ADHERENTS OF BAILEY KEPT TEXAS FLOOR

All Morning Opposing Investigation of Oil Charges.

NEW YORK JUDGES DIFFER ON BALLOT BOX CUSTODY

President Jordan of Stanford Opposes Exclusion of Japanese From the Country.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 14.—The adherents of Senator Bailey had the floor this morning in the debate about the resolution asking for an investigation of the charges made against him in connection with certain oil interests. Both sides claim the victory when the final vote shall come.

JUSTICES DIFFER ON BALLOT BOX CUSTODY.

New York, Jan. 14.—The ballot boxes containing the ballots cast for mayor in the city election of 1905 were today ordered by Justice Leventritt to be placed in the custody of the New York city board of elections. He thus vacated the order granted by Justice Hendrick which gave the boxes into the custody of Attorney General Jackson.

ATTORNEY HOLT SAVAGE AGAINST PRESIDENT SHEA.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Arguments commenced today in the Shea trial. Assistant Attorney Holt opened for the state. He denounced President Shea, of the teamsters' union, as the leader of the disreputable element in labor ranks.

STARR JORDAN SPEAKS IN BEHALF OF THE JAPS.

San Francisco, Jan. 14.—Not even congress could pass a Japanese exclusion act," said David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford university, in addressing a meeting at Equity hall last night, of socialists, by whom he had been invited to speak on the Asiatic problem. "No president would sign one, because it would be a hoodlum act."

Jordan quoted President Roosevelt as saying that as a general rule, "it paid for a nation to be gentlemen," and he was of the opinion that the remedy of immigration troubles did not lie in lawlessness, nor yet in mass meetings denouncing the Japanese as a nation, because they do not go to the same Sunday school we attend. "It is all nonsense," he said, "that we have to fight with the Japanese to see who shall have the mastery of the Pacific. That country will have the supremacy which has the best goods to sell, wrapped up in the most attractive parcels and for sale at the cheapest prices."

Mr. Jordan also said he believed that Japan is sincere in the desire to stem the unskilled labor emigration to this country.

CLEVELAND HOLDS FINE SHOW OF SHELTANDS

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 14.—The Cleveland Fanciers club held their second annual show of Sheltand ponies in the Amory here today. Ponies from the smallest horse in the world to the ordinary pony are shown and specimens from the beautiful herds of H. A. Everett of Willoughby, are being paraded. The attendance of sportsmen and persons interested in horse breeding is very large. The show is a great success.

THAT NEW BAND PRACTICES TONIGHT

EVERYBODY GETS ACQUAINTED AT SMOKE-BIG CONCERT TO MARK PUBLIC APPEARANCE.

The initial rehearsal of the newly organized American Lumber company band will be held at the headquarters this evening over the Insley Cycle company's place on Gold avenue. Twenty-two men will compose the instrumentation this evening but there will be twenty-eight in the band when the full organization is ready. The rehearsals will occur at least twice a week.

"Old Hank" Young, whom Director Fred K. Ellis considers the greatest and most experienced drummer in the business arrived this morning from New Orleans and will positively be on deck at the rehearsal this evening at 8 o'clock.

Saturday night the band gave an informal smoker in the new band headquarters. The hours were from 8 until 12. More than a hundred well known business men dropped in for a chat and a smoke. Director Ellis and Manager R. W. Reynolds introduced everybody and the time was passed in pleasant social intercourse.

The fact that Albuquerque is to have the best band in the southwest between Kansas City and Los Angeles is received with pleasurable anticipation by all Albuquerqueans and those who have the matter in charge have been the recipients of congratulatory upon the apparent success of the undertaking, which has been a small affair since the musicians have been gathered from all parts of the United States and Mexico.

Director Ellis announces that the first public appearance of the new band will be at Elks' opera house when the organization will put on one of the biggest concerts ever sprung into the territory. The date of the concert has not been given out yet.

THREE WOMEN FROZEN DEAD FOR LACK OF FUEL

Fuel in North Dakota Says Senator Hansborough at White House.

GAS FROM HEATING STOVE KILLED WHOLE FAMILY

Several Killed in Indiana Mine. Submarine Earthquake of Great Violence.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Senator Hansborough, who was at the white house today, said he had received a letter from a friend at Minot, N. D., saying that three women had been frozen to death and the facts were kept out of the newspapers. He referred to this in a general talk about the car shortage resulting in the lack of fuel.

GAS STOVE WIPES OUT AN ENTIRE FAMILY.

New York, Jan. 14.—Gas which escaped from a heating stove caused the death of Meyer Rubin, his wife and his son, in a Brooklyn tenement. The daughter died later at the hospital.

MINERS KILLED IN AN INDIANA MINE.

Clinton, Ind., Jan. 14.—Four miners were killed in a mine here this morning. It is not known how many more men were in the mine, but it is thought six or seven more will be found dead. Six of the injured have been brought up.

WORST EARTHQUAKE SHOCK SO FAR RECORDED.

San Francisco, Jan. 14.—A quaking of the earth's crust, more severe than any that has ever been recorded there, is reported to have been felt at Apla, December 21, according to news brought by the Australian liner Ventura, just arrived here. For three hours the seismograph of the German scientists stationed at the South Pacific islands recorded the shock that for violence had never been equalled so far as has been registered. It is estimated that the center of disturbance was 900 miles south of Apla. This point was submarine.

PENNSYLVANIA EDITORS DISCUSSING PLANS

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 14.—At the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania state editors here today a legislative campaign was mapped out and other matters were discussed. The association now has a larger membership than ever in its history and there is an exceptionally large representation today.

FLOATING DOCK ROOSEVELT LAUNCHED AT JACKSONVILLE.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 14.—The big floating dock Roosevelt will be ready for service tomorrow. She has been tested and found satisfactory. The big dynamo, which is to operate the dock, is now in position and ready for service. It will operate a shafting 200 feet long. The Merrill-Stevens Co., who have constructed the dock, have received numerous inquiries as to when she will be fit for service and it is expected there will be work to keep her going ten months in the year.

AMERICAN HEBREWS HOLD CONFERENCE

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 14.—The Union of American Hebrew congregations commenced a four-day session here today. The attendance is 50 per cent larger than at any previous meeting. The big dynamo, which is to operate the dock, is now in position and ready for service. It will operate a shafting 200 feet long. The Merrill-Stevens Co., who have constructed the dock, have received numerous inquiries as to when she will be fit for service and it is expected there will be work to keep her going ten months in the year.

ELECTION IS CLOSE IN CITY PRECINCTS

INDICATION AT 3 O'CLOCK—VOTE IS VERY CLOSE COMPARED WITH VOTE CAST IN NOVEMBER.

W. W. McClellan and W. C. Burgess in precinct No. 12.

George H. Craig and J. H. Smith in Precinct No. 26.

This will be the result of today's election according to indications at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The vote was very light compared to the vote cast at the November election. Not over 500 in 1,900 votes in precinct No. 12, where 1,900 votes were cast in November, and the vote in precinct No. 26 is as comparative light. At 3 o'clock, only 459 ballots had been cast in the precincts and Craig claimed a majority of fifty of these. Wootton, who appears with Frank Prace, on the people's ticket in precinct No. 26, was dependent on the railroad vote to pull him out and possibly elect him. In precinct No. 12, McClellan claimed a small majority of 245 votes, the total number cast at the hour of three.

The Italians will make a large portion of the election by a large turnout in the business class of voters is against the republican ticket, and the compactness of the Italian vote has also cut into what would ordinarily be the party vote.

BRYAN'S DOUBLE HAS FUN WITH THE PUBLIC

NEW AND TAGGART BIG PARTY CHIEFS

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 14.—There is probably not a prominent man before the public today who has such a double as has Wm. Jennings Bryan in the person of Charles K. Wolf, a whiskey drummer of Dallas, Tex. Wolf has traveled from one end of the country to the other and has had an abundance of amusement as a result of the striking resemblance between himself and the distinguished Nebraskan. Upon entering hotels he is frequently greeted as "Mr. Bryan." Newspaper reporters of many cities have mistaken his real identity. Effusive politicians of many states have gathered around him and made inquiry as to the market value of silver and the conditions of crops in Nebraska.

Wolf is a good mixer, hale fellow well met, and seems to enjoy the fun as much as anyone. On one occasion while in New York, a man addressed him and said that he had just made a wager which he wanted Wolf to decide. The bet was that Wolf was Bryan. Wolf replied, smilingly, "You win." "It was a shame to take the money," the other fellow said. "I was forced to. The reason I was so positive was because I was formerly connected with the detective department of St. Louis, and I was assigned, with several other plain clothes men, to guard you from any injury from cranks during the convention. I was near you all the time for several days."

Wolf is a gold standard republican, but he has been frequently pressed to make democratic speeches from the roof platform of trains and in public places.

TWO PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM COUNTY JAIL

JUST SLIPPED OUT WHILE GUARD'S BACK WAS TURNED AT NOON YESTERDAY.

Out at the Bernalillo county jail there is a guard who is still wondering how it happened that John Holland, a forger, and Will Hardin, negro, notorious petty thief, neatly escaped from the institution almost under his very nose Sunday. Will Hardin enjoys the sobriquet of "Whiskey." He was sentenced to serve sixty days in jail for stealing a small savings bank containing small coins from "Grandma" Judd, an aged negro who earns a scant living by washing clothes. He was sentenced on December 24 last.

Hardin was about to finish a term for forgery. The term would have expired tomorrow. About three months ago he forged a check at the Savoy hotel.

Hardin and Holland did the cooking at the jail. They set the table yesterday and while the guard's back was turned they slipped to the outside gate, which was unlatched, passed through and disappeared. The guard did not get so much as a glimpse of either of them. He does not even know which way they went.

Later, it was learned this morning that "Whiskey Bill" swiped a sum of money that had been taken from some of the other prisoners in the jail. It was lying in an accessible place and the negro converted it to his own use before he escaped.

This afternoon it was announced in the sheriff's office at the Bernalillo county court house, that "Whiskey Bill" had been recaptured by Nick Sabedra, a deputy jailer, in a Third street saloon. Bill made no attempt to resist arrest and declared he had left the jail to get a drink. It was denied at the sheriff's office that the negro took any money with him.

No attempt has been made to apprehend Hardin, who would have finished his sentence tomorrow.

The fact that he made his escape with "Whiskey Bill," a trusty, is regarded as significant and that no attempt is being made to get Hardin who is just as guilty of escaping as though he had 100 years to serve, is causing considerable comment.

GREAT CORN SHOW IS BEING HELD IN INDIANA

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 14.—In the Purdue university today there was a very interesting exhibition of corn from all parts of the state. It was held under the auspices of the Indiana Corn Growers' association and was attended by grain men from all the southern states. The show was held in connection with the corn school and is of great educational value. The exhibits are divided into five classes and valuable premiums will be offered in each section.

PRESIDENT SENDS MESSAGE TO SENATE ON NEGRO SOLDIERS

WHOSE RECENT DISCHARGE HE SAYS

Was Imperatively Demanded by Good of Service and Fully Sustained

BY ALL THE FACTS IN THE ESTABLISHED CASE

Recalls Part of Order Depriving Them of Civil Government Work.

Washington, Jan. 14.—President Roosevelt today sent to the senate a special message regarding the Brownsville incident, which gives additional evidence collected by Assistant Attorney General Purdy and Major Blockson, who were sent to Texas by the president to investigate the affair.

The president submitted with his message various exhibits, including maps of Brownsville, Fort Brown, Bandoler, three empty shells, seven ball cartridges picked up in the streets a few hours after the shooting, three steel jacket bullets and some scraps of casings of other bullets picked out of houses into which they had been fired.

The president declares the evidence is positive that the outrages of August 13 were committed by some of the colored troops that have been dismissed, and that some or all of the members of the three companies of the Twenty-fifth infantry had knowledge of the deed and have shielded the guilty ones.

The guilty negro troops are referred to in the message as "midnight assassins," and the president declares that very few if any of the soldiers who were dismissed could have been ignorant of what occurred.

The discharge of the troops, the president maintained, was within his legal and legislative power.

Secretary Taft, in giving the sworn testimony of witnesses, is transmitted with the president's message.

The president in his message defended his action in discharging the negro troops, stating that it was absolutely impossible to preserve army discipline by pursuing any other course. To justify his action, he submits the report of Major Blockson and Assistant Attorney General Purdy, giving the results of an exhaustive investigation they made at Brownsville upon the president's order.

The president, with his message, submits maps with diagram and photographs desired to aid the senate in reaching an intelligent understanding of the situation; also the empty shells and bullets from Springfield rifles.

The crimes committed at Brownsville upon the night of August 13, according to the investigation ordered by the president, are as follows:

- (a) Murder of Frank Vane.
- (b) Assault upon Lieutenant of Police Dominguez.
- (c) Assault upon Mr. and Mrs. Hale Odin and son.
- (d) Shooting into a house containing women and children.
- (e) Wounding of President.

"My evidence," says the message, "proves beyond the possibility of a doubt that some individuals among the colored troops have committed these outrages, and that others had a knowledge of the deed and shielded the guilty."

The president described as ridiculous the charge that Brownsville citizens committed the outrages with a view of throwing the blame on the negro troops and causing their dismissal. That the criminals were the soldiers themselves was shown by the uniforms, heard the voices and recognized them as the negroes; that Springfield rifles were used; that no cartridges of that kind could be in the hands of civilians, and that examinations of the shells and cartridges showed that they could not have been fired from Krag-Jorgensen or Winchester.

