School's Out

GOOD BY! OLD GEOGRAPHY, ARITHMETIC AND THE REST!

BY EDMUND VANCE COOKE.

Farewell, beloved Arithmetic! 'Tis sad that we must part,
And many a laughing lip today but hides a heavy heart.
For near a year we've cherished our companionship with you
And ever found you faithful, strong and steadfast, tried and true.
Now, on our day of parting, we could almost throw a fit,
Yet we repress our sorrow till you'd hardly notice it!

Farewell, O good, kind Grammar! We have prisoned you in school;
We have feasted on your pages, we've devoured your rule by rule;
We've tortured and tormented you, we've given you no rest;
Our hand has been upon your throat, our foot upon your breast;
We have gorged your very vitals week by week and day by day,
But we repent, good Grammar, set you free and bid you play.

Goodbye, O dear Geography! What hours we've spent with you!
When, doubtless, you had other things you much preferred to do.
And History and Spelling! Reading, Writing, Music, too!
How well you've entertained us all the cheerful winter through!
So here's a loving slap from us and take this kindly kick
And get you gone with Grammar and beloved Arithmetic.

Farewell dear books, and judge us not by what we seem to feel;
Tom laughs, but that's because he has a stone-bruise on his heel;
Poor George has got the toothache, which is why he grins with glee.
And Martha's sprained her arm and so she's happy as can be.
The rest of us disguise our grief with many a merry shout;
We're bearing up the best we can, though school—sweet school—is out!

SIEZE OPPORTUNITY IS JUDGE POPE'S ADVICE

NOTED JURIST DELIVERS STIRRING ADDRESS TO THE ELEVEN GRAD-UATES OF THE SANTA FE HIGH SCHOOL.

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM OF MUSIC AND ORATORY

"And, now, members of the 1913 class, let me give you one word of advice, and that is to grasp opportunities. I have heard that while he was president, Mr. Roosevelt kept on his desk that beautiful and inspiring 'opportunity motto' penned by Ingalls. As a seizer of opportunity, national and international, I warmly commend Mr. Roosevelt."—Judge William H. Pope.

The above was the climax in the address of Judge William H. Pope to the eleven graduates of the Santa Fe high school a few moments before each "seized" the diploma presented by the president of the board, Col.
Jose D. Sena.

It was a pretty sight to see these nine sweet girl grads and two young men fondle the parchment which attested the good work performed in the past four, long and eventful years.
The applause was deafening as each name was called out and there was no little amusement to see the men in a hopeless minority—two out of eleven!

The graduates were:
Marion Burroughs,
Miriam Cartwright,
Frank Cunningham,
Anna Dorman,
Wallace Fiske,
Gertrude Gormley,
Dorothy Hayward,
Lulu Krick,
Jean Law,
Lella Laws,
Dorothy Safford.

Twice the fourteenth annual commencement which drew hundreds of kind parents and relatives and friends to the high school auditorium last night and kept them there for two hours listening to a program of oratory, music and song, with a background of lovely pink roses which were showered on the "grads."

Begins at 8:40 p. m.
The program was opened at 8:40
p. m., and as the graduates took their seats, each girl carrying a large bou-quet of roses, the audience cheered vociferously. The auditorium was packed and many stood up in the aisles, at the doors and on the stairs.
The members of the glee club opened the program with a selection, "Happy and Light," from the Bohemian Girl.
Miss Marion Bishop, wearing the bat-ton, there was prolonged applause.

Fiske Bids Welcome.
Wallace Fiske, president of the class of '13, then delivered the "welcome" in a big voice. He said that after all "men are but grown up boys," and that education is the preparation for complete living. Mr. Fiske made an excellent impression.

Judge Pope's Oration.
The orator of the evening was William H. Pope, judge of the U. S. district court of New Mexico, and formerly chief justice when New Mexico was a territory. The judge spoke slowly and forcefully, making but few gestures though occasionally driving

PRIMARY SYSTEM OF SELECTING DELEGATES

"We cannot hope that Republicans will agree upon every question, but we can hope that they will agree upon the vital doctrines of government and that the will of a majority of the primary voters, fairly expressed and faithfully executed, will establish such policies and install such leadership as will command the confidence and enlist the support of that great army which has so long marched under the Republican banner."

Washington, D. C., May 24.—The above is the summing up of a long memorial from the conciliation committee of the Republican Progressives, lead by Senator Cummins, appointed as a result of the recent Chicago conference.

After several hours discussion the executive committee of the Republican national committee today tentatively agreed to call a meeting of the national committee sixty days after the adjournment of the extra session of congress to determine whether a national convention shall be called to consider changes in basis of representation.
The session of the executive committee was devoted almost entirely to a discussion of the need for a national convention. Committeeman Warren of Michigan, made the motion to call a meeting and practically every member joined in the debate that followed.
There were no expressions of disapproval, the only questions were those of detail.

State Primaries.
The question of choosing delegates
by state primaries was not discussed at great length. Chairman Hillis and some others contended that a congressional district would be allowed to choose its own delegates in any way it saw fit, notwithstanding provisions for a state primary.

Members of the Republican national executive committee who assembled here today to take stock of the party since the November defeat, began to look over the field for the future, and tried to determine whether a meeting of the national committee should be called to consider the advisability of holding a special national convention.

When the committee met it had a memorial from the conciliation committee of Republican Progressives lead by Senator Cummins, appointed as a result of the recent Chicago conference. This formulated a request that an early meeting of the national committee be called. It included a statement of the reforms proposed at the Chicago conference, which would provide for party recognition of the primary system of selecting delegates to the national conventions and a change of basis of representation to conform to the voting strength of the party in the various states, a change directed against the heavy representation from the south.

"The party has insisted upon the right of congressional districts to select their own delegates and a reversal of that policy would foist the unit rule on us," said Chairman Hillis.
"This was the point at issue in the California case in 1912. The right of a congressional district to vote in a Republican national convention for the candidate of its choice has never been denied. It was affirmed in the convention of 1876 and again in 1880. The latter convention rejected the unit rule. This is the fundamental question and not to be confused with the recognition of delegates in primary elections."

The Memorial.
The letter from the conciliation committee, signed by Senators Cummins, Jones and Crawford and Representatives Crampton and Rogers and Governor Hadley, of Missouri, sets forth a report of the Progressive Republican conference in Chicago and asks for a meeting of the Republican national committee in the near future to act upon the suggestion by a great many Republicans that there be held during the present year a "Republican national convention."

Must Be Real Majority.
Setting forth the reasons for this request, the committee says: "We believe that an overwhelming majority of the Republican party have reached the conclusion that the basis of representation in our national convention is

STAGE COLLAPSES; 20 TO 35 KILLED AND 100 INJURED

Long Beach, Calif., May 24.—Overloaded with spectators assembled to do honor to the memory of the late Queen Victoria, the stage of the municipal auditorium collapsed today, furnishing a tragic climax to empire day.
Every one on the stage fell to the floor of the big building located on the municipal pier and in an instant
the sand beneath the structure was covered by a writing mass of men and women.

Early estimates of dead ran as high as 50 or 60. The injured, according to the police, will number several scores.

Results in Panic.
The collapse caused a panic which
the police could not control.

Mayor Hatch with Grand Marshal Restall in the van at the parade and is believed to be among the mass of humanity that was dropped through the collapsed platform to the sand beneath the pier. There was great excitement and a panicky rush among the thousands of people on the pier.

A call to the Los Angeles police department was answered by automobile loads of officers.

Mayor Hatch of Long Beach, who was to have been one of the principal speakers of the day, is believed to be seriously injured. Just before the stage fell, he stood beside Grand Marshal Restall.

The stage stood about 20 feet above
the beach.

35 Dead Bodies Found.
Thirty-five dead bodies have been taken from under the pier up to 1:05
p. m. according to a report made to the chief of police.

A thousand or more people had crowded into the auditorium close upon the stage and officers of the various celebration committees and English societies, which had partici-

SNAGS STRUCK BY TARIFF EXPERTS

SUB-COMMITTEE NOW FACES DELAYS WHICH MAY PREVENT BILL BEING REPORTED BEFORE THE MIDDLE OF JUNE.

SOME INCREASES IN COTTON SCHEDULE

Washington, D. C., May 24.—The senate sub-committee have struck snags that already assure delay in the program to hasten the tariff bill to consideration in the senate.

Chairmen of the sub-committees said that although no more manufacturers would be heard after Tuesday, it would be impossible to have the schedules ready for the entire committee by the end of next week.

Some increases of the Underwood rates in the cotton schedules are being contemplated by the sub-commitees. It now seems unlikely that the Democratic caucus will be called until the week of June 8 and that may delay the report of the bill to the senate until the middle of June.

pated in a parade, had just ascended the rostrum when the crash came.
Shrieks and cries from the spectators inside started a rush to sea by those outside the buildings. All efforts at rescue were futile.

