DOZEN DEAD IN PILLAGE OF HAYTIAN CAPITAL

Wild Scene of Riot and Bloodshed Follows Abdication of Aged President Nord Alexis; Anarchy Reigns for Time.

MOBS DRIVEN TO COVER BY VOLLEYS FROM TROOPS

General Simon Nearing Port au Prince; Delegation Goes to Invite Him to Take Possession of Government.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Port au Prince, Hayti, Dec. 3.—For many hours during the night following the flight of Nord Alexis, riot and pillage prevailed in Port au Prince. The populace, maddened by the spirit of revolt, turned from the skiff that carried their deposed president to the French training ship Duguay Trouin, and gave full vent to their passions. They looted stores and residences, and fought among themselves over the booty, and were only held in check by an armed force hastily gathered together by General Ponsbein, which fired a volley into the mob and drove the rioters from street to street and finally into seclusion.

In all twelve persons were killed and many wounded before order was restored.

So serious did the situation become that a committee of public safety composed of the most prominent military leaders, was organized. Scores of citizens were placed under arms to assist the loyal troops in patrolling the streets of the city, and today comparative tranquility reigns. The American, French and German ministers decided early in the morning that they could trust to the arrangements made by the committee to maintain order, but they jointly gave notification that if trouble ensued again they would land forces from the warships. Those already here were reinforced at daybreak by the United States gunboat Eagle and the British cruiser Scylla.

Nord Alexis, who spent a restless night on board the Duguay Trouin, has been the object of much consideration on the part of the commander of the ship and the officers. There is something in the wonderful vitality of the president that calls forth admiration. Past ninety years—how many years beyond that mark nobody knows—Nord Alexis faced his foes with the strength and determination of a man in the very prime of life. Not until he saw his people, those he had fought for and ruled, in front of the palace crying for his life, did he realize that they had turned against him. Only then did he accept the protection of the French flag. Today he said:

"The courageous conduct of M. Cartieron (the French minister) saved my life."

When seen about the warship this afternoon Nord Alexis had lost the vigor of former years and appeared quite feeble in body, though his mind was active and clear. Never at any time as president has he been a communicative man, and the events of the last twenty-four hours seemed to rest heavily on him. The one satisfaction he felt, he said, was in the loyalty of his bodyguard.

He spoke with deep gratitude of what the French minister, M. Cartieron, had done. Of General Gabet, his nephew, who, during the last few months has directed the policy of the government, and General Guillaume, the only other officer of his staff who had remained true to him, he spoke in terms of praise. Their loyalty consoled him for the cowardly desertion of all the other ministers. He particularly denounced the treachery of General Celestin Cyrille, minister of war, who was the first commander he sent out to quell the insurrection and hold back General Antoine Simon.

The president was broken hearted over the attitude of the people in the capital, of whose hostility he declared he had been entirely ignorant.

"They always cheered me when I appeared in the streets," he said mournfully. "And I have always labored for their good."

He protested against the "legend" that he had ever shown enmity toward the whites, and declared that he had the best interests of all ever close to his heart.

For the first time Nord Alexis expressed his views with regard to the summary executions which took place on March 15 last, when many men were shot to death by order of General Leconte. He had always been convinced, he said, that these men had been killed during an attack on the palace; his officials and those on whom he depended had kept back the truth from him. But he learned the truth later, and considered the act a very unfortunate one.

With regard to his destination, Nord Alexis said he would wait until he could be transported to Jamaica, St. Thomas or Martinique.

The sentiment of the people is strongly in favor of General Simon.

INVENTION TO SAVE LIFE IN MINES

INTERESTING TESTS AT PITTSBURGH CONGRESS

Oxygen Apparatus Permits Wearers to Defy Death Dealing Fumes After Explosions in Underground Workings.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Pittsburgh, Dec. 3.—Coal operators, mine owners, engineers, practical miners, scientists and national state officials, all here for the meeting of the American Mining congress, this afternoon participated in the formal dedication of the federal government's laboratory and testing station, recently established in this city. A series of tests in an artificial mine, in which conditions of real mines are reproduced, so far as possible, showing the results from various explosives and from so-called safety agencies, was the most interesting feature of the ceremony.

Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield officiated and there were addresses by John Mitchell, former head of the Mine Workers organization, and by operators and others.

Today's tests were made at the artificial mine. The first test was a safety powder, dry fire clay and bituminous coal dust, the latter plastered on shelves representing ledges in real mines. The powder was ignited for the blast and did not explode the dust. There was a terrific explosion during the fourth test, when 1.1 pounds of black powder and 20 pounds of road dust (actual mine dust) were used. The recoil was strong and the flames covered the full length of the artificial mine. The test proved the combination to be exceedingly dangerous.

At this point experts of the station appeared, wearing the Draeger oxygen apparatus, including metal and glass hoods, chemical chambers and air bag, designed to render breathing normal, or nearly so, while the operator is surrounded by the most deadly gases and vapors. The men hurried into the gallery still filled with the fumes of the explosives and apparently were not affected by any of the gases. This device is designed particularly for rescue work, and was used with good results at Marianna.

A number of other tests were merely technical.

A plea for the conservation of the nation's natural resources was the keynote of the annual address of J. H. Richards, president of the American Mining congress, delivered tonight at the Hotel Schenley, where a regular session was held and a dinner given for the delegates.

Secretary Garfield told of the efforts of the interior department for conservation of the lives of those engaged in mining. The burden, however, he said, was upon the several states rather than the federal government, each state to enact legislation according to its need.

Col. W. M. Merrill, Arrested in Boston, Is Son of Moody Merrill, Alias Grayson, Once Banker in Silver City.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)

Boston, Mass., Dec. 3.—Colonel Winthrop M. Merrill, lawyer, tourist, sportsman and financier, son of Moody Merrill, the noted bank absconder, who for years lived at Silver City, N. M., under the name of C. P. Grayson, and became widely known there as a prosperous business man, is under arrest here charged on two counts of larceny of $1,600 from Dominick Jarrid. He has offered to make restitution but the court insists that the case be tried today.

Merrill filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $15,000, assets are set at $21,000. In the schedule is an interest in a copper mine at Florio, N. M., valued at $10,000.

ARREST RECALLS STRANGE CAREER OF MOODY MERRILL

The arrest of Col. W. M. Merrill, in Boston, on the charge of larceny, recalls the strange story of the life of his father, Moody Merrill, who lived for ten years in New Mexico, after he had fled from a charge of embezzlement in Boston and who became one of the best known and most successful and most highly esteemed citizens of Grant county.

Moody Merrill was in charge of trust funds to a large amount in Boston. He became involved in speculation and the money in his care was dissipated. Before his defection became known Merrill fled from Boston and in 1886 arrived in Silver City, New Mexico, where he engaged in mining operations. Later he was given a position in the First National bank of Silver City, and by hard work and ability rose to the position of president of the institution and held the respect and regard of everyone.

All this time he was known as Charles E. Grayson, the name which he assumed when he first reached the territory.

When Merrill disappeared from Boston it was thought that he had committed suicide or had met death in some other manner, and for years he was regarded as a dead man, until by some accident the Boston authorities were led to suspect the secret which Charles E. Grayson had securely hidden for ten years in New Mexico, where his past had never been suspected.

Grayson was arrested and taken to Boston where he confessed his identity. He was released on bond and returned to Silver City, where he died a short time afterward, it is believed from a broken heart, because of the disgrace of the exposure.

For a long time the Boston authorities refused to believe the report of his death, thinking it was another trick by which Grayson or Merrill hoped to escape.

TRUST BUSTING CONVICTION IN UTAH

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN SALT LAKE COAL CASE

Railway and Fuel Officials Face Fine and Jail for Putting Price Cutting Retailer Out of Business.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Salt Lake City, Dec. 3.—"Guilty" was the verdict of the jury in the United States district court before which the Union Pacific railway, the Union Pacific Coal company, the Oregon Short Line railway, Everett Buckingham and J. M. Moore have been tried for conspiring in restraint of interstate commerce and thereby violating the laws of the United States.

The defendants were indicted two years ago, after it had been shown to the satisfaction of the grand jury that Mr. Moore, the sales agent of the coal company, with the assistance of Mr. Buckingham, then traffic manager of the Oregon Short Line, had cut out of the supply of Wyoming coal from going to David Sharp, a Salt Lake fuel dealer, because Sharp advertised coal below the prevailing price. This action, it was alleged, drove Sharp out of business.

The trial has been in progress for three days. Mr. Moore attempted to assume all responsibility for the measures taken against Sharp. He said that a low rate had been granted so that dealers would be induced to store large quantities of coal during the summer and that Sharp's conduct tended to defeat the purpose of the reduced rate.

The closing arguments were made by United States District Attorney H. E. Booth and by Judge C. S. Varian for the defense. After four hours' deliberation the jury reported its findings and recommended Mr. Buckingham to the mercy of the court. The maximum penalty is a fine of $5,000 and a year in jail. Sentence will be postponed pending the result of an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals.

URGES REPEAL OF STONE AND TIMBER ACT

RESPONSIBLE FOR HAVOC IN WESTERN FORESTS

Senator Nelson's Demand for Wiping Out Obnoxious Law Starts lively Discussion in Conservation Commission.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—The necessity of the timber and stone act, under which, it was asserted, millions of acres of public lands had been taken up by land speculators at low figures and sold later at phenomenal prices was advocated at tonight's session of the conservation commission by Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota.

Senator Nelson's declaration that he wanted to see that law off the statute books stirred up a lively discussion. Among those who took part in the debate were Senators Flint, Smoot and Dixon; Representative Shirley and ex-Governors Blanchard and Pender.

Commissioner Fred Dennett of the general land office was the principal speaker and his remarks dwelling upon the havoc wrought in the forests of the west by land speculators under the existing act, sounded the keynote for the views which were later voiced and which it is declared, probably will have weight in the recommendation the commission will make to President Roosevelt.

Mr. Dennett spoke of the wide latitude given speculators under the timber and stone act, by which 160 acres may be bought at $2.50 an acre and sold probably as high as $30.

The government, he said, was powerless at this time to prevent this traffic during the operation of the act.

Mr. Dennett stated that during the past year nearly 2,000,000 acres of land had been taken up, according to entries on record.

HIGH TARIFF ON WOOL SUITS GROWERS

COMMITTEE HEARS NO PLEA FOR LOWER DUTY

Representatives from Middle and Western States Declare Against Revision Downward; Hearings to Continue.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Washington, Dec. 3.—The house committee on ways and means today decided to continue the tariff hearings until December 15.

Chairman Payne was authorized to offer a resolution in the house when congress convenes on Monday, which will give the committee authority to subpoena witnesses for these supplementary hearings.

