A NEW TREATY WITH JAPAN PLANNED

THIS SEEMS TO BE ULTIMATE CONCESSION UNCLE SAM WILL MAKE TO CALIFORNIA LEGISLATORS.

MR. BRYAN STATES HIS OWN POSITION

JAPANESE KILLS HIMSELF
BROODING OVER NEW LAW.
Chicago, April 29.—Lar Kie Kull, a young Japanese, yesterday committed suicide by shooting himself as a protest against the proposed legislation in California unfavorable to his race, it is believed. He came here from Denver a week ago and exhibited an extraordinary interest in the western state's proposed alien land bill. He spent a large part of his time studying newspaper comment on the situation. Others at the rooming house where he lived said he purchased an armful of papers daily.

On the day Secretary of State Bryan was in Chicago, Kull remarked that he would give many years of his life for a conference with the official. It is not known whether he attempted to see Mr. Bryan.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Secretary Bryan's proposition to the Californians to suspend the passage and application of anti-Japanese legislation until the president has had an opportunity to negotiate a new treaty with Japan to replace the convention of 1911, is believed to represent the ultimate concession which the administration is willing to make in deference to public feeling in California.

The secretary's statement that in event of passage of legislation in defiance of the president's advice, he would feel obliged to "do everything possible to minimize the ill feeling that may be aroused" is regarded here as making a purpose apart from the government to become intervenor with the Japanese in any suit they may bring before the federal courts to nullify the action of the California legislature.

Assuming that one of the questions which Mr. Bryan has transmitted the president on behalf of the California legislature is as to the probable time for negotiating a new treaty with Japan and just how such a convention could be framed to meet the views of California without being objectionable to the Japanese, it may be said that such a method of settling the present issue already has been given some consideration.

The existing Japanese treaty was intended to meet a temporary need in quieting the unrest on the Pacific coast over school question. Neither party has been satisfied with its workings, and it is remarkable for its omissions, compared with the other treaties of trade and commerce.

HOLDS DOWN BRYAN'S JOB.
Washington, D. C., April 29.—When the cabinet assembled John Bassett Moore, acting secretary of state, was invited by the president to sit in the place of Mr. Bryan. It is a rare occasion when an acting head of a department sits with the cabinet and usually he is sent for only for a brief period while the business of his department is considered.

Mr. Moore stayed virtually throughout the cabinet meeting, which was taken as an indication that the Japanese question took almost the entire time of the president and his advisers. Mr. Moore, who is an authority on international law, has given considerable study to the international phases of the alien land question in California.

While the cabinet discussed the situation in Mexico to some extent, the principal subject under consideration was the attitude of the California legislature toward Mr. Bryan's proposals.

No messages were submitted by the president to be sent either to Mr. Bryan or the California authorities and members of the cabinet also said no conclusions had been reached. The view was expressed, however, the administration would not recede from its position as described by Mr. Bryan to the California legislature yesterday.

In the event of a rejection of those suggestions, cabinet members felt that the Japanese government would realize that the government at Washington had done everything in its power to prevent discrimination.

There were intimations that some of the members of the cabinet reported a growing sentiment about the country for a more careful inquiry into the California viewpoint on the Japanese question. This, it was said, however, would be in line with the suggestion to California to postpone consideration until a thorough investigation could be made and an understanding arrived at with Japan through diplomatic channels.

Later Ambassador China visited state department and had a long and earnest conference with Acting Secretary Moore. Both flatly refused to discuss the situation but it was believed that the official conferences here over Secretary Bryan's telegram to the president had been extended to include the Japanese ambassador and the correspondence between Washington and Sacramento would include some of the results.

ALL ARE AT SEA.
Sacramento, Calif., April 29.—How long Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan expects to remain in Sacramento as the active opponent of alien land legislation is the question with which the majority leaders in the California legislature are wrestling today in an effort to decide what course to pursue in carrying out their plans for the enactment of the particular kind of land holding law that they have in mind.

Secretary Bryan is opposed to their plan, but that his arguments against it came to naught in the secret conference with Governor Johnson and the legislature yesterday is now apparent. He announced that he had said all that he had come to say, but in the language of a leading progressive senator, "he is still here" and the chief is current that he will remain until the bill is passed. The administration leaders are not disposed to allow a filibuster, even one conducted by the secretary of state of the United States, to check them; and unless Mr. Bryan presents urgent reasons for further delay in the conference that he is expected to call late this afternoon, the opinion is expressed today that it is probable the legislature will take hold on the situation immediately and pass the bill prohibiting ownership by foreigners, "ineligible to citizenship" while the distinguished visitor looks on.

Adjournment has been set for May 3, but it is planned to extend this date to May 10. Even this extension allows less than two weeks for the legislature to wind up its affairs, and the majority leaders feel there is no need to waste time with the alien land bills when other matters of vital importance to the state are on the files.

CIPHER MESSAGE RECEIVED.
Although several messages in code were received by Secretary of State Bryan from President Wilson, Mr. Bryan declined to discuss the contents of his telegrams. Their possible bearing on the situation is the subject of wide speculation among the legislators.

Both houses of the legislature turned to their routine work today as if there had been no interruption.

CALL ON BRYAN.
Sacramento, Calif., April 29.—A delegation from the Lodi anti-alien association, called on Secretary Bryan to present the views of the American farmers living in that community, where feeling against the Japanese is said to be intense.

The visitors were introduced by Assemblyman Struckmeyer, Democrat, who has announced his intention of voting for a strong anti-Japanese bill in whatever form it is presented, regardless of Secretary Bryan's arguments. The secretary of state promised the visitors a further hearing this afternoon.

WIRES GOVERNOR LISTER.
Olympia, Wash., April 29.—Secretary Bryan sent the following dispatch today to Governor Lister of Washington:

"Please wire me status of proposition to amend alien ownership law so as to strike out words 'ineligible to citizenship.' Understand such an amendment has been submitted or is being considered."

Governor Lister replied: "When proposed amendment relating to ownership of land in this state was introduced in the lower house of the legislature, it contained words 'ineligible to citizenship' because of race or color, but those words were afterward stricken out in the lower house before adoption and proposed amendment made to read 'the ownership of lands by aliens, other than those who in good faith have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, is prohibited, etc., and a provision attached removing the restriction as to land in municipalities. This amendment will be submitted to vote of the people in November, 1914."

BIXBY FAILED TO BE STAR WITNESS

Los Angeles, April 29.—George H. Bixby, the millionaire named in connection with the white slavery developments here, did not become the star witness before the county grand jury today. He was called as a witness, but he remained in the grand jury room only 12 minutes.

The fact that Bixby remained in the room so short a time, led to the supposition that he had not testified at all.

JERRY MAIDA MEETS FATE OF ROSENTHAL

New York, April 29.—Jerry Maida, well known gambler, met his appointed death on Forty-first street, near Broadway, early today.

He was shot down by gangsters, who sent five bullets into his body. The shooting occurred only a couple of blocks away from the scene of the murder of Herman Rosenthal last July but the gun men had less luck than the Rosenthal murder crew. Five policemen heard the shots and pounced upon five men whom they accused of the killing.

The police said that Jerry had recently fallen under suspicion and that he was thought to be revealing the gang's secrets to District Attorney Whitman.

GREAT HIGHWAY IS SUBJECT OF A WARM DEBATE

SHALL WESTERN END PASS THROUGH SECTION NOTED FOR SCENIC BEAUTY OR FOR HISTORICAL INTEREST?

ORIGINAL TRAIL ENDS AT SANTA FE

Kansas City, Mo., April 29.—Whether the western end of the proposed ocean-to-ocean highway shall pass through a section for scenic beauty or along a route replete with historical interest probably will be decided at the annual meeting of the National Old Trails association, which began here today.

The original "Old Trails" route across the continent ends at Santa Fe, N. M. Lovers of the historical content that the route from that point should follow the old Doniphan trail and the Kearney road which gained their names from General Alexander W. Doniphan and General Stephen Kearney.

Delegates following the scenic route want the road built directly west from Santa Fe through the mountains by way of the Grand Canyon, reaching California at Barstow, thence to Los Angeles and up the coast to San Francisco.

New Mexico and Arizona towns which are opposed to the "scenic route" sent delegates at large against the southern route.

MIDLAND TRAILERS TO MEET.
Grand Junction, Colo., April 29.—President James L. Hamilton, of the Colorado-Utah-Nevada-California link of the Midland Trail association today issued a call for a meeting of representatives of the states named, to be held here May 20. It is planned to bring 100 or more automobiles from Denver and Salt Lake City, loaded with good roads enthusiasts.

The meeting, which will last three days, will be addressed by leading advocates of the Midland trail as the route for the proposed ocean-to-ocean highway.

WILSON AGREES TO HEAR OBJECTIONS TO TARIFF BILL

PRESIDENT WILL GIVE SENATOR NEWLANDS THREE HOURS TO DISCUSS EFFECT OF FREE WOOL AND FREE SUGAR.

READING OF BILL BEGUN IN THE HOUSE

Washington, D. C., April 29.—President Wilson today arranged to give three hours Thursday to Senator Newlands and other intermountain senators who wish to discuss the effect of certain schedules of the tariff, including free wool and free sugar, upon their communities.

Senator Newlands asked for the interview last week after he and other senators had presented their arguments before Democratic members of the senate finance committee.

The Democratic tariff revision bill advanced another stage in the house today, when the reading of the measure, paragraph by paragraph was begun. Amendments will be offered by the Republicans and Progressives as the bill progresses through the part of its legislative journey, and some amendments that may seem best in the light of developments may be brought in by the ways and means committee majority.

AMENDMENTS REJECTED.
Washington, D. C., April 29.—As consideration of the bill went on amendment after amendment proposed by the opposition was rejected with rolling choruses of noes from the Democratic side. Majority Leader Underwood and Republican Leader Mann had long arguments because the chemical schedule differed from last year's chemical bill. Mr. Underwood explained the changes had been made possible because the income tax was not a possibility last year.

