APPALLING FRIGHTFULNESS OF KINGSTON DISASTER GROWS

AS FULLER NEWS IS OBTAINED BY WIRE

Well Nigh the Whole City Is Heap of Ruins Beyond Repair.

EVEN SHORES OF BAY ARE SINKING BENEATH WATER

Many Miraculous Escapes Were Made and Yet Deaths Will Exceed a Thousand.

New York, Jan. 17.—Definite advice as to the extent of the catastrophe at Kingston are still lacking early today. Conflicting reports indicate the death list may be anywhere from 100 to 1,000. One dispatch reported 310 bodies already recovered and buried. From the meagre reports it is indicated that there is no immediate fear of a food famine as provisions are plentiful. Medical supplies are, however, urgently needed.

Shores of Bay Sinking.
The shores of the harbor of Kingston are sinking and there is a terror lest the city should slip into the sea, according to private dispatches received here by large merchant houses, from Port Antonio, Hayti. The bed of the harbor is said to be sinking and the water in many places is now 100 feet deep. Every wharf not destroyed by the fire is said to have sunk into the sea or to have been rendered worthless.

LATEST LONDON REPORTS ARE THE WORST OF ALL.
London, Jan. 17.—The latest reports received here regarding the Kingston disaster all tend to confirm and even accentuate the gravity of the situation in Jamaica. While the colonial offices were unable, up to 2:30 this afternoon, to give official figures of the death toll and the extent of the destruction, yet many responsible sources of information concur in showing the growing proportions of the catastrophe. Sir Alfred Jones' dispatch was received during the night saying that every house in Kingston had been destroyed and that the city is a heap of smoking ashes. It has awakened the British public to the extent of this blow to their favorite colony, as Sir Alfred is among the most trustworthy figures in the commercial world.

Many Miraculous Escapes.
A dispatch from Holland Bay dated the 15th, says that the first shock at Kingston occurred at 3:35 a. m., January 14 and did all the damage, the subsequent shocks having little effect. Fire spread in three different directions fanned by a strong wind and the firemen being handicapped by the absence of sufficient water supply. The dispatch after confirming the reports of hundreds killed, says that at least 20 to 40 were killed by the collapse of the Myrtlebank hotel.

The sender of the dispatch does not mention any looting or violence, except in the case of a few rum shops, which were invaded by the negroes. Reports from St. Thomas estimate the dead at 1,000 and place the damage at $10,000,000.

Sir Alfred Jones and several members of his party had a remarkable escape. They had lunched at the Myrtlebank hotel and then went to the pier to toss coals into the water for negro divers. The visitors had just left the pier on their way back to the hotel, when as they reached the hotel lawn the earthquake came and the hotel toppled over. The pier which they had just left, was also destroyed.

Condition Announced as Terrible.
Noon.—Much surprise and anxiety is felt at the colonial offices at the absence of any further news from the governor of Jamaica. Urgent dispatches calling on him to report the latest details are still unanswered this morning. The only message from Governor Sweetenham is the one forwarded apparently on Monday, after which the complete silence indicating interruption of official news channels has caused increasing apprehension regarding the destructive effect of the catastrophe.

During the early hours of the morning the West Indian & Panama Cable company received a dispatch from its superintendent at St. Thomas, announcing that the situation at Kingston is terrible and that famine is imminent. The superintendent adds that the company's steamer, Henry Holmes, left St. Thomas for Kingston with provisions and doctors to render to the sufferers every assistance possible. A dispatch was received today reporting the safety of Alfred Austin, of the colonial bank of Kingston, whose fate had been much in doubt.

Besides Sir James Ferguson, the most conspicuous white men killed were Captains Constantine and Young of the Royal Mail Steamship service; Major Hardeman, Dr. Gibbs Varley, Dr. Menier, Dr. Robertson and wife, Miss Lockett, B. Varley, J. W. M. Bradley, and four children of a family named Livingstone. Several others are reported missing. The reports from Austria and Switzerland, figures varying from 400 disturbances occurred there on Monday at about the same time as in Jamaica, indicating a widespread unrest of the earth's crust.

Disturbances are General.
That there is a general state of unrest in the earth, of which the Jamaica disturbance is only one instance, is the belief of Professor Belar, famous seismologist and astronomer at Lullbach observatory. His instruments not only registered the Jamaican disturbances, but give other proofs of terrestrial phenomena in the shape of shocks elsewhere, and also hallstoms and rockfalls.

KINGSTON WAS ONLY PLACE DAMAGED ON ISLAND.
Holland Bay, Jamaica, Jan. 17. Advice received from various parts of the island show that Kingston was the only place damaged by the recent earthquake. All other towns in Jamaica are in good condition. No further shocks have been felt in Jamaica.

Nothing Apparently Escaped.
Hardly a building is left standing in the entire city of Kingston, and every one not demolished is dangerously injured and uninhabitable. The death list will probably total many hundreds, but it is impossible to furnish an accurate estimate at the present figures varying from 400 to 1,200, the latter being the police estimate. The injured number several hundred and about 10,000 are homeless. The government railroad from Kingston to Port Antonio was not damaged to any great extent, and several trains are taking the homeless people to Port Antonio for shelter. Several vessels are also engaged in taking the people to the same port. So far as known no Americans were killed or injured.

Popular Myrtlebank no More.
All agree that the entire business section of Kingston has been completely demolished, mainly as the result of the fire, which started immediately after the earthquake. Port Antonio is said to be unharmed, though the poorly built town hall was partially destroyed.

The destroyed section of Kingston includes that portion of the town between East and West streets, from Tower street to the water front. All the piers are down with the exception of that of the Royal Mail Steam Packet company, and that of the government railway. The Myrtlebank hotel, a favorite resort of Americans, was completely razed.

Eight Americans Missing.
One report says that eight Americans are missing. A portion of the town of Port Royal, which sank two centuries ago, is again under water.

TALLEST BUILDING IN THE WORLD IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 17.—A tower is soon to be added to the office building of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, on Madison Square, which will make that building rank as the highest, tallest business structure in the world.

The tower will rise to the extraordinary height of 658 feet from the street.

The daring ingenuity of constructive man has never attempted such a project. The Eiffel tower, in Paris, is 326 feet taller than the new tower to be built here, but it is a great steel frame which is not used for practical business.

The new Singer building, in Broadway, will have a tower 292 feet from the street when it is complete. It will rank as the second highest business building in the world. Washington monument, a few years ago considered a marvel, is only 555 feet from its base.

The Metropolitan tower will cost $2,000,000. It will top a giant office building, which has been constructed in sections, and will occupy the ground formerly the site of the Parkhurst church.

ICE COAT IS SPREAD OVER ALL MISSOURI

Kansas and the Northern Half of Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

WIRES ARE DOWN AND NO TRAINS MAKE TIME

Stock Throughout the Section Are Suffering Badly From Sudden Change.

Kansas City, Jan. 17.—Missouri, practically all of Kansas, and the northern half of Oklahoma and Indian Territory, are covered with sheet ice and snow, according to the weather bureau and railroad reports received here this morning.

Nearly one inch of rain has fallen in the past thirty-six hours, continuing up to this morning, and this has been followed by freezing weather. The principal damage has been to telegraph, telephone and trolley wires.

In Kansas City the car service has been interrupted on many lines, while wire communication in all directions, but principally north from here, was impeded. The weight of snow carried down wires and poles by scores of trains into Kansas City are delayed from one to three hours.

The northern half of Missouri seems to have borne the brunt of the storm.

TRAINS ARE DELAYED AND ALL STOCK SUFFERING.
Topeka, Kan., Jan. 17.—All Kansas is covered with a glare of ice and snow today. Telegraph service is badly demoralized along the railroads, especially on the St. Louis line of the Rock island. No trains are reported blocked, but are making slow time owing to the slippery condition of rails. Stock of all kinds is suffering.

CARTER HARRISON FOR MAYOR AGAIN

Special Correspondence.
Chicago, Jan. 17.—You can't keep the Carter Harrison family out of the mayoralty chair in Chicago. Here's Carter Harrison, son of the world's fair and gambling mayor, and himself a three-term mayor, right out in the sunlight as a candidate for a fourth term.

Harrison has a committee on organization and also a committee on finance, which latter is significantly referred to as the "500,000 committee." There is also a Carter Harrison Business Men's League, which is busy getting 100,000 pledges for Carter II.

It's pretty certain that on the list of this league are the names of quite a number of street railway and other public utility corporation stockholders, who fear the re-election of Mayor Dunne, with the consequent endorsement of municipal ownership. Carter Harrison headquarters were opened Saturday in a downtown hotel.

RUSSIA IS NOW ORGANIZING HER NAVY
St. Petersburg, Jan. 17.—A navy was issued today announcing the reorganization of Russia's shattered sea force, which has been kept practically at bay by the Russian revolution. The powerful clique which has been fighting to prevent the probing into the naval scandals of the grand ducal regime, to which the defeat of the country in the battles of the sea of Japan is largely attributed. The movement receiving the personal interest of the czar who calls on the organization to assist in the thorough reorganization of the navy. At a conference today of the highest naval authorities, summoned by the emperor, and presided over by himself, he enjoined the officers to speak with the utmost frankness, and for the first time he was informed of the full extent of the corruption responsible for the defeats at the hands of the Japanese. A proposal to adopt the German plan of naval administration was rejected as untimely because it would be regarded as withdrawing the government, but those present at the conference gathered that the czar was fully determined to put through a complete naval program. The program is to be elaborated as soon as the finances of the country permit.

