VERY BUSY DAY AT SANTA FE MUCH

Done Disposing of Bills and Introducing New Bills in Both Houses.

CAPTAIN RUPPE MAKES MORE BRIEF REMARKS

Wise Suggestion Made How Charity and Reform Should Begin Both at Home.

Special to The Evening Citizen.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 27.—House bills were the order of business in the council today and a number of them were acted upon. The following bills were taken up:

House bill No. 71, an act relative to the qualifications of county, territorial and district officials. Two reports were submitted, one from the majority and the other from the minority of the committee on Judiciary. District chairman. The majority favored amending the bill so that any taxpayer can hold office, while the minority favored the original bill, which provides for a two years' residence of such officials in New Mexico, etc. The council by a tie vote of six to six refused to adopt either report and after several efforts were made to get the bill before the house a unanimous vote sent it back to the committee.

House bill No. 59, an act relative to qualification of voters, passed unanimously.

House bill No. 76, relative to the issuance of worthless checks, passed unanimously.

House bill No. 56, fixing the time for holding sessions of the court, passed unanimously.

House bill, No. 53, relative to justices of peace as police magistrates passed unanimously.

House bill No. 70, an act relative to jurisdiction of justices of the peace, passed unanimously.

House bill No. 69, an act relative to the issuance of warrants on information or belief, passed unanimously.

These bills were introduced:

Council bill No. 64, by Spiess, relative to witnesses. This bill re-enacts a former law, making the testimony of persons who have served sentences, good in courts under certain conditions.

Council bill No. 65, by Spiess, relative to the settlement of accounts of officials in county offices.

Council bill No. 66, by Stockton, relative to tax levies for school purposes in cities.

Council bill No. 67, Murray, by request, creating office of geologist and providing for geological survey in New Mexico.

Council bill No. 68, by Cameron—a bill for the election of district attorneys for each county. This bill proposed.

JEROME FAILED TO SHAKE THE TESTIMONY

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw Gave—May Introduce Testimony of Her Brother.

SO FAR ADVANTAGE LIES WITH DELMAS FOR THAW

Dr. Evans Is Fully Able to Hold His Own and Jerome Becomes angry as Usual.

New York, Feb. 27.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw left the stand yesterday afternoon with her story practically unbroken. Jerome brought out a number of facts which do not redound to the credit of the young woman and which may even be said to reflect on her credibility, but aside from making her admit that facts hardly justify the inference that she was drugged at the time she says White ruined her, her story remains in all its essential details just as she originally told it. Today, probably the entire time will be taken up by cross-examination of medical experts. As Jerome and Dr. Evans are not on friendly terms, as was evidenced the other day when the district attorney refused to shake hands with the alienist, it is believed Jerome will take especial pains to shake the doctor's testimony.

Mrs. Thaw Recalled.

When the Thaw trial reopened today Jerome recalled Mrs. Thaw. He stated that he wished to ask her a few more questions which he overlooked at the opening cross-examination. He said it was not merely a matter affecting the credibility of the witness, but a matter which he might wish to controvert on rebuttal and for which he wished to lay the foundation by calling her attention to the matter.

That Miserable Brother.

By his first question Jerome indicated that he intends to call Howard Nesbit to the witness stand to contradict his sister. Asked if when she saw her brother after her return from Europe in 1903, she did not complain that Thaw had brutally treated her, the witness replied in the negative. She also denied that she had told her brother that Thaw tried to induce her to tell lies about White to the effect that he had drugged and raped her, at the same time telling her brother that the story was false. She said her brother had not advised her to get a revolver to protect herself against Thaw, and that she did not buy a revolver or give her brother money to buy one for her.

Jerome's Personal Feeling.

Dr. Charles F. Bingham, of Pittsburg, the Thaw family physician, was the next witness. He testified as to Thaw's condition on November, 1903, at which time he was very nervous and melancholy and seemed much changed from his former condition. The doctor saw him in the Tombs after the shooting. At this latter time Thaw had delusions and was irrational. On cross-examination Jerome asked as to the taint of insanity in the Thaw family. Delmas objected and the objection was sustained. Delmas announced today that the defense will conclude its case this week.

Jerome Is Taken Down.

Jerome said he would call Dr. Bingham for the state in rebuttal, and asked permission to take his testimony in the form of a deposition. Delmas objected, saying the testimony must be taken in open court. Jerome asked Bingham to return next Monday.

Dr. B. D. Evans was then called for cross-examination. Jerome examined Evans as to what medical colleges he had attended, and then asked if he considered himself master of his profession. Evans replied he did not know what Jerome meant by master. "Do you know any one who is master of your profession?" asked Jerome. "If you mean a man who knows all about it, there are none such in medicine, law or any other science," replied Evans. Jerome asked if it was not more important for an expert on the stand to be calm and dignified than to indulge in sharp repartee. Delmas objected. He was sustained. Jerome read several questions from a pamphlet which Evans acknowledged he wrote, but all of Delmas' objections were sustained. Jerome then switched his cross-examination to further examination as to what experience Evans had as an expert.

Thaw Not Now Demented.

Replying to Jerome, Dr. Evans said unsystematized delusions are no numerous and varied it would take a considerable time to describe them. But he finally described them as delusions not depending upon a focal delusion. Evans said he did not believe Thaw is "demented" today. He further said he did not believe Thaw ever was demented in his definition of that word.

Delmas Generally Sustained.

In the course of the examination of Dr. Evans Jerome admitted he would call Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton as a witness. He was originally retained by the defense. It is said he still believes Thaw insane. Dr. Evans could not say whether the great work of Dr. Hamilton and of Dr. Charles MacDonald are considered authority. He said he did not consider Dr. W. O. Oser hardly as authority. Delmas was constantly objecting to questions put to Evans by Jerome and the objections generally were sustained by Judge Fitzgerald. Delmas announced that the defense will be finished this week.

ENORMOUS MORTGAGE DEAL IN NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 27.—The Hudson & Manhattan Railroad company, which is to operate electric traction under the North river from Jersey City and Hoboken to Cortland and Bay streets, this city, have filed a first mortgage with the registrar for New York county for $100,000,000. This mortgage, which is a record breaker in size, covers all the property of the corporation in this city and New Jersey. It is understood that the cost of tunnelling the North river will aggregate $60,000,000.

FATAL COLLISION TAKES PLACE IN WABASH YARDS AT

Mexico, Missouri. Where Engineer Is Killed, and Four Seriously Hurt.

FUMES AT FIRE DO DAMAGE TO FIREMEN

Mexico, Mo., Feb. 27.—During a heavy fog this morning an eastbound accommodation train on the Wabash railroad and a westbound freight collided in the railroad yards here, resulting in the death of the passenger engineer and injury to twenty others, four seriously.

FIREMEN ARE KILLED BY FUMES FROM THE BUILDING.

New York, Feb. 27.—Two firemen were killed and eleven others rendered unconscious by the fumes at a fire today in the basement of a building on Eighth avenue. The condition of two is serious. But for the heroic work of rescuing parties the death list would be much larger.

The fire melted the coupling of the ammonia pipes connecting with the cold storage plant of the Market and two firemen, who later died, were overcome. Others were overcome in the effort at rescue. The financial loss is small.

RANCHMEN AND FARMERS BECOME PANICSTRICKEN.

San Antonio, Texas, Feb. 27.—A dispatch from Mazatlan, Mexico, says that six ranchmen, as they lay asleep in the shelter of the rocks in the vicinity of Tepic, were butchered by the notorious bandit, Enrique Chavez, and his band yesterday. Ranchmen and farmers in the Tepic district are in a state bordering on panic, as it is rumored Chavez has gathered around him other men as bloody and cruel as himself. Many efforts to capture Chavez in the last few months have failed.

TWO NEW BATTLE-SHIPS READY FOR USE.

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 27.—The sixteen thousand ton battleship Minnesota built by the Newport News Shipbuilding company is complete, excepting the matter of ordnance equipment, and will be handed over to the government officials this afternoon. She is in the navy yard here but it has not yet been decided where she will ship her ordnance.

QUINCY, MASS., FEB. 27.—THE FORE

hand battleship company has handed the battleship Vermont, a sister ship to the Minnesota, over to the navy department. She is fully equipped with the exception of her armament.

ENGLAND RUNNING SHY OF OUR TINNED MEAT.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The monthly report of the British board of trade shows that only 748,272 pounds of preserved meat were imported into Great Britain last month. This is a striking decline in comparison with the imports into that country in the month of January, 1905, which amounted to 9,705,562 pounds. For the same month in 1906 the imports were 7,857,280 pounds. This decrease in the popularity of tinned food in Great Britain means a monthly loss of something like $750,000 to American and foreign packers.

MEXICAN DESPERADO BUTCHERS SIX RURALES

Wallace, Feb. 27.—By testimony from his own lips, Adams' attorneys propose to convince the jury that he is an illiterate, ignorant man, incapable of using the language ascribed to him in the alleged confession of murder of Fred Tyler—unable, indeed, to fully understand what it means. It is expected that the defense will put the prisoner on the stand late today.

SIBERIAN MINE EXILES BECOME DISORDERLY THERE.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—Disorders have broken out among the convicts at the Akatui silver mines in southern Siberia, on account of excessive discipline. One hundred and fifty high political offenders have been placed in chains, and many, including a number of women, have been removed to prisons used for the confinement of common criminals.

Railroads—Predicts Coming of That Time But Does Not Expect Speedy Action.

