POPE PIUS PASSES GOOD NIGHT AND MAY RECOVER

ENCOURAGING BULLETINS COME FROM BEDSIDE OF PONTIFF WHO SEEMS TO BE RECOVERING FROM RECENT RELAPSE.

ENTIRE WORLD IS ANXIOUS FOR NEWS

Rome, April 14.—The bulletin issued by the papal physicians early today reads: "His Holiness passed a tranquil night. Bronchial symptoms are reassuring. Temperature 99. General condition good."

(Signed) "MARCHIAFAVA."
"AMICL"

While the bulletin is optimistic, it leaves many unexplained, the patient really has had a turn for the better.

Undoubtedly, however, there was a noticeable amelioration in the pope's condition during the night.

The pope's temperature decreased at 1 o'clock today to 98 degrees. The disappearance of fever is interpreted as a sign that there is no more fear of pneumonia. Professor Ettore Marchiafava on leaving the pope's apartment after examining him said:

"I now trust that the pope's illness will have a favorable solution if it is possible to induce the patient to take proper care of himself."

The improvement is considered most encouraging. Last night was the seventh since the first relapse suffered by the pope and the gravest anxiety had been caused by his increasing weakness and malnutrition.

It now appears that the access of coughing suffered last night greatly relieved the pontiff and enabled him to obtain a long and restful sleep.

Rome had been thrown into depression at the announcement of this attack and many thought the pope had reached the last extremity until Cardinal del V.

During the night, the pope's condition improved.

Rome, April 14.—The bulletin issued tonight by Prof. Marchiafava and Dr. Amicl regarding the pope's condition reads as follows: "His holiness passed the day without fever. His temperature tonight is nearly 99. Amelioration in the bronchial symptoms continue."

HAS NO FEVER.

JAPAN WILL STRIVE TO PROVE JAPANESE ARE NOT NONGOLS

Tokio, April 14.—The Japanese cabinet reported to the emperor today that President Woodrow Wilson's decision not to interfere with the California land ownership legislation makes it necessary for Japan to present a test case before the supreme court of the United States, proving that America would welcome a gollan origin, and therefore entitled to citizenship in the United States.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—The general opinion in official circles is that the America would welcome a test in the supreme court in the question of the eligibility of the Japanese to naturalization. So far, all decisions of record, mostly in western courts have held that the Japanese were not eligible to naturalization, not being such white persons nor persons of African descent, as are mentioned in the naturalization law as being alone eligible to citizenship. The issue has never been tested before the supreme court of the United States in a direct form.

The Japanese contend that they are Malayan and Arian in lineage and consequently may fairly claim to be classified ethnologically as the white persons described in the naturalization act. The importance of a determination of the question and its relationship to the alien land legislation now pending in California, lies in the fact that, as that act now stands before the legislature any alien entitled to property for naturalization, may own and lease land in the state, so that a decision favorable to the Japanese contention would completely defeat the purpose of the legislation so far as it might be aimed at the Japanese.

Washington, April 14.—President Wilson, talking informally today about pending land legislation in California, construed by the Japanese government as offensive, indicated that since his last talk with Viscount Chinda, the ambassador from Japan, some changes had been made in the proposed laws which might quite solve the situation. The president added, however, he did not know Japan's view of the alterations.

The president said he felt he had

WILSON THINKS TARIFF BILL IS POPULAR

Washington, D. C., April 11.—President Wilson believes the tariff bill meets the general approval of the country; that no healthy business will be interrupted and that while in most cases the cost of living will not be immediately reduced, the consumer will feel at once the benefit of a reduction in the sugar duty.

These views were expressed today by the president in an open talk with newspaper men at the White House. He explained that his main reason for desiring a reduction on sugar was that the consumer deserved it.

The president declared arrangements by which prices were fixed would surely be made impossible when a truly competitive situation was created and that the public would get the benefit very promptly in the case of sugar, because he knew competitive elements were ready to contest.

Criticism, he said had been received from some perfectly legitimate interests contending that the cuts in their cases were more than they could at present stand. Mr. Wilson said he did not see any ruinous cuts in the bill. He referred to the fact that members of the ways and means committee had heard every person in interest and that their judgments were based on those hearings.

It was suggested to the president that many Ohio Democrats in congress felt that free wool would be ruinous to the wool industry. Mr. Wilson said he had been trying to inform himself as much as possible on that subject but he did not feel their fears were justified by facts. He remarked that he had heard just the other day that the price of wool was the same on both sides of the water.

In connection with the sugar tariff the president was asked if he thought sugar factories, both beet and cane, could operate under free sugar. He said that he certainly thought they could, remarking with a smile that the factories might shut down for effect for a time, but that they would open for business later.

The president said he hoped to open reciprocity negotiations with various countries as soon as the tariff bill was passed.

Washington, D. C., April 14.—President Wilson in his first public speech since his inauguration welcomed the resident declared that the D. C. been organized to maintain a devotion entirely to the cause of human liberty. The people had cut away at a from special privilege, one," he added, "who stands for privilege of any sort forfeits the title of Americanism. Its a stern doctrine but the only standard of gentility in America."

INDICTED BROKERS RELEASED ON BOND

San Francisco, Calif., April 14.—J. C. Wilson and B. A. Wilbrand, of J. C. Wilson & Company, the first brokers ever indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of having conspired to aid in the abstraction of funds from a national bank, surrendered today to the United States marshal and were released on bonds of $10,000 each.

Peter P. Burke, also of J. C. Wilson & Company, is missing. The United States attorney's office learned that he left home Saturday. Mrs. Burke left yesterday and cannot be located.

The indictment of all three grew out of the defalcation of Charles F. Baker, former assistant cashier of the Crocker National bank, who pleaded guilty last week to embezzlements aggregating $204,000 which he lost in gambling in the stock market.

VETOED BILL IS AGAIN IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Providing that a certain $300,000 of its total shall not be used for Sherman law prosecution of farmers' co-operative organizations or labor unions, the sundry civil appropriation bill was reintroduced today from the floor of the house. Former President Taft vetoed the bill in the last hours of his office, because of that proviso, which he characterized as "class legislation of the most vicious sort."

Vancouver, B. C., April 14.—The skeletons of two men, believed to be those of M. Maloney and Ed Whalen, the hunters who disappeared on Thurlow Island, on the northern British Columbia coast nearly three years ago, were found yesterday. The men were believed to have been killed by Indians when they failed to return from a hunting trip. The skulls of both had been crushed apparently with an axe.

COUNTY BILL KILLED.

MR. MORGAN IS LAID TO REST

COFFIN IS BLANKETED BY 5,000 OF
HIS FAVORITE ROSES. 1,500
NOTED MEN AND WOMEN AT-TENDED SERVICES

New York, April 14.—Funeral services over the body of John Pierpont Morgan were held at 10 o'clock this morning in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, where he had worshipped for half a century. Afterwards a special train conveyed the funeral party to Hartford, Conn., for final services at the Morgan mausoleum in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Blanketed by a covering of five thousand red roses, Mr. Morgan's favorite flower, the coffin lay in state since Friday night, shortly before 10 o'clock, for the church.

A vested choir of 250 voices preceded the funeral party into St. George's. Behind the choir came the clergy, then the pall bearers, the coffin and the funeral party.

Fifteen hundred persons, one of the most notable gatherings New York has seen for many years, were crowded into the church.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION IS NOW THE ISSUE

Jersey City, N. J., April 14.—Government by commission for New Jersey municipalities favored by President Wilson, when as governor of New Jersey, he signed the Walsh act, and which has already been adopted by a number of cities in this state, will be the issue of special elections tomorrow in this city, Hoboken, Bayonne and Union Hill. Those are all municipalities of considerable size, all in Hudson county, within a few minutes of New York City.

Spirited campaigns for and against the overthrow of the old form of mayor and Aldermanic government ended today with the commission government-boomers claiming Jersey City as certain to vote for the change. If the claim were realized this would be the largest city east of New Orleans and St. Paul to adopt the commission plan. In Bayonne, the advocates of the change are also confident of success, but in Hoboken the opposition is conceded to be strong, and in Union Hill the result is also doubtful. The Democratic and Republican organizations are favoring the machine policy with Mayor Wittmann and his associates including among the advocates between the aldermen and the heads of 87 city departments are leading the opposition as the aldermen and many departments will be legislated out of office if commission government is adopted.

HORSES BUT NO AMMUNITION

AMERICANS HAVE MANY CLOSE CALLS

Naco, Ariz., April 14.—Investigation today disclosed many close calls for American residents of the Arizona town of Naco during the final battle yesterday at the Mexican town opposite. Although the fire was heavy on the American side, only one American is reported as slightly wounded, a young man whose name officials here cannot learn.

A shell burst in the basement of C. E. Campbell's residence here. The home of John Wolf was riddled with bullets. Fortunately the families were absent. Dozens of American homes were struck by bullets.

THE LOSSES.

The losses in yesterday's battle today were officially stated as thirty federal soldiers killed and seventy-eight wounded; twenty-three state troops killed and 125 wounded.

These are given by the state officials now in control of Naco, Sonora. The victorious constitutionalists secured only about two hundred horses, Queda before his retreat having burned all ammunition and supplies.

