RIVAL ARCTIC EXPLORERS IN HOPELESS WRANGLE

Dr. Cook Issues Formal Statement Designed to Refute Charges That Expedition Was Inadequately Equipped.

EXPLAINS WHY RECORDS WERE LEFT WITH WHITNEY

Peary Devotes Time to Preparation of Outburst With View to Demolishing Brooklyn Man's Claim to Fame.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] New York, Sept. 27.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook consented tonight to give the Associated Press a formal reply to some of the charges brought against him by Commander Peary. A more complete declaration will be issued by the explorer when Peary makes his accusations over his signature. The statement follows:

"Commander Peary says that my sledges were not fitted for Arctic travel and that he would not care to voyage in the Arctic with them. The only sledge Commander Peary saw was a half one, which I had given to Mr. Whitney as a souvenir. The remainder of it had been used to make boxes and arrows.

"As to my reasons for leaving my instruments with Mr. Whitney, he had told me that the Erie was coming to Etah and would take him over to the American side. I had no choice and would have to go."

"The day before, I had been told by an Eskimo that the Erie was coming to Etah and would take him over to the American side. I had no choice and would have to go."

"As to the charge that I had not found traces of Commander Peary's records, at Cape Thomas Hubbard. The point which Commander Peary would call Cape Thomas Hubbard is a round promontory and it would be difficult to find any distinct point that could be positively recognized as Cape Thomas Hubbard. From Commander Peary's map I am absolutely unable to locate Cape Thomas Hubbard. We did not search for any cairn where records might be deposited. In fact, I do not know that Peary had left any records there."

"Considerably to the west I did see a rock which might have been a cache but it might have been merely a clump of rocks. I was at a long distance from it and there was no reason why I should have searched for it. I left a cache of provisions close to the beginning of the cliffs of what Sverdrup puts down as Svartegrov. There was no indication of a cairn near where we left our provisions."

"The other points of the so-called charges have been replied to in detail several times. I will answer everything in the most formal way when Commander Peary makes his accusations over his signature. My reply then will be given out as a written statement."

"My instruments are not lost. I am sure of that," said Dr. Cook. "I shall have them brought here. My Eskimos are at Etah and they know the value of the instruments. They will take care of them."

"If I had known what I know now I should not have left either records or instruments at Etah. Mr. Whitney told me and fully believed his ship was going to that place and he advised me to leave my things in his care, to be brought to New York on board his ship, where they would not be jolted so much as in a long sledge journey over the rough land ice to Upernivik."

"I did not think at any moment of having them forwarded on the Peary ship. If I had not met Mr. Whitney I would have taken them on the sledge with me to Upernivik."

"As to the incident of the American flag which I had hoisted temporarily at the pole and then brought back to Etah with me, I gave it to Mr. Whitney on his special request. He had it in his private trunk when he went aboard the Roosevelt, but he was not according to his own statement, permitted to bring it with him. He was compelled to take it out of the trunk and bury it."

"I prefer to wait. If Peary had been in need of anything at Etah he could have had everything of mine. I gave Mr. Whitney instructions to turn over any of my things to Peary or any white man who required them, and when he came away to give them to my Eskimos."

On the question of his equipment, Dr. Cook was emphatic that he possessed all that was necessary. The statement that the condition of his boots would show whether he had been to the pole brought the following reply:

NEWSPAPER ERROR ADDS NEW TWIST TO CONTROVERSY

New York, Sept. 27.—Another twist was added to the polar controversy today when the Brooklyn Standard Union in an editorial pointed out that the two photographs printed in the New York Evening Telegram, controlled by the New York Herald company, were almost identical with those taken in the far north by Herbert Forde of Brooklyn in 1901. They appeared in the Telegram on Saturday as photographs taken by Dr. Cook on his latest north pole trip.

The Standard Union charged that the "whole world is being deceived by these pictures."

Answering the charge, the New York Herald will say tomorrow:

"Through an inadvertence, the line over the pictures declared them to have been taken by Cook on his north pole trip. The pictures were taken in 1901 by Dr. Cook and were used on Saturday as illustrations of Arctic scenes to accompany his article on the discovery of the north pole. Dr. Cook said last night:

"The similarity of the pictures is easily understood when it is noted that Mr. Forde and I made photographs of icebergs from the deck of the same vessel."

"We used Eskimo seal skin kamiks. When the first pairs were worn out

PREDICTS ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE IN SICILY

Tomorrow Is Day When Disaster Is Most Likely to Occur Declares American Scientist Just Arrived at Messina.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Messina, Sept. 27.—Frank Perrell, American volcanologist, who arrived here today, believes from his scientific deductions that part of Sicily will be the scene of more seismic disturbances. Mr. Perrell said:

"Wednesday, September 29, is the date most favorable for earthquakes or eruptions. At that time the earth and moon are in line with each other and the moon is at its nearest approach to the earth. This combination occurs frequently, tending to produce gravitational distortion of the earth's form, namely, to change that earth from a sphere to an ellipse. This extra strain often acts upon weak spots in the earth's crust, causing them to give way and thus producing earthquakes or volcanic eruptions."

"On Wednesday it happens that the planet Mars also is nearest the earth and almost directly in line with the earth, sun and moon, while Saturn is not far from the same line. Jupiter, although far on the other side of the sun, is also in line with the earth."

PITTSBURG BANKS FAIL TO OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 27.—The Land Trust company and the Mercantile Trust company, both state institutions, did not open for business today. James L. White, state bank examiner, is temporarily receiver for both banks.

The trust companies consolidated recently. It is said they were unable to carry out the merger and made arrangements Saturday to assign voluntarily. According to officials, the depositors will be paid in full. The capital stock of the two companies is $1,210,000.

CHILDREN VICTIMS OF COLD BLOODED MURDERER

Tots Assaulted by Fiendish Italian Are Shot Dead When They Threaten to Tell Their Father.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Union, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The mystery which for many days surrounded the kidnapping of three little Italian children and the murder of two of them, two weeks ago, was solved today beyond a doubt, the police say, when the police obtained a full confession from Theodore Rizzo.

For thirty-six hours, according to the police, they had been endeavoring to get an admission from Rizzo and finally he told the story.

Rizzo, it is claimed, attacked the two little girls but when they threatened to tell their fathers he shot them and the little boy as well, leaving all for dead.

One of the girls arrived following the confession a charge of murder in the first degree was made against Rizzo. When the charge was read he collapsed.

