SOLDIERS OF LITTLE MONTENEGRO NATION FIGHT TURKISH TROOPS

DISPATCHES RECEIVED AT LONDON TELL OF FIERCE FIGHTING IN WHICH BOTH SIDES SUFFER MANY CASUALTIES—FIRST FORCE TO CROSS BORDER IS REPORTED COMPLETELY WIPED OUT

BALKAN STATES PREPARE TO JOIN IN BATTLE WITH THEIR ALLIES

London, Oct. 9.—A Montenegrin force which crossed the Turkish border has been annihilated, according to a dispatch from Constantinople, which declares that four thousand Albanian troops have invaded Montenegro.

A Bulgarian army has started for Mustapha Pasha to force the road to Adrianople where the Turks are concentrating in great strength. Skirmishes have occurred on the Serbian and Bulgarian frontiers.

If Serbia and Bulgaria have not already declared war on Turkey, as reported from Paris, it is believed everywhere that they are on the point of joining their mobilized armies to that of Montenegro, whose troops are said to be generally engaged with the Turks along the frontier. Should the two Balkan nations decide to appeal to arms, half a million soldiers of the Balkan states who have been concentrating for the past week will be ready to oppose the Turkish army. The number of the Ottoman troops in European Turkey are understood to total several hundred thousand.

It is generally recognized that the intervention of the European ambassadors at the Porte cannot now have any effect.

Constantinople, Oct. 9.—The Turkish government awaits events with calm assurance, according to the Ottoman foreign minister. In an interview given to the Associated Press today, he said: "We face the future with perfect confidence. I should like to point out, however, that the declaration of war by Montenegro was made contrary to the practice adopted by all civilized states. It went against the stipulation of The Hague convention, of which Montenegro was a signatory. In the first place, no attempt was made to seek the good offices of a third party in order to find a means of avoiding a conflict.

"Secondly, the declaration of war did not set forth any real or tangible cause for war.

"Thirdly, Montenegro opened hostilities without granting the usual preliminary delay and actually before the declaration of war was presented to the Porte."

London, Oct. 9.—News from Sofia, Bulgaria, says that the rapidity of the concentration of the army has exceeded all expectations and developments will now be very rapid. The stock exchange was somewhat more affected today by the Balkan situation.

Saloniki, Turkey, Oct. 9.—Serious fighting continues between the Turkish and Montenegrin forces on the Montenegrin frontier. Essad Pasha, the Turkish commander of the force marching to the relief of Scutari, has passed the river Boyana, without encountering opposition.

Sofia, Oct. 9.—The Bulgarian cabinet, after considering the Russo-Austrian note, issued a semi-official statement today in which it says the Bulgarian ministers have unfortunately failed to find what they expected, namely, precise details of the reforms which the papers have proposed to Turkey and of guarantee for their execution.

Before taking any decision on the subject, the Bulgarian cabinet will consult the Greek and Serbian governments.

Paris, Oct. 9.—"A false step a suspicion, and all Europe is aflame," says the figures today in commenting on the Balkan's war and the connection with it of the Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister to Berlin. The paper regards the visit of vast importance, for it is declared to be allaying of any suspicion existing between Russia and Austria. As a result of M. Sazonoff's visit, it is believed that Russia will endeavor to influence Serbia not to anger Austria by the invasion of Novipazar. The French government learned today that before the Russian and Austrian ministers made their representations to the Montenegrin government at Cetinje, the Serbian and Grecian ministers have visited the Montenegrin foreign office and insisted that the declaration of war should be at least postponed.

The efforts were, however, in vain and it is generally believed in diplomatic circles that Montenegro acted at the instigation of Bulgaria.

The representations of the powers to the Ottoman government probably will be made by the ambassadors at Constantinople today with the feeble hope that the fire lighted by Montenegro may be extinguished.

BROTHER CHARLEY SAYS HE PUT UP FOR CAMPAIGN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—More testimony about the so-called Harriman fund of 1904 and the alleged $100,000 Standard Oil contribution was developed today before the Clapp committee.

Former Senator Nathan B. Scott, of West Virginia, testified that the late Cornelius N. Bliss, had told him of collecting $100,000 from the Standard Oil and that when he suggested that Bliss ask the committee for more, Bliss told him that President Roosevelt had forbidden contributions from that source. Scott related a conversation he had on the telephone with "the White House" about the New York campaign of 1904 in which the "voice at the White House" told him "that Mr. Harriman was coming."

Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Harriman railroads, testified that the late E. H. Harriman had told him of a visit to the White House and that President Roosevelt wanted him to help the national committee raise $200,000 for the New York state committee.

Charles P. Taft, the president's brother, today told the Clapp committee he contributed $250,000 to the national campaign in 1908 and that $150,000 was returned. He also contributed $40,000 to the Ohio campaign.

"I thought my brother was fitted for the presidency," said Mr. Taft, "and I elected him. I wanted him to walk into the White House without obligation to any great interests or corporations. On that basis I was prepared to go the limit."

Mr. Taft testified that his contributions to the president's campaign for re-nomination totaled $213,592 of which $125,000 was given to the national Taft bureau of which Representative William B. McKinley was director. To the Ohio state campaign $64,800 was given, and $23,000 went for miscellaneous items.

The examination of Charles D. Hilles, republican national chairman, was postponed until tomorrow. Other witnesses to appear today were Robert S. Lovett, former lieutenant of the late E. H. Harriman; Matthew Hale, of Massachusetts; Dan R. Hanna, of Ohio, and Senator M. B. Scott, of West Virginia.

Mr. Scott said he was in republican headquarters in New York in October, 1904, when a telephone call came "from the White House" for Treasurer Bliss or Chairman Cortelyou. Neither was present and he talked on the wire.

"What is this trouble I hear about Higgins," Senator Scott said he heard over the wire. "I hear he may be defeated." He told "the White House" that Mr. Higgins was in danger.

"Can't the state committee supply the necessary funds," asked the White House. Mr. Scott said he told of the difficulties in getting money for the campaign and the response from "the White House" was:

"I would rather lose the election in the country than be defeated in my own state."

I said "there is no danger of your being defeated," said Mr. Scott. He added that the voice at the White House said: "Mr. Harriman is coming to see me and I'll see if we can't arrange to raise the funds to help Higgins."

Scott added: "I thought I was talking to President Roosevelt." "When all the trouble broke out about the life insurance companies and campaign contributions," said Scott, "I went to the White House and suggested to President Roosevelt, when Mr. Perkins was indicted, that we who had benefited by his contributions, supply funds to replace those he would have to return."

"But the president said no, that if the money was to be returned it should be returned by the party as a whole."

Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the Harriman system, testified he knew of Mr. Harriman's visit to Washington in October, 1904. "He told me the national committee was 'in a hole' and owed the state committee $200,000. He said 'the president wants me to help it out and I've got to do it.'"

"Some days later he came to my office and gave me some checks and cash. Mr. Bliss came and got them. There was $250,000. Less than $50,000 of the contributions was in currency," Judge Lovett said he thought one of

PASSING HAT FOR T. R. IS LATEST

IN DETROIT, A MEMBER OF HIS FINANCE BUREAU COLLECTED $1,000 WHILE HE WAS SPEAKING TO CROWDS

Mackinaw City, Mich., Oct. 9.—Colonel Roosevelt's present tour of the central states was placed on a self-supporting basis today. It was announced on the Roosevelt car there was a representative of the progressive party financial bureau, whose duty it is to pass the hat among the people gathered to hear the colonel at every stop. The collector reported that $1000 was raised in Detroit yesterday, when the plan was first tried out. Buttons and certificates of membership in the progressive party are given in return for contributions. The colonel invades the upper peninsula of Michigan today. WILSON ATTACKS ROOSEVELT AGAIN.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 9.—"The voice is that of Esau, though the touch may be the touch of Jacob, but we are not going to be touched," said Governor Wilson in his second speech here today in referring to Colonel Roosevelt and his plan for governmental regulation of trusts.

