ARIZONA IS VICTORIOUS IN HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

Visitors Took Game from New Mexico University by Vigorous Offensive Play in First Half; Determined Rally by Boys From the Hill in Second Half Stopped Arizona's Advance But Came Too Late for a Winning Score, Ten to Five.

In what was very decidedly the best football game ever seen in New Mexico or Arizona, the Arizona University players defeated the University of New Mexico by the score of 10 to 5, yesterday afternoon before a crowd of about 2,000 spectators who held their faith in the New Mexico team right to the end of the game, cheering them up to the finish even when it became apparent that the rally which the boys from the hill took in the second half had come too late for results.

Arizona's husky players won the game by vigorous offensive play in the first half, when they were fresh and when the home team seemed to be struggling under more or less nervousness, which made them appear in frequent fumbles and in a weakness in defense which was a disappointment after the team's good record in earlier games.

The Arizona men played their game in the first half. In the second half the boys from the hill had mastered two or three trick plays which in the first half were always good for substantial gains. The well organized defense of the Arizona men, however, saved them in the second half when much of the brilliancy of their former play had disappeared.

Even with the advantage of weight and team work which became apparent right at the beginning of the game, it required the visitors fifteen minutes to pull out their first touchdown. It was accomplished by persistent line bucking and a trick pass repeated again and again and through which the New Mexico boys seemed unable to see until the half was over and the game won. The nervousness of the home team contributed to the result in the first half. There was a good deal of fumbling at important stages and the team as a whole did not show the snap and confidence which became apparent after the second half had started.

After crowding down the field by short gains the visitors put the ball into Robertson's hands for an end run which scored the first touchdown. The interference of the Arizona team during the first half was ideal and showed clearly a course of able training. The second touchdown was a combination of interference and fumbling for work done by the team. A beautiful punt to Irwin bounced in the contrary way that sometimes possesses a football in action. Irwin failed to connect and Arizona, always down the field, at this stage of the game, was there with a man to carry the ball behind the posts. Both times Arizona failed to kick goal.

The first half ended with the New Mexico team in much better condition, playing with more speed and snap and evidently beginning to get into their game.

The visitors went into the second half lacking some of their earlier spirit and the boys from the hill were there with a good deal of additional spirit and snap, and things began to look up. Arizona was penalized a number of times for holding and off side play and either the attitude of the players or the first half or both was to tell. Allen, who had the little opportunity for work during the first half, got the ball on a fumbled forward pass and carried it down for thirty-five yards. Three followed an interval of off side playing, both teams being penalized. A hot exchange of punts ensued resulting in a kick to Arizona's ten yard line, where the visitors fumbled and young Cornish of the University team, whose work was brilliant to make the game, fell on the ball and carried it over Irwin failed to kick goal and with the scoring ended. The rest of the game was devoted to an exchange of more or less futile punts. The home team, however, showing constant increase in confidence and speed until the visitors appeared to be somewhat in distress. Several of the Arizona players said after the game that the attitude and their short period of training had begun to tell toward the end of the game.

The game throughout was fast, hard-played and clean, there was little fouling and both teams expressed themselves as satisfied with the result. From start to finish the game was interesting from the spectators standpoint for Arizona's play was never sufficient to make the result a certainty. The game will result in a very marked increase in interest in athletics at the university and will have its effect in encouraging good sport here and throughout the territory. Already the Arizona men, encouraged by their victory and pleased by their reception here, are anxious for a track meeting in the spring, either here or at Tucson and some players said that they would be arranged while the Thanksgiving game for next year is practically assured.

"Of course, I am pleased with the result," said Coach Garbath last night. "I thought the team would win, but the game was so much at any stage, and it was a strong defensive play that won for us. Our team has not been together long and

PENNSYLVANIA TOO FAST FOR CORNELL

GAME ABOUNDS IN OPEN
PLAYS AND LONG RUNS

Undeclared Pennsy Claims
Equal Rank With Harvard
on Football Field; Missouri
Loses to Kansas; Other

By Morning Journal Special Local Wire
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 26.—The University of Pennsylvania defeated Cornell in the annual Thanksgiving day football game on Franklin field this afternoon by a score of 17 to 6. Pennsylvania thus closed the season without once losing from the bitter end of defeat, and tonight her footballers are claiming at least equal rank with Harvard in the wide discussion as to which is the better college football team in the east. It was Cornell's only defeat of the year but she fought hard to win.