HARRIMAN CALLED AGAIN TO STAND BY COMMISSION

Some Very Important Questions He Refuses to Answer, Showing Manipulation of Stocks.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Senator Patterson, of Colorado, addressing the senate today, made a plea for government ownership of railroads. He predicted that such conditions will be brought about within the life time of the present members of the senate, but he does not anticipate any speedy action in that direction.

Railroads, he declared, are growing more arrogant each year, and as he saw little or no relief in the new rate law, government control of roads will supply the only remedy. To sustain his contention, Patterson presented figures from fifty-nine countries, showing the presence of government ownership in some form, and he saw a steadily increasing sentiment in that direction in the United States.

American roads, he said, are valued at between eleven and twelve billion dollars. They can be obtained by condemnation proceedings, the financial end being covered by mortgages backed by government guarantee.

HARRIMAN IS RECALLED TO THE WITNESS STAND.

New York, Feb. 27.—E. H. Harriman was recalled in the interstate commerce commission proceedings today. Harriman testified that the Union Pacific purchased the St. Joseph & Grand Island for $2,025,000. The witness said he owned the property and sold it to the Union Pacific. Objection was made to the questions as to when he bought the stock of the St. Joseph & Grand Island, and what he paid for it, and the witness declined to answer. The commission ruled he must answer, and there was the usual formal refusal.

The witness said that the New York Central stocks acquired by the Union Pacific were bought in open market. Harriman declined to answer the question as to whether he or any of his associates were interested in the sale at the time of the Union Pacific purchase.

Otto Kahn, of Kahn, Loeb & Co., was the next witness.

Purchase of Southern Pacific.

Kahn said that his firm purchased the Southern Pacific control, which afterwards passed to the Union Pacific, but he insisted that it was not bought with the understanding that the Union Pacific would take it, the only understanding being it was to be offered to the Union Pacific. He thought Harriman was in favor of the purchase, but took the risk as to the other directors.

GOVERNMENT EXAMINATIONS FOR SURVEYORS.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Examinations are being held here today of candidates to fill at least thirty vacancies in the position of surveyor, at $1,400 each per year, in the Philippine service, and similar vacancies as they may occur in the service. Field experience is allowed surveyors on duty when absent from their permanent station. It is not necessary for the applicants to appear at any particular place for examination as their eligibility will be determined upon the evidence furnished upon the application form concerning their education, training and experience. Applicants, qualified as follows will be acceptable: Senior year students in civil engineering who are attending recognized technical schools or colleges, and whose records are satisfactory, and persons who have had not less than three years good experience in surveying. There are a large number of applicants for the positions. The persons selected will be notified in a few weeks time.

PURE FOOD SHOW HELD AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, Feb. 27.—The annual pure food show, under the auspices of the New Orleans Retail Grocers association, which opened in the Washington artillery hall here today, has proved to be one of the most successful of its kind ever attempted in the south, the attendance and number of exhibits beating all records. Some of the largest and best known manufacturers in the country are exhibiting and in the entire building there is not a square inch of space left unoccupied. The exhibition will remain open until the night of March 13.

Memorial to Noted Novelist.

New York, Feb. 27.—At a meeting of the friends and admirers of the late Mrs. Craigie, the novelist, in the Waldorf Astoria last night, it was announced that the memorial would take the following form: A portrait plaque in marble or bronze to be placed in the University College, London, where Mrs. Craigie studied; a replica of the plaque to be placed in this country, where she was born; a scholarship for the study of modern English literature to be given annually in England and a similar one to be given in the same way in the United States.

CONFERENCE REPORT ON RIVER AND HARBORS BILL

Second and Third Assistant Postmasters General Have Stepped Down and Out.

Special to The Evening Citizen.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 27.—Capt. Clark M. Carr and Attorney E. L. Medler, both of Albuquerque, called on President Roosevelt today. They were closely questioned as to conditions in New Mexico, in which the president takes a keen interest.

The following postmasters have been named: Pendleton, San Juan county, W. F. Gleckler, vice W. L. Paddock, resigned; Yanket, Colfax county, Elvin Collins, vice G. R. Hilly, resigned.

AT LAST THIRD ASSISTANT POSTMASTER MADDEN GOES.

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Roosevelt has accepted the resignation of Second Assistant Postmaster General W. S. Shallenbarger. Representative James T. McLeary, of Minnesota, who retires from congress at the close of the present session, will be appointed as Shallenbarger's successor. The resignation of Third Assistant Postmaster General Edwin G. Madden, it is expected, will be submitted in a day or two. No intimation as to his successor is given.

Senate Accepts Harbor Bill.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The senate has agreed to the conference report on the river and harbor bill. The senate today passed the house bill to prevent shanghaing. The bill imposes a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for one year, or both, for violation of the law.

HE WOULD MAKE READING ROOM OF JAIL.

County Prisoners Want Stuff to Salliate Their Literary Appetite.

The prisoners in the Bernalillo county jail would turn the place into a reading room, that is if the good people of Albuquerque will furnish them the literature. Time hangs heavy on their hands while they are in confinement and to pass the idle time they find books and reading good companions.

W. F. Rogers, who was arrested for issuing bogus checks, has initiated a movement in the jail for the cultivation of a more acquaintance with current fiction on the part of the prisoners. He is himself a voluminous reader, he says, but he cannot get enough stuff to satisfy his literary appetite.

Rogers is the man of numerous aliases, who is wanted in Fresno, Cal., for the same game he attempted to work in Albuquerque.

The following appeal, which he indicated to The Evening Citizen this afternoon when Deputy United States Marshal Billy Smith and a reporter for this paper called at the county jail. Mr. Smith was on official business. Incidentally he took a look at the prisoners to see if he had made the acquaintance of any of them during his experience as a detective at El Paso.

"You can never tell when or where you will meet old acquaintances," he said as he scanned the prisoners and asked a question or two of each one while the jailer stood by. "I don't believe I know any of these fellows though."

Rogers came to the bars with the following epistle in his hand, which he said he was going to mail to The Evening Citizen. It was turned over to the reporter after the jailer had read it. Here is the letter:

To the Editor of The Citizen:

Dear Sir:—I join my request with the other inmates of the county jail in asking you if you will ask the good citizens of Albuquerque to send us some of the old books and magazines for which they have no use.

I assure you that all reading matter will be appreciated by the inmates of the county jail as time hangs very heavy on us.

I wish to thank you in advance for any favor or reading matter.

I remain,

Yours very respectfully,

W. F. ROGERS.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 27.—Agricultural statistics published today show that the season's grain crop has fallen short by 662,000,000 bushels. In the northwestern provinces the famine is becoming very acute notwithstanding the action of the government in sending supplies. It is stated that the meager quantities doled out to the peasants are wholly insufficient for their needs. Merchants here and in Odessa are making arrangements for shipments of grain from the United States and Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 27.—Owing to the great scarcity of food and coal in the Saskatchewan district the minister of the interior has ordered government officials and the mounted police to send relief to any settlers who may be requiring it because of their being away from railway communication, owing to the lack of food and fuel, is pitiable.

"THE INDIANS OF AMERICA"

HAS JUST BEEN ISSUED.

New York, Feb. 27.—A new work on "The Indians of America," published by Heinemann today, it appears that it has never been definitely determined just what was the greatest number of Indians in America when they were unmolested. Some authorities say the number could not have exceeded a million, but others assert that it could not have been more than 600,000, and still others contend that there were never more than 500,000. At the present time there are about 248,000 members of the red race in the United States.

There are Indians in eighteen different states and territories, exclusive of the Indian Territory.

By all the tribes are west of the Mississippi, in fact, most of them are beyond the Missouri. There are 156 reservations in all. In the northwestern part of New York there are about 5,000 descendants of the great warrior tribes living on eighteen reservations. Today there are 159,000 Indians who wear citizens dress in whole or in part. There are 70,000 who can read and speak English. There are 28,000 Indian families now living in comfortable modern dwellings. When the government first began supplying the Indians with houses it often proved a difficult matter to keep the old warriors in them. They would take possession in the best of faith, but the wild nature would invariably break out, they would saddle their horses and go back to their tepees.

BIG BENCH SHOW

OPENS AT DENVER.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 27.—There are over 600 exhibits at the fifth annual bench show of the Colorado Kennel club which opened yesterday at the Coliseum hall here yesterday. The prizes to be awarded amount to $5,000, half of which will be in cash. There are a large number of classes and in addition to the eleven divisions for each breed there will be a kennel prize for the best dog of each breed and a second prize of $5. A new class called the "graduate" class has been introduced. Dogs having won four points and about to "graduate" are alone eligible and will be given the prestige and advantage due to their past successes, regardless of age, and will not be forced to compete against younger dogs just entering the championship field. Several of the divisions, notably the Boston terriers, have been divided into heavy and lightweight classes. There are entries from Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming, New York, California and Idaho. James Mortimer, the well known eastern official, will judge all breeds. The show will remain open until Thursday night.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF

MICHIGAN STATE FARMERS.

