive to Attend the Congress; Strongly Favor Administration Policies.

The California delegation, more than a score in number, headed by W. A. Leland, of Sacramento, H. A. Jastrow, of Berkeley, and a long list of well known men, arrived last night in the California hotel and immediately began to take a very active part in the re-convention discussions. The sentiment of the delegation generally is in favor of the policies of the present administration and particularly is strong in its support of the heads of the reclamation and forestry branches. The California delegates, however, hurried quickly in their arrival that there is opposition present in connection with the administration policies and several of the most delegates say that they were wounded very quickly after their arrival to their attitude. It is estimated that this opposition which has made its appearance within the last few hours, may make its presence known early in the session at though as yet no active movement is that end have come to the surface.

Among those who arrived yesterday from California are W. A. Leland, of Sacramento; F. S. Chubb, of San Francisco; W. M. Coward, of Alameda; A. J. Hechtman, of San Francisco; J. W. Knox, of Merced; O. H. Miller, of Sacramento; L. A. Sater, of Sacramento; N. H. Wilson, of Merced; J. H. Bishop, of San Francisco; H. B. Lybrand, of San Francisco; W. J. Jank, of Berkeley; W. E. Bennett, of Los Angeles; Professor Edgar A. Larkin, of Los Angeles; H. A. Jastrow, of Berkeley; Thomas Field, of Berkeley; H. C. Grogan, of San Francisco; Mrs. Will Green, of Fresno; and Hayden Talbot, of San Francisco.

The California delegation will meet this morning before the session of the congress begins to complete its organization. It is considered probable that Mr. Jastrow, chairman of the executive committee of the congress at Sacramento last year will be selected chairman of the delegation. The committee on credentials will also be selected and will include Mr. Jastrow, president of the American National Livestock association, who will represent the stock growers at the convention.

Mrs. Leola White, of San Francisco, vice chairman of the California delegation to the irrigation congress, who arrived in the city Sunday, wishes to call a meeting of the California delegates this morning immediately after the adjournment of the morning session of the congress. A large number of delegates here, in fact, they have been arriving on every train, and it is desired to know just how many are here and get the delegation in trim for business.

SANTA FE ENJOINS THE TICKET BROKERS

TEMPORARY WRIT GRANTED
BY JUDGE ABBOTT

L. G. Rosenfield Made Defendant
in Action to Restrain Him
From Dealing in Excursion
Tickets.

Judge Ira A. Abbott in district court yesterday afternoon granted a temporary writ of injunction upon petition of the Santa Fe Railway company against L. G. Rosenfield, a Central avenue pawn broker and ticket broker, restraining him from dealing in excursion tickets. It is announced that the railroad company expects to follow this action up by other applications should any other person attempt to deal in out-into tickets in Albuquerque.

The supreme court at the United States has recently decided that railway companies are entitled to protection by injunction against persons engaged in buying and selling reduced rate tickets and while the Santa Fe had not in the past taken advantage of this decision, it is announced that it now expects to prosecute vigorously any person attempting what is held to be a violation of the law in future. This is not the first proceeding of this kind in New Mexico, a similar action having been instituted in the Pecos valley where it was upheld by the court. Recent orders have been given to all conductors to make a special effort to detect persons violating the law as to out-into tickets and in a number of instances persons have had such tickets taken up and have been required to pay full fare when riding on scalper's tickets. The purpose of the proceeding instituted yesterday, the railroad officials say, is not only for the protection of the railroad company which has made reduced rates for the benefit of the public attending the irrigation congress and exposition, but also to protect the people from being imposed upon by being induced to buy tickets from dealers who undertake to guarantee that they may be used and in many instances passengers subject themselves, according to the railway officials, to inconvenience and embarrassment and are compelled to pay full fare and lose the price paid for the scalper's ticket.

High up among the craggy peaks of the Rocky Mountains on the backbone of the American Continent in Colorado—there rises a little stream of water, which, making its path among the stones by force, impatient of the obstacles it meets, oft thrust aside by rugged boulders set with in its bed, yet pausing not to stay, the restless streamlet hastens on its way, eager to blend its current with the flow of the famous river in the fertile valley down below.

The Arkansas river is the spinal cord of the Arkansas valley, which from times unknown, was the home of the buffalo, deer and antelope. It was here the coyotes and wolves frequently held their frolics and moonlight levees. Here also was the rallying place and the camping grounds of the numerous tribes of Indians who held dominion over this section of the country, and it was equally the favorite rendezvous of trappers, traders and hunters who roamed over mountain and plain during the earlier part of the past century.

Roosevelt called Colorado the "Playground of the Nation," and it appropriately follows that the Arkansas river is the "Nile of America." It is longer, its volume is greater, its broad, fertile valleys are more densely populated with a more intelligent people than the famous Nile of ancient Egypt.

The famous valley of the Arkansas is fan shaped, or might be likened to a cornucopia, which, starting at Tennessee Pass on the crest of the Rocky Mountains in Colorado, runs southeastward through Colorado into Kansas. At Canon City, Colorado, the beginning of the valley proper, it is but a few miles in width, rapidly increasing in width to the eastward.

