TWENTY PERSONS DROWNED IN A TERRIFIC CLOUDBURST IN WEST PENNSYLVANIA

ENTIRE VILLAGES ARE SWEEPED AWAY BY WALLS OF WATER DOWN NARROW STREAMS IN MINING DISTRICTS—WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE AMONG THOSE MISSING—IMMENSE LOSS TO RAILROAD PROPERTIES ARE REPORTED

AVALANCHE OF WATER CAME WITHOUT WARNING FOLLOWING SEVERE HOT SPELL

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 2.—Twenty persons are known to have been drowned and many others are missing following a series of storms which swept over western Pennsylvania and the Panhandle of West Virginia early today. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Panhandle railroad were badly washed and it is stated that days will pass before traffic can be resumed. Through trains were marooned during the night in the flooded districts. Many manufacturing plants are under water and the property damage will be heavy.

Reports from Colliers, in the Panhandle of West Virginia, are that nine persons have been drowned there and many more are missing, but the exact loss of life cannot yet be ascertained.

Cherry Valley, a mining town on the creek, was flooded within half an hour after the rain began to fall. Foundations of houses were undermined and they toppled over into the flooded streets.

George Gillespie, his wife and four children, were drowned in the house, and the bodies of the children were found on a mattress floating in four or five feet of water.

Cannonsburg, Pa., also suffered from the storm, hardly having recovered from a like experience last week. Chertiers creek overflowed its banks and swept through the town, flooding the railroad and trolley tracks and many of the streets. A number of houses were filled with water, but the residents had received ample warning and hastened to places of safety, but one man who went back to recover some valuable papers was washed in the collapse of his house, and a boy fell into the flood when a porch on which he had taken refuge went down.

A number of children in the community are among the missing and several men, women and children who had taken refuge on the roof of a house in the stream on the edge of Cannonsburg, slipped on the shingles and disappeared in the flood.

At Avella, Washington county, Henry Crews' house was undermined by an ordinary little stream. Mrs. Crews was badly injured and Crews carried her out, but before he could return for the three children they were swept away.

After spending its force south and west of Pittsburg the storm swung north to Butler county, where great damage was done, but so far as known no lives were lost.

Oil derricks were blown down, small streams flooded and scores of persons spent the night in railroad cars, held prisoners between washouts.

The known dead:

Cook White, farmer Burgettstown, Pa.

George Gillespie, his wife and four children, Cherry Valley, Pa.

Mrs. Thorley and daughter, Colliers, W. Va.

Unidentified family of man, woman and three children, Colliers, W. Va.

Ell Hancock, Canonsburg, Pa.

Unidentified foreigner.

Ten year old boy, unidentified.

Three children of John Crews, Avella, Pa.

The storm came after a day of unusual heat and burst with little warning.

The Pittsburg baseball team from Cincinnati was delayed by the Colliers flood, compelling postponement of the morning game with Chicago at Forbes' field. Damage to railroads is very heavy.

The Washington branch of the Panhandle was so badly washed that all the trains were annulled and in spite of the five hundred men rushed from Pittsburg to make repairs it is said several days will elapse before communication will be open with Washington, Pa. The Pittsburg & Cambria division of the Panhandle also suffered severely, fourteen miles of track, between Burgettstown and Cumberland Junction, having been heavily damaged. Through trains are being detoured to Pittsburg over the Ohio River division to Cleveland and Pittsburg.

The Baltimore & Ohio Tracks were flooded in Washington county, but repairs are being made rapidly.

At the time I was not speaking of the tariffs. I meant that I believed large prizes in industry were legitimate in return for honest effort, but that the workmen should have their share."

Colonel Roosevelt read a letter which was handed to him asking his position in regard to socialism.

"I think that a will-o-the-wisp is too light a term to apply to brother Debs," he said in reply. "I think that no working man will get what he seeks from the socialists and that he will be harmed rather than helped by such an association."

STANLEY ON WAR PATH.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 2.—Replying to Col. Roosevelt's St. Johnsbury, Vt., speech, in which the Sherman anti-trust law and the Stanley Steel investigation committee's recommendations in regard thereto were criticized, Representative Stanley, chairman of the committee, issued a long statement last night declaring "the Stanley committee hold no brief for the Sherman act" and that "chairman of the committee has repeatedly said the Sherman law, of and by itself, is not sufficient to remedy existing evils."

"The fact that the law has not been enforced by a republican administration, is, however, no good reason for condemning it," continues the statesman. "The Sherman act fearlessly and capably enforced is a sword; Taft has struck only with the scabbard and Roosevelt never attacked anything in his life except with a horn and a brass drum."

"For the first time since the Sherman act was written, the Stanley committee has proposed amendments with teeth in them."

"Roosevelt himself recently stamped with his unequalled approval the recommendations which now he attempts to discredit by bold assertion devoid of argument."

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 2.—Reports of serious damage from yesterday's flood throughout northern Wisconsin, caused by a cloudburst, were received here today. Six hundred feet of track on the Soo line near Coburn was washed out and a train was thrown off the track, but no cars were overturned and no one was injured. Three inches of rain fell at Medford, and a railroad bridge was dynamited at Wausau to relieve pressure of a cataract.

GREETINGS from GOMPERS

BY SAMUEL GOMPERS.

(President of the American Federation of Labor.) Most of our national holidays are associated with crises in our country's history, with deeds of men who decided great questions. To unite in honoring their work and in contemplation of their patriotism means quickening of devotion to country, the nurturing of emotions of incalculable value. Many of these celebrations are connected with the unusual, but one concerns itself primarily with the things of everyday life—Labor Day. The emotions which lie deepest are those, associated with the common things of daily living—the common life we share with our fellowmen. These things which are so intimately interwoven with our existence that we can scarcely tell where self begins and they cease are generally valued crudely. To assign them their true value requires that we step aside from our egotistic viewpoint and regard these familiar elements externalized, thereby to appreciate how essential is each minutest part to the whole of life, that importance is not absolute but relative.

Labor Day serves this function for organized labor. Innumerable ways devotion to principles and organization are revived—by the intercourse of kindred spirits, the taking stock of achievements, the big, wordless inspiration and feeling of power that grows as comrades march shoulder to shoulder, and feel that they are typifying the common purpose, the uplift of all humanity. It is a day that leaves the workman with a deeper appreciation of what his union has done for him, a keener realization of the necessity of maintaining the organization and more conscientiously performing duties that repetition has made seem commonplace. It is a day that reveals again the truth—that nothing touching human experience can be commonplace.

But the influences from the celebration do not stop with the organized workers. The day carries messages to the unorganized toilers and to the general public. To the former its significance arises from contrasts which serve as a spur to their pride and ambition. The public is afforded an illustration in concrete form of the strength of the movement and the principles for which it stands.

Intellectual and emotional forces are most elusive of measurement, yet it is certain that even the thoughtless, viewing the ranks of strong, earnest men, marching onward with banners on high, cannot but register some impression that will have its bearing in making up that intangible something called public opinion. To the open-minded citizens there drifts in a new realization of the great social force at work that the working people may share opportunities equally with all mankind in order that social justice may prevail.

