GOVERNOR OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCES RESULTS OF RECENT ELECTION

HIGHWAY BOND ISSUE IS APPROVED BY THE SOVEREIGN PEOPLE AND LIKEWISE LANGUAGE QUALIFICATION AMENDMENT IS GIVEN APPROVAL OF VOTERS IN NEW STATE OF NEW MEXICO.

TWO PROCLAMATIONS OF MORE THAN ORDINARY INTEREST ARE ISSUED

The people of New Mexico are informed officially today by Governor William C. McDonald that the highway bond issue was carried by popular vote on November 5 and that the amendment to the constitution prohibiting the enactment of any law restricting the right of suffrage on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude, had also been accepted by the voters at the polls.

The governor makes these announcements in two proclamations, as follows:

Whereas, the legislature of the state of New Mexico, at its first session, which convened at the capital of said state in the city of Santa Fe on March 11, 1912, passed an act entitled: "An act providing for the issuance of bonds by the state of New Mexico for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a system of state highways," approved June 10, 1912, being Chapter 58 of the laws of said first session of said legislature, by the terms of which the said act was to be submitted to the people of the said state for ratification or rejection at the general election to be held in the month of November, 1912, after due publication thereof by the secretary of state in the manner and for the time therein provided; and

Whereas, it was further provided by the said act that the ballots at said election upon the ratification or rejection of said act should read: "For the state highway bond issue" and "Against the state highway bond issue"; and

Whereas, at the general election held in said state on November 5, 1912, the said act was submitted to the people of said state for ratification or rejection, after due publication thereof by the secretary of state of said state as required by the terms thereof; and

Whereas, the votes cast for and against said bond issue at the said election have been duly counted, returned, canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers, and there were cast in favor of said bond issue 25,333 votes and against said bond issue 17,338 votes at said election, as will more fully appear by the returns of said election as canvassed by the state canvassing board of said state and the certificate thereof of file and of record in the office of the secretary of state of said state; and

Whereas, it thereby appears that the said act did receive a majority of all votes cast for and against it at such election;

Now Therefore, I, William C. McDonald, governor of the state of New Mexico, under and by virtue of the authority in me vested by said act, do hereby proclaim that the said act, entitled: "An act providing for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a system of state highways," approved June 10, 1912, has become a law and shall have the effect as by the terms thereof provided, and shall be irrevocable.

AMERICAN WOMAN SHOT A FRENCH SPORTSMAN

Paris, Dec. 14.—Further complications have developed in the sensational shooting affair of Thursday night in which Mrs. "Barnes," an American woman, and Walter Mumm, the well known French sportsman, were the principals. Mrs. "Barnes," it now turns out, was shot twice by Mumm, before she shot him. She brought her revolver into action only after she had been badly wounded.

Every effort had been made by the Mumm family to suppress information in connection with the scandal. Mrs. "Barnes," it is said, has not left France as was at first stated, but is in a private hospital where she is reported to be in a dangerous condition. According to one version given in the dispatches today, Mumm and Mrs. "Barnes" went about together, everywhere during the last year and Mrs. "Barnes" believed Mumm was about to marry her. Differences, however, arose and Mumm declared his intention of breaking off his acquaintance with her.

This was on Thursday night and the tragic shooting scene followed immediately afterward. Mumm, in spite of his wounds, was able to leave the house without assistance.

Walter Mumm, it appears from the police commissary's report, attacked the woman during a violent quarrel.

penable until the principal and interest of the liabilities for the creation of which provision is thereby made, shall be paid and discharged.

Done at the executive office this, the 14th day of December, A. D. 1912.

ABOUT THE AMENDMENT.

Whereas, at the first session of the legislature of the state of New Mexico which convened at the capital of said state in the city of Santa Fe, on March 11, 1912, the following amendment to the constitution of said state was proposed, a majority of all members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting separately having voted in favor thereof, to-wit: "That Section Five (5) of Article Twenty-one (21) of the constitution of the state of New Mexico, to-wit:

"This state shall never enact any law restricting or abridging the right of suffrage on account of the race, color or previous condition of servitude; and in compliance with the requirements of the said act of congress, it is hereby provided that ability to read, write, speak and understand the English language sufficiently well to conduct the duties of the office without the aid of an interpreter shall be a necessary qualification for all state officers and members of the legislature;"

and the same hereby is amended so that the same shall read as follows, to-wit:

"Sec. 5. This state shall never enact any law restricting or abridging the right of suffrage on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

Whereas, the said proposed amendment to the constitution of the state of New Mexico was submitted to the electors of said state for their approval or rejection at the general election held on November 5, 1912, after due publication thereof for the time and in the manner required by the constitution of said state; and

Now Therefore, I, William C. McDonald, governor of the state of New Mexico, do hereby proclaim that the said amendment has become a part of the constitution of said state.

Done at the executive office this, the 14th day of December, A. D. 1912.

ATTACK ON AUTHORITIES READ IN COURT

Indianapolis, Dec. 14.—John J. McNamara's attack on the authorities for causing his arrest were read at the "dynamite" conspiracy trial today, in connection with the charges that the present defendants approved of what he had said.

Five months after he had been taken to Los Angeles for dynamiting, McNamara's report as secretary of the union was read at the Ironworkers' international convention at Milwaukee, September, 1911.

The report was dated "In a cell, 2,500 miles away" and charged that the authorities had stolen $420 from the Iron Workers' headquarters in Indianapolis when the arrest was made.

District Attorney Miller charged that this report, together with one by President Frank M. Ryan, who charged McNamara had been "kidnapped" was read to the convention by Herbert S. Hockin, and that the entire convention approved the statements.

Shupe said he did not recall. Shupe said that he remembered as a tribute to McNamara, all the delegates "stood with uncovered heads and for a minute turned their faces toward the west."

George (Nipper) Anderson, of Cleveland, was the twenty-fifth defendant to testify in his own behalf.

With Peter J. Smith, also of Cleveland, Anderson was charged with receiving from Orville E. McManis a can of nitroglycerine, with which a job at Akron, Ohio, was blown up.

He is also charged with causing an explosion at North Randall, Ohio. A 13-year-old girl identified Anderson and Smith as men she saw carrying a box toward the North Randall job before the explosion occurred.

Anderson entered a flat denial of all the charges, saying he never had engaged in violence in labor union disputes.

You heard the testimony of the little girl who identified you as being near North Randall the night of the explosion because she said you had a funny face," asked District Attorney Miller.

"I did," answered Anderson.

"Yet you say you were never near North Randall in your life?"

"I do."

Peter J. Smith next testified. His attorney sought to show that while the government charged a "reign of terror" had existed in Cleveland on account of the Iron Workers' strike, there were few prosecutions in the local courts.

"If the local authorities had done their duty there wouldn't have been any need of a trial here now," said Federal Judge Anderson.

District Attorney Miller said "next to Los Angeles, Cleveland suffered more than any other city on account of terrorism."

BETTER FOR A CHILD TO BE REARED IN A GOOD HOME THAN CHURCH.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 14.—It is better for a child to be raised in a good home than in a church without proper home life," declared Judge Jas. H. Teller today, when he denied the writ of habeas corpus which would have taken little Marie Flannery from her foster mother, Mrs. L. E. Bolton, of Creede, Colorado, this morning.

Marie was adopted by the Bolton family immediately upon her birth. The mother died within a few hours after the child came into the world, in a squalid surroundings. Patrick J. Flannery, the father, decided that the child should be brought up in a Catholic church, of which he was a member, and started a fight to recover possession of the child. During the litigation he died, with the final request to his brother, Richard, that he continue the struggle to get the girl into Catholicism. The case was first heard in the juvenile court where Mrs. Bolton admitted she did not believe in Christianity as taught by the modern churches and preachers, but that her religion was the Bible.

ANOTHER BOOK MAN IS UNDER ARREST.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 14.—The third arrest in Boston in connection with the so-called "Luge book" investigation by the grand jury, was made when John B. Williams, Jr., surrendered on an indictment charging him with the larceny of $37,550 from Mrs. Mary Rogers of this city. Williams furnished $5,000 bail.

MANUEL GARCIA STILL ALIVE.

Manuel Garcia, of Pojoaque, is still alive according to reports received this afternoon from Sheriff Closson. Garcia was shot Thursday and is supposed to be fatally wounded. Juan Jose Lujan, son of Antonio Lujan, of this city, is locked in jail charged with the shooting. He is held for the action of the grand jury.

BOOST ENTIRE STATE SAYS SANTA FE

BIG MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HERE LAST NIGHT
DECIDES TO BACK PUBLICITY
MOVEMENT TO LIMIT.

NO SANDBAGGING OF RAILROADS

The chamber of commerce of the city of Santa Fe decided by unanimous vote last night to undertake the biggest job ever undertaken in the new state—to organize a state-wide boosters association and to work for Santa Fe and the state of New Mexico against any other proposition. This was the result of the conference of the special committee of which Mr. Norment was chairman and which made its report to the chamber of commerce. Likewise, following a somewhat acrimonious debate which however, terminated in a friendly spirit and showed that Old-New Santa Fe was a unit for this city, it was decided by resolution, that there was to be no "sandbagging" of the Santa Fe railway company nor of any other railroad, but that Santa Fe in respect to its railroad, would insist upon recognition of her rights as the most ancient city in the southwest if not in the United States and that being the state capital, it would protest against discrimination, but in a spirit of fairness to all concerned.

But the biggest feature of the meeting—the matter to which President Reuehan referred when he called the special session, was the state-wide boosters' meeting to be held in this city January 15 and 16 at which time the State Press association will meet in convention. The chamber of commerce will, at that time, arrange for a meeting of the state, chamber of commerce, boards of trade and state officials and visitors in the city. It is a big undertaking for a city of the size of Santa Fe, but it was the unanimous opinion that Santa was big enough for the job and that it would hold the meeting here.

President Reuehan, in opening the meeting declared that he had just been to Albuquerque and that after conversation with Mayor Sellers and residents of the Duke City, he had received assurances that Albuquerque would join the movement at once.

Likewise, he stated that if the chamber of commerce endorsed the proposition, he would instruct Secretary J. S. Harris, to at once communicate with every city and town in the state asking them to join in the movement.