"The finding of this ammunition in itself," says the message, "establishes the guilt of the soldiers, and would be conclusive even if the soldiers had not been seen or heard by Brownsville residents upon the night in question."

The evidence of fourteen reputable witnesses is submitted. These saw the attack in its various features and submitted sworn statements to the president's investigators. Twenty-five other witnesses saw minor phases of the affair, making statements accordingly.

From all this the president gathers that fifteen or twenty negro soldiers committed the outrage, and that numerous shots were fired into the town from the fort.

"The shooting," said the president, "was done at midnight. After the first volley the soldiers advanced upon the town, firing into residences. Few of the soldiers, therefore, could have been ignorant of affairs. Indeed, it is probable that but few of the soldiers dismissed could have missed seeing the attack."

"I have gone carefully over each issue of the law and the facts that have been raised. I am now satisfied that the effect of my order was to bar these men from all civil employment under the government, and that portion is hereby revoked. As to the rest of the order dismissing the individuals without honor, there is no question as to my legal power. The order was within my discretion, under the constitution and the laws, and cannot be revoked or reversed except by another executive order.

"Such action was imperative unless I proved false to my own duty. If any of these men can show he is clear of guilt, I will take such action as is warranted, but the circumstances I have related certainly put upon every man the burden of clearing himself."

AGREEMENT APPEARS IN SIGHT NOW

Between Locomotive Engineers and the General Railway Managers.

WRECKS OCCUR ON THE MONON AND S. P. ROADS

Illinois Sues Central For Millions. Spokane Sues Railways For Discrimination on Freight.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—After more than two weeks spent in daily conference over wage agreement, the locomotive engineers and the general railway managers' committee are within sight of a settlement which will add millions of dollars to the annual incomes of employees.

L. G. Rawn, general manager of the Illinois Central, said yesterday that it was possible that negotiations would be closed today. It is understood that the "eyesight" rules of the road and the eight-hour day contentions of the men are practically the only subjects of difference remaining.

MONON TRAIN DESTROYS WABASH SLEEPING CAR.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Ten persons were injured, several seriously, when the through train outbound on the Monon railroad collided in a fog with a sleeper on the rear of a Wabash train at 12th street, at midnight last night. All the occupants of the wrecked car were in their berths and had no opportunity to escape. The Wabash engine was thrown from the rails into ditch and coals from the firebox set fire to the sleeper, which was destroyed.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC TRAIN WRECKED BY BROKEN RAIL.

Ogden, Utah, Jan. 14.—Passenger train No. 10, eastbound, on the Southern Pacific, was wrecked at miles west of Montello this morning, killing Engineer Frank Neesley and severely injuring Fireman Ware. Of the eight cars in the train, seven were derailed. Only one sleeper remained on the track. The broken rail is believed to have been the cause.

ILLINOIS DEMANDS HER PART FROM THE CENTRAL.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 14.—A suit of the state against the Illinois Central for the collection of several million dollars, which the Illinois Central have been withholding from the state's share of the gross earnings of the railroad, was filed in the state supreme court here today.

SPOKANE DEMANDS FAIR FREIGHT RATES FROM EAST.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 14.—A battle over freight rates, which may affect wholesale centers all over the nation, began at the court house here this morning before Interstate Commerce Commissioners Chas. A. Prouty and Franklin K. Lane. It is a suit of the city of Spokane, the chamber of commerce and the Spokane Jobbers' association against the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Co. and allied railway lines.

The complaint charges unjust discrimination in freight rates, in that the rates on goods shipped from eastern points to Spokane are based on through rates from the east to the Pacific coast, plus a return rate from the coast to Spokane. The total cost of the strikes was $2,952,865. The International Typographical Union was advanced $52,619 in its fight for an eight-hour day. The convention unanimously decided that the union label of the printers be inserted on the eight-hour flag of trades unionism.

CONVENTION DISCUSSING LABOR PROBLEMS

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 14.—Gov. John I. Cox was the principal speaker at the annual convention of the Nashville Trades and Labor Council today. He pointed out that during the year there were 887 strikes in the country, involving 91,550 men, of whom 63,812 were benefited and 11,737 were not helped. The total cost of the strikes was $2,952,865. The International Typographical Union was advanced $52,619 in its fight for an eight-hour day. The convention unanimously decided that the union label of the printers be inserted on the eight-hour flag of trades unionism.

ELKINS WILL FAVOR STATE- HOOD HE SAYS

Under Constitution Prepared by the Elected Convention.

CALIFORNIA IS FIGHTING YELLOW PERIL INVASION

Sensational Charges Are Brought Against Minister Pierce. Now of Norway, by Prof. Elliott.

Special to The Evening Citizen.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Senator Elkins has stated positively that he will favor the admission to statehood of New Mexico, under a proper constitution formed by the constitutional convention elected at the November election.

He says he will do this because the territory is justly entitled to admission. Delegate Andrews has introduced a bill increasing the pension of Josef Baca y Sals to $30.

CALIFORNIA WANTS NO YELLOW OR BROWN PEOPLE.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The house committee on foreign affairs granted a hearing today to Representatives Kahn, McKinley and Hayes, all of California, the committee named by the Pacific coast representatives to oppose any efforts to modify the Chinese exclusion act and also to work for a Japanese exclusion act. It was stated by the Californians that they will fight vigorously the bill under consideration by the committee to amend the Chinese exclusion act by leaving inaction of the act, at the ports in China from which they sail, as well as in the American ports where they land.

The bill is regarded by the Californians as a relaxation of the exclusion act.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES MADE IN HOUSE BY ELLIOTT.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Sensational charges against Herbert H. D. Pierce, United States minister to Norway, who formerly was third assistant secretary of state, were made before the house committee on foreign affairs today, by Prof. H. W. Elliott, of Cleveland, Ohio, in connection with the hearing on a resolution for the further protection of fur seals.

Elliott stated that while Pierce was representing the United States before the Hague tribunal the settlement of claims growing out of the seizure of the sailing vessel J. Hamilton Lewis, by the Russian government, upon the charge of piracy, he represented an Italian vessel and even instituted a suit against the United States district court for the District of Columbia to assure the payment of his fee from the money awarded to the vessel's owners.

CONVENTION TO PROMOTE FOREIGN TRADE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.—A gathering of great importance to the material interests of the country was held here this forenoon, when representatives from every state in the union gave their views as to the obstacles which have hampered our efforts to develop the commerce of the United States. The call, which originated from the New York Board of Trade, contained among other items a paragraph showing the necessity for concerted action. That the movement should be broadly national and widely representative in scope, all national, state and local associations interested in the objects of the convention were invited to send delegates, the result being most successful. In the New Willard hotel at 12 o'clock, when proceedings commenced, all available space was occupied. Governor Proctor of Vermont, Governor Roberts of Connecticut, Governor Hughes of New York, Governor Glenn of North Carolina, Governor Blawie of Florida and Governor Deener of Illinois are in attendance and will deliver addresses this afternoon. From New York state alone, delegates are in attendance from the New York Board of Trade and Transportation and Manufacturers' Association of New York, Merchants' Association of New York, New York Produce exchange, Merchants and Manufacturers' Board of Trade, Stationers' Board of Trade, State Island Chamber of Commerce, National Association of Manufacturers of U. S. A., Buffalo Chamber of Commerce, Rochester Chamber of Commerce, Utica, Troy and Albany Chambers of Commerce and New York Stock exchange. The convention will consider and devise measures for the enlargement of our foreign trade and help to promote the demand abroad for the product of United States farms, workshops and mines. This afternoon Secretary of State Elkins will make an address and will give the delegates the benefit of his observations during his visit to South America—a feature in itself sufficient to assure a large attendance of those who wish to assist in the good work of expanding American trade.

Spokane, Wash.: A long tunnel is being driven on the Banner-Idaho mine near Mullan. Two hundred feet have already been driven and a contract for 300 feet more has been let. It is intended to follow the ledge for 4,500 feet, the entire length of the mine property.

Provo, Wash.: Mine experts are watching the driving of the tunnel on the Little Canyon mine, within four miles of here. A contract has been let for 100 feet, which will be renewed until the 300-foot mark is reached, where it is expected ore will be encountered.

Denver, Colo.: A Denver corporation has secured a valuable placer tract of nearly 500 acres in Pennington county, South Dakota. The price paid was in the neighborhood of a quarter million dollars. The purchasers were the Security Investment and Mines company.

Orient, Wash.: A ledge of copper ore, of good showing, was opened on the Iron Mask mine near here two weeks ago while the assessment work was being done.

The Abe Lincoln mine, idle for ten years, will be worked by its new owners. A contract for a 100-foot drift-tunnel has been let.

Kahlo, B. C.: Ore shipments are being made ready at this point. Four carloads, the result of the summer's work on the Summit mine near Silver City, Idaho. Since acquiring the option Mr. Steele has developed the property by driving a 1100-foot cross-cut tunnel. The ore averages from $50 to $60 a ton. In the upper levels the ledge continues at a width of eight feet for 192 feet.

Orogrande, N. M.: A shipment of surface gathered ore of over 22 tons was made recently from the two Lincoln-Consolidated properties, the Lincoln and Seven-Come-Eleven mines. The net profit per ton was $12.81. This ore was gathered while making ready for the sinking of a deep shaft.

Boise, Idaho: Peter Steele last week made final payment of $10,000 on the $40,000 option held by him on the Banner mine near Silver City, Idaho. Since acquiring the option Mr. Steele has developed the property by driving a 1100-foot cross-cut tunnel. The ore averages from $50 to $60 a ton. In the upper levels the ledge continues at a width of eight feet for 192 feet.

De Lamar, Nev.: This town is practically deserted. The recent strike in Meadow valley, two and a half miles east, has caused a general exodus to that spot. One of the last to go was an assayer in a local mines office, he could not withstand the temptation after examining two samples, one running 142 ounces silver and 1.08 in gold, the other 180 ounces silver and 362 in gold; all are eagerly watching for the panning. The new district is in Lincoln county in the extreme eastern part of Nevada, thirty miles from Caliente.

Baker City, Ore.: Excitement is rife in the Cornucopia camp on Boulder creek over the rich placer strike made there December 17. Claims are being staked all over the camp and up and down the valley. On the original strike property twenty-one barrows of dirt yielded $72 in nuggets on December 21. The nuggets run about as large as black beans. It was the placer mines worked forty years ago that first made eastern Oregon famous as a gold producing district. The methods of the old-timer were slack and are now being superseded by steam dredging, which is expected to save much of the dust which would be lost by the old method.

Seattle, Wash.: News from Seward, Alaska, reports an important gold strike on the western slope of Mt. McKinley near the headwaters of the Kuskokwim river.

Some excellent results are reported from miners working in the Seward district, in southeastern Alaska, a district known for thirty years. In eleven hours one miner mined out $23.19, while doing the annual assessment work on his claim within three miles from Seward on Tonsina creek. Two miners from their claim in the Yenta gold field have brought in $20,000 in gold dust as a result of two months' work. George Eberhardt, one of the original discoverers of the district, passed through Seward on his way to Seattle recently with a sack containing $3,000. Another miner on the Lake creek bar took out $2,000.

Alamos, Sonora, Mex.: A vigorous activity is being reported by practically all the mines in this district. The new concentrating plant on the Minas Nuevas is concentrating 110 tons of ore daily. At the seventh level of this mine an ore body 103 feet wide has been cross-cut. A strike of the same vein as that mined by the Minas Nuevas is reported at the 1600-foot level on the Quintera mine. The strike runs 60 per cent copper. The Quintera is one of the oldest mines in the district and to date has removed ore valued at $50,000,000. One of the richest strikes yet made in the district is reported from between the second and third levels of the Santo Domingo mine. Five feet of ore was caught sinking, which assays 19 1/2 kilos silver to the ton and 4 per cent copper.

Butte, Mont.: The strike on the Ophir mine has proven to be a paying one. The vein, which was disclosed at the 300-foot level, has been thoroughly opened to the 500-foot level. At this depth it is seven feet of solid ore, carrying 7 per cent of copper and 500 ounces of silver. This makes the third vein struck on this property.

This city will shortly have a mining exchange in operation, the first in its history. A company has been organized with $20,000 capital, the subscribers being all prominent in mining, business, banking and professional circles. A company capitalized at $1,000,000 has been organized among Butte business men to work some silver claims near Potomac, in Madison county.

Breckenridge, Colo.: Work is progressing rapidly on the trans-continental drainage and transportation tunnel being driven through the Continental divide at Argentine Pass. From the Summit county side the work is progressing at a rate of 250 to 300 feet per month and on the other side at a rate of 200 feet. The indications are that the tunnel will be completed in twelve months. The tunnel will furnish a short road between the Pacific and Atlantic slopes. Rich ore veins are being opened along the route of the tunnel.

The Silver King mine and concentrator in Moreau, which has been working for thirty years and has a producing record of over $200,000, has been sold to W. S. Loeblich and J. R. Roots of Idaho Springs. The White Quartz group on Copper mountain has been purchased for $20,000 by J. P. Simon of Superior, Wis.

