COLLISION KILLS FIVE AND HURTS

Many Others--Freight Dashes into Rear of Express Train in Massachusetts.

LAST CAR OF WHICH HELD EMPLOYEES OF COMPANY

All Missing in the Great Buffalo Fire Have Now Been Accounted For.

Sherburne Falls, Mass., Jan. 29.—In a collision between an express train and an extra freight, on the Fitchburg division of the Boston & Maine railroad, at South River today, five of the employees of the railroad were killed and several were injured. No passengers were hurt. The rolling stock was badly smashed and traffic greatly delayed.

As the express was running at the usual speed, the signal whistle was blown and the express came to a sudden stop. While a brakeman was endeavoring to place the signals behind the train, the freight came along and crashed into the rear of the express. The rear car was a dead-end coach in which were several employees, and these were the ones killed and injured.

Later, the injured included railroad employees and several passengers, one of the latter seriously.

ALL BODIES HAVE BEEN

GOT FROM BUFFALO FIRE

Buffalo, Jan. 29.—The body of Stephen J. Megan, one of the three firemen caught by the falling walls in yesterday's fire, was found early today. The body, which had been frozen solidly into the debris, was badly crushed and battered.

The bodies of Lieut. James Naughton and Pipeman John J. Hinkey have been recovered. All the missing are now accounted for.

CARNATION DAY IS

MEMORY OF MCKINLEY

Washington, Jan. 29.—This is the sixty-fourth anniversary of the birth of William McKinley. As such anniversaries are "Carnation Day" it is being generally observed in the national capital. Government officials, members of congress and private citizens are wearing the late president's favorite flower. President Roosevelt had on his desk a vase of fine carnations, and a similar bunch adorned the desk of Secretary Loeb. The members of the cabinet each wore a carnation as they appeared at the cabinet meeting.

MANY BILLS INTRODUCED TODAY

Among Them One to Tax Pullman and Tourist Cars. Early Adjournment Taken.

Special to The Evening Citizen.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 29.—Both houses of the legislature are in adjournment until tomorrow morning, when they will reconvene, after short morning sessions.

Several bills were introduced in the council this morning, the chief being a bill to tax Pullmans and tourist cars, introduced by Mr. Sargent. The bill provides that Pullmans be assessable at $6,000 each and tourists at $2,000, the rate being $2 per hundred. Penalties are also provided for false returns by the companies. The bill provides for the disposition of the taxes collected as follows: One-half to the general purpose fund of New Mexico and the balance to the general fund of the counties in which the cars are operated. It was referred to the committee on railroads.

President Spies announced the following committee on county lines: Dallas, chairman; Murray, Martinez, Stockton, Duncan and Cameron. It contains the names of nearly every one interested directly in county revision and the formation of new counties.

Dallas introduced council bill No. 12, providing that all sugar refineries, woolen mills, smelters and certain irrigation projects be exempt from taxation for six years after erection of buildings, to encourage capital. Referred to the committee on territorial affairs.

House resolution No. 2, in the council, was referred to the judiciary committee, following a dispute as to its form. This is the resolution by which the legislature is authorized to provide for the regulation of the railroad fare, and for other purposes.

Three were by Hoyt. The first, an act to amend sections of compiled laws of 1897, regarding territorial dependencies; the second, to amend sections of the compiled laws of 1897, relative to combines and trade monopolies; and the third was an act to amend sections of the same laws regarding the fees of notaries public, etc.

KNAPP, POWERFUL 100-LB. MAN, PUTTING SCREWS TO RAILROADS

LITTLE CHAIRMAN OF THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, KNOWING THE MYSTERIES OF THE RAILROAD BUSINESS, BECOMES MOST POWERFUL MAN IN WASHINGTON.

The best endorsement of Chairman Knapp's fidelity to the interests of the people as opposed to the powerful railroad interests was the concentrated effort of all the railroads to secure his removal by legislation abolishing the commission.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The most powerful man in Washington—more powerful even than President Roosevelt in theory if not in fact—is Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission.

He is the man who heads the bureau which puts the screws upon the greatest and most powerful aggregation of capital in the United States—the railroads. The revenues of the American railroads are greater than the revenues of the government. The word of Chairman Knapp affects railroad commerce from Maine to San Diego, and from Alaska to the Florida keys.

When the subject of increased power for the Interstate Commerce commission was first broached, a score of railway experts, before the senatorial committee on commerce, declared that any such law as proposed would create a bureau more powerful than all the other departments of the government combined. Its validity has not been questioned since its passage. Therefore, it may be assumed that, for the time being, the commission is wielding the gigantic power to which the railway experts referred. There is nothing terrifying in the appearance of the man who heads the Interstate Commerce commission. He is not large in stature, nor fierce in utterance. If he had lived in the age of chivalry—the age of brags and beef—he would probably have had his brains knocked out long since. He is hardly more than five feet high and would tip the scales at about 100 pounds. His strength is all pure brains.

Somewhat Modest. Chairman Knapp is modest to the point of shyness. "The other members of the commission are magnificent men," said

MARTIN A. KNAPP, PRESIDENT OF THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, WHO HAS THE RAILROADS UNDER HIS THUMB

Chairman Knapp, when threatened with a write-up. "Go to them. See Judge Clements. One of the finest minds I ever met. Go to Judge Prouty. He is wonderfully informed, and has a way of putting any subject that is most clear and convincing. Or take some of our new men. Mr. Clark is a distinct acquisition. The way he goes to work is worthy of all praise. And Mr. Harlan—a big, sturdy fellow—and with a mind in keeping with his frame—can work day and night. And Mr. Lane, a fine, aggressive, clear-headed, honest man. I tell you, I am proud of the commission. There is no need for centering on me. I am just going along, laying out work and writing orders and opinions, and trying to get the law into working shape."

But the fact remains that Chairman Knapp is looked up to by his fellow commissioners as the final authority on all questions that are intricate.

Judge Knapp has been commissioner for something over seventeen years. A large part of the present law was drafted by his hand. His judgment as to legal forms was accepted by the president as final.

He is a Master.

The secret of Chairman Knapp's success, if there is any secret in it, is summed up in the one phrase: Interest in his work. He is bound up soul and body in it. He has no other interests. He is a widower. He lives alone, and works. He reads and studies and thinks. He has mastered the principles and the technique of the subject. He knows the language of the traffic world, and can talk the tongue of the traffic expert; he knows the law of railway matters, and can quote the supreme court's utterances on every phase of the problem. He knows the personnel of the great railway world, and can call the chiefs and sub-chiefs all by name. He knows the physical properties of the entire railway network, and the mysteries of their business and their finance. And he knows the ins and outs of their efforts to evade the law and increase their power and wealth.

Martin A. Knapp is a student rather than a politician. His appointment by President Harrison to the Interstate Commerce Commission came to him unsolicited and as an entire surprise. He was then practicing law in Syracuse, N. Y. He had served in that town for six years as corporation counsel, an appointive office. He was reappointed commissioner by President Cleveland in February, 1897, and again by President Roosevelt in December, 1902.

Mr. Knapp was born in Onondaga county, New York, on November 6, 1848. His parents were farmers in comfortable circumstances, and young Knapp obtained a good education, academic, college and in the law, without any of the struggles which are the boast of some self-made men.

Naptha Workers Strike in Russia--More Trouble in Venezuela.

Washington, Jan. 29.—The oath of office was administered today to Senator Curtis of Kansas. Curtis, besides being elected to the full term, beginning March 4 next, also was elected to fill the unexpired term caused by the resignation of ex-Senator Burton. His immediate predecessor was Senator Bronson, whose term expired when Curtis took the oath of office.

Stockholm, Sweden, Jan. 29.—A dispatch to the Dagblad, from St. Petersburg, says that Count Tolstol, novelist and social reformer, is dying.

CHURCH PROPOSES NEW COMPROMISE ON HOUSES

Paris, Jan. 29.—The proposition, which the French bishops, with the approval of the Pope, now submit to the government seems to offer the first real prospect of adjustment of the conflict between the church and state, under the separation regime. While it involves a material modification of the position taken in the last papal encyclical, the proposition put forward has all the appearances of an ultimatum. Whether the government will accept a settlement based upon an adequate recognition of hierarchy, remains to be seen. The contract which the bishops have submitted provides for a virtual lease of the churches in perpetuity to the parish priests by the mayors.

NATIVES TOOK UP ARMS IN THE ISLAND OF JAVA

Amsterdam, Jan. 29.—A serious revolt has broken out in the province of Kediri, Island of Java. Dutch East Indies, according to a dispatch received here today from Batavia. It is stated here that 300 natives have taken up arms and that many Dutch officials and their adherents have been killed or wounded. The vice governor of the province is said to be among the wounded and the chief of police is reported killed.

SEVEN THOUSAND WORKERS STRIKE FOR MORE WAGES

Baku, Russia, Jan. 29.—Seven thousand employees of the Naptha works struck today for higher wages. A general strike is being planned to support the movement.

RECORD COAL AND COKE PRODUCTION.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 29.—Last year was a record one in coal production in Westmoreland county, the most famous in the state, the output being approximately 26,000,000 tons, an increase of over 3,000,000 tons over 1905, the highest on record. The output would have been at least 2,000,000 more if the railroads had been able to handle the coal. The outlook for the present year is very good and an output of 30,000,000 tons is expected. The output of coke for 1907 will show an increase of over 1,000,000 tons on account of about 500 more ovens being in operation.

SWETTENHAM INCIDENT IS NOW REGARDED AS CLOSED AFFAIR

Washington, Jan. 29.—Secretary Taft received the following cable from Governor Swettenham, dated Kingston, Jamaica:

"Most grateful thanks for supply of tents, just arrived from Cuba, in charge of Captain Battle, U. S. A. The service is most highly appreciated."

London Says He Apologized.

London, Jan. 29.—The Associated Press learns that the international phase of the Kingston incident has been finally closed by Governor Swettenham formally withdrawing his letter to Rear Admiral Davis and expressing his regret for having written it.

RAILROADS WILL NOT MAKE RATES

On Government Work But Charge Their Full Regular Price.

HARRIMAN ROADS GET COAL FROM AUSTRALIA

Atchison Stockholders to Meet to Vote $98,000,000 of New Bond Issue.

Omaha, Jan. 29.—The Union Pacific and Northwestern railroads have refused to make special rates to the government for the shipment of soldiers en route to the Philippines, to and from San Francisco. Yesterday bids were opened at Omaha for the transportation of 600 men and 500 horses, and a large amount of equipment, from Fort Robinson and Russell to San Francisco. Only the Union Pacific and the Northwestern bid, and both bids were for regular full rates. The railroad officials say that the government will secure no more cheap fares.

HARRIMAN COMPELLED TO BUY COAL IN AUSTRALIA

Omaha, Jan. 29.—The Harriman roads are buying coal in Australia and shipping it to the United States, for use in their locomotives. The cost in Australia is $10 on the docks, and this is increased by the time it reaches San Francisco. But so scarce are freight cars and motive power upon the Harriman roads that it is warranted in making the price rather than to take the equipment from the regular traffic and devote it to the coal business.

In Wyoming the great coal camps of the Union Pacific are at a standstill. Fire at the Cumberland mines prevents work of the No. 7 mine at Rock Springs, which produced 1,000 tons daily, has closed for lack of machinery. The railroad is short nearly 2,000 tons daily from that field alone. The importations from Australia will continue until the famine is over.

ATCHISON STOCKHOLDERS WILL MEET TOMORROW

Topeka, Jan. 29.—A meeting of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe stockholders will be held in Topeka Wednesday for the purpose of authorizing a $98,000,000 bond issue, for improvements and line extensions.

A MILLION SALMON EGGS FOR MAINE

Bangor, Me., Jan. 29.—1,120,000 salmon eggs have been received from the Craig Brook government hatchery at East Orono for the Little Sebasticus Brook hatchery on the Penobscot. West Branch about fifteen miles from Staceyville. These eggs were taken from river salmon caught in the weir at Bucksport and other places down the river last summer. When the eggs are hatched and ready to leave the swamping beds they will be "planted" in the head waters of the Penobscot and the lakes and ponds of northern Maine.

BUBONIC PLAGUE IS RAPIDLY SPREADING

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 29.—The bubonic plague is spreading at an alarming rate. Up to the present there are sixty cases and fourteen deaths. Yellow fever has also made its appearance and several deaths from leprosy are reported. The bubonic plague was brought into this country by a number of coolies on a British tramp steamer. They were shipped in Bombay. All steps are being taken by the sanitary authorities to stop the spread of the disease.

SECRET MEETING FOUND AND MANY ARE KILLED

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Jan. 29.—According to advices received here today, the governor, Mata, at the head of armed troops surprised a secret political meeting in the yard of Vice-President Gomez at Caracas, Venezuela, during the night of January 27, and in the fighting which followed, Governor Mata and several others were killed and a large number, including the commander of the troops, were wounded.

EARLY KANSAS AGITATOR DIES AT SOLDIERS' HOME

Leavenworth, Jan. 29.—Harry Allen, who was prominent in the movement to make Kansas a free state, died suddenly at the national soldiers' home at Lansing today.

Our Folks Won't Talk.

