TWO MORE VETOS BY THE GOVERNOR SENT TO SENATE

BRIDGE BILL WHICH EMPOWERED COMMISSIONERS TO TAKE MONEY FROM ANY FUND AND USE IT, IS OBJECTED TO BY GOVERNOR ON GROUNDS THAT TAXPAYERS OUGHT TO BE PROTECTED.

LIBRARY BILL IS FULLY EXPOSED AND "TRADE" PROPOSITION DENOUNCED

Governor McDonald this morning sent to the senate two more veto messages whereby H. B. No. 68—Which permits county commissioners to transfer funds to the bridge building fund; and Senate Bill No. 166—The public library bill, were rejected by the executive.

The governor told his reasons for vetoing these bills in plain, frank language as was the case in his veto messages on the salaries bill. He stated that he vetoed the bridge bill, which several prominent members of the Old Guard have been carefully nursing through this session, on the ground that the taxpayers had a right to know when he was taxed for a certain fund, that the money would be so expended.

He vetoed the library bill because it sought to take away the right of his office to appoint the librarian and place it under the supreme court, which is a judicial and not an executive branch of the government.

The governor's message concerning the library bill is a remarkable one in that it exposes the scheme hatched up to retain a certain person in the office of state librarian. The governor does not name any person involved in the deal, but he fearlessly and thoroughly exposes the entire scheme. He makes the statement that the bill was drawn at the instigation of an individual who was interested in keeping a member of the family in the library. He also says that a proposition was made to him to divide the patronage by creating the office of deputy librarian, and he denounces such legislation in the most emphatic terms.

The veto message on the bridge bills is as follows:

March 13th, 1913.
To the Honorable President and Members of the Senate, Santa Fe, N. M.

Gentlemen:
I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 166 as amended, entitled, "An Act to regulate the management of the State Library and providing for the appointment and fixing the salary of a librarian."

The ostensible purpose of this bill is to provide for the control and management of the state library by the supreme court, while the real purpose is to take the power of appointment of State Librarian away from the executive and lodge it in the supreme court. I have no objection to the supervision of the library by the supreme court and believe that is where such control should be lodged. The state librarian is a state officer, and the power of appointment should undoubtedly be in the executive. The functions of the supreme court are judicial, and such appointments are foreign to their jurisdiction. This is an ordinary case, personal considerations might dictate that it be overlooked, but under the circumstances, knowing full well the intent of this act and the purpose to be achieved, I cannot refrain from what I believe to be just criticism.

This bill was drawn at the instance of an individual who has a personal consideration in it, and for the purpose of subverting the interest of a member of that individual family. A proposition was once made to me for a trade whereby there should be created the position of deputy librarian, so that the patronage might be divided. Under such circumstances, it seems to me that nothing but the severest condemnation for attempts at this class of legislation can be expected from any one who is familiar with the inner workings of such schemes.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM C. McDONALD, Governor.

PRESIDENT GOMEZ TO VETO AMNESTY BILL.

Havana, March 13.—President Gomez of Cuba decided today to veto immediately the amnesty bill in entirety. With his veto he will send a message to the Cuban congress tomorrow, declaring his special objection to the first and second sections of the bill.

STEERING COMMITTEE ON JOB IN SENATE.

This afternoon Senators Clark, Crampton, Romero, Page, Abeytia and Ifield were named a steering committee and on motion of Mr. Holt, all committees were instructed to turn over to this committee a list of all measures on which committee action has not been taken. This is the final stage in senate legislation and means that hereafter, only those bills favored by the steering committee will be reported in the senate.

ROYBAL FINED FOR CONTEMPT; SIX SALOON MEN PLEAD GUILTY

A case of unusual interest before Judge E. C. Abbott late yesterday afternoon was that of Silvano Roybal, formerly sheriff of Rio Arriba county, now residing at Chamita, who was hauled before the court on the charge of contempt. The charge grew out of Roybal's alleged signing of a contract to free Arthur H. Gossett from the charge of murder. The contract is said to have been made in 1910 and stated these services were to be performed for a monetary consideration to be paid Roybal by Gossett and Elias Clark.

Roybal pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined fifty dollars and given a suspended sentence of one year in jail. At the same time Judge Abbott gave the defendant a severe lecture, pointing out the enormity of the offense and explaining the lightness of the fine to the fact that the law did not permit imposing a heavier fine where there was no jury trial.

OTHER CASES.
The grand jury brought in an indictment

SALOON MEN FINED.

All of the saloon men of Santa Fe who had been indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, four indictments being brought against each of the six men, pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs each with a suspended sentence on the other indictments. Should any of these men be indicted again the fine will be heavier.

Several indictments were brought in, but as the persons are out of the state their names were not given out for publication.

BAILEY'S NAME BOBS UP AGAIN IN SENATE

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Charges that Karl A. Loeffler, acting assistant doorkeeper of the senate, had been responsible for the disappearance of the Holtslaw certificate of deposit presented during the Lorimer trial in the senate and which was never afterward located, was made in the senate today by Senator Gore of Oklahoma, when Mr. Loeffler's re-election was postponed. The senator said his informant was a page of the senate who had delivered the certificate to Mr. Loeffler after securing it from Senator Bailey.

By a vote of 15 to 18 the senate refused to take Mr. Loeffler's name out of the resolution containing the names of the prospective senate officers. Senator La Follette then asked for a division of the resolution, so that a separate vote might be had on the election of Mr. Loeffler.

The senate elected James M. Baker, of South Carolina, secretary, Charles P. Higgins, Missouri, sergeant at arms; Forest J. Prettyman, of Washington, chaplain, and Thomas W. Keller, of West Virginia, assistant doorkeeper.

GREAT ACTRESS HURT IN AN AUTO WRECK

Los Angeles, Calif., March 13.—Madame Sarah Bernhardt, who was injured last night in an automobile accident was well enough today to take part in a benefit for the city firemen. Her ankles, which were wrenched in the accident, were still slightly swollen, but not very painful. Madame Bernhardt's physician worked nearly all night to reduce the sprains.

TONG WARRIORS MAY BE CALLED "MURDERERS."

San Francisco, Calif., March 13.—The deportation of Chinese tong warriors as "professional murderers" will be undertaken by U. S. authorities here in a renewed effort to check Chinatown feuds. Four Chinese arrested last night in connection with the latest killing growing out of the Sui Sing-Bing Kong Tong war now in progress in several cities of the state, were taken to the immigration station today to face investigation of their right to remain in this country.

RAPID FIRE OF BILL OPENS IN HOUSE

NIGHT SESSION LASTS UNTIL AFTER 2 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING RESULTING IN ACTION ON SOME NINETY MEASURES.

There was a regular rapid fire of bills in the house last night and again this morning, that body proceeding with its calendar as though it were not face to face with the end of the session. Few of the measures passed in the house have any chance of passing in the senate. It was noticeable however, that in the final rush, the Democratic and Progressive bills were tabbed indiscriminately and the bills of the majority members had right of way.

Among the measures passed in the house however, was a duplicate of the famous anti-trust law advocated by New Jersey. This bill was passed by President Wilson as governor of New Jersey.

The house early this morning, passed an amendment to the Holt anti-gambling bill signed by the governor yesterday and which is now a law. The amendment seeks to permit the playing of cards for prizes at church fairs and in private residences at social events. The amendment is said, has no chance of passing the senate. Its effect would be to practically nullify the bill because it is generally conceded that it would be difficult to draw the line on a social game of cards as provided in the amendment and the games prohibited in the anti-gambling bill. As the bill now stands, it absolutely prohibits any game played for prizes or money.

The house last night passed a bill requiring all state printing to be done in New Mexico and to be done by union labor. There was considerable opposition to this bill.

The bill advocated by the governor appropriating money for a convict farm passed the house last night by almost unanimous vote.

The election law introduced by Marcos C. de Baca, a measure endorsed by the Progressive party in New Mexico has been made special order for Friday morning with small chance of its ever being considered so late in the present session. Even should it pass the house the bill would be permitted to expire in the senate.

A bill prohibiting the building of sanitariums for tubercular persons within a mile of any educational institution, also passed.

