EMPIRE STATE OUT STRONG FOR TAFT

CROWDED HOUSES GREET CANDIDATE EVERYWHERE

Day Devoted to Tour of Industrial Towns and Cities Through Historic Valley of the Hudson.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Troy, Oct. 27.—A fairly quiet day today, the Taft special so that it was nearly 10 o'clock before it reached Cohoes, where a monster meeting was addressed. The interests of labor were talked of at each place and enthusiasm was at a high pitch.

The theory of protection as explained was heartily applauded and the candidate remarked that the people of Cohoes, an industrial center, seemed to be awake to their own interests. In this connection he said that Mr. Bryan was the author of the statement in the democratic platform that "protection is the robbery of the many for the benefit of the few." Troy was reached at 10:20 o'clock. The immense throng here was packed and jammed with thousands who had been in their covered places for three hours. "I never appreciated the industries of Troy," said the candidate after he had been introduced amid great tumult, "until I made four speeches in as many hours and then I needed the immense laundry facilities."

"Oh, Bill," came a husky voice exhibiting great ardor, and after the laughter, the candidate said he could not vie with that demonstration, but wished he had the voice. "You can have it, Bill," was the quick reply. The speech had progressed but a short time when a woman in the audience near the stand fainted, making the fourth occurrence of the kind during the day. It was after 12 o'clock when the candidate had finished his day's work.

"Taft will leave Troy in the morning for New York, where he will speak many times tomorrow."

RAIN FAILS TO DAMPEN ENTHUSIASM FOR TAFT

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The business of the cities and towns which line the banks of the picturesque Hudson from Granton New York to Troy were made the text of the speeches of W. H. Taft today to the people of these cities and towns.

Yonkers smiled on the big form of the "champion" of a heavy shower. He talked at length to the many who could not get into the largest auditor and then addressed those who had stood and waited in the rain whose number was even greater.

Mr. Bryan spoke in Yonkers yesterday, and saying he understood his distinguished opponent had charged that the republican party had done nothing for labor. Mr. Taft first asserted that the policies of the republican party had been chiefly devoted to the interests of labor and then pointed out how the protective policy made possible the sugar refining industry, the chief enterprise of the city.

"Certainly Mr. Bryan was a bold man to address such a crowd in a town like Yonkers," continued Mr. Taft, "which I believe is one of the greatest manufacturing towns in proportion to its size in the state of New York, and is dependent upon the protective system."

As a sample, Mr. Taft said, of the "under impracticable" destructive character of Mr. Bryan's recommendation with reference to economic reform, he would cite what Mr. Bryan would do with the Yonkers Sugar refinery, assuming for argument that the refinery was in a "trust."

Mr. Taft said: "He would take the difference on sugar—that protection, which is necessary to enable us to have any sugar refineries in this country. It would cause the establishment of refineries in Germany and all of our population here dependent on this refinery would be affected. And not only would it destroy the trust but with it the independent refineries."

The republican party is just as much opposed to monopoly as the democratic party," announced Mr. Taft later. "It passed and enforced the anti-trust law. It believes in going directly at the evil of monopoly by punishing men for maintaining it, rather than by destroying the industries and the great combinations of capital that have much utility and are of such benefit to the wage earners. It believes in stamping out the evil and not stamping out the corporation."

Tarrytown, Peekskill and Fishkill Landing listened in the rain to short speeches delivered by the candidate from the rear of his car. The dampness did not seem to dull the ardor of the citizens. When the Taft special reached Poughkeepsie at 7 o'clock the rain had just ceased and the sun came out brightly. He was driven to the Astorwood opera house, which was crowded to the very doors. A class of girls from Vassar college tried to "get" Judge Taft's speech in short hand and an enthusiast in the gallery attracted brief attention by shouting: "The surely says 'This smile that wasn't come off.'"

"It will still be there next Tuesday," rejoined Judge Taft, and in his hope the audience seemed to cheer. Here the republican candidate returned ed to Mr. Bryan's issue "shall the people rule?"

"Shall the people rule?" has already," he declared. "The truth is that the proposition that the people had not ruled up to this date met with so much ridicule that it has faded out as an issue."

