THAW'S WIFE IS PUT ON THE STAND

Most Shocking Story of Stanford White's Villainy and Crime to Her.

COULD SCARCELY GIVE TESTIMONY FOR TEARS

After Two Hours Recess Was Taken Till This Afternoon by Court.

New York, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was the first witness today in the Thaw murder trial. She told of the dinner at Cafe Martin, the evening of June 25, with her husband and Thomas McCaleb and Truxton Beale. While there she saw Stanford White enter. She told of writing a note to Thaw, but when Delmas asked its contents Jerome objected upon the ground that the note itself was the best evidence. After they left the restaurant the party went to the Madison Square roof garden. Thaw left her with others for about fifteen minutes and then returned and remained by her side for about half an hour. There was nothing unusual in Thaw's manner and the conversation was general. The play did not interest her and she suggested that they depart.

The account of the shooting which followed, given by this witness, was similar to that already developed. Questioned in regard to her marriage with Thaw, the witness stated that Thaw proposed to her in June, 1902, in Paris, and at that time she refused him because of the incident in her life connected with Stanford White.

White and the Mirrored Bedroom. Mrs. Thaw said she first met White at a private luncheon in 1901 and that later White sent her mother to Pittsburgh and then took her to one of his studios where she dined with him. Mrs. Thaw told her experience with White in the mirrored bedroom. Witness said she drank only one glass of champagne, which tasted bitter and she then lost consciousness. When she regained consciousness she found herself on a bed in the mirrored bedroom. She screamed but he said: "It's all over." She sat up all night after he had taken her home. Mrs. Thaw broke down and cried and could hardly put together the details of her experience with White. Thaw sat with his face buried in his handkerchief.

Bound Her to Secrecy. White made Mrs. Thaw promise she would never tell her mother. He said it was not that there was "nothing so nice as young girls and nothing so loathsome as fat ones. You must not get fat." Mrs. Thaw said the effect of her story on Thaw was terrible. He sobbed and walked the floor, and stayed all night sitting in the room and talking it over with her.

White Sent Her to School. The witness said she had been sent to school in New Jersey in 1902 by White, because she had had to submit to an operation, the nature of which she did not tell her. Thaw came to the hospital to see her and said she should go abroad to recuperate. She went to Paris with her mother and Thaw, and it was in Paris that Thaw made his first proposal of marriage. Mrs. Thaw was on the stand two hours and her direct testimony was not completed until recess was taken until this afternoon.

Smart Aleck Is Arrested. New York, Feb. 7.—While the Thaw jury was on its way to court this morning, a man on the street called out: "Vote for Thaw." Captain Lynch of the court police, immediately ordered the man's arrest and he was arraigned before Justice Fitzgerald. Captain Lynch attached no importance to the incident, saying that the man was simply a "smart aleck." Lynch does not believe that any of the jurors heard the remark.

UNITED STATES ACRE VALUE INCREASING. Washington, Feb. 7.—During the years 1900 to 1905 the acreage value of the western states have increased to an enormous extent. Wyoming leads in the percentage of increase showing a gain in farm values of 81.3 per cent in the past year; Oklahoma, 76.7; North Dakota, 70.6; Illinois, 57.4; Iowa, 29.4; Kansas, 57.4; Nebraska, 54; Missouri, 42; Oregon, 47, and Colorado, 52. Compare these percentages with an average for the whole country of 22. The highest value is in Illinois, $81.89 per acre, though farms are selling in Illinois every day for $150 an acre. Iowa is out second, with $69.09 per acre, but good farms are scarce at such figures. Land is now sought with an eagerness in the west that seemed impossible half a decade ago.

CANADA'S TRADE IS STILL INCREASING. Ottawa, Feb. 7.—The customs returns ending with December show that the aggregate trade with Canada, for six months was $42,051,776 greater than for the same time of 1905. The total aggregate for the past six months was $221,644,921, comprising $168,452,301 imports, and $113,193,720 exports. The exports of the mines were about the same as in 1905 but the fisheries show a decrease of about $2,000,000. Animals, and their produce, show an increase of about $750,000, and agriculture a decrease of about $3,000,000. Manufacturers show an increase of $400,000 and forest wealth an increase of $7,000,000.

PRESIDENT SOLOMON LUNA OFF TONIGHT FOR WASHINGTON

New Mexico Wool Growers Association Proposes to be Heard Before Committee on Leasing Public Domain.

Stockmen from all sections of the west are now journeying to Washington to advise with the committee recently appointed by the president to confer with the public lands commission as to the most equitable and effective method of controlling, protecting and improving the public range. The action of this committee is of the gravest importance to the stock growers, as upon its report will be based legislation providing for the control of grazing on the public range. The stock growers of New Mexico are practically united in their opposition to any leasing of the public domain, but they begin to realize that some action will soon be taken, and that a united stand must be made to have inserted within any act that may be passed by congress provisions that may be favorable to the stock growers of New Mexico. No legislation has ever been proposed in congress that is of so great importance to New Mexico as this. The act framed upon the report of this committee. On behalf of the sheep growers of the territory, the New Mexico Wool Growers' association has been taking an active interest in the matter, and Hon. Solomon Luna, president of that association, and Mr. Harry W. Kelly, of Las Vegas, and Mr. A. D. Garrett, of Roswell, members of the executive committee, as well as others, are leaving tonight for Washington to confer with the committee appointed by the president, that committee holding its first meeting on the 11th of this month.

EXECUTE MURDERER IN NEW JERSEY. Newark, N. J., Feb. 7.—Frank Banskuk, who was convicted of the murder of his friend, Thos. Hoff, was hanged in the jail here this morning. Banskuk, who is a Slav, and can neither speak nor write English, was, on the 24th of May last, first sentenced to death for the murder of the man who had once been his friend. The story was that the murderer had been too friendly with Mrs. Hoff, and on January 7th took his victim out for a walk, filled him with drink, hit him on the head with a hammer and then laid him on the tracks of the Lackawanna railroad at Bloomfield, so that the train finished his work. The case came before the court of appeals on November 19th when the court decided it could not interfere. Since his arrest the prisoner, who maintained his innocence, appeared to be very indifferent to his fate and caused the executioner no trouble whatsoever while being pinioned. The law changing the method of execution to the electric chair goes into effect in this state on the first of March.

$3,500 FIRE AT CARLSBAD YESTERDAY

Special to The Evening Citizen. Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 7.—The house this morning, by a viva-voce vote tabled indefinitely the bill introduced in the council yesterday by Sulzer, appropriating $5,000 for dikes Bernallillo county along the Rio Grande. A committee has been appointed, consisting of Messrs. Mirabal, Holt and Martin. In the house, to draft a law providing for a more equitable distribution of these funds if they are available for such a purpose, of which there is some doubt. Mr. Abbott, of Santa Fe, introduced six petitions protesting against Sulzer's bill for a new county of Torrance and a change of the county seat. There are now eight of these petitions in the house. Mr. Ruppe presented a petition from Bernallillo county for a reduction of salaries of county officials, containing 400 signatures. Referred to the committee on finance. The committee on penitentiary wanted to amend Mr. Baca's bill for an electric plant at the penitentiary here, to read that the territory should not be allowed to sell light and power cheaper than other companies. Mr. Baca objected and the bill was referred to the proper committee. He met with the committee today. Mr. Gallagor introduced a bill to force railroads to deliver cars to a shipper within six days after said cars were demanded, and specifying that the goods must be transported within a reasonable time and the cars unloaded promptly by the receivers, or they would be subject to a fine of $25 per car each day after forty-eight hours' notice. House bill No. 25, introduced by Mr. Holt—an act regarding assault and battery—was tabled indefinitely and the judiciary committee substituted another bill, which passed the house. The house then adjourned until tomorrow morning. The governor is reported to have signed Miera's amendment to the jury bill, which is the first bill to become a law. The council passed two bills by Cameron, to give title to cemeteries at Roswell and Artesia, both of which have minor amendments.

MAYOR SCHMITZ SAYS FRISCO SCHOOL PEOPLE

Will Stand Pat on Exclusion of Japs From Co-Education With Whites.

PARTY PASSED THROUGH OMAHA LAST NIGHT

Omaha, Feb. 7.—Mayor Schmitz and members of the school board of San Francisco passed through Omaha last night upon an overland limited, twenty-eight hours late. They are en route to Washington to confer with President Roosevelt over the Japanese school question. In an interview Mayor Schmitz said: "We think we are right and are going to insist on exclusion of Japanese children from our schools unless we are shown it is for the best interests of our state and our country that we give in. Before the earthquake there were 360 Japanese attending a school in San Francisco, and a not wishing to have them mix their children we maintain at an additional expense a separate school for them. There are now only about ninety-three attending, and we propose to keep them separated from our children if possible."

BURLINGTON MAKES CUT RATE BID FOR MAILED

This Throws Other Roads In to Consternation Lest Government Should Think

IT IS NOW PAYING MORE THAN WORTH

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The Inter Ocean today says: In order to prevent the transcontinental mail from being transferred to the Rock Island system, the Burlington railroad has notified the post-office department that it will cut its rates for this service about seven per cent, equal to about $65,000 per annum. This is the first time any railroad has offered to cut the rate fixed by congress for mail service. The proposition caused amazement in railroad circles and the fear is expressed by the officials of other railroads that the action may lead to a rate war for mail traffic between competitive points, and also that it may be regarded by congress as evidence that the price paid by the government for transportation of mails has been too high.