It is a sacred trust you have, organized men of labor, this bearing and lifting of the burden of the poor. Ours is a high calling that needs strong, true, honest, able men and women to whom "all men count, but none too much."

Samuel Gompers.

VICE TRUST IN NEW YORK IS DESPERATE

New York, Sept. 2.—District Attorney Whitman believes he has sufficient evidence to warrant indictment for a plot by means of the so-called "vice trust" to discredit by false affidavits several of the prosecutor's assistants who have been investigating the graft phase of the Rosenthal case. Word of the plot came to Mr. Whitman yesterday, and it is said several conspirators already have fled from the city. Having failed in this attempt, it is now said the leaders of the underworld will confine their attention to hampering Mr. Whitman at the trial of the alleged Rosenthal murderers and if necessary will attempt to spirit "squealers" out of the city.

Private detectives have placed before Mr. Whitman, information that several leaders of the "vice trust," which runs a chain of disorderly houses here, together with a former state assemblyman and a police captain have raised about $65,000 with which to purchase affidavits that certain county officials, investigating police blackmail, had been guilty of accepting money purposely to obtain convictions against disorderly houses. A private detective working in with the "trust" disclosed the conspiracy.

TRAIN BACKS INTO RAGING TORRENT

Camp Douglas, Wis., Sept. 2.—Four persons were killed in the wreck of train No. 10 on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railroad, which a washout caused by last night's cloudburst, threw into the Lemon-Weir river near Camp Douglas today. Twenty six persons were injured, six seriously.

The dead: Engineer Ralph Thompson. Fireman, Abraham. Mail clerk name not known. Baggageman Lee.

Conductor Lyons and a brakeman are among the seriously injured.

The train was flagged at a tunnel on account of a washout just west of Elroy and later was ordered to back up to Camp Douglas so that the passengers might breakfast. The high bridge and the banks on both sides of the Lemon-Weir river were washed out and the train plunged into the whirling water below.

Sleeping car passengers climbed out through windows, many clad only in nightclothes. The smoking car was carried several hundred feet down stream but all its occupants escaped.

MEXICAN USES SIX SHOOTER

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 2.—With a hatful of ammunition and an automatic 45 revolver, Pablo Aranda, a native of Old Mexico, walked down Silver avenue in this city at noon today, firing at every one he met. Traveling in the middle of the street he walked a block and fired sixteen shots before he was overpowered by a number of his countrymen and delivered to the police. Strange to say no one was hurt though the street was crowded at the time. Aranda was too drunk to explain when taken to jail.

RURAL CARRIERS GET MORE PAY.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 2.—Under authority conferred by the postoffice appropriation bill, Postmaster General Hitchcock today increased the salaries of rural letter carriers on standard routes from $1,000 to $1,100 a year, thus affecting 30,000 men, with proportionate increases to carriers on shorter routes. The order is effective Sept. 30.

This will mean an increased disbursement of $4,000,000 a year. The increase provides rural carriers adequate compensation for additional burdens to be imposed by the Parcel Post system effective January 1.

WILSON GIVES LECTURE ON TEDDY

HE CRITICISES PLATFORM OF PROGRESSIVE PARTY TO WORKMEN AND SAYS UNKIND THINGS OF THE COLONEL

TARIFF IS ISSUE IN HIS OPINION

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Governor Woodrow Wilson today analyzed the third party platform in its relation to the laboring men. The occasion of his speech was a birthday celebration under the auspices of the United Trades and labor council.

It was the first expression from the democratic candidate on the merits of the progressive platform. The governor said that while one hand to be found, "warm sympathy with practically every project of social betterment" that part was merely a "proclamation of sympathy" while the real program lay elsewhere "where the tariff and the trusts are spoken of."

The governor assailed the minimum wage idea, declaring that employers would take occasion to bring their wage scale as nearly as they could down to the level of the minimum permitted by law.

With the idea of a federal commission to regulate monopoly, the governor took emphatic issue. He declared that the plan suggested not only would realize monopoly, but give the chief employers of the country a "tremendous authority behind them." What the employers do will have the license of the federal government, including the right to pay wages approved by the government, but that it always had been policy of "the masters of consolidated industries" to undermine organized labor in a great many ways and that a plan of federal control as advocated by the new party "systematically subordinates working men to monopolies" and "looks strangely like economic mastery over the very lives and fortunes of those who do the daily work of the nation."

Governor Wilson said in part: "Intelligent workmen will ask the men now seeking their votes what they may be expected to do for them. I do not mean for them separately but what they may be expected to do for the country which will entitle them to the confidence of those who perform the daily labor which lies at the bases of all our life."

Most of the answers they get will turn upon the question of tariff duties from which our politics never seem able to get away. On the one hand they will be told that if the democratic party gets into power they may look to see industry and wages go down and employment become harder and harder to find.

They forget that democrats constitute something like half the nation, that democrats are engaged in occupations of every kind, depend upon all sorts of business for their livelihood, share in every interest and enterprise of the country.

It may safely be taken for granted that democrats are not going to destroy themselves economically. These uncomfortable predictions come both from the old line republicans and from the republicans of the new departure who are seeking to build up a third party of their own. From republicans of the old line these forecasts of disaster were to be expected. They have long been their stock in trade. But they were hardly to have been expected from those who had cut themselves loose from the older connections and who were boldly working to make new things out of old. And yet the predictions of the leaders of the new party are as alarming as the predictions of the various standpat. There is the stimulating breath of hope in every part of the platform of the new party except that which touches the tariff and the trusts.

"In fact, there is this very singular feature about the platform of the new party: It has two sides and two tones. It speaks warm sympathy with practically every project of social betterment to which men and women of broad sympathies are now turning; with generous purposes and on that side it is refreshing to read. But that is not the part of the platform that reads like a program. It is a proclamation of sympathy rather, an indication of the direction in which the leaders of the party would fain some time move. The program lies elsewhere where the tariff is spoken of and the trusts. In that portion of the document there is an air of business and a very definite indication of what is intended to be done and by what means."

"It may be interpreted in the light of some interesting things Mr. Roosevelt has recently said."

"Mr. Roosevelt declared his devoted adherence to the principle of protection. He declares that he is not troubled by the fact that a very large amount of money is taken out of the pockets of the general tax payer and put into the pocket of particular classes of protected manufacturers but that his concern is that so little of this money gets into the pockets of the employees. I have searched his program very thoroughly for an indication of what he expects to do in order to see to it that a larger proportion of the 'prize' money gets into the pay envelope and have found only one suggestion. There is a plank in the program which speaks of establishing a minimum, or living wage for women workers and I suppose that we may assume that the principle is not in the long run meant to be confined in its application to women only. Perhaps we are justified in assuming that the third party looks forward to the general establishment by law of a minimum wage. It is very likely, I take it for granted, that if a minimum wage was established by law the great majority of employers would take occasion to bring their wage scale as nearly as might be down to the level of that minimum and it would be very awkward for the working men to resist that process successfully, because it would be dangerous to strike against the authority of the federal government."

