BRIEF WIRINGS:

Want Tarred Bags.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—A cable has been received at the postoffice department from the Turkish government, asking that all mails sent to that country from the United States be inclosed in tarred bags. Postmaster-General Wainwright has granted the request and issued orders to have it carried out.

Transcontinental Association.
CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 10.—The Transcontinental association has begun to receive the Canadian Pacific mail, a sensation in railroad circles when it gave notice of its intention to withdraw from the organization, taking effect January 1. The quarrel with the Southern Pacific over rates is the cause of the withdrawal.

Under the Wheels.
KANSAS CITY, September 10.—The Star's Wichita, Kas., special says: Mrs. W. H. Bailey, wife of Laver Bailey, threw herself from a Missouri Pacific express train, near Eldorado, yesterday and suffered fatal internal injuries. It is a question whether it is a case of premeditated suicide, or whether the lady was temporarily insane.

California's Statehood.
SAN FRANCISCO, September 10.—On September 9, 1850, just forty-two years ago, yesterday, the Golden state, with its 92,597 people, was admitted to the sisterhood of states. Now its population of almost 1,500,000 is celebrating that day. The observance was general, but the great celebrations were under the auspices of the Native Sons and the Native Sons of the Golden West.

News from Arkansas.
ST. LOUIS, September 10.—A telegram from Little Rock, to the Post Dispatch, says: Official returns of the state election have been received from twenty-one counties. They give Flahback, Democrat, for governor, a majority over both Whipple, Republican, and Carnahan, Populist, of 7,031. At this rate, Flahback's majority in the whole state will exceed 30,000.

It is believed that the poll tax amendment to the constitution has been defeated.
Away Down in Maine.
BANGOR, Me., Sept. 10.—One of the most energetic, not to say exciting, political campaigns that the Pine Tree State has seen for many years comes to an end to-night with final rallies in all of the big cities and smaller meetings in almost every township. Both sides have worked their machinery to the greatest tension, and each, of course, in confidence of victory. In view of the fact that the election is over, that the election will be held under the Australian ballot law neither side is willing to tie itself down to specific figures. Ex-Speaker Reed is tolerably sure of reelection, although his friends expect that his majority will be as large as it was two years ago when he practically had no opposition.

Somewhat Exclusive.
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A good deal of talk, some of it couched in a decidedly strong vein is being indulged in relative to the grand reception and ball which is to be given to the president at the auditorium next month as a part and parcel of the dedicatory ceremonies of the World's fair buildings. Although the affair was projected and approved by the committee on ceremonies, the direction of the details has been captured by a handful of Chicago's aristocracy, and these propose to make it one of the most exclusive affairs ever held in the country, rivaling even the charmed portals of Gotham's Four Hundred. To all intents and purposes the president of the United States will be placed on exhibition, and it is announced that the chosen few who will be favored with invitations will be expected to pay at the rate of $15 per single ticket, and $25 for a ticket admitting lady and gentleman, and thus notwithstanding the fact that the invitations plainly announce that the event is to be a part of the dedicatory ceremonies of the World's Columbian exposition. Meanwhile no steps have been taken looking to the holding of a public reception at which the tens of thousands of wage workers and women, who were among the first to subscribe to the capital stock of the fair, or the great body of Chicago's population, might be afforded an opportunity of paying their respects to or greeting the chief magistrate of the nation.

MONEY MARKET CONFERENCE.
Denial of a Report That the Sessions Will Be Held in London.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The report that the monetary conference called by the president of the United States is to be held in London is denied here. None of those who ought to know have much knowledge about the conference. The new government has heard nothing from Secretary Foster on the subject, whose ignoring of the change of ministry is not likely to benefit the conference. The Associated Press is authorized to state that both Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Vernon Harcourt, chancellor of exchequer, are averse to the conference and think it will lead to nothing. Mr. Gladstone thinks that any measures taken to relieve the strain of the Indian monetary system should be taken without reference to the United States. In reference to the matter of the suspension of silver coinage in India it is learned that the pressure of the Indian government in favor of suspension is so urgent that a special cabinet meeting will shortly be convened in order to decide the question, which is considered much more important than the monetary conference.