The curious people were jammed so closely about the dead and injured under the pier that the police could not get to those who needed succor and flying wedges were organized.

When the Los Angeles officers arrived a cordon was thrown about the scene of the district and held off an immense throng. Hospital attendants struggled through the crowd with the bodies of dead or injured victims.

7,000 People in Panic.
Thirty-five bodies have been taken from the wreckage of the stage of the municipal auditorium which collapsed
this afternoon during a celebration.

Every one on the stage went through the flooring into the sands below and according to police reports, there may be many more bodies in the wreckage.
A panic ensued among the 7,000 or more spectators and many were injured in the rush.

The first eleven dead identified were those of women and one child. Eight-teen women were among the first score of injured identified.

Latest Bulletin.
Between twenty and thirty-five persons were killed and about 100 injured today when the stage and a part of the flooring of the municipal auditorium, at the shore end of the pier collapsed during the Empire day ceremonies.

Several Are Dying.
At 1:40 o'clock the police had taken out the dead bodies of eighteen women, two children and one man. Several of the injured were expected to die within a few hours.

MONY.

RECONCILIATION WITH HANOVER

Berlin, May 24.—Princess Victoria Luise, of Prussia, only daughter of the German emperor, was married to Prince Ernest August of Cumberland with the rites of the Lutheran church
at 5 o'clock this evening.

The ceremony, which took place in the Royal chapel of the imperial castle, seals the reconciliation between the dethroned house of Hanover, and the house of Hohenzollern.

The guests who were to attend the religious services had assembled in the royal chapel of the castle. The room was richly decorated with flowers. Among the guests were the United States Ambassador John Leishman and his wife and daughter; Joseph C. Crew, secretary of the American embassy and his wife; Captain Albert Niblack, American naval attache; Miss Vett Berout, of New York, who was a school mate of the bride at the Empress Augusta institute and a dozen excited school girls whom the young princess invited in return for a personally embroidered present.

At the conclusion of the civil ceremony the bridal procession was marshaled into line by Count August Eu-lenberg, grand marshal of the imperial court and then proceeded the whole length of the castle through a long series of state apartments to the royal chapel.

Dr. Ernest Dryander, the grand chaplain of the court, who had baptized Princess Victoria Luise and prepared her for her confirmation, performed the ceremony, which was the simple Lutheran rite. He then delivered the customary address of advice and admonition to the newly married couple.

GREEKS AND BULGARIANS CLASH NEAR SALONIKI, INFANTRY AND ARTILLERY BEING HOTLY EN-GAGED.

KING ATTEMPTS TO GET NEUTRAL ZONE

London, May 24.—Severe fighting has been resumed between the Greek and Bulgarian troops in the vicinity of Saloniki. The infantry and artillery forces of both are hotly engaged near that city, according to dispatches received from Athens.

The dispatches refer to the situation as having been extremely grave.
When the last message was sent,
King Constantine of Greece, who had just arrived at Saloniki with the general staff of the Greek army, was endeavoring to arrange a neutral zone between the two armies.

Saloniki, May 24.—The losses of the Greek troops during the fighting against the Bulgarians are given today as one captain killed and 250 injured or wounded.

Hostilities have been suspended.
A mutiny has broken out among the Bulgarian troops at Serres, the men demanding to be disbanded. When their commanding officer found that he was unable to quell the disturbances he committed suicide.

LABOR LEADERS ARE DISPLEASED WITH WEBB BILL

San Francisco, Calif., May 24.— Resolutions published today by two powerful San Francisco labor organizations made certain two things, with reference to California's alien land act:

First, that organized labor will seek a substitute measure by invoking the initiative on the ground that the so-called Webb bill is not strong enough. Reference to the initiative will not delay the present act from going into effect on August 10. Sufficient signatures to call for an election are easily available without going outside San Francisco.

Second, that another section of organized labor will seek not only to invoke the initiative but will circulate petitions for a referendum election, which, if called, would prevent the Webb bill from going into effect until the election was decided, which could not be until November, 1914.

Favoring the application of referendum as well as the initiative are the Asiatic exclusion league, Olaf Twitnec, president, and the San Francisco Building Trades council, which last Thursday night adopted resolutions approving the stand of the Asiatic exclusion league. Both agree that the present law is a defective piece of legislation, "defeating its own purposes" because it permits "three-year leases indefinitely of land in California by aliens."

In opposition to this recommendation, the San Francisco Labor council with 200 delegates from the Building Trades council in attendance, unanimously adopted last night resolutions that the initiative be invoked

for a substitute law but that the referendum be not invoked.

This split makes it uncertain what will be the date of a referendum petition. Twenty thousand signatures are needed.

Secretary Yoell, of the Exclusion league, said today that his organization had 117,000 members and that he expected to get 100,000 signatures without difficulty.

If his estimates are correct, the attitude of the remainder of organized labor cannot influence the results;
there will be a referendum election and Webb bill will not be effective until November, 1914. But the figures are disputed by other labor leaders.

In the resolution adopted last night
by the San Francisco labor council,
and introduced by Paul Scharrenberg,
secretary-treasurer of the state labor council, this explanation for its being given:

"The only object to be accomplished by such referendum is a postponement of the date when the law will go into effect, in the meantime permitting Asiatics to acquire title to land."

This was the argument advanced by Governor Johnson.
"We strongly disapprove," continue the resolutions, "of any referendum upon said anti-alien land law and urge upon those who desire a more stringent law to make use of the initiative, which at least will give us the benefit of the present law, defective though it may be, until the time when a perfect law can be enacted."

Copies of these resolutions will be sent to nineteen other councils throughout the state and will be published in full in thirteen labor journals.

NEWS OF THE STATE

He Sold 'Em.
J. S. Houser arrived Monday from a trip to the agency and Tularosa. He was carrying one arm in a sling as a result of attempting to keep his team from running away at Tularosa. One of the horses became frightened at a piece of paper which blew under its feet and when it started to run Mr. Houser got hold of the bridle and was dragged around by the excited horses until they ran into some bushes and in some way his arm was wrenched out of the socket at the shoulder. He had a doctor set the limb, but says it still pains him considerably. He sold the team and came home on the train. T. A. West, who went also, returned on horseback.—Cloudercroft.

Bad Accident.
While out driving Sunday evening, George Barry and Miss Nannie Marshall met with quite a serious accident. In crossing a creek on the L. A. Reid farm, three miles south of Endee, the team they were driving became unmanageable and ran away, throwing Mr. Barry out of the buggy. Miss Marshall attempted to jump out of the buggy and fell in such a manner as to break her left leg just above the ankle. George was somewhat bruised up by two of the buggy wheels passing over him. One of the horses was badly cut by running into a barbed wire fence. Dr. Hilton, who is attending Miss Marshall, reports her as doing nicely.—Endee Enterprise.

Justice Injured.
Judge F. M. Gauna, justice of the peace for precinct No. 20, was badly injured in a runaway which occurred last Sunday evening near his ranch, nine miles south of the Meloch ranch, east of Raton. At the time Mr. Gauna was driving a bronze which suddenly became frightened and ran away, throwing Mr. Gauna out and causing him to receive a bad wrench to his knee and a dislocation of the arm. For a time it was feared the leg had been broken but such a not now believed by the physician to be the case. Mr. Gauna is now at the Miners hospital where he is resting easily after undergoing considerable pain.—Raton Range.

That Auto Line.
For some time past we have been thinking Roswell was more or less negligent of her country cousins on the plains, but no such thing is true. We were much surprised, and certainly agreeably so, to find, not only interest in the Roswell plains auto line, but enthusiasm and activity. We are going to get that auto line, and when we do the credit will properly belong to Roswell. We editor went down to make certain representations to the business men and commercial club, but, while we were cordially received and our visit was appreciated, we found Roswell has more interest in the plains than we have in ourselves—that is, judging from active steps being taken.

The commercial club, as we understand, has succeeded in getting the promise of an appropriation from the state, one from the county and one from Roswell. Sufficient money, therefore, seems to be in sight for the purpose of completing the grade across the sands, and other improvements contemplated.—McDonald News.