The boosters' convention is to be entirely non-political and is called for the purpose of having less politics and more united action for the benefit of the people of the state as a whole and to promote the interests of the state as a whole. The chamber of commerce endorsed the proposition by unanimous vote and the secretary was instructed to notify other cities and towns, asking them to send delegates to the meeting.

Owing to the illness of Secretary Harris, Mr. Brogan acted as secretary. J. H. Toulouse, one of the owners of Summit Sanatorium, one of the features of Santa Fe's health colony and unique among the attractions of the great southwest, opened the debate, by presenting the report of the committee in the absence of the chairman, Norment, who was ill. Mr. Toulouse covered the entire subject in a short but pointed speech in which he asserted that Santa Fe was one of the greatest tourist cities in the United States and that because of her wonderful scenery, her ancient buildings and her wonderful history, she needed only assert herself to come into her own. He suggested that the proper way to assert herself was to publish to the world what she had here and to begin the task by first letting the people of the state know more about their state capital and their ancient city.

This, he said, could best be done, in the opinion of the committee, by entertaining the members of the State Press association here and by making the "City of the Open Gate" a standing welcome to one and all to visit here. He suggested that when the newspaper men came here, they be entertained in the many hospitable homes of the people of the city where real hospitality has so long been a passport and that the keys of the city be extended to them and that they be made welcome as long as they could stay. The railroads will be asked for special rates for the occasion for all newspaper men visiting the city and for their families. The plan was endorsed by a viva voce vote.

The next question that arose was the report of the special committee named at a prior meeting to investigate why tourists discrimination hurtful to Santa Fe existed on Santa Fe trains numbers three and four. It developed during a discussion of the subject that the discrimination was not alone directed towards Santa Fe, but was hurtful to the entire state since it meant that although tourists might stop off here enroute from

REVOLT ENDS WHEN LEADER IS KILLED

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Dec. 14.—An incipient revolution in Honduras was quelled immediately by the killing of its leader, General Jose Maria Valledaras, while he was urging his followers to start the outbreak. Honduran government troops happened to be near the scene and after a short skirmish with the rebels and the shooting of their chief, disarmed and dispersed them. The uprising occurred near Ojojona, the home of General Valledaras, where he was erroneously reported to have died some time ago from the effects of the wounds. He acquired notoriety as a revolutionist in Amahuaca and in Nicaragua.

General Jose Maria Valledaras was a violent anti-foreigner and cherished a special hatred of Americans. He showed this in 1910, when Fenton R. McCreery, the American minister, reached Amahuaca, where Valledaras was in command. He refused to accord any honors to the American diplomat. Later on he threatened the lives of foreign residents in the city and was dismissed from his post, whereupon he started a rebellion. British, German and American war vessels were sent to Amahuaca where Valledaras had proclaimed a state of siege. He shortly afterwards surrendered and was expelled from Nicaragua, whence he started a number of uprisings against the Honduran government.

SOUTHERN RAILROAD

RATES ARE UNREASONABLE.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—The interstate commerce commission today held unreasonable existing rates on fruits and vegetables from Louisiana and Texas points, on apples and other deciduous fruits from Oregon, Utah and Idaho, and on citrus and deciduous fruits canned goods and vegetables from California points to Crawford, Nebraska, and other middle-western destinations. The commission ordered an average of approximately 20 per cent reduction in rates, the reduced rates to come into effect at least two years from February 1, next.

WHITELAW REID VERY ILL.

London, Dec. 14.—The condition of Whitelaw Reid, American ambassador to England, is now favorable, according to the bulletin issued this morning by the doctor in attendance. They declare that he passed a better night. While the bulletin shows optimism, it is believed the ambassador is in a very serious condition.

London, Dec. 14.—A bulletin issued at 7 p. m. by physicians attending Mr. Reid read: "Ambassador Reid has passed a moderate day. His asthma is relieved but he is very much exhausted."

Mr. Reid this afternoon was resting easier and during the day did not suffer from any acute asthmatic attacks, which constitute the most serious phase of his malady.

WALL STREET

New York, Dec. 14.—The market closed easy today. Speculative operations were on a much smaller scale. There was an absence of the recent severe selling pressure, but traders were not confident that the market had definitely recovered its poise, and hesitated to make extensive commitments. Dealings were restricted further by unfavorable advices as to the European financial situation and by the fact that another supreme court "decision day" was close at hand. Some uncertainty was evidenced when business began and the tone soon became heavy. Weakness developed in special stocks. Lehigh Valley and Southern Pacific were vulnerable to pressure and the oil stocks also yielded. Bonds were irregular.

BALKAN ALLIES ARE STANDING UNITED IN PEACE CONFERENCE

THEY HAVE REACHED UNANIMOUS AGREEMENT AS TO TERMS THEY WILL INSIST ON BEFORE GATHERING OF PLENIPOTENTIARIES AND ARE READY TO OPEN THE CONFERENCE WITH COMMON PURPOSE.

SECRECY WILL MARK ENTIRE WORK OF IMPORTANT GATHERING OF NOTABLES

London, Dec. 14.—The chiefs of four Balkan missions to the peace conference have drawn up the terms of peace which the allies intend to present with a united front to the Turkish plenipotentiaries.

The terms are kept secret for the present and the plenipotentiaries of the Ottoman empire have decided that similar secrecy shall mark the entire peace conference unless it should be considered advisable to issue communications from time to time. This, however, must have the concurrence of all the plenipotentiaries.

Delegates to the Balkan league have decided to propose Stojan Novakovich, the Serbian ex-premier and the oldest plenipotentiary, as chairman; but should the Turkish delegates object, an arrangement will be made by which the head of each mission shall preside alternately over the proceedings. Premier Eleftherio Venizelos of Greece, has been singled out as presiding officer, but he withdrew in favor of the candidacy of Novakovich.

The Balkan nations have reached a unanimous agreement as to their attitude on various questions likely to be brought up before the conference and if any differences exist they have been put into the background, for the present, at any rate.

In regard to the alleged demand by Turkey that Greece must sign the armistice before the beginning of the peace negotiations, the plenipotentiaries of the Balkan league point out that when the armistice was signed by Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro, the Turks were told plainly that Greece would participate in the peace conference under any circumstances.

The Bulgarian and Turkish envoys today visited Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister at the foreign office. Dr. S. Danoff, one of the Bulgarian plenipotentiaries, subsequently left for Paris to confer again with Premier Poincaré of France in regard to the European political situation.

MONEY FOR WOUNDS IN LATE REVOLUTION

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Twenty-three Americans who were wounded or whose relatives were wounded by shots from across the Mexican border in April or May, 1911, should receive indemnities aggregating $86,000 from the Mexican government, according to a report to congress by a commission of army officers authorized to investigate the cases. All claims of Mexicans injured on the American side by bullets from Mexican revolutionaries or federals were disappointed.

The commission reported that Lawrence F. Converse and Edward M. Platt, Americans, who were captured on American soil by Mexican federals, were not entitled to indemnity, although the Mexicans committed an international wrong on crossing the border. Converse and Platt claimed $50,000 each.

The following claims were approved, the amounts being reduced in each instance:

For injuries at El Paso, Texas: Adolfo Varela, gunshot wound to daughter, $3000; Virginia Moorehead, wounded through body, $3000; Abundio Soto, gunshot wound to wife, $4000; Edwin G. Heaton, wounded through leg, $2000; Celia Griffiths, husband killed, $15,000; A. R. Chandler, son killed, $12,000. For injuries at Douglas, Ariz.: Emma Larsen, personal injuries, $1000; Elmer E. Crowe, shot through the body, $5000; Francis F. Williams, shot through the body, $5000; John W. Kane, shot in foot, $4000; Jos. W. Harrington, brother killed, $15,000; William R. White, leg wounded, $2000.

MEXICANS SEE WARSHIPS.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Dec. 14.—Residents and visitors of Vera Cruz were enabled today to visit the squadron of United States battleships consisting of the Minnesota, Kansas, Michigan, and South Carolina, under the command of Rear Admiral F. F. Fletcher. Orderlies were sent ashore from the vessels at an early hour to announce the plans of Admiral Fletcher to facilitate visits to his vessels.

Commodore Azueta of the Mexican navy; General Luis Valdez, the military commander of Vera Cruz, and other officials of the city went on board the flagship early in the morning, and on their arrival on the quarterdeck they welcomed the American naval men in behalf of Mexico.

About the same time a ship's barge brought William C. Canada, the U. S.

Prior to his departure for Paris Dr. Danoff declined to make any prophecy as to the prospects of the peace conference. He said, however:

"We certainly hope to conclude peace. Otherwise we should not be here."

He had emphasis on the unity of the allies, declaring: "I reaffirm that on all important questions we are unanimous. As to Greece's attitude in connection with armistice, I should like to point out that an armistice is a matter of secondary importance. Peace treaties have been concluded in the past without an armistice."

Dr. Danoff dismissed the charges brought by the Greek papers in regard to Bulgarian atrocities during the hostilities, saying: "That is no matter to be discussed today. We are here for a definite purpose—namely, to conclude peace between Turkey and the four allies. Other questions can come afterwards."

Dr. Danoff will return to London in time for the first meeting of the conference in St. James palace.

Paris, Dec. 14.—Bulgaria is declared to be about to enter the triple alliance, thus joining forces with Austria-Hungary, Germany and Italy, according to information given from a diplomatic source to the Figaro.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who was in Vienna on Thursday, is said to be the diplomat, on the point of concluding an agreement with Austria.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 14.—The report current here that the Russian government was withdrawing its deposits from the German banks is officially denied today.

Athens, Dec. 14.—A Turkish destroyer attempted to pass into the Aegean sea from the Dardanelles today, but was driven back by shells fired by two Greek destroyers patrolling the straits. The Turkish fleets on either side of the waterway replied to the Greeks guns but without effect.

REBELS ORNAMENT TREES.

Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 14.—Sixty bodies of rebels hanging from trees were counted by persons traveling by road yesterday from Las Cruces to Tepic, in the state of Mexico. This is one of the results of the campaign conducted against the rebels in that district by Colonel Rivera.

His troops yesterday defeated a detachment of rebels at Las Cruces. Prisoners coming from the north report that nine bodies of rebels were seen hanging from telegraph poles near the town of Piedras.

From the state of Mexico, the rebels are making their way into the state of Morelos. Railroad communication between the capital and Cuernavaca is again interrupted.

BONDS TO PAY DEBTS.