As a sample of some of the other measures passed by the house might be mentioned house bill No. 281 by Messrs. Tully and Blanchard—an act to license dogs in the state of New Mexico. This bill passed. Likewise some dozen or more bridge and road repair bills appropriating anywhere from $5,000 to $10,000 went merrily on their way and caused much laughter when the clerk read them in the senate.

House bill No. 306 by Messrs. Moreno, Llewellyn and Mullens—declaring it to be a nuisance to keep honey bees within 100 feet of a public highway or public watering trough also passed along about midnight, the members voting thereon in a worn sort of a way as though most anything would do, so they got rid of the calendar for the evening.

This morning the house resumed consideration of its calendar and by noon had passed quite a number of bills. None of them were of exceeding importance. Probably the most important measure was H. B. No. 328—an act to prevent the abatement of suits against public officers.

DEMOCRATIC SALARY BILL IS NOT TABLED

When the house reached house bill No. 329, the Democratic salary bill, Mr. Catron moved that the measure remain without prejudice on the calendar. It was apparent that the Old Guard forces in the house still considered further efforts at passing a salary bill between now and tomorrow noon.

The market closed strong. Washington dispatches announcing that a new plan had been prepared by the Harriman interests for the separation of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific produced higher prices and infused more life into the dealings. Prominent stocks reached their best figures, with Union Pacific and Reading selling more than a point above yesterday's closing.

SENATE CLASHES WITH NEW ORLEANS COURT.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The senate today virtually defied the authority of the U. S. Court at New Orleans to compel Senator William Alden Smith to surrender papers in his possession bearing on alleged Mexican evasion of the neutrality laws.

The subpoena served on Senator Smith was presented by him to the senate and referred by that body to its judiciary committee. It will not be recognized.

PLAN NEW BUILDING.

Denver, Colo., March 13.—Attorney General Fred Farr today made public a letter received from the trustees of the Stratton estate, stating that they had decided to increase the capacity of the Mayron Stratton home near Colorado Springs to approximately double the capacity of the buildings now under contract.

PRESIDENT WILL CONSULT WITH PROGRESSIVES

Washington, D. C., March 13.—The hope of Democratic leaders that they may swing many Progressive Republican votes in the senate in the tariff fight has the hearty approval of President Wilson. It became known today that Mr. Wilson expects to have a conference with Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, within a few days and that conferences with other Progressives will follow.

The first conference with Senator La Follette will be over questions of patronage. The president expects to discuss all Wisconsin appointments with him. It will be the first visit of Senator La Follette to the White House in several years.

Other Progressive Republican senators will be consulted about appointments in their states. Conferences about appointments are probable to lead to attention to legislative questions on which Mr. Wilson thinks the Democrats and Progressives can stand together.

AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO.

Senators Lea and Shields of Tennessee and a delegation from that state today formally urged the president to appoint former Governor Benton McMillan to be ambassador to Mexico.

They said the Tennessee Democracy was unanimously in favor of the appointment.

CLARKE ELECTED PRESIDENT PRO TEM OF SENATE

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Senator James P. Clark, of Arkansas, Democrat, was today elected president pro tempore of the senate. Senator Clarke received 41 votes; Senator Gallinger, Republican, 18, and Senators Clapp and Bristow, and Borah, one each.

Senator Clarke was immediately sworn and presided over the senate during the election of other officers for the new congress.

Vice President Marshall retired from the chamber while the senate chose its officials. Senator Bristow voted for Senator Clapp and Senator Clapp voted for Senator Bristow.

The one vote for Senator Borah was cast by Senator La Follette. It was reported today that Senator Kern, Democratic leader, probably would be chairman of the committee on privileges and elections.

BANKERS MUST COME THROUGH BY TO-MORROW

New York, March 13.—Experiencing comparatively little opposition in jamming down prices at the outset today, bear traders in Wall Street put out extensive short lines for a time. They were assisted in lowering the general level by a display of weakness at new points among the specialties.

The successive downward swings recently strengthened the opinion that the market was a liquidating one, in which stocks were being sold on all rallies.

The complexion of the market, changed however, when another severe break in sterling exchange rates occurred, which seemed to preclude the chances for further gold exports. Prices rebounded strongly in all directions, with many rallies of 1 to 2 points.

Bonds were irregular. Weakness of Union Pacific, which went down again to the neighborhood of a point below yesterday's closing, caused a slight recession in the general market after midday. Selling was also encouraged by the engagement of $700,000 to Hamburg and the stiffness of call money which loaned at 5 1/2 per cent.

New Haven sold at 120 1/2, well below the recent low level, which had been a record since 1875. Discussion of poor earnings and their possible effect on dividends influenced the selling. Elsewhere the list was fairly steady, but very dull.

The market closed strong. Washington dispatches announcing that a new plan had been prepared by the Harriman interests for the separation of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific produced higher prices and infused more life into the dealings. Prominent stocks reached their best figures, with Union Pacific and Reading selling more than a point above yesterday's closing.

STATE TROOPS ATTACK NOGALES DEFENDED BY A SMALL GARRISON

SINCE SUNRISE BATTLE HAS BEEN RAGING, AND SHOWER OF STRAY BULLETS FALL ON ARIZONA'S BORDER, BUT UNITED STATES TROOPS ARE FORBIDDEN TO RETURN THE FIRE

OJEDA IS MAKING A FORCED MARCH TO AID THE FEDERALS

the scene of hostilities. The American troops guarded the border to prevent either party crossing the line and warned residents of the American town to keep inside their houses to avoid stray bullets, which fell frequently in the residence districts.

Nogales, March 13.—Reinforcements from Fort Huachuca brought the border patrol up to about 400 men. Lieutenant Colonel Tate deployed his men so as to keep spectators from the danger zone. In the early fighting Tax Collector Nunez of Agua Prieta was wounded in the arm while on the American side.

Bullets pierced the walls of several houses in Nogales, Arizona, damaging furniture.

A hull in the firing was taken to indicate that the first assault of the constitutionalists had been repulsed. A dilatory fire continued, the federalists retaining their position in the outlying houses of the town.

C. L. Montague of Cananea, who acted as peace envoy in yesterday's negotiations, returned to Nogales today and reported General Obregon's force number 1,000 and that reinforcements were expected today. It was stated that General Ojeda and his federalists could not arrive from Agua Prieta before nightfall, and the garrison set itself the task of holding out until that time.

U. S. Consul Simpich drove an automobile carrying a Red Cross flag and filled with nurses through a shower of bullets to the aid of the wounded. About 10 o'clock the constitutionalists launched a movement simultaneously from the east and west and directed a lively fire against the defenders from three directions.

However, the federal officers admitted that they do not pretend to have driven off the state troops permanently and Obregon asserted that the hard fighting had not begun.

BREAD IS DENIED.
Nogales, Ariz., March 13.—Colonel Tate refused a request from the federal defenders to buy bread on the American side, it was said on direct authority. Dr. Gustetter remained working on the lines, and at 11 o'clock had found thirteen wounded including a state lieutenant.

CUT LOOPHOLES.
The twin Mexican and American towns of the Arizona border, scene of today's battle, are as one community, with their business streets abutting directly. Each has a normal population of about 3,500. The houses on the American side mostly are of brick or stone construction, while the Mexican town is largely of the sunbaked brick which afforded a natural fortification to the defenders. Loopholes were easily cut in the thick soft walls while the drain pipes of the roofs offered ready made portholes for rifle fire.

HAVE 907 MEN.
Douglas, Ariz., March 13.—With the arrival early today of 300 additional state troops under Perfecto Bracamonte, the Agua Prieta constitutionalist garrison, today, contains 907 men. A group of 300 is being organized to pursue General Ojeda's retreating column.

FOUR SERVIAN TRANSPORTS ARE RIDDLED WITH SHELLS

Cettinje, Montenegro, March 13.—News reached here today that four Servian transports loaded with troops were yesterday riddled with shells fired by an unidentified war vessel. Accounts of the engagement from two different sources declare that the attacking vessel flew the Austro-Hungarian flag.

The transports were conveying strong detachments of Servian troops to assist the Montenegrins in their siege on the fortress of Scutari.

The attack on the four boats occurred off San Giovanni di Medua. Two of the transports were set on fire. The number of killed and injured has not yet been reported.