Mr. Taft was so much in demand by the immense crowd outside the theater when he emerged that he made a second speech from the steps of the republican headquarters building.

Another brief speech was made at Hudson after which the special ran to Schenectady where nearly three hours were occupied by the candidate in the delivery of three speeches, all of them predominate with the labor issue.

The employees of the American Locomotive works were spoken to first, repeating the candidate with much show of enthusiasm.

"I have only a minute more organized or union men than any town in the country for its size," declared Mr. Taft, and he then proceeded to inform his hearers of his own labor record and of the labor legislation which the republican party had enacted, as compared with the blank record of the democratic party."

SUNNY JIM SHERMAN ENDS
STRENUOUS DAY IN MANHATTAN

New York, Oct. 27.—Invading the metropolitan district after putting in an active day campaigning in agricultural and manufacturing districts, upstate, James S. Sherman, republican vice presidential nominee, made six speeches tonight at different places in Manhattan and the Bronx boroughs to large and enthusiastic audiences. The candidate arrived here at 4 o'clock coming from Schenectady.

The first speech was made on the upper west side. As Mr. Sherman entered the hall a young woman stepped forward and presented a huge city-sentimental saying it was for "Sunny Jim," with best wishes for success. The candidate pinned the yellow blossom on his coat, remarking it was a symbol of the gold standard, which the republican party had made a foundation for the best money in the world—the American dollar. With that as text the speaker delivered an earnest address on the currency question, urging his hearers to vote for an administration that guaranteed sound money.

The second stop was in the Crotona Casino in the Bronx. There Mr. Sherman talked on the tariff. At Camp Hughes, the candidate devoted fifteen minutes to praising Governor Hughes. Brief talks were made by the candidate at Camp Taft, Empire hall and the Amsterdam opera house.

London, Oct. 28.—The Daily Telegraph publishes an interview given to an unofficial representative, Englishman by Emperor William, who in warmly associating his strong friendship for England and complaining of the misapprehensions by Englishmen of his attitude as solely trying to advance such views in a town like Yonkers," continued Mr. Taft, "which I believe is one of the greatest manufacturing towns in proportion to its size in the state of New York, and is dependent upon the protective system."

CONFESION IMPLICATES FORTY
MEN, MANY OF THEM PROMINENT CITIZENS AND MOST OF
THEM IN CUSTODY.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Tiptonville, Tenn., Oct. 27.—Taft Burton, self-confessed "night rider," told a remarkable story today of night rider depredations in the vicinity of Reelfoot lake, confessing to the part he played in the outrages, which reached a culmination in the putting to death of Captain Quentin Rankin, a prominent attorney of Trenton, Tenn., on the banks of the lake, a week ago tonight and implicating men prominent in this section of the state. Of the men who he declares had a part in the killing of Captain Rankin, more than half are now in custody at Camp Nemo, the military base near Samburg. The confession was made at the jail to Sheriff Holmes of the county. B. G. Harris, owner of a large tract of land in the Reelfoot district, who has suffered much loss at the hands of the night riders, and Mayor Davidson of Tiptonville.

The confession was made freely and voluntarily with no offer of a lessened punishment or threats. Apparently without a grain of conscience Rankin gladly unfolded his story. While Burton denies that he was present when Captain Rankin was put to death he admits that it was through information given him that the band composed and organized and carried out the attack which was stopped at the hotel at Walnut Log. According to Burton's confession Tom and Garret Johnson, under arrest, and William Watson, under bond in connection with another raid, were the leaders of the lake band.

Burton declares that the first part he played as a member of the band was when he was asked to join in the burning of a fish dock at Samburg and several weeks later was one of a party which crossed the county line from the Reelfoot lake district into the adjoining county of Lake, and whipped justice of the Peace Winn, an aged man.

Coming to the killing of Captain Rankin, Burton declared that on the night before the burning he went to Walnut Log and there met James Carpenter, the attorney of Union City, N. J., who solicited Rankin and J. Z. Taylor, his associate in the West Tennessee company, the owners of the land upon which the lake is situated, came to the lake. It was said that the visit of the two men was to enter into a timber deal with Carpenter. After this conversation Burton says he was accompanied with the night rider leaders and told of the intended visit of the representatives of the land company.