Pennsylvania did not overwhelm her opponents as the expected. However, except for the blocking department in the first half Pennsylvania at all times was Cornell's superior. The game abounded in open plays, long runs and much punting.

The playing of Miller, who replaced Keneath at quarterback for Pennsylvania, early in the game was the sensational feature of the contest. Once he got away for a 15-yard run which was aided by one of his teammates holding a tackler and another time he scored a touchdown after a 45-yard run following a fake ahead at making a forward pass. His shooting of forward passes was good and his brilliant work in running and dodging through the Cornell players brought the spectators to their feet.

The reliable Captain Hollenback was given much work to do, but at times appeared tired and did not play up to his standard while Scott and Bradlock were all over the play breaking up the opposition's interference. Captain Walder played his usual fine game for Cornell and O'Rourke was a tower of strength in the line. In the first half Walling clearly outplayed Hollenback but in the second period with the wind at his back, the Pennsylvania captain's kicking improved wonderfully.

Cornell's only score of the game, a field goal from placement by Stone, was made possible by a punter punt to Hollenback. It came a few minutes after play was started in the first half. Hollenback punted across the field for a gain of 40 yards and after Cornell punted the ball through the line for a two-point margin, Pennsylvania's punter Stone kicked the goal.

The first Pennsylvania score was primarily due to a forward pass and poor kick by Waller. The latter's punt went out of bounds on his own 25 yard line and on the next lineup Miller made a beautiful forward pass to Bradlock on Cornell's five yard line. The rest was easy, Hollenback standing around Cornell's left end for a touchdown. Scarlet kicked an easy goal.

The second half was bitterly fought. Cornell made many changes. Miller's big run came early in the half. Scarlet's good work gave Pennsylvania her second touchdown. Hollenback's punt went over the Cornell quarterback's head. Scarlet tackled him and in the mixup he had the possession of Pennsylvania's punter and in two plays Miller was given the line for the score. The punt out was blocked by Shearer.

After Cornell had failed at several forward passes Miller made his second and sensational run. The punter's kick was given the ball evidently for a forward pass play. The Cornell forwards missed the tackle and Miller started down the field from Cornell's 45 yard line through a broken field. After running about fifteen yards he stopped suddenly as if to shoot aside and suddenly again started across the field and down over the line before a Cornell man could get his hands on him long enough to stop him. Scarlet kicked the goal.

CARLEIGH INDIANS DEFEAT
UNIVERSITY OF ST. LOUIS
St. Louis, Nov. 26.—A hard fought football game between the Carleigh Indians and St. Louis University was won by the former 17 to 8. The game was slow but interesting, the Indians being forced to uncover their best line of backs to win over the students.

or more watched the players, the decision being favored by perfect weather conditions. Throughout the first half the local eleven played sterling football. Three out of four times the Indians were forced to give up the ball when within the shadow of the goal posts and when they needed but three feet and had two downs to gain the distance.

In the second half, however, Carleigh played the St. Louis team off its feet. Two touchdowns were made early and then the visitors went on the defensive.

KANSAS UNIVERSITY PROVES
TOO FAST FOR MISSOURIANS

Kansas City, Nov. 26.—Kansas City University eleven here this afternoon again defeated Missouri 19 to 4 in one of the fiercest struggles even put up by these teams in the eighteen years of their contest. At the beginning of the game Missouri seemed to have a shade the better of the argument. Time after time her heavy tackles crashed through the Kansas lines of gains from three to five yards. A series of hard three rushes they carried the ball to within striking distance of the Kansas goal, twice before the ball had been in play fifteen minutes. On the second try Missouri scored a bit from placement—the first score which they yielded and line had made against the Kansas since 1902. It was after this score that the Kansas team showed up and began to play the hardy, determined football which showed Missouri's weakness.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 26.—A Fiat car went pluming through changing fog and sunshine over 402 miles of roadways guided by the experienced hand of Louis Wagner today, won the most spectacular, the longest and the fastest international automobile race ever held in this country. Five played a game of hide and seek with three grim and grimy hooded figures that hid behind their steering wheels and twisted and turned with skill and daring for an advantage of seconds at the finish of the more than six hours of driving, through the shifting sands of morning fog, into storms of wind and gravel, at the risk of the most perfect of the honor of a trophy cup and a purse of $500.