Tomorrow is the last day of the original schedule of hearings, but on Saturday Herbert Miles, chairman of the tariff commission of the National Association of Manufacturers, will appear before the committee. Other witnesses are also expected to appear Saturday and Monday. There will be a supplementary hearing on the lead schedule. The other sessions will take place on days designated by Chairman Payne. It is believed that some will be held occasionally throughout the short session of congress.

The committee will begin consideration of the new tariff bill as soon as the record up to this time has been printed. Briefs may be filed by persons interested at any time before December 15.

Chairman Payne would not say what witnesses will be summoned if the power to subpoena is granted, but it is generally understood that J. W. Van Cleave, president of the National Association of Manufacturers will be on the list.

An indication of the unsatisfactory conditions existing at the present hearings was given by Mr. Boutwell, republican member from Illinois, at today's hearing on the wool tariff.

He had received a very unsatisfactory reply from a witness.

"I understand that you are not for wool," said Mr. Boutwell. "But I hope that some time soon the committee will have an opportunity to hear witnesses which it will feel at liberty to cross examine at pleasure."

Chairman Payne was authorized to continue the hearings at an executive meeting of the committee following the noon recess. No witnesses were examined after recess.

Hans Schmidt, of Buffalo, a representative of the wool pulling business, advocated a greater differential in the duties on wool fleeces and wool on the skin, contending that it was a necessity if the wool pulling industry in this country was to survive. He claimed that under the present tariff the packers are absorbing all of that business.

Patrick McGraw, of Pittsburg, also asked for an increased differential, claiming that the foreign wool puller has the advantage of a better market than the American. In addition to his advantage in the cost of labor.

"The packers have monopolized the market in wool growing just as they have in beef," asked Mr. Underwood of Alabama.

"Yes," replied the witness.

For the national Wool Growers' association J. M. Wilson, of Wyoming, asked that the present rates of duty on wool be retained. He said that the wool growers are in debt, and asserted that every sheep in Wyoming is mortgaged.

Andrew J. Soler, who asked for a general reduction in the wool schedule, said that Australian lambs wool is a better grade than the American wool.

A. S. Erickson, a Utah grower, asked for a contribution of the present tariff on wool as old D. M. Campese, a sheep grower of Pennsylvania; E. J. Ewing, who raises sheep in New Mexico; and Mrs. Bonemont, wool grower of Utah.

Mrs. Bonemont is the only woman who has appeared before the committee during the tariff hearings. She told of the difficulties of Utah during the operation of the Wilson tariff law.

"That was during a democratic administration," she said, "but we are now enjoying the blessings of a republican administration and we appeal to the honorable members of that party for protection."

The republicans enjoyed a laugh at the expense of the democratic members. Mrs. Bonemont urged retention of the present duties.

W. M. Cullen, who said he was a "democratic wool grower in Ohio" and that he was a "protectionist," also spoke against any reduction in the tariff. Mr. Erickson said the Utah wool growers made an average profit of eight per cent.

"We are not getting protection even to the extent of the eleven cents of the tariff," he said. "The foreign wool imported is 'skirted' so that its shrinkage is only 35 per cent, as compared with the shrinkage of 64 per cent of the American wool."

The hearing on the wool schedule was practically completed when the committee took recess for lunch.

SOUTHERN PIPE LINE LOANS NO NEARER SOLUTION

Government Inquisitor Spends Year in Vain Effort to Find Out Purpose of Deals Involving $22,000,000.

ARCHBOLD KNOWS NO REASON FOR TRANSACTION

Standard Oil Vice President's Testimony Concluded; Hearing of Trust Suit Adjourns Until Next Monday.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

New York, Dec. 3.—Efforts on the part of the federal counsel to obtain information regarding the loans aggregating $22,000,000 to P. D. Tractor by the Southern Pipe line, a Standard subsidiary, came to nothing today in the cross examination of John D. Archbold in the government suit to dissolve the Standard Oil trust. For over a year Frank B. Kellogg, government inquisitor, has pursued every detail to find out the purpose of these large loans, but tonight he appeared to be no nearer the solution of the mystery.

Mr. Archbold said that he knew of no reason for the loans which, he said, might have represented the adjustment between refining companies which Mr. Tractor supplied with oil. Mr. Tractor, who is connected with the Standard's pipe line system, had previously testified that he did not know of the loans and never received the money.

With the exception of a few questions about certain exhibits which will be placed in evidence later, the cross examination of Mr. Archbold was concluded today, when the adjournment was taken until next Monday. H. M. Tilford, president of the Standard Oil company of California, and J. E. Moffitt, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana will probably follow Mr. Archbold on the stand, after whom William Rockefeller will be called.

Much of Mr. Archbold's cross examination today had to do with the loans made by the railroads in the early days. He took the position that the rebates at that time were a matter of bargaining, in which shipper strove to obtain the best terms.

The government counsel interrogated the witness regarding evidence given in a Pennsylvania oil suit in which A. J. Cassatt, then vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, testified that the Standard received the larger rebate from the Pennsylvania than any other shipper.

Mr. Archbold said he had no recollection of Mr. Cassatt's testimony. The vice president of the Standard declared that his company was in no way favored in the oil tariffs of the United States.

When the hearing was resumed today, John D. Archbold, vice president of the company, testified that the Standard purchased the Pacific Coast Standard of California in 1906 for $261,000. After that its capitalization was increased by successive stages to $17,000,000 in 1906, when the name was changed to the Standard Oil company of California.

Regarding the loan of $700,000 to E. N. Barnsdall, of Pittsburg, Mr. Archbold said there was no contract of the loan in the city, whereupon Mr. Rosenthal, counsel for the Standard, said by the telephone that the agency holders in Pittsburg to mail the contract to the master of the hearing for inspection.

Mr. Archbold said that as far as he knew the Texas Oil company was not under or controlled by the Standard. The Texas company sold some of its output, the witness said, to the Standard.

Mr. Archbold's attention was called to the cost of refining put into the trust in 1902, which was $17,608,656. This was the inventory value, said Mr. Archbold, who was then asked if the exhibits of the defense showing the cost of refining in 1906 to be $2,700,000 were not gross costs instead of cost less depreciation. Mr. Archbold said it might have been an error of bookkeeping, whereupon the accountants for both sides began an examination of the exhibit.

Mr. Archbold said the first refineries at the seaboard were not built by the Standard which early realized their value in the export business and took them over.

Mr. Kellogg desired to know if it was not a fact that in 1871, before the Standard was formed, the percentage of export and refined oil to crude production was not greater than today, when it is only 18 per cent.

"I could not say," replied the witness. "Certainly, since then there has been an immense production of low grade oil which is not available for refining."

Mr. Kellogg asked the witness if the Devis Manufacturing company had

CURRY GOES TO TALK TO TAFT ABOUT IT

INTERVIEWS ROOSEVELT ON STATEHOOD MATTER

Governor Finds President in Full Sympathy With Cause of New Mexico and Will See President-Elect.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Governor George Curry of New Mexico, primed for another persevering fight for statehood for New Mexico, at the concluding session of congress, arrived in Washington today to renew the campaign vigorously in anticipation of favorable action at the short session.

Governor Curry called at the White House and conferred with the president, whom he found in full sympathy with the cause of New Mexico, and who gave the governor cordial assurances of support. Tonight Governor Curry left for Hot Springs, Ark., where he will hold a conference with President-elect Taft, who is expected to give his aid to the movement this winter.

Meyer Approves New Special Delivery Stamp

Washington, Dec. 3.—Approval was given by Postmaster General Meyer today to the new special delivery stamp, which will be placed in sale within the next ten days. It is a radical departure from the conventional United States stamp, being patterned rather after the stamps of French design, is extremely artistic and at the same time severely plain and delicately executed. It measures about one inch square, and is of a dark green color. Running diagonally across its face is an illustration of an olive branch, the leaves of which entwine a mercury bar, symbolic of peace and haste. In the upper left hand corner is the inscription "10 cents," while in the lower right hand corner in bold letters are the words "United States postage, special delivery."

EXTRADITION PAPERS FOR ALLEGED FORGER

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 3.—Detective Walter Godfrey and Detective Frank Tait, both of Newark, N. J., arrived in Seattle today bearing extradition papers from the governor of New Jersey to Governor Mead of Idaho. A Archer, arrested here recently and against whom seventeen indictments for forgery are now pending in New York, the amount involved is $70,000. Archer, through his attorneys, will fight extradition in a hearing to be held before Governor Mead tomorrow morning in Seattle.

KERENS SPENT $60,000 ON LOSING CAMPAIGN

St. Louis, Dec. 3.—Richard Kerens, former republican national committeeman for Missouri, and a defeated candidate for the republican senatorial nomination at the November primary, spent $59,515 in the campaign just closed. This was made public today by Mr. Kerens, who gave out a list of his contributions and expenses.

not sold oil in case abroad before the Standard purchased it.

Mr. Archibald said the Devere company did.

Replying to a question Mr. Archibald said the Standard had purchased oil in Russia but not now. The Standard had interests in Roumania.

The government counsel then took up the question of tariffs on oil in the various countries and Mr. Archibald said the duties in Russia were just what that country chose to make them.

"If they will let our oil free they can get our oil in free there. There is no favoritism among the countries where crude oil is produced. If France has a duty against American oil, the same duty applies to other countries."

Mr. Kellogg asked what were the Standard's advantages with regard to the tariff and Mr. Archibald replied:

"All this talk of favoritism to the Standard by the tariff is bunk."

Mr. Archibald said that in spite of the Russian policy of protection, "we manage to get a little in on them occasionally."

"So if Russia keeps you out we keep them out," said Mr. Kellogg.

"What do you mean by we—the republican party?" broke in Mr. Milburn.

The laugh that followed ended the line of tariff inquiry.

Mr. Kellogg interrogated Mr. Archibald regarding the European Petroleum union.

The latter said he did not know whether that union divided the European markets or not, but the Standard had a trade agreement with it. He could not say whether the Standard and the Russian company divided the German market.

Mr. Archibald spoke of the early difficulties of refining in the Lima oil field because of the sulphur in crude oil and that they had continued to buy in hoping that some day a way might be found to eliminate the sulphur.

The source of the Standard's crude oil production was inquired into fully by Mr. Kellogg.

"Suppose the producer don't accept the price, all he can do is to kick," asked Mr. Kellogg.

"Oh, no, he can store his oil and wait for better prices or find other purchasers. Further he could stop production and await better prices."

Mr. Archibald said that the Standard could transport any crude oil for any independent producers over all its pipe lines, which were common carriers, in conformity with the tariffs filed with the interstate commerce commission.

Mr. Kellogg asserted that no important refinery existed at any point at which tariffs were made.

Mr. Archibald said that the pipe lines should not be classed as common carriers.