ONE IS GREATER THAN WHOLE COUNTRY

Engineer Stevens Won't Work on Canal If Contract Is Let to Build.

THINKS HE WILL LOSE GLORY OF CONSTRUCTION

Baird Heirs Want Pay For Ranch Marshal Cutler Sold Below Albuquerque in 1863.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The administration has been brought face to face with the alternative of rejection of all bids for the construction of the Panama canal, or of losing the services of John P. Stevens, chief engineer. This is the reason for the delay of President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and Chairman Shonts, of the canal commission, in acting on the Oliver bid. Effort is being made to get Stevens to change his mind, but he continues obdurate, and indications are that the administration will accede to his request that the construction be continued by the government. This information concerning Stevens created some surprise, as Stevens stated before the senate canal committee that he favored building the canal by contract. He now expresses the belief that the canal can be constructed by the government within ten years. His friends advise him that if the contract is let for construction, he will be robbed of the credit of building it.

CHILD EATEN BY WILD ANIMALS

Special to The Evening Citizen. Raton, N. M., Feb. 7.—The dismembered remains of a 5-year-old child have been discovered near Shoemaker. Undisputed evidence goes to show that the child had been partially devoured by some wild animal. The little girl had gone out to play without the knowledge of her mother. Having missed her the mother began a search which revealed the fact that she had been killed by an animal, as the head and one arm were gone, and the flesh bore the imprints of the creature's claws. The news spread quickly and a party was organized to run down the beast, but to trace of the animal has yet been found. The family thus strangely bereaved are Mexicans and the name and further particulars cannot be learned.

From Congress and Nation's Capital.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, seems to have won the fight he has made so vigorously for the purpose of enabling the farmers of the great northwest to manufacture denatured alcohol without all the red tape and rigid regulations which accompany the manufacture of this article in the great distilleries. The first fruits of this legislation were heralded as of incalculable benefit to the farmers, but it was soon seen that under the law denatured alcohol would easily be controlled by the trusts, which own all the distilleries.

Then it was that Senator Hansbrough set about having the law amended and the house committee on ways and means, where all revenue measures must originate, has risen to the occasion and ordered a favorable report on a composite bill that includes the best points of several measures that have been introduced. The proposed law also has the approval of treasury officials and will be passed before this session adjourns. Without going into the legal verbiage of the proposed act, it may be said that it will enable the farmers to work up their waste products into denatured alcohol, without all the expensive paraphernalia and red tape necessary in dealing with the big distilling houses.

Chairman Burton is Tired.

Representative Burton, of Ohio, who by reason of his position as chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, is one of the important factors of the legislative process, has recently been quoted as saying that he would decline the chairmanship of this committee when the committees of the next house were made up. Owing to his refusal to permit extraordinary appropriations for the improvement of the river, he has been the subject of much criticism. Burton has won the cordial disapproval of many members of the house who have been unable to secure the appropriations for their districts they think should have been made. With regard to those improvements that are essential, Mr. Burton has held the appropriations down to a minimum, and that also has offended. Because of this sentiment in the house, the constant irritation that his policy has created and the enormous amount of time he is required to devote to a study of the conditions all over the country, Mr. Burton has grown weary of his "job" and intends to throw it up.

Perhaps, when Mr. Burton gets to thinking the matter over seriously he will change his mind. Like every other man in public life, Mr. Burton appreciates power that comes with position. He is a member from Cleveland, Ohio, the beautiful and prosperous city on Lake Erie. The great harbors of the lakes have been his particular pride, and the fact that he controls the purse strings that permit of these improvements have made him the power he is. Everybody says he is a good chairman. Mr. Burton says his time is so occupied that he cannot give his attention to other matters. He could get the vacancy on the ways and means committee caused by the retirement of General Grosvenor, of his state, but Mr. Burton may still question whether he would be the influential factor in legislation he now is. He is simply a member of that committee and not chairman of the committee that spends upwards of a hundred million each congress. Then, too, would he be the leader of his party in northern Ohio but for the fact of the place he now holds? It is a rather safe assumption that Mr. Burton will reconsider his expressed intention of resigning from the chairmanship of this committee.

HOME-MADE REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.

To relieve the worst forms spontaneous of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid extract dandelion, one half ounce; compound kargon,
one ounce; compound syrup
sarsaparilla, three ounces.
Shake well in a bottle.

These harmless ingredients
can be obtained from any good pharmacy.

This prescription, states a well-known authority forces
the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes rheumatism. Relief is felt from the first few doses.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily,
or even a few times a week,
would never have serious kidney or urinary disorders or rheumatism.

Cut this out and preserve it.
Good rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it you want it badly.

Postal Commission's Report.
After laboring over the subject of postal reforms, the commission appointed by congress, consisting of members of the senate and house committees, finally has made its report and suggested legislation which it is hoped may be put through before this session adjourns.

Probably all sorts of interpretations will be put upon the report of this commission, and the very consensus of the bill it has submitted. Divided of all the legal verbiage with which it is surrounded, it may be well to calm any alarm that may be caused among the publishers of newspapers in the average small town or city by saying that no measure will be put into effect that will in any way affect them. That the mails have been loaded with extraneous matter under the guise of newspaper supplements is known to all who have studied the question and the low cost at which transportation has been furnished has resulted in the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The object of the proposed measure is to prohibit the circulation as parts of newspapers such things as sheet music, postal cards, pictures, etc., and will put a stop to all comic sections or compel those sections to appear with the name of the paper, date line, etc., over each page. Advertising is limited to 50 per cent of the space of any one section. All the strikes at the big metropolitan dailies and those publications issued notoriously for advertising and circulated at a nominal subscription price. There will be no interference with legitimate country circulation and the claim made by the proposed law that it will be of benefit to the publishers of the country generally who confine their efforts to what might be termed legitimate newspaper work.

Aged Citizen is Alien.

One of the oddities of law was presented to President Roosevelt the other day by Senator Warren, of Wyoming, in a case that has appealed to the president. Out in Wyoming there is a wealthy ranchman 71 years old who came to this country as a boy 11 years of age with his father. This man is known to every soul in his community, has held all sorts of honorable elective and appointive offices, has grown up with the community, has been a level-headed and presumably just judge has recently declared him an alien and not entitled to protection under the law.

Senator Warren holds that the man is as much a citizen as he is,
but unfortunately the law says otherwise. Some time ago this old man, whose name Senator Warren does not now care to disclose, filed a claim against the government, and in the course of the investigation it was discovered that the father of the man did not take out his papers upon his arrival in this country. As he was the child of an alien, the councils held that before he can have any standing in court in this particular case, he must take out his first and second papers and declare his intentions of being a citizen and go through the procedure prescribed for a newly arrived immigrant, or he will not be allowed to prosecute the claim against the government.

Of course, said Senator Warren, "the matter can be fixed up in some way, and will be, without doubt, but this case nicely illustrates one of the oddities of law. I laid the matter before the president and he believes as I do that it is a very odd situation."

Ravages by Animal Pests.

The assertion has been made for many years that there is nothing paternal about the American government, and yet congress, year after year, has gone on appropriating money for objects that many persons might not hold to be the proper functions of government.

This is done, however, on the theory that the which benefits a portion of the country works to the general good of all. Illustrations of this may be found in the appropriation for the suppression of the gypsy moth, the boll weevil and other pests that have done untold damage to American crops. These pests that have cost both the government and private persons such enormous sums of money are the outgrowth in many cases of casual and most accidental introduction.

The report of the committee was adopted.
House bill No. 48 was introduced by Mr. Mullens, an act relating to the incorporation of towns and villages.
The bill was read the first and second time and ordered translated, printed and referred to the committee on agriculture.

House bill No. 49 was introduced by Mr. Dennison, an act for the creation of the county of Garfield from San Miguel county and for other purposes. The dividing line in San Miguel county is the Gallinas river with the city of Las Vegas (near East Las Vegas) as the county seat. The bill, which is a lengthy document, was read the first time by title and in full on its second reading. It was then ordered translated, printed and referred to the committee on county lines.

The pay roll, house joint resolution
No. 4, carrying appropriations for employees and contingent expenses in the house and council was passed by the assembly yesterday. It totals about $6,000. Another feature of the session was a bill introduced in the house by Mr. Dennison for the creation of the new county of Garfield by dividing San Miguel county. The official proceedings are as follows:

THE HOUSE.

Thirteenth Day—Wednesday Morning.
Pursuant to adjournment the house met at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, having been delayed an hour in convening owing to committee meetings.

Speaker Baca called the house to order and Chief Clerk Staplin read the roll, all answering present except
Mr. Minabito, absent from the city, owing to illness in his family.