THE BRITISH NAVY IS TO BE REDUCED
London, Jan. 17.—It was announced in official circles today that there will be a reduction of the British navy in the February maneuvers. The channel fleet will be reduced from seventeen battleships to fourteen, with three small cruisers. The Atlantic fleet will be reduced from eight battleships to six, with three small cruisers. The same reduction will be made in the Mediterranean fleet and the first and second armored cruiser squadrons will be reduced from six to four vessels. Thus the main squadrons of the fleet in active service will be reduced from thirty-three to twenty-six battleships and from sixteen armored cruisers to twelve.

MANY LOAFERS IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS
Washington, D. C., Jan. 17.—All dishonorably discharged soldiers in the Philippines must be accounted for and got rid of, according to a report from Manila today. It is said that after their discharge they hang around the garrisons and add to that class of the population which is neither a credit or an advantage to the islands. The military courts sentencing soldiers to dishonorable discharge are instructed to impose a term of imprisonment and during this term the prisoners will be transported to the United States. This will make it impossible for a dishonorably discharged soldier to be at liberty on the island and will relieve the Philippine community of their undesirable presence.

BIG SENATORIAL FIGHT IN STATE OF MICHIGAN

A Millionaire, Backed by the State Republican Boss, Is Running--Fought by the Republican Governor.

ARTHUR HILL.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17.—Arthur Hill, the leading republican candidate for United States senator from Michigan, cannot see that it was improper for him to contribute heavily to the campaign expenses of candidates for the legislature.

But Governor Warner, republican, thought it so serious a matter that from a sick bed he secured a postponement of the caucus which was scheduled to select Hill for the senatorship.

Politicians thought this act Hill's chances flying, but Hill thinks not. Atwood, railroad commissioner and republican boss, who backs Hill, says Hill will win yet.

The fight has really resolved itself into a contest between the governor and the boss and it is a fight to the finish. If the governor wins Atwood will retire from Michigan politics humiliated and disgraced. If Atwood wins it will be because he is a bigger man than the chief executive.

Arthur Hill is several times a millionaire. His home is in Saginaw. He is a lumberman, as his father, Daniel Hill, fought with Perry and helped win the battle of Lake Erie, and when he died his widow took a military land warrant from the government which proved the foundation for the Hill fortunes.

As a youth Arthur Hill worked in a sawmill and in the lumber camps. He worked his way through the public schools and later through the University of Michigan, from which he graduated as a civil engineer. He became a railroad surveyor in Minnesota, afterwards returning to Michigan and experiencing the hard life of a land-lubber.

From that to a great lumber man was but a few steps. His company operates extensively in Canada as well as in many states. Four years ago he sold holdings in Minnesota for $2,000,000.

"Boss" Atwood is railroad commissioner for the state of Michigan by grace of the late Governor Bliss and by reappointment from the present governor. He is a politician in the fullest meaning of the word and lives at the little town of Caro. Commonly called "Tip" by friend and foe alike, he has accomplished his purposes in Michigan by the velvet glove rather than the iron hand method.

Atwood never loses his temper. He works by quiet methods. He never discloses himself nor his work. Through two administrations he distributed large campaign funds, but no one, even his bitter enemy, has ever charged him with grafting. During two terms of the legislature his work was necessary to the passing of a bill and "Tip's" disapproval of a measure sounded its death note.

TWO HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF BEN FRANKLIN

Celebrated Extensively in His Native
Land Which Loves to Honor
His Memory.

PHILADELPHIA LEADS BUT OTHER CITIES FOLLOW CLOSELY EXAMPLE

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 17.—The efforts which were made to render the celebration of the bicentenary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin of historic interest have proved highly successful for today's proceedings are of sufficient importance to draw the attention of the world. Delegates of scientific societies from all parts of the country are in attendance. Tonight there will be a banquet to the foreign guests and the next three days will be devoted to ceremonies for the carrying out of which the legislature of Pennsylvania appropriated $29,000. On all sides, however, it is regretted that the house in Market street, in which Franklin spent the last years of his life, covering the period between his final return from the court of France and his death, should not have been preserved as a historical relic. It stood on a patch of ground near Chestnut street and a chair, which he used there, is owned at present by the Philosophical society of Philadelphia.

At the opening ceremony today Governor Pennypacker in the course of an able address stated that if Franklin was alive today he would be called a Unitarian, but like his friend, Thomas Payne, he was extremely religious and had firm faith in an overruling providence and in the immortality of the soul. Today's ceremonies are being held under the auspices of the American Philosophical society, which was founded by Franklin. President Roosevelt will arrive tonight and has promised to deliver an oration. Over ten thousand people today visited the grave of Franklin and read the epitaph which he wrote for his own tombstone, and which reads as follows: "The body of Benjamin Franklin, Printer. Like the Cover of an Old Book Its Contents Torn Out and Stript of Its Lettering and Gliding lies here food for worms. But the Work Shall Not be Lost For It Will (as he believed) appear Amer. More in New and More Elegant Edition Revised and Corrected by the Author."

THE BIGGEST MINING YEAR IN HISTORY
Washington, Jan. 17.—The past year has been the biggest mining year the United States has ever seen, according to the geological survey report issued today. The mine developments in Nevada and Utah, according to the report, are considered of the utmost importance, as showing that even at this late date the possibility of discovery is by no means exhausted. The showings at Goldfield during the year would indicate that another unusual prolific source of this country's gold production has been discovered. In Utah great progress has been made in completing plans for working the low-grade copper ores in the vicinity of Bingham, where in the short space of two years an almost unheard of tonnage of the low-grade porphyries has been opened up for treatment. These discoveries have made necessary the additional increase of funds for the work in that state, which now are being provided for. The mineral development throughout the United States and Alaska indicates a still larger output for 1907.

SOUTHERN COTTON ASSOCIATION CONVENTION
Birmingham, Ala., Jan. 17.—At the annual convention of the Southern Cotton association, which commenced today, the question of the enlargement of the trade in foreign countries was fully discussed. Reports were read from committees dealing with the subject and showing the steps taken to introduce cotton and cotton products from this country into foreign countries. Meetings of cotton growers were arranged for the future and it was pointed out that farmers desirous of bettering their condition and learning something of where their cotton goes, and how it is treated after it leaves his hands, should attend. Never in the history of the association has there been a larger attendance. There are more than 5,000 persons present.

PATENT OFFICIALS WANT LARGER QUARTERS
Washington, Jan. 17.—The commissioner of patents at Washington is demanding larger quarters, more clerks and clerical pay for the examiners, which he says are overworked, all pointing to the fact that the inventive breed is not doing out in America. In making his application, which is being considered today, he says that the flood of new devices pouring into the patent office is larger than ever before the examiners being fully a year behind in their work. A perusal of the list of new applications for patents shows that motors, submarines and aerial devices head the list.

Frozen herring is commencing to arrive, also several shiploads having been discharged in capital condition. The later sell in the market at 34 cents a pound.

NO VIOLATION OF THE LAW TO SELL

Liquor to Pueblo Indians.
Opinion of Supreme Court in This Important Matter.

The supreme court of New Mexico continued its session at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in the chambers at the capitol building. There were present:

Chief Justice William J. Mills, Associate Justices John R. McFie, Frank W. Parker, William H. Pope, Edward A. Mann and Ira A. Abbott. Jose D. Serna, clerk of the court, was at his post. The territory was represented by Attorney General W. C. Reid, Deputy United States Marshal H. P. Bogh was in attendance.

The following cases came up yesterday for consideration:

No. 1147—Mariano F. Serna, plaintiff in error, vs. American Turquoise company, defendant in error. Resettled for hearing February 25.

No. 1152—Stringfellow & Tannehill, a corporation, appellee, vs. W. W. Petty, appellant. Judgment of court below affirmed. Opinion by Associate Justice McFie.

No. 1174—William E. Gannon, plaintiff in error, vs. Louis W. Galles, defendant in error. Argued and submitted.

No. 1176—Territory of New Mexico, appellant, vs. Abraham Abeyta, appellee. Argued and submitted.

Suit on Altered Promissory Note.

In the case of Stringfellow & Tannehill vs. W. W. Petty, which was appealed from the district court of Chaves county, the action was upon an altered promissory note of the face value of $100.00.

The circumstances attending the alteration of the note were fully set forth in the pleadings. It was alleged by the plaintiff and appellee in the complaint that subsequent to the alteration of the note and very soon thereafter the defendant ratified the same with a full knowledge of the facts.

The defendant denied having authorized the alteration of the note as well as the ratification of the same after it was changed. In the trial court a verdict was returned for the plaintiff for the full amount of the note and the accrued interest at the rate of ten per cent, together with compound interest to the amount of $244. A motion for a new trial was made and upon the plaintiff remitting the item of compound interest the motion for a re-hearing was overruled and judgment rendered the plaintiff for the amount due, less the compound interest.

Pueblos Exempt From Indian Liquor Law.

In the opinion handed down Tuesday by Associate Justice Pope, in the case of the United States, appellant, vs. Benito Mares and Anastasio Santistevan, appellees, as briefly stated in The Citizen yesterday, in an interview with Attorney Medier, it is held that it is no violation of the law to sell liquor to Pueblo Indians. The ruling avers that the Pueblo Indians are legal citizens of the United States. Mares and Santistevan were charged with selling intoxicants to the Indians of the pueblo of Taos. Judge N. S. Laughlin, of Santa Fe, was the attorney for the appellees.

