URGES ELECTION OF DEMOCRATS TO CONGRESS

Believes Senate Can Be Induced to Act in Harmony With Democratic House in Event of His Success.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Omaha, Oct. 17.—Every seat in the big auditorium here was taken tonight and standing room was in demand all about the hall before the time at which W. J. Bryan was admitted to appear and for an hour afterward hundreds came and went, much to the regret of the great hall. That it was an enthusiastic crowd and that it was favorable to the cause of the date was evidenced by the cheering demonstration that greeted every reference to Mr. Bryan by the speakers who preceded him and the great outburst which every one of the thousands stood and waved their hands, cheering in Nebraska most enthusiastically when an appeal was made upon the stage.

Mayor James C. Doherty presided over the meeting and back of him on the stage the prominent democrats of the city who had been designated as vice presidents of the meeting.

Congressman H. H. Campbell presided over the meeting and back of him on the stage the prominent democrats of the city who had been designated as vice presidents of the meeting.

Mr. Bryan's gratification was evident as he came to speak. He was received with a cheering demonstration and it was some time before he could secure quiet. The audience applauded his gratitude at what he termed "this grand assemblage of men and women and children."

He made a strong plea for the election of Congressmen. He said that he had more than 100,000 votes in the election and that he had more than 100,000 votes in the election and that he had more than 100,000 votes in the election.

REMEMBER THE PRIMARIES TOMORROW

Republican primaries to elect delegates to the Bernalillo county nominating convention will be held tomorrow (Monday) afternoon in the two Albuquerque precincts. The primaries will be conducted by ballot and the polls will be open from 4 o'clock until 8 o'clock.

The polling place for precinct No. 12, all north of Central avenue, is at the police station, Korber building, on North Second street.

The polling place for precinct 26, all south of Central avenue, is at the corner of Third street and Gold avenue.

Arrange to attend the primaries in your precinct. A few weeks ago the Republicans of Bernalillo county held a primary election which was of the utmost importance, since that election returned the county Republican organization into the hands of the Republican voters.

The primary on tomorrow afternoon is infinitely more important, for at this election will be selected the delegates who will nominate the men who will represent Bernalillo county in the legislature; and who will also nominate the men who will hold the public offices of Bernalillo county for the next two years.

The man who stays away from the primaries tomorrow afternoon fails to do his duty as a Republican and as a citizen, and he will have only himself to blame of the nominees of the Republican convention on Wednesday are not satisfactory to him.

Because the rank and file of the Republican party carried the last primary election in this county by an overwhelming majority, Republicans should not take it for granted that the primary election on Monday afternoon will take care of itself.

Every man who cares for the best interests of the Republican party, and who cares for the continuance of good government in Bernalillo county, will go to the polls tomorrow afternoon and do his duty.

It should also be kept in mind that registration for the coming election will soon close.

In order to vote you must be registered. The registration books for precinct No. 12 are at the Rothenberg and Schloss Cigar Store, on Central avenue. For precinct 26, the books are at the E. L. Washburn Co. clothing store. Go and see that you are registered tomorrow.

TAFT WINDS UP INVASION OF SOUTH

COURTEOUS HEARING
ACCORDED CANDIDATE

Biggest Crowd in City's History
Greets Him in Richmond; Promises, if Defeated, to Return Four Years Hence.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire)
Richmond, Va., Oct. 17.—Judge Taft today finished his campaign in the south. He will breakfast at the White House tomorrow and after spending the day in Washington leave at midnight for New Jersey to speak through that state, Delaware, Maryland and West Virginia, arriving at Cincinnati Wednesday morning for one day's rest. The remaining three days of next week he will give to his plans and the balance of the time until election to New York City and state.

As on yesterday, and the day before, also today there was no variation in the cordiality of the south in receiving its next visit from a republican presidential candidate. Judge Taft had been told by republican leaders in every one of the southern states he had visited that his invasion of the south had been most opportune and would be beneficial, not only in the present campaign, but will mark the beginning of the real political awakening of the south. He has been told that real hopes are entertained of carrying Kentucky and North and South Carolina and that republican sentiment is gaining rapidly in Tennessee.

Not a single republican city, town or community was in the radius of the Taft special today. He traversed North Carolina from west to east, being at Salisbury.