"It is not a fact that when the Hepburn law was passed you transferred the pipe lines across Maryland and New Jersey, which were owned by your Pennsylvania company, to prevent them from becoming common carriers?"

"We have at all times shaped our business in conformity with the laws under advice of counsel," replied Mr. Archibald.

The accounts of the Southern Pipe Line company from 1899 to 1905 showing loans to P. D. Trainor, varying from $2,500,000 to $4,000,000 each year and aggregating $22,000,000 were inquired into by Mr. Kellogg.

"The balance sheets of the Southern Pipe Line show the following loans," he said: "1899, $2,500,000; 1900, $4,000,000; 1901, $2,745,625; 1902, $2,256,967; 1903, $2,465,729; 1904, $3,915,856; 1905, $3,341,344. No, Mr. Trainor testified that he knows nothing about these loans and that the money was never paid to him. Do you know anything about these loans?"

"I do not," replied Mr. Archibald.

Mr. Archibald was questioned about a contract that existed between the National Transit company and the Pennsylvania railroad in 1884 whereby the Pennsylvania was to obtain 25 per cent of all crude oil shipped to the seaboard.

Mr. Kellogg wanted to know if it were not a fact that under the contract the Standard paid a part of the railroad rate to the Pennsylvania on the crude oil which the National Transit company carried in its pipes, and which the Pennsylvania did not carry.

Mr. Archibald said he was not prepared to give information regarding the contract, which, he testified, was abandoned in 1902.

But why was the contract cancelled?

"Because it was thought best to put the contract definitely out of the way."

Mr. Kellogg asked: "Is it not a fact that the railroad held up the rates which are practically prohibitive to an independent shipper?"

"I am not a railroad man."

Mr. Archibald said there were many independent refiners today who ship by railroad. These independents went out of business voluntarily and amiably, as they realized their plants were not fitted to survive.

Mr. Archibald raised a laugh when he said that he had denounced the South Improvement company, declaring it was an "outrage on those included in it."

Mr. Kellogg called attention to the evidence that the Standard later went into it.

Mr. Kellogg wanted to know about the stipulation made in a contract made between the Acme company with the Pennsylvania whereby the rates for oil transportation should be made public.

"That was probably put in there for the benefit of the bowlers. It did not amount to a hill of beans and was all for deal. There were no established tariff rates in those days. We had to bargain for our shipping. I always got the best rate I could."

"Didn't you testify in 1897 that you got a rebate of 43 cents out of a freight rate of $1.29-1.32 in 1878?"

"I have no recollection."

The attention of Mr. Archibald was called to the testimony of Alexander J. Cassatt, then vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, that the railroad paid a rebate to the American Transfer company on all oil shipped over the Pennsylvania.

Mr. Archibald said he recollected there were some suits and added that "it was a sort of custom in those days out in Pennsylvania to bring suits."

Mr. Kellogg pursued the question of rebates given by railroads, and Mr. Archibald replied that he "got the best rates he could, and he had no doubt that whatever the railroad man promised you the chances are that on his way home he gave some other man a lower rate."

"Do you know that Mr. Cassatt testified that the Standard received a lower rate than any other shipper?"

"I do not know that he so testified."

Mr. Kellogg desired to know if it was not a fact that the price of refined oil to retailers throughout the country today was not higher than it was in 1896. Mr. Archibald said he did not think so.

"It is a fact that the marketing stations have reduced the price of oil to their retailers?"

"They were organized to increase the efficiency of distribution."

"In the price lower to the consumer than it was in 1896?"

"I can not state as to prices."

Mr. Archibald's cross examination was closed pending the submission of some information in the form of statements, which will be compiled.

An adjournment was taken until Monday.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO BE READ TUESDAY

Washington, Dec. 3.—The president's annual message to congress will be read to the second session of the eighth congress on Tuesday next, instead of Monday, the opening day of congress, according to the plan announced today. The senate will adjourn on Monday and of respect to the memory of Senator Allen, immediately after appointing a committee to wait on the president, and after the new members are sworn in.

Speaker Cannon said today that the house would adjourn to the same manner Thursday, probably will be devoted solely to the reading of President Roosevelt's message.

URGES RETIRED PAY FOR RAILWAY MAIL CLERKS

Annual Report of Second Assistant Postmaster General Recommends Better Conditions for Hazardous Occupation.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Washington, Dec. 3.—The report of registered matter, the railway mail service, during the last fiscal year, handled 21,600,000 pieces of mail matter, according to the annual report of Second Assistant Postmaster General Stewart. Because of practically illegible addresses 52,614,201 pieces required special attention, with the result that 18,885,626 were returned to senders or corrected and forwarded.

A new class of the railway mail service, embracing the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho and the territory of Alaska, is recommended. Favorable consideration of congress is asked to a recommendation that postal clerks be allowed traveling expenses while away from their homes, and also that postal clerks who have become unfit for active service by reason of advanced age or physical disability incurred in the line of duty be retired with suitable pay.

For the transportation of all classes of mail matter the department during the year expended $81,127,726. A considerable saving was effected in connection with the weighing of mails in the southern states. In consequence of the use of the new electric railroad, reduced 145,736 tons that would have been paid under the old system. Altogether the new system of weighing has resulted so far in a net saving of $2,229,198 per annum. Because of the equalization of the rates of pay to transportation companies the report states, a more equitable basis of compensation has been reached, with results mutually satisfactory to carrier and the department.

Still further recommendations are recorded. A review of the railway postoffice car service resulted in the recommendation of the car space on a number of routes, thereby effecting a saving of $272,049 during the year.

Scheduled half-line of railway post office cars—that is, where the postal needs in one direction warranted the authorization, but in the opposite direction did not—are also recommended. Numerous protests arose over the action of the department reducing certain lines to half-line, and these led to the appointment of a committee to investigate the whole subject. The postmaster general approved their recommendation that full pay be allowed for a line of forty-foot cars in all cases where a forty-foot car must be run and returned.

The request for attention to the fact that provision has been made to transport additional weights of mails from Valdez to Fairbanks, Alaska, in the four mid-winter months, so as to allow 48,000 pounds increase. The weights on other main lines in Alaska also have been augmented.

Efforts of the department to establish semi-weekly sailings between New York and Porto Rico, it is stated, failed, the steamship companies refusing to make any changes in their practice of having sailings only on Saturdays.

During the year additional postal conventions were negotiated with the Netherlands, Uruguay, Italy, France and Austria, and the present rate of twenty cents a pound to Italy, Chile, Ecuador and Peru was reduced to twelve cents a pound.

PLAN TO MODERNIZE HOUSE OF LORDS

Committee Suggests Election of Majority of Members of Venerable Legislative Body

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

London, Dec. 3.—The report of the select committee of the house of lords appointed to suggest a plan for the reform of the upper house was issued today. The committee finds it undesirable that the possession of a peerage should of itself give the right to sit and vote in the house of lords, and it recommends that qualification should be the main test for admission to the reformed house. It then sets forth that all hereditary peers should be reformed into an electoral body for the purpose of electing two hundred of their number to sit as the "lords of parliament," not for life, but for a single parliament; that the spiritual lords of parliament be reduced to ten, to be elected by the bishops, two archbishops during the tenure of their sees and the other eight for the duration of each parliament; that the lords of the shire, now appointed and sworn in Africa have representatives in the house of lords, that a number of hereditary peers, consisting of 120, possessing certain qualifications should sit without the necessity of election; these to include men who have held the post of cabinet minister, justice, governor general of Canada and governor of the larger colonies and naval and military officers of high rank and that twenty years service in the house of commons should entitle one to a seat among the peers. This plan will give the reformed house of lords about 250 members, namely three peers of the royal blood, two peers to be elected about 150 qualified hereditary peers, ten spiritual lords and five judges.

SAFE CRACKERS ROB LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE

Los Angeles, Dec. 2.—Two unknown robbers went upon the door of the building and broke the safe of the postoffice at Honey Avenue and took away $10,000 in gold and silver. They left the safe open and made their escape with the contents. They left registered mail, currency and some small other matters about the floor but the exact amount taken by them could not be ascertained at this time. Postmaster Flint said the amount secured was less than $100.

UNITED STATES TREASURER REPORTS

NATION SPENT MILLIONS
IN EXCESS OF REVENUE

Big Surplus Left from Previous Years Enabled Treasury to Meet Heavy Drain from Gi-gantic Appropriations.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
Washington, Dec. 3.—Charles H. Treat, treasurer of the United States, in his annual report calls attention to the fact that owing to the disturbed relations between the income and outgo of the government, there was a deficiency last year of $5,070,210, as against a surplus for the preceding year of $54,236,556 and points out that the total revenues for 1908 exceeded any preceding fiscal year except 1907. Treasurer Treat declares that 1907 is the year in which the trouble is not in decreasing receipts but in increased expenditures, which situation the treasury was able to meet with the excess of revenues which had accumulated during the previous years.

"The steady flow of gold into the treasury," the report says, "continued to excite the absorbing study of the resources of the country as favored in the distribution of precious metal. The amount of gold coin actually used in the channels of trade is less than one-half the general stock of gold coin in the country, owing to the increasing popularity of the gold certificates."

"The general stock of money in this country at the close of the last fiscal year was $3,378,264,020, an increase of $263,292,913 as compared with that of a year ago. The money in circulation for the past eleven years has steadily increased. That growth per capita advanced from $22.87 in 1897 to $31.74 in 1908. Population has more than doubled every thirty years, while the wealth of the nation has more than doubled every twenty years. There is legitimate expanding trade relations, but no method is employed by which that amount per capita can be measured. There were 246,366,572 pieces of United States paper currency in circulation October 1."

"National bank notes presented for redemption," the report says, "aggregated $318,549,280, equal to 52.78 per cent of the average amount of notes outstanding during the year. The net growth in the bank note circulation was $94,545,227. There was $229,433,528 in lawful money deposited in the treasury on account of transactions in national bank circulation, $269,674,988 for the 100 per cent fund and $57,950,349 for the redemption of such circulation. The deposits of lawful money in the treasury to retire national bank notes under the act limiting such deposits to $108,000,000 annually, aggregated $27,112,837. Banks have availed of but little more than one-third of the option; therefore the law is not restrictive on retirements until the limit of $108,000,000 per month has been reached."

EXPLOSION KILLS NEGRO MINERS

Two Dead, Three Hurt in Disaster in West Virginia; Gas
From an Abandoned Mine Caused It.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
Bluefield, W. Va., Dec. 3.—Two men, both negroes, are dead and three others, Italians, are believed to be fatally injured as the result of an explosion early today at the King coal mine at Norwood, W. Va., about thirty miles from here. Thirteen men were employed in the mine at the time of the explosion, all of whom were getting ready to quit for the noon hour, when without warning gas from an abandoned opening in the Tidenator mine, adjoining, escaped into the King coal mine in response to a blown out shot.