Development work is being pushed on the Wellington mine. An increased force of miners and other workmen has been employed for the work of driving tunnels, installing the tram and preparing for the big mill, bins and automatic dump.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

EAST INDIAN WARRIORS AS A
"YELLOW PERIL" IN FAR EAST

STALWART BROWN MEN FROM THE PUNJAB POUR INTO BRITISH COLUMBIA VIA THE PACIFIC—JOURNALIST OF THE RACE DEFENDS THE INVASION AS A WHOLESOME ONE—PREDICTS THE NEWCOMERS WILL BECOME VALUABLE CITIZENS.

By Saint N. Sing, East Indian Journalist.

How did India get to know of the mineral and material wealth of the richest and most thinly settled area of Canada? Attempts have been persistently made to ascribe this to the aggressive but secret advertising done by the transportation companies and by large corporations of this country. The writer recently toured every country in the far east from where these immigrants arrive directly into

British Columbia, and he is in a position to contradict this statement. Some discharged soldiers learned from their European military officers that the prospects of settlers in the Canadian west were very alluring. Letters from this advance guard brought their relations, friends and acquaintances to British Columbia.

Their Numbers.

According to the best figures available, the number of the East Indian immigrants now in British Columbia is less than 2,500. Ninety-nine per cent of these men are from the Punjab or the contiguous province of northwest frontier. Seventy per cent of the immigrants hail from two neighboring districts. Four hundred immigrants who recently came to Vancouver, B. C., by the Canadian Pacific railway steamship Tarrar came from ten villages of these two districts, and almost every one of them either had relations or friends in the province or was accompanying those who were relatives or friends. The readiness in British Columbia, the clanish tendencies of these immigrants must not be lost sight of in this connection.

Classes and Religions.

In the Punjab and northwest frontier provinces the institutions of caste and creed are free from the other parts of India. The immigrants are either Sikhs or Mohammedans, with a few Hindus. Sikhism, Mohammedanism and Hinduism are three distinct Indian religions. Quite a large percentage of these men have held positions in the army and constabulary; and another large section having worked as "watch men" in the far eastern countries.

Vigilance and Elasticity.

All of these men are supple and strong, tall and muscular, splendid looking and husky. They come from those districts of the Punjab which are cold in winter and have a regular rainy season in addition. Besides they belong to those races of India who possess marvelous "vigilance" who have fought for the British empire in the trying summers of Somaliland and Egypt and the rigorous colds of China and Tibet. They have a wonderful faculty of getting acclimatized.

Will Not Cheapen Labor.

The average workman in British Columbia has been duped by wrong statements and led to oppose people who not only belong to the same race, but are of the same origin. If the laborers in America claim to be consistent, their attitude towards the India immigrants ought to be characterized with sympathy and not malice. In India over 60,000,000 people live in a never-ending famine. These men from the Punjab who are now here in British Columbia have worked at starvation wages and their bitter experience in life has engendered the most implacable hatred for cheapening rates of labor. Almost every day papers in British Columbia print news that these so-called Hindus refuse to work at low rates and demand the wages of the so-called white man. Under these circumstances the labor people injure their own cause by circulating unjust and malicious statements as to the worthlessness of these immigrants.

TYPE OF HINDU IMMIGRANT

Without in any manner discounting the opposition of a section of British Columbia in the estimation of the writer of these, there is no danger of the immigrants proving themselves a failure. It is merely a question of time when, given fair and square play, they will establish a name for themselves in British Columbia as they have done in other countries. The railroads, the fruit ranches, farms, mills, etc., offer work to the immigrants which they will soon prove to the world they can do efficiently.

A New "Yellow Peril."

Vancouver and British Columbia have of recent years been flooded by East Indians, who, coming from the English possessions of India cannot be kept out of the American Pacific coast states, where they threaten to become an issue in a few years.

Up in British Columbia, however, their numbers are so great that agitation against them has become bitter and they are a political issue. At home they work for ten cents a day, and therein lies the menace to white labor.

As a spokesman for this class of orientals, Saint N. Sing a much traveled and cultured young East Indian journalist, has been found by this newspaper, and he has written a quite logical explanation of their presence upon this continent, and a "square deal" in an appeal for a Hindu, Sikh and Mohammedan form no economic menace, which is doubtless correct as long as their numbers are no larger than their claims they are, in their reports, which however may be partially untrue that Vancouver is becoming overrun with these aliens.

GOVERNOR'S WIFE SAVES WOMAN LIFE PRISONER

MRS. LENA M. LILLIE

Special Correspondence.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 11.—Mrs. Lena Margaret Lillie, of David City, Neb., in the penitentiary for life for the murder of her husband, has been granted an unconditional pardon by Governor Mickey. The pardon was his last official act before retiring from office.

Because the pardoned woman had been condemned upon circumstantial evidence alone, a number of Nebraska women, including the wife of Governor Mickey and Mrs. Boom, had submitted a lengthy petition to the governor asking for her release.

From a judicial point of view the trial of Mrs. Lena M. Lillie was regular, but members of the Women's Club of Lincoln and of the State Federation of Women's clubs insisted that the jury committed a serious blunder and convicted an innocent victim.

Harvey Lillie was shot while asleep in his home, David City, Neb., five years ago. His wife insisted that burglars had entered their home at night and that she herself, as well as her husband, would have been shot had not the aim of the invaders been bad. Lillie carried $8,000 insurance on his life, and when Mrs. Lillie took steps to collect this she was charged with the crime.

She had always protested innocence one of the staunchest defenders was the aged mother of her husband, who was one of the delegation that urged the governor to release her daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Lillie is thirty-seven years of age, and before her conviction was a successful dressmaker. She followed her calling while in prison.

PRESIDENT SENDS PERSONAL NOTE

On Insurance Matters Which Has Raised Another Democratic Tempest.

BURGLARS MAKE FAILURE IN COURTHOUSE SAFES

California Mountains Are Blocked by Snow and Sleet Breaking Down Trees.

Washington: Members of both houses of congress are exercised over a letter attributed to President Roosevelt, in which the plan to have state legislatures enact laws limiting the salaries of life insurance officials is opposed. So marked is the interest in the matter that a democratic member of the house from a middle western state will offer a resolution calling on the president to acknowledge the letter officially, and to send all the correspondence involved to congress.

Copies which have reached some of the legislators indicate that the letter was written to Thomas F. Drake, superintendent of insurance of the District of Columbia. The text of the letter, which Mr. Drake declared to be genuine, is as follows: "The White House, Washington, Nov. 29, 1906.—My Dear Mr. Drake: Will you read the enclosed memorandum? I assume that you will not in doing any proposal that the legislatures shall fix the salaries to be paid officials of insurance companies should deem such action of questionable validity in law, and unquestionably grossly improper whether the law would or would not permit it. I can hardly suppose that there is a serious endeavor to take such action. Sincerely yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

The insurance commissioners of the states met some months ago and appointed a committee of fifteen to draft reformatory insurance bills, to be pressed before various legislatures. Among the propositions adopted by the committee of fifteen was one limiting salaries to $50,000 a year.

The president's letter was sent out by Mr. Drake, with the president's approval, to each of the committee of fifteen, and was accompanied by a letter from Mr. Drake.

PUEBLO BURGLARS TRY, BUT FAIL ON COURT HOUSE.

Pueblo, Colo.: Burglars attacked two safes in the county court house early Saturday morning, and, after putting both out of commission, effected their escape, carrying with them cash to the amount of $125, a gold watch and a Colt's revolver. While the officers are working upon some promising clues, the police have not yet made any arrests.

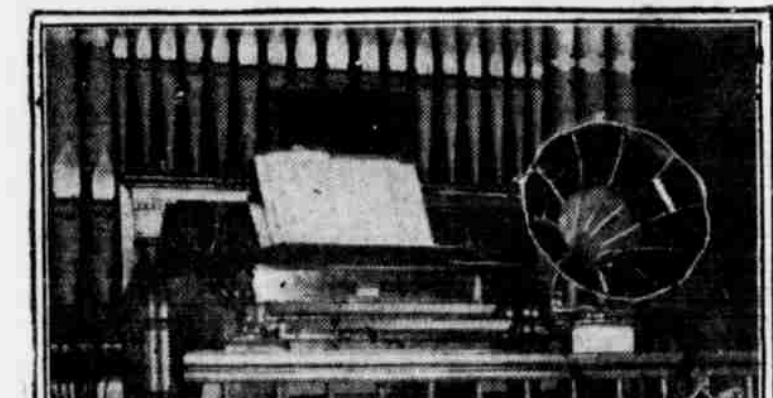

MAIL CARRIER'S DEVOTION TO DUTY UNDER DANGER.

San Bernardino, Cal.: With great limbs from tall pines falling all about him, Joseph Burke, the mail carrier between Highland and the lumbering camp at Fredalia Park, had a thrilling experience in the mountains. Burke had pushed up the city creek road as far as he could go with the team, and finally abandoned the horses. He constructed a rude pair of snow-shoes from a gunnysack and set out across the surface of the deep snow and through the forest.

The heavy weight of the snow and sleet broke off many heavy branches from the trees, and Burke many times narrowly escaped being killed. Communication to the western range of the mountains was cut off for three days as a result of the sleet and snow breaking down the wires and poles of the telephone lines.

A PHONOGRAPH DISPLACES CHOIR

PREACHER USES NOVEL METHOD TO ENTERTAIN HIS CONGREGATION.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 11.—The use of a phonograph in place of a church choir to attract people to church is the latest method adopted by a Nebraska preacher, the Rev. Lester Gerard Leggett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Nebraska City.

The phonographic reproduction of sacred music in the church was so radical a diversion from the usual method of furnishing music that the announcement of its use created widespread comment throughout the city.

Since the introduction of the instrument the audiences have grown twenty-five per cent.

The first night the phonograph was used some of the songs which are sung by the Trinity church choir in New York, were reproduced and the congregation, although astonished, was plainly delighted.

The Rev. Mr. Leggett says he is not an advocate of more music and less religion, but he believes the church goes, like the theatre goes, appreciates a bit of novelty occasionally.

The trouble in maintaining a good choir was the principal cause of the introduction of the phonograph. Local and outside talent was employed, but trouble and disputes arose among the singers, so that the choir was always more or less a source of annoyance. This set the preacher thinking and he hit upon the phonograph scheme.

MAYOR MAC IS BADLY SCARED OVER HEARST

Contest Which Has Again Come to Front With Certainty of Recount.

CURB BROKERS HOUSED BY PRODUCE EXCHANGE

Gambling Becomes More Retired But Not Less Active Despite Jerome's Crusade.

Special Correspondence.

New York, Jan. 14.—Interest has developed to a high pitch in the local political situation because of the strong probability of William R. Hearst securing a recount of the ballots cast in the mayoralty campaign of 1905.

With the strong stand taken by Governor Hughes in favor of a recount bill in the legislature, and with the assistance of Attorney General Jackson in quo warranto proceedings, there is bound to be a settlement at last of the long mooted question. Mayor McClellan and his friends are almost on the verge of a panic over the situation because, with the margin of less than 3,500 votes to spare, almost anything can happen. It must be remembered that in the few ballot boxes already opened in other proceedings many ballots were found which were counted for McClellan, although they were voted for Hearst.

This latest attack on McClellan's title to office, coupled with the many reasons there are for believing that it will succeed, has put McClellan entirely on the defensive in his fight with Charles F. Murphy over the Tammany Hall leadership. While the Murphy men are jubilant there are some misgivings, however, intermingled with their jubilation, because if the Hearst people actually prove the existence of gross frauds in the mayoralty election, there will be many Tammany men to suffer.

Whatever was done at that election was done by Tammany Hall, which then was heart and soul for McClellan. The latter turned his back on the organization as soon as the election was over.

Exchange for Curb Brokers.

If the New York Produce Exchange succeeds in its plan to create a department for the trade of unlisted securities, the New York curb market soon will be a thing of the past.

Leading curb brokers are strongly in favor of the idea, as it entails comforts the like of which the curb brokers never have known. The only thing it could kill the success of the proposition now would be the first stand taken by the New York Stock Exchange. For more than a decade the curb market has met in the middle of Broad street and conducted its business during the regular trading hours of each day regardless of the elements of the season of the year.

Winter or summer, rain or shine, in the face of blizzards or torrid sun, the curb brokers have continued to do business in stocks which for one reason or another never have been regularly listed on the Exchange. These "cats and dogs," as these stocks are "cats and dogs," in other words, are securities in companies the officials of which have declined to give to the Stock Exchange the detailed information demanded by the latter. Standard Oil is one of these and under the move proposed by the Produce Exchange all these securities would be taken over to that board.

Rights to subscribe and mining stocks will be included in the list for trade under present plans, but only after rigid investigations in each individual case. The lower part of the Produce Exchange floor, which is the most spacious in the country, will be given over to the unlisted security trade, which would be held entirely distinct from the produce markets.

Some speculations are going on as to what the New York Stock Exchange will do, because in the past it has used the big stick policy when ever any suggestions of a small exchange for curb brokers has been made. Apparently the Produce Exchange is not consulting the Stock Exchange at all, and if its action has no other effect it has put up the price of membership tenfold.

Gambling Brokers Offices.

Owing to the activity of District Attorney Jerome in forcing the closing of many poolrooms and gambling houses throughout the city recently, there has been a startling rise of the gambling industry in the uptown offices of stock brokerage concerns and in the rooms of apartment hotels and residential buildings.