General Pedro Queda, the defeated federal commander, today was given parole by Colonel Guillofey, of the Ninth United States cavalry. He is residing at the Mexican consulate. Just 144 of the federal garrison reached this side in safety. The wounded are being cared for at the army medical corps hospital here.

Traffic has been opened on the railway running to the American mining town of Cananea, and trains of fuel are being rushed to open the big smelter and auxiliary plants.

All is quiet at Naco, where 1750 state troops are mobilized.

HERO SAILORS WERE KILLED.

Nogales, Ariz., April 14.—The two American sailors killed by police at Guaymas last week were members of the provost guard, said a foreign mining official arriving here today. He reported that the chief of police was engaged in quieting two drunken members of the shore party.

Struck over the head with a beer bottle by one of the bluejackets, the dazed Mexican official fired two shots at the sober sailors who proved to be on police duty and rushing to arrest their disorderly fellows.

Secretary of State Bryan has ordered a consular investigation of the incident. United States Consul Louis Hostetter here is making a careful probe of the affair.

I. W. W.'S. START FOR DENVER

Denver, Colo., April 14.—Chief of Police Felix O'Neill received a dispatch this morning that 102 Industrial Workers of the World reached Colorado Springs shortly after midnight and were to be put on a freight train during the forenoon and started toward Denver. The Industrial Workers were given breakfast by the Colorado Springs police, and then marched to Pikeview, six miles north, to await the first northbound freight.

MUST "WORK."

The I. W. W. pilgrims have announced that they propose to spend some time as the guests of the Denver city administration, and expect to be fed at the expense of the taxpayers. Chief O'Neill said today that he would provide plenty of food for them. "But," he added, "they will have to work for it. I'm not going to drive them out of Denver, but the minute they reach the city I shall put them on the rock pile. Then they will work or starve."

DECISIONS ARE STILL AWAITED

Washington, D. C., April 14.—No decisions in the rate case, newspaper publicity, intermarriage rate cases or other important suits pending before the supreme court were announced today.

GREAT ARMY OF WORKMEN GO ON STRIKE

ESTIMATED THAT 250,000 MEN QUIT
WORK IN BELGIUM TODAY 20-
000 OF THEM IN BRUSSELS.

THE STRIKERS.
In Brussels ..... 20,000
At Mons ..... 40,000
La Louviere ..... 25,000
In other cities ..... 165,000
Total ..... 250,000

Brussels, April 14.—The vast political strike, planned by the Belgian Socialist trades unions, began at dawn today. The first workmen to take part in the movement were the night shifts of the mines and mills throughout the country.

They left the various plants in charge of a few caretakers, named by the Socialist leaders to keep the property from deteriorating.

At least 250,000 men laid down their tools during the morning. There were numerous exceptions to the general walkout in many districts however. The strike is complete in such places as the mining districts, but is scarcely discernible in some localities.

In Brussels the strike must be looked for in order to be found. Probably one-fourth of the workmen engaged in the suburban factories did not report for work today. The Socialist committee here estimated at 11 o'clock that 20,000 men had struck in the capital.

Reports from the provinces tell of complete or nearly complete stoppage of work at Liege, Charleroi, Mons, La Louviere and smaller cities.

At Mons there are 40,000 strikers and at La Louviere 25,000, most of them belonging to the metal, carriage building and tobacco trades.

NEW MEXICO IS REPRESENTED AT CONFERENCE

Ogden, Utah, April 14.—More than a score of government men whose special training is the determining of soil values and the use of timberlands, met in this city this morning for a week's conference on the work of segregating agricultural lands found within the boundaries of the national forests. These lands are to be thrown open to homesteaders.

Franklin W. Read, former associate forester in this city, was presiding officer. Other officers of the department of agriculture in attendance from Washington are:

James B. Adams, assistant forester, and Prof. C. F. Marbut, in charge of soil surveys, and Macy H. Lapham, inspector of western division of the bureau of soils. From the western states were present six field men of the bureau of soils. They are H. L. Westover, J. E. Dunn, W. H. Hellman, A. W. Mangum, T. D. Rice, and A. R. Strahorn, and the following forest service men: Chiefs of land: R. H. Rutledge, Missoula; C. J. Stahl, Denver; F. C. W. Pooler, Albuquerque and formerly of Santa Fe; T. C. Hoyt, Ogden; L. A. Barrett, San Francisco, and C. J. Buck, Portland.

Chiefs of field parties: Theodore Shoemaker, Denver; Frederick Wynne and Cornelius Van Dune, Albuquerque; C. G. Smith, Ogden; S. N. Stoner, San Francisco, and J. Roy Harvey, Portland.

The meeting to permit the discussion of the department's policy concerning the classification of lands, to consider past projects, and to formulate standards by which future emigrations and lists of land may be made uniformly throughout the states.

Prior to the "Nelson amendment" of August 10 last, agricultural lands within national forests were examined and listed only when supplied for by a prospective homesteader. The new law not only directs the secretary to list all lands chiefly valuable for agriculture without waiting for an application, but provides a fund for this particular purpose.

The experts of the bureau of soils will determine what portions of a given area by conditions of climate, topography and soil and other conditions, are positively adapted to agriculture.

An advantage granted by the new law is that agricultural homesteads may be taken where there has been no previous public land survey and the surveys will be conducted by members of the forest service under the direction of the surveyor general of the general land office, without expense to the applicant.

DR. FRIEDMANN MAKES TEST IN WASHINGTON

Washington, April 14.—Dr. Frederick Franz Friedmann, the Berlin scientist, who claims to have discovered a cure for tuberculosis, prepared early today for his test at the George Washington hospital before Surgeon General Blue of the public health service, and a distinguished company of local and foreign physicians.

SENATOR CATRON SAYS INTERVENTION

El Paso, Texas, April 14.—Thomas Catron, United States senator from New Mexico, here today predicted intervention in Mexico by the United States shortly after the adjournment of the present congress.

"They are too busy with the tariff now," said Senator Catron. "If the Huerta government sets a date for popular elections, the United States might wait. Recent successes along the border, culminating in the taking of Naco yesterday by the constitutionalists, means that the Huerta government will not long exist."

ASKED FOR PEACE— FIGHT IS BEGUN.

Washington, April 14.—The continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution opened today with a fight almost as soon as President General Scott had finished her address of welcome, asking for "peace and harmony."

The reading of the report of the credentials committee aroused a storm and many objections to rulings of the chair. A substitute motion providing for a new committee on which each of the three contending candidates for President General should have two reports met with little recognition. The report finally was adopted.

EMPLOYED AS STENOGRAPHER AND NOT AS "HIS WIFE"

TURKEY TROT AND "TANGO" DANCE "ARTFUL"

SO DECLARES CAFE PROPRIETOR
TESTIFYING BEFORE CHICAGO
VICE COMMISSION ABOUT AMUSE-MENT.

TRYING TO CLOSE IMMORAL CAFES

Chicago, Ill., April 14.—Opinions that the "turkey trot" the "tango" and similar dances were "just what people made them" were expressed by witnesses before the Illinois vice commission today. Roy J. Jones, whose license as a cafe proprietor was revoked because of dances permitted by him in his place, testified he saw no objection to that form of amusement. "You consider those dances art?" Jones was asked.

"Well, they are artful, if not art. It depends largely on what people make them."

Jones agreed to eliminate suggestive dancing from his place if he were permitted to resume business. He said dancing and cabaret shows were the result of competition between cafes and if all "tango" dancing was prohibited the cafes would still prosper.

Lieutenant Governor Barrett C'Hara, chairman of the commission said it was the purpose of the investigators, co-operating with the city authorities, to rid Chicago of immoral cafes and to keep a watch on conditions for the next two years.

PROTECTION MONEY?

Whether vice flourishes in Chicago through the payment of "protection money" to public officials is to be investigated by the Illinois vice commission. The decision was reached today after Rev. Elmer Williams, pastor of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church, had testified he would produce women and saloonkeepers who had admitted to him they gave regular sums to police officials.

Mr. Williams agreed to furnish the names of witnesses in secret but the testimony of the witnesses when they are called is to be in open session.

"If it is true that politics and vice work together in Chicago, the public shall hear of it," said Commissioner C'Hara. "We will bring out all the facts, if there are any, if it takes us two years to do it."

MARBLE TABLET AS EVIDENCE OF MARRIAGE

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Setting aside evidence in the nature of a marriage record cut on a tablet in a temple in Amoy, China, the supreme court today held that Sy Qui, a millionaire Chinaman, of the Philippines, had not been married in China and awarded all his property to his children by a Filipino woman. It was the first case in which religious tablets were brought across the Pacific for presentation before the supreme court. After they arrived interpreters fell into a dispute as to how to translate them.

MAYER TO MEET HOPPE.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 14.—Joseph Mayer, the winner of the recent National Amateur championship billiard tournament, will meet Willie Hoppe, the professional champion, in two exhibition games in this city next Thursday and Friday. Hoppe will play 18.1 and Mayer 18.2.