"Moreover, most of the employees, at any rate, practically all of the most powerful of his employers would be wards and proteges of that very government which is to set up a commission whose duty it will be not to check or defeat it, but merely to regulate it under rules which it is itself to frame and develop. So that chief employers will have this tremendous authority behind them; when they do they will have the license of the federal government to act, including the right to pay the wages approved by the government."

"And, it is worth the while of the working men of the country to recall what the attitude toward organized labor has been of these masters of consolidated industries, whom the federal government is taking under its patronage as well as under its control. They have always been the stout opponents of organized labor and they have tried to undermine it in a great many ways. Some of the ways they have adopted have worn the guise of philanthropy and good will, and have said, for all I know, in perfecting the faith."

"Some of them have set up systems of profit-sharing, of compensation for injuries and of bonuses and even pension, but every one of these plans has merely bound their workmen more tightly to themselves. Their rights under these various arrangements are not legal rights. They are merely privileges which they have adopted have worn the guise of philanthropy and good will, and have said, for all I know, in perfecting the faith."

They are merely privileges which

SOLOMON LUNA IS LAID TO REST WITH FITTING HONORS AT ALBUQUERQUE

BIGGEST FUNERAL SERVICES EVER SEEN IN THE METROPOLIS—SOLEMN REQUIEM MASS CELEBRATED AT IMMACULATE CONCEPTION—KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PAY RESPECTS TO THE MEMORY OF THEIR LATE MEMBER

IMMENSE PROCESSION FOLLOWS BODY TO THE CEMETERY THIS AFTERNOON

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 2.—The last tribute of respect was paid to the late Solomon Luna shortly after noon today, when the body was laid to rest in the Santa Barbara cemetery. The sorrow caused by the sudden death of Mr. Luna was not confined to his home city and home state. The president of the United States and prominent men throughout the nation who have come to know and honor him through years of association joined in messages of condolence to Mrs. Luna.

The funeral in point of attendance was one of the largest ever held in the city and was solemnly impressive, in voicing the united feeling of a great commonwealth in the sudden and irreparable loss of one of its ablest and most useful citizens. Practically every county in the state was represented in the attendance at the funeral service, which began at 8:30 this morning, was not concluded until after 1 o'clock this afternoon. The floral tributes came from all parts of New Mexico and nearby states. One of the most touching tributes of the service was the presence in the line of march to the Immaculate Conception church, of more than 200 men and women from Belen, Magdalena and other parts of Valencia county, where Mr. Luna since early manhood has been friend and counselor to all the people. It was the escort of the people of Valencia county who accompanied the remains this morning at 8:30 when they were removed from the Strong Bros. chapel on North Second street to the home at Seventh street and Silver avenue. At 9:30 the funeral cortege began its march at the Otero home and soon filled several blocks. A guard of honor of Albuquerque Lodge No. 461, B. P. O. E., of which Mr. Luna was a member headed the long line, followed by a large part of the membership of Albuquerque Council No. 641, Knights of Columbus, of which the deceased was also a member. The Knights of Columbus held a special service of the order in the Strong Bros. chapel Sunday evening, attended by the full membership of the lodge.

Following the Knights of Columbus, came the delegation from Valencia county, the pallbearers, the floral carriage and the family.

The cortege reached the Church of Immaculate Conception shortly after 10 o'clock and proceeded directly into the church, where Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated. The church which has the largest seating capacity in the city was crowded and hundreds of people stood outside while the solemn service proceeded. So impressive was the mass, so beautiful the music accompanying, and so great the sorrow of the people present, that scarcely a person moved during the entire long service.

The celebrant was the Rev. A. Docher, pastor of the Eleventh parish and also of the parish church at Los Lunas, the Luna home for generations. Assisting were Rev. P. Tomasini, S. J. of the Church of San Felipe de Neri, Old Albuquerque, as deacon and Rev. A. M. Mandalar, S. J. of the Church of Immaculate Conception, sub-deacon. The music of the Immaculate Conception choir and the soloists assisting it were the features which added to the solemnity of the service. Following the service in the Immaculate Conception church, the various escorting bodies and vehicles covering more than a mile proceeded to the Santa Barbara cemetery, the funeral cortege moving from the church to Central avenue, down Central avenue to Second street, along Second to Mountain road to the cemetery, where Rev. Father Mandalar gave the last blessing as the body was lowered to its last resting place in the Luna plot. The Knights of Columbus ritual was also read at the grave.

The active pallbearers were W. S. Strickler, H. O. Burum, George L. Brooks, Frank A. Hubbard, Harry F. Lee, Neil B. Field, Sylvester Mirabal and Boleslo Romero. A number of honorary pallbearers were unable to reach Albuquerque in time for the service because of delayed trains, several being delayed by washouts in southern New Mexico. A majority, however, were present, while in the church were assembled men who had come from every section of the state to join in the final tribute to Mr. Luna.

Never in the history of Albuquerque has such universal mourning been seen, as at the funeral of Mr. Luna today. At the grave, many of the men who had been life long associates of Mr. Luna wept like children. The funeral cortege was the biggest ever seen here.

The telegram sent by President Taft to Mrs. Luna was as follows:

"Mrs. Solomon Luna,

Albuquerque, N. M.

"The sad news of the death of my good friend, your husband, has just reached me. Mrs. Taft and I extend our deep sympathy."

"W. H. TAFT."

TOULOUSE TALKS ON ADVERTISING

Two striking features of the bi-monthly luncheon and meeting of the Santa Fe chamber of commerce, held today at the Palace hotel were:

1. The address by J. H. Toulouse on "Advertising and How to Do It."

2. The speech of A. B. Renahan, president of the chamber of commerce, calling on the merchants of San Diego to wake up and show interest in community publicity.

Although delicious viands were served and the service was prompt and courteous, the attendance at the luncheon suggested a lack of "human interest," though Labor Day dinners at home may have been responsible.

President Renahan introduced Mr. Toulouse who is circulation manager of the Santa Fe New Mexican and who has taken a prominent part in building up the "Ad Club" of Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Toulouse discussed the "fundamental and material factors" which enter into advertising; he pointed out the untold advantages the city of Santa Fe enjoys, even in name only, for the Santa Fe railroad every minute of the day and night speaks of the Ancient City. His address was listened to with rapt attention and at the conclusion he was warmly applauded. The address will be published in full in the New Mexican tomorrow.

MR. RENEHAN RAPS.

Thanking Mr. Toulouse for his suggestions Mr. Renahan said: "I think that was one of the most interesting speeches I ever heard at our luncheons. My only regret is that all of our merchants were not here to hear it. I think it would be well if our daily paper conducted a 'Boost and Roast Column.' I am not aware that the merchants of Santa Fe have done much to build up this city. It was Miguel Chavez of Rio Arriba county who came to Santa Fe and invested

OROZCO WHIPS BIG FEDERAL FORCE

HE CATCHES FEDERAL COMMAND IN A NARROW MOUNTAIN PASS AND WINS IMPORTANT VICTORY

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 2.—Belated reports are received here today of a battle last week at Cuchillo Parado in which the federal forces were defeated. At last reports federal volunteers led by Colonel Ortega of the General Sanchez command from Ojinaga, were trapped in a canyon and fighting desperately. At this juncture all wires were cut in the vicinity.