At Salisbury the candidate spoke in the local theater, while former Secretary Leslie M. Shaw addressed an open air meeting. Lexington and High Point received brief calls. At High Point, a republican candidate for governor, the political townsmen were urged by Judge Taft to give him cordial support. At Greensboro two meetings were held. Mr. Taft spoke in the opera house and Senator William Allen Smith and Mr. Shaw held forth in the auditorium.

Judge Taft made again the cordial reception brought him at Charlotte, N.C.

In the south wants political influence has to be exercised in the discharge of her political duties. He indicated that in his mind this influence means—

"Ask yourselves where would be your cotton manufacturers, your tobacco industry and your furniture factories if the republican policy of protection were departed from?"

"Now is it," he pressed, "that our democratic friends can go on voting one way and hoping to God that something would happen to make their votes count for nothing? That is, come a time when you can vote traditions into the ground and I think that time has come now."

A brief stop was made at Roanoke, Va. before the expedition reached the state of Virginia and the city of Danville. Here a large crowd waited at the station and Judge Taft addressed them from the rear of his car. The audience shouted with great vigor when Bryan's name was mentioned. The candidate said "I am delighted that I have so many Bryan men here that I can talk a little about him."

The Richmond meeting was held in the horse show building. There was an immense audience and the candidate went at length into the general topics of the campaign.

The Richmond meeting illustrated the future desire of the people of the old confederate capital to see the republican nominee. The largest meeting place in the city was packed to the doors and the strategy committee reported that it had handled the largest crowd in its history for any occasion and that one half of the crowd had returned, not being able to obtain admission.

There was much spontaneous but good natured Bryan sentiment exhibited and after the first outburst Mr. Taft, who had just begun to speak, remarked dryly: "Mr. Bryan has been winning for the presidency for twelve years. We ought to allow a short rest for him anyway."

When the candidate followed, this with the remark that he was proud to be the first republican candidate for the presidency to carry his canvass into Virginia, he was greeted with applause.

"I shall be pleased," he said, "if I can play such a part as to bring Virginia and the state of the north closer together."

And then he added with deliberation: "If we don't get her elected, this time you will see me down here four years hence, advocating the election of some one and with more certainty of the electoral vote of Virginia than I have today and especially so if we should now be an unfortunate to elect the democratic ticket."

The row of boxes which circled the large pit was animated with society folk of the city.

Senator William Allen Smith, who followed Mr. Taft here to say, "The campaign of Judge Taft in the south is in many respects the most remarkable ever conducted by a republican presidential candidate. The crowds which have greeted him, the enthusiasm with which he has been received, the interest which the republican principles have not only been given but have been given to the republican party, have nearly lost interest in the democratic leaders who have sought to control them by reckless disregard of those well-re-

CASHIER OF DEFUNCT BANK ON STAND

Witness Tells of Immense Sums Loaned Charles W. Morse on Jee Trust Stock.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire)
New York, Oct. 17.—Tait loans of hundreds of thousands of dollars, in which Charles W. Morse was interested, were made upon authentication of President Curtis of the National Bank of North America on "Jee" stock," which the assistant cashier did not regard as "adequate collateral," that some of the collateral was withdrawn from this bank's vaults from time to time by employees of Morse before the loans had been effected and that the assistant cashier sought to absolve himself of responsibility for the loans by affirming President Curtis in the United States court. The defendant is charged with violation of the National Banking laws and conspiracy.

Tait's only witness was Adolph Busch, formerly assistant cashier of the defunct National Bank of North America, at which Curtis was president, and Morse the principal stockholder. He seemed a willing witness and described transactions involving loans of $100,000 and $200,000 made by Morse on "Jee" stock, which was revealed yesterday as the borrower of vast sums of money and of other loans with "Jee" and "Jee" stock as collateral.

When it was turned over to counsel for Morse for cross examination, a strong effort was made to have him admit conversations with Mr. Curtis to the effect that he was being procured by the government to give testimony for the prosecution and that in himself he would be induced.

His replies, however, appeared to be not entirely satisfactory to the defense.

He said in reply to questions that he was not so much concerned about the collateral as to secure the Whiting loans because he understood that "Mr. Morse, a multi-millionaire," was personally behind the loans. He said he considered that Mr. Morse was behind the "Jee" stock and securities and he always regarded him as a very wealthy man.