The reading of the report of the credentials committee aroused a storm and many objections to rulings of the chair. A substitute motion providing for a new committee on which each of the three contending candidates for President General should have two reports met with little recognition. The report finally was adopted.

The event of the day, aside from routine, was President Wilson's address of welcome to the delegates late in the afternoon.

Supporters of Mrs. Wm. C. Storey finally won a victory by forcing to a favorable vote a motion providing that a committee of representatives of each of three candidates for president general should act with the credentials committee in passing upon contested delegates.

The girl who gave her name as Jean Beaucou, 17, of Sacramento, California, in a sworn statement, alleging that Morgan, while in San Antonio, Texas, wrote her to come to that city as his stenographer. On her arrival in San Antonio she states Morgan compelled her to assume the role of his wife. She stated they had lived in San Antonio and Dallas before coming to Oklahoma City. Morgan is a traveling representative for a farm loan company.

RABBIT DRIVE AND IRRIGATION AT LIVE DEMING

Deming, N. M., April 14.—The Rio Mimbres Irrigation company is putting in a demonstration farm on its property near Spaulding. The farm will consist of 250 acres all under irrigation, upon which will be demonstrated all kinds of grains adapted to this valley, and practically all kinds of deciduous fruits as well as vegetables. Wm. Hamman, a horticultural expert in charge of the orchard. Seven hundred and eighty-five apple trees have been set out, 500 pears, 300 one-year old Himalaya berries, and 1000 cuttings of the same berry, 3000 strawberry plants. Twenty acres have been planted to various vegetables, and 150 acres in various grains. Twenty-five acres of wheat is now six inches high, and fifty acres have been seeded to alfalfa, which is now from four to six inches high, and will be ready for the first cutting by the tenth of May. J. J. Jacobsen is the farm superintendent. The Himalaya berry above referred to is a native of the Himalaya mountains and was introduced into this country only about five years ago. It is a seedless blackberry, and blossoms and bears from the first of June until frost. The plants are set six feet apart in rows which are eight feet apart. A ten foot trellis is built for the vine, similar to a grape arbor trellis. This altitude is ideal for this berry, and it is thought that it will be a wonderful producer here. Mr. Hamman who is employed to superintend the orchard comes here from an agricultural college in Mexico of which he was superintendent, and reported to be one of the best authorities on horticulture in the southwest. Facking sheds are being built on the property of the company in which vegetables and fruit may be expeditiously packed for shipment.

The Rio Mimbres company is also expanding its quarters in Deming. In addition to the two offices already occupied in the Decker building, it has rented the hall 40 by 60 in the second story of the same building for a display room, reading and lounging room. Here the various products of the Mimbres valley will be attractively displayed, photographs of farming scenes, soils and analyses, water analyses and various other exhibits calculated to arouse interest and be instructive in the matter of agriculture and horticulture in this valley. All the windows exposed to the streets are now being adorned with artistic gold-leaf lettering—in short, the offices and display room are being patterned after similar rooms of large colonization companies on the Pacific coast.

E. A. Wilson, representing the I. H. C., with headquarters at Denver, is spending a few days in Deming on business.

Fred Jack has returned from El Paso. He reports his wife, on account of whose health he has been in El Paso for several days, convalescent. Superintendent J. B. Taylor states that the high school annual this year will be a credit to the institution. It will contain fifty or sixty pages, twenty of which will be half-tone illustrations of school life in Deming. Paul Majors is editor in chief, and Joe Decker is business manager.

The field meet to determine the Deming high school's representatives at the state meet, will be held in a few days. All the usual events, such as the 100-yard dash, the 240-yard race, the half and mile race, the standing broad jump, running jump, hurdle races, etc., constitute the program. Several students are showing good form, and it is confidently expected that the Deming high school will take her share of the honors at the state meet.

John M. McTeer, manager of the development on the tract of the Alfalfa Farms company, states that contracts for six additional pits have been let, making eleven in all, and that three well machines are now on the ground putting down irrigation wells. One drop-drill is used as an emergency drill for use when hard substance is encountered that cannot be readily handled by the auger machines. The company has built in the last two weeks eight miles of graded road. The 30-60 tractor is expected here in a few days. A 45 H-P. tractor is being used at present on the road work.

A big rabbit drive is scheduled for April 18. The school board has decided to allow the school children a holiday. The drive will be in charge of John Hunt, who has had large experience in such drives on the Pacific coast. He will drive over the valley in an auto with Lee O. Lester, and select strategic points for slaughtering the rabbits. The rabbits will be driven into fence corners and killed with clubs and dogs, no guns being allowed. The parties will be supplied with wire for attaching to fences so as to form wings for entrapping the quarry.

$100 Reward, $100.

ECHOES FROM THE FLOOD BY A REFUGEE

FRANK SCHAFF AND WIFE, JUST ARRIVED FROM CAIRO, ILL., TELL AN UNUSUAL STORY—TRAIN RUNS THROUGH A VAST SEA—WATER UP TO THE COACH STEPS.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schaff, who arrived here from Cairo, Illinois, Saturday evening had an unusual and somewhat thrilling experience in the water-swept districts of the middle west. In an interview with Mr. Schaff he gave some curious and strange facts about the extraordinary conditions that prevail in and about Cairo. He has been located in that city for 25 years, has property in that section, and in fact has the dialect of the "Sucker," and in that soft idiom, peculiar to the folks who live in "Egypt" he tells an interesting story.

"I don't expect you all out here will believe some of the things I tell you, about the flood. We left Cairo on the last train allowed out of there and when I say we, I do not mean my wife and myself, because she was visiting in Harrisburg, where our married daughter lives. No one was allowed to leave that locality unless they were accompanying some woman who was obliged to join her people elsewhere. I was fortunate in finding a neighbor who wanted to get out and I passed the train guard by telling him I was taking the lady to her folks. That was a week ago last Tuesday. Between Cairo and Mounds the tracks of the Big Four run on a big fill and I know you all won't believe it, and I hardly dare tell it, but when we were up on the grade the telegraph wires were under water and the water was up to the second step on the coaches. An ordinary engine could not pull a train at all, because the water would have put out the fire, so we had a big mogul engine to take us out. The train had to run awful slow and the water was all around us like a big sea, and you could not tell where the track was. It cannot seem to you folks down here that it was possibly as bad as it was. The railroad company had boats to go ahead and test the track as we went along. The Ohio river was spread out 30 to 40 miles on each side of its bed. Cairo is located in a corner, and between the Ohio and the Mississippi, and is surrounded by a rectangle of levees. There was no water in Cairo when I came away as it had not succeeded in overflowing that city, because it had not broken through the levees. A funny thing happened the day I came away. Colonel Moriarty and 700 men of one of the Illinois regiments arrived in Cairo early and there was no one there to meet them. He saw the waters rushing by the levees edge, and several citizens sitting leisurely about doing nothing. It did not take him long to take matters in hand and to set every available man at work watching the levees and strengthening them including tin horn gamblers, and I want to tell you when a tin horn goes to work, other folks must certainly be working too. The soldiers, also, had to get out and work with a pick and shovel. After I got out I went on to Harrisburg where my wife was. That town had never before been in the flood district, and we expected to come west at once. But Harrisburg was soon surrounded by water, and we were marooned there for a week. During the run up to Harrisburg the water around us and below the fill was 50 feet deep in some places. I told my friend Mr. Spaulding that some debris, among which was a keg of beer, floated in front of the engine and was run into, causing delay. He has been in that country and can believe this story, but I don't expect folks here to take it in. When Mrs. Schaff and I were leaving Harrisburg we saw an interesting sight. Some moving picture people were taking advantage of the flood to get some realistic pictures. They planted trees on top of some flat roof houses and then hired some people to get into the trees and had them rescued for a comic reel, and I suppose in time the scenes will be exhibited here in a drama or in a chronicle of current happenings. It took me two days to get 75 miles, by train. Leaving Harrisburg we went by the Big Four to Carmi and then by the Louisville & Nashville railroad to St. Louis, and were then of course, out of the flood area. The effect of the flood upon the future of that country is very discouraging, as lots of folks are leaving and coming west. The overflow was so great that one could not tell which was the Ohio and which was the Mississippi river. Cairo, as I have said, was still protected, when I left, but was the dearest place I ever saw. Industries in the outlying suburbs were flooded, but there was no water in the city itself. All the business houses were closed and I couldn't purchase any kind of merchandise, not even a necktie. The saloons and the hotels were the only places open, and merchants were busy moving their stocks into the second stories, in anticipation of the flood. Good order prevailed, owing to the presence of troops, and little thieving was done, as every man had to go to work, and I was lucky to get out of there."

Mr. Schaff, who is to take a position with the New Mexican, was impetioned to come here by Fenton J. Spaulding, manager of the circulation of the New Mexican. Mr. Schaff likes the looks of things in the west, but is non-committal as yet, but will, as so many others have, become an enthusiast regarding the southwest and its people.

It will not pay you to waste your time writing out your legal forms when you get them already printed at the New Mexican Printing Company.

Ugly Sores Quickly Banished

You Marvel How Worst Skin Eruptions Disappear as Result of Famous Remedy.