The rebels participating are of the group of 1,200 reported to be under command of General Pascual Orozco, the rebel commander in chief.

It is said that Orozco wishes to take Ojinaga in order to secure a large quantity of arms sent there to equip federal volunteer troops which have never been organized.

Juarez, Mex., Sept. 3.—People of the state of Sonora will be armed by the federal government in an effort to check the progress of rebels in the border state to the west. According to officials here, the government plans soon to import 2,000 rifles. It is asserted that the ranchmen and mining men of Sonora are loyal to the government or at least opposed to the rebels who are operating in small bands. It is apparent that with a group of some 1,200 rebels along the border to the east of Juarez, near Ojinaga, where Pascual Orozco, the rebel chief, is said to be located, the government for the present will not send any great number of troops into Sonora. The bulk of the federal army is in Chihuahua state, recently deserted by rebels below Juarez.

Cannanea, Sonora, Mex., Sept. 2.—

GREAT CROWDS GATHER TO HEAR T. R.

HE TELLS WORKINGMEN THAT THEY WILL NEVER FIND IN SOCIALISM A BOON FOR THEIR ILLS—WILSON IS DENIED

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 2.—Great crowds greeted Col. Roosevelt today when he came into Connecticut at the opening of his campaign tour which is to take him from the Atlantic to the Pacific. On his way to Hartford where he was scheduled to make his first speech, Col. Roosevelt made addresses at Stamford and Bridgeport.

At Stamford, Col. Roosevelt said: "If any progressive candidate is elected and fails to live up to any promise he makes I'll take the stump against him. Our candidates will live up to their platform."

A man in the crowd shouted derisively and Colonel Roosevelt turned on him. "I don't wonder you call out," he said. "The old parties had a way of making promises and not keeping them. We are going to keep faith with the people. We stand for applied honesty. We stand for action. We will live up to every promise we make."

Col. Roosevelt here stated his position in regard to socialism and criticized a statement of Woodrow Wilson in his speech.

"I don't know whether Mr. Wilson is standing on his platform," he said. "I suppose there are intervals at which one leg is on it. Last week, I noticed that Mr. Wilson argued against a position I took. He first stated it incorrectly. I don't mean that he intentionally stated it incorrectly but evidently his source of information was poisoned."

"Governor Wilson has said," continued Roosevelt, "that in favoring a more equal distribution of the prize money I had defended legitimate booty in the way of tariff privileges."

SOCIETY

Rev. and Mrs. B. Z. McCullough gave a reception Friday evening in honor of the mission teachers who were in town to attend the interdenominational conference of missionaries which was in session at the First Presbyterian church this week. There were forty or more mission teachers present and a large number of the people of Santa Fe came to attend them. Three short addresses by Judge McFie, Miss Richardson and Mr. Jacob La Rue were very interesting, and preceded the musical given in the Presbyterian church. Those who took part in the musical program were Mrs. Frank E. Andrews, Miss Iva Ashton, Miss Hazel Sparks, Mr. Teare and Mr. McCord. The local teachers in the Allison and James school also tendered a reception to the visiting teachers Thursday evening.

Mrs. Lineau's reception . . . . . One of the prettiest and most enjoyable affairs of the summer was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. A. Lineau Friday evening, in honor of Mrs. Perrenot, of El Paso. The house was artistically decorated in pink sweet peas and pink roses and was an attractive background for the pretty little hostess and her guests. In the receiving line were Mrs. Lineau, Mrs. Perrenot, Mr. A. B. Renchan and Miss Edith Perrenot. Mrs. Perrenot and her daughter are planning to make their home in Santa Fe for the winter and will be heartily welcomed in Santa Fe social circles. Assisting Mrs. Lineau were Mrs. Paul A. F. Walter and Mrs. Charles M. Stauffer, who ushered the guests into the dining room.

The dining room was beautiful in its decoration of pink sweet peas and roses and the table was a delight to the eye in its dainty appointments. Serving at the table were Mrs. Jacob Chavez, Mrs. Max Frost and Mrs. Carroll. Miss Hazel Sparks, Miss Francis Hinojosa and Miss Genevieve Morrison assisted in serving the refreshments.

ICE MAN'S TROUBLES.

Master Tommy Moore, who drives the team in charge of L. F. Carroll, the ice man, had an exciting experience Thursday. The horses became frightened in some manner and took a clip that would put the efforts of a racer to shame. Tommy went up in the air, the wagon turned completely over, and the ice went in all directions. When Tommy woke up he thought, by the field of ice about him, that he was on board the Titanic and was about to meet a watery grave, along with Millionaire Astor, Editor Stead and other notables. While Tommy was dreaming, Mr. Connell was busy righting matters, and soon the ice was quiet along the Potomac. The horses became quiet, the ice was recovered, and the ice man moved along in his accustomed manner.—Raton Reporter.

A CIVIC IMPROVEMENT BIG SHOW

THE NEW-OLD SANTA FE EXHIBITION WHICH WILL BE GIVEN UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE CITY PLANNING BOARD

The new-old Santa Fe exhibition will be opened on November 21st, immediately after the conclusion of the Scottish Rite reunion. The purpose of the exhibition as outlined in a previous issue of this paper is to lay before the citizens of this commonwealth, the plans for the development of their state capital along the lines appropriate to the country.

Photographs, maps, plans, sketches, paintings and models of which the exhibition will consist will all be prepared with this one end in view; namely, to show how the city will look when developed along the style of our wonderfully unique native architecture.

This architecture is peculiar to New Mexico alone and seems to have resulted from the application of Spanish building principles to pueblo construction. Adaptability and charm in every day use is well exemplified in such buildings as the Harvey house at Lamy, El Ortiz, and many of the residences of this city.

To accomplish such an ambitious undertaking as this, it will be necessary for all those appointed on the various departments to get to work at once; the time is none too long to organize an exhibition of this character and the first steps must be taken at once.

The first meeting of the department of finance will be held next Wednesday evening, September 4th, at the Chamber of Commerce. It is earnestly hoped that all members of this department will be present.

NEWS OF THE STATE

LOOKING FINE.

There is an abundance of fine grass on all the ranges and water is plentiful. Prices are the best ever. Cattle are doing especially well in the northern part of the state, Colfax and Union counties. Yearling steers are still selling for twenty-five dollars and some growers are holding out for thirty. Altogether the cattle men should be wearing the broad smile this year. Everything is coming their way.—Taos Recorder.

FAIR, OR NOT.

Shall we have it? A meeting will be called at the Commercial club rooms for the purpose of ascertaining that question. We understand some of our merchants are for it, while some are against it. We have the products, we are told. If a fair brought ten new families into this vicinity, their trade should offset the cost of same. Think it over. Uncle Kline will want it at Obar, if we do not have it here.—Tucumcari News.

PIE FOR EVERYBODY.

On last Friday evening the committee on arrangements for the Pumpkin Pie and Baked Squash Day got together and finished appointing the sub-committees. The committees are now all complete and are given in this week's issue and with the people who are on these committees it is expected to have a big time on that day—September 28.

