CALIFORNIA HURRIES TO PASS LAND BILL DESPITE WARNING

IN LESS THAN THREE MINUTES AFTER SILVERY-TONGUED NEBRASKAN HAD DELIVERED HIS MESSAGE, SENATE VOTES TO SUBSTITUTE THE WEBB ACT DRAFTED BY THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON HAS STATED THAT HE WILL SIGN THE MEASURE

Sacramento, Calif., April 30.—California's first step toward the enactment of an alien land law contrary to the advice of Secretary of State Bryan and President Wilson was taken last night when three minutes after Secretary Bryan told the legislative conference that his official message had been spoken.

The senate, before which the Bird-sall-Thompson bill was pending, met in a hurried session, and within three minutes voted to substitute for that measure the new draft known as the Webb act, which was completed by Attorney General Webb only yesterday.

The substitute was adopted as an amendment and the bill sent to the printer with a rush order.

Owing to the absence of Secretary Bryan in San Francisco, whether it was today, as the guest of the Panama-Pacific Exposition company, it is the plan of the senate leaders to take no further action on the bill until Thursday, when it will come up in the regular course of business, and undoubtedly will be passed, it is said.

It will then go to the assembly and finally to the governor, who has stated that he will sign the measure at once.

AS VIEWED IN WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Probably not until the legislative status of the substitute alien land bill adopted by the California senate last night clarifies, will it be possible for the administration here to determine upon its next step.

There is little expectation here that the assembly will reverse the action of the senate in view of the reported breaking down of party lines in the legislature, but it is believed that the delay may improve the chances for the introduction of some amendment on the lines of the Webb bill, which presumably would have received the approval of the national government.

THE WEBB BILL.

Sacramento, Calif., April 30.—The phrase "ineligible to citizenship" is avoided in the Webb bill by providing two descriptions of aliens and defining the rights of each, as follows:

"1. All aliens eligible to citizenship may acquire and hold land in the same manner as citizens of the United States.

"2. All other aliens may acquire, possess and transfer land, in the manner and to the extent and for the purposes prescribed by any treaty now existing between the government of the United States and the nation or country of which such alien is a citizen or subject."

As the treaty between the United States and Japan specifies that land may be acquired or leased only for residential purposes, or for factories and shops, the act is held to be a rigid restriction upon the acquisition of farming lands by the Japanese.

"STING OF DISCRIMINATION." Senator Leroy A. Wright, Republican, who opposes the bill, declares the wording of the act is a subtleger intended to deceive the Japanese. Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, also declares the measure carries the sting of discrimination, contrary to Secretary Bryan's advice.

BRYAN IS PLEASED.

Sacramento, Calif., April 30.—"I shall take back to Washington to President Wilson a message of how California has treated his representative," said Secretary of State Bryan last night to members of the assembly and Governor Hiram W. Johnson, who were guests of Speaker Young at a dinner.

"What a delightful message it will be too. I will tell him how the legislature and the governor greeted his envoy in the same spirit in which he was sent. I cannot help but feel gratified at my reception."

Secretary Bryan highly eulogized Governor Johnson in referring to the California executive's part in the Republican convention at Chicago last year.

SCRIBES SCREAM "UNFAIR!"

San Francisco, April 30.—The associated newspaper men of Japan believe that their countrymen in California are being discriminated against according to a cablegram received last night by the Japanese-American, a local Japanese newspaper, and are going to appeal to the newspaper men of the United States for fair treatment.

FEAR A TEST CASE.

Sacramento, Calif., April 30.—The ineligibility of Japanese subjects to become citizens of the United States under the laws of this government is the keynote and principal strength of the substitute Webb alien land bill, in spite of the fact that the words objected to by Secretary of State Bryan are not used in the act.

The progressive leaders in the legislature admit that the proposed law would be ineffective if the Japanese brought a test suit before the U. S. supreme court, according to their announced intention, and were successful in establishing their right to become citizens.

Dispatches from Washington yesterday indicating that the federal administration would look with favor upon such a test suit aroused fears of grave consequences in case the Japanese succeeded in obtaining a decision in their favor.

"It would be a serious mistake for the federal government to confer citizenship rights upon the Japanese," said Senator Thompson, a leading Progressive. "Feeling in California has reached an acute stage, and such a step by the government undoubtedly would result in reprisals of various kinds, with far reaching consequences."

GOV. JOHNSON'S STATEMENT.

Governor Johnson prepared a statement in which he expressed the views of the majority party.

"The conference between the secretary of state and the legislature are concluded," it says. "We were delighted with Mr. Bryan and all that he said was given the most attentive and respectful consideration. Every opportunity was accorded him, and the conference closed only when he stated he had nothing further to say."

No members of the government of California with unanimity expressed themselves as desiring to aid the national government and in no wise to embarrass it. The spirit pervading the meetings was one of friendly co-operation and full patriotic purpose.

"After it all, though, I think the majority of the legislators felt, and I certainly do myself, that no sufficient reason has thus far been presented that should cause California to halt in any contemplated legislation."

"If any law be enacted, it may be safely asserted, the treaty obligations will be scrupulously observed. The Japanese will not be singled out by any act. The classification made by the naturalization laws of the nation, established by the constitution of California, and sanctioned by the laws of other states, will probably be followed."

"This, of course, is our legal and moral right to do; and such enactment by California cannot justly and logically be either offensive or discriminatory."

San Francisco, Calif., April 30.—Secretary Bryan had absolutely no comment to make today on the action of the California senate last night in adopting the Webb re-draft of the alien land bill against his recommendation.

On the way from Sacramento to San Francisco, where he was the guest today of the Panama-Pacific exposition, he was closeted, except for a few minutes, with his private secretary, translating a long cipher telegram. He would not indicate its tenor or the nature of his reply.

Governor Johnson saw the secretary to the train. James D. Phelan, formerly mayor of San Francisco, rode down with the party, and took a few moments of the secretary's time. He said Mr. Bryan was very busy and that he did not discuss the alien land situation.

At luncheon Bryan was the guest of the exposition directors. There were no speeches. In the afternoon he reviewed the troops at the presidio, took an automobile ride to the ocean beach.

PRESIDENT IS ASSURED OF FRIENDSHIP

DR. TEUSLER OF TOKIO TELLS MR. WILSON THAT WHEN HE LEFT JAPAN THERE WAS NO WAR LIKE FEELING.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Attorney General McReynolds, Secretary Lane and Frank B. Kellogg, president of the American Bar association, invited the president to attend the meeting of the association in Montreal in September, but he declined.

Dr. R. B. Teusler of Tokio, talked with the president about promoting interest in a national hospital for Americans and Japanese at Tokio. He told the president that when he left Japan recently there was no warlike feeling or hostility towards the United States. Judge Martin Wade of Iowa, after discussing appointments with the president, said Louis Murphy of Dubuque, Iowa, had virtually been agreed on for collector of internal revenue for the northern district of the state.

I. W. W.'S FREED AND TOLD TO WALK

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 30.—Twelve of the 11 members of the I. W. W., who have been held here since Thursday on charges of vagrancy, and who have been working on the city rock pile, were taken to the northern limits of the city at 2 o'clock this afternoon and released. Pat Noonan, the leader, and Harry Grimes, who have preferred a bread and water diet to work, will be held for the time.

This decision was reached by Mayor Avery and members of the city council after an executive session lasting until after noon.

It was decided that no good could come from further detention of the prisoners, but in order to be sure that the men left the city it was decided to take them to the city limits under police guard.

The action of the mayor and council was precipitated, it is said, by threats from members of the order at Salt Lake City and elsewhere of marching on the city if the men were not freed. The authorities denied, however, that the threats in any way influenced the city's action. No decision was reached as to the future course in the cases of Noonan and Grimes.

HARVEY M. SHIELDS SPEAKS TO TRAILERS

Kansas City, Mo., April 30.—A few brief addresses and excursions over the city occupied the delegates to the convention of the National Old Trails association today, the final day of the meeting.

Addresses were made by Harvey M. Shields, vice president of the New Mexico division of the association, and by K. V. Root of Kingman, Ariz., who is one of the backers of the scenic route from Santa Fe to Los Angeles, adopted yesterday in place of former plan to push the highway to the coast by way of El Paso, Texas, and Tucson, Ariz.

R. T. CRANE'S WIDOW WEDS

Paris, April 30.—Mrs. Emily Hutchinson Crane, widow of the late Richard T. Crane, iron master, and Francis T. A. Junkin, both of Chicago, were married today at the mayor's office and later at the American church of the Avenue d'Alma. Mr. Junkin is general counsel for the Atchafalaya, Topoka & Santa Fe railroad.

FLOODS IN LOUISIANA:

THOUSANDS HOMELESS.

Vidalia, La., April 30.—Flood water from the Gibson's Landing crevasse in the Louisiana levees, 25 miles north of here, is spreading with destructive force over Concordia parish, claiming town after town in its path southward to the river. Hundreds of homeless persons and thousands of head of cattle are being moved from the flooded district. Two negroes are known to have been drowned.

More than 5000 refugees have been taken from the territory and within another week, it is estimated the U. S. army relief corps will be sheltering and feeding at least 20,000 more. There are 2500 refugees in the relief camp at Natchez and hundreds of others are arriving on every steamer sent out by the relief corps.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE HURRIED TO JAIL IN ENGLAND

BRITISH HOME OFFICE INAUGURATES VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN TO STOP MISCHIEF WROUGHT BY FAIR HANDS.

"GEN'L." DRUMMOND ENTERS LION'S DEN

London, April 30.—The British home office today inaugurated its active campaign to put an end to the suffragette militancy. The headquarters of the women's social and political union, where many outrages are said to have been planned, was occupied by the police and all the active leaders taken into custody. Even "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond, who was out on bail, was arrested on a fresh charge of conspiring with the members of the Pankhurst family to commit damage.

Over 100 policemen and detectives from Scotland yard were engaged in the capture of the militant officers. They had scarcely taken possession of the place when "General" Drummond, apparently ignorant of what had happened, arrived and was admitted, not realizing that she had voluntarily entered the lion's den until she found herself under arrest and on the way to Bow street police station, where she met Miss Kenney and five other active officials of the society.