The explosion occurred about a mile from the entrance.

Naval Commands Consolidated.
Washington, Dec. 3.—The naval war college, the naval training station, the naval hospital and the marine barracks on Coasters Harbor Island, the naval torpedo station on Goat Island, and the naval coaling station at Bradford, R. I., have been consolidated by Secretary Newberry into one command, to be known as the United States naval station, Narragansett Bay, R. I., with Rear Admiral John P. Merrill as commandant.

VALUABLE STOLEN NECKLACE RECOVERED

Chance Remark to New York Police
Official Leads to Return of Property Taken by Burglar in Memphis.

New York, Dec. 3.—A chance remark to Police Inspector McCafferty by the young son of one of his friends that he knew a man who had a fine necklace for sale led to the recovery today by Garrett E. Lamb, of Clinton, Ia., of a pearl necklace said to be worth $15,000, which had been lost since last February.

McCafferty called to see the necklace and asked it. He was told by the man who had it that a Los Angeles pawn broker had sent it to him for disposal here. After diligent inquiry by the New York police, a circular was obtained offering $2,000 for the return of just such a pearl necklace as the one that had been seized here.

Then followed the visit of Mr. Lamb to New York and the identification of the necklace. Mr. Lamb said he was a guest in the home of Frank G. Jones, in Memphis, Tenn., last February, when burglars entered the house and got away with $25,000 worth of jewelry, of which the necklace was a part. The price asked for the necklace by the man holding it here was $8,000.

Life's journey is a heavy burden. With a constantly aching back. With urinary disorders, diabetes. With any kidney ill. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve and cure.

Here is Albuquerque proof that this is so:
Mrs. E. Kornellie, living at 402 South Broadway, Albuquerque, N. M., says: "I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends and acquaintances, and they have learned of a valuable medicine and, like myself, appreciate it exceedingly. Two years ago I took Doan's Kidney Pills, using in all three boxes, and was cured of pain in my back, a trouble which I had for a good many years. I was also greatly relieved of rheumatism at the time and have never been bothered with this complaint since. There is no question as to the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills."

MANILA PORT COLLECTOR AVERTS MARINE TIEUP

Manila, Dec. 4.—Collector of Customs C. R. Calton intervened today in the strike of the coastwise seamen which was declared yesterday to enforce a demand for 100 per cent increase of pay, and effected a truce between striking sailors and shipowners by which the men agreed to return to work and submit their differences to arbitration. As a result of the demands of the seamen which also included shorter working hours and overtime for Sunday work, and which the shipowners refused to accede to, several of the large coastwise steamers were unable to leave their berths yesterday and the entire coastwise shipping would have been tied up within a few days.

It was merely through the efforts of Collector Calton that the men returned to work today pending a final settlement of their demands by arbitration.

REPUBLICANS HONOR MANAGERS OF CAMPAIGN

Hitchcock, Sheldon and Ward
Guests at Banquet; Awarded Unstinted Praise for Successful Work.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

New York, Dec. 3.—Frank H. Hitchcock, who managed the republican campaign, Treasurer George H. Sheldon and William L. Ward, of the national committee, were diners to the Republican club of the city of New York tonight and awarded unstinted praise for their services in the election of Taft and Sherman. The guests included Vice President-elect Sherman and communications were received from President-elect Taft and President Roosevelt. President Roosevelt sent the following message: "I wish I could be there to join with you at the dinner given in honor of Mr. Hitchcock, Mr. Sheldon and Mr. Ward. As I can not, will you allow me through you to extend my heartiest congratulations and thanks to the three men who did so much to bring about the successful result of the recent election."

Mr. Taft, from Hot Springs, wrote to a greater length. He said: "I write to extend my greetings to the Republican club of the City of New York and express my sympathy with the testimonial of respect and gratitude which it is tendering tonight to Messrs. Hitchcock, Sheldon and Ward for the great service which they have rendered to the party and the nation in organizing and carrying to victory the late presidential contest. They have been justified in every respect by the event."

"Not the least of the burden the gentlemen in their positions have always to bear is the criticism of the leaders of the movement and of the general public in respect to the conduct of a campaign, even when so much of importance hangs. The porcelaine of an organization on the one hand and the raising of funds with which to enable it to be put in effective operation on the other, presents a real problem that try men's souls. I sincerely hope that the pleasure of retrospection which your guests now have and the gratitude of all who are interested in the victory—and that includes a majority of their fellow citizens—will be a reward commensurate with the task they have passed."

"The dinner given 'The Blue Spangled Banner' and then Treasurer Young proposed the toast of the president in these words: "To our splendid men and able assistants of the most exalted position among citizens on earth—Theodore Roosevelt."

The toast was received with enthusiasm.

In response to a toast, Treasurer Sheldon said:

"I believe that the election of Judge Taft was a business proposition, a matter of the greatest importance to business men of the country. He is a man of this caliber and a man of this caliber."

BLATZ BEER

MILWAUKEE

Words of Praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Blatz" refers you.

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Blatz Beer of Milwaukee in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

Viola Sharp, two-year-old daughter of Albert Sharp, was drowned in a lateral of the Arizona Irrigation canal near Phoenix the other day. The body of the child was discovered floating down stream long after life was extinct.

While playing about an irrigating ditch less than a hundred feet from his home where his mother was at work, Willie, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tatum, of Winslow, fell in and was drowned the early part of the week.

Men are just busy at work closing up right of way contracts across Indian lands in San Juan county, Arizona, which the big dikes of the Cotton and Lower companies will pass. Construction contracts will be let in two weeks for this big project which will reclaim 10,000 acres of land adjacent to Arizona.

The greatest business and industrial center of the state of Arizona is Phoenix, which has been named the "City of the Future." The great work of construction is expected to begin in April. The funds will be collected from the various lands over the United States during the month of January.

P. A. Drake, of Tucson, who has spent $1,000 trying to locate the estate of his supposed ancestor, Sir Francis Drake, has received a letter from the supreme court of England saying that he better not give credence to any stories about millions left by the explorer. The English man thus has $1,000 worth of valuable experience.

Conductor W. W. Speedel of the "Pacifier," is in the Prescott hospital suffering with severe injuries sustained at Ash Fork. Speedel was crossing a trestle to board his own train which was stationary when No. 7 came thundering along. He jumped and landed on the pilot of his own train, being hit by No. 7 while it was en route around the curve. He was thrown from the train and his life is in peril.

Phoenix, Ariz., comes to the front with a harrowing story of a prospector named Galbraith who single-handed, fought two wildcats for two hours on the edge of a cliff and then made them both down an avalanche.

BARTENDERS FINED FOR WORKING ON SUNDAY

Fifteen Dollars and Costs Penalty for Violation of Famous New Mexico Statute.

Dick Carter, John Brady and Chas. Ross, bartenders, appeared in the district court yesterday afternoon either in person or through their attorneys, and were fined fifteen dollars and costs each, for alleged violation of the Sunday closing law. The fine and costs were amount to about thirty-five dollars for each man. The three men were indicted by the grand jury on a charge of having sold liquor on Sunday. Peter Ghoni, who was indicted by the grand jury on three counts for selling liquor to minors appeared in court and was fined fifteen dollars and costs for each offense.

Wife Sues for Divorce Filed.
Mrs. Charlotte Ewing Van Eman, through her attorneys, Kink and Owen, yesterday afternoon filed a suit in the district court, asking for a decree of divorce from her husband, Theophilus William Van Eman, Jr. The complaint alleges that the couple were married in Pittsburgh, Pa., July 15, 1905, and resided in that city and also in other places in Pennsylvania, and in the West Indies and New Mexico. Mrs. Van Eman alleges in the complaint that her husband has been guilty of brutal and inhuman treatment towards her and has threatened on occasions to do her bodily harm, that he is an habitual drunkard and that he fails to properly provide for her needs and that he spends a large part of her income in drinking and gambling.

Assault Case Dismissed.
Manuel Apodaca was yesterday afternoon declared not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon upon a person of Francisco Gonzalez, by the jury which heard the testimony in the case brought against him by the territory on that charge. It was alleged that Apodaca had made an assault with a pistol upon Gonzalez on May 15 last, while playing Gonzales under arrest. Gonzalez in his testimony as chief witness for the prosecution, declared that the use of the gun in making the arrest was entirely unnecessary. The defense proved to the satisfaction of the jurors that Apodaca had remained within his rights in the matter and returned a verdict of not guilty. Apodaca was a constable in Bartles, where the trouble occurred. He was defended by W. C. Henshaw and the case for the territory was prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney Julius Staab. On trial for resisting arrest, Juan Sanchez, of Bartles, was placed on trial yesterday afternoon on a charge of resisting arrest at the hands of Deputy Sheriff Francisco Lopez. He was defended by Henshaw and the case for the territory was prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney Julius Staab and W. C. Henshaw and Sanchez is being defended by Attorney Amelito C. Ortiz. It is alleged that Sanchez was running a gambling game in Pedro Apodaca's saloon in Bartles, on Oct. 15th, 1907, and that he did not have the necessary license. It is alleged further that Lopez, in line of his duty, attempted to place Sanchez under arrest for violating the law, but Sanchez resisted strenuously. The case will be continued today.

CITY EMPLOYEES MUST AVOID THE RACE TRACK

Immediate Discharge Penalty Provided in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 3.—The city council of Los Angeles today issued an order that any city employee who is found on the active list at present or past, who was found to visit the race track or bet on the track, would be immediately discharged.

Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant milk secretion for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a precious safeguard for the system for baby's coming and removing the ordeal comparatively painless. It can be taken in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressing sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, and imaginary sickness or hot flashes before or after the period, or from catarrhal drain, prolapsus, ante-version or retro-version or other displacements of woman's organs from weakness of parts will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famous specific for woman's weakness and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest of live medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients are printed in plain English on its bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

TELLS HOW THE HOME MIXTURE IS PREPARED

Simple Prescription Which Is Easily Mixed at Home to Cure the Kidneys and Bladder.

The following prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles has no doubt been filled millions of times, viz: Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla, one-half ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at little cost and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime, drinking a full tumblerful of water after each dose. It is stated that this prescription is a positive remedy for kidney trouble and lame back, weak bladder and urinary difficulties, especially of the elderly people, and one of the best things to be used in rheumatic affections, relieving the aches and pains and reducing swellings. A well known authority states that this mixture acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys; cleanses these spongy organs and gives them power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood which is the cause of rheumatism.

If your back or sides ache and you suspect kidney trouble it would be wise to try this for a few days.