If you have been fighting some blood trouble, some eruptive skin disease, call it eczema, lupus, psoriasis, malaria, scrofula or what you will, there is but one sure, safe way to cure it. Ask at any drug store for a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. and you are then on the road to health. The action of this remarkable remedy is just as direct, just as positive, just as certain in its influence as that the sun rises in the east. It is one of those rare medical forces which act in the blood with the same degree of certainty that is found in all natural tendencies. The manner in which it dominates and controls the mysterious transference of rich, red, pure arterial blood for the diseased venous blood is marvelous.

Out through every skin pore acids, germs and other blood impurities are forced in the form of invisible vapor. The lungs breathe it out, the liver is stimulated to consume a great proportion of impurities, the stomach and intestines cease to convey into the blood stream the cutaneous, malarial germs; the bowels, kidneys, bladder and all emunctories of the body are marshalled into a fighting force to expel every vestige of eruptive disease.

CLOUDCROFT IS FOR BETTER ROADS

Cloudcroft, N. M., April 14.—G. E. Moffitt, a member of the Otero county board of road commissioners, is in the city on an inspection trip through the county. Thursday evening Mr. Moffitt was the guest of the Business Men's association of Cloudcroft, N. M., and addressed the association on the subject of "Good and Better Roads for Otero County." He explained the manner in which Otero county could "pend her share of the recent bond issue of $500,000. Otero county will receive about $21,000 as her share of this bond issue to be used in the construction of new roads. Mr. Moffitt advocates doing away with the old road overseer system of working the roads, believing that to employ one man on the roads to put in every working day of the year will be of more benefit than having several men work the roads once or twice a year. The question of having the road which the association caused to be converted from Cloudcroft to the Mesquero Indian reservation last year declared a county road came before the meeting and steps will be taken by the association to have this done. Mr. Moffitt's address proved to be very instructive and will result in much good in this section.

R. F. Balthis, supervisor in the Alamogordo national forest, returned from Alamogordo Thursday.

W. J. Anderson and George Messer, both of the forest service, are in the city.

Mrs. O. Shenfield and little daughter, Elizabeth, returned from a visit of several weeks in Ohio Thursday. Mr. Shenfield went to Alamogordo to meet them and return to Cloudcroft with them.

KNOW IT WELL

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Santa Fe Citizens.

A familiar burden in many homes. "The burden of a 'bad back.' A lame, a weak or an aching back. Often tells you of kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is Santa Fe testimony. J. T. Randolph, 115 Ortiz St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "A dull pain in the small of my back, sometimes extending into my bladder, caused me a great deal of suffering, particularly when I took cold. I was bothered mostly in the winter, and in addition to the pain in my back, there were symptoms of inflammation of the bladder. The kidney secretions were highly colored and, when passed were attended with a scalding pain. I never used another remedy that acted as satisfactorily as Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved to be just the medicine my case required and the complete cure they brought me, has led me to recommend them on more than one occasion."

UNDERWOOD ILL: OVERWORKED ON THE TARIFF

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee was ordered to bed today by his physicians, who declared he had a slight fever and was in danger of a breakdown from hard work on the tariff bill. He may be confined for several days. His illness, however, did not interfere with the house caucus today, which will work on.

Having withstood the test of vigorous opposition to the sugar schedule Saturday, the prospect was today that no material changes proposed to the bill could get enough support to be effective, not excepting free raw wool, against which a definite opposition has developed. Consideration of the wool question probably will not be reached for several days.

Chairman Underwood's friends were inclined to minimize his illness, saying he surely would be back at his desk after a few days.

Politically, his enforced absence from the Democratic caucus, where as chairman of the ways and means committee he is leader of the house Democrats standing behind the administration tariff bill was considered of such importance that it would not be dismissed lightly.

Today, Representative Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, one of Mr. Underwood's closest lieutenants and a staunch supporter of the administration, took charge of the caucus and the work went on. There is a strong fight on in the house against the administration wool and sugar program. It is conceded, on every side, that the absence of Mr. Underwood gives courage to the forces opposing the proposals President Wilson favors.

DIRECT ELECTION IN COLORADO

Denver, Colo., April 14.—Legislative activity this morning centered in the house, the senate after a night session lasting until 6:05 this morning, having adjourned until noon. The house passed on third reading the Joyce bill amending the election laws to provide for the direct election of U. S. senators under the new federal constitutional amendment.

The bill abolishing the state board of immigration, which previously had been killed, was revived and passed. The house concurred in the senate bill dividing the state into four congressional districts. This bill makes Denver one district. It is now ready for the governor.

The house concurred in the conference report on the minimum wage for women bill, the senate having taken similar action just before adjournment this morning.

The feature of the bill is that it provides a "local option scheme" for the minimum wage. The conference committee considering the bank guaranty bill today reported a disagreement and Dailey, Norvell and Newton were appointed new house conferees.

The senate was expected to make its appointments this afternoon.

BIG BLACK CAT BY PARCEL POST

FIRST "LIVE" PACKAGE TO LEAVE SANTA FE OFFICE TRAVELS IN LUXURY, THOUGH TICKET COST BUT 67 CENTS.

Weight, 9 pounds.
Crate, 2 pounds.
Color, black.
Voice, tenor.
Food, liver.
Drink, water.
Destination, Telluride, Colo.
Postage, parcel post, 57 cents.
Insurance, parcel post, 10 cents.
Travels over D. & R. G.

A big, handsome, black cat with a matinee idol's eyes and a grand opera tenor voice, was shipped through the Santa Fe postoffice this morning to Telluride, Colorado, via parcel post. This is the first "live" package of the parcel system.

The cat weighed nine pounds and in its crate, eleven pounds—the maximum permitted under the law. While the names of the sender and the receiver are not given out by the local postal officials, certain it is that the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals could not object to the way the shipment was made. The cat traveled in all the luxury permitted to humans.

First of all, the "crate train" had a "dinner" attached. This was a little box filled with enough raw liver for two days, for it appears that Tabby is one of the "raw-food dietists." In another corner of the crate was a sort of wash basin and water cooler combined, in the shape of those vacuum ink wells. By pressing on the top the cat could get a sip of water which rose to the surface but which did not come out if the crate should turn turtle. For morning or post prandial ablutions, this little patent afforded all the advantages of the silver lined wash bowls of the California limited.

The crate was so arranged as to be properly ventilated, at the same time affording its passenger ample opportunity to view the scenery, whatever that shall be. Of course, the crate may be so placed that the cat will not be near a window, but certain it is if the animal desires a view of the landscape from here to Antonio, it will voice that cry in staccato notes.

CAT WAS HEARD.

The cat's operatic voice was heard at 9 o'clock this morning. "Is that a cat or a new siren whistle?" asked Assistant Postmaster Stevenson, as he arose from his desk just as a piercing cry filled the quiet sanctum.

Then one of the clerks told him that it was a crated cat to be shipped over the D. & R. G. at 10:05 a. m. for Colorado.

"Meow-meow" filled the air again. The passenger evidently was in anguish at leaving Santa Fe.

The cat cried all the way to the depot and startled the postal clerks on the train. "There'll be two days of this I fear," said one of the clerks as the train pulled out.

A MUFFLER.

It is said that one of the postal clerks suggested that a muffler be installed, but as the eleven pounds limit had been reached in the weight of the crate and occupant, such an attachment could have kept the package out of the mails.

"This is the first time an animal has been shipped from Santa Fe by parcel post," said Mr. Stevenson, "but there seems no likelihood that the cat will fare badly. The animal enjoys the same privilege as perishables, that is, it is not placed in a mail sack, thus it will have plenty of air.

The joke about the parcel post man finding a bull frog and a package of liver in the same delivery suggests to postal officials the possibility of some one along the D. & R. G. shipping some white mice to Telluride on the same train with this black feline. Should such a catastrophe happen, the parcel post men will likely mention it when the train reaches Telluride.

MADE TRIP BEFORE.

It appears that the black cat came all the way from Telluride some weeks ago by parcel post, thus enjoying the unique record of being the first animal to arrive and the first to leave Santa Fe via the parcel post route.

These shipments suggest many others such as the shipment of prattling parrots, chattering monkeys and other pets who may cheer up the traveling mail clerks who miss so many "comforts of home."

WALL STREET.

New York, April 14.—Prices moved irregularly when the stock market opened today, two hours after the usual time. There was active selling of Reading and Steel, which were heavy. Amalgamated, Canadian Pacific and Smelting were fractionally higher. Union Pacific opened at Saturday's close but shaded off on the first few transactions.

New York, April 14.—Bidding up of several of the recognized leaders was resorted to, in a endeavor to promote buying of the general market. The effort proved futile and the list sagged again. Minor specialties exhibited persistent weakness, particularly Rumely and the Harriman shares, which established new low records.

Increased heaviness developed and active stocks sold from a half point to a point below Saturday's closing. Reading, Lehigh Valley, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Interborough Metropolitan preferred were under notable pressure.

The market closed heavy. It was asserted that calling of loans by banks in which certain industrial collateral figured was responsible for the weakness of various specialties. Gravitated toward a lower level throughout the final hour. Offerings were light but the absorptive capacity of the market was not sufficient to take stocks without concessions.