No official account of the engagement was available this morning and the unofficial dispatches from San Giovanni di Medua varied considerably.

According to one account, the attacking ship was the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh, which is alleged to have been flying the colors of Austria-Hungary. Another report doubts the war vessel was the Hamidieh at all and says that the cruiser resembled a vessel of the Austrian-Kaiserin class.

Feeling against Austria has been high here since Tuesday when the Austrian minister to Servia announced that his government objected to Servian troops assisting in the siege of Scutari.

Today's news of the attack on the Servian transports therefore, created a tremendous sensation here. In official circles, however, no credence was given to the part of the press dispatches relating to the Austrian flag. Officials declared that the attacking vessel was undoubtedly the Hamidieh, which was reported in the vicinity a few hours before, and added that the Turkish cruiser would have no reason for hoisting false colors.

50 ARE KILLED.
Belgrade, March 13.—An official report today says:

"About fifty Servian soldiers were killed on board the Servian transports at San Giovanni di Medua on the Adriatic coast yesterday by shells from the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh. Much of the ammunition on the transports exploded."

WILSON UP TO DATE LOOKS GOOD

IT SEEMS FROM OPENING ACTS OF THE
NEW PRESIDENT AS IF HE WAS GOING TO HOLD TO A PROGRESSIVE POLICY.
THE REACTIONARIES ARE PASSING.

BY GILSON GARDNER.
Washington, D. C., March 13.—The most important and significant acts of the Wilson administration up to date are:

(1). The appointment of a thoroughly progressive cabinet.
(2). Refusal to permit the distribution of patronage to obstruct the important business of the new administration.

(3). By the re-appointment of Interstate Commerce Commissioner
Clark and the appointment of John Marble as successor to Commissioner Lane, President Wilson has recognized merit instead of political pull.

(4). A clear-cut announcement of a plan to revise the tariff, schedule by schedule, and to make that the first number on the program, has been set before congress and the country.

(5). The second number on the program has been announced as currency legislation. With the testimony taken by the Pujo committee at his command, the president will work out a definite currency bill which will be ready for the December session.

(6). President Wilson has refused to become an honorary member of the Chevy Chase Golf club, announcing that he will pay his dues for any club which he joins.

(7). The gold lace and military business at the white house was abated the first day of his arrival.

So much for President Wilson's part in the beginning of the new administration.

At the capitol also things have been happening. The Republican majority of the senate exists no more. The time-honored rule of seniority in the appointment of dominating committees has fallen. The Progressive element in the senate has organized that body. With Kern as chairman of the caucus, and men like Gore, Luke Lea, Ashurst and Shively taking charge of the appointment of the reorganized committees, we see the passing of the old Bacon, Simmons, Overman, Thornton and those ancients of reactionism in the Democratic party who have been as much an obstruction to progress as the Aldriches and Gal-lingers in the Republican ranks. It is a bright and promising outlook. When the administration's progressive measures reach the senate as now organized they ought to find an open and clear way for their quick passage.
If not, the responsibility will be quickly and readily placed.

In the house, there is an increased Democratic majority, and while the Underwood-Clark-Fitzgerald crowd still dominates the caucus and the organization, there are marked evidences that they do not care to cross swords with the new president, backed as he is by strong public sentiment. They are more inclined to "take the program."

Thus the political auspices are as bright as the weather conditions under which Wilson was inaugurated.
Nothing could be more promising.

THE GUN FOOL AGAIN.

When Luther Salisbury came off duty Monday he faithfully obeyed the statute in such case made and provided which prohibits him from wearing his gun when his work as a railroad "bull" is over for the day. He checked his gun in the Slideboard restaurant, first taking the precaution to unload it. Tuesday morning "Salisbury, or as he is better known, Casey
Jones, sent Julian Gawry, a Harvey House bell-hop, for the gun and it was at this point that the well known and justly celebrated combination of a fool and a loaded gun began to work out in the regular way. Gawry loaded the pistol and pulled the trigger and a 45-caliber bullet tore through the partition between the kitchen and the dining room and struck E. J. Oboev, an employee of Campbell's shows, in the back as he was sitting at the lunch counter, inflicting a nasty, but not dangerous, wound. The injured man was taken to Dr. S. D. Swope's office, where Drs. Swope and Steed extracted the bullet. Gawry is being held.—Deming Headlight.

TAX SCHEME IS PROPOSED BY THE SENATE

MEASURE WOULD REMODEL ARTICLE
EIGHT OF CONSTITUTION SO THAT ITS BEST FRIENDS WOULD NOT RECOGNIZE IT.

EQUALIZATION BOARD WOULD BE ABOLISHED

A tax scheme which State Senator Barth denounced as a move on the part of certain corporations of the state, to so alter the constitution as to give the people absolutely no recourse was passed in the senate last night in the shape of a substitute for Senate Joint Resolution No. 12 which originally was the Clark taxation resolution.

The immediate and direct effect of the resolution, were such an amendment approved by the people, would be to abolish the state board of equalization. This, Mr. Barth openly charged, was the result of the board's recent ruling that all property would be assessed at full valuation.

Likewise, that portion of the constitution giving the state the right to tax the output of coal mines, oil lands and timber holdings, would be wiped out.

Senator Crampton took the position that the people would not be injured by the resolution. He held that while such provisions in the constitution would be abolished, still the power of the legislature to enact laws for the purpose of taxation, would in no manner be curtailed. In view, however, of the record made by the present legislature, his argument did not carry great weight.

Senators Aldredge, Barth, Doepf, Evans, McCoy and Mabry voted against the resolution. It was supported by the Old Guard Republican organization of the senate to a man, however, and Senator Hinkle, a Democrat, also voted for it.

The substitute resolution is a complete revision of section eight of the constitution which is one of the most important parts of that interesting document entitled "Taxation and Revenue." The resolution places the high water mark on taxation at 10 mills exclusive of the state debt and exempts public buildings, libraries, churches, community ditches, cemeteries, charitable and educational institutions and municipal buildings.

The resolution is as follows:

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of New Mexico:
That Article VIII of the constitution of the state of New Mexico, entitled "Taxation and Revenue," be and the same hereby is amended so as to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII.

TAXATION AND REVENUE.

Section 1. Taxes levied upon tangible property shall be in proportion to the value thereof, and taxes shall be equal and uniform upon subjects of taxation of the same class.

Section 2. Taxes levied upon real or personal property for state revenue shall not exceed four mills annually on each dollar of the assessed valuation thereof except for the support of the educational, penal and charitable institutions of the state, payment of the state debt and interest thereon; and the total annual tax levy upon such property for all state purposes exclusive of necessary levies for the state debt shall not exceed ten mills.

Section 3. The property of the United States, the state and all counties, towns, cities and school districts, and other municipal corporations, public libraries, community ditches and all laterals thereof, all church property, all property used for educational or charitable purposes, all cemeteries not

Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Fondle Is Woman's Greatest Happiness.

One of the most important matters about which women concern themselves in their future status as a grandmother. And she is wisdom itself who knows of or learns of that famous remedy, Mother's Friend.
This is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It certainly has a wonderful influence, allays all fear, banishes all pain, is a most grateful encouragement to the young, expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, free in body and thus destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should.
The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and,
in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation.
There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women, hence Mother's Friend is really one of the greatest blessings that could be devised.
This splendid and certain remedy can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle, and is sure to prove of inestimable value, not only upon the mother, but upon the health and future of the child. Write to Bradfield

STATE SENATOR W. M. MCCOY
Who Has Been Appointed Vice-Chairman of the Progressive State Central Committee and Also Member of the Progressive Executive Committee.

STATE SENATOR MCCOY NAMED VICE-CHAIRMAN

State Senator William M. McCoy, of Montanair, Torrance county, has been appointed vice-chairman and also member of the executive committee of the Progressives in New Mexico. This announcement was made by Chairman M. A. Otero of the state central committee of the Progressives and comes as good news to Progressives throughout the state.

Senator McCoy was one of the first in New Mexico to come out squarely for Progressive principles, and his course in the senate has ever been along Progressive lines. He is a business man of prominence in Montanair where he has shown a lively interest in the Chautauques held there and in civic improvements. Senator McCoy is a fluent speaker, a cultured gentleman, and a man of breadth and firmness. He will do much to advance the Progressive cause in the Sunshine State.