Stock exchange firms have offices in nearly all of the leading hotels of the city and, after market hours each afternoon, many of these offices are turned over to the disposal of their leading patrons for the purpose of placing bets on events at southern and western race tracks. The telegraphic wires in the brokers' offices are used for securing the odds, transmitting the bets, and ascertaining the results. Every afternoon in the vicinity of the Waldorf-Astoria the brokerage offices do a landoffice business in aiding their clients to get down bets.

In addition to this several full-fledged poolrooms and gambling quarters have been opened in the living apartments of men who previously have been interested in regularly established poolrooms or gambling houses. The places they are running in their homes are conducted on comparatively a small scale and are opened merely for the best known and wealthiest of their patrons.

An Outspoken Devotee.

Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters has attracted widespread attention through his resignation as pastor of the Epiphany Baptist church and his leasing of the Majestic theatre in which he began last Sunday night, he began a series of people's meetings under most favorable conditions.

"I entered upon this new work," said Dr. Peters, "because I long for freedom which no man can enjoy in a pulpit where a few men pay his salary and dictate what he shall say. The pulpit in America, with here and there an exception, is a coward's castle. I say emphatically that there never will be in any pulpit in America a free expression of honest opinion as long as the consciences of the preachers are held in bondage and thrall by paid salaries."

The situation at which Dr. Peters revolted is typified by the attitude of the churches toward the liquor question, especially on the subject of local option, as clergymen have been compelled to preach for local option regardless of its possibilities for evil. Dr. Peters believes the clergymen should view with a broad mind the regulation of the personal habits of individuals instead of inviting revolt on the part of churches and resulting empty pews.

City Grasped by Traction Companies.

That New York City is almost helpless in the grasp of local traction companies is shown by the fact that $24,000,000 worth of taxes, owing by these companies, stands today on the books of the city. This shows an accumulation of twenty years and tells for the first time the full story of the indebtedness of the street railway companies.

For years the companies have done everything in their power to dodge responsibility for paying car line taxes and everything else possible in the taxation line. City employees, apparently for years, made no effort to keep a record of the sums, much less to take a stand to force payment of the claims.

Now, however, many suits have been instituted and others soon will be started to compel the settlement of at least a part of this vast indebtedness, which is owned by the elevated and surface railways in all the boroughs. Controller Metz and Corporation Counsel Ellison are responsible for the activity which may compel the companies to settle.

Tax on Pen and Ink Sketches.

American artists residing abroad, particularly in Paris, are materially affected by a test case now before the board of the United States general appraisers. For years many American students living in Paris have helped to support themselves by making pen-and-ink sketches of the latest fashions for admission to illustrated periodicals in this country. Recently the treasury department decided to assess the drawing under the provision of the Dingley tariff law for "pen-and-ink drawings," with duty at the rate of fifteen per cent.

The Curtis Publishing company, of Philadelphia, proprietor of The Ladies' Home Journal, has filed a protest with the board of appraisers which will have the effect of bringing the matter into the federal courts. It is the contention that the sketches are properly entitled to free entry under the exemption schedule of the tariff law. The law provides that "works of art, the production of American artists residing temporarily abroad," are not taxable.

Message From Ship Cabin.

Once in a while items of progress, which make little impression on the average citizen when he reads of them in the newspapers, come home to him later on with a shock. A well known Wall street man received such a shock the other day. His confidential agent was scheduled to sail at 11 a. m. for Europe from a pier in Hoboken, to put through an important deal. Five minutes before sailing time the telephone in the Wall street man's office rang and the financier, taking off the receiver, was surprised to recognize the voice of his agent. Hurriedly he glanced at his watch.

"Great Scott!" he gasped, "you've missed the steamer!"

"No," came back the answer calmly. "I have not missed the steamer."

S.S.S. OUR RECORD

The value of S. S. S. as a blood purifier has been thoroughly proven by its forty years of successful service in the treatment of blood and skin diseases of every character. It is the best known and most generally used blood medicine on the market today, because in the forty years of its existence it has not disappointed those who have used it, and as a result of its universal success in curing disease it has made it, and it is EVERYWHERE. It has been on the market for forty years and its record in that time is one of which we are justly proud—it is a record of forty years of cures. As a remedy for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all diseases arising from an impure or poisoned condition of the blood, S. S. S. has no equal. It goes into the circulation and thoroughly cleanses it of all impurities and makes it weak, polluted blood, rich, health-giving and health-sustaining qualities and as this pure, fresh stream circulates through the system, all parts of the body are invigorated and made strong and healthy. S. S. S. is the only blood medicine on the market that can claim absolute freedom from mineral in any form. This great medicine is the product of nature's forests and fields, and is made from the healing, cleansing juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks. It is, therefore, in addition to being a certain cure for blood troubles, an absolutely safe medicine for young or old. It is not an experiment to use S. S. S.; it is a remedy with a record and one that has proven its worth and ability by its forty years of cures. If you need a blood remedy begin the use of S. S. S., and write our physicians and they will send you a book concerning your trouble, and will give you, without charge, any medical advice.

Aid for MacDowell.

Every American patron of music should be interested to aid the fund for the support of Edward MacDowell, America's foremost composer, who, at the age of forty-five, is stricken mentally so that he now is but a child.

MacDowell's work was the pride of America's music lovers and now, at a time when the composer is unable to do a thing for himself, he must have the most careful attention. It is a sad thing that the American public has not rallied more quickly to his aid.

The committee in charge of the MacDowell fund of the Mendelssohn Glee Club contains such names as Grover Cleveland, Joseph H. Choate, Andrew Carnegie, H. H. Flanders, Victor Herbert, and J. Pierpont Morgan. E. C. Benedict, the banker, of No. 60 Wall street, is the treasurer for the fund.

New Style Broughams.

The newest fashion in vehicles is able to attract notice even when the motor cars are absorbing so much attention. There are only two of the new broughams in New York, and for that reason they are especially conspicuous in the uptown districts. The running gear is very light and painted a primrose yellow, as is the body of the carriage. The usual windows on the doors are small, but there is a large window which occupies the greater part of each side of the vehicle. The effect is not unlike that of a French chaise, which is so put together that all its works are visible.

Each of these importations is finished with the monogram in large block letters on the panel of the door.

Keeps Only His Check Book.

Oscar Hammerstein is as original in his business methods as in his theatrical enterprises. In spite of the extent of his undertakings he has no system of bookkeeping. All that he does in that way is what his check book shows. Thousands pass through his hands every week and he never loses accurate knowledge of all his complicated business affairs. But he has still to have a bookkeeper.

EDWARD STAATS LUTHER.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves. No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, the which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by all druggists."

Give us your ROUGH DRY work, Monday, and get it back Wednesday. Imperial Laundry Co.

For any disease of the skin there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Salve. It relieves the itching and burning sensation instantly and soon effects a cure. Sold by all druggists.

Irrigated Farm Lands

IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA, CANADA

$18.00 to $25.00 per acre

Irrigated farm lands in Egypt, according to reports of the United States Department of Commerce, are worth $225 per acre. Irrigated farm lands in the United States are worth from $100 to $2,000 per acre.

Irrigated farm lands in Southern Alberta are worth just as much or more than lands in Egypt and the United States, but the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is selling them at from $18 to $25 per acre for the purpose of inducing settlement in their 3,000,000-acre block. Irrigated farm lands sold by them three months ago at from $18 to $25 per acre are now being held by the purchasers at from $3 to $75 per acre.

The difference between $18 and $2,000 is worth while, if you are interested in doubling and trebling your money within a few months. If you are, drop a card to the address below and receive detailed information, including maps, literature, etc., fully describing the opportunity of the age.

THE ALBUQUERQUE CITIZEN

Published Daily and Weekly.
By The Citizen Publishing Company

W. S. STRICKLER,
President.
W. T. MCRIEIGHT,
Business Manager.

A GOOD EXAMPLE

In the adjacent column The Citizen reproduces two excellent articles, one each from the Denver Field and Farm and one from the Pueblo Star-Journal, on the San Luis valley of Colorado. The articles will repay perusal by Citizen readers.

The San Luis valley is of interest to New Mexico for two reasons. One is that this valley is now diverting and using large supplies of water which formerly came to the Rio Grande valley of this territory, of which our valley has been deprived, and which the Colorado valley is using with immensely profitable results, and which it would seem belong to us by priority of use and possession.

If the United States owed Mexico $20,000,000 for diverting the waters of the Rio Grande from use in the Juarez valley across from El Paso, and for which the United States has agreed to give back the annual supply of water claimed, then it would appear that Colorado, the United States or some other responsible entity should restore to New Mexico the water of which she has been deprived by the San Luis valley.

The other reason why the Colorado valley is of interest to the people of New Mexico, is that it has become an immense feeding section for sheep, hundreds of thousands of New Mexico sheep having been bought and shipped there to be fattened for market.

The other day The Citizen gave an interesting interview with Frank A. Hubbell, who had been to Colorado to study the methods of sheep feeding in that state. He found in one place feeders successfully using alfalfa and corn. In another place they were using alfalfa and beet pulp. He did not go to the San Luis valley, but had he done so, he would have found the feeders using alfalfa and field peas. The corn was imported, but the alfalfa, beets and peas are raised in the sections where fed. In the production of these foods, Colorado can in no wise excel New Mexico, even if able to equal this territory, which is doubtful. The San Luis valley, then, should be an object lesson to the Rio Grande valley, and here we should emulate the people of the upper valley in preparing New Mexico sheep for market.

RAILWAY MAGNITUDE

The death of a railroad president like A. J. Cassatt is like the demise of the active and ruling head of a state. In the magnitude and diversity of its business the Pennsylvania is one of the greatest, as it has been considered one of the best managed, of all corporations. Its pay roll and organization suggest a state rather than a chartered business conducted by private citizens.

This company, according to the New York Mail, is composed of 200 once separate companies. It has about 20,000 shareholders. It operates about 20,000 miles of road. It employs 165,000 men, representing a population of about 700,000. It is capitalized at $200,000,000. The Pennsylvania group constitutes a system represented by about a billion and a half of securities.

The annual reports of the company are considered models in their fullness and accuracy, comparable rather to government reports than to account sheets of a corporation. It has an old-age pension system. It has twice been pioneer in raising wages. It is spending nearer $100,000,000 than $50,000,000 in improvements affecting New York city alone. Its latest local enterprise, the Connecting railroad, was put through with a determination rather to let the thing lapse than to pay a cent of graft. By inaugurating, a year ago, its eighteen-hour trains to Chicago, it enabled New York business men to spend a whole day in Chicago without being absent from their desks the day before or the day after.

It was of such a traffic enterprise that Mr. Cassatt was the resourceful administrative head. Without abating one jot of its determination that the railroads shall obey the law and answer for their misdeeds, the public may well survey with appreciation the monuments of American enterprise and organizing genius which they present.

WORDS OF WISDOM

A leading paper, published in a growing city of the middle west, says that there are a great many things which a manufacturer would like to know of any place before deciding to locate a business enterprise.

Among the things about which he would probably wish detailed information are freight rates in and out of the city; the local labor conditions; available sites; rents and cost of living; railroad connections and distributing facilities; the local railway situation; the cost of power and fuel, and a hundred other more or less important matters.

To secure information by personal investigation is, for a stranger, a very serious undertaking. One of the simplest subjects in the list would seem to be the matter of available sites. But it would doubtless take even a local dealer in real estate days, if not weeks, to get comprehensive information on this one question.

Based upon these facts, which are as important as they are true, the paper referred to thinks it desirable that there should be in the hands of a representative of such a body as the Commercial club a map of the place, showing every vacant piece of land available for manufacturing, its price, ownership, and on what terms it could be secured. The character of the land, its desirability in relation to the enterprise contemplated, distance from railroad sidings, and the location as to local residence and trading sections are other matters that should be noted.

No wholesale firm or producer expects his goods to sell themselves, even though he knows them to be the best in the world. No more can a town expect its resources and advantages to explain themselves. As said before, what is imperatively needed is a man whose business it is to do this—a man who shall have at his tongue's end or within reach every item of information that may be desired.

Is there not a lesson for Albuquerque and her Commercial club in what has here been advanced?

San Juan Index: The San Juan County Fruit and Produce Growers' Association, at its meeting at Farmington on Monday last, elected the following officers: J. A. Brothers, president; G. W. McCoy, vice president; Geo. Allen, secretary. These, with N. A. Conner, of La Plata, E. R. Hendricks, of Riverside; H. D. Woods, of Farmington, and F. T. Hickman, of Flora Vista, constitute the board of directors. The association has had a very successful year, as the following report of its business will show: Last year the association's business totaled $7,982.79, as against $18,829.31 this year, a substantial increase of almost 200 per cent. The association is a good thing and is receiving the hearty support of most of the fruit growers in this county.

Daily Optic: The fact that New Mexico is still a territory under the direct charge of congress has the result of making the national pure food law, which went into effect on January 1st, work a great hardship on grocers and druggists that is not experienced by merchants dealing in the same lines of merchandise in the states. The law became effective in the strictest terms immediately and made a dead stock of everything the territorial merchants had on hand in the way of labeled goods, until such a time as the wares can be relabeled in accordance therewith. In the states, the grocers and druggists may dispose of the stocks they have on hand, but the merchants in the territories are in the same position as the manufacturers and business men in the District of Columbia and Insular possessions. They cannot sell an article after January 1st till it has been properly labeled, giving the percentage of alcohol and narcotics, of the preservative used in the manufacture and preservation of canned goods of any kind.

