

1968

Hushed, Lavender Tones in the Bar of the Taos Inn

Jonathan Williams

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/nmq>

---

Recommended Citation

Williams, Jonathan. "Hushed, Lavender Tones in the Bar of the Taos Inn." New Mexico Quarterly 38, 4 (1968).
<https://digitalrepository.unm.edu/nmq/vol38/iss4/51>

This Contents is brought to you for free and open access by the University of New Mexico Press at UNM Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in New Mexico Quarterly by an authorized editor of UNM Digital Repository. For more information, please contact disc@unm.edu.

JONATHAN WILLIAMS

HUSHED, LAVENDER TONES IN THE BAR OF THE TAOS INN

I hear
my dear

20,000 hopis—I mean
hippies, ha·ha—

are coming from California

via a smoke-in in Grand Canyon. . .

think of all those sand fleas and crabs,
we'll all get
bucolic plague!

whoopee,
let's hurry,
Mary,
my dear!

not a crotch in a carload is butch. . .