Upon motion, duly seconded and carried, the reading of the journal was dispensed with.
House joint resolution No. 4 was introduced by Mr. Holt, relative to the payment of employees and contin-gent expenses of the legislature. The resolution was read the first and second time by title and upon motion of Mr. Beach duly seconded and carried, the resolution was read the third time in full preparatory to passage. The chief clerk then read the roll of the resolution, passing the house by a vote of 22 yeas, 1 nay, Mr.
Hudspeth dissenting. The resolution is as follows:

House Joint Resolution No. 4, providing for the payment of employees and Contingent Expenses of the Legislature.
Be it resolved by the council and the house of representatives of the Thirtieth-seventh Legislative assembly of the territory of New Mexico:

dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the salaries of interpreters, transla-

REAL LIFE DETECTIVE STORY

The Case Of Mr. George Edalji

BY THE GREATEST LIVING CRIMINOLOGIST

SIR A. CONAN DOYLE

CHAPTER IV.

I have brought the narrative down to the Aug. 17 outrage. At this period twenty constables and detectives had been brought into the district, and several, acting, I presume, upon orders from higher quarters, watched the vicarage at night. On Aug. 17 Edalji, following his own account, returned from his day's work at Birmingham—he had started in practice there as a lawyer—and reached his home about 6:30. He transacted some business, put on a blue serge coat, and then walked down to the bootmaker's in the village, where he arrived about 8:35, according to the independent evidence of John Hands, the tradesman in question. His supper would not be ready before 9:30, and until that hour he took a walk round, being seen by various people. His house hold depose to his return before supper time, and their testimony is confirmed by the statement of Walter Whitehouse, who saw the accused enter the vicarage at 9:25. After supper Edalji retired to bed in the same room as his father, the pair having shared an apartment for seventeen years. The old vicar was a light sleeper, his son was within a few feet of him, the whole house was locked up, and the outside was watched by constables. The evidence there were no less than twenty men scattered about waiting for the offender.

And yet upon that night a pony had been destroyed at the Great Wyrley colliery. Sgt. Parsons gave evidence that he saw the pony, apparently all right, at 11 o'clock at night. It was very dark, but he was not far off it. It was a wild night, with rain coming in squalls. The rain began about 12, and cleared about dawn, being very heavy at times. On the 18th, at 6:30, a lad named Henry Garrett, going to his work at the colliery, observed that the pony was injured. "It had a cut on the side," he said. "The blood was trickling from the wound. It was dropping pretty quickly." The alarm was at once given. Constables appeared upon the scene. By half-past eight Mr. Lewis a veterinary surgeon, was on the spot. "The wound," he deposed, "was quite fresh, and could not have been done further than six hours from the time he saw it." The least trace of laceration might be sure that if the pony was standing bleeding freely at six it could not have been so at night, as the drags must have exhausted it. And here, on the top of this obvious consideration, is the opinion of the surgeon, who saw the injury inflicted within six hours. Where Geo. Edalji was during those six hours has already been shown beyond all possible question or dispute. So already the whole bottom has dropped out of the case; but, none the less, the indictment was laid upon it with their prearranged campaign.

"LOOK HERE, MR. EDALJI, THERE'S HORSE HAIR BEEN HERE," SAID THE INSPECTOR.

careful consideration may change one's view as to who it is who is damned by it. The police claimed that they discovered horse hairs upon the coat. "On the sleeve," says Inspector Campbell. "I found brownish hairs, which look like horse hairs. There are some on now." Now, let us listen to the very clear statement of the vicar upon the subject. I translate it in full:

"On Aug. 18, 1903, they called at the vicarage at about 8 o'clock in the morning, and, in compliance with their request, Mrs. Edalji showed them a number of garments belonging to her son, Geo. Edalji. As soon as they saw the old coat they began to examine it, and Inspector Campbell put his finger upon one place and said that there was a hair there. Mrs. Edalji told him that it was not a hair, but a thread, and Miss Edalji, who was present then, remarked that it looked like a 'roving.' This was all that Inspector Campbell had said to them about the hair before I came down. When I saw him he told me that he had found horse hairs upon the coat. The coat was then spread out upon the desk in the study. I asked him to point out the place where the hairs were to be seen. He pointed out a lower part of the coat, and said, 'There's a horse hair there.' I examined the place and said, 'There is no hair here at all.' Some further conversation followed, and then suddenly he put his finger upon another place on the coat nearer to where I was standing, and, drawing two straight lines with his finger, he said, 'Look here, Mr. Edalji, there's horse hair here.' I looked at the place for a moment, and then I asked him to have more light upon it. I took up the coat with both my hands and drew nearer to the window, and after carefully examining it I said to him, 'There is, to be sure, no hair here, it is a clear surface.' He then said that he wanted to take the coat with him, and I said, 'You can take the coat, I am satisfied there is no horse hair upon it.'

"Now I have said it over and over again, and I say it here once more, that there was absolutely no horse hair upon the coat. If there had been any I could not have failed to see it, and both Mrs. Edalji and Miss Edalji looked at the coat at the same time and saw no hair of any sort upon it."

Their obvious course was then and there to send for a referee—the police doctor, or any other doctor—and picking samples of the hair from the coat to have sealed them in an envelope, calling the newcomer to witness when and where they had been obtained. Such a proceeding might have been a good thing, but they did nothing of the kind. What they actually did do was to carry off the coat upon which three reputable witnesses have sworn there were no hairs. The coat then disappears from view for twelve hours. In the meantime the pony has been put out of its pain, and a portion of its hide cut off with the hairs attached, and also secured by the police. The coat had been taken at eight in the morning. It was seen by Dr. Butler, the police surgeon, at nine in the evening. At that hour Dr. Butler picked 29 unadmitted obvious horse hairs from its surface.

One need not fly to extreme conclusions. It is to be remembered that the mere carrying of hide and coat together may have caused the transference of hairs, or that the officers may themselves have gathered hairs on their clothes while examining the pony, and so unconsciously transferred them to the coat. But the fact that the hairs were found just on the cuffs and breast will still recur in the mind. It would be sad indeed to commit an injustice while trying to correct another, but when the inevitable inquiry comes this incident must form a salient point of it.

How Edalji was arrested, another outrage committed while he was in jail, and how he was convicted will be told in the next chapter.

An All 'Round Warm Member.

Mr. Will Green, a brother of Mrs. Geo. Beckett's, the father of telegraph and a good fiddler, who lives in the mountains, who has been visiting in Hope went back to his mountain home Monday.—Hope correspondent, Artesia (N. M.) Advocate.

"It grieves me to admit it," said the president of the woman's club, "but the truth is that our society is not in so flourishing a condition as it was a year ago. Interest in the organization is dying and our membership is falling off. Something must be done to revive the club."

"I agree with the president," said one of the members, "and as a step to arouse interest and increase the membership, I move that the annual dues be reduced from $10 to $9.95."

The motion was carried, and the cheers of the enthusiastic members, who saw a brighter future ahead.

CLOSING SALOONS IN STATE OF CHIHUAHUA.

Chihuahua, Mex., Feb. 6.—The new saloon law, which went into effect the first of the year, has brought about the desired result. Many saloons, especially those of the worst class, have been closed. Here in Chihuahua it is said that over thirty have been closed and about fifty more are "continuing" to have to quit business. The necessary police and board of health inspection of these places has been a big job, consequently some of the saloons that will be closed are permitted to run over until the authorities can get at them. The city authorities, however, have obliged all saloons to come to time about closing at 10 o'clock at night and at 2 p. m. on Sundays.

LORD BERESFORD HAS REACHED NEW YORK

On Way to El Paso to Settle Estate of His Late Brother.

SENATOR BAILEY IS NOW AN ACTUAL MILLIONAIRE

Body of Young Woman Found in Room of People She Never Knew in Life.

New York: Admiral Lord Charles Beresford declared that there will be no contest with "Lady Flo" over his brother's estate. He declares that a settlement has already been made with the negress, no doubt by the New York lawyer who was recently in El Paso and who went to the Beresford ranch, where the negress had repaired after the death of Delaval Beresford.

Admiral Lord Beresford will leave here Saturday for El Paso, where he will have the will of his brother probated and the estate settled up. The brother was killed in a railroad wreck at Endarlin, N. D., December 20, last, while returning to El Paso from Medicine Hat, Canada. He left a will in El Paso leaving $10,000 to Flora Wolff, who styled herself "Lady Flo" and claimed to be his wife, and all the rest of the estate he left to Charles and Marcus Beresford, his brothers. The negress declared she would contest the will for a widow's share of the estate, although she admitted that she had not been married to the deceased.

The announcement that she has been settled with does away with any possibility of a lawsuit according to the legal representatives here of Admiral Beresford, and there will be no fight over the valuable ranches in Chihuahua and Canada, but the two surviving brothers will simply take charge and dispose of the estate as suits them best, after all the private affairs of the deceased brother are settled up.

SENATOR BAILEY FOUND TO BE A MILLIONAIRE.

Austin, Texas: An amazing feature of the investigation in the case of Senator Bailey is the disclosure that he is a very rich man, having become so during the past six years. The story printed in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch several weeks ago, stating that Mr. Bailey is now a millionaire is apparently confirmed.

John H. Kirby, the lumber trust magnate, has testified that he employed Bailey to engineer and steer some colossal business enterprises for which he was most liberally compensated, receiving, according to Mr. Kirby, $214,000 for three sales of stock. During the years 1902-3 Kirby paid him $149,000 for services, which, from the evidence, were very difficult and must have required a great deal of his time. One of these sales was stock in the Kirby Lumber company for $1,650,000 to Pierce, Yoakum & Campbell.

MYSTERY SHROUDS THE CASE OF YOUNG WOMAN.