POLITICAL RIGHTS IN THE LAND OF LIBERTY.

Mr. Gladstone does not like the idea of a suspension of Indian silver coinage, but will submit the question to the cabinet.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

Outline of the Program for a Tour Through Several Great States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10.—It is said at the White house that the present arrangements are that Mr. Harrison will remain at Loon Lake until Sept. 13, and then make the trip through New York state, as already arranged and have things fixed so as to be at home at the White house on Friday, September 16, and remain here through the G. A. R. encampment. It will be a busy week for him, because he will participate in all festivities. While the arrangements for the western trip, and the opening of the World's Columbian exposition are not yet completed, in detail, still, an outline has been prepared now follows. The president expects to leave Washington about the 10th of October and will go via West Virginia, making near platform speeches in several West Virginia cities. It is anticipated that he will stop in Cincinnati and on the 15th of October will be present at the reunion of his old brigade of Indiana and Illinois regiments. He will arrive in Chicago on October 19 and attend the Columbian banquet on that night. While in Chicago, it is expected that he will be the guest of President Higinbotham, of the World's fair. After the exercises in Chicago, the president may go into Wisconsin or a day or two as ex-Senator Spooner's guest. He will make the return trip through Illinois and Indiana, by a route other than he went out and may delay the trip so as to reach Indianapolis by election day, so as to be there to cast his vote.

THE ARCHBISHOP'S RESPONSE.

A Readable Reply to the Letter Published by the President of the City School Board.

To the Editor of the New Mexican: SANTA FE, Sept. 9.—In reply to the excellent letter published by the President of the City School Board, on Sunday, 10th of August last, I submit to you the following for publication: In a long letter which appeared in Monday's issue of the Santa Fe Daily New Mexican, Mr. L. G. Read, president of the board of Education, city of Santa Fe, thought it was his duty to vindicate the action of the board on the 22d of August in the appointment of teachers for the city schools, and to criticize the opinion I expressed in my letter against the unfairness shown by the board in the matter in question. First of all, I would remark that I find strange to me that if Mr. Read had written his letter in English, and especially for the Spanish speaking people, who form the great majority of the Catholic population of this city, he would have written in Spanish, and that he should have used the same language in trying to vindicate his action, otherwise he missed the object he had in view. Would he be so doing have some people understood that my aim in the education of youth was a political one, and so alienate from me a portion of the American population of this territory? I protest against such an attempt whenever it may exist. My sole intention in the matter is to further as much as I possibly can, the Christian education of the people entrusted to my care. This is my duty.

Mr. Read has appealed to the verdict of the public. I now beg leave to state my side of the question. The first charge Mr. Read brings against me, is that I said: "The city school board had employed Protestant teachers." And again, "that heretofore, Catholic teachers had been allowed to teach their pupils catechism, after school, and that at present, even that opportunity is denied them." I bring both these charges together as the two sentences are correlative, as expressed in my letter, and explain each other.

This premise, I answer: I did not utter a word concerning the religion of the teachers employed by the board. What I did say, is that the course pursued by the board in its meeting on the 22d of August, was adopted all over the territory, where the majority of teachers selected for this year are Protestants. For the purpose of preventing the teaching of religion in the public schools.

Mr. Read says in reply, "That under our laws, the same right had Presbyterians, Baptists, etc., to have their religion taught after school hours." Who denies that they have the same right? I do not ask a favor for Catholics exclusively. And when I speak of Catholic teachers it is because that in nearly all our school districts there are hardly any but Catholic pupils; and because Catholic parents ask for Catholic teachers, and they want religion taught at least after school hours.

But, says my opponent, "nobody has the right to teach religion in schools supported by tax payers of various and distinct denominations." The school law, sec. 27, related to incorporated cities or towns, does, indeed, say: "No sectarian doctrine shall be taught, or instruction given in any of the public schools of the city or town." Here the law is not so clearly expressed as to prevent a distinction being made between the school hours during and after school hours.