"When the gentleman proposing to legalize monopoly," added the governor, "speaks the name of Lincoln, it is as if those who intended to perpetuate human slavery should have dared to speak in the name of the great emancipator."

"We are going to repudiate this slavery just as emphatically as we have repudiated the other and we are not going to look to the gentlemen who established that slavery in order to accomplish our liberty."

"We are not gazing upon an empty heaven, for we know where the fixed constellations are and we are going to follow the old stars to liberty."

"I'm not trying to put Mr. Roosevelt in a hole," said Governor Woodrow Wilson, in referring to his recent declaration that the United States Steel corporation was "behind the third party program in thought."

St. Louis, Oct. 9.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson, the democratic nominee for president, will arrive here from

IT'S SOME BIG FAIR AND SOME BIG CROWD AND SOME BIG CITY

NAN O'NEIL WRITES A FEW IMPRESSIONS OF THE DOINGS AT ALBUQUERQUE AND SAYS THE PAVED STREETS AND THOSE NEW STREET LIGHTS ARE ALL TO THE GOOD IN DUKE CITY

GOOD ROADS DAY IS ONE OF BEST FEATURES OF ENTIRE PROGRAM

BY NAN O'NEIL.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 9.—Well the big fair is in full swing—and when they advertised it as THE big fair—it did not exaggerate it one bit for it is the biggest and best fair that New Mexico has ever seen and I do not except any of them.

There are lots of people here and more are coming if one may judge by the demand for room reservations and hotel accommodations that have been pouring in by letter and by wire. And in full justice to the city of Albuquerque and to the citizens of Albuquerque, I must say they are doing the honors and doing them without stint. If any one could not have a good time at this fair they could not have a good time anywhere. What I notice more about this fair than any of its predecessors, is the hustle and vim that is apparent on all sides. And those paved streets and new clusters of street lights, help a whole lot. They give our metropolis a real metropolitan air and you can walk down Central avenue in the evening looking at the shop windows, and if you have just a little bit of imagination even, you are in a real big, growing, bustling city.

Yesterday was state day at the big fair. And it made one proud to think that at last we are a full fledged state and that state day meant something. Governor W. C. McDonald, who with his staff and state officials, were to have been the guests of honor here, could not carry out their part of the program because the governor was too ill to participate, still the day was one of the biggest and liveliest yet.

A gust of wind yesterday afternoon, caught aviator Beachey as he was starting his preliminary flight and his machine was thrown into a barb wire fence. The aviator escaped unhurt, but one of the planes was wrecked. The machine will be repaired at once and the spectators will again witness some of this daring bird man's aerial stunts.

Today is Good Roads day and of all the days of the fair, the management is trying to make it the biggest. Ralph E. Twitchell, the silver tongued orator of New Mexico and one of the best good roads boosters, will speak on the subject of good roads. He is president of the New Mexico Good Roads association. Col. D. K. B. Sellers, the liveliest booster in Albuquerque, and vice president of the Good Roads association, will also speak on good roads. Other speakers will be Col. D. M. Potter of Arizona who is the leading good roads booster over there, and others not now on the program.

There are more than 150 fancy canies on the list for the dog show. They range from diminutive poodles to the big white Russian wolf hounds. And we should not forget also the chickens. John Reub, who has that department in charge, has done excellent work and the chickens are coming from all over the state.

One of the prettiest displays I have seen in the entire exhibition here, is a collection from the School of American Archaeology of Old Santa Fe. The entire state can well be proud of it and I have found that it has attracted wide attention from those who are here from outside states.

"I didn't know there was anything like it in the state," said one New Mexico woman, to a group of friends. And I really believe that there are many people who do not know what the school has done and is doing for the preservation of our antiquities. The program for today is as follows:

GOOD ROADS DAY. Morning. 9:00—Band concert.

EXILE TO RETURN AND FIGHT FOR COUNTRY. Seattle, Wash., Oct. 9.—Colonel John Voucotich, formerly an officer in the Greek army, who says he was exiled because he favored a democratic form of government, who is a nephew of Queen Milina of Montenegro, said his royal uncle, King Nicholas, caused him to be imprisoned three years for political conspiracy and at the end of his term banished him from the country. He gives this as an excuse to return to his native land and take up arms against the Turks. Greek leaders say 2,000 men in Seattle are ready to go to the front.

PETITION FOR KANSAS GAS RECEIVERSHIP. Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 9.—A petition to appoint receivers for the Kansas Natural Gas company was filed in the federal court of Kansas City, Kansas, today. Judge Pollock and Campbell, sitting together took the matter under advisement. The receivership was brought by a Pennsylvania stockholder. The petition asserts that the company cannot make enough money selling gas at 25 and 27 cents a thousand feet to pay its bond interest, or to make payments on its sinking fund.

OUR CIRCULATION

We have noted with amusement that some of the papers in New Mexico have thought it advisable in complying with the regulations of the postoffice department, to publish circulation statements in obscure corners of their newspapers. As a pleasing contrast, the Santa Fe New Mexican takes this method of giving to the public candidly, honestly and openly, its circulation figures. And in this connection it simply desires to state that it will republish them in this conspicuous manner from time to time for the benefit of its readers and of the advertising public. It asks the public to note from time to time, the growth of our circulation. Some four months ago, Mr. Bronson M. Cutting, and a company of friends bought the controlling interest in the New Mexican and its two weekly papers, "The New Mexican Review" and "El Nuevo Mexicano." Since that time, the policy has been completely changed and this newspaper has had the outspoken enmity of many of the subscribers under former management. A subscription campaign is now being worked out by the management of the New Mexican which will speak for itself within six months. The circulation of the New Mexican is as follows:

DAUGHTER OF CALLAHAN IS AFTER KILLERS

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 9.—After "Ed" Callahan, former sheriff of Breathitt county, Kentucky, was slain from ambush a few months ago, his daughter, Mrs. Clifton Gross vowed to find the assassins. She spent many days and nights in the lonely mountain trails, seeking evidence, which when presented to a grand jury, resulted in the indictment of fifteen members of the Denton faction. The killing of Callahan was notable in one of Breathitt county's most bitter feuds.

BRING PHOTOGRAPHS.

The New-Old Santa Fe exhibition is commencing work on the old San Miguel church. Anybody having photographs of this church before it was repaired and altered are requested to leave them with the exhibition management in the Old Palace. All photographs loaned will be returned within two weeks.

LOYAL LEGION IS IN SESSION TODAY.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 9.—The Loyal Legion, an organization composed of officers and ex-officers of the army and navy, is holding its annual meeting here. Colonel Arnold A. Rand, junior vice commander-in-chief, is presiding, having been advanced to the rank of commander-in-chief on account of the death of Rear Admiral George W. Melville, who, with the late General Arthur MacArthur, was lost to the legion during the last year.

COLLEGE MEN TO VOTE AT SCHOOL.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 9.—A test case has been brought in the courts here in the shape of a petition for a writ to compel the city registrars to permit all Harvard students over 21 to vote at the presidential election unless registered elsewhere. The registrars have ruled that no student, who is not self-supporting, is entitled to vote, even if he is over 21 years old. Scores of young college men have been refused registration on this account.

"RIPPING" SAYS MORLEY ABOUT EXHIBIT

HARVARD PROFESSOR BACK FROM DUKE CITY DECLARES THAT OLD
PALACE MODEL AND PICTURES OF SANTA FE HAVE AROUSED A STORM OF INQUIRY ABOUT AN-CIENT CITY—WHAT HE TOLD THE VISITORS.

