The Santa Fe baseball club met its fifth defeat of the season at the hands of the Albuquerque Grays, when it went down before the locals in an interesting exhibition game at Tractor Park yesterday afternoon, the final score being nine to five in favor of the locals. Notwithstanding the somewhat lopsided score, the game contained quite a few exciting incidents. While the team work as a whole was lacking because of the fact that a number of new faces appeared on each aggregation, the individual playing of several of the players was at times brilliant and was much enjoyed by the several hundred fans who turned out to see the contest. "Binger," Corban, was a bright consistent star for the Albuquerque team and received several "hands" from the crowd. Binger has lost none of his ability to scoop up grounders and shoot them to first or wherever else they may be needed. Corban still covers enough territory around short to build a family hotel on and has improved quite a bit in stick work.

Pete Hidalgo was a prima donna yesterday. In fact Pete was one of the real high lights of the game, and demonstrated his pitching ability in a very substantial manner when he replaced Nicholas in the box at the beginning of the fifth inning, when the score stood four to one in favor of the visitors, and mixed his curves to such an extent that only one hit was made off his delivery in the remaining five innings.

Albuquerque started the ball rolling in the first inning, when Ambros got to first on a hit and stole second. Corban, who pitched the game, was given free transportation by Jimmy Lopez, who did the twirling for the opposition. Ambros was thrown out at home by Owen, while attempting to score on a hit and run play. With Corban on second, Pettus smashed the hemisphere on the equator with sufficient force to score "Binger" and make second base for himself.

The visitors were blanked in the first and second innings, but took a brace in the third, when Jimmy Lopez got a hit and stole second. Owens made first on an error by Pettus, who scored Lopez. Lyons, who pitched a hot one and scored Owens, making the tally board read two to one in favor of Santa Fe. The locals blanked the second, third and fourth mainly on account of good work on the part of Lopez, assisted to more scores in the fourth when Dan Anderson got a pass. G. Parsons sacrificed him to second. Anderson scored on Will Parsons' hit and Lopez scored Parsons on an error by Pettus.

Nicholas, the big boy, who essayed to pitch for Albuquerque, didn't seem to have much on his mind yesterday, and at the end of the fourth he was retired to the club house, being relieved by Hidalgo. After Pete got in there was nothing doing for Santa Fe except to score in the seventh, when Owens hit good for two bases and went to third on a fielder's choice, scoring on a fielder's fly by Lyons.

The opening gun in the territorial fair baseball tournament will be fired in Tractor park this afternoon, when the Santa Fe and Socorro teams will struggle for the long end of the score and the first game of the series. Taking the first game in a tournament is considered a lucky omen by ball players and it is expected that the exhibition this afternoon will be a hard fought battle from start to finish. It is believed, however, that the real battle will be between "Rube" Waddell, who will be in the box for Socorro this afternoon, and Lockhart, who will pitch for Santa Fe. Waddell is the big league pitcher, who has been working with the St. Louis Cardinals this year. He made his initial bow as a member of the Socorro team at El Paso yesterday afternoon.

OUTLOOK GLOOMY
FOR DETROIT
GAMEHeavy Downpour of Rain With Prediction of More Likely to Interfere With World Championship Series.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
Detroit, Oct. 10.—The chances of playing the third game of the world's championship series between Pittsburgh and Detroit here tomorrow are extremely dubious because of a heavy rain today. According to the local forecasters the rain will continue all night and possibly all day tomorrow and brisk winds will accompany it.

Should the third game not be played tomorrow the Detroit game will go over until Tuesday and Wednesday and the next game at Pittsburgh will be delayed until Thursday.

There is also a chance that the stay in Detroit may be prolonged beyond even Wednesday on account of the continued unfavorable weather. The Pittsburgh and Detroit teams arrived here today on the National commission's special train. The Pittsburgh headquarters were established at the Pontchartrain hotel. The majority of the Pittsburgh supporters will not arrive until tomorrow morning. The Detroit team arrived early today, but there were some enthusiastic on hand to give Jennings and his men a few cheers. Jennings wore a happy smile and there was a general air of confidence among the Detroit players. If there is a game tomorrow, the Detroit choice of pitchers will probably be between Adams and Maddox. With the return of the two teams, each with a victory to its credit, has aroused the interest here to a fever heat. Predictions are being made freely that the crowd at the first game here will beat all records for world's series in this city. The National commission is scheduled to hold a meeting here tomorrow and it is expected some definite action will be taken on the Murphy-Pfeiffer case.

where he lost his game, the White Sox pounding him for four hits and two runs, while Anderson ran at Paso, only allowed three hits with no runs. Waddell at one time was the star of the big league and was as famous as Christy Mathewson is today. He lost his grip, however, and is not the brilliant performer today that he was a few years ago.