ALFONSO CHEERED BY HIS SUBJECTS

Madrid, April 14.—King Alfonso took a ride through the park this morning and was warmly saluted by the crowd who noisily expressed their joy that he had escaped the bullets fired by the anarchist, Rafael Allegro, yesterday.

Allegro was still in a merry mood today. During his examination he forced the guards surrounding him and the interrogating magistrates to laugh at his witty comments.

Inquiries made by the police in Barcelona show that Allegro was recently rejected from the Spanish military service, owing to his suffering nervous attacks. He had been frequently without employment. His wife, it was learned today, is a woman of noble birth.

Allegro fired three shots at the king yesterday afternoon while Alfonso was returning from the ceremony of swearing in recruits. The assassin seized the king's horse by the bridle and presented a pistol at the monarch's head. Alfonso with great presence of mind and skill in horsemanship, plunged the spurs into the horse, which reared, destroying the assassin's aim. One bullet slightly wounded the horse, and was fired at such close range that the king's glove was burned with powder.

The assassin was then seized by the police after a struggle.

At 2:15 a. m. tomorrow Mrs. Jacques Futrelle and other widows of men who were drowned in the awful Titanic disaster, will scatter flowers over the sea at the place where the great ship sank with her precious cargo of living human beings, April 15, 1912.

There were 2358 people on board. The dead numbered 1490. Only 868 were saved by the Carpathia, the rescue ship.

The ship was making its maiden trip. The accident was due to a collision with a floating iceberg. Captain E. S. Smith was in charge.

This is the picture of Mrs. Jacques Futrelle, who, with several other bereaved women, is on her way to the fatal spot in the Atlantic where that $10,000,000 coffin, the Titanic, went down. This strewing of the sea with flowers in memory of the dead will be one of the most impressive services ever held on a ship's deck.

LIGHTWEIGHT COP, WEIGHING 175, GAVE JACK BRITTON HIS HARDEST BATTLE. JACK HAS SALUTED POLICEMEN EVER SINCE THAT NIGHT.

(By Jack Britton.)

The fighters' story club assembled with a dozen well known members present, including Jack Britton, the class Chicago lightweight, and it was Jack who told the story of his hardest fight when he beat a big Savannah copper.

My hardest fight was with a lightweight, who weighed in at 175 pounds, and every ounce was fighting Irish.

Three years ago I made Savannah, Ga., my headquarters. I had beaten every lightweight in the South and every important and, as is often the case, the fans wanted me trimmed.

I trained in a gymnasium, boxing every one who would put on the gloves, and among my sparring partners was Jack McGuire, a heavy weight cop.

Working with the husky struck me just right, because I was training to meet a tough boy named Jimmy Dasher, and the heavy work just suited me.

McGuire surprised me by showing considerable knowledge of the game. He got so he dropped in every day to work out and soon became fast. As he improved he gave me a busy time of it, and his confidence grew until he decided he could put me away.

One afternoon he had some friends drop around to watch him box and he showed off before them by fighting me all over the ring while his friends encouraged him. This gave him the big head and he wanted nothing better than to get me into the ring in a real scrap.

I had beaten every man the promoters could bring to town, when all of a sudden a challenge was hurled at me by a chap named McGuire, who professed to be a lightweight. Unthinking, I agreed to meet him at catch-weights at the Southern Athletic club, Savannah.

I started training, but missed my big sparring partner. He sent word that he didn't want any more of my game and I secured others, never thinking of the "plant."

When the night of the fight came, McGuire was favorite, which made me do some thinking until I saw who my opponent was, and this was not until I crawled through the ropes and saw the big 175-pound policeman.

My friends had poured their money in on him, because of his weight.

My friends wanted me to renig, but I determined to give McGuire the time of his life, big as he was. At the song he rushed, swinging both hands and caught me a blow like a pile driver, stretching me on the canvas. The place was a circus. McGuire's friends yelling like Indians, but before the count was finished I was up, although groggy, and fought out the round. I got another heavy uppercut to the jaw just as the bell rang.

I was better in the second round just getting into my stride, when I became careless and was again dropped. I got up at "five" and started after him in a fury.

For the next four rounds it was the most desperate fighting I had ever seen. I had to mix it all the time. I didn't recover from that punch on the jaw until the fifth round. Then I cutered him to a pulp, knocking him out in the seventh.

I'll always remember that battle, and every time I see a copper now I salute, for if there are any more life McGuire I want to be on the outside looking in, instead of on the inside fighting for my life.

pitcher upon whom he would depend in the final contest. "Al Grancher says he will use Hood. Tell us who will work for you Mac," they insisted.

McGraw waited a minute, and then exclaimed: "Boys, we'll pin our faith on the greatest young pitcher that ever came into the league. Myself and every man on the team has every confidence in the kid. He'll go in there and make the Sox eat out of his hand as sure as eggs is eggs. I needn't tell you who he is, need I?"

"Jimmy Doolan," said the correspondents as one, as they hurried toward the telegraph office to tell the waiting world that McGraw would send his youthful phenom onto the firing line in the last battle for the championship.

TY MAY BECOME AN AUTOMOBILE MAN

Chicago, Ill., April 14.—"Ty" Cobb, champion batsman of the American league, may become a resident of Chicago if he fails to come to terms with the management of the Detroit club, according to a telegram sent by him from Augusta, Ga., today. Cobb replied to an offer of $12,000 a year and an automobile, to act as Chicago agent for an auto supply company, of Logansport, Ind., that he was still negotiating with President Navin of Detroit, but that he would give a definite answer to the business proposition within ten days.

The concern which seeks Cobb's services recently weaned Vincent Campbell, a Boston outfielder, from baseball and placed him in charge of their St. Louis branch.

WHITE SOX BEAT THE COLLEGE TEAM

(By Daniel C. Ortiz.)

Yesterday afternoon at the college grounds the champion White Sox defeated the St. Michaels college team by the score of 14 to 7. The game was very slow and uninteresting on account of the one-sided score. The White Sox pounded young Gomez, the college pitcher, all over the lot since the early innings and aided by errors, piled up a tremendous lead which the college boys could never overtake. "Hulse" Marez pitched good ball for the first eight innings, holding the collegeians to four hits, but in the ninth he blew up and was touched for five hits and four runs, but it didn't do much damage, as the White Sox had the game already cinched. The game was full of errors on both sides, the collegeians made nine misplays and the White Sox six. It is yet early in the season, and the players still have lame shoulders, sore arms and other spring complaints, which prevents them from playing good ball. The features of the game were the batting of Arcey and Alarid of the White Sox and Duckworth and Ferran of the college team, and the fielding of Arcey and Joe Ortiz of the White Sox. I. Bernardelli and Griego both caught good ball for their respective teams. The attendance yesterday was not as large as it should have been, but it was larger than the preceding Sunday.

BOY SCOUTS AGAIN DEFEATED.
 In a game which preceded the regular game yesterday at the college grounds the St. Michaels Resolutes, the college second team, defeated the Santa Fe Boy Scouts in a slugging match by the score of 14 to 3. This is the second time the Resolutes beat the Scouts this season.

ONCE A RUSSIAN IMMIGRANT BOY, NOW HE IS TEACHING US A WAY OUT OF OUR JUNGLE OF "JUSTICE."

Judge Manuel Levine has originated a Court of Conciliation in Cleveland, wherein the Proceedings are "Human," Not Legal.

Here is an instructive story of an actual happening in Cleveland. John Smith keeps a little grocery store. Among his customers is Mary Brown. These are illustrative names, but the facts are from the records.

Mary is a widow with three children. She works in a department store. Her pay is $7 a week. Usually Mary paid cash for her groceries but a while ago she started a charge account. Her bill ran up to throats and highwaymen, to serve it.

Finally, at the appointed time, Mary would appear in court, judgment would be entered against her, her wages would be attached, and under the rule prevailing in most places of employment, she would lose her job.

Now, this is what happened in Cleveland.

John told his story to the clerk of the "court of conciliation," a new branch of the municipal court, paid 50 cents for fees and was advised to "come in next Friday." The clerk turned to his typewriter, thumped out a brief note to Mary telling her of John's claim and advising her, too, to "come in Friday," and dropped this letter into the mail box, having first registered it.

On Friday morning Mary and John both stood before the judge. There were no lawyers, no jurors, no stenographers, no more court costs. The judge asked Mary if she admitted owing the debt as John claimed. "I do, your honor."

"Then, why not pay it?" "Well, you see, judge, it was this way: I just pulled through before I ran this bill. Then baby got sick. That meant a doctor, who had to be paid, because I never yet have taken charity. The doctor wrote a prescription, and that meant money for the druggist. And the fact is that, though I've tried hard, I haven't yet caught up."

"Are you willing to sign an agreement to pay off this debt at the rate of $2 a month?" Mary nodded assent.

"Are you agreeable?" the judge asked, turning to John.

At first John was stubborn. But when the judge told him that an attachment on Mary's wages would get him a part of the claim, because she had only $7 coming, and would cause her to be discharged, throwing her three children into distress, he yielded and the agreement was signed.

It went on the court records. Failure to keep it would leave the old way of justice still open.