What Was It.
Dr. Given while at Kingston last Monday forenoon discovered an air ship traveling in space over the mountains. When he first saw the machine it was about a quarter of a mile distant and he watched it until it disappeared in the distance. The machine, which was also seen by Date Whitman, was traveling southward. Saturday night, at about 11 o'clock, Emilio Tafaya, while traveling in the Cuchillo creek county, saw a strange light traveling high in the heavens which he believed came from a flying machine which was traveling rapidly southward. The appearance of these strange air ships have caused more or less speculation as to the object of their visit to this remote section of the county. Some have advanced the idea that the heavenly strangers are Japa-

The Fruit Growers Organize.
The association of fruit and truck growers in the Mesilla valley which has been in progress of organization
since the beginning of January is now an established fact. At the meeting in the Lohman building last Saturday, attended by the largest gathering of ranchers since the movement began, the subscription list was completed, articles of incorporation adopted, and all necessary steps taken for the immediate filing of the incorporation papers. The movement to bring about this organization was started with the idea of forming a general association to be known as the New Mesilla-West Texas Fruit and Truck Growers' association, but it was voted unanimously at last Saturday's meeting to make this organization a Mesilla valley concern, and to incorporate as the Mesilla Valley Fruit association. It was thought that if a general organization is desirable, it might be organized later out of various local organizations after those have become perfected. The local organization also has the advantage of enabling our people to establish an individual reputation for our products, and will go a long way toward advertising the Mesilla valley favorably in the eastern markets and throughout the country generally.—Rio Grande Republic.

Fire At Deming.
Fire broke out in the Little block about 3:30 o'clock this morning in the restaurant at 129 Silver avenue and completely destroyed the fixtures and interior wood work, roof and front.
Other buildings damaged were the Browning Pharmacy, the Palace Bar, the Deming Tailoring Works and the Silver King saloon. The buildings owned by John Corbett were fully insured. The stock and fixtures, with the exception of those in the restaurant, were insured. The stock and fixtures of the Browning Pharmacy and the bar and stock of the Palace Bar, which are situated on either side of the building in which the fire originated, were badly damaged by water and smoke.

Only the quick and efficient work of the local fire company saved the entire block from destruction. The pressure of the water was strong and the blaze was soon checked by the two large streams which played upon the burning building from two fire plugs.
There was no wind and the fire would have been confined to the one building had the block been protected by separate walls. The roofs and awnings were continuous and fire spread rapidly by this means. When seen this morning Mr. Corbett had made no plans as to the rebuilding of the damaged structures but asserted that it was quite likely that modern buildings would replace those formerly of wood and adobe.—Deming

CHILD BADLY BURNED ON LEG

Between Knee and Ankle. Skin
Loose. Leg Dark Red. Cuticura Ointment Entirely Cured Her.

200 Fuller St., Redwood, Cal.—"My two-year-old daughter tipped a basin of hot water on her leg between knee and ankle.
She was burned so badly. In places as large as a man's hand, that the skin was loose.
The appearance of the leg was dark red.
I applied the Cuticura Ointment at once and put on a bandage. I removed the bandage twenty-four hours later, opened the water blisters, applied more Cuticura Ointment and bandaged again. The skin did not come off and I did this until she was completely cured. I did not let her walk much until it was healed. She did not complain after the first day, and after the Cuticura Ointment was put on, slept as usual. The scars are gone; Cuticura Ointment entirely cured her." (Signed) Mrs. L. O. Chapman, Mar. 12, 1912.

time. It was spreading all over my face.
Sometimes there were sores, and they were red and inflamed. I washed the affected parts off with the Cuticura Soap, then applied Cuticura Ointment. I only put it on three times and the sores were all gone."

MISS HELEN ALIRE

AND ABRAN SENA WED.
Miss Helen Alire and Abran Sena were married at the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe by the Rev. Anthony Besset. The ceremony took place Tuesday morning. Daniel C.
Ortiz was the best man, and Miss Jesusita Baca attended the bride.
The ceremony was very beautiful and was attended by a very large number of relatives and friends of the newly-wed couple. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's residence. In the afternoon from two to five o'clock a reception was given in which the newly-weds were congratulated by a large number of relatives and friends.
Ramirez's orchestra played during the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Sena were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

Miss Alire, now Mrs. Sena, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joaquin Alire of this city. She is a very pretty and attractive girl. Abran Sena is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leandro Sena also of this city. He is a clerk in the office of L. A. Hughes, where he has been employed for over six years, and which position he has held by his faithful work.
Mr. and Mrs. Sena have many friends in this city who wish them a long and happy married life.

The Professional Shopper.

There are in New York and other large cities smart, up-and-doing women who are known as professional shoppers.
They know where the best values may be found in every conceivable article of apparel or adornment for man, woman, and child.

The one great source of their information is the daily advertising news contained in The Santa Fe New Mexican and other papers of quality.

These professional shoppers are employed by people who have not the time or ability to do their own shopping.

But we know it to be a fact that hundreds of women do their own shopping with equal skill and far greater satisfaction—simply because they are bright enough and energetic enough to do what the professional shopper does: Keep posted.

$5,000 PRIZE CONTEST COMES TO A CLOSE AT 9 O'CLOCK TONIGHT

CANDIDATES ARE REQUESTED TO BRING THEIR SUBSCRIPTIONS IN AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE—LAST CHANCE TO ENTER SUBSCRIPTIONS AND WIN BIG PRIZE—VOTE NOT OR NEVER IN THIS CONTEST.

JUDGES WILL TAKE CHARGE OF FINAL COUNT AND ANNOUNCE WINNERS WEDNESDAY

ROLL OF HONOR.

Following are the ten highest candidates in the New Mexican's great $5,000 prize contest, and who, so far in the race, apparently are the real competitors for first honors and the attendant award—$1,000 in gold.

Who will be the leaders tomorrow?	ALENA	1,481,258
2. MISS FLORA AKERS, SANTA FE	1,149,300
3. MISS ESTER LUCERO, BERNALILLO	915,680
4. MISS LENA KRICK, SANTA FE	796,185
5. MISS FRANCES LEESON, SANTA FE	770,574
6. MRS. J. A. CARRUTH, SANTA FE	697,040
7. MISS ADELAIDE CANDELARIA ALBUQUERQUE	592,820
8. MISS MYRTLE G. RENDON TRUCHAS	464,247
9. MISS LUCY ELENA ORTIZ ADELINO	459,419
10. MISS ANGELICA VALDEZ, SPRINGER	429,215

Tonight at 9 o'clock The New Mexican's great $5,000 prize contest comes to an official close. Tonight is the night that has been looked forward to by all the contestants since the contest began. One final, supreme effort now and the race is won.

There is that princely sum of $1,000 in gold coin—grand capital prize.

There are those magnificent Story & Clark pianos, valued at $450 each. There are those splendid motorcycles, diamond rings, vacation trips, scholarships and watches. It all depends on tonight's work.

Make up your mind to win the big cash prize, secure one of those valuable pianos or one of the other magnificent prizes, twenty-five in number, valued at over $5,000. It may as well be you, but don't depend on the votes you now have or it may be some one else.

Judges Will Count Votes.

The final counting of the votes will take place in the business office of The New Mexican at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, May 27th, and will be in the hands of a committee of well known business and professional men who are entirely disinterested so far as the outcome is concerned. Candidates and their friends are invited to attend the final counting although it is not at all compulsory to be present.

The final counting will be the simplest thing in the world—merely a matter of adding the votes that are issued tomorrow and those that are received by mail Monday and Tuesday to the reserve votes and the number credited each candidate in tomorrow afternoon's paper. It will be each candidate's privilege, however, to check over their own or any competitor's vote from the very beginning, if they so desire.

It is hoped that the final results will be published in Wednesday's issue of The New Mexican.

COMPLETE LIST OF PRIZES

The list of prizes and manner of distribution is as follows:

One Thousand Dollars in Gold Coin.

To be awarded the candidate securing the greatest number of votes in the entire contest, regardless as to district limitations.

Four $450 Story and Clark pianos, (purchased of Leonard-Lindeman Co., Albuquerque, N. M.) To be awarded the candidate having the greatest number of votes in each of the four districts after the grand capital prize has been awarded.

Four $25 Gold Watches, (purchased of H. C. Yontz, Jeweler, Santa Fe, N. M.) To be awarded the candidates having the sixth highest number of votes in each of the four districts.

In all there are twenty-five prizes offered, six for each district, besides the grand prize—$1,000 in gold. The total value exceeds $5,000.

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted. L. PRESIDENT SHOCKS WASHINGTON BY CHOOSING HUMBLE, UNFASHIONABLE CHURCH.

"THE PRESIDENT'S CHURCH," THE CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN, AND HIS PASTOR, THE REV. JAMES H. TAYLOR.

(By Oliver P. Newman.)

Washington, D. C., May 17.—Another great national question is now settled. President Wilson has chosen his church home.

Hereafter the Washington city editors won't have to carry on their assignment books the standing question for Saturday, "Where will the president go to church tomorrow?" And the reporters won't be obliged to answer, "Blamed if I know."

The matter has been made a big public issue in Washington, causing more animated debate than the weighty questions hurled across the halls of congress by men who think the world is waiting with suspended breath to see what becomes of the tariff bill. Of course, the world may be waiting for just that, but as for Washington it's interested in other things, particularly the doings of the president.