Each member of these committees are boosters and hustlers and the celebration is sure to be a big success. Everyone is working. The exhibitors are busy picking and sorting over their products. All will try for the first prizes and it will be a nerve trying job for the judges.—Maxwell Mail.

ANOTHER FAIR.

The business men of Cuervo held a meeting at the Clipper office last Monday night to discuss the holding of a fair this year and decided unanimously in favor of having a fair on the 21st day of September. The promotion of the fair is a work everyone should take a pride in and will be a worthy and noble work. All land owners should be interested and should help to make the fair a success and some will help if properly approached.

The fair will be pulled off on scheduled time, but it will take work to make it a grand success. The Clipper has faith in the people of this community and believes they will make the fair what it should be.—Cuervo Clipper.

BIG VEIN STRUCK.

The Rebate Mining company at Lake Valley, of which Charles Hoyle is the manager, has installed a new and powerful pump and is about to unwater the shaft, which was filled up for a hundred feet or so by a heavy flow of water that was struck on the 400 foot level. It is rumored that at this point another formation was struck, having passed entirely through the black shales. The company's managers are looking wise and saying nothing but reports in Lake Valley has it that when they got through the shale they struck a second contract with a big vein of quartz carrying gold and silver values. Water shut off operations and the owners came out to inspect the property. As a result the pump was installed and big news is expected soon.—Sierra Free Press.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Willie Hoats a 16-year-old boy of Kansas City, who has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Leary, who lives south of town, met with a terrible accident on Sunday afternoon at 4:30, resulting in his death at 3:30 Tuesday morning.

The family had been spending the day at the C. T. Taylor ranch, and on starting for home, and while only a short distance from the Taylor farm, the lad, in trying to get a 44-caliber rifle out of the buggy to shoot a rabbit, the rifle was accidentally discharged, the contents of a shell lodged with No. 8 shot lodging in his abdomen.

The boy was immediately taken to the Taylor home, and Dr. Hilton was called at once, but medical skill was of no avail in this case.—Endee Enterprise.

EVERYTHING THERE.

Winter apples and onions and peaches and squash and summer apples and plums and alfalfa—but this is plenty for one man to have on one ranch, so we will quit. All these things in indexes found on the fine ranch of Mr. and Mrs. George Brett last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Clay Brett and two fine little daughters were also met.

The Brett ranch has been worked this season by George, Clay and Tom Brett, with George Eversole and his bees playing no small part in the fruit crop. Walking through the big orchard one is struck with the uniform manner in which the trees are fruited. No tree seems to have too many and yet all have plenty of apples. There are 95 White Winter Pearmain trees that Mr. Brett estimates should yield over 1,000 boxes of marketable apples. His entire apple crop will probably run over 3,000 boxes at a very conservative estimate. The Bretts have four acres in onions that are a sight to behold. From this crop they should harvest $400 to the acre and the apples will doubtless add $2,500 or more to their bank accounts. Peaches, fine yellow juicy fellows, are bending trees low. The apriary of George Eversole, containing 40 hives was an interesting place, with every occupant apparently as they should be busy.—San Juan County News.

DON'T SAY BLOUSE ANY MORE! THIS IS NEWEST THING IN SHIRT FOR WOMEN

Sh—h! Don't say blouse any more. It is old-fashioned and out of date. The correct word for the correct maid is shirt. Yes, women wear shirts now just like men. Dame Fashion has declared this fascinating model to be severely plain, despite the cunning little tabs and buttons on sleeve and front, and the soft open-neck arrangement. The material is white satin. The only touch of color appears in the tops of the buttons and the simulated buttonholes. The beauty of this is that the color may easily be chosen to match the skirt worn with the shirt. The real novelty-loving woman will have the buttons attached with patent fasteners, so that she can wear different sets of buttons with different skirts. Attractive suggestions of dressiness, which does not conflict with the general style of the waist, are the lace jabots spreading from the ends of the "cobespierre" collar, and the sleeve frills.

EDUCATION AND IRRIGATION

Carlsbad, N. M., Sept. 2.—The regular work in the Eddy county teachers' institute closed yesterday and today and tomorrow are given over to examinations. This has been the best institute ever held here. The attendance the last two weeks has been over 75. Prof. W. A. Poore made a good conductor. On Wednesday afternoon Scott Etter the mayor, and A. N. Pratt for the Commercial club arranged an outing for the attending teachers. They readily secured enough cars to make a trip to the country. The party first visited Lake Avalon, the diversion reservoir of the Carlsbad project. Next a trip was taken through the orchards, followed by a trip to the Carlsbad Springs. At the end of the tour refreshments were served.

L. E. Foster, the superintendent of the Carlsbad project, hunted 32 acres of alfalfa seed on his farm near town. The total yield was 13,250 pounds or 410 pounds to the acre. A three and a half acre tract that had also been used for hog pasture besides being fertilized yielded 621 pounds of seed made this season. The average yield for the project will be about 300 pounds to the acre.

C. D. Miller, former state engineer, spent several days in the Carlsbad country on business this week.

J. J. Kelley, R. E. commander, Knights Templar, went north this morning after spending a week in Eddy county. He visited Carlsbad, Lovington, Artesia and Hope.

Boys and Girls going to Grades or High School—its the cart before the horse. Learn Shorthand and Typewriting first, then attend the Public School, and the result will be ten times higher. Why? The "why" is most clear—you do all your lessons in Shorthand, and take teacher's talk as well, and at home, or at our day or night gathering, or from 4 to 5 o'clock after leaving school, you typewrite everything. Oh! it's the sensible way, isn't it? We will lend you a good machine at your home for practice. Come in—say what you can pay weekly. WE are not robbers, for we don't want a lump of cash down. So much a week, that's all. Parents, this method saves you $1000—come in; we'll prove it.

Some Scholars attend School, and take our Business Course as a past-time study. It can be done by determined persevering scholars between 4 and 5 o'clock daily, or evenings at 7:30. But we say, "One thing at a time," and well done at that. The present day method is—Shorthand and Typewriting first, then High School, if wanted. The best spellers, writers, and clever boys and girls, are those who never waste their time, and parents their money, on a High School first. What use is a Graduate with a Diploma, if he can't spell, write, or know anything to merit a suitable situation; a shocking waste of time and money. The cart is before the horse.

Finally, Parents be sensible to your own interests and your child's, and come to the Santa Fe Business College this day.

SPORTING NEWS

WHO IS THE BEST YOUNGSTER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE?
"EDDIE FOSTER!" SAYS BAN JOHNSON.

Eddie Foster, third baseman of the Washington club, is the best young player to come into the American league this year, in the opinion of President Ban Johnson.

The head of the American league voiced this opinion when asked to name the best all-around young ball player of this year's vintage. This is what Johnson says of Foster:

"Foster is but one of several very fast players, who have made great records in their first season's efforts. When every view of Foster's work is considered, however, I believe he is entitled to the honor of leading the list."

"Foster is a fast fielder, covers a lot of ground, hits well and plays a magnificent inside game. He is a wise player in every way and is improving all of the time."

"This is his second adventure in the American league and he learned much by his first experience. Like many a young player he was not ready for fast company the first time up, and he did not know how to take care of himself."

