ATTENDANCE AT THE FAIR CONTINUES TO SMASH ALL OF THE PREVIOUS RECORDS

Comparison Day by Day With Same Days of Former Fairs Shows More Paid Admissions Than Ever Before; Big Crowds Assured for Three Closing Days of the Week.

STRONG RACING PROGRAM ON THIS AFTERNOON'S PROGRAM

Soldiers Will Appear in Garrison Parade and Will Gather in Convention Hall at Smoker Tonight; Tomorrow's Program Will Include the Monkey Drill and Roman Races by Cavalrymen With Big Wild West Show for Saturday.

Compared with the attendance at former fairs day by day, every day of the fair this year has set a new record for paid admissions, and there is every indication that the attendance at the last three days of the week will exceed the record-breaking crowds of Monday and Tuesday of this week. Yesterday's crowd, while smaller than on Monday and Tuesday, was still a large one, and from early morning until closing time last night there were crowds of people in the grounds. Beginning with the live stock auction in the morning and ending with the relay race in the afternoon there was something doing every minute. The program for today is one of the strongest of the week, and the racing feature is particularly attractive. In addition to the Glorieta stake race, for which seven entries have been made and which is good for $1,000, there will be three running races and a relay race. The bronco busting feature will be introduced this afternoon and Indians on foot will give an exhibition of roping and the human toboggan, the funniest exhibition on record. The soldiers will take their usual prominent part in the program, with a garrison parade. The cavalry charges by the troops from Fort Wingate yesterday made a hit with the crowd, and the Bois manual by the infantry, the men keeping time to the music of the Twenty-first in fantry band, was loudly applauded. The soldiers will play a more prominent part in each day's program for the remaining three days of the fair. The practice drills and guard mount each morning at the camp are drawing many interested spectators. Tonight the soldiers will give a smoker in Convention hall. The affair is arranged by the exposition management particularly for the benefit of the men who will occupy the floor. Admission will be allowed to the gallery for a charge of fifty cents, which will be distributed among the men.

The program will include sword trills, bayonet drills, numerous athletic events and will be highly entertaining. It will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow the cavalrymen will give their famous monkey drill, and the closing feature of the day's program will be the highly exciting Roman race, each cavalryman riding two horses over the mile course, standing. This is an event which is always a favorite. Saturday the soldiers, cavalry and infantry, the cowboys and Indians will participate in a wild west carnival that will last the best Buffalo Bill ever offered. It will be the closing feature of the fair and will be a big day of amusements, closing with the arrival on the streets and the masked ball in convention hall.

RIVAL CANDIDATES MEET AT BANQUET IN CHICAGO

Bryan and Taft Exchange Expressions of High Regard in Non Partisan Speeches at Dinner Given by Chamber of Commerce in Honor of Waterways Commission.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Chicago, Oct. 7.—Mr. W. J. Bryan and W. H. Taft, rival candidates for the presidency of the United States, met tonight at the annual banquet of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Mr. Bryan, having been in Chicago all day was the first to arrive. Judge Taft having delivered a speech at the opening of the deep waterways convention in the forenoon, went to Galesburg and delivered an address during the afternoon and returned to Chicago tonight after the banquet was well under way.

Intense interest in the meeting had been manifested since it first became known that the two candidates were to meet in public and every seat in three banquet halls of the Auditorium thrown together for the occasion, was occupied when the first course was served, save only a commodious chair reserved for Judge Taft.

An ear splitting shout gave warning of the arrival of Judge Taft. Mr. Bryan, in common with every one else, arose and took a step toward the entrance. A huge frame, moving like a ship among a swarm of tugs, came slowly up the narrow aisle between the two tables. Those at a distance occasionally could catch a glimpse of a smiling face acknowledging greetings.

Mr. Bryan, who had come in the destruction of front part of clay eyes, masquerading under a rough name, turned his head slowly as his political rival drew near, smiling slightly.