Washington, Jan. 29.—Officials at the state department refuse to discuss the report that Governor Swettenham has withdrawn his letter to Admiral Davis, and apologized therefor. It was pointed out that the president has taken every means to make it known that he regards the Kingston episode as a closed incident; so the officials decline to comment on it.

WHAT A SALTON SEA COULD DO FOR ALL OUR GREAT SOUTHWEST LAND

Form New Puget Sound as Large as Lake Ontario With Ocean Connection and Many Flourishing Cities, Says O. E. Cromwell.

BESIDES GIVING NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA ABUNDANCE OF RAIN AND CROPS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., JAN. 24.—A BILL HAS BEEN REPORTED TO THE SENATE FROM THE COMMITTEE ON ARID LANDS AUTHORIZING THE EXPENDITURE OF $2,000,000 FOR THE CONFINEMENT OF THE COLORADO RIVER WITHIN ITS BANKS, AND PREVENT ITS OVERFLOW INTO THE SALTON BASIN, AND THUS SAVE FROM INUNDATION THE ARABLE LANDS IN THE IMPERIAL VALLEY.

WHILE AT FIRST SIGHT THIS SEEMS A MOST PRAISEWORTHY OBJECT, AND NO DOUBT HAS SO APPEARED TO THE PRESIDENT, AND MANY OTHERS, VERY FEW SEEM TO HAVE GIVEN ANY THOUGHT TO THE OTHER SIDE OF THIS QUESTION, AND THE GREAT BENEFITS THAT HAVE ENSUED, AND WILL CONTINUE TO ENSUE, SHOULD THE COLORADO RIVER BE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE TO FILL THIS BASIN TO THE SEA LEVEL, AND THEN CUT A CONNECTION FOR ITSELF TO THE GULF OF CALIFORNIA. THERE ARE A FEW EXCEPTIONS TO THE INDIFFERENT MAJORITY. NOTABLY MR. BIRD, OF THE NOGALES OASIS, WHO HAS IN HIS PAPER PRESENTED HIS VIEW OF THE MATTER. BRIEFLY STATED, THIS WOULD GIVE A LARGE AREA OF NAVIGABLE WATER, AND IF THE CONNECTION TO THE GULF OF CALIFORNIA WERE DEEPENED SUFFICIENTLY TO PERMIT NAVIGATION BY SEA-GOING CRAFT, THE UNITED STATES WOULD THEN HAVE UPON ITS SOUTHWESTERN BORDER A SEAPORT OR SEAPORTS WHICH IT FAILED TO GET BY THE GADSDEN TREATY, AND THE PAYMENT OF $15,000,000. THIS WAS THE MAIN OBJECT OF THE GADSDEN PURCHASE, BUT THROUGH SOME ERROR THE BOUNDARY LINE PASSED ABOUT THIRTY MILES TO THE NORTH OF THE HEAD OF THE GULF. IF A PORT ON THE GULF OF CALIFORNIA WAS WORTH $15,000,000 IN 1852, WHAT WOULD SUCH A PORT BE WORTH NOW?

IF THE COLORADO CONTINUES TO FLOW INTO, AND ENLARGE THE SALTON SEA, IT WILL BRING INTO EXISTENCE A BODY OF WATER AS LARGE AS LAKE ONTARIO, AND ABOUT 270 FEET DEEP. THIS WOULD FORM ANOTHER PUGET SOUND IN THE SOUTHWEST, RIVALING THAT GREAT BODY OF WATER IN THE NORTHWEST, AND UPON ITS SHORES WOULD GROW GREAT CITIES LIKE SEATTLE AND TACOMA, AND THERE WOULD BE THE TERMINI OF SEVERAL TRANS-CONTINENTAL RAILROADS, WOULD NOT ONE SUCH CITY MAKE AMPLE AMENDS FOR THE LOSS OF THE IMPERIAL VALLEY?

ALREADY 450 SQUARE MILES OF THE BED OF THE SALTON BASIN HAS BEEN COVERED BY THE WATERS OF THE COLORADO TO A DEPTH OF SIXTY FEET, AND THIS AREA AFFORDS SUFFICIENT EVAPORATING SURFACE IN THAT DRY AND THIRSTY CLIMATE TO GREATLY MODIFY THE ARIDITY OF NEW MEXICO. I HAVE LIVED IN THAT TERRITORY, AND BEEN FAMILIAR WITH ITS CLIMATE FOR ABOUT THIRTY YEARS, AND IN ALL THAT TIME I HAVE NEVER KNOWN SO GREAT A RAINFALL AS HAS PREVAILED IN NEW MEXICO FOR THE PAST THREE YEARS; I HAVE KNOWN PERIODS OF SEVERAL MONTHS' DURATION, DURING WHICH THERE HAS BEEN A VERY SATISFACTORY AMOUNT OF PRECIPITATION, BUT NEVER LASTING AS LONG AS THREE YEARS. THE PRESENT RAINS BEGAN AT ABOUT THE TIME WHEN THE WATERS FROM THE OVERFLOW PRESENTED A SUFFICIENTLY LARGE SURFACE TO CAUSE A GREAT DEAL OF EVAPORATION, AND IS CO-EXISTANT WITH THE SPREADING AREA OF THE SALTON SEA.

I BELIEVE THIS IS NO MERE CO-INCIDENCE. IT IS, OF COURSE, IMPOSSIBLE TO TRACE THE EVAPORATION OF AN ATOM OF WATER FROM THE SURFACE OF THE SALTON SEA, AND FOLLOW IT UNTIL IT FALLS AS RAIN UPON THE ARID PLAINS OF NEW MEXICO, BUT I AM SURE THIS RAINFALL WILL GROW LESS, AND FINALLY CEASE ALTOGETHER IF THE OVERFLOW OF THE COLORADO RIVER WAS STOPPED, AND THE SALTON SEA ALLOWED TO DRY UP. IF THE AVERAGE RAINFALL OF THE PAST FEW YEARS IS PERMITTED TO CONTINUE, THE PRODUCTIVE VALUE OF NEW MEXICO AND ARIZONA WOULD BE MANY TIMES GREATER EVERY YEAR THAN THE VALUE OF THE IMPROVEMENTS ON ALL THE FARMS THAT WOULD BE DESTROYED BY THE OVERFLOW.

DURING THE PAST YEAR THERE HAS BEEN A TREMENDOUS INFUX OF NEW SETTLERS INTO NEW MEXICO. THE INCREASE IS ESTIMATED BY SOME NEWSPAPERS TO HAVE BEEN 90,000, OR A THIRD OF THE PREVIOUS POPULATION. THESE MAY BE AN OVERESTIMATE, BUT PRESUMING THE INCREASE WAS NO MORE THAN 50,000, THESE NEW PEOPLE ARE ALMOST WITHOUT EXCEPTION ENGLISH-SPEAKING NATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES. THEY HAVE BEEN TEMPTED HITHER BY THE IMPROVED CLIMATIC CONDITIONS, AND ARE BEGINNING TO CULTIVATE THE SOIL WITHOUT IRRIGATION, WITH THE SO-CALLED DRY FARMING METHOD. THERE IS HARDLY ANY PLACE IN NEW MEXICO WHERE GOOD CROPS CANNOT BE RAISED, AND THE PRESENT RAINFALL IS SURE TO INCREASE WITH THE INCREASING SURFACE OF THE SALTON SEA. IF THE PRESENT AMOUNT OF PRECIPITATION CAN BE MAINTAINED, AND POSSIBLY INCREASED, THE MATERIAL BENEFIT TO THIS TERRITORY AT LARGE WOULD BE BEYOND COMPUTATION, AND THE SAME MAY BE SAID OF ARIZONA.

DOUBTLESS THE NEXT SEASON WILL SEE A GREATLY INCREASED IMMIGRATION. WILL IT NOT BE A GREAT MISFORTUNE TO DESTROY THE LIVELIHOOD OF THIS LARGE AND INCREASING POPULATION BY STOPPING THE FORMATION OF THIS INLAND SEA, AND THUS CUTTING OFF THE SOURCE OF RAINFALL?

WOULD IT NOT BE BETTER FOR THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT TO USE THE APPROPRIATION ASKED FOR TO STOP THE OVERFLOW OF THE COLORADO RIVER, IN REIMBURSING THE PEOPLE OF THE IMPERIAL VALLEY FOR THEIR LOSSES, AND THUS CONSERVE THE GREATEST GOOD OF THE GREATEST NUMBER?

New York: "My father did not allow me to go to her, and her mother did not want her to go to me, and, therefore, we both go together."

This note was found on the floor of the top apartment of a tenement where lay the bodies of Meyer Schwartz, 17 years old, and his cousin and sweetheart, Bessie Bling, 18 years old, who had gone to the boy's house to fulfill her part in the suicide pact. She was shot through the mouth, a bullet penetrating her brain, and the youth also died instantly from a bullet in his left temple.

As the note indicates, parental objection to their companionship drove the young couple to seek each other in death. When the bodies were found the girl's face was placid, her hands were crossed in her lap as though she had posed calmly while her sweetheart fired the fatal bullet. His body lay on the floor at her side.

The note was addressed "To My Father." There was another addressed "To Everyone." It read: "I beg not to suspect anyone, because I shot myself. To my parents and friends I have nothing to say, for I die for my sweetheart, the sweetest girl on earth."

Young Schwartz was a very bright boy, but he had the reputation of being erratic. He was a heavy smoker of cigarettes. Neighbors say that although he had come to this country from Russia only a few years ago, he had completed the course of studies in the public schools, and was graduated only the day before his death from the public school at Hester and Norfolk streets.

BOY RUN OVER BY DRIVER
HIDDEN IN FROZEN SLOUGH

Chicago: Frozen fast in the ice covering a slough near the Calumet river, boys found the body of a fifteen-year-old Walter Kurpa, who was run over by a delivery wagon December 16, picked up and carried away by the driver and has been missing ever since. That the driver was killed, or seriously injured, in the accident and his body thrown into the slough that the driver might escape responsibility is the opinion of the police.

The body was so solidly frozen that it has not yet been possible to determine whether the bones were broken or unbroken, and the inquest was postponed until the corpse can be sufficiently thawed out to permit a post-mortem. The body was completely incased in ice, except for the legs, and a half hour's work was necessary to chop it out.

Assistant Chief of Police Schuetter has detailed a force of detectives from the murder squad to look for the driver of the wagon which ran over the boy. The latter's father is foreman of a South Chicago steel mill.

SUCCESSFUL TEST OF NEW ELECTRIC RAILWAY SYSTEM

Pittsburg: Westinghouse officials and experts have returned from Rochester, N. Y., enthusiastic over the success of the initial test of the new electric railway power system installed by the Erie railroad over its Mount Morris-Rochester branch line. Work on the entire contract for motors and generators, amounting to $550,000, to complete the equipment of the branch, will now be pushed at the Westinghouse plant at East Pittsburg. This is considered the entering wedge for the installation of electric power on the Erie. About a year ago the Erie company decided to install electricity on this branch running out of Rochester, about 94 miles. The system selected was the Westinghouse alternating current, single-phase system. The initial test run was made from Rochester to Avon, a distance of 19 miles, a number of the most prominent electrical men and railroad experts being present. This electrical installation has attracted attention among railroad men because of the fact that it was the first application of an 11,000 volt alternating current to electric traction. The Erie Railroad company is now making arrangements for the extension of the electric service to Rochester, 94 miles away.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINE IS NEARLY 1,000 MILES LONG.

Salt Lake City: The Western Union Telegraph company will send a team of its workmen out on the lines of the Western Pacific this week to commence the work of stringing wire between Salt Lake City and San Francisco. The telegraph company has an immense contract on its hands, as 929 miles of territory have to be traversed. Ordinarily thirty poles are used to carry a mile of wire, but as the country between here and the coast is so mountainous and unusual, forty poles may be used to each mile in many sections of the line. The original plan of having the wire gangs work ahead of the railroad builders was deemed impracticable. It is thought the wire men will cover ground more rapidly than the track gangs. The wire men are preparing in this city for the departure. Sleeping and boarding cars are being fitted up, and a good stock of supplies gathered. Material will arrive constantly, and as fast as it gets here will be sent to the wire camps. Five carloads of poles arrived from Idaho several days ago, and more are on their way. Sixty cars of poles are now coming towards Salt Lake from Michigan. Material enough to build nearly 150 miles of telegraph line is on hand, and daily consignments will be received steadily.

PUGET SOUND NOW GETS ITS COAL FROM ORIENT.

Tacoma, Wash.: Within the next thirty days several cargoes of coal will be received on Puget sound to relieve the fuel shortage now existing at Tacoma and Seattle. According to advices received the steamer Lyria had sailed from Miji with 1,000 tons of coal. The steamship Quito is to bring 5,000 tons and the steamship Pleiades is due here February 1 and will bring 1,000 tons of coal. Never before in the history of this port has coal had to be imported from the orient to meet the local demand. Owing to the coal shortage many tugs are prevented from going outside to pick up vessels, and as a result only sixteen have entered the straits in four weeks.

PHILADELPHIA TO HAVE FIRST ELEVATED LINE.

Philadelphia: After much delay, due to tardiness in the delivery of material, Philadelphia is to be given their first ride in elevated train next month. The Market street elevated is nearly completed, and while no definite date has yet been announced for the opening, it is believed that the first car carrying passengers will be run over the line in about three weeks. As the last of the stations will not be finished until spring, only three or four stops along the line can be made at first. Early next week a school car will be run over the line for the purpose of familiarizing the crews which are to man the trains with their new duties. Girls are to be employed as ticket sellers, and transfers are to be given to and from surface lines intersecting Market street.