"Rube" is still a celebrity, however, and the fact that he is to pitch for Socorro in the tournament will increase the interest in the series.

The game this afternoon will be called at one-forty-five promptly and fans are advised to be in their seats at that time, as the exhibition will start at the appointed hour without fail.

Santa Fe was worsted by Albuquerque in an exhibition game yesterday, but their defeat should not be taken as an indication of what the Ancient City boys will do during the tournament. The Santa Fe club is composed of quite a formidable array of talent, having been strengthened by Lockhart, pitcher, Owens, a shortstop, Lyons, second base, and Gard, catcher, all of whom finished the season with Trinidad. "Doc" McCarthy, always a popular favorite in Albuquerque, will arrive from Santa Fe tomorrow evening and work in the box part of the time for that team alternating with Lockhart and Lopez.

The Socorro bunch, although worsted Saturday and Sunday at El Paso, have demonstrated on more than one occasion that they can play ball and will no doubt be a factor in the tournament.

The Port Wingate soldiers have also entered for the series and it is said that they will not try for second money either. The soldier team is pretty much of an unknown quantity, but as they are doing splendid things under their hats and some startling developments may come to light when the line-ups are presented today.

A meeting between the managers of the various teams entered in the tournament will be held today in the office of M. E. Hickey, superintendent of baseball for the fair. Mr. Hickey, together with the executive committee will be the supreme court in the matter of decisions regarding protests against the eligibility of players.

It is known that "Rube" Waddell has not been in the southwestern district for three months required by the rules and regulations and possibly protests may be made against his participation in the tournament as a member of the Socorro team.

The line-up for the games this afternoon, subject to change, is as follows:

Andrew Miller will sell to Alamoer next week and will be present when his horses are on the track. He is in hopes that his trip of horses will capture a share of the big money that is being offered at the big fair.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)
El Paso, Texas, Oct. 10.—The El Paso White Sox today worsted the Socorro baseball club by the score of 2 to 0, the game going to the locals only after a hard fought battle. "Rube" Waddell, the St. Louis pitcher, was in the box for the visitors, but was ineffective, being touched for four hits, which netted the Sox two runs. Anderson, a local man, outpitched Rube, letting Socorro down with three hits and no runs.

Saturday's game resulted in a victory for the El Paso team, the Socorro bunch being defeated 5 to 7. Toner did the slab work for the visitors in Saturday's game.

LIVELY INTEREST IN
JOHNSON-KETCHEL
BATTLESan Francisco Sports Bet Two to One That Heavyweight
Honors Will Remain With Negro.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)
San Francisco, Oct. 10.—Even money that stands pitched, middleweight champion of the world, will last fifteen rounds, two to one that Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight champion, will retain his title after October 12, when the two men will engage in a twenty-round battle at Colma arena, were the prevailing odds among fight fans today.

Despite the fact that Ketchel is training for his first contest in the heavyweight class, the Michigan pugilist has a large following in this city. There seems to be any amount of fifteen-round money and much is being wagered that Ketchel will get the decision. In the presence of several newspaper men yesterday Ketchel tipped the scales at his training quarters at 174 pounds, the most he has ever weighed in training. According to his manager, Willie Hart, he will enter the ring at 170, which will be a difference of 18 pounds.

If Hart's prediction is verified Ketchel will be heavier than many men who have contended for heavyweight honors. Jim Corbett averaged 175 pounds in his battles and a few days before Fitzsimmons knocked out Corbett he tipped the beam at 176. Tom Sharkey averaged 175 to 176 for his battles and Joe Choynski never equaled the Michigan man's present weight.

Both contenders are training hard. The negro, having exhausted his supply of sparring timber, has announced that he will meet all comers until he completes training.