TAFT TALKS IN DEEP MINES AT BUTTE

DEEPLY IMPRESSED WITH WONDERS OF THE WEST

Magic Growth and Fabulous Great Copper Arouses Enthusiasm of President Who Praises People on Progress.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Helena, Mont., Sept. 27.—Attired in a linen duster, an old black cloth hat and swinging an electric lantern as his aide, President Taft was locked in a narrow iron cage and dropped 1200 feet through midnight blackness into the depths of the famous old Leonard Copper mine at Butte today and had the rare experience of seeing miners at work with a giant drill in a vein of high grade ore that sparkled green with its wealth of mineral.

When he had ascended with a white oil lamp and an hour under ground, the president, blinking in the glare of the noonday sun, was cheered by the echo of the crowd of curious people gathered at the hoist and declared enthusiastically:

"I wouldn't have missed it for the world."

It was the president's first visit to the Montana copper district, and between the smelters at Anaconda and the mines at Butte, he had a series of interesting experiences. Not the least of these was a thrilling automobile ride over the mountains from Butte to the mouth of the Leonard mine. The grades were steep and winding but the chauffeurs assigned to the president's party were experienced on the road, and while there was apparently no threat of danger any time, there was a sigh of relief when Mr. Taft had once more been placed safely about the Mayflower.

Arriving in Helena just before four o'clock he went directly to the state fair grounds, where, after viewing a portion of the exhibits he made an open-air address and witnessed a race of cowboys. Returning to the city he received a parade of school children in front of the post office. Leaving the city, he was met by a delegation of citizens, who presented him with a check for $10,000, which he accepted with thanks.

The doctrine of a tax on raw materials, he declared, was sectional and would disrupt the democratic party. Mr. Bryan left tonight for Lincoln, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryan, Jr. He will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his marriage on October 1.

President Taft walked with a decided limp when he first got off the train this morning at Anaconda, the result of a sprained tendon in his right foot, incurred at Beaverly, before he started on the western trip. There is nothing serious about the sprain and Mr. Taft did not let it interfere in any way with the plans for the day.

The president made a flying trip through the Washoe smelter at Anaconda, then proceeded into the city and after a brief address took the train for Butte.

Speaking at the court house the president looked out upon a mass of humanity that blocked the square and spread far down the converging streets. He made a decided hit with the great throng when he told of the wonderful impression the western country was making upon him and ended by saying:

"I am like the old Dutchman who said, 'The more you live, the more you find, by golly, out.'"

When the president disappeared down the shaft of the Leonard mine today with a heavy "good bye everybody" he carried with him into the depths two of his cabinet officers and won the underground presidential record.

President Roosevelt entered some of the Butte mines in his term, but did not get down to the 1200 foot level.

In his speech at Butte, the president said:

"I am mighty glad to see you and the reason is that I cannot help but feel from your kindness and cordiality that you are glad to see me. I am especially pleased at the reception because of its non-partisan character and especially glad that I am looking into the faces of democrats as well as republicans and that we are all here without thought of party and only to give expression to the feeling of common interest in our common country and love for our dear old flag."

"To come out to this awful looking desert from the green fields of the east and see a spring up like magic out of what was seemingly nothing, is a revelation in the possibilities of American manhood and energy. I am going to visit your city underground. I am going to assume that you have a rope that is strong enough to let down 300 pounds. I am going to see that wonderful system of galleries from which you have taken the wealth that has been a marvel to the world. It gives any man who loves his country an inspiration to see the faces before me as I come up this street and as I look out upon you now and to realize that every man of you is engaged in work that pays good wages—that you have a high standard of living and that you are intending to split the individual in order that the nation may be uplifted. It is not the wealth that you are making here, but the use of that wealth that appeals to real lovers of their country."

BRYAN STATES HIS POSITION ON TARIFF

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND WELL CHOSEN WORDS

Flood of Oratory Turned Loose in El Paso Calculated to Hold Senator Bailey for Few Minutes at Least.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] El Paso, Sept. 27.—W. J. Bryan returned to Texas today to explain in a 25,000-word address his position in the Bryan-Bailey controversy over the tax on free raw materials.

Mr. Bryan took for his subject "democracy and the tariff." He censured the democratic senators and congressmen for their position in the recent tariff debate in congress and declared they had lost to the democratic party the greatest opportunity for a signal victory that has been presented in years.

"The steel trust asked for a duty on iron ore. I can tell you any democratic is safe in voting against anything the steel trust wants. A vote for their requested duty gives the government a revenue of $250,000 and gives the steel trust $10,000,000."

Mr. Bryan attacked protection on wool and declared if Texas democrats strayed away from Jeffersonian principles, they would eventually return to the faith and would find him waiting to receive them. They might change, but he would continue true to the faith of genuine democracy.

The doctrine of a tax on raw materials, he declared, was sectional and would disrupt the democratic party. Mr. Bryan left tonight for Lincoln, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bryan, Jr. He will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his marriage on October 1.

TRAIN PLUNGES INTO CROWDED CABOOSE

TEN MEN LOSE LIFE IN COLLISION NEAR CHICAGO

Sixteen Maimed and Bleeding Victims Taken from Blazing Debris of Car Demolished by Passenger Engine.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Chicago, Sept. 28.—Ten men were killed and sixteen were either badly or fatally injured early this (Tuesday) morning, when a train southbound for Cincinnati on the Pennsylvania railroad crashed into the caboose of a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul cattle train bound for the stock yards.

Twenty-six men were in the caboose of the stock train when the passenger train crashed into it in the railroad yards a few blocks from the downtown station.

The engine plowed through the caboose, tearing it to bits and setting fire to the debris.

Six bodies were recovered within a few minutes after the crash while the flames were eating up the splintered pieces of the demolished car. Sixteen injured were dragged from the burning ruins.

The caboose was cut in two and four cars in front of it were telescoped. When the crash occurred screams of the injured and the cries of cattle in the stock cars attracted crowds of rescuers to the scene and many men were rescued from the blazing wreck.

That at least four others have been pinned under the burning pile of debris was discernible to the rescuers. Many cattle were killed.

The engineer, fireman and conductor of the passenger train are reported to have been but slightly injured.

SPANIARDS CHEERED BY SUCCESS IN MOROCCO

Madrid, Sept. 27.—Following satisfactory news of the Spanish successes in Morocco the cabinet has decided to restore the constitutional guarantees except in the provinces of Barcelona and Gerona and to summon the cortes on October 13.