GREAT WATER PLANT IS COMPLETED AT HELENA.

Helena, Mont.: The gates have been closed in the Hauser lake dam. It will be three weeks before the power is turned on, as it will take this time for the lake to fill. The water will back up eighteen miles in the river and through the Prickly Pear canyon, six miles in the valley below Helena. The dam is 640 feet long and 70 feet wide, and is made of steel throughout. It is the largest of its kind in the world. Fifteen thousand horsepower will be generated, and this, with the canyon ferry plant, will make Helena the largest producer of electricity in the country. With the completion of Niagara, the power will run the Washoe reduction works, the Anaconda railway, light Butte City and operate many mines.

CEMENT FACTORY TO BE BUILT NEAR BALTIMORE.

Baltimore: Baltimore capitalists have completed plans to establish on the Lake and Bradbury farms, near Belts, on the Western Maryland railroad, a Portland cement factory to cost $500,000. Douglas H. Gordon, of Baltimore, is at the head of the syndicate. Employment will be given to about 150 men at the start. The tracts purchased by the syndicate contain rich deposits of limestone. Shale will be shipped from Williamsport where the company recently purchased a tract of shale land.

OFFICIAL MATTERS

Change of Postmaster.

James W. Bennett has been appointed postmaster at Weed, Otero county.

Promotion for Hugh H. Harris.

Hugh H. Harris of Santa Fe, has been promoted to the position of supervisor of the Manzano and Mount Taylor forest reserves. He will assume his new duties on February 1. His headquarters will be at Albuquerque. The advancement of Mr. Harris came unsolicited and was a complete surprise to him. He was notified of his appointment as supervisor of the two new forest reserves while in Denver attending the American National Live Stock association, by Gifford Pinchot, forester in charge of the bureau of forestry. The Manzano forest reserve was created on November 6, 1905, and embraces 459,728 acres in the Manzano mountains. The Mount Taylor forest reserve was created on October 5, 1906, and contains 110,525 acres, surrounding Mount Taylor. Mr. Harris has been forest guard and assistant ranger of the Mount Taylor forest reserve for about two years under Supervisor Leon F. Knapp. His promotion is a well merited one and carries with it a handsome increase in salary as well as added responsibility.

CONGRESS STILL DANCING IS THE QUET AFTER SOLDIER
NOW NDiscussion Recently. But
There Will be Excitement
Over Naval Bill.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Congress is not always engaged in the serious and states and party legislation in which there is neither sentiment nor poetry. Once in a while it does the unusual thing and the unusual happens this week when the house passed a bill to reimburse a man for the trouble to which he was put because he happened to kill another man.

The man who thus enlisted the sympathies of the house is one Thomas W. Larkin, at one time deputy marshal in Haskins county, Tenn., a district in which formerly the business of making moonshine whiskey flourished greatly. It was while engaged in the exercise of his official duties that Larkin pursued one of these moonshiners in the hope that he could persuade him to desist from practices Congress had deemed inimical to the successful administration of the internal revenue laws. This particular moonshiner was obstreperous and the encounter resulted in his death.

Larkin was arrested, tried twice and finally acquitted. He filed a claim against the government for $1,700 for loss of time and attorney's fees. The house, however, disagreed with Larkin as to the value of his time, but admitted that he had some sort of a claim and allowed him $500.

Bulletin Against Wolves.

If there is a farmer or hunter anywhere in the country who is bothered with wolves and wants to know how to get rid of them, all he has to do is to send to the Department of Agriculture and ask for a copy of Forest Reserve Bulletin No. 72. This bulletin is entitled "Wolves in Relation to Stock and the National Forest Reserves," but if it overlooks anything pertaining to these animals which are the natural enemies of farmers, especially in the western sections of the country, the most painstaking research fails to indicate what it is. The bureau sends the wolves to be found in the various states and the character of loss the farmers sustain by reason of their predatory visits.

The chief object of the report, as stated by the compiler, is to put in the hands of the hunter, the forester, ranger, and stockman directions for trapping, poisoning and hunting wolves and finding the dens of the young. If the directions given are followed it is believed the wolves will be so reduced in number that depredations will cease to be a serious menace to stock raisers. Prime wolf skins are worth from $4 to $6 each, enough to induce trappers and enterprising ranch boys to make an effort to secure them if a reasonable degree of success is assured.

Conflict Over Navy Increase.

The annual conflict between the president and congress over the subject of the increase of the naval establishment will soon be on. The president in his recent letter to chairman Ford of the house committee, let it be understood that he was insistent that two big battleships should be authorized this year, as none was authorized at the last session. The president wants fighting machines of the English Dreadnaught class. The disposition in the house committee is to give the president that which he asks, but the committee is by no means unanimous in this view. Even should the committee do this there is no telling what the house would do.

Over in the senate there will be aggressive opposition to the two battleship program. Senator Hale, chairman of the senate committee, is opposed to anything of the sort; he may even oppose the construction of one more. But Mr. Hale's influence in his committee and on the floor of the senate, is potential. He is not influenced by antagonism to the Roosevelt's, but because he believes that we have gone far enough for a while and should wait until it is developed whether modern fighting ships can still be further improved before throwing away money on ships of war that may be obsolete before they have left the ways at the shipyards.

In both houses there is a very large contingent of members who fear that a costly naval program may prevent the passage of a sufficiently comprehensive river and harbor bill. There are many proposed new projects in this bill that members from the interior sections of the country are fighting for and if they become convinced that continued naval expansion will interfere with a proper increase in the accounts to be allowed for internal improvements of the waterways of the country, these men will center their efforts on the river program to prevent it from interfering with river and harbor improvements. The situation gives promise of a very interesting set-to in congress in which conflicting interests will clash and each side will result in compromise in which each side gets its fair share of the money authorized to be expended.

MEETING OF CATTLE
SANITARY BOARDHELD YESTERDAY AT SANTA FE—ADJOURNED SESSION SCHEDULED.

A meeting of the New Mexico Cattle Sanitary board was held yesterday at the Palace hotel, President E. G. Austin of Las Vegas presiding, and Secretary Willie C. Barnes of Las Vegas was at his post. There were present Colonel W. H. Jack of Silver City; Colonel C. L. Ballard of Roswell; and Hon. Robert Martin of Cimarron. W. C. McDonald of Carrizozo, was the only absentee at the meeting and he was there in time for the adjourned session, which was held in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. Nothing but routine business was transacted at the meeting.

Washington, All Swell Residences Having Their Own Ball Rooms.

(By Catherine Allman.)

Washington, Jan. 28.—Dancing seems to be a supervised and other forms of amusement for the present and matrons as well as gay young debutantes find pleasure in the always delightful pastime. There have been more smart dancing affairs given this season than in years past. Explanation for the dancing revival no doubt may be found in this year's large number of debutantes who were launched into the social world possessed of an insatiable social girl fondness for dreamy waltzes and sprightly ballroom dancing.

Then too, it was not so many years ago that there were but two private ball rooms in the city; one in the Mexican embassy, and the other the famous ball room in the house now occupied by the state department, the residence of the Wamamakers and of the Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Whitney. But all this is changed and nowadays scarcely a new residence of pretension is being built without a spacious dancing room, either on the first or on the top floor.

There are hardly bands and musicians enough in the city to furnish music for the occasions and two or three dances an evening have been the rule for the past two weeks. Mrs. John R. McLean has been hostess to several dinner dances, the Townsends and Slaters have thrown open their homes to young and old, while the Thomas F. Walsh's gave the most brilliant event of the season.

On Monday night Kaucher's ball room was beautifully decorated and brilliantly lighted when the "Beneficent" gathered to receive their guests. The receiving committee included Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Larz Anderson, Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt, Mrs. William Corcoran Eustis and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth.

At twelve the first supper was served and immediately afterward the dancing began. The dance consisted of long stemmed paper flowers, painted Chinese fans, beautifully carved sandalwood fans, ashes in different colors and glittering rosettes with flowing ends of tinsel. Although given in a private hall, the subject of the evening, one of the most exclusive events of the year, only 150 invitations were issued, and many who considered themselves entitled to recognition were not included with resultant heart burnings and indignation in masculine as well as in feminine breasts.

Mrs. Roosevelt has discontinued her Friday evening musicales for the present, and the chief feature of official entertaining with its simple but appropriate floral decorations, and the genial blaze of the hickory logs burning in the great fire place cast a warm glow on a scene of democratic hospitality.

There has been a noticeable dearth of entertaining by the official set this winter and honors for the smart affairs and gossies will have to be awarded to those in unofficial life. Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the vice president, who takes such a prominent part in the social life of the capital, has been practically confined to her room since Christmas, and has been unable to participate in any of the social functions, although her home has been thrown open to several of the most charming and characteristic dinner parties over which her daughter, Mrs. Timmons, presided. The Cortelyou's are in mourning; Secretary and Mrs. Root have been absent from the city, while the Secretary of agriculture, who remains abroad, does no entertaining, but keeps bachelor quarters in a modest apartment downtown.

Washington is again honored by the presence of distinguished foreigners. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Williams, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont are well known members of English society. Mr. Williams is a racing man and has been a close personal friend of King Edward since boyhood. Visiting with them is an intimate acquaintance with Mrs. George Kepple and Lady Susan Townley, to whose acrimonious and mischievous making tongue is accredited the recall of Sir Mortimer Durand. Mr. Williams made a trip to New York City recently, where he was a prominent figure at the opening of Belmont park, where his advice and suggestions were eagerly sought after and acted upon. This is Mrs. Williams' first visit to this country, and as she is a person of great beauty and charm she will have to endure the ordeal of being the cynosure of all feminine eyes, as King Edward, whose taste in such matters is unquestionable, declares her to be the "best dressed woman in England."

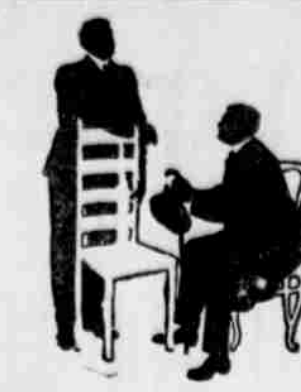

The Grip.

"Before we can sympathize with others, we must have suffered ourselves. No one can realize the suffering attendant upon an attack of the grip, unless he has had the actual experience. There is probably no disease that causes so much physical and mental agony, or which so successfully defies medical aid. All danger from the grip, however, may be avoided by the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy, not one case has ever been reported that has resulted in pneumonia or that has not recovered. For sale by all druggists."

WALL STREET IS SHIVERING AT THE

Securities to be Dumped on the Market, and Valued at $300,000,000

SOME LARGE COMBINATIONS AMONG NEW YORK BANKS

Building of Million Dollar Houses in Great City Grows at Rapid Rate.

New York, Jan. 29.—Wall street is shivering these days at the mere thought of the mass of undigested securities which railroad managers and other disciples of high finance are dumping into the stock market. From all appearances, investment buyers and speculative traders alike will have their hands full for some time to come in absorbing the hundreds of millions of dollars of new issues shortly to be put out.

According to plans announced by different railroad managements, something over $300,000,000 in new issues shortly will be unloaded. In the present unsatisfactory condition of the security markets this is appalling, and, in the language of the street, it certainly has "thrown a scare" into the financial district.

First came the announcement that the Pennsylvania railroad would put out $200,000,000 of new securities, followed by information from the Chicago & Northwestern that it would put out $50,000,000 of new stock, which announcement in turn was followed by another from the Southern railway that it would put out $25,000,000 of securities at once, and another issue, in all probability before the close of the year.

When it is remembered that these announcements came closely on the heels of the large security issues of the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, the St. Paul, and the Norfolk and Western roads, and at a time when there is the strong probability of a large issue from the New York Central, it is no wonder bankers and brokers are trying to figure how on earth they are going to market all of these issues.

State Tax is Worthless.

If anything further was needed to demonstrate the absolute worthlessness of the New York state tax laws covering personal property, it has been furnished in the tax rolls of the current year. The estate of the late Russell Sage is assessed for $50,000,000 of personal property and, based on the showing which the executors have been compelled to make in closing out Mr. Sage's affairs, is likely to stand the test. In addition to the estate assessment, Mr. Sage personally is assessed for $5,000,000, and both figures are low.

During the last few years of his life, Mr. Sage was carried on the tax rolls annually on a $2,000,000 personal assessment, and this amount he was forced to pay, although he made repeated efforts to have the assessment reduced, if not wiped out altogether. Tax officials now, owing to the information at hand and which could not be obtained by Mr. Sage's lifetime, believe they can go back and collect excess back taxation for two years. Under the law, however, they can go back no further than that, so that the city will lose large sums which were its rightful due, from Mr. Sage during his lifetime.

The estate of the late William C. Whitney also has gone on the tax rolls this year for $14,500,000. This is another net gain to the city unless the managers of the estate, by some hocus-pocus, manage to have the assessment reduced or eliminated. The estate never before has figured on the tax rolls, although last year Mr. Whitney's heirs individually were assessed on small sums.