The dramatic moment which had been anticipated with such deep interest was over. Mr. Bryan's hand extended toward Mr. Taft. A single grasping pressure, a word or so which none could overhear because of the tumult and the repetition under which they were seated, and the two candidates were seated at a table in the right of Mr. Taft. The cheering continued for a minute or so after that, at the speakers' table had taken their seats. At the first moment the press surrounded Mr. Bryan, turning to one side and smiling broadly toward Mr. Taft. He had a good day. This display of friendliness on the part of the two candidates stirred the crowd to renewed cheering and words being spoken in the din. Mr. Taft stroked his throat for answer. They Taft laughed and the applause increased.

"What is the matter with him?" cried some one.

"He's all right."

"What's all right?"

"He's right."

It took some time for the orchestra and a song by the guests to restore a semblance of quiet.

ARMENIAN PRIESTS SAY THEY ARE ON THE SQUARE

Declare They Are Soliciting Funds for Legitimate Use and Deny Having Made Misrepresentations.

The Armenians to whom reference was made in the Morning Journal yesterday as having solicited funds with the representation that the requests had the sanction of the Roman Catholic church, called at the Morning Journal office last night to make a vigorous protest against what they declare to have been a misstatement. The men claim that they have been in this country for three years past soliciting funds for the Chaldean church, and that the funds so raised have been going to the legitimate support of that church. The priests are armed with passports in proper form, their papers appear to be regular, and they have with them a letter from Governor Curry with reference to their work in New Mexico.

On the other hand, the statement has been made to the Morning Journal upon most reliable authority that the men solicited funds while here, with the statement that they were Roman Catholic priests and also that their requests had the sanction of the Roman Catholic church. The Armenians declare that if they were so understood, it was a misrepresentation, due to their poor understanding and one of the English language. The men left last night for El Paso.

Taft Again Takes TO ROAD NEXT WEEK

New York, Oct. 7.—While the exact itinerary of Justice Taft has not been definitely fixed, the information was given out at republican national headquarters that he will probably resume his speaking tour early next week. It is expected that he will spend one or two days in Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, New Jersey and, as before announced, New York and Connecticut.

The itinerary of Vice President Sherman, as amended, takes him through Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Illinois, the campaign in Indiana and Ohio.

The republican candidate for vice president, Mr. Sherman, will, on his return to New York tonight, remain in the east until the close of the campaign.

LARGE CROWD AT THE CLUB BALL

One of the Most Successful Functions of the Exposition Season; Music by the Infantry Band.

The grand ball at the Commercial club last night, attended by members of that organization and their friends, was one of the pleasantest of the many social events of the exposition time, and its attendance will prove one record in numbers to the El Montezuma ball. The Twenty-first Infantry band dispensed excellent music and a further military touch was added by the presence of a number of army officers. A delicious buffet lunch was served in the porch, which was cleverly and effectively decorated for the occasion with the national colors and Navaho blankets.

There were nearly two hundred guests in attendance, including the most prominent Albuquerque society people. The military contingent included Brigadier General Earl D. Thomas, Captain H. O. Willard, the Fifth cavalry, and wife; Captain Clark M. Carr and wife, Lieutenant War, Glover, Hobson, Preston Davis, Ristern and Sawyer, of the Twenty-first Infantry.

EXPLOSION KILLS ELEVEN PEOPLE

Flames Started by Spontaneous Combustion Responsible for Awful Disaster in Vermont Village.

[By Morning Journal Special Teletype Wire] Richmond, Vt., Oct. 7.—With a concussion which shook the entire village, a large grain elevator having a capacity of 500,000 bushels, exploded late today, causing the death of eleven workmen and two women. The explosion blew off the entire roof of the building, scattering timbers in all directions and instantly flames burst out. Mrs. John Jellifer, who was walking near the elevator, was burned to death. The elevator was owned by the Canadian Pacific and Boston and Maine railroads and was operated by the Quaker Oats company, of Chicago. The flames are supposed to have been started by spontaneous combustion. The elevator and its contents were destroyed, causing a loss of $400,000.