Ketchel is doing much strenuous work on the road, punching the bag, wrestling the sand bag, going through his own system of calisthenics regularly and keeping several sparring mates busy.

Seldom has more interest been taken in a championship battle than the local sporting public is showing in the coming contest.

Brady, the champion, which Ketchel claims is the prize he wants most about and is determined to win, much money will go to the winner. A side bet of $5,000 has been posted. Of the purse, 50 per cent of the gross receipts, the winner will take 45 per cent and the loser 55 per cent. Jack Welch will referee.

C. B. Klinger, the Jeweler, 1650 Virginia Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I was so weak from kidney trouble that I could hardly walk a hundred feet. Four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy cleared my complexion, cured my backache and the irregularities disappeared, and I can now attend to business every day and recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy to all sufferers, as it cured me after the doctors and other remedies had failed." J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

BRIAND WOULD REMODEL
FRENCH TRADE UNIONS

Paris, France, Oct. 10.—The first important speech of M. Briand, since he attained the premiership, was made here today. He announced that the government would pay special attention to social questions, its first care being to remodel the laws of the trades unions, giving them the right to hold and administer property, thus letting them from political agitation centers into social and industrial bodies. M. Briand also promised legislation to facilitate and promote the participation of workers in the profits, which under the law at present is impossible.

If people with symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble could realize their danger they would without loss of time commence taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. This great remedy stops the pain and the irregularities, strengthens and builds up these organs and there is no danger of Bright's disease or other serious disorder. Do not disregard the early symptoms. J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

ALBUQUERQUE - NEW MEXICO

WILL BE A FIRST CLASS FAIR.

Although we shall probably be disappointed in some few of the attractions that we expected to be able to give the public during the week, the program is still amply sufficient and attractive to make the fair first class in every particular, and when taken in connection with the week of perfect weather which is now practically assured, the exposition promises to be one of the most successful in the long history of the association.

The president is not going to be able to make it as long a visit as we expected him to make, but he will be here long enough to give all the people a chance to see him, and that is really all that is wanted, except by the few gentlemen who had hoped to have an opportunity to impress him by their eloquence, and their disappointment need not oppress the rest of us.

The failure of the air ship to come will be a real disappointment, but it is due to an accident that could not have been foreseen, and not to any lack of interest or effort on the part of the managers, who are more disappointed than anybody else. However, as we have said, there is enough left to make the fair a big success, and give the public a week brim full of enjoyment.

NEW MEXICO'S STATE FLOWER.

The Morning Journal is under obligations to Col. R. H. Johnson, custodian of the beautiful grounds surrounding the Central High school building, for as fine a bouquet as any that has graced the editorial table during the present year, and it is composed entirely of our own New Mexico common—modest flower, as handsome as any that grows, rich but not gaudy, and indigenous to this territory. We move the adoption of the cosmos as the state flower of New Mexico, because, first, it is sufficiently beautiful to deserve such an honor; second, because it is a native of the territory; and third, because it is the last flower of the year to bloom, and therefore peculiarly fitted to represent the last hour of the year. Somebody, without any sense of the fitness of things, has suggested the cactus, but the cactus belongs to the desert, and the desert is what we are trying to get away from. Let the state flower be the cosmos, it is beautiful, it is appropriate, it is indigenous, and it is the last flower of the year.

A GOOD INVESTMENT.

On September 10 a heroic statue of William H. Seward was unveiled in the grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition at Seattle. Eventually the statue will stand on the campus of the University of Washington. The memory of Seward is thus perpetuated because on the night of March 28, 1867, he negotiated the treaty with Russia by which Alaska became a part of the domain of the United States. Seward was then secretary of state under President Johnson.

"COINED BEET" AND CABBAGE.

The following editorial from the New York World of a few days ago is reproduced here because it is peculiarly apt in its exposure of the conditions in this section of the country.

"The food Mr. Taft has to eat while touring the country seems to be causing almost as much concern as the views he utters. Only he can choose his own words with care, while he has been obliged to consume such 'coined beet' and cabbage as the army cooks have been sent along the road, and word has been sent ahead that he wants simple fare. The youth is to be denied the privilege of displaying his triumphs of cookery because the west has overdone things. The intimation has been conveyed to New Orleans to omit rich creole sauces and similar indiscretions all to indignation. No Persian apparatus as Frenchified fass, as Thackeray calls it, will be in order. To the leading citizens of San Antonio who inquired about Mr. Taft's tastes a special message has been addressed saying that the president prefers corned beef and cabbage rather than epicurean tidbits."