STRANGE STORY OF DEATH PACT

Mrs. Rice in Rustin Murder Trial Tells How Despondent Physician Begged Her to Kill Him.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

On Thursday, Dec. 3.—The evidence given today by Mrs. Abbie R. Rice and the vigorous efforts of counsel for the defense to exclude that part of it concerning Charles E. Davis, the defendant, with the killing of Dr. Frederick T. Rustin, were the features of the trial of Davis for the physician's murder the morning of September 2.—Two or three minor witnesses were called just after court convened this morning and Mrs. Rice occupied the stand and the remainder of the day. Her recital of the story of her relations with the dead surgeon was not less dramatic than on the two former occasions when she had been asked to give the details of an alleged pact to destroy three lives. Twice during the day the witnesses and jury were dismissed while counsel argued points of law as to the admissibility of different portions of her evidence, and in each instance the story seemed a vivid cut victory. By a ruling made on the last point raised the bars are let down for the hearing of Mrs. Rice's entire story, which will include that part wherein Dr. Rustin is alleged to have told her he had secured Davis to kill him.

Once during the narrative, when she referred to Rustin's mother, Mrs. Rice broke into tears but soon regained her good memory for details. Mrs. Rice had reached the point where Davis was brought into her story when she was excused for the day.

The defendant sat near his attorney, listening attentively to the proceedings and on his right were his two brothers, one of whom, Frederick H. Davis, is vice-president of the First National bank and the other, Latham Davis, a prominent capitalist. The latter took notes for the counsel of the defense.

Summer Reached After Collision.
Victoria, B. C., Dec. 3.—The steamer "Charmar" was in collision with the tug "Bernada" at 1:20 this afternoon off Vancouver. The passengers were taken off and the "Charmar," which commenced to sink after the collision, was beached on the north shore near Vancouver.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OLD; $1 FINE PER YEAR
Watch Stolen by Enterprising Young Woman Found Beneath Cushion in Santa Fe Chair Car.

A young woman giving the name of Anna King was arraigned in police court yesterday morning on the charge of stealing a watch belonging to one W. H. Brown.

"How old are you?" asked the court after the case against the woman had been presented.

"Twenty-five years, your honor," she replied.

"Twenty-five dollars fine," said the court succinctly. "One dollar a year is a fair assessment."

Brown complained to Policeman George Highmarch, who arrested the woman, just after she was comfortably ensconced in the chair car on train No. 9, bound for that door El Paso, Texas.

The woman denied the theft, but a little search revealed the watch under the cushion of the car seat.

GETS FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR LOSS OF LEG

Santa Fe Company Compromises Case of Five Year Old Lad Injured at Local Station

George Hakim, father and guardian of Louis Hakim, the five-year-old lad who was run down by a Santa Fe train in this city on October 26th, last, and had his right leg so badly crushed that amputation was necessary, was yesterday awarded a judgment in the sum of $5,000, as a result of a compromise effected between Hakim and the Santa Fe company. Several weeks ago Hakim filed a suit in the district court, asking for $35,000 to compensate him for the injuries sustained by his son. The suit was not brought to trial, however, as the parties to the suit compromised. The Santa Fe company agreeing to enter judgment to the sum of $5,000 providing Hakim would release the company from all further claims for damages. In an answer filed to the complaint made by Hakim at the time of the filing of his suit, the Santa Fe company denied all the allegations made by Hakim, who alleged that the company's servants and agents had been negligent and careless in their duty.

George K. Kink and John A. Wilson appeared as attorneys for the plaintiff, and R. E. Twitcheall for the defendant.

PUEBLO PAPER CONCERN LOSES HEAVILY IN FIRE

Pueblo, Colo., Dec. 3.—Fire believed to have originated from an overheated furnace totally destroyed the building and stock of the Hydro-Paper company, 100-102 South Victoria avenue in this city this afternoon.

Fireman James Mullarkey was struck by the heavy nozzle of a hose and severely injured. It is believed that he will recover. The loss to stock is about $50,000, and to the building about $10,000, about half covered by insurance.

WOMAN SAVES SCOTCH PASSENGER FROM DEATH

New York, Dec. 3.—David Barne, of Dundee, Scotland, a passenger on the steamer "California," which arrived here today from Glasgow, narrowly escaped being washed overboard by a giant wave. He was reclining in a stationary chair on the upper deck when the wave picked him up. As the water was rushing with him he was seized by Mrs. William Angus, of Bayard, Cal., who held him until three sailors came to the rescue. Mr. Barne's shoulder was dislocated and he sustained many bruises.

Well Known Musician Dead.
Beardsley, N. D., Dec. 2.—Judge Francis Glider, brother of Richard Watson Glider, and well known as a musician, died here today, aged 71 years.

CURE IT IN ONE DAY.

Coughs and Colds Disappear Like Magic When Hyomel is Used.

If the thousands of people who suffer from hacking coughs and agonizing colds would arouse themselves sufficiently to follow this advice, they would cease to complain within 24 hours.

It is the advice, if you take it and you are afterwards sorry that you did it, won't cost you a penny. Go to J. H. O'Reilly, the druggist, and purchase from him a Hyomel (pronounced High-o-mel) outfit. It will only cost you $1.00. Take it home; use it according to directions; and if it does not cure your cough or cold take it back and J. H. O'Reilly will refund the purchase price.

When you use Hyomel you don't swallow nauseating drugs. You simply breathe in the soothing, pleasant and antiseptic Hyomel air through the little pocket inhaler that comes with each outfit. As this medicated air passes over the inflamed parts, relief comes almost at once, and cure follows.

Mary E. Bennett, Peru, Ind., writes: "I cannot speak too much in praise of your Hyomel treatment for catarrh. I have been using your remedy for about two weeks, and I have found more relief in that than anything that I have ever tried. I have spent dollar after dollar getting medicine of the doctor for a troublesome cough which I had, and have tried all kinds of cough syrups and cough tablets, and Hyomel is the only remedy that reached the spot. I had given up in despair, but I feel as though I have a new lease on my life."

Hyomel is also guaranteed by the J. H. O'Reilly Co. to cure catarrh, croup, grip, and asthma and all diseases of the nose and throat.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 3.—The constant fluctuation of prices in today's stock market made it puzzling to discern the prevailing tone of the speculation. The pressure to sell was much less pronounced than late yesterday. This fact formed the basis for some efforts to get prices to a high level, which, as often, were frustrated by the lying out of the movement as prices got nearer. On the occasional declines there developed a sufficient demand to check the tendency and rally prices. The constant change in the course of the price movement afforded a harvest for the traders who were sufficiently agile to turn with the tide. Their profits, however, were largely at the expense of other traders less agile. Call loans advanced to three per cent. Government operations through the subtreasury have taken from the banks since the last bank statement $5,628,000 including a withdrawal of government deposits with the banks early in the week. Payment for the gold shipped to France today is not included in the withdrawals to date. The tight effect produced on the foreign exchange market by the gold shipment makes it evident that further shipments will be made. New bond issues continue to be announced and bankers report a large demand for their offerings. Indicating the good appetite of capital for these investments. There was selling here of stocks of foreign account in spite of the easier tone of the London discount market based on the failure to advance the official discount rate of the Bank of England. Incoming reports of railroad net earnings for October indicate that the September rate of improvement was not fully maintained at that time, other gross or net, the decrease in gross being larger and the increase in net by curtailment of operating expenses smaller than in the earlier comparisons. The latest returns of gross earnings for November, also, although comparing with the period last year when the depression began to make itself felt, show no growth in the rate of increase over earlier periods. BREAD FROM THIS BAKERY

Isn't like the ordinary baker's bread. It doesn't dry up in a little while and be fit only for toast. Our bread stays fresh and moist as long as the best homemade. Try a loaf for a test.
You'd better lock it up, however.
Our bread is so good it doesn't have a chance to get stale where people can get at it.

Lard is a Foe to Digestion

Pork in any form is indigestible, and most people cannot eat it without subsequent discomfort. It therefore follows that food prepared from lard, which is nothing more or less than hog-fat, is of necessity indigestible.

Cottolene is made from Cotton Seed oil refined so perfectly that it is absolutely neutral in odor and taste.

You know how rich and nourishing Olive oil is. Do you know that cotton seed oil and olive oil are almost exactly the same in chemical properties? Olive oil is too expensive for general use in frying and shortening—Cottolene gives the same results.

Having no odor or flavor, and taking up none, Cottolene once melted up can be used over and over again.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top to keep it clean, fresh and whole-some, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

Cook Book Free For a 2c stamp, to pay postage, we will mail you our new "PURE FOOD COOK BOOK," edited and compiled by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln, the famous Food Expert, and containing nearly 300 valuable recipes.

THE SAME OLD TROUBLE.

The difficulty that the new bill meets is expected to encounter in the matter of the speaker'ship is no new trouble. It is the same old difficulty that the house has had to contend with before—and it is not even in a new guise—it has merely rolled over and turned the other side toward us.
Formerly, as it presented itself to us, it showed such a lack of power on the part of the speaker, that any half-dozen members of the house, by dilatory tactics, were able, by dilatory tactics and other well known parliamentary tricks, to tie up the whole
business of the nation indefinitely.
That made it necessary that the power
should be lodged somewhere to cut
such knots in some summary manner,
and let the wheels of business begin to turn again. This necessity led to the adoption of what we have ever since called the "Reed rules." These
curbed the malady we were then suffering from, but it effected the cure
in such a drastic manner that a great
many persons now think the remedy
deficient. The adoption of the new rules made Tom Reed the year, and
thereafter the house was able to do
only what he wanted to have done.
And Uncle Joe merely succeeded to the
same power which the house at that
time voted into the hands of Reed.

Originally there was no such power
within the grasp of the individual
member that if the house would not
act upon his bill he could tie up business in such a tight knot that nothing
else could be done, and thus make a
change in the rules absolutely necessary—but the "Reed rules," in asserting the house so wide off from reality, caused it to sail plumb into Charley-die. There is an open channel, however, between the two, and it is not unreasonable to believe that there are enough good fellows aboard to enable the house to find it.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.

Not long after the close of the Irrigation Congress, and the arrival at home of the Canadian delegates, Dr.
McQueen, then foreign secretary,
received a very appreciative and gratifying letter from the governor general of Canada, complimenting the management in particular and New Mexico in general upon the success of the congress.

This letter was printed in The Morning Journal of November 23rd, and has drawn forth a good deal of highly favorable comment by reason of the fact that it does not stop with what might have been expected in a formal recognition of the situation
shown the delegates from Canada,
but is especially significant by reason of the fact that His Excellency, the Governor General, goes much further, and points out the great importance of far-reaching good to grow out of the congress, in that it may form, as he puts it, "the starting point of a procedure so well calculated to promote international comity and con-

NOTICE WINDOW DISPLAY.