Throughout this entire valley, the Kansas-Colorado Railroad company has begun the construction of the longest electric railroad in the world, namely, from Canon City, Colorado, to Dodge City, Kansas a distance of three hundred and eighty-seven miles.

The Kansas-Colorado Railroad company's twin company, the Kansas-Colorado Electrical Transmission company, backed by the same financiers, officered by the same persons, will construct electric power plants at Canon City, Colorado, La Junta, Colorado, and Garden City, Kansas. The Transmission company, with its initial plant at Canon City in the heart of the coal fields of Colorado, will generate electricity for the operation of the trains over the Kansas-Colorado Railroad company's lines.

The Electrical Transmission company will also furnish electric current to the farmers along the entire Arkansas valley, for the purpose of running motors to pump water to irrigate their arid land. While the crops are growing in the summer season, the electricity can be used for irrigation. During this season of the year, the freight business will be the lightest. During the fall and winter season, the necessity for pumping water will be at an end, and the electricity can be used to haul the agricultural products to market.

It has been demonstrated by the government, under the supervision of the United States Geological Survey, at and near the city of Deerfield, Kansas, that pumping water by electricity is practicable and feasible, as well as economical, and that electric current for this purpose can be used by the farmer at a profit.

The United States government has erected a system of pumps crossing the Arkansas valley at this point, which pump from fifty to sixty feet of cubic water per second of time; in fact, enough to cover one hundred acres of land one foot deep each day, or three hundred acres of land four inches deep per day. These pumping plants have feeders from eighteen to thirty feet in the ground to the water bearing strata below the surface, and after having been in operation for months, the flow of water remains undiminished. One pump properly equipped, lifts from five to six cubic feet of water per second of time.

In the valley of the Arkansas in eastern Colorado and western Kansas, there are approximately seven hundred thousand acres of land which can be irrigated by pumps run by electricity, and this land can be irrigated at a profit to the farmer, as well as to the company furnishing the current.

It is estimated that the Electrical Transmission company will furnish power to irrigate approximately as much land as the combined area irrigated by all of the government plants now under process of construction, and it must be borne in mind that this is an independent private enterprise, not receiving government, state or municipal aid, nor aid from the Government Reclamation Service, but is backed by the whole united people of the Arkansas valley, who having undertaken this herculean task, call out for the hearty co-operation and assistance and good will of every man, woman and child throughout the valley. This project recognizes no state line between Colorado and Kansas, but this is eliminated for the good of the whole people.

From the mineral storehouses of Colorado's mountains millions of wealth are annually gathered, but vast as are the resources of the mines, the value of Colorado's farm products is greater. In the industrial contest between mountain and plain, the plains are victor, for here the agriculturist is at work producing the finest agricultural products in the world.

Colorado has had three chances since agriculture and fruit growing have been well established to measure her progress against that of the rest of the country, namely, at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893, at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1904 and at the Lewis and Clark Exposition in 1905. At the Chicago World's Fair in 1893, Colorado's agricultural exhibits were awarded eighty-one special premiums.

At the St. Louis fair in 1904, the triumph of Colorado was even more marked. Three grand prizes were given for exhibits of the products of orchards and apairies, and for fruits of various kinds there were nineteen gold medals and two hundred and eighty-two other awards. Colorado took either first or second prize on every variety of fruit exhibited, and a greater proportion than any other state in the union; eighty-four gold medals, and two hundred and eighty-two silver and bronze medals. No other two states in the union secured as many prizes as did Colorado.

At the Portland fair, Colorado received five hundred and six awards—two hundred and forty-eight gold medals, one hundred and forty-five silver medals, sixty-nine bronze medals, and forty-four honorable mentions.

The broad and fertile valleys of the Arkansas in western Kansas will produce fruit equal to that now grown under direct irrigation from the Arkansas river in Colorado. It but remains for the Electrical Transmission company to put power within reach of the farmers in the Arkansas valley, when his fields, orchards, pastures and gardens will challenge the investigation and competition of the world.

The name Colorado has a cash value in the markets of our country. The high honor of imitation and forgery is paid our products. From San Francisco to New York our products command a premium in all markets. It is a well-known fact that the fertility of the lands of the Arkansas valley has no equal. Colorado's combination of sunshine, altitude, fertile soil, along with irrigation, makes her agricultural products without a peer.

As a result of the projects of the Kansas-Colorado Railroad company and the Kansas-Colorado Electrical Transmission company, we are on the eve of a wonderful agricultural development in the Arkansas valley. We are about to inaugurate campaign for the irrigation of the arid lands in the Arkansas valley between Canon City, Colorado, and Dodge City, Kansas, which means more for the state of Kansas and more for the state of Colorado than any other enterprise in the last half century.

Coal fields may become exhausted, gold has but one crop, our mineral resources may all be utilized, but the watered fields will pay their annual tribute as long as the sun shines and the man toils. "One generation passes away, and another generation cometh, but the earth abideth forever."