Washington, Pa. The body of Miss Frances Martin, 18 years old, was found in a room in the Forest building, in North Main street. Whether she was murdered has not yet been determined.

A young man named John Innes, with whom Miss Martin was living, was arrested and is being held to await the action of the coroner.

The body was discovered by John V. Cook, stage manager of the Lyric theater, which is across an alley from the Forest building, in which Cook lives. There are indications that the girl died in the Lyric theater building, and that her body was then taken across a little bridge which connects the theater and the Forest building.

Cook and his wife say they cannot account for the presence of the body in their room, as they did not know Miss Martin nor had they ever seen her before. A post-mortem examination was held by Dr. Shannon, but he refused to make a statement. There were no marks on the body indicating violence. Coroner W. H. Sipe and District Attorney Underwood, who investigated the case, say it is a mystery. Miss Martin formerly lived at Indiana, Pa., and it is said her mother and sister still live there.

RELIGIOUS INTOLERANCE MANIFESTED IN PARIS.

Paris: Only the presence of the police prevented a riot at the old Barnabite monastery, which has been rechristened the Church of the Holy Apostles, where the French Apostolic Catholic church was inaugurated.

The announcement of the attempt to organize a schism has stirred up the militant Catholics, who organized a hostile reception with the intention of breaking up the services. Hand bills were distributed containing the words of a popular air, describing Archbishop Villatte, head of the independent Catholic movement, as an American monkey, whom M. Briand, minister of public instruction and worship, desired to make a French pope.

Several thousand persons were outside the church, and scores of others protruded their heads and crowed. Interruptions commenced as soon as Father Roussin, the pastor of the church, began his sermon, welcoming the approaching Catholic independence and the dawn of the day when "all the churches of Jesus Christ will unite in Christian charity."

When he thanked Archbishop Villatte for aiding the French Catholics in establishing the first church, saying he was consecrated by the patriarch of Antioch, the successor of St. Peter, a shout in the rear of the altar, "He is excommunicated," was the signal for a general tumult, and Father Roussin finally was compelled to ask that the police be summoned. About fifty persons were expelled from the church and quiet was preserved.

tically maintained until Archbishop Villatte appeared on the altar in the robe and mitre of an archbishop. Instantly the din began again with redoubled force, almost drowning his words. Nevertheless he calmly continued, saying he had been a missionary for thirty-six years, but no savage tribe had ever prevented him speaking, and concluded "I have those who interrupt and revile me, I say I will not excommunicate. I wish you no ill will. God be with you. Amen."

A score or more of other persons were then ejected before Archbishop Villatte proceeded with the celebration of pontifical mass, in which he observed the Catholic rites. During the elevation of the host, the militant Catholics, instead of kneeling, climbed into their chairs. In the meantime the police had cleared the streets outside the church, and there were no demonstrations as the congregation left.

DRUNKEN MAN SLAYS HIS OWN MOTHER.

Duluth, Minn.: According to a report received by Sheriff Bates, David Cook, a young Finlander living near Tavoli, on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern branch to Bovey, shot and instantly killed his mother when she took him to task for spending his earnings in riotous living. He was drunk at the time of the tragedy, and had been drinking in Bovey and had accumulated quite a little money, with the major portion of which he stocked up on liquors. The bottles were packed in a big telescope and with his life-sized saloon he and some of his cronies got together at a drinking in the woods. At the conclusion of the orgie the entertainer and entertained were crazed with alcohol. Several impromptu prize fights were pulled off and then the entire party started for Ah's home. His mother refused to let him in with his riotous companions. This angered him and he rushed past her into the house, seized a revolver and shot her four times, two of the bullets passing into her body, a third into her arm and another into her head.

The right of his mother in a bleeding heap upon the floor brought the drunken man back to his senses and he, with his friends, picked her up and laid her on a cot, but life was already extinct.

BATTLESHIP OREGON IS TO BE MODERNIZED.

Washington: The battleship Oregon is to be modernized and Secretary Metcalf announced that he has authorized the expenditure of $1,000,000 out of the naval repair fund for that purpose. Of the best type of warship when she was launched, the Oregon is almost obsolete, and to make her equal to modern war must be extensively overhauled. The changes to be made will be similar to those ordered for her sister ship, the Indiana, the most important being the substitution of balanced elliptical turrets for the present round turrets, which cause the ship to heel heavily when all four of the big 12-inch guns are pointed over the same side of the ship. The alterations will be made at the Puget Sound naval station, where the Oregon has been lying since her return from the Chinese station, and will consume one year.

A LOAFER ELECTRIFIED

C. S. Hanks, the statistical wizard of the interstate commerce commission, who is collecting facts of railway abuses into a convenient heap, with dynamite and a short fuse under it, must seem to the ordinary mind a striking example of strenuousness. He has all the railway managers of the country jumping to keep their records out of his reach, and has the whole country on the jump to keep up with his startling disclosures. Sleepless himself, he won't let anybody else sleep. He plans like a dreamer, but executes like a cyclone. His enthusiasm is amazing, his energy something seldom heard of in public office.

Yet, only a few months ago this man Hanks, now a human dynamo, was a loafer. Thus President Roosevelt characterized him. He was rich, and thought this good reason why he need not work. He looked about him and saw that practically all who worked were working for money. He observed the lawyer noisily crying for justice, but accepting either side of any case offered him—for money. He watched the doctor making his rounds to relieve pain—with a sharp eye on his accounts. He noticed that the preacher with his head in heaven can still hear the "call" of a larger salary. He saw the multi-millionaire was fascinated not with possession of his millions, but with the game of making more and more.

Hanks, though a loafer, was not so indolent but that he clearly perceived the great truth that but for the desire for money little of the world's work would ever be done. Hanks already had more money than a lazy man could spend. And why should he work for that of which he already had more than enough? Leave the work for those who need the money—that was his policy; and for a rich loafer it was not a bad one. But by a wise provision of Providence, the human mind will not loaf, though the body may. It will not submit to any man's bidding to be still. It will not be imprisoned in an idle body, but fares forth and tours the world. Hanks' mind, active and alert, rebelliously defied Hanks, pried into the public wrongs committed by the transportation trust, and would give Hanks no peace. His lazy body got up and followed, as one lost in the dark makes toward a light.

Here was work to be done that involved no possible reward in money. Indeed, Hanks is paying his own expense and hiring his own experts, while working for nothing. For "nothing?" That is what the world says—the man who gives his services free works for nothing; it is a common phrase. But Hanks has found that to work for the common good is not to work for nothing, but for the richest rewards that no other reward can inspire. The amazing zeal that has turned a loafer into a marvel of activity springs from the fact that he has a higher purpose than making money—a purpose to serve the public for the sake of the service alone. If there were more men with Hanks' electrical purpose, there would be more men with Hanks' marvelous zeal and activity.

LESSON IN A CRIME

The Thaw case as presented in the newspapers from day to day during the great trial is bound to prove nauseating to some natures. Many good people will bitterly deplore the broadcast publication of such wickedness, and think it a wanton catering on the part of a mercenary press to the most depraved tastes of the public. Many parents must abhor the idea of all the details in this shocking tragedy and in these lives of iniquity being flaunted before their innocent boys and girls.

But such is human life, which has its black shadows of sins and sorrows that are just as real and just as potential as are the high lights of virtues and joys. We can't dissipate darkness simply by shutting our eyes to it. We can't—either as individuals or as humanity in the mass—drive themselves from the face by any such easy subterfuge as making a mirror that lies. We can't help the unfortunate and the infamous from the quicksands by serenely contemplating the immaculate blue sky. We may thus fool ourselves; we may thus smudge down amid comfortable delusions that we and the rest of the world are good and true and happy, and that jealousy, malice, murder are not of our sphere. But we only shut our eyes against truth and tie our hands against duty. The vice we would ignore nevertheless exists, and its deadly infection can invade our homes and contaminate our loved ones all the more easily because of ignorance. Harry Thaw himself was zealously nurtured and shielded by as loving and pure a mother as ever lived.

Murder makes unpleasant reading, but it is necessary reading to every man and woman who would know life, not falsely idealized but as it actually is. The newspaper that would not publicly expose crime, proclaim its manifold punishments and impress upon the popular mind as deeply as possible warnings against it, would be faithless to its high duty, and would merit its swift loss of public respect and confidence. There is much benefit to be gained from the story of this great crime by all wise enough to see in it one of the pregnant lessons of real life. The parable of the Prodigal Son has influenced more people than the sermon on the Mount.

ELECTED BUT IN DISGRACE

Joseph W. Bailey has been re-elected to the United States senate from Texas, with no vote to spare. He will serve six more years, but his usefulness is ended, says the Duluth News-Tribune. It has been shown with apparent certainty that he has grown rich as the paid attorney of interests which needed his influence as much as they did his legal ability. H. H. Rogers complained that from the first day of his employment by the Pierce Oil company, a subsidiary corporation of the Standard, that he had "kept his feet in the trough."

It is charged that he practiced in cases before the federal departments, and in other ways used his official position to help his legal business. If Senator Mitchell deserved one-tenth of the public censure that followed him to his grave; if he and Senator Burton deserved a verdict of guilty at the hands of the courts, certainly Senator Bailey, who faces documentary evidence of still more heinous offenses than theirs, is no longer deserving to wear the senatorial toga or to speak in congress for the honest people of the United States.