"Since Georgia last winter advertised its natural resources by feasting Mr. Taft on possum and sweet potatoes, almost every section has vied to have been tried with the ambition to make him sample some favorite product prepared in some special way. When he sat out on his swing around the circle it looked as if the chief end of a president was dining. It promised to be a more serious adventure than hunting lions in Africa. As it is, Mr. Taft's decision to stick to plain, short meals will cause disappointment and heart-burning among the cooks from the Pacific coast to the Gulf. There is a brighter prospect, however, that he will reach Washington in November alive and well."

FOR THE STOCKMEN.

The Commercial and Financial World, of New York, says that in the future the forest service will endeavor to obtain complete reports as to the causes of all losses of live stock upon the national forest. Forest guards and rangers have been instructed to keep a strict account of all live stock found dead in their districts, reporting to the forester at the end of each month the number found and listing the causes of death as far as possible under one of four heads—accident, disease, poison and wild animals.

It is believed that such a record will be of great value to stockmen in assisting them to figure up the percentage of their losses and materially aiding them in preventing some of the losses through corrective measures. For instance, if an unusually large number of stock are found dead in some particular locality, due to poison from dangerous plants, it will be possible to meet this condition by fencing up the area, or perhaps digging up the poisonous plants.

If several animals are found killed by wild animals in some lone canyon, the hunter employed for that purpose, or the ranger himself, may lay out the matter and either trap poison or shoot the animal that is the other predatory animal responsible for the damage.

WORSER THAN ANY BEAST.

A dispatch to a Paris newspaper from Mexico that inquires how that El Righti, the pretender to the throne of Morocco, who was executed at For in the middle of September, was put to death by Sultan Muhammad V. He himself under circumstances of revolting cruelty.

According to the correspondent, the monarch, assisted by his chamberlain, dragged the pretender into a cage of lions and then provoked the animals, which leaped upon the mangled captive, inflicting horrible wounds. Then as El Righti fell to the ground motionless, the lions left him alone, despite the growling of the lioness, who thereupon pulled his still living victim outside the cage with her mouth, emptied a can of lamp oil over him and set him on fire, feeding the flames with oil-soaked rags until nothing but the charred bones of the pretender remained.

And this wild beast is the man, Muhd Hafid who has sent a commissioner to this country to ask the United States to protect him in the exercise of his "rights." If Roosevelt would shoot him he would do himself more credit among civilized people than by the killing of any number of elephants and dug-outs.

The Passing of Chambers.

The Guaradine cocktail is now on the market in Boston. "Guaradine" was the stage name of Robert W. Chambers, poet. The "Guaradine" story told ended Chambers has done some good things, but we can't see where he has added to the sum of human knowledge, happiness or entertainment with the free-rover and silly chatter of the addresser who move like puppets through his latest society serial.—Phoenix Republican.

material. The object is to be attained by concerted action on subjects of vital importance to all. The letter from M. O. Goggin Co., Pittsburg, Pa., published last week in the Review adds weight to this suggestion. They can handle the cantaloupe crop from 100 acres. Concentrated action to induce the planting of 100 or 400 acres next season should be immediately taken. Cooperation in shipping the product is as necessary as the growing. The Territorial Fruit Stock Inspection laws are admittedly inadequate and it is known that the eastern nurseries have for years used New Mexico as a dumping ground for poor nursery stock. How else are we going to prevent the receipt of diseased stock except through a well organized association with iron rules? Much has been said and written about the commission's mania robbery of the farmers, but the affliction is not known where a proper organization systematically markets every crop. An association will cost money but it will roll up additional profits for the farmer and the initial expense will seem insignificant. Where among our farmers is a leader who will step forward and rush this through to a successful finish?—Fort Sumner Review.

The people of Carlsbad owe it to their own pride in the beautiful city that J. H. Hertzog made possible, to at least attend the general next Sunday of the greatest benefactor of the Pecos Valley—the man who accomplished more than any other in this country, who was devoted to its people and who is now the benefactor of the people at his funeral. The train will leave Carlsbad at 11 a. m. Saturday at 6 p. m., and as the fare is only $1.10 for the round trip, there can be no excuse for non-attendance. There should be at least 200 in attendance from Carlsbad.—Carlsbad Argus.