The opinion defines the status of the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico and Arizona and may call for congressional action to prevent liquor-selling to them. The Evening Citizen publishes the opinion in full on account of its great importance and far-reaching effect, affirming as it does, the previous holdings of the supreme court that the Pueblo Indians are full-blooded citizens of the United States. The opinion is as follows:

Syllabus.
1. The Pueblo Indians of New Mexico are not wards of the government, nor are they in charge of an Indian superintendent or agent, nor are they Indians over whom the government exercises guardianship, within the meaning of the act of congress of January 20, 1897, penalizing the sale or gift of intoxicants to such Indians.
2. The holdings of this court and of the supreme court of the United States as to the status of the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico, living and residing at the pueblo of Taos and being members of that tribe, and that the whiskey in question was sold or given to them in the town of Taos and off the lands of said Taos Pueblo tribe. The court below upon these admitted facts discharged the defendants, and the correctness of this ruling is the sole question presented by this appeal. The status of the Pueblo Indians of this territory has been the subject of very full consideration by this court and by the supreme court of the United States in a number of cases: U. S. vs. Varian, 1 N. M. 521; U. S. vs. Santistevan, 1 N. M. 583; Pueblo Indian tax case, 1 N. M. 139; U. S. vs. Joseph, 94 U. S. 619, quoted in ex parte Crow Dog, 109 U. S. 572; U. S. vs. Ritchie, 1 How. 625-628. From these decisions, the first two of which dealt with the very Pueblo here in question, their illegal standing has been very definitely fixed. They have been judicially determined to be a people very different from the nomadic Apaches, Comanches and other tribes whose incapacity for self-government required both for themselves and for the citizens of the country the guardian care of the federal government. They are not tribes within the meaning of the federal intercourse acts prohibiting

PROF. STARR BRINGS MUSIC FROM THE AFRICAN JUNGLE

PROF. STARR PHOTOGRAPHED WITH A GROUP OF NATIVES OF BATAUI, NDONGBE, AFRICA.

Special Correspondence.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Congo songs and the latest music of the African jungles will be sung on the campus of the University of Chicago from the original phonograph records which Prof. Frederick Starr has just brought back from the wilds of the dark continent.

Music and musical instruments always have been among the noted anthropologist's hobbies and his findings on his recent trip were especially valuable. He now is prepared to introduce African music first hand to Chicagoans and at an early date will present to his classes some of the "ruling races" of dark Africa. Prof. Starr was unwilling to make a comparison of African music with American music, but he hinted it would not take much to surpass "My Zulu Maid." "I'm the Kid That Bullt the Pyramids" and some of the other favorites of the hour.

Grand opera, he asserts, thrives among certain tribes—or at least something on the order of grand opera. Many of the cannibals were musically inclined—some with Caruso voices—and on certain festivities he was able to record the musical ceremonies.

The professor carried with him also a moving picture machine, and will be able to present a double bill to his classes. While the phonograph is reeling off the music, the anthropologist will throw the singer on a screen and send him through his antics which generally are quite varied.

Many of the ceremonies, dances, customs and modes of life of the Africans have been recorded by the anthropologist with the phonograph, moving picture machine, camera and by the real objects which are included in his five tons of baggage.

settlement upon the land of "any Indian tribe." They are not wards of the government in the sense that this term has been used in connection with the American Indian.

While congress has "as a mere gratuity from time to time provided agents and special attorneys for them, it has never attempted thereby to reduce them to a state of tutelage or to put them or their property under the charge or control of the government or its agents." On the contrary, they hold their lands and property by complete and perfect title antedating the sovereignty of the United States and recognized by its unconditional patent issued to its decedent ago. They have full power to alienate their lands and these, in the absence of any act of congress to the contrary, are subject like other property to taxation by the territory. Finally, these Indians were at the date of the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo citizens of Mexico and of the United States.

This being the status of the Pueblo Indians, as fixed by the decisions of the supreme court of the United States, it only remains to be determined whether the sale of intoxicating liquor to them is within the prohibition of the act of January 20, 1897. (29 St. 509; 3 Fed. St. Ann. 384.) This act makes it penal to sell or give intoxicants to "any Indian to whom allotment of land has been made while the title to the same has been held in trust by the government, or to any Indian or ward of the government, or to any Indian superintendent or agent, or to any Indian including mixed bloods, over whom the government, through its departments, exercises guardianship." It is a sufficient answer to the present appeal to say that in our judgment the Pueblo Indians, as defined by the decisions above referred to, do not come within any one of the three classes above referred to. The title to their land is not held in trust by the government; they are not wards of the government, nor are they under the charge of any Indian superintendent or agent; they are not Indians over whom the government, through its departments, exercises guardianship. We deem this conclusion so inevitable from the terms of the statute as not to call for any citations of authority. We find, however, that the United States district court of the western district of Washington has, in United States vs. Kopp, 119 Fed. 169, decided July 21, 1901, dealt with this very question. That case was as to the Puyallup Indians, and it was there held:

"The Puyallup Indians holding lands under patents of the tenor above set forth are citizens of the United States, consider all the rights, privileges and immunities of other citizens, and they are not under the guardianship of the United States government, nor under the charge of any Indian superintendent or agent; and the statute of 1897, prohibiting the furnishing of intoxicating drinks, favoring extracts, bitters and stimulants to Indians having the status and subject to the conditions therein defined, does not comprehend an Indian having the status and rights, privileges and immunities belonging to the Indian named in this indictment."

We have not overlooked the fact that the indictment in this case, to which the demurrer was presented, alleges that the Indians in question were "under charge of an Indian agent of the United States." We do not, however, consider this allegation (even is sufficient under the terms of the statute), to be an allegation of fact such as is confessed by the demurrer. Whether or not a given Indian is a ward of the government, or whether or not he can in legal contemplation be under the charge of an Indian agent, are questions of law to be determined in the light of his legal status, and the acts of congress applicable to him. The stipulation that the Indians in question were Pueblos, places them as a matter of law beyond the protection of the statute and renders it unnecessary for us to consider the question presented in the argument and upon the briefs and to which the recent case in re. Heff, 197 U. S. 488, is cited, as to whether it is in the power of congress to prohibit within a territory the sale of intoxicants to a special class of its citizens, such as the Pueblo Indians. Holding, as we do, that congress has not attempted to exercise such power, it becomes necessary for us to determine whether it could constitutionally exercise it.

The judgment of the court below is affirmed.

LAS CRUCES IS SURELY ALL RIGHT

Lands at present under cultivation in the Mesilla valley, with sufficient water, assure the prosperity of Dona Ana county, says the Las Cruces Citizen. The mines situated in the Organ mountains, from ten to fifteen and twenty-five miles from Las Cruces, will furnish a market for a good part of the product raised in the valley, which demonstrates, saying nothing about cattle, sheep, goats and other industries, the "City of the Crosses" is on a solid foundation.

PROFESSOR TINSLEY IN THE ESTANCIA VALLEY.

Prof. J. D. Tinsley, the expert soil culture man of the New Mexico Agricultural college, will spend about a week in the Estancia valley, and during that time he will be glad to meet and talk with farmers about conditions in the valley, character of the soil, the best manner for cultivation, and the best crops to plant and when to plant them.

Lectured at Mountainair yesterday afternoon. He will be at Willard January 19th and at Estancia January 22d.

These lectures will be given under the auspices of the Estancia Valley Development association, and at the close of the lecture at Estancia it is desired that a business meeting of the association follow, for the purpose of closing up its business and giving the association a decent burial, as this will be perhaps the last function it will perform, it having accomplished its purpose and done the duty it was organized to do, says J. W. Corbett, president of the association. The lectures are all free and everybody interested in the development of Torrance county is invited and urged to attend if possible to do so. The hour of the lectures will be at 2 o'clock p. m.

TWO ELECTION CONTENTS FAIL TO OUST WINNERS.

In sustaining the demurrer of the defendant in the election contest of R. P. Talbot vs. R. E. Morrison, involving the office of district attorney in Yavapai county, Judge R. E. Sloan of the district court, thereby upheld the right of Morrison to the office, says the Prescott Courier.

In the opinion of the court Talbot had no ground of action, which he based upon the failure of the board of supervisors to designate the polling place for North Prescott. It was contended by Talbot that returns from that precinct should be thrown out. The court held that the election board was not guilty of misconduct in receiving the votes and in counting them.

The decision also disposes of the case of Roland Mosher against J. C. Bradbury, which was of identical character, for the office of county recorder.

The contest of George Hardiker for the justice of the peace office in Douglas was decided in favor of Ben Rice, democrat, the court not finding that any fraud had been committed.

Such Is the Title Which Field and Farm Gives Alfalfa
In Colorado.

Colorado is probably profiting more largely from the culture and use of alfalfa than any other state in the union, for the great legume is now bringing the state close upon twelve million dollars in annual revenue. This is not only by reason of favorable soil and climatic conditions, but by the employment of intelligent methods of handling the crop. Our Colorado farmers know how to raise alfalfa and when and how best to feed it out in order to secure the largest profits. Everything combines to favor the culture of the crop, while Colorado, being in the midst of a great livestock region, finds the feeding conditions the best ever. All our readers know how hundreds of thousands of lambs, bought all over the great western ranges, are annually fed in transit for Chicago and other great eastern markets to say nothing of the extensive cattle feeding of the state.