MADE LOVE TO ONE OF THE JURORS

A FRIEND OF BOGUS COMPANY PROMOTERS TRIED IN VAIN TO SAVE THEM FROM JAIL.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 29.—Judge Witmer in the United States court today refused a new trial to the convicted promoters and officers of the International Lumber and Development company, and immediately imposed sentence upon the five men. John R. Merkle, and Isaiah Miller of Chicago, promoters of the company were fined $10,000 each and sentenced to 15 months imprisonment; Wm. H. Strong, Jr., Philadelphia, a lumber business manager of the concern, and Charles R. McMahon, Philadelphia, secretary and treasurer, were fined $2,000 each and given two years in prison; Col. Alfred G. Stewart, of Mason City, Ia., a director, was fined $1,000 and given one year's imprisonment.

These men were interested in property in Mexico and used the mails and newspaper advertisements to sell stock. The government charged that the scheme was fraudulent and that nearly $6,000,000 was realized by the promoters. Some of this money was returned to stockholders in the form of unearned dividends.

During his argument for a new trial today former Senator Mason, of Illinois, for the defense, said that the daughter of a postal inspector and the wife of one of the jurors were friendly and sat together in the court room during the entire trial which lasted four weeks.

Judge Witmer interrupted Mr. Mason and with much emphasis said: "Now look at the other side. I have positive information that a person interested in the defense made love to a juror and I also have information that a lawyer not directly interested, but having some interest in the result, tried repeatedly to improperly influence the jury."

No names were mentioned.

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS RETURN TO THEIR WORK

Charleston, W. Va., April 29.—Reports from the strike districts of Paul and Cabin creeks today said that miners are returning to work at all the mines, with no disturbance. In a few instances operators have refused to take back some of the strike leaders formerly in their employ, but these men are securing work at other mines.

Governor Hatfield has offered his services to plead the cases of those men if necessary. The governor is still in the strike region. If there are no further disturbances, it is expected that the few militiamen now in the field, will be withdrawn soon.

DETECTIVES MUST FACE PRISONERS, THEIR ACCUSERS.

Interesting Situation Developed in San Francisco Investigation Following Disclosures of Bunco Men.

San Francisco, Calif., April 29.—All of the detectives who have been on assignment in the Latin quarter and Barbary coast district during the past two years will line up in the central police station today for the inspection of the nine convicted bunco men who were members of the gang of crooks now making the sensational charges that eight members of the police department operated in collusion with them. When the sleuths pass today before the bunco men, six of whom now are convicts serving time in Folsom and San Quentin penitentiaries, the prisoners will be given an opportunity to point out the men against whom they make the accusations. The investigators conducting the inquiry learned today that George Volpi, a convict at San Quentin has made affidavit that Emilio Chiesi, a fellow convict, is innocent of the crime for which he was sent to prison for eight years.

Chief of Police White has assigned a detective to act as body guard for Mrs. Michael Gallo, wife of one of the convicted men who was brought over from San Quentin to testify at the grand jury hearing in this city. Chief White was informed today that the woman had been followed to her home by unknown men after leaving the hall of justice, where she testified yesterday. Friends of the woman, fearing violence, requested that an armed man be sent to protect her.

CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE'S GLASSES PLAY A TRICK.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Despite announcements by Chief Justice White that the supreme court would be in session May 11, the court will not meet that day. May 11 is Sunday. The chief justice's glasses played him false when he read a memorandum. He meant to say that the court would be in session on Monday, May 12, and on that day would take a recess. It has been ordered accordingly.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS ARE ENTERING MONTENEGRO

SUCH IS RUMOR ON LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE, BUT KING NICHOLAS SEEMS TO HOLD KEYS OF SCUTARI.

QUEEN LEANS ON WAR HERO'S ARM

London, April 29.—A rumor spread on the stock exchange today that Austrian troops had entered Montenegro. No confirmation was obtainable.

Cettinje, April 29.—Crown Prince Danilo, of Montenegro, was welcomed with an ovation on his arrival here today to hand over to King Nicholas the keys of the fortress of Scutari. The formal ceremony was greeted with cheers from the excited crowd.

The members of the royal family afterward marched in procession to the cathedral, the queen and each of the ladies giving her arm to a wounded soldier.

Vienna, April 29.—The Austro-Hungarian government is dissatisfied with the failure of the conference of ambassadors in London to initiate decisive action against Montenegro and is continuing its preparations for important action.

Exchanges of views are proceeding between Austro-Hungary, Germany and Italy.

AUSTRIA TO ACT.

London, April 29.—A special correspondent telegraphing from Vienna puts the Austrian attitude in regard to Montenegro in precise form as follows:

"Austro-Hungary, finding that the ambassadorial conference in London yesterday produced no results, has decided to take matters into her own hands and to carry out the decision of the powers regarding Scutari."

IS IT TRUE?

London, April 29.—Neither the British foreign office officials nor the foreign diplomats here have any confirmation of the reports that Austria-Hungary has decided to take independent action to force Montenegro to evacuate the city of Scutari and they discredit them. Such a course would be so absolutely opposed to the attitude adopted by the Count von Mensdorff-Praunich-Dietrichstein, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, at the London conference of ambassadors yesterday, that it is considered impossible.

Both Italy and Germany, it is known, are strongly averse to any attempt being made to coerce Montenegro, unless such action is undertaken by all the powers jointly.

AUSTRIA IN EARNEST.

Geneva, Switzerland, April 29.—All the Austrian troops in the Tyrol, numbering several thousand, considered the flower of the army, have left for the frontiers of Montenegro and Novipazar. Other troops are arriving in the garrison to take their places.

VILLA BELIEVES IN CARRYING BOOTY WITH HIM

UNLIKE CAPTAIN KIDD'S BUCCANEERS, INSURGENT CHIEF DRIVES TREASURE WAGON OVER STEEP MOUNTAIN TRAILS.

SALAZAR HAS LESS THAN 200 MEN LEFT

El Paso, Texas, April 29.—Unlike Captain Kidd's buccaneers, Francisco Villa's insurgents refuse to bury their booty. With them over the steep mountain trails they are carrying nearly $100,000 worth of silver and gold bullion, weighing nearly a ton. This was reported by American ranchmen arriving here today from the Madera district where Villa is operating. The treasure was captured several days ago from a Mexico Northern railroad train bound for Chihuahua City from the Guerrero mining district.

The metal is packed in a wagon drawn by a team of mules. Beside the wagon ride ten guards picked from Villa's 200 old followers.

It is considered a daring venture to come within rifle range of the treasure wagon. The actual value of the metal is estimated at 180,000 pesos.

El Paso, Texas, April 29.—General Eliaz Salazar succeeded in reorganizing nearly one half of his men after the mutiny yesterday at Casas Grandes, says his official report received today at Juarez. But the federal commander is left with less than 200 men.

Led by Colonel Maximo Castillo, 350 of the rebels set off to join Francisco Villa's band of insurgents reported near Minaca. They took with them most of Salazar's ammunition and supplies. Even those remaining with Salazar are said to have refused to participate in the campaign against the constitutionalists.

El Paso, Texas, April 29.—After taking all available money, as well as ammunition from Casas Grandes, Castillo and his henchmen proceeded to Corralitos ranch, an American property, and supplied themselves with horses. Then they cut the Mexico Northwestern railway north and south of Casas Grandes. General Salazar's remaining force attempted to follow orders and hasten to Chihuahua City, but failed to proceed farther than Pearson, returning today to Casas Grandes.

Nogales, Ariz., April 29.—Major General Wood, chief of staff of the United States army, left here early today for Tucson, Ariz., to complete his tour of Arizona points. General Wood will return directly to Washington by way of El Paso.

IS DIAZ SCHEMING?

Eagle Pass, Texas, April 29.—Reports saying that negotiations for an alliance between Felix Diaz and Governor Carranza, constitutionalist leader, are afoot, have been spread here by four alleged agents of the two Mexican leaders. Active hostilities in the zone controlled by Carranza seem to have ceased. This is reported to be due to negotiations between the federal commanders opposing Carranza, generals Aubert and Lopez, to join the constitutionalists cause.

Two of the agents who reached here last night were Elizo Arredondo and Francisco Quevedo, Carranza's confidential agents. They went immediately to Monclova, Mexico, to consult with the governor. The other two were Miguel Gonzales and Leopoldo Martinez, said to be representatives of Felix Diaz.

OJEDA IS FREE.

San Diego, Calif., April 29.—General Ojeda and members of his staff, arrested by Major William C. Davis, commanding Fort Rosecrans, here last night, were released at 1 o'clock this afternoon, under orders from Washington. They will leave for Ensenada, lower California, tonight.

TWO WEEKS MORE.

Chicago, Ill., April 29.—"The Huerta government in Mexico probably will be overthrown within two weeks," said Robert J. Kerr, an attorney, who recently came from Mexico, in an address before the rotary club today.

"The situation there is far more serious than Americans realize. It is vastly more important to this country than is the Balkan situation. Americans are forced to flee from Mexico because the American flag is not as much respected there as are the flags of other countries, and Americans, if they remain, do not know whether they will be able to secure damages for their ruined property."

MAGNATE OF ARSON TRUST RECEIVES HEAVY SENTENCE

South Bend, Ind., April 29.—Ben Kahn, convicted of burning his store here, today was sentenced to from two to 21 years in the Indiana state prison.

Kahn was admitted to bail pending an appeal to the supreme court in bonds of $10,000.

Evidence was introduced at Kahn's trial tending to show the workings of an alleged "arson trust" in many of the central west states. It also resulted in the confession of Ben Fike about the torch trust.

Nearly 100 arrests have been made in the investigation.

SEARCH FOR SLAYER OF LITTLE GIRL

Atlanta, Ga., April 29.—Search for the slayer of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, whose body was found in the National Fencil company's plant, was continued today by the police. Four men are detained, but only one of them, John M. Gani, former bookkeeper at the factory, has been formally charged with murder.