According to the Osborne, Kan., Farmer, the study of agriculture is being taught in many of the schools of Lincoln county, thanks to County Superintendent A. J. Stanley, who has the welfare of the schools at heart. It is claimed that Lincoln is the only county west of the Missouri river in which this subject is receiving attention in the schools, and Superintendent Stanley has succeeded in having the subject of agriculture taken up in many of them. He urges the teaching of seed selections and testing, especially of corn, soil, fertilization, urging the necessity of farmers using all the manure accumulating on the farm for this purpose, and planting and growing of such plants as will neutralize the soil, the preservation of soil moisture, and arousing a general interest in all farm topics and farm life of the boys and girls so as to stop the general drift of our young people to the towns and cities. Mr. Stanley believes all teachers can equip themselves to present some of these points. He says the plan is meeting with much enthusiasm.

Why is the bill to elect district attorneys any more of a hit at the governor than was the bill taking from the governor the filling of vacancies among county officials? Yet the democratic papers, including the morning paper of this city, turn almost black in the face while they yell that the election of district attorneys would be a thrust at the governor.

SOME LARGEST THINGS OF WHICH KANSAS NOW BOASTS

It may be of interest to know that Kansas has done some big things along livestock lines in the past. She now has the largest improved livestock breeders' association of any state in the world. This association has 1,000 members, each of whom is a factor in the development of her agriculture and livestock interests, and exerts a political influence as well. This is the Kansas Improved Stock Breeders' association.

Kansas has the largest county breeders' association in the world. This is the Marshall County Hereford Breeders' association, which numbers over sixty members each of whom owns a herd of Hereford cattle.

Kansas has the largest herd of home bred Aberdeen-Angus cattle in the world. This is the Sunflower herd at Hudson, and numbers about 350 head.

Kansas has the largest Hereford breeding establishment in the world. This is the famous Sunny Hope herd at Emporia, which numbers over 700 head, with an annual crop of about 500 calves.

Kansas has the largest Berkshire breeding establishment in the world. This is located at Burlington, in Coffey county, and produces about 1,200 pigs each year.

Kansas has the largest herd of Galloway cattle in the world. This is located at Eureka, in Greenwood county, and numbers some 400 head of registered animals.

Kansas has the oldest Percheron breeding establishment in the United States. This is the Whitewater Falls farm at Towanda, in Butler county. There are importers who have larger studs of Percherons, but this statement does not include such.

Kansas has the largest Percheron breeding establishment in the Louisiana purchase. This is located at Wakefield, in Clay county, and includes two mares that won gold medals at St. Louis and that were never defeated in the show ring.

Kansas raised the largest fleece ever shorn from a sheep's back. This weighed fifty-two pounds.

Kansas developed the highest-priced Percheron mare in the world. This was the imported mare Regina, which was mated on Kansas alfalfa, and sold at public auction for $2,500.

Kansas recently held the largest poultry show in the world, which included 3,000 birds, exclusive of pet stock.

Kansas has the largest continuous alfalfa field in the world. This is located in Butler county and includes more than 2,500 acres.

Kansas has the largest creamery in the world. This is located at Topeka, and has more than 20,000 patrons, with a daily capacity of 100,000 pounds of butter.

Leading up to these big things and to others in the future the most powerful influence perhaps has been the agricultural college of Kansas, which is the largest in the world, with a total enrollment of 1,600 students each year.

Kansas has the largest experiment station in the world. This is located at Hays and includes 4,500 acres, devoted exclusively to experiments in agriculture. It is a branch of the agricultural college experiment station at Manhattan, and is under the control of its board of regents.—Medicine Lodge Crescent.

NEW MEXICO MAN KNOWS THAT GILA MONSTER'S BITE DEADLY

In a recent issue of the Scientific American an article appeared, written by D. Allen Wiley, describing and illustrating the Gila monster. The statement was made in the article that scientists had questioned whether its bite was fatally poisonous, as has been supposed. W. C. Barnes of Las Vegas, N. M., claims to know of two cases, in one of which death resulted. Mr. Barnes writes as follows:

"The first man was in Tombstone, Ariz. The Gila was tied by the leg in a saloon as a curio, and a drunken gambler named Brown was teasing it. He carelessly stuck his first two fingers into its mouth, which immediately closed down on them, and could not be released until the reptile's head was cut off and the jaws cut apart. Brown suffered horrible agony for almost two days, and in spite of all efforts he died."

"The second case was in the fall of 1889. Walter Vail started from the Empire ranch, near Benson, Ariz., to ride into town on horseback, some fifteen miles. A short distance from the ranch a monster was sluggishly dragging its way across the road. Thinking to take it in for a friend, he got down and killed it—or at least he thought he killed it. To carry it easily, he tied it on his saddle behind him, using his saddle string for the purpose. As he loped along he thought to assure himself it hadn't dropped off, by reaching around behind him with his right hand and feeling for the monster."

"It was there, and not nearly as dead as he thought. His first finger went into the reptile's mouth clear to the knuckle, and instantly those jaws, with the long sharp, dagger-like teeth, closed on Vail's finger. With his left hand he managed to get his knife out and cut the saddle strings, and then had to dissect the head and jaws to get his finger from their grip."

"Vail then spurred his horse into Benson and found an engine in the yards. A hasty exchange of telegrams with the division superintendent and Tucson took place, and in a few minutes he was on the engine and racing over the road for Tucson, where an eminent surgeon resided at that time. Vail lay at death's door for two months, and that finger today is useless and shriveled up from the effect of the bite."—Denver Republican.

EVIDENTLY SOMETHING WRONG IN THE WORKING OF OUR LAWS

"There's something the matter with the law, maybe." It might seem that only an extraordinarily cruel punishment could bring such an admission from the head keeper at Ludlow street jail, New York. Jail keepers don't wear their sympathies outside their clothes. Yet the case of Henry Weinbaum, which called forth this strange comment, is not as extraordinary and unusual as it ought to be.

Weinbaum is, or was, a clothes presser earning $12 a week, and supporting himself, his wife and four children. The wife died, and Weinbaum was confronted with the problem of looking after his four little ones and at the same time being away all day at his work. He managed it somehow for a few months, and then got a new mother for his children on the only terms open to him—remarriage. But there are beauties in the marriage and divorce system which sometimes appeal as strongly to the wives of poor devils like Weinbaum as they sometimes do to the adventurous trappers of millionaires. The clothes presser's new wife soon complained that the children made too much work and demanded that they be put in a public institution. The father refused, and the wife left him and his little ones and promptly applied to court for $4 a week support, and a judge granted her plea.

The $4 a week might have been so many millions so far as the man's ability to pay went. The other day he was arrested, his arrears, with costs, amounting to $207.88. He was sent to Ludlow street jail until the amount is paid. Of course he is not earning anything in jail, and the prospect of his ever paying the $207.88 is remote indeed. The head keeper of the jail thinks there may be something wrong with the law when it imprisons a man like this for reasons like these. But maybe the jail keeper has permitted himself to be swayed too much by his sympathies.

AMERICAN WOMEN BETTER JUDGES OF LINEN.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 7.—Robert J. Walker, of Belfast, Ireland, spinning company has a high opinion of the American woman as a judge of linen. "Some so-called experts among English and Parisian women can be deceived in fine linen goods, but an American woman, of any class never," said this man of forty years experience as an expert manufacturer, here today. "The American woman," he went on, "is frequently a better judge than the Irish woman whose whole life has been spent in the vicinity of Irish factories, and in many cases cultivating her own flax. I have never known an American to be imposed upon and to this I attribute the increasing volume of trade which Ireland is cultivating across the Atlantic." Mr. Walker explained that the returns show a total increase including yarns of $3,500,000 over 1905, and $6,000,000 over 1904. For these amounts over 1905 and $2,500,000 over 1904, Mr. Walker further explained that the new trade mark which is now being issued to all responsible manufacturers will still further increase the sale of Irish goods in the United States.

FRENCH CHEFS TO TASTE 700 DISHES.

New York, Feb. 7.—The forty-first annual dinner of the Societe Culinaire Philanthropique, better known as the French cook's ball, will take place in the Terrace Garden here tonight. There will be seven hundred persons present. Fully seven hundred dishes from the most celebrated public and private kitchens in New York will be displayed during the afternoon, as well as tonight before the chefs make a flank movement on them. Several chefs will be in attendance to tell laymen how the delicacies are prepared and explain how they got their names. The ball has been a great success every year, but tonight's affair promises to outshine all others as the number of French cooks in this city is annually increasing.

DIXON'S NEW SUBMARINE DESTROYER.

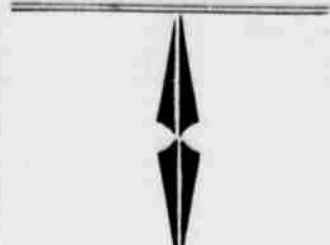

Brooklyn, Feb. 7.—Great secrecy is being observed in connection with the plan of the new submarine destroyer invented by Lewis Dixon, a graduate of Annapolis and former naval officer, then shipbuilder, and now an official of the Carbon Steel Works, of Pittsburgh. Patent rights have already been granted in several foreign countries. It has been stated, however, that it will not be as large as a first class submarine and will be much lighter, for the reason that it must be capable of being hoisted on shipboard by davits. It will be built wholly of steel, of the thinnest possible plates, compatible with strength, and securely braced with light frames. It is claimed that the new destroyer can hit the mark 150 feet below the surface, a depth to which no submarine could possibly sink with security; forty or fifty feet being as deep as safety will permit.