DENIES FRICTION IN AMERICAN FEDERATION

Washington, Oct. 7.—First Vice President James Duncan, of the American Federation of Labor, in a telegram today declares that he and President Gompers are in union on labor policies; that both have been misquoted, and reiterates that the federation's attitude is not a particularly contentious one on the part of organized labor. The statement says:

"It is incorrect to say that the federation is in friction with the labor union, and the federation is in union with the labor union on labor policies, and reiterates that the federation's attitude is not a particularly contentious one on the part of organized labor. The statement says:

Hagen in Nevada. Goldfield, Nev., Oct. 7.—Thomas J. Hagen, independence party candidate for president, addressed 2,000 people here tonight and was given a cordial reception. W. R. Hearst was not among the speakers, having left the party in Los Angeles, in response to a summons from San Francisco.

Mr. Hagen said he believed that President Roosevelt was sincere in his fight against the Standard Oil company, which he had driven out of the republican party. Mr. Hagen declared, had surrendered to the "captains," which had been received and welcomed into the democratic party with open arms.

Our Unmatched Millinery

The wondrous exhibition of Autumn Hats is a veritable revelation of the Milliner's Art. Their beauty and grace, the harmony and rich contrasts in color and the diversity of trimming combine to produce an attractiveness so distinctly unusual as to elicit constant favorable comment from appreciative patrons and visitors.

This week we will make Special Exhibit and sale of Hats at two degrees of quality and price, $10.00 and $25.00.

The $10.00 Line is greatly diversified in size, shape, color and trimming, and includes hats for street and dress. Trimmings are principally wings, flowers, and ribbons according to fashion's latest edicts.

The $25 Hats are principally of fine grade silk and velvet, in the most effective of new shapes, handsomely and effectively trimmed, the fashionable large reason being much in evidence. You would guess a much higher price many of these new creations, but for a week of special attraction the price for choice will be, each $25.00.

Parisian Models.—Our assemblage of Paris Autumn Hats is a marvelous exhibit of the incomparable French genius in millinery art. Leading in prominence of effective style and embellishment are the various interpretations of Directoire and Marie Louise vogues. Attempted description is like waste. Visitors are as welcome as purchasers. We are very desirous that every appreciative woman in Albuquerque shall see and enjoy this unusual display of style and beauty.

ORATORS DENOUNCE WASTE OF NATIONAL RESOURCES

Extravagant Policy of Pioneers Must Give Way to Conservation Transmississippi Congress Delegates Are Told; Harriman's Traffic Manager Talks of Relations of Railroads to Development of West.

(The Morning Journal Special Edited Wire) The Transmississippi Congress, which is now in session at the Alvarado Hotel, Albuquerque, has heard a series of addresses by prominent men of the West, who have been invited to discuss the conservation of national resources. The first address was made by Mr. J. C. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, who spoke of the relations of the railroads to the development of the West. He said that the railroads had a great stake in the conservation of the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing everything in their power to protect them. He also said that the railroads were doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country.

The second address was made by Mr. W. H. Henshaw, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, who spoke of the conservation of the natural resources of the West. He said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. He also said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to protect the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. The third address was made by Mr. J. C. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, who spoke of the relations of the railroads to the development of the West. He said that the railroads had a great stake in the conservation of the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing everything in their power to protect them. He also said that the railroads were doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country.

The fourth address was made by Mr. W. H. Henshaw, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, who spoke of the conservation of the natural resources of the West. He said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. He also said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to protect the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. The fifth address was made by Mr. J. C. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, who spoke of the relations of the railroads to the development of the West. He said that the railroads had a great stake in the conservation of the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing everything in their power to protect them. He also said that the railroads were doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country.