Detectives today again questioned Newt Lee, the negro watchman who found the girl's body.

"I don't know," was the negro's only answer.

Gant steadfastly maintained his innocence. "I could wring the neck of whoever accused me of such a thing," he said.

U. P. ATTORNEYS PLEAD FOR TIME EXTENSION.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Attorneys for the Union Pacific filed today with the supreme court their brief in reply to Attorney General McReynolds' objections to a longer extension of time than July 1 for an agreement upon a dissolution plan. The railroad lawyers contended that to allow only until July and no further extension would be inadequate and renewed their plea to have the court's mandate modified to permit the circuit court to determine the question.

CLEARING DAYTON COSTS $80,000 A WEEK

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Major T. L. Rhoads, military aide to President Wilson, will report to Secretary Garrison concerning conditions in the flood district of Ohio. Major Rhoads, who has been in charge of sanitation in the inundated territory, returned yesterday from Dayton, where the high water worked probably the greatest havoc.

"The clearing up of the city is costing $80,000 a week," he said, "but the people have regained their spirits and

SUFFRAGISTS WILL WAGE A WAR HERE

MRS. O. H. P. BELMONT SAYS IF NEW YORK FAILS TO AWAKE, MILITANT METHODS WILL BE USED.

WILL SPEAK WITH MRS. CATT TONIGHT

London, April 29.—The antipathies of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of New York, in regard to the suffragette campaign have evidently been overcome since their arrival here, for it is announced that the mother of the Duchess of Marlborough and the president of the International League of Woman Suffragists are to appear on the same platform tonight at a meeting of the Woman's Social and Political Union, the militant suffragette organization. It is expected that the American women will express their views.

Mrs. Belmont, who is staying at a hotel in London, gave the following statement to the Associated Press today:

"I mean just what I say when I declare that if New York fails to awake, we shall introduce militant methods of the type used in England."

"I also meant what I said before leaving America about spending no money in England. But I was compelled to stay at this hotel because I found spring cleaning under way in my daughter's home."

Mrs. Belmont and Mrs. Catt have reached such a complete agreement that they will travel together in the same carriage to tonight's meeting of protest against forcible feeding. They will be accompanied by the Duchess of Marlborough.

The release on license of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, was today extended for a week as the result of a visit to her by the governor of Holloway jail and an official doctor.

WALL STREET.

New York, N. Y., April 29.—Despite a rise in American stocks in London, industrial stocks were weakest at the outset here today. Lack of support most significant feature of speculation the well known issues was the steel, steel, Harriman and other leaders touching new low levels.

Sentiment was uncomproisingly bearish. Traders on the short side of the market made the most of the political situation here and abroad, the financial embarrassment of the Southwestern roads and announcement of a forthcoming issue of $15,000,000 New York City 4-12 bonds, which exercised a depressing influence on outstanding issues. Covering by bear traders brought back prices before noon to about yesterday's close.

Bonds were easy. Restricted dealings did not affect the stability of the market, prices holding well, despite the paucity of the demand. New York City new 4-12 per cent bonds were dealt in on the curb at 100 3/4. Older city issues bearing the same interest rate changed hands on the board at 101 1/2.

Railroad stocks went off sharply, Canadian Pacific selling five points under yesterday's closing and other shares getting back to around the morning's lowest. Steel and Alameda-Copper at touched the day's litical advices from the Scutari incident and were responsive to the day's Wholesale liquidation broke out again on news of serious disturbances in foreign markets, on account of the belligerent attitude of Austria. Bear operators took full advantage of the opportunity presented to raid the list and prices crumbled quickly under savage attacks.

Year's low figures were registered by practically every stock of first importance. Canadian Pacific slumped seven points and the list generally one to three points.

U. S. STEEL'S REGULAR DIVIDEND

New York, N. Y., April 29.—The United States Steel corporation today declared its regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent on the common stock and 1 3/4 on the preferred stock.

THE AIR OF HUSTLE AND INDUSTRY IS INFECTIOUS.

Stores and factories are reopening and reconstruction work is well under way.

General W. H. Bixby, chief of the army engineers, has advised members of congress whose districts were flooded that a board of engineers has been named to consider measures to prevent repetition of the disaster. He has asked the representatives to advise their people so that conferences may be arranged.

SENATOR OWEN IS SUING FOR A FEE

THE OKLAHOMA SENATOR BRINGS SUIT AGAINST CONSTITUENTS FOR BIG FEE IN LAND MATTERS.—THE MATTER WAS GIVEN GREAT PUBLICITY AT THE TIME.

OWEN'S CONFEREES ARE ALL DEAD

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, D. C., April 29.—For the first time in the history of the United States, a United States senator is suing his political constituents for a legal fee for securing legislation for them. The claimant is Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, and his case was argued before the court of claims yesterday.

It is true that the legislation was secured for his constituents before he became their United States senator, but even so, the affair is unusual.

The Owen claim is for 15 per cent of $15,000,000, at which figure the senator estimates the estate he, with others, obtained for the Mississippi Choctaws.

Although Senator Owen is of Indian blood, he is not a Choctaw, but a Cherokee, and it was while pressing the claims of the eastern Cherokees for whom he recovered $800,000 in 1906, that the battle for the Mississippi Choctaws was first taken up. So his brief sets forth.

A number of other attorneys have intervened in the suit now pending, and the total of their claims, if allowed by the court, would exceed the $15,000,000 at which the entire properties of the tribe are valued. In other words, after winning their claim from the government, worth that amount, they would still be owing their lawyers.

Owen pleads that he and his associates, Charles F. Winton, James K. Jones, former senator from Arkansas and former chairman of the Democratic national committee, and Walter A. Logan, took up their work for these Indians when the latter were in "an extremely impoverished condition, doing the hardest day labor at a very low wage, chopping wood, making rails, building fences, plowing and hoeing cotton, under conditions almost of quasi peonage."

There was another condition of these and other Indians which Senator Owen does not recite, and that was that they were so beset by lawyers of various degrees of professional standing so that in May 1900, congress passed an act making void any contract entered into by the Mississippi Choctaws, these including several hundred made with the Choctaw Cotton company, a company organized by Owen.

The passage of this law made it necessary for Owen and his associates to secure the passage of an act by congress letting them sue in the court of claims. In 1905, they tried to get it, but failed, and Owen's brief says, "pledged and contracted to pay 20 per cent of their compensation in order to obtain the jurisdictional act of 1906."

Senator Owen says this was pledged to James K. Jones, whose term as senator from Arkansas had expired March 4, 1903. For this contingent fee Jones undertook to lobby for the passage of the bill. Jones is now dead, as are Logan and Winton, the other associates of Owen in this affair.

The next year, congress passed the law letting Owen and his associates sue, and Owen's brief enrolls Jones as one of those who now brings a claim against the Choctaws for their services covering the period of ten years, during all but three of which Jones was a member of the United States senate. Thus, Owen's brief puts Jones, now dead, in the anomalous position of claiming a large sum of money for services rendered as a lobbyist for the Mississippi Choctaws while he was a United States senator.

Owen says: "Considering the results accomplished in obtaining for the Mississippi Choctaws a high social and political status in Oklahoma, improved school privileges and church privileges, all of which they did not enjoy in Mississippi; a salubrious climate instead of the swamps of Mississippi; considering the gigantic property rights obtained, the extent of services through ten years of unremitting activity, and the expenditure by the petitioners of approximately $50,000 of money, which would have more than doubled in value if invested in Oklahoma, etc., it is respectfully insisted that the court allow a fee of 15 per cent of the value of such estate valued at $15,000,000."

EXECUTION WAS MERCIFUL AND SURE

Captain Fred Fornoff, was seen by a member of the New Mexican staff on his return from Socorro, where his official duties called him as a member of the mounted police, to attend and guard the two condemned men and to be present at the hanging last Friday, of Frazer and Granado.

He has been in the mounted police service for many years and has seen similar happenings. The officers were up all night and when they walked out in the early morning, to witness the execution and to see that the condemned men were guarded properly to the last, he said that the night's

BLOTCHES ON FACE DRY AND SCALY

Eczema Began in Hair. Spread to Face. Came on Hand and All Over Fingers. Itching Terrible. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

205 Kanter Ave., Detroit, Mich.—"Some time last summer I was taken with eczema. It began in my hair first with red blotches then scaly, spreading to my face. The blotches were red on my face, dry and scaly, not large on my scalp they were larger, some scabby. They came on my hands. The inside of my hands were all little lumps as though full of shot about one-sixteenth of an inch under the skin. Then they went to the outside and between and all over my fingers. It also began on the bottoms of my feet and the calves of my legs, and itchy, oh, My! I never had anything like it and hope I never will again. The itching was terrible. My hands got so I could scarcely work.

"I tried different eczema ointments but without results. I also took medicine for it but it did no good. I saw the advertisement for a sample of Cuticura Ointment and Soap and sent for one. They did me so much good I bought some more using them as per directions and in about three weeks I was well again. Cuticura Soap and Ointment entirely cured me." (Signed) Beff, Passaic, Apr. 8, 1912.

A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

travel and vigil had told on the officers, and every one of them looked ghastly. One time in the early days the captain said he saw two men hanging in Leadville in the presence of 10,000 people and it was a spectacle that few cared to witness again. It is reported that some of the members of the press who were detailed to be present at this recent execution have done the last bit of that kind of reporting that they ever care to. All reports of the execution seem to bear out the fact that the strongest of men do not look upon such events or spectacles as they used to and point to the fact that for the majority of humanity it has lost whatever may have been of attractiveness. As reported in the news dispatches death was instantaneous, and the execution was carried out with the orderliness and completeness of arrangement provided for by law, reflecting credit on the officers, in their efforts to make it as merciful and as sure as possible.

WERE "CONSTITUTIONAL FATHERS" REALLY "BIG BUSINESS" GRAFTERS?