The farmers of Colorado make a very simple matter of raising alfalfa. They often seed their lands to alfalfa by sowing it with some grain crop, and from that on three or four crops may be taken off each season. Our system of irrigation is the most simple and comparatively inexpensive. The farmers do not expend from fifteen to twenty dollars an acre in digging their alfalfa land up into checks as they do in California, but just put in their laterals and sublaterals and then let the water do the rest under the old-fashioned law of gravitation such as Galileo discovered 600 years ago. The system of cutting, curing, stacking, feeding, etc., is also simplicity itself, and in perfecting these methods the farmers have been assisted throughout by the advice reiterated in this journal for the past score of years. We have always been the leader of thought in this theme and our expressions have been extensively copied and imitated all over the world.

As we have often said before alfalfa aside from its botanical designation of medicago sativa is known under three names—lucerne, Chilean clover and alfalfa. The latter is that under which the Arabs introduced it into Spain, whence it was brought into America. The plant with its Arabic name was introduced into California in the early 50's by the Chilians, and from California it was introduced into Utah sometime in the fifties. We got our first seed from Chihuahua, Mexico, in the spring of 1863 when Major Downing brought up a pound or so in his haversack and made the first sowing in his dooryard in Denver. The plant has been known since 189 B. C. for in that year it was introduced into Greece under the name of Medica, signifying that it came from Media.

The methods of culture are quite uniform in all sections where the plant is grown, and we have never had much of a struggle in getting it started as seems to be the complaint of some of our eastern friends who are inclined to look upon the plant as a sort of bete noir with a double row of teeth. Several varieties have been under experimentation, including three French varieties, the Turkestan and a yellow bloomer but these have shown no material difference in comparison from our good old home-grown variety with its beautiful purple bloom and persistent tendency to spread over all creation. Still our common alfalfa presents two types readily recognized by experienced growers. One has a dark green color, narrow leaves, red stem, and usually a deep purple flower, while the other has green stems and flowers of lighter or somewhat azure tint. Alfalfa thrives in all Colorado soils that are not too wet. In some sections it winter kills, but there are instances of alfalfa doing well at an altitude of 5,000 feet above sea level. And come weal or woe our people will still be raising it a thousand years hence for by that time it shall have become indigenous to every spot where a spear of grass will grow.—Field and Farm.

NEW MEXICO'S OPPORTUNITY

In an editorial last evening the El Paso Herald says that under the present high price of metals, if New Mexico does not now leap forward as a mineral producer, it will be because her people are not alive to the great opportunity presented, because the territory has an abundance of pay ore.

New Mexico is among the very richest mineral regions in the country, says the Herald. In the old days it was a famous producer, but unfortunately some of the pioneer miners were inclined to take only what was handed to them and to skate around the real problems of mining. They not only left enormous values in the ground, but they gave New Mexico a blow to her prestige that she has not yet wholly recovered from.

The mineral is here, plenty of it. Some of the prospects in New Mexico are so sensational in indicated value that if they were situated anywhere else they would cause a stampede. But some organized effort should be made to interest capital and get real miners to undertake the development of the territory. One big swindle will undo the constructive work of a decade.

Big concerns are coming into New Mexico copper, and the probability is, as the Herald very correctly says, that another five years will demonstrate New Mexico to belong by rights to the famous copper belt of Arizona-Sonora, with a production dependent only upon the skill and capital brought to the exploitation of the natural resources.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

There were less than a third as many lynchings last year as there were fourteen years ago. From the 235 mob murders of 1892 to the seventy-two of 1906 is certainly an encouraging advance. There is another encouraging feature to the lynching record for last year. There were no burnings at the stake. Murder, too, is declining in this country, measured by increase of population. There were 9,250 last year, against 9,212 the year before—a slight increase in number, but a proportional decline.

But while lynchings and homicides have declined, suicides have increased. In the year there were more than 10,000 suicides. As yet the suicide rate in the United States does not equal the rate in France, Germany or Austria. Our homicide rate still far exceeds that of England or the principal continental countries. In the lynching neighborhoods there are few suicides. Mississippi leads the states in lynchings, and has almost no suicides. Also suicides were rarest in sections where there were the most homicides.

There seems to be some subtle natural law controlling the relation between murders and suicides. In primitive communities murders many times outnumber the suicides, but as civilization advances the ratio changes. In the venerable civilization of China the high class Chinese gentleman who has been wronged goes to the door of the man who wronged him, not to kill him but to kill himself. Our rate of increase of suicide over homicide is fast, but not fast enough to bring us very soon to that condition.

USING ANOTHER'S CAPITAL

President Fish, late of the Illinois Central railroad, remarked recently upon the spreading kind of men like Harriman "who through the use of trust funds and the power incident thereto," monopolize and turn to their own uses the control of wealth. In commenting upon this remark the Springfield, Mass., Republican notes the fact that there has been considerable selling of Wells-Fargo Express company stock by holders in that vicinity because of Harriman's domination of the company and his evident purpose to use the company's big surplus in financing his many railroad projects.

Harriman does not own the express company, but he controls the use of the money it has earned. The men who own stock in the company are helpless. They cannot control their own property. So far has the power of control of the big corporations been extended that capital is almost entirely separated from its owners. A man cannot do with his own as he wishes. It is his, but the use of it is in the hands of the big financiers. Thus capitalists themselves are coming to look with alarm upon the big fish who swallow up the smaller fish. Wherever there is a surplus, there are the harpies.

That is why the Harrimans do not like to let go the control of the New York life insurance companies. There is a trust fund that may be exploited. The use of somebody's money may be had for the taking. It is certainly significant of better things when men of property begin to view this species of robbery with misgiving.

TWO IMPORTANT CONVENTIONS

Two conventions were booked to begin today in each of which New Mexico has great interest. One is the National Dry Farming convention, meeting in Denver; the other is the National Woolgrowers' association, meeting in Salt Lake City.

No section of the nation has greater interest in either of these gatherings than has this same territory of New Mexico. We are in the front rank of wool producers, and not even irrigation itself is of such importance to us as will be the bringing of our non-irrigable lands under successful cultivation. The Citizen hopes that New Mexico will be well represented at the dry farming convention and that this territory may get her full share of the beneficial results which can but follow such a meeting as that at Denver must be.

No doubt New Mexico will be more largely represented at Salt Lake City than at Denver, not only because wool growing is well advanced in this territory while dry farming is at yet scarcely in its infancy, but because the Wool Growers' Association of New Mexico and the Commercial club of this city are both actively engaged in endeavoring to secure for Albuquerque the national meeting for next year.

Kingston, of whose fate the world is so much in doubt, is the capital and principal commercial city of the island of Jamaica, a West Indian possession of Great Britain. It is on the south coast and on the north side of a fine harbor, ten miles by rail east of a Spanish town. The city stands on a gentle slope and is regularly laid out, its houses being mostly two stories in height. The city has a population of between 40,000 and 50,000. Its principal buildings are the churches, hospitals, synagogues and charitable institutions. It has a university school, a Baptist college, collegiate school, a theater and an amphitheater. There are several banks in the city and a building connected with the Society of Arts. The city has five daily newspapers and several weeklies. It also has an Anglican bishop's see. Kingston harbor is a landlocked basin in which the largest ships can lie securely at anchor.

The Citizen has received copies of ten bills introduced by Delegate Andrews during the present session of congress. Six of them are for granting increase of pensions to as many different citizens of New Mexico; two are for the payment of claims long due two citizens of the territory and two are for important legislation. One of these prevents the governor or the legislature from appointing a member of the legislature to any office during the time of his legislative membership; the other is to validate the issue of Albuquerque bonds for a city building.

According to the Globe-Democrat an agreement is said to have been reached by republican leaders in congress that there shall not be any railway legislation during the remainder of the present session. No doubt this is wise. The country has had some very important enactments along that line, and it certainly will be well to pause and see how the new laws will act before going any further in the same direction.

MODEL FARM FOR EVERY COUNTY HILL'S SUGGESTION

James J. Hill favors the establishment by the government in each county of a small model farm of from thirty to forty acres. The object would be to bring close home to the people the advantages of intensive farming and the increased revenue through added care and scientific methods.

The value of such farms could not be overestimated, but why ask the general government to do this? Why is it not rather the province and duty of the several states, and why should they not be correlated with the public schools, the state agricultural college and the state experimental farms?

Only one-half the benefit from such farms could be had from using them merely as object lessons. They should be actual centers of practical education in agriculture for the youth of each county, including their cities. Each one should be an adjunct or a part, the practice department, of an agricultural high school.

This is the greatest need of the nation today, for, after all is said and done, this is an agricultural nation. The problem ultimately of highest importance is to get from the land the fullest results without waste and to keep on the farms or bring to them the young men. It is to make agriculture both attractive and profitable, to show its possibilities for mental activity and the resultant financial benefits.

The strength of any people is and always must come, as to Antaeus, from Mother Earth. The men bred on the farms are of a broader nature, have a wider view of affairs and are less easily swayed in the mass by sentiment or prejudice. Time after time this nation has been saved from serious error by the farmer vote.

Such county farms would necessarily be more than self-supporting. They would not be experiment stations, but would put to practical tests the results of the experiments made at the various state agricultural stations and by the government. They would all work in harmony and would bring close to the people the opportunity for both observation and actual instruction in all that science had demonstrated as of value—Duluth News-Tribune.