The occupation of Melilla was made easy by the effective shelling of the artillery. The actual storming of the town was accomplished by General Tovar's brigade, General Orozco's affecting the enveloping movement.

Only a few Spaniards were wounded but casualties among the Moors were great.

WET WEATHER MARS HUDSON CELEBRATION

GOVERNOR HUGHES LAYS CORNER STONE IN RAIN

Address Devoted to Plea for Conservation of Land Along Mighty River as Playground for People of Two States.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] New York, Sept. 27.—An appeal in Governor Hughes to the people of New York and New Jersey to conserve their rivers and forests was a feature of the Hudson-Eulton celebration today.

The governor spoke at the dedication of Palisades park, the new interstate preserve along the lower Hudson.

The exercises celebrated the saving of the picturesque cliff that marks the city from the vandal hand of the stone cutter and the turning over to the people of New York and New Jersey of a strip of beautiful park stretching for fourteen miles up the west bank of the river.

"I hope that this is only the beginning," said Governor Hughes, "of efforts which may result in the people of the two commonwealths to safeguard the high lands and waters in which they are both deeply interested. The entire watershed of the Hudson should be conserved to become the people's countryside for common recreation."

The cornerstone of the monument to Henry Hudson on Southern Boulevard will be laid later in the day in a driving rain. The storm kept down the attendance but did not bother Governor Hughes, who had come over from Palisades park in time to deliver an eulogy on the discovery of the Hudson. The governor spoke of the hardships of the open and declining offers of orchards.

The monument location is close to the spot where the legend places the first landing of the discoverer on his trip up the river. Preparations for the great historical parade, which will start early tomorrow morning, were under way in the city.

In preparation for the largest crowd which the city has ever seen, shopkeepers along the route of tomorrow's parade have shuttered their windows with boards and housewives have barricaded themselves behind strong picket fences which the boards will be unable to open. Grand tickets sold tonight at prices ranging from $5 to $25 apiece. Hotel rooms fronting on the line of parade are worth $75 to $100 each.

Four hundred officers of the visiting warships were entertained on Governors island this afternoon by Major General and Mrs. Leonard Wood.

At a dance in the evening, there was a large civilian addition to the company. Wu Ting Fong, Chinese minister, presided over the center of attraction for the foreign officers at the reception.

The rain caused a postponement of the proposed aerodrome flights and the balloon race to Albany.

Envoys of seven nations that have sent their ships of war and the special delegates of other nations participating in the celebration were officially received tonight at a reception in the Metropolitan opera house under the auspices of the Hudson-Eulton celebration.

Seated on the stage was a distinguished gathering, including dignitaries from Europe, the orient and South America. The only woman on the stage was Mrs. Julia Ward Howe. Mayor McClellan was chairman.

Hispanic David H. Crozier of the Episcopal diocese of New York delivered the invocation. The most conspicuous part of the invocation was his saying in the hearing of the naval officers of the chief powers of the world:

"Bind the nations of the earth in the bonds of brotherhood and peace, make wars to cease and righteousness to reign."

Mrs. Howe read an original poem, paying tribute to Hudson and Fulton, bidding with Argentina and concluding with Turkey. There were cheers as each delegate stepped forward and presented either a message from his sovereign or an appropriate address.

AEROPLANE FLIGHTS PREVENTED BY RAIN

New York, Sept. 27.—If the wind does not exceed five or six miles an hour and the weather otherwise is propitious, both Wilbur Wright and Glenn H. Curtiss will make flights in their aeroplanes at Governor's island tomorrow.

Flights today were made impossible on account of an eighteen-mile wind, which gave way to a steady rain. After waiting for several hours for the wind to fall, Wright crossed to the city from the island and obtained a canoe to attach to the underpart of his machine as a safeguard against sinking if the aeroplanes should alight in water.

The Curtiss flyer is a counterpart of the machine Curtiss used in his recent record-making flights at Rhode and Brewin. It is equipped, however, with a four-cylinder, water-cooled motor instead of the eight-cylinder motor used abroad. Wilbur Wright was not sanguine tonight over the outlook for tomorrow.

"If I look for it," as though the weather will continue for a day or two," he said. "It is to be taken the machine out in this rain it would be weighted down with the dampness in a short time."

Among those who visited the aero-plane today was Russell A. Alger, son of the former secretary of war of Detroit, the first purchaser of a Wright aeroplane in this country. Wright told him he did not think it was likely that he would take it anywhere with him in his fights here, but said if he did Alger would be the man to go.

An interesting sidelight on aviation came up when Jefferson de Mont Thompson, representing the Aero club of America, which will defend the international trophy won by Curtiss at Rheims, called on Collector Cook to inquire what duty, if any, would have to be paid by owners of foreign machines brought here for the international contest.

He told unofficially that any aeroplanes brought over solely for the purpose of exhibitions or racing (mainly) could be admitted free under bond. In the event of the numerous machines being offered for private use or for sale they may be available at 45 per cent under the tariff clause covering manufacturers of metal for aeroplane parts and not otherwise provided for.

HERDER SACRIFICES FINGER TO SAVE LIFE

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 27.—J. Milla, sheep herder, undoubtedly saved his life by hacking off a finger with a dull knife. He was bitten on the end of a finger by a rattlesnake. He attempted to amputate the finger above the bite but his knife was so dull that he could only cut the flesh away from the bite. This, however, was sufficient to prevent the poison entering his system. He then walked ten miles to a telephone station and ordered an automobile in which he was brought to Cheyenne and placed in a hospital.

BLACK HAND SCARE EMPTIES JERSEY CITY SCHOOL

Fireworks Mistaken for Bombs; Children Start Wild Rush for Street; Several Hurt in Panic.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] New York, Sept. 27.—Terrified by black hand stories one thousand children stampeded in a Polish parochial school in Jersey city today when fireworks were set off in the street. In the rush for the doors, fourteen were crushed, one perhaps fatally.

The school house was near an Italian church, which had obtained a permit to set off fireworks in a church celebration.

A rumor got out last week among children in lower Jersey city schools that threats had been made to blow up the schools with dynamite. Children of St. Anthony's school have been particularly nervous about it and when the bombs were set off they ran shrieking from their recitation rooms into the hall and down stairs.

At the closed entrance there occurred a disastrous jam. Several smaller children were trampled into unconsciousness.