The sixth address was made by Mr. W. H. Henshaw, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, who spoke of the conservation of the natural resources of the West. He said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. He also said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to protect the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. The seventh address was made by Mr. J. C. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, who spoke of the relations of the railroads to the development of the West. He said that the railroads had a great stake in the conservation of the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing everything in their power to protect them. He also said that the railroads were doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country.

The eighth address was made by Mr. W. H. Henshaw, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, who spoke of the conservation of the natural resources of the West. He said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. He also said that the Santa Fe Railroad was doing a great deal of work to protect the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country. The ninth address was made by Mr. J. C. Harriman, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, who spoke of the relations of the railroads to the development of the West. He said that the railroads had a great stake in the conservation of the natural resources of the West, and that they were doing everything in their power to protect them. He also said that the railroads were doing a great deal of work to develop the West, and that they were doing it in a way that would be profitable to the country.

The tenth address was made by Mr. W. H. Henshaw, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, who spoke of the conservation of the natural resources of the West. STRONG ORGANIZATION
EXPECTED TO RESULT

Number of Important Sales Made Yesterday Morning at Auction, Going Chiefly to New Mexico Ranges.

The convention at which it is expected to organize a New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' association, will be held today in convention hall this morning at 10 o'clock. It is probable that the cattlemen, of whom there are a great many here for the meeting, will continue in session for two days, there being several intervals between sessions on account of the stock sales now under way at the fair grounds.

A meeting of the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' association, which was held yesterday morning at the Alvarado at which President Manning, Secretary Austin and Members N. W. Baker of Polson, Cole Hadden of Socorro, W. C. McDonald of Carlsbad, Charles Ballard of Roswell and Victor Culberson of Silver City were present. The board gave its approval to the convention and resolved to urge the perfection of a strong organization as quickly as possible.

This morning's convention was called to order by President Manning of the board, who will preside pending the effecting of the organization. Every cattle growing section of New Mexico will be well represented in the meeting.

The first of the sales of blooded cattle occurred at the fair grounds stock pens yesterday morning between 10 and 12 o'clock with a large number of cattlemen present. The bidding is active and the forty Hereford bulls and calves brought here by the American Hereford Breeders' association were sold chiefly to New Mexico growers. The cattle came from the Sunnyside farm at Emporia, Kansas, and from an equally well known farm, the Coddell and Simpson, of Independence, Mo. A considerable number of good looking cattle have been brought from farms in southern Colorado and northern New Mexico, the New Mexico cattle showing up well in comparison with the eastern stuff. A number of ribbons have gone to the New Mexico stock.

Louis McKee and W. R. Morley, both of western Socorro county, were among the most active buyers. Mr. McKee secured three high grade registered bull calves from Maxwell City, N. M., brought here from the Chan, Springer stock farm, while he with Mr. McKee bought some forty blooded Herefords. These latter went at from $25 to $40 the head. R. E. Edmundson, secretary of the American Hereford Breeders' association is present in charge of the registration records. Mr. Thompson has been secretary of this association for twenty-four years.

The sales will be continued at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the cattlemen's convention being adjourned in order that the members may attend.

TRAVELING MEN MAKE MERRY IN ANNUAL FUN FEST

Seventy-five Artistically Gowned Young Gentlemen Parade the Streets and Mix Up in Lively Baseball Game; Accident to Denver Man in Baseball Game Mars Pleasure of the Afternoon.

Seventy-five gracefully faced and attractively groomed knights of the grip sack assembled at Elks club yesterday morning and headed by Mayor Lester, the officers of the fair association and several others, proceeded to let it be known that the traveling men were on the job. The parade was a success. The official uniform consisted of a white cap and a riding whip decorated with the fair colors. Several of the dignitaries of the crowd rode in carriages, but most of the boys were quite content to show their kind faces on foot while the Leonard & Lindemann boys' band brought up the rear. Before starting Mayor Lester formally delivered all the keys of the city he had left to the traveling men and the said traveling men accepted with thanks and proceeded to make use of them all.