MUTTERINGS OF MISANTHROPE CONCERNING THE JAPANESE

A year ago the Jap was considered too cunning for anything. Today he is too dashed cunning for anything. He has been tumbled to, as it were.

The little brown man with the oblique eyes and morals used to be the hot stuff drawing card at the Thursday night prayer meeting with his description of the flowery kingdom and a choice line of guff about cherry tree blossoms. He was meek and plaintive in his little specialty entitled "The Yearning for Civilization in Fair Nippon." Now fair Nippon wants to give its big white friend a push in the face. The Jap system of Jiu Jitsu was boosted until there was a strong suspicion that Jim Jeffries would have to take the other side of the street any time a 90-pound saddle colored Samurai came along. They imported Jiu Jitsu sharps to teach the honorable bone-breaking game to the West Pointers. Now the Jiu Jit is in the discard. It didn't make good.

Out in Frisco coarse truckmen give the mikado a swift punch in the jaw when the "skipper" gets too promiscuous. Hotels used not to be good enough for the wayfarer Jap; he was always pressed to stop at the home of the Sunday school superintendent, and if he copied himself out a village belle she got her picture in the paper as one bound for a quarter-acre cypressium with a bamboo summer house in it and a view of the glimmering Japan sea visible through the hole chopped in the south elevation.

Then a man's size plug hat became too small for the Jap, and a set of wrought iron hoops could not hold in his expanding cunk, especially after he had licked the untutored Russian. It is then that he went round with a microscope looking for an insult the size of a fly's toe nail.

The outcome of it has been the discovery that the industrious Chinese laundry man is a deuce of a good fellow after all.

CHURCH, CLUB AND SOCIAL MEETINGS

Anona Council No. 1 Daughters of Pochontas will hold their regular meeting at 8 o'clock Monday evening at Red Men's hall.

The regular meeting of the Missionary Society of the Congregational church was held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. H. Heald.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. S. W. King, 503 West Tama avenue, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be a regular communication of Temple Lodge No. 6, A. F. & A. M., at 7:30 Thursday evening. By order of the W. M.—J. C. Feger, secretary.

All is now in readiness for the much heralded basketball game which is to take place this evening at the Casino between the girls of the University of New Mexico and those of the Las Vegas High school. The Las Vegas girls arrived last night in fine feather and confident of victory. While precedent seems to be in favor of the Varsity team on account of their previous victory, their success is by no means certain in this match as their opponents have been indulging in hard practice and will unquestionably put up a strong fight. The following is the line-up of the teams for tonight:

Las Vegas team—Miss Mary Coors, captain; Miss Helen Schaefer, Miss Beulah Hartman, Miss Jessie Bell, Miss Laura Lorenzen; Miss Garnet Van Patten, substitute. Mrs. O. G. Schaefer is chaperon and Lawrence D. Clark, manager.

Varsity team—Miss Bonnie Murphy, captain; Miss Beatrice Murphy, Miss Lucy Effe, Miss Isabel Niven, Miss Belle Franklin; Miss Ida Hart, substitute.

Referee, A. E. Litterer; umpire, Berger. Among those who accompanied the Las Vegas team to this city were Milton Hawkins, C. M. Williams, William Fugate and Mrs. McManis. A dance and the serving of refreshments will follow the game and the local team will do everything possible to render the visit of the Las Vegas an enjoyable one.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Prof. R. R. Larkin, superintendent of the Las Vegas schools, was among the arrivals here last night from the Meadow City to cheer the Las Vegas girls' basketball team to victory.

Peter Guillon, one of the proprietors of the Savoy hotel, is in receipt of some beautiful post cards from his sister in France. The post cards are as novel as they are beautiful, the pictures being etched on silk and cunningly affixed to the post card which is enclosed in a very thin envelope through which the address may be read at a glance. The envelope is intended to avoid mutilation in the mails.

Governor Hagerman has asked for more time in which to consider his acceptance of the invitation to be in attendance at the Robert Burns birthday banquet given by the Society of St. Andrew in Albuquerque on the evening of January 25. The governor expressed his pleasure at receiving the invitation in a letter to William McIntosh, secretary of the society in which he asked for more time to consider the matter.

Delayed trains on the Santa Fe continue. Train No. 8 from the west was five hours late, and eastbound No. 4 put in a belated appearance nine hours behind time at 8:50 this morning. Westbound No. 1 was two hours late last night; No. 9 was two hours late, but No. 7 arrived on time. The flyer was bulletined to arrive at 2:15 this afternoon. A freight wreck in the California desert about forty miles out of Los Angeles was said to have been the cause of No. 4 being so tardy.

CATHOLICS WANT COLUMBUS SOCIETY AT SANTA FE.

An effort is being made to have a council of the Knights of Columbus organized at an early date in Santa Fe, says the New Mexican. Albuquerque has a flourishing lodge of this religious order and it is believed that one can be started in the capital. Only Catholics are eligible for membership. It is primarily a social organization, complying with the laws of the church, but it has an insurance feature which is optional with the members.

MINE DECISION OF GENERAL INTEREST

Rendered by United States Supreme Court in a Montana Suit.

A Washington dispatch dated January 14, says:

In an opinion by Justice Brewer, the supreme court of the United States today decided the sharply-contested mining case between the Montana company and the St. Louis company, arising out of a dispute over a 36-foot strip of rich mineral ground connected with the Drum Lumber Gold & Silver mine in Lewis and Clark county, near Helena, Mont. The decision was in favor of the Montana company.

This is the case in which former United States Senator Arthur Brown of Utah, who was shot and killed by Mrs. Bradley. He was employed by the St. Louis company, which was the loser by today's action of the court.

One cause of the controversy was the much-disputed question of the right to follow the vein which is other ground than that on which its apex is located, but Justice Brewer found other reasons for his decision.

In this case the apex is on ground owned by the St. Louis company, but as it descends it crosses the vertical side lines of the Montana company. The St. Louis company, claiming the right to follow the vein even under the surface owned by its rival, brought the suit, alleging trespass, and asking for damages for mineral rights to have been removed by the Montana company.

The case originated in the United States circuit court for the district of Montana, and while holding for the St. Louis company that court enjoined both companies from operating in the disputed territory. That decision was affirmed by the federal court of appeals, and thereupon the case was appealed to the supreme court of Montana, with the result that the verdict was reversed.

While the case was pending in this court, Judge Hunt of the Montana circuit court dissolved his first injunction in so far as it applied to the St. Louis company, and it was to secure a reversal of that order that a petition was filed in the supreme court recently. That petition was granted and the effects of today's decision will be practically to cancel Judge Hunt's original injunction and to nullify his later order.

Announcing the court's conclusion, Justice Brewer said:

"The pivotal question in the case is as to the scope and meaning of the compromise bond and conveyance. The lower court held that their only effect was to establish a boundary line between the two claims, leaving extra lateral rights to be determined by the ordinary mine rules. We are of the opinion that in this construction the court erred, and that such bond and conveyance not only vested title to the surface in the grantee, but gave to the miner all which in fact was beneath the surface, no matter though the vein may have apexed in the ground of the St. Louis claim. The judgment is therefore reversed and the case remanded for a new trial."

He then issued an order enjoining the St. Louis company from removing any ore until the conclusion of the litigation.

HOME REMEDIES TO CURE TUBERCULOSIS

THE KANSAS STATE BOARD OF HEALTH MAKES A NEW MOVE.

The Kansas state board of health has made a new move against tuberculosis. Letters are being mailed to every physician of that state asking for information about all cases of tuberculosis which have come under their observation, and requesting their co-operation with the state board in the fight against consumption.

Dr. Crumrine, secretary of the board, has issued a pamphlet containing the following rules:

"All persons in state and county employ are positively forbidden to spit upon the floors.

"Rooms, hallways, corridors and lavatories shall be freely aired and effectually cleaned at least once a day, and not during working hours.

"Dust must be removed as completely as possible by means of dampened cloths or mops. It should never be needlessly stirred up by a broom or duster, as this practice only spreads the dust and germs."

These are wise instructions and should be observed by every one, as consumption is much easier prevented than cured.

Colds should receive quick attention, as they leave the lungs in a peculiarly receptive condition for the tubercular germ.

EXAMINATION FOR OXFORD NOW ON

Rhodes Scholarships Are Being Tried For Today at University of New Mexico.

The examinations for the Rhodes scholarship for New Mexico opened at the university this morning and will continue till tomorrow evening. Three young men are engaged in the effort to obtain the prize: Ralph Tascher and Hugh Bryan of Albuquerque, and Frank Light of Silver City. The examinations for today will include from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., translation from Latin into English; 1 p. m. to 3 p. m., Latin prose; 4 p. m. to 6 p. m., arithmetic. Tomorrow it will be as follows: 9 a. m. to 11 a. m., translation from Greek to English; 1 p. m. to 3 p. m., Latin grammar; 2:10 p. m. to 3:10 p. m., Greek grammar; 4 p. m. to 6 p. m., Algebra or geometry.

This is the second examination of this character to be held in the territory and will probably result in the placing of another New Mexican representative at Oxford university, one having previously succeeded in attaining the much sought scholarship.