MRS. HARRIMAN SOLE EXECUTRIX OF ESTATE

Goshen, N. Y., Sept. 27.—The will of E. H. Harriman was probated without objection at Goshen today. Papers to which in Mrs. Harriman qualified as sole executrix were presented and letters testamentary were granted to her.

Joseph W. Gatt, a Goshen attorney, was appointed special guardian for the minor heirs. The appointment of an appraiser for the estate has not been asked for but probably will be later.

It is possible that if the transfer tax appraisal appointed by the comptroller makes an appraisal satisfactory to the executor, however, no other appraiser will be appointed.

EXPLOSION WRECKS HUGE OFFICE BUILDING

Fifty to Seventy-five People Injured and Property Worth $200,000 Destroyed by Shock.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Pittsburgh, Sept. 27.—A terrific explosion occurred today in the offices of the Columbia film exchange in the Ferguson building in the heart of the downtown district. From 50 to 75 persons were injured, many of them seriously. The monetary damage is estimated at $200,000 or more.

Practically every office in the big building was damaged.

Mrs. Depew Hurt in Auto Crash.

Park, Sept. 27.—Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew met with a painful accident on Saturday, when riding in an automobile on the Champ's Elbow. A public taxicab collided with her automobile and Mrs. Depew was cut about the forehead by broken glass.

DEATH SEALS LIPS OF GIRL VICTIM OF OUTRAGE

Miss Montgomery Succumbs to Injuries Inflicted by Unknown Fiends Near Santa Fe, Leaving No Clue to Murderers.

POLICE BAFFLED IN EFFORT TO SOLVE TRAGIC MYSTERY

Captain Fornoff, Follows Dead Girl's Trail, Finds Her Purse and Money; Admits Possibility of Suicide.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 27.—Gertrude Montgomery died at 5 o'clock this morning at St. Vincent's hospital. The surgeons say that considering the awful experience through which she went her wounds and the equally terrible exposure, it is a miracle that she lived so long. She died without saying a word or giving a sign that could aid the officers in identifying her assailants. In some added turn of the wheel of ill-fortune which carried her along, the bullet which entered the back of her neck, cut the muscles, which control the mouth. She was absolutely incapable of speech, and she had not the strength to write. She died and the officers are left almost without a clue to aid them in their search for the inconceivable brutes who are guilty of this girl's death.

Thus far nothing has been heard from the girl's father or her friends in Louisiana.

Bodies of three convicts who are believed to have committed the crime, are being put through an examination. The people of Santa Fe hope that it is thorough. They will not object to the third degree so that it reveals the criminals. The officers are maintaining a grim silence. If they have discovered the criminals they refuse to say so. They refuse to talk at all. The temper of the people today has been such as to make it dangerous for any man who is even under suspicion and the greatest care is being taken to prevent any disorder or any information as to what is being done.

Pending a statement as to the result of the examination of the convicts nothing is known as to what has been learned from them. The officers refuse to answer all questions. It is believed tonight, however, that something definite will be known in the morning.

The remains of the unfortunate girl will be held here pending advice from her parents, now thought to be in California, or from friends in Louisiana.

POSSIBILITY THAT GIRL KILLED BY BLACK HAND

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 27.—Was Gertrude Montgomery a suicide?

Was she a would-be suicide and later a victim of assault?

Why did she climb to the highest peak of the mountain range and there leave her hat, her veil and her purse, containing money?

Why did she carry a 32-calibre revolver into the mountains with her? If a suicide, how did she achieve the difficult feat of shooting herself in the back of the neck?

It she shot herself, how did she live for four days in the cold and exposure of the mountains?

These are just a few of the questions which are puzzling the officers here tonight.

Today, Captain Fred Fornoff of the mounted police, and assisted with the evidence consisting of the three convicts with the case, took the trail himself. After a long search, he found the girl's tracks just outside Santa Fe canyon. He followed them for miles. For hours the officer tracked the girl by her footprints, by scattered stones, by pieces of her garments, through the mountains. And finally he found at the very highest point of the range it is possible to attain, the girl's hat, veil and purse containing a small sum of money. There were no other footprints anywhere near but her own. They were plain. Ten feet beyond where the articles were found a cliff falls away sheer for 200 feet. Had the girl been assaulted there the easy and natural thing would have been to push her body over this cliff into the ravine below. Once there the body would never have been found.

But the girl came down from this high point, and the officers believe she came down alone.

It was learned late this evening that when found in the canyon the girl had a 32-calibre revolver with her. The people who found her say they forgot to mention this or to give the officers the weapon when they came for the body.

The three convicts who are held in solitary confinement have not been closely questioned as yet. The officers will return to the mountains tomorrow morning. If they find no further evidence the convicts will be

PETTUS-FLYNN BOUT
NETS PUEBLO BALL
CLUB $1,500

Western League Aggregation at Colorado Smelter City Realized Neat Sum from Ten Round Go.

The ten round bout between Jim Flynn and Bill Pettus, which occurred at Pueblo Wednesday night last, in which the Albuquerque colored boy was victor, much outclassed by the Irish fireman, netted the Pueblo Western League baseball club $1,500, the entire box receipts above the expenses being turned over to assist in the support of that organization. E. W. Henderson, sporting editor of the Denver News, who referred the sports to the local issue of this paper, tells the following story regarding the incident at the bout.

I have not in my many years of journalism seen such a profitable exhibition of boxing as that which was given by Jim Flynn and Bill Pettus at Pueblo Wednesday night, when the two amateur prizefighters fought through ten rounds, and netted the Pueblo Western League baseball club, for whom the performance was given as a benefit. Early in the season, Flynn, who is a native of the Pueblo, had been playing in the Western League, and had been successful in his efforts to secure a contract with the St. Paul club. He was in California last month when the officials of the Pueblo club learned of his presence and told him that the club was in financial straits, and that he would have to help them out during the State fair week in Pueblo.

His answer came within a half hour, and it was to the effect that he would stay at once for Pueblo. There was a search made for a worthy opponent for Flynn, but all the fighters of prominence approached him demanded a share of the receipts. Jack Flynn, southern boxer, asked 10 per cent of the gross receipts of his bout, and Jack Le being connected with the fight, was refused. Finally Bill Pettus, famed as one of the country's greatest colored baseball players and as a heavy weight boxer of considerable ability, was approached and with at St. Louis. Here another friend and friend of Flynn was found. The big fellow left the Kansas City baseball club, with which he was playing, and reported at Pueblo for training. Pettus and Flynn agreed to fight ten rounds for more than two weeks, and they entered the ring in good condition as they were fighting to win a fortune, yet with no real hope of reward.