On the following night he saw the two men at Samburg at the hotel and left Walnut Log early in the night and went into the lake to fish. He states that he was fishing when he heard the shot which ended the life of Captain Rankin but did not return to shore for some time.

In the course of his confession Burton gave the names of no less than forty members of the night riders. Carpenter is under arrest, as are a majority of those whom Burton implicates, but as to their identity Sheriff Holmes would not say further, fearing that to do so would cause additional violence and provoke an outbreak on the part of their friends. Present will start from Camp Nemo to put an end to this war and second his reply to an inquiry from the queen of the time of British reverses in South Africa, together with a document in which he had worked out what he considered to be the best plan of campaign under the circumstances, and which he submitted to the British general staff for criticism.

The emperor told the interviewer that it was a curious coincidence that this plan ran on very much the same lines as that afterwards adopted by Lord Roberts.

In conclusion Emperor William referred to the naval situation declaring that the German navy had been strengthened not against any power but for the protection of Germany's ever expanding commerce.

Two witnesses were before the court today and according to the statement of Attorney General Chandler, disclosure was made of almost as much importance as the confession at Tiptonville of "Ted" Burton.

Prominent Kentuckians Involvement in Action Which Promises to Become Important in Fight on Lawlessness.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 27.—A suit for $100,000 damages, which was filed in the United States circuit court for the Sixth circuit at Louisville today, promises to become an important factor in the night rider situation in Kentucky and Tennessee.

The plaintiff, Henry Bennett, on the morning of the fourth of last February, was set upon and terribly beaten with clubs and ironed articles and as he claims mutilated and badly injured by a band of night riders. At the same time his steamship and two tractors and other large and valuable buildings were destroyed by the night riders. Mr. Bennett says since this time he has been receiving threats that he would be killed by night riders.

In the suit filed today he is proceeding not only against the band of persons who were present at the time of the destruction of his property and injury to himself, but against a large number of other persons many of whom are counted among the most prominent and prosperous citizens of the western part of the state, alleging that they were members of a criminal conspiracy known as the night riders' organization or "night brigade" and that they participated in the meetings which were held throughout the state.

The purpose of bringing this suit is to establish that all persons who are members of the night riders' organization are liable to the state for the injuries inflicted by the band of night riders, all being liable responsible for the conduct and actions of the officers and members of the general object of the conspiracy, which was to force all independent farmers and holders of dark lands to place their values in the hands controlled by the Dark Tobacco association.

ASKS $100,000 FOR INJURIES INFLICTED

Prominent Kentuckians Involvement in Action Which Promises to Become Important in Fight on Lawlessness.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 27.—A suit for $100,000 damages, which was filed in the United States circuit court for the Sixth circuit at Louisville today, promises to become an important factor in the night rider situation in Kentucky and Tennessee.

The plaintiff, Henry Bennett, on the morning of the fourth of last February, was set upon and terribly beaten with clubs and ironed articles and as he claims mutilated and badly injured by a band of night riders. At the same time his steamship and two tractors and other large and valuable buildings were destroyed by the night riders. Mr. Bennett says since this time he has been receiving threats that he would be killed by night riders.

In the suit filed today he is proceeding not only against the band of persons who were present at the time of the destruction of his property and injury to himself, but against a large number of other persons many of whom are counted among the most prominent and prosperous citizens of the western part of the state, alleging that they were members of a criminal conspiracy known as the night riders' organization or "night brigade" and that they participated in the meetings which were held throughout the state.

The purpose of bringing this suit is to establish that all persons who are members of the night riders' organization are liable to the state for the injuries inflicted by the band of night riders, all being liable responsible for the conduct and actions of the officers and members of the general object of the conspiracy, which was to force all independent farmers and holders of dark lands to place their values in the hands controlled by the Dark Tobacco association.

MEN, MANY OF THEM PROMINENT
THEM IN CUSTODY.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Tiptonville, Tenn., Oct. 27.—Taft Burton, self-confessed "night rider," told a remarkable story today of night rider depredations in the vicinity of Reelfoot lake, confessing to the part he played in the outrages, which reached a culmination in the putting to death of Captain Quentin Rankin, a prominent attorney of Trenton, Tenn., on the banks of the lake, a week ago tonight and implicating men prominent in this section of the state. Of the men who he declares had a part in the killing of Captain Rankin, more than half are now in custody at Camp Nemo, the military base near Samburg. The confession was made at the jail to Sheriff Holmes of the county. B. G. Harris, owner of a large tract of land in the Reelfoot district, who has suffered much loss at the hands of the night riders, and Mayor Davidson of Tiptonville.