Archibald Bodkin, counsel for the treasury, prosecuted on behalf of the government. He said the proceedings involved a charge of conspiracy and had been taken with a view to bringing to an end "a state of affairs which has become dangerous to the civilized portion of the community in the British Isles."

The Women's Social and Political union, he continued, of which the defendants were leaders, had been responsible for an enormous amount of crime, and vast inconveniences to the public.

Mr. Bodkin intimated that still more serious charges might be brought against the prisoners when the police had completed their investigation into the "mischievous practices" of the organization. He then warned aiders and abettors of the society, as well as its contributors, among whom are many American women.

"I desire to give fair public warning," he said, "that if any person makes a speech in encouragement of this practice, proceedings will be taken against the speaker. If any print or publishes literature originating from the Women's Social and Political union, he may find himself in a very awkward position. If those who have money cannot find a better use for it than giving it to this organization for the commission of crime they will be prosecuted."

RAIDED PRINT SHOP.

There will be no issue of the official newspaper of the militant suffragists tomorrow. Not content with arresting two women editors, the police today raided the printing office and carried off all the type set up for tomorrow's number. The women workers in the office who escaped, assumed an indifferent attitude but stood gazing forlornly at the doors and at the bare flagstaff from which the great purple, white and green flag had floated day and night for months.

The women said the raid was expected and they had removed most of their valuable belongings to two empty houses they had in reserve in case of emergency.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont made an exhaustive trip around the suffragette centers today. She reached the headquarters of the Women's Social and Political Union too late to be included among those arrested. When she arrived she found policemen in possession and decided that it was safer to look at the officers from the outside than to attempt to enter.

Mrs. Belmont has joined the International Suffragette club of London and during her sojourn has purchased many photographs of militant suffragettes and campaign posters for the adornment of the headquarters in New York. She will start for Paris tomorrow and will invite Christabel Pankhurst to spend the summer with her in her villa at Deauville, on the French coast.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Announcement of the intention of Secretary Lane of the interior department to appoint Miss Annie G. Rogers, a leading suffragist, to be receiver of the public land office at Leadville, Colo., because he believes that "money can be handled more safely by women than by men," brought the following letter from one man:

"Notice of your appointment of suffragists registers has caused great surprise, and your remarks about men. 'The women you know may be of such a type, also the men; but most of us meet women who throw a great deal of money on goods, and foot hats such as inclosed pictures of them, and nag their husbands for their hard-earned wages, until we men are fast going for the criminal class to get money for their wives to squander.'"

"Please use your influence to give men work, and make women stay at home and keep it for the comfort of husband and children; so the homes will not be broken up and the children run wild and unruly."

ANGORA GOATS THEME OF HOT DISCUSSION

CONGRESSMEN ROAR WITH LAUGHTER AS TWO TARIFF DEBATERS SHOUT AT ONE ANOTHER ON PROPOSED DUTY.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—When consideration of the Underwood tariff bill was resumed today at the opening of the house Republican leadership, the debate was a hot one. Representative Payne of New York, Moore of Pennsylvania, Gardner of Massachusetts, and Greene of Iowa, resumed the "heckling" of the Democrats who framed the measure.

Consideration of the earthenware and glassware schedule was resumed at the outset.

As the session proceeded, amendments began pouring in by the minority side, but Mr. Underwood with his large majority well in hand, defeated them one after another.

The weary debate was relieved by a row between Representative Hamilton, (Rep.) of Michigan, and Representative Hardy, (Dem.) of Texas, over angora goats, and their duty, that set the house into roars of laughter.

Standing on each side of the aisle, the two members shouted at one another, shook fists and forefingers, argued in a two man chorus, that their words were drowned in the uproar. The bill, however, was not affected. An attempt to amend the duties on glass, during which Representative Morduck declared Representative Moore of Pennsylvania, "out-payned" the Republican of New York, as a protectionist, was lost after a sharp skirmish.

OTHER MEASURES.

Repeal of the exemption of American coastwise vessels from Panama canal tolls, and an amendment to place all coastwise vessels doing an interstate commerce business under the regulations of the interstate commerce commission was proposed today by Representative Britton of Illinois.

"In my judgment," said Mr. Britton, speaking of the exemption, "that provision was one of the most unfair, unjust, dishonorable, high handed and iniquitous things congress has ever done, a palpable fraud in the interest of the interests."

COLLECT HUGE SUM.

To direct the attorney general to collect from the Missouri Pacific $3,630,000 the outgrowth of financing by the government of the original railroad between Hannibal and St. Joseph, Mo., a resolution was introduced today by Representative Neeley of Kansas.

VEDRINES STARTS ON AERIAL FLIGHT OF 930 MILES

Lyons, France, April 30.—Julius Vedrines, the French aviator, started at 1:37 this morning on his monoplane flight to Edinburgh, Scotland, a distance of approximately 930 miles.

BRYAN CAN'T GO; WILL MR. WILSON?

St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—Officers of the American Peace congress, which convenes here tomorrow, are awaiting anxiously a reply from President Wilson to a telegraphic request that he address the congress at its closing session Saturday night.

Secretary of State Bryan, who was on the program for two addresses Saturday night, has wired that it will be impossible for him to reach St. Louis in time to keep his engagement here.

James A. Smith, chairman of the executive committee, then telegraphed to President Wilson requesting that he address the congress Saturday night. The committee offered to place a private car at the disposal of the president.

As Secretary Bryan had accepted the invitation to address the peace congress at the request of President Wilson, the committee hopes that the latter will come.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Not in session, meets Thursday. Joint congressional committee continued its hearing in the investigation of foreign buying of American tobacco.

HOUSE.

Resumed reading of tariff bill for amendment under five minute rule. Representative Neely introduced a resolution to direct the attorney general to proceed against the Missouri Pacific railway to collect $3,630,000 growing out of financing original line.

Representative Britton introduced bill to repeal toll exemption provision of Panama canal act.

WEALTHY MILLER ILL.

FOREIGNERS RESIST A "WAR LEVY" AND PAY PENALTY IN BLOOD

MEXICAN REBELS EXECUTE MANAGER OF A BRITISH MINE AT MATENUALA AND KILL OTHERS FOR REFUSING MONETARY AID TO REVOLUTION.—AMERICAN LIVES IN ATTACK.

REIGN OF TERROR CONTINUES; MANY UPRISINGS ARE REPORTED

Washington, D. C., April 30.—The manager of a British owned mine at Matenuala, San Luis Potosi, and several other foreigners have been put to death by Mexican rebels because they refused to contribute money to the revolution. Neither names nor numbers were given in the report received last today.

AMERICAN KILLED.

Mexico City, April 30.—William B. A. Dingwall an American citizen, the owner of a foundry and director of the Santa Maria del la Paz Mining company, was killed by the rebels in their attack yesterday on Matenuala, state of San Luis Potosi, according to reports which have been received here.

Mexico City, April 30.—After a fight lasting 24 hours, rebels under the command of Santos Coy, have captured Matenuala, where one of the Guggenheim smelters is situated. The rebels belong to the same band that recently cut the railroad near Vanegas.

Minor uprisings on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec are reported.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Mexican constitutionalists at San Dimas have forced Americans there to pay ransom of 15,000 Mexican dollars and confiscated their arms. Official reports today from Mazatlan says great unrest prevails among American residents there, as the Huerta forces are said to be insufficient to protect property.

DESERTERS FROM INSURGENTS.

Nogales, Ariz., April 30.—Deserting Federal soldiers from the Guaymas garrison are joining the insurgent troops at Empalme.

INSURGENTS NEAR JUAREZ.

El Paso, Texas, April 30.—That insurgent forces are nearing Juarez was evidenced today when it was discovered that volunteer troops of the Juarez garrison are deserting to the constitutionalist side.

"During last night a patrol of 30 ex-insurrectos was sent east along the Rio Grande. Twelve of the men returned to report that the remainder had joined the insurgents who were moving toward the border town from the east."

CONVICTS FAIL TO "DETECT" DETECTIVES

San Francisco, Calif., April 30.—It was with openly manifested resentment that fifty detectives lined up yesterday to be inspected by five San Quentin convicts and three convicted members of the Italian bunco gang. The seven criminals were marched along the four lines of police officers. Not one identification was made.

The fifty detectives comprise all members of the department who have seen service in the Latin quarters with the exception of the eight officials under suspension.

The inspection was ordered by Chief of Police White at the request of the grand jury investigating alleged police grafting.

Only once did the tense faces of those inspected relax. It was when one of the convicts stopped in front of one of the detectives.

"Isn't this McHugh or Sullivan?" asked the convict. Several detectives laughed as it was neither.

The members of the grand jury attended the inspection.

San Francisco, April 30.—District Attorney Charles Fickert caused a subpoena to be issued today for A. Gigg, who, he says, will be the most important witness yet produced before the grand jury in the investigation that is being conducted into the charges by members of a ring of bunco men that certain policemen were in collusion with them.

In Fickert's statement it is said that Gigg will be questioned regarding several occasions when he is thought to have seen money actually pass between bunco men and detectives. The district attorney considers Gigg his strongest corroborating witness.

Policeman Frank E. Sola formerly attached to the head of the detective bureau of the department, rests under an indictment which was returned during the night by the grand jury.

In the true bill he is charged with having accepted a bribe from Michael Gallo, a convicted bunco man, as his percentage from the robbery of Mrs. R. Pellini.

Joseph S. Seco, a former saloon-keeper who is alleged to have acted as a go-between for policemen and "the ring" also is under indictment, the charge being grand larceny.

MRS. W. J. BRYAN TAKES REST CURE

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Mrs. Wm. J. Bryan, wife of the secretary of state, is taking a two days rest cure at a local sanitarium. Since coming to Washington, Mrs. Bryan has had the task of furnishing and getting settled in a large home as well as meeting the great social obligations due to her position as the wife of a cabinet official. Mrs. Bryan expects to return to her home tomorrow.

FIRE IN STARKVILLE.

Trinidad, Colo., April 30.—A fire at Starkville, six miles south of here, at 2 o'clock this morning, destroyed five buildings. The damage is estimated at $12,000.