Columbia College Professor "Discovers" the Great Document "Shoe-Horned Through" and "Cleaned Up" $40,000,000 for its Framers! No Wonder Wall Street Reverses this Property Reversing Instrument, he Says.

(By Judson King.)

The celebrated "fathers" who met in secret conclave at Philadelphia in 1787 and, without authority, framed the constitution of the United States actually represented a powerful group of business men, which by virtue of one clause alone, cleaned up $40,000,000 in profits through its adoption!

The "fathers" were personally and financially interested in the results of their labors. Forty out of the 55 members were in on this deal and some made as high as $100,000!

The constitution is an economic document—cold as a chattel mortgage—deliberately designed to enable the then "Big Business" element to control the small farmers and working classes for their own financial benefit!

It was "ratified" by less than one-sixth of the adult males and its "adoption" secured by methods which would do credit to a modern political boss! Though written in severe, historical phrases these are some of the startling declarations of a new book, "An Economic Interpretation of the Constitution of the United States," by Dr. Charles A. Beard, associate professor of politics in Columbia university, and published today by the Macmillan company.

It is the most remarkable book ever written about the constitution. It literally annihilates the old time tradition that the constitution is a sort of sacred chair of liberty and justice written by unselfish patriots gifted with little less than divine wisdom.

This book is not written by a half-informed radical. The author is an eminent authority on American history and politics. He is conservative to a degree, but he has the courage to reveal facts unknown or ignored by any other author to date.

Every statement is backed by documentary evidence. The conclusions are as dispassionate as those of a scientist examining paleozoic bones. The author has spent months delving in records at the treasury department in Washington, which have not seen the light or been examined by a human being since Washington's day and were buried in dust and dirt so deep they had, as he says, to be "excavated with a vacuum cleaner."

He has ransacked thousands of old wills, scanned thousands of unpublished manuscripts in the congressional library, unearthed private letters, read hundreds of old newspapers, pamphlets, and so on. The results are astounding.

For example, Professor Beard has made a sort of Bradstreet's report upon the financial interests and standing of each of the 55 members of the constitutional convention.

This shows that in that conclave the public security interests were represented by 40 men who held quantities of soldiers' script and public securities; the money lenders by 24 men engaged in that practice; the land speculators by 14 men who held vast tracts of western lands; the merchants and manufacturers by 11 men directly concerned and the slave holders by 15 men who owned slaves.

Not a single man in the convention represented the small farmers, the working classes or the propertyless masses.

The actual political opinions of each member, given in a separate chapter, were based directly upon their economic interests and would delight the heart of a present day corporation.

They, Beard seems to show, coined the phrases used by Root, Taft and Bailey today. To them constitution making and government were strictly business propositions. They took good care of themselves and their class—the business interests. There is not a human throbbing in their deliberations.

Hamilton argued that one great advantage of encouraging manufacturing would be to better utilize the labor of "women, girls and children of a tender age."

The people, as "father" Gerry put it, was a "great beast," to be restrained. They feared democracy, and for good reasons.

For example, they provided for the payment in full of the state and national debts, although the face value of the paper represented millions more than had ever been paid for it.

Then as soon as Washington was elected and Hamilton's "funding" scheme was established, 40 of the men who drew that provision turned up at the United States treasury with quantities of soldiers' script and public securities which were promptly exchanged by Hamilton for government bonds. This script and paper had been bought by the fathers and their friends—the bankers and speculators—from the needy soldiers at five, ten, and twenty cents on the dollar! Some of them had actually been "tipped off." Beard declared, from the interior of the secret convention as to what would be done—and they bought right and left. The whole transaction netted a profit of at least $40,000,000 and was, the author laconically remarks "the first really great achievement of nascent capitalism in the United States." Forty millions then would relatively equal two thousand millions now!

The continental congress could not pay the soldiers and the national debts because taxes were then levied direct, in proportion to each man's wealth, and the rich refused to pay! That is the big secret why the old government failed.

The new government succeeded because the fathers abolished direct taxes, hated by the rich, and threw the burden of the support on the backs of the masses by means of tariff law.

Chief Justice Marshall used to declaim from the supreme bench that the constitution was made for the benefit of "all" and ratified by all the people. Professor Beard with his facts seems to prove that it was approved by less than one-sixth of the adult males of the period, and that it was "put over" by the wealthy classes in a high handed manner; large numbers of its supporters in the state conventions held public securities; that in many instances practices akin to modern bribery were used to whip into line delegates who had been pledged by the people to vote against it. In fact, that there was the hottest kind of a fight between the people and the business interests—and business won!

Says the author in his conclusion: "The constitution was essentially an economic document that the fundamental rights of private property are anterior to government and morally beyond the reach of the popular majorities."

"It was not the creature of the whole people," as the jurists have said, but the work of a consolidated group whose interests knew no state boundaries and were truly nationwide in their scope."

Whoever reads this book will understand, I think, why Wall street reveres the constitution. It was written by men of their own kind and that is why we have had a government of the people, by property and for property ever since!

FOUR EX-POLICE INSPECTORS ARE INDICTED IN N. Y.

New York, April 29.—Four former police inspectors, charged indirectly with grafting and directly with conspiring to obstruct justice prepared to face District Attorney Whitman today at the opening of the most important police trial here since the Becker case. The defendants—Denise Sweeney, James E. Hussey, James F. Thompson, and John J. Murtha—were indicted recently after the district attorney's office had uncovered a system of corruption connected with disorderly hotels.

The men are charged with conspiring to keep out of the state George A. Seipp, a hotel keeper whose confession to paying blackmail money to the police forms the basis of the prosecution.

Not since the Shaw trial has such an array of counsel for the defense appeared in court here. George Gordon Battle and Alfred J. Talley, represented Sweeney; Francis L. Wellman, and Herber C. Smythe looked after Hussey's interest; John B. Stanchfield, and A. L. Davis, represented Thompson and Abraham S. Gilbert was present in behalf of Murtha. The defendants appeared in civilian attire.

Peter Gerhardt, Famous Sprinter, and His 9-year-old Son, Whom He Hopes to Develop Into a Wonderful Track Man.

"Like father, like son," is an adage that applies aptly to the case of Peter Gerhardt, famous sprinter, and his 9-year-old son, whom he hopes to see as great as himself on the cinder path before many years have passed. Gerhardt who was a member of the American team at the Stockholm games, at 35, has retired after being in the game for 20 years, in which time he met the best in the world in the hundred.

While not a record-breaker, Gerhardt, even in the last years of his participation in track events, was a consistent performer. At Stockholm he ran first in one of the 100-yard heats, but did not finish. It is to perpetuate the name of Gerhardt in the sprints that he has taken his young son in hand and is showing him all of the tricks of the start and finish, and the boy has been such an apt pupil that the proud father expects to eclipse his own record. In a recent meet young Gerhardt did 80 yards in 12 seconds, which, for a kid of 9 in going some.

"GUNBOAT" SMITH.

From Du Maurier's "Trilby" to Smith's custom to look for a nice soft spot on which to drop. Time after time Smith stopped, or tried to stop, when things were not breaking right with him, and Smith and "streak" became synonymous.

Then came Buckley. The New Yorker was in California with Harlem Tommy Murphy and saw Smith in one of his good fights. He was impressed and invited the Gunner to join his stable. Smith accepted and ever since has fought like a champion, doing good work under the heaviest of fire. Not once under Buckley's management has Smith shown signs of lack of heart. The only way that Pacific coast fans can account for this wonderful transition is that Buckley possesses hypnotic power and by means of it has aroused the latent courage of a ring hound into a boxer with the courage of a lion and one hammering rather loudly on the championship door.

GOOD SPORT AHEAD FOR FANS

TOMORROW NIGHT A REAL BOXING MATCH WILL BE PULLED OFF AT THE ELKS OPERA HOUSE. "JACK" TORRES AND "KID" STERN WILL FIGHT IT OUT FOR 10 ROUNDS.

The lovers of the manly art of self defense will be offered a treat tomorrow (Wednesday) night at the Elks' theatre in this city, when the star boxing tournament, under the auspices of the Elks of this city and promoted by Director Mark Levy, of the New Mexico Athletic club will hold the boards at that house. Local interest centers in the bout in which our own Santa Fe boy, Mike Baca, will be one of the principals, and as he has trained consistently for the past week or ten days and his condition is as near perfect as possible, there will be no cause for defeat by him other than that he has met his master.

The first preliminary bout of six rounds will be between Young "Joe Rivers", of Albuquerque, and the "Insurrecto Kid", of Sacramento, and lately of Albuquerque; this is the 105 pound or batam class, and the little fellows are both old enough at the game to make further comment unnecessary; the next bout of six rounds, will be between "Al" Johnson and Benny Carson, featherweights, both of Albuquerque, and both of whom are graduates of the Mary Levy School of Boxing; both will weigh in at 122 pounds. Then comes the bout which the local fans will watch with interest as the fortunes of the local boy, Mike Baca, are dependent upon his showing in this bout with "Young Canole", late of Dallas, Texas, but now a resident of the New Mexico metropolis. These boys will weigh in at 130, and it will be a battle royal, according to the predictions of the promoter.

Then comes the big card of the evening, or the main bout between Jack Torres, a lifelong resident of Albuquerque, as is his opponent "Kid" Stern; great rivalry exists between these two boys, and it has been nip and tuck between them in picking a favorite, and an effort will be made by both to "bring home the bacon" in the contest tomorrow night. This will be the heaviest bout of the evening, both boys weighing in at 135 pounds, and will be for 10 rounds.

The entire program as above outlined will be put on tomorrow (Wednesday) night immediately after the picture show, and the prices of admission are $1.15 and $2 for ringside seats. Those who have not secured seats should do so at once. All members of the entertainment committee have them for sale and the regular office at Fischer's drug store. The entire corps of promoters, handlers, trainers, etc., will arrive from Albuquerque tomorrow morning, coming to this city via automobiles, and they will be entertained by the members of the entertainment committee assisted by Jake Levy and Porter Jones of this city.