"It is different now, however, for he has learned his lesson well and realizes it is up to him to keep himself in condition to deliver the best baseball that is in him."

"Foster is a Chicago boy. He was discovered by Robert McRoy when Robert was manager of a semi-pro team several years ago. He was with the New York team in 1910 but was not of much use, so was sold to Rochester of the International league. He played great ball for Rochester and last fall Jim McAleer spent two weeks watching him before he made up his mind to take him to Washington. McAleer told me at that time that Foster was the best young player he had seen anywhere that season."

"The only possible objection to Foster might be that he is small. This does not appear to handicap him, for he covers as much ground as any third baseman and his speed in getting after the ball is enough to make up for any lack of inches. He throws to first accurately and fast and from almost any position.

"It is a delicate thing for me to pick a player as the best youngster in the American league, but I feel that Foster deserves the distinction and it is no discredit at all for any of the other young stars, that he should be chosen. On the other hand it should be an incentive for young players to work hard to make as good a record as Foster has made for himself."

JIM FLYNN IS FIGHTING TODAY

San Francisco, Calif., Sept. 2.—Jim Flynn of Pueblo and Charley Miller, the 220 pound local aspirant for recognition as a white hope, were scheduled to begin a twenty round bout at 3 p. m. today at Daly City. Each training camp reports its man on edge. This is Flynn's first appearance in the ring since his fight with Jack Johnson July 4 at Las Vegas, New Mexico.

BENNY CHAVEZ

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 2.—In the twelfth round of a grueling fight here this afternoon, Benny Chavez, of Trinidad, was awarded the decision over Monte Attell of Pittsburgh, on a foul. Up to the time the battle had been even in honors with Attell the most punished of the two. The blow caused Chavez to stagger and double up with a look of pain. The delivery of the blow caused a wild scene excited spectators crowded into the ring and the platform collapsed. No one was injured.

OROZCO WHIPS BIG FEDERAL FORCE.

Col. Emilio Campa, the rebel commander in this district made a raid into Santa Cruz late Saturday night with 150 men. All of the bridges between that place and Nogales were burned and much carried off. The railroad company made repairs Sunday morning and attempted to run a train from Cananea to Nogales, but was forced to return as all culverts also were found destroyed.

Campa, with his men, left Santa Cruz Sunday morning, going in an easterly direction.

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 2.—Fear is felt here for the safety of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hope-Doeg, the latter a member of the Sutton family and herself a famous tennis player, who are now in Mexico with their four children.

The last word came from them five weeks ago while they were in the State of Sonora, near Cananea. Mr. Hope-Doeg is a mining man with extensive interests in Sonora and Chihuahua.

Guadalajara, Mex., Sept. 1.—(Delayed in transmission.) Another violent earthquake shook this town at 10 o'clock tonight and caused a panic among the inhabitants. It was the heaviest shock since the disturbance of May 8. Many of the smaller residences were wrecked while buildings in all districts of the city were damaged. No casualties have been reported.

Tenancingo, Mex., Sept. 2.—A force of 300 Zapatistas was routed after suffering heavy losses in a four hour fight with the federal troops last night about a mile from this town. The rebel loss was said to have been sixty killed and wounded. The federal commander has not reported the losses among the troops. The Federals, who numbered only 200, advanced on the rebel position under a sharp fire and succeeded in putting the rebels to flight.

SPANISH MISSION STYLE WILL STAY

Washington, Sept. 2.—Government architects have been taking a great deal of interest in the development of the style of architecture brought from Spain by the Padres and Conquistadores, and adapted to the needs of the new world. Throughout the West Indies, Mexico, Peru, and in fact all of New Spain, including California, are to be found magnificent specimens of the so-called mission type of architecture.

The government following somewhat, adopted the "Mission Renaissance" as one of the styles in which public buildings should be designed. The buildings planned for Santa Barbara, Riverside and San Diego, are good examples of this commercial form of the mission type.

Very much has been done with this attractive style of architecture in country, but it is believed by artists and architects who have seen the plans for the San Diego group of exposition buildings, that in them the mission type will find its highest expression.

Architect Goodhue has studied the best types of the Padres' work throughout Spanish America. Col. D. C. Collier, president of the San Diego exposition, has traveled extensively and has observed closely the picturesque cathedrals and humbler but stately missions. Both agree that the exposition structures will merit the thoughtful criticism of the whole world apart.

GEN. HOBART DIES SATURDAY

General Edward F. Hobart died Saturday night at St. Vincent's Sanitarium, at the age of 79 years. He had been ill for several weeks at his home and was moved to the sanitarium ten days ago. He leaves one brother, Horace R. Hobart of Evanston Ill. who was with the general when he died.

General Hobart was born in Colebrook, New Hampshire and was educated at Beloit College, Wisconsin. He graduated in 1854, and was principal of two academies for some years. He was later a surveyor and civil engineer and at the outbreak of the civil war served in the Fortieth Wisconsin Infantry as first lieutenant. Subsequently he was engaged in the school furniture and publishing business in St. Louis. He purchased a ranch in Las Vegas, New Mexico over 30 years ago and was engaged in the ice business. Later he came to Santa Fe and was appointed surveyor general of New Mexico by President Harrison. He was reappointed to that office by President McKinley.

General Hobart had a large ranch on the Rio Grande, at Hobart, and he was postmaster there, although he retained his residence in Santa Fe. He was the adjutant of the Grand Army post here and took great interest in the G. A. R. At his request he was buried in National Cemetery. The funeral services were conducted this afternoon at the chapel of Mulligan & Rising by the Rev. B. Z. McCollough of the First Presbyterian church. The pall bearers were all Grand Army men.

WAS WELL KNOWN HERE.

General Hobart was for years a familiar figure in Santa Fe. He took delight in calling on his friends and presenting them with choice apples or other fruits grown in his own orchard. Almost an octogenarian, he led an active, wholesome life to the last, and his deep reverence for religion as well as his patriotism and his many many qualities endeared him to all.

TOULOUSE TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

$150,000 in loans here and literally made Santa Fe improve. The business men who were already here reaped the profits. I do not see these merchants and business men here at this meeting which is for the purpose of boosting this city, their city.

A voice: "I'm here today!" Mr. Renehan: "Yes, I note you are here today, Mr. Hersch, and I am mighty glad to see you. You are an exception. I do wish the other merchants were here, too." (Applause.)

Secretary Harris then arose and suggested that Mr. Renehan call on another representative of the New Mexican who had been in San Diego recently, to discuss the way the San Diego Ad Club gets its members to turn out at weekly luncheons. Mr. Renehan issued the "call" and the newspaperman replied by outlining the San Diego system, which is to have a "right bower" appointed each week to arrange the program. The speech-making begins when the soup is passed and must be over by the time the dessert is served. The talks are "battered" with pleasing musical selections, and at the end of the program the "right bower" turns over the gavel to the president of the club who discusses briefly matters of business interest.

President Renehan had thought the "right bower" suggestion a bright idea and one which could be followed with success in Santa Fe.