(By Barratt O'Hara.)
Chairman of vice commission now conducting remarkable investigation in Chicago into the relation between low wages and white slavery. O'Hara is lieutenant governor of Illinois.

BARRATT O'HARA.

has passed beyond the real of economics.

It has become intricately woven into the problem of our American womanhood, and such it is unquestionably the most vital issue of today.

Whatever else may happen, no man will deny that every effort must be made, and made speedily, to stamp out once and for all the shame of white slavery in America.

This despicable traffic reaches into every city and town of the land and down at the roots of the evil lies the crime of starvation wages!

If a minimum wage law is a necessary step on the road to this second great emancipation in our union, then a minimum wage law must be put into effect at the earliest moment possible.

The mass of testimony presented to the committee appointed by the Illinois senate to investigate the white slave problem in this state, and of which I happened to be chairman, leaves little room for doubt that low wages and vice go hand in hand!

In every city of the United States hundreds and thousands of girls are receiving less, and considerably less, than $5 a week!

Can they live virtuously on these pittance?

Let every city and town from coast to coast and boundary line to boundary line investigate penetratingly into home conditions and the result is not apt to be far different from the result in Illinois.

A large majority of the fallen women who are coming before our committee confess that they sacrificed their virtue in order to live!

Their wages were not sufficient to keep off starvation.

When such a shameful fact confronts us, there seems one effective and imperative solution.

Now I do not wish to be considered as one who commends a woman who will give up her virtue in preference to her life, if the crisis arises.

But I am humiliated to know that because of grinding wages the crisis is ever allowed to loom in all its ugliness before any American girl!

And if these wages are paid by millionaire "philanthropists," so much more ugly is the blot on our pride.

From every angle of the evidence thus far presented to Senators Juhl, Beall, Tossy, Woodward and myself it appears conclusively that wages have much to do with white slavery.

A minimum wage law, then, would seem to be the only natural remedy.

Finding this to be the case, I have communicated with the governor of each and every state of the union, suggesting a commission similar to that now at work in Illinois. From many of these I have already heard.

I have little doubt that we shall have prompt and definite action throughout the country resulting in legislation establishing a pretty uniform minimum wage scale.

I have also written President Wilson, asking his support of a national minimum wage law.

With the overwhelming popular sentiment existing in favor of a minimum wage law, I feel no doubt as to the prompt saving of thousands of girls through the abolition of starvation wages.

The menace to American womanhood must be removed now and forever, or America will go the way of Rome.

It is our patriotic duty to stand by this until the problem is solved!

ROSWELL PEOPLE RESENT CHARGE MADE IN HOUSE

In reply to a statement made by Major W. H. H. Llewellyn early in the session of the legislature that there was a sign over a business house in Roswell reading "Niggers and Mexicans not allowed," prominent Roswell citizens have sent a signed statement to Representative Rogers denying that such a sign ever was displayed in that city. Mr. Rogers, this morning, sent the communication to the desk of the speaker and requested that it be read for the benefit of the house members.

The statement is as follows:

To the House of Representatives, State of New Mexico, and to whom it may concern:

We, the undersigned citizens of Roswell, New Mexico, being informed that the charge was made on the floor of the house a few days ago that a sign had been posted over the door of a billiard hall in Roswell, "Niggers and Mexicans not allowed," desire to say that many of us have lived in Roswell many years and some of us since the town began, and we do not know nor have we ever heard of any such sign being posted here over any business, nor do we believe it occurred, and we therefore denounce said statement as absolutely false, this January 30th, 1913. Signed by G. A. Richardson, and twenty-five others.

WORDS FROM HOME.

When a Santa Fe citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Santa Fe resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

Mmanuel Delgado, 110 Canon St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "The public statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills in 1902 still holds good. For four or five years I was subject to attacks of backache, often so severe that I was unable to work. I tried various remedies said to be cures for such troubles, but nothing benefited me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They promptly proved their worth and effected a cure which has been permanent up to the present time. My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has been so gratifying that I gladly recommend them."

SPORTING NEWS

MOST OF THE OLD TIMERS WILL BE ON JOB THIS YEAR WITH THE WHITE SOX.

Opening of Training at Paso, Robles, California. Shows Veterans out in Front for Positions They Held Down Last—Only Pitching Staff Seems Weak and This Department May Give Aspiring Big Leaguers Opportunity.

A bunch of the Sox coming in off the road after a five-mile jaunt. Many of the squad took to the road at first to limber up their muscles and get their wind.

Paso Robles, Cal., March 13.—At this stage of the training of the Chicago White Sox, it is pretty hard to predict who will make the team but old Kid Rumor has it that many of the "Old Guard" will stick.

Picking the pitching staff for this season is going to be a matter of some delicacy because that was a very tender spot in the White Sox line-up last year and Coniskey and Callahan are determined to bolster it up this year, so the new material is being watched closely for possibilities.

Of the vets, Ed Walsh is a cinch. He is so sure of his position that he spends his time tipping off the game to the aspiring young recruits. Scott, the "Wichita Wonder," and Frank Lange are expected to show up in their best form and good humor this year, although both were out of the game most of last season on account of sickness. If either fails to respond at the end of the training season, Mel Wolfgang is the most likely candidate among the recruits to fill out the term. White, Benz and Ciolette think they have quit-claim deeds to places on the mound and are showing fine form.

Schalk, the $50,000 beauty from the Milwaukee club, is touted as a cinch for catcher, and Kuhn is also showing well for a place behind the pan.

"Buck" Weaver at short, and Hol-die Zolder at third sack are so fast that they are in a class by themselves and are certain of their positions.

In the outfield, "Shano" Collins, "Ping" Bodie, J. Johnson and Mattick recommended themselves highly by good service last year and are showing great form this season.

Borton, Rath, and Berger look like promises for the infield. Berger is a "rookie" from Los Angeles. Kid Rumor is slow about recommending "rookies" this season because the men who were on the job last year seem to have the same tenacious grip on their positions this year. At that, it is almost a cinch that some of the newcomers will get a fling at that pitching staff.

ing it. Some wise guy remarked many moons ago that actions speak louder than words. So here goes for a little aside which wouldn't indicate that Carrigan and Cady were on the outs.

Carrigan came through direct from Boston and arrived with the first section of the battery candidates last Sunday morning. Cady reached the Spa on the evening rattler. Not only did they mitt each other most warmly, as exchanges of welcome were pulled out they sat side by side while Prof. Phillip Andrew Laffey, the Eastman hotel's demon orchestra leader, was having his big Sunday night concert rendered. Yes, so, if Carrigan and Cady are enemies then George has no use for Ham and Harris, and Finley Shepard is not sweet on his Helen.

While Stahl, like all rulers of good teams, refrains from claiming another championship for his gallant band of athletes, the players themselves are cock sure as to the result of the coming A. L. race. There's nothing to it but that last fall's triumph over the Giants has put the right brand of pep in the Champs' make-up. They fear nothing. Yes, they like C. Mack's infield and some of C. Mack's pitchers; also believe F. Chance is going to experience a certain amount of good fortune with the Killies; consider the Nationals a right pert young team, but one which will scarcely do as well as a year ago; state that Nothing-To-Do-Until-Tomorrow Ed Walsh remains 90 per cent of the White Sox; figure the Naps the class of the west, but don't think Birmingham will land them higher than fourth; cling to the opinion that it's all off with the Tigers, and of course don't believe the Browns will be a bit dangerous.

Now that the Red Sox are the champs of the universe they form a much more interesting lot of youths than when in our midst this time a year ago. The flock of pitchers and catchers is certainly composed of well built boys. Cady, Thomas and Numa-maker are big, broad and burly. All three are six-footers, at least, and weigh even when trained down to the limit, around 185 to 190 each. Carrigan is not as tall as his three teammates, but Bill has the width and surely is no weakling. They are four clean-cut chaps. All four can peg; are there with a world of the "stick-over-old-boy" stuff and just as dangerous, when hitting, as Speaker, Lewis or any of the other clouters.