And now, when the populace of the capital wants to get a glimpse of greatness worshipping, all it has to do is to betake itself to a little, obscure edifice in an unfashionable neighborhood.

The spiritual and material advancement of each church have been depleted to President Wilson in their rosiest days. The interested pastors and their flocks have gone hopefully to church for many Sundays and sat with anxious eyes on the door, awaiting the possible entrance of the president, only to learn later that he had worshipped at some unknown little church in an out-of-the-way corner of the city.

The first Sunday Wilson was in Washington it was announced that he would go to the New York avenue church. As a result the place was packed by 10:30 and the streets around it filled with a curious crowd. But Wilson didn't show up. He was at a church miles away, where his coming was unknown even to the pastor.

The Central church was founded by the Rev. A. W. Pitzer, a relative by marriage of Speaker Champ Clark.

The First, have been engaged in a vigorous contest for the presidential business for months. Their pastors, Dr. Wallace Rudell of the former, and Dr. Donald C. McLeod of the latter, are said to have used every effort sanctioned by dignity to bring the president and his family into their respective folds.

"HOME RUN TWINS" THE NIGHTMARE OF PITCHERS.

SHERWOOD MAGEE AND "GABBY" CRAVATH, WITH PORTRAIT OF MAGEE INSERT.

The "Home Run Twins," that's what they call Sherwood Magee and "Gabby" Cravath, the slugging outfielders of the pace-making Phillies, who are leading the National league just as they are in front of the Giants, Cubs and Pirates was an every-day affair.

Time and again this spring Magee or Cravath or both of them have broken up games with home runs, sending home men ahead of them and winning games for Bill Locke's club. Magee has been a great major league batsman for years. Cravath has been one of those who starred in the minors, but he didn't suit big league managers until Charley Doolin saw him. This was last year, and Sluggo Cravath has been a Phil ever since Magee, Cravath and Paskert comprise the best outfield in the league today.

LUTHER M'CARTY KILLED IN PRIZE RING CONTEST

Calgary, Alberta, May 24.—Arthur Pelkey knocked out Luther McCarty in the first round of the scheduled ten round bout here today with a stiff blow just above the heart. McCarty fell heavily to the floor and took the count.

After the blow was administered McCarty was seen to clutch his fists, open his mouth as if gasping for breath, reel and fall to the floor.

The referee stood over him and counted. Throughout the counting the Pelkey followers shook their heads with their wild cheering. A dead silence followed when the count was finished and McCarty failed to stir. He died eight minutes later.

Calgary, Alberta, May 24.—Luther McCarty, aspirant to the title of champion heavyweight fighter of the world, died today from a blow over the heart administered by Arthur Pelkey in the first round of their scheduled ten round bout today. Death came soon after McCarty had taken the count.

The blow, which came stiffly from Pelkey and struck McCarty just below the heart, sending him reeling. He fell heavily to the floor. He was counted out by Referee Eddie Smith.

When he failed to stand on his feet, an examination hurriedly was made and he was carried from the ring, dying a short time later.

The large crowd of spectators, numbering more than 7,000, had hardly settled in their seats in the anticipation of witnessing a hard, grueling battle, when Pelkey, following an advantage gained by a clever feint, threw McCarty off his guard and sent a terrific drive to McCarty's left side near the heart. McCarty died 35 minutes later.

The men had been boxing about a minute, with honors even, feeling each other out. Then they clashed, both landing rights and lefts to the head.

McCarty missed a left to the body and Pelkey countered with the short right to the heart.

McCarty paled under the blow, then seemed to realize that he was doomed. His legs trembled, but he shot out both hands in a dying effort to win on a single punch.

Pelkey stepped back and as he did McCarty tumbled back to the ropes, collapsed and stretched flat on his back on the floor. Referee Ed Smith counted "ten". McCarty's seconds carried him to his corner and within a few minutes summoned medical aid.

"What's the matter with McCarty?" came the wild cries from the thousands in the crowded arena, just after the fighter fell under the blow.

Before the fight started and even after McCarty had entered the ring, he expressed confidence and appeared to look upon his impending battle as only one of the many he easily had won.

Spectators at first failed to realize that McCarty had been knocked out. Scenes of the wildest excitement prevailed for several minutes after the climax and the extent of the fighter's injuries for some time was not realized by the crowd.

A deep silence followed the announcement that death had claimed the pugilist. Several conferences were held between those promoting the fight.

The authorities were silent when informed of the fatal blow. It was not stated whether arrests would follow.

Physicians attending McCarty stated following his death that the cord was due to heart failure superinduced by the blow.

McCarty and Pelkey entered the ring at 12:45 p. m. (mountain time) and were cheered vociferously by the thousands of spectators. For twenty minutes they were the targets of admiring shouts from their many followers, the fight not being called until 1:03 p. m. As they sat in their respective corners, speculation as to the outcome was rife and while McCarty seemed the general favorite, Pelkey was not without his backers, who staunchly declared that "a great big surprise" was in store for his opponent.

Mounted police left this city in automobiles late today to arrest Pelkey, Burns, Referee Smith and half a dozen others. The instructions of Magistrate Crispin are to leave no one out of jail who has had anything to do with the fight. Thousands of people still are in and around the arena.

Referee Eddie Smith, of Chicago, made the preliminary announcement and amid cheers of encouragement from their respective followers, McCarty trained to 200 pounds and Pelkey, outweighing him by ten pounds, shook hands for the fight that was destined to be McCarty's last.

At the outset neither showed any disposition to close. McCarty started the actual mixing with a wild swing at Pelkey's head, which missed him by several inches. They clinched and on the breakaway Pelkey got in the first blow, an uppercut to McCarty's jaw.

McCarty followed with a swinging right that just missed Pelkey's ear and followed this attempt with a hard blow to his heavier opponent's mouth.

It was following this stinging attack that Pelkey, feinting to uncover McCarty's heart that sent him reeling to the ropes. Not a sound issued from McCarty as he slowly sank to the ground and was counted out by Referee Smith.

TWENTY IN A ROW.

Boston, May 24.—President C. W. Murphy of the Cubs entered the spot light from two separate directions. He caused his first atmospheric confusion by announcing that the down-card-bound Cubs would grab twenty games in a row "shortly," and his second when he ordered his men to quit talking to newspaper men traveling with the team.

Ward Miller, who was swapping conversation with a Chicago war correspondent, got a severe calling down from Murphy. The Cub president complains that newspaper reports of the Cubs gliding toward the bottom have hurt the team's chances.

Marshall is said to be a clever fighter and very fast. So Mike will have a chance to use all the skill and all the punch he has to come out a winner.

As far as "Mike" is concerned, he has been training faithfully and is in good shape. The work he has done has shown him to be a shingling scrapper and G. Volney Howard, who has had him under training considers him very "fit" for the coming contest.

The boxing match is for six rounds at cat weights and "Mike's" friends look for a good showing by Santa Fe's favorite.

NAT GOODWIN IS A BRIDEGROOM AGAIN.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 24.—Discarding for the occasion the walking stick that has been his constant aid since the accident which nearly disabled him more than a year ago, Nat Goodwin, the actor, smilingly underwent his fifth experience a bridegroom today at his home at Ocean Park. The bride was Margaret Moreland, his leading woman on the stage, who was recently divorced from Charles Doughty, a real estate broker of San Diego.

Justice J. W. Summerfield performed the ceremony. There were no wedding bells, just the unceremonious legal ceremony in the presence of a few people, friends of the actor and his bride.

KATSURA HOLDS KEY TO SITUATION.

JAPANESE STATESMAN WHO DEMANDS PEACE EVEN IF HE IS COMPELLED TO FIGHT FOR IT MAY BE RECALLED TO THE JOB OF PREMIER.

PRINCE KATSURA.

(By A. F. Ferguson.)

The late lamented youth who stood so valiantly on the burning deck long after the rest of the folks had beat it for a safer haven had nothing on the present premier of Japan. Changing metaphor slightly, one can see through the dust the international rumpus has kicked up the stocky form of a new pitcher warming up.

And the form looks unmistakably like our old friend Prince Taro Katsura, than whom there is not more capable of pulling diplomatic games out of the fire when the other fellows have all the bases crowded and a husky swatsman walking toward the plate with a new form of ultimatum.

The Right Honorable Prince Taro Katsura is one of the great big men of Japan. He is the apostle of peace so long as peace is possible. But the minute a situation gets beyond a peaceful solution he's for war and lots of it. He was at the rudder of the ship of state during the war with Russia and came to the bat in 1905 when things looked mixed between the United States and Japan and applied a new brand of cement to the crack that was spreading through the foundations of the two nation's cordial relations.

He's a big man all the way through.

Born in 1847, he was educated in the Prussian military schools and came to the Japanese army as a reorganizer and upbuilder in the days when Japan was just getting tired of the kimono and was being measured for its first frock coat and silk hat. He was vice minister of the army from 1885 to 1891, during which time he laid the foundations for the present efficient organization.