It must not be understood that the present test is competitive as the papers at the close of the examination are mailed to the committee chosen at Oxford, where if they prove satisfactory the other qualifications of the various applicants described under the Rhodes will be examined into and a decision reached accordingly. Under the conditions imposed by Mr. Rhodes it is quite possible for a man to succeed in the mental examinations and fail completely in other respects, as is shown by the fact that in 1904 five states failed to furnish a qualified representative and in 1905 eight states fell short of the mark. The scholarships are valuable and much sought after, some tops for their children and sent them by mail to them. Upon receipt of the package in Nogales, Sonora, the customs inspector opened it and, finding two small toy pistols, suitable for children and of very cheap construction, seized them and returned them to the house they were ordered from.

This amusing incident is only one of the many that occur daily at the border post offices.

AIR COMPRESSOR AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS

TO BE INSTALLED BY NATIONAL COPPER COMPANY IN GRANT COUNTY.

The National Copper Mining company, operating in Whitewater canyon of the Burro mountains, is preparing to install a Norwalk air compressor with a capacity of 350 cubic feet of air a minute, says the Silver City Enterprise. The company will not only operate the air drills, but will also run the hoist and pumps. This is a new wrinkle in mining in the Burro mountains—that of using air where steam is now used—and is likely to be more generally followed in the future. A 100-ton concentrating mill will also be erected upon the properties of the company for the treatment of the immense tonnage of concentrating ore that has been opened up under the able management of C. P. Laughlin, the manager of the company and a large stockholder in the same. The ore yields very readily to concentration, tests to this effect having been made in Denver. The bodies are of immense size, one ledge being sixty feet across. The National is destined to become one of the great copper producing properties in a great copper producing district and will take its place alongside of the other big companies now operating in the Burro mountains. The credit for this is largely due to C. P. Laughlin, who has had charge of the development work from the start and whose implicit faith in the property has not gone unrewarded. St. Louis capitalists are behind the project.

SEVENTEEN FOUND PLOTTING AGAINST DIAZ

SURPRISE WHEN CONSPIRATORS ARE GIVEN SENTENCES TO PRISON INSTEAD OF BEING ORDERED SHOT.

A dispatch from El Paso, dated Jan. 15, says: Word has reached this point from Chihuahua, Mexico, that seventeen men have been convicted and sentenced for plotting against the government of Diaz. The conspirators, it was believed, would upon conviction be lined up against a prison wall and shot. The fact that they escaped capital punishment has surprised those familiar with the fate of others found guilty for offending in this way.

The convicted men and their sentences are: Ramon Sarabia, seven years and one month; Vicente de la Torre, five years and six months; Eduardo Gonzalez, three years and six months; Nemesio Tejeda, two years and six months; thirteen others, sentences of one and two years. The first four will be incarcerated at Ulua and the others at a military prison. The men left Chihuahua for the City of Mexico escorted by a company of forty rurales.

DECISION FRAUGHT WITH FAR REACHING EFFECT

HAIR-SPLITTING DIFFERENCES MAY BE DRAWN IN INDIAN CASES.

Considerable comment is indulged in among lawyers regarding the effects of the recent decision of the territorial supreme court with respect to the selling of liquor to Indians. A number of these cases are now in the hands of United States Mag-ist Foraker and Assistant United States Attorney E. L. Medler.

The territorial supreme court held that it was not a crime to sell liquor to the Pueblo Indians, basing its decision upon the theory that where an Indian has given up the nomadic life and taken up the pursuits of a white man he is regarded as a citizen in the fullest sense of the term. The supreme court of the United States established this precedent in a case from Kansas where a man was charged with selling liquor to an Indian.

In the opinion of many lawyers this decision may have a far-reaching effect in that the defense in a case where the federal statute is alleged to have been violated may cite the decision and then show that the law was not violated, because the Indian had become civilized. It is thought that this precedent will permit of some hair-splitting distinctions.

Assistant United States Attorney Medler believes that the court's decision only applies to the Pueblo Indians. He admits the citizenship point may be raised, but he declared there were an Indian is under the jurisdiction of reservation authorities there could be no such question, and the guilt or innocence of the defendant would have to be established from the testimony of witnesses to the overt act.

SEIZES TOY PISTOL IN MAILS AT NOGALES

CARRYING THE "NO FIREARMS" FOR SMOKE ORDER TO THE EXTREME.

A dispatch from Nogales, Arizona, says: The Mexican government has had considerable trouble with the Yaquis for many years, and every precaution has been taken to stop them from securing any firearms, but it has not always been successful. As a last resort the officials have issued an order prohibiting the importation of firearms of any description into Mexico, and in order to assure them that none are going in for men to succeed in the border officials have exerted more than usual care in inspecting all packages from the United States.

The other day, however, a man from Hermosillo, having business in St. Louis and being unable to return because of the holidays, purchased some tops for his children and sent them by mail to them. Upon receipt of the package in Nogales, Sonora, the customs inspector opened it and, finding two small toy pistols, suitable for children and of very cheap construction, seized them and returned them to the house they were ordered from.

This amusing incident is only one of the many that occur daily at the border post offices.

WEATHER AND NATIVES EXEMPLIFY OLD ADAGE

PAY DAY NIGHT FINDS SECTION MEN ASLEEP ON THE TRACKS.

Since the weather has exemplified literally that old one about the rain never falling but it pours, it has remained for the police to copy the same in a figurative sense.

Yesterday six arrests disturbed the calm of things in the police department which has obtained since the inception of the new year. Today there were four, and all plain drunks. Noelcos Montoya, Margarito Fernandez, Refugio Belasquez and Jose Colarubia, natives engaged on Santa Fe construction in an "extra" gang, were paid off yesterday afternoon and the expected happened. They all got "muy borracho." Montoya and one of the remaining three were picked up from the Santa Fe tracks near the viaduct, where they insisted upon lying with their heads across the rails. They were "Asleep at the Switch." The others were so drunk they were down and out, near the corner of Second street and Coal avenue. The police had to haul them to the city jail in a dray wagon.

This morning Judge Crawford gave each of the men five days at service on the streets. In view of the present condition of the Albuquerque thoroughfares, the arrests were timely. The men are all adepts with the shovel. They got busy cleaning the crossings this morning.

No report was made of the arrest of one Braden, by Patrolman Habbitt last night, for failure to liquidate for a pair of shoes. "C" home steaks he had ordered at a local supply house for the department of the human interior. Braden was several sheets in the wind, according to reports.

MONSTER GOLD BRICKS FROM MINE

At Gold Road, In Mohave County, Arizona—Valued at $60,000.

Under Sheriff Gleason, ably assisted by Messenger Glen, Ayers, accompanied another monster gold brick from Gold Road to Wells Fargo, Tuesday, says the Klugman Mineral Wealth. It was stood out in the street for an hour to give the strong men an opportunity to lift it and the tenderfoot experts a view of a fourteen day production of a Mohave county gold mine. This brick was valued at about $60,000 and is the century mark for gold bricks from the great Gold Road mine. One hundred shining bricks with an average of $50,000 a brick, $5,000,000, more than the Stratton Independence mine at Cripple Creek produced for the same length of time. The Gold Road is a marvelous treasure vault. Old Joe when he crept under the shade of the outcrop to post his notice never dreamed of the wealth of clean money stored by nature under the jagged outcrop. Old Joe's share of the sale of the mine, $20,000, soon found its way into the dead falls set up in his trail, and a dose of poison ended his short career as a financier. His spirit now roams at will in the underground workings and the miners often hear the click of his prospecting hammer and his bueno as he chips off a rich chunk. Sometimes he gets tired below and signals ten bells, that is now known around the mine as Old Joe's fresh air signal. He always comes up on Judge Wesley's stand, as he is so careful, poco, poco, it is so easy for a spirit to get caught between the cage and timbers.

Crosscutting on the 700 has disclosed three large paying veins. The ore is said to be of a much higher grade than the levels above, though the output shows the richness of the upper ore. A much greater output of the standard metal may be expected in the future than in the past.

The bills have been referred to the committee on claims and the delegate will endeavor to push them through if possible during this session, although the time wherein so to do is very short. The bills read:

That the secretary of the treasury be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to pay, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of $2,310 to Manuel Madrid, of Coyote, Rio Arriba county, New Mexico, in full compensation for property taken and used by the United States army during the civil war between the states.

A bill for the relief of Louis Kahn.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled.

TERRITORIAL BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

ASSESSMENT VALUE OF SHEEP MAY BE RAISED TO $2 PER HEAD—FEW CHANGES CONTEMPLATED.

The territorial board of equalization was in session Tuesday afternoon and yesterday forenoon at the office of the traveling auditor in Santa Fe. The following were present: Venecio Jaramillo, secretary; J. A. Mahoney, Robert P. Ervin, Martin Lohman, J. F. Hinkle and Alejandro Sandoval, members. Travelling Auditor Charles V. Safford was also in attendance. During the sessions Tuesday and yesterday the board was engaged in getting information concerning tax values and tax matters. Yesterday forenoon consultations were had as to the tax values for the year 1907. It is understood that there will not be many changes from last year's valuations; the assessment of the Pecos Valley & Northwestern railway will likely be raised from $3,500 per mile to $3,750 per mile, an increase of $250 per mile; it is understood that the valuation of sheep will be raised from $1.32 per head to $2 per head. The board was also in session yesterday afternoon considering assessment values. The chances are that an adjournment will be had Friday.

CONDITIONS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

In Hawaii Owing to Influx of Portuguese Immigrants With Families.