(By Morning Journal Special Licensed Wire)
Omaha, Neb., Oct. 17.—Sewell Stinson, reported to be worth half a million dollars, and well known throughout the West as a broker, tonight shot and killed Eve Hart, whose company he has been keeping for some time, and then took his own life by shooting himself in the head. The shooting occurred at the home of Miss Hart, at No. 4294 Biddison street, where the two had been in an automobile a short time before the double tragedy occurred.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY S HAVE CAPTURED THE PENNANT

Sensational Defeat of Occidentals at Traction Park Yesterday
the Season's Thriller in Local Baseball.

In defeating the Occidentals at Traction Park yesterday afternoon by the score of 29 to 13, the Happy-go-lucky were declared the champions of the "big" team of the city and will hold the pennant for the season. The scene was quite funny, but the game was not fought from start to finish. The Occidentals, who have outplayed the Happys on more than one occasion, realized early in the game that they were doomed to defeat, but have merely kept on hitting and did not allow their arms and legs to be used in the middle innings. The shut-out of the team was quite different from that in the field on former occasions. Lettice, who was on the mound for the Happys, was the star of the game. He pitched for the Happys, who were the victors in the game, and he was the star of the game. He pitched for the Happys, who were the victors in the game, and he was the star of the game.

DON'T NEGLECT TO REGISTER.

The registration books, in all the various precincts, are now open, but will close in a very few days, and every man entitled to vote should see to it that he is registered. The coming election will be in many respects one of more than ordinary importance. It is the duty of every qualified voter to vote. But if you are not registered you can't vote. If you would not lose your vote, don't fail to register. The fact that you were registered last year or last spring doesn't count. You have to register again, for this election, or you can't vote.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 17.—The stock market was depressed by the revival of uneasiness in Europe over the difficulties arising in the way of a settlement of the Balkan difficulty. Trading in the London market was over for the day before the New York market opened, and the effect of the foreign depression, therefore, was largely sentimental. A recurrence of large liquidation for foreign account would not accord with the plans of the organized support of the New York market. With the Sunday interval at hand there was no disposition to place speculative commitments. The continued Paris demand on London for gold also was a discussion of possible measures of protection by the Bank of England. The figures of our foreign trade statement for September pointed anew to the anomaly of the high foreign exchange rates now prevailing. The $139,397,295 value of exports from a record for September and the excess value of exports for the month of $139,253,589 bringing the total for the nine months up to $1,425,658,517. This is the largest trade balance in our favor that has been accumulated for the nine months period. Gold has been exported in excess of imports for the same time for the amount of $10,520,564. The sustained demand for remittances abroad under these circumstances arouses much interest and conjecture as to the effect of such factors. Large liquidation of foreign holdings of American securities undoubtedly plays an important part. Extra inducements offered by Great Central banks abroad to attract gold are a factor. The influence of our own redundant bank note circulation in substituting supplies in the currency is not lost sight of. The September trade statement also records a total of imports valued at $95,161,728, the lowest since November last year, and but $8,200,000 below September of last year. This showing is accepted as evidence of the restoration to normal trade conditions which is going on in our foreign as well as domestic commerce. The feature of the bank statement was the evidence of continued loan expansion, somewhat exaggerated in the $149,743,000 increase of the clearing house averages, was the week and expansion from the week before. A triumph of playbuilding is what
A. Conboy's girls, which comes to the Elks theater soon, really is. Built along new and original lines, with material carefully selected from the store of knowledge as to the interests and desires of the public, it breathes an atmosphere all its own, an original and fresh as the wind which sweeps the broad prairies on which the scenes are laid. These wonderful play stands upon the rock of exhaustive research—a plan of merit,
a cast of unusual excellence, a wealth of beautiful scenery.

NEW RECORD FOR THE COUNTY SCHOOLS

Griegos and San Ignacio Districts Show Full Attendance
For First Month of the Term.

A striking manifestation of the interest being taken in the county schools is the fact reported to County Superintendent A. D. Stroup, yesterday, that the full enrollment has attended school every day in Los Gri-gos and San Ignacio districts. In Los Griegos there are nineteen enrolled, and the average daily attendance for the first month of the school year was nineteen.
In San Ignacio, in the Rio Puerco valley, the enrollment is thirty, and every pupil was in his seat every day of the month.
Superintendent Stroup took the opportunity to point out the importance of these figures, which set a new record for attendance in the Bernal-illo county rural schools.