A BIG EDITION OF A BIG NEWSPAPER.

The annual development and revision of the Albuquerque Morning Journal is a hummer. It consists of thirty-two profusely illustrated and speltly written pages and is a credit to the publishers and the territory. The Journal is the leading daily newspaper in the southwest.—Williams News.

The Leader.

The Albuquerque Journal is the leading paper of New Mexico, and not many cities in the whole country can boast of a better paper. It would be a credit to a city many times the size of Albuquerque.—Winslow Mail.

Up-to-Date.

The Albuquerque Journal came out this day with an issue that is up-to-date and every other respect that goes to make a good, live, up-to-date newspaper would have been a credit to any one of the big newspapers of the land. Congratulations to the Journal and also its readers.—Socorro Citizen.

Covered the Field.

The editor of the Argus reviews at all times in the success of those newspaper ventures with which he was at one time connected. Two many years ago for him to now know how he was employed by the Albuquerque Morning Journal, then as now, edited by Dean Burke. In those times the "night hawk" who showed on the Journal thought that an issue of the Argus was a big thing, but last Sunday the Journal issued a four section 8-page paper worthy of a city of 40,000 people. It was packed with information dealing with the different sections of New Mexico, now rapidly settling with the "front" of civilization, and every section was profusely illustrated. Our country is rapidly developing, with, and illustrated.—Carlsbad Argus.

A Great Issue.

The Albuquerque Morning Journal's issue for Sunday last was what is generally conceded to be the largest paper ever published in the territory. It contained thirty-two pages of four sections, and scattered through the paper were a number of interesting and splendidly written articles from special contributors, from different sections of the territory, showing the advantages from the non-probability of the territory's standpoint, of the different sections of the country. The paper came in with her share of notice in a half page write-up accompanied with a large seven-column cut out of a view of the main part of the city. All and all, this issue of the Morning Journal was indeed a great credit to the territory and especially to the people responsible for this unusual effort at paper making.

There was a feature of this number that strikes us more forcibly, perhaps than it does the rank and file of the people who read Sunday's issue of this paper, and that is the fact that it which represents more real labor than many are able to understand. We refer to the splendid full seven-column page or more excellent editorial written by the veteran editor of this paper. This matter was every bit of it editorial in the very strictest sense, and written in a most charming manner. The page would be more closely observed and topics of present concern, and Mr. Burke has, by the mastery way in which these are handled, again given the public the benefit of his editorial pen. The page is a most charmingly written in the southwest. We congratulate Brother Burke. We congratulate every man behind the Morning Journal.—Civics Daily Journal.

Alamogordo People are Backing Their Showmen to Win at the Fair. New Pump Being Tried Out.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Alamogordo, N. M., Oct. 9.—J. C. Dunn has set sail for Albuquerque, carrying in tow Otero county's big exhibit for the 29th Annual New Mexico Fair and Resources Exposition. The exhibit includes every product of garden, orchard and field, and is the best and most varied ever assembled in the county. There are pumpkins weighing 15 pounds, sugar beets 25 pounds, melons 40 pounds, sweet corn 18 1/2 pounds to the bush, sweet potatoes 8 pounds, and 8 feet high, pears 32 oz., apples 22 oz.

After the close of the big show at Albuquerque the exhibit will be carried to El Paso for the fair. Mr. Dunn, who is ex-county treasurer, is one of the pioneer dry farmers of this immediate section, and knows the value of the products he is displaying. He will make an expert speaker.

The Blazer Spiral Pump Co. held its annual meeting of stockholders and election of officers and directors at Alamogordo this week. The directors elected were: A. N. Blazer, James A. Carroll, Ira O. Wetmore, Colonel Lewis G. J. Wolfinger. The new officers are: A. N. Blazer, president; M. C. Carroll, J. Wolfinger, treasurer; Alamogordo.

This company, under the Blazer patents, is manufacturing a pump which is threatening to revolutionize the pumping industry. Fifty thousand dollars worth of these pumps was sold in the Pecos Valley through one demonstrating plant. A demonstration plant at the National Irrigation Congress at Albuquerque last year won the blue ribbon. Three of the pumps will be on exhibition at the El Paso fair, and a plant will be established in Alamogordo at an early date.