The confession was made freely and voluntarily with no offer of a lessened punishment or threats. Apparently without a grain of conscience Rankin gladly unfolded his story. While Burton denies that he was present when Captain Rankin was put to death he admits that it was through information given him that the band composed and organized and carried out the attack which was stopped at the hotel at Walnut Log. According to Burton's confession Tom and Garret Johnson, under arrest, and William Watson, under bond in connection with another raid, were the leaders of the lake band.

Burton declares that the first part he played as a member of the band was when he was asked to join in the burning of a fish dock at Samburg and several weeks later was one of a party which crossed the county line from the Reelfoot lake district into the adjoining county of Lake, and whipped justice of the Peace Winn, an aged man.

Coming to the killing of Captain Rankin, Burton declared that on the night before the burning he went to Walnut Log and there met James Carpenter, the attorney of Union City, N. J., who solicited Rankin and J. Z. Taylor, his associate in the West Tennessee company, the owners of the land upon which the lake is situated, came to the lake. It was said that the visit of the two men was to enter into a timber deal with Carpenter. After this conversation Burton says he was accompanied with the night rider leaders and told of the intended visit of the representatives of the land company.

On the following night he saw the two men at Samburg at the hotel and left Walnut Log early in the night and went into the lake to fish. He states that he was fishing when he heard the shot which ended the life of Captain Rankin but did not return to shore for some time.

In the course of his confession Burton gave the names of no less than forty members of the night riders. Carpenter is under arrest, as are a majority of those whom Burton implicates, but as to their identity Sheriff Holmes would not say further, fearing that to do so would cause additional violence and provoke an outbreak on the part of their friends. Present will start from Camp Nemo to put an end to this war and second his reply to an inquiry from the queen of the time of British reverses in South Africa, together with a document in which he had worked out what

SERBIA DANGER SPOT IN NEAR EAST

Doubt Concerning Objects of Crown Prince's Visit to Czar Worries Diplomats.

(By Morning Journal Special Teamed Wire) London, Oct. 27.—The British government has issued in London and through the British ambassador in Belgrade a formal denial of a rumor in the direct negotiations between Austria-Hungary and Turkey and England's intervention, together with a statement that any direct arrangement satisfactory to Turkey would be the opinion of the British government, and the way toward a general settlement.

Although there has been no change in the actual situation the tendency of diplomatic activity is toward peace. Serbia remains the danger spot, and the visit of the Serbian crown prince to St. Petersburg, arouses a certain amount of apprehension in the minds of actual knowledge as to whether he is going on a diplomatic mission to the emperor of Russia, or is merely sent by King Peter to put an end to his dangerous action.

The prince is accompanied by M. Pachitch, the Serbian premier, and in an interview while passing through Budapest the premier said that the prince's mission was to persuade the Russian emperor to intervene against the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. He added that he anticipated good results for Serbia.

Only a few days ago the crown prince declared that he was not a firebrand and desired peace. With his whole heart the question of having access to the sea was a matter of life or death for Serbia, and she was prepared to fight it abandoned by the powers. It is reported from both Vienna and Constantinople that direct negotiations between Austria and Turkey will be resumed.

The Turkish Constantinople correspondent believes that Turkey is ready to enter into direct negotiations with Bulgaria on the basis of Bulgaria's renouncing the Ottoman debt of $15,000,000 and paying the arrears of the 42-million tribute.