The three drivers who, when they gathered from start to finish were identified about like an army corps in the final days were seen away. For a time there was a fourth figure in the leading column, but when this was seen that a minute separated the three. From the last of the race, the winner, the Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

The start of the race was delayed for nearly an hour by a dense morning fog. It had not lifted when the first of the cars was sent away but when the fog lifted the race was on. The Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

The minutes of waiting after the Fiat had driven the first lap, the Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

"Wagner, Wagner, Wagner!" cried the crowd, as the Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

Wagner drove a remarkably steady race. He showed several times his supplies and was seen to be in a serious trouble right in front of the grandstand. Something was wrong beneath the car and down under a mass of engines and wheels the mechanical plunger. In a jiffy he was through. Wagner's machine had been pouring gasoline into his tank with his right hand and lubricating oil into his left. It was this delay that took Wagner out of the lead in the race. The Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

In winning this first grand prize race of the Auto Club of America, Louis Wagner set a new record for road racing in this country. George Robertson, in the Vanderbilt cup race of 41.2 miles on track today, the longer distance of 462 miles Wagner timed it to 6:55. The average 32 minutes to each one of the sixteen laps that measured 24.14 miles. The fastest lap was made in 21.38 but the lap honors of the day went to De Palma at the wheel of the Fiat No. 10, who twice made the circuit in 21.38 an average of about seventy miles an hour.

The best opinion of the racing, as given last night, agreed that the race would be the greatest Wagner, Robertson and Navarro had this offer of drivers had to look sharply to their laurels for after the race had been placed in a new light, the Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

Within twenty yards of the line it seemed that the Fiat was just half in the last lap of the race. The Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

From the moment the race got fairly well under way it developed into a battle between the two cars. The Italian car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line, the Fiat car, guided by Louis Wagner, had made a dash for the finish line.

its work yesterday, particularly in the case of the Arizona team, was very gratifying. I hope the game will result in quiet relations between the two colleges. It was a clean game, well played and well worth the waiting and our men will be glad to come back here again when the season is over.

Home Men Well Satisfied.

While, naturally, the university men are disappointed in failing to get out a victory, they are in no way discouraged and their friends and supporters at home are more than satisfied with the showing made from the legends of the university. Several of whom were present, to the small party along the line, they are not only well pleased, but also are proud of the boys from the hill. I am more than satisfied with the result of the football season for the university. This is really the first football season we have had on the hill, and it means that the crowd of good sports has been able to come from the members of the football team within a very short time, and a work of commendation for the good work they have done. The Arizona team, and throughout the season, a commendation in which all are united.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—At Fred Swindle, a farm hand, shot and killed Ed. Newell and attempted to kill Mrs. Newell and then killed himself. Back of the tragedy is a story of unrequited love and despondency due to the marriage of Newell to Mrs. Rose Hoffman, three months ago. Newell had been attracted to the woman on whom Hoffman had been looking for a long time.

BOSTON DEALERS HOLD OUT FOR FIRM PRICES

Stiff Attitude is Surest Sign of Strength in the Market; Sales of Territory Wools Reported Normal.

The surest sign of strength in the wool market is the stiff attitude of the dealers regarding prices. As many orders are being turned down as are booked, simply because the buyers are lower than the dealers' asked price, and while we have not made a general mark-up in quotations, anticipating a temporary reaction, it looks as if prices must soon be marked up considerably to meet the views of the trade. The American Wool and Cotton Reporter states for the week were 10,175,000 pounds. For the month a 1-cent flat advance, and in some cases a 2-cent flat mark-up, is being asked by the manufacturer, as he cannot yet see the corresponding advance in the price of cloth for which he must have wool to produce, but he finds a different look in the eyes of the dealers, and in a few instances coming to our notice substantial sales have been made at the higher range of prices.