"It is ripping!"

Thus spoke Sylvanus Griswold Morley, Harvard '07 (A. B.) and '08 (A.
M.) on his return today from Albuquerque where he was "master of ceremonies" at the installation of the Santa Fe county exhibit.

"I repeat: It was ripping," continued
Mr. Morley, tugging manfully at a Pall Mail and blowing clouds of smoke until there was danger some careless passerby might turn in a "fire alarm."
"That exhibit with the 14-foot model of the Old Palace is going to do this city a world of good. Every detail connected with the staging of the exhibit has been carefully looked after.
The room is darkened and then suddenly the Old Palace, looking natural in its coat of pebble-dash, looms up, two little lanterns, lit by dry cells, swinging from the vegas which stretch out in front. The room is 14 by 25 and contains plenty of space for the showing of the paintings, water colors and photographs which are illuminated by concealed lights.

"The romance of the old city, capital of this vast empire, has appealed to most of the visitors and the model of the Old Palace has aroused a great many to ask questions about Santa Fe. Of course, there are a few who do not appreciate the display. One boy who entered the room was heard saying: 'By jingo! I thought they had something in here!' And a lady, who did not understand the 'motto' of the Palace model, asked: 'Is that thing over there a dove cot?'"

At this point of the interview, Jesse Nusbaum, designer of the Palace model, turned pale.
"But for all that," continued the prof., "the exhibit is 'ripping' if over there was one. Mr. Nusbaum is to be congratulated on the success of that model and all who have anything to do with the picture painting or making, deserve high praise."

"Have you no sympathy of colors in your lighting scheme?" was asked.
"No, we are confining ourselves to white light, using two big, round drop lights when we wish to illuminate the exhibit room," answered the professor, smiling broadly.

Mr. Morley said that he had many arguments with the residents of the Duke City because of his declaration that in a very short time Santa Fe is going to outstrip the Duke de Albuquerque Villa, and adding: "What have you down here but dirty brick doli-cles, lacking in age, art and romance?" Of course, the owners of those little brick buildings went right up into the air, like Beachey.

"Speaking of Beachey," said Mr.
Morley, "his flying was indeed inspired to give spinal thrills and incidentally to explain why so many bird men meet death by the rapid decent route. Those who go to the Duke City this week to see dare devil work in the ether will not come home disappointed."

FAIR A SUCCESS.

The fifth annual county fair was a grand success; fully five thousand people being on the grounds on Saturday, the last day. The big tent was crowded to the limit with crop displays and the best display of live stock that has ever been seen in Clovis was in evidence.

It was a real demonstration of the merit of the country. The farmers took interest; they brought their stuff and never did the county make a better showing. Hundreds of out of state visitors were here and all of them expressed a surprise.

While, of course, the fair was not on as large a scale as it could have been, nor conducted as perfectly as it could have been done, yet the editor of the Journal, as manager, did the best he could, under the circumstances.—Clovis Journal.

Work obliges me to sit down a good

NEWS OF THE STATE

LOOK WELL AT KNOWLES.

The Knowles country is now in better shape than it has been for many years. Winter grass prospects are fairly good and there is no frost
yet. The middle of this month many excellent crops will be harvested.
The vast quantity of land on which proof is now being made will be patient in the spring in time to make the assessed valuation of our school district such that it will insure extra good schools next year.—Knowles
News.

GOOD ONES.

Gideon Vanderlinden has got five pounds of white Denia onion seed which he will plant as soon as the ground is dry enough to raise sets for spring planting. He raised a few of these onions this year, planting the seed in March and is satisfied that if treated according to directions, they will be all that is claimed for them.
This is the same variety as the Lakewood onions, one of which weighs three and one half pounds and is on exhibition at the Roswell fair. Those on exhibition will average above two pounds weight.—Lake Arthur Times.

BADLY INJURED.

While unloading timbers at Oriental, 11 miles north of Carlsbad, last Saturday, Luther Dunaway, former section foreman at Lakewood, was almost killed by a timber falling on him.
His shoulder was dislocated, his teeth knocked out and a leg broken.
He was brought to Carlsbad and his injuries attended to by the railway physician, Dr. Cowan, and he was placed in the sleeper Sunday morning and sent to the Santa Fe railway hospital, at Topeka, Kansas.—Carlsbad Current.

BRAKEMAN INJURED.

Walter Bebermyer, a Wabash brakeman at Moberly, Mo., was severely hurt this week near the Wabash freight depot. His father who lives about seven miles northeast of Clovis was at once notified. Bebermyer, who was braking, was standing on top of a car when the air was suddenly applied and the train came to an abrupt stop, and he was thrown to the ground and fell across the track. Robert Randolph, a young lad who saw him fall pulled him from the track. Bebermyer was unconscious when taken to the hospital where he is suffering from a big gash in the head.—Clovis News.

RED RIVER'S NEW COMPANY.

Dr. Ben K. Koering who visited about three weeks ago the Red River mining district in company with Ed
Price, has organized in Detroit, Mich.,
the New Mexico Development and Mining company. The object of this company is to develop the Oklahoma group of mining claims. The company is reported to be a strong one and is capitalized for one hundred thousand dollars and no stock is to be sold for less than par value. Dr.
Koering will be in camp in a few days to start work on the Independence group. His wife, two sons, and probably one or more of the stockholders of the company, will accompany the doctor to Red River. The Independence is one of the best known properties in that district. The editor has had assayed by a government assayer specimens of rock out of that property when the former owners struck the ore shoot that assayed $7,280.30. The other groups are well located and the owners believe they will, by a little more development work, make very rich mines. The company expects to do considerable development work this winter. Dr. Koering is no tender-foot in the mining world having spent twenty years in Old Mexico with some of the best mines in that country.—Taos Valley News.

SUICIDE.

The town of Artesia was horrified to learn early yesterday morning that J. F. Atkinson had killed himself. He lived in the south part of the city with his happy family. Arising early he went out upon the porch, sat down on the edge with his feet hanging off and placing the muzzle of a shot gun in his mouth discharged the contents into his head, blowing the greater portion of his face and forehead away.
His wife and children were horrified to find his lifeless body and their screams attracted many of the nearby neighbors. The body was taken to the McClay undertaking parlors where an inquest was held. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death as above outlined. From evidence brought out by the witnesses it was learned that his mind had become temporarily unbalanced.
That he had been despondent at intervals for the past several years and

THE CAPITAL TAILOR

East Side of Plaza, ... Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The New Mexican is proud to present to its readers today the above remarkable news photograph of this year's greatest and fastest automobile race—a picture of the Grand Prix race taken from above the racers—taken in fact, from the clouds.

The camera is rapidly becoming the eye of the world and the New Mexican shows today how the camera and the airship can unite to educate and interest us.

The photograph shows graphically what an automobile speeding at 72 miles an hour looks like from an airship whipping the ether at 60 miles an hour. It was taken by the noted press photographer, Hugo Wagner, in an airship driven by the spectacular 16-year-old aviator, Farnum Fish, (on his sixteenth birthday, by the way). The swiftly speeding auto race seen on the road is Ralph DePalma, who won the Vanderbilt cup race three days before and who met disaster five minutes after this photograph was taken in trying to pass the winner of the race, Caleb Bragg. DePalma is now in the hospital. Note the car number, 35. The photograph was taken at a height of about 300 feet, at an acute angle. The large white streaks forming an angle at the right side of the photograph are the bars of the bi-plane's skids. Note the men and women walking at the side of the race course, and their shadows, even bigger than themselves. This is the first time that one of the world's great automobile races has ever been photographed from the air, although unsuccessful attempts have been made. The tremendous speed of both racing automobiles and speeding aeroplanes has always foiled the daring aerial photographer until now.