Vast sums regularly are lost to the city each year through the assessment of personal taxes, and no law yet has been devised to meet the situation adequately. The properties of most of New York's millionaires are invested in securities of such a class that they are able to escape taxation under personal property heads.

More Rich Men Get Together.

Something of a realization of the local banking powers has been going on during the last month. Interest in these changes has centered largely in the development of the latest combination consisting of F. Augustus Heinze, Edward R. Thomas, and Charles W. Morse, which now controls several New York banks, and promises to expand.

Each of these men has a large personal fortune, and each is engaged in promoting important enterprises. Mr. Heinze in the mining field, Mr. Thomas in the ice and banking fields, and Mr. Morse in the coastwise steamship trade. To each, therefore, the possession of a chain of important banks in the metropolis is a valuable asset. The increasing prominence of these men in the world of finance is being regarded with jealous eyes by many of the old time magnates.

Mr. Heinze particularly has been engaged in building up a vast structure with the funds he received from the settlement of his father's estate with H. H. Rogers and the Amalgamated Copper contingent. Now he is said to contemplate embarking on some ambitious mining adventures in Canada. Mr. Morse soon will be in absolute control of the Atlantic coast steamship business, if indeed he does not already hold that enviable position.

Mr. Thomas is putting through many large plans that already have received the O. K. of the public. He recently formed the Western Ice company of New Jersey, which has acquired control of the Knickerbocker Ice company of Chicago and which is preparing to finance various companies in the ice trade in the Mississippi river section.

The appearance of Mr. Heinze as one of the controlling spirits of the Mercantile National Bank recalls an interesting story that went the rounds of the financial district a few years ago, when Mr. Heinze was not the power in finance that he is now.

At that time the Montana mining man was borrowing large sums of money to finance his different enterprises. His loans were spread around the Wall street district as thinly as possible so as not to excite any unnecessary comment. One loan of $50,000 was in the Mercantile National Bank, and at that time the institution was controlled by men who were not particularly friendly to Mr. Heinze. One of these men brought the subject up at a directors' meeting and the Montana man was called upon to take up the loan, which he did.

Some years rolled by without any transactions taking place between Mr. Heinze and the Mercantile National Bank. Then, after January 1 of this year, the financial world was astonished to learn that Mr. Heinze and his associates controlled the bank. Following this New York was treated to the spectacle of the Montana man turning out his former enemies in the institution. It is believed that Mr. Heinze's paper will be good at the Mercantile National hereafter.

Anti-Race Track Laws.

Anti-race track legislation is attracting large interest during the present session of the state legislature. The fact that District Attorney Jerome, following an energetic campaign against the poolrooms of the metropolis, has had bills introduced in the legislature to place race track betting on the same ground with poolroom betting, has led to the belief that the legislature now will take action which, during recent years, the race track interests always succeeded in blocking.

From year to year the tide of opinion has been growing against the distinction which makes bookmaking a felony punishable by imprisonment where the industry is carried on outside a race track, but which makes the same act, if attempted inside a race track enclosure, merely an illegal transaction and the punishment only the recovery, through slow civil action, of the amount lost.

The race tracks for a long time held the support of the rural sections through a clause in the state law which contributed a percentage of the race track receipts each year to the various county agricultural societies. Under Jerome's bills, agricultural societies will receive just as much money in the future, but they will receive it by direct appropriation from the state without reference to what may come from the race tracks.

It is this year Jerome has rendered worthless the strongest card the race track people have been able to play in the past. If the Jerome bills go through bookmaking will be a felony whether practiced inside or outside a race course.

To Save Old Irving Home.

Washington Irving's old home in this city is threatened with demolition, to make way for the new county court house. The commission appointed to select a site for a proper home for the supreme court of New York county, with its thirty judges and vast amount of litigation, has fixed upon the east side of Union Square, and has laid out a section bounded by Fourth, Avenue, Irving Place, Fourteenth and Seventeenth streets.

The Washington Irving home, one of the few important literary landmarks of the city, is located at Irving Place and Seventeenth street, right at the corner of the plot selected for the court house site. It was in this quaint dwelling that Washington Irving lived in the days when he was at the height of his fame, and was sought by the literary people of two continents. Plans now are being made to raise a fund to preserve the house in some location as near as possible to its present site.

After Reckless Motorism.

Angered at the bad name that is being given to motor car sport by reckless owners and chauffeurs, five wealthy New Yorkers, all of them former presidents of the Automobile Club of America, have enrolled themselves as special policemen for the purpose of running down reckless owners and drivers and punishing them for their criminal carelessness.

These men are Colgate Hoyt, Albert R. Shattuck, Winthrop E. Scarlett, George F. Chamberlain, and Dave H. Morris. These men all own powerful machines and they now have authority to carry revolvers and make arrests. They draw no salaries from the city, but must report to the police department at regular intervals and may be called upon for regular police duty in cases of emergency.

By thus setting its face sternly against reckless motoring, the Automobile Club of America believes it can cleanse the sport of the bad name now attaching to it.

Building Activity Unabated.

Fully $5,000,000 worth of Fifth avenue residences shortly will be constructed under plans that have been made public by various owners. Upper Fifth avenue, in the neighborhood of Andrew Carnegie residence at Ninety-first street, in the field of activity and within the next twelve months the section will show many additions to Millionaires Row. William E. Corry, president of the United States Steel corporation, and one of Carnegie's "boys," has paid $500,000 for land at Ninety-second street and will build a $2,000,000 home for his prospective bride, Mabelle Gilman, the actress. William B. Leeds, late president of the Rock Island railroad, is about to build a $1,000,000 structure at Eighty-ninth street, and S. Barton French is planning a $1,500,000 house at Seventy-first street.

Miss Grace Rainey, daughter of the late W. J. Rainey of Cleveland, known as the "Coke King," is about to build a $1,000,000 house at Seventy-fifth street on a plot for which she paid $200,000, while many other magnificent homes also are projected. James Stillman is to build at Seventy-second street, Mrs. Howard Gould at Seventy-third street, Benjamin Guggenheim at Seventy-sixth street, General Lloyd Bryce at Eighty-third street, and William Starr Miller at Eighty-sixth street.

Real estate men are estimating that the upper Fifth avenue building, for millionaires' residences, is going forward at the rate of $20,000,000 a year.

Meanest Man on Earth.

The meanest man on earth has been found in the west side police court. He was arraigned on a charge of larceny and, being without funds, the court assigned a lawyer to defend him.

So well did this lawyer plead the case that the accused man was freed. He was profuse in his thanks and repeatedly told the lawyer that Heaven would reward him for his act.

"That is all right," said the lawyer, "come around some time when you have some money and pay me."

A short time later in the afternoon a court attaché handed the lawyer an envelope. Upon opening it the lawyer found a pawn ticket for his watch. He felt in his pocket and discovered the pawn ticket was missing. The pawn ticket apparently was his idea of what Heaven's reward should be.

EDWARD STAATS LUTHER.

RAILROAD NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Gazin came in from Topeka last night. Mr. Gazin is chief electrician for the Santa Fe Railroad company.

W. B. Biddle, traffic manager for the Rock Island railway, passed through the city this morning in a private car attached to train No. 2, en route east. He was accompanied by his family.

Fireman Frank Brown of south Fifth street, left last night for the City of Mexico, where he will enter the employ of the Mexican Central railway. Mrs. Brown and her sister, Miss Agnes Sedgwick, will join Mr. Brown the latter part of February.

TO SPEND $150,000

IN ADVERTISING. Within a few days the Santa Fe will send out its cash advertising contracts to more than one thousand papers along its lines. At this time no exact figures as to the extra amount the Santa Fe will have to pay out can be given, but it will undoubtedly run up as high as $150,000 per annum. This is in addition to the large sums required to carry out contracts in some of the larger cities.

The country press is liberally represented on the list, and it is believed after the new plan has been given a fair trial it will be preferred to the former transportation arrangement.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC

BUILDS AROUND AGAIN. Two crews are at work grading the roadbed for the Southern Pacific high line through the desert. This line being on the 100-foot contour—that is, 100 feet below sea level, which is also 100 feet above the present water level of Salton sea, says a Yuma dispatch. While this work is in progress, there is expectation among road men that, in case the Colorado is controlled in time the road will not be moved.

While this work is in progress Salton sea is rising steadily at the rate of an inch a day, and only by hauling in gravel and building up the track can the main line be kept open to traffic.

RUSHING WICKENBURG.

ARIZONA, LINE. Construction work on the new road known as the Arizona and California, which was begun a year ago, but was interrupted because of lack of material, has been renewed. The new road is known as the Wickenburg cut-off, and is attracting the attention of eastern and local capitalists.

The new road is being built west from Wickenburg, Ariz., to Amboy, Cal., a distance of about 200 miles. It is controlled by the Prescott & Phoenix road, which is in turn controlled by the Santa Fe. The line is acknowledged to be a portion of the Santa Fe system.

Grant Bros. have completed the grading from Wickenburg to a point about twelve miles east of the Colorado river and track laying has progressed to within twenty miles of the end of the grade, or about seventy miles west of Wickenburg.

"We expect to complete the grading to the river within two months, and if the rails can be secured the line before the summer months come on," said a representative of the Grants recently.

"I cannot pledge when the line will be completed on the California side to Amboy, where it rejoins the main line of the Santa Fe, but work on this end will also be pushed rapidly."

DELIBERATIONS OF YESTERDAY AT SANTA FE

Show Caretaking Disposition of Legislators--No Haste in Passage of Bills.

Yesterday was a quiet one in the Thirty-seventh legislative assembly. The council held a short session yesterday morning, attending to all business that came up in regular order and adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. The house met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

THE COUNCIL.

Sixth Day—Monday morning. President Spiess called the council to order at 10 o'clock yesterday morning for the sixth day's session. The invocation was offered by the chaplain, followed by the reading of the roll. All responded present except Mr. Richards, member of the council from district nine, Socorro and Sierra counties.

Chief Clerk Martin read the journal of Friday's session and upon motion duly seconded and carried, the journal was ordered approved as read.

The committee on engrossed bills, Mr. Dailies, chairman, then reported that it had compared Council Resolutions Nos. 1 and 2, to supply members with matters of reference, and Council Memorial No. 1, for the restoration to entry of public lands in San Juan county and found them correct. The report of the committee, upon motion duly seconded and carried, was adopted.

The report of the committee on rules, Mr. Martinez, chairman, was received by the council. Upon motion of Mr. Martinez, the report was read in full by Chief Clerk Martin, the rules recommended by the committee being those of 1891 with a few minor changes.

Upon motion of Mr. Chavez, seconded and carried, the report and the rules recommended by the committee, were adopted by the council.

The rules will be printed and a copy supplied to each member of the assembly.

Mr. Martinez introduced Council Resolution No. 5, to give rent free to the Historical Society of New Mexico, two additional rooms in the Old Palace, the rooms being those formerly occupied by Judge N. B. Laughlin, as an office suite. Upon motion of Mr. Chavez, seconded and carried, the rules were suspended, and the resolution was read a second time.

Upon motion of Mr. Martinez, seconded and carried, the rules were further suspended and the resolution was read a third time preparatory to its passage. Mr. Martinez then moved that the resolution do now be passed. The motion was carried unanimously.

Mr. Sargent then introduced the following three bills:

Council Bill No. 8, an act to authorize the territorial auditor and treasurer to harmonize certain discrepancies of long standing on their books and for other purposes. Upon motion of Mr. Sargent, seconded and carried, the bill was read a second time and referred to the committee on finance.

Council Bill No. 9, an act to amend sections of the laws of 1903 relative to the offices of the auditor and traveling auditor of New Mexico and their duties.

On motion of Mr. Sargent, seconded and carried, the bill was read a second time by title and referred to the committee on finance.

Council Bill No. 10, an act relating to the collection of delinquent taxes and for other purposes. Mr. Sargent moved that the bill be read a second time by title and referred to the proper committee. The motion prevailed. The bill was read by title and referred to the finance committee.

Under the business order of joint resolutions on their second reading, Joint Resolution No. 4, introduced by Mr. Cameron, providing for the pay of city employees, was read a second time by the chief clerk, Mr. Martin. In full and referred to the committee on finance.

Under order of business on the president's desk, House Bill No. 1, an act relative to the offices of district judges, was read a second time by the chief clerk, Mr. Martin. In full and referred to the committee on education.

Under order of business on the president's desk, House Bill No. 2, an act to amend sections of the laws of 1903 relative to the offices of the auditor and traveling auditor of New Mexico and their duties, was read a second time by title and referred to the committee on finance.

President Spiess then announced that the house had signed council joint resolutions Nos. 1 and 2 and council memorial No. 1.

The council then adjourned until 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

THE HOUSE.

Sixth Day—Monday Afternoon. Pursuant to adjournment the house met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The chaplain offered the invocation and Chief Clerk Staplin then read the roll, all responding present except Mr. Studley.

The journal of Friday's proceedings was read in English and upon motion duly seconded and carried, was ordered approved as read.

Speaker Baca introduced House Bill No. 6, an act to provide for the construction of the scenic highway from Santa Fe to Las Vegas. Referred to the finance committee.

Speaker Baca introduced House Bill No. 7, an act to appropriate funds to buy land upon which to erect a governor's residence at Santa Fe. Referred to the finance committee.