The arrival of the Portuguese who came on the Suva and have been distributed among the various plantations of the islands has produced a very crowded condition in some of the schools of the territory. A large number of the new immigrants were children. One of the inducements which brought many of the Portuguese to Hawaii was the promise of free schooling for their children.

But some of the schools were already filled almost to their capacity, and the addition of the Portuguese has filled them to overflowing. The matter was brought to the attention of the board of education recently by a communication which was received from Mrs. Overend, principal of the Waiapahu (Oahu plantation) school, who states that she has been compelled to turn away numerous children from the school because of the fact that there is no room for them. Superintendent Babbitt thought the matter ought to be passed up to the legislature for remedy. He said that it is impossible to provide another room, on account of the fact that the department of instruction is out of incidental funds, having only 72 cents left and but $22 in the repair fund. It has even been necessary for the superintendent to borrow $10 worth of stamps to carry on his correspondence.

Mr. Farrington said that the matter is a serious one, as discontent is liable to develop among the Portuguese if they think that the promises of free schooling for the children are not to be fulfilled. It involved the possible success of a broad immigration policy.

Similar conditions were reported as regards the school at Aiea. Mr. Babbitt said that he could supply a teacher if quarters could be obtained. It was finally resolved to place the matter before the plantation authorities and request them to assist the educational department in the way of providing accommodation for the children of the new arrivals.—Honolulu Bulletin.

JAPANESE COOK USES KNIFE ON MINER.

A Japanese cook at the Pyramid mill became incensed at some remark made by a miner and made a murderous attack on him with a butcher knife, says the Kingman Miner. In his fury he struck the man on the head, cutting quite a gash. The other men prevented the Jap from further use of the knife, and in taking it away from him cut one of his hands quite severely. They then gave him a few kicks where it would do him the most good and threw him into the kitchen. He showed great penitence for his rash act and the boys let him off easy. He came into town, showing a beautiful black eye and a few bruises that the boys had playfully bestowed on him.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently." Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

ESTIMATION PUT ON COUNTRY PAPERS

By Congressmen of Their Respective Sections, Illustrated by Senator Plumb.

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly tells about the great power the country press exerts in congress. As a matter of fact, the congressmen, the western congressmen in particular, pays far more attention to what the editor of a country weekly in his district says than he does to what the New York Herald, or the Chicago Inter-Ocean, or the Washington Post says. If a congressman reads a criticism in a metropolitan newspaper of something he has done, or failed to do, he regards it more as an advertisement of himself than as a detriment to him. He knows that the men who elect him will not see it, while the attention of the country has been called to him by a paper that circulates all over the country. But if, in a country paper of his district, appears an article criticizing him, he breaks his neck to find out what has happened to cause it. He knows that several hundred voters will read it, voters who will cast a ballot for or against him at the next election, and he goes to work at once to square himself with the editor, although he would have paid no attention whatever to the same thing if it had appeared in a metropolitan daily.

The success of Senator Plumb was due in a great measure to the fact that he kept close tabs on the country newspapers of Kansas. He subscribed for practically every one of them, and his clerks read them, cutting out and bringing to him whatever of politics or public thought they contained. Plumb could sit down with a country editor, and discuss issues and quote exchanges in a way that would make the editor believe that he himself had not a word worth of things in Kansas. Plumb's memory was wonderful, his industry unending, and his ambition unbounded. And one of the things that he deemed of more importance than all else was to keep in close touch with the country newspapers of the state. From them he got inspiration and knowledge. He did not care what the New York World thought of him so long as the Medicine Lodge Crescent, the Emporia Republican, the Atchison Globe and the other Kansas newspapers said he was all right. And they always said it.—Lawrence Gazette.

LAS VEGAS FRATERNAL ORDER OF EAGLES.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles held an installation of officers and a banquet at their hall Tuesday night, which was well attended by the members, in spite of the exceptionally bad weather, says the Las Vegas Optic.

The officers who were installed to serve for the ensuing year were as follows: William H. Lewis, worthy president; A. A. McInerney, past worthy president; D. C. Winters, worthy vice president; A. M. Adler, worthy treasurer; Tom Blauvelt, worthy secretary; Ike Lewis, worthy chaplain; Frank Martinez, inner guard; Frank Gonzales, outer guard; Dr. F. M. Desmarais, worthy physician; and T. J. Raywood, J. Thornhill and D. P. McGuire, trustees. James Harrison acted as installing officer for the grand lodge and performed his duties in an exceptionally able manner. Mr. Harrison expected that some representative of the grand lodge would be present to officiate and was taken entirely unaware when called upon to take charge of the installation work.

A fine banquet was served after the work had been performed and a number of short toasts and addresses by various members present added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. The lodge at this session voted a generous contribution to be donated to the Las Vegas hospital.

WHAT THE MOGOLLON DISTRICT LACKS

Is Transportation, Which Hinders Development of Good Mines and Prospects.

A mining engineer who represents eastern investors in conversation at El Paso, Texas, Tuesday said the following, reports the El Paso Herald.

The greater portion of my life was spent in the Mogollon district. Located as it is, at a distance from the railway, and attracting very little attention of the general public, I had not expected to find much but a bunch of prospects of more or less value. I found mines with from 200 to 25,000 feet of development work, and a number of as good reduction plants as can be found in the country.

The Last Chance mine which is operated by Ernest Craig for the Ernestine Mining company, has enough ore blocked out for a much larger mill than is now working.

I was told that the old Confidence mine, owned by Colorado people, which has been idle for years, will soon be in operation with a large cyanide plant, which has been found the most successful treatment for the ores of this class in the district. This mine has 20,000 feet of development work and has been a big producer in the past with the old pan-amalgamation process.

The Little Fannie people have been opening that noted mine with entirely new workings, the old mine in the years which it was idle having ceased too badly to attempt to open. This mine produced in its former history more than a million and a half from one of the richest ore shoots in the camp. It is sure to be a big producer again.

Almost surrounding the Fannie group and running along the Fannie vein to the west is the Charlie group of mines, owned by the Mogollon Gold and Copper company. Development work on the Charlie recently opened into a body of high grade free gold ore, and from its dip there seems to be no doubt but the famous Little Fannie ore shoot is a good one. The Fannie shoot was known to dip to the west and it has been expected that it would be encountered in the Charlie, therefore it is no surprise to the management. The average of this vein in the Fannie was about $48 a ton for twelve feet open. This some bodies much better, and that from the Charlie was average fully as high for the entire vein. This is the most important strike of recent date in the camp.

In the next canyon to the north is the well known Cooney mine also owned by the Mogollon Gold and Copper company. At this mine the most complete and up to date concentrating mill of about 100 tons daily capacity. The Cooney was closed down almost two years ago but development work has been progressing ever since, until now there will be started just as soon as sufficient fuel is in the yard. The Cooney and Leap Year also belonging to this company, are connecting mines with the same character of ore, the latter having a record of a quarter of a million. Besides these mines the company owns three other fine groups in the same canyon, none of which, however, have much development although all have produced shipping ore. The company has the largest holding in the district.

The Enterprise company is to have a cyanide mill just as soon as it can be built. They have a small plant in operation now, but the percentage of saving by this process was not satisfactory, therefore the authorization of a new cyanide plant.

The Enterprise also has mines in this district which are being systematically developed, and with a railroad, values would go up four-fold at once. Lack of decent transportation is the great and only drawback. It is believed a road will go into the district very soon and those who are not in before that time will find it hard to get in.

The gentleman would not say just what property he had been in the camp to examine, as that was for his employers. He said, however, that he expected to return to New Mexico in a very short time and when he returned there would be something doing.

MARKET LETTER

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City, Jan. 14.—The moderate supply of 12,000 cattle and calves arrived today, and the market is about steady. Adverse reports were received from Chicago this morning, where there is a run of 40,000 cattle and the market 10 to 20 cents lower, but the supply here today sold without respect to outside influences, as the offerings did not exceed the urgent local demand. The market closed last week steady, except for a slight weakness on cows. The feature last week was the sale of several trains of northern New Mexico feeders at $4.25 to $4.50, and stockers in same shipments at $3.75 to $4.25. These cattle netted the owners $3.50 per head, said to be the highest net price per head for a full train load of New Mexico cattle since 1882. Colorado beef steers sold at $4.75, feeders $4.25 to $4.55, stockers $2.85 to $4.25, medium cows at $2.75 to $3.55, Idaho stockers sold last week at $3.65 to $4.05, stock cows $2.55. Pan-handle stockers sold today at $3.50 to $4.15, cows at $2.90, heifers $3.10, heavy calves $3.50 to $4.50. Bulls are selling at the highest prices of the winter, and cows also are regarded as very high, as compared with steers. Feed steers are selling today at $4.50 to $5.80, although good to choice steers would reach $6.00 to $6.50.

The market on muttons closed last week steady, lambs closing 10 cents lower for the week. The run today is 10,000 head, lambs steady, sheep uneven, ranging from steady to 10 cents lower. Northern Colorado ewes sold at $5.00 today, weighing 100 pounds and some of the Standard Meat company's ewes from Alameda, sold at $5.25, wethers $5.75 and lambs at $7.35. Other sales of fed western lambs today, ewes at $6.75 to $7.50, weighing from 60 to 85 pounds, yearling at $6.15 to $6.40. Choice light yearlings made $6.60 late last week. No pea fed stuff is here today, some of these lambs selling late last week at $7.00 to $7.25, as the offerings were generally light weight. Some Lamar lambs sold at $7.50 middle of last week.