TIGERS TRAINED BY WOMAN SEEN HERE OCTOBER 15

Woman is at last coming into her own. Women cab drivers in Paris; policewomen in Los Angeles and California, and a woman mayor out in a little town in Kansas. The eternal feminine is more eternal than ever, and now comes women animal trainers, who are fast crowding the masculine sex for honors which they once held exclusively.

One of the most famous animal trainers in the world, is Mme. Ricardo who has a group of educated Royal Bengal tigers, with the A. C. Barnes Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus. She is the only woman who has ever successfully trained these beasts which are the most blood-thirsty and ferocious of all denizens of the forests and jungles.

One of the most essential features in the training of wild animals is patience. This is one characteristic in which the gentle sex excels. Allied with patience must be good judgment, and one who has patience generally has good judgment. Trainers whose hasty temper, or a sudden loss of patience, the trainer says or does some foolish thing, which spells his defeat as a conqueror of animals.

There is a thrill and fascination in the training of wild animals which one is never able to throw off when once it is experienced. All wild animal trainers, deep down in their hearts, know that they will eventually meet their death from the beasts which they seek to conquer. However, they apparently labor on and on, until suddenly the curtain of life is lowered on them, without warning.

The Al G. Barnes Three Ring Big Wild Animal Show, best known as the show that's different, will exhibit in Santa Fe on October 15. More animals will be seen with the exhibition than ever gathered before at any time. Two performances will be given, at 2 and 8 p. m. The doors will be open one hour previous to the performance that the public may view the magnificent menagerie.

SPORTING NEWS

Every pitcher has his particular delivery which he banks upon to win. He probably finds it early in his baseball career. I learned that I could depend more upon the speed with which I could get the ball over the plate, than upon anything else, and so I have been nursing and perfecting my "smoke."

A great many people seem to think I use the spit ball, but I do not. I have depended entirely upon speed, curves and change of pace. Last year I had 23 games to my credit out of a possible 40. This year I have been more successful and I have relied chiefly upon my fast ball.

After all, the winning does not depend so much on the kind of delivery as the ability to "deliver" the game to your team.

I do not know whether I am naturally plegmatic, but I do know that I never get rattled. My winning streak did not make me nervous.

Even when in Boston I went against Walter Johnson and had the unlucky number of straight "13" games to my credit; when we had been measured and touted in all the papers like prize fighters in a world's championship, I did not have the slightest feeling of nervousness. I went out determined to do my best and win if I could.

I have but one thought when in the box, and that is to help win the game I am pitching. I forget about the records and averages. The game I am playing is the only one in the series for me; future games can take care of themselves and past ones are over and gone. I cannot tell a friend or foe in the grand stands or bleachers. I hardly know what the other players are doing unless there are runners on the bases.

I think the reason why we won the American league pennant is because every man played ball in just this fashion; each played his position to the best of his ability and lost thought of self in the effort to perfect the team work Stahl demanded.

I could never have made my long run of winning games had I not been supported perfectly by the rest of the Red Sox.

This team play will be the greatest factor in winning the world's series, and if determination and team work count for anything the world's championship is already ours.

home runs. Becker went to center field.

Mayor Fitzgerald threw out the ball to Collins.

Mayor Fitzgerald drove on the field with an automobile which he presented to Manager Stahl. Stahl and Wagner were given a great cheer by the crowd.

FIRST INNING.

First half: The first ball was a strike. Snodgrass drove the second ball pitched into the bleachers for two bases. Doyle struck out. Collins used three wide sweeping curves to turn the New York batter back. Becker went out, Yerkes to Stahl. Yerkes handled Becker's grounder cleverly. Snodgrass on third. Time was called until the umpires could clear the field of photographers.

The first ball thrown to Murray was a strike and the crowd yelled. Collins threw out Murray at first.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second half: Hooper scratched an infield hit, Mathewson being able only to knock down the ball which he could not recover in time. This started the Boston fans cheering. Hooper

DO YOU KNOW THE MEN OF NEW MEXICO?

The first of two volumes of "Representative New Mexicans," containing the photographs and biographies of over 400 men of New Mexico, is now ready for delivery. This book is the first "National Newspaper Reference Book" ever issued from New Mexico, and will be on file with newspapers and public libraries all over the United States.

"Representative New Mexicans," Vol. I, contains 340 10x7 numbered pages, is filled with fine half-tone cuts, bound in half-morocco and cloth. It is printed on fine enameled book paper and would be a credit to any library.

Facts in the lives of the most prominent men of New Mexico are sketched in this book and to have one of them is equivalent to become acquainted with the leaders of your state.

Volume II is now being compiled and over 200 men of New Mexico have already signed contracts for its purchase. There are many men who take an active part in New Mexico's business and political affairs, whom we have not been able to see personally and we want to present our proposition to them. In order to do so we have decided to put the first volume before them at $5.00 each, so that they will have a chance to see for themselves what the volume is like.

This $5.00 hardly pays the cost of the volume, but we believe it will be the means of getting us many subscribers for the second volume. If you desire this work, you must order immediately, as the edition is limited.

USE THE FOLLOWING BLANK IN ORDERING.

C. S. Peterson, Publisher,
1539 Glenarm, Denver, Colo.

Enclosed find $5.00, for which send me Vol. I of "Representative New Mexicans," together with your proposition of how I may secure a place in Volume II. It is understood that should I not desire to include Vol. II that there is no further obligation on my part.

LEADERS PICTURED IN NEW MEXICO BOOK

Edition Issued in Denver Gives Biographies of State's Prominent Men.

Pictures of more than 400 representative New Mexico men, together with a biographical sketch of each man, interwoven with historical facts of note, are in the first of a two-volume edition entitled "Representative New Mexicans," which has just been issued by C. S. Peterson, of Denver. Data for the second volume of the edition is now being gathered.

The fact that New Mexico is now a state, coupled with the fight waged for nearly fifty years to gain admission into the Union, makes this the first authentic biography of her leading citizens, of untold value.

Contrary to the natural first conclusion that a book of this kind would be filled with pictures and autobiographies of politicians, lawyers, and "would-be's," the first volume of "Representative New Mexicans" contains 300 sketches of farmers, ranchers, merchants and miners and but 100, or one-fourth of its total, of officers and statesmen. And only those officials whose achievements have won renown are mentioned in the book. It is a reliable guide for those wanting to know "who is who" in the new state. It is also of untold value as a newspaper reference book, for which purpose it was really compiled.

Peterson is sending free a copy of this book to each newspaper and each public library in New Mexico, so that its future as a reference library is assured. The book is printed on good enameled book paper and is substantially bound in buckram, with leather corners.—Denver Rocky Mountain News.

TIE GAME IN 11 INNINGS LUCKY SWAT BY SPEAKER SAVED RED SOX

Fenway Park, Boston Mass., Oct. 9.—The Boston Americans and New York Nationals battled for eleven innings to a tie score, six to six, today. The contest was called on account of darkness. The second game will be replayed on the Boston field tomorrow. The contest was exciting from the first to the last inning. With a lead of three runs, handicap against them, the Giants bitterly contested the Red Sox all the way until they finally caught them and passed them in the eighth inning.

Boston rallied strongly and sent a fifth run across the plate which tied the score. Collins had pitched a good game for the Red Sox until the eighth when the Giants batted him from the mound.

The Giants garnered a run in the tenth and the home club fans were in despair when Speaker, by a mighty drive, for three bases to the center field followed by an error by Wilson's throw in, scored the tying run. The eleventh inning was unproductive and darkness ended the game with each club six runs apiece. The official box score is:

league champions battle the New York Giants, pennant winners of the National league in the second game of the world series.