Ionia, Mich., Feb. 27.—At the annual convention of the Michigan State Farmers Institute today in Ionia, Mich., delegates were in attendance from all parts of this and adjoining states. After some preliminary business was disposed of John H. Hale, the "peach king" of Connecticut, gave an address on "The Care of the Apple Orchard." He owns 400 acres of apple orchard in addition to 2,000 acres of peach trees. In the afternoon he will speak on "Handling the San Jose Scale." Professor P. G. Holden, of the Iowa Agricultural college, will speak on "Improving the Michigan Corn Crop." Professor Holden is a graduate of the M. A. C., and was connected with the farm department of the college for four years, so he is familiar with conditions in Michigan. He will also discuss "The Teaching of Agriculture in the Rural Schools." Professor W. J. Fraser, of the University of Illinois, will lead in the discussion on dairy topics and the feeding and care of dairy cows. The annual meeting of the Michigan Corn Improvement association is being held in connection with the institute and the corn show is a leading feature. Prizes of cash and farm implements, valued at $500, are offered for the best ten ears of the different kinds of corn. Various other topics will be discussed by numbers of professors from agricultural colleges, prominent farmers and others. The growing of alfalfa, beans and other farm crops, the breeding and feeding of farm animals, forestry, good roads, rural schools and domestic science and economy will receive attention. At the women's congress on Thursday afternoon Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, will be the principal speaker.

DECREASE IN RAW STEEL

AND IRON IMPORTS.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—While the exports of finished iron and steel declined last week, the imports of raw materials used in the manufacture of steel were considerably below the average, the January figures being 151,791 tons, against 184,943 tons for the previous month. These imports were made through New York and New England points. Compared with the shipments arriving in December, the January imports show the heaviest declines in the iron ore and pig iron cargoes. Thirty-two thousand one hundred tons of pig iron came in last month, as against 55,500 tons in December. Of iron ore, $9,847 tons were imported from abroad, the bulk of the shipments came from Cuba; from Spain 18,550 tons in two shipments. Five thousand three hundred and twenty-three tons of various finished products, including American billets and coils, were imported. There were also some shipments of old iron from Cuba.

TEXAS WHEAT CROP

EXPECTED SMALL FOR 1907.

Waco, Tex., Feb. 27.—Wheat growers in this state are commencing to realize that the crop of 1907 will be very short. The winter has been too warm for the good of the plant and added to that is the green bug pest that is playing great havoc with the crop all over the state. It is calculated that the yield will not be much over half a crop. The bugs are at work everywhere in Texas that wheat is grown, and the ravages in some cases amount to the complete ruin of the crop, the seed being ploughed up in some places to make room for the weeds. This is especially the case in the middle southern part of the wheat belt. In some parts of the state the bug has taken such a hold of the crop that there will not be wheat enough raised to make seed for the next crop. Farmers are now, in most parts, replanting with cotton and other crops.

RAILROAD BUYS LAND

IN WASHINGTON.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 27.—Representatives of the Milwaukee Railroad company have just closed a deal for the purchase of a very large tract of land in Washington, not far from Tacoma. The acreage acquired is said to involve the expenditure of $1,000,000. The fact that the timber is largely located in the country reached by the Tacoma Eastern railway and its extensions gives color to the rumors that the Milwaukee Railroad also owns extensive coal properties southeast of Tacoma, located on the line between its largest timber holdings and Tacoma. One of the largest tracts of timber purchased includes 150,000,000 feet located near Little Falls.

NEW JEWISH COLONY

LOCATED IN TEXAS.

Waco, Texas, Feb. 27.—The leading Hebrews in Texas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma are at present making arrangements for the establishment of a large Jewish colony in the places mentioned. Steps have been taken for the purchase of a large tract of land and a large number of Jews will arrive from Russia in a short time to settle on it. The work is under the supervision of Jacob Schiff, the noted Jewish banker and financier of New York. It has been stated that the Jews to be imported here are all from the agricultural centers of Russia.

WILL PASTEURIZE ALL

MILK SOLD IN NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 27.—Owing to the great infant mortality in this city the board of aldermen passed an ordinance prohibiting the sale of milk unless it is pasteurized or sterilized. It is also provided in the ordinance that if the milk is sold in bottles it must be pasteurized, but it is insisted that the bottling process be under the supervision of the inspectors of the health department, and that the bottles shall be sealed by the inspectors.

LARGE LUMBER CARGO

GOES TO MEXICO.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 27.—The steamer Tottenham sailed for San Marcos, Mexico, with the largest cargo ever taken out of any port on the Pacific coast. The Tottenham's record breaking cargo consisted of 4,200,000 feet of lumber, ties, beams and poles. The consignment is for railroad construction work in Mexico.

REVIVAL OF OLD MCGRAW GIANTS ON THEIR WAY WESTWARD

How Hill Buncoed Weed—German Kaiser Announced Himself for Peace.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The presence in Washington this week of Smith W. Weed, of New York, who lives way up near the Canadian border, at Plattsburg, recalled to the politicians one of the very interesting series of New York politics. Mr. Weed is associated with a number of important business industries in South America, with Warner Miller, formerly a senator from New York. While Mr. Miller was at the Capitol interviewing senators regarding certain interests in Venezuela, Mr. Weed remained at his home and sent for prominent democrats with whom he discussed the same subject.

For forty years Mr. Weed has been an important democratic factor in the Empire State. He was the chief lieutenant of Samuel J. Tilden in the 1876 campaign. In the campaign for the state legislature prior to the election of a democratic senator to succeed William M. Everts, republican, in the United States Senate, Mr. Weed was in charge of the campaign, and suggested the probability of electing a democratic assembly, if funds could be obtained. It is reported that Mr. Hill promised Weed if he would supply the funds and the party was successful that Mr. Weed should receive the senatorship.

According to a common report Weed put up about $200,000 and as everybody knows, the democrats won the legislature. It is also known that instead of Weed, Hill came to the senate, having been elected by a majority of one vote, so close was the New York legislature.

Weed never forgave Hill for this action. He charged Hill with treachery and made political war on him ever after, promptly joining the Cleveland faction of the party. Had Hill permitted Weed to go to the senate and elected president, when the next national convention came on, Hill was one of the prominent candidates and around him the anti-Cleveland men made their fight. But Weed brought about the selection of delegates from various districts who were opposed to Hill, and who went to the convention as costumed in grey chuckies and says that Hill might have done better had he "toted fair."

German Emperor for Peace.

Among those members of congress who are members of and attend the meeting of the Interparliamentary Union at Brussels the liveliest interest was manifested in the cable news from Berlin this week that the German Emperor in his speech from the throne declared that he would either attend or be represented at the coming second Hague conference, which meets in June, and this statement that all his influence would be exerted to bring about the results desired by the friends of peace. Only a few days ago Chairman Bartholdt, of the American section received a letter from Andrew Carnegie in which the Ironmaster said if only the Emperor would be enlisted on the side of the Interparliamentary Union, the peace of the world would be assured. The action of the Kaiser is looked upon as significant.

In 1905 after the conference had adjourned, the members of the American section of the body on the occasion of their visit to Berlin, were taken to Temple Hoffendorf, where they witnessed a review of 26,000 of the Emperor's army guards. Every man of this picked body was over six feet in height. Even among the advocates of peace the martial spirit was stirred by the review the American delegates were received by the Emperor, Mr. Bartholdt, carried on the shoulders of the Emperor's men, who had witnessed was not entirely suggestive of peace and the purpose for which the conference had been held. Laying his hands on Bartholdt's shoulder, the Emperor replied: "My dear Mr. Bartholdt, the best arbitration possible is to have your battalions always ready."

One Rip Van Winkle.

Now and then a man comes back to congress after an interval so long that, like Rip Van Winkle, he is unable to recognize anything about the house or anybody who ever knew him or heard of before. General H. H. Sherwood, of Toledo, Ohio, who defeated James H. Southard last fall, was on the floor this week looking the house over and getting acquainted with the body in which he served back in the days of the Civil War. When he was there, General Sherwood could find only one, and that man is now speaker of the house. Gen. Sherwood spent some time in the speaker's private room exchanging reminiscences of the old days. In the course of which "Uncle Joe" gave him some valuable tips on how to handle the house had changed, but how the methods of conducting the public business had been transformed so that it made little difference what one particular individual happened to think of things. Inasmuch as General Sherwood is a democrat the speaker will not have any trouble in combating his personal ideas.

Hunting for Trouble.

"I've lived in California 20 years, and am still hunting for trouble in the way of burns, scalds, wounds, boils, cuts, sprains, or a case of piles that Bucklen's Arnica Salve won't quickly cure," writes Charles Walters, of Allegheny, Sierra county. No use hunting, Mr. Walters; it cures every case. Guaranteed by all druggists.

FASHIONABLE MARRIAGE

IN NEW YORK CITY.

New York, Feb. 27.—The marriage of Arthur Delano Weeks, Jr., and Miss Dorothy Lee Higginson took place today in the chantry of Grace church. Only relatives and a few friends attended the ceremony which was followed by an informal reception at the home of the bride's parents. Both are well known in society, the bride being an heiress and daughter of the well known banker, James J. Higginson. The honeymoon will be spent in Florida.

Gas in the Stomach.

Belching and that sense of fullness so often experienced after eating is caused by the formation of gas. The stomach fails to perform its functions and the food ferments. ## YESTERDAY'S DOINGS AT THE CAPITAL

Substitute for Council Bill No. 7 Is Passed by Council.

MINOR MATTERS DISPUTED

New Bills Introduced and Others Have Final Reading.

THE COUNCIL.

Twenty-sixth Day—Tuesday Morning. Pursuant to adjournment the council was called to order at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday morning. President Spies in the chair. The chaplain offered the invocation, and all answered present. The journal of the previous day was approved without reading, on motion duly seconded and carried.

The committee on enrolled and engrossed bills reported that council bill No. 51 had been duly enrolled and engrossed.

The committee on judiciary reported favorably on council bill No. 49—an act relative to annual reports by corporations. Upon motion, duly seconded and carried, the report was adopted.