THAT GREAT COLORADO VALLEY OF SAN LUIS

The San Luis Valley is an isolated plateau entirely surrounded by lofty ranges of the Rocky mountains. The grand old Sangre de Cristo range with its serrated comb terminating with Mount Blanca, over 14,000 feet above the sea level, bounds the north half and the Culebra range the south half of the east boundary of the valley. The west is bordered by the main range of the Rocky mountains. The ranges on the east and on the west come together by an oval swing, forming the north and south boundaries. The space between the ranges, about forty-five miles from east to west and 150 miles long, constitutes the geographical area of this Altrurian region. Nature did all she could do to hide this beautiful gem from the eyes of the world. This rural kingdom sitting in the amphitheatre of nature's grandest work is larger than the state of Connecticut, higher than Mt. Washington and is surrounded by mountain peaks towering a mile and a half above its floor. This is one of the finest areas of agricultural land in one unbroken body to be found in the United States.

The water for irrigating this vast garden spot comes from one primary source: The melting snows and rain fall upon the high mountain ranges surrounding the valley, but it is supplied to the land in two ways—by the irrigating canals which take the water from the Rio Grande and distribute it over the almost level lands and by the 4,000 artesian wells which release the pent up force of phreatic water which has found its way by subterranean channels beneath the impervious strata of rock, which form the floor of the valley. In many parts the soil is subirrigated by capillary action.

Until quite recent years the principal dependence of the farmers aside from their livestock operations has rested upon the growing of wheat and other small grains and when it is said that the fertile soil produces from thirty-five to sixty bushels of wheat the acre and sixty to 125 bushels of oats, barley and rye in proportion it will be seen that the dependence has been a fairly substantial one. These wonderful crops are due to a combination of excess of sunshine, an abundance of water and a soil composed of the sediment washed down from prehistoric ages from the mountains into the great inland sea which until comparatively recent periods occupied the present valley. Small grains are still raised on a big scale. It is nothing uncommon for one man to have from 1,000 to 1,500 acres of wheat in a season.

Of late years the culture of field peas has come in and as an important adjunct to general farming and is proving a most profitable specialty. The Canadian field pea grows to perfection, the vines often reaching a length of six or seven feet and heavily laden with pods. A new variety of pea called the Colorado White has more recently been propagated in the valley and is likely in time to rank first in popularity because of the several superior qualities it possesses. The pea crop is easily grown, requiring less labor than any other, and is simply left on the ground for sheep and hogs to harvest. Lambs turned upon the peas during the month of October are ready for market during January, the average feeding period being from two to three months, during which time they gain fifteen or twenty pounds in weight.

Most of the farmers are going quite extensively into the raising of hogs for they used them to follow and clean up after the sheep. Packers like the pea-fed hogs. Some of them claim that they make better bacon than corn-fed hogs. Cattle raisers are also becoming enthusiastic over the peas for feed. Of course, cattle do not harvest the crop so closely as sheep or hogs, but pear-run cows and heifers sell readily on the market for killers. Pea-fed steers are put in fine condition for butchering and the eastern feeders who have tried them are willing to pay more for them for such stock to place in their finishing yards than for any other cattle. While the pea is fine feed for cattle, sheep and hogs, it is also an excellent fertilizer of the soil. A regular swine boom has broken out this fall and that section will in a year or two become famous for the quality of the pork turned out. There is considerable talk of establishing a packing house at some central point in the valley to slaughter the hogs near home and to our notion this is a stupendous idea that ought to be worked out without further delay.

Of late years a great deal has been said about growing sugar beets, but as there is no near market only a few have been grown. Experiments on a few acres here and there all over the valley have been made and without exception have proved a perfect success both as to yield and quality. Why the sugar people have neglected putting a factory somewhere in the San Luis valley remains an unanswered question nor do we see immediate prospect of a satisfactory solution to the proposition. We all know what a fine success has been made with seed culture in that favored realm during the past third of a century. The only drawback to this particular line of industry is the prohibitive freight rates which preclude sending the crop to far distant markets as is done from other parts of the state.

The year witnessed quite an influx of new settlers to the sunny San Luis. The first question asked by home seekers is: "Why is the land so cheap?" Coming from the east, where land is worth from $50 to $150 an acre and where farm houses are so close together that the country has the appearance of a suburb of a large city, the question is a natural one and to a newcomer who does not investigate the cause, the inference is drawn that something is materially wrong with the soil, climate, water or markets. As we look at it the problem resolves itself down to the simple fact that the bargains are there but the great raft of hither and thither people now gadding all over the west in quest of new locations have not yet found it out nor are they likely to do so if some determined effort is not made to keep the light from being hidden under the bushel. The country needs a few progressive men of the more modern type who are not afraid to squander a little money in the judicious spread of printer's ink where it will do the most good.—Denver Field and Farm.

The San Luis valley embraces within its limits the counties of Conejos, Costilla, Rio Grande and San Juan. The valley is a level plain and in extent is larger than the state of Connecticut, being 60 miles wide and 100 miles long. The surface slopes from the foothills of the mountains on the west to the foothills of the mountains on the east with an incline of about seven feet to the mile. On the west is the continental divide while on the east is the Sangre de Cristo range, furnishing the highest peak, Mount Blanca, in the state. To the north these mountains come together in a low pass called Poncha, over which the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from Salida to Alamosa enters the valley. Just south of Mount Blanca is Veta pass through which the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from Denver to Alamosa and Monte Vista enters the valley.

Across this valley flows the Rio Grande, fed by the eternal snows of the Continental Divide range of mountains, furnishing in ordinary seasons abundant water for irrigation. The main irrigation ditch, a very large one, carries water to a large area of fine farming land north of the river, starts at the foothills just above Del Norte and taps the river for a large part of its ordinary flow. The main ditch carries water to the south, starts four or five miles east of Del Norte, and while it is not as large as the one to the north, is a large ditch.

Wheat, oats, barley and peas are the main crops, all growing luxuriantly and producing a large yield. All kinds of vegetables do well. Potatoes are one of the main crops and are good money makers. Last fall San Luis valley potatoes, grown near Monte Vista, took first premium at the Pueblo state fair.

The San Luis valley is in reality a great basin of pure artesian water. The pressure is furnished by the seepage from the great mountain ranges surrounding the valley on all sides and the supply is inexhaustible. In the vicinity of Alamosa, wells at a depth of 60 to 80 feet discharge immense quantities of sparkling, soft water, pure as distilled water and almost as entirely tasteless; the flow never varies, some wells discharging as high as twenty feet above the surface. In some instances farmers are utilizing these immense flowing wells on their premises. This artesian water is one of the most profitable assets of the farmer in this part of the San Luis valley.

CHURCH, CLUB AND SOCIAL MEETINGS

There will be a meeting of the Mesa Park Driving association this evening over Zeigler's cafe. All members will please be present.

The members of the Iowa club were the guests of Mrs. W. J. Hyde at her residence, No. 208 North Edith street, this afternoon.

J. G. Gould, who sang at the concert on Friday night, gave a beautiful rendition of "The Heavenly Song" at the Lead Avenue Methodist church last night.

Alamo Hive No. 1 will meet in regular session tomorrow afternoon for the installation of officers. All members will arrive promptly at 2 o'clock. Refreshments will follow the work.

Stated session of Ballut Abayad Temple, A. A. O. N. Mystic Shrine, this evening at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested as it is at this meeting that the trip to Los Angeles will be discussed and arranged for. Thomas N. Wilkerson, potentate; J. C. Fenger, secretary.

Miss Hilda Snorberger, of 708 North Second street, entertained the following young people on Friday night of last week: Miss Irma Triplett, Kathryn Grimmer, Grace Grimmer, Fonna Dunn, Irene Shipp and Gray Hanna, Thomas Donnelly, William Mayhew and Will Meyer.

The members of the St. Andrew society desire to welcome all their banquet to be held on the evening of January 25 as many of their friends as possible. The affair is not an invitation entertainment but all persons desiring to attend may do so by purchasing from the members or of Dr. W. N. Macbeth tickets at $2.50 per plate.

Quietly Saturday evening at the parsonage of the Presbyterian church Rev. Hugh A. Copper performed the marriage ceremony of Miss Mattie Dobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dodson of Gold avenue, and J. Mark Sylvester, late of Albia, Ia. Mr. Sylvester is foreman of the job department of The Albuquerque Evening Citizen. Only the near relatives of the bride and the closest friends of the groom witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester are at home to their friends at Mrs. Gorman's No. 591 South Second street.

The ordinary seating capacity of the main auditorium at the First Presbyterian church proved inadequate for the people who were in attendance last evening at the opening song service in a series of evangelistic meetings which are to be held in that church this week. The evening was devoted almost entirely to religious music both instrumental and vocal. The organist, F. B. Schwenker, rendered several selections on the organ and the church choir reinforced by several additional voices sang in exceptional style. The meetings will continue through the week beginning at 7:30 each evening.

Monday—"What that is worth the while."

Tuesday—"What the Bible says about Heaven."

Wednesday—"What the Bible says about hell."

Thursday—"The Power of Choice."

Friday—"How God loved the world."

Unusual preparations are being made by the members of the Lew Wallace Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution for their annual reception in honor of Washington's birthday. In order that increasing importance may be attached to the American people to the memory of their noble ancestry and to the preservation of the few remaining landmarks of this country's history this useful society is endeavoring each year more and more to call attention through their annual celebration of February 22 to the aims and purposes they have in view. Hence the early preparation of this year. It is understood that each member will have the privilege of inviting ten guests which will render the invitation list a lengthy one. Several prominent members of the order from abroad will be present at the reception.

As a result of the meeting on Saturday night the following program will be observed at the banquet of the St. Andrew society to be held at Elks' hall on the evening of January 25. An attendance of about 150 is expected to be present and the affair will be as Scotch as possible. The Ellis orchestra will regale the banquet with harmonies appropriate to the occasion.

As stated before in these columns the basket ball season promises to be a lively one. The second girls game Thursday, January 17, will be one of the best. The Las Vegas girls, who were defeated by a narrow margin on December 14th, by the University girls are out to retrieve themselves and everyone will arrive in Albuquerque with blood in her eye. The University girls have been practicing during the holidays in preparation for the game.

GOV. HAGERMAN AND MESILLA VALLEY

He Talks of His Recent Visit to a Much Favored Section.

Governor Hagerman, who has just returned to Santa Fe from Las Cruces, where he attended the good roads convention and was present at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Y. M. C. A. building at the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, pays a high compliment to the people of the Mesilla valley, says the New Mexican.

"They have no use for a knocker down there," he said, "and every man is apparently putting his shoulder to the wheel in an effort to build up and develop that section of New Mexico. It is a spirit that is refreshing to see."

"I attended the good roads convention composed of delegates from El Paso county, Texas, and Dona Ana county, New Mexico. The enthusiasm displayed there was good to behold."

"The object of this convention was to secure a good road from Las Cruces to El Paso. At first sight it might appear that such a road would only be for the benefit of El Paso and detrimental to the merchants of Las Cruces."

Farmers Want Better Road. "From the statements of the delegates, however, quite the reverse appears to be true. The farmers of the Mesilla valley say that if they had a good road they could dispose of their surplus crops to better advantage than under present conditions, whereby they are forced to ship at a high freight rate."

"This road will be quite a necessity, I understand, when the Lensburg diversion dam at Penasco Rock is completed, forming the first unit in the great Elephant Butte project, which will irrigate thousands and thousands of acres of rich land."

"Farmers in the Mesilla valley stated before the convention that El Paso was the natural market for their produce and they cited statistics to show that even during the past year when the crops were not as large as at other times, they would have made considerable more money had they had a good road to the market. The farmers are very anxious that the road should be built as soon as possible."

Visit to Mesilla Park.

"I had a pleasant and instructive time at Las Cruces. Wednesday I drove to Mesilla Park, where I was present at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Y. M. C. A. building, which will be a handsome structure and a credit to the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. I visited the college also and had an interesting talk with members of the faculty. This battalion of cadets was reviewed and drilled exceedingly well, showing a marked improvement since the last time I saw them."

"The ceremonies of the cornerstone laying were most appropriate and were well arranged and executed."

Big Diversion Dam Interesting Sight.

"I think the most interesting sight at present is the big diversion dam in company with several hundred people from Las Cruces and El Paso. I was taken to Penasco Rock, where Engineer Hall, of the reclamation service of the United States government, explained the great project in detail. I have not time to tell you all I learned about the subject of irrigation, but I was greatly interested. Although a light rain fell a portion of the time, we walked for a considerable distance looking at the various parts of the project under construction. Engineer Hall stated that he expected to have the dam ready for distribution to the ranchers early this spring in time to take care of the crops."

"The land in the vicinity of the diversion dam is spotted with the tents of the workmen, engineers and teamsters and it gave one the impression that a small army engaged in field work was encamped on the spot."

"Upon returning to Las Cruces there was a very brilliant and enjoyable ball in the big rink."

"Everything possible was done by the people of the city of Las Cruces for my comfort and entertainment. I am doubly glad I went, and I expect in the near future again to visit Las Cruces."