The Boston team marched on Fenway Park field to a triumphant welcome from a home crowd. Governor Eugene Foss of Massachusetts, and Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, led in the cheering. The New York fans freely took the short end of the offered wagers of 10 to 6 that the Bostonians would take the series. The crowd gave its first cheer when Catcher Cady and several of the Red Sox substitutes began a batting practice. Manager Stahl complained of feeling ill, but said he probably would take his position at first base.

The sky became overcast an hour or so before the game and it was a good day for speedy pitching. The Giants began to warm up on the side lines while Mathewson and Meyers went far down the left field line for light practice.

One o'clock found only a few empty spots in the unreserved stands and bleachers but the main grand stand filled slowly.

The batting order follows: Boston—Hooper, r. f.; Yerkes, 2b; Speaker, c. f.; Lewis, lf.; Gardner, 3b.; Stahl, lb.; Wagner, ss.; Carrigan, c.; Collins, p.

New York—Snodgrass, c. f.; Doyle, 2b.; Becker, r. f.; Murray, l. f.; Merkle, lb.; Herzog, 3b.; Meyers, c.; Fletcher, ss.; Mathewson, p.

Umpires—Klem, Evans and Rigler, O'Loughlin.

Mathewson and Meyers are the batteries for New York and Collins and Carrigan for Boston.

Umpire O'Loughlin took his position behind the plate. Rigler gave decisions on the bases: Snodgrass went to left field and Evans to right field. It was announced that a hit into the left field stand would count as a two base hit, while hits into other temporary stands would go as stole second. Meyers threw wide. Fletcher dropped Yerkes' line drive and the batter was safe. It was a miserable error by Fletcher. Speaker beat out a bunt and the bases were filled with none out. The crowd broke into a continued cheer.

Mathewson put the first ball on Lewis over as a strike, the second ball pitched was a strike. Hooper was forced at the plate on Lewis' grounder to Herzog who threw to Meyers. Yerkes scored on an infield out to Gardner. The play was Mathewson to Doyle to Merkle, the ball bounding off Mathewson's hand thereby giving the pitcher an assist. Lewis and Speaker scored on Stahl's drive to left.

Wagner went out on a high fly to Doyle.

Three runs, three hits, one error.

SECOND INNING. First Half: The stands were mad with excitement as the Bostonians took the field. Merkle fanned, only three balls pitched. Herzog knocked a three bagger to right center, and scored on Meyer's hit which struck Gardner in the face. Gardner rubbed his head and seemed pretty badly shaken up but he continued to play. Fletcher sent up a fly to Hooper and was out. Mathewson was given an ovation as he went to the bat. Meyers was out when Yerkes took Mathewson's grounder and threw to Wagner.

One run, two hits, no errors.

Second Half: Carrigan went out Herzog to Merkle. Doyle made a brilliant play when he took Collins' grounder and threw him out at first. Hooper doubled to right. Yerkes was out Fletcher to Merkle.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING. First Half: Snodgrass flied out to Hooper. Collins used a fast breaking curve over the corner of the plate, his drop ball being defective. Doyle was out on a foul to Gardner. Becker went out Wagner to Stahl.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

scorer gave Fletcher an error on the play. Stahl got an infield hit which Doyle could not handle. Gardner took third on the play. Stahl stole second, Meyers trying to catch Gardner at third but failing. Wagner struck out. One run, two hits, one error.

EIGHTH INNING. First Half: Snodgrass, first man up, singled. Doyle singled to center, Snodgrass taking second; Doyle was forced at second when Yerkes took Becker's grounder and threw to Wagner. Snodgrass going to third on the play. Snodgrass scored on Murray's double into the bleachers. Becker took third. Collins sent from box and was relieved by Hall. Collins went to the bench in tears.

NINTH INNING. First half: Fletcher out, Wagner to Stahl. Stahl took Wagner's throw with one hand. Mathewson popped out to Stahl. Snodgrass walked. It was the first base on balls given in the game. Snodgrass stole second, Carrigan's throw being low. Doyle was purposely passed to first. Becker also took his base on balls. Hall was unsteady. Becker was forced to second when Wagner took Murray's grounder and threw to Yerkes.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second half: The Red Sox went to bat in the ninth inning with the score a tie and the crowd kept up a continuous cheering.

Carrigan was out, Mathewson to Merkle. Hall fouled out to Herzog. Hooper flied out to Doyle.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

The score between the Red Sox and Giants at the end of the ninth inning was a tie, five to five.

TENTH INNING. First half: Merkle got a three base hit past Speaker. Wagner threw out Herzog at first. Meyers was purposely passed to first. McCormick batted for Fletcher and Shaffer ran for Meyers.

Merkle scored on McCormick's sacrifice fly to Lewis. Shaffer took second on the throw to catch Merkle at the plate. Mathewson flied out to Yerkes.

One run, one hit, no errors.

Second half: Wilson went to catch and Shaffer went to shortstop. Wilson took Yerkes' grounder and threw him out at first. Speaker hit for three bases, scored on the throwing. The shortstop took the ball and threw wildly to Wilson, who dropped the ball and Speaker slid over the base, tying the score. Lewis got a two base hit. Speaker's drive was to deep center and the official scorers gave him a three base hit and an error to Shaffer. Doyle took Gardner's grounder and threw him out at first. Lewis taking third. Herzog threw out Stahl.

One run, two hits, one error.

ELEVENTH INNING. First half: Bedient went into the box for Boston. Bedient hit Snodgrass on the arm and the batter took his base. Doyle struck out. It was growing dark and hard to follow the ball. Snodgrass was out, stealing. Carrigan to Wagner. Becker walked. Becker was out, stealing. Carrigan to Wagner.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second half: Shaffer took Wagner's grounder and threw him out at first. Carrigan went out by the Shaffer-Merkle route. Bedient was out, Mathewson to Merkle.

No runs, no hits, no error.

OF UNUSUAL
INTERESTTwo beautiful wedding ceremonies took place in Santa Fe this morning.
They were the marriage of Miss Estella Bergere to Aldo Leopold, and of Miss Domitila Read to Corydon Lowe.The first wedding took place in the sacristy adjoining the Cathedral, the Rt. Rev. Antonio Fourchegu, vicar general, officiating. Miss Anita Ber-gere was bridesmaid and Carl Leopold, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.Only the members of the immediate families were in attendance. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Bergere, on Grant avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Leopold left for the north over the D. & R. G. this morning, showered with 25 pounds of rice. The bride is one of Santa Fe's most beautiful and charming girls; the bridegroom is a Yale graduate and is now forest supervisor at Tres Piedras. His home is in Burlington, Iowa.Further details of the wedding will be given by Miss Nan O'Neil in the Society columns Saturday.AT GUADALUPE CHURCH.The second wedding ceremony took place at 11 o'clock this morning at the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe, where Miss Domitila Read was married to Corydon Lowe, of Taos. The Rev. A. Basset, rector of the church, officiated. The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of the late Larkin G. Read and Theodorita Martinez, the latter a sister of Malaguas Martinez, of Taos. She is the niece of B. M. Read, the lawyer and historian, and is a sister of J. B. Read, the cashier of the First National Bank of Santa Fe. The bridegroom is one of the stockholders of the Lewis Lowe Co., a big Taos mercantile concern.After the wedding Mr. and Mrs.
Lowe left for California to spend three or four weeks touring the Pacific coast. Upon their return they will reside at Taos.SEPARATED FROM THIRE BAGGAGEThe Coney Island Musical Comedy company got separated from their baggage between Albuquerque and Santa Fe yesterday, so failed to appear at the Elks last night, but will appear tonight and tomorrow night.Cases have been known when companies have appeared even when they missed their baggage, but the Coney Islanders couldn't do it, as the stage costumes, elaborate, beautiful and Paris made, are a real part of the show. The members of the company might have gone on last night in street dress and sung their catchy songs, danced with professional cleverness, and gone through with their performance, but not to their own nor their auditors' satisfaction.A musical comedy company must have the gay costumes that everyone likes to see--the elegant gowns and the brilliant colors that add so much to the gaiety of the performance.We can always afford to wait for a good thing anyway, and Manager Stanton states that the rehearsal yesterday proves this entertainment to be in that class.So the musical comedy will be at the Elks theatre tonight dressed in its best attire, with all the accessories belonging to it, and will give an entertainment that is sure to please.PASSING HAT FOR