The law elsewhere provides for and authorizes the use, after school hours, of the school house for literary, scientific and religious purposes. I do not, however, consider it absolutely necessary that religious instruction should be imparted in the school room, though I am more convenient when practicable. In this case, no matter how many religious beliefs might be represented in the schools, there would be no longer any difficulty for any of them in providing a place where religious instruction should be given by able and approved professors, according to the religious convictions of the parties interested.

Furthermore, Mr. Read says: "His Grace affirms that the Sisters of Loretto are not to have any of the public schools any more and qualifies as ingratitude the action of the board in not employing them." On this I beg to remark that I did not use the phrase "any more;" I spoke of the present and not of the future time. Having gratitude on the part of the board, I merely said: "Here in Santa Fe, the Sisters of Loretto have been deprived of having, in their own building, the direction of the public school for girls. What gratitude on the part of the city board of education?"

Now, as to the examination of teachers. Mr. Read says the 16th of August was set apart for this purpose, by the committee on examination. I admit that the action of the board, in the examination of the New Mexican; and that the president had, as he claims, otherwise notified the Sisters, personally. However, I am fully authorized to state that the Sisters did not decline to be examined; but the day was so inconvenient that they could not attend for satisfactory reasons which were presented to the board and admitted by them. As a proof thereof the board appointed another day, the 20th of August, for the examination of the Sisters and others who might present themselves. Now, I ask: Why was not that examination held? The Sisters were willing to be examined and promised to be present on the appointed day. To this Mr. Read answers, substantially, that the board, having in sight many applications for teacherships highly recommended by Catholics and non-Catholics from abroad, the members of the board thereupon acted and appointed the teachers. Then, the teachers having been appointed, he says, "it was moved, seconded and carried that the proposed examination be dispensed with." I would now ask Mr. Read, if it were not his duty, as chairman of the board, to call the attention of the members to the record contained in the minutes of their proceedings at their last meeting, respecting the proposed examination for the 20th of August, before the votes were taken for its suppression?

Again, when the members were so courteous as to admit teachers on the reliability of recommendations from abroad, had not the Sisters of our own city and territory for forty years of service in the cause of education (evidenced even now by so large an attendance of school children more numerous than those of all the public city schools together), had they not, I say, any right to like courtesy, especially

Dyspepsia

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1875 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable. The fifth bottle was taken, and I felt many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken, I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

those who are holders of good certificates either from abroad or from examinations passed in this city a year ago?

Until Mr. Read, either in his own name or that of the board, returns me a satisfactory answer to these queries, I shall make hold to maintain the propositions involved in my letter, namely, that the Sisters of Loretto have been deprived of teaching in the public schools of the city of Santa Fe, and that is ingratitude, to say the least.

Respecting the many protestations Mr. Larkin G. Read makes of his religious and civic virtues, I have nothing to say, as I did not question any of them in my letter.

J. B. SALPETER, Archbishop of Santa Fe.

TERRITORIAL TIPS.

Raton is going to have what has long been needed—a decent opera house. Julio Lucero, who is stricken with an ailment of the heart, still lies in a precarious condition at Las Vegas, there being but little hope left for his recovery.

The amount of taxes to be collected for this year in Colfax, as accepted by the county commissioners from the assessor and turned over to the sheriff for collection, is: County and territorial, $68,120; 24; town of Raton, $3,381.20.

The school board of precinct 13 (old town), composed of Gov. E. S. Stover, Pedro Garcia and Jesus Candelaria, will in a few days submit a proposition to the voters of that precinct for the erection of a $10,000 public school house.

The meeting of the Building & Loan association last night was well attended, and $4,200 were loaned. Geo. W. Ward borrowed $1,000, at 35 per cent; Charles Allen $500, at 35 per cent; Arch Faulkner $1,200, at 34 per cent, and William Reed $1,500, at 32 per cent.—Las Vegas Free Press.

Professor W. B. Creager will start tomorrow on his first vacation since his connection with the Indian school, seven years. He will visit eastern cities, including Washington, take in the G. A. R. encampment, and no doubt will have a word to say about the appropriation of $119,500 he has asked from the government to run the Albuquerque Indian school with another year.—Albuquerque Democrat.