"I like the spirit the people of the Mesilla valley display in the development of the resources of Dona Ana county and the upbuilding of trade relations."

"The people of El Paso, so I am told, are somewhat isolated from the remainder of their state and consequently feel a sort of kinship with the residents of Dona Ana county. The business interests on both sides of the line appear to be working in harmony for the universal good and mutual benefit of each other. One who sees such a spirit manifested as was in the good roads convention, can not help but admire it. I certainly wish success and prosperity to the people of the Mesilla valley and of El Paso, in their united work."

DO YOU SEE?

The office boy in reading over this morning's Journal remarked:

"Hey, something wrong. I don't see any 'special' dispatches from Santa Fe in the paper this morning."

"Let's investigate," continued the office boy. "Maybe the wires between the territorial capital and Albuquerque were down last night, or maybe..."

"Tut, don't prolong your speculations," remarked an efficient contractor just from the west. "Why don't you keep posted. Don't you know the New Mexican does not issue on Sunday and therefore there was no New Mexican in the mail last night. Do you see the point?"

"Enuf said," I see, that there will be a New Mexican in the mail tonight and watch the 'specials' in the paper tomorrow morning," and the office boy walked off whistling that delightful ballad, "Oh, How Easily the People Are Deceived."

CARBON CITY IS STILL IN DOUBT

Who Will Gather Tribute and Who Pay the City's Bills?

The councilmen of Gallup yesterday made a tour of the available sites about the city upon which to erect the municipal reservoir, and will report upon the matter at the next meeting of the board. When the water board was voted it was the understanding of the people that this reservoir was to be constructed and the investigation is a preparatory step in the carrying out of the plan.

The lawyers and politicians are still busy in their efforts to unravel the difficult legal questions involved in the dual governing bodies which were the result of the recent election, and the question of "who's who" is still uppermost in the minds of those desiring to contract with or collect bills from the town. At the meeting last week Acting Mayor Jacobs called for action upon the resignation of Mayor E. M. Sanjula and the roll call resulted in the unanimous refusal of the council to accept the resignation. The places of Aldermen Mulholland and Brown, left vacant by their resignations, have not as yet been filled. It is expected, however, that they will be filled at an early date.

During the period taken up with the rearrangement of the personnel of the board, matters of considerable importance remain in abeyance, among others being the consummation of a proper arrangement with the railroad regarding the use of city water, it being the claim of several that the amount the Santa Fe company pays the city does not cover the cost of the pumping involved in its supply.

The situation is proving a profitable one to the banks, as in the absence of court authority for doing so they are holding on to the city's funds. Last week a committee of the council was appointed to call upon the bankers and ascertain their intentions regarding the payment of interest upon the city's accounts.

DISTRICT COURT FEES REACH BIG AMOUNT

HERE IS SOMETHING ABOUT THE FEE SYSTEM IN THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

George L. Wyllis, who was clerk of the fifth judicial district during the latter part of the year 1906 has sent to the treasurer of the territory the fees collected in his office for the quarter ending Dec. 31, and they reached a total never even approached before, $895.25, says the Roswell Register. The largest amount ever sent in from this district for one quarter was something like $550, so that this last quarter exceeds by more than $300 any preceding quarter in the history of the district. This shows two things, (1) that the business of the court is increasing wonderfully, which is a silent but weighty testimonial to Judge Wm. H. Pope and his manner of conducting court, and (2) that great diligence has been taken in collecting the fees, which speaks in the same manner for Mr. Wyllis and his predecessor, Mr. Bird, who had charge of the office during part of the quarter.

The salary of the clerk is $800 per quarter, and this district's fees will more than pay the salary for the past quarter, something never before done in the territory of New Mexico.

It might be added that this district always leads the list of districts in the territory as to the amount of fees sent in at the close of every quarter. The comparative statement on this subject as sent out by the Santa Fe New Mexican will be of unusual interest this quarter.

BOOMERANG FAD HITS ALBUQUERQUE

The "boomerang" fad has hit Albuquerque, and all because a lame man came along about a week ago and gave a few exhibitions on the lawn in front of the Alvarado. The management and clerks at the Alvarado were the first to catch the fever. The small boy saw the little red, white and blue crossed pieces of wood the men were playing with, and then he got it. Some of the merchants bought boomerangs from the lame man, and now one is not in style unless he or she can throw a boomerang, and there is an art in throwing them so that they will come back to the thrower. The lame man can throw two ways so the boomerang will come back to him, but John Lee Clarke can beat them all. Mr. Clarke has accomplished but one style, but it is a "classical" style. The boomerang is thrown underhanded, straight forward. It follows the ground for quite a way, and then curves upward and circles back over the thrower's head. The thrower it takes another turn upward, and mounting twenty or more feet, it makes another circle and comes back to where it started. The vacant lot near the Railroad avenue crossing was crowded with followers of the sport this morning and the air was filled with whirling boomerangs.

The new boomerang is not the Australian kind, nor is it as hard to throw. The Australian boomerang is one piece of wood, while the late fad is merely two pieces of the same wood, crossed and fastened in the center. One side of the stick is smooth and slightly convex, while the other side is slightly concave. It will be remembered that many years ago during the life of the San Felipe hotel some expert Australian boomerang throwers visited Albuquerque and threw a boomerang around the hotel on a wager.

$8 NAG CAUSES NO END OF TROUBLE

Pound Master Ward Had His Finger in the Pie.

A horse, which brought $8 at the city pound sale last week is causing no end of trouble down in Barelaz. One man has been licker because of it, and another has been sentenced to serve thirty days in jail and pay a fine of $25 because of it. This latter unfortunate, who is one Francisco Sedillo, also has a judgment of $40 standing against him because of this $8 horse.

Sedillo formerly owned the horse, but got rid of him some time ago in a horse trade with Jose Trujillo. After the trade Trujillo put the horse in a pasture near Barelaz used in common by several people of the river suburb, Sedillo and Trujillo being among them. One day, so it is said, Sedillo hitched Trujillo's horse up, and after using it, turned it loose on the Highlands and told Poundmaster Ward about it. The animal was em-pounded as a stray horse, and after a few days' incarceration, was sold under the hammer to the highest bidder. This highest bid was $8.

Trujillo suspected that Sedillo had something to do with the disappearance of his horse, and took him to task about it. Sedillo became very much offended at having his integrity questioned and assaulted Trujillo. For this assault Sedillo was penalized thirty days' freedom and the payment of a $25 fine. Then Trujillo brought civil action to recover the value of his horse. He didn't want the horse so bad, but he had suffered a great loss and he wanted damages. And the justice of the peace sent of the precinct gave him a judgment against Sedillo for $40.

NEW SAW MILL FOR COCHITI CANYON

Sandoval County Will Derive $10,000 Benefit as Result of Recent Investment.

The new saw mill the San Domingo Lumber company is installing in Cochiti canyon, Sandoval county, will be set in operation early next month. It will have a capacity of 5,000 feet an hour.

The San Domingo Lumber company just recently bought 40,000,000 feet of lumber on the Jemez forest reserve, and the Cochiti canyon mill is for the purpose of preparing for market this lumber. The mill is twenty miles from Thornton, and the finished lumber will have to be hauled to the railroad by wagon.

"This haul is an expensive one," said I. A. Dye, president of the company, in his office in the N. T. Armijo building this morning. "but the timber is fine and will make the best of lumber, and we are sorely in need of lumber for our several yards, as you know, scattered in various cities and towns in New Mexico. The demand for lumber is much greater than the supply. This is the cause of the gradual advance in price."

"Every class of lumber is scarce. We expect to make lath and shingles at the new plant." As a result of the purchase the San Domingo Lumber company has made on the Jemez reserve, Sandoval county, will be about $10,000 richer. There is a law by which the county in which a reserve is located is given a certain per cent of the profits derived from sales of timber on said reserves. The people of Bland and the Cochiti district are in hopes that the mill will put part of the $10,000 it will receive into a new bridge across the Rio Grande at Zena Blanca.

Both these examinations will be offered at the time given at the University of New Mexico.

MORTUARY

Ray F. Brush, twenty-seven years old, died at his living place yesterday evening at 6 o'clock. He was a victim of tuberculosis.

Mr. Brush, who was a machinist, came to Albuquerque six months ago from his home in Saginaw, Mich. His father who lives at Saginaw has wired instructions here to have the body shipped there for burial. Mr. Brush was a member of the machinists' union.

J. C. Kelly.

J. C. Kelly, traveling conductor for the Illinois Central railroad, died of tuberculosis this morning at his boarding place in the Highlands. He was thirty-one years old and unmarried.

The Order of Railroad Conductors, of which Mr. Kelly was a member, took charge of the body and turned it over to an undertaker. The order will make arrangements for its disposition. Nothing definite in this particular has been given out at this time.

Mr. Kelly has a sister living in New York who has been advised of his death.

SANTA FE RATE CASE AT AMARILLO

The trial of the case of the people of the Pecos valley against the Santa Fe railroad for discrimination in freight rates has been set for January 26. The hearing of the petition will be held at Amarillo, Texas, before the Interstate Commerce commission. All the commercial clubs of the Pecos valley have combined in pushing the suit and it is probable that Roswell and some of the leading towns of the valley will be represented at the hearing by some of their citizens, although they will be represented legally by Attorney Cowan, of Fort Worth, Texas.

TRAIN ROBBERS WILL GO TO LEAVENWORTH

United States Marshal C. M. Foraker is in receipt of a communication from Chief Justice Mills, in which the judge says that the attorneys for Jim and John Black and John Murphy have withdrawn their motion for an appeal and that the train robbers may be conveyed to the federal prison at Leavenworth at any time.

The Black brothers and Murphy were recently convicted of train robbing and sentenced to seven years in prison. The right name of the Black brothers is Bud and John Bishop.

Attorney Thomas N. Wilkerson is in receipt of a letter from President W. H. Greer, of the Albuquerque Traction company, who is now in Los Angeles, stating that he is ill in the Good Samaritan hospital of Los Angeles. The letter did not state the nature of his indisposition. Mr. Greer left Albuquerque on a business trip about two months ago.

Here is a folding go-cart with more strong and practical points than any go-cart on the market. Every feature was designed to meet the particular requirements of mothers for the health and comfort of their children. Among the most attractive features of the Fulton folding go-cart are the following: Its pretty and graceful lines, its beautiful piano finish, the flexible swinging seat which prevents all jolt or jar to the baby, the back of the leather seat can be instantly changed from a sitting to a reclining position, making a most comfortable resting place for a sleeping child, it being so shaped as to perfectly fit the body of any child. It can be folded in five seconds time so it will fit a trunk, go in a suitcase or can be carried in the hand. See them at

AUSTRIAN PHYSICIAN-ADJ. GEN. TARKINGTON AT WORK ON REPORT ON TUBERCULAR

Germ and Scouts New Consumption Theory Recently Advanced.

He Discusses Important Subjects for General Consideration.

The theory of Dr. Schroeder, in charge of the tubercular experiments conducted by the government, that the "greater danger lies in taking tubercle bacilli into the stomach with food," in stead of breathing in the germs, and that "only the fresh and moist bacilli are dangerous in spreading the disease," is outlined by Dr. Arnold Leland, of Charlebad, Austria, in an interview given out at the Sheldon hotel, says the El Paso News.

"It is all nonsense that tubercle bacilli can only be taken into the system through the food, and I have expressed myself in opposition to this theory before the Paris Tuberculosis Institute."

"The bacilli are everywhere—in the air we breathe and in the food we eat, but a strong, healthy body is immune. When born of healthy parents our bodies are so constructed organically with glands and membranes which act as a preventive against the bacilli."

"By living a hygienic life that will preserve such glands, especially those of the throat, there is no danger of contracting tuberculosis and the kindred diseases."

"The excessive use of alcoholic drinks, or excesses of other kinds, will destroy those organs which in a healthy state are immune from the bacilli. This, of course, is generally speaking, but one cannot expect to be immune from the tubercle bacilli when living in an atmosphere of tuberculosis and breathing nothing else but bacilli laden air, which passes through the rooms of tuberculosis patients, or the air loaded with germs arising from tubercular sputum."

"One would be as foolish to expose himself as he would be foolish to partake of food which he knows absolutely to be tainted. If we could examine all our food through a microscope we would not eat at all because of the bacilli of all kinds we would find in it, but as long as our bodies are in healthy condition they are immune from the bacilli."

"It is true the tubercular cow is exceedingly dangerous, because the tubercular germ multiplies rapidly in milk."

"Excesses of all kinds will destroy those glands and tissues so vital to health and where once destroyed there is no power that will prevent the bacilli, whether it be tubercle or any other, from reaching the vital organs and finally causing death from tuberculosis or kindred diseases."

"CUBERO" CALLS "LAGUNA" DOWN

A CORRESPONDENT AT LAGUNA ASKED TO PAY ATTENTION TO HIS TOWN, NOT CUBERO.

To The Evening Citizen.

Cubero, N. M., Jan. 12.—Such uncalled for falsehoods have of late been published about things alleged to have taken place at Cubero, that we can not help but try to say something in answer to them.