WHAT S.S.S. STANDS FOR

The familiar letters, S. S. S., stand for Swift's Sure Specific, a name honestly and fairly earned by a great blood remedy. It is worthy of its title because it really CURES every ailment resulting from impure blood. The majority of physical afflictions are caused by bad blood, because a weak, polluted circulation deprives the system of its necessary strength and disease-resisting powers. S. S. S. cures every disorder which comes from weak or diseased blood, it tones up and regulates every portion of the system, and creates an abundant supply of nourishing properties which fill the circulation and bring health to the body. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks, which are also possessed of great tonic properties. It does not contain a particle of mineral or other harmful drug, and is therefore the purest and safest blood medicine for young or old. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Malaria and all other troubles of a deranged circulation. Write for free book on the blood and any medical advice. No charge for either.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

SOME REASON FOR BEING A PROGRESSIVE

(By Emerson Hough.)

Emerson Hough is a "best seller" of the virile, American-out-of-door school. Before he broke into letters, he had been a ranger in the wild West, and had already done good public service by securing government protection for the buffalo herds of the Yellowstone Park. He was, in fact, in his late thirties when his first book appeared. Since then he has been sending them forth at the rate of one a year, besides contributing widely to the magazines on public and scientific subjects. His novels, dealing mainly with the wild days of the West and far-gone pioneer times, are full of philosophy of the plain old Westerner who broke and tamed a continent; and his understanding of the rough man and his problems gives additional interest of this straight interesting statement of his attitude toward this political campaign and its problems.

"Why fool with this new party," asked an acquaintance, "what can you get out of it? It has no chance to win."

You can make no answer to that sort of comment from that sort of man. If you told him the truth, he could not understand it. If you make him the simplest of all explanations, he could not believe it. He cannot comprehend that a party can do anybody great good without affording somebody great graft. If Ephraim wedded to his idols, let the union of two endure. The world moves on just the same.

The final argument for this new party lies in that fact: that the world does move. Compare the dark ages with today, and you find that the world has moved. All civilization is progress. The progressive party is the party of civilization. Do you want the dark ages or today for yours? That is your own concern. The world will move onward just the same.

The rewards of a clean way of thought are something which the old line standpat man cannot understand. "What are you expecting to get out of this?" he demands; and he thinks you are crazy when you say that you expect to get nothing out of it. Yet you are human impulse forward. The standpat man cannot understand that. You cannot argue with a man who deals with assertions only, and whose premises are those of the past. Let him alone. The world moves just the same.

One of the assertions of the standpat man of either of the old parties is, that this third party is Roosevelt and Roosevelt alone. Of course, that assertion is not true, because the world had progressed before Roosevelt was born and will do so after he is dead. The motives of this third party go deeper than any one man's life. They take hold on great causes and effects, on real conditions which are far wider than any one man's life.

With or Without Roosevelt. If Theodore Roosevelt fell dead tomorrow, he would go happy, knowing that the fight he wages will sometime be won, knowing that the world moves, with or without Theodore Roosevelt. It makes no great difference whether Bacon or Shakespeare wrote Shakespeare. The fact, the deed, is the great thing. It makes no great difference to civilization whether Roosevelt or some one else shall win this great fight; it will be won sooner or later. Theodore Roosevelt himself is a great enough man to know that. The standpat man of either old party cannot understand these things. The sheer delight of a man's decision, the joy of a fight which is there to be fought—these are the things which the standpat man of either old party cannot understand. Why argue with him? Let Ephraim remain wedded to idols. Let him continue to demand, "What can this third party get for you?"

Many years ago as a young man I lived in a small community in the Rocky Mountains where we had not much law beyond that of the six-shooter. It was a sweet and seemingly country for a man. No man abused his neighbor there. There were few locks on the doors. There was one great law which ran to the effect that, when trouble came, it was a man's part to strap on his gun, get out in the middle of the road and meet his trouble full face. Of course, he might get killed; but that was much better than to live with the record of having hid behind the door, and having shrieked for the sheriff or other form of representative or constitutional government to come and take care of him.

HE LEADS, OTHERS FOLLOW. Theodore Roosevelt was not the sort to hide behind the door. For that reason, America admires him. For that reason, he is on the front page. For that reason, Colonel Bryan, Mr. John Maynard Harlan, and the very late Congressman J. Adam Bede, follow him wherever he makes speeches. Why do they not precede him, and why does he not follow them? The answer is fairly obvious. He is a leader, and not a follower. What sort of a man do you want in the White house at Washington—a leader or a follower?

Why are you a Progressive? In all likelihood it is in no wise just to say that you are a Roosevelt-worshiper. Perhaps you became a Progressive for the same reason that I did, because you have read the History of America and American politics, because you have studied the great questions of American history. We have had great issues before today, but none larger than those of today. We face the third war of American independence. It is not enough in days like these to sit down clutching the clay idols of an ancient party in our laps and refusing to lift our eyes. Whether we do or not, the world moves on.

Now, all the great issues of a country, of this country, are not decided inside of old parties, but outside of them. This is true in spite of the vociferations of all the Borahs, LaFollettes and Hadleys who get cold feet when the shooting actually begins. New and great human needs have always demanded new and

Cottolene for Digestible Muffins

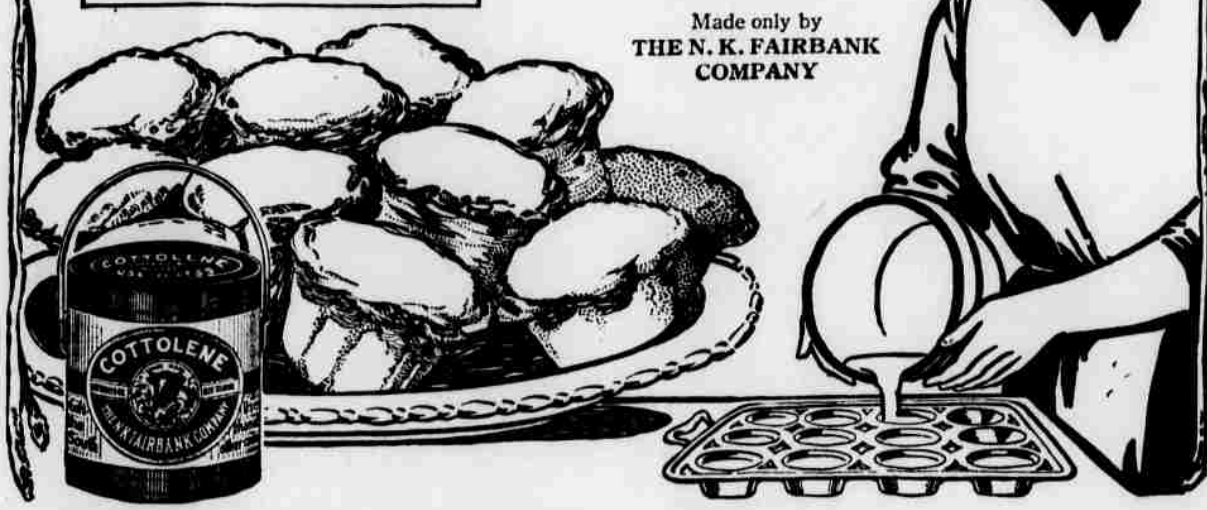

Muffins can never be their best if made from lard and soaked with grease.