WHERE SOCORRO COUNTY MONEY WENT

FURTHER FIGURES FROM SCHEDULE B, COMMENT ON WHICH HAS ALREADY BEEN PUBLISHED, SHOW INTERESTING JUGGLING

CHAPTER SIX.

Further interesting disclosures are made today in connection with the report of deputy traveling auditor who investigated the condition of affairs in Socorro county and recently made a report of his findings to Governor W. C. McDonald.

The figures published today, are the remaining lists of Schedule "B," a portion of which schedule was published Saturday night.

Among the items cited today, is one of $212 paid the highly important duty of delivering ballot boxes and which, in his comment, the auditor says he considers out of proportion to the service rendered. At such a pro rata, Socorro county, could not afford many elections.

In this list also, appears the constable and "emissary" fees of which reference was made in a prior portion of the auditor's report and published in the New Mexican. Every item should be carefully read since the facts herein presented, are of vital interest to every tax payer and in the light of coming disclosures in other counties, they show the method whereby the old regime expended the tax payers money.

It will be recalled in connection with the constable fees, that the auditor stated that such constables or alleged constables as he could find, told him they never got the money, never served as constables and did not know anything about the transactions.

Throughout the entire disclosure, the guiding hand of the former probate clerk, the Hon. E. Howard Sweet, is seen.

These are the figures:

FUNERAL OF MIGUEL ORTIZ WAS HELD LAST FRIDAY.

The funeral of the late Miguel Ortiz, the well known local merchant who died last Wednesday, was held Friday morning. The funeral cortege started at 7:30 in the morning from his residence to Guadalupe church where solemn requiem mass was celebrated, Father Peter Kuyper being the celebrant. The church was filled to its capacity during the mass. After the celebration of the mass the funeral proceeded to Guadalupe cemetery, where burial services were again held over the remains by Father Kuyper and then the body was lowered to its last resting place. The funeral procession was one of the largest ever seen in Santa Fe, and was composed of an immense number of relatives and friends of the deceased. The pall bearers were: John Hoppel, Jose Ortiz y Pina, E. H. Baca, Francisco Delgado, Marcelino Garcia and Fred Lopez. The deceased was one of the best known and most popular business men of Santa Fe and his death is a great loss to all Santa Fe, especially to the poor people. Mr. Ortiz is survived by his wife, two children, three brothers and two sisters besides a large number of other relatives. His son Daniel C. Ortiz is the well known and popular local postal employee, and base ball fan, who contributes often to the New Mexican sporting page. Mr. Ortiz had been ill for some time with inflammation of the stomach, but his condition was not considered very serious until a few days before his death. He had been planning a trip to California in September. For the last four years he had been going to Excelsior Springs, Mo., and Siloam Springs, Ark., but he had not secured the benefit he expected, and this year he had planned to go to California for a change.

WILSON GIVES LECTURE ON TEDDY.

they enjoy so long as they remain in the employment and observe the rules of the great industries which employ them. If they refuse to be weaned away from their independence they cannot continue to enjoy the benefits extended to them.

"When you have thought the whole thing out therefore, you will find that the program of the new party legalizes monopolies and systematically subordinates workingmen to them and to plans made by the government both with regard to employment and with regard to wages.

"By what means, except upon revolt, could we ever break the crust of our life again and become free men, breathing an air of our own choosing, and living lives that we wrought out for ourselves. Perhaps this new and all conquering combination between money and government would carry out the noble program of social betterment which so many credulously expect of it, but who can assure us of that? Who will give bond that it will be general and gracious and pitiful and righteous? What man or set of men can make us secure under it, by their only promise and assurance that it will take care of us and be good?"

"Democratic leaders turn away from any plan to legalize monopoly and give a federal commission leave to say how much of it there should be because they know exactly what that would mean. What they propose is the restoration of freedom. What we need is the regulation of competition and the prosecution of what has created monopoly. When you have regulated monopoly you have in effect restored it."

A LITTLE JOKER.

What is now called, "an innocent and inoffensive amendment incorporated in an appropriation bill," put the lid on the distribution of Sunday mail in first and second class postoffices.

The explanation made by the statesmen who assented to this drastic measure is that it slipped through by mistake and that those voting for it were imposed upon. It may come under the head of a congressional joker, but the patrons of the postoffices throughout the country will not be found holding their sides with laughter at the excruciatingly humorous amendment which was incorporated in the bill.

There has been a suspicion for some time past that our statesmen at Washington did not know what they were doing, but now and then the fact is forced upon the people with peculiar force as in the case of the adoption, all un-be-known, of an "innocent and inoffensive" amendment which has a far reaching effect with resultant inconvenience and disorganization of interests in the business world. It is not noticeable however, that anything that touches the big interests unfavorably, ever slips through congress as a joker, or any other way. That seems to be invariably detected in time.

There is little wonder that there is unrest throughout the whole country and an insistent demand for a change. Little is the wonder that the people are calling for a square deal.

The movement is gaining a steady and powerful headway which will sweep into the discard the old methods and those who have been using them.

WHAT WE OWE TAFT.

A very fine lawyer, a gentleman who has recently been mentioned in connection with the Ohio governorship writes us:

"Taft's term in the White House has done more to open the eyes of the people to the folly of turning the government over to lawyers and judges than anything else which has happened in a generation."

From evil cometh good, often, very often. We get those delicious "lady fingers" cakes from ancient eggs, and from Bill Taft we get a tremendous demonstration of just exactly the sort of man not to make president. We are sure owe it to Bill to say that in this respect he has done the country a service unequalled by predecessors in particular or collectively.

But our government is pretty largely a government by courts, now, and to follow logically our Ohio correspondent, it is a bad thing to put lawyers on the bench.

Bad government by lawyers, good government by laymen. This is sound argument, rational deduction. And we may eventually get around to curing some of our governmental ills by such a substitution, not with consent of the lawyer, Ohioan or otherwise, however.

THEY CAN WIN.

The advancement of the progressive cause in the east is simply astounding. New England the rock bound stronghold of the big interests is breaking away from the environments and seeking a new alliance. For the first time in our political history a national party has made social and industrial justice a part of its political creed. An especial appeal is made in the party platform for the welfare and happiness of the American people.

One remarkable instance at Waltham, Mass. speaks loudly of the change that is taking place. In one of the watch factories, employing 700 men, on a poll taken for presidential preferences, every man declared himself for Roosevelt. It is the fact that the same condition exists in other industrial centers, and from present indications, every eastern state will go for Roosevelt, with the exception of Nelson N. Aldrich's borough, called Rhode Island. With the members of the progressive party standing loyal and voting for their own candidate, Roosevelt can be elected.

THE STANDARD SMEAR.

And now they're trying to smear Teddy Roosevelt's honor with the Standard Oil grease. Wonderful, isn't it? No matter how high a man may climb, be he judge, congressman, senator or even president, the tentacles of the octopus reach him. All honors, all positions, all responsibilities are alike to that foul cabal of corruptionists.

Teddy may be entirely guiltless, but John D. Archbold swears he donated $100,000 trying to reach him. Not even the presidency of this republic was too high a thing to be bought and contaminated-if possible. And they don't hoot at old John Rockefeller when he gets down on his knees in church and prays that the world may become better.