At the regular weekly drill of Company "F" of the National Guard, held last night, the social committee concluded that something ought to be done to liven the town, and decided to give a military ball. The people of Alamogordo do not require much advance notice for a ball, so the dance will be given tonight, at the new Majestic theatre. The Alamogordo orchestra will furnish the music.

The peaceful serenity of Alamogordo is to be broken by a minstrel show which is billed to appear here for three nights commencing Oct. 14. It is to be hoped that this show will be the goods. Any old real scream would help somewhat just now. That's how quiet it is now.

W. W. Cox, the San Augustine ranchman who came to Alamogordo last Wednesday night, has sufficiently improved to be able to start for home. Accompanied by Mrs. Cox and their little daughter, they left yesterday afternoon in the big Olds mobile.

A. M. Jackley, of Sacramento Valley Irrigation Co., has left for Chicago, after six weeks spent here in behalf of his interests.

H. W. Wolfert has gone to Cleveland and Chicago for a short business visit.

A representative of the Silver Lining, at Cloudcroft, is in Alamogordo soliciting subscriptions and ads. The Silver Lining's circulation is perhaps as large as that of any paper in Otero county.

Southwestern Editors MEET IN EL PASO.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 10.—A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Southwestern Editorial association has been called here for the week of November 1-7. This is the first of the El Paso Fair and Exposition, and as a large number of the editors and publishers of the Southwest are planning to attend the fair, it is considered a propitious time for the formation of such an organization.

No section of the United States is better covered by the local press than the Great Southwest, and every paper issued is a booster for the particular section which it represents. For this reason the organization of an editorial association for the better advancement of the common cause of the Southwest is thought to be a timely move.

Fall colds are quickly cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, the great throat and lung remedy. The genuine contains no harmful drugs. J. H. O'Reilly.

MOGOLLON TO HAVE A SOCIAL CLUB.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Mogollon, Ariz., Oct. 9.—The citizens of Mogollon, realizing the need of an up-to-date social club, have accordingly taken steps to organize. The business men and officers of the mining companies are very enthusiastic over the project. The club will be organized along the same lines as the clubs of the large cities, and only members of good character will be eligible to membership.

James A. Force, general manager of the Socorro mines, left early in the week for New York where he will be married on the 29th to Miss Florence Hotchkiss of New York. Mr. Force expects to be back at his post by the 1st of November.

Dr. Strong's new hospital is now ready for occupancy. Miss Agnes, a graduate nurse, arrived this morning from Chicago and will assist Dr. Strong in the hospital work.

Nolan has the distinction of being the first occupant of the new hospital for the Socorro mines. Dan had the misfortune of getting a finger broken and almost cut off, and his hand otherwise bruised by a machine tool sharpener.

Mr. F. G. Fritz, Onondaga, N. Y., writes: "My little girl was greatly benefited by taking Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills. I think it is the best remedy for constipation and liver trouble." Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills are mild, pleasant and effective, and cure habitual constipation. J. H. O'Reilly & Co.

Pecos Valley People Honor Memory of Man Who Led in Reclamation of Wonderful Valley From the Desert.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Roswell, N. M., Oct. 10.—Memorial services were held here this morning for the late James J. Hagerman, the great pioneer builder of the Pecos Valley, who died recently in Milan, Italy, and who will be laid to rest in Milwaukee, Wis.

The national guard assembly, seating more than a thousand people, was crowded to its capacity, with those who have been associated with Mr. Hagerman or who have been benefited by his work in New Mexico. A special train was run from Carlsbad bringing a large delegation and delegations attended from practically every town and settlement in the valley, showing in what high esteem Mr. Hagerman was held over all south-east New Mexico and west Texas. Col. L. H. Elliott of Dexter and C. H. McLaughlin of Carlsbad were the speakers. The service was brief but impressive.

Foley's Honey and Tar clears the air passages, stops the irritation in the throat, soothes the inflamed membranes, and the most obstinate cough disappears. Sore and inflamed lungs are healed and strengthened, and the cold is expelled from the system. Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow packages. J. H. O'Reilly & Co.