Not long ago, in connection with the accidental shooting of David Chaves, which happened by the accidental discharge of a pistol while he and Jose Angel Jaramillo were playing, there appeared a sensational article exaggerating the occurrence one thousand per cent. The writer of that article stated that said shooting had been the result of a big fight that had taken place at Cubero, in which nearly all the people of town were involved and even mentioned the names of some persons as leaders of the disturbance. No such disturbances ever occurred and the shooting was purely accidental as above stated. The parents, wife and many relatives of David Chaves live here and if the shooting had been as stated in said article they surely would have taken the matter up to the courts.

And now comes another exaggerated publication sent out by a Laguna correspondent regarding the death of Geronimo Chaves, also of this place, in which he states things which are entirely false and which should not have been given out for publication unless through investigation they should have been found to be true. That Geronimo Chaves died suddenly is true and such occurrences often happen, but that the motive assigned by the writer of said article to be the cause, is doubtful, and it is entirely false that the wife had deserted him, taking away with her a child and that she was living with another man. Such is not the case. She may be a sinner and perhaps the Laguna correspondent or his informant has been an eye witness to her unfaithfulness; since he gives it out for publication; but it is doubtful that he can prove it. The mother of the deceased and his brother-in-law, Hon. David Garcia, ex-county commissioner of Valencia county, were here at the funeral and if anything of a criminal nature had happened in connection with the occurrence, they were the persons to take the matter before the authorities. They didn't do anything; perhaps there was nothing to be done.

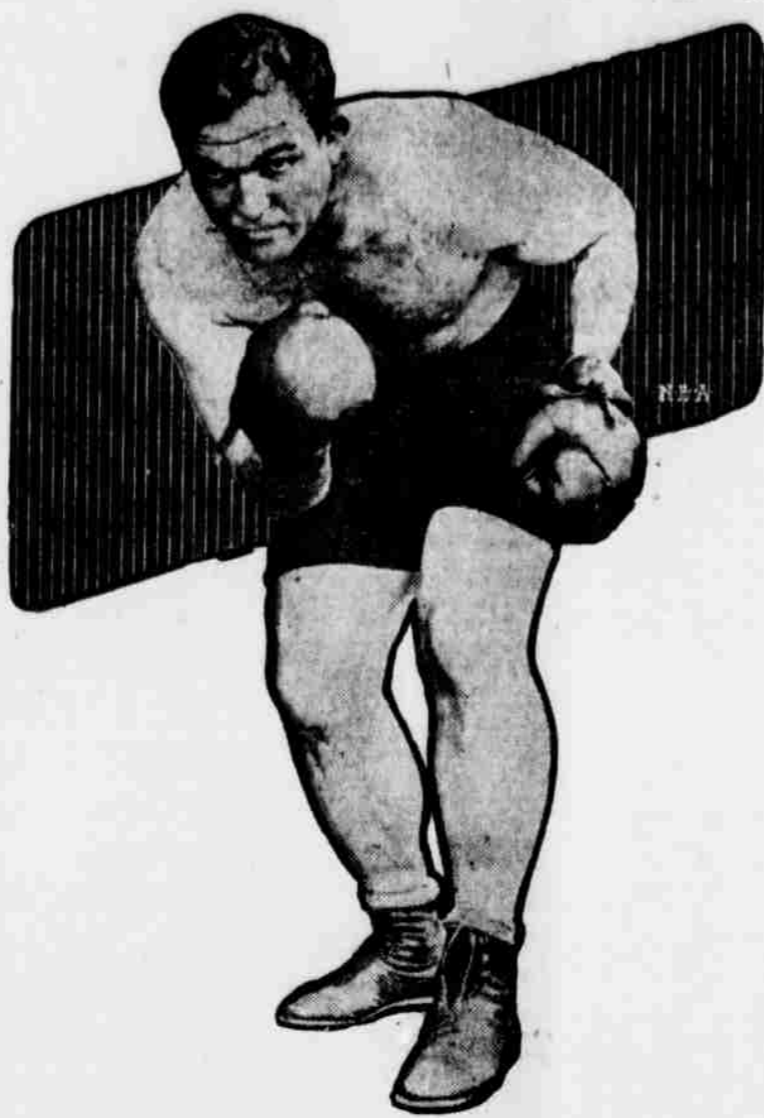

Now we would suggest to that Laguna correspondent that in case he wants to do some advertising for Cubero, to do it in the right way, or else to let us alone. We can take care of ourselves.

JEFF KNOCKED OUT BY OLD T. A. BASCO

JEFF'S GREAT FIGHTING POSE. JIM CORBETT WRITES ABOUT THE HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION TITLE AND TELLS A GOOD STORY ON JEFFRIES.

(By Jas. J. Corbett.)

Champion Jeffries' flirtation with that Nevada gold that has been the bait at which all the fighters of any prominence in the world have been casting a longing look, is being taken seriously now and if the hand writing on the wall can be read there is a heavyweight battle on the pugilistic horizon that is due to attract more attention and cause more talk than any of the recent contests.

The main reason for a promoter wanting to match Jeffries and Squires is the demand of the public. A big fight is almost necessary, and then Jeff is wanted in the ring again. If he goes too long without fighting his retirement would be taken seriously and there would be trouble in earning over the heavyweight title.

As it stands at present the public mind is almost of the one opinion; that is, that Jeff is the kingpin of them all.

MAKING TRIP TO NEW MEXICO IN AUTO.

The Trinidad Advertiser of Jan. 12, says: J. J. Lindsey, one of the lead sheep owners of the west, with his son, J. J. Lindsey, Jr., is en route here from Denver in a big Ford touring car. The two Lindseys are taking an outing after the rush of a season's business and are on their way to Albuquerque and other New Mexico points. The trip, while primarily for pleasure, will also include a certain amount of business, as Mr. Lindsey while in New Mexico, will visit some ranches he owns. No attempt is being made to establish records or to make exceptionally fast time, the big Ford being sent through between the two cities at a fair jog. Stops were made en route, especially at Colorado Springs, Pueblo being reached early yesterday afternoon. They are due in Trinidad today.

PURITY—Results—that's it See What a Dime Will Do

We gladly welcome the Pure Drugs Law, because it agrees with our thoughts and methods. Cascarets meet its every requirement and always did since the day they were first invented and put on the market. PURITY, QUALITY AND MEDICINAL MERIT have been the principles on which Cascarets were made and marketed.

We doubt if in all the world of medical science and therapeutic manufacture better SKILLED CHEMISTS and more carefully selected constituents could be employed than in the making of Cascarets.

The RESULTS prove it. No other bowel medicine on earth has reached in history the tremendous approbation and patronage accorded Cascarets by the American People, a testimonial of GENUINE MERIT and satisfactory results, for surely no sensible person would buy an article more than once, unless satisfied, or recommend it to others if not convinced of its virtues.

The sale of Cascarets at the present time is over ONE MILLION BOXES A MONTH, a fact that ought to convince anyone of the satisfaction given to millions of our friends and patrons.

It is just this kind of example placed before you that ought to induce you to try a little 10c box of Cascarets and be CONVINCED of its value and effectiveness. After this harmless, inexpensive experiment you will see the reason for the unequalled popularity of this preparation as a true PERSONAL AND FAMILY MEDICINE, and this realization will urge future use when necessary.

So we ask you to take a DIME BOX home with you, and "WHILE YOU SLEEP THEY WILL WORK" and make you feel well and happy. We back our request by our GUARANTEE, and if you're not pleased, your purchase-money will be returned to you for the asking.

Such has been our Faith in the efficacy of this pure, clean, sweet, mild, harmless but forceful little fragrant tablet, so easy to buy, so easy to carry, so easy to take, so easy in its action, that we do not hesitate to offer this guaranty to the world, and make good on it.

Cascarets not only are the best medicine yet discovered for the treatment and cure of Chronic Constipation and all its dire consequences, but also a splendid PREVENTIVE OF DISEASE caused by bacteria and other germs in the bowels. There are more serious troubles that have their origin in irregularities in the food channels and intestines and PURIFYING in an antiseptic way, keep you perfectly safe from such fearful diseases as Appendicitis, Peritonitis and other deadly inflammations caused by retention of indigestible food in the passages.

We said Cascarets were and are the BEST BOWEL MEDICINE in the world. Once more we assert that the sale of nearly 100 million of boxes in eleven years PROVES IT. Our record is put up against any other medicine for the same purpose in the world, for ACTUAL RESULTS.

Try a 10c box TO-DAY. Buy it from your own druggist under GUARANTEE and you will join the MILLIONS of our friends. Be sure you get the GENUINE—the letters "C. C." on every tablet.

A BARBER SHOP STORY

ON OLLIE MACK.

During his engagement in December a very singular little incident occurred. While walking down the main street his eye was attracted by a modern, very elegant Red Cross sanitary barber shop. To appreciate the following I want to say right here that the said Mack would prefer riding 100 miles in a train down south than to being shaved by a barber. It isn't the operation that is quite as distasteful as the gossip of the professional barber, who advises you to death for at least one-half hour with a lot of unfunny, unwelcome remarks. To return to my story. The place appealed so strongly to Mr. Mack that he decided to give it a trial. After being ushered in in due fashion by a white-uniformed, brass-buttoned attendant, relieved of his coat, hat, cane, collar and tie and seated in a very beautiful cushioned chair, then the following conversation ensued:

"This towel," said the attendant, "has been subjected to an extreme heat and is thoroughly sterilized. We take every precaution against exposing our patrons to infection or contagion."

"Good thing," commented Mr. Mack.

"This soap," went on the attendant, picking up a cake thereof, "has been debarbaterized, and the comb and brush are thoroughly antisepticated."

"Great scheme," said Mr. Mack. "The chair in which you sit is given a daily bath in bichloride of mercury, while its cushions are baked in an oven heated to 887 degrees, which is guaranteed to shroud up any bacillus that happens along."

"Hot stuff," said Mr. Mack.

"The razor and the latter brushes are boiled before being used, and the latter cup is dry heated, until there is not the slightest possibility of any germs being concealed in it."

"Fine," said Mr. Mack.

"The hot water with which the latter is mixed is double heated and sprayed with a germicide, besides being filtered and distilled."

"Excellent," said Mr. Mack.

"Even the floor and the ceiling and the walls and furniture are given antiseptic treatment every day, and all change handed out to our customers is first wiped with antiseptic gauze. The shoe polish and the bootblack chair is boiled and then frozen, and the —"

"Well, look here," said Mr. Mack, who had been sitting wrapped in the towel during all this, "why don't you go ahead and shave me? Think I'm loaded with some kind of germ you have to talk to death?"

ROCK ISLAND KILLS FIVE AT BARNEY, N. M.

Fast Passenger Dashed Into Open Switch—Eight Were Injured.

Running at a high rate of speed, Rock Island passenger train No. 30, which left El Paso at 6:30 Saturday evening for Chicago, dashed into an open switch at Barney, N. M., 190 miles north of El Paso, early Sunday morning. Five persons were killed and eight injured. The dead: H. F. Ackley, engineer; C. J. Redfield, fireman, Alamogordo; Hartley Spence, Corona, N. M.; Andrew Herron, Bisbee, Ariz.; Mexican child.

When the train dashed into the switch the engine left the track and turned over, plowing the engineer and fireman underneath and killing them instantly. The express car, dining car and a Pullman were thrown from the track. Eight passengers were hurt, none seriously.

FIREMAN KNOCKED FROM CAB AND KILLED.

Milton W. Morton, fireman on Rock Island train No. 29, was knocked or fell from the cab of his engine at Turquoise, forty-five miles north of El Paso Saturday, shortly after noon, and was instantly killed, says the El Paso Times.

Mr. Morton lived in El Paso, at 212 North Florence street, and his remains were brought to this city. Just how the accident happened is not known, as the engineer was not looking in his direction at the time he fell and his body was so bruised by the impact with the earth that it is impossible to ascertain whether or not he was struck by some obstruction before hitting the ground.

He was leaning far out of his cab window as the train passed Turquoise and one theory is that he was hit by a water pipe, which stood near the track, and knocked from his position. It is said that he might have fallen from his position, losing his balance in a sudden lurch of the engine.

The strike of the railroad clerks on the Southern Pacific in Texas has been called off. The Southern Pacific officers finally agreed to let the clerks go back to work, in their old positions, where these positions have not been filled. The clerks claim they have won the strike, and all of them who could get jobs have gone to work.

Passenger conductors say their duties are considerably lightened since the anti-pass law went into effect. The only trip passes presented now are by employees of the railroads. The conductors generally seem to be pleased with the effects of the new law.

J. E. Carlisle, of Santa Fe, has been appointed as an extra clerk at the depot there of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway on account of the heavy freight traffic.

CITY DIRECTORY IS BADLY NEEDED

THE EVENING CITIZEN WILL SOON GIVE THE CITY A FIRST CLASS DIRECTORY.

The Evening Citizen will, in a very short time, start canvassers out to secure names for a new city directory, which is badly needed, as the last one published by an outfit not familiar with the city, was the poorest excuse of a city directory ever issued in Albuquerque, and many names of prominent citizens were omitted altogether.

It is the intention of The Evening Citizen to make the next city directory the very best ever published, and when completed it will prove one of the best advertisements for the city imaginable.

The book will contain illustrated, write-ups of the city, railroad shops, lumber mills, churches, university, schools and all other important enterprises, besides advertisements, and a complete directory of names from A to Z.