Stahl is more than pleased with his bevy boys of young flingers. Counting Leonard, who wound up with Denver last season, Sir Jacob has seven hurlers. All of them save Foster, of Texas, has the size. Foster is of the same mould as Jack Warhop. He had a sweet summer in Texas last year. Foster started in Muskegon and one of Bob Hedges' scouts brought him to St. Louis two seasons ago. He got off to burrah start but before long his associates got in their work and he deteriorated in a regular loser. It might have been different if George had become allied with a regular team.

Kansas organization. That was all for the season of 1910. The following year he played with the four clubs already mentioned as including three champions and a runner-up.

St. Joe recalled him in 1912 but he couldn't get along with some of the other players and was shunted to Zanesville in the Central. This berth didn't suit either, so they shipped him along to Springfield, in the same circuit. Here he spent the greater part of the season, eventually being rescued by the Tigers, to whom he reported the latter part of last August. He gave an excellent account of himself in the few games he worked for Detroit in the fall, and some of the veterans pronounced him a "find."

This spring he has had considerable trouble with his arm, due probably to his over-anxiety to cut loose before he was properly conditioned. The wing is rounding to shape nicely now, however, and he is showing the same line of star that won him so much praise in the closing weeks of last season.

WILL BE LAID UP FOR TWO WEEKS.

New York, March 12.—From Bermuda came word that Hal Chase might not be able to resume at second base for perhaps two weeks. His enforced absence will be a serious handicap, for Chance is anxious to perfect his style of team play with all the regulars in the lineup.

While Chase is on the hospital list, Chance will experiment with Young and Hartzell at the middle bag, with the idea of finding a competent substitute for Chase should the latter become injured again during the pennant race.

OXFORD DEFEATS CAMBRIDGE ON THAMES TODAY

Putney, England, March 13.—Oxford won the annual boat race with Cambridge on the Thames today. Oxford won by a quarter of a length.

The start was made at 4:38 o'clock. Cambridge took the lead at once and was half a length in front at the middle distance. Oxford overhauled her in the last quarter mile. The course was four quarter miles.

Oxford's time was 20 minutes, 55 seconds.

The race was set for the late afternoon owing to the tide conditions. Cambridge won the toss for choice of stations. At the starting pistol, Cambridge immediately took the lead and maintained it, putting a stroke of 36 to the minute. At the half mile Cambridge was a half a length ahead. At the mile they were still leading and at Hammersmith bridge, about half the distance they were half a length in front.

Oxford then began to gain slowly. At Barnes bridge, a quarter mile from the finish, Cambridge was still leading. Then the superior power of the Oxford crew carried them to the front and they won by a bare quarter length. Oxford now has thirty-nine races and Cambridge thirty, while one was a dead heat.

"INTRODUCE ME" WAS WELL LIKED

(The Daily Oklahoman.) It is seldom that one has the opportunity of seeing a clever play, written by a clever actress, with the playwright in the leading role. Della Clarke in her own play, "Introduce Me," at the Overholser theatre, Saturday matinee and night, is "pretty to walk with, witty to talk with" and altogether as charming and likeable a bit of femininity as has appeared on the local stage in many moons.

Miss Clarke has a contagious little laugh—the kind you just simply cannot resist joining in with and she knows how to use her eyes—in other words she is "cute" as the matinee girl has it, and that can and does include a great number of charming characteristics.

The play itself is entertaining. It is a comedy and has philosophy and a moral in the bargain—just enough of each to counterbalance the other. It is the old triangular arrangement, but with a new setting.

BRINGS SUIT TO RECOVER TWICE BURIED TREASURE.

Denver, Colo., March 13.—Suit to recover $5,480 which was buried in a cellar at Rock Creek, Wyo., by highwaymen in early days found, re-buried and exhumed again, was filed in the district court here today by Joseph F. Swab, of Denver. Swab seeks to recover the treasure from William Taylor. He alleges that the money was found buried in Taylor's cellar at Rock Creek by Jesse W. White, who, he says, buried it again and sold his claim to it to Swab. The money was found again, however, by Taylor, who kept it.

FIVE CHILDREN AWAIT RETURNING OF "MAMMA."

Chicago, Ill., March 13.—The five children of Rev. Nestor Clarkson, who were left motherless when Mrs. Clarkson ran away with Owen Conn, the "gentleman" burglar now under arrest at San Francisco, were eagerly awaiting the return of "Mamma" today, Clarkson having stated that he would "forgive and forget" if she would return to him in repentance.

Mrs. Mabel Clarkson is at present in Omaha, her husband, the Rev. Nestor K. Clarkson, said today. Efforts of the police to find the woman were unavailing. They ran down a clew that seemed certain would result in her being found at the home of a nurse on the northwest side, but though there was evidence she recently had been in the neighborhood, there was no further trace of her.

Police believe Mrs. Clarkson can perhaps give valuable hints about some mysterious robberies of the last few years, now attributed to Conn, who is under arrest at San Francisco.

RED SOX NOTES FROM HOT SPRING

By H. W. LANIGAN.

Arkansas Hot Springs, March 13.—Garland Stahl's regulars has arrived in the Spa.

All week long the commander of the world's champions has been working out his battery men at Majestic park—and diamond matter are bound to sizzle when Tris Speaker, Charley Wagner, Harry Hooper, Duffy Lewis, Harry Gardner, Stanley Yerkes and those gay top liners start going through their spring exercises. As regards recruits among infielders here is Boston's official list:

First baseman—Harold Janvrin. With Jersey City last season. Live one, though still very young. Can play any place in infield. Has caused Bradley and Krug to lose jobs and will probably make Engle move.

Short stop—Everett Scott. Youngstown, O. Albin Carlstrom, Lawrence, Mass. Both raw recruits. Come highly recommended.

Outfielder—George Walsh, New England league. Won't supplant Lewis, Speaker nor Hooper. Will also have hard time beating Henderson out of his job. But may stick, if makes good on trip, as Stahl only has four fly-chasers.

Counting Manager Stahl, the Red Sox party numbers but 30 warriors. The army embraces four catchers; 12 pitchers, nine infielders and five outfielders. Stahl is standing pat on his 1912 catching staff. Carrigan is not a member of the In-Bad club. That story, circulated generally when Cady supplanted Roy Hall as the Red Sox's catcher-in-chief in the big league battles with the Giants last fall, was invented by some sensationalist, according to Stahl. Carrigan and Cady, the parties most directly interested, as well as their playmates, are also deny-

FROM THE CRADLE TO THE WORLD SERIES.

CHAPTER 8.

"Look at that kid!" enthused a new reporter as he watched Jimmy Doolan popping over his fast ball the first day in training camp. "He has bundles of speed and a lot of stuff, and he looks to me like he would make Mack-raw a world beater. I'm going to wire my paper right away about this phenomenon."

"Lay off that stuff," advised the man who had made 10 trips south. "He looks good the first day out because the old fellows are taking it easy. His speed is dazzling now, but when the others cut loose his fast one will look like a slow ball. Keep away from that phenom gab—it doesn't go any more."

"Well, it may be my first trip south," said the youngster, "but I did my bit on the college team and I can gather a hazy idea of a corner when I suspect one. Besides, Bill Hardy told me the other day this fellow was going to show; and Hardy isn't a Mexican athlete, you know. I like the kid, anyway, and I'm for him." "Be for him all you want; you haven't anything on Tommy, Pete, O'Connor and the rest of us," replied the veteran. "If it's in him we want to see it come out, and we will train right along with him if it does; but just wait a couple of weeks and see how he looks before you pick him to pitch the seventh game in the world's series next fall."

WHEATLEY HAS PENNANT HABIT

Detroit Free Press.

Charles Wheatley, one of the most promising of the Tigers' young pitchers, claims a distinction that few ball-players in the world have achieved, in that he was with three pennant-winning clubs in one year.

Not only was Charley on a trio of flag-grabbers, but he pitched the games that clinched two of the titles. All this happened in 1911, which was his second year in baseball. He was with four clubs altogether that season, but one of them threw him down and couldn't do better than to finish second.

He started his big season with the Great Bend, Kan., club in the Kansas State league, but did not stay there long before he was grabbed by the St. Joe aggregation of the Western league. Great Bend subsequently won the pennant, but not until "Wheat" had long been an ex-member of their staff. He remained with St. Joe several weeks and from there was sent to Humbolt, Neb., in the M. I. N. K. league. This club won the pennant and Wheatley was the pitcher whose name appeared in the box score the day the race was decided.