The referee and other officials will be announced later.

MATTHEWSON HAS A GREAT RECORD

If Hugh Chalmers were to offer a motor car to the National league pitcher having the best control Christy Mathewson of the Giants, undoubtedly would be the individual who would receive the machine.

What wonderful command "Big Six" has shown by the records. Matty now is entering on his fourteenth campaign in the parent organization, and in four seasons—1908, 1909, 1911 and 1912—his average of passes has been less than one to the game. The year he exhibited the most perfect control was 1908, when, almost unaided, he nearly pitched the New Yorkers to a pennant, and would have done so but for a certain incident which is now historical.

During that pennant pursuit McCraw's "master mechanic" labored in 56 engagements and countersigned only 42 complementaries, an average of 0.75 to the combat. Matty was almost as accurate last year when he handed out 34 free tickets to first in 43 skirmishes. In 1911 he averaged 0.84 gratuities to the game and in 1909 0.97. Matty was wildest when he made his start in 1900. He took part in portions of six games that season, riding his system of 22 passes.

The National league batters have been able to work Matty for only 775 complementaries in 516 championship games he has twirled, which means that he has issued only one and one-half free tickets for every contest in which he has taken part. "Big Six" also has been stingy in the matter of transportation in contests for baseball's blue ribbon. The White Elephants got only one pass from him in three games in 1905 and but three gifts in the same number of games six years later. Last season the Red Sox pried five bases on balls out of the pride of Manhattan in the three games he twirled.

Christy's strike-out record also calls for praise. If he does as well in the whiff line this season as he did in 1908 or in 1903 he will clinch his two thousand and five hundredth strike-out victim. He now has fanned 2,261 National league players in championship games and 41 American league players in contests for the world's title. The year Matty played the greatest havoc with batsmen was in 1903, when he set down 26 batters on strikes in 45 combats. Five years later, participating in 56 frays, McGraw's box marvel killed off 255 hitters on strikes.

THIRD BASE COACH COUNTS MOST SAYS TINKER

Cincinnati, O., April 29.—Joe Tinker says there are ten men in a game of baseball. To the nine who hold regular positions Joe adds the coacher at third base, and asserts his role is every bit as important as that of any of the others. Of course, there are only nine on the side that is in the field, but the side at bat, according to the new manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is incomplete without a smart ball player in the box a few feet outside the third-base line.

"I don't consider the first-base coacher a very important person," says Joe. "He may be of some account in catching signs or in disturbing a pitcher, but he has only to take care of the runner at first base, and that runner is in a position to take care of himself. But the man over at third must be alive and must know baseball pretty thoroughly. Innumerable games have been won because the third-base coacher knew when to have the runners take chances, and innumerable battles have been lost because 'bone' coaches held up runners or made them go ahead at the wrong times.

"With the Cubs we were always particular about our coaches at third base when a game was tight. I remember one occasion last spring. We were tied up to the eighth inning, and we got a man to second base with two out. King Cole was coaching at third. Some of us said to Chance, 'Will he know enough to send him in?' Meaning had Cole enough experience and knowledge of the game to coach the runner all the way from second on any sort of a hit. Chance immediately called Cole to the bench and sent out Artie Hoffman in his place. The batter hit a ground ball to the infield. It was fumbled momentarily and the play was made to first base too late to get the batter. Artie sent his man home without the slightest hesitation, and the winning run was scored, although the play at the plate was close.

"The other side didn't score in the next inning, and it was our game, but if Hoffman hadn't taken that chance at the right time we might have wound up in a tie or been beaten.

"Of course, some may suggest that we might have won any way; that the next batsman might have hit a home run if the runner had been held at third, but the only safe basis on which to figure baseball does is results. One can never tell what might have happened, but always what did happen and can make plans for the future.

"I believe a great deal of the recent success of the New York Giants is due to McGraw's efficient coaching at third base. The New York club might have won two straight pennants without his advice, but I have seen lots of close games copied by his team because he knew how to coach."

Roger Bresnahan, the Cubs' new acquisition, always endeavors to shield his young pitchers from whatever cases of rattles may be induced by the conversation of coaches at first and third bases.

"Whenever I catch a coacher trying to upset my pitcher," Roger says, "I shout encouragement to my man as loudly as I can. And I usually succeed in drowning out the coacher."

No one doubts this latter statement, for Roger certainly can make a noise when he wants to. In this respect he is the antithesis of John Kling. John usually talks, but his remarks are pianissimo and addressed to the batter or umpire. Bresnahan's voice can be heard all over the lot. Although Tinker and Chance are gone, the Cubs will hardly be known as a quiet bunch of athletes as long as they have Evers, Bresnahan and Zimmerman.

GOTCH GOES UNDER KNIFE.
Marshalltown, Ia., April 29.—Frank Gotch, of Humboldt, Iowa, champion wrestler, underwent an operation in a hospital here today for the removal of a growth of the turbinate bones in his nose, said to be the result of an accident several years ago. Only one side of the nose was operated on today.

A MIXED ASSORTMENT.
Chicago, Ill., April 29.—When the Cincinnati National league team arrived here today it was discovered that the trunks containing bats, gloves and uniforms were missing.

This was not a complimentary exhibition meant to assuage the humiliation of the cubs when they appeared at Cincinnati recently, minus their bats, but a real dilemma.

Finally President Comisky of the White Sox, was reached and he unearthed an odd lot of uniforms, bats, mitts and other paraphernalia and Manager Tinker led his athletes to the west side for practice.

PREPARING FOR 1914.
Chicago, Ill., April 29.—President Comisky, of the Chicago Americans, plans to increase the capacity of the South Side baseball park from 20,000 to 45,000 for the season of 1914. When the enlargement has been completed the White Sox park will have the largest capacity of any baseball plant in the country.

According to the plans, the grand stand will seat 25,000, the fifty-cent pavillion 10,000 and the twenty-five cent bleachers 10,000. The improvements will cost $150,000.

President Comisky said last night that he never ceased regretting that it became necessary to close the gates in 1911 in one game between his team and the Chicago Nationals in the city series. The paid admissions on that day were $36,368, and probably 5,000 were turned away.

INTERESTING FIGURES ON EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.
Washington, D. C., April 29.—Exports from the United States to five principal countries of South America, Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Peru—increased almost 12 per cent during the first nine months of the present fiscal year, as compared with the same period last year.

Imports from those countries increased only 5 per cent, as shown by figures prepared by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

The exports this year totaled $94,360,000 against $84,400,000 last year; the imports, $145,300,000 against $138,500,000. Of the trade with the five countries named, the exports to Argentina and Chile showed slight decreases, as also the imports from Uruguay. In every other case there was an increase. The imports from Brazil in the comparative nine month period, increased from $85,700,000 last year to $104,500,000 this year; from Argentina from $19,000,000 to $22,500,000 and from Chile from $13,500,000 to $18,500,000. Exports to Brazil increased from $29,440,000 to $32,000,000, while those to Chile decreased from $12,200,000 to $11,800,000 and those to Argentina from $10,400,000 to $39,900,000.

QUESTION GOES OVER

Washington, D. C., April 29.—By a vote of 13 to 1 the senate canal committee today decided to put over to the regular December session of congress all questions of Panama canal tolls, including the Senator Root amendment to repeal the free passage provision of the Panama law. Senator Brandegee voted against it.

Before the vote was taken, senators pointed out that the Democrats were committed to tariff and currency legislation at the extra session and that they would have enough to do to legislate on those subjects.

The overwhelming vote by which the committee agreed to the motion was taken to indicate that there would be no action on the tolls question for several months unless President Wilson chooses to exert his influence to have it reopened.

Some senators today considered it doubtful if the president could cause the committee to change its mind unless there were new and pressing developments on the negotiations between the state department and the British foreign office.

BIG 'BILL' DOYLE
RESIGNS FROM THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

California Diplomat Was Identified With Trade Expansion; Was Chief of Latin-American Bureau.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—William F. S. Doyle, of California, chief of the Latin-American division of the state department for the last two years has resigned to engage in private business. Mr. Doyle was closely identified with the development of the policy of trade expansion familiarly designated "dollar diplomacy" under the Taft administration and represented the American government on several important missions.

Although Secretary Bryan would have preferred Mr. Doyle to remain until his return to Washington from California, if not indefinitely, Mr. Doyle was moved by private consideration to request the immediate acceptance of his resignation. The Latin-American bureau will be temporarily in charge of Fred M. Dearing, the assistant chief who has been especially directing Mexican relations of the department.

Washington newspaper men were fond of Mr. Doyle who looked like a foot ball athlete and who possessed a genial, western air. Mr. Doyle toured South America with Secretary Root's party and became well acquainted with the needs of the Latin-American republics.

DANGEROUS BLAZE ON CELTIC.

Boston, Mass., April 29.—Several thousand pounds of powder were in close proximity to a lively fire on board the navy supply ship Celtic at the Charleston navy yard today.

The flames spread to the magazine door and it took the entire crew, with help from the yard, to save the ship from destruction and prevent a possible loss of life. The blaze started among oil barrels in the forward hold.

ELEPHANT DOES TRICK NOT ON PROGRAM.

Oakland, Calif., April 29.—An elephant stuck his trunk beneath a circus tent early this morning, picked up G. T. Gardiner of Jacksonville, Fla., a circus employee, dragged him into the tent and hurled him through the canvas walls. Gardiner's wrist was broken, a number of ribs fractured and he is otherwise seriously injured.

THE WAR CRY.

The war cry has been started in congress. There are always a few in every crisis who jump to the front to wave the war torch, without a consideration of what it means in sacrifice of life and treasure, and without an actual knowledge of the nation's condition in relation to so important a question as involving the United States in a war with a foreign power.

We speak sarcastically of Japan as a bankrupt nation, unprepared for war.

That is what Russia thought but a few years ago, and the big bear was treated to a surprise party.

What condition are we in today to hold the Philippines? "Let them go," many of our people will say, but after all our national honor is involved in it and the eyes of the world will be upon us. That, in itself, is a big consideration.