The same committee reported unfavorably upon council bill No. 7—an act to punish certain crimes. A substitute bill was recommended for passage. Upon motion, duly seconded and carried, the report of the committee was adopted.

The following new bill was introduced:

Council bill No. 63, by Mr. Duncan—an act defining property rights of husband and wife. The bill was read the first and second time by title and ordered translated, printed and referred to the committee on judiciary.

A message from the house was received.

Chief Clerk Staplin, of the house, reported that the house had passed house substitute for house bill No. 53, an act relative to the exchange of real estate records of the counties of Colfax and Union. Also house bill No. 59, an act to amend section 3340 of the laws of 1907, relative to jurisdiction of justices of the peace; also house bill No. 76, an act relative to the issuance of worthless checks; also house bill No. 83, an act to amend section 2402, of the laws of 1897, relative to discrimination against saloonkeepers in the matter of business licenses; also house bill No. 85, relative to the sale of liquors on trains; also house joint resolution No. 7, which provides for the pay of extra employees and contingent expenses of the legislature.

The following bill came up for second reading:

Council bill No. 61, by Mr. Dalles—an act relative to special levies. The bill was then referred to the committee on education.

The following bills came up on their third reading:

Council substitute for council bill No. 7—an act for the punishment of certain crimes. The bill was read the third time by title. Mr. Martinez and Mr. Miera objected because they said the bill had not been read in full. Mr. Dalles moved that the substitute bill "do now pass." Mr. Miera wanted the bill read again, but the chair ruled that he was out of order, as the bill was on its passage. Mr. Martinez was given unanimous consent to reserve his voice, and the chief clerk read the roll. The substitute bill then passed the council, the vote being 11 ayes, no nays. Upon motion, duly seconded and carried, the council voted to table the original bill indefinitely.

Council bill No. 49—an act to repeal section 48 of chapter 79 of the acts of the thirty-sixth legislative assembly, except sub-division 3, page 162—was read the third time. This bill relates to annual reports of corporations. Upon motion, duly seconded, the bill then passed the council, the vote being unanimous.

Substitute bill for house bill No. 23—an act relative to the transfer of real estate records of the counties of Colfax and Union—was read the first and second time by title. The rules were suspended upon motion, duly seconded and carried, and the bill was read the third time in full, preparatory to its passage. Upon motion of Mr. Murray the substitute bill then passed the council by unanimous vote.

The following bills were read the first and second time by title and referred to committees:

Amended house bill No. 83—an act relative to discrimination against saloonkeepers in granting business licenses. Referred to the committee on territorial affairs.

House bill No. 59—an act relative to jurisdiction of justices of the peace. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

House bill No. 95—an act relative to the sale of liquors on trains. Referred to the committee on railroads.

House bill No. 76—an act relative to the issuance of worthless checks. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

House joint resolution No. 7, providing for the pay of extra employees and contingent expenses of the legislature, was read in full and upon motion of Mr. Martinez, the resolution passed the council, the only dissenting vote being that of Mr. Cameron.

The president announced that he had signed council bill No. 51—an act relative to the filling of vacancies in county offices.

On motion of Mr. Duncan, seconded and carried, the council then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

THE HOUSE.

Twenty-sixth Day—Tuesday Afternoon.

Pursuant to adjournment the house met yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Speaker Baca in the chair. The chaplain offered the invocation and the chief clerk read the roll. All answering present except Mr. Aldrich, excused owing to illness. The journal, on motion duly seconded and carried, was approved without reading.

A message from the council was received. Chief Clerk Martin, of the council, announced that the council had concurred in house joint resolution tion No. 7, providing for the payment of extra employees and contingent expenses. Also that the president of the council had signed council bill No. 51, an act relative to the filling of vacancies in county offices.

Mr. Abbott, of Santa Fe, presented three petitions from residents of Hagerman, East Las Vegas and Deming, favoring the educational bill. They were referred to the committee on education.

Reports of standing committees were received. Speaker Baca introduced the only bill in the house yesterday. It was house bill No. 131—an act relative to the Manzano land grant. The bill was read the first and second time by title and ordered translated, printed and referred to the committee on territorial affairs.

House bill No. 26—an act providing for the building of a brick wall, sidewalks and stairs at the Santa Fe county jail—was reported favorably by the committee on finance, and upon motion of Mr. Beach the report was adopted. The bill was read the third time in full, and upon motion of Mr. Green passed the house without opposition.

A number of other bills were reported by the committees having them in charge and acted upon by the house.

At 4 o'clock the house adjourned until 2 p. m. today.

BIG BURROS FOR REST RESERVE FORMED

182,000 Acres of Timber Are Saved—Notaries Public Appointed.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 27.—Forest Supervisor Leon F. Knipp this morning received a copy of President Roosevelt's proclamation creating the Big Burros forest reserve bearing date of February 6, 1907. This new forest reserve is situated in Grant county in the Burro mountains. The northwestern boundary touches the Gila river. The domain embraced is 270 square miles of 173,800 acres.

Notaries Public Appointed.

The following have been appointed notaries public by Governor Hagerman:

James H. Taylor, of Kelly, Socorro county; Berna, Diego, of Manzano, Torrance county; Robert R. Miller, of Texico, Roosevelt county; J. A. Tatum, of Cloudero, Otero county; Mauro Gallegos of Arroyo Seco, Taos county; C. A. Nyhus of Raton, Colfax county.

Corporation Increases Capital.

The Citizens Ditch and Irrigating company, which has its principal place of business at Aztec, San Juan county, has filed amended articles of incorporation in the office of Territorial Secretary J. W. Reynolds. The only material change is in the capital stock, which is increased from $35,000 to $75,000.

HOLLINGSWORTH TWINS AT ELKS' OPERA HOUSE

A show at a dollar or a dollar and a half must be good to get your money's worth—a show at 15, 25 and 35 cents can be just as good and please you as much or more because the admission price is not so high. Such is the Huston-Franklin Dramatic company, featuring the little Hollingsworth Twins. There is something doing all the time, if not an act of a good play, then a high class specialty, or an illustrated song, or an interesting picture, or a troop of trained dogs, the specials alone being worth the admission price. There is an entire change of bill each night during the week's engagement. Admission 15, 25 and 35 cents.

Elks' theater, week of February the 25th. Matinee Saturday.

KANSAS CITY MARKET IS ACTIVE

Cattle Prices Show Slight Advance in Face of Moderate Supply.

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City, Feb. 25.—The cattle market closed last week in fairly good shape, all classes making a small advance for the week. The run was less than we have been having, and the supply today is again moderate at 11,000 head. Prices today are steady to strong, with cows and country grades showing the most strength, as usual. Fed steers make up a large proportion of the supply, but the aggregate of that class is not excessive, and the supply appears to be slackening up a little each week. Supply of cows and heifers are hardly equal to the demand, and call for country grades is strong at all times, so that the general outlook is good, from the sellers standpoint. Top fed cattle here in the last week sold at $6.00 to $6.40, bulk of corn fed steers at $4.00 to $5.50, cows $5.00 to $4.50, heifers $2.50 to $4.50, a few choice heifers at $4.75 to $5.25, bulls $3.00 to $4.15, calves $2.25 to 7.50, stockers $2.75 to $4.60, feeders $4.00 to $5.15. A shipment of Idaho hay fed steers, 1000 lbs., sold, to go to the country, late last week at $4.75. Offerings from the range country have been scarce lately.

Sheep receipts have been liberal for the past week, and the run is good today, at 15,000 head. Prices declined 10 to 20 cents last week and the market is 10 cents lower today, but trade is active, and the demand equal to the supply. Receipts have been falling short of those of this period last year and killers have had difficulty in securing enough for economical shipment of their product. In view of the heavy slaughter of cattle and hogs this month, good lambs are selling today at $7.05 to $7.25, one lot of good to choice lambs at $7.30 today, similar to the lambs shipped in by Mr. Fulkerson last week, from Producers weighing 3 to 4 lbs., and selling at $7.35 to $7.50 on different days. Lambs weighing 65 lbs., or less are selling at $6.65 to $7.00. Yearlings sell at $6.25 to $6.40, wethers $5.25 to $5.50, ewes $4.50 to $5.10. A few feeding lambs sold readily last week at $6.25 to $6.75.

Lorenz, Monte Vista, Colo.—298 lambs, 67 lbs., $7.15.

Colt & A. Las Animas, Colo.—708 lambs, 64 lbs., $7.00; 181 ewes, 73 lbs., $4.85; 41 yearlings, 72 lbs., $6.50.

Three loads of Idaho hay fed steers arrived Wednesday, and sold to feeders buyers, 80 head, 1000 lbs., at $4.75.

A "NEW THEOLOGY" EXCITES ENGLAND

REV. R. J. CAMPBELL, PASTOR OF CITY TEMPLE, LONDON, CREATES A SENSATION WITH RADICAL DOCTRINES.

THE THEOLOGY TEACHES:

That Christ was the son of a human father.

That He did not suffer in order that the sins of the world might be forgiven.

That the doctrine of eternal punishment is not true.

That every man is finally perfected through suffering.

That there is no real distinction between humanity and deity.

Special Correspondence.

London, Feb. 27.—England is agog over the "New Theology," this name being given the doctrines of Rev. R. J. Campbell, pastor of the City temple.

REV. R. J. CAMPBELL. London pastor who has caused a great sensation with a "New Theology."