Much Wool Now Sold.
Practically all of the wools of merit, whether staple or clothing, are in a sense spoken for, and a number of hundred thousands pounds, if not well into the million mark, are actually sold and being graded and shipped as rapidly as possible. In these cases we have in mind about everything coming from the original bags in solid accumulation, and a majority of dealers expect to go into the new year with stocks far below what was carried over in recent past years.

The danger lies in a possible overpricing, which, in case of a reaction, is quite likely to follow, will have a dampening effect on the enthusiasm of some dealers, and they are likely to receive a severe and well-earned reprimand in the near future.

Puffed Wools Are Higher.
In addition to the healthy demand for manufacturing purposes there has been more or less speculation in pulled wools, and prices are not only higher but there is more determination to hold on to the higher range. Salomon's report last week through Maine found a good trade among the woolen mills, which, according to "Industries," is one of the most valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylene tetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a reliable solvent and antiseptic for the urinary tract. Foley's Kidney Remedy is as good as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady.

Montana Trade Quiet.
The excitement in Montana wool is considerably overdone. One of those sudden and brief periods of enthusiasm likely to materialize over night and pass during the following day has visited the local market, but now that every line has cooled down there is found to be nothing to get excited over. One big manufacturer has taken about 3,500,000 pounds of graded Montana, another has taken about 500,000 pounds, and the third large consumer got about 700,000 pounds. This cleared out a half dozen dealers, and left the balance of Montana in this market, not to exceed 8,000,000 pounds. In very strong hands, and it is likely that the buyers will pay 1 cent a pound, perhaps a cent a pound more than was paid last week.

LESS ACTIVITY IN WOOL MARKET

ever, to Make it a Good Market; Free Movement in Fine and Fine-Medium Territories.

Business this week was of the wool situation in the Boston market. There has not been quite so much activity in the wool market as was noted the previous week, but still there has been enough movement to warrant calling it a good market. Some members of the trade are claiming very large sales, but it is probable that those have been somewhat overestimated, as often happens in periods of great activity. At the same time there has been a very free movement of some grades of wool, notably fine and the medium territories, particularly all the better class of clothing wools suitable for the French comb. It was not so long ago that there was considerable anxiety expressed over the question of the disposal of these wools, but all that has been removed by the activity which the worsted spinners have shown, and the large volume of such wools that have gone into consumption. Already dealers are beginning to say that such wools are getting to be pretty well cleaned up, and though it is probable that anxious buyers could still find enough of them on hand, it is true that the situation has improved very much. On such wools the market is strong, and there is an advancing tendency noticeable in the sounder end. The same is true of staple wools, both territory and Oregon, the clean cost on the last lot being now 60 1/2 cents a lb., but advance of 2 cents per pound since election. Flies have sold very well, especially for medium and medium wools. The London sales open November 24.

HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE.
The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the most valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylene tetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a reliable solvent and antiseptic for the urinary tract. Foley's Kidney Remedy is as good as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady.

HOSPITAL SHIP RELIEF LIMPS INTO MANILA BAY

Oriental Seas.

Manila, Nov. 26.—The hospital ship Relief, which sailed from Manila on November 15 for Guam and was disabled in a typhoon and driven far out of her course, arrived here this (Thursday) morning. Her deckhouse was badly damaged, her engine disabled and the vessel otherwise showed the effects of the terrible seas which swept over her. All aboard are safe and no one was injured, but only the hard work of the officers and crew saved the ship from foundering.

NORDICA COMES TO ALBUQUERQUE JANUARY 12

Great Singer Will Appear in Elks' Theater for Single Engagement Under Contract Closed Wednesday.

Melaine Lillian Nordica, one of the world's great singers, and probably the best known singer now appearing in concert, will appear in Elks' theater for a single engagement on the evening of January 12th. The engagement of the famous singer was closed Wednesday afternoon by Manager O. A. Nelson, of Elks' theater, after an exchange of programs with Alvin Nordica's manager, H. E. Johnston, who is in New York.