During the war with China he commanded a division and was the first Japanese governor of Formosa, the big island that was the fruit of that war. He was war minister from 1898 to 1900, when he put the finishing touches on the great military machine he started, and then from 1901 to 1906 he was premier and ran things during the war with Russia. He was called again to the premiership in 1908 and retired only a short time ago.

In the present state of popular discontent with the United States and general disapproval of the present ministry's conduct of affairs eyes are turned toward Katsura as the man who holds the key to the situation. It is believed that if he again takes office he will do everything in his power to satisfy his belligerent fellow-citizens—but he is opposed to war on a great many grounds and he won't have war.

LESTER LOOKS THE BORDERLAND OVER.

Deming, N. M., May 24.—C. H. Lester left Deming two days ago by auto over the Borderland Route for the Pacific coast. He promised before leaving to keep the secretary of the chamber of commerce informed as to road conditions on the Borderland. Mr. Lester's first letter concerning road conditions was written from Douglas, Arizona, May 21st, and is as follows:

Douglas, Ariz., May 21, 1913.

"I found the new road west on the line to Mongolia, built by Mr. Phillips and neighbors, in fair condition, but a little rough in spots, caused by small holes. After one good rain I think that section will be in good condition. From Mongolia to Separ the road is in fine condition and fast. From Separ to Lordsburg it is the same old road, washes and dikes. We are not trying to make time, and ran easily in three hours, or twenty miles per hour. Left Lordsburg this morning at seven and arrived here easily at 1:20 p. m. Did not hurry at all and stopped to take photos; to chat in Rhodes, and to eat lunch. Road conditions? From Lordsburg south there are many washes to Mansfield ranch, distance sixteen miles; at a point about twelve miles, probably, south of Lordsburg the road is very new for about one mile because of the great number of washes. I did not time it, but our speed there was about ten miles an hour across this rough stretch and about fifteen miles from Lordsburg to Mansfield ranch. From Mansfield to Two Mills ranch—5 miles—the road got much better. From Two Mills to Granite Gap pass we found the road good and fast. We ran over the top of Granite Gap pass of high; could have pitched over the top at thirty miles easily had we wished to do so. From Two Mills ranch to Douglas the road is easily eighty per cent better than when I drove it last, about one year ago. Roads and Douglas and towns between have done a large amount of good work and the road is almost entirely clear of stone except a few miles that has a number of small loose stones near Bernardino. The Borderland through the hills north of Douglas, has had a lot of work and is in fine and fast condition. I can not see that Lordsburg has done anything whatever either east or south, during the past year to improve their road and they have about thirty-five miles that sure needs attention. They say they will fix the road south in July.

Tomorrow I go to Tucson; Friday to Mission del Bac—Casa Grande ruins and Florence, Saturday, Phoenix to Roosevelt Dam and back into Phoenix that night if we can make the drive through the Superstition mountains before dark. After reaching Phoenix am not sure where I will go as I may cross the Colorado at Ehrenberg instead of Yuma."

6 ROUND CONTEST AT ALBUQUERQUE

"Mike" Baca is signed up for a match with "Kid" Marshall, of Los Angeles, which will be pulled off at Albuquerque on May 30.

BAD NEWS FOR GRIFFITH

Cleveland, May 24.—Clark Griffith admitted today that his pennant hopes had received a slight jolt by a physician's announcement that Pitcher Cashion would not be able to perform again for the Nationals in less than three weeks. Cashion tore several ligaments loose in his arm while pitching in yesterday's game and left today for Yountstown to visit Bonsetter Reese in hope that the latter be able to make his enforced rest a few days shorter.

CITY PLANNING
THAT IS RIGHT

An interesting and important meeting of two important committees of the chamber of commerce was held Thursday at the old Palace. It was a joint meeting of the committee on public funds and utilities and the committee on railroads. Both the chairmen were present, Arthur Seligman, of the first named committee, and Levi A. Hughes, of the second, and the meeting was fairly well attended by other members. On the suggestion of Mr. Seligman, Mr. Seligman acted as chairman. Matters concerning the water and lighting system, the paving, the telephone service, sewerage, and so forth, including the railroad situation, were discussed, and the utmost harmony and unity of purpose prevailed. These committees expect to have something of great interest to offer in a short time.

Chicago, Ill., May 24.—After suffering all night with pains in his abdomen, W. L. McCutcheon, an automobile salesman, 22 years old, was here today to discover today that he had taken three one-grain bicloride of mercury tablets by mistake for aspirin. He walked to the office of a doctor, who rushed him to a hospital. It will be five days, according to the physicians, before it will be possible to determine whether the young man's life can be saved.

McCutcheon said that he was complaining of feeling badly last night at his boarding house when a friend suggested that he should take some aspirin tablets. He got hold of the wrong box and took the mercury tablets without realizing his mistake.

Love For Doll

Maternal Instinct Greatly Developed by Teaching Children to Love their Dolls.

The little child's doll is mother to the most romantic fairy. And in the years that pass, the doll fades into the petals of a June rose, to evolve the most wonderful of all transformations.

And now comes a more serious period when the joy of real motherhood should be as tranquil as best effort can provide.

This is accomplished with a wonderful remedy known as Mother's Friend, an external application so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every cord, nerve, muscle and tendon involved. There will be no pain, none of that nausea or morning sickness, no sensation of distress or strain of expanding muscles. The nerves, too, will be calm, their period of restful days of peaceful nights and a source of happiest anticipation.

The young, expectant mother must be carefully watched lest she become absorbed in those mental distresses which prey upon her for the most important event in her life. Mother's Friend enables her to avoid all sensation of dread, worry or pain, and thus she is preserved in health and strength to take up the joyful task of motherhood.

You will find Mother's Friend on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Do not fail to use it regularly as directed. Write today to Bradford's Revolver Co., 135 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their most valuable little guide book for expectant mothers.

LeRoy M. Harrison, special agent of the bureau of statistics, of the department of agriculture, with headquarters at Albuquerque, is in the city and made a pleasant call on the New Mexican today. Samuel Edditt, of Chama, former territorial treasurer, who is a prominent merchant of the Espanola valley, and who is interested in the mercantile business at San Juan, was in town on business today. The prospects for a big crop this year are good in the valley and everyone is busy.

Miss Mary C. Conlon, the well-known graduate nurse of this city who left for Pueblo, Colorado, about two months ago to consult with Dr. Carl Lassen the Berlin specialist, and who was operated upon for frontal sinus congestion, returned to the city today feeling greatly improved and she is receiving the congratulations and best wishes of her many friends in Santa Fe, who are glad to have her back to "The City with the Open Gate."

The following from the New York Times is of interest to many residents of Santa Fe, particularly those who have lived here for a long number of years: Harriett Vaughan Abbott Ladd, wife of the Rev. Horatio Oliver Ladd, rector emeritus of Grace Episcopal church in Jamaica, L. I., died on Tuesday at her home, 431 Greenwood avenue, Richmond Hill. She was born in Roxbury, Mass., in 1839. Mr. Jencon of the chamber of commerce, and Mr. Chapman of the School of American Archaeology took the visitors about and showed them the points of inter-

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Radin, whose home is in New York, and who have been down in Old Mexico, are in the city and will probably spend several weeks here. Mr. Radin is an ethnologist, and at present connected with the ethnological division of the Canadian geological survey. He was formerly with the bureau of ethnology of this country that is operated under the direction of the Smithsonian institute, of which Mrs. M. C. Stevenson is one of the members. Dr. Radin and his wife are charmed with the old capital and find this point one of the best for rest and study, in the country.

The Ottawa Campus, a college paper published at the Ottawa University, Kansas, under date of May 13, has the following to say concerning a former Santa Fe high school graduate: "The senior social given last night in Conservatory hall by Miss Esther Barry and Miss Nina Hudson was a very successful affair and was exceptionally well attended. The young ladies were given a most enthusiastic reception. Miss Barry, who completes her course in the voice department, has a charming personality and sang delightfully her program of well chosen songs. The group of Franz, Brahms and Glog especially suited her voice and the "Slumber Song" by Nevin with violin obligato by Miss Gladys Tanner was perhaps one of her most pleasing numbers."

STUDENT COMMITS SUICIDE.

PROFESSOR TAFT NOT CHANGED.

If Professor Taft keeps on handing out the "logic" with which he started in at Yale, he will queer himself with the people of the country even more than he did as president. That last remark, made a few days ago, seems to indicate that he did not quite catch the cause of the castigation given him last November.

He says that now that "too many representatives are paying altogether too much attention to what their constituents want."

It was that same view which caused his downfall, and that has placed the Republican party where it is.