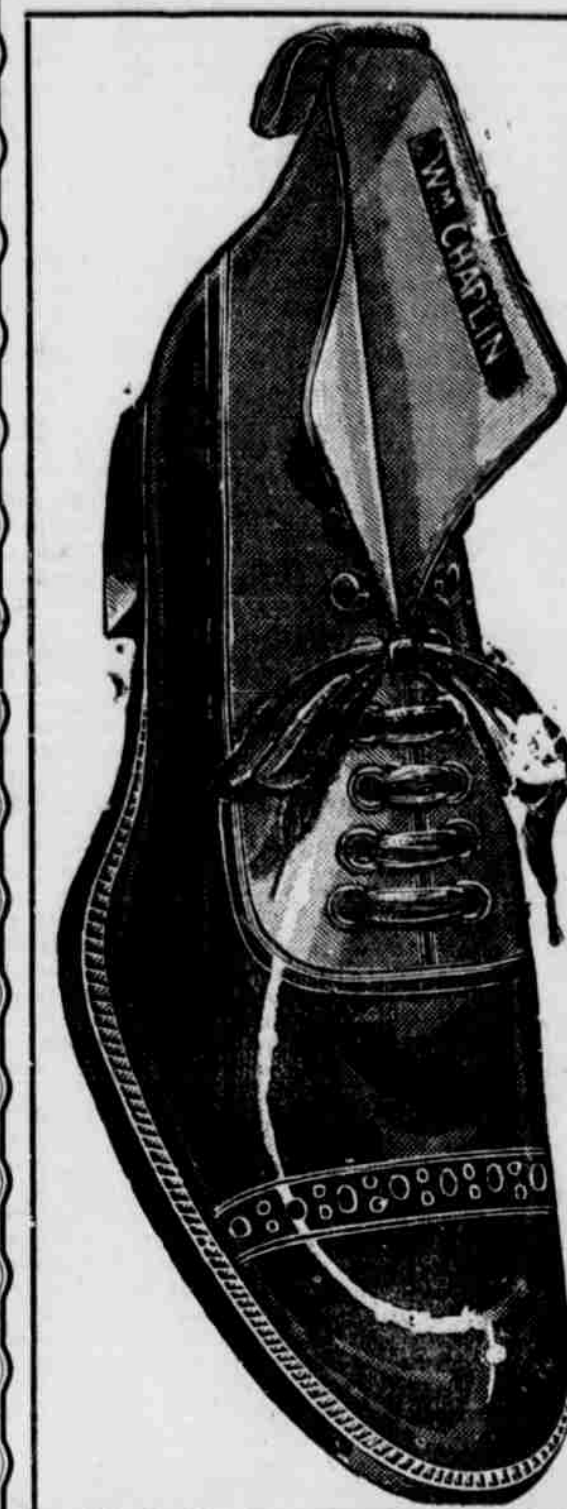

ple, London, and the greatest non-conformist leader of England. He is a Congregationalist, and has so far not resigned his charge.

The principal tenets of the "New Theology" are explained as follows by him:

"The starting point of the New Theology is belief in the immanence of God, and the essential oneness of God and man. We believe man to be the revelation of God, and the universe to mean only the self-manifestation of God. There is no real distinction between humanity and deity."

"It looks upon Jesus as the perfect example of what humanity ought to be. Every man is a potential Christ. Evil is a negative rather than a positive term. It is the shadow where the light ought to be. The New Theology believes itself to be in harmony with science. It is therefore in sympathy with the scientific criticism of the Bible, which it handles as freely and as critically as it would any other book. It believes that the seat of religious authority is within, not without, the human soul."

RECLAMATION SERVICE

The appropriation of $1,000,000 by congress to commence work on the Engle dam of the Elephant butte project, firmly establishes the destiny of the Mesilla valley as the loveliest and most fertile garden spot in all the southwest, and Las Cruces as its metropolis with a population of 50,000 in a few decades.

The national reclamation act was the wisest piece of legislation and the most profitable investment that the nation has ever made. About $40,000,000 have accumulated under this act without increasing the tax burden of the nation at all, for it is derived from the proceeds of the public lands in the public land states. Almost $40,000,000 has been appropriated for the reclamation of 1,200,000 acres of soil that otherwise would be barren.

This is five times as much land as New Mexico had under cultivation in the census year of 1900, when the value of its agricultural products alone exceeded $10,000,000 or more than the product of all its mines and all of its ranges taken together. These 1,200,000 acres will support 300,000 families in comfort, or a population of 1,500,000, or more than are to be found today in New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Wyoming and Utah taken together.

In time every spring, every well, every arroyo, every underground reservoir and stream will receive the attention of the reclamation service and in that day, New Mexico, instead of being nine-tenths arid and uncultivated, will have more and better farms than the state of Illinois, and the product of its farms alone will annually exceed twenty times the total present assessed valuation of the territory.—New Mexican.

PEOPLE MUST RULE

The morning anti-republican organ seems to have run out of its usual supply of slander and libel, to judge by its issue today. Even the long-legged end man of that paper's aggregation of burnt cork artists, is more than usually flat, stale and unprofitable.

Evidently the organ of greed, graft and malice has concluded that in the matter of electing district attorneys, discretion is the better part of valor, and today it is as dumb on that question as could be the proverbial oyster. It knows that not only the majority of the people of the territory demand the election of all officers not appointed from Washington, but that the people of Bernalillo county as largely and heartily favor it as do the people of the other counties. This is the reason why this county was so largely in favor of statehood. Government of the people, by the people and for the people, is the watchword of republicanism, nationally and territorially, and this is the reason why the legislature is trying to restore to the people of New Mexico the right and privilege of selecting their own officials. Men like Vanderbilt and papers like the greed-seeking morning organ, may say, "the public be damned," or that they are incapable of self-government, or that they are too ignorant or too corrupt to elect their own officers; but the people know the cause of such contention and spurn it with contempt and indignation. It is a poor bird which fouls its own nest, and it is the very poorest and most contemptible of all possible parasites, which in the hope of some financial gain, tries to create the impression that all the leading men of the territory, whose neighbors and friends have selected them as members of the legislature and as leaders of the dominant political party, are cut-throats, thieves, liars and blackguards. Yet the morning paper of this town is engaged in this disreputable task.

Thomas A. Edison says he will stop work when he is 60 years of age and devote the rest of his time to "play." Certainly if any American deserves a play time it is Edison. He has been doing more of the world's work than whole regiments of men. But can he stop? Can the wrinkles in the abundant gray matter of that wise head be massaged into quietude? It has taken forty years of mental strain to build up those convolutions. Can they be ironed out in a day or two? Certainly not. Because the human brain is not built on the stop-watch plan. It is impossible for the strenuous brain to break off and "retire." When it tries to do so it begins to die. The wizard's play, of which he speaks, will probably consist of harder work than the average man knows of. Instead of working day and night for stretches at a time, he will probably be content after sixty, with sixteen or eighteen hours a day.

The Citizen is in receipt of a letter from Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, dated at Washington, D. C., in which he says: "In reference to your editorial of the 1st instant, concerning the effect of the Salton sea on the climate of California and Arizona, and regions farther east, permit me to say that the same excess of precipitation that has occurred in the places mentioned by you has also occurred in regions far removed from the influence of the Salton sea. I am strongly of the opinion that the sea is too small in area to have any appreciable effect on the climate of Arizona or New Mexico. It doubtless does affect the humidity and the temperature for a few miles around about it, but it is not of sufficient area to be the controlling factor in the climate of the southwest."

While the morning fifth-slinger had nothing to say today on the election of district attorneys, it could not let the opportunity pass without its usual attempt at besmirching the character, the conduct and even the purposes of the majority in the legislature. Without cause, provocation or the slightest ground for such a charge, other than its own malicious assertion, the morning paper says that it is the intention of the party in power to pass a fake gambling bill, which will be for the purpose of allowing gambling, while professedly for the purpose of preventing it. Does any one believe that President Spies, Speaker Baca, or a single member of the legislature would lend himself to such a plan? Only the infected mind of the organ could so malign or assert.

The Daily Citizen seems to persist in assuming that the people are not possessed of ordinary intelligence.—Morning Journal. Cheer up, Danny. We didn't say it, though your al-leg-ation that we did is one of the things "naturally to be expected." We have only "seemed to persist in assuming" that the will of the majority of his con-sit-tuents should have some bearing on the vote of a leg-is-lative rep-re-sen-ta-tive. That's all, Danny. Now, run out and play.

Although Mr. Holt was named as regent, he still has an interest (over $2,000) in the Agricultural college.—Morning Journal. Wouldn't it be nice to be a born wit and just impossible to keep from perpetrating such good jokes?

The Las Vegas Optic speaks of the "manifest absurdity of having in more than half the counties of the territory school superintendents who know nothing about school work." Will the Optic kindly mention the thirteen counties it has reference to?

The Citizen returns thanks to the chief clerk of the legislative house, Frank Stapin, for copies of all house bills which have been printed to date.

What is the district attorney bill to us? Nothing but our political head. That is why we are making so much noise about it.—Morning Journal. Why certainly, Danny, we all know that.

A subscriber asks The Citizen to give definitions of altruism and uncanany, and to say why these words are not in the dictionary. The Citizen finds them given in the Standard Dictionary of the English Language, and from that work quotes the following definitions: Altruism—One who advocates or practices altruism. Altruism—in loose usage, the part of conduct or duty that has reference to others, as our fellow men. Uncanny—Wierd, mysterious, unskillful, incautious, unsafe, dangerous.