Foreign merchants in Ciudad Porfirio Diaz and Piedras Negras are alarmed over a proclamation by Governor Carranza, chief of the state troops, authorizing an interior debt of five million pesos to be guaranteed by the constitutionalists. The proclamation says persons refusing to receive or circulate any of the money will be imprisoned.

Thirty-five men crossed in one group. The constitutionalists attack has been delayed by a shortage of ammunition, but one car munitions is reported on the way to Empalme from Tlaxiaco.

Foreign soldiers from the Guaymas garrison are joining the insurgent troops at Empalme.

SOLONS DISCUSS WATER WORKS WHILE TOWN BURNS

Bennington, Neb., April 30.—Almost the entire business portion of Bennington was practically destroyed by fire early today. A dozen buildings were destroyed or damaged, including Paulson's opera house, the Otis and Bennington hotels, the German Lutheran church, and Wittes drug store. The loss is estimated between $40,000 and $50,000.

The city council was in session considering a proposed bond issue for the building of water works when the fire alarm was given.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because it's For One Thing Only, and Santa Fe People Appreciate This. Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only. For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is Santa Fe evidence to prove their worth.

Albino Ortega, College St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "For several years I had trouble from my back and kidneys. It was hard for me to work, owing to pains in my loins and a sudden movement aggravated my trouble. My rest was disturbed by a too frequent desire to void the kidney secretions and the passages were scanty and painful. Public statements given by local people who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with effect, induced me to try them. I found relief at once and after I had finished the contents of one box, my back was free from pain. My kidneys are now normal and I feel better in every way."

ESTANCIA NOTES OF REAL INTEREST

Estancia, N. M., April 30.—Evidently the Republican party of Santa Fe county has started something. The Honorable Fred Chaves—from the sand-hills of New Mexico, near Willard—seems determined that all the purity, all the brains, all the respectability of the Republican party shall not be in Santa Fe and, it is currently reported, he has started a petition to the higher powers with a view of having all the county officers of Torrance county duly and stringently investigated. The Honorable Fred is a worthy exponent of true Old Guard Republicanism and is doubtless quite sincere in his attempt in which the taxpayers wish him all kinds of success. With malice towards none; with charity towards all we hope that strength will be given to the investigators to treat everyone alike without fear or favor and go after delinquent Democrats, Republicans and Progressives in all county offices.

The spring term of court is about all in. The grand jury did about the usual stunts—a few cow stealing cases, a few horse thefts, a few assaults with deadly weapons and so on and so on. Twenty-seven in all we believe is the total count.

The Olivas murder case was tried last Saturday and the jury returned a verdict of second degree murder much to the surprise of all who knew anything of the case. It is understood that the district attorney knew so much about the deceased Torres that he was disqualified from prosecuting the case and the old War Horse Col. G. W. Prichard was called in to prosecute. And how he did prosecute! He prosecuted for further orders and then some and he won his jury, too. It is rumored that the jury stood on the first ballot one for acquittal and eleven for first degree murder. Of course this is mere rumor. The name of the deceased Torres occurred with dismal frequency in the criminal docket of Torrance county and that was probably one reason why Olivas was regarded so coolly by the trial judge.

In the Peoples bank of Moriarty case the court ordered the jury to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff—the National Safe and Lock company represented by Ira Grimshaw—against the defendants Hanna and Green and to discharge the defendant Moriarty. This leaves the defendant Moriarty one perfectly good bank safe to the good and the other parties a grind through the supreme court.

It is understood that court will adjourn on Wednesday and that Judge M. C. Mechem will go from here to Hillsboro.

Work is going along in getting ready for the deep well and real estate and land values continue to stiffen. Crop prospects are good and a much larger acreage will be planted than when planted last spring. Beans will again be the main hold.

SECRETARY DANIELS BEGINS LONG INSPECTION TOUR.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Secretary Daniels began today a two weeks' trip to include official visits to south Atlantic navy yards. The first stop will be at Wilson, N. C., where a banquet will be given in his honor tomorrow night. His itinerary for the remainder of the trip is as follows: Raleigh, N. C., May 2 and 3; New Orleans, May 5; Pensacola, May 6; Jacksonville, May 7; Key West, May 8; Charleston, N. C., May 9 and 10; Fort Royal, S. C., Denton Barracks, May 11; Raleigh, May 12.

PRESIDENT WILSON THINKING OF TARIFF

AND NOT BOTHERING WITH THE CURRENCY BILL YET. THE PRESIDENT CHUMMY WITH NEWSPAPER MEN. THE TARIFF BILL WILL PASS THE SENATE.

LENROOT AND PAYNE ARE PULLING TOGETHER

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, D. C., May 30.—President Wilson tells me that he is not yet thinking about currency legislation. He is not yet talking with members of congress on that subject. He is refraining because he wants the attention of congress and the country concentrated on the tariff. So I infer that everything that is being printed about Senator Owen and Representative Carter Glass and their currency reform is not reflecting the plans of the administration.

President Wilson and the newspapermen are getting to be quite chummy. They figured together in a "movie" stunt the other morning. After the session of the first class in political economy and current events, Prof. Wilson took his boys out on the lawn back of the White House conservatory and jokes were told while the movie man did his worst. It is not yet revealed what is to be done with these films, but a pleasant time was had by all those present.

Since the Montana senators threw up their hands on the wool duties, it has become quite plain that the administration's tariff bill will be passed by the party vote in the senate. Excellent discipline is being maintained in the Democratic party ranks. There are different theories as to why senators are persuaded to do what they do not want to do. Some intimate that it is the patronage which is being held in reserve; others say it is merely the desire to preserve party solidarity and to perpetuate the Democratic experiment, but whatever it is, Wilson, with his low tariff bill, is to be permitted to carry out his experiment and to take the full responsibility for it.

One of the most entertaining spectacles in Washington these days is that of the open caucus sessions of the so-called Republican minority in the house of representatives. There have been three caucuses at which frantic efforts were made to outline some policy on which the minority could get together. With sadness it must be told that Mr. Lenroot, of Wisconsin, once a grant progressive, has been one of the most strenuous champions of the "get-together" propositions. It is most interesting to see him and Seneca Payne laboring shoulder to shoulder to pull the lifeboat through the surf. At this writing the surf is beating over the gunwales, and the sturdy oarsmen are in great danger of being walloped on the rocks. Anyhow, they have not worked out any compromise on which any dozen members can agree.

Have you heard of the organization known as "The National Democratic Fair Play or Civil Service Reform association"? This is the name of the organization which has just been formed by the advance guard of the army of office seekers now encamping in the Washington hotels. It is made up of lifelong Democrats who have invested time, care and hotel expenses in the project of getting jobs under the Wilson administration. It is intended to have a central organization in Washington and branches in every locality where there is a disappointed aspirant for a federal job. Thus the organization—purely patriotic in its character—promises to be one of the most widespread and zealous in the country.

There is scarcely an office building in Washington which does not contain headquarters for the protection of the struggling sugar industry. The allies are many. For instance, there is the Domestic Sugar Producers, devoted to the cause of sugar beets in 17 states, with an eye on Hawaii and Porto Rico, with offices at 322 Colorado building. Then there is the secretary of the United States Beet Sugar Industry, who maintains an office at 901 Union Trust building for the "collection of information on the subject of sugar beets," and for the preparation of useful pamphlets to be perused by the cultivators and possibly the diggers of sugar beets. Then there is the American Cane Growers association, with offices at 929 Woodward building whose purpose is the collecting of facts in regard to the cane sugar industry, "now threatened with destruction." Then there is the representative of the Hawaiian sugar producers, with an office at 910 Colorado building, maintained for the avowed purpose of "advising Hawaiians as to the course of legislation on various matters affecting the islands," not forgetting sugar. There is a sporadic representative of the Porto Rican sugar growing interests, who has offices from time to time, but is not at the moment located in Washington. Then there is the "Committee of Wholesale Growers," which has appeared before congressional committees to represent certain of the sugar refiners. This committee does not maintain a Washington office, but appeared before the Harwick investigating committee. The directing head for these lobby offices is Truman G. Palmer who admits that he gets $10,000 a year and has drawn that salary for a decade for looking after the interests of the sugar refiners. In addi-

NEWSY ITEMS FROM THE WINDMILL CITY

Deming, N. M., April 30.—Elmer Evans of Abbott, N. M., arrived here last week, and has bought a farm in the valley. He drove overland, bringing ten head of horses and a span of mules. His family consists of his wife and three children.

A. J. Burk, expert demonstrator for Fairbanks-Morse company, will be here for a month, demonstrating the 3-60 tractor which has been shipped here. Two more of these tractors are now on the road to Deming.

Dr. R. C. Hoffman left yesterday for Kansas City to attend the meeting of the National Old Trails association at that place. He will go from there to visit his mother in Iowa. He will return here in ten days.

F. C. Peterson has received three car loads of material implements and fencing material in the last two days. Plans are now prepared for the remodeling of the local Harvey house. The fact that the Harvey house in Deming has been turning away trade nearly every day for the last three months for lack of accommodations is responsible for the enlargement of the building. The plans contemplate extending the sleeping rooms over the present waiting rooms and telegraph offices, and equipping the same with steam heat.

The Homeplot company has let a contract for grubbing 400 acres from a mile and a half to three miles south of town. The company has received its first car of lumber, and a car of cement and plaster came in today. The plan to develop 25 20-acre tracts is thus already on foot. A four or five-room cottage will be constructed on each tract, each tract will be fenced and equipped with an electric pumping plant, reservoir, elevated tanks for water for domestic use—in short the company intends to prepare each tract for the buyer, so that he can sleep right into it and make it productive from the start. Weaver & Son, well drillers, will start the first well tomorrow, and continue until all the 25 wells are completed.

Praise This Remedy For Consumption

If the voluntarily written words of grateful people living in all parts of the country, praising Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for the treatment of coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles, are to be believed, this medicine is certainly doing a vast amount of good for such sufferers. We state none but facts, and give to you the names and words of praise of those who declare it benefited them—in many cases coupled with the writers' statements that it restored them to health. This is a sample taken from many:—
St. Mary's Academy, O'Neill, Nebraska.
"Gentlemen:—About seven years ago I was attacked with the dread disease, Tuberculosis. I coughed unceasingly, could not sleep nor eat, even could not speak out loud and could do no work. I had these hemorrhages, raised blood most of the time and suffered of night sweats, fever and chills. A specialist of Columbus, Ohio, pronounced my case hopeless."