The original theory was, when the government was established, that the constituents of a representative really had something to say about his course in congress. The very title itself, would seem to indicate that. It would seem to mean that he was to represent their views and wishes and interests.

We have been drifting away from this view and men in public life have grown to feel that they are the sole judges of what should be done and how it should be done. Gradually they have drifted away from the anchorage which established this nation and become the dictators of policies and methods and selections of men for positions.

The constituent was no longer in the picture, only when the candidate was seeking a re-nomination, and then he was a most important figure, and the only wish of the anxious seeker after office was to carry out the desires of the electorate, even from the least to the greatest.

The Republican party might have won the big battle last fall and might have retained the prestige it had gained, had this view of Professor Taft not been adopted by its leaders and had they not become inoculated with the germ of tyranny and dictation.

The wants of the constituents are going to be regarded as the most important element in the elections of the future, let it be understood, and those members of congress who hold to the views of Professor Taft will feel the weight of displeasure of the people as it was felt by the Yale professor when it swept him so suddenly and forcibly from Washington to New Haven.

It will be just as well for the representatives to understand that the "wants of the constituents" are worthy of consideration.

THE EAST COMES WEST.

Talk about compliments; it would be pretty hard to find a bigger one than has been paid to the University of Wisconsin this week by a delegation of eastern college presidents, city officials, leaders of business and experts in various lines, which visited Madison four days to learn how a state university can co-operate with state and city government in general service of the people.

Among those who accepted invitations to be members of this informal board of visitors were a number of educators from endowed institutions like Harvard and Yale, representing the aristocratic ideal of learning as an endowment from above; and it is rather interesting to see them condescend to admit the possibility of democratic education having merits which their own kind is conscious of having missed.

What this pilgrimage to Madison really meant was a tribute from the encrusted East to the free spirit of the West; an acknowledgement that the older and longer settled section has things to learn which only the democratic plain folks of the newer territory can teach.

Of course, the distinctive thing at Madison is what you ought to expect to find in every educational center East or West; a sincere wish to make the organization and plant do the widest possible human service. It is a place where students can study, yes; but it's more than that—it is a power station for generating currents of usefulness in every possible direction, and a great incubator of the spirit of service.

Most western universities are getting to be like that, because that is the spirit of the West. They thrive, not by endowments, but by the cordial support of the entire community, whom they exist to serve and must serve to exist.

It will be a fortunate day when the East, too, shall have an abundance of such schools, instead of great barracks of privilege aimed to soft pedal real thinking.

GIVE THE ACID TEST.

A virtue carried to excess may degenerate into a vice. Thrift is a virtue; but avarice, greed, a desire for riches so extreme as to blind one to social obligations and destroy the conscience—this, surely, is a vice.

If you were suddenly transported to another planet, say Mars, and were to learn that sugar there was often mixed with sand, flour with powdered gypsum, chicken sold as coffee, cotton and shoddy palmed off as "all wool," and sole leather loaded down with glucose and epsom salts so as to make it weigh more in the market, what would you think of the moral status of the Martians?

Well, all these cheats and thousands more are going on in Christian America notwithstanding pure food laws, anti-trust laws and a decade or more of indignant exposure.

Men who as individuals would scorn to rob or swindle their friends and neighbors go into "business" and soon pick up the "tricks of the trade" until adulteration becomes second nature.

There is plenty of reform these days—reform of the other fellow.

Here's a chance to put your reforming to an acid test: Are you willing, before saying a word about your neighbor's shortcomings, to give up all these tricks and skin games by which you have been keeping short-cuts to wealth and re-establish your business on the level of rock-bottom honesty?

If a workingman, are you willing to do honest, conscientious, efficient work, as good as you would if you were doing the hiring?

That bulletin of the agricultural department telling of the sole leather adulterations shows how much we still need reforming which will go to the bottom and not expend all its energies in rhetoric.

The lightning struck the pennant pole in Navin field, Detroit, the other day. It might as well come down, anyhow. It does not signify as much as it did once. It might have been as well had a little of the lightning juice been injected into the Tigers.

A Chicago judge has decided that the occupants of a flat may make as much noise as they please, day or night; all of which was an unnecessary judicial determination, as they would do it anyway, judge or no judge.

Sarah Bernhardt says that Americans don't know how to eat. It might be said in reply, Sarah, that we do not want to if that attenuated figure of yours is a sample of those who do know how.

It is fortunate that the present session of congress is being held now. While waiting for the senate to act on its tariff bill, the house can go to the ball games.

Fashion makers say that skirts are to be tighter than ever. The evident intention is to prohibit women from walking at all.

Standard Oil is about to cut a $60,000,000 melon, but the people must not expect to get any of it, even if they buy it.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

THEY'RE OFF.

The class of 1913 is off the map as far as existence as an organized body is concerned and a new senior class takes the stage,—the class of 1914.

It looks a long way ahead to the next graduation day, but before we fairly realize it, the school room will be open again and the youngsters will be trooping in to take up the work.

The movements and the progress of the members of the class that has just gone out will be watched with great interest by the host of friends in their home city, as they come into the big field and devote their energies to new duties.

I know how they feel today,—these young people who have just finished the first lap in the grinding, competitive race in which they have just entered. All of us know who have had the experience of going to school and passed the eventful graduation night, just what it means. The young people have a sort of lost feeling, as if something had gone out of life, and it has. The days of freedom from responsibility other than to have lessons learned and of keeping up to the requirements of the school curriculum, will not come again, and the new responsibilities will be of a different kind.

Wallace Fiske, in his address of welcome last night, said that the friendships coming in later life, would never be quite what the school day friendships are, and he was right. The time will never come when the members of the class of 1913 will not watch with deep interest the progress made by their classmates in the big world and the meetings and reunions they may have in the after years will be like no others.

The Bystander extends congratulations to the class of 1913 on work so far done, and extends most sincere good wishes in the years to come.

The Wonder Feat.

"If I am dying, then the sensation is not as it is generally pictured. If this be dying, then none need fear its terrors."

Thus spoke B. Sanders Walker, whose death occurred at Macon, Georgia, last Thursday, from taking bichloride of mercury by mistake.

He made a wonderful struggle for life, and eminent physicians did all that skill and science could do to save him, during the six days that he survived after taking the poison.

I wonder if there is one of us who has not wondered just how the end would come to us and just what the sensations would be.

We may have seen those precious to us slip so silently and peacefully away into that other veiled and mysterious existence, but they could not tell us of the thoughts or the feelings that were theirs, and we were left to conjecture and to wonder, still.

This word of young Walker as this dreaded and mystic messenger summoned him, comes to us, I think, with a sort of comfort and the fear of it seems less poignant, for we do fear it, everyone of us, though we often think we do not, yet the struggle to live, as shown in every element of life, plant as well as animal, shows that there is a dread of death. We watch eagerly at every expression that comes from one who is just passing into "the other room," hoping to catch a word that may help to solve the mystery, but who among us, has ever found any method that would lift the veil.

So we grasp at this expression of one who was just going out into the realm known to us only by the word "death," and we read the words, "If this be dying then none need fear its terrors," with a feeling of relief.

It brings hope with it and comfort.

Not There.

How often, after some public function held in a town, like Santa Fe, for instance, the interested and observant critic says, next day: "I did not see any representative of the press there."

This has occurred a number of times during the last few days. One instance was the closing exercises at the Indian school. The same old criticism was heard: "I didn't see a representative of the New Mexican there," but he was there with boots and spurs on both feet, and the exercises were duly noted in the issue succeeding them. The same has occurred in other instances the past week, but, some way a report of the meetings and exercises seems to have appeared in the paper, all right, and the New Mexican has been highly complimented on the manner in which the proceedings, at various times have been written up.

I think today's issue will convince the most sour and caustic critic that we are interested in our schools.

I do not know of any way to satisfy these people who are so afraid the paper will miss something, unless the reporter wears a bell when he goes to these public affairs to report them. Or, the lights might be arranged so a red or white light might strike the spot where the news man is sitting, or the entertainment might be opened by a remark from the master of ceremonies: "A representative of the New Mexican is here. Let the exercises proceed."

Something surely ought to be done to relieve the anxious tension that fires the nerves of those who are so afraid things will not be done right. It is a pity to have people suffer so and have all the pleasure of an entertainment taken away because these certain ones are so fearful that some one else—the newspaper man, of course—is not tending to his business.

Can someone suggest a way to relieve the suffering of these over wrought and supersensitive individuals?

AMONG THE EDITORS.

Whose Next.

California has done her worst and the results and effects are being awaited with interest. Whose move next? The government at Washington or the government of Japan?—Roswell Record.

Liked Beans Best.

It is hard to understand why the Mexican federal prisoners at Fort Bliss turned down good beef and potatoes in favor of frijoles and tortillas. An American soldier would not think of using beans for anything but loading shrapnel, and mending shoe soles would be considered a legitimate use for the leather-like bread.—Deming Graphic.