PHOENIX AUTO RACE
BIG EVENT

Widespread Interest in Run From Arizona Capital Across Desert to Los Angeles.

(Phoenix Republican.)

It is a safe statement to make that there was no event that occurred in Phoenix that brought the name of this city into such public notice throughout the country as the Los Angeles Phoenix automobile race. Descriptions of this race, even what is generally considered to be one of the most thrilling courses in the whole country, were printed at length in all of the automobile publications and details of the race sent out through the medium of the Associated Press.

The coming race, over the same course will have more contestants entered and has attracted such general interest that every morning paper in Los Angeles will this year send a representative in a special car to report it. The papers will not be satisfied with the description of the finish, as sent in by the Phoenix correspondents, they want the details by the way as well.

The arrangements are progressing for the great automobile event in the southwest. From best reports the race to be entered will be as follows: Colonel Fenner, the winner of last year's race will start two cars, Ralph Howland will be in the race with the "Greyhound" which made a fine showing last season as far as actual winning time is concerned. Leon T. Shetter will enter the "Blackhawk," but has decided on a seven passenger car. In his car will be the two drivers for the Harold K. Kamm and Tupper. Andy Smith will be in the race with an "Albion," and the Los Angeles community will probably enter a car, and if they do, the starting people will come in also. Then there will be a Chadwick and Captain Rose will enter a "Curtis" and "Albion" and a Maxwell will also enter.

Last year there were but four entries, and with that the race was one of the most exciting events ever witnessed in an automobile race. Although the course is over 500 miles long the first two that finished were within a few minutes of each other. The race this year, with perhaps twenty cars in it, will be a great all time record in the history of the Phoenix race.

Visit of President Taft to Phoenix.
This race will do more to advertise Phoenix throughout the country than any other event.
The expense of taking part in this race will amount to no small figure, and for this reason the Maricopa Automobile club has found it advisable to put up a purse of $1000 as prize money. Without it there will be no race at P. Bullard, president of the club, has borne the brunt of the work in promoting the race. He visited the manufacturers in the east as well as the west and has carried on a huge correspondence with others. He has been untiring and indefatigable in his efforts to make it a success. The necessary $1000, $500 has been raised, some difficulty has been experienced in obtaining designs for the remainder, but it must be raised, and in short order. Will there also be entered what this race means to Phoenix kindly tell Mr. Bullard the conditions of their offer.

Racing at Churchill Downs.

Leicester, Sept. 27.—Churchill Downs held the afternoon session to a feature at Churchill Downs this afternoon but some lively and exciting races were held. The feature was the 1000 yard race, 4 furlongs, which was won by M. Miller, who after leading Marwick, the favorite, into early defeat, came on and won handily.

First race, 3 furlongs; Marwick 2, won. Mrs. Semple, second. Posing third. Time 1:14 1/2.
Second race, 1 mile; Safford won. Warden, second. Battle Fleet third. Time 1:47.
Third race, the 1000 yard handicap, 4 furlongs; M. Miller won. Dams second. Marwick, third. Time 1:14 1/2.
Fourth race, 1 mile, 74 yards; Safford won. Hyperion II, second. Oats third. Time 1:45 1/2.

Fifth race, 3 1/2 furlongs; Anthony won. Humphreys, second. My Dear, third. Time 1:09 1/2.
Sixth race, 1 1/4 miles; Green Hornet won. J. H. Ford, second. Rosemont, third. Time 1:13 1/2.

CURRENCY LAW NEXT BIG JOB IN CONGRESS

MONETARY COMMISSION
REPORT EXPECTED SOON

Campaign of Education Proposed to Give Public Proper Understanding of Necessity for Reform in System.

By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire

Washington, Sept. 27.—In something less than five years—to be exact, on June 30, 1914—the Aldrich-Vreeland financial act will expire by limitation and unless before that date it is replaced by a wisely framed measure of broad scope the country again will be in the perilous situation that is commonly believed to have resulted in the panic of 1907-08. There is again realization of necessity of legislation on this subject, but wide difference of opinion as to form.

Speaker Cannon believes a mere extension of the present law with perhaps a few amendments will suffice.
President Taft looks with favor upon the proposition to create a central bank. There are all sorts of intermediate schemes. Probably that which commands the greatest support will be based upon the recommendations of the monetary commission, which has been at work for more than a year gathering material for framing actual legislation.

A campaign of education is about to begin. This, in view of the fact that Senator Aldrich, who heads the commission, thinks it will be difficult to arouse public interest in this abstract subject and that only by general agitation can the national legislature be brought to take action.

Soon after the return from Europe of Senator Aldrich and Professor Andrew and other members of the commission, which is expected to be about the middle of next month, preparations will be made for the publication of the preliminary report of the commission and it is hoped that this can be ready for submission to congress when it reassembles in December.
This will be only the beginning, but it will serve the purpose of directing public attention to this important subject and will afford the members of congress material for study to in-themselves to grapple knowingly with such legislation as ultimately may be proposed by the monetary commission. This commission, up to this point has been engaged in a careful study of the financial systems of the financial systems of Great Britain and the principal continental powers and a mass of data of the greatest importance to students of finance has been collected. It is realized that none of these systems, as a whole, is adapted to the needs of the United States, because of the peculiar conditions which exist in this country, but in most of them are found some features that may be of value as a foundation for the projected new American plan. Attention will be directed to defects of the existing system which, no longer is capable of reasonable operation, and it is necessary restrictions of meeting the business needs of the country.

Though nominally created for the purpose of dealing only with the subject of currency and bond issues, in which the latter is largely incidental, the commission is enlarged in its scope so as to include the national banking system. The projected great central bank will be fully exploited there is reason to believe that even in banking circles considerable misapprehension exists as to the functions of this institution. Based on the history of the operations of the old United States bank, developed by Andrew Jackson, apprehension exists among the officials of national and state banks that this central bank may trench upon their business and be a formidable competitor, so this phase of the matter will be fully dealt with by the commission.

The most substantial objection that has been advanced against that project is based upon a doubt whether one central institution will be sufficiently responsive to emergency demands from some distant section of the country. The suggested correction measure, looking to the creation of branches of the central bank, has only strengthened the fear of the existing banks that the United States government is to enter the field of competition with them.