ALBUQUERQUE MAN IS SAID TO BE JUST NATURALLY OF TALKATIVE TURN

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 7.—"The house stands in a wall on questions of vital interest to the people," said Speaker Baca last night. "The members are voting today just as they lined up on the district attorney's bill, introduced by Mr. Beach and I believe they will vote today on all measures for the common good to the last day of the session."

This was demonstrated when house bill No. 23, which was introduced by Mr. Holt, and which disqualifies members of the legislature from accepting appointive jobs from territorial officials and thus to prevent the use of public offices as bribes to influence legislation, was reported with the recommendation that it be passed, by the committee having it in charge.

The bill passed the house by a vote of 16 to 7. Mr. Denniston, who was understood to favor the bill, being absent.

However, the usual flow of oratory resulted, coming this time not from the "reform the other fellow" side but from a democrat, Mr. Hudspeth. He stated that he could see little in the plan to cast dark and unrighteous reflections upon the governor and other territorial officials. He said that he considered these officials too pure of mind, too high of morals and too patriotic and gentlemanly no matter how much they might desire certain legislation, to use such means to secure it. The picture of a democrat upon the floor of the house defending members of the opposing party was something of an odd sight even in New Mexico, where at one time or another about everything in the line of territorial administration and politics have been tried. After Mr. Hudspeth had finished his burst of indignation, Mr. Holt secured recognition. "The gentleman from Dona Ana county has already won a place in this assembly as an able talker, a heady legislator and one who knows how to take care of himself whether in debate upon the floor or in the caucuses and committee meetings." He then went on to say that in no way, manner or means did he intend to counsel bill No. 23, the "skidoo" measure, as his friends call it, as a personal shot or retaliatory measure directed at any individual. He commented upon the fact that it was doubtless gratifying to see a member of the opposing party eulogizing and defending a chief executive of New Mexico but he added: "What assurance have we that public officials will not be used as bribes to secure legislation? None."

"What assurances have we that on some future day there may not be a democrat among the territorial officials?" (Hudspeth did not reply.) "No," thundered Mr. Holt, "that bill is right in principle, it is worthy of a place on our statute books and it is no disgrace to the members of this house to vote for it."

"I can see no distinction whatever, between bribing a man with $1,000 or with an office worth $1,000 for his vote on matters of legislation. I do not charge that any territorial official has used this means to secure legislation. I do not know that any official has done so. I do say, however, that it is right now currently reported upon the streets of Santa Fe that a certain official of this territory sent for a member of this assembly and offered him the appointment to any office in this beautiful capital building if he would vote against certain legislation which was for the good of the people. I have also heard it reported that two other members of this legislature have been similarly approached. TO THE EVERLASTING HONOR OF THIS ASSEMBLY AND TO THESE MEN BE IT SAID THAT THEY SPURNED THESE OFFERS."

"In conclusion," he said, "it is the duty of this assembly to pass this bill and I do not believe any one would want to go on record as opposing it."

It was "Littlefield" Ruppe's turn next. Mr. Ruppe is just naturally talkative. No matter what it is, he endeavors to get a word or two in and the members of the house—patient and long suffering—accord him a respectful silence which he bombards the members with "gobs" of English. In connection with this measure, Mr. Ruppe said that there was not a member of the assembly who was not proof against the attempts to bribe, if attempts there were. He said Mr. Holt admitted that three had been tempted and that not one fell. He said the bill was a reflection upon the members of the legislature even more than upon the territorial officials and that he was opposed to it in any manner, shape or form. The members of the house sighed and the bill went merrily on its way by the customary vote of 16 to 7, with Mr. Denniston absent. Those who opposed the measure were Abbott of Colfax, Hudspeth, Lucero y Montoya, Moran, Mullins, "Littlefield" Ruppe and Walters.

ON THE FLOOR. It is said "Littlefield" Ruppe, the linguistic member of the house from Bernalillo has another and greater ambition than that of abolishing gambling in New Mexico. Ruppe, it is asserted, aspires to be the leader of a minority in the house and also to have a seat close to the driver on "The Journal's Bandwagon." To date, however, the busy "reformer of the other fellows" has been so occupied in trying to rake together a minority to lead, composed of the few democratic members and fellow "reformers of the other fellow" that he has not much time to do anything for Bernalillo county. Not that he would not do all in his power for his constituents. Yes, he would talk all day on the floor of the house if necessary and not consider it a hardship. Something beside a talk, however, is needed in the present assembly. It is good, hard, conscientious "plugging" for the people's interests and the future of the republican party. It is feared here that the valiant captain will never live to realize his ambitions politically.

Following the passage of this resolution, it was stated by a prominent member of the house that despite the statements to the contrary, the $15,000 appropriation would not be needlessly exceeded and that the members of the assembly were jointly determined to hold all expenses to the minimum. If it is found necessary—as it doubtless will be—a number of employees move on the pay roll will be discharged and the session will be continued short handed. The expert help today is not able to keep up with the duties assigned. The translators are working at night and several of the best stenographers threaten to resign. While there has been howl after howl about padded pay rolls not only in New Mexico but in the states, this is the first instance where the employees have in many cases been actually underpaid.

QUICKEL ON SKATES
BEATS BICYCLE EXPERT

SILVER CITY ENTHUSIASTS WITNESS SPECTACULAR RACE, WHICH ALBUQUERQUE BOY WINS.

The Silver City Independent of last Tuesday says: The past week at the skating rink was full of attractions. Raycele Lawrence was the attraction of the latter part of the week and his clever performances on the bicycle every afternoon and evening were much enjoyed by those present. On Friday night there was a fast and exciting race between Mr. Lawrence on his bicycle and Mr. C. Quickel on skates. It was something never seen before in Silver City and was exciting from start to finish. Lawrence got the lead at the starting word and led by a wheel length for four full rounds, when Quickel forged ahead and led for the next ten rounds. Lawrence again took the lead, but was again passed on the twelfth round, and by dint of some fast skating Quickel held his position and finished ten feet ahead at the end of round twenty-two. This was Mr. Quickel's initial racing appearance and he certainly made good.

C. Quickel is the son of E. B. Quickel, of Albuquerque. He was formerly a student at the University of New Mexico, where he was active in athletics. He is an instructor in the skating rink at Silver City, which was taken down there from the Duke City after it was blown down at the corner of Railroad avenue and Fifth street, last fall, in a blizzard.

BERARDINELLI'S STREET CARS FOR HIGHLANDS FUNERAL WHEN SANTA FE MOVES YARDS

Anonymous Letter Possibly Written From Las Vegas.
Bears Railway Post Mark.

The funeral of the late Benedetto Berardinelli, who was shot Monday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Father Mandalar said mass for the soul of the departed and the obsequies were impressive. The funeral cortege, which left the home at 1101 North Second street, was several blocks long. The orders of which Mr. Berardinelli was a member were represented in the procession. Burial was at Santa Barbara cemetery, where the eulogy for the deceased was delivered by Charles Tartaglia.

At 9 o'clock last night the coroner's jury decided upon a verdict, which was substantially that Benedetto Berardinelli came to his death as the result of a gun or pistol shot fired by Antonio Pettine, in the way of the immediate building of the Highland line was the crossing of the Santa Fe tracks, which the Traction company objects to cross so long as

Before departing for Washington, D. C., last night, Hon. H. A. Jastro said that in all probability the Highlands would get a street car line within a year. The placing of a line there depends entirely on a proposition now under consideration by capitalists. "It may be built and it may not," said Mr. Jastro. "I would not like to say that it would or would not. We are considering some things now that have to do with the proposition. If these things should develop as we hope, the line will be built. If not, why, it won't be built right away. I have hopes that it will."

M. O. Chadbourne, who will take entire charge of the company's business here March 1, when called upon by telephone this afternoon, said that the greatest obstacle in the way of the immediate building of the Highland line was the crossing of the Santa Fe tracks, which the Traction company objects to cross so long as the switching of trains continue to block the up-town avenues. The Second street cut, from Gold avenue to Railroad avenue, which will do away with one track on First street between these avenues, will be taken hold of soon after Mr. Chadbourne takes up his duties as superintendent. Solomon Luna succeeds W. H. Greer as president of the company. The whereabouts of Mr. Greer are not known here.

As a result of Mr. Chadbourne taking active charge of the company's business, Frank Stortz upon whom the management devolved some time ago will take charge of the office work. It is the purpose of the company to make Traction park a popular place during the coming summer. The ball park and the race track will be put in the best possible condition, and the best attractions to be had will hold forth at the Casino.

At a meeting of the directors of the Commercial club, held yesterday afternoon at the club house, Messrs. George L. Brooks and W. B. There were present at the meeting besides Messrs. Brooks and Childers, W. P. Johnson, O. N. Marron, Wallace Hosselton, W. S. Hopewell, W. S. Strickler and M. W. Flournoy.