But there is more beyond that. How well are we prepared to defend the Pacific coast? What sort of a navy have some of these very men who clamor most loudly for war, given us to aid us in our fight, if we have one?

The army is another question. We could overwhelm the Japanese territory with our soldiery if we could get them on foreign soil, but the walking between America and Japan is not good and we are sadly lacking in transportation facilities, and machines for our protection.

These will be important factors for consideration, which the war advocates seem to forget.

There is a grave question here as to how far California has a right to go in involving her sister states in a foreign war at this time. There are a few other things to be considered than the bitterness of the citizens of the Golden state toward the Japanese.

This recalls General Sherman's famous description of war, and Uncle Sam will do well to pause just at this point, before he rushes his people into such a predicament, without a careful and very serious consideration.

Prior to the Spanish-American war the members of congress shouted imperiously and vociferously for immediate war.

With a president of less stamina, determination and patriotism than that possessed by McKinley, we might have rushed, unprepared, into that conflict.

Let us hope that the president in this crisis will display as wise statesmanship.

A SIMPLE PRESCRIPTION.

The late Mr. Morgan, be his faults what they may, had one big, brave merit. He had unlimited confidence in the future of his country. Much more confidence than the smaller men, mostly beneficiaries of past tariff legislation, who are now sitting moody and glum in leather covered club easy chairs and predicting dire things because "that man Wilson" has had the nerve to stand to his tariff reform pledges.

How much of this pessimism is genuine and how much put on for political effect isn't easy to say. Like biliousness, pessimism often grows on itself. Also, begun as a pose, it is liable to form a habit; and the habit of trying to throw a fit of gloom every time a congress dares to say "boo" to the sacred high tariff is of long standing among a large proportion of our captains of industry.

At any rate, here is good advice to the present prophets of calamity: Take a day off and walk or ride into the country.

Notice how fresh and fine and green nature is looking.

Observe how cheerful the birds and the bees are. See how the grass and the leaves and the flowers fairly leap with joy at the caresses of the warm rains, the gentle zephyrs, the gay sunshine of spring.

You can't see much of the United States in one day's journey, but, believe us, the rest is pretty much like what you do see.

And there's a lot of it, too—far too much for a few disappointed favorites of one-time privilege to affect very seriously or for long at a time.

The bees don't need a high tariff to get the honey out of the clover, nor the birds to mate and breed and sing. The green in the fields isn't altered a bit by what "that man Wilson" is doing.

Moreover, when nature encounters a setback, instead of grouching she takes up a notch in her belt and gets busy making good the loss.

Nature is efficient. Nature doesn't fear the challenge of competition. Nature doesn't go around with a long face mourning for privileges lost or beseeching for artificial protection.

There is nature in even these pessimistic manufacturers; good nature, sporting blood. They won't stay at their present grouching long. Pretty soon they'll realize, if in the back of their heads they don't know it full well now, that this high tariff surgery had to be; that "soonest ended soonest mended;" and that it's a fruitless as well as a foolish pose to pretend that a few per cent in a tariff schedule down at Washington makes the difference between success or failure for an upstanding American business man worth his salt.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

THAT LIVING COST.

I saw a letter in the Chicago Tribune, on that wonderful page that tells how to live and save and yet have. There are so many suggestions as to the high cost of living and how to avoid it. In the letter referred to a young woman, married a year she says, springs the chestnut that two can live almost as cheaply as one.

There is always a time when we believe that, but the theory fades later before the unanswerable fact that they can't.

One way in which the author of this wise letter saves money is, according to her statement, by making her husband's summer underwear and cutting his hair, for which latter bit of artistic work, he pays her 35 cents which she puts in her bank.

The summer underwear proposition may be all right, as no one sees that but the one who wears it and the one who constructed it, as she does the washing too, but when it comes to the proposition of the hair there is a chance for argument as to whether that is real economy or not. If the money goes into the wife's bank, she may see the necessity of this tonsorial operation on more frequent occasions than if the work were done in the usual way and in the place where it ought to be done. Then too, a man's self respect is something and no one can feel much of that going about with an amateur hair cut. It was bad enough when we were kids, and dreaded to go into the school room where we were forced to take our hats off and reveal what had been done to us. That home hair cut was a fright. If it was humiliating to a boy, how much more so to a man.

I am in sympathy with economy and all that, but I do think that a man is entitled to retain his self respect along with it.

A PLEASANT FEATURE.

The meeting at the Presbyterian church on Sunday night last, aside from other features presented one that was most pleasant and that was a subscription of $53 toward the fund for the completion of the colored people's church now in process of construction.

It was an exhibition of the right spirit, and was helped, perhaps, by the presence of the gentlemen who added to the evening's enjoyment by their singing, and by the graceful and interesting little talk given by Mr. Johnson, describing the personnel of the members of the Williams Jubilee Singers. The few remarks made by Mr. Johnson, without preparation, only added still further to the respect one must feel for the members of the talented troupe.

This brings to mind the mooted question of the treatment of, and feeling toward the members of the negro race.

I always admired Roosevelt in the Booker Washington affair. I am a believer in the recognition of ability and refinement and culture, no matter under what skin it may be found, and I have not witnessed any more ladylike and gentlemanly appearing persons anywhere than those who sang in Santa Fe at the Elks' theatre, the penitentiary and the Presbyterian church.

I could never sympathize with that spirit that would refuse entrance to a hotel to a lady because the blood of a chastened race flowed in her veins or a gentleman because his skin was black.

Character and clean living and refinement ought to count for something and often those who so fiercely denounce a man on account of his race, are not worthy to lace his shoes.

It is shoddy of the most pronounced type, this intolerance of race, regardless of worth.

A gentleman can be such or a lady be all the same implies regardless of the color that nature has given to the skin.

ANOTHER GONE.

One after another our idols fall and our legends are swept away and the stories and songs that helped make childhood joyous are stamped with the brand of fiction and untruth.

Now, Mary's little lamb has got to go. There's a man in Fitchburg, Mass., who declares that he has discovered that the lamb was really an old sheep owned by a girl named Lucy when the poem was written some 90 or more years ago. The poet decided that "Mary" and "lamb" would sound better, it is said, hence the change.

That makes us feel sort of sheepish. For years this lamb and Mary have been with us. From generation to generation they have figured in the nursery and have appeared on the school roster as the first effort toward oratory which in later years swelled out into the "Rhine." Some of these days an idol breaker will come along and say, "There wasn't no such place as Bingen on the Rhine," or some unsentimental chap will learnedly announce that the star every kid has told about, did not twinkle at all and that it never did look like a diamond.

So Mary's lamb was an old sheep. That is kind of making a goat of Mary with her lamb story, and her name was Lucy, too. The whole poetic story has gone glimmering and from now on we'll have to think of it as, "Lucy had a woolly sheep," etc.

There isn't any use of going on with it because no one can make much poetry out of just a sheep.

Well, we can only take these shocks and endure them as best we can, but it does hurt to have one after another of our beliefs shattered in the cold light of fact, and to have those things taught us in childhood knocked out of existence in later life, so we have to learn them all over again in a different way.

There are any "children" in the Roswell public life refusing to "play" the sooner Roswell replaces them with "grown-ups" the better it will be for Roswell.—Roswell Record.

That Salary Bill.

A brother down the line finds fault with The News on account of its position on the county salary bill, claiming we have howled so much about the graft in county salaries in the past that we should support the governor in his efforts to cut down expenses.

The salary bill last vetoed by Mr. McDonald provided for salaries on an average, for this county, from $2500 to $3000 per annum. These were the high salaried men, such as the sheriff, treasurer, etc. The governor wishes to reduce these amounts.

Under the fee system these officers drew from $5000 to $8000 and better per year for their work. It is barely possible that there are newspaper men in this state to whom the difference in these amounts is a negligible quantity, but to us they look like mountains.

The newspaper in question raised no kick when these officers were enjoying the benefits of the fee system, but now that a reduction is to be made, it wishes to cut wages until in at least one instance, a county officer would be forced to pay out all of his salary for clerk hire.—Pecos Valley News.

Interest in the good roads question has practically come to a standstill, since last fall. From all appearances a revival of the Good Roads association would be of much benefit to the roads. It seems to be epidemic with associations to die a natural death after one or two meetings.—Cimarron News-Citizen.

Correct Doctrine.

Never send a dollar away from home when the article that the dollar will purchase can be obtained at home. Money is our financial blood. Its circulation keeps the business body alive. Bleed that body by sending money away and business will soon put on a look of lethargy. Always trade at home. Watch the bargains offered by enterprising advertisers in this paper and you will learn the best places to spend those home dollars.—Raton Reporter.

Grand Jury Will Meet.

When people go fishing on Sunday—on the Lord's day, before the fishing season is open, and the law permits them to fish, thus violating the laws of both God and man, a good soaking wetting is no punishment at all for the crime they have committed. It is a wonder that lightning don't strike them, or some other dire calamity come to them; and it will, sooner or later. When people persist in defying both God and man, there is nothing sadder than that it is only a question of time when they'll get what's coming to them. Be warned then, fellow citizens. The Lord reigns, and the grand jury will meet by and by.—Lakewood Progress.

It's The Women.

The unrest now prevailing in the civilized world does not stand alone; at different periods of the world's history similar phenomena have occurred. Among the most pronounced of modern days were the great French Revolution of 1789, and the movement for industrial and political reform that agitated the greater part of Europe in 1848-49. Each of those movements, like others before them, produced a distinct advance in the social and business order, even though not all the progress aimed at was achieved. That which is peculiar to the present unrest is the prominence of women who are seeking not only the right to vote but also a radical improvement in the social and industrial position of women, and they will likely gain their point.—Silver City Enterprise.

A Valuable Asset.