St. Joe, which still owned him, then sent him to superior, Neb., and here again he helped win the gonfalon, pitching the game that sewed it up. As there weren't any more pennants in sight Charles was allowed to depart to his home for a much-needed rest. By this time he had participated in so many banquets to successful teams that he couldn't make his belt meet and his digestive apparatus was beginning to show signs of wear.

Although Wheatley was in his fourth year of professional ball, he has been with nine clubs in seven different leagues. He started with Stevens, Kansas, in 1910, that circuit being part of the Inter-City league. The next stopping place for the budding big leaguer was Abilene, in the central

New York, March 13.—The agreement between the Union Pacific railroad company and a syndicate of bankers, to finance the $120,000,000 holdings of the company in Southern Pacific stocks, will be allowed to lapse tomorrow. There will be no extension. This became known today after the regular monthly meeting of the Union Pacific directors.

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Reports of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads have hope of an early agreement on a new plan dissolving the merger, according to information given today to Attorney General McReynolds. GREAT HIGHWAYSURE TO BE BUILT*STATE ENGINEER FRENCH, BACK FROM WASHINGTON, TELLS OF PLAN TO LINK FORTY-EIGHT CAPITALS.

That a plan is under way to have the United States government build highways connecting the forty-eight capitals of the states in the union was the declaration of State Engineer James A. French upon his return from Washington, D. C.

Mr. French has been attending the convention of "Federal Aid for Good Roads" and he said this morning:

"It was most gratifying to see the interest taken in good roads and the necessity of Uncle Sam doing something to boost road building. Every state in the union had two or three delegates at that convention. New Mexico was there and her representatives have come home filled with the possibilities of the future."

"Of course it is a large sum of money that the government would have to put up to make the linking up of the forty-eight capitals possible. It was estimated two or three hundred million dollars would be required but this huge sum could be realized by a small tax placed on tobacco. Many other plans were discussed at the convention and we found that all sorts of measures were knocking at the doors of congress. Some good road enthusiasts wished the United States grid-ironed with transcontinental highways; others had an idea that cities of a certain population should be linked together, and so forth."

"The connecting of capitals, however, seems a project to awaken immediate interest of congress and we have been informed on the best authority that congress is really anxious to lend a national hand to the good roads scheme in the United States. The advent of the automobile and the delight motoring has given to countless thousands as well as the tremendous advantages of highway locomotion make it certain that a great road building plan will come up for early consideration during Mr. Wilson's administration."

SAW PARADE.

Mr. French discussed the inaugural parade and said it proved the greatest in point of numbers ever witnessed in Washington. Discussing the suffragettes' troubles Mr. French declared that the general opinion in Washington was that the people of Washington rather resented the presence of suffragettes in the inaugural parade and felt that they were "intruding." Hence the reception accorded them. Mr. French stated that on the way home he met many suffragettes on the train and violent arguments arose between suffragettes and men opposed to their theories.

FRIEDMANN WANTS
UNCLE SAM TO

Washington, D. C., March 13.—Director J. F. Anderson, of the government hygienic laboratory, who has begun the test for the public health service, of Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis cure will leave tonight for New York to confer again with the Berlin doctor upon his return from Canada.

Dr. Anderson will join Dr. A. M. Stimson of the public health service, who is watching the development in patients treated in New York hospitals by Dr. Friedmann, and another effort will be made to procure the method of preparing the vaccine, which Dr. Friedmann has withheld, making the condition that the government must recognize improvement in the condition of patients already treated before he reveals the secret of his mixing method and the dose.

The public health service today procured reasonable verification of the report that Dr. Friedmann, as far back as last July, applied to this government for a patent on his remedy. Though such applications are in the secret archives of the patent office, information relating to Dr. Friedmann's intention is said to have come through a foreign source. No patent, however, has been issued. It was pointed out also that no commercial firm could introduce any such vaccine into the country without the approval of the public health service, which approval could only come after thorough tests.

Thus far the government authorities, however, could get no culture from Dr. Friedmann and they have begun the making of sub-cultures through various culture media. When these sub-cultures are grown they will be tested on laboratory animals, such as monkeys, rabbits, mice and guinea pigs.

They will use the vaccine on no human beings, but will keep a constant watch of the patients already treated by Dr. Friedmann.

The public health service is daily being besieged by tuberculosis sufferers seeking Dr. Friedmann's treatment. Members of congress also are receiving appeals from persons in all sections of the country, but the government will do nothing at this time and will make no recommendations until a fair test has been made.

MOIST SNOW AND MUDDY STREETS

The first thunderstorm in the vicinity of Santa Fe since last fall besieged the capital yesterday afternoon and was accompanied by the fall of a moist snow reaching a depth of three inches. During last night an inch and a half of snow fell. The weather man says that the precipitation during the past three days as aggregated 6.66 of an inch which he finds is almost as much as falls during the entire month.

The snow is rapidly melting, leaving unpaved streets in a very muddy condition.

ON COLLEGE STREET.

About the worst place that could be found in or around Santa Fe today is certainly that portion of College street bordering the property of H. H. Dorman. A water main has again burst and the street has been changed into a canal. A stream flowing down the hill today cut deep into the road bed and presented a sight rare to find in these "days of scientific achievements."

Mr. Dorman stated today that the old water main is in no condition to resist sudden changes of temperature or heavy pressure and that complaints have been made with the local water company which seems powerless to install a new pipe without the consent of the officials in the east.

Mr. Dorman and other Santa Feans interested, it is said, will petition the city council to have the offending water main condemned by the city council so that it will have to be replaced with good, new pipe.

The people along College street are growing tired of having their thoroughfare turned into Venetian canal every few days.

STRICKEN WITH APPENDICITIS

Mrs. Gregory Page, wife of State Senator Page, and one of the most popular members of the body of legislators visiting in Santa Fe, was taken suddenly ill last evening after attending a tea at St. Vincent's Sanitarium. After a consultation of surgeons an operation was decided necessary. The operation was performed this morning and at 2 p. m. this afternoon Mrs. Page was reported as doing as well as could be expected. The news will be a shock to the many friends of Mrs. Page who enjoyed her hospitality yesterday afternoon, when the wives of visiting legislators residing at the Sanitarium tendered a farewell tea to the ladies of Santa Fe who entertained them during the past two months.

OBEY THE LAW.

Those indictments against the saloon proprietors for keeping open on Sunday were all right.

Each violation should call for an increased fine, until it takes the value of the whole institution to pay it.

The law forbids Sunday saloon opening. If it is a good law, obey it. If it is a vicious law repeat it, but let us get on a basis in this country of paying some attention to law. The people who are not prohibitionists, but are believers in law, will get aroused on this question one of these days, and will go in with those who favor the abolition of the saloon entirely.

It looks like a mighty foolish piece of business on the part of saloon proprietors to get into the limelight as violators of the law, just at the time when the liquor question is up for consideration in the legislature.

They are poor diplomats, if nothing else.

We are in favor of obedience to law, that's all and are opposed to the playing of favorites in the application of it.

That is one thing that has been a great drawback to New Mexico's advancement and prosperity,—this looking to the protection of the few, to the disadvantage of the many, and in the carrying out of this policy the law has been evaded, disregarded and violated.

That is not the spirit of this day, and the sooner people get to understand it, the sooner conditions will change for the better.

Let us have an open field and fair play.

Let us all obey the law while there is a law and if it isn't a good law then the sentiment should be strong enough either to remove it from the law tablets or substitute another.

While it is there, we should obey it, whether we are in the business of wet goods or dry goods or whatsoever.

The fact that the senate has abolished the mounted police should not make any difference in our obedience to the law, as that should be regarded by one man as much as by another, and by one business as strictly as by another.

It is time that laws were made to be of some use, and not just a lot of words strung together in sentences that read correctly and intelligently, but mean nothing.

Just let us regard the law, that's all. If it is good for one it is good for everyone.

The favorite-business has run its course in this state.

THEY NEEDED HELP.

Another query is presented to the people of New Mexico who are interested in legislative proceedings.

What is Bull Andrews here for?