THE GOAT BUSINESS IN PINAL COUNTY.

J. F. Burns, of the Las Cresciento canyon, owns one of the largest and highest grade herds of Angora goats in Pinal county, Arizona, his herd numbering over 2,500 head. This herd brought him in over $3,000 during the year 1906, says the Blade. He got thirty-six cents per pound for his best grade of wool and the entire crop averaged twenty-nine and a half cents per pound. He sold to Boston buyers. He marketed his surplus kids in Tucson and could have sold there at good prices five times the number he had for sale. He is making a great success of the goat business and could not be induced to change back to the cattle business. He had with him a beautiful laprobe made of some of his goat pelts. They made a light, warm and perfectly water-proof robe. He states that a large factory in Wyoming is now engaged in manufacturing all kinds of robes, rugs and clothing out of these goat pelts and the demand for the goods is growing rapidly. Clothing made of these pelts is not only rain and wind-proof, but also elegant in appearance.

WOMAN ORGANIZES FOR WAGE EQUALITY

LEGISLATION SOUGHT BY ELIZABETH CADY STANTON'S DAUGHTER TO LEVEL INDUSTRIAL REWARDS.

Special Correspondence.

New York, Jan. 17.—In the interest of self-supporting American women, a remarkable movement has just started in this city. It is a league to secure, through legislation, an equality between working men and their fair sisters in the trades, arts and professions.

Of local scope now, the Equality League of Self-Supporting Women intends to become a national organization. The founder is Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, daughter of the illustrious Elizabeth Cady Stanton.

Mrs. Blatch says there are more than 5,000,000 women in the United States who support themselves through their own efforts. Hundreds of thousands of these women are as capable as the men who work with them in the same capacity. But, according to the founder of the league, women are discriminated against by employers. Frequently they receive 50 per cent less wages than men engaged in similar work, they often have to work long hours and they are not given deserved promotion.

"In New York," said Mrs. Blatch, "there is an instance to prove this unequal situation. In the street cleaning department more than 10,000 men are employed and not one woman. Of all the city departments this is the one that women could most improve. For centuries women have kept the world clean. They have a better idea of cleanliness, whether it be in the house or on the street, than men will ever have. They might not care to sweep the streets, but they would be employed as inspectors. A woman should be the head of the department."

Mrs. Blatch declared that in other city departments women were underpaid.

The league is to take in women of all trade unions, non-union working women, professional women, in fact, every class who earn their daily bread. Banded together they are to fight in the courts and legislative halls for equal rights. They will raise funds with which to employ lobbyists to fight their measures. They will enter politics and attempt through brothers, sweethearts, fathers and friends to defeat their enemies at the polls.

A great woman's rally will be held at Cooper Union next month, when a national organization may be formed.

REVOLVER WITH HISTORY IS IN USE ONCE MORE

ONCE WEAPON OF SOME WESTERN HIGHWAYMAN IS NOW THE WEAPON OF AN EL PASO OFFICER.

Lying under a sage bush, partly covered over with sand that had been blown by the desert wind, was a revolver partly rusted and dirty. It had been the weapon of defense of some train robber or highwayman who roamed the "sand hills of New Mexico," but in a rush to make a quick getaway, the gun had been cast aside to lessen the man's burden. This is the supposition, says the El Paso Herald.

This revolver was found by Special Officer John Dougher, of the El Paso

RAILROAD NOTES

C. H. Hutchinson, claim agent of the Santa Fe is here from his Winslow headquarters on business.

J. E. Franklin, a well known engineer on the coast lines of the Santa Fe, left today for Los Angeles, on Brotherhood matters.

One of the new model engines which are being completed for use on the Mexican Central railroad by the American Locomotive Works passed through here yesterday on its way to Juarez. The engine was numbered 759.

Richard Travis, who recently arrived at Belen with a consignment of rolling stock for the Grant Brothers Construction company, and who represents the James T. Gardner Railway Equipment company, also brought with him some new rolling stock for the Zuni Mountain Railway company, which is to be used in the transfer of logs from the forests about Ketter, to the mills of the American Lumber company at this point.

Yesterday was the regular monthly pay day at the Santa Fe shops and the big lumber mills, and last night the local stores were busy cashing checks, so the ladies thereof could pay their accounts. The pay rolls were considerably more than for several months past. At this season of the year every department of the shops is running full capacity, which of course brings the railroad's payrolls up to a higher notch.

The Grant Brothers Construction company have just received from the James T. Gardner Railway Equipment company, of Chicago, an important addition to their working outfit. The new stock includes two locomotives, two tank cars, two cabooses and several large dump cars all of which are to be used at the Rio Puerco terminal of the Belen cut-off. Work at that point it is announced is rapidly approaching completion so far as the grading is concerned, and the line will soon be ready for the laying of rails.

SECOND NUMBER OF EMPLOYER'S MAGAZINE.

The second issue of the Santa Fe Employer's Magazine is out. The January number. It is even better than the initial issue and is filled with a variety of matter of interest to railroad men generally and especially so to Santa Fe employees, for whom it is intended. The new pension system announced by President Ruliff, the car shortage, discipline systems, betterment work on the Santa Fe, and news from the various division points, together with notes of travel along the Santa Fe, are among the features this month. A copy of the magazine is supposed to be received by every employee of the system, there being about 50,000 of them all told.

RECEPTION TO DENAIR AT NEEDLES, JAN. 23.

The new reception building of the Santa Fe will have its formal opening the evening of January 23, at which time a reception will be given to John Denair, the retiring superintendent of the Arizona division of the Santa Fe and who has been one of the foremost and most progressive resident citizens of Needles for a number of years. Mr. Denair's resignation by the Santa Fe, which completes twenty-one years' service for the present Santa Fe coast lines and the railroad companies which preceded under the names of the Atlantic & Pacific and the Santa Fe Pacific railroad companies. Mr. Denair is largely interested in Needles property and her citizens will turn out as a body to speak their good will for the retiring superintendent, as well as their appreciation of the magnificent buildings which the Santa Fe have built and practically presented to the people of Needles.

THIRTY HOURS ALIVE IN A FUNERAL PYRE

DIGGING THE DEBRIS FOR FIREMAN SEUFERT.

FIREMAN JOHN J. SEUFERT, WHO WENT DOWN WITH A MASS OF DEBRIS AND WAS GIVEN UP AS ONE OF THE DEAD, TELLS THE STORY OF HIS EXPERIENCE.

Special Correspondence.

New York, Jan. 14.—"I'm happy because my wife is happy," were the first words, breathed in a whisper, as his comrades pulled him out to air and life of Fireman John J. Seufert, who lay for thirty hours nearly smothered—without food or drink—in a veritable funeral pyre made by the ruins of a paper warehouse in which two of his fellow firemen met death.

To cheer Seufert, his comrades sang "Waiting at the Church" and other popular songs while they worked desperately for his release. His wife, who for half a day believed herself a widow and gave up to overwhelming despair, rushed to the ruins when Seufert was known to be alive, and her greeting was the first to reach him as he was brought forth from the still smoldering ruins. How does it feel to be buried alive in a funeral pyre?

BY JOHN J. SEUFERT.

There was a crash when I was striking a line of hose on the third floor. I jumped, but the floor and me with it fell through the flames to the basement. Two big bales of stock were on either side of me, and I fell in a sitting position on a wooden box—my prison for thirty hours.

I felt often the box sink and settle, and would shut my eyes to the death that was all around me. Then, first one bale and next the other seemed to be crowding in on me as the mass of rubbish under us settled.

I believe I was awake the whole time, but when they finally brought me up into the night air I thought it was the same night of the fire.

Water continued to pour down over me sometimes in torrents. My helmet in the fall was jammed down over my nose and this probably saved me from drowning. Sometimes there would be gushes of water from below, which filled my eyes, nose and mouth with the foul stuff.

At times, too, the steam was terrific, and the heat would come in rushes, making breathing impossible.

Was I hungry? No. Thirsty? My God, yes.

I yelled continually for help and water—that is until I became weak. I nearly went mad once with the hallucination that those above knew I was alive and would not help me.

When I regained my senses I caught a stick from the floating debris and began to dig above my head as best I could. I encountered something hard finally and began to tap, as I could make a noise this way. It was this tapping that finally made known to those outside that I was still alive.

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves. No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by all druggists.

Home Insurance the Best

WE CANNOT refrain from again saying something about Home Insurance. Every time that the proposition presents itself of the tremendous amount of money that is being sent out of New Mexico and Arizona for life insurance to eastern cities, the conviction comes home with increased force that a home company ought to be patronized and the money remain in the West.

The revelations of the past year of the way the enormous surplus of the big Eastern companies has been handled and speculated with ought to emphasize the fact that the people of the West should stop pouring their money into Eastern channels when it can be placed in home insurance, and every dollar of it kept and invested at home.

It is gratifying to note that home insurance is year by year receiving more and more its just deserts. Statistics show that during the past year home companies far exceeded foreign companies in the amount of business written. Why cannot this same record be made here? It can if every individual who takes out a policy the coming year will carefully weigh the proposition of the value it is to keep his insurance at home before he puts his name to the application of any insurance company.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company of New Mexico and Arizona is owned and controlled by the leading business men of the two territories, and offers exceptional opportunities to ambitious and capable men and women to sell its policies.