Recent action by Mr. Murray, comptroller of the currency, involving assumption of absolute responsibility by bank directors for every part of the bank's business, guarding against loans without proper securities, and requiring the closest cooperation between national and state bank examiners in the inspection of operations of the banks have resulted, it is believed, in bringing these institutions to a much higher state of efficiency and placing them on a sounder business basis than they have ever before enjoyed. The comptroller is fully convinced that with public confidence in the banks fully restored, there is no reason to apprehend any struggle or competition for business between national and state banks on the one hand and government central banks on the other.

LOW RATE TRAINS MAY BE RUN BY SANTA FE

Demand of the People of Las

Special Trains on President's Day Being Considered.

The Santa Fe railroad has taken up the matter of running special trains at low rates from Las Vegas and Santa Fe and probably from other points in New Mexico to Albuquerque on the day of President Taft's visit here, Friday, October 15th. The Santa Fe had already made the customary fair rate of one fare for the round trip to be in effect during the fair, but large numbers of people desire to come from many sections of New Mexico especially to see the president and it is now considered probable that excursion trains will be run into Albuquerque on that date from Santa Fe and Las Vegas and probably El Paso and other points.

Las Vegas is prepared to send several hundred people here to see the president and in fact as is Santa Fe.

TO EVOLUTIONIZE SHEEP GROWING IN TEXAS.

(San Antonio Express)

Dr. C. C. Young of Wichita Falls, knows over the entire country as "the man who brought the Karakul sheep" to the city of Texas, primarily to become acquainted with, as he expressed it, his future neighbors, but also to arrange with the fair directors for exhibiting his sheep at the International fair in November. It is Dr. Young's intention to purchase extensive lands in Southwestern Texas and raise half-bred Karakul sheep. Cross breeding he thinks, will revolutionize the sheep industry of the United States.

"I find the conditions, climate, attitude and range in southwestern Texas as nearly like those of the Bokharan desert, the home of the Karakul in Russia, as could be wanted, and it is my opinion that this rare stock of sheep will thrive in this part of the state. So sure am I of this that I expect to invest in several hundred acres of grazing land in southwestern Texas, to raise the extensive breeding of Karakuls with the finer blooded Texas sheep, and make San Antonio my home," said Dr. Young.

Instead of being an inferior quality of sheep to other famous breeds, according to Dr. Young, the Karakul is the finest sheep in the world, and the sheep for which is claimed so much are only half-bred Karakuls.
The pure-bred sheep that are of great commercial value for their wool are the Persian Bredhead, the Kim-mer, and they are all half-bred Karakuls.
The common scrub sheep of Persia are crossed with the Russian Karakul and the famous Persian Bredhead is the result. Breeding the Karakuls and the common Russian sheep of Persia produces the noted Kimmer wool, the crossing of the Karakul with the common Russian sheep from the vicinity of the city of Astrakhan gives the fine Astrakhan fur, while breeding the common Asiatic sheep of Afghanistan with the Karakul produces the stock bearing the famous Afghan wool.

"If breeding Karakul with these scrub sheep—the product of our Texas sheep are much better—will produce a stock of sheep bearing these famous wools, what will be the outcome of the crossing of the Karakul with the finest of the Texas sheep?" inquired Dr. Young, and straightforwardly made his own answer. "Why, we will have a stock of sheep produced in Europe," he stated to the editor of the Globe.

the tail and buttock of the Karakul which makes it possible for the animal to live in desert countries, going many days without food or water, this breed of sheep is by far the heaviest of any of the sheep species. The half breeds, so famous for their wool, are noted for their weight, and Dr. Young thinks that this is a very important item to be considered by the sheep raiser, when it is remembered that sheep are sold by the pound.

"With our already weighty Texas sheep we will produce head-like multi-tons by crossing with the Karakuls," said Dr. Young. "As to the disposition of the wool from the half-bred Karakuls, I think that we will need to import rug weavers and makers of fine carpets," continued Dr. Young.
"The wool from the Karakul is very long, wavy and rather coarse, and the thing for interweaving with silk to give the proper color in fine Russian and Bokharan rugs. But as yet we have no industry of this sort, and as to the other uses of the long wool time and experience only can decide for us. The Karakuls are so prolific in the production of wool, that shearings annually are necessary."

Dr. Young is certain of his success in the introduction of these sheep the toughest in existence. They go for days under all weather conditions and withstand all outdoor hardships.

Young started from Russia was re-

Albuquerque, New Mexico,
Sept. 8, 1909.

My Dear Mary:—

Have located at last. After looking over the west and northwest, I stopped off at Albuquerque, and immediately fell in love with the town and surroundings. New business houses and residences going up on every street, everybody busy, and no one complaining of hard times. Fine people, good churches and schools, and the finest climate I ever struck.

Now for the surprise. I have just purchased a five-acre tract in what is known as "Broadmoor" Sub-division, a strictly American community of country homes about one and one-half miles from the city, and as soon as you get here, we will plan and build ourselves a nice little home, where we can raise our own fruit, vegetables, in fact, lead the life of a real "Country Juke," although we will have the advantages of electric lights and telephone.

The owners of the property have a sign in one of their show windows saying, "Have your own horse, cow, chickens, and babies," how does that strike you? I am sure we will soon have them all.

I am sending you a souvenir book of Albuquerque, given me by Mr. Talbot, one of Mr.
Sellers' salesmen, also a printed folder descriptive of "Broadmoor," with prices of the different tracts, and after you have looked them over, hand them to Tom, as I am sure he would like to see them, and if he and Carrie would make up their minds real quickly they could buy the tract adjoining ours, and say? wouldn't that be grand. Tell them the owners of "Broadmoor" will make any kind of terms, in fact, I never found nicer people to deal with.

The irrigation ditches are all completed, the soil is the finest I have seen in the west, and they are now growing the finest alfalfa, cantelopes, watermelons, and garden truck I have seen in this section of the country.

Pack up the things as soon as you can and start for here, as it would be a useless expense for me to go back there and immediately return here. This place is good enough for me for the balance of our lives. With lots of love, etc.,

Affectionately,

WILL.

STATEHOOD A CINCH SAYS GOVERNOR AT SOCORRO

FORMALLY OPENS BIG
SOCORRO COUNTY FAIR

Gem City a Blaze of Decoration and Electric Illumination Beats Anything on Record; Big Crowds Attend.

Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal SOCORRO, N. M., Sept. 27.—A body believe the next session of congress will pass an enabling act for New Mexico for admission to the union, said Governor George Curry today in a splendid speech at the formal opening of the Socorro county fair.

The governor gave his reasons for this belief at length and presented a convincing array of evidence which was enthusiastically received by the big crowd. President Taffel personal assurance that he would use every possible bit of influence for statehood this winter and his statement to the governor that he believed statehood next in importance to tariff revision led the governor to believe that New Mexico this winter has a friend at court who will make his case sure. The governor made a good rounding speech which was well received and appreciated. The governor was preceded by W. E. Martin, president of the fair association and H. D. Burson who introduced the governor in a well coming speech.

The governor will remain here until Tuesday night to enjoy the festivities.
Socorro is a blaze of brilliance tonight the electric illumination of the new house, the streets and park being on a magnificent scale so that the whole city is almost as light as day.

The business houses and many residences are also gorgeously decorated with flags and bunting and Socorro has never before presented so good an aspect. Thousands of people are here to attend the big event and the fair will beat all former records by a good margin.

Magdalena sold down a lively trail of visitors this morning and more are coming. The Santa Fe first real ment band is making the section ring with its splendid music and the old town has been generally waked up at never before.

Magdalena 5: Carriage 3.

Magdalena defeated Carthage this afternoon in the first game of the new series of baseball games by a score of 5 to 3, the game being a rather good exhibition. Magdalena is strengthened with a number of old stars, of the El Paso White Sox while a number of well-known Albuquerque collectives form the backbone of the Carthage aggregation. The batteries today were: Magdalena, Hamilton and Wood; Carthage, Ted three things, Weeks and Ponce, remainder of game, Leavitt and Edwards. Socorro and Magdalena play tomorrow afternoon.

A splendid exhibition of human building was witnessed by an appreciative crowd tonight, the day's festivities winding up with a big ball at the Alhambra hall and another at the Garcia opera house.

Tomorrow the grand parade will move at 10 a. m., headed by the Queen of the Carnival, Miss Edna Hamilton, daughter of President W. G. Hammett of the Alhambra Bowling company and a pretty and popular young lady. She will ride in a gorgeously decorated float.

Fine Mineral Exhibit.

One of the most interesting features of the fair is the splendid mineral exhibit gathered together by George T.
Brown, the well known mining operator, an exhibit which is undoubtedly the finest thing of its kind in the territory and which will show the force of a permanent collection at the Socorro school of Mines. There is nearly a cabinet of specimens including one immense specimen of blue quartz from the Kelly district, a solid chunk weighing three thousand pounds. Most of the collection consists of common minerals, several wagon loads being brought in by Mr. Brown. In charge of the exhibit is the Kelly district.
The exhibit includes some of the richest and most beautiful specimens ever seen in the southwest and is most valuable and instructive exhibit which reflects great credit on Mr.
Brown who has gotten it together regardless of expense and trouble.

had people. The garage has become entirely out of date, and instead of enhancing the old building Mr. Keen decided to build a commodious and respectable looking garage.

The Shetrick building on Canyon street is being extended twenty-five feet, covering the entire lot. The grocery business of Shetrick and hardware business of Finley-Pratt make this enlargement absolutely necessary.
Mr. Pratt, who was called away some time ago, when work stopped on the building is expected back in a few days, when work will be resumed on the new two-story brick.

Progress on the Plains.

A number of Caribbean business men spent the week on the plains looking into the development there in preparation for the Caribbean club of the National bank of Caribbea, who went with the party, stating that the progress made since the last visit the plains is beyond belief. "Though he has kept in close touch with the business of the plains, he had no idea that the increase in population and settlement of land had been so great as it is now." The Caribbean club of Caribbea, after hearing the reports from these business men took up the matter of establishing another club here and will line in the plains. It appears that much business that really should come to the valley now goes to Texas points.

Good for Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night,

I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by all druggists.

THE POPULAR FOOD AT THE POLE.

Since going to the North pole last winter, the eating of the summer season by Messrs. Cook, Peary and all others who are really anxious to go to some thoroughly unexplored public, necessarily taking interest in things that only a few specialists anatomists have paid any attention to.

As a result there are a lot of people imparting what "pemmican" is, and a few more would like to ask for it and be ashamed to display their ignorance.
Pemmican is a most food made exclusively for the Arctic trade, which consists chiefly of explorers, and it is understood that the Armour Packing company is the exclusive manufacturer of the real, among other brands, of emulsion, and furnished the supply used by both Peary and Cook. Cook and Peary, 2,000 pounds of pemmican when they started, and Peary, having a much larger party, took about three times as much. Both explorers say there is no other food that furnishes so much of the heat and blood making supply for the body in so compact a form, though it is not a distastefully pleasing dish and not a satisfying one owing to the small quantity required for the necessary nourishment. It is only good to keep the body machinery working when there is nothing so effective at hand, and is used under conditions where people eat to live, and not merely because they have to.

Pemmican was originally made by the aborigines in the far north. In their crude way, using rubber meat as its base, the Armour company has improved on the methods of the Indians and has added a number of other ingredients. The Armour pemmican is made of lean beef, mutton, chicken and fish. It is dried and powdered and mixed with tallow, sweet ground raisins and currants, salt, pepper and sugar. It is compressed into bricks about the size of those used in building. It is wrapped in cathartine paper and canned. It is heavy, solid and does not spoil, containing in much nutritious value in small amounts of fresh food. It will keep indefinitely and even in the tropics, but it wouldn't be of value there, it makes too much blood and is too heavy for it. It is sold at an average price of 41 a pound.

YOUR table linen has lost its lustre;
do you know why?

Is it not because you have allowed your launordinary laundry soaps, which, being overstrong cotton?

Use Ivory Soap and

COUNTY DECLINES SPANISH FAKERS ON CITY'S DEMAND FOR MONEY

Commissioners Meet This Afternoon and City Will Authorize Action at Once to Recover Its Proposition.

The county commissioners will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock for further consideration of the status of the recently collected back taxes from the banks of which the city now claims $9,381.11 as its proportion of such taxes. The status of the payment of the 1904 bills is now very much in the air and the commissioners will probably ask for the advice of the district attorney as to what further steps to take or what course to pursue.