Speaker Baca introduced House Bill No. 8, an act to extend the corporate limits of Santa Fe. Referred to committee on corporations.

Mr. Ruppe introduced House Bill No. 9, an act to prohibit gambling in New Mexico. Referred to committee on judiciary.

Mr. Beach introduced House Bill No. 10, an act to revise section 1265, of the compiled laws of 1897. Referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Blinn introduced House Bill No. 11, an act to shorten the time for paying delinquent taxes, etc. Referred to committee on judiciary.

Mr. Abbott of Santa Fe, introduced House Bill No. 12, an act to amend certain sections of the compiled laws of 1897, relative to the office of county treasurer and ex-officio collector. The bill was referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Beach introduced House Joint Resolution No. 2, for a new election and registration law.

House joint resolution No. 2 was read. Mr. Beach then moved that the rules be suspended and the resolution be read a second time. He gave as his reasons that as other members were contemplating the introduction of similar bills, they could confer with the proper committee and draft a bill that would be suitable to all, thus saving time.

The motion of Mr. Beach prevailed by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Ruppe moved that house resolution No. 2 be now passed. The motion carried unanimously and the resolution was declared passed by the speaker.

House joint resolution No. 3 was introduced by Mr. Beach and read by Chief Clerk Staplin. It asked that the assembly members be supplied with a vest pocket edition of a roster of territorial officials, members of the legislature, committee, etc.

Upon motion of Mr. Beach, seconded and carried, the resolution was read a third time preparatory to passage.

Upon motion of Mr. Blinn, seconded and carried, the house passed resolution No. 3 unanimously.

Chief Clerk Martin of the council then announced that President Spiess had signed council joint resolutions Nos. 1 and 2 and council memorial No. 1.

Mr. Abbott, of Santa Fe, then asked the speaker to announce a meeting of the committee on education following adjournment of the house. The announcement was made and the house adjourned until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

RANCHER THROWN UNDER WAGON AND KILLED.

Dolores de Herrera, a well known ranchman residing near Mora, was killed on Saturday last while on his way to the ranch, by being thrown from his wagon and run over. It is not known how the accident occurred, but it is presumed that the unfortunate man lost control of the team, which ran away.

ANOTHER ROSEBUD COMES TO MRS. ROSE.

On Sunday night another Rosebud made her appearance at the Dow home, where Mrs. N. S. Rose is doing her temporary home. The little maid and her mother are doing nicely. We do not know how her father will survive, so many honors coming all at once. On New Year's he began the publication of the Carrizozo Outlook, and on the 14th of the month was elected justice of the peace of his precinct. We hope that the judge will not need an extra-sized hat, when again he visits our town.—Estancia News.

DENIED WATER THEY KILL AND ARE ACQUITTED.

A Douglas dispatch says: Refused a canteen of water from a well in the white and burning heart of the Colorado desert, two men killed another last Saturday, and a coroner's jury said that the killing was justifiable. Lost in the endless sweep of sands, Bill and Lynn Despain, while prospecting, came upon the hut of Arthur Jones, a gray old man, owning the only well within a day's hard ride of Bear's well. They asked permission to fill their canteens, and he refused it. Thirst-mad, they turned to the well and began to draw water from it, when Jones appeared in his adobe door with rifle in hand. He fired, the bullet penetrating the body of Bill Despain. Before Jones could shoot again he was a corpse. Lynn Despain had killed him. Bill Despain will recover.

She has implicit confidence in it and would not be without a bottle of it in her home. Sold by all druggists.

SON OF PH. FREUDENTHAL ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Word has been received from Solomonsville, Ariz., of an accidental shooting which will probably result fatally to the young son of Ph. Freudenthal, the well known business man of that section. From information received it appears that the Freudenthal boy was playing with the little son of Sheriff Anderson, who had secured a .38-caliber revolver from a bureau drawer in his home, and that in some manner the gun was discharged, the bullet passing through the left shoulder of the Freudenthal lad. The course of the bullet was determined, but so far the doctors have been unable to locate it. Blood poisoning is feared and the little victim may be taken to Los Angeles for treatment.

Business Manager.

ADVERTISE THE TERRITORY

The Optic has a well-reasoned and unanswerable editorial article against the abolition of the bureau of immigration. Only its length prevents The Citizen from copying in full. However, here are samples:

Advertising in one form or another settled the United States. The first white men that reached New Mexico came because it had been advertised that this country abounded in gold and precious stones. The middle west was settled because it was advertised that its bottom lands were marvellously fertile. California was created by advertising. At first advertising of the resources of newly discovered or explored regions was not done scientifically; it was by word of mouth, by letters, by poster, or as in Coronado's day, by Dame Rumor. But nowadays, progressive communities do not depend upon these slow and haphazard ways of letting their advantages and attractions be known. Advertising bureaus are organized. Large corporations have their advertising managers; railroads employ a staff of advertising agents, and advertising has been reduced to an exact science that brings results commensurate with the skill and thoroughness with which it is done. New Mexico, too, is reaping wonderful profits from advertising itself, its climate, its undeveloped and developed mineral wealth, its fertile lands, its scenic attractions and its manifold resources and advantages. To depend for this work upon private agencies would be equivalent to the Santa Fe railway system's abandoning its advertising campaigns and depending altogether upon the good words of the passengers it carries or the ship-pers for whom its does business. Just as the Santa Fe system and other great railroads are actually founding new magazines to advertise their lines, are doubling their appropriations for advertising purposes, it would be a piece of folly to abandon the territorial bureau of immigration, which with the expenditure of a few thousand dollars a year, is accomplishing results that pay enormous dividends upon the amount invested, dividends against which those of the Standard Oil company dwindle into insignificance. No sane business man abandons the best paying part of his business when he feels the need of economizing. No great business enterprise gives up its central advertising department because its clerks or its agents are also advertising it all they can. New Mexico may be able to economize along more than one line, but it certainly cannot afford to abandon the systematic, official advertising of its resources; at least, not as long as it has millions of acres of public land and has any resources of consequence to develop.

THE SALTON SEA

The Citizen publishes on its first page this evening a special from Mr. O. E. Cromwell, for many years an honored and useful citizen of Albuquerque, and one who still owns much property in the Duke City. Mr. Cromwell discusses the Salton sea matter, and the propriety of efforts of the government, or by any one else, to restore the Colorado river to its old channel. He bases his objection to the eradication of the sea on two considerations. One is that if allowed to follow its present course and fill the Salton sink, there will be formed in the far southwestern part of the United States a lake as large as Ontario, and forming a second Puget sound, rivaling that of the northwest, with deep sea harbors and cities rivaling Seattle, Tacoma, Port Gamble and many others of less importance. These cities would become terminals of trans-continental railways, and the value of the change to the southwest, for the new lake would not be land locked, but connected through the Gulf of California with the Pacific ocean.

Mr. Cromwell's second point is that the accumulation of the water in the lake has already had a perceptible effect on the rainfall in Arizona and New Mexico, and such rainfall will be increased with the increase of the lake in size. All the now nearly arid southwest will become one of the most fruitful agricultural countries of the world, having the three essentials of soil, climate and moisture.

Mr. Cromwell has evidently well studied the subject. The Citizen hopes that all its readers will carefully ponder what he has to say. Many scientists have looked into the subject and while there seems to be no doubt as to the formation of the great sea, some say that the date as to climatic changes have not so far been sufficiently studied.

The only argument in opposition to allowing the sea to form is that it would destroy 100,000 acres of irrigated land, on which seven or eight crops of alfalfa may be grown every year, and which may otherwise be made to blossom as the rose, and also that it will obliterate the homes of 12,000 people, now distributed among many small towns in the Imperial valley. But what would this loss be compared to the infinitely greater good as depicted by Mr. Cromwell?

PUBLIC PAYS FREIGHT

Henry Clews, in his financial review for Saturday, says:

The most significant feature in the money situation is the avalanche of short term railroad notes pressing upon the market. What does it mean when a property like the Southern railway has to pay practically 7 per cent for $15,000,000 of three-year notes? Such a transaction, of course, shows extreme need of the corporation for funds; it also shows, what is more significant, that the money market is still suffering from excessive strain. Many other large corporations—industrial as well as railroads—are greatly in need of new capital in order to enable them to meet current demands. Conditions in both the stock and bond markets are unfavorable to raising funds by new issues of stock or bonds. There is no other resource left, therefore, except that of short term notes. Fortunately these are being taken with comparative freedom by investors, who find it profitable to exchange them for stocks and bonds yielding 4 to 5 per cent; for in the one case the buyer is reasonably sure of having his principal returned unimpaired when the notes mature, while in the other he must take the chances of a material depreciation during the next one, two or three years. The effect of such conditions is depressing, not only upon the stock market, but upon bonds, the market for which has been more or less spoiled. Many more millions of these short term obligations are in sight, and they are destined to exercise an important influence upon market values.

For this greater interest, The Citizen begs to remark, the patrons of railroads must pay the freight.

The democratic organ of this city seems to have given up all hope of aid and comfort by the legislative house in the nefarious effort which, as all know, the organ has so long been making to disrupt the republican party of New Mexico. So, in despair, it turns and slobbers all over the country, in idiotic effort to give the members taffy. Having first stigmatized them as Bureau's tools, it now has "sufficient confidence in the statesmanship and patriotism of the gentlemen composing the upper branch."

Why should the New Mexico legislature turn aside from its great work in behalf of the territory of New Mexico, to work for El Paso? If that place wants day-light trains on the Santa Fe into El Paso, let it work for such trains. Three-fourths of the territory has no interest in the matter whatever.

According to the New Mexican, a learned divine, guest of Governor Hagerman, preached in Santa Fe on Sunday, his subject being "Good Citizenship." He said in effect that unfortunately this cry for good government heard all over the country is to a great extent not an honest cry; it does not come from the heart; it is rooted in selfishness; it is fostered by the men who are merely after the things which have been taken possession of by those whom they denounce. The New Mexican added: "Thus, the people are beginning to size up correctly the so-called 'independent,' 'reform,' 'good government' movements that have behind them naught but colossal egotism or the worst kind of political selfishness. The only reforms that are permanent must be achieved by the voters within party lines and organizations. All other movements are bound to be ephemeral and barren of permanent results."

APPEAL TO WOMEN AGAINST HABIT OF TAKING DRINKS

(By Beatrice Fairfax.)

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 19 years old and would like to have your advice on the following: Over a year ago my chum and I met two young men, who made an engagement with us and brought us to supper. The men ordered wine, as did my chum, and so as to be game I ordered wine also, which I regret to this day, as I believe it made me say things which I would not have said otherwise.

I told the young man I was with it was the first I had ever taken, and he said he regretted it very much. I told him it was my first and last, but the following week he met me at a restaurant and there was wine on the table. I told him I did not take any, but he said he did not believe me, and that I would be liable to take it with any fellow. I regret it so much that I would do anything to get back his respect, as I think a good deal of him. I meet him occasionally, but he merely speaks very coldly.—N. Y. Z.

Now, girls, if any of you have any doubts as to men's opinions on girls drinking intoxicants the above letter may settle them.

There is not one man in a hundred who likes to see a girl drinking cocktails, highballs, etc. Men may urge you to drink, but they think more of you if you refuse.

"N. Y. Z." acknowledges that she talked unwisely after having had something to drink.

There is always danger of that. You know the old saying, "Wine in, wit out." In this case I think the young man has been unforgiving. The girl only took the wine once, and sincerely repented having done so. He should have seen that her repentance was genuine and advised her to never touch it again.

No woman, whether old or young, can afford to drink. It makes the young woman look old, and it makes the old woman look older.

It coarsens the nature as well as the face. Women's heads are not strong, and the minute a woman drinks spirits she begins to talk foolishly. Her face flushes and her eyes grow glassy.

You can't imagine any woman looking attractive in those circumstances, can you?

A naturally refined woman will make coarse or vulgar remarks when under the influence of intoxicants. She will countenance jokes that, in her right mind, she would be horrified at.

She is simply not responsible for what she says or does. But she is responsible for having taken the drink that affected her to such a degree.

Don't touch intoxicants, girls; be satisfied with your youth and health.

Let the only spirits you indulge in be the spirits of youth and happiness.

HOW MCCARTHY CHANGED WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE

They had a humorously chaotic way of making laws in Wisconsin five years ago, says Samuel Merwin in an article in Success Magazine, describing a unique information bureau conducted as an adjunct to the Wisconsin state legislature, before Charles McCarthy, with an idea and a Ph.D., walked into the capitol. No body had ever heard of him; he had no money; he was only twenty something; the Ph.D. was a thing to be forgotten as soon as possible; and so he was reduced, at the start, to his idea. With this idea, a strain of fighting blood, and the hint of a brogue that honors the Sod, McCarthy changed the scheme of lawmaking at Madison, in five years, from a disastrous chaos to a scientific system.

There was a cobwebby old law in the statute books which nobody but McCarthy had given a thought to. It stated that fifteen hundred dollars should not be appropriated for the establishment of a special legislative library, which should be in the capitol. A little digging brought up the interesting fact that the "not" had not been in the law as passed. McCarthy called on the attorney general, and got an opinion to that effect. Then, with his law in his pocket, he went around to the capitol to enforce it in person. He got out his Ph.D., dusted it off, took it over to the University of Wisconsin, and got himself appointed faculty lecturer on "Comparative Legislation." Bright young graduates, from everywhere, soon heard of him, came to Madison, and went to work under McCarthy—for nothing. He had so managed it that the work they did for him was credited to them at the university.