Cottolene muffins are light, dry and crisp, because Cottolene heats to a higher temperature than butter or lard, without burning, and in cooking forms a crust which shuts out the fat.

Cottolene cooked food is always digestible.

Cottolene is much more economical than butter or lard.

Made only by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY

TRY THIS RECIPE FOR MUFFINS

1 1/2 tablespoons melted Cottolene	1 tablespoon sugar
1 1/2 cups milk	1 scant teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted flour	3 teaspoons baking powder

Sift baking powder and flour together; add the Cottolene, sugar, egg and milk (use more or less milk according to flour).

great political parties. If you do not believe this, read American history. You will find there that the great parties have come up and grown, that they have waxed and that they have waned. That is why there are Progressives today, and a Progressive party. In time a yet more Progressive party. Always there are some men who think, some men who are on the side of civilization, some men who are on the side of the future and not of the past. The Progressive party is the party of the future, not that of the past. Oppose it if you like. Your choice is your privilege. But the world will move on just the same.

Not a One-Man Party. The Progressive party is not a one-man party, but he would be worse than foolish who did not congratulate it on having the friendship and the leadership of one of the most wonderful minds, one of the most wonderful bodies, one of the most wonderful nervous systems this country or any other ever has seen. Put before the standpat man the full tale of the day's works of this one man, the vast range of his activities, and he will turn away from you as did the countryman after a long study of the camel in the menagerie. "There ain't no such a animal," said he. For the standpat man there ain't no such a animal as Roosevelt.

It is urged against Theodore Roosevelt that he is a self-seeker and that he is an egotist. One imagines that any man succeeding under the great law of survival is obliged to be somewhat of an egotist. Any great man is obliged to be something of an egotist. Look on the front page for the name of the man who has forged forward, who leads where others follow. Perhaps you will adjust yourself to a new definition of the term "egotism." You do not call the tall tree egotistic.

But as to the selfishness, the little self-seeking which is charged against Theodore Roosevelt, it is idle to pay attention to that sort of thing. Since it is charged in mere assertion, suppose we argue about that, and do not retaliate in like weak assertion.

On LaFollette. Many of us were present at the fatal Philadelphia banquet at February 2, 1912, when Senator Robert M. LaFollette, in the parlance of the day, "blew up." If we do not care to be so tipplish, let us call unfortunate and unhappy that two hours address in the wee sma' hours, at the end of which we saw the bowed and broken figure of a man who had aspired to lead the new progressive thought of his time. It is not fair to ask whether the speaker or his listeners made the more unfortunate, the more discourteous figure. But at the end of it all, there was a bowed and broken figure of whom many said in sadness, "That is not Presidential timber now."

Before February 2, 1912, Colonel Roosevelt, with many others, was of the belief that Senator LaFollette was the natural leader of the progressive movement of this country. After February 2, 1912, Colonel Roosevelt and everybody else knew that under such leadership that cause could not win. But the cause was there, the need for it to win was as great as ever. Do you perchance know of any other man who, better than Colonel Roosevelt himself, could have stepped from the sidelines and gotten into the game at this crisis?

When Senator LaFollette at the Taft convention in Chicago showed what many frankly called personal vindictiveness against Roosevelt, what many frankly called a dog-in-the-manger attitude, he really hurt no one so much as himself, although he did not help, but wounded. The Progressive cause in which he labored so long. He did what he could to give another man full opportunity whether to hide behind the door, or whether to come out on the street and meet the trouble. Roosevelt came out into the street.

When Governor Hadley discovered that it takes more than a silver voice and a set of clean-cut, classic features to make a great man; when Borah of Idaho concluded that reforms ought to be made inside and not outside of the old party; when Cummins of Iowa did not come through; and when Deen of Illinois, agonized of finding a fence both sides of which he could not occupy—those the worse side—when all these weak-kneed folks did these weak-kneed things after the outrage of the Taft convention—the people of this country concluded that that might be politics, but that it was not government. So they started a new party. The standpat folk of the both old parties cannot understand it. They cannot understand that a party can be governed by principle and not by policy alone. But the world moves just the same.

REPUBLICAN AN EXPERIMENT. As against the leader of this new party at the current date it is urged that he seeks to be a dictator. The assertion is not true. If it were true, would the dictatorship of an honest and courageous man be worse than the dictatorship of a cunning and avaricious oligarchy? The former might do something for you and me, the latter would do nothing. If this were Rooseveltland and not America, I would as lieve live in it as though it were Kuhn-Loeb-land or Rockefeller-land or Harrimanland or Morganland. Choose as you like for your own self.

Great Britain still considers the American republic an experiment. If that republic is to be governed after the fashion of the Taft convention, Great Britain is right. If we are to be ruled from Wall street and not from Washington, Great Britain is right. The underlying principle of this republic is the idea of the old town-meeting in which the majority ruled. If the majority is not to rule in America, then Great Britain is right, and this republic is an experiment, and it has failed. If we are to be governed by such rulers as the men who dominated the Taft convention at Chicago, then Great Britain is right, and this republic has failed.

But, because there are many men in America who are not weak, who are not willing to accept the wishes of an oligarchy, who are not willing to be dominated by pretenders, there was a protest, there was a third party. In other words, when the time came, this republic decided that it had not been a failure, that it intended to go on, and that it intended to settle its own troubles as they arose, in the middle of the street. That is why a good many of us are progressive today. It is your privilege to remain a standpat man if you like, and to ally yourself with either old party if you like. The world will go on just the same.

We are at the brink of the third war of American independence, the most tremendous and the most vitally important war of the three. This is the war on the side of the old town-meeting, and against the rule of a rich oligarchy built up on special privilege and in violation of the ancient law of an even break and fair play.

You can read in history of very many wars like this, if you like. This is a broad war, the war of a people demanding better living conditions, a fairer, a more even chance in the human struggle. Read all the history you like. Did you ever read of a broad war which had any other than just one end? The hungry have always won. There never was an honest leader of a broad war who died unknown to his own times or forgotten of later times. The cause of human need is the one cause that will not be denied.

All over the world, decade by decade, year by year, in every nation, the house of commons has grown, whereas the prestige of the house of lords has waned. This is true for Great Britain, for Germany, for China. China has her republic today. Let us not abandon hope. We yet may have one in America! Who knows?

It may be that you have married money or made it easily, and that before you classify yourself with the house of lords. It is your privilege to do so. The world will move on just the same. It is your privilege, if you like, to deny that there may be any such thing as a political party with actual principles back of it. It is your privilege, if you like, to refuse the simplest and most obvious explanations of one of the most striking phenomena of American history. But your blindness, your ignorance, your assertions will neither alter the course of history nor the progress of the progressive party.

NOT ANY VICTORY. A victory for Mr. Taft and his theory of government is not any victory at all. It is only a temporary clinging to a broken bridge. So far as a victory for Mr. Wilson is a clinging to standpat ideals of an old and outworn party, it could be no victory at all, but merely a halting at a broken bridge. Why waste time when trouble is due? Why not buckle on your gun, get in the middle of the street, and have it over with?