ROSENWALD'S

Solos By the Second Fiddle

THE WAR department doesn't appear even mildly interested in the case of Pine Bluff, Ark.

LAS VEGAS is reported to be in the throes of an egg famine. The most exciting thing to happen in that town.

AFTER ALL, the Alameda and the Comptometer are about all the archaeology Santa Fe can stand at present.

THE LATEST from Bryan in the whirls of Mexico is a report that he has just emerged from a land in hand fight with a bear. He just had to take it out on something.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt has ordered four pairs of boots made to order for his African trip. Can it be possible he is going to kick the elephants to death?

PROBABLY that elephant which ran amok in New York was vainly trying to equal the performance of the G. O. P. pachyderm in that city on election day.

THE TERRIBLE new, come from Findlay, O., that the cabbage crop is short and the supply of sauerkraut in the country will be one-third as large as usual this year.

THE RON, EM, is too anxious to get that archeological school. There must be a colored man in the foot pyramid. Perhaps he plans to assume a new income by exhibiting the Alameda in the main show case.

THE STATISTICS bend now heads
at us as the frightful fact that if made into play the apple crop of 1908 would reach 925,000,000. Undoubtedly
New Mexico apples would cover about 92,500 of those miles.

THIS INVESTIGATION of the octopus is really disappointing. It is beginning to reveal the unsuspected fact that next to Abe Lincoln and Andrew Carnegie, John D. Rockefeller is the country's greatest benefactor.

A NEW YORK man claims to be able to prove that Paul Revere never made any midnight ride. In this iconoclastic age they will be most delectable that Carle Nation never had a butch and Lincoln never told a story in his life.

THE PHOENIX Republican tells of the arrival in that city of Frank Annie, "The Human Fish," whose body
this fisher's staid and respectable newspaper declares is covered with scales like a fish. This is a tough one to come from such a dry country as Phoenix.

AN OLD MAN of Portland, Ind., says that his beard has been growing
since 1862 without the intervention of a single salivary barber. Evidently another one of those foolish notions which have made him relative to the election of Hayes.

COACH, Galbraith, of the Arizona University football team, speaks in an interview of the "exaggerated self respect" in which New Mexico holds herself. It memory serves correctly
the exaggerated self respect of Arizona waxed almost hysterical at the time a proposition for foot statehood
was in the public eye some years ago.

RABBI LEVY of Chicago, must be susceptible to the gentle influence of the equine mind. He says that in choosing a wife the following ratio is necessary:

"Ability to cook with 75 per cent;
physical beauty, 70 per cent; dress, 5
per cent."
This schedule would cut down the dressmaker's and the milliner's bill
but there would be something doing with the grocer.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., is in a ferment because it is alleged a twelve foot cistern is rising gradually out of the ground. In fact they make attempts as much as five over a cistern in it were in Kentucky. Various theories are advanced to account for the rise of the cistern. Some attribute it to the activity of the Anti-Saloon league and others declare that the grave of a well known old toper of Springfield is directly beneath the reservoir. Anyhow thousands of people according to the Springfield correspondent are anxious to watch the cistern rise. But some newspaper correspondents sometimes see things more when they are stationary. This is a case where Missouri will have to show us.

What the Editors of the Southwest Are Saying

FOX WIFE.
When a woman says that her husband is clever it means that she runs him.—St. John's Herald.

Worrying Along.
For a country that is about 1,500,
and short of the necessary number of

real respect and esteem, grounded upon the solid basis of spiritual understanding.

That sentiment to Lord Grey, expression what may, and likely will prove to be one of the most valuable results of the Irrigation Congress—
valuable not only to this community,
and to the territory of New Mexico,
but to the whole civilized world, in laying the foundation for the promotion of the cause of international comity and mutual esteem. And what greater reward could be asked by the people of this city and this territory for the labor and money
with which they executed the Irrigation Congress with signal success, than the consciousness of having originated
and given to the people of the world,
and to the generations to come after us, a feature of international policy,
program of good will and more generous conditions for the entire human family?

Many of our readers may not be aware of the fact, but the work of
building the line which is familiarly
known to the most of us as the "Albuquerque Eastern," is now in actual
progress, but it is going on quietly
and with no little firm about it. And it attracts very little attention. And the fact that so little noise is made
about it is one of the most encouraging features of the situation. We have seen several roads built up the canyon, on paper, but the way the pro-

liamentary tricks, to tie up the whole
business of the nation indefinitely.
That made it necessary that the power
should be lodged somewhere to cut
such knots in some summary manner,
and let the wheels of business begin to turn again. This necessity led
to the adoption of what we have ever
since called the "Reed rules." These
curbed the malady we were then suffering from, but it effected the cure
in such a drastic manner that a great
many persons now think the remedy
deficient. The adoption of the new rules made Tom Reed the year, and
thereafter the house was able to do
only what he wanted to have done.
And Uncle Joe merely succeeded to the
same power which the house at that
time voted into the hands of Reed.

Originally there was no such power
within the grasp of the individual
member that if the house would not
act upon his bill he could tie up business in such a tight knot that nothing
else could be done, and thus make a
change in the rules absolutely necessary—but the "Reed rules," in asser-

THE WORK IS IN PROGRESS.

Many of our readers may not be
aware of the fact, but the work of
building the line which is familiarly
known to the most of us as the "Albuquerque Eastern," is now in actual
progress, but it is going on quietly
and with no little firm about it. And
it attracts very little attention. And
the fact that so little noise is made
about it is one of the most encouraging features of the situation. We have

LOOK BEHIND THE CROWN.

The old saying is, "as that looked a crowning Providence. He takes a smiling face, and an excellent time to think of that is when you find yourself caught out, as you probably did yesterday, noon, over so many blocks from home, with your new hat
on and your umbrella as usual at the other end of the line, and you "blatter" to the police of the soft rain overhead." It is a trying situation, and about the only thing you can do is to turn the frowning side to the wall,
and look at the smile—think of the richness which the earth is storing up for next summer by reason of these frequent showers of rain and snow,
and of the beautiful harvests which they are putting in, and for the thousands of our fellow citizens who otherwise might be strongly tempted to doubt the promise that their bread
shall be given them and their water shall be sure. There is something of exasperating reason that we grumble about this winter, will accuse ourselves through the "mild nights" into, numerous harvests
next summer, as the republicans expect to evolve the beautiful butterfly.

DIPHTHERIA EPIDEMIC.

The diphtheria scourge has assumed such threatening proportions in Chicago that the health commissioners have felt it necessary to appeal to the police department for assistance. In his fight with the disease, in the Record-Herald of Monday we find
the following in regard to the situation, from which it will be seen that the case is becoming quite serious:
"Dr. W. A. Evans, health commissioner, last night explained to a delegation of fifteen police lieutenants,
fifteen desk sergeants and fifteen patrol sergeants details by which they may aid in preventing the spread of contagious disease, particularly diptheria. His address, made at the Englishwood police station, was listened to by representatives of every district in the city.

"The new scheme will go into operation today. Culture tubes and antitoxin for use in diphtheria cases will be sent to all the police stations. Physicians are expected to co-operate with the police.

"Diphtheria can be prevented and can be absolutely cured if the antitoxin is administered early enough," explained Dr. Evans. "As soon as a physician reports a case of suspected diphtheria a policeman must take a culture tube with him. When the physician obtains the culture the policeman will take it to the city laboratory, where the amount of antitoxin required for that particular case is determined. The policeman then reports back to the physician.

"The policemen are also expected to enforce strict quarantine. They will post notices of quarantine and inspect the family concerning the law. Then it is the policeman's duty to keep an close watch on the place
as his duties will permit, and if he sees a slight violation of the regulations arrests are to be made."

THE AGE OF NIAGARA FALLS.
In the current issue of Science,
Prof. J. W. Spencer defends an opinion advanced last year, but recently disputed by other geologists, concerning the length of time during which America's best-known natural has existed. The estimate of the interval is thirty-three thousand years, which is considerably more than that of Prof.
George E. Wright, who makes it even thirty thousand years, but far less than Prof.
Grove R. Gilbert's estimate of about six hundred and fifty thousand years.

At attempts to solve this fascinating problem are based on a well established fact. As the Niagara river is underlain by the same rock which it tumbles, and as the uppermost stratum of rock breaks away in consequence, the position of the falls is continually changing. It is now fully seven miles from Lewiston, where the falls terminated. Obviously, if the history of the natural falls from the time when it began to cut its way backward from that point—an assumption which is probably warranted—and if the retreat has been at a uniform rate, computation of the age of the falls would be a comparatively simple task. Since the late Prof. James Hall charted their location, in 1842, they have receded two hundred and fifty feet, an average of about four feet annually.

The erosive work of the river, however, has not been regular, as some geologists once took for granted. Indeed, it has been exceedingly variable,
and it is the lack of uniformity which embarrasses those who seek to determine how old the falls are.

THIS IS CLEARLY GENUINE.

Counting oranges by spirit aid as they are dropped from a bag behind him does not appeal to Arthur Maltby,
an author of London, who addresses
the Metropolitan Psychological Society
through the New York Herald, yet
he has something interesting to say about shadowland.

"I may tell you," he continues,
"that I have had an absolutely direct communication with the other world.
I am what is called an automatic writer, as William T. Stead would say, although I do not believe in it. I should like to have your opinion. I was writing an American story when my hand suddenly seemed as if paralyzed and automatically wrote, 'America will conquer the whole world and all the world will speak its language.'
And then followed the signature,
'George Washington.'"

That bears internal evidence of its genuineness. It sounds just like George.

THE ONE THING NEEDED.

What the country needs most of all
at the present moment, says the Kansas City Journal, is not from lack of all kinds. Mr. Taft has said that the prosperity of the whole country depends on the prosperity of the railroads. The railroads need only to be let alone to be given time to recover from a knockout blow. If let alone they will work out their own destiny, and with it the splendid desires of the nation will keep even pace.
Not only the railroads, but the whole country needs rest and sunshine and agitation and the industrial storms
which are their inevitable consequence.

NOT A TREATY.

The agreement between the United States and Japan, as to the course to be pursued toward China, is not a "treaty," but merely "an exchange of notes," and that is practically a "discretion" without a distinction. A treaty would have had to go to the senate to be acted upon by that body,
while in an exchange of notes no legislative action of any kind is necessary, and the agreement becomes effective at once. While the present action is not a treaty, its binding force will be understood from the fact that it is recorded in the same status in American history as the Monroe doctrine—and that would be upheld by the United States, though it might take the whole army and navy of the country to do it.

Hayt is on the border of anarchy,
and every move in the tragic drama
being played there emphasizes the plain duty of the United States—to act promptly and take such measures
as shall strengthen the constitutional government, enable it to restore law
and order and prevent an impending unhindered carnival of bloodshed.