This court of conciliation has been in operation a little more than a month. Its aim is to sift out from the regular municipal court the cases already over 60 per cent—which can be settled without a lawsuit. No lawyers are allowed to appear before it.

The rules of evidence are elastic. An award thus made takes less time than a jury trial with expensive lawyers, saves perhaps 80 per cent of the present expense and gives both sides a full and fair chance to present its case man-to-man fashion, without technicalities.

This Cleveland innovation is chiefly the work of a Russian Jew, who came to America a dozen years ago, penniless and unable to speak a word of English. Today Cleveland has no better user of English than Judge Manuel Levine, and he is using it to a mighty good advantage!

WHITE SOX MAY PLAY SALMON GRAYS SUNDAY.

The Salmon Grays have been organized for the season, and will be out practicing this week, as arrangements are being made now for a game next Sunday between the Grays and White Sox. If they come together no doubt it will be an interesting game, as both teams are very evenly matched, and great rivalry exists between them.

FROM THE CRADLE TO THE WORLD SERIES.

CHAPTER 19.

It was the night before the final game of the world's series with Giants and Red Sox neck and neck, the former apparently having the edge on their rivals, as they were to play on their home grounds.

But the advantage wasn't as great as it seemed to be. Matty and Rube, two of McGraw's great pitchers, would not oppose the slugging Red Sox in this seventh game. Nobody knew this but the twirlers themselves and their shrewd manager. The Rube's good left arm was worn out and Matty's shoulder stiff and sore.

Alone in his room McGraw did some thinking. For a long time he sat there in deep study, he called up the hotel switchboard operator and asked her to have Jimmy Doolan paged.

When McGraw descended to the lobby and met his young pitcher, the expectant newspaper men followed, beseeching McGraw for the name of the friends are always glad to welcome him. He is an old newspaper man, and always has some news to tell in his rounds of the state. He has just come from Taos. Business in the picturesque old town is lively and a prosperous season in the Taos valley seems certain.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schaaf, of Cairo, Ill., arrived here last Saturday evening and will be residents of Santa Fe. Mr. Schaaf will be employed in the mechanical department of the New Mexican.

Rens Thomas, manager of the Rio Grande Live Stock company, returned Saturday from Colorado, where he purchased some ten head of registered Jersey stock to be brought to the ranch of that company near Bonanza.

J. W. Sawyer left this morning for a few days' vacation and will visit friends in several places in the Espanola valley.

The notice of the arrival of a baby boy made Saturday should have read at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pedro Ortiz y Pino, a slight error occurring in the omission of the first name.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bowman, who have been the guests of H. S. Bowman and wife left today for their home in Ocate.

F. C. Wilson returned today from Santo Domingo where he went last week on business concerning the Pueblo Indians.

Robert L. Cooper returned last evening from Union county where he has been looking after the work being done on the state road. Between Clayton and Tucuman he and the members of the county road board, G. G. Granville, Miguel Tizier and Carl Elklund got stalled with an automobile. They had to walk some five miles in the snow and hire a mule team to take them into Clayton, a distance of 27 miles.

Judge R. P. Hamilton and John Deekard and his son Joacapa, of Deming, are in town on business.

The friends here and elsewhere of Governor McDonald will be rejoiced to learn that he left St. Vincent's sanitarium today, and is now resting quietly at the executive mansion.

While he is not allowed by his doctor to transact any business nor to receive callers at present, the fact that he is so much improved from his treatment as to be able to leave the sanitarium and return to his residence is a matter of congratulation to everyone.

Louis Lowitzki, the San Francisco street merchant, was seen today going around with a pleasant smile, having just received a telegram from Portland, Oregon, notifying him that he is the papa of a bouncing girl. Mother and child doing well.

H. O. Snyder, of Pueblo, is in town on insurance business, and greeting former friends in the city.

T. F. Cheetham, of Taos, is in the city. He came here last night by the way of Raton and is attending to some legal business.

Statues Blessed—An interesting ceremony held at the Cathedral yesterday afternoon was the blessing of the three statues, representing the "Holy Family." The statues were the gift of Mrs. Jesus Luna and were in memory of Major and Mrs. J. D. Sosa. The services were conducted by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Antonio Fourche, vicar general of the archdiocese of Santa Fe. Following the singing of the "Te Deum" there was benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. A large congregation witnessed the ceremonies.

Under the able and efficient direction of Charles M. The space down stairs, occupied formerly by the Postal Telegraph company has been rearranged into a handsome business office for the manager, the office opposite thus being given more room for the bookkeeper and the manager of the circulation, and the up-to-date change in the editorial rooms is the adding to the equipment of a direct press service wire, and the placing of an operator's desk there, for the further convenience of the telegraph editor. The front windows downstairs have been handsomely painted at the bottom, thus obviating the annoyance of the glare from the sidewalk and adding to the beauty of the front offices.

A TREMENDOUS DRAMA

All honor to Richard Bennett! Richard Bennett is an actor. He is responsible for the production, in New York, of Eugene Brieux's play, "Damaged Goods," which deals with the horrors of the "social disease."

Brieux's play was suppressed in France. Bennett believed it was a good play for people to see, and he got together a company to act it in New York. Of course, the prudish element of society manifested the inevitable opposition, and the play might not have been produced had not the Medical Review of Reviews offered its cooperation. A special fund was organized, of which every spectator had to be a patron, so that the performance was technically a private one.

Among the patrons were John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Rev. John Haynes Holmes, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., Dr. Simon Flexner, Frederic C. Howe, Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Norman Hapgood, Frank A. Vanderbilt, William Allen White, and other people of prominence in every walk of life.

There is no gratification for prurience in "Damaged Goods." There is a great, powerful exposition of a hideous evil—an exposition which might well be seen by every man and woman, and by every boy or girl who is coming into maturity, in this country and in every country.

The story is that of a young man who learns from his doctor that he has "the social disease." He is about to be married. At first, overcome with horror, he contemplates suicide. The physician dissuades him, assuring him that there are prospects of an ultimate cure. In three or four years marriage may be possible for him, the doctor says.

His first fright over, the man pools the doctor's demand for such a long delay. The physician warns him of the awful penalties that may follow disobedience. Nevertheless, the patient goes to another doctor, a quack, gets a speedy "cure," and in six months is married.

The next scene is a year after the marriage. There is a happy young wife, and a baby three months old. The child is ill, and its grandmother, the husband's mother, after a talk with the family doctor, has taken it to the very specialist whom the father once consulted. She has learned the truth about the nature of the child's disease. The father is overcome with horror.

The doctor tells the father and grandmother that the child's nurse must no longer give it milk for fear she may become infected. The grandmother says the baby will die if brought up on the bottle, and pleads that its life is more precious than the health of the woman. The physician thereupon takes it upon himself to warn the nurse.

The nurse comes in, announces her intention of leaving, and a quarrel ensues between her and the father. The unsuspecting wife enters, unseen by the others, at the climax of the quarrel, just in time to hear the nurse shriek, "I'm going because my baby can't live! It's going to die; it's rotten, through and through, with a beastly disease inherited from its father!"

The wife falls, screaming in horror, and as her husband approaches her she shrieks, "Don't touch me! Don't touch me!"

There the curtain of the second act descends, on one of the most harrowing scenes ever set before an audience.

In the last act the wife's father, a deputy of France, calls on the doctor. He is undecided whether to kill his son-in-law or help his daughter get a divorce. The doctor gently inquires whether he himself had never in his life incurred the same risk that brought such dire results to the younger man. The deputy turns away his head.

"Then, sir," says the doctor, "you are in the position of an escaped criminal denouncing a fellow offender who has been unfortunate enough to be caught."

All through the play there rings one note—"I didn't know," "he didn't know," "she didn't know." Men, women, boys, girls, had not known; no one had warned them; the subject was tabooed in the theater. It was not a thing to be mentioned. So it found its victims—ignorance and prudery paved their way into its frightful clutches.

And so, in New York, there has been criticism of the production of Brieux's play, on the ground that "the theater is not the place for telling such things; let them be told in the school or in the home."

But they aren't told in the school, or in the home. All honor to a Brieux and a Bennett who try to strike, through the theater, at a monster to whom mankind's humanity has steadily closed its eyes, in the home, and in the school.

This is the play that Gibson Gardner mentioned in his Washington letter of Saturday, which has just been put on in Washington and which those high in public life witnessed and commended.

TOMORROW

The best day in the year. What day is it? Why, tomorrow, of course. We don't know whether it will be rainy or fair—but why care? Rain or shine, it will have 24 hours. Time for honest work; for honest play; for sound, refreshing sleep.

Time to let you take a lesson from the breaks and mistakes of yesterday and today; and, starting anew, dig your toes into the sand and make things hum.

You know you can't call back the past. So why fret about it. Look ahead! Split on your hands and tackle the future.

If you're not a hopeless dun, you'll be wiser tonight than you were this morning. Wiser by a whole day's rich experience. Wiser by what 12 hours in the most eventful, interesting, instructive period of human history have taught you.

Which means that you'll be wiser, braver, better fit to go to the tasks, the opportunities, the victories, stronger to bear the sorrows, able to value the joys, that lie ahead.