"Nearly five years ago I heard of your Alternative and procured some at once, with the result that I soon found myself restored to health. For the past four years I have been able to continue my teaching, and though I have always had heavy school work, I am also able to perform much manual labor. I consider your medicine, if faithfully taken, a most excellent remedy for Consumption. Mother Superior permits this testimonial. (Signed)
SISTER MAHIE.
Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and by Zook's Pharmacy in Santa Fe."

SEES BRIGHT FUTURE FOR NEW MEXICO STATE VARSITY

"I am deeply interested in the progress education has made in New Mexico and in the opportunities which your State University has with Dr. David R. Boyd at its head." So said Professor Cook of the Presbyterian College at Caldwell, Oregon, who passed through Lamy last night on his way to Chicago.

"A great many of us have heard of Dr. Boyd and we are hopeful that he will make a success of your State University. In a new state, with the resources such as New Mexico possesses, a bright future should be in store.

"Out in Oregon we pride ourselves on the exceedingly low rate of illiteracy. Much attention is paid to the education and training of teachers by the institutes and the state normal schools. I hear that in New Mexico you also pay great attention to institute work, your state superintendent, Mr. White, laying much stress on that important branch of training."

CLIMATE AIDS STUDY.

"The bracing air of New Mexico, the broad expanse of country restful to the eye, and the energy of his altitudes, ought to make the new state an ideal one for educational advancement."

The professor chuckled when told that Dr. Boyd had said the students at the State University haven't any other idea than study.

"I should like very much to go to Santa Fe to be present at the commencement exercises of the Allison Mission school," continued the Oregonian, "as I hear Dr. Boyd is to give the class address. How unfortunate for us travelers that Santa Fe is not on the main line!"

"Come on up, and see the unique city of America, the only one where wood-shed burros pass through the streets on their warmth-bringing mission," said the reporter.

"On the homeward trip, perhaps," replied the visitor, as the staccato notes "all aboard" filled the air.

EX-POLICE INSPECTORS LOCKED UP AT NIGHT.

New York, April 30.—Former Police Inspectors Sweeney, Murtha, Hussey and Thompson, on trial on indictments charging conspiracy to obstruct justice, will have to be locked up every night of their trial.

The appellate division of the state court so decided today in dismissing a writ of habeas corpus in their behalf last night.

The four inspectors were taken from prison to the court room, handcuffed together in taxicabs. For a time it looked as if they would be marched through the streets. The prisoners sent an urgent appeal to headquarters for a patrol wagon and when this request was denied, they were allowed to procure taxicabs. The trial was resumed in the supreme court.

GUARDING HAYWOOD.

Paterson, N. J., April 30.—Scores of deputy sheriffs and policemen guarded the court of special sessions today for the arraignment of William D. Haywood, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Carlo Tresca, Patrick Quinlan and Adolph Lessig, Industrial Workers of the World leaders, indicted for inciting the silk mill strikers to riot.

Boynton, floor leader, and Governor Hiram W. Johnson of California.

This picture was taken while the leaders of the California legislature were in session discussing the Japanese situation in California and the action of President Wilson in sending Secretary of State Bryan to California to take a hand in the Japanese trouble.

HE STARTED THIS ROW AGAINST THE JAPANESE

Senator E. A. Birdsall of California is the man who started all this agitation against the Japanese which has developed into an international affair. Birdsall is a great believer in America for the Americans and his belief has taken the form of a bill against aliens, and by aliens he is hitting especially at the Japanese. Birdsall is the heavyweight of the California senate, being the biggest man physically.

THE MOST PERFECT FOOT IN ALL THE WORLD LOSES ITS OWNER HER HUSBAND!

A BRIDE OF HALF A YEAR NOW FINDS HERSELF ALONE AND ALL BECAUSE THE PAPERS PRINTED PICTURES OF HER BEAUTIFUL PEDAL EXTREMITY.

(By Laura Gillam.)

Chicago, Ill., April 30.—"The foot of Mrs. Clara Smith Houston is nine inches long and ten inches around the instep. Its length is exactly one-seventh of her height in accordance with the Greek rule of sculpture. It is the most perfect foot in existence."

This is the resolution which was unanimously adopted by the international association of chiropodists held here recently and which at first brought great joy to Mrs. Houston's heart, but later brought a great deal more sorrow. Never having seen a "perfect foot" nor one that was pretty, indeed, I went to see one and to have incidentally of how it brought much unhappiness to its owner simply because of its marvelous beauty!

"The story is very easily told," said little Mrs. Houston to me as she welcomed me into her little cottage. "It is just the story of jealousy—of a husband who was jealous of even feet! Jealous of them because he thought that the little time I gave to them I ought to be giving to him!"

"One day the papers printed the fact that the chiropodists had just pronounced my foot the perfect one of the world. The next day he sent me this telegram from a nearby city where he was visiting:

"Friend Wife—Congratulations on putting your best foot forward. Nothing like notoriety, no matter how cheap. Send your picture to the pink journals and call on me for cash with which to advertise yourself further. Your husband."

"Imagine that! I, a bride of five months and only 22 years old, and he an old man from whom I expected the best and kindest treatment. It was just more than I could stand and I decided to leave him at once.

"I decided that if a man was so jealous that he would not even allow me to boast of a perfect foot and to pay some attention to its care I had best give up him and all the luxuries with which he had provided me—town and country house, horses, automobiles, servants and whatnot. Everything except the one thing—happiness.

"So that's how my perfect foot lost

me my husband."

SPORTING NEWS

MOTION PICTURES OF THE GREAT TENNIS CHAMPION'S FAMOUS "SERVE."

These pictures of Maurice E. McLaughlin, national tennis champion, are snapshots taken during an exhibition game. From left to right they show the various positions of the champion while making his famous serve. McLaughlin just barely clears the net with the ball and sends it with such speed that it can scarcely be seen. The speed with which the ball is delivered and its closeness to the top of the net are confusing and the bound of the ball is so low that it is almost impossible for an opponent to "drive" it back to the champion. The champion's serve throws him into position to receive the return. There is never an instant when he is not "set."

ELKS' GALA CARNIVAL OF STAR BOXING TO-NIGHT

ONE OF THE BEST CARDS EVER PRESENTED FOR THE LOVERS OF THE FISTIC SPORT.—THE SHOW IS ON AT 9 P. M.

Tonight at 9 o'clock, and immediately after the picture show has had its inning at the Elks' opera house, the big boxing carnival under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks and directed by that past master of the fistic game, Mark Levy of Albuquerque, will hold the boards, and the lovers of clean sport and scientific boxing will be given a rare treat in the program which will be presented for their approval. The tickets which have been on sale for the past two days are fast being taken up and the indications are for a crowded house.

The promoter, accompanied by the principals, trainers and seconds arrived this morning from Albuquerque by automobiles and a look at the principals at once clearly indicated the fact that they were all prime and fit for the sounding of the gong. Director Levy will select the winner of one of the bouts to fill the preliminary for the big bout on July 4th at Los Angeles, as Promoter McCarey has requested him to furnish him with an A-1 133 pounder for that big event, and the go between "Jack" Torres and "Kid" Stern will no doubt be worth the price of admission in itself, as both are anxious to qualify to fill the engagement booked for the 4th of July.

MIKE BACA CONFIDENT.
Our local boy "Mike" Baca is in the pink of condition and has finished training and is resting up today preparatory to putting the championship aspirations of one "Young Canole" on the shelf; and as he has all the earmarks of making good both in science and ability to land the "haymaker" there will be no idle moments during the 6 rounds he is booked to go with "Canole." Besides he will have the solid support and sympathy of the local fans, and that will help him in retaining his nerve and cheer him on in his efforts to climb the pugilistic ladder.

The 130 pound class bout of 6 rounds between "Al" Johnson and "Benny" Carson, both pupils of the Mark Levy school will be a hummer as in each of their former contests they have shown "class" and each one has his staunch backers, and the fact that a big delegation of friends of both have made the trip to the city to see this special bout leaves the impression that the main bout of the evening will have nothing on this go. Both will weigh in at 9 o'clock at 130 pounds.

The bantam or 105 pound go between "Young" Rivers and the "Insurrecto" Kid is also affording the friends of both boys food for much argument as to which boy will land the decision. Betting at Albuquerque seemed to be even, but both boys have staunch backers and some lively betting tonight will help to make these little fellows go the limit in landing the decision.

The delegation from Albuquerque in automobiles were met at the outskirts of the city by a half dozen machines filled with local admirers, chaperoned by J. Porter Jones, Mike Stanton and Jake Levy, and are being entertained by these gentlemen in conjunction with the hustling members of the entertainment committee of the local lodge of Elks. After the show tonight a smoker will be held at the club house and the big night will be brought to a fitting close with lunch, music, etc.

The promoter, together with the members of the entertainment committee are conferring this afternoon for the purpose of selecting referee, timers, etc., and the names will be announced before the opening of the contests.

Don't forget the hour 9 p. m. Get your tickets at Fischer's or from members of the committee. Prices $1, $1.50 and $2.00.

WHITE SOX TO PLAY SALMON GRAYS SUNDAY.

Local fans will be glad to hear that the two rival city teams the White Sox and Salmon Grays have come to terms and will meet in their first encounter of the season next Sunday afternoon. Last year they started a game in October but they didn't finish it as a dispute arose on one of the umpire's decisions, and they didn't finish the game. Those who saw that game say that it was the hardest fought game ever seen in Santa Fe for a long time.

The Grays organized last week and elected Romulo S. Lopez, manager, and Daniel W. Anderson, captain. They have been practicing for the last two weeks and next Sunday they will play their first game of the season, and expect to trim the fast White Sox.