Mexico City, Dec. 14.—The chamber of deputies before the conclusion of its sessions tonight will, it is expected, grant an authorization to issue bonds to the total of 40,000,000 pesos, (about $20,000,000) at five per cent. This will form part of the national debt for the purpose of railroad subsidies, and other public works and for the payment of indemnities in connection with the revolution of 1910.

ALL UNITE FOR PEACE.

Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 14.—Rafael Hernandez, Mexican minister of the interior, today called together the Protestant clergymen and the high officers of all the Masonic lodges in order to ask them to render whatever aid was possible in the restoration of peace in Mexico.

This is a sequel to his recent appeal to Monsignor Beggiani, the apostolic delegate to use power of the Catholic church to assist in restoring order. As a result of that appeal a special mass said in all the churches of Mexico, on December 8, asking for divine intervention for the restoration of peace.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—The house money trust investigation committee was not in session today. Hearings will be resumed Monday.

AND IMMINENT DISASTER.

At Christmas-time I don't mind much unwelcome and misguided gifts. Tokens designed the heart to touch. And books whose atmosphere up-lifts. But one dire fear hangs o'er my heart. Nor will be quenched by mere avowals—

I dread those latest works of art. Those hideous, ghastly cross-stitch towels! Atrocities of bronze or brass. I've learned to take with smiling fact: For gold-beaded Bohemian glass. I gush my thanks with artless grace. I'll even stand hand-painted plaques. Or gilded and beribboned towels. Or plaster casts or monk pipe-racks. But not those fearful cross-stitch towels!

They have designs in reds and blues. Of men bizarre and houses queer. Strange landscapes of most vivid hues. And children that are "quaint" and "dear." Oh, Fate, send any simple thing—A box of sweets—a book of flowers—A decorated ball of string—But save me from those cross-stitch towels!

Carolyn Wells in Harper's Magazine. Everybody has been too busy this week making these same cross-stitched towels to have much to do with society. Even club meetings, in a great many cases will be discontinued until after the holidays because ribbon slips, crocheted ties, dainty jabots and bags in all the rainbow ribbons of the present fashion must claim our attention. How that Christmas list keeps growing.

Santa Fe shops are certainly showing their most attractive displays this week. Gay colors and garlands of imitation holly and mistletoe spurs one on toward the holiday mood of remembering all the forty-leventh cousins, doesn't it? The Santa Fe calendars and dainty little book, "The Open Gate," picturing the quaint corners around Santa Fe have had an immense sale. Everyone feels thankful that no such distinctive Santa Fe gifts came out for the holidays and solved many a remembrance for those far away from New Mexico.

Gifts for "her" and gifts for "him" fill the pages of the magazines and newspapers. The advertisements are so alluring that the woman shopper is tempted to buy all of them just for the sake of taking advantage of such bargains. Haven't you seen the ad about saving seventy-five dollars by buying "him" a three dollar Gillette for Christmas?

The girls have been as industrious about making Christmas presents this week as their older friends. There have been many gay affairs for Julia Jaffa this week and the young things have had a merry time. Julia had always had many friends in Santa Fe who are delighted to welcome her here again.

Next week the path to the post-office will be well worn and everyone will do those last things that always come up. Plans for the holidays are indeed gay. Of course, all the college contingency will be at home again and will want to crowd in a whole semester's fun and visiting in the two weeks allowed. Two or three dances are planned for Christmas week that are sure to be good fun for everyone that wears a holiday smile.

Soon after New Year's the legislature arrives and politics and politicians will hold the floor for another couple of months. The big charity ball and the reception at the executive mansion will welcome the legislators and their families to the capital almost before they have been in session a week.

"Did you see the diamond engagement ring George gave me?" "Did I see it? I'm the first girl that wore it."—Houston Post.

MISSION TEACHERS

Judge and Mrs. John R. McFie entertained informally Monday evening for Mrs. Walter B. Adams who is a visitor at the Allison Mission school, and for the mission teachers at the school. The evening was very pleasantly spent with music, all joining in the rousing college songs and jollity of the evening.

The Elks Lodge are planning a most attractive dance for next Tuesday evening at their beautiful new club house. The members of the lodge

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. and their friends will be present. The affair will be informal and a merry evening is anticipated.

Two men will lean up against a bar for two hours trying to tell each other why women talk too much.—The Rambler.

ADIOS TO MORLEYS.

Two dozen or more of the members of the Santa Fe club and their wives and friends gave a farewell party Thursday evening for Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Morley, who left yesterday for Yucatan. The guests brought their refreshments with them and assailed El Nido early in the evening. The evening was spent in playing bridge. Toward midnight the guests remembered the provisions that had been shipped up in the afternoon and helped Mrs. Morley get the feast ready—a feast of many varieties of cheese, I've heard, and a flow of—not the soul, but near kin to it—spirits.

FOR JULIA JAFFA

Another pleasant affair at which Julia Jaffa was the guest of honor was the card party given by Helen Harrison Thursday evening. Helen was the order of the evening but was not at all the end of the evening. There was far too much laughter and good fun for the evening to be devoted entirely to the study of the scientific method of playing through strength to weakness.

Later in the evening, after a dainty repast had been enjoyed by everyone, two steps and ragtime added to the general hilarity and made the happy guests forget that midnight ever struck.

Miss Harrison's guests were Julia Jaffa, Florence Spitz, Elizabeth Duell, Margaret Parker, Edna Abrahamson, Edith Perrenot, Ruth Laughlin, Howard J. Morgan, Jess Nussbaum, T. Harman Parkhurst, Ira Grimshaw, Paul Butt, Harold Stevens and Harry Franklin.

"Young man, do you know how to dance?"
Young Man—"Well, parson, I know the holds, but I don't know the steps."

BRIDGE PARTY

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was a bridge party given Wednesday afternoon by Florence Spitz for her house guest, Julia Jaffa, of Roswell. Thirty or more girls and young married women were there in their very prettiest frocks and the chatter and laughter that filled the spacious rooms of the Spitz home during the entire afternoon gave ample proof of the good time everyone was having.

But they played bridge too. There were many high scores but the highest was held by Mrs. E. P. Davies, who received the first prize. Julia Jaffa was the lucky one, of course, to be given the guest prize.

After the bridge games were over Mrs. Spitz served a delicious luncheon and the darkness outside gave the first hint that it was time to go home. Those present were Mrs. S. G. Morley, Mrs. J. B. Lavett, Mrs. W. G. Hoover, Mrs. J. W. March, Mrs. M. N. Dunlavy, Mrs. E. P. Davies, Mrs. Carl A. Bishop, Mrs. E. F. Coard, Mrs. T. A. Hayden, Mrs. H. K. Gilmour, Mrs. Henry Dendahl, Joy Washburn, Kate Mueller, Myrtle Boyle, Edith Perrenot, Margaret Parker, Edna Abrahamson, Helen Harrison, Hattie Paine, Elizabeth Brown and Ruth Laughlin.

FOR MRS. GLASS

Mrs. W. H. Thornton and Mrs. J. P. Victory received Tuesday afternoon in honor of their niece, Mrs. Glass, of Sedalia, Missouri, who is spending the winter in Santa Fe. The reception was held from three to five in the library hall and was largely attended by the haute monde of Santa Fe.

Library hall never looked more attractive than it did Tuesday afternoon. Red was the predominating color used in the decorations, and its warm tint lent a charm and coziness to the whole room. That was very pleasing. Two immense American flags were gracefully draped across the ends of the hall while smaller flags carried out the decorative scheme along the side walls. Smilax was festooned between the flags and gave the appearance of typical California luxury of decoration. Navajo blankets in designs of red and black and gray were spread over the floors. The tea table was gorgeous with its great bowl of flaming red poinsettias.

As the guests entered the hall they were welcomed by Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Glass and Mrs. Victory. Mrs. Thornton was very becomingly gowned in black point d'esprit over dull blue charmeuse. Mrs. McDonald's gown was black marquisette over black crepe meteor and ornamented with tapestry embroidery in the Persian colors. Mrs. Victory wore a graceful gown of black crepe de chine. Mrs. Glass was usually attractive in tan with touches of turquoise.

Mrs. James Seligman, Ma Fliske, Mrs. F. C. Wilson, M. Clancy and Mrs. H. S. Kautz, all in receiving guests and then to the other end of the hall where Mrs. Arthur Seligman, M. P. Asplund and Miss Massie were the tea and coffee. Florence Spitz, Julia Jaffa and Margaret Parker listed at the tea table.

EL BESO DEL PERDON

Such was the title of the Spanish play given by some of the members

Guadalupe parish on Thursday evening in the new hall in the parish house. The performance was in every way a credit to the players and to the priests who have spent much time in coaching the play. The receipts for the tickets sold for the evening's performance were $115. Fathers Besset and Kuppera are very grateful to the people of Guadalupe church and to all who attended for their help in making the affair such a success.

The hall occupies the entire second floor of the parish house and will be used for club rooms for the club that has been organized among the members of Guadalupe church. Thursday evening the hall presented a gay scene with its Christmas decorations of red and green paper holly festooned from the center to the sides of the room.

The program for the evening was as follows:
Don Julian (father of the family)..... Rafael Ortiz
Leonora (daughter of Don Julian)..... Amalia Ortiz
Luis (son of Don Julian)..... Teofilo Romero
Don Leonardo (intimate friend of Don Julian)..... Antonio Ortiz
Don Javier (chief magistrate of the place)..... Ben Duran
Don Jose (owner of the house where Mr. Julian was living)..... Guillermo Martinez
Antonio (servant)..... Anita Ortiz
Secretaries of the magistrature..... Pedro Alarid and Felipe Gings
This drama was under the direction of Rev. P. Kuppera.

Tableau of our Lady of Guadalupe: Our Lady of Guadalupe..... Sofia Quintana
Juan Diego..... Guadalupe Rivera
Angels..... Teresa Hampel and Miss Read
This tableau was under the direction of Miss Gerish.

Recitation—Going to Gradina's..... Lina Quintana
Three Spanish songs, under the direction of Miss Gerish, with guitar accompaniment.
Two English songs: "Won't You Play House With Me?" and "Christmas," under the direction of Miss Schnepple.

Piano Solos—Emma Krick and Edith Hampel.
Vocal Solo—Mrs. Read.
General tableau of all the players of "El Beso del Perdon."