The meeting also had under consideration the addition of new members to the roll of the club's membership, as a result of which the following were added to the associate list: Henry H. Graham, George R. Kressler, R. E. Pellow and G. A. Brink. A committee was appointed to cooperate with President T. H. of the University of New Mexico, in securing if possible an astronomical observatory to be placed on the summit of the Sandia mountains, and to be operated as an adjunct to the university. The subject has attracted considerable attention on account of the peculiarly favorable conditions obtaining in this region, and it is hoped that the help of wealthy persons interested in astronomical research can be obtained in aid of the project. The following are the members of the committee: W. P. Metcalf, E. S. Stover and F. W. Clancy.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS. Bakersfield, Cal., Feb. 7.—There was a very large attendance at the annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs which commenced here yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Robert Porter Hill, the president, opened the proceedings. The annual report showed that the federation was organized in Los Angeles in 1900 as a result of an invitation extended by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette to the club women of the state, which was then divided into six districts. The objects were the advancement of women in all respects that tend to make better wives, mothers, teachers and business women. The membership now is over 1,300, the federation being the most influential women's organization in California. There are 179 clubs located in ninety-six towns and cities. In view of the great widely agitated Japanese school question, the report of the committee on education which will be made tonight, is awaited with much interest. It is expected that the convention will take a decided stand in the matter.

RAIL IN AID OF MONUMENT FUND. Trenton, N. J., Feb. 7.—All arrangements are complete for the holding of the great ball in the Armory tonight in aid of the monument fund. Three thousand persons will be present. The decorations cost $2,800. Col. Wm. Libbey, of Princeton, and three hundred students from the college, General Wilbur F. Sadler, Governor Stokes, General Fred Grant, Mayor McClellan, of New York, Governor Stuart and a number of New Jersey and New York congressmen have already arrived. The affair will eclipse anything of its kind ever held in this state.

HARRIMAN GETS COAL FROM AUSTRALIA. San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 7.—Several large cargoes of Australian coal are being discharged here for the Harriman railroads. At the docks in Australia the coal costs $10 per ton and it is estimated that by the time it is discharged here the cost totals up to $16 per ton. The shortage of freight cars and locomotives on the Harriman system, however, is such that the railroads save money by getting Australian coal, instead of taking cars and engines from general traffic and using them to haul domestic coal.

NEW MINING RESTRICTIONS IN YUKON. Victoria, B. C., Feb. 7.—The new rules issued from the gold commissioners department relating to placer mining in the Yukon, which have been put into force, are bound to cause considerable trouble with the prospectors. One rule is that any person using two powers of attorney will be allowed the discovery claim unless there is gold discovered on the claim. It is said that the new regulations will prevent many bona fide prospectors from proceeding.

ROMERO CHOSEN TO FILL
CHAVES' UNEXPIRED TERM

BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS DECIDE TO BUILD ANOTHER NEW DAM.

Jose Romero has been appointed justice of the peace in Precinct 13 to fill the unexpired term of J. Miguel Chavez, deceased. Mr. Romero was appointed by the board of county commissioners at their recent meeting.

The commissioners decided to build a second dam at Chamisal channel on the Rio Grande upon recommendation of Pitt Ross, county surveyor, who appeared before the board with a blue print map showing the necessity of the dam, which will be constructed 2,000 feet below the one recently completed.

The dam is not to cost more than $2,000. Its purpose is to turn off the spring floods at this point. The work is to begin at once to permit the dirt to settle so that the dam will be more solid when the flood-tide comes. The new dam at the Chamisal cost $250.

Learnard, the well known Gold Avenue music dealer and a nephew of Fire Chief Burtless.

The young man was but 20 years of age. He came to New Mexico from his home in Toledo about three years ago. For a time he was employed at the Albuquerque postoffice but left to accept a situation at Estancia, where he was taken sick about four weeks ago and came to Albuquerque.

CONTEST OVER A WILL SAID TO BE FORGED

Large Deposits of Graphite
Have Been Discovered in Quebec Province.

EXPEDITION ORGANIZED TO EXPLORE ALASKA

Great Advance in Beet Sugar Industry of the United States in Six Years.

Mineola, L. I., Feb. 7.—John Cutter of Augusta, a nephew of, and a legatee under the will of the late Bloodgood H. Cutter, poet laureate of Long Island, who died at Little Neck, leaving more than $1,000,000, half of which the will gave to the American Bible society, is today contesting the will before Surrogate Jackson. Donald De Witt, his counsel, declares that forgery was committed. He says the will was filed in another handwriting after it had been signed and executed. The words inserted in the second clause cut off his client from getting a Little Neck farm valued at $150,000, and leaves it to his son John Cutter, Jr., who lives in Brooklyn. This insertion also cuts off three other children of Cutter who would inherit the farm on his death. Harris W. Lowne, who represented the Bible society, has no objection to the probate of the will. A John Cutter, who mysteriously disappeared some years ago leaving a wife and three children is represented by counsel. The case is expected to occupy some time as a number of witnesses will have to be examined.

NEW GRAPHITE RE- GIONS DISCOVERED.

Quebec, Feb. 7.—Owing to the supplies of graphite in Ceylon having nearly become exhausted the discoveries of large deposits in this province are looked upon as a matter of great importance to the country. As there is also evidence of the exhaustion of the supply in Bavaria it now looks as if the world will have to depend for its supply from the new graphite regions here. Mining has commenced in Labele and a large grinding and refining mill is ready to start at Calumet, which is in the same region, and at Buckingham still more extensive work has been undertaken. At the latter place it has been found that there is some lime mixed with the ore but millions of dollars are to be expended in machinery to remove it.

THE UNITED STATES BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

New York, Feb. 7.—Though a comparatively new industry in the United States, the manufacture of sugar from beets has progressed at a very rapid rate during the past few years. In 1900 there were thirty establishments engaged in the manufacture of beet sugar, while in 1905 there were fifty-one, an increase of seventy per cent. Their capital in 1905, was $55,923,459, as compared with $29,141,719 in 1900. The average number of wage-earners was 3,963 compared with 1970 in 1900. The expense of running these establishments shows an increase of 353 per cent, while the cost of material used increased from $4,803,796 in 1900 to $14,586,376 in 1905. The value of products shows an increase of 223 per cent or from $7,323,857 in 1900 to $24,393,000 in 1905. Over $11,000,000 was distributed among the farmers in the beet raising districts in payment for beets, while over $2,000,000 was paid for limestone, sulphur, coke and fuel. The fifty-one companies shown by the returns of 1905 were all owned by corporations. Michigan leads the states with the number of establishments, 19 being in that state, with a daily capacity of 12,550 tons, while the second largest beet sugar state is Colorado with nine establishments.

TO ESTABLISH NEW FAST MAIL SERVICE.

Dublin, Feb. 7.—At a meeting of the Irish parliamentary party in the Rotunda tonight, steps were taken to introduce a bill to parliament for the establishment of the new fast mail service between Blackhead Bay on the west coast of Ireland and Halifax. Mr. Bryce, now United States ambassador, while chief secretary for Ireland was the first to bring the matter under public notice. Within the time during his tenure of office for the notification of proposed bills to the parliamentary authorities, it is now proposed to ask parliament for a suspension of the standing orders that the way may be clear for the promotion of the bill. The session. All the Irish members, irrespective of party, are in favor of the project and the new move is creating considerable discussion in the county as all believe it will be of immense benefit to the west of Ireland without in any way interfering with Queenstown as a port of call for the trans-Atlantic liners at present calling there.

CLAIM THAT COAST DE- FENCES ARE INADEQUATE.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—Naval and military authorities complain that the cost defenses of the Pacific coast are altogether inadequate to repel the attack of a hostile nation and that in San Francisco alone there is a deficit of more than 3,000 officers and men to adequately man the guns which guard the entrance to the harbor, while the same lack is found proportionately at all other ports of the coast. Owing to the action of the California promotion committee a bill is now to be introduced to congress and it is expected that the result of the complaints made will be to place the Pacific coast in complete defensive position.

RETAIL MERCHANTS HOLD PURE FOOD SHOW.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 7.—One of the principal features at the annual convention of the Retail Merchants association in the Coliseum here today, was a pure food show planned for the purpose of giving the people of Peoria an idea of the extent of the pure food articles carried by the jobbers and manufacturers. The Coliseum is decorated in a unique and original manner and there are no less than sixty comprehensive exhibits. The show will last for ten days during which time the promoters announce that two baby shows will be held and valuable prizes given to the best looking children. There will also be an exhibition of cooking by gas and electricity and other attractions. There were over 300 Illinois dealers in attendance this morning when the convention opened. Among the questions to be considered are the review of the decision repealing the municipal garbage law, consideration of the commercial advantages of the deep water way from the lakes to the gulf, etc.

New York, Feb. 7.—A new suspension bridge, 150 feet above high water, with a span of 3,000 feet, the longest in the world, and estimated to cost $35,000,000 is being projected here. It will probably be built between Fourteenth and Forty-second streets to the New Jersey side. However another part of the project would reduce this sum by $5,000,000 for the promoters also agree to construct a small bridge close by which would cost that sum.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by all druggists.

Desire For Food Is Important

Appetite Is Necessary In Order To Digest What We Eat.