The Kansas-Colorado Railroad and Electrical Transmission Companies' lines touch all of the large cities in the valley. It will haul coal, mica, gannister, gypsum, Portland cement, cement plaster, building stone, fire clay, lumber and raw materials of all kinds from the mountains on the west to Pueblo, the "Pittsburg of the West," a city of sixty thousand inhabitants, the logical market of the great mining camps of the state and of the farming districts of the valley, with a manufacturing and jobbing business amounting to eighty-five million of dollars annually. Pueblo's freight yards handle one million, five hundred thousand cars each year. Its steel plant, costing over forty millions of dollars, employs over five thousand men. It is the largest smelting center in the world.

This road will serve the sugar beet factories throughout the valley of the Arkansas, hauling to the factories the raw material, and hauling to market the manufactured product. It will furnish to the farmers and to all of the people living along its line, not only a cheaper, but a more satisfactory, means of transportation, both freight and passenger, than they have ever enjoyed before.

Therefore, hold your next convention in Pueblo and allow the people of this city and of the Arkansas valley to verify all of the above statements.

ALBUQUERQUE WELCOMES THE IRRIGATION CONGRESS

(Continued From Page 1, Column 5) The delegation, however, is determined to see the congress through, and the perfect between speakers and the committee members of Pueblo promises to be interesting. As is usually the case, the question of the distribution of the congress is one of the prominent topics among the delegates and at this session promises to claim more attention than usual.

EXPOSITION WILL OPEN ON TIME THIS MORNING

Although the mounting of exhibits will hardly have been completed before this evening, owing to delay in receiving cars and the customary delays on occasions of the kind, the exposition grounds will be opened promptly at 9:30 this morning, and save for a few exhibits, the preparations will be found quite complete. The opening session of the congress will probably attract the attention of both delegates and citizens during the morning, but the exposition will come in for its share of attention in the afternoon when the formal opening will occur, following the first parade of the military forces here. The formal opening of the exposition will be by Governor Cary.

What with the arrivals of the Navajo Indians, the carnival shows and the customary amusement features of the New Mexican annual carnival week, the amusement features of the exposition will be in full swing by tonight.

BIG CROWDS OF VISITORS ON EVERY TRAIN

The arrivals are by no means confined to delegates. The trains coming into Albuquerque from all directions are crowded in the doors, and the attendance promises to be greater even than had been anticipated. Thus far there has been little trouble in finding accommodations for the guests, and little confusion in placing them in comfortable rooms. The hotels are crowded and the lobby of the Alvarado last night was fairly packed chiefly with delegates, but there are plenty of rooms at the command of the information bureau, and no difficulty has been encountered in caring for the crowd.

The musical features offered in connection with the congress would make it notable. In addition to the singing of the fine irrigation ode this morning, the chorus of 100 voices, with the soloists who have been brought here, and the excellent Emporia orchestra, will give Sullivan's beautiful "Golden Legend" in Convention hall on Wednesday night, while the Mexican National band, the European quartette, or Los Angeles, and the soloists will give a concert in Convention hall on Friday evening.

Another concert of musical merit will be given in Elks' theater by the Women's club of Albuquerque. Interest already in this congress is amply testified to by the large number of newspaper representatives here. The newspapers of Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles and San Francisco are represented by staff men, while the newspapers of all the nearby cities in Colorado, Arizona and Texas have their representatives here.

GREAT RAILROAD SYSTEMS ARE WELL REPRESENTED

Another notable feature of this congress is the representation of the transcontinental railroads. Every railroad crossing the continent is represented here by four or more of its officials, while the Santa Fe system in addition to the long list of its representatives now here, will be represented after Wednesday by President Bishop, five officers of the system and a number of prominent officers of other lines, who will be the guests of Mr. Bishop and his party.

Vice President Mudge of the Rock Island, will also be here, with the Northern Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Mexican Central and other lines are here in force.

MACHINERY OF THE CONGRESS IN WORKING ORDER

The machinery of the congress is in good working order. Officers and attendants are well drilled and the convention hall arrangements will be made as seamless as possible. Ample accommodations have been made for members of the press and representatives of newspapers who have not been provided with credentials may obtain them by calling at the office of the secretary of the board of control.

E. H. Norton, of Chicago, a man of wide experience will be the official reporter of the congress. Mr. Norton comes as a delegate from Illinois, appointed by Governor Dineen. The convention hall arrangements have been carefully made, and the work of the congress is expected to proceed without a hitch from the call to order this morning until final adjournment on Saturday.

ARIZONA MAN HAS A PROTEST

Geo. W. Cowgill of Phoenix Board of Trade Holds That Agricultural Entries Should Close on Time.

Geo. W. Cowgill, secretary of the Phoenix board of trade, and in charge of the horticulture exhibit of fruits from the Salt River valley, registered a vigorous protest yesterday against what he holds to be unfairness on the part of the exposition management in extending the time for closing agricultural exhibit entries for twelve hours, in order to allow the installation of delayed exhibits. Mr. Cowgill holds that the extension of time is unfair to exhibitors who have installed their displays on time and that it allows other exhibitors the advantage of inspection.

The board of managers of the exposition, however, has in its justification that there have been a number of exhibits delayed in transmission and that it would be unfair to shut