The performance will be repeated tomorrow night so that those who came too late to find seats Thursday evening may have a chance to see the play. Tickets which have been bought already will be good for tomorrow evening. Tickets will be on sale at the door, before the play begins at 8 o'clock.

Father Besset states that commencing on Christmas night, December 25th, at the same place, the beautiful play called "Los Pastores" will be given for several nights, and at the end of this, the History of the Apparition of Our Lady of Guadalupe will be given in full.

STEVENSON-MEGILL.

Each week the predictions for honeymoon row are being fulfilled. It wasn't guess work at all you see, in spite of the people who couldn't put two and two together enough times to make five when the news of this lively real estate market first appeared.

The wedding of Miss Ethel Megill and F. Robert Stevenson occurred at the Presbyterian Manse Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock. Mrs. Stevenson had just returned from a trip to Denver and other points. The Denver & Rio Grande must have seemed unduly slow to the anxious groom who waited at the station for almost an hour after schedule time, before the chill cars came creeping over the hills.

But the journey from the station to the manse was made in record time. At the manse the Rev. B. Z. McCullough, Mrs. Emerson and A. E. P. Robinson were waiting and the solemn ceremony was quickly performed.

Mrs. Stevenson has been in Santa Fe for a couple of years and has made many friends here. She is pretty and exceedingly bright and competent and

LIVED ON RAW EGGS

Mr. Richard's Experience With Different Diets. Peaches and Buttermilk for Three Years.

Cecilton, Md.—Mr. George Richards of this place, during the past 12 years has probably tried more different diets than the average person would ever use in a lifetime.

What he has to say about his experiments, must therefore be highly interesting to anyone suffering from indigestion, much trouble of any kind, says: "For more than 12 years red with stomach troubles, and hundreds of dollars for doctor bills. I was also operated on on dried peaches and buttermilk three years. The only thing that gave me pain was raw eggs, physical wreck. I could not eat as near crazy as a man that after taking two 25-cent Theodor's Black-Draught, a good remedy has been for more than 70 years. That it's 'Theodor's' working daily on the farm I am as hard as iron."

has the great gift of never-failing good humor. She is known in all the offices as a capable, quick stenographer and will no doubt fill her new position as housekeeper with equal efficiency. It is often the girl who has been in business offices that takes the best care of a home because she truly appreciates its comforts.

Mr. Stevenson came out here from New Haven several years ago and has held several responsible positions during his stay in town. He is now assistant postmaster and his friends predict a bright future for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson are living in a pleasant little cottage near Palace avenue, where their friends have already called to offer their heartiest congratulations.

ROMANCE FOILED.

There was great excitement this week when one of the eligibles in the capitol building spoke of how hard it was to find a cottage "just for two." Everyone thought Gus Koch had started an epidemic for the "love-in-a-cottage" idea. This young bachelor blushed all over his head—it was a lack of hair that exposed the crimson hue. But he smiled a wise smile and still insisted that houses were hard to find—this was, of course, told in a very confidential tone to friends along the corridor, who whistled and exclaimed "Oh, joy," and asked if rice or confetti was preferred after the ceremony.

And still the young man smiled—and blushed. Monday his friends saw him leave the capitol early. "Yes," he said, "she's coming in on the noon train so I'll have to hurry. The house is all ready for her too."

After half an hour's brushing and changing of ties his friends saw him driving over to the depot in grand style. He still smiled at them.

The friends decided that it would be a good joke to wait and waylay the cabs coming from the train. Finally they were rewarded by seeing the young man coming toward them in a cab—and sure enough a fair lady sat beside him. They stopped the cab and opened their bags of rice.

Then the young man smiled again and called to them: "Boys, come over and meet my sister. She has just come in from Albuquerque. And, say, come over and see us. We're living on a new street near Palace avenue. It was the only cottage just large enough for two that I could find in town."

THE HAPPIEST.

The strong sense of courtesy and cordiality with which the Chamber of Commerce welcomes visitors to Santa Fe, had an awful conflict with their sense of humor Wednesday afternoon. Many and various are the visitors who came seeking information, but never have a more gloriously happy bride and groom descended upon those rooms than the couple who emerged from their touring car—one of those built of two varieties—and asked to see photographs Wednesday. They were utterly oblivious that the world held more than two mortals, and minded not at all, expressing their absorbing devotion before Secretary Harris and others in the room. Little love pats and coolings and "dearie" and "lovey" might have embarrassed the onlookers but not the bride and groom. From their actions one would imagine that they had eloped at Lamy—the novelty and endearing terms were so apparent. They looked over some of the photographs of Santa Fe and finally saw one of the cliff dwellings. "Oh, dearie," she cooed, "do you suppose they were as happy as we are?" That was too much for the chamber of Commerce cops. They hurried out of the room and left the happy ones to come to a decision.

Mrs. Wayupp—Then they are really made for each other?

Mrs. Blase—Yes, he turned himself into an Episcopalian to catch her and she turned herself into a blonde to catch him. Town Topics.

SOCIETY.

Following staff: Cub reporter, Katherine French; society editor, Edward Cartwright; sporting editor, George Cartwright; bystander, Roland Pollard; Old Coder, Wallace Fiske, and want ad editor, Elmer Friday. The paper is read every meeting.

On Wednesday, December 11th, the last meeting of the society, the following program was carried out:

Recitation.....Anita Wientge
Story.....George Cartwright
Duet.....Helen Knapp, Esther Pollard
High School Paper.....Elmer Friday
Violin Solo.....Consuelo Bergere
Debate—Resolved that: It is better for a young person to grow up in the country than in the city.

Affirmative—Frances Leeson, Thelma Stephens, Edward Cartwright.
Negative—Irma Stephens, Roland Pollard, Austin Perrenot.
The debate was closely contested and declared a tie by the judges. It was considered by all present to have been the best of the year.

Miss Gryzla, or rather Mrs. Otero, has been greatly missed by the members of the drawing class, but her place has been filled by Mrs. Martin, who is a very capable drawing teacher.

The old high school building, which is on the premises of the new building and which is being remodeled for the manual training department, is nearly completed and the students of the high school are looking forward to the dance that President Jose Sena of the school board has promised them.

The members of the junior class have chosen maroon and white as their class colors and have ordered large pennants which they expect to soon have in their possession.

The girls basket ball team of S. F. H. S. is practicing hard in the gymnasium for two games which they expect to play early in January, one with the Las Vegas high school and one with the Albuquerque high school. The S. F. H. S. girls defeated the Vegas girls last year and expect an easier job of it this year.

A few of the boys and girls of the high school went up to the mill pond "Prof. Lougee" who is a "champion" skater. They took along a large supply of refreshments which tasted pretty good after they had been skating awhile. The ice is good at present and the boys and girls are looking forward to the good times they will have during the Christmas holidays.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IN LAS VEGAS MAY DISSOLVE

From Las Vegas Optic.

The directors of the Commercial club at the special meeting held yesterday afternoon, passed a set of resolutions declaring the support of the community is necessary if the organization is to continue to exist. Every business man in Las Vegas, after reading these resolutions, should realize that if the club is to continue to further the business interests of Las Vegas and the surrounding country it needs his assistance and that of all other citizens.

It is the hope of the board of directors that the business men as well as other Las Vegas will come to the front and show that they are willing to give to the Commercial club the support necessary to make such an organization the live wire of the community.

The directors feel that as they themselves are paying out their money in the interests of the club as well as those of other business men and are not receiving any return for the service other than a knowledge of duty well done, it is up to the business interests and the entire community to do their share toward the maintaining of the organization and not wait until they are solicited personally for funds for the boosting of Las Vegas.

NEW WORLD'S CHAMPION HAS $50,000 IN SIGHT IN A YEAR, AND HE WON'T HAVE TO FIGHT HARD FOR IT EITHER.

WILLIE RITCHIE, World's Lightweight Champion, Getting Ready for his short act on the stage, for which he is said to draw $1250 a week. Nolan, his manager, is assisting him.

Winning Lightweight Crown Hasn't Changed Willie Ritchie—He's the Same Modest Kid Who is Looking Forward to the Time When he Can Leave the Fight Game.

San Francisco, Dec. 14.—For the first time in the history of the ring, at least since the establishment of record books, the record of a world's champion does not appear in the records. The champion in question is Willie Ritchie, new king of the light-weights. It is simply another illustration of the fortunes of boxing—one day and the next a champion or vice versa. Ritchie began his rise too late for the record books, but they will not forget him in the 1914 books.

Carrying out the policy as announced by him in the Daily New Mexican before his fight with Ad. Wolgast, in case he won, he is going after the money that will set him up in a legitimate business after his fighting days are over. With all sorts of theatrical exaggerations before him a comfortable fortune is in sight and when he makes his next battle he unquestionably will be given a guarantee fat enough to give him the fortune he is after.

Annexing the world's lightweight title has not changed Ritchie in the least. He is the same shy, modest boy that he was before the championship battle, and contrary to custom, he is not investing his money in silk hats, Prince Albert coats and huge diamonds. He is frugal, but not stingy and is sensible enough to know that he will not be a big money earner all his life, either on the stage or in the ring.

With 20 or 30 weeks of theatrical work at not less than $1000 a week and in some instances a much higher figure, followed by rich short bouts in the east after his stage work is over and all of this capped by a long distance match for the title, for which he undoubtedly will be given not less than $15,000, Ritchie stands to clean up more than $50,000 before the year is out.

One of the most lucrative matches Ritchie looks forward to is a short contest in the east with Packey McFarland. A 10-round go with Packey McFarland would be worth $17,000 to him, not to mention matches with other topnotchers in Philadelphia, where a number of offers await him. Ritchie, however, is in no hurry to get back into fighting togs and may not be seen in real action before May, and perhaps July.

JUST TIRED OF LIFE.

New York, Dec. 14.—Mid-evening with a howling gale whipping the sea, was the dramatic setting chosen for suicide by William Lees, a passenger on the liner France, which reached port today from Havre.

A few moments before hurling himself into the water Lees handed a sailor a sealed letter to be given to the captain. Before the sailor could execute the mission, Lees was in the ocean. The steamer stopped but the gale prevented the launching of a boat. An hour afterward the man's body was seen on the surface. Efforts to recover it were futile.

In the letter left with the captain, Lees declared he was tired of life and requested that his wife in England be notified of his death.