The baseball game at the fair grounds between the Merry Widows and the Lonely Melons was a splendid exhibition of the national game as long as it lasted. As nearly as Captain McKee could remember, the score was 108 to 23 in favor of the Merry Widows when the game ended. The umpire was kept very busy attending to the garments which were pinned in spots, and which fitted somewhat loosely, but he managed to give general satisfaction.

The game was a hoisting farce so long as it lasted, but it was brought to a somewhat tragic close by an accident which took all the fun out of the game for the good fellows who were in the sport. A. J. McNabb of Denver, who represents the Bartlett wholesale seed house, and who had been putting all sorts of ginger into the game with his scents, collided with another player while running a ball and went down with such violence that he was rendered unconscious. The blow was a terrible one and for a time it was feared that it might prove fatal. Doctors hurried to the injured man but in spite of all their efforts he did not recover consciousness in more than forty minutes. At the end of that time he revived, smiled weakly, desired to know what was the matter and expired again. He quickly came out of the second fainting spell, however, and was taken to his hotel where last night he was resting comfortably. It is not believed that he has suffered any serious injury. The accident threw a damper on the spirits of the players and the game was quickly called off.

MILLIONS OF CAPITAL REPRESENTED IN PARADE. There was a serious feature connected with the parade yesterday morning which is of general interest to Albuquerque where half of the men in it make their headquarters at least during a part of the year. The men to the represented capital aggregating something more than a hundred million dollars. There were representatives of practically all of the great staple wholesale houses of the nation and many representing special lines manufactured by firms with enormous capital.

Yell string had a protest sent in from the backers of the Indian, who charged that he had been fouled in the change. Whichever the merits of the case the decision was changed and the first money awarded to the Indian's string. Yell and his supporters are indignant at the change, which they declare to be wholly without justice.

"I entered my string in this race," said Mr. Tails last night, "not to make money out of it, but because I wanted the money to go to Mr. Ford at Phoenix, who came here to enter the relay race and who is so crippled that he cannot do so. I meant to give the money to him. My horse was brought here to look after cattle at the stock show for the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' association, which I am inspector at Glorieta and I had no intention of entering the relay running. However, I saw a chance to help Ford out and entered. My horse won the race. There was no foul and the change of the decision was a rank injustice."

ROSABEL LESLIE NEXT WEEK

Well Known Actress Will Appear at Elks' Theater in Role of Anita in "Anita the Singing Girl."

Rosabel Leslie, who will be seen at the Elks' Theater next week, with Madame Saturday, is one of those natural born actresses, whose capabilities seem almost unlimited, as she plays anything from a tough street gamster to an emotional lead, and so well does she embody each role that it is difficult to determine in which she excels. Her early stock training was her own experience that developed a versatility which enables her to successfully embody many things not common among entertainers. One of her newest efforts is that she will present before the audience during her forthcoming engagement in that of the role of Anita in the Broadway hit "Anita the Singing Girl."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 7.—The political complications which have arisen in the Balkan peninsula threw a shadow of depression over securities markets today, directly on those of Europe, while our own market came within its scope by sympathy. In the influence was counteracted here with varying success but the modifying effect of the European situation on the efforts to support prices was very obvious. Discussion about the stock exchange was not impressive in its appreciation of the political questions discussed, although much of the concern of Europe, the "balance of power," etc. No wide knowledge was required however to read the significance of orders by cable from London and from European centers to sell thousands of shares of American securities in the New York stock market.

This and other means of establishing credit in New York has had its effect on the foreign exchange market, where the call for remittance to foreign points, makes itself evident. At the same time holders of wheat testified to their doubts over the European prospect by the distribution to part with their holdings and mill owners showed a corresponding desire to replenish their holdings. The government's liberal estimate of the year's wheat crop was equally effective in reducing its price in face of the factors of the strength in the market. The foreign selling of securities converged on a number of stocks which have held a leading place in all recent speculative movements and the sentimental effect of their weakness on the general list was correspondingly great. The improved tone of the local market after the house for activity on foreign stock exchanges had passed was further testimony to the part played by foreign influence in the early movements. The choice of stocks to form the medium for operation toward raising the market fell of those of a lower grade and lower price.