The blow which knocked out Culbert was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were the last resort, and were never fought, but if a substitute had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he would have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing this to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ in the prime ring as well as in the street, and that it is the best protected, and the most difficult to reach. Feet and hands, and even the tongue, are utterly inefficient to, until they reach the solar plexus, and knock us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. The Golden Medical Discovery cures indigestion, constipation, dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad thin and impure blood, and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The Golden Medical Discovery "has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrhs

Dr. Pierce's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional reformer. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs, will be known to you if you will read the following extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R.V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into the composition of the Discovery. It will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure triple refined glycerine being used instead.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Advice, may be sent free upon request, and a separate pamphlet bound for all stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Remarkable and Successful experiment in Producing Valuable Forage Plant Have Been Commenced at San Antonio N. M. and Should Have Assistance of the Public and the Territory.

San Antonio, S. T., Oct. 12. The recent reference was made in the present irrigation congress, to speakers and writers in New Mexico as the land of the future, and the determination to bring that state was one of the most profitable things that could bind the arid conditions of this territory without irrigation, and we know that it can be found in our dry-land wheat fields. It is not found in the valleys and that it is a crop of standing all sorts of ill treatment and evil life. A farmer being not far from here turned over one of the plants and exposed the seed to the sun. After a year or so. Not long after he was astonished to find that it had started new roots and was growing freely. That was seven years ago. Doubtless in fact the seed of the plant is better than concluded to report. After a year he informed me recently that the plant still flourished, and we have found that the cactus can be cut in pieces, and if properly sown, the plant will grow again. These facts should have very well be the propagation and culture of this wonderful plant. It would seem to be the one plant in all the world to reclaim the millions of acres of arid territory that never can be irrigated. An increase would no doubt more than pay the cost of sowing and raising this plant, which is so highly adapted to these raising of all kinds one of the most profitable crops in the world.

The demand for beef and mutton products is heavily growing in the west, and prices are rising higher with the increasing population. New Mexico is well adapted to stock raising, and much more so than other states. It should, and no doubt will, give every possible aid in developing a plant so essential to her future prosperity. American stockmen have been somewhat disappointed that the stock-raising interest has been shown.

We have grown the cactus but no money, but now because that no money made with ordinary private capital could afford the expense required to develop it.

We must appeal to the territory, to the legislature, to the government, to the people to contribute with this wonderful plant of the arid states have already been used in several ways, and it would seem that such a station should be established in New Mexico and devoted wholly to raising culture and commerce. It would be well to find out how much of the plant is sold in the west, and how much of the plant sold in such a great number. There are many points on the Rio Grande where we Probably not one-third of the wild animals more than three times the area of the great state of Ohio, can ever be reclaimed by any kind of irrigation. Dry farming will be the only method of this character, and it is clearly the home of the cactus and the wild animals that chiefly sustain it. The thorns on these wild plants alone prevent stock from feeding on them, and the lack of water is a starvation. They have thus become an eat the cactus till the blood runs from their mouths. The intrinsic value of the cactus is inestimable, and the thorns and prickles alone have prevented its extinction by wild animals long ago. It is believed by many that this wild cactus plant is the only home of a certain species of the prairie dog, and that that the spruce and spruce can be removed by scientific culture, and breeding, that the northern cattle and stock food can be grown in abundance, and that the prairie dog can be tamed and made to serve as a valuable food for man. There are few plants touched, that offer such an immense and valuable field for improvement. It is so rich in so many attributes for the welfare of humanity.

has been proposed to find these northern plants like potatoes and sugar culture first. They would have to be planted in early spring and left to grow until late summer. At Mr. Burdette's Santa Fe ranch will provide another 250,000 pounds of feed in the area of alfalfa and a large crop of corn and other plants. It would require a feed and storage house about a mile long in which to store them and a large number of men and teams. It is not even certain that the spring and fall feed which is used will be sufficiently plentiful here to maintain the cattle season in perfectly healthy condition and such conditions will be made as production of any such any of Burdette's plans.

HAVING decided to retire from my present mercantile business, I shall, on Monday morning, October 19th, place my entire stock of goods upon the market for what it will bring. Practically everything is of this season's buying, and is correct for the winter of 1908-9. In this sale price will hardly be mentioned. I have other and more important matters that demand my immediate attention, and which require that I bring my present business to a speedy close. With this necessity in view, I have reduced prices to such an extent that people must buy. Remember, the sale goes on tomorrow morning