CAMPA AGAIN ACTIVE.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 14.—Emilio Campa, the Mexican insurrecto leader released by the United States district court Wednesday after he had been held for more than forty days awaiting extradition, was reported today to be on the way to the Alator district to start another revolution. United States officers said Campa was expected to reappear Monday to face another extradition charging him with being a fugitive from justice in Mexico, after having committed murder in the Alator district.

HOUSE WILL TAKE UP IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Over protests and charges of "gag rule" from opponents of the measure, the house today voted 161 to 19 to take up the ill-fated immigration bill, a vote to follow a general debate of four hours. A bill introduced by Representative Burnett, of Alabama, is an amendment of the senate measure of the same character.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR ANOTHER RAILROAD.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 14.—A. H. The principal offices of the railroad company are at Philadelphia, Pa.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 14.—A federal indictment charging Benjamin F. BOOST ENTIRE STATE SAYS SANTA FE

Chicago to the coast, they would lose Pullman accommodations on through tickets.

Mr. Lutz, local agent of the big corporation, reported that he had been unsuccessful in getting any further light on the subject, but he urged that the chamber of commerce be reasonable about the matter and that it give the Santa Fe railway company an opportunity to go into the subject in detail.

Speaking upon the subject, former Judge John R. McFie declared that it would be unwise for Santa Fe to open a fight on the big corporation, because it might retaliate and he asserted that Santa Fe could not finance such a fight to the end. He said that Santa Fe ought to first give the Santa Fe every opportunity to relieve the conditions that exist here before taking with such a delicate situation. His views were endorsed by several other members of the chamber. Judge Collins then read a resolution which he asked the chamber of commerce to endorse and which he asserted should be sent to the proper railway officials. He asserted that it had been his experience that no individual and no city received recognition until it first asserted its rights and he declared that the time had come to assert the rights of Santa Fe.

His views were endorsed by Mr. Cartwright, Sr., of the Cartwright wholesalers of Santa Fe, and by several others. Judge McFie declared, however, that while he would vote for Judge Collins' resolution, he first wanted it understood that he did not favor anything that would be in the nature of a threat against the Santa Fe railway company. This view was endorsed by Captain Fred Fornoff of the state police, who said that he favored "becoming humbleness" on the part of Santa Fe which created considerable mirth. The president moved to eliminate two sections of Judge Collins' resolution, which he said might contain somewhat of a "sting." After a lively but amicable debate, a tie vote resulted showing that the chamber of commerce stood evenly divided on the subject.

Attorney Francis C. Wilson led the opposition to any change in the Collins' resolutions and was strongly supported by one-half of the chamber. President Renshaw casting the vote that annulled the resolutions, Judge Collins then moved to refer the resolutions back to his committee and that the committee be discharged from further work, asserting that there was nothing "pitiful" in his resolutions, that they contained simply a request for information on a condition that existed and that if the Santa Fe railway officials took the position that they did not even care to discuss the subject with the chamber of commerce of this city, then they could take as much "offense" as they desired. Another lively debate followed over this subject which was at times acrimonious but which ended in unanimous decision to "arbitrate" the matter then and there. A recess of five minutes was voted and at the suggestion of Judge Collins, a compromise committee consisting of Judge McFie, Captain Fred Fornoff and Mr. Wilson was named to draft a compromise resolution, respectful in every way but firm and to the point. This served to end a somewhat strained situation. Mr. Wilson and Judge McFie wrote the resolution, Captain Fornoff asserting that so long as it contained the proper amount of "humbleness" on the part of Santa Fe and not hurt the "delicate feelings" of anyone, past, present or future, it was all right with him.

The adoption of the resolutions was unanimous. They mean in effect that the old Santa Fe-Santa Fe feud, begun back in the stone ages, is a thing of the past unless the Santa Fe railway company desires to stir it up again by the tactics that placed the best tourist city in the United States on a side line. And it means likewise that Santa Fe is united for Santa Fe and for New Mexico.

The resolutions adopted are a compromise on the Collins' resolution and the views expressed by Judge McFie. They are as follows:

Resolved, That the chairman of the committee on transportation ascertain and report with all convenient speed why it is that at points outside of New Mexico, at which trains stop, residents of that state desiring to return to their home, or tourists desiring to visit the historic city of Santa Fe or citizens wishing to come to the capital of said state should be refused transportation unless subjecting themselves to the penalty of paying fare to some point outside of this state.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this chamber the present operation of Santa Fe trains numbers 3 and 4 in effect prevents tourist travel from visiting our city, inasmuch as tourists largely travel upon these trains, and that so long as these trains are operated under the present restrictions it amounts to a direct discrimination against our city; therefore, this chamber, respectfully but earnestly urge the A. T. & S. F. Railroad company to remove the present unjust restrictions so as to avoid such discrimination or that said company place upon its trains 3 and 4 or other suitable trains daily Santa Fe standard Pullman cars each way to and from the city of Santa Fe for the accommodation of such travel, and we further urge that in our opinion the capital city of the state of New Mexico and the city after which said road is named is entitled to the relief herein requested.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent by the secretary promptly to the chambers of commerce of the cities of Raton, Las Vegas, and Albuquerque with a request for active co-operation by them.

AMERICAN LEAGUE SESSIONS ARE LOVELY AND UNANIMOUS.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—An American league in session is like the meetings of life insurance stockholders before they investigated Jimmy Hyde.

The similarity is confined to the unanimous opinion of Ben Johnson. By courtesy Johnson is president, but candidness compels the admission that he is a real Pool Bah.

The meetings are marked by the absence of rough and tumble stuff such as is anticipated in the National league. Legislation slips through so readily that a gang alderman would feel at home.

Connie Mack, twice winner of world's championships, and confident, but saying nothing of winning the

"Col." Robert Lee Hughes, of St. Louis, arrived early, but did his famous disappearing specialty and was hard to find. Finally some one discovered the "colonel" crouched in gum shoes, peeping out from behind the long leader of the Athletics, and St. Louis war scribbles breathed freely—the country was saved.

CONNIE MACK AND GUMSHOE HEDGES

American league pennant next season, now that his Athletics are all on the water wagon again, was an early arrival at the Chicago pow-wow, but no one heard him say anything about trading Eddie Collins for a bat bag.

Vice President Somers, owner of the Cleveland club, tore himself away from his real estate long enough to join Johnson in star chamber confabs prior to the regular meeting and it was at these sessions that the real business was done.

Felder Jones, faultless, and healthy looking and tanned like a pirate, perched in a lobby chair where the lightning might reach him without too much footwork. Felder is willing to be coaxed back, but doesn't want to seem too willing.

"Col." Robert Lee Hughes, of St. Louis, arrived early, but did his famous disappearing specialty and was hard to find. Finally some one discovered the "colonel" crouched in gum shoes, peeping out from behind the long leader of the Athletics, and St. Louis war scribbles breathed freely—the country was saved.

WHEN CHAS COMISKY STROLLED DOWN THE AVENUE FOLKS TOOK HIM FOR A NEW GRAND OPERA STAR

Prominent in the lobby pow wows was Capt. Adrian C. Anson, baseball's grand old vaudeville star. Never a league meeting does "Pop" miss unless he is laid by the heels. Anson is hitting about .500 in the monologue and looks hale and hearty.

The vet nurses a hope that one of the major leagues will appoint him manager of umpires, or to some other berth to which faithful service seem to entitle him. Anson is one of the men who have not learned that gratitude is as little understood by baseball magnates as the fourth dimension by a grade school student.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 14. The Santa Claus of the Chicago postoffice, Assistant Postmaster John M. Hubbard, today began his annual work of opening the thousands of letters received from poor children and others addressed to the Patron Saint of the Christmas season. More than 1100 letters have already been opened, wanting from wooden legs to Christmas dinners and they are continuing to arrive at the rate of hundreds a day.

A SNAKESKIN GOWN THE NEW FEATURE

IN HONEY GEORGE EVANS HONEY BOY MINSTRELS. CHARLES HILLIARD WEARS THE NEW CREATION, AND OTHER COSTLY GOWNS.

A snakeskin gown, the latest decrie of Dame Fashion, is part of the wardrobe of Charles Hilliard, clever personator of woman-kind, who appears in simulation of an alluring, fashionably gowned octoroon beauty during the performance of George Evans' "Honey Boy" Minstrels, who are the attraction at the Elks theater Thursday, December 19.

Discussing this latest freak gown of the sex opposite his, Mr. Hilliard said:

"For once fashion has taken a direction which promises to be a general benefit to humanity. Woman-kind, or at least such of them as have access to the longest purses, are shortly to use snakeskin garments for quite every-day wear. One can scarcely imagine a more poetic revenge by the daughters of Eve on their old enemy, the serpent tempter.

"Whether the new robes will prove as artistic as expected remains to be seen. They will certainly lend themselves in skillful hands to the emphasizing of whatever graces there may be in the person of the wearer, and if the fashion thins out the number of dangerous reptiles all over the world, humanity will owe a debt of gratitude to the inventor of the new modes.

"We may yet come to see python skin sold by the yard over the dry goods counter, for the python is a big reptile, occasionally reaching, when full grown, 30 feet in length and a foot or more in diameter. Thus, a single skin will supply enough stuff to make an ordinary gown on modern lines. Properly prepared snake skin is soft and durable. The anaconda is at ready 'bespoke' for the latest thing in motor coats, and thus used makes an attractive novelty. Made up in delicate shades of cream color and brown, and lined with satin to match, the material forms most attractive garments which are especially desirable by reason of their lightness."

The other beautiful gowns worn by this clever personator are extremely costly and represent the best efforts of the modiste of the metropolis. All the material for them were personally selected by Hilliard and were made under his personal direction.

COTTON CONSUMPTION.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 14.—Cotton consumed in the United States during November amounted to 475,249 running bales, counting round as half bales, compared with 511,235 bales for October, according to the Census Bureau Monthly report issued today.

POP ANSON SAT AROUND THE LOBBY WITH THE AIR OF A RETIRED LUMBER KING

Johnson has his motions and amendments in shape to make criticism superfluous, if not bad taste, indicating he plays a system. To all intents and purposes the eight club owners are eight Johnsons, and a revolutionist would last about as long as a snowball on a hot frying pan.

Since the American league was organized several apparently serious quarrels have hobbled up—notably those between Johnson and Charley Comiskey—but they have always been ironed out by someone with the interest of the league at heart. As a pacifier Johnson is great.