The money market was not appreciably affected by the political developments abroad, call loan rates having over the level of the mid-summer ease of rates. Closing stocks:

Chicago Board of Trade.
Chicago, Oct. 7.—Disturbances in Europe and an excellent demand here for winter wheat by eastern millers caused strength in the local wheat market today. Prices at the close showing net gains of 1/2 to 1/4. Corn and oats were firm but prices were irregular.

Strength in the wheat pit developed soon after the opening which was not at all due to the active demand of the leading European grain centers and additional liberal receipts of new wheat in the northwest brought out considerable selling by pit traders at the start but all offerings were eagerly taken by commission houses and before the end of the first half hour offerings had diminished and prices had taken a strong turn upward.

The market closed strongly at almost the top notch in corn with a firmness caused by the active demand of leading mills, closing at net gains of 1/2 to 1/4 cents.

The grain market became firm early in the day and held steady at a moderate advance the remainder of the session. At the same time prices were unchanged to 1/2 higher. Provisions were strong with the exception of current month deliveries, which were easy.

The Metals.
New York Oct. 7.—Copper declined 1/2 to 1 1/2, 12 1/2 for spot and 10 1/2 for 100 for futures in the London market. Lead, the market was but slightly unchanged with bids quoted at $13.37 1/2 to $13.52 1/2, and casting at $13.12 1/2 to $13.17 1/2, and tin at $12.87 1/2 to $12.92 1/2. Lead advanced 1/2 to $13.12 1/2 in London. The steel market was dull at $4.10 to $4.15.

On Orleans Cotton.
New Orleans, Oct. 7.—Cotton very steady today, making 15 1/2 to 1 1/4.

St. Louis Wool.
St. Louis, Oct. 7.—Wool prices, medium grades, unchanged and closing at 92.00; light 88 1/2; heavy 84 1/2; 11 1/2 to 12 1/2; 13 1/2 to 14 1/2.

NAVAJOS WILL GO IN TO MOVING PICTURES

Long String of Films Made Yesterday on the Mesa While Indians Danced and Rode Races.

For an hour yesterday afternoon
the Navajo Indians now attending the fair posed and performed before a moving picture camera, while several hundred yards of film were spun through by the operator. Mr. Fenner, an official photographer for the Santa Fe, W. R. Humphries of the Morning Journal, directed the posing and the performances. The Navajos were a little shy about the performance at first, but after they had gotten into the game went at it with a will. An exhibition of those pictures will be shown all along the Santa Fe line, and in the east as one of the attractions of the Santa Fe southwest.

Aside from the successful attempts to make moving pictures of the Navajo extra dances, this is the first time Indians have ever gone onto the moving picture film.

DIAMONDS FROM CALIFORNIA AT FAIR

REMARKABLE EXHIBIT
FROM OROVILLE FIELD

Claimed by Veteran Mining
Man to Be Only Genuine
Diamond Mine Ever Discovered in This Country.

Exhibits from what is declared to be the only genuine diamond mine in the United States, at Oroville, Butte county, California, are attracting much attention at the exposition here.

The main feature of this educational display is the Kimberlite or "Blue Ground"—the only known matrix of the diamond—which is identical in every respect to that of the diamond mine of South Africa. Immediately after Mr. M. J. Conroy placed this interesting, diamondiferous display in the Mineral building a few days ago,
Mr. C. H. Laidlaw, the well known mining engineer of Fairview, recognized the Oroville Kimberlite as genuine diamond matrix. Among other rare and valuable mineral specimens in his large collection, which he has on exhibition is a splendid specimen of Kimberlite from the De Beers' diamond mine given him when he was mineral commissioner of New Mexico,
at the World's fair, Chicago, by Manager of De Beers' exhibit at the fair.
Scores of comparisons have already been made by visiting geologists, mining engineers and mining men on the ground between Mr. C. H. Laidlaw's large specimen of Kimberlite from South Africa and that from Oroville, Cal. Both in turn agreeing that they were identical in structure and general characteristic appearance.