It is certainly not a very great hardship for a citizen to pay a dollar a year for the maintenance of the public schools.

The Democratic convention has woven a tangled web to-day. Too tangled to be able to stand the strain of the campaign.

"Why, look you, how you storm! Why all this snatching of teeth and weeping and wailing over the poll tax question?"

The Democratic campaign managers in New Mexico are already engaging in the fake business, but it will avail them naught this campaign.

Our friends, the enemy, are indulging in airy hopes to-day; the ballots on election day will show them that these hopes were very airy indeed.

The nominee at today's convention is doomed to defeat; for such is the hand writing on the wall and it is very plain to all who want to see and who can read.

The Democratic bosses have lost their grip and a bold and strong campaign on the part of the Republicans will send them to the rear this election yelping and snarling.

The signs of the times point most unmistakably to the election of Hon. T. B. Catron by a large majority. Get into the band wagon and join the Republican procession; this is the proper time.

Another bit of lawlessness and attempt to cheat the people knocked out by the courts; the Democratic majority in the Santa Fe city council must call an election to fill the vacancy in the 2d ward.

The New Mexican is doing good and telling educational work for the Republican party and the work will tell on election day and tell in the right direction. New Mexico is safe for the Republicans this present year.

There were some pretended friends in today's convention, Mr. Joseph; beware of them. Remember "an open foe may prove a curse, but a pretended friend is worse." And when the returns are counted on election day, you will find that the New Mexican was correct. As usual.

The Democratic bosses and candidates and the Democratic sheets are strongly condemning the poll tax law and are doing their very best to evade it and defeat its provisions. Correct; any and everything that is intended to help the schools along meets with their animosity and opposition.

El Nuevo Mexicano is increasing with every week in circulation and influence; it is the strongest and best paper printed in the Spanish language in the southwest. It is the true and staunch friend of the Spanish speaking people of New Mexico; hence its phenomenal success and great influence.

Hon. Ambrosio Pino, the Republican nominee for the council from Santa Fe county, is a respected and good citizen. He will make a good race and will be elected; it matters not who the gang candidate against him will be; the best interests of this county and city demand Mr. Pino's election and that will happen. No room for argument here.

The president's letter of acceptance is being read with great interest all over the country and is being universally commended and approved. It is one of the strongest and most sensible documents ever published in the political history of this country; President Harrison can be relied upon to do the right thing at the right time.

This city needs a Republican majority in the board of aldermen and needs it badly; nothing but mismanagement and carelessness for the interests of the citizens and tax payers has characterized the actions of the present Democratic majority in the board; with a Republican majority will come a set of competent and honest city officials and these are certainly also very much needed.

LAND GRANT CASES.

This is the time and here is the place; the New Mexican takes occasion to remark to all those having claims or possessing rights to Spanish and Mexican land grants to file them with the court of private land claims. The time for filing such cases expires on the 3d of March next; the time may be extended and it may not; it is not good business sense to take chances; be on the safe side and file your cases in the court. The past record of the court shows that even handed justice and equity will be dealt out and the character and learning of the judges are proof positive that each will be the case in the future. File your cases.

FACTS FOR VOTERS IN SANTA FE COUNTY.

During the past year, under a Republican administration, the large debt of this county bearing 8 and 9 per cent interest and piled up under Democratic administrations, has been refunded into 3 per cent bonds on long time; the saving to the people and tax payers is very great; that is the difference between a Republican and a Democratic administration; the latter piles up an enormous debt, bearing exorbitant interest, chokes the county funds and squanders the public funds and loots the county treasury; the former endeavors to bring order out of chaos, refunds the debt at a reasonable interest and administers county affairs in an economical and honest manner; it would be folly to put the gang into power again; that would simply mean absolute ruin to this county.

A GOOD WITNESS.