The Morning Journal has discovered a new word—"pencilaneous"—which is defined as "an interlination made with pencil and expressing a thought or want of thought, never expressed by the man to whom the remark is attributed." In future apologies the Journal will have a neatly sounding, concise, pat term for that chronic trouble, "a mere slip of the pencil, naturally to be expected, Mr. Holt."

Pencilaneousness! It must be a great relief to the Journal to have its trouble diagnosed.

THE GREAT CHILD LABOR PROBLEM FULLY ILLUSTRATED

We publish today a cartoon entitled "The Pursuit of Happiness," drawn by Artist Carl Hurlbut. It represents his conception of the great problem of children. We ask you to consider this picture. We ask you if you think it an exaggeration. Is it not the plain truth in picture?

See the pale, emaciated faces, the pitiful stoop of the shoulders, the lack-luster eyes. What a ghastly spectacle! Children—not your children or our children, perhaps, but somebody's children, leaving the sunshine of life for the midnight depths of living death—no laughter, no happiness of childhood, no joy of life's play-time.

Sometimes a picture says more than words can ever say. Perhaps you remember that great picture exhibited at Chicago—"Breaking Home Ties." Thousands stood before it, silent. It told its own sad story and it told it in such a way that we all understood. We believe Artist Hurlbut's picture tells its story better than our words can. By it the artist considers not only a question of the children who spend their lives in the mines, but he would have you think of the awful injustice done children the world over in the name of money.

If we are worth being loved ourselves we all love a child. We have all been children. We know what it means. But suppose your childhood instead of being spent in the sunshine and under the green trees, had been lived as a mere unit of human energy in a cotton mill, or a coal mine, or a sweatshop—if your childhood had been offered up as a sacrifice on the altar of greed?

The Evening Citizen believes that child labor is the vilest curse of our nation. As best we can we will fight, editorially and in our news columns, to bring avaricious employers face to face with the spectacle of their mistaken or criminal practice. Look upon this truthful picture that we present today, and learn from it your duty to the cause of little children.

NOTHING IS EVER TOO GOOD FOR THESE ANTLERED ELKS

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 26.—In order to assist in accommodating the thousands of Elks who are now planning to attend the annual convention and re-union of Elks which is to be held in this city during the week beginning July 15th, the managers of the Hotel Bellevue-Stratford, one of the largest and most fashionable hotels in this country, has been persuaded to convert the magnificent ball room of the hotel into sleeping quarters. This is the first time since the hotel has been open, that the beautiful ball room, the decorations of which alone cost $10,000, will be put to use, other than that for which it was intended, and the men who were able to persuade the management to this arrangement hail from Kansas City. Two representatives of the popular Missouri lodge were here recently seeking accommodations for their brothers and as they were anxious to be close to the grand lodge headquarters they made up their mind to put up at the Bellevue.

"No room," said the manager, who is himself an Elk, when the visitors applied for terms.

"We'll find room," the westerners replied.

"Where?" asked the manager.

"Let's look," said the cornhuskers.

"Help yourselves," continued mine host and with a guide they made the tour of the mammoth structure.

When they got to the ball room they paused.

"How's this strike you, Bill?" asked delegate No. 1.

"Immense," answered No. 2.

"Impossible," chimed in the guide.

"Impossible, nothing," came the joint retort.

"We'll anchor right here. Call the manager, we'll fix it up right away."

In a few moments the manager stood before them agast.

"Anything you want, brothers," he began, "but don't ask me to turn this ball room into a bedroom."

"Look here, Larry," replied one of the visitors, "this place suits us and we've got to have it."

There was a note of determination in the speaker's voice which appealed to mine host. He hemmed, hawed, and made all sorts of excuses, but he couldn't shake off the men from Missouri and so he capitulated.

Kansas City will have the big ball room and will come here 350 strong, with a band to whom things up. Philadelphia is preparing to "show them."

FORMER PRESIDENT PALMA FAVORS AMERICAN CONTROL

After a long silence Cuba's former president publishes his approval of a protectorate for his uneasy country by the United States. He says:

"During the four years of my administration there was peace and confidence. Public improvements were made, foreign capital flowed into the country to build railways and develop natural resources. There was security and opportunity for all who desired to engage in business, and work for all who wanted to earn an honest living. The country's credit was high and there were millions in the treasury.

"When this position had been attained after much havoc and protracted struggles it was a painful shock to see that the Cuban people had not the patriotism to stand united before the world, but were fomenting dissension and starting a revolution against their own government.

"With the millions in the treasury I could unquestionably have suppressed the revolution, but in doing this I could not prevent the destruction of property or the shedding of Cuban blood by Cubans. It was to avert these calamities that I stood aside to permit the United States to exercise the right and duty it had assumed by preserving Cuban independence and protecting life, property and individual liberty.

"The United States has solemnly assumed the obligation to do this. Americans are a moral people and will, I know, fulfill their obligations. My absolute confidence that they will protect life and property is shown in what I am doing here. When I recovered this place it was barren. With the savings from my salary I have gradually stocked it until I have now about 1,000 head of cattle. With money from the sale of my house in Pleasant Valley, N. Y., I expect to erect a dwelling here for my family and other improvements to make this ranch, my future home, productive.

"Everything I own in the world is exposed right here. I am setting an example of confidence to my neighbors, encouraging them to go to work in the assurance that the Americans will give absolute protection to life and property."

"WE WILL BEGIN AT ONCE TO GIVE MR. ROCKEFELLER'S FUND"

—FREDERICK T. GATES.

DISPENSER OF OIL KING'S IMMENSE GIFT TO EDUCATION MAKES IMPORTANT STATEMENT TO THE CITIZEN—MONEY AVAILABLE NOW AND HE TELLS HOW IT WILL BE GIVEN OUT.

HOW IT WILL ROLL IN.
Daily interest.....$ 4,329.00
Monthly interest.....131,590.40
Yearly interest.....1,579,085.00

(By W. H. Briggs.

Special Correspondence.
New York, Feb. 27.—"You can tell the people of America that we will begin giving Mr. Rockefeller's fund at once."

Frederick T. Gates made this statement in an interview with The Evening Citizen's correspondent at his office, 28 Broadway, in which he described the financial workings of the great fund of $22,000,000 which Mr. Rockefeller has given to the colleges of America to be distributed through the general education board.

Mr. Gates is chairman of the financial committee of the board, and in his hands rests this immense fund. He does not propose to let it remain in his hands long, however. With the other officers of the board he has already begun the distribution to various institutions, west and east and south.

"There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of the public regarding the method in which this money will be given to the colleges," said Mr. Gates. "We have received scores and hundreds of letters from colleges and all kinds of institutions of learning, asking for a portion of this $22,000,000."

"Now the $22,000,000 itself is not to be disbursed. This is a mistake. And it would be a financial mistake to give away the principal of the fund. The income from this $22,000,000 will be paid out through the channels of the board, and we shall begin at once."

"The interest which we will have at our disposal will amount approximately to $4,329 a day—you can figure yourself just what the monthly and yearly income will be. Our income will be permanent and regular."

"One feature which has not been brought before the public so far is the fact that we shall include women's colleges in our list of institutions to be helped. I will say that in this we are anticipating a little, as the board has not yet officially decided on this step nor selected the women's colleges to receive aid from the fund."

"It is impossible for me or for the board to give out at this time the names of the colleges that will receive help from the fund. We have plans for helping hundreds of them. These plans are tentative, and I will say that some of the colleges themselves do not yet know what we have in mind under consideration."

"The board is made up of eight men and in this lies the secret of our economical administration. It cost us about $20,000 last year to administer the funds then in hand, and this cost was very small considering the size of the funds."

HOW A COLLEGE'S REQUEST IS HANDLED BY THE BOARD.
Dr. Butterick, secretary of the general education board, cites the following as a typical case which shows the method of handling a request by a college to be made a beneficiary of the fund:

"The college president, or some member of the board of trustees, writes to the board and asks for an application blank. The reply he receives states that the board has no application blanks and asks him to write out his proposition, giving detailed information about his college, its aims, plans, desires, and a copy of its charter and financial statement."

"The answer nearly always indicates to the board many things which it would be impossible to learn from an answer on a printed blank. The financial statement, its form as well as its substance, often indicating how the institution keeps its books and its ideas of accounting. The description of the college, plus what they want it to be, discloses their ideas of a college."

"Every detail of the information reported, together with the request, is tabulated and filed at the office of the board, so that it can be found within a minute."

A POOR PASTOR ONCE; NOW HANDLES MILLIONS.
Frederick T. Gates is a Baptist minister, 54 years old. His father before him was a Baptist minister on $400 a year. The young man educated himself, and finally was given a charge in Minneapolis.

He showed his administrative ability when in six weeks he raised $50,000 for a small academy in Minnesota, and he was then made chief executive officer of the American Baptist Education society.

In 1889 he was instrumental in persuading Rockefeller to create the University of Chicago. The once poor Baptist preacher then became Rockefeller's right hand man in matters of educational gifts. He lives at Montclair N. J., and is president of thirteen of Rockefeller's corporations.

MALICE MADE AN END OF LOVE BUT CUPID

Sood Found Another Victim— Romantic Story of the Minister From Nicaragua.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Miss India Bell Vedder Fleming, a debutante of a few months and one of the most popular young society women of the national capital, has become the bride of Dr. Don Luis F. Corea, Nicaraguan minister to the United States. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Colonel and Mrs. Robert L. Fleming, the parents of the bride, and was the great event of the year in diplomatic and official society. The guests numbered some of the most important people of Washington, including representatives of nearly every foreign government. Numerous handsome presents were received by the bride, those from the diplomatic representatives of Latin-American countries being especially notable for their magnificence and value.