Mr. Conroy was delegate to the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress from Butte county, California, and says that he just brought a few specimens along from the Oroville district to display where for educational purposes and personal pleasure. After eight years among the diamond and gold mines of South Africa, paying his visit to the United States four years ago, with full determination to find a diamond mine in "God's country." After much time spent in prospecting he found at last the location of his lifetime mine north of Oroville, Cal., where operations are now being vigorously prospected. Mr. Conroy expresses the belief that in the comparatively near future the United States will become as famous as South Africa for production of the gem of gems.

The following is a synopsis of the diamondiferous display (from the large shaft being sunk on the Oroville Diamond Mine) which is well worth seeing.

Surface: fine carbonate, concretions
and "Blue Eyes" and in descending succession, sub-surface lime carbonate and yellow ground mixed; yellow ground—empty Kimberlite ovoids, triangular or "yellow" fine "blue blue ground" and finally Kimberlite or "blue ground," which forms the magnificent agglomerate of fine
"diamond pipes" to indicate depth.
Also diamond specimens cut and uncut and many of the satellites so-called as diamonds, which include spinel rubies, garnets, olivines, chrysoberyls, chrysoprase, agates, malachite, phosphates and other semi-precious stones; as well as the ever-presented menacanthite common to all diamond mines.

Mr. Conroy makes the unreserved announcement that he is ready and willing to answer all questions in person or by mail to his home in Oroville, Cal., that would tend to enable prospectors or miners to make other diamond discoveries in the United States.

NO GREASE OR DANGEROUS DRUGS.

In "Herpicide," the New Scientific and Successful Dandruff Treatment

Have you dandruff? Then you have a contagious parasite disease, unpleasant, unhealthy and one that will eventually lead to baldness. To cure it you must destroy the parasite that eats at the root of the hair. The only preparation for destroying the germs is Newbro's Herpicide. Charles Klein of Laramie, Wyo., says: "Herpicide allayed the itching, cured the dandruff
and stopped my hair's falling out,
and it is bringing a new crop of hair."
Herpicide is free from grease or dangerous drugs, and makes hair glossy and soft as silk. One bottle will convince you of its merit. Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. B.

ARIZONA TO WORK FOR 1911

Heard Tells Fellow Citizens
That Territory Has Strong Support for Meeting of Congress in That Year.

Arizona, according to Dwight B.
Heard, is going to work hard for the irrigation congress next in 1911. In an extended interview with the Phoenix Republican, Mr. Heard said:

"The presence of the foreign delegation was one of the most pleasant features of the congress and added much to the success and dignity of the convention. Over a dozen nations were represented, and this feature of the congress was so successful that it will undoubtedly become an annual event.

"Arizona's delegation of every sector, as is its custom, at once organized and met each morning at 8:30 in quarters kindly furnished them in the Chamber of Commerce. In this way united action was taken by the delegation in the congress giving our delegation a decided prestige. After hearing in caucus the representatives of both Spokane and Pueblo, rival aspirants for the next congress, we decided for Spokane and were quite a factor in determining the choice of that city.

"We also agreed unanimously in caucus to work for Phoenix as the location of the congress in 1911. Two son, who had first thought of trying for the congress of 1910, very gracefully retiring in favor of Phoenix.

"We have the support of many of the strong men connected with the congress for Phoenix. In 1911 and from now on a plan of preparation and campaign should be conducted.
As now outlined the congress will meet as follows: Spokane, 1909;
Washington, D. C., 1910; Phoenix, Arizona, 1911, this coming to us at the time. It was at first hoped that a large number of the distinguished delegates would come to Phoenix distinct from the congress, but their plans have been arranged otherwise."