The people of Vermont are waking up and going after the automobile dollar. A Wordsburger, whose name is on the list of those who have paid licenses at the office of the secretary of state, this week received from the secretary of state of Vermont a beautifully printed circular, giving pictures of Vermont scenery, and telling of some of the places of interest and the fine roads of the Green mountain states, and offering to send road maps, lists of hotels, and other things that a man touring the state in a car would want to know. When the secretary of a state gets into the advertising game, boosting the state as a pleasure resort, it can be assumed that the man in a motor car is considered a valuable asset in that state.—Lordsburg Liberal.

Won't Play.

The old principle that the majority should rule holds good even in Roswell and even on the Roswell school board, and the fact that the majority happens to be made up of new members should make no difference in the application of the principle, for the majority may be right even in Roswell as the morning paper aptly remarks.

Among children, even those of mature age, it sometimes happens that because a child cannot have its way in everything, that child will refuse to "play" and will go off in a corner and sulk by himself.

There are children that can give up and that do "play" when things are not all their own way, and then again there are "grownups" that never get over their childish ways and carry their childish principles into the affairs of grown-up life.

If there are any "children" in the Roswell public life refusing to "play" the sooner Roswell replaces them with "grown-ups" the better it will be for Roswell.—Roswell Record.

A Staple Medicine for All Families

From Infancy to Old Age a Reliable Family Laxative is Most Needed—Try This One.

It is inconceivable in this day of general intelligence that any family would be without a simple remedy for the minor ills of life, for often by giving such a remedy in time a serious disease can be frustrated and a life saved.

For example, if at the first sign of a cold a simple laxative-remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin were given the beginning of a serious lung affection or of typhoid fever might be avoided. And also in headaches, nervousness, etc., a small dose of this remedy would relieve the congestion and replace distress with comfort. Mothers give it to their infants and little children, and grown people take it with equally good effect.

Thousands of good American homes are never without it, among them the home of Dr. Geo. T. Hull, Prop. Hull Drug Co., Prue, Okla. Dr. Hull has been for a number of years recommended Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in his practice and writes that "for stomach and bowel disorders, worms in children and a general laxative-remedy it has no equal." Syrup Pepsin saves the health of the family, and it saves doctor's bills. It is a guaranteed cure for any form of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, etc. Have no hesitancy about giving it to any member of the family however young or old, for it contains nothing injurious to the youngest person.

A bottle can be obtained at any nearby drug store for fifty cents or one dollar. The latter size is more economical and is bought by those who have already convinced themselves of its merits. Syrup Pepsin users learn to discard pills, salts, cathartics and purgatives generally as they are too great a shock to any average system.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

NEWS OF THE STATE

GRANT COUNTY GOT IT.

A killing freeze prevailed last Wednesday night, ice being frozen an inch thick. However, a brisk wind prevented heavy damage to the fruit, although the peaches were practically all destroyed by the freeze several weeks ago, so experienced fruit growers in this section claim. From indications there will be a good apple crop and part of a crop on the smaller fruits.—Silver City Independent.

AFTER ARTESIAN WATER.

Charles Bryan has started on a deep well in the Animas valley. He thinks that he can develop artesian water in the valley, and is going after it, if he has to go a thousand feet. Wise men agree that the formation of the country indicates that artesian water can probably be obtained. The formation is similar to that of the San Simon valley, from which it is separated by the Peloncillo mountains, and the drillers are getting plenty of artesian water in that valley.—Lordsburg Liberal.

NEVER BETTER.

Fine rains have visited this section, and we believe the whole Pecos valley during the past week. Sunday afternoon, we had a very fine rain, and again Sunday night. It is thought that from one and a half to two inches of water fell at these two downpours. Then on Tuesday afternoon another splendid rain fell, and a little more during the night. There is a better season in the ground than we have ever known at this time of the year, and everybody feels good. The tomatoes, cantaloupes and other garden truck will just get up and hump now, and pretty soon we will be living in clover.—Lakewood Progress.

FATALLY INJURED.

Marcelino Gutierrez, a valued employee of the large construction camp near Dorsey, was fatally injured yesterday morning while attempting to alight at Dorsey from Santa Fe train No. 1. His neck and right leg were broken by being thrown from the step of the car when the train started to pull up after having stopped at Dorsey station. Physicians were summoned but no assistance could be rendered to the man, who died after lying several hours unconscious. The body was brought to Raton last evening and is now awaiting the arrival of the family from Colorado to attend the burial service, which will be held from the Johnson undertaking parlors.—Raton Range.

TO BOOM THE COUNTRY.

A movement is on foot in this city to advertise the western half of Colorado county and part of Taos county as a great tourist country, and to have the railroad reduce their rates and make excursion rates effective May 1 and remain in effect during the summer vacation period.

This idea emanated from the mind of a business man here who is very enthusiastic over this proposition of carrying on an extensive advertising campaign providing the railroad company will make inducements for tourists to come.

The plan as it was outlined is comprehensive and compact in every detail, and is well prepared. It is proposed to issue a booklet which would be distributed among the people in the eastern states, upon whom the support would be dependent.—Cimarron News-Citizen.

GOT A BIG ONE.

Mr. George R. Beasley, the well known grower of Angora goats from Solidad Canon, was in town on a business trip Wednesday. Mr. Beasley is one of the typical old-timers—and has demonstrated what can be done in the wild arid region. Mr. Beasley came to this county in 1888, and has been in the cattle and goat business ever since. He now has 1200 high grade Angora goats. Mr. Beasley brought in with him the hide of a big mountain lion, which he and his son killed just after the lion had destroyed a fine calf. The lion measured nine feet, eight inches and he received $100 bounty and sold the hide for $15. Mr. Beasley and sons have killed 44 mountain lions since coming here and relate many exciting experiences in hunting. Mr. Beasley also has a garden and orchard and has demonstrated that fruit and vegetables can be grown there to good profit. He has nine fig trees that bear fine crops every year.—Rio Grande Republican.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.

Fire destroyed the house owned by E. E. McNatt in the south part of town Monday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock. The house just east of it, owned by Dr. J. Dale Graham, and occupied by W. N. Traylor, was badly burned on the west end, but the contents were not destroyed.

Absolutely nothing was saved from the McNatt residence, and Mr. McNatt who has been sleeping there for some weeks, had just time to escape without even saving his clothing. The fire is thought to have started in the flue over the kitchen. Fred Spencer discovered the fire and shot his gun a few times to give the alarm. Joe Cohen woke up and shot a couple of times and Nightwatchman Harper also shot. Cohen threw a bridge on his horse and rode down town to give the alarm and rang the bell till he was exhausted. The firemen turned out on a dead run and soon had two hose carts on the scene of the blaze, but they were not much good, owing to the fact that at the critical time something went wrong with the plug and very little water was to be had. The chemical engine was brought up, used and then recharged and used again.

In working to save the Graham property, Fay Linell, while on the roof of the house, turned the nozzle onto a live wire, and was badly shocked. He rolled off the roof and was taken to the Kemy residence, where he received treatment. His is the second member of the family to be hurt at a fire lately, Albert having his arm badly cut at the fire in the Advocate office.

During the fire the water heater in the McNatt house blew up and was thrown across lots, southeast, to the fence between the Graham property and that owned by Mr. Muncy. Fortunately no one was hit by it.—Pecos Valley News.

DISTINGUISHED MEN ARE COMING HERE

IN JULY THE BIG MEET OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL AND CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR WILL BE HELD IN SANTA FE—INTERESTING PROGRAM PLANNED.

Parts of the program for the three days' meeting of the Sunday schools of New Mexico and the Christian Endeavor of this state have been outlined. It includes some addresses by distinguished men engaged in Christian work throughout the United States and Canada.

This meeting which will last a week, will bring thousands of desirable visitors to Santa Fe, and the citizens will probably have a great many attractions to offer them at that time, besides the program which will be carried out, as the week is that of July 1 to 6, inclusive.

As far as can be made out to date, the program will include some interesting features. On the first evening, July 1, of the first three days that are to be taken up with the Sunday school meet, a public reception will be held at the old Palace of the Governors, to be addressed by prominent state and city officials preceding the reception proper, welcoming the delegates and visitors to the city.

On the evening of July 2 a meeting will be held at the Scottish Rite cathedral in the interest of the Sunday schools, and part of the evening will be taken up with an organ recital, to be followed by addresses, chief among which will be an able one by Right Rev. Edward A. Temple, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of north Texas, whose home is at Amarillo.

The evening of the third will be given up to a patriotic meeting, to be held at the hall of the house of representatives in the capitol. This coming, 3rd of July, should call out some stirring thoughts and eloquent words, being the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg. At that time no less a distinguished speaker than the Methodist Episcopal bishop, Francis J. McConnell of Denver will address the meeting.

The day sessions of the Sunday school convention will be given over to the transaction of business and the delivering of addresses morning and afternoon. Among some of the other speakers who will be present on the occasion will be Dr. David R. Boyd of the state university of Albuquerque. Some of the international Christian Endeavors of national fame who will not only address the state Christian Endeavors, but the Sunday schools as well, are William Shaw of Boston, Mass., the general secretary, and Karl Lehman of the same city, the field secretary. Others are: Rev. S. Alonzo Bright of Albuquerque, Dr. George T. Veal of Roswell, recent mayor of that city; Rev. Jesse S. Moore of East Las Vegas; Rev. W. C. Merritt of Claremont, California representative of the International Sunday School association, and Hon. W. M. McCoy, state senator of Montclair.

The fourth, fifth and sixth will be devoted to the meetings of the Christian Endeavor. At these meetings there will be addresses by Messrs. Shaw and Lehman, already mentioned, and some other prominent speakers from other parts of this country and from Canada. A song and praise service is being arranged to be held on old Fort Marcy in the early morning of the Fourth of July.

Recommended for a Good Reason. C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. DRUG FIEND ENDS LIFE. Denver, April 29.—The man who committed suicide on Lookout mountain, near Golden, Colo., and whose body was found by picknickers Sunday, was identified today as W. C. Cook, agent for an insurance company, with headquarters in Denver. About three weeks ago Cook sent in his papers, with a notification to the general agent of the company that he would not hear from him again.