"The opponents of protection, for the most part, not only professed no special interest in the well being of the working classes, and no desire to raise wages, but have denied the justice of attempting to use the powers of the government for this purpose. The doctrines of free trade have been intertwined with teachings that throw upon the laws of nature responsibility for the poverty of the laboring class, and foster a callous indifference to their sufferings." So says Henry George in his book "Protection and Free Trade."

The nominee of today's convention must necessarily be a free trader and opposed to the prosperity of one of New Mexico's leading industries.

Will the people of New Mexico elect a man indoctrinated with callous indifference to the suffering of the poor? The New Mexican thinks not, especially when his opponent is Thomas B. Catron.

TERRITORIAL PRESS COMMENTS.

What a Vote for Mr. Joseph Means. A vote for Mr. Joseph is an expression in favor of free wool and free lead. Do the wool growers and miners of New Mexico desire the protection now afforded them abolished?—Raton Range.

Squealing and That Hard.

The Democratic press of the territory is already complaining that the Republican managers have outgeneraled their Democratic brethren in getting the best of the poll tax business. This is exposing as it indicates that the Democrats realize that they are beaten in New Mexico and want an easy place to alight on the 8th of November.—Raton Range.

Our Regards Anyway, White Caps or No White Caps.

The Santa Fe New Mexican "has the courage of its convictions" and is not afraid to say as word for an honest opponent. If Col. Frost could divest himself of that chain of the sea, "the White Caps," he would be a forerunner worthy of the title of any knight, in the column has simply gone off over his pet phrase.—Albuquerque Times.

A Loud, Sorrowful and Pitiful Tale.

The poll tax law of New Mexico, as its opponents now are, is a pernicious one and the next legislature should repeal it, or so amend it that it will not disfranchise. It is a direct violation of the constitution as it now stands. No man has a right to say that another man shall be robbed of his right as an American citizen to cast his ballot, because he has not paid one dollar to a certain fund. Hundreds of men will be disfranchised by this most unjust law and members of the legislature, irrespective of party, should unite in its repeal. Tar Catron may make a few votes by it but he will lose many a one and will find it, in the end, a losing game.—Albuquerque Times.

How a Democratic Organ Looks at the Situation.

The extraordinary law which disfranchises an American citizen in New Mexico, who doesn't pay the sum of $1 to the school fund at least sixty days before the election, has already practically decided in advance the election for delegate for congress, which takes place in November. Catron is inevitable, and has doubtless not overlooked this fact, and we presume that the gentleman who confidently expects to be the Democratic nominee at Santa Fe, has been equally vigilant. We sincerely hope so, for the poll tax payment is indispensable to voting, and that party will win which can now count the most poll tax paid.—Albuquerque Democrat.

A Democrat's Views of the Situation in San Miguel.

Normally the convention yesterday was a Democratic convention, because the call so stated, and was signed by the chairman of the Democratic central committee. But the call also invited Republicans, People's party, and in effect, "any other man" willing to lend a hand in beating Catron for delegate to congress, or any Republican who may be nominated for office in San Miguel county. This view of the situation was confirmed by the action of the convention, and more particularly so by remarks of the able chairman of the central committee, in stating the objects of the call.

It was urged that Democrats should remain Democrats, but for the immediate present should forego strict party principles and double up with any party or member thereof, who had a poll tax receipt and would "go in to down the Republicans," and to keep the People's party power.

What a travesty to say in one breath: "We are Democrats, have always lived Democrats and intend to live Democrats," and in the next declare the best policy to be to affiliate with a so-called party of no political identity, and for what? "To suck the hind teat after the cow has been milked dry." In other words, accept of what offices the People's party feels inclined to do out to self-styled Democrats in order to run in double harness through the present territorial and, more particularly, the present county campaign.

This is the view taken by the old-line Democrats who have no room to shudder at the line between party, city, county or national politics. If politics is an issue, to them it must be, vote the Democratic ticket if it is in the field, or stay at home. One of the OLD LINE.—Las Vegas Free Press.

M'KINLEY DID IT.

LAIR—"We're coming, Father Abraham!" The autumn days are coming, and winter's near at hand. And soon the snow will drift and blow and cover all the land. Yet have no fear, for labor's dear And Billy McKinley did it. With his big McKinley bill.