So there he is, modest, immensely earnest, but full of healthy outdoor vitality and real Irish humor and enthusiasm. The Wisconsin legislature no longer works in the dark. It no longer meekly bows to the arguments of the paid lobbyist. When that gentleman appears before a committee his statements are taken down, sent up to "Mac," and through the mill. When he again appears before that committee he is confronted with his arguments and the real facts of the case, in parallel columns. This is a good training for the paid lobbyist; it makes him careful about whom he lies paid lobbyist; it makes him careful about whom he lies passage a bill drawn up in the office of a "public service" corporation, he knows now, that his bill will go "upstairs," that McCarthy's trained men will dissect it in that fact-laboratory of theirs, and will reduce it right down to its elements. It is no longer a case, in Wisconsin, of simply compromising between the various "special interests" affected by the bill. The legislature knows better now, because McCarthy, upstairs, is shoveling out the unassailable, irresistible facts gathered and collated, with cold, mathematical accuracy, by scientists.

MR. LEWIS WAS EQUAL TO THE OCCASION

H. H. Crawford, who has been the guest of his brother, L. B. Crawford, left this morning for his home at Mitchell, Ind. The former was accompanied by C. P. Lewis, a cousin of L. B. Crawford, who has several farms in the vicinity of Mitchell, Ind. The Hoosiers came west about three weeks ago, and there is an incident in connection with the coming of Mr. Lewis that is worth relating. Mr. Lewis is a very remarkable man.

Mr. Crawford is a business man in Mitchell. One day his country cousin came to town with a skinned calf for the market. "I'm going out to see L. B. at Albuquerque," said Mr. Crawford, "you had better come and go along, I leave in two hours."

"Ah, go on, I can't go. If you were going in two weeks, I would talk to you."

"Yes you can," continued Mr. Crawford.

"What? Go this way," Mr. Lewis surveyed his rural habits.

"Why, sure, go just that way."

Mr. Lewis was equal to the occasion and two hours after they were speeding westward to see their Albuquerque relative. A stop was made in Chicago, and Mr. Lewis purchased himself a traveling outfit of clothes.

HONOR PRESIDENT MCKINLEY'S ANNIVERSARY.

Washington, Jan. 29.—As the carnation is said to have been President McKinley's favorite flower, thousands of Americans all over the world, are today wearing it in honor of the anniversary of the president's birthday. The carnation league of America is now a strong organization much as the English have established a primrose league in memory of Lord Beaconsfield. Carnations were worn by all members of the house of representatives, senators, and republicans alike. Never before has the homage been so uniform. Employees of congress and officials and clerks in the various executive departments all joined and the entire force at the white house appeared with the pink carnation upon the lapel of each coat. During President McKinley's occupancy of the white house he daily wore his favorite flower.

Widow Visits Tomb.

Canton, O., Jan. 29.—Canton people informally, but generally observed McKinley's birthday. Special patriotic programs were held in most of the schools, and the pink carnation was everywhere in evidence. Mrs. McKinley was driven to the cemetery in the afternoon with a large bunch of carnations for the tomb of the late president. A floral piece bearing the card of Geo. B. Cortelyou was placed on the casket.

TERRITORY BIDS FOR LOWER FREIGHT RATE

Interstate Commerce Commission Petitioned to Equalize the Situation.

CHEAPER RATE TO COLORADO

Would Prove Knock Out Blow to Territory Dealers Without Same Rate.

New Mexico put in its bid for lower freight rates when the United States Interstate Commerce commission met in Denver to adjust the freight rates on shipments from eastern points. This reduction of freight rates was originally brought to the attention of the commission by George Handell of Denver, who alleged discrimination by the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and others. Commissioner Prouty sat in Denver to hear testimony in the case and New Mexico merchants, fearing the effect on territorial business in the event that Colorado was favored with a lower rate, filed an intervening petition.

The New Mexico Wholesale Grocers' association was instrumental in bringing the matter before the attention of the commission. George Arnot, Albuquerque manager for Gross Kelly & Co., W. Brown, of the Brown & Manzaneros Co., Las Vegas, and H. B. Cartwright of Santa Fe, appeared before the commission and filed the petition on behalf of the Wholesale Grocers' association, which includes the Remsburg Mercantile Co., Ration Grocers & Co., Las Vegas; L. B. Cartwright & Co., Santa Fe; Jones Downes & Co., Silver City and the C. N. Cotton Co., Gallup.

The petition states that in case lower rates should be granted Denver and Colorado points from the east that the same rates should apply to the New Mexico common points in order that there be no discrimination in favor of Colorado distributing centers. The petition sets out:

1. That they are respectively engaged in the wholesale grocery business in the territory of New Mexico, and have their places of business at the points above respectively mentioned.

2. That they purchased goods at Chicago, St. Louis, Alton, river points and other points east thereof, all of which are shipped to their respective places of business over the roads of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company; the Denver & Rio Grande Railway company; the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company; the Southern Pacific Railway company; the Santa Fe Central Railway company and other railroads.

3. That they distribute the goods and merchandise in which they respectively deal, at various points within the territory of New Mexico and the territory of Arizona.

4. That the rates of freight charged for shipments from eastern points to their respective distributing points are largely based upon rates from such eastern points to Colorado common points, and such rates are made with a view to enabling petitioners and other wholesale dealers and distributors in the territory of New Mexico to meet and compete with any rates that can be made by wholesale dealers and distributors at said Colorado points.

5. That if the rates to Colorado common points upon the different classes of classified goods and upon many goods which have commodity rates, should be lowered, without a corresponding reduction to New Mexico points, such lowering of rates would seriously affect the business of your petitioners, and would seriously injure them, and would compel them either to retire from business, in some instances, or to obtain from the said Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company, the Denver & Rio Grande Railway company, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company, the Southern Pacific Railway company, the Santa Fe Central Railway company, and other railroads a readjustment of the rates which your petitioners now receive from said companies.

6. That it is not the intention of this petition to object to or protest against the giving of reasonable rates to Denver, but if any class or commodity rates are lowered to Denver from eastern points, then a corresponding reduction should be made to points in New Mexico.

Wherefore, your petitioners pray that they may be permitted to file this petition in intervention, in this proceeding, and may be allowed to introduce evidence in support thereof.

W. B. BIDDLE MEETS MEETS MANY OLD FRIENDS

W. B. Biddle, general traffic manager for the Rock Island railroad, is spending the day in the city, meeting old friends and seeing landmarks familiar to him twenty years ago when he called Albuquerque his home. Mr. Biddle is accompanied by Mrs. Biddle and a party of friends. They arrived from California on the morning train, and expected to leave at midnight for El Paso, where they will take the Rock Island to pursue their journey homeward.

"I like Albuquerque," said Mr. Biddle. "I came to the place in 1882, and entered the employ of the old Atlantic & Pacific, now known as the Santa Fe coast line. I left here in '88, but have managed to visit the place at least once a year ever since. My, but it has grown."

CLARA CISNEROS STRIKES BARGAIN WITH NATIVE, FOR WHOM POLICE SEARCH.

"I bought the two weeks of flour from a native for 25 cents each," Clara Cisneros told Judge Crawford in police court this morning when she was arraigned for having stolen the flour from the store of Maria & sister, at 309 North Third street, yesterday.

The Cisneros lady's name appears frequently on police court records, always accompanied by the same charge which is not theft. Petty larceny was the charge on this occasion, however.

She lives in Dog Town and speaks no English so Patrolman Salazar acted as interpreter.

"That was pretty cheap flour," observed the judge.

"A man stole the flour and carried it to my house," said the lady through the interpreter.

"We'll just lock you up again until we get the man who carried it to your house," finished the magistrate.

Chief McMillin detailed a man to look up the man with a penchant for flour, and the witnesses who had identified the stuff were permitted to go.

TIERNEY TO WORK OUT A TRIAL BALANCE

WILLIAM NOAH BALANCE OF MANY JOBS GETS FIVE DAYS SERVICE.

William Noah Balance, a negro, who flew into Albuquerque last fall with the Seils-Pinto shows, was arrested last night for drunkenness. William Noah is versatile which is attested by the fact that he has followed no less than four vocations since he remained in Albuquerque while the circus went on without him. He has successively been engaged as hostler, dishwasher, cook and waiter at as many different places where repast is served for beast and man.

William Noah promptly replied "guilty," when the magistrate recited the charge, and the court after sitting up William Noah's stalwart frame and reflecting over its possibilities in the way of pick and shovel, lapsed "five days" so that street Commissioner Martin Tierney may work out a trial balance on the streets.

"THE VILLIAN STILL PURSUED" MRS. WRIGHT

JOSE GARCIA GETS THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL FOR ASSAULTING NEGRESS.

Annaliveness and a knife got Jose Garcia into trouble last night. As his name indicates, Jose is a native. He imported a Mrs. Wright, who had entered a saloon, but the woman was proof against his blandishments and ran. Jose, according to testimony, pursued her for a block or two, then the police got Jose and locked him up in the city jail.

Mrs. Wright is a very brunette negress. Jose is a light saddle color. Mrs. Wright swore that Jose threatened her with a knife but there was no evidence to show that he did, aside from her testimony. Jose declared he did nothing of the kind, although he admitted having thrown the knife away before the police arrived. His reply to an interrogative from Judge Crawford as to why he purposely lost the knife were rather confused.

"Thirty days in jail," said his honor, and Jose saw his finish.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS AT LEARNARD & LINDEMAN'S

LARGE SALESMAN TO BE PARTITIONED OFF, WHICH WILL FACILITATE TRANSACTION OF BUSINESS.

Workmen are engaged today in installing some extensive improvements in the interior of the Learnard & Lindemann music house on Gold avenue.

To facilitate the transaction of business and permit several instruments being tried out at once, two talking machine rooms will be fixed inside the present salesroom. These will be wainscoted half way up from the floor and the remainder will be made of plate glass. A private piano salesroom will be another feature when the improvements will have been completed, and a new office, which will be placed in the balcony in the rear of the store. A wide stairway in the center of the store will lead up to the office, which will be conveniently arranged.

The work is being done by J. V. Tegner. The new features have been completed and the men are now getting them in shape for permanent placement.

The growth of the Learnard & Lindemann business has been so extensive as to necessitate arrangements so that a number of customers can be taken care of at a time. At present it is necessary to wait upon only one customer at a time, especially is this true when the instruments are played for exhibition purposes.

The completion of the improvements now underway will make the interior of the Learnard & Lindemann store very much after the manner of the large music houses of the east, where these arrangements obtain.

Mr. Learnard stated this morning that he expects to arrange for afternoon musical recitals at the store in the near future.

UNIVERSITY LECTURE

"To spend your days doing the most good for the greatest number, when you must play the villain at night," is the way Mr. John Griffith put it when questioned upon his lecture which he has so kindly volunteered to give to the students of the University on Friday afternoon next.

Mr. Griffith further said: "We," meaning his company and himself, "are going to play 'King Richard, the Third' at the Elks' theater on Friday night, and as we arrive in a special train in Albuquerque early in the forenoon, I am going to give the students a lecture on Wm. Shakespeare and his plays, so that they will better grasp the beauty and meaning of his various works. Of course, I don't say this as a piece of self-flattery, but I do hope that my lecture to them will have a beneficial effect in their future work in this line."

Judging Mr. Griffith from the conversation with him, he is a deep scholar of Shakespeare and a gentleman one seldom has the opportunity of meeting, and I have no doubt our students will be the gainers, both intellectually and socially by his visit to the University.

HUNDREDS JOIN THE BOOSTERS' CLUB

You Will See Them in the Great Parade and Mass Meeting Thursday Night.

Arrangements are rapidly maturing for one of the warmest times ever seen in this neck of the woods, on Thursday night of this week when the Boosters' club, which is intended to include every able-bodied man in this city, come down the line from the Alvarado hotel in marching array. Led by the American Lumber company band and pushed along by the Learned & Lindemann Juvenile band the boosters of Albuquerque, hemmed in on all sides by approving thousands, will move through the streets of the city to the Elks' opera house, where they will listen to speeches intended to inspire within them an increased desire for the city's growth in every practical way. The Boosters' club is an outgrowth of the "Bobbie Burns" banquet of last week and has for its motto "50,000 population for Albuquerque by 1912." Yesterday afternoon the committee, consisting of Mayor McKee, Col. Borradaile, Mr. J. W. Elder, J. B. Herndon, D. A. Macpherson, M. L. Stern, J. N. Coffin, R. W. Hadden and Maynard Gunsul, held a meeting at the Commercial club, at which arrangements were made for the parade and mass meeting on Thursday night and every loyal Albuquerquean is expected to meet at 7:30 o'clock in front of the Alvarado to join in the parade, which will be under the marshaling of Colonel Borradaile. At the opera house there will be music by the Elks orchestra and speeches will be made by Messrs. George S. Klock, H. B. Ferguson, President W. G. T. Light, Dr. George T. Gould, "Uncle Johnny" Bearup and other well known spellbinders. Another meeting of the committee will be held tomorrow afternoon at which it is expected that the plan already made for the interesting event will be elaborated. At yesterday's meeting the following committee on permanent organization was appointed: Messrs. Elder, Stern, Hadden, Gunsul and McKee. Messrs. Hadden and Stern were appointed to look after the big transparencies and banners for the parade and Mr. Hadden to arrange for the music.