County Treasurer Edward Pinney yesterday mailed to City Treasurer Simon Stern a formal refusal to comply with the demand of the city. This demand was filed with the county treasurer's office last Friday and after consulting with the district attorney, Treasurer Pinney yesterday mailed the following refusal:

"Sept. 25, 1909.
Simon Stern, treasurer of the city of Albuquerque, N. M.
"Dear Sir: I acknowledge receipt of the written demand made by you, as treasurer of the city of Albuquerque, to pay over to you, as such treasurer, the sum of $9,381.11 and which is claimed by the city of Albuquerque as its proportion of the delinquent taxes alleged to have been received by me as treasurer and ex-officio collector of the county of Bernalillo for the years 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905 and 1906.

"I beg to state that, pursuant to chapter 57 of the laws of New Mexico, 24th legislative assembly, entitled "An act to amend sec. 2 of chap. 62 acts of 1907 all of the delinquent taxes for the years named have been appropriated in the proportion of two-thirds of such taxes to the general county fund for the purpose of paying the debts for the years named and one-third thereof to the general school fund of the county, and that any surplus remaining over after paying the debts for the years named owing to the county and the appropriation to the general school fund, shall go to the current expense fund of the county of Bernalillo. Therefore, pursuant to the act of the legislature above mentioned I decline to comply with the written demand made upon me by you as treasurer of the city of Albuquerque.

"Very respectfully yours,
E. PINNEY.
Treasurer and ex-officio collector, Bernalillo County, New Mexico."

"This refusal will result in immediate action in court by the city to recover what it claims to be its proportion of the tax money.

"The city will certainly bring an action to recover its share of this money," said Mayor Felix H. Lester yesterday afternoon. "I do not know what form the action will take but I anticipate that at its next meeting, which will be held next Monday night, the city council will direct the city attorney to proceed with the proper legal steps to recover the money."

COLLIER BECOMES PRESIDENT OF TEXAS BANK

Former Cashier of State National Leaves for McLean, Texas, Where He Will Direct Destinies of New Institution.

R. H. Collier, whose resignation as cashier of the State National bank was announced in the Morning Journal yesterday morning, left last night for McLean, Texas, where he will open business for the American State bank of which institution he has been elected president. The American State bank will open its doors Thursday. Mr.
Collier will return to Albuquerque as soon as things are well under way at McLean and remain here until after the territorial fair of which he is the treasurer. Mr. Collier will also assist Mr. Herpin, the new cashier of the State National in becoming acoustomed to the details of that position, and will make his headquarters at that institution until he leaves Albuquerque to make his home in Texas. Mr. Collier has been planning for some time to become connected with the new bank at McLean. The fact that Mr.
Collier has been elected to the position of president assures the success of the institution, he being ranked as one of the most experienced banking men in the southwest. The best wishes of a host of friends will follow Mr.
Collier to his new field of activity.

SPANISH FAKERS ON OLD STILL HUNT FOR SUCKERS

SOCORRO MAN RECEIVES
COPY OF FAIRY TALE

Fake Clippings Used in Promoting Confidence Game of the Same Old "Belavsky"

The persistence with which the manipulators of the noisy Spanish financiam keep at work and their industry in letter writing indicates that there must be something in it. The fact that this time worn and familiar swindle still finds any victims shows that there is some truth in the well-known scriptural saying that a sucker is born each and every minute and often between the minutes.

The law firm of Chavez & Sedillo of this city are in possession of one of these letters received by a client of the firm, a Socorro man, who failed to bite. The letter incloses a made-to-order newspaper clipping to boost along the game. The letter and clipping are as follows:

Madrid, 7 May 1909.
Dear Sir: Although I know you only from good references of your honesty, my sad situation compels me to reveal you an important affair in which you can procure a modest fortune, saving at the same time that of my darling daughter.

Before being imprisoned here, I was established as a banker in Russia, as you will see by the enclosed article about me. Many English newspapers which have published my arrest in London.

I beseech you to help me to obtain a sum of 450,000 dollars I have in America and to come here to raise the seizure of my baggage, paying to the registrar of the court the expenses of my trial and recover my portmanteau containing a secret pocket where I have hidden the document indispensable to recover the said sum.

As a reward I will give up to you the third part, i. e., 150,000 dollars.
I cannot receive your answer in the prison, but you must send a cablegram to a person of my confidence who will deliver it to me. Awaiting your cable, to instruct you in all my secret, I am, sir, yours truly.

A. BELAVSKY.
First of all answer by cable, not by letter, as follows:

"Flores de, Rotzeberg, 119 traverses Zapadna, Madrid. Perfectly—Vigil."

The clipping follows:

Arrest of a St. Petersburg Banker Charged With Fraud in Russia and Manslaughter in Spain.

Interview of the two Ambassadors.
Some months ago, as our readers may remember we referred in these columns to the great scandal caused, in St. Petersburg, and in Russia generally, by a noted banker who abandoned, leaving a deficit of over five millions of rubles.

The Russian police, sought for him for a long time in vain, for it seems he had not left the least trace of his flight, and the continued search over Europe and America proved unavailing.

Yesterday, however, a Spanish inspector accompanied by two officers from Scotland Yard and acting under instructions of the Spanish ambassador, who had previously interviewed the home secretary, arrested him on his way from the hotel where he was staying to the steamship office. It seems that it was his evident intention to take passage for New York from information received by the ambassador, he had been in hiding in Spain, and he lived with a woman and with his daughter. A few days before arriving in London he had quarrelled with another Russian, who was mortally wounded by a revolver shot during the scuffle, and who only lived long enough to accuse his assailant.

In an interview with the Russian ambassador, it seems that the name he had been using in Spain, and which he gave on being arrested was not his real one. Manasseina being simply an alias, but after comparing the prisoner with photographs in his possession, the Russian ambassador, recognized him as Belavsky, the criminal banker who eloped with 5 millions of rubles. He is a native of St. Petersburg, a widower 45 years old, with an only daughter whom he left in Spain on escaping from that country.

On being arrested, two of Manasseina's or Belavsky's partisans were seized but although strictly searched nothing but personal effects were found in them. In spite of which the Russian ambassador directed that the prisoner ought to have several million rubles somewhere.

The Russian and Spanish ambassadors conferred yesterday evening as to whether the prisoner should be conveyed to Spain or to Russia, and after an interview with the home secretary, and in accordance with the extradition treaty of England, Russia and Spain, it was agreed that the prisoner should be conveyed to Spain, to stand his trial for manslaughter, and that only after his trial can the Russian government ask Spain, through diplomatic channels, for his extradition.