There is a prospect of Owen Wister's becoming a candidate for congress in one of the Pennsylvania districts, on the progressive ticket. This is only another promising sign of the times brought about by this great and growing movement. It has already brought into active participation in public affairs an entirely new element and it is encouraging to know that men of the Owen Wister stamp are interested with other scholars and students of social problems like Dr. Williams and Jane Addams. It possesses the greater promise because of the class of people who have become actively interested. It means ultimate success.

Another text in our creed.
The administration and not the judicial branch of the government should control the trusts. The control should be vested in an interstate industrial commission with extensive powers to inquire into capitalization, stock watering cost of production, wages and competition. By this means the government could control industrial corporations as effectively as it now controls interstate carriers, national banks and the issuance of the currency.

"Inefficient, disorganized, unprogressive and inactive," is the description of the congress which adjourned last week, by James R. Maan, republican leader of the house. The arraignment is true and just. The democratic house has shown no more capacity than the republican house that preceded it and the reason for a change is all too apparent. The "inefficient, disorganized, unprogressive, inactive" policy of the two old organizations is one of the causes for the great progressive movement.

President Taft uttered his swan song at Springfield, Mass. the other day, when he declared that he is done with active politics. He is. The great movement of progressivism that is rolling over this country has caught him in it swell and he is eliminated. It is universally conceded that the contest is now between Roosevelt and Wilson and that the republican old guard is totally demoralized.

Society women in Oklahoma want round dances taught in public schools. School, back home where most of us attended were to teach reading, writing and arithmetic. We had the round dances at home after school with the buggy whip as the accelerator, when the teacher reported how we had acted at school.

Governor Wilson has declined to act as judge at a baby show. Woodrow will have to exhibit more courage than that if he expects to be president. If he thinks he can win without any attention to the babies, he has another think due.

Senator Tillman has won out as his own successor in the South Carolina primaries. We are glad of it. He is honest and he is a fighter. Those are two needed qualities in public men.

Science says that electric batteries can be made stronger by heating them. They are strong enough to knock a man through a cement pavement without adding any more heat.

It does not seem as if Taft had even reached the distinction of being an issue in the present campaign; he is so completely eliminated.

LABOR DAY

This is the day of Labor,
This is the Triumph of Toil,
When they march in their mighty millions,
Sons of the shop and the soil.
And those who are bent from the benches
And those who are pale from the mines,
And those who are old and broken,
Are part of the serried lines.

This is the Day of Labor
When those who delved and built,
Who made the roads and bridges,
Who tunneled under the silt,
Have straightened up from their tolling,
Have turned a space from their trade,
To march with their worthy brothers

In the world that they have made.
This is the day of Labor;
And yet, among this throng,
Are faces of little children
Who labor the whole day long,
And there are weary mothers
Who toil at the clattering loom
Leaving their wan-faced babies
In the Ghetto's filth and gloom.

But they are as the work has made them,
And they march in the ranks with men,
To hasten the hour when the toilers
Shall win to their own again.
Theirs is the joy of doing,
Though greed shall waste and spoil;
This is the Day of Labor,
This is the Triumph of Toil.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

LABOR DAY.

It is Labor Day. For some it is indeed a day of labor, different from no other day but to many it is a day of rest and pleasure bringing cessation from the every day toil. It is an appropriate recognition, too.

Those of us who are actively in the field of labor, recognize that as a class we have made great progress, intellectually in the past quarter of a century, thanks to our public schools, inexpensive and plentiful literature and free speech.

As a class, despite the almost barbaric industrial conditions, we are growing better physically than those who preceded us, thanks to advances in science, surgery and medicine.

Materially, how is it? Our development has been wonderful in the growth of human comforts, and the use that has been made of the God given resources of our magic country.

In the industrial world it seems as if we had not been advancing. The exploitation of trusts; the jobbery of politics; the manipulation of gigantic fortunes, and the subservience of public officials to the demands of big interests, have reached the point that they can no longer be endured without a protest, and that protest is now being registered in the great movement that is sweeping the country under the progressive party's leadership. The people have been fooled and toyed with until they have become thoroughly aroused and a new system is demanded. The old merciless methods of control of the nation's wealth must give way to human methods, and the high cost of living must be given more sensible consideration and that knotty problem solved.

So, it seems that the future, and I may say the immediate future, has a brighter tinge. The change must come through politics, and it is the people's fight.

COL. TWITCHELL'S HISTORY.

The second volume of Colonel Ralph Twitchell's History of New Mexico is fresh from the press, and it contains, as did the first volume a mass of historic incidents written in the interesting and fascinating style for which Ralph Twitchell has become noted.

This volume covers the period from the recognition of Mexican independence to the institution of our state government, and the contents of the two volumes of this truly remarkable work shown infinite labor and exhaustive research among the archives of antiquity both abroad and in our own land.

It has taken the author forty years of study to produce this history and covering as it does a period from prehistoric man, with the legends of our Pueblo Indians, and a description of the uncovered ruins of the villages of their predecessors, the value it is to the present generation and the time which must have been devoted to the arrangement and compilation of so great amount of data can be readily conceived.

The volume just issued is profusely illustrated, and the portraits of the leading figures in our history from the early days of New Mexico's existence down to our present status as a state appear throughout the volume.

As a book of ready and correct reference and as a history that holds the close interest of the reader these volumes from the pen of Col. Twitchell must hold high rank and compel a very large clientele of readers. In many parts the history is as captivating as fiction and all through it holds the attention of its readers closely. It is a pleasure to commend a work of such sterling merit.

Long, loud and deep were the anathemas hurled at Uncle Sam for the orier shutting out the delivery of Sunday mail. Of course, the hours of relief it brings to the employees of the postoffice, no one begrudges. They earn a day of rest, but inasmuch as the people of the country are benefited and accommodated by Sunday mail service, our great and good Uncle Sam should put into his shops of the first and second class a little extra help.

It is the fault of congress by permitting an amendment to slip through a little amendment, unaware as the statesmen now claim, but the movement of unawareness has certainly had the effect of making the people aware of inefficiency in congress. The little amendment has had a tendency to disorganize business and hang onto the postoffice patrons who include almost everybody, a big load of inconvenience and disappointment. It is likely that Mr. Hitchcock, whose management of the postoffice department has not been any too popular, will hear from the people throughout the country and that the performance will not make any extra votes for the present administration.

Economy is all right, but not at the expense of good service and the Hitchcock economy has not been appealing. This additional piece of work by congress is going to prove a boomerang that will hit hard.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS
Because it's For One Thing Only, and Santa Fe People Appreciate This. Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.
For weak or disordered kidneys.
Here is Santa Fe evidence to prove their worth.

Albino Ortega, College St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "For several years I had trouble from my back and kidneys. It was hard for me to work, owing to pains in my loins and a sudden movement aggravated my trouble. My rest was disturbed by a too frequent desire to void the kidney secretions and the passages were scanty and painful. Public statements given by local people who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with effect, induced me to try them. I found relief at once and after I had finished the contents of one box, my back was free from pain. My kidneys are now normal and I feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