No Doctor.

Considerable talk has been made within the past few days of erecting a telephone line out west to the residence of Dr. Lancaster. We think it would be a good idea and with the development of the country, as Grady is without a physician and as Dr. Lancaster has a new automobile in which he is able to make a quick trip, it would be to the interest of every individual to boost for the erection of a line of communication between Grady and the residence of Dr. Lancaster.—Grady Record.

Gave Secret Away.

A good story is told of two young ladies who went to Alamogordo to have some photographs made. As they wanted a freak picture the photographer picked up an old newspaper, tore a hole in it and had the girls thrust their heads through the opening. The newspaper happened to contain page advertisement of a clothing firm. Imagine the girls' embarrassment when they saw in the picture just underneath their smiling faces these words in bold type: "Our pants are lined in the seat."—Cloudcroft.

Have You Seen Them.

Have you ever seen the Estancia springs? We always knew there was a spring at Estancia but never realized that it was a good, steady flow of water coming up out of Mother Earth of its own accord. When you go to Estancia don't fail to walk out to the springs. You will have renewed faith in the Estancia valley and it will confirm your belief that we have a pumping proposition equal to any in the state to say nothing about an artesian flow. These springs are quite numerous in the Manzanos and show up at different points in the valley.—Mortuary Messenger.

The Best Roads.

The automobile route through Hillsboro is fast becoming popular with motorists. This route is an all of the year around auto highway and is the happy medium between the lower, Rio Grande route, where the roads are more or less obstructed with sand and in wet weather with mud; this route also enables the tourist to avoid the heavy grades of the high, or mountain route, which from early fall to late in the spring is more or less hampered by snow. Automobile travelers passing this way assert that Sierra county has, as a rule, better roads than any other county in the state.—Hillsboro Advocate.

Business Blessing.

Chairman Underwood has stated on the floor of the house that free wool and free sugar were the suggestion of President Wilson, and these two items are practically the only two of importance that were changed materially at the suggestion of President Wilson. The president, however, has shown above all things that he is not only a patriotic and reasonable man but one of broad and unusually deep reasoning powers and who wants above all things else to be fair and just, and it is not unlikely that he will have no difficulty in reaching a satisfactory compromise with the wool and sugar producers and their senators, and if this is done promptly the new tariff bill will stand a good chance of becoming a law by July 1st, which will be a great blessing to business generally, to have the matter disposed of so quickly for quick action is demanded by the country.—House News.

COURT CASES IN THE MEADOW CITY

(From Las Vegas Optic.)

Judge David J. Leahy Thursday afternoon refused to grant the motion of Attorneys Veeder and Veeder that the case of Ramon Garcia, charged with the murder of Gabriel Gallegos, be continued until the next term of court. Garcia's counsel argued that they were not ready for trial because of the absence of a material witness in Colorado. They stated that this witness would testify that Garcia had signed a contract to work in the Colorado beet fields, and was on his way to the railway station to take a train to the scene of his employment when the shooting, which the defense claims was accidental, occurred.

District Attorney Charles W. G. Ward stated that the prosecution would be willing to admit that this witness, if brought into court, would so testify. The objection having thus been disposed of, Judge Leahy ordered the case brought immediately to trial. The work of securing a jury began this morning. At noon the trial panel was not complete, but was thought 12 jurors would be qualified during the afternoon, which would permit of the beginning of the taking of evidence. Judging from the careful examination which every juror was given before being accepted by the defense, the case will be fought desperately by the prisoner's attorneys. It is thought the case likely will require all of tomorrow before being given to the jury.

Several additional indictments were returned yesterday afternoon by the grand jury. M. L. Fox, editorial writer for the Albuquerque Journal, was accused in one true bill of having criminally libeled Apolonio A. Sena, of Las Vegas. The alleged libelous article appeared in the Journal last fall. The last grand jury returned an indictment against Daniel A. McPherson, president of the Journal Publishing company, and Fox. It is likely that Fox will be arraigned on this indictment during the present term. It is not known whether the second indictment against Fox will result in the dismissal of the joint indictment of Fox and McPherson.

Two indictments were returned against Marcos Moya. The first charged assault with a deadly weapon, while the second charged flourishing a weapon within a settlement. Moya was arraigned and pleaded guilty to the first charge. The second indictment thereupon was dismissed. Moya will receive his sentence sometime later during the court term.

An indictment was returned against Juan Pollack on a charge of flourishing and discharging a gun within a settlement. Pollack already is under indictment for a somewhat similar charge, and his troubles seem to be increasing.

The grand jury also returned a number of no-true bills, having investigated alleged crimes and found the evidence not sufficiently strong to warrant the accused or suspected persons being brought to trial.

FIGHT FOR MILLION WILLED TO HIM

Atlantic City, May 24.—Armand T. Nichols, who inherited $1,000,000 under the will of Mrs. Jane Fortescue, to whom he was secretary for eighteen years, is still surprised at his good fortune. He said that he would fight any attempt by William Bowler, brother of the dead woman and sole surviving relative, to have the will broken.

It is positive that a contest will be made, Bowler will not disclose the grounds for the action, and merely says he has hired a Camden firm to act for him. Judge Joseph Thompson and William Clevenger have been retained by Nichols.

Bowler, according to Nichols, has been on bad terms with his sister for fifteen years and has not entered her house in that time. The reason for the long quarrel is not known. Mrs. Fortescue was reputed to be the wealthiest woman in the city.

Nichols was fifteen years old when he entered the service of Mrs. Fortescue, and he has been with her eighteen years in the capacity of private secretary. Upon her death her brother created a scene when he went to the house and asked for the body of his sister. Upon being refused, it is alleged he tore the crepe from the door. A caveat help up the probate of the will until lately.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." His name is J. A. Farmer. The Capital Pharmacy.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

(By Wallace Fiske)

Ladies and gentlemen, in behalf of the class of nineteen thirteen, I bid you welcome here tonight. It is unnecessary to say that, to us at least, this marks an important epoch in our lives, to all of us perchance the first, to many possibly the one fraught with greatest moment.

We do not wish to elaborate our work of the past four years. There is not one of us who would not honestly confess that he might have done better.

Psychologists have proved to us that as a youth is during his adolescent period, so he is likely to be thorough-out life. The body he develops, the mind he trains, the heart he expands, the character he builds will dominate and sway his future. Men are but grown-up boys and so it is quite fitting that we should consider what foundation we have laid for the super-structure.

Some one has said that "Education is preparation for complete living." Trusting to the wisdom of our School Board, parents and teachers we have followed the course prescribed for us. Doubtless we have studied some things which we will never turn to financial gain, but has the pursuit of these taught us the proper attitude toward life? Have we learned to appreciate our opportunities, to realize our responsibilities? We are now leaving our dear old High School and it is a time for both rejoicing and regret. Some of us will continue our work in higher institutions of learning, some perhaps will begin at once to face the real activities of life. In our new sphere of life, wherever it be, we will face new duties and form new friendships. But, however sweet these new associations may be, will they ever take the place of the friendships made during our school days?

And so, as we say farewell to our Alma Mater and go forth to join the band of loyal Alumni, we set our faces forward and, letting "the dead past bury its dead," we shall strive to keep alive the fire of hope for the future, knowing that each day that comes should mean more to us than any in the past because it is the result of all our yesterdays. So, remembering that:

"Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control."

These three lead life to sovereign power let us strive to attain unto a strong body, a trained mind and a pure heart.

LITERARY SOCIETY

As we speak of the various activities and accomplishments of the past school year it is only fitting that we should review the work done by the Symposium Literary Society. This organization was effected in the early part of the year and while there is great advancement to be desired in the coming years this has been an important step in the right direction and much good has been gained therefrom.

The entire student body of the high school composed the membership and each member of the society was required to take part in at least one debate. Very little work of such kind had been done by any of the pupils previously and the progress of some was quite evident. We feel that in the years to come a Daniel Webster or an Anna Shaw may arise from our ranks to do us honor.

The other work of the society consisted of music, declamation, readings, papers, etc. We did not attempt a great amount of original work as we felt that the members must "learn to do by doing" and more extensive work can be taken up as these abilities are developed.

The open session of the Symposium which we intend to make an annual event, was given April 4th, and was declared by all present to be an unqualified success. All of those who took part on the program, including the president, Wallace Fiske, who presided, displayed an ease, an animation, a determination which would do credit to any school. In the faculty impersonation, while all were exceptionally good, Edward Cartwright as Lougee, and Dorothy Hayward as Miss Staley, were especially impressive and established reputations for themselves.