The house of commons wins steadily. The working people of the world win steadily. The old town-meeting idea wins steadily. You do not stop them. The progressive party is the outcome of conditions, a part of the progress of the world. It is bigger than both the old parties and all the standpat folk, who cannot understand any such thing as a great and vital human need. Do not join in it unless you like—but do not try to stop it. Take on the simpler task of stopping the stars in their courses. Attempt the genial chore of wiping out all human hope and human resolution. The progressive party is in tune with the religion of the stars. Be against it if you like; nobody is holding you. But the stars and the world are apt to go right on ahead pretty much the same. They play the long game, and all November look alike to them. If not this November, some other November. If not this Roosevelt, some other Roosevelt at some later day.

By this day this November, this Roosevelt suits a lot of us—so many of us that very likely a great many standpat people are this November going to get the surprise of their eminently respectable and highly constitutional lives.

TRUST FUND LEFT BY MRS. EDDY IN COURT. Boston, Mass., Oct. 9.—A trust, estimated at two million, created by the will of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, for the benefit of the denomination, was declared void by the Massachusetts supreme court today. The courts hold, however, that a charitable fund has been created and that new trustees may be appointed to administer it.

A BLOOD MEDICINE WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Recently it has been definitely proven by experiments on animals that alcohol lowers the germicidal power of the body and that alcohol paralyzes the white corpuscles of the blood and renders them unable to take up and destroy disease germs. Disease germs cause the death of over one-half of the human race.

A blood medicine, made entirely without alcohol, which is a pure glyceric extract of roots, such as Bloodroot, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Mandrake and Stone root, has been extensively sold by druggists for the past forty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, and a physician of large experience and practice, was the first to make up an ALTERNATIVE EXTRACT of roots, without a particle of alcohol or narcotic.

"It is with the greatest pleasure, that I write to let you know of the great benefit I received from the use of your medicine and self-treatment at home," writes Mrs. Wm. H. Hayes, of Lady Smith, E.C. "I suffered for three years from a running sore. Consulted four doctors but they failed to mend or give relief. Finally I was told I was in consumption and would have to consult a specialist concerning my ear, that the dead bone must be cut out before the wound would heal. A kind friend advised me to write to Dr. Pierce, which I did, and after seven months' use of the treatment the sore is healed, and I enjoy better health than I ever did. I dressed the wound with Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve and took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' for my troubles. I shall always recommend your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

RE-RECORDING OF BRAND

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO CATTLE MEN AND STOCKMEN.

In consequence of the great number of brands now on record in the office of The Cattle Sanitary Board, not now in actual use, the State Legislature has passed a law requiring all owners of recorded brands to record their brands within a period of six months, commencing on Sept. 10th, 1912. A failure upon the part of each holder of a recorded brand to record his brand in the time required by law, forfeits all right of further use. In a short time circular letters together with proper blanks for sending in renewals to the office of the Cattle Sanitary Board will be sent out to each holder of brands now of record. To facilitate this work as much as possible, and to avoid the lapsing of brands, it is earnestly requested that all parties now having recorded brands, upon receipt of proper blanks from this office, send in their renewals with the least possible delay.

Three Good Pals

Breakfast time should be the "curtain raiser" of a happy day. But the day can't be a happy one with ill health. Coffee is often a disturbing factor.

It contains a drug--caffeine--that gets on the nerves of many a naturally happy-tempered man or woman, resulting in "crossness" or irritability.

But now comes

Instant Postum

which is absolutely free from any drug.

This new food-drink makes good "company" at breakfast or any other meal. Manufactured from choice Northern wheat and the juice of pure Southern sugar-cane, it is prepared at table instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful, direct from the tin, in a cup of hot water and adding cream and sugar to taste. Everyone can drink it with happy results.

Grocers Sell Instant Postum

100-cup tins--50 cts.

50-cup tins--30 cts.

A sample tin (to make 5 cups) will be mailed you for 2c stamp to cover postage.

RESTORATION OF PUBLIC LANDS.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office, by letter dated September 25, 1912, notified the Santa Fe Land Office as follows:

Departmental order of withdrawal of September 1, 1903, for forestry purposes, is hereby revoked insofar as it affects the following described area near the Jemez National Forest, and the vacant unappropriated public land therein will be restored to the public domain and become subject to settlement on and after 9 o'clock a. m., standard time, November 29, 1912, and to entry, filing and selection upon the filing of the plat thereof:

Unsurveyed land which by protraction of the public surveys would be that portion to T. 17 N., R. 2 E., which lies south and west of the Jemez National Forest and between the Canon de San Diego and Ojo de San Jose grants.

Warning is given that no person will gain any right under settlement or occupancy begun after withdrawal and prior to 9 o'clock a. m., November 29, 1912. Persons holding valid settlement rights initiated prior to withdrawal will be allowed preference right to make entry of such lands in accordance with existing regulations.

The structure is to have a concrete foundation with a brick superstructure. Campbell brothers erected several fine buildings in this city, including the New Mexican's.

Miss Mugler has just received a new assortment of the latest hats and it would be very wise for you to stop in and look them over. It will give you an idea how to twist your old last year's one to make it look stylish, even if you can't buy a new one.

Springfield, Ill., late this afternoon and is scheduled to make four addresses before departing, shortly before midnight for Chicago. Tonight a torchlight procession will be held in his honor. The New Jersey will be the guest of the democratic editors of Missouri at a banquet tonight at 6:30 at Hotel Jefferson. The torchlight procession will escort the governor to the Coliseum, where he is scheduled to deliver his principal address here.

"I am simply trying to show that Mr. Roosevelt has the viewpoint of the trusts and that we cannot afford to have a man president of the United States who has that viewpoint. It is a matter of perfect indifference to me where Mr. Roosevelt gets his money, but it is a matter of a great deal of difference to me where he gets his ideas. And he got his ideas with regard to the regulation of monopoly from the gentlemen who control the United States Steel corporation. "I want to say right now that its ideas are not my ideas, and that I am perfectly certain that it would not promote any idea which interfered with the monopolies of the United States Steel corporation. I hope and intend to interfere with monopoly just as much as possible, and I cannot subscribe to those arrangements by which it knows it will not be disturbed."

WILSON HEATER

with the Hot Blast Down-Draft will produce twice as much heat as any other. It is because the Down-Draft consumes all the fuel and the gases which arise from it, whereas in other heaters the gases, which constitute one-half the burnable part of the fuel, escape unburned up the chimney. You can start a fire in ten minutes and hold it for 36 hours.

Remember, it is fuel cost which counts. The Wilson saves one-half your fuel bill.

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING AND NOTIONS

Ladies' and Men's Furnishing Goods.

DEAR MADAM:—

When you buy Dry Goods or anything to wear you are interested in several things. First, VALUE—It's not the price you pay but what you get for the price you pay that counts. Next, STYLE—you want styles that are right up to the minute clothes that are becoming to your personality. Then, THE HOUSE BEHIND THE GOODS—you want to buy where you know positively that satisfaction is really guaranteed.

If the above meets your ideas, we are sure you will be satisfied if you trade at this store—a store that has built their success on satisfied customers—a store that never fails to make good on any complaint, no matter how large or how small.

We are now in our heart of merchandising on the "Satisfaction Guaranteed" plan—and our business shows a continued increase month after month, and year after year.

We want your business, your friends' business, and your friends' friends' business. We try to satisfy each customer so perfectly that she will be glad to recommend this store to her friends. That's why our business grows so fast.

We sell only those makes of goods which have won our reputation solely on their merits. Each line of goods we handle is here solely because we know it is the best of its class in the country. Careful comparison will prove the superiority of our values.

We stand back of your purchase with the broadest kind of a guarantee, which means, if the goods don't satisfy you, you get your money back, and in such cases, we do it so quickly and so willingly as to leave no doubt in your mind but that it is a pleasure for us to do so.

Above all else, we want your good will, based on your satisfaction. You should investigate the advantages of trading here.

May We Greet You Here Soon?

Yours Truly,

NATHAN SALMON