The White Sox will not be caught asleep, as they also have been practicing. Both teams are out every evening at five o'clock at the college grounds practicing, and yesterday afternoon several fans took a walk to the grounds to see the boys toss the pill around the lot. Those who saw the boys practicing yesterday say that next Sunday we will see a fast game as all the boys are practicing in earnest and will try hard to win.

The Salmon Grays team is composed of old timers who have been seen in the local diamond for several years; they have in their team the Anderson brothers, Bill Parsons, Jim Lopez, Ward and other stars. All the local fans know the kind of ball Dan and Louie Anderson play, and Bill Parsons who has been practicing this week seems to be as good as ever and he will play short stop for his team next Sunday.

Manager Lopez, of the Grays, said this morning that he was confident his team will win their first game Sunday. Manager Dan Ortiz, of the White Sox, says his team has been playing better ball this year than ever before and has defeated strong teams and that he knows his team is going against a fast team Sunday, but he says he expects to win easy.

THRILLING MOMENTS ON THE DIAMOND

(By Edward Lyell Fox.)

Over the cliff, rising abruptly from the Harlem lowlands, goes to meet the apartment houses on the heights, twilight is descending—the yellowing light of a humid afternoon in June. Below it, rimming a great palace of green, of a diamond shaped of dark dirt, caught at its corners by four white bags sweep the wooden stands of the Polo grounds. And, scattered through them, bare specks against the countless tiers of seats, are 2,000 people—black, like files on some great sheet of yellow gummed paper. But we understand the phenomena—a scant 2,000, with the Giants at home or a June day. The huge scoreboard, rearing its ugly bulk above the distant bleachers, tells that they are coming to bat for the last inning—a hopeless formality at best, for St. Louis leads, 4 runs to 0. No wonder the crowd has dwindled to a mere scattering. Too bad! The Giants need every game. Chicago and Pittsburgh are crowding hard.

About to leave, one of the party detains us.

"Aw, stay," he says, disgustedly.

"Watch Saltee strike out the side!"

We remember he bet a straw hat on the Giants. So we settled back in our seats and watch Saltee, the St. Louis pitcher—Saltee, a living beanpole, who has had the Giants at his mercy all afternoon. Now he begins his gyrations, and as his long, slender arms meet overhead we see a confident smirk come into his face. He knows this last inning will be easy.

At the plate, Doyle, his bat jerking nervously, stands waiting. Then he swings—a swift movement typical of the man—and the ball goes buzzing over the ground toward shortstop. Comes a sharp throw by tiny Hauser of St. Louis, but Doyle's fleet feet have carried him to first ahead of the ball. Still the scoreboard reads 4 to 0 and the stands are silent. It's just the Giants' last gasp.

Now red headed Murray slouches up to the plate and sends another ball bounding toward shortstop. This time Hauser wheels deftly and throws to Huggins at second base. Doyle is forced out, and as he turns to the bench we see him scowl. Coming in he has noticed something. An irritant grin has settled on Saltee's face—the sort of a grin expressing tolerant pity. And this from lowly St. Louis to the New York Giants.

Off first, Murray is dancing, but not for long. Seymour, the next batter, swings at the first ball—a white arc mounting out toward center field and dropping ending in the waiting glove of Oakes.

Two are out. The Giants are four runs behind. Fewer dark specks are scattered through the yellow stands. Some vague forms that have been watching the game from the elevated railroad tracks disappear magically, as if through some great trapdoor.

Bridwell, always trying, steps beside the plate and waits cautiously. We watch him, but an instant later see Murray dash toward second. Phelps, the St. Louis catcher, lets him go un molested. Poor Giants! Like Saltee, Phelps is grinning. But in their grins carelessness has replaced confidence. A moment later Saltee gives Bridwell a base on balls.

U. P. ATTORNEYS PLEAD FOR TIME EXTENSION.
Washington, D. C., April 29.—Attorneys for the Union Pacific filed today with the supreme court their brief in reply to Attorney General McKey-nolds' objections to a longer extension of time than July 1 for an agreement upon a dissolution plan. The railroad lawyers contended that to allow only until July and no further extension would be inadequate and renewed their plea to have the court's mandate modified to permit the circuit court to determine the question.

N. M. CENTRAL WILL PROBABLY BE SOLD SOON

John S. Wendt, attorney for the Pittsburgh Trust company which company is plaintiff in the bankruptcy case against the New Mexican Central railroad, has notified all the attorneys in the case that he will enter final decree for the sale of the road, in the district court next week. The Pittsburgh Trust company holds bonds against the road for $2,000,000, which, together with accumulated interest, amounts to an indebtedness of $3,506,895, on January 1, 1913. It is hoped that the sale will amount to enough to satisfy the claim, though there is no telling, at this writing, what the road will bring. Some time ago it was rumored that both the Santa Fe and the Denver & Rio Grande would like to buy the road if they could get it for about a million. This is not verified, however, and just what the road will bring is hard to determine at this time. Judge Abbott will return from holding court at Aztec next Saturday, and court will be in session here the coming week. The bonds held by the Pittsburgh company were originally against the old Santa Fe Central operating between here and Torrance. In 1908, when the coal fields were opened up at Hagan it was proposed to build a line from Moriarty to Albuquerque, with a branch from Frost to Hagan. The Santa Fe Central had then been built some six or seven years. At that time the Albuquerque & Eastern was incorporated and afterwards merged into the present New Mexican Central. It was intended then to take up the bonds of both roads, which however, was never done. The present bonds are those of the old Santa Fe Central, and have nothing to do with the bonds of the Albuquerque & Eastern. A final decree to sell the road will probably be passed and an order of sale made of the main line. No objections have been filed to Judge Lorin C. Collins' report, recently made on the Santa Fe Central. The present road, the New Mexican Central, is doing a big business and is one of the prosperous traffic lines of this section.

BOARD OF ENGINEERS

COMMERCE COMMISSION.

Prominent Men Will Assist in Formulating Plans for the Physical Valuation of Railroads.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—The interstate commerce commission today announced the personnel of the board of engineers to assist in formulating plans for the physical valuation of railroads and to have direct charge of the carrying into effect of the plans. The members of the board are:

R. A. Thompson, now engaged in valuation work for the California state railroad commission, and formerly engaged in similar work with the Texas commission.

Prof. W. D. Pence, chief engineer of the Wisconsin railroad and tax commission, engaged in valuation work. J. S. Worley, of Kansas City, Mo., a consulting engineer.

Howard M. Jones, of Nashville, Tenn., a consulting and bridge engineer.

E. F. Wendt, of Pittsburgh, Pa., president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, now directing engineering on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad.

The commission hopes to effect arrangements by which an officer of the army corps of engineers may be added to the board.

TWO MEN CREMATED.

Kansas City, April 30.—Two men were reported to have been burned to death in a fire that practically destroyed the annex to the Helping Hand institute, a cheap three-story lodging house at Fourth and Wyandotte streets this afternoon. Several lodgers were asleep in the building.

James Baca came in from the northeast part of the state last night, where he has been on a business trip connected with the New Mexican.

Sheriff J. Romero and Deputy A. C. Furtless, of Albuquerque, are in town on official business and shaking hands with their many friends in Santa Fe.

Mrs. Lee Riley, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. J. McGuinness, for the past two months, left for her home in Kansas City, Mo., today.

Dalton C. Huntington, of El Paso, is here in the interest of a company that is placing adding machines, called on the capital employees and officers, today.

State Engineer J. A. French and J. W. Johnson, of the engineer's office, are expected home tonight. H. K. Morgans will remain at Elmerdorf for some two weeks.

John Looney who has been attending the federal court as plaintiff in a case in which he is interested, has gone to Monero and will return to this city in a few days.

Colonel Bronson M. Cutting, publisher of the Santa Fe New Mexican, left on the limited last night for a short visit in New York. He was accompanied by Miguel A. Otero, Jr.

Raymond Avery, one of the Avery twin brothers, well known ranchmen in the Arroyo Hondo district, is seriously ill at St. Vincent's sanitarium, and was operated on last evening for appendicitis.

J. F. Collins, popularly known as Jack, who is visiting here, has been entertained a good deal, and we opine has a warm spot in his heart for Santa Fe, notwithstanding that he is now located in Albuquerque.

Colonel George W. Prichard is expected home tomorrow from Estancia, where he has been attending court. Colonel Prichard was appointed prosecutor in a criminal case there which he won for the state.

Mrs. Sylvanus Griswold Morley has arrived from the east and is registered at the De Vargas hotel. Mrs. Morley returned from Yucatan in February with her little daughter. Mr. Morley is expected to arrive in New York Saturday May 3. Accompanied by Jesse Nusbaum he has been exploring the island of Cozumel, off Yucatan.

J. E. Clark, former superintendent of public instruction, came in last night from the northern part of the state. Mr. Clark has been away from the city for several weeks, being engaged in the automobile business. He reports sales as excellent, the people waking up to the convenience and often the necessity of the use of the automobile. Mrs. Clark and the children are in Detroit, Mich.

J. D. Biggs and wife, parents of Mrs. M. S. Groves who have been the guests of the popular corporation commissioner, M. S. Groves, left this morning for their home in Denver. They are on their return from a trip to California. They were accompanied by their son, E. M. Biggs, who was visiting his brother-in-law, Mr. Groves, the past week and who came in yesterday from a trip to other points in the state.

W. R. Smythe, who has charge of the road prisoners at Elmerdorf, and who was formerly a resident of this city, was in the capital yesterday, having brought in four prisoners from that camp. There were seven prisoners in that camp, all of whom were Old Mexico men, and the alluring sight of the blood-drenched land of their birth was so enticing that three of them quietly departed for that real. It was deemed advisable, with such seductive territory in sight to bring the remaining four back to the penitentiary. Probably convicts not so easily affected by the vista of Old Mexico, will be placed on the road work at that point.

PROF. MILLER IS ASST. SEC.
Washington, D. C., April 30.—Secretary Lane today announced the selection of Prof. Adolph C. Miller, of Berkeley, Calif., to be first assistant secretary of the interior department. The nomination will be set to the senate in the near future. He has been a professor at the University of California since 1902. Previously he had been on the faculty of the University of Chicago.

THIS "WEDDING" TO BE SOCIAL EVENT OF THE SEASON

(By High School Correspondent.)