So be a booster and help along the good cause. What made Pear's soap was their picture with the expression "Good Morning. Have You Used Pear's Soap?" which became a byword throughout the country. Let the slogan be "Good Morning. Are You a Booster?"

This is the best thing that ever happened in the Duke City and it behooves every patriotic citizen to become a booster, and do all in his power to accomplish the objects of the club, which are to secure for our city by 1912 a population of 50,000, and to develop the natural resources of the vicinity and of the territory, and also bring here new industries, and make Albuquerque the great convention city of the United States. It can be done if only our citizens will keep with the Boosters' club.

Boosters Hadden and Stern have been out this forenoon and report great enthusiasm. The druggists are all making large quantities of colored fire, red, green and white, which they will burn in front of the stores during the passing of the parade Thursday night, and we suggest that every merchant follow up their example. The druggists will supply the fire if ordered in time as they have to manufacture it; the cost is not much. The merchants are also ordering parade banners with suitable mottoes and the parade will be the greatest even seen in Albuquerque, or any other city.

ALBUQUERQUE CAPITAL INTERESTED AT WILLARD

I. A. DYE RETURNS FROM BUSINESS TRIP THERE, WHERE HE ESTABLISHED LUMBER YARDS.

I. A. Dye, the well known lumber magnate of this city, returned last night from Willard, Torrance county, where he purchased lots and established the Willard Lumber company, which is composed of himself, J. B. Herndon, George A. Kaseman and L. E. Herndon, all of Albuquerque. The latter gentleman was installed as local manager, and the Willard yards will be supplied with lumber from the company's saw mills in the Manzano mountains.

"While at Willard last Saturday," said Mr. Dye, "the business of Dunlavy & Jackson, general merchants, was transferred to Bond & Co., of Escondido, who are the new purchasers. Mr. Jackson retires altogether, but Mr. Dunlavy will remain as the local manager."

Mr. Dye says Willard is improving rapidly, business houses and residences going up in all directions, and many homesteaders coming in and taking up lands. He predicts a bright future for Willard.

LOCKHART SECURES JUDGMENT IN MINES CASE

FAMOUS LITIGATION MAY AGAIN REACH SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

After seven or eight years of litigation the famous Washington mines case draws to a temporary close only to be reopened in the case of the Washington gold and silver mining company will appeal from the decision of the Bernabille county district court rendered by Judge Abbott yesterday, to the supreme court of the territory, and from thence it is highly probable that it will again go to the highest tribunal in the land, the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Abbott's decision was a complete victory for the original plaintiff in the case, Henry Lockhart. The original defendants in the case were Wm. Walker, Frank Engaly, Charles Pilkey, H. C. Leeds, J. A. Johnson, Julia Johnson, W. B. Childers and E. W. Dabson. Judge Abbott orders these defendants and M. P. Stamm to convey to Henry Lockhart a deed to the mining properties reciting that he is the equitable owner of the same and entitled to possession of the same. The court orders the deed executed and returned to court not later than sixty days from the time the decision was rendered.

CONTEST OVER SEAT STARTS AT ESTANCIA

NOTICE SERVED THAT TESTIMONY WILL BE TAKEN AT LAS VEGAS AND BELLEN.

Attorney E. W. Dobson left Albuquerque this morning for Santa Fe, from whence he departs over the Santa Fe Central for Estancia, where testimony will be taken tomorrow in the election contest case whereby Hon. O. A. Larrazolo of Las Vegas calls in question the right of Delegate Andrews to his office of delegate from New Mexico to the national congress. Mr. Dobson represents Delegate Andrews.

The testimony will be taken before J. W. Corbett, a justice of the peace, and it will probably require several days to complete the examination of witnesses.

Judge E. V. Long of Las Vegas and Attorney E. B. Brumbach of Estancia appear for Mr. Larrazolo. Notices have been served that testimony will be taken at Belen on February 1, and Las Vegas a week later.

JUSTICE CHAVES FINDS WALTER YORK INNOCENT

Walter York, who works out at the American Lumber company's mills, says that he has a kick coming. He was dragged over to old town yesterday and before Justice of the Peace Chaves in answer to a warrant sworn out by A. B. C. Matthews, colored, who conducts a laundry on West Silver avenue. The warrant charged him with all kinds of crimes, he says, from trying to burn up a house to criminal libel. However, Judge Chaves failed to hold him on a single count. York claims that Matthews had him arrested because he tried to collect some money the laundry man owed him.

3-CENT STREET CAR FARE NOW AN ACTUALITY; HOW THE VICTORY WAS WON IN CLEVELAND, O.

ENJOINED IN COURTS FOR SIX YEARS, LOW FARE COMPANY HAS FINALLY MADE FIVE-CENT FARE COMPANY COME TO TERMS — A TRIUMPH FOR MAYOR JOHNSON THE PEOPLE AND ONE LONG NEWSPAPER CHAMPION.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 28.—Twenty-five thousand people of this city are now riding for 3-cent fare on street railway lines which run through territory in which they live.

This condition of affairs is generally believed to be simply the beginning of the end, in the great battle for 3-cent fare, which has been waged by Mayor Tom L. Johnson for the past six years, during which time he has thrice been elected mayor on a platform of 3-cent fare.

Enjoined Six Years.

The fight has been bitterly waged. The old traction company (it was a monopoly until the 3-cent line ran its first car, over on the west side, several weeks ago) has hindered the construction of the 3-cent lines by 22 injunction suits, distributed over this six-year period.

Several months ago, through decisions in the Ohio supreme court, the 3-cent line at last gained the right to build a track over streets on the west side, where it held franchises whose validity had been contested by the monopoly, which through injunctions had prevented even the laying of rails for over five years.

Made People Walk.

The line was rushed to completion, after which came the latest injunctions, by which the old company, the Cleveland Electric Railway company, prevented the 3-cent cars from running over the tracks of the old company which had been supposed to be "free territory." This step kept the 3-cent cars from reaching the center of the city, and patrons were compelled to walk over two considerable gaps in the line to get to the public square.

The basis for the latest injunctions was the claim that Mayor Johnson had a financial interest in the 3-cent company, and therefore had no right to grant it franchises. It was asserted that he had guaranteed certain obligations of the 3-cent company. This suit is still in court, but is no longer considered to be of any importance.

A Body Blow.

A few days ago the United States supreme court administered a body blow to the old company by declaring that certain of its most valuable franchises, which it had asserted ran until 1914, had really expired March 22, 1905. This left the old company with no legal rights in the streets in question, while the 3-cent company held a franchise to operate there, granted by the council a year ago.

Confronted with the necessity of either selling out its equipment in these streets to the 3-cent line and getting out of the streets, or else seeing its tracks torn up and pitched aside as junk, to make room for the new company's rails, the ex-monopoly quickly came to terms.

Injunctions Raised.

First, a temporary truce of 30 days was declared in the night, during which time no aggressive steps will be taken by either side.

Second, the old company raised its injunction suits which had blocked the 3-cent cars, allowing these latter to come to the center of the city.

Third, the old company, in return for the privilege of being allowed to run cars on those streets where it has for two years been operating with no legal right, put into operation on these lines at once a 2-cent fare, with universal transfers, the same rate made by the 3-cent company.

Also, the old company must pay the city compensation (amount to be fixed by arbitration) for the occupancy of these streets during these two years past.

The 3-Cent Service.

As a result of all this, the 3-cent company's cars now run from a point in the extreme western end of the city to the public square, while the old company is operating at 3-cent fare two lines from the extreme east end of the city to the public square, and issuing transfers from these lines to all its other lines.

The next step is to be the consideration, by the council and the old company, of a plan by which all the lines of the old company will be taken over by the same holding company which operates the lines of the 3-cent company, and operated at a 3-cent fare.

This holding company plan, as designed by A. B. du Pont, president of the Municipal Traction company (the holding company), is, in brief, as follows:

Holding Company Plan.

The "water" is to be squeezed out of the stock of the old company until every $100 share represents an actual value of $90. This leaves, of course, $10 of "water" still in. The same applies to the stock of the 3-cent company, which has been operated by the holding company under the same plan now proposed for the old company.

On this stock a rental dividend of 6 per cent is to be paid by the holding company. Anything in excess of this amount is to be used in betterments of the property.

The total issue of the physical stock will be equal to the total physical and franchise values of the property—this is, the actual physical worth.

Just one newspaper in Cleveland has backed the mayor up from start to finish, while all the others have stood ridiculing 3-cent fare and abusing its promoters up to the very day when the old company came to 3-cent fare. The one paper which has stood for the people and the mayor in the fight for lower fares is "The Cleveland Press," of the Scripps-McRae League.

As a result of this long and finally victorious battle of the people, Mayor Johnson and "The Press," Cleveland bids fair very soon to be the first city in the country to have universal 3-cent fare.

And the expected settlement will mark the beginning of a new epoch in this country in the dealings between municipalities and public service corporations.

HORACE ANDREWS,
President of the Cleveland Electric Railroad Co.

plus the present worth of unexpired franchises.

"Security Franchise."

It is expected that a "security franchise" will be issued to the old company, along with the leasing plan, under which, if the holding company finds itself unable to operate the cars at 3-cent fare, with universal transfers, and pay 6 per cent on the stock, the property will be turned back to the old company, with a right to operate cars for a stated period, at a rate of fare higher than 3 cents.

Mayor Johnson, President du Pont and other 3-cent fare leaders are perfectly confident that the required profit can be made at a 3-cent fare. President Horace E. Andrews, of the old company, still maintains that this is impossible, but the expectation is that Andrews and his advisors will consent to the holding plan within the next thirty days.

Want to Make Peace.

All will depend, of course, upon whether terms can be reached regarding the valuation to be set on the old company's plant, and the terms offered in the security franchise. It is believed that both sides will be reasonable and liberal in all matters, rather than drag the fight out any longer.

Mayor Johnson has won a glorious victory. The people of the city have stood loyally back of him in his fight, twice re-electing him on his 3-cent fare platform at times when it seemed as if the 3-cent monopoly had him whipped to a standstill.

One Paper for People.

Just one newspaper in Cleveland has backed the mayor up from start to finish, while all the others have stood ridiculing 3-cent fare and abusing its promoters up to the very day when the old company came to 3-cent fare. The one paper which has stood for the people and the mayor in the fight for lower fares is "The Cleveland Press," of the Scripps-McRae League.

As a result of this long and finally victorious battle of the people, Mayor Johnson and "The Press," Cleveland bids fair very soon to be the first city in the country to have universal 3-cent fare.

And the expected settlement will mark the beginning of a new epoch in this country in the dealings between municipalities and public service corporations.

WHY THERE AREN'T ANY BAD BOYS IN ISABETHA, KAS.

PREACHER CAME ALONG AND INTERESTED ALL THE YOUTH IN A GYMNASIUM.

Sabetha, Kans., Jan. 23.—In this town there are no bad boys. The odor of a cigarette upon the streets is unknown. There is not a 5-cent novel sold. There is practically no standing around the corners at night by young boys and girls. The boys are polite and well behaving, and nearly all of them go to church and take an interest in it.

The influence of one man brought all of this about. Usually boys do not love clergymen. But the Rev. C. L. Fisk, of the First Congregational church, has a way of making them love him.

Mr. Fisk was a minister in the Russian and Lithuanian district of Chicago, where he found it difficult to get in touch with the young people. He finally started an industrial school with a class of twelve. When he left Chicago, ill from overwork, seven years later, the class had 450 members.

But when he reached Sabetha he found no disinterested boys. The young people of the entire town were children of well-to-do parents, self-respecting and more than self-supporting. So the idea of starting an industrial class for the poor had to be abandoned.

Mr. Fisk believes that young people have to do something other than before they realize what they receive in a spiritual way.

Mr. Fisk started an industrial class to do what work lay at hand in the building of a gymnasium and church library. The boys were interested at once in assisting in the erection of a real building. The girls were interested in its furnishings. Under the direction of regularly employed builders the boys did what work they could. The boys also did all the preparatory work for laying two blocks of cement walk. They hauled rock and sand, broke the rock and did everything except the actual laying of the cement.

They can get entertainment and reading at the gymnasium. And can meet and communicate with each other freely without the discomfort of standing on cold corners. The boys and girls from other churches are welcomed at the gymnasium.

Mr. Fisk holds four gymnasium classes a week. He directs two basketball teams, he instructs a boys' quartet. Every year the church gives an elaborate cantata under the direction of Mr. Fisk. During the Chautauqua season, he sings first tenor with the Hesperian quartet. Mr. Fisk has now a class of sixty boys and girls. He is so completely in accord with them that he

ONE OF SHAKESPEARE'S PLAYS HERE FRIDAY NIGHT.
John Griffith is announced to appear at Elks' theater on Friday night, Feb. 1, in Shakespeare's tragedy, "King Richard the Third." His management promises an excellent company, complete scenic and electrical equipment and all else that is needful to insure a performance that will delight the lovers of classic plays. Mr. Griffith's portrayals are strenuous and intellectual. He has lungs, physique and discretion and many critics are very enthusiastic over him. He draws big audiences, interesting them very much and compelling admiration by his vigorous and sincere work. He is the best of our living, native born tragedians, an enthusiast in his profession and deserves the excellent position he has attained. He will draw a very big audience here on account of his high standing as an actor, and his very great personal popularity.