GERMANY SIDES WITH AUSTRIA IN DISPUTE.
Berlin, Oct. 27.—A semi-official news agency summarizes the results of the conference which have been going on between M. Levenkov, the Russian foreign minister, Prince von Bismarck, the imperial chancellor, and Herr von Schuler, German secretary for foreign affairs, as follows:

"The German government has no objection to the principle of the proposed international congress to discuss the Balkan situation. The German and Russian governments recognize the fact that a conference of the powers can only prove useful. If a complete agreement among all the belligerents of the Berlin treaty respecting the scope and contents of the program to be submitted to the conference be attained beforehand. The German government adheres to the standpoint that it will be unable to accept the proposals to which Austria-Hungary raises objections. The German government will be subject to further negotiations. A complete agreement, however, was reached on other points in the draft of the program, particularly those referring to the proposals in the interest of Turkey. Both governments will continue their efforts to find a peaceful and just solution of the present difficulties."

VERBAL ASSURANCE OF SULTAN WILL SATISFY AUSTRIANS.
Constantinople, Oct. 27.—It is stated that Austria-Hungary no longer insists upon the port giving written recognition of the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, but will be content with verbal assurance. The Turkish will recognize it and will not take the discussion of this matter at the international conference.

AUSTRALIA SHOWS TENDENCIES TOWARD CONCILIATION.
Sydney, Oct. 27.—Hon. Von Armin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, in an important speech today indicated a yielding attitude on the part of Austria, which may lead to a settlement of the Balkan situation. Addressing the Australian delegation, the foreign minister admitted that it was Austria's desire to do its utmost to settle the present tension, and that therefore the government would not insist that the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina should be entirely eliminated from the program of the international congress, although naturally he could not admit that the powers had the right to question the annexation of the province or the idea of any territorial compensation in other directions.

On this basis, however, he added, there was no objection to the congress placing on record the allegations of the articles relating to Bosnia and Herzegovina. The Austro-Hungarian government was trying to smooth the way for the conference, and he hoped his government's intention would be appreciated. He would also be glad to see the Turkish-Bulgarian negotiations lead to an understanding, which conditions were by no means unfavorable. Acting with that view, Austria, in common with other powers had abandoned the administrative at Constantinople and Sofia and adopted military measures calculated to increase military districts. Austria, said to Serbia and Montenegro, said neither was Austria inclined to intervene in the matter in any way, but not withdrawing his government would treat both with benevolence and take their interests into consideration. It would, however, be better for their own interest to set practical limits for their activity instead of pursuing dreams that could never be realized.

Continuing, the foreign minister stated again Austria's conciliatory attitude, which had met with the warmest support from her allies, Germany and Italy. He looked to the future with confidence, and for that very

THOMPSON CLAIMS DAMAGES FOR DEAD COW

ANIMAL RUN DOWN BY TRACTION LINE TROLLEY

Alleging Company's Employees
Were Negligent, Plaintiff Seeks $100 and Costs; District Court Notes.

The case of J. R. Thompson versus the Albuquerque Traction company occupied the attention of the district court yesterday. Thompson is seeking to secure judgment in the sum of $100 and costs of the suit, as the result of a valuable cow being killed by being struck by one of the defendant's cars on the night of November 26th last. The attorneys for the plaintiff sought to show yesterday that the cow was killed as the result of negligence on the part of the defendant's employees; while the defense endeavored to prove that the cow was killed as a result of the plaintiff's negligence in allowing the cow to wander on the defendant's right of way. The evidence brought out yesterday tended to show that the cow was killed from Thompson's pasture, that Thompson had not secured to fence the animal and return it to its proper place as soon as possible, but that before he could do so, it had been killed. Thus,
P. Peterson, who was the motorman on the car which killed the cow, was the principal witness for the defendant company yesterday, being on the stand for nearly two hours in direct and cross-examination. According to Peterson, the car was traveling at a rate of about twenty miles an hour at the time the accident occurred; that he did not see the cow until he was within such a short distance of it that he was unable to stop the car in time to prevent a collision. The witness testified that as soon as he saw the animal near the track he immediately threw on the emergency brakes, reversed the motors and sounded the siren repeatedly. The cow, however, failed to get off the track and was killed. Peterson testified that it was impossible to stop the car within accuracy of fifty feet, while traveling at the rate he was going when he saw the cow. The accident occurred at a place at night, on Twelfth street, between Merida and State avenues. The case will be taken up again this morning and will likely go to the jury some time later. Halley and Moore are attorneys for the plaintiff and A. R. McMillan attorney for the traction company.

New Suits Filed.