Fate may have dealt you poor hands yesterday. You may have played your cards like a chump today. But tomorrow you have the chance of your life, because it's a new day, a clean day, a day you can make what you will.

So up early, fellows, and go to it.

The little excursion that our American women, made into the political arena this spring, in various sections of the country, has given them an unexpected view of the promised land, which, in some respects, is not as beautiful as it looked, or as free from thorns and briars. The landscape has other growths than palms and pomegranates.

Let's see, was it not Dayton, Ohio, that was headquarters for aeroplane people and a sort of winter home for flying machines? Where were they during the recent flood, or are aeroplanes just for exhibition purposes at fairs and celebrations, a means of money making for the way-ups?

Miss Jennie Sloan, a blind girl, living in St. Louis, has sent to the White House a broom which she made specially for the president. President Wilson is extremely democratic, but not quite to the extent of using a house broom himself.

With all things being simplified, it looks also as if dancing was to be placed in the simple class. Anyhow, the one-step has taken the place of the two-step.

The income tax proposition is not bothering most of us so much, but the outgo is really serious.

It must be a season of dull news in London with no Pankhurst trials to be detailed.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

A YEAR EARLIER. Since alfalfa was introduced into Argentina cattle have been marketed a year younger than when the animals were fed upon native grasses.

So Argentina is getting the spirit too. Anything for speed. We all know that America—that is, the United States of America, has been increasing the speed limit in every department of our life for years. We could not go fast enough, and now our spirit of celerity has spread even to the South American states and they are even going so fast that they want to hustle the growth of their cattle and get earlier returns.

I was talking to a Santa Fe citizen yesterday. He said he was undergoing a system of dieting, and couldn't eat this thing or that, and it was due to, to what so many of our ills and ailments are due to, our desire to do everything at top speed.

"Why even in Santa Fe, a city of this size and without the necessity of rush that seems to control our metropolitan life, we have to do everything in a rush." And it is so. There is no such thing as a simple life, only in the minds of the syndicate writers and philosophers.

Said a Santa Fe attorney only a few days ago. "I've got to let up. I am rushing too hard and a man has no right to let his business run him."

He went on to tell how a friend said: "If you keep on, I expect to pick up a paper one of these days and read that you have fallen dead. You've got to let up."

"It scared me," said the attorney. That is the case with many and many a man today—in fact, the bulk of business men. We are going too fast, and if we keep it up, this frantic pace, we are going to pay.

It is unfortunate that the rush of life has become so tempestuous, but every man feels he has to keep up the pace or fall behind.

It is all illustrated in this purpose to grow alfalfa to make calves grow faster. The spirit is abroad in everything.

ANOTHER DAY.

It looks just now, as though before very long every day in the calendar year, would be a special day for something—after our national holidays we have a growing list; Lincoln's birthday, McKinley's birthday, Mother's day, Memory day that comes in September, Flag day, and now we are to specialize on Tuesday, April 15, all over our country, as Book-homing day.

In every public library there are yawning gaps on many shelves, sets of books with one or two missing—books that have been gone for months; books that have been carried into far distant states and never returned to their rightful places. I recall an instance of seeing in a friend's bookstore in Chicago, two books bearing the stamp of the Buffalo Public Library. It is an easy matter in moving from one city to another to carry off books belonging to libraries and forget to return them. And then, too, what about the borrowed books: our friend's choice treasures that we have asked the loan of, or else been pressed to read after we have had the pleasure of perusal, regretfully we lay them down, and forgetfully we put them on our book shelves, meaning to return them at some convenient time. Now we have had a day set apart for us, April 15, as Book-homing day, so let us all look through our shelves and return the lost to their rightful homes.

The book retention is a good deal like the umbrella holding. When one takes it there is no thought of permanent possession, but somehow, the thing just stays. Maybe the time will come when we will have an umbrella returning day too, or they might combine the books and umbrellas.

THE BEST LOCATION.

Interest centers now largely in the location of the new federal building which is coming to Santa Fe, and the discussions and suggestions regarding it are numerous and varied.

I hope we will get this affair settled without too much friction, that is, too much of the exhibition of the selfish spirit, with each one wanting it to be a certain place for the benefit alone may get from it. Here is an opportunity for a splendid building, an ornament to the city, one in which we should all take pride and where we should all work to one end. That end should be to get this fine improvement where it will make the best possible showing and give the greatest convenience to the largest percentage of our people. It is an unusual opportunity for Santa Fe.

After we get this building when a stranger asks, "Where is the postoffice," we won't have to go into a detailed description as to how to reach the out-of-the-way, unimposing building as we do now, and feel a little ashamed as we do it. We can say, "It's that large building over there, and we want the location to be so conspicuous that such a description as the location of the federal building will be sufficient and the stranger can go right to it."

Then we want, so far as possible, to cling to the Spanish architecture which is so typical of this country and is so linked with our history. This matter will, I hope, be taken up by the city planning board and the chamber of commerce when the government official comes here.

Anyhow, let us try and get together on the best location and the most fitting style of architecture.

AMONG THE EDITORS

Bigger Than Rhody. Did you know that Torrance county is nearly three times the size of the state of Rhode Island and contains 2530 square miles?—Moriarty Messenger.

The Difference. The reason the women rave about the extravagance of the men is that a man will pay half a dollar for an article when he could get the same thing ten squares further down the street for 49 cents.—Cloviss Journal.

Always Doing It. The Albuquerque Herald is taking up a crusade along the lines of simplified spelling. The Herald is great on these things. Only a short time ago it was building a railroad from Torrance to Roswell.—Roswell Record.

All But the Circus. The only drawback we can see in living in a town as small as Maxwell is the fact that the circus does not stop here. Personally we do not care nothing about a circus, but you know someone has to take the kids.—Maxwell Mail.

Dainty Appetites. E. E. White took a fat hog to Clovis last Saturday for sale, and on arrival found that his pig weighed too much for the Clovis appetites and was forced to return with the pig and has butchered and sold to a more hardy people.—Grady Record.

Blue Sky Too Close. Al Hanson returned Wednesday from a two weeks' visit at his old home in Minnesota. He is looking well, and reports a fine time but says he is glad to get back to Roy and to work again. The "sky line" is too close in and the air is too heavy for him in the east.—Roy Spanish-American.

Undersirably Oderiferous. Someone left several dead hogs near the residences in the west part of town the first of the week and the last few warm days have made them undesirable neighbors. The town authorities are making vigorous efforts to locate the guilty party, and although they think they have located the offender they have made no arrests as yet.

The law is very severe on anyone hauling dead animals inside the corporate limits and if the parties are found they will probably suffer the full extent of the law.—Vaughn Reporter.

UNCLE KLINE HITS THE HIGH PLACES AT COUNTY SEAT

In company with H. P. White, we took No. 33 under us last Tuesday morning and went to Tucumcari. One day of the swift life of the county metropolis was all that H. P. could stand, so he came home that evening, but we managed to stand it another day. We ran into a red hot school election, but didn't vote. They weren't paying enough. If we want to vote for nothing we can do that at home.

But we did look up the creamery and found it first class and right up to date in methods and equipment. We are convinced that the Crescent Creamery is an institution that will bring thousands of dollars to the county in payment for cream that would otherwise not be brought here, because it will stimulate an interest in the dairy business, in every part of Quay county, and we know what that means because we witnessed what the dairy industry did for northern Iowa 30 years ago.

At that time the people of Iowa were a great deal harder up than the people of New Mexico ever have been, and it was the dairy cow that pulled them out of the mud and started them on the road to their present prosperity.

The attitude of the Tucumcari banks is altogether favorable to the movement and they are offering every possible assistance to people who want cows for dairy or general purposes.

Under these conditions the fact of a modern up-to-date creamery right in our own county can not fail to arouse an interest in the dairy business.

It will pay everyone to investigate this question because there's money in it.

In the evening Prof. Hofer, collared us and took us to the Evans Opera House to head a lecture given as a part of the High School Lecture Course.

Our old friend, George Evans, gave us a reserved seat in the third row from the front, although it wasn't that kind of a show. It seemed, somehow, like wasting good location. However, it gave us a chance to hear and see Prof. Henderson's fine High School Orchestra at close range.

Norval Jones, a former Obar boy of whom we are all proud breathed his young soul into a be-jiggard sort of instrument called saxophone. A glorious eye and a pink frock performed musical miracles on a bass-viol, a head taller than herself, while a robust youth with high intellectual shoulder blades, was apparently swallowing a section of silver tubing every now and then, but on close observation we found he was merely playing the slide trombone.

The orchestra—there are some twenty members in this orchestra and the music they make would be a credit to many of the professional city orchestras.

The day was somewhat windy and the soil of Tucumcari is of the very light and volatile disposition and the atmosphere along Main street fairly reeked with real estate.

Mr. White tried to grab a town lot or two as they went by but found they were a little too high for him. But Tucumcari is the best town for its age in New Mexico, just the same, and inside of ten years will be the best regardless of age. Mark the prediction. She is a sure winner.

THE FORUM

Sunny Slope Ranch, N. M., April 14, 1913.