Did they need more help, the Old Guard, from an abler general than has yet appeared on the field already strewn with the wreckage of measures wanted passed or slain out of "courtesy to the Republican majority"?

Things have not been going well lately and members have grown weary of taking orders, the last one to "roll the governor," having caused the latest break.

So, it may be that a more experienced hand was needed, and more, or better brains found necessary for perpetuity of power. At all events the Old Guard found itself badly tangled.

Members were getting "too far from our rails" for successful work. It became necessary, as in every losing battle, to send for reinforcements, and, dashing suddenly upon the scene, comes the "gentleman from Pennsylvania," the hero of many a successful battle,—and one recent, memorable defeat.

But still the query is in many minds: "What is Andrews here for?"

PRESENT DAY CHARITY.

In its true meaning charity is one of our finest words. "Faith, hope and charity; and the greatest of these is charity." It means sympathy, the heart-throb in face of distress, sacrifice—it means universal love.

In popular opinion, however, "charity" has come to mean lay, statistical professionalism; the use of the microscope, the card index and the tabulating machine to register the tortures of the unfortunate. "Case data" unquestionably furnish valuable figures. But spitting a poor devil on the nib of a pen to furnish material for sociological study never quite takes the place of warm pulse beats of human sympathy. It is easy to understand why the self-respecting poor shun each charity as they shun the plague.

The attitude of most charity workers toward the movement for mothers' pensions helps to explain this instinct of repulsion. For example, much attention is being shown just now to a report by C. C. Carsten, secretary to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, upon the workings of the mothers' pension law in Illinois. Carsten is a fine type of the orthodox charity worker. He is able, industrious, conscientious and case hardened. He it was who, during the Lawrence strike, led the chorus of protest because the children were sent out of the hunger zone to kind sympathizers in other cities. He saw in this only the "exploiting of childhood." For the little ones to have stayed at home quietly and starved or been thrust into some sullen institution would have been much better in keeping with the philanthropic traditions.

Something of this habit of mind reappears in his report on mothers' pensions. The Illinois law is young and its machinery of enforcement is new, and naturally the probation officers who administer it have things to learn. Carsten dwells upon their shortcomings earnestly. He is statistically convinced that system charity workers could do a much better job.

Another source of his anxiety is lest the pensioned mothers should grow riotous on the state's bounty. "Where an average of $23.28 is provided to each family, temptations," he says, "come to spend money recklessly or foolishly." We merely suggest to our readers that they picture a mother with a home full of orphaned children getting wantonly reckless on 77 cents a day!

But the crowning item in his indictment is that if the state pensions mothers, the churches and private societies may "cease their interest." Inasmuch as under a state pension mother gets it all, whereas under organized charity the said organized charity takes about 65 cents of administration expenses in every dollar to push the remaining 35 cents along, such a boycott might be said but not fatal.

The regulars in charity, of course, don't mean to be cold or selfish. They probably aren't aware how far the red tape machine has gotten into their system. But, like other bureaucrats, they find it hard to be tolerant of the possibility that a good thing may be done in a new way. They believe in the broad, human, elemental truth that mother-love is a child's best heritage because they cannot get away from it. But they are opposed to mothers' pensions for a number of not very important avowed reasons, while perhaps the real reason is because they haven't been entrusted with the pay rolls of administration.

We feel quite sure we know what was in John Boyle O'Reilly's mind when he invented the phrase: "A cold, statistical Christ."

Germany is getting personal. A law has actually been passed there, compelling every actress to tell her right age. This is not so bad, if they do not follow it up by a law forbidding her to use any make-up to disguise it.

It looks from the side lines as if the American medical fraternity is not particularly anxious to see Dr. Friedmann make a success of his tuberculosis cure. They are handicapping him all they can.

Of course, some of those "original Wilson men" will have to lose out. They are increasing so rapidly in number that the plum supply will be exhausted before they are all supplied.

It is said that the pickpockets got $20,000 from the crowds at the inaugural. The "Rubes" must have been there in large numbers.

REMARKS FROM THE SIDE LINE

General Orozco must be despondent and tired of life. He has started for Mexico City.

President Wilson has set the time for the extra session of congress for April 1. We trust that the date will not have an injurious effect.

The wife of a Chicago minister deserted him for a society burglar. The longing of some people to break into society is past all understanding.

Mr. Nichols says the investigation into the theft of the bills will be pushed to the limit. But Mr. Nichols has nothing in common with the major.

A man arrested at Carrizozo on the charge of having fresh meat in his possession. At prevailing prices, the charge almost seems to prove itself.

The new public monies bill, it is said, is short of jokers for the benefit of political banks. In this respect, the public monies bill will be somewhat of a curiosity in this state.

The suffragettes apparently have a poor opinion of Washington's police force. However, until the matter came up, we never knew that Washington had a police force.

The Estancia News-Herald argues that pink beans can not be raised in that valley until they have been acclimated. However, we hold that the color is entirely immaterial anyway.

Great Britain is going to recognize the administration of President Huerta in Mexico. However, Great Britain may be unable to recognize President Huerta if those rebellions continue.

The governor has signed the anti-gambling bill. Some gentlemen who have heretofore been counted as clever with a cold deck, should now be on their way just as a matter of precaution.

The Turkish general at Adrianople has sent a wireless message to his superiors that he can hold the place only a week longer. However, the allies can do a lot of quarreling between themselves in that time.

Six Santa Fe saloon men were indicted for violating the Sunday closing law. The saloon men apparently can not realize that they are becoming personally, the very best kind of arguments for state wide prohibition.

The oil prospectors out in the Seven Lakes country have piped natural gas into their shack, according to the Gallup Independent and now live like real city folks. This is a yarn that goes the Farmington oil strike one better. Next!

The present session of the legislature has been chiefly useful in demonstrating just how much good, one fearless, honest and able executive can do for a state. McDonald has been the governor of the people. He has made good.

The German government has rebuked its newspapers for publishing alarming reports of international troubles. Just to look at a German newspaper, however, fills one with a vague foreboding that it contains nothing but troubles.

The governor has been game. He has stood by the people fearlessly and undaunted. That is the reason the Old Guard criticizes him. However, William C. McDonald is today, the biggest man in political life in New Mexico, in the estimation of the people.

Two residents of Moriarty engaged in an argument over a hay press according to the Moriarty Messenger and one shot the other. As a general thing, a shooting is not good form except in an argument over religion, politics or certain forms of poker.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

NO LONGER A JOKE.
Really, Mr. Linney, don't you think you have carried the joke about far enough? Or is Bert Sloan the humorist? Are some of you fellows up there in the weather office standing in with the coal man, or what is the occasion of this Christmas weather in March? The next thing you know you'll be forcing the people here to buy snow shovels and other real winter implements and those who have come out here on account of the "sunshine" and balm, will be packing up and going back east again, where they get this kind of weather by regular assignment and because they are entitled to it; but a big blanket of snow on the ground in Santa Fe in the middle of March! What are you fellows trying to do to us, anyway? They say "It's good for the farmer." Well, he has been pretty well looked after in this section of the country, and while he grows some things that are not so bad to take, yet it seems to me you weather men have given him a pretty fair show during the last few months and we think it's about time to give us boosters a chance to write some more dope on the "climate," the "sunshine," the "warm, but bracing air," the "tourist's paradise," and all that sort of thing.

It is only fair to divide these things up, but if Bert Sloan or any of the weather operators have got their wires crossed, or anything of that kind, I wish you would send them out and fix them before we have handed to us a South Dakota blizzard, a Kansas cyclone or a San Francisco earthquake.

You have got us so mixed up that we do not know what to look for any more, and don't know but we'll be hanging our stockings on the 14th of July, thinking it's Christmas.

Isn't there some way to get back to the schedule and give us a chance to plant pokey seeds and garden truck in the regular season?

Please call a caucus with your office force, Mr. Linney, and see what you can do about this matter.

GET AFTER HIM.

While the people interested in bugs and worms that are destructive to various products,—such things as the toll weevil and the codling moth, and the wheat bug, whatever his name is, and other kinds of disagreeable insects, including grasshoppers and locusts, why don't some one get after that nasty looking gray worm that gets into our sweet corn, eats off the tip and down into the ear, and takes away your appetite when you open up the end to husk it?