H. P. Reynolds, acting as his own attorney, yesterday filed a suit in the district court asking judgment against Francisco Lueero y Montoya, of Albuquerque, in the sum of $250.25, alleged to be due on a promissory note dated

Dec. 28, 1907, and which was given to J. B. Ingham and afterwards transferred to the plaintiff.

Clayton Brothers, through their attorney Julius Stahl, yesterday filed a suit asking judgment in the sum of $372.54 from the Socorro company of Socorro, N. M., alleged to be due the plaintiff on account of goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered to the defendant at its request.

ANOTHER SKATING
CONTEST ARRANGED

As a result of the friends of Harry Neiswonger, the Denver skating champion, making the declaration, that Neiswonger can put Cortez Quickel in the shade if he is given another opportunity, and the many friends of Quickel declaring in no uncertain terms that the Albuquerque boy can put it over Neiswonger without exerting himself, the management of the rink has arranged for another contest, the winner of the last two races out of three to be declared the champion skater of the southwest. Last week Quickel defeated Neiswonger two out of three races. The first race of the new series will be held tonight.
Neiswonger is anxious to regain his lost laurels and Quickel is equally anxious to retain his hard-earned championship title. Three attractive surrounding pictures, two of them hand-colored, will be shown immediately prior to each race.

THE FUNDAMENTAL ISSUE

There has always been in each campaign a paramount issue; and in this campaign it is the two. Candidates. There is another issue, and Dr. Lyman Abbott, of "The Outlook," calls it the Fundamental Issue—The question of Labor and Capital. There really should be no unity between the two, for the one could not exist without the other. Labor and Capital should have an affinity for each other. May we not look forward to the day when the Laborer will be the Capitalist, and when the evils of industrial wars will be known only as a past history?

The fundamental issue with us is the selling of goods, the paramount issue is buying them right, and we have bought some of them right this year. Toys are one of the things bought right, and we are going to give our customers the advantage of our purchases. These Christmas Toys are made in Germany; in the people's homes. The makers of these toys have worked of the art all their lives.
Their fathers and mothers and grandparents before them made toys. These poor toy makers earn about 30c a day.
That would be small wages for an American laborer, wouldn't it? But you are benefited by this cheap labor to the extent of being able to buy handsome toys at a very low price.
We have the very latest things in toys and by getting them now you have the choice and prices just as reasonable.

We bought some of other Holiday toys at even bigger bargains than we bought the toys and in these times, as well as before, in giving our very timers the benefit when we purchase a bargain.

WHITE MAN'S LAWS INVOKED BY INDIAN

Pueblo Squaw Held Prisoner
Under Orders of Isleta Governor; Seeks Release on Federal Habeas Corpus.

Alleging that she is being detained in prison illegally, without any cause and contrary to the statutes of the territory of New Mexico or the laws of the United States by the orders of Junipero Leticia, governor of the Indian reservation at Isleta, thirty miles south of Albuquerque, Maria Abella, a woman of afternoon filed a petition of habeas corpus in the district court, asking that she be given her freedom and that her detainers be ordered to disappear from holding her in prison. The petition was filed by Commissioner H. B. Whitely. As far as known the habeas corpus proceeding is the first one instituted in New Mexico by a Pueblo Indian. Immediately after the petition had been filed, Judge Ira A. Abbott issued an order directing that Junipero Leticia, the governor of Isleta, together with Junipero Oglethorpe and Francisco Lueero, Indian assistants, appear forthwith before the court and show cause why they are keeping the Abella woman in prison. The Indians will likely appear today in response to the order. The petition filed by Commissioner Whitely alleges that Maria Abella, the prisonier, is imprisoned and restrained of her liberty, without process of law, that she has been committed to any territorial or United States court of justice, by any process, judgment, or decree, that the governor of Isleta and his officers are not authorized under any law of the United States to detain her in New Mexico as sentenced and confine prisoners.

For many months of years the Indians and other Pueblo Indians have been governed by a certain custom of a code of laws, which are enforced by some form of sentence of the people. The matter of punishing the Indians has been left to the governor of the territory, or some of the officials connected with the territory, and, therefore, it seems that the Indians in the tribal law is becoming obsolete, and the Indians have decided to try the way of the white man.