The Low-down Things.

It does not all how successful most of the democratic editors of the territories are now becoming over Mr.
Andrew's promise that if returned to congress he would secure statehood for the approaching short session. One is almost led to suspect that they don't believe Mr. Andrew will be able to keep his promise and that they are glad of it.—Socorro Chieftain.

GOVERNMENT DYKE GIVES WAY AT PINE BLUFF

Dynamiting Operations Result in Fresh Break in Levee Before Threatened Arkansas Town.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Pine Bluff, Ark., Dec. 3.—Unable to withstand the continued pressure of the water hurled against it through the diverting of the current of the river by the dynamiting operations of last night, the government dyke at the foot of Alabama street, several blocks south of the former dam, was washed away tonight for a distance of 200 yards and the strip bank at this point with the entire force of the swollen stream striking against it, is fast crumbling into the river. Great portions are tumbling at rapid intervals and the roar of the river and the raving banks is heard for a great distance. An entire block of business houses has been abandoned and smaller buildings are being rolled away. Several already overhanging the brink, will doubtless collapse before tomorrow. East of the river, a scene of desolation and efforts are being made to remove the stock of the business houses and household goods to a place of safety.

Late tonight dynamites resumed their work of blowing away the north bank, opposite Pine Bluff, in an effort to further divert the current and relieve the present endangered section of the city.

SUIT TO SUPPRESS COAL TRUST

Witness Tells of President Baer
of Reading Road Keeping Down Price to Protect Poor
Consumers.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

New York, Dec. 3.—In the government's suit against the alleged combination of coal-carrying railroads for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, C. D. Simpson, of Scranton, Pa., today told of a deal for the collection of his firm, Simpson & Watkins, with Robert Bacon, representing J. P. Morgan & Co. Mr. Simpson said his company was at liberty to ship coal over either road when they were two roads reaching a colliery. He said he had advocated that the railroads buy the coal from individual operators at their mines.

"How did you come to sell your colliery to the Temple Iron company?"

"I met Robert Bacon of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. in H. McK. Tompkins' office. He asked me how much I would take for the colliery and I told him."

"What did he say?"

"He said it was too much. I said they could accept my figure or not."

"When did you see Bacon again?"

"I never saw him again. We got a certified check from the Guaranty Trust company. I did not know then we had sold out to the Temple Iron company."

Mr. McKevoy, summing up the testimony of the witness said that it showed that the railroads in the combination forced the independent coal operators into contracts which had the independent bound to the railroads so long as the mines produced coal.

According to Mr. Simpson, the seven collieries for which he and his associates got $5,000,000 in cash and stock have since been shown to contain 10,000,000 tons of coal. They had to return $1,000,000 of the stock, as their contribution of working capital, so that their total for the sale of the mines worth $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 was $5,000,000.

Questioned about a contract with the Philadelphia and Reading railroad following the big strike of 1907, by which the road was to take all his coal at the following price of 65 per cent of the selling price, Mr. Simpson said:

"After the strike we could get almost any price for the coal, ten dollars to twenty dollars a ton, but President George F. Baer, of the Philadelphia and Reading road wanted to keep the price down. He wanted the railroad price kept at about $2 per ton. I protested and he said we were getting out 65 per cent. I knew that, but we could not get ten dollars or more a ton then. Who'd protect the poor if the price of coal is put up now?" asked President Baer. I replied: "You protect the poor, if you want to, and I'll protect the rich."

Mr. Simpson said he and his associates were finally released from their contract and thereafter sold their coal at the highest price they could obtain.

The hearing will be resumed tomorrow.

ARMORY DEDICATED WITH PROPER CEREMONY

SECRETARY JAFFA THE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Handsomeness of National Guard Formerly Turned Over to Territory Before Good Sized Crowd.

Albuquerque's splendid new $25,000 national guard armory and convention hall was formally dedicated last night with appropriate and impressive ceremonies in the presence of a good sized crowd which would have been larger but for the inclemency of the weather. As Governor Curry is in Washington, Secretary of the Territory Nathan Jaffa in his stead presided over the building from the armory's board of control for the territory.

The new armory building is the finest edifice of its kind in the south-west and that it is splendidly adapted for the holding of large gatherings was proven when the sessions of the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress were held there in September and October. The lot was purchased and the building erected through a territorial appropriation and a donation of some $17,000 by the public spirit of citizens of Albuquerque. The building is one of the most important public improvements accomplished in Albuquerque during the past decade and will be adequate to the demand for a large hall for public gatherings for many years to come.

The exercises were opened with an invocation by the First Regiment band following which the invocation was pronounced by Captain Fletcher Cook, chaplain of Company G, Secretary Jaffa delivered the dedication address and formally accepted the tender of the building in the name of Governor Curry and the territory of New Mexico. Mr. Jaffa delivered a scholarly and forcible speech in the course of which he covered a good deal of ground on matters important to the organization and maintenance of the national guard. The speech was well received and Mr. Jaffa received hearty applause at its conclusion. Major R. Ruppel followed Mr. Jaffa, making a few remarks on what had been accomplished by the national guard of Albuquerque and what he hoped would be accomplished by the organization now that it has such an excellent armory. Major Ruppel made a plea to his hearers to assist in the work of furthering the interests of the organization in Albuquerque by encouraging young men to become members.

The presentation of the company flag was made by Adjutant General A. P. Tarkenton and First Lieutenant David R. Lane, of Company G. The colors were then raised on a temporary flagstaff which had been erected inside of the armory. The raising of the flag was the signal for three trumpets to sound a patriotic air which was followed by the rendition of the national hymn by the First Regiment band. Captain Fletcher Cook, chaplain of Company G, then made a brief address, addressing his remarks mainly to the members of the guard who were present. Rev. Mr. Cook's remarks were words of encouragement and help to the guardsmen and were listened to with marked attention. Colonel E. W. Dubois of the army board, was then called upon to make a short address on behalf of that body. Mr. Dubois said that the building which is to house the national guard is a credit to any city, and that he looks for the people of Albuquerque to take increased interest in the affairs of the organization as a result of the permanent home which has been dedicated to its use.

After a selection by the First Regiment band, the large floor was cleared of the chairs which had been placed for convenience of the audience and a ten-piece orchestra struck up a lively air, dancing being indulged in by a large number of couples until a late hour. Altogether the dedication exercises were a brilliant success and, if the enthusiasm and interest manifested last night are any indication of the future activity of the national guard in Albuquerque, it will not doubt reach the state of efficiency which has been so long desired by those who have taken an interest in the organization for many years past.

CLANSMAN HERE ON DECEMBER 14

Original New York Company,
After Two Successful Seasons,
Now on Tour of the West.

Local theater-goers are kindly interested in the announcement that the original New York company and production of "The Clansman" will be seen at the Elks theater on December 14th. This is the famous Ku Klux Klan play that turned the country upside down with its thrilling story of the reconstruction era in the south. The management has every reason to expect a capacity audience, and those who wish to make sure of seeing "The Clansman" should send in their mail orders or call at Madison's as soon as possible.

"The Clansman" holds the record of being the most widely discussed play produced within the last fifty years. It has been variously described as an "answer" and as a "sequel"

of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." In reality it is the plain story of the reconstruction struggle in South Carolina as told to him by eye witnesses.

The hero of the play, which is dramatized from the famous novel "The Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman," is a young and gallant leader of the Ku Klux. Opposed to him are an ambitious politician and a white abolitionist from Pennsylvania whose daughter the young white man seeks in marriage. The first act shows the young "Ku Klux" (sofisticated authority by tearing down a mischievous "social equality" proclamation, and the second shows the effect of his ancestral homestead to satisfy taxes levied by the carpet-bagger government. In the third act the Ku Klux Klan convenes in a mountain cave to perform their mystic ritual and act as a high court of justice.

The last act shows the multi-headed governor of South Carolina confronting the abolitionist, a friend and protector, with a demand for the hand of the latter's daughter. The effect is electrical. The old man springs the presumptions, and forbids him ever to approach his home again, and says that four thousand years of Caucasian development have fitted his own family for something better than to end in a head of mulatto brats. This rouses the politician to fury, but the timely arrival of the Ku Klux, headed by the girl's white lover, saves the northerner and rescues his daughter from a compulsory and degrading marriage.

The author of "The Clansman" has repeatedly offered to forfeit a thousand dollars and withdraw the play from the boards if any one can prove that his picture of the historical conditions in South Carolina in 1867 is not strictly accurate. He says: "I went to a mediocre theater one day and saw a presentation of 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' which so deeply hurt the white people of the south, I determined to put the other side of the situation before the American public and I have succeeded."

In addition to its bearing on southern history, "The Clansman" is described as an excellent entertainment. The last proof of this is the splendidly crowded audiences that have witnessed the play throughout its southern tour and its magnificent reception in New York City and Chicago. The scenic production is one of the largest used on the road while the big company includes all of the New York favorites, among them Franklin Ritchie, Eugene Hayden, George M. Cohan, Maude Durand, Harry May, Edna May, George M. Cohan, M. J. Jordan, Edna May, George M. Cohan, Clara McManis, Joseph L. Stevens, Earl Ritchie, this Ingels and Harry Quinlan.

QUARANTINE GOES IN ROOSEVELT

Glanders Infected District Will Be Placed Under Ban Until
the Epidemic Has Been Mastered.

Victor Culbertson, of Silver City, a member of the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary board, arrived in Albuquerque yesterday to join the other members of the board in the discussion relating to the epidemic of glanders in Roosevelt county. All members of the board are now here and it is probable that the campaign against this epidemic will be completely outlined today.

Yesterday the board determined to institute at once a rigid quarantine against the infected counties. Whether it will be necessary to go further and place the infected counties under a complete ban, is a question which will be decided by the board after the assistance of the Bureau of Animal Industry and the board will then pursue such further measures as it may be necessary to take.

POSTOFFICE RUSH BEGINS EARLY

Postmaster Hopkins Urges Patrons
to Come to the Register Windows Early to Avoid Crush at Closing Hour.

The holiday season, or at least the buying end of it, has set in with full force in Albuquerque and in that connection a mournful cry for assistance is going up from the overworked post office employees, who are the first to feel the effects of the rush.

Thus far the volume of business being done is not as great as it will be later, but much of it is delayed until the closing hour, and the money order and registry clerks are forced to work at high tension in order to take care of the crowd before the closing hour.

"It would be a very great accommodation to the post office employees, and would insure better service if the people could come to the office a little earlier in the afternoon," said Postmaster Hopkins yesterday afternoon.

"It seems to be the tendency to come to the post office the last thing, whether one happens to be shopping or just tending to business. The result is that with the holiday season coming on, when the money order and registry clerks are always rushed, there is such a crowd during the last hour of business that we can hardly take care of it. It will facilitate the service if the people will transmit their registry and money order business a little earlier in the day."