Following a post mortem examination, physicians reported that there were indications that Cook had been addicted to the use of drugs.

IT'S A MISTAKE. Statements That May Be Investigated Testimony of Santa Fe Citizens.

Many people in a misguided effort to get rid of kidney backache, rely on plaster, liniments and other makeshifts. The right treatment is kidney treatment and a remarkably recommended kidney medicine is Doan's Kidney Pills. Santa Fe is no exception.

The proof is at your very door. The following is an experience typical of the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Santa Fe.

Thomas M. Baca, Cerrillos St., Santa Fe, New Mex., says: "My faith in Doan's Kidney Pills is just as strong today as when I publicly recommended them in 1902. I was caused much suffering by backaches for three years and though I was never laid off from work, my back was so painful that it was all I could do to get around. Doan's Kidney Pills entirely relieved me and I had no return attack of the trouble for six months. At that time my work brought on a recurrence of my trouble. I at once took Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me relief. A medicine that lives up to the claims for it like Doan's Kidney Pills do, deserves the strongest endorsement."

"I WOULDN'T BE A JUDGE"

Not even for all the gifts and possessions in the world—The responsibility is too tremendous, declares young girl who visited a police court for the first time in her life.

MISS PAULINE ANDREWS.

Pauline Andrews, 1512 First avenue, West Seattle, Wash., doesn't know a thing about law. She doesn't know much about lawyers or judges or prosecuting attorneys or prisoners. She's not a student of psychology, social science, penology, or criminology. She is just an average girl. Recently she visited a court room for the first time in her life. She watched Judge Ronald on the bench while four prisoners were called up for sentence. Miss Andrews gives her impressions to New Mexican readers in the following article:

(By Pauline Andrews.)

I saw a man, whose eyes were dull, whose face was hard, whose years seemed to weigh heavily upon him, stand up for sentence before Judge Ronald this morning.

He was sentenced. He was condemned to be a boy again!

The judge's tremendous power has been employed to take the unappealing look from this man's eyes, to remove the stone-harness from this man's features.

For the man that stood up before Judge Ronald was only a boy. He was 17 years old, though you would never believe it. The juvenile records, however, show positively just how old

The Joy Of Coming Motherhood

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

will be held at the Scottish Rite cathedral in the interest of the Sunday schools, and part of the evening will be taken up with an organ recital, to be followed by addresses, chief among which will be an able one by Right Rev. Edward A. Temple, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of north Texas, whose home is at Amarillo.

The evening of the third will be given up to a patriotic meeting, to be held at the hall of the house of representatives in the capitol. This coming, 3rd of July, should call out some stirring thoughts and eloquent words, being the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg. At that time no less a distinguished speaker than the Methodist Episcopal bishop, Francis J. McConnell of Denver will address the meeting.

The day sessions of the Sunday school convention will be given over to the transaction of business and the delivering of addresses morning and afternoon. Among some of the other speakers who will be present on the occasion will be Dr. David R. Boyd of the state university of Albuquerque. Some of the international Christian Endeavors of national fame who will not only address the state Christian Endeavors, but the Sunday schools as well, are William Shaw of Boston, Mass., the general secretary, and Karl Lehman of the same city, the field secretary. Others are: Rev. S. Alonzo Bright of Albuquerque, Dr. George T. Veal of Roswell, recent mayor of that city; Rev. Jesse S. Moore of East Las Vegas; Rev. W. C. Merritt of Claremont, California representative of the International Sunday School association, and Hon. W. M. McCoy, state senator of Montclair.

The fourth, fifth and sixth will be devoted to the meetings of the Christian Endeavor. At these meetings there will be addresses by Messrs. Shaw and Lehman, already mentioned, and some other prominent speakers from other parts of this country and from Canada. A song and praise service is being arranged to be held on old Fort Marcy in the early morning of the Fourth of July.

Recommended for a Good Reason. C. H. Grant, 230 Waverly St., Peoria, Ill., says: "Backache and congested kidneys made me suffer intense pains. Was always tired and floating specks bothered me. Took Foley Kidney Pills and say big improvement after third day. I kept on until entirely freed of all trouble and suffering. That's why I recommend Foley Kidney Pills. They cured me." DRUG FIEND ENDS LIFE. Denver, April 29.—The man who committed suicide on Lookout mountain, near Golden, Colo., and whose body was found by picknickers Sunday, was identified today as W. C. Cook, agent for an insurance company, with headquarters in Denver. About three weeks ago Cook sent in his papers, with a notification to the general agent of the company that he would not hear from him again.

Following a post mortem examination, physicians reported that there were indications that Cook had been addicted to the use of drugs.

OFFICIAL NEWS.

FEDERAL COURT NOTES.

In the cases of the government against the Colorado Southern railroad for violation of the thirteen hour law, tried before Judge Pope, judgment was allowed for $300 and for $100 respectively.

Judge Pope has appointed the following persons as U. S. court commissioners: R. D. Elder, St. Vrain; John A. Haley, Carrizozo; Harvey Usher, Buchanan; also J. P. Kennedy to succeed Frank Ulibarri, who resigned at Estancia.

In the case in equity of John Looney versus the Arlington Land company, Martin Borders Land company, and Thorp Bros., to restrain the defendants from transferring certain lands on the Tierra Amarilla grant, consisting of 5760 acres, the court granted a restraining order requiring the defendants to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be granted. The case will come up today for hearing.

In the case of the United States against Filaberto Jantet to cancel a patent, the court rendered a decree in favor of the defendant.

The following attorneys have been admitted to practice in the federal court: Michael J. McGinness, Santa Fe; Wm. B. Sweezy, Organ; Wm. M. Berger, Belen; John Y. Hewitt, White Oaks.

In the case of the Central Electric company against the Socorro Electric company an appeal was granted to the circuit court of appeals.

William H. Humble of Portales and Oscar W. Thompson of Albuquerque have been adjudicated bankrupts by the federal court.

A STEP BACKWARD.

The Equitable Surety company of St. Louis, Mo., is notified by Superintendent of Insurance Jacobo Chaves, that on account of the passage of chapter 87 of the laws of 1913, requiring all bond companies to make a deposit of $20,000 with the state before they can do any business in New Mexico that company will have to withdraw unless it makes such deposit. The Equitable has most assuredly decided that it will withdraw and in doing so has written a letter to all its agents throughout the state, in which it pays its respects to the recent aggregation of state solons who were in session here for some 60 days. The letter is as follows:

We beg to advise that on and after the first of June, the Equitable will retire from business in the state of New Mexico, and will write no business after that date. This by reason of a law under chapter 87 of the laws of 1913, and approved March 14, 1913, effective ninety days from date, requiring all companies writing fidelity and surety bonds in the state of New Mexico to make a special deposit of $20,000.

This deposit, being a special deposit, would not be an admitted asset by the insurance companies of other states, and in view of the limited volume of business we are receiving from your state, and the scattered points from which same is secured, we do not feel justified in continuing to write after that date, as we do not intend making the deposit.

We regret this action, which is on the part of the legislature of your state, and which, in our opinion, is a step backward, and one that is not in effect in but very few states in the Union. These states are small, and as a rule, unprogressive, and do not have the standing that the more progressive states have, chief among which are West Virginia, Virginia, South Dakota, Delaware, Idaho and Louisiana, and to which we note New Mexico has joined.

OIL INDUSTRY GROWING.
The Pecos Valley Oil and Gas company, through the Santa Fe railroad, has made application to the state corporation commission for a reduction of rates from Atoka to Roswell and Carlsbad. Atoka is a little side track south of Artesia. The state corporation commission has granted a reduction of rates. The former rates from Atoka to Roswell were 23 cents per 100 pounds, from Atoka to Carlsbad, 14 cents. The 23-cent rate is lowered to 10 cents and the 14-cent rate to 7 1/2 cents, between these points. In the application the company says: "The Pecos Valley Oil and Gas company of Artesia operate an oil well at Atoka, N. M., which produces about 50 barrels of crude oil per day and shipments have been made from Atoka to Roswell and Carlsbad since March 1, 1913, at the present fifth class rates; as special rates lower than the class rates are published in other territories, it is admitted that the present rates from Atoka to Roswell and Carlsbad are unreasonable to the extent that they exceed the proposed rates."

By order of the state corporation commission the new and lower rate is retroactive to March 1, last past. Other wells are being drilled in that vicinity and the oil industry there promises to be a large one.

AUTHORITY TO DO BUSINESS.
The state corporation commission has issued a certificate of authority today to the Providence Washington Fire Insurance company of Providence, Rhode Island, to do business in the state of New Mexico. This company is one of the oldest in the country, having been organized in 1799.

NEW DEPOT FOR SILVER CITY.
On order of corporation commission a new depot will be erected at Silver City, and Fred C. Fox, general manager of the western lines of the Santa Fe, will submit plans this week to the people of Silver City of the building, which will be a creditable addition to the architecture of that place and an added convenience to the accommodations for the traveling public.

MAKE A TEN STRIKE.
Hugh S. Williams and B. F. Segger were in Chicago this week. A postal received here by Mr. M. S. Groves announces the progress of their journey to Washington. Both gentlemen are in the best of health and spirits and enthusiastic that they will make a ten strike for the state corporation commission in getting a member of the interstate commerce commission to send a member to New Mexico to the coming meeting here to consider freight rates.

GOT HIS MAN.

J. A. Street, of the mounted police, returned last night from Nebraska with Benjamin Wyant, the prisoner who escaped from the penitentiary, some months ago in company with Andres Calles, the cook. Wyant was apprehended in Hall county, in that state, and held till a requisition for his extradition was issued. Calles, who was held in Juarez, Mexico, made his get away several weeks ago and is in parts unknown.

NOTARIES COMMISSIONED.

Commissions have been issued to Sadie L. Oleson, of Albuquerque and Robert E. Potter, of Clayton, Union county, as notaries public.