A section of the book will also be devoted to a directory of Old Albuquerque, and the many points of interest of the "old berg" will be illustrated with appropriate half-tone cuts.

The Evening Citizen, with the exception of the year 1905, when an impossible by the name of 1905 stepped in and got out a poor excuse of a city directory, has published every directory this city has ever had, and they have been credits both to this office and the canvassers employed in gathering names and dates for write-ups.

Proper blanks will be printed in a few days, and canvassers will no doubt be set to work on February 1, possibly sooner.

number would not have been passengers had it not been for the fact that they had free transportation. Consequently, it is apparent that the Santa Fe at the time carries but few passengers other than railway employees, from whom a railway fare might be collected.

CONDEMNED HORSES

SELL FOR BIG PRICES.
The recent sale of condemned horses held at Fort Huachuca by the government was remarkable in the high average prices attained, the thirty-four horses bringing a total of $2,074. One horse seventeen years old and in the government service for ten years, brought $10 more than the government originally paid, probably establishing a new record. The average price brought by the horses was $60, the highest average figure ever reached at a like sale in Arizona.

TRYING TO PROVE A

MURDERER INSANE.
Papers showing the temporary insanity of C. C. Leigh when he murdered Jennie Banters, in Mohave county, Arizona, about two years ago, have been filed with Governor Kibbey. Attorney Leroy Anderson will appear before the governor in an effort to establish Leigh's insanity and secure for him a sentence of life imprisonment. Instead of hanging, Governor Kibbey's reprieve of thirty-five days to Leigh will expire January 18. If no action is taken before that time he will be hung in Kingman for the murder.

SHOULD ADVERTISE MORE EXTENSIVELY.

Many merchants do not advertise their business sufficiently because they think of the cost of newspaper space, never stopping to consider that newspaper space, properly used, is an interest paying investment. Many a merchant will crowd a full page "ad" into a quarter page space, thinking that he is saving money by so doing. On the contrary, he is cheating himself and he will find that instead of saving money he is producing a loss in his business. People like to read large, well-displayed advertisements, and they hesitate a long time about reading condensed or crowded "ads," poorly displayed. Enlarge your ad and increase your business.

ARIZONA AMONG THE LEADING COPPER MINES.

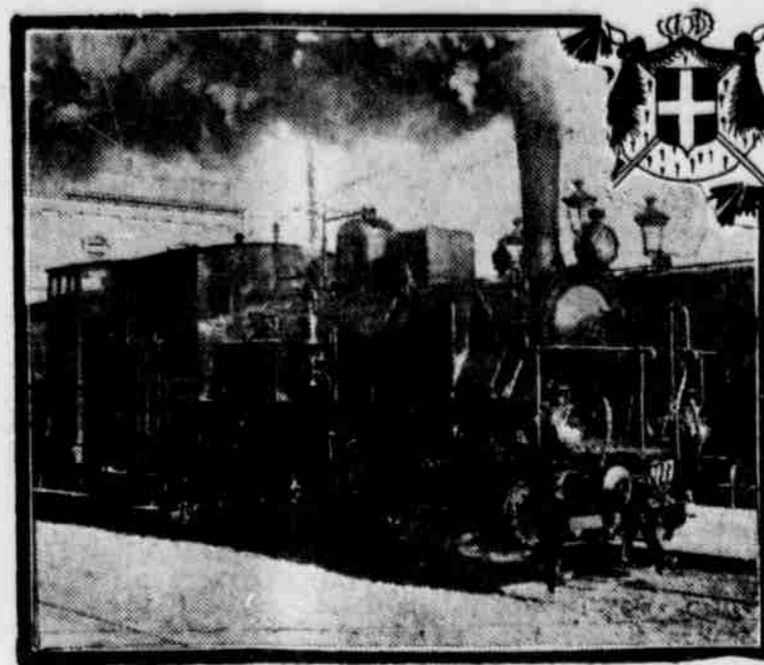

The seven leading copper mines of the world, named in the order of their production, are: Calumet & Hecla, Michigan; Anaconda, Boston & Montana, Montana; Rio Tinto, Spain; Copper Queen, Arizona; Greene Consolidated, Mexico, and the Massey, Saxony, Germany. Those mines are called in the first class, with a production in 1905 of over 40,000,000 pounds of copper. There are eight mines that produced in 1905 less than 20,000,000 pounds in the order of their importance: United Verde, Arizona; Copper Range, Michigan; Calumet & Arizona, Arizona; North Butte, Montana; United Copper, Montana; Arizona Copper company, Arizona; Furukawa, Japan, and El Boleo, Mexico. Ad of these several mines, as also others of lesser production, are making millions of money for their owners.

ACCIDENTAL EXPLOSION IN GRAND CENTRAL MINE.

One day last week two native miners at the Grand Central mine got badly injured by an accidental explosion, says the Hillsboro Advocate. It seems that the two men were working together and had laid several sticks of giant powder near a small fire for the purpose of warming the powder, and one of the men handling a box of giant caps, accidentally dropped the caps into the fire and an explosion immediately followed. The whole shooting match went off, injuring both men. The two unfortunate were taken to Lake Valley, twenty-two miles distant, where they were attended by Dr. F. I. Given and Dr. G. W. Beals. It was found necessary to amputate the leg of one man below the knee, and he was sent to Hesperia, El Paso, for further and convenient treatment and in the hope that the other leg, which was badly crushed, might be saved from amputation. The other man escaped with a pair of badly lacerated legs and the loss of his trousers, which were partially blown off him by the force of the explosion.

ITALY'S RAILROADERS NOT ABLE TO STRIKE

ITALIAN FREIGHT TRAIN STARTING ON A RUN. ONE PECULIAR RESULT FROM ABOLISHING PRIVATE OWNERSHIP—SOME GREAT REFORMS.

This is the last of four articles upon public ownership of railways in Europe.

By Harry G. Farmer.

Special Correspondence.

Rome, Jan. 14.—Government ownership of railways in Italy is the subject of the Italian railways. The line has always belonged to the government, but until eighteen months ago they were leased to private companies. In 1905 the government took over the management of most of the roads, 8179 miles and since then there has been a great increase in profits and better treatment of employees.

During the days of private ownership the Italian railways were the laughing stock of Europe. The trains never ran on time and the cars were always dirty. Toward the end of the private operating companies let everything go to ruin, making no repairs and capturing for themselves every possible penny of profit. The government in consequence has been compelled to undertake vast improvements. Parliament has voted $69,000,000 for this purpose, and will be asked next year for $80,000,000. During the next ten years $200,000,000 will be spent. These are vast sums in a country as poor as Italy, and are much greater than the private companies could ever have expended. There are now 634 engines, 702 passenger cars and 10,400 freight cars under construction.

Results At Once.

The gross returns for the first year of government ownership exceeded those of the last year of private management by $8,000,000. The reforms adopted by the government were so much appreciated that there has been serious congestion of traffic, owing to new business, something unheard of in Italy before. This interference with the smooth operation of trains is being slowly removed as new rolling stock is delivered.

Salaries Raised.

Under the private ownership system all the inferior employees were grossly underpaid, and one of the first acts of the government directors was to set aside $100,000 for added salaries and benefits to the common labor. The total number of employees is 100,000. The director-in-chief receives $4,800 a year, division chiefs $3,000, engineers $540, conductors $420, switchmen $360, and signallers $140, with lodgings. Each employee receives two weeks' vacation with full pay.

Besides receiving higher salaries in some cases 25 per cent more than they drew under old conditions, the employees are not compelled to work such long hours. All employees are entitled to an old age pension, and in the event of death their widows and minor children receive an endowment, the funds for which are contributed partly by the government and partly by small monthly payments by the employees.

The only drawback, in the eyes of the men, to government ownership is the impossibility of effectively striking. The government by declaring martial law can make every railway worker amenable to military discipline, and can try them for mutiny if they refuse to obey orders. Conscription is in force in Italy, and all railway employees are nominally soldiers in reserve. Instead of striking, the men emphasize their grievances through the medium of the socialist members of parliament.

Fares Lower.

The government has decided on sweeping reductions in fares. At present the charges are 4 cents a mile for first class, 2 1/2 cents second and 1 1/2 third, but reductions of from 40 to 60 per cent go into operation immediately. Freight charges are to be lowered, and there is a confident belief in Italy that before many years have elapsed the railway system of the peninsula will rival that of Germany.

Italy is in force in Italy, and all railway employees are nominally soldiers in reserve. Instead of striking, the men emphasize their grievances through the medium of the socialist members of parliament.

AN OPTION GIVEN ON GALLUP FUEL CO MINE.

DISSEE PARTIES WHO VISITED THE MINE WERE PLEASED WITH THE PROPERTY.

Monday parties from Bisbee were in the city looking over the Gallup Fuel company's mine with the prospects of buying, says the Gallup Republican. An option good until the 27th of next month was given by the company. What action the Bisbee people will take is not known. They were satisfied with the mine, so they stated, and may purchase it.

Bisbee has been troubled with a coal shortage all winter and work in the mines was greatly hindered by the shortage of coal. The coal dealers could hardly supply the domestic demand and day after day the papers were warning the people to go carefully with their coal. It may be that this shortage of coal in this big copper camp is the cause of the sudden interest in the Gallup coal field by the Bisbee dealers.

The Copper Queen company has large coal mines at Dawson, in this territory, but they are not able to get coal into the town fast enough to keep the mines running continually. The C. & S. mines were also somewhat bothered by a coal shortage.

"BOOST" YOUR TOWN.

Every chance you get, boost your town. If you are a merchant, and a stranger enters your place of business, be he tourist or capitalist, make his acquaintance and start into boosting Albuquerque with all the energy and vim there is in you. Talk to him as though you were a book agent trying to sell him a "moreco bound volume." If he is seeking health, and desires to locate in a place where he will be benefited, impress upon his mind that he need not go any further, that he has arrived in a town that is famous the world over as a health resort. If he is looking for a place to invest his money, point out the vast opportunities that lie in Albuquerque for him to double his money. Let boosting forever be your motto.

Charles Bruno, a member of the Learnard & Lindemann juvenile band, lies ill of a spinal affection at St. Joseph's hospital. The youthful musicians remembered their ill comrade with a huge bunch of roses yesterday. The young man has not missed a single practice since the band was organized over six months ago.

J. A. Weinmann, of the Golden Rule Dry Goods company, leaves tomorrow evening for New York, accompanied by Mrs. Weinmann. Mr. Weinmann goes to New York to buy goods, and will be absent from the city a couple of months. Alfred Grunsfeld leaves for New York tomorrow evening for the same purpose.

Testimony is being taken today at Gallup in the case of Maynard Gursul and others against the Pacific Improvement Co. and Gregory Page. Harry P. Owen, appointed by Judge Abbott to take the testimony. The case is one wherein Page is charged with the violation of a contract. Attorney E. W. Dobson accompanied Mr. Owen to the Carbon City to appear as attorney for the defendants.

The Kansas City Scenic company will make good for the poor work one of its artists did two years ago on the drop curtain at the Elks' opera house, by replacing the old one with a new one. The new one will be designed the same as the one now in use, having the Ben Hur chariot scene picture, but it is hoped that the proportions will be more regular. In the present picture one of the four horses has a neck and head larger than its body. The Elks' Lease Holding company has also requested that the draperies be less prominent in the new picture than in the old.

Harvey T. Patchin, son of Dr. F. J. Patchin of 207 North High street and well known here in musical circles was on the Golden State limited out of El Paso on the Rock Island road on Friday afternoon. The train was delayed in leaving El Paso on account of which it escaped a wreck in an open switch near Torrance. Train No. 30 also late, reached the switch ahead of them at about the time the Golden State limited was due at that point as a result of which it was wrecked with serious loss of life as elsewhere reported in The Evening Citizen. Mrs. Patchin today received a letter from her son written from El Paso in which he calls attention to his narrow escape, and states that it was the custom of the Golden State to pass over the spot at the rate of seventy miles an hour. Mr. Patchin will receive the congratulations of his many friends on his fortunate escape.

The game between the Las Vegas girls—the University girls—will be of unusual interest. It has been two years since an outside girls' team has played in Albuquerque. The public will no doubt be greatly pleased with the game, for the Las Vegas girls in their last game with the University, demonstrated their ability to put up a good, first class game of basketball. This time they are confident of success and the basketball loving public of Albuquerque will have a chance to see one of the most exciting games of the season.

Home Insurance the Best

WE CANNOT refrain from again saying something about Home Insurance. Every time that the proposition presents itself of the tremendous amount of money that is being sent out of New Mexico and Arizona for life insurance to eastern cities, the conviction comes home with increased force that a home company ought to be patronized and the money remain in the West.

The revelations of the past year of the way the enormous surplus of the big Eastern companies has been handled and speculated with ought to emphasize the fact that the people of the West should stop pouring their money into Eastern channels when it can be placed in home insurance, and every dollar of it kept and invested at home.

It is gratifying to note that home insurance is year by year receiving more and more its just deserts. Statistics show that during the past year home companies far exceeded foreign companies in the amount of business written. Why cannot this same record be made here? It can if every individual who takes out a policy the coming year will carefully weigh the proposition of the value it is to keep his insurance at home before he puts his name to the application of any insurance company.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company of New Mexico and Arizona is owned and controlled by the leading business men of the two territories, and offers exceptional opportunities to ambitious and capable men and women to sell its policies.