NO NEW BIKE RECORD.

New York, Dec. 14.—Hopes of a new record for the six day bike race practically was abandoned today when at 8 a. m. the leaders were 25 miles 8 laps behind the mark set by former competitors. At that time the riders had fourteen hours more work ahead of them before the race closed at 10 o'clock tonight. The only change in the relative positions during the night was the elimination of the Suter brothers who had been declared formally out of the race. The scores at 8 o'clock were: Pye-Grand, Root-Heher, Rutt-Fogler, Clark-Hill, Bedell-Mitten and Drobach-Colina, 2,447 miles, 1 lap; Kramer-Moran, Perchicot-Egg, 2,444 miles; Wells-

Walker, Brocco-Berthet, 2,443.9; Carman-Lotus 2,442.7.

The six leading teams were tied at noon at 2,482 miles, 8 laps. This is 65 miles six laps behind the record made in 1908. The standing of the other teams:

Kramer-Moran, Perchicot-Egg, 2,482 miles, 7 laps; Wells-Walker, Brocco-Berthet, 2,482, 6 laps; Cameron-Thomas 2,482 miles 5 laps.

At 2 o'clock the 134th hour, the leading teams were still tied at 2,519 miles, 7 laps, or 75 miles and 4 laps behind the record of 1908. Kramer and Moran and Perchicot and Egg were tied at 2,510 miles, 6 laps, the Wells-Walker and Brocco-Berthet

A LESSON FOR EVERYONE

On Blackwell's Island there is to be seen a big man, about 50 years old, working as a white wing.

He wears the regulation prison garb and trundles his little dump cart about, gathering up the refuse from the streets of New York's prison city in the East River.

Not many months ago this man was one of the big lawyers of New York City. He was one of the leading counsel in a famous murder trial, several years ago. He commanded large fees. He had a handsome suite of offices. He wore expensive clothes. His face was round, ruddy and beaming, his eyes keen and his laugh contagious.

One day an old man was knocked down, in the financial district, and robbed of valuable securities. A reward was offered for the return of the securities, and by and by the thieves entered into negotiations. This prominent lawyer was their intermediary. He said he was their counsel. He was arrested, and convicted as an accomplice, because he had accepted part of the loot as his fee for undertaking the negotiations. He was disbarred and sentenced to five months on the island.

It is a stooped, tired-eyed man, with seldom a smile, who wheels the little refuse cart about the island. When his time is up, what will he do? His profession is closed to him. He is a disgraced man.

What a lesson to every young man in professional or business life. This man must have known well what he was doing was outside the bounds of legal ethics—outside the bounds of honor and honesty.

But the fee was big, and he thought he could "get away with it." That dividing line is always there—the line between honesty and dishonesty, between right and wrong. Often there is a temptation to take just a step on the other side of it, when the reward is big, and it seems as though it was going to be easy to "get away with it."

Let every man whom temptation may ever confront think what must be the thoughts of that tired-eyed man on Blackwell's Island, as his mind goes back to the day when temptation led him to cross that line.

THE COURTS AND THE PEOPLE

There is a great deal of food for thought growing out of the libel suit against Editor Sheridan, of the Capital City News, Boise, Idaho.

Our courts interpret the law, but they are not above the law, or above criticism of the people who institute them. They are worthy of respect as long as they so conduct the people's business as to entitle them to respect, but they are not sacred.

This position of the courts of the country that they must not be criticized and their action can be reviewed only by a higher court, is getting a little irritating to their superiors—the people.

The idea of court sanctity has been fostered by a certain element who wanted the people to regard judicial action as something mysterious, and sometimes, it must be admitted, it has been, not to be viewed or reviewed by the common "uneducated masses," as we heard it during the campaign.

If the courts are exempted from government by the people, then we are getting away from our long boasted democracy, and have battered down a portion of the foundation upon which our fathers built.

If we have really reached that stage when a citizen cannot criticize the action of a court, without being hauled up before it for contempt and fined, even to the extent of ruining an established business which it has taken years of labor to build up, then we are in the face of a condition which demands drastic action, and if it goes to the extent of recalling judges, so be it.

While many of us believe that the courts should be as free as possible from the worry or harassment of constantly being placed in a position of going before the people for endorsement, yet none of us honestly believe that they are too sacred to be criticized even, no matter what they do.

The courts can go so far in this action that they will force the people to retaliate, even, possibly, to invoking the recall.

THE LAND QUESTIONS

The question of New Mexico public lands will also be before the next legislature for consideration, particularly as the matter of land grants is involved.

What the people want is an increase in immigration and our available lands occupied.

Land Commissioner Evjen is doing all in his power to aid in the right kind of immigration and giving those who express a desire to come to New Mexico an uncolored view of conditions and possibilities.

The question of legislation touches not so much the lands now open to settlement as the vast unoccupied land grants, titles to which are tied up in our courts or owned by private individuals, and barred from settlement by those who would come in.

Some of the best lands in the west, lands subject to irrigation, with an abundance of water, and offering a wonderful field for the ranchman or fruit grower, are being held from occupation by the greed of a few men who are holding them persistently from the market or fighting over titles in the courts, while New Mexico is being held back from a rightful growth which is justly hers.

This condition is particularly true in Taos, Colfax, San Miguel, Torrance, Rio Arriba and Mora counties, which offer inducements for settlers that are rarely eclipsed anywhere.

This is one of the important matters for the consideration of the legislature.

The Associated Press news dispatches tell of the attempt of Congressman Kahn, of San Francisco, urging the public lands committee to make an appropriation of $500,000 for a marine hospital at the Golden Gate. He may not get it, of course, but he certainly would not if he did not ask. How about the public building for Santa Fe which would give us a post office building? Surely, the oldest city in America, the capital of the new state, ought to have as much consideration in the matter of appropriations as the city of San Francisco, that has been having immense sums handed out for improvements for years.

Is Santa Fe going to get in on the appropriations at this session?

As long as Kaiser William confines his interference in American affairs to the marrying trade, no one need care, especially. We do not need his counts and dukes any more than he seems to care about our heiresses. They are better off at home in America, anyway.

If Governor Blaine, of South Carolina, really has the great respect and reverence for womanhood which he so blatantly exploits, it seems as if he would use language that a woman could hear or read without blushing.

A Kansas City man stole $200 worth of eggs from a store and got away with them. It could not have been a very difficult matter. He could have taken them away in his pockets.

A southern Methodist bishop says the world is worse than ever before. Probably the bishop said this the day after Thanksgiving and he was having an attack of indigestion.

About all the expiring congress evidently intends to do is to make appropriations, but Santa Fe's post office has not yet appeared on the list.

With Governor Blaine in the senate as a colleague of Jeff Davis of Arkansas, the old time dignity of that body will have a pretty rough time.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF CALIFORNIA

ROOSEVELT CARRIES THE STATE BY 174 PLURALITY. THERE WAS A HEAVY PERCENTAGE OF CITIZENS NOT VOTING.

Sacramento, Cal., Dec. 14.—Secretary of State Jordan certified to Governor Johnson the results of the election held November 5. The actual certification was done by Statistician James Crenin of the secretary of state's office, who had charge of auditing the returns. Crenin presented the lists in person to the governor. The certification lists were complete from superior court judges to presidential electors and included the vote on the various constitutional amendments and initiative and referendum measures submitted to the citizens of the state for a vote last month.

A total vote of 707,776 was shown to have been cast. This is an increase of 320,884 over the total vote of 1910. The increase of 50 per cent is probably due to the fact that women were permitted to vote in the recent election. The total registration this year was 886,696. Thirty per cent of the registered voters did not exercise their right of franchise. Statistician Crenin attributed this largely to the fact that many republicans who would have voted for Taft had the president's electors been printed on the ballots did not vote and for the further reason that inclement weather kept many women from going to the polls.

Following is the total vote given the presidential candidates: Roosevelt, 283,610; Wilson, 283,426; Debs, 79,201; Chaffin, 23,366; Taft, 3914. Roosevelt's plurality 174.

About People

"When we pick up a newspaper and see a few errors, let us not exclaim: 'How careless and how wretched!' Let us say: 'How wonderful! To print a newspaper every day and get the thousands and tens of thousands of commas, periods and other minute details as correct as we find them. To me it is the wonder of the age.'"

So declared George Bringle, who is here from Santa Fe where he has done work for the Santa Fe New Mexican. Mr. Bringle came down on some court business and spent an hour or two today going over the plant of the Santa Fe New Mexican.

"The linotype in action never loses its fascination for me," he continued. "For it is almost human in its interpretation of the brains of editor and operator. And as I gaze at column after column rising in the galleys I feel awed at the power of this million-tongued speaker who talks to the whole world each morning or afternoon."

It does a printer good, especially a printer who lives in the country and still grapples with the "case," setting his type by hand as was done so many years ago. The metropolitan paper—and this title may well be applied to any daily with telegraphic service—always has a thrill for me. The tremendous energy and enthusiasm of everyone around, editor, reporter, telegrapher, linotype operator, compositor, press men, accountants and manager—show they realize the enormity of the task before them—the task of writing, editing and printing a BOOK all in one day. Does the average reader think of the gigantic feat? If he did, he would see the wonder of it."

Mr. Bringle praised Santa Fe and said the charm of its wood-carving, its old narrow streets, with the white-capped mountains looking placidly on, must inspire not only the tourist, but even the residents of New Mexico who have feasted much on gorgeous scenery.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

THE WISH OF THE KIDDIES.

I had a short conversation the other day with a little chap who was full of the thought of Christmas and Santa Claus.

He was a dear little chap with flaxen hair cut Holland-Dutch style, and he was going to the "Christmas shop" with his mother, so he said. He told me he had written to Santa Claus, telling what he wanted and to my question as to what he asked for, he responded:

"I asked for a real gun with real bullets." What he wanted to do with the real thing, I do not know, for he did not look one bit bloodthirsty, and had no appearance of wanting to use a gun for any unlawful purpose, but a "real gun with real bullets" sounded like business. Then I asked him what else he had requested Santa Claus to bring and he said: "Some soldiers." Then it was all out. I knew it all. He had the heart of the true American boy. It was not blood-thirstiness, but the martial spirit that responds to the call to arms which has been a feature of our American history from its very beginning.