Get after him, some of you scientific students of bugology, and wipe him off our corn cobs and off the earth. He is a comparatively new arrival, and is very unwelcome. We do not need him in our business or in our kitchen.

He really is not fit to enter the homes of respectable people,—he looks so undressed like and offensive.

I do not know from just what source he comes or how he gets into the tip end of our sweet corn, or what is the proper method of eradication, but I know that he is entitled to no consideration and deserves only ostracism and annihilation.

I do not know why I happened to think of this disgusting creature just at this time, as it is not corn weather just now, and I was not bent on finding something disagreeable to write about, but sometimes, when I sit down mornings, and wonder what the bystander will say, I think of all sorts of things.

I didn't have a rarebit dream last night or anything of that kind, with these corn bugs crawling over me, but it's going to be warmer one of these days and we'll be eating corn on the cob, and then this worm will be here again, and I was just wondering if someone with a scientific turn of mind could not invent a method of extermination.

GAMBLING.

Really one of the most drastic measures passed this session was the gambling bill. It does not refer alone to the men who sit in the rear end of first palaces where the "kitty" is a part of the game, or the clips at the club who sit down for a quiet game, just with a "small ante" to make it interesting; or the fellow whose wife is away and who invites in a few cronies to play a few games for a little stake, to while away the lonesome hours,—not alone these are affected, but this gambling law stands guard at the door where the ladies play "bridge."

No more bonbon dishes for prizes for the winner; no more little mementos in the way of "Billiken's" or a bunch of violets for the loser. It is a "game of chance" and the anti-gambling law hits it. The "chance" part of it now is getting caught at it, and maybe that will make it all the more exciting and will add piquancy to it.

But, just think how it would be to have a real officer with blue coat and gold braid on his hat, come in and tap you on the shoulder and say: "I want you," when all you were doing was what you had been doing for a long time, just having the bridge club at your house for the afternoon, and playing for nothing but a lace handkerchief or some trifle of that kind. Think of being compelled to accompany a blue coated, gold braided officer down one of the main avenues and called to plead "guilty" or "not guilty," to a Santa Fe police judge, and maybe put behind bars.

It would be just like being a surfragette in England, and giving away a bonbon dish or a lace handkerchief, and going back east again, where they would get you in just as bad as smashing a London pane of glass, or getting gay with a policeman.

What will this do to bridge? Will all the numerous clubs in Santa Fe remain intact and operative if the spice of prizes offered is removed and the ghost of an officer is standing ever on the threshold?

Think of one of Santa Fe's club ladies in jail! Why it is horrible! But this will be the law and they'll have to obey it or take the same chance as the man who plays the game where the "kitty" is, and the cocktail in easy reach.

The gambling bill is pretty broad in its effects.

DIRECT ELECTION OF SENATORS PASSED

LEGISLATIVE SENATE PUTS THROUGH AMENDMENT BY UNANIMOUS VOTE WHICH GIVES THE PEOPLE MORE POWER.

The senate last night passed Senate Joint Resolution No. 29—Ratifying a proposed amendment to the federal constitution for the direct election of U. S. senators by the people. There was no debate. Senator Isaac Barth merely took occasion to call attention to the fact that the Democrats had introduced such a proposition at the session a year ago and that the Old Guard had not even considered it in committee. He said he merely desired to show time had wrought a change and that he was glad to vote for the resolution proposed now, by the Republicans themselves. Mr. Holt retorted that when the Republicans first advocated the new anti-gambling law, Mr. Barth had voted against it, but that on his second passage, the senator from Bernalillo had undergone a change of heart and voted "aye."

Mr. Barth replied that any time he found he had made a mistake, he would gladly change his vote and that he would vote for any measure that looked right to him and against any measure he believed was wrong, no matter who introduced them.

CLOUDCROFT AND SCHOOL QUESTION

Cloudcroft, March 13.—A mass meeting was held at the office of Williams and York Monday night to discuss the County High School question. There was a large crowd, including several ladies. Both men and women discussed the coming election. In all school elections in New Mexico the women vote and they will take quite an interest in the election to be held March 29th to vote for or against the establishment of a county high school at Alamogordo.

The term of J. A. Tatum, school director in school district No. 11, will expire in May. On the first Monday in April an election will be held at Cloudcroft to elect a director to fill the place which Mr. Tatum will vacate in May.

The women of the city have called a meeting to be held at the office of Williams and York Saturday afternoon to discuss further the County High School question.

A light snow has been falling the past three days. It melts about as fast as it falls as it is very warm. There has been more snow at Cloudcroft this winter than usual, but the temperature has not been as low as in other winters. It has been much colder this winter at Alamogordo, Roswell and other nearby points. This, however, is the case each winter, the winters in Cloudcroft are not as severe as at other points in this section. When it gets cold in Cloudcroft it is an even cold and stays cold. The changes elsewhere are from one extreme to another.

MORE COMMENTS ON THAT "OIL" INVESTIGATION

Some more editorial remarks concerning the so-called "oil investigation" staged at the capital recently are culled from New Mexican papers.

BORU'S OMISSION.—"Brian Boru Dunne, the brilliant young newspaper man of Santa Fe, who came out of the wilds of the east a few years back, seeking to be coal oil inspector of New Mexico, gave some very interesting testimony before Major William Henry Harrison Llewellyn's committee last week relative to his adventures just after landing in New Mexico, while hunting a job.

"But Mr. Dunne overlooked one amusing incident, or he just failed to mention it while giving his testimony. That was the badger pulling at Santa Fe a few months ago where the descendant of the Irish kings presided."

"NOT GUILTY," HE SAYS.—Says the editor of the Stockman, of Springer, Colfax county.

"Not guilty! The editor of the stockman has been a resident of New Mexico for many years, but he did not have anything to do with the oil mix-up. He couldn't have had he wanted to, for he was on the wrong side of the political fence."

SAYS RICH MEN PROMOTE VICE

Denver, Colo., March 13.—The greatest promoters of the white slave traffic are the men who build palatial homes on Capitol Hill from the profits of underpaid women and girls employed in commercial and industrial enterprises.

This declaration was made today on the floor of the Colorado senate by Senator Helen Ring Robinson of Denver, during a discussion of the newspaper libel bill introduced by Senator John Hecker. The statement was made in connection with Senator Robinson's criticism of a local organization, the announced object of which is to attempt to censor matter published in the newspapers, and which is urging the passage of the libel law.

Upon the request of Senator Hecker the bill was put over until tomorrow. The morning session in the senate and house was taken up with the consideration of minor bills.

PREFERS WIRE BINDER OF THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Omaha, Neb., March 13.—There are four active competitors of the International Harvester company in the binder business in Nebraska, according to witnesses who testified today in the government's suit against the company.

The matter of prices entered into in today's testimony, no less than the value of improvements. One dealer declared he would prefer to return to the wire binder of 30 years ago rather than retain the present mechanism of the twine binder.

William Belcher, an implement dealer of York, Neb., testified that although he handled the international line of harvesting machinery exclusively, there were three competing lines sold in his city. About 50 per cent of the binders sold in his territory in recent years were of International make—last year it was less, he said. Competition has steadily increased in his vicinity and "last year the John Deere people came in and cut a swath."

On cross examination the witness admitted the price to farmers had decreased more previous to the formation of the International company than since that year.

partment at Washington. This instruction has been sent by direction of Secretary Garrison to Brigadier General Bliss, in command of the border forces, in conformity with the war department's purpose to remove all possible causes of friction between the Americans and Mexicans, especially in the neighborhood of Nogales, along the Arizona line, the center of a fight between the contending Mexican factions.

The initial step in the policy was taken when General Bliss was instructed to withdraw the American border patrol far enough from the line to keep them out of sight of the Mexican guards on the south side.

PROGRESSIVES FOR FUNK.

Springfield, Ill., March 13.—Despite the passage of resolutions by both Republicans and Progressives for a combination to break the double senatorial deadlock, the Progressives on the tenth joint ballot declined to vote for L. Y. Sherman, Republican for the long term senatorship. Instead, as they have been for weeks past, the Progressives voted for Frank H. Funk for the long term.

The tenth joint ballot on the long term and the ninth joint ballot on the short term senatorship resulted today in no choice. There was practically no change in the standing of the candidates.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