One of the most popular young ladies of Santa Fe, Miss Phyllis Mayne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Consuelo Bergere, will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Mr. Dorothy Hayward, a promising young divinity student. The service will take place in the first story of the Canon school building, Thursday evening, May 1. The officiating clergyman, Rev. Gertrude Gormley will join them in wedlock at 9:30 p. m.

The wedding train will be as follows: Maid of honor, Dorothy Sanford; best man, Martin Burroughs; ring bearer, Helen Winter; flower girl, Miriam Cartwright; ushers, Lulu Krick and Jean Law.

The happy couple will leave on the 12:05 train for Tesuque, where they will visit the bride's relations for several weeks.

The rooms will be beautifully decorated in a color scheme of red and yellow, the bride suitably gowned in white cheese cloth and imitation Chinee lace, and the rest of the wedding party harmoniously attired.

All are cordially invited to be present at this crowning event of the season and will be hospitably welcomed, providing they pay 10 cents!

This, in connection with the high school entertainment to be held at the same time and place, is given for the benefit of the boys' track team which is to attend the meet at Albuquerque May 3.

NOT GUILTY IS THEIR PLEA.
Chicago, Ill., April 30.—The national commission, "supreme court of baseball" at its meeting here today may take cognizance of the proposed congressional investigation of the alleged "baseball trust" it was reported. A statement insisting on the guiltlessness of organized baseball, and declaring necessary to its preservation the national agreement and the reserve clause in players contracts, it was said, probably would be the form in which notice of the investigation asked by Congressman Gallagher would be taken.

The commission's session promised to be a long one. In addition to consideration of the Cobb hold out case, in which the eligibility of the Detroit star was to be passed upon, there were numerous other problems, some from minor leagues, to be taken up.

ANOTHER BOMB THROWN BUT TO NO AVAIL.
Cripple Creek, Colo., April 30.—A dynamite bomb was thrown into the home of Mrs. Nora Barnum, at midnight last night. The bomb failed to explode and Night Marshal William Mabry removed it from the house. Mrs. Barnum lives within three blocks of the home of James Bacon, which was wrecked by an explosion Monday morning.

The condition of Bacon who was seriously injured, in the Monday morning explosion when his wife and step-daughter were killed, is slightly improved today.

ON IT'S OWN MERITS.

The case of Delgadillo, sentenced to be hung next month, seems for some reason to have awakened a good deal of mawkish sympathy. The Albuquerque Herald appears as his defender.

The declaration that he is a victim of tuberculosis in its advanced stage, does not up to the present time, seem to have received official ratification, as his physician has not yet given out his verdict. The man was ill with pneumonia at the time he was removed to Santa Fe, but reports seem to indicate that he has recovered and has grown steadily better. He was convicted of murder after a full and fair trial, such as is accorded any other criminal, and the fact that he had no money to prosecute an appeal seems hardly a sufficient reason for a commutation of sentence.

Neither should the fact that Goulet and Lyle received light sentences not commensurate with their crimes affect, in any way, someone else. Carried out that would be a peculiar kind of justice. A precedent set by one official or one court in such a matter is hardly to be considered as a rule for their successors, else we would have a very unjust administration of affairs.

Another argument used is that Delgadillo, "in a fury of jealousy, is alleged to have slain a woman of dubious reputation." In the same article in which this expression is used, the Herald speaks of the woman as the "paramour" of the man.

By what course of reasoning, in this relationship, is the man less culpable than the woman? Wherein is his superiority? From what angle is he to be viewed as better than she?

Why is the crime lessened because he killed a woman who was not his wife, but with whom he is alleged to have been holding illicit relations? Twelve men who tried him declared him guilty. The judge before whom he was tried, passed sentence.

Why should the governor of the state be expected, without far weightier reasons than have been advanced, to set aside both the verdict and the sentence that were rendered on evidence at the trial?

If on examination, Delgadillo proves to be a victim of tuberculosis, with death not far away, it becomes a question of sympathy, and consideration for clemency, but no other reasons have yet been advanced which are worthy of recognition bearing on the side of interference by Governor McDonald.

He cannot be blamed for not wishing to set this precedent for himself, or not desiring to make of himself a court of last resort.

A LESSON FOR US.

"I say without the tone or term of exaggeration: 'Clovis has the biggest and best chamber of commerce, considering the size of the city, of any other city in the world I believe; and we shall never forget this most hospitable reception given us.'"—Leader of Dallas branch responding to President Oldham's address of welcome.

The Clovis Journal has the above in its last issue in giving an account of the meeting held in the "Magic City" last week.

That is high praise and seems to be well merited. The chamber of commerce started out with a membership that seemed to include every business man in the community.

That this aliveness and energy and public spirit will bear fruit, cannot be questioned. Clovis will profit by it, beyond doubt. We hope it will.

It only brings to our attention once more the chances for growth and progress that lie before Santa Fe.

We have called ourselves "The City with the Open Gate," but are we that?

The expression should not mean alone that the gate is open for people to wander in and out again.

It should mean that we invite our friends and tourists to enter and that when they do so they will get the glad hand and be asked to stay.

It should mean that we want them here to become citizens with us, and that we have much to offer for their pleasure and their profit.

If the citizens here will stand back of our chamber of commerce and aid the members in their work, there is not a particle of doubt that really great things can be accomplished.

It is not without very great significance that those who come to Santa Fe are delighted with it; that again and again we hear expressions from tourists of surprise, fascination and pleasure, that we ought to make more of our opportunities; that we have a wonderful assortment of most valuable assets.

What is the matter, then. Why are we not growing rapidly and substantially? The answer is not a difficult one. We have not been wide awake.

This is an age of advancement and movement in every line. It is a recognition of fact that the city, town or locality that gets its name before people is the one that grows. The big advertiser is the successful man. He sets the standard.

Santa Fe has so much to build on, so much to save, such remarkable assets, that we, as citizens here, are blameworthy beyond words. If we do not make it what it should be—the best known and most attractive city in the west.

THEY GO TO WASTE.

Men can understand men. Does a man ever understand a woman? The other day, in Detroit, 14 men were taken to prison. They had been convicted of a miserable crime—perhaps the meanest crime there is. They were white slaves. Under the pretense of affection they had betrayed innocent young girls, forced their victims into the awful human fate and pocketed the wages of the shame.

Yet as these 14 men, in handcuffed pairs, were taken to the patrol wagon which was to carry them to their prison sentences, 14 women, pitiable dupes of masculine beseness, wept and murmured—not reproaches, but expressions of sympathy and sorrow coupled with promises of fidelity.

The waste of misplaced affection; the useless sacrifice of human values which under happier conditions might have meant 14 fruitful, upbuilding homes!

Betrayed, bespattered, shamed though they had been, there was still left in these unfortunate an unextinguished, an indestructible remnant of the loyalty which, rightly placed, makes society's most precious asset.

Yet what a prospect they face! A few hectic years of battle with human wolves—and then the morgue!

Philosophers would have us believe that this cruel sacrifice has always been; that it must always be.

But has the policy of kindness for the Magdalenes, since Christ's time, ever been persistently tried?

AN IMMATURE STRIKE.

The school children's strike at Pittsburg is awakening a good deal of interest and stirring up a warm line of interest.

As a rule the strike method is ineffective and especially so in school affairs, when it has been quelled by means of the gad in the school room and the slipper at home.

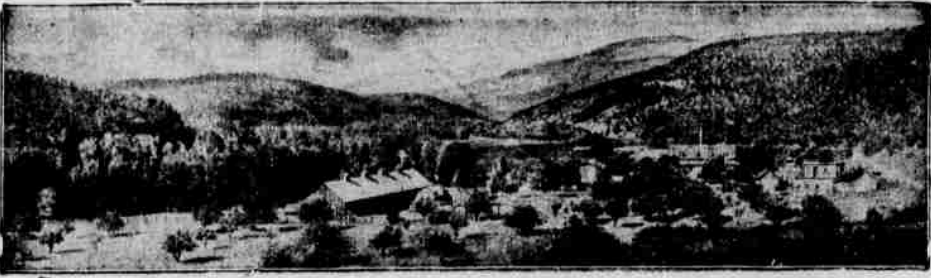

In the Pittsburg case, if it is really a question of morals and not a way to escape school, it is worthy of respect, but it does seem as if a higher court than that of the school children should determine the question, and there are higher courts for its adjudication.

It would seem as if this were a question rather for the parents, the board of education and the courts of law.

If Superintendent Heeter is guilty of immoral conduct he should be discharged. If he is not, juvenile judgment should not be permitted to condemn him. A school children's strike should be nipped while budding.

The manner in which Bryan closed that Champ Clark breach shows that he is a diplomat.

HOMESICKNESS.

Alas, how many wake from their sleep to say, "How fair this dawning hour would be."

If thou wert here to share with me, O Love, so long away!"

I saw the little stanza in a paper the other day and it struck me as just the word of one who was homesick.

It is natural for young people to have that awful feeling of homesickness when they first go from home and can't get there. Every youngster who has gone away for the first time to school has felt it to a greater or less degree. That it comes in later life, was plainly shown in those cases that occurred in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, when boys actually died of homesickness.

This disease is brought on a person through longing for persons and for places, but in either case it is a serious complaint. I do not know as one ever gets beyond the age when they are free from a possibility of an attack. I know, sometimes when weary and tired, the old home and the old days have come back to me in picture and it was an almost uncontrollable longing that possessed me to go back once more and be again among the scenes that have gone forever.

I have seen again the old home, familiar in every detail, with its cheer, its sweetness and its old associations. I have seen the beautiful rolling hills, the blue lakes nestled between them, or the brook rippling on never ceasingly, as it emerged from the sandy green of the wood and gurgled across the road, under the bridge that gave back, even now, the echo of the buggy as it rolled over it.

I have felt an ineffable longing at times to go back again amid those cherished scenes and live it out there to the end, and only by an effort could the longing be dispelled.

So homesickness is not alone a child's disease. It belongs to all times and all ages, and I am not sure that the feeling that comes in later life is not more poignant than ever it was before.

ALWAYS READY.