The bride is the only daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Fleming, who reside at 1406 Massachusetts avenue. Colonel Fleming was a distinguished officer in the confederate army. On her maternal side the new Mrs. Corea is descended from Colonel Vedder, an officer of the regular army and the uncle of Elihu Vedder, the famous painter. The Flemings are wealthy and the bride is heiress to a comfortable fortune. She graduated from a fashionable Washington seminary last June and on December 7 last, made her formal debut in Washington society. She was admitted to the most beautiful debutante of the season and immediately became the center of attraction for a host of admirers. From the time of her first meeting with the swarthy diplomat from Nicaragua an immediate attachment sprang up, which had its culmination in today's wedding.

Mrs. Corea is only twenty years of age, while the groom is nearly forty. Senator Corea came here in 1899 as the representative and protégé of President Zelaya, of Nicaragua, and is one of the best known and most popular Latin-Americans in Washington. From the first he enjoyed the personal friendship of Secretary John Hay, and has since become a decided favorite with President Roosevelt. He is a man of culture and refinement, an accomplished linguist, handsome of face and courtly of bearing, and these attributes immediately made him popular in diplomatic and official circles. His history in Washington has been a series of successes, except in one instance, which came near ending his diplomatic and social career. That was when he was jilted by a handsome and wealthy widow, then Mrs. Hah Dunlap Jordan, of Macon, Ga., now Mrs. John D. Little. Mrs. Jordan broke her engagement with Dr. Corea, principally because of rumors to the effect that he had negro blood in his veins. As a loyal southern woman she feared that she could not be happy with Corea when such a doubt existed in her mind, and consequently gave him up.

Dr. Corea, however, was not discouraged by this rejection. He continued his diplomatic career, and in 1904 was appointed minister to the United States. He has since that time been a constant presence in Washington society, and his popularity has increased with each passing year.

Dr. Corea is a man of great energy and determination. He has a strong sense of duty and is always ready to sacrifice for the good of his country. He is also a man of great charm and is always ready to make a friend of every one who meets him.

HOUSE OF LORDS ONLY FIFTH WHEEL

Lords Spiritual as Usual Are the Most Ultra Conservative in Every Way.

London, Feb. 27.—If the movement for the abolition of the house of lords, begun in earnest with the opening of parliament two weeks ago, has frightened the members of that august body and caused them to resolve to lead better and more useful lives, the English public knows nothing of it. If appearances count for anything, the lords are determined to adhere to their obstructive tactics, to the bitter end, if need be. Many of them have openly expressed their contempt for the "blatant demagogues" of the house of commons and declared that they would neither ask nor accept any compromise in the coming fight. Apparently it is to be war to the knife and the knife to the hilt, with a combination between the crown and the people to defeat the nobles. In case of a popular uprising against the lords, there is little doubt that King Edward will take his stand with the people. Edward is decidedly enamored of the king job and is not likely to put the future of himself and the royal family in jeopardy for the sake of a gang of headstrong aristocrats who don't know on which side their bread is buttered.

The house of lords as at present composed consists of three princes of the royal family, two archbishops and twenty-four bishops or lords spiritual, twenty-two dukes, twenty-three marquises, thirty-five viscounts, sixteen Scottish and twenty-eight Irish peers, 125 earls and 316 barons, a total of 593 members. Not since parliament convened, however, has there been anything even faintly resembling such an assembly of nobles. The average attendance since the session began has been less than forty. The presence of thirty members is sufficient to decide the most important matters, and three lords can form a house and transact business of minor importance.

As a legislative body the lords of England are not given to the strenuous life advocated by a certain famous American. The lords "sit" at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and they usually "rise" at 4:30, the average session lasting only about thirty minutes. Upon several days in the week the lords are in session for ten or fifteen minutes.

The lords look down with supreme contempt upon the impassioned debaters of the house of commons, who swing their arms and talk as if they were really in earnest. Any exhibition of enthusiasm and earnestness is frowned upon by the lords, who look upon it as a breach of etiquette meriting expulsion, if that were possible without effort. The "debates" are carried on in low, sing-song tones, wholly without inflection or intelligent expression—a monotonous drawl, at a slight distance like the buzzing of bees on a window pane. It is not uncommon to see supposedly dignified nobles sound asleep on the lounge, called benches, supplied by an indulgent government for their convenience.

"During the four hundred years of its existence," said a certain famous cabinet member not long ago, "the house of lords has never contributed one iota to the popular freedom, or anything to advance the common weal; on the contrary, it has protected every abuse and sheltered every privilege, denying justice and delaying reform."

If this is true of the hereditary nobles, it is doubly true of the archbishops and bishops, the lords spiritual of the house. Every reform measure has met with their determined and at times spiteful opposition. The bill granting the people the right of suffrage was fought by the religious members, who voted solidly against it. At one time there were over 200 offenses punishable with death on the statute books of England. Every bill to abolish capital punishment for small offenses has been passed in spite of the opposition of the lords spiritual, not one of whom has ever voted in favor of such a measure. It is by such tactics as these that the bishops have involved the house of lords in the fight on the house of lords, and it is more than likely that it will fall with its creator.

It Was a Famous Victory.
On the eve of the German Reichstag elections these dispatches announced that the socialists were certain of a great increase in their vote. Since that time the cables have been kept hot with particulars regarding the Kaiser's "famous victory." The socialists' representation in the present Reichstag, it is announced with a great flourish of trumpets, is only forty-three, as against seventy-nine in the previous Reichstag. In spite of this, however, it is to be noted that the socialist popular vote was 2,600,000, an increase of a quarter million. The Kaiser's victory over the reds was a glorious one, if what Americans term "graft" is ever glorious.

COMBINING TO ENGINE CREW MAKE LAW ODIOUS

STEAL LOCO- MOTIVE

Commission Denies Merchant Rates Are Prohibited. Roads Would Deceive.

Washington, Feb. 27.—In the opinion of members of the interstate commerce commission the railroads of the country are engaged in a systematic effort to render the new law obnoxious in the eyes of the people. Many of the roads are imposing new and harsh conditions on their patrons and are doing away with conveniences and privileges that have existed for years, claiming as the reason for the changed condition that it is made mandatory by the rate law.

Protests are pouring into Washington against the unjust and absurd rules and regulations which various roads are putting into effect. Some of these rulings are sweeping in their provisions, and have subjected shippers and passengers to no end of annoyance. In many instances they have seriously interfered with business. When objection is made to the railroads by angry shippers and others who have been made to suffer the reply is always the same: "We are very sorry, but this is made necessary by the new rate law."

"I think that while the railroads are trying to obey the law as a whole," said a member of the interstate commerce commission, "speaking of the numerous complaints that are coming in, 'great many of them are trying to make it odious. We are constantly receiving letters from persons asking if certain new rules established by roads are required by the rate law. We have replied in a great many instances by saying there is nothing in that law which would by any stretch of imagination be construed as requiring the new regulations. The roads are undoubtedly cutting off a great many accommodations that have existed for a long time for the purpose of exciting popular feeling against the rate law."

"We have been getting letters from many persons in the west, saying that railroads are declining to make the usual merchants' excursion rates, for the reason that orders of the interstate commerce commission prevent. This, of course, is not true. The custom of making special rates into the big cities for the benefit of merchants has long been in effect. It is a very important reduction to a great many persons, and means big business for the cities. This year most of the western roads have declined to make these special rates."

"There is nothing in the rate law which prevents excursions. On the contrary, we have made rules and regulations for the filing of excursion tariffs and have given the roads the greatest possible latitude in making them. The roads are putting on the rate law the responsibility for other hardships, which they are imposing upon shippers. For instance, they have declined to permit shippers to reconsign their cars. They have also declined to issue through bills of lading where they had previously issued them.

LEFT NAILS LONG TO SCRAPE SKELETONS WITH

Our various Indian tribes formerly disposed of their dead in different ways, some of which seem to us very strange and curious. Some buried the body in the ground as we do, others wrapped it in mats like a mummy and laid it away in a cave, or in a dead-house where a priest was always on guard day and night to keep off the wild beasts. The Nanticoke and Choctaw first buried the body for a short time until the flesh had decayed, then had the body taken up and separated and carefully scraped by old men, who keep their fingernails long for this purpose, after which the bones hung up in a bag in the wigwam or preserved in a box under the bed platform. The Yuma and other tribes of the Colorado river cremated the body, while the prairie tribes generally laid it away on a scaffold or in the branches of a tree, where it gradually dried up and at last fell to pieces. The property of the dead person was always buried or destroyed with the corpse.—Southern Workman.

Passengers Took Live Engine Leaving Dead One Behind. A Clever Theft.

"Go as far as you can," may be a good rule to follow in railroading and some of the old-timers on the roads say it is the way they work, says a dispatch from Arkansas City, Kan. This rule evidently is in effect on the Midland Valley and the railroad men there seem to have no set rules to follow in making a short cut to the end of the general principle. Sunday morning about 1 o'clock the Midland Valley train, due here Saturday afternoon, arrived with its load of human freight. The train was several hours late and the delay may be traceable to the rule mentioned. At Nology, the northbound train met the southbound passenger train, which was stalled there with a dead engine. The northbound train stopped for dinner and the engineer left his engine while he went into the lunch room for a lunch. He stayed until he had finished his meal and when he returned to his train prepared to bring it north. Arkansas City he found that the fireman was there, but he was short one locomotive.