A GREAT SHOW COMING ON FEBRUARY 9.
Local theater-goers, who were last season charmed by Creston Clarke's exquisite performance of "Monsieur Beaucaire," are certain this season to be aroused to the highest degree of enthusiasm by his artistic rendition of the modern role of John Morton, the clergyman in "The Ragged Messenger," when he appears here in the near future. It will then be seen that as nearly perfect as Mr. Clarke's art was in the dainty, romantic comedy, his best and natural forte is the portrayal of modern roles. Here on February 9.

DRINK PLENTY OF PURE WATER

VALUABLE PRESCRIPTION TO RELIEVE KIDNEY TROUBLE WHICH ANYONE CAN PREPARE AT HOME AND WITHOUT MUCH TROUBLE.

"The people here do not drink enough water to keep healthy," exclaimed a well known authority. The numerous cases of kidney trouble, kidney and bladder diseases and rheumatism are mainly due to the fact that the drinking of water, nature's greatest medicine, has been neglected.

"Stop loading your system with patent medicines and cure-alls, but take a little water. If you are really sick, why, of course, take the proper medicines—plain, common vegetable tinctures, which will not shatter the nerves or ruin the stomach."

When requested for such a prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney trouble the answer was: "You must make the kidneys do their work; they are the filters of the blood. They must be made to strain out of the blood the waste matter and acids that cause rheumatism. You must neutralize so it will no longer be a source of irritation to the bladder, and most of all, you must keep these acids from forming in the stomach. This is the cause of stomach troubles and poor digestion. For this reason, I would suggest the following prescription, which is composed of only vegetable ingredients, which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy. Any one can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. Fluid extract dandelion, one ounce; compound sarsaparilla, three ounces. To be taken in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; but don't forget the water. Drink plenty and often."

This valuable information and simple prescription should be posted up in each household and used at the first sign of an attack of rheumatism, backache or urinary trouble, no matter how slight.

DOUBLE SERVICE ON MEXICAN CENTRAL DELAYED.
A halt has come in the arrangements of the Mexican Central to put on a double train service between El Paso and Mexico City. It was announced some time ago that the train would go on the first of February, but there are no arrangements being made in El Paso to handle the extra train and the Pullman equipment has not been ordered for the installation in the service.

It is thought now that the new train, if it should be put on at all, will not go on before March or April. Local officials of the Mexican Central have received no advice regarding the extra train.

strong men, able to carry loads of 300 and 400 pounds on their heads. They lived in large straw cabins and ate bread cooked in ashes. The men herded droves of mountain goats. The women of the country were native turquoise jewelers. On the rivers the men maintained great canoes, which carried twenty rowers. The houses were often seven stories high.

And it was from the top of one of these places that the native women looked down and saw the Spaniards roasting 200 of their male relatives at the stake, because one of them had rented a Spaniard's attack upon his wife.

It was then that the Yaqui first learned of the treachery of the man with white skin, fair hair and blue eyes. They tell of it yet, the wrinkled old men that sit in the sun at the foot of Santa Rita. They tell it as their grandfathers told it to them, tell it to their children's children, who will tell it to generations yet unborn, and who will hand it on as a heritage of blood and treachery to the last living Yaqui.

NEW MEXICO FLAG DAY, FEBRUARY 12

SUPT. HADLEY SENDS CIRCULAR LETTER TO EDUCATORS.

The following interesting extracts from a letter sent by Superintendent of Public Instruction Hiram Hadley to educators throughout the territory are of general interest:

To Boards of School Directors, City and Town Boards of Education, Teachers and Others:

Again I call your attention to Chapter XLVIII of the laws of 1905, commonly known as the Flag Law. It is found on pages 193 and 194 of the English compilation of the school laws. Please make yourselves acquainted with it and use your influence to have all parts of it carried out.

On February 12th of last year occurred the first general observance of Flag Day by the public schools of New Mexico. I was greatly pleased by the interest manifested by you on that occasion, and I doubt not that this year we shall observe this day with the same interest as last and with increased enthusiasm.

From many of you pleasing and gratifying letters were received which gave interesting accounts of your success in carrying out the modest program that was then presented to you. These letters are now on file in the office of superintendent of public instruction, and will be preserved as souvenirs of those first Flag Day exercises. Many teachers have reported that on that occasion their patrons attended and by their presence added to the interest, and that one or more of their visitors made inspiring and patriotic addresses, which added much to the spirit of the occasion and increased the community interest in the schools. I recommend that this feature of the program be emphasized this year.

The day specially and legally set apart for these exercises is the 12th of February—the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. But, if for any reason, you find it more convenient to have the exercises on some other day not very remote from this date, I do not think that it will necessarily detract from the significance and importance of the occasion.

I invite you to feel at home at the office of superintendent of public instruction, and especially shall I be pleased to have letters from you giving account of your success with the Flag Day program.

HIRAM HADLEY,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

DIG BUFFALO DEFEATS BULL SUNDAY

In the Ring at Juarez, Before an Immense Crowd of People.

Crawling new sensations and fresh horrors of the ring, followers of bull fighting were treated to a battle royal between a North Dakota buffalo and a vicious bull from Durango, Mex., fighting stock, at Juarez, Mex., just across the river from El Paso, Sunday afternoon.

For a half an hour honors between the animals were even and then the bull suddenly retired to the side of the ring and refused to proceed with the fight. The buffalo indicated he had enough and did not press the struggle as he was gaining as the struggle drew toward its close.

It was the largest crowd that ever attended an event in the arena of Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso. The novel event had been well advertised and there was great disappointment that blood did not flow more freely, although there was plenty of excitement while the fight was on.

The buffalo was the first gladiator in the arena. He stood pawing the ground and throwing up great clouds of dust until the bull was turned in to engage him. Roaring like a full man and foaming at the mouth, the buffalo primed himself for a second and then made a rush for his quarry. The bull started forward at the same instant. The two came together with a crash that could be heard for blocks.

Hisson Turns Upon Human Tormentor, Who Barely Escapes.

Following the impact the buffalo fell back dazed and was aroused by a pleader, who hurried up and prodded him with a pole. Enraged at the interference the bison turned from the bull and tore after his human tormentor. He caught the pleader on the point of one of his horns just as the man fell behind a guard. It was a crucial moment, but the pleader escaped unharmed.

Then the battle of beasts was renewed. They came together a second time and locked horns. Then each played for an opening to gore his opponent. Unable to land on a vital spot, the bull again charged at the head of the buffalo and staggered him. There followed a fast and furious skirmish, the buffalo having the advantage, but unable to make the supreme lunge.

To the disgust of the cheering thousands, the bull backed off after this round and ran away like a whipped cur. He was bellowing like a spoiled child. The buffalo plowed the dust with his paws for a minute in defiant attitude and then concluded he was vindicated and had enough. The fight was called a draw, but the 10,000 spectators were unanimous in declaring the North Dakota beast the victor.

WATER RESOURCES OF RIO GRANDE VALLEY

The water supply of the Rio Grande valley from the southern border of New Mexico to Santa Fe is described in Water Supply and Irrigation Paper No. 188, "Water Resources of the Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico and Their Development," recently issued by the United States Geological Survey. The investigations made in this region were along two general lines, one pertaining to the ground waters and their utilization, the other to the conservation and storage of the surface waters. In the northern part of this region a comparatively small amount of water derived from the mountains sustains a small but permanent flow in the river, but in the southern part the stream bed is often dry. The investigation showed that much of the diminution in the volume of the Rio Grande is due to the fact that a large part of the water of the river sinks into the porous material of the valley bottom. So much water enters the ground from the river and tributary streams that there is opportunity for the development of underground water for irrigation. Water Supply Paper No. 188, which may be obtained on application to the director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., contains an account of the geologic conditions that affect the occurrence of underground waters and discussions of quantity and quality of underground water that is available. There are also descriptions of the various reservoir sites that have been surveyed.

Cured of Lung Trouble.
"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kershaw, S. C. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight, 170 pounds." Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Abe Nelson, a former resident of Woodstock, Ill., and who came here a short time ago, in search of health, died yesterday morning. Mr. Nelson's remains are being held at the Strong undertaking establishment waiting advice from the family of the deceased.

The death of Jose Manuel Gilbert, a well known citizen of Belen, passed away yesterday in the 78th year of his age. Mr. Gilbert was the father of a large family, one of his sons being Rev. Albert Gilbert of Trinidad, Colo. S. S. Gilbert, the Albuquerque merchant, is his grandson.

Miss Spader, sister of County Commissioner C. F. Spader, of Sandoval county, and Miss Hammond of New York City, arrived here yesterday and will spend a few days in this city. They expect in the near future to leave for an extended visit to the Pacific coast.

Assistant United States Attorney E. L. Medler was among the few Yale students, who witnessed "At Yale" at the Elks' opera house last night. Attorney Herbert Reynolds and Chancellor Julius Staab were two Harvard men who sat quietly through the performance and saw their crew defeated.

The body of Henry Brocamp, Jr., son of Henry Brocamp, a Cincinnati, Ohio, business man, was taken to Cincinnati for burial last night by the father, who arrived here on No. 1 and was told of his son's death so soon as he stepped from the train. He had come to visit the young man, who came here for his health some time ago. The body was shipped on the flyer.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church held last night proved to be a love feast. It was the culmination of a year of hard work, but a balance on the right side of the book and the magnificent edifice which reared itself over their heads was ample fruit for the work that had been done. The result was even more than the members had expected in their fondest anticipation. The subscriptions were sufficient to pay for the church, the debts had been paid and there was a balance besides. It was evidence that the congregation had been pulling together, with a diligent pastor at their head. Rev. Cooper's work was appreciated and the church showed its appreciation in a material way by giving him a voluntary rule of salary.

Late yesterday afternoon Constable James Smith placed a large padlock on the door of the Brunswick billiard hall in the Barnett building at the instance of J. L. LaDriere, agent of the building, who declares Mr. Gussaroff, the proprietor of the billiard hall, owes him $250 rent for two months' occupancy. Smith declared the place closed but Gussaroff got an iron bar and pried off the lock. He is in possession today. It is understood that Gussaroff is arranging his affairs so as to leave for Seattle, Wash.

DIAGNOSE M'MILLIN'S CIGARS BEFORE LIGHTING

Chief McMillin was abroad with a special brand of perfectos this afternoon, handing them around to his friends.

He encountered a reporter for The Evening Citizen.

"Have a cigar?" he asked, withdrawing a shapely alfalfa filler from his pocket.

Was there ever a newspaper man who refused cigars? If there was his name is not on record.

"Why, of course."

"A match?"

Next a few long, lingering whiffs and some observations about the scarcity of news.

Then something happened.

It was sudden and unexpected.

The cigar gave a correct imitation of the volcano Vesuvius having eruption. The fire blew off the end and the alfalfa filler flew in every direction. The cigar had an "explosive" hair pin in it.

Ed. Leonard, Judge Crawford, J. Porter Jones and others were present. They had a laugh at the expense of the newspaper man. So did the chief.

It was too good to keep. Other cigars were passed about The Citizen office and several more explosions occurred.

Moral: Before lighting one of Chief McMillin's cigars, diagnose it and light the thing in your pipe.

MARTIAL LAW GOES INTO EFFECT IN SERBIA.

Belgrade, Jan. 29.—Martial law goes into effect in the state today. Leading members of the house of deputies, prominent men in civil and military life, and the chiefs of the political parties are stated to have joined the conspiracy and the Karageorgievitch dynasty. According to information received, the intended first result of the coup d'etat will be the establishment of a provisional regency in the hands of six or eight ministers. The regents would then take time to prepare an explanatory statement of the situation for presentation to the great powers, which they would also consult as to the choice of a foreign prince for the throne of Serbia. They would urge upon the friendly consideration of the powers the fact that the two present dynasties of Obrenovitch and Karageorgievitch have been fairly tried and found incompatible with the economical welfare and progressive culture necessary to the worthy attainment of Serbia's proper political destiny. Great unrest prevails and foreigners are leaving the state.

Home Insurance the Best

WE CANNOT refrain from again saying something about Home Insurance. Every time that the proposition presents itself of the tremendous amount of money that is being sent out of New Mexico and Arizona for life insurance to eastern cities, the conviction comes home with increased force that a home company ought to be patronized and the money remain in the West.

The revelations of the past year of the way the enormous surplus of the big Eastern companies has been handled and speculated with ought to emphasize the fact that the people of the West should stop pouring their money into Eastern channels when it can be placed in home insurance, and every dollar of it kept and invested at home.

It is gratifying to note that home insurance is year by year receiving more and more its just deserts. Statistics show that during the past year home companies far exceeded foreign companies in the amount of business written. Why cannot this same record be made here? It can if every individual who takes out a policy the coming year will carefully weigh the proposition of the value it is to keep his insurance at home before he puts his name to the application of any insurance company.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company of New Mexico and Arizona is owned and controlled by the leading business men of the two territories, and offers exceptional opportunities to ambitious and capable men and women to sell its policies.