Men, as well as the ladies, in going over the columns of the newspapers, read and then glance at the Laura Jean Libbey effusions; the beauty suggestions of Lillian Russell; the recipes of Caroline and Marion Harland. Often in these columns we find a statement too, from the housekeeper who is always ready and she tells how she fixed up some reliable dish out of nothing, which she had in the house when company unexpectedly came in. She found some cold potatoes and one thing and another that separately didn't sound good at all, but mixed together, according to the housekeeper, made a wonderful combination that would make the dishes served at the best of our leading cities, look like thirty cents.

These things read good, but they sound a little like fiction and seem to have something imaginary about them. The average man, somehow or other, has failed to become familiar with these wonders in real life. I have known cases where the sudden entrance of friends who were passing through the city, caused consternation that was oppressive, and so have the rest of you, and I know the ladies of Santa Fe are as capable in meeting emergencies as can be found anywhere on earth.

So the wonderful housekeeper, who meets her unexpected friends with a glorious concoction worked up from cold potatoes, a can of tomatoes, some chile and cold ham, which is not commonly found lying around on pantry shelves—this wonderful housekeeper is really a rare asset and possesses a fine imagination.

To be sure, now and then a housekeeper does find herself prepared for unexpected company, but it is not the regular thing.

CARE FOR IT.

Some one interested in retaining our assets in Santa Fe and holding those attractions which constitute so much of the value we have to offer, suggested to the Bystander the other day that attention be paid to "the oldest house in the United States," and that some action be taken to keep it from going to decay.

It is really, with our cherished San Miguel chapel, one of our most interesting features. No one coming to the Ancient City wants to miss seeing America's oldest house. It must be admitted that it looks its age, but it will have to receive some care if it expects to retain its place among the attractions of the west.

It is the natural tendency in these days of commercial rush and attention only to business, to forget those things that touch the sentimental or romantic side.

I remember in Arizona, a few years ago, the old Casa Grande ruins, lying as they did far out from the railroad, were being absolutely unprotected and

AMONG THE EDITORS.

Who Says It Can't.

The streets of Tucuman this week have had the appearance of a tropical town in the rainy season. Who says it can't rain in New Mexico when it takes a notion?—Tucuman Sun.

Don't Loiter There.

The man looking for a wife isn't going down on the street corner or in the night cafes to do his looking. The kind of girls who make good wives don't loiter on the streets nor live about open-air night cafes.—Clovis Journal.

No Limit.

We suggest that the Democratic administration at Washington close shop and turn over the affairs of the country to the learned editor of the Morning Journal. Or in lieu of that, that Mr. Wilson appoint him secretary of state. There may be a limit to his ability, but there is none to his egotism.—Gallup Republican.

New Mexico Has It.

California is just now furnishing a great amount of "green chile" and "tomatoes" to the trade in New Mexico. The Mesilla valley produces the former commodity in profusion and of the best quality ever. There is a fortune awaiting the man who can install a canning factory in Las Cruces, Dona Ana county, New Mexico.—Las Cruces Citizen.

Singing Happy Songs.

This entire vicinity was visited by a slow, steady rain last Sunday night and Monday, the largest ever known to fall here in April. Over five inches of water has fallen this week and most of it has been retained in the surface soil. The grass which had previously started now spreads a delightful green over our surrounding hills and caused our beautiful valley to echo with the happy songs of the "staying" farmers as he drives his cows to the milk lot from whence flows a stream of cream through La Lande that is raining dollars into the pockets of their owners.—La Lande Leader.

Isn't It Worth It.

Your home newspaper heralded to the world your birth. It told of your entry into school. Mentioned your birthday party when you were sweet sixteen. Applauded your graduation from the high school, started you to college, and when you returned mentioned the first job you secured. Told of your marriage to the sweetest girl in town and also mentioned the advent (or exit) of your first born. Told of the visits of pa and ma, sympathized with you in your sorrow, laughed with you in your joy, and when you die it will do its best to get you through the pearly gates for only $2.50 a year.—Gallup Independent.

The Question of Sheep.

There are probably not to exceed 12 persons in New Mexico interested in the production of wool. All the citizens of the state are interested in wearing woolen "duds," that is, providing they can afford the luxury. In a sheep raising state wool should be reasonable in price to the consumer just as the cost of living is less in an agricultural community. Our dear Mr. Ferguson, the common people's friend, is outraging every sense of consistency and attempting the repudiation of his party's principles for the friendship of the sheep kings, who have wrought the corruption of New Mexico's legislators from the beginning. Just what he expects to gain at the hands of those who elected him to office is hard to imagine.—Deming Graphic.

Hospital. Doctor Kalke officiated. Recently the former patient found that the surgeon on sewing up the wound had forgotten a sponge which has reposed in his (Montgomery's) interior since the ordeal.

Counsel for Doctor Kalke holds that action should have been brought immediately following the operation. Counsel for Montgomery contends that he had known about the sponge he would certainly have done so. The delay, he states, was caused in mistaking the sponge for acute indigestion and other intestinal ailments, and, accordingly, the statute of limitations does not apply.

Montgomery sets forth that during all these seven years he has suffered tortures in his abdominal regions, and that his case has baffled the Jackson-ville physicians. He spent $10,000, he avers, before discovering that the pains were caused by the sponge.

If it had been a pipe, a pair of scissors or something more definite, his attorney declares, the "foreign object" would have been found long ago. Judge Carpenter is consulting law books on the subject.

MURDER, MURDER CALLS A PARROT

Philadelphia, April 29.—Persons living in the vicinity of Chadwick and Dickinson streets were aroused to a state of feverish anxiety last night by strange and tragic ejaculations which came from a deserted house, occupied until two days ago by Rosco Romello. "Murder, murder, police," were the words wafted out into the night air, which caused every one in the district to stir from his easy chair.

Italian and English phrases followed in quick succession. Then some more murder ejaculations, with now and then a call for the police.

Policeman William H. Smith, with drawn revolver, broke open the front door of the house. He was followed by a half dozen frightened men. In the middle room the cause of the disturbance was still showing activity. It was nothing more than a hungry parrot in a cage.

Smith put his hand on the cage, but at the wrong place, grasping the side instead of the top. The parrot bit him twice. That enraged the officer, who took bird and cage to the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue station, where it opened up a new line of choice of English and Italian profanity.

The bird was placed in a cell, but its boisterousness was so excessive that the prisoners complained. They wanted to go to sleep.

In an attempt to quiet the parrot a policeman fed it a cracker, which was liberally sprinkled with red pepper. That only incensed the green-feathered disturber, which swore louder than ever.

At a very late hour policemen were searching high and low for Romello, not to arrest him, but merely to persuade him to take the parrot off their hands.

YOUNG SPENDER MAKES CONFESSION

Cleveland, Ohio, April 29.—Through the confession of a young "spender," who is to be indicted by the grand jury this week on a charge of embezzlement, the police learn:

That a Cleveland firm has been robbed of $30,000 of metal by one of its $60 a month clerks.

That a "fence," or agent for receiving stolen property, investigated this week and other similar thefts which have cost Cleveland concerns $100,000.

That several well known Clevelanders have been living in a house known as a thieves' and drugs funds' headquarters.

One indictment has been returned by the grand jury for stealing and receiving stolen property. Two other are to be returned this week.

The young "spender" tells a story rivaling that of "Boy Spender" Jurgens.

Hired at $60 a month as storekeeper, he says, he was satisfied to work steadily and live quietly until he met a man who introduced him to "Cleveland's night life" and showed him how to swindle his employers.

He began piling good copper beneath scrap iron he sold for the firm. It was taken to another plant and sold. He received checks for his share.

He bought an automobile and then followed wine parties and "high life."

Then, after he had spent nearly $30,000, came discovery. Detective Aron Goldsmith, employed by the firm, attended some of the parties told the grand jury the story, and the "spender" will be indicted.

Get Your Blood Purified With S.S.S. and You Won't be Tortured Like This. The stagnation of their blood with S.S.S.

This wonderful remedy works on the principle of stimulating cell growth, of enabling the blood to quickly infuse new life into the tissues, to stop decay, to prevent the formation of those accumulations of broken down cells that rapidly multiply into the form of carbuncles and other eruptions.

Science cannot explain just why certain elements in the blood feed the bones, others nourish the hair roots, and so on. And it is this same mysterious action of S.S.S. that attacks all diseased spots, drives away all germs, heals all sores and supplants the activity of disease germs with the powerful healing action of its cures. Remarkable testimonials have been written that prove beyond question there is no blood disease but what can be cured by S.S.S. And in all those cases that were treated with mercury, iodine, arsenic, copper and other minerals with no permanent effect, the most astonishing recoveries have been made by S.S.S.

There is not a blood taint of any nature that can remain in a system fortified by this most wonderful remedy, for it is absolutely pure and contains only those elements that the blood naturally assimilates, and which the tissues gratefully accept. It agrees with the most delicate stomach, even in those cases where the use of strong drugs has so weakened the digestive system that medicine can not be given. Get a $1.00 bottle of S.S.S. at any drug store and thus be assured of a complete cure of any eruptive blood disease. NEWS OF THE STATE

BADLY CUT.

In a fight last Saturday night the direct cause of which was a too free indulgence in the line of goods handled by our latest business enterprise, one of the contestants received several serious and possibly fatal knife wounds. A natural result of a too free indulgence.—Columbus Courier.

VAGRANTS AND TIN HORNS.

"There are far too many idlers, vagrants and common 'tin-horns' about this city and we are going to make a move toward seeing that some of this undesirable trash makes a move itself and that right away," remarked Chief of Police Frank Ivy in speaking of the situation in Clovis which was suggested by one of the cases docketed in the police court this week. Frank Ivy thinks we don't need this kind of stuff to make prosperity for our town. The Journal thinks our chief of police is right, and most every business man and taxpayer here will agree with him. Clovis is with you Frank. Start the ball to rolling!—Clovis Journal.

LOOKS LIKE SUCCESS.

It now looks as if the latest effort to get a deep well put down will be a success.