The beginning of the holiday rush at this early date indicates that Albuquerque people are active in for Christmas.

HOMESEEKERS ARE COMING HERE IN DROVES

Twitchell Says Coming Winter
Will See the Greatest Rush of Land Hunters on Record.

"The coming winter will probably see the greatest rush of homeseekers New Mexico and the southwest has ever known," said Colonel Ralph E. Twitchell, who returned to Albuquerque last night from a stay of several days in Chicago. Col. Twitchell is here to supervise the publication of the proceedings of the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress, and which are soon to be printed by the Morning Journal press.

"On the train which brought me here," said Colonel Twitchell, "there were six hundred homeseekers" etc. etc. There were five of these trains leaving Kansas City over the Santa Fe the night we came out, bound for the west and southwest. Of course all of these people did not come to New Mexico. They are scattered all over the southwest from Oklahoma to southern California. But several hundred have come to New Mexico and they are the advance guard of a small army that will come in during the winter months when, with their crops on the farm, back home put safely away the farmers start out to look for new fields.

"There is a distinct improvement in the class of land hunters now coming into New Mexico. They are no longer confined to the men without funds, seeking a free homestead from the government. Back in the eastern states are many farmers of means who are renting farms for their sons and who still have some without land enough for all. Lots of these men are coming to the southwest where they have found they can buy good land cheaper than they can rent poor land for in the east. They are buying it too, in large tracts and it will be but a short time until we will see the effects of this new movement in increased land values and greater agricultural average. The inquiries being received by the Santa Fe indicate that it will carry its record breaking business in homeseekers during the coming winter."

"Everywhere I go I find talk of the irrigation congress and Albuquerque it seems to me the advertising grows and grows constantly even though the congress is long since over. We will feel the direct benefits of this event for a long time."

"There is doubt as to the passage of a statehood bill at the short session of congress, the short session offering many opportunities for delay by those who may oppose it. However, I do not believe there is any question as to the passage of a bill by the next congress. New Mexico has gained much in the popular favor of eastern people during the past two years and the old time prejudice against us is gone."

CAMERON IS SURE A STATEHOOD BILL WILL PASS

Arizona Delegate-Elect Says
There Is Every Reason to Expect Success and Few to Indicate Failure.

Ralph J. Cameron, Arizona's delegate-elect to the next congress, and the first republican who has carried that territory since the proverbial Hecker was a Puppy, spent half an hour last night in Albuquerque visiting his old friend George Smith at the Alvarado and making some new friends. Mr. Cameron is going to Washington to stay there. He has spent much time in the national capital, but never as a member of congress and he is going back to get used to the feeling.

Also, Mr. Cameron is going now because he says he has a haunting hope that he will never be allowed to take his seat, or if he takes it that it will not be for long. This does not mean that he is going to contest for the seat to institute a contest. Far from it. Mr. Smith had quite a respectable majority against him. But Mr. Cameron is so sure that Arizona and likewise New Mexico are to be admitted at the short session of congress that he does not think any delegate has any right to stay.

"From all the information I can obtain in Arizona," said Mr. Smith, "there is every reason to expect passage of the two territories at the next session and small reason for doubting that we will be successful. Of course there are always the possibilities for delay, but I am hoping for the best and am going to Washington to see what I can do to help it along."

Mr. Cameron says the three months during which he was smothering the state of the democratic majority in Arizona were the most enjoyable he ever spent.

"I enjoyed every minute of it," he said last night as he got aboard the eastbound limited, and the Arizona delegate looked as if he meant it and would like to make the campaign again.

DEALERS STRONG ON BIG BANQUET BY VALUES BROTHERHOOD

Boston Wool Market Firm; Good Business in New York; Little Trading of Importance in St. Louis.

The American Stockman gives the following resume of conditions in some of the leading centers of the wool trade.

In the Boston Market.
The business being accomplished here this week is unquestionably smaller than that of last week, but notwithstanding, there is a very fair volume still being transacted. The market is firmer all around, and dealers are distinctly strong on values. With a higher basis in force, it is but natural that some operators should lessen their purchases. The sales will be only aggregate amounts of 10,000 to 15,000 pounds. Some manufacturers now have fair quantities of wool bought, while others have a comparatively tight supply still. Strange to relate, the former are in several instances taking wool as freely as those consumers who have taken practically no raw material.

Trading between dealers continues, although with not as much vim as during the previous two weeks. While the purchases of dealers may be classed as speculative it must be taken into consideration that lines of wool are being bought to replenish stocks that had been sold out or had been inadequate to the indicated needs of customers. In other words, dealers are now in a position to take care of the increasing wants of consumers, which seem to forecast active trading for some months. To supply this deficiency secured wools, valued at 40 to 50 cents, coming from fine to fine, which the strength developed at the recent sale, have been taken most satisfactorily.

The pleasing feature of the activity has been the demand for wools that can be disposed of without any difficulty whatever.

The reason for this greater demand for clothing wools is the relative cheapness of the latter as compared with staple lines. A year ago there was an approximate difference of 8 to 10 per cent between French and English combing wools, while at the present time the variance is 15 to 20 per cent.

New York Wool Market.
Although the majority of carpet manufacturers are still looking for lower prices on carpet wools, a fairly good business is being accomplished at dealers' rates. Carpets and rugs are being ordered quite satisfactorily, thus necessitating further purchases of raw material within the next few days. The strength developed at the Liverpool auction of East India wools lends additional force to dealers' demands for full prices. All buyers are insisting on value that have been asked for some time, but there are some dealers who feel that conditions warrant higher prices. Rids slightly under the market for several large lines have been seasonally reduced. Withdrawals from warehouses are increasing steadily, the total for the past week having been about 1,825,000 pounds, as compared with 272,600 ordered for consumption and 97,000 warehoused. About 100,000 pounds of China wool arrived here during the week. As the withdrawals are so large it is deduced that supplies in mills are becoming small. That the deduction seems to be correct is shown by the inquiries from both large and small manufacturers which are now coming forward with greater frequency.

St. Louis Wool Market.
A Boston dealer is reported to have been recently operating on this market, which is said to have acquired a large line of Soda Springs wool in the original bags running to fine and half blood. The price paid is understood to have been about 25 cents. In addition to the above, there has been little trading, but dealers are holding prices very firmly for higher rates.

SEVENTEEN PERISH IN NEWFOUNDLAND STORM

St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 3.—Seventeen persons have perished in a storm which has lashed the Newfoundland coast for forty-eight hours. In all ten fishing vessels have gone ashore, most of them breaking into fragments on the rocks. The victims were members of the crews of three of these craft. Nearly all of the drowned fishermen have families.

The storm caused much damage to wharves and boats in the numerous harbors.

THE THIRD LETTER FROM SANTA CLAUS

Toyland, Dec. 3, 1908.

My Dear Friends: I took yesterday to rummaging among the book counters at Strong's book store, and just here I want to say that next to giving a toy to one of the dear babies, nothing pleases me better than to present a book to one of my friends. In this literary and enlightening day most every one appreciates a book, and what is a more inspiring sight than to see a little library, growing larger and larger every year. "It is a man's duty to have books," says Carlisle, and old Santa proposes to encourage any desire in that line. Strong doesn't have everything in books, but he has a good many, and what he don't have he is mighty prompt to get for you. Here are some of the lines and they are worth looking over:

First of all are the new popular novels, such as "The Man From Brodney's," "The Crucible," "Peter," "Holy Orders," "Prisoners of Chance," "The Barrier," "Little Brown Jug of Kildare," "Mr. Crew's Career," "Lewia Rend," "The Shuttle," "Half-way House," etc.

Then there is one large table of nothing but popular copyrights, such as "Richard Carvel," "The Crisis," "Granstar," "Beverly of Graustark," "House of a Thousand Candles," "Lavender and Old Lace," "Port of Missing Men," "The Leopard's Spots," "The Pilgrim," and about a hundred more titles, all good, consisting of the most popular books published during the last five or six years. Just 25 cents per copy.

More than this, they have a large line of standard books at 25 cents per copy, gift top and nicely bound. There is also a big line of books for boys, Alger, Henty and other writers, at 25 cents and 25 cents. The present line of Alger books are beautifully illustrated with color plates, the best book you ever saw for the money. This is enough about books, today. Have a lot more to say later about sets and fine holiday bindings.

Student Race Riots Continue.

Vienna, Dec. 2.—Serious riots between the Czechs and Germans occurred at Brun this evening. The troops were called out to disperse the mobs, and many policemen and rioters were injured by stones and sabers.

RURAL LIFE MEET TO BE HELD

County Superintendent Stroup Acts on Suggestion of President Roosevelt and Farmers Will Confer.

Following out the suggestion made by President Roosevelt in connection with the work of the rural life commission, to the effect that farmers in all localities should meet regularly to discuss conditions in all localities and for mutual improvement, County Superintendent A. B. Stroup has announced a meeting to be held by the farmers of Bernadillo county in the court house at 2 p. m. in December 12. At this meeting live topics of vital interest to the farmer will be discussed including the efficiency of the county schools, farmers' organizations, farm labor, the need of good roads, improvement of the postal facilities, rural routes, etc., and sanitary conditions on the farm.

The farmers of Bernadillo have always responded promptly to such a suggestion as this and witness the large and enthusiastic meetings which discussed the sugar beet proposition, so that a large attendance is expected at the meeting December 12.

STIFF SENTENCE FOR NEGRO MAIL POUCH THIEF

FATHER AND SON Both Gained Health on Right Food.

A food that will build up the health of a man and that can be digested by a baby, certainly has value worth considering.

The following report from an Ohio wife and mother is to the point and interesting:

"My husband had suffered great agony from stomach trouble, at times, for five years. Finally, after six months in the hospital, he was operated on for appendicitis.

"From that time he grew weaker and thinner until, when we brought him home he was reduced from 145 to 105 lbs.

Then he began to eat for breakfast, Grape-Nuts with cream and a soft boiled egg. For dinner a dish of Grape-Nuts and cream, toasted bread and a glass of warm milk. For supper same as breakfast, with a baked potato, one or two plain eggs, and a glass of warm milk.

"After two months on this diet he had nearly regained his normal weight. He took half-hour exercises, and got plenty of sleep. He has no more trouble with his stomach, and can eat anything.

"These results induced me to try Grape-Nuts on my 6 months baby, who from birth had been fussy. Nothing seemed to agree with him, although we tried the whole list of Infant Foods.

"When I began to feed him Grape-Nuts with warm milk poured on to make it soft, he weighed only 12 lbs. After six weeks of this new diet he has gained 7 lbs. and is healthy and happy."