The first Christmas gifts that every boy wants are a drum and a sword and a set of toy soldiers. The love of the drum is not alone for the noise there is in it, for the sword is just as much in demand. It is something inbred in every boy and it develops with the earliest knowledge of things.

As the tiny maidens call for dolls with the first audible request that can be put into words, so do the diminutive men make demand for the sword and drum. I cannot imagine that a boy who has not been through this period of existence makes much of a boy or much of a man, later.

Call it what you will, patriotic instinct, love of excitement, a thirst for glory, or the first call of the fighting impulse which seems to be a part of the human race, the little flaxen-haired kiddie, with his request for a "real gun with real bullets," took me back once more to the sweet and happy days, long gone, when only childhood can know, when the sword and the drum were the "choicest gifts that old St. Nick could bring in that wonderful reindeer sleigh, and rattle down the chimney with."

TOO LATE.

The expression, "Too Late" always has a sort of lonely and doleful sound to it no matter in what connection it is used. It is a suggestion of something that we might have had and missed from carelessness or dilatoriness, and does not leave a pleasant sensation.

The thought came to me when I received a letter from my greatly esteemed friend, Bert G. Phillips, the Taos artist, one of the finest painters in America, in which he spoke of three contributions he had made of paintings to the exhibition at the Art Institute in Chicago, where the Western Society of Artists is now making an exhibit.

From 190 offerings, 104 were accepted by the jury of selection and among the accepted ones were the three that Mr. Phillips sent, while one of the three was that genuine masterpiece, which hung for a time in the Old Palace of the Governors and entitled, "The Relics of His Ancestors."

There were several of the citizens of Santa Fe, who wanted that splendid bit of art to remain here permanently, as it was so fitting a work to be in that place, and had in it the atmosphere of the historic palace, but somehow we went to sleep over it, and it is "too late." That painting will not come west again unless purchased by some connoisseur likely it is the value of it, but more likely it is that it will adorn an art gallery or the home where it will be appreciated.

We missed our chance and it is too late.

That the judgment of those here who appreciated the beautiful painting was correct is proven from the fact that a jury of eminent artists who served on the jury of selection, chose "The Relics of His Ancestors" as one of the paintings worthy of a place in this famous exhibit where none but the highest works of art can find a place.

I am sorry we are "too late," but I do congratulate the distinguished artist on the fact that this truly great painting found a place of honor which it unquestionably merits.

THE SOFT JOB.

I saw the other day in a newspaper a little thing that attracted my attention. Two young fellows were discussing their personal affairs.

One of them was "down on his luck" because he had a position from which heers and skittles were wholly absent—who had to keep at it pretty constantly in order to draw a salary which was by no means impressive. The other was inclined to be cheerful. He said he had a "soft job."

"Yes," said the other, "but the fellow with a soft job is pretty sure to have a bad finish."

The chap who said that had the scheme of life pretty well charred. The day of "soft jobs" has gone by; if indeed, there ever was such a day for the successful man.

The age in which we are living is one of rapid movement, of frenzied rush, of constant watching for opportunity.

We do not realize, perhaps, in the smaller cities, what a desperate thing the struggle is in the industrial centers and large cities.

I have been almost startled sometimes when in the large cities of the east, and on the street at the time when the men employed in the great factories and workshops were hurrying to their tasks.

They had a strained, eager, anxious expression and they were pressing forward with rapid strides, hundreds of them, yes, thousands, almost struggling with each other to make time. They were not going to "soft jobs." They were going, some of them, to difficult, close tasks, and they were forced to do it to live.

The fellow who is looking for a "soft job" and who is content with one is not the fellow who gets to the top, or who makes a success in life. Every man, with rare exception, who reaches the summit of the hill in the battle for advancement, is the worker, the grinder, the chap that does his best in every position which comes to him.

The most unfortunate thing that can come to any young man is to have a "soft job" to start with. When he hits the hard places, as he will sooner or later, the shock is too great and he never fully recovers.

Don't be hunting for the "soft job," boys. It is not the one you want.

A NEW TREASURE FOR SANTA FE

Securely packed in ten large packages sent to Mr. Benjamin M. Read of this city, by Professor Antonio Aragon Montefio from Madrid, Spain, by registered mail came yesterday some 50 unbound volumes containing the official reports of everything done and accomplished by Spain in the discovery, conquest and civilization of the new world and the rest of her possessions. This important acquisition completes Mr. Read's priceless collection of authentic and official documents bearing upon the greatest episode recorded in the annals of human achievement; the discovery and conquest of the new world by the Spaniards from the day Columbus first appeared in Spain (in 1492) with his son begging a morsel of bread at the convent of La Rabalita to the day the last of her colonies in South America became an independent nation. In the near future Mr. Read intends to publish in the English language an alphabetical index of these books and other documents by him obtained from Spain after many years of constant labor and great expense. Mr. Read intends also to publicly exhibit, as soon as possible, his valuable collection of historical data and historic objects. In the meantime writers and students of history are cordially invited to call on Mr. Read, at his home, and inspect these unique volumes which are treasures in themselves.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder

Has a dietetic value greatly beyond the conception of anyone who has not used it. It will make your food of a delicious taste, a moist and keeping quality, and a digestibility not to be obtained from other baking powders or leavening agents.

But more important than all else, Dr. Price's Baking Powder, being a pure, cream of tartar powder, carries only healthful qualities to the food—no alum, no lime phosphate.

It is noticeable that the advertisements of the low priced (10c., 15c., 20c., 25c. per pound) baking powders give no information as to ingredients. The fact that such powders are made from alum is stubbornly concealed, their proprietors going so far as to issue prohibitory contracts against exposure in the newspapers.

Is this because the alum people know that publicity would stop their business? Of course no prudent housekeeper would use an article of food in which she learned there had been concealed an unhealthful ingredient.

THEY MEET FOR SAKE OF CAUSE

NO POLITICAL GATHERING ANYTHING LIKE THE PROGRESSIVE MEETING AT CHICAGO. IT WAS A BIG THING.

From the Kansas City Times.

"This is the queerest affair I ever heard of," a man said tonight in the lobby of the Auditorium hotel waiting for the progressive dinner. "In the first place it's a celebration by the losers. There isn't a person here whose expenses were paid. There isn't a postmaster or internal revenue collector. Yet it's as big as an ordinary national convention and men are here from every state.

"And finally they aren't talking politics. Nobody has suggested deals and nobody has referred with a sobriety to the distant past. In any ordinary convention you could do what you pleased with the platform. Nobody pays any attention to it. But here a suggestion to leave out a single plank in the original platform would cause a riot. The whole thing is different from any political gathering I ever attended."

The difference which has been apparent every day in the conference was emphasized at the dinner tonight. The speeches were not political in the ordinary sense. They were concerned with the problems of everyday living and with the artificial division that has left the south isolated from the national life.

Senator Beveridge expressed the temper of the conference when he said in his speech at the dinner: "We are not in this party for revenge or for the spoils of office. We are in it to advance the things we stand for in American life."

The conviction of the progressives that their party has a mission and that overtures from other parties are "insulting," as Beveridge put it, was evidenced by the attitude of the delegates toward the permanency of the progressive organization. They simply took it for granted that the party is to continue. A correspondent for the Star, talking with perhaps forty men from every part of the country today, heard not a single suggestion that the party would unite with the republican organization.

In every state preparations are in progress for perfecting the progressive organization. In Pennsylvania, for instance, owing to a peculiar state law, the Penrose machine was able to patent the name "progressive" and keep the progressives from using it. They were forced to run as the Washington party. That name will be continued until the legislature permits the name progressive to be employed.

In California, where the state republican organization is controlled by progressives, it is expected that the local organizations will simply vote to change their name from "republican" to "progressive."

The dinner tonight marked the formal ending of the conference, although the national committee will continue in session tomorrow and most of the delegates will remain for the day.

Like the conference itself, the dinner overwhelmed those who planned it. Originally planned for two or three hundred persons, the committee was swamped with applications. The managers finally packed as many as possible in the big dining hall of the Auditorium, holding possibly 1,200 persons. They had applications for three times that number of persons wishing seats, and late this afternoon speculators were offering $10 for tickets that had cost $2.

Three of the shorter speeches that made a hit with the crowd were made by Kansas Governor W. R. Stubbs explained what the progressives have accomplished in the last four years in legislation for the general welfare.

Henry J. Allen told how a republican friend had asked whether he was going to attend the Bull Moose wake. "I said I was," Mr. Allen continued, "and that if their corpse was in as good condition as ours they would hold a wake of their own. But there is no republican Gabriel to blow a high enough note to attract any attention."

Mr. Allen dwelt on the differences in the democratic party. William Allen White was called for and was finally boosted up on the speakers' table. Taking up Mr. Allen's story of the wake, he suggested that this was the sort of funeral where the corpse climbed out, took the reins and converted the hearse into a band wagon.

SOUTHERN COLORADO MEN WRITE FOR PROTECTION.

Pueblo, Colo., Dec. 14.—The needs of southern Colorado were made known today to the newly elected state officials at a meeting here today of delegates representing the Arkansas Valley Commercial association, the San Juan congress, the San Luis Valley Commercial association and the Grand Valley Commercial association. Governor-elect Ammons, Congressman-elect Keating, senators and representatives from the southern part of the state were guests.

At the morning session "water rights" were discussed by Hon. W. M. Wiley, of Holly, and Good Roads were advocated by President R. H. Higgins, of the Colorado Good Roads association and President C. R. McLain of the Rainbow Route association. Governor Shafer sent a telegram expressing regrets at his inability to be present and pledging his support of measures of benefit to the state. Tonight a banquet will be held at the Vail hotel.

NEWS OF THE STATE

WANT IT, BUT HOW MUCH.

There is no longer a question of what Roswell can do either in getting a railroad or making parks. It is only a question of what Roswell will do. Idle hoping will not do the work, but "pull together" work will bring the desired results. Of course everybody wants a railroad, but do we want it had enough to work for?—Roswell Record.

PROMISING PROSPECTS.

The prospect for a building boom in Magdalena, to commence with the opening of spring, seems unusually bright now. Several persons are contemplating the erection of homes and we understand a building and loan association is considering the idea of erecting several houses. The demand for houses for rent has been so great that the eyes of the people have been opened to the need to the extent that something will be done to meet the demand and also help to continue in its growth.—Magdalena News.