We notice that some of the most eminent physicians of this country and Europe who have made a study of the process of digestion unite in the opinion that a keen appetite is a great aid to proper digestion. Some even go so far as to say that there must be a good sharp appetite for the food eaten and assimilated. Dr. J. E. Fowler's essay on "The Work of the Digestive Glands," which was awarded the Nobel prize, sets forth very clearly the value of appetite.

There is no other such safe sure means for creating a healthy appetite as Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer taken before or with our meals, and it is an almost absolute guarantee of perfect digestion, while its tonic and food value cannot be overestimated. Dr. Joseph Feiler, of the Northwestern University of Chicago, in commenting upon this said: "I fully believe that the moderate use of good food at meal times acts as a tonic and is therefore useful." Dr. Feiler stands at the head of his profession and his words must carry great weight with those seeking health. Pabst Blue Ribbon is such a beer as Dr. Feiler recommends. It is a product of eight-day malt, choicest hops and pure crystal water, and it contains all the valuable food elements of the barley in predigested form. It gives the cleanest, healthiest, and the finest flavor which distinguishes it from other beers. This, together with sixty years of scientific brewing, is what has put Pabst Beer so far in the lead. No food that comes from the cleanest, healthiest, and more wholesome than this celebrated beer.

CHINESE TO AID FEL- LOW COUNTRYMEN.

New York, Feb. 7.—At a largely attended meeting of influential Chinese in the Chinese reform league rooms, Chatham Square last night it was decided to start a fund for the relief of those in China who are on the verge of starvation. The Chinese Reform Gazette has opened its columns for subscriptions and states that owing to the serious straits to which the people have been reduced rebellion is not at all unlikely.

Beer With Meals

It is reliably computed that practically one-half of all the beer consumed in the world today is taken with meals. Whether it be with the laborer's cold lunch, the bon-vivant's repast or the "home spread," observing ones must concede to good beer, the place it has won as the nation's health beverage.

BLATZ WIENER BEER

To be health inspiring, appetizing, nourishing—the beer must be good. Blatz Wiener beer possesses every element of beer quality. Its very fragrance and "body" suggests at once the honesty of its ingredients. The vitality of the malt and the aromatic properties of the hops are manifest in every glass. The Blatz method of preparing the malt and original style of brewing accomplish certain results peculiar to Blatz Beers—this is the secret of Blatz character.

Wiener as a Table Beverage

The hop bitters act as an appetizer and digestant—and the malt is nourishing and "foody." The result is eminently satisfying. Nature knows the value of Blatz Wiener as a dietetic. Intelligence fosters Nature's demands. As a culinary adjunct Blatz Wiener is the beverage par excellence. It gives you that well fed feeling. Order a case sent home.

AMUSEMENTS ATELKS' OPERA HOUSE

WHY THE PUBLIC TASTE IN PLAYS HAS CHANGED

Again the wheel of public taste has revolved, and instead of the musical comedy, the gorgeous spectacle, or the one-part play written expressly to parade the idiosyncrasies of a certain actor, the modern emotional drama with every character in it an important and interesting one is today the popular form of theatrical diversion. The immediate success in New York last season of every meritorious play that treated of present day men and affairs told its story to the alert the-

their ideals for brides. These two and other successful modern plays are nightly attracting to the theater hundreds of play-goers who had long withdrawn their patronage. Local play-goers will have the opportunity next Saturday night to see one of these plays, when Creston Clarke will present "The Ragged Messenger" at the Elks' opera house.

CHARLES HANFORD IN "JULIUS CAESAR" FEB. 11.
The production of the play of "Julius Caesar" is an enterprise not to be lightly undertaken. There is no drama in Shakespeare whose adequate presentation requires a more competent cast of characters, or more liberal scenic equipment. Mr. Charles B. Hanford, who will appear at the Elks' opera house on Monday, February 11, in this great tragedy of Roman statesmanship, is peculiarly qualified for this important task. He has devoted his entire career as an actor to the presentation of the classic drama and is recognized as one of the most close and thorough Shakespearean students in America. In addition to this scholarly attainment Mr. Hanford has the peculiar gift of personal magnetism which makes the popular actor. His first great success was made in the character of "Marc Antony" in this play and in this present tour he presents the great Roman orator as the stellar character, not forgetting, however, that both "Brutus" and "Cassius" are heroes of gigantic quality and must be interpreted by actors of sincere artistry and high exceptional ability. It was in "Julius Caesar" that Mr. Hanford first came forward as a star, his appearance being preceded by a series of ovations from the audiences who witnessed his performance of "Marc Antony" as a supporting member of the Booth-Barrett combination. The role of "Portia" will be assumed by Miss Marie Dronah.

atrical manager, and this season there is almost an overabundance of modern plays, but the generous patronage that the theater-going public is bestowing upon them would seem to indicate that the modern play is what is wanted. It was not so much that the theater-going public had tired of the other kinds of plays as it was that modern dramas like "The Lion and the Mouse" and "The Ragged Messenger" present a variety of types and a timeliness of topics that are just now of general and paramount interest. In "The Lion and the Mouse," the acumen of the foremost financier of the day is pitted against the wit of a lone, young woman, and all the deep-laid plans of the modern Croesus for the attainment of his heart's desire are frustrated by the strength of character and the loftiness of purpose of the undaunted American girl. In "The Ragged Messenger" the damnable machinations of a rich profligate, to possess the woman of his lecherous desires come to naught through the awakening of the innate spirit of goodness within the woman by her daily association with one of nature's noble men. This latter play also gives an insight into the life of the settlement workers in the slums of New York City, among whom two young multi-millionaires recently found

COLFAX COUNTY ROAD NEARING COMPLETION

Regular Train Service Put on From Des Moines, N. M. to Cimarron.

SANTA FE DISTRIBUTING MAIL AT HOLBROOK

Arizona Wants a Law Compelling Trains to Stop Three Minutes at County Seats.

Henry Koehler, Jr., of St. Louis, president of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific, authorizes the following statement concerning progress of construction:

"Grading from Des Moines, N. M., on the Colorado and Southern, westward to Ute Park, ninety-six miles, has been completed. Regular train service has been established on forty-one miles of the main line, between Clifton House and Cimarron, and also on the Raton and Koehler branches, aggregating eleven miles. Track has been laid all told on eighty-two miles of main line and branches, leaving only twenty-four miles to be laid to complete the 106 miles under contract. The remainder of the track will be laid and the road will be completed, in every respect ready for operation by April 1. Ralls of 80-pound section have been laid on the main line and of 70-pound section on the branches. A large yard is in course of construction near Koehler Junction, in connection with the erection of 240 coke ovens at that point, construction of which has begun."

ANOTHER NEW ROAD FOR EL PASO

The El Pasoans, who are surveying the proposed short line from El Paso to Carlsbad and also studying the resources of the country from the standpoint of traffic to be derived, are now on their homeward journey, overland, says the El Paso News. After visiting Carlsbad the committee went to Roswell and the return trip is being made over a new route. The El Pasoans and Carlsbad people subscribed $5,000 for the purpose of investigating the line the country is to run through before the beginning of active work. The investigation, according to interviews which members of the committee have given out at different places visited, has thus far proved very satisfactory. The El Pasoans are desirous of bringing Carlsbad and the entire Pecos valley as a tributary to the Pass City and the short line would accomplish this purpose. The line will be several miles longer than the committee had been informed, but just what route will be selected cannot be determined until after the homeward trip is made. The committee will probably reach El Paso on Thursday or Friday.

MEXICANS TAKE PLACES OF STRIKING SECTION MEN

Forty Mexicans arrived in Topeka recently to work on the track on the different parts of the division, says the Topeka State Capital. The Mexicans will take the place of others who quit last week on account of a reduction of wages. The yard men were receiving $1.75 per day and were reduced to $1.35 and a large number of them quit. The former rate was being paid only while the extra new work was completed. Those who remain left the city at once. Some of the men went east and others went west—and will probably return to Mexico.

R. E. Roudsbeck, formerly of Topeka, who recently accepted a position in the office of W. K. Etter, division superintendent of the Rio Grande division at San Marcial, has resigned his position and has accepted a position in the store department at Deming, New Mexico.

The supreme court of the United States decided the case of Walker vs. Choctaw Coal and Railway company, involving the law of the Choctaw Nation requiring non-citizen residents to sell their property to citizens, against Walker.

Home Insurance the Best

WE CANNOT refrain from again saying something about Home Insurance. Every time that the proposition presents itself of the tremendous amount of money that is being sent out of New Mexico and Arizona for life insurance to eastern cities, the conviction comes home with increased force that a home company ought to be patronized and the money remain in the West.

The revelations of the past year of the way the enormous surplus of the big Eastern companies has been handled and speculated with ought to emphasize the fact that the people of the West should stop pouring their money into Eastern channels when it can be placed in home insurance, and every dollar of it kept and invested at home.

It is gratifying to note that home insurance is year by year receiving more and more its just deserts. Statistics show that during the past year home companies far exceeded foreign companies in the amount of business written. Why cannot this same record be made here? It can if every individual who takes out a policy the coming year will carefully weigh the proposition of the value it is to keep his insurance at home before he puts his name to the application of any insurance company.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company of New Mexico and Arizona is owned and controlled by the leading business men of the two territories, and offers exceptional opportunities to ambitious and capable men and women to sell its policies.