Editor New Mexican:

I've got a roar coming against the Hon. Levi Hughes for branding me a fabricator in his speech before the Santa Fe Woman's Club. He says the water in Santa Fe is "abominable," while I have been preaching to my friends in Texas that Santa Fe has a fine water system, with pure melted snow running through the pipes.

As a punishment for his sin in her adding to the world that water in Santa Fe is "abominable" I will vote to banish Mr. Hughes to El Paso and compel him to drink nothing but water for a whole year.

That garbage can in front of the postoffice which our good natured Mayor, Mr. Celso Lopez, put in place with his own hands may perpetuate his name for a day, but it strikes me that he could place his name on a high pedestal to live after he is dead by climbing onto one of the city's water wagons, which he has been keeping "hid out," and sprinkle the streets. A picture of the mayor sitting on a water wagon making mud of the "abominable" dust—which is a disgrace to any town pretending to be a city—would sell like "hot cakes" on postal cards.

I say amen to ex-Mayor Arthur Seligman's advice before the Santa Fe Woman's Club about paying the streets at once and not wait for a sewer system, which may be a long ways off. I regard Mr. Seligman's views on city improvements as nothing something for he is one mayor who "did things" while he held the office. Some say he stole the money from future city administrations to do it with. No matter how he raised the money, the permanent improvements are there to show that he was a live mayor.

This puts me in mind of the story which went the rounds, to the effect that if we ever elected the Hon. Thomas B. Catron to the United States senate he would steal the city of Washington and move it to Santa Fe. If getting the new postoffice building for Santa Fe is stealing, then I say keep a thief in the senate.

Yours truly,
CHAS. A. SIRONO.

ANCIENT INDIAN BOWL IN MODERN ROMANCE

HOW A BEAUTIFUL SINGER OF THE SCHUBERT QUARTETTE FOUND A MARRIAGE BOWL IN SANTA FE AND SOON AFTERWARDS GOT A HUSBAND.

This is a story of an Indian marriage bowl, a beautiful singer who was wedded only to her art and the part Dan Cupid played in taking advantage of the situation.

Santa Fe people are familiar with the Schubert Symphony club and Lady quartette, Miss Leeta Corder, the soprano, has what she considers a priceless treasure and an unique mascot. She thinks this mascot, and not her beautiful voice, brought her a husband. Miss Corder, in private life is not Miss Corder any more, but Mrs. Thomas V. Purcell, the wife of the gifted violinist of the company. The event has happened since the quartette's last visit here.

While in Santa Fe last May, Miss Corder, Louise Zandt Purcell and Thomas V. Purcell were escorted about the city by C. A. Rising, and after visiting the old church, the old Palace, and other historic landmarks, they were taken to Candelario's curio store, where Miss Corder added several ar-himself a confirmed bachelor, but as absence makes the heart grow fonder, with the close of the concert season and separation from the charming soprano, he awoke to the fact that he was desperately in love with her, could not exist without her, and the usual things that inflame a love-lorn being, and wrote to Miss Corder immediately. The letter was a seven-page masterpiece, in which Cupid of the spirit of the bowl guided his pen, and terminated with his offering her the best of all contracts, that of a life partnership. Miss Corder's aspirations for an operatic career received an awful jolt that night, but after duly considering the matter with her parents she telegraphed to Mr. Purcell: "Contract reads O. K. Will sign with you." They were married at Texarkana, July 7, which was within 60 days from the time that the marriage bowl was purchased.

NO INSURANCE AGAINST MURDER

Denver, Colo., April 14.—The Colorado state court of appeals today upheld the legality of a clause in an insurance policy by which the insurance is cancelled if the person insured is murdered by any beneficiary. The decision was given in the suit of Minnie and Mary Rausch against the Women of Woodcraft.

The plaintiffs are heirs of Conrad Rausch, who murdered his wife at El Paso, Texas, several years ago, and then committed suicide. Conrad Rausch was beneficiary under an insurance policy for $1,375, on the life of his wife. His heirs sued for the insurance, and won a judgment in a lower court. The court of appeals reversed that decision.

FARMERS ARE DRIVING OUT SHEEP INDUSTRY.

Miles City, Mont., April 14.—Encroachment of the homesteader and farmer on the free stock ranges of Montana is driving the sheep raising industry out of this state, was the statement made by President Hammond, of the Montana Wool Growers association, which opened its 27th annual session here today. Mr. Hammond, in his address to the association predicted that this would be the last session of the organization. Wool dealers are in attendance from Chicago, Sioux City and Omaha.

OFFICIAL NEWS.

H. S. Cowan, of Fort Worth, mention of whose coming was made Saturday, arrived in the city last evening, and will consult with the corporation commission regarding matters pertaining to the rate question, and will go from here to Albuquerque, where the chamber of commerce of that city will discuss the proposition. Nearly all the principal towns in New Mexico have taken up the matter and several of them are paying the expenses of men to go before the interstate commerce commission and give evidence.

Jose D. Sena, clerk of the supreme court, is busy today issuing certificates to nearly 500 attorneys admitting them to practice in the supreme court. STATE HEALTH BOARD MEET.—The state board of health is in session in the senate chamber today. The board consists of L. G. Rice of Albuquerque, J. A. Massee of Santa Fe, W. T. Joyner of Roswell, G. V. Hackney of Socorro, W. R. Lovelace of Fort Sumner and C. W. Gerben of Las Cruces. The business before the board today is that of passing on the application of some 15 people for licenses to practice medicine in this state.

TWO PAROLENS GRANTED. Acting Governor de Baca granted a pardon today to Eulogio Lucero and Juan Arranaga, who were found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for three years each, in March, 1912, for stealing cattle. There were some reasonable doubts as to the guilt of these men, who have served over a year, and extenuating circumstances regarding the matter, hence the pardons.

ONE PAROLE. Octaviano L. Tillez was granted a parole today by the acting governor. An investigation of his case showed that he had been granted a parole under Governor Curry, and his rearrest was made through some error, which has now been cleared up.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF MIGRATORY BIRDS. The Weeks-McClearn bill recently passed by congress is of importance and interest to sportsmen throughout the country. The bill provides that hereafter all wild geese, wild swans, brant, wild ducks, snipe, plover, woodcock, rail, wild pigeons and all other migratory game and insectivorous birds, which in their northern and southern migrations pass through or do not remain permanently the entire year within the borders of any state or territory, shall hereafter be deemed to be within the custody and protection of the government and shall not be destroyed or taken contrary to regulations provided. The department of agriculture is authorized and directed to adopt suitable regulations prescribing and fixing closed seasons, having due regard for the zones of temperature, breeding habits and times and line of migratory flight, and it shall be unlawful to shoot or by any device kill or seize and capture migratory birds within the protection of this law during said closed seasons. Violation is subject to a fine of $100 or imprisonment of 90 days, or both. Nothing in the federal law shall be deemed to effect or interfere with the local laws of the several states. The bill provides for the appropriation of $10,000 by the federal government for its enforcement, and for making public the law in full before its enforcement.

HELD FOR TRIAL. Charles White and James D. Harlow were arraigned in the federal court this morning, charged with being implicated in the holding up a stage coach near Silver City, regarding which the paper had an extended notice some weeks ago. They were held for trial, pleading not guilty.

COMEDY OF ERRORS ABOUT SECRETARY OF CHAMBER

A comedy of errors has developed in the matter of the secretaryship of the chamber of commerce. Charles S. Rawles, who is filling the position of city editor of the New Mexican, had been nominated for secretary by the committee of five, appointed for that purpose. In assuming the duties of local man on this paper he had been in a quandary as to whether he could fill both positions, on account of time, and had thought that the newspaper work might develop into something permanent. Today he has concluded to stand for election, and will attend the meeting tomorrow night and keep in the race, being still the choice of the committee. Some of his friends, understanding he had withdrawn entirely telegraphed to J. A. Jeancon of Colorado Springs to come here and try for the same. That gentleman is on his way here and will appear before the chamber tomorrow night.

Mr. Rawles desires to state that he is game in the matter and knows Mr. Jeancon to be an able and courteous gentleman, and whatever rivalry may arise for the position it will be in the utmost good feeling. He also desires to state that as matters now stand he can take the position of secretary, as the position on the paper may not be a permanent one. He also lends endorsement to the following facts concerning Mr. Jeancon: Having made several visits to Santa Fe and the surrounding country in the past few years, Mr. Jeancon has held the responsible position of secretary and business manager of the Cliff Dwellers' association of Manitou Colo., for six years. He has a very pleasing faculty for making friends and because of his personal contact with thousands of tourists every year has qualified himself in every way to enter at once into the work of interesting visitors in the resources of Santa Fe. Mr. Jeancon is familiar with all the methods employed by the city of Colorado Springs in advertising its attractions throughout the country, and has written many articles on the West for eastern publication. He is a typical robust Westerner, with a reputation for making things move, and is planning to make the members of the chamber of commerce personally acquainted with his qualifications before the meeting tomorrow evening.

The black saw her coming, but the throngs prevented fast running. Miss Gordon caught him. "Give me my purse," she screamed. The black denied he had it. Exicted men pressed close.

The girl held on to her quarry. Finally he produced the purse. "There's the darned thing, take it," he said, and started to run again. Then a policeman grabbed him.