The green wheat carpets all the plains. The corn stalks stand as rows. The waving thousands of the east Will catch the overblow: Our birds are thick in every vale, Our flocks on every hill— And Billy McKinley did it. With his big McKinley bill.

In every street the happy feet Of well paid labor ring. The hearts are light, the homes are bright, The leaves are light, the tie-pail bright. The faces bright still— And Billy McKinley did it. With his big McKinley bill.

Our ships are crowding every wharf, Our steam cars thunder by— Swift shuttles of the loom of fate. From east to west they fly. They bear the food from farm to mine, The ore from mine to mill— And Billy McKinley did it. With his big McKinley bill.

The world moves faster every hour. The wheels begin to hum. Today is but an earnest of The brighter days to come; So, here's a health to bring us wealth, Let's give it with a will— Three cheers for Billy McKinley And his big McKinley bill! —Lloyd Manning in Cleveland Leader.

Flaxseed and the Tariff.

The McKinley law put up the duty on flaxseed from cents a gallon to

cents a bushel. Well, flaxseed has declined in price from

cents in 1893. Is the tariff a tax? If it is, it is a tax that repels itself by opening factories and increasing production. Workingmen, which way of repealing a tax do you like better—letting it open factories and repeal itself, or repealing it by law and closing the factories?—New York Press.

Special Meeting Stockholders.

Frauds and Humbugs.

The Democrats have been accusing the Republicans of wild and wicked extravagance, and have been promising a tremendous reform in the way of reduced expenditure. But instead of being reduced the expenditures have been prodigiously increased. It follows therefore that the Democrats are frauds and humbugs, because one of two propositions must be true—viz:

First—If the Republicans of the Fifty-first congress were extravagant, the Democrats of the Fifty-second congress have been more so.

Second—If the Democrats of the Fifty-second congress have been economical with their appropriation bills, the Republicans of the Fifty-first congress were more so.—Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle.

A Clear Case of "Funk."

The country must not be cheated by Grover Cleveland's effort to "modify" the tariff plank of his party into supposing that he has experienced a change of heart and is less a free trader than before. It is clearly and unmistakably a case of "funk." He fears the protection sentiment of the American people. He seeks to conciliate them by professions of regard for "American interests." He has no more regard for American interests than has the tariff plank of the Chicago platform, but from motives of policy he wants to "wait until after election" before saying so.—Williamsport (Pa.) Gazette and Bulletin.

The Party of Destruction.

The Democratic party—by their platform, by Cleveland's notification speech, by Waterson's vehement declarations, by the historic nature and associations of the party—is destructive, and is committed to destroy protection and reciprocity. The party goes down upon that platform. New York will be exemplary in the destruction of the destroyers, and it may very easily happen that Louisiana will turn out on sugar bounties and Cuban commerce, based on reciprocity—Republican. It is the Republican year.—Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

An Argument for Protection.

When Roger Q. Mills complains because protection keeps $200,000,000 in foreign products out of the country every year he really makes the strongest possible argument for the protective policy, because that fact means that under that policy the amount of money named is kept in the country every year and spent among our own people, instead of being sent abroad to enrich foreigners, as it would be under the Democratic free trade policy.—Springfield (Ills.) State Journal.

Well, Scarcely.

It is safe to predict that the career of the first session of the Fifty-second congress will not be a theme which the Democratic stump speakers will dwell upon when they make their appeals to the voters.—Portland (Me.) Daily Press.

"His Littlest" Car Crisp.

One of the greatest advantages resulting from the adjournment of congress is the opportunity afforded Speaker Charles Frederick Crisp of retiring to some secluded spot where his littleness won't loom up so much.—Detroit Tribune.

Nothing to Say.

"Will you grant me an interview, senator?" said The reporter to David R. Hill. And the senator graciously nodded his head And replied, "Young fellow, I will."

But when the reporter his questions propounded, Then David a dignified way Said, "I haven't got nothing to say, young fellow, I haven't got nothing to say." —Chicago Tribune.