The engine crew on the southbound train simply boarded the engine attached to the northbound train, hooked it onto their own train and with a snort or two of defiance moved away toward Muskogee, or wherever the road runs.

The engineer and other members of the crew on the northbound train were pretty mad, but this nettled them little satisfaction. The engine which they had thought was their own property for the purpose of carrying on the business of the road, was traveling toward the south with the other crew's train.

NEGOTIATIONS REACH AN ACUTE STATE

Negotiations between railroad managers and representatives of the trainmen and conductors have reached an acute stage, and unless better terms are offered to the employees this morning the conference will be declared closed, says the Topeka State Journal. The issue involves all railroads in the country running west of Chicago, and affects approximately 50,000 men. A communication has been sent to the managers from representatives of the employees stating that if the railroads had not agreed to offer them they have up to this time the negotiations will be broken off and the question submitted to the rank and file for a vote.

The offer of the railroads is understood to be less than a 10 per cent increase in wages and no reduction in the working hours. The conductors have been offered an increase of 30 cents a day and the trainmen 20 cents. The demands were for a 15 per cent increase in wages, and an eight-hour day on all through freight trains.

If the managers refuse to yield the rank and file of both organizations of trainmen and conductors will be asked to ratify the action of the committees and place the power to order a strike in the hands of the executive officers in accordance with the constitution.

"There is nothing that I can say on the subject," said P. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, "except that we are to have another meeting with the managers. I cannot say when a settlement will be reached."

While refusing to give any details of the meeting it was evident from the manner of the conference that they considered that some progress had been made and that the danger point had temporarily been passed. After the conference with the managers the 200 delegates representing the trainmen and conductors, met at the Sherman house and presented P. H. Morrissey with a Navajo blanket valued at $400. In making the presentation speech Vice President Newman said the trainmen did not want their leader to get "cold feet" at this stage of the negotiations and the blanket might avert any such possibility.

CAR SHORTAGE WORSE; FRUIT SHIPMENTS DELAYED

The orange shipments from Redlands, Cal., for the week amounted to ninety-five cars, against 173 cars for the corresponding week of last year. All week local packing houses at that place were full of fruit ready for shipment and waiting only the delivery of cars. Had the shippers obtained all the cars, wanted the shipments would have exceeded 200 cars, according to leading men of the trade. This shows the extent of the car shortage.

Shipments for the future must average 200 cars daily, according to Redlands shippers, get the navy crop marketed in time. The Southern Pacific officials promise that within the next thirty days they will have 5,000 cars at their disposal and will market the crop all right. The Santa Fe shows no improvement, Friday delivering no cars and Saturday only two.

The total shipments from Redlands for the season amount to 1,055 cars, against 1,404 for the corresponding date last year.

STRIKE THREATENED ON S. P. AND BURLINGTON RAILROADS

Employees in all branches of the service on the Southern Pacific are united in their opposition to the new rule which was put into effect, requiring physical examination. Representatives of the employees say that the rule will be tolerated and that should it be rigorously enforced a general strike is in prospect. The rule requires that all employees shall submit to physical examination. The men declare that the examination, as proposed, would be humiliating, as well as unnecessary, and they give warning that they will not obey the rule.

The state of Missouri is enforcing a sleeping car bill, which provides as follows: On distances over 200 miles, $1.50 for lower and $1.25 for upper berth; on distances between 200 and 400 miles, $2 for lower and $1.75 for upper berth. With the exception of the difference between the upper and the lower berth, this is the schedule the Pullman company has placed in force since this bill was introduced at the opening of the session.

Two freight trains came together at Thatcher, Colo., yesterday morning at 2:35 o'clock. Engine 1053 was pulling the west bound train and engine 1106 and 1152 were on the east bound freight, all three engines being damaged. Engineer H. Backley suffered a strained ankle and an unknown tramp who was stealing a ride, was killed. Several cars were damaged but the track was cleared in a few hours.

The cases of the Union Pacific and Burlington railroad companies against the various county treasurers of the state of Nebraska involving the tax rate on the property of the railroads and calling into question the administration of the Nebraska state tax law, were decided adversely to the railroads by the supreme court of the United States. The decision was announced by Justice Holmes.

Arthur W. Stewart, who has been working for a short time as electrical inspector of the Santa Fe at Chicago, has been transferred to Ash Fork, Ariz., where he will become electrician for the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix. He will leave for Prescott in a few days where he will inspect some new cars for that road and will later go to Ash Fork, where he will take up his new duties.

In the opinion of Julius Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation for the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, "loyal co-operation between the railroads and the public is necessary, if the car shortage is to be solved." This, he adds, "will be realized gradually as the investigation dies away and the public sees the situation clearly."

ASSESSOR CASE ARGUED AND SUBMITTED

Supreme Court Disposes of 15 Cases First Day—Three Admitted to Practice.

The following cases came up for consideration yesterday at Santa Fe: No. 1195—United States of America, appellee, vs. Jesus M. Medina, appellant. Motion to dismiss appeal was argued and submitted.

N. H. Andrus has been appointed official watch inspector for the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe. He will probably depart south tomorrow, on his first inspection trip. Mr. Andrus will establish an office on Gold avenue, opposite The Evening Citizen, where he will be pleased to meet his numerous friends.

The condition of E. C. Salazar, father-in-law of Modesto Ortiz, who has been ill of dysentery at his home in Old Albuquerque since last November is regarded as serious. He has suffered several relapses since he was forced to take to his bed. Yesterday his condition indicated slight improvement. Today he is not so well.

The old carpets have been removed from the office floors of the district clerk, sheriff and treasurer at the Bernalillo county court house. The new carpets, which will take the place of the old ones, are expected to arrive any day. One of the officials at the court house remarked this afternoon, "They are a long time coming."

G. W. Lupton, well known as trainmaster on the first and second districts of the Winslow division, has been ordered to San Francisco, presumably for the purpose of taking charge of the San Francisco terminals of the Santa Fe. The change is a promotion. Mr. Lupton left for 'Frisco last night.

TUBERCULOSIS EXHIBITION OPENS IN MAINE.

Portland, Me., Feb. 27.--What is called a tuberculosis exhibition opened here today at which are exhibits showing the causes of the disease, methods to be adopted to prevent it and its different kinds of cures. A number of physicians have volunteered their services to guide visitors about and explain the exhibits to them. At four o'clock each afternoon while the exhibition remains open there will be a lecture on tuberculosis, illustrated by stereopticon views, by some of the leading physicians in the state. The principal lecture will be given by Dr. Vincent P. Bowditch, of Boston, who was the first medical man to demonstrate that tuberculosis can be cured at home. His father endowed the sanatorium at Sharon and they have carried it on for seventeen years. The exhibition is being held under the auspices of the National Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CON-NECTICUT MUTUAL LIFE.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 27.--At the sixty-first annual meeting of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company today, President Taylor made an appeal for the abolition, or reduction, of taxes which, he said, cost the companies reporting to New York in 1905 enough to pay for $222,000,000 of additional insurance, and will cost $1,900,000 more than one-quarter of all the dividends. He further stated that if the companies continued their normal growth and penalties are not changed they will be obliged to pay during the next ten years more than $100,000,000 to the government. The annual report of the directors showed that the business of the company continues very satisfactory, its holdings of mortgages and other real estate interests being materially reduced, and in every case realizing a substantial profit on the cost to the company.

20,000 TROOPS TO STOP REBELLION IN CHINA.

Shanghai, Feb. 27.--Twenty-thousand troops have been dispatched to the central provinces to prevent a junction between the rebels of Hunan and Kwangtung. Sun Yat Sen, the Kwangtung rebel leader, who escaped from the Chinese legation in London a few years ago in a sensational manner, is in full charge of the rebels. The movement is directed against the present Manchu dynasty at Peking, and is assuming alarming proportions. Signs of unrest are reported from all over the country for it is feared that the full strength of the imperial forces will not be able to cope with the rebels. An outbreak is daily expected in Manchuria, where a battalion of Chinese troops have murdered its officers and joined the rebels. Exceptional precautions have been taken at Peking and the royal palace is doubly guarded. Foreigners are arriving here from all the provinces.

D'Emery's great dramatic romance, "The Two Orphans," at the Elks' theater tonight. The Hollingsworth Twins in the leading roles, supported by the full strength of the company. 15, 25, 35c.

Home Insurance the Best

WE CANNOT refrain from again saying something about Home Insurance. Every time that the proposition presents itself of the tremendous amount of money that is being sent out of New Mexico and Arizona for life insurance to eastern cities, the conviction comes home with increased force that a home company ought to be patronized and the money remain in the West.

The revelations of the past year of the way the enormous surplus of the big Eastern companies has been handled and speculated with ought to emphasize the fact that the people of the West should stop pouring their money into Eastern channels when it can be placed in home insurance, and every dollar of it kept and invested at home.

It is gratifying to note that home insurance is year by year receiving more and more its just deserts. Statistics show that during the past year home companies far exceeded foreign companies in the amount of business written. Why cannot this same record be made here? It can if every individual who takes out a policy the coming year will carefully weigh the proposition of the value it is to keep his insurance at home before he puts his name to the application of any insurance company.

The Occidental Life Insurance Company of New Mexico and Arizona is owned and controlled by the leading business men of the two territories, and offers exceptional opportunities to ambitious and capable men and women to sell its policies.