WELL BRED CATS.

Here's just a short story about Doctor Givens cats. We were afraid to print this before the election because we might be denounced as malicious and deliberate liars and nature fakers. But now the great voice is sorrowing in silence we are bold enough to tell it. Doctor Givens has two cats or kittens that are trained to eat their food with forks. A tempting morsel is held out to them on the tip of a real bona fide fork, whereupon the two cats sit up on their hind legs and toddle forward, with paws in the air to help keep their balance, until the fork is reached and the prize devoured.—Hillsboro Free Press.

STILL ENCOURAGING.

Charlie Herr and George Raymond were in the city from Durango last Friday. They attended a meeting held for the purpose of raising the balance of Aztec's share for the railroad promotion fund. A balance of $414 was unpaid out of the $625 assessment. Of this amount $180 was subscribed at this meeting. State Superintendent White was present at the meeting and gave $10. The balance of the $414 was raised Saturday by a committee. Some very encouraging news was given by Messrs.

Herr and Raymond as to the south railroad outlet, but nothing for publication at this time.—Aztec Democrat.

LIKE PUDDEN-HEAD WILSON.

A government check which had been made out payable to a Pueblo Indian at Taos, was received at the First National bank. The Indian, being unable to write an endorsement on the back of the check, had endorsed his check according to a government regulation with a distinct impression of his right thumb. The thumb print endorsement must be witnessed by two reputable persons, who, in turn, must also furnish the government with their addresses and occupations. If possible, one of the witnesses to the endorsement of government checks by the thumb print method must be a government official or a member of the tribe of the Indian to whom the check is issued.—Las Vegas Optic.

ROSSELL'S NEW INDUSTRY.

A new industry has been started by Keaster & Fee, the apple men. They are now putting up pure apple butter which meets all the requirements of the government pure food law, and is made from the unmarketable apples of the valley.

This fall they only put up 500 gallons and is in all the city grocery stores, having a big sale and they expect next year to put up a heavier output and install also an evaporator. H. L. Watson is now making a house to house canvass, telling the housewives about the superior butter of the firm.

The apples are being made into butter at the packing sheds of Keaster & Fee in the Hagerman orchards. The capacity of the plant is 75 gallons per day.

The butter is selling at 25c for pints, 40c for quarts, and 75c for half gallons.—Roswell News.

CLAYTON THE BEST.

Lots of broom corn, corn, beans and other farm products are now being marketed in Clayton. Until recently there was no market in this section for these products, and nearby towns are still refusing to buy them. Clayton as usual, is ahead of the procession in this regard and is now paying the highest market price for all farm products. This is the logical market for a large trade territory, both in buying and selling. More goods are sold by Clayton merchants than are sold by the balance of the county combined, and the reason for this condition is easily found. Clayton is the most accessible town to a large majority of Union county people, and together with the fact that Clayton merchants are always first with bargains for the consumers, and our buyers always first in the market with the highest market prices for agricultural products is proof conclusive that Clayton is the town for the rural population to patronize.—Clayton Citizen.

NEW IRRIGATION SYSTEM.

Engineer L. M. Carl is this week putting up to the homesteaders in township 29, range 7, a proposition that is eminently worthy of favorable consideration. His idea is to construct a ditch leading from two or three of the big wells south of town, and have it built across the entire township, east and west. He has already ascertained the levels and established the grades, and finds that water can be conveyed to each settler for a very nominal sum covering cost of ditch construction. So far every settler seen in that vicinity is heartily in support of the proposition, and it no doubt will be carried through.

The immense quantity of water developed by the wells of this vicinity, together with the shallow lift, will not only mean an abundant supply, but at a very low cost.

There are about 25 families located in this township who are all anxious to get busy with development, but who have not the money for sinking an irrigation well, and the successful carrying out of this plan will mean much to them.—Columbus Courier.

THIEVES WANT AMERICAN FLAG IN ARMISTICE

San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 14.—From the window of S. N. Wood, a wealthy clothier, there hangs today an American flag in token of willingness to treat with the robbers who stole $5000 worth of jewelry and Christmas gifts yesterday from the Wood house. A small bow delivered a note last night offering the return of all stolen articles for $2000 cash and directing the display of the banner. Attempts to pump the messenger only brought for answer that someone had given him "two bits to run an errand." The flag was hoisted and the family awaits the result.

Work for the New Mexican. It is working for you, for Santa Fe and the new state.

POISONED HER HUSBAND TO GET ONLY $10,000.

Philadelphia, Dec. 14.—Mrs. Freda Trost, who was on trial here this week on a charge of having killed her husband, William Trost, was convicted today, of murder in the first degree. The commonwealth charged that Mrs. Trost, within one week after her marriage last August, gave Trost poison in order that she could obtain his estate valued at less than $10,000.

GEYSER LOOSED.

San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 14.—The geyser loosed from the bottom of San Francisco bay yesterday by a pile driver is worth $1,000,000 to the state of California. Jerome Newman, chief engineer for the state board of pardons commissioners, estimated today that the board by using the fresh water spurting from the bottom of the bay, instead of buying its water, would save $50,000 a year.

OFFICIAL NEWS.

Governor William C. McDonald issued two proclamations today. One was to proclaim that the act providing for the issuance of bonds for the construction and maintenance of a system of state highways had become a law following the submission of said act to the vote of the people November 5. The other was to announce that the amendment to Section 5 of Article 21 of the state constitution, prohibiting the enactment of any law restricting or abridging the right of suffrage on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude, was also carried by the vote of the people on November 5.

The proclamations are printed in full on the first page of this issue.

EXPERT IS HERE.

Harry Tarbell, the expert accountant of the Internal Revenue department, is back in the city, and was hard at work this morning at the federal building. Mr. Tarbell has just made a tour of Arizona and will go from here to Colorado.

LOAN COMMISSIONERS.

The state board of loan commissioners at its meeting yesterday heard two claims presented on behalf of Judge Northcutt of Trinidad. They were for judgment against Santa Fe county, one the case of Shepherd and the other of Woodruff, involving coupons. The board also heard a case of judgment in favor of the firm of Hubbell Son and Co., but the board disapproved the claim permitting it to go to the district court for final decision.

CORPORATION COMMISSION.

The state corporation commission erg were together again today after an extensive trip through the southern part of the state. The commission has done a good deal of business in the past ten days, involving Las Cruces, Deming and Albuquerque. The commission has secured for Deming a daily train to and from Hermosillo on the El Paso and Southwestern. The mixed train leaves at 7:15 a. m., returning to Deming at 4:29 p. m. and the local freight leaves at 9:10 a. m. and returns at 7:55 p. m.

"There seems to be a wrong impression in Santa Fe about the California Limited," said Chairman Williams of the corporation commission today. "Train No. 3 will continue to take passengers to the west as heretofore. It is on No. 4, going east, that the change has been made, requiring reservations to be made in Los Angeles if one is to get on at Lamy to go east, or requiring a trip to Albuquerque if one does not make these reservations in Los Angeles."

Commenting on the work of the commission in various cities in the past fortnight, Mr. Williams said that there seems to be a better understanding throughout the state as regards the work of the commission and the method of tackling railroad problems. It was evident that Mr. Williams and his associates believe that the people of New Mexico have found a good way to settle their difficulties with the great "carriers" by appealing to the commission and allowing the complaints to be taken up in the way provided by law.

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS.

State Superintendent of Education Alvan N. White was busy today issuing circular letters. One was to county superintendents and in it he told them about the Directors' Guild which has been sent to the clerk of every school district in the state. He then announced that "the dates for the Mid-Winter Teachers' examination have been set for Friday and Saturday, January 10th and 11th, 1913. Please give notice of such examination to your teachers in the best manner possible. Inform permit holders, especially, of this examination, calling their attention to the fact that their permits expire on the date of this examination, but they will be allowed to continue their schools until notice of the results of their examination."

DISPOSAL OF FINES.

In a letter to county treasurers, Mr. White discusses the disposal of fines and forfeitures, saying:

"I beg to call your attention to Article XII, Section 3, of the constitution of New Mexico, the first part of which provides that 'All fines and forfeitures collected under general law, etc., and to advise you that the only interpretation that I have been able to place upon this provision is that all fines and forfeitures provided for by the territorial or state laws must come through the proper channels of collection into the state treasury to be placed to the credit of the current school fund, whether those fines and forfeitures have heretofore been devoted to school purposes or have been placed to the credit of other than school funds, in whole or in part."

"By letter, under date of November 2nd, 1912, I called upon the attorney general of New Mexico, for an opinion construing this provision of our constitution, and in reply he states as follows: 'I agree with you that all such fines and forfeitures must, through the proper channels of collection, come to the state treasury to be placed to the credit of the current school funds of the state, and that this must do away with all previous statutory provisions as to what should be done with such fines and forfeitures. Therefore, this is to request that, in the future, you comply strictly with our constitutional provision and its interpretation by myself and the attorney general.'"

Copies of this letter were sent to all county superintendents, all district judges and district attorneys.

GIVEN ONE YEAR.

In the U. S. District Court Judge William H. Pope sentenced Irwin Fearing, otherwise known as "Irwin Galagher," to one year in jail for robbery of a post office.

HE FORGOT THE RULES DECLARES THE CORONER

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 14.—Willis York, and Carl Gross were accountable for the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad wreck in a suburb of this city on November 13, when sixteen lives were lost, according to the report of Coroner C. O. Durham.

Coroner Durham declared that under the rules of the railroad company, Engineer York was responsible for the closing of the switch after his train had passed on the siding. Brake-man Gross is criticised for reporting to York that the switch was closed. The open switch caused the wreck.

ALLEGED KILLERS ARE FOUND NOT GUILTY TODAY

Houlton, Maine, Dec. 14.—A verdict of not guilty was returned today by the jury in the case of the Rev. Charles N. ### OROZCO GETS BOND.

Austin, Texas, Dec. 14.—Federal Judge Maxey today ordered the release on bond of Colonel Pascual Orozco, Sr., and General David de la Fuente, who have been in custody of Colonel Charles G. Treat at Fort San Houston, pending an appeal to be taken by the government. Judge Maxey held against the contention of the government that the president may order the arrest and detention without process of persons to prevent violation of the neutrality laws. He cited numerous authorities.

The prisoners were held on the order of the secretary of war by direction of President Taft. The amount of each bond was $2,500.