Nordica is to open the beautiful new $300,000 theater in Salt Lake next month. Thereafter she is going to the coast in sing brief concert engagements in Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles, and the engagement in Albuquerque will be the only one in the southwest. It will be, therefore, Nordica's first appearance here and probably her last, since she does not expect to remain in concert.

The famous singer is supported by a strong company of well-known soloists formed primarily for the opening of the Salt Lake play house, but who will accompany her through the remainder of her western tour.

Other Attractions Coming.
Manager Nelson has been going after big attractions this season and the coming two months promises a good deal in the way of first class entertainment.

The Techink stock company will open for a week in Elks' theater on Tuesday night, beginning the engagement with "Zaza."

On December 14th the big company of seventy people which has been playing the Chautauque in Chicago for some weeks will present their play here, and several other large attractions will be announced in the near future.

Editor The Journal, Albuquerque,
New Mexico:

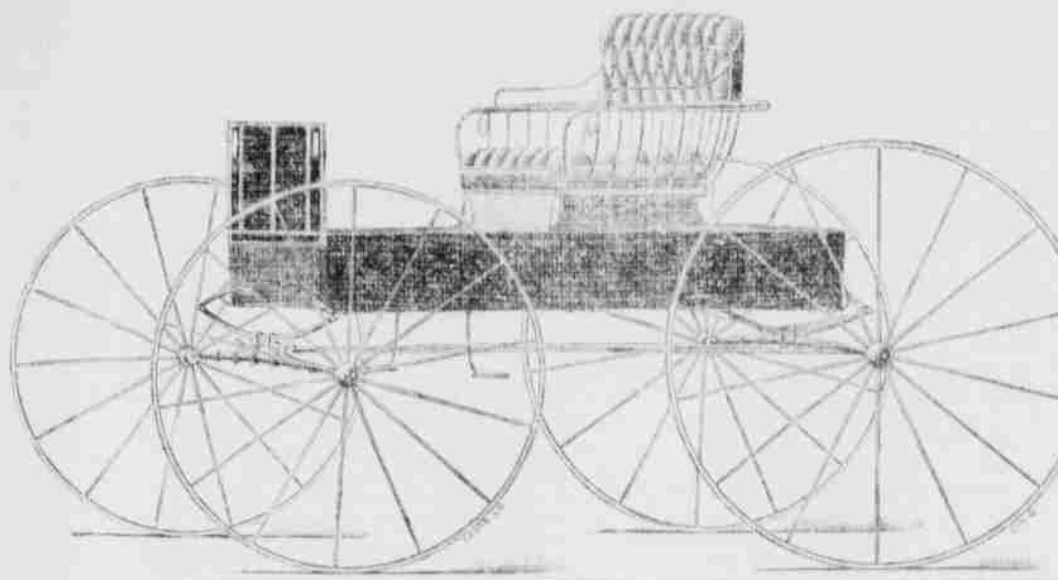

Having been in public life so long in Mexico, I am deluged with letters from Americans regarding the proposed anti-foreign mining law, and among them find inquiries from several points in your country, therefore, will ask you to publish an article setting forth the facts for the benefit of your readers.

The bill will not pass, because the Mexican cabinet knew full well that President Diaz would veto a bill so unjust to Americans, who have millions in the Mexican mines.

The minister of the interior, chief instigator of the bill, has resigned from the Mexican cabinet in protest against the proposed law, expressed by President Diaz against any such measure. The president and the better class of Mexicans value too

How Can You Expect to Digest Hog Fat?

Take any lard-fried food and examine it when it is cold. You will find it covered with a thick, heavy coat of grease that you would not think of eating under any circumstances. That grease is there just the same when the food is warm, but you do not see it. It is the fore-runner of indigestion, unless you have the stomach of an ostrich.

Cottolene contains no hog fat, and food cooked with it is not only wholesome and digestible, but healthful and absolutely free from hog fat. The reason is that Cottolene is a vegetable oil product, and not an animal fat.