C. L. Hatcher, who was here some time ago and made preliminary arrangements, has formed a company and we understand has bought machinery which is now being loaded. He has ordered timbers from the Estancia Lumber company for a 34-foot derrick and has wired that he will arrive here this (Thursday) evening, to get things ready for drilling. All of which looks like business.

The contract calls for a well not less than 1,500 feet in depth.

Of course no one knows what will be found, provided the hole is drilled. We can only hope that the result will justify the trouble and expense.—Estancia News-Herald.

WILL HAVE ROCK PILE.

At a meeting of the council last night it was decided, at the suggestion of the mayor, that the city should maintain a rock pile in order that crushed stone might be had for the streets. A quantity of rock will be hauled in soon and placed on a spot near the calaboose so that the city prisoners may be put to work upon it. Heretofore when hobses have been brought up before the justice of the peace it has been the custom in most instances to give them a certain time in which to leave town, as there was no work for them to do.

Tucumcari has gained a reputation among the "Weary Willies" as a place fairly free from the terrors of the calaboose, and also as a mighty good burg in which to find "cats." The town is now in sore danger of losing its reputation among the fraternity.—Tucumcari Sun.

BRICK PLANT OPERATING.

On Monday of this week the Gallup brick plant set all the wheels of the machinery in motion and began to manufacture fire brick with a full force of men. Twelve thousand bricks were turned out the first day. Quite naturally the first day of work was full of ups and downs that are bound to happen, and the daily output will be greatly increased as the machinery gets to running in full swing and the work became more systematized. From the present indications the output will be far too small for the demand for this material, as the fire brick from the Gallup clay promises to outclass any that is on the market today. The capacity of the plant will surely have to be increased within a short time. As the bricks are placed on the market and their superior quality is ascertained by the public, the demand for the Gallup brick will be very great.—Gallup Independent.

CHILD IN BEAR TRAP.

Yesterday morning about eleven o'clock little bright Marguerite Dolan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Dolan, was discovered with her right arm, just below the elbow, caught in a big bear trap, while playing with her little brother in their father's corral. It took three men to get her arm out of the trap. At the time she was found in the trap by an Indian squaw, who gave the alarm, her little brother was by her side and would not leave her. The bear trap was set during the night time in Mr. Dolan's corral right near his house in order to try and catch the sheep thieves, who have been stealing his sheep at night.

Doctor Allison was quickly summoned and found the little five year old girl's arm very badly bruised all over, but most fortunately no bones were broken, not even any fractures, which under all circumstances, was decidedly favorable to the little girl as it might have been much more serious than it was.—Taos Valley News.

ON THE MAP.

From the present indications Tucumcari soon will see the general railway shops of the El Paso & Southwestern established here. The federal government during the last week is said to have denied the rights of that system to the water now piped from the Bonito canyon of the Capitan mountains which supplies the railway for over two hundred miles from Pastura to New man on its lines. Suit to retain the rights was begun the past week in the federal court at Alamogordo by the railway company. It is said that the national government will in most probability, take from the railway company the water right and in this event, Tucumcari must of necessity become the water supply center this being almost the point from which sufficient water may be obtained for the road.

For several months the railway company have been engaged here in the sinking of deep wells and one of the proposed ten wells is now about completed, a depth of over seven hun-

ADVENTURES OF A WHALE EXHIBITOR.

In the May American Magazine, a theatrical press-agent writes his autobiography, in the course of which he tells a remarkable story of his adventures with a whale. A whale was found dead on the beach at Cape Cod and the showman got hold of the carcass for nothing. He hired a taxidermist to prepare it for exhibition purposes. The story goes on:

"The taxidermist said he could make the remains presentable and permanent for two hundred dollars. The township authorities were anxious to get rid of the body before it started to disintegrate. Finally they took the whale, embalmed it on the sand, and two dozen teams of horses and ten trucks dragged the huge cadaver to a flat car, which had been equipped with a detachable awning. A collapsible runway and barricade permitted patrons of the great educational exhibit to walk around the remains of the late departed and gaze at his varnished and shellacked surface from behind a fence. When the show was ready to start, less than five hundred dollars had been expended.

"The cost of transportation and advertising was small, and the tour had been a howling success from the very start. The car traveled by freight. Its approach was heralded a week in advance by stories in the papers and by handbills strewn about the streets and in shops. A twenty-five-dollar-a-week bill-poster attended to this.

"Arrived in a town of eight to fifteen thousand people, the car would be anchored on a side-track, the platform and two flights of steps would be lowered, a banner depicting whales from the time of Jonah to the exciting capture of the present exhibit—a capture that cost the lives of seven valiant seamen—would be draped around the car below the platform, and the show was on. Sometimes my friend and his whale would remain in a town a week, sometimes two days. It made no difference; every dime that came in was 'velvet.'

"But the bubble has busted! The graft has gone! It should have continued forever—would have, but for that Yankee bird-stuffer! What he put in Alfred I'm blessed if I know, but the old boy has commenced to smell. At first you could only get his odor a couple of blocks. Now he announces himself for miles. I've let my advance go because our approach is heralded counties away through the olfactory nerves of the sniffing populace. Today, the state board of health told me I must bury my meal-ticket. Can you imagine the job of interring a whale? A quarter-section farm, all the grave-diggers that ever appeared in 'Hamlet,' and a carload of smelling-salts will be necessary."

F. Mentzer, for forgery, two to two and one-half years, and a highwayman, Manuel Acuna, who gets three to four years. The last named man held up a store full of people at Maharams about two months ago, but was overpowered and captured before he got away with anything.

INJUNCTION GRANTED.

In the case in equity of John Loomy versus the Arlington Land company, Martin Borders Land company, and Thorp Bros., to restrain the defendants from transferring certain lands on the Tierra Amarilla grant, consisting of 5760 acres, the court granted a restraining order requiring the defendants to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be granted. The case was heard by Judge Pope yesterday and an injunction granted.

STATE ENCAMPMENT.

The general orders for the biennial encampment of the national guard of New Mexico have been issued by the adjutant general. The encampment will be held in July and August. The following are some of the salient items of news contained therein that are of interest to the members of the national guard and their friends:

State target range will be attended by the First infantry July 15 to 25 inclusive, to be held at Las Vegas. Light battery "A" will be at the target range in the Capitan mountains August 5 to 14 inclusive.

The First regiment will be equipped in heavy marching order, including trenching tools. Uniforms en route and in camp, except when otherwise ordered will be khaki, all uniforms to be cleaned and pressed. Company officers will mess with their company organizations, but there will be a mess for field and staff officers. Arrangements are to be made for the daily order of rations from each company commander, to the commissary, and such commanders will inspect each meal served. The best of sanitary regulations will be provided for and all garbage kept in garbage cans, which will be burned under the direction of the camp surgeon, who will also make a daily inspection of the camp.

Tickets to Las Vegas and return will be obtained at home stations, in exchange for transportation requests furnished by the adjutant general. Transportation will only be furnished to bona fide members of the national guard attending the encampment. Any officer who furnishes transportation to persons not entitled to the same will have the value of the transportation so furnished deducted from his pay.

Previous to the encampment, enlisted men must have had 60 days' service in the organized militia, including at least 14 periods of practical progressive military instruction of at least one and one-half hours each, or an equivalent service in the regular army, navy, or marine corps, or one academic year's service at a school where military instruction is given.

The silver loving cups presented to the national guard of New Mexico, one by Hon. Nathan Jaffa, known as the Mid Range Trophy, and the other by Hon. A. W. Huddeke, known as the Long Range Trophy, will be contested for by teams representing the companies of the First infantry present at the encampment on Thursday, July 24, under conditions prescribed in G. O. No. 22, 1907, and G. O. No. 4, 1905, adjutant general's office.

Company commanders will furnish the adjutant names of members of teams representing their companies on or before July 22. No preliminary practice for the contests will be permitted during the encampment.

OIL COMPANY INCORPORATED.

It is planned to have one man take one section of the state and the other the remainder, so that each institute in the state will have this benefit at least three days and it is urged that two periods a day be given to them in which to do class work. Great School Doings—Tomorrow night, Thursday, the 1st of May, a party sale will be held at the Catron Grammar school. There are going to be great doings on that occasion, including a bazaar, a fish pool, an indoor circus, a Chinese tea garden and best of all something to eat. The limit of cost for indulging in any of these attractions is only five cents apiece, so you can pay your money and take your choice, or several choices. The stunt is pulled off for the benefit of the track team of the school to raise sufficient funds to defray expenses to Albuquerque, where the first meet will be held. The entertainment will be held between 8 and 10 o'clock. Those who are interested in helping the cause and cannot be present are requested to let a dime or a quarter be their proxy.

The First in Santa Fe—Frank Andrews, the grocer, has installed an automobile for delivery. The machine is a Ford, purchased of the Wood-Davis Hardware company, and has been built with a double deck for the transportation of goods from the Andrews store on San Francisco street to his customers. It is particularly selected for its convenience and speed.

Mr. Andrews expects to be not only able to make hourly trips, beginning at 9:30 in the morning, but the automobile will take the place of two delivery wagons, and then some. The machine is a trim runabout and bears the legend "Andrews Grocery" and that will be the synonym for up-to-date goods and the most prompt delivery. Mr. Andrews is to be congratulated on being the first Santa Fe merchant to install automobile delivery service.

Our Auto Delivery is ready for business and we are going to make ten deliveries a day, beginning at 7:30 a. m. we will make a delivery at half past every hour, excepting the noon hour. Give us a chance to show you that we will be there with the goods.

The scene of the little play is laid in one room of a continental water-cure establishment where Lady Macbeth Portia, Ophelia and Juliet gather to drink a cup of tea and incidentally to express their views of Will Shakespeare and their respective husbands. Good Samaritans—Mrs. Ellison, a poor and fugitive woman with her children, whose husband was sent up some months ago, was turned out on the street, without money, food or shelter, last Sunday. She was found weeping near the Methodist church by Mrs. Nora E. Summers, and given a place to sleep and something to eat. Prof. Walter Norton also contributing. Mrs. Summers interested some of the women of her church in the case, among them Mrs. H. S. Mr. Coomer of the New Mexican Central offered to arrange for reduced transportation and if it is expedient the woman and her children will be sent to Cedardale this week.