All of the characters in the farce "Murder Will Out," performed their parts in such a way as to be subject of pride to pupils and teachers alike and we hope next year again to be able to put on a play of as much general interest and we trust that the public will grant to us the same hearty, enthusiastic appreciation extended to us during the past year.

each pupil and the enthusiastic support of each patron and friend, we hope to be able to make each year a stepping stone toward higher things and to build for our Symposium a reputation, to develop in the heart of each member a loyalty and love which will stay with them through life.

VALEDICTORY

(By Lella Laws.)

We launch tonight, where shall we anchor?

Four years ago we entered high school—a playful, half serious bunch of children. Soon we found that to graduate from high school meant four years of hard work, and thus our playfulness gradually vanished as we became more conscious of our task. But by the time we had completed our Sophomore year we had put away all childish things and learned the one derful development since the creation of the world. We shall see tented towns transferred as if by magic into great cities. We shall see men delve into the very bowels of the earth and bring forth the rarest of gems and the purest of metals. Men shall dive to the very depths of the ocean and study the science of its uttermost rocks and corals. We shall see men conquer the sky and fly like the wild fowls of the air. We shall see men take the very lightning of the storm from the skies and force it to do their bidding. These are the wonders we must encounter as we set sail out on the sea of life.

Picture if you will Abraham Lincoln as he stood before the state convention at Springfield, Illinois, in 1858 and delivered that famous oration, "A house divided against itself cannot stand," and molded the opinion that decided the fate of a nation. And then after that dreadful war to their worst, but over them rolls a healing tide of years and they are lost to view; on sweeps the great procession, and hardly shows a scar. Rulers around whom clustered new forms of civilization pass away, but greater men succeed them. Nations are rooted up; great hopes seem blighted; revolutions rise and rivers run with the blood of patriots; the globe itself seems headed toward the abyss; new patriots are born; higher hopes bloom out like stars; but still remains the two greatest and most satisfying pictures on which the soul can gaze humanity and God.

Dear friends, teachers, and schoolmates, on behalf of the class of 1913, I bid you a kind farewell. Classmates under the guidance of that unseen hand may your ship of life always be directed so that you may find anchor-age in the harbor of success.

To Miss Staley the Seniors leave the pleasant remembrance of a brilliant class, especially in Virgil. May she always be as lucky.

To Miss Hutson, Miss Sena, Mr. Wagner and Mr. Lougee, the Seniors bequeath a large bundle of hickory switches, and a silver tablet on which is engraven this axiom, "Spare the rod and spoil the child."

CLASS PROPHECY

(By Marian Burroughs)

One morning during cold weather the class assembled before Mr. Lougee for commercial arithmetic. The lesson was hard and while waiting for our teacher to figure out an explanation for a problem my attention was irresistibly attracted to the fireplace.

Gertrude and Jean were giggling and Shorty and Dot were writing notes but in spite of this my surroundings suddenly became a blank—I found myself gazing through the fire into the FUTURE!

There I saw my class mates of 1913 living their respective lives twenty years from now.

The first picture showed a corridor in the state capitol of New Mexico. I could see no one but I heard faintly a melodious counter-tenor voice singing the "To-rea-a-dor" song. It gradually increased in volume and at last a bent, withered old man appeared, carrying a mop and a pail of water. He seemed rapt in his music and had a most angelic expression on his face—so angelic that at first I did not recognize him. Imagine my surprise on discovering my classmate—Wallace E. Fiske, Janitor!

As I was about to greet him the whole vision changed to a noisy, crowded third class theater. The air was filled with cigarette smoke but the spectators did not seem to notice it, for they were intently watching the performers—three girls (?) of doubtful age who were doing the "Turkey Trot," "Bunny Hug" and "Texas Tommy." They all seemed familiar and at last I discovered they were three of my classmates—Jean Law, Gertrude Gormley and Lella Laws, known in the theatrical world as "The Dancing Triplet."

With the applause for their act the picture of these surroundings gave place to one of a beautifully appointed boudoir. There, by the fire, sat a handsome matron telling stories to two blue-eyed children. I had no difficulty in recognizing sweet and gracious Miriam Cartwright, another member of our class of '13. At the door appeared a tall, distinguished man. But the whole picture faded before I could ascertain whether I knew him or not.

Next I saw a crowded street. At the corner on a rickety box, with her hat over one ear, her clothes flapping in the breeze and waving her umbrella wildly at a gaping crowd, stood a short, fat, woman making a vitriolic speech. I could hear her voice and suddenly realized that the speaker was none other than Dorothy Hayward, suffragette!

Across the street, under an enormous "Votes for Women" banner on a still more rickety box and haranguing even more violently, stood another suffragette. Suddenly the box gave way and as she fell I saw her face, Anna Dorman it was. And her expression was identical to the one she wore when she broke the seat in Mr. Lougee's class room.

As her fall seemed to incapacitate her, another suffragette mounted what was left of the box and took up the speech where her colleague had left off, with equal vehemence. It was not until she had finished that I realized that I had seen her sometime before. Then it dawned on me that she was my 1913 classmate, Lulu Krick.

Just then a huge automobile dashed up to the curb and a beautiful woman alighted—a veritable lady bountiful. She had enormous baskets of candy and flowers, she was giving freely to the poor. Every one seemed to love her and when she smiled I recognized—Dorothy Safford!

The last of my series of visions proved the greatest surprise of all. I suddenly saw a spacious music room. A singing class was in session with Frank Cunningham teacher. He was singing crescendos and trills with the greatest ease and ability.

Just then Mr. Lougee solved that problem to his satisfaction and my dream was ended. As I came to my senses and gazed on the faces of my classmates and there saw promise of truth in this prophecy. WHO KNOWS?

THE SENIOR CLASS

The class of 1913 is one of the most illustrious that ever entered the Santa Fe high school.

It was a beautiful day in the golden autumn of the year 1909 that the class responded to the call of a high school education. We never shall forget how the members of the higher classes stared at us and really we felt quite out of place. The first day was in fact the most trying, because we must admit everything was strange to us and it was a very difficult proposition to act as well as the Seniors. As the days rolled by we became well acquainted with the rules and ways of the school, so we organized our class, which is now one of great importance.

Our work in the oratorical contest, music, and athletics has proven our class loyal and true. This year has been one of great enjoyment to all and there are so many things to look forward to.

To the faculty we owe a great portion of our knowledge for they have taken a great interest in each of us.

Soon we will be separated and may each win what he is striving for in life, not forgetting to be true to the lavender and green and Santa Fe's high school.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

(By Marian Cartwright.)

"Mim" or "Maryann" was born October 8, 1895. She joined the graduating class in the second grade and has ever been a credit to it. In the class play Mim takes the part of Mollie Stiles, a honey-mooner and causes great excitement every time she blows a kiss out the window. Miriam's favorite expression is "Well what do you know about soap," her general occupation is drawing and she can be found anywhere with Anna! Everyone that sees Mim had to stop and look again. With her smiles and dimples she wins everybody's heart. She is into everything, that is going but can appear very dignified and solemn when the occasion demands it.

Dorothy Valentine Safford—Every one calls Dorothy "Dotta" and the expression "For Pat's sake" always brings her to mind. "Dotta" was born at Aztec, N. M., Feb. 14, 1895, and joined the class in the second grade. As Mrs. Gagesby in the class play Dorothy was an immense success. She was blessed with a tongue which got her into many a scrape, yet the same redeeming tongue got her out again. When it comes to dancing "Dotta" is there with the goods every time. Her general occupation is talking sign language and gesticulating wildly. She can be found at anytime going to the bookstore.

Dorothy Josephine Hayward—"Shorty" was born at Spirit Lake, Iowa, April 13, 1895. She joined the class in the eighth grade and has kept things humming ever since, and as a consequence her favorite expression is "Well don't you like it." As Miss "Jim" Channing in the class play Shorty is "a sure-enough crack-er." Her general occupation is writing notes and she can always be found with the bunch. Dorothy is an inveterate tease but is always good-natured about it and consequently is very popular.

Gertrude Agnes Gormley—She was born at Boston, April 10, 1895. "Gertie" has frolicked all her life and gotten in and out of trouble innumerable

The last program of the year which was given the afternoon of May 7th was the best of the regular sessions and is an earnest of the future. As we look back upon the past year we feel we have not worked in vain but as we look on to the future, our brain grows dizzy at the vast possibilities but with the help of our teachers the earnest effort and co-operation of thing all high school pupils must learn—that is, how to study. The Junior year passed pleasantly as we the Senior year proved to be the most difficult yet the most profitable for in this year all the sharp edges and corners have been smoothed and polished, all the intricate questions, problems, and languages solved and completed. It is now we realize that the Senior year is like the mills of God, though they "grind slowly yet they grind exceedingly sure."

Let me give our last tribute to kindness and thanks to our teachers, who for four long years have patiently and earnestly answered our questions and have been with us in our times of sorrow and in our many pleasant occasions and were always ready to help and aid us at our request. We feel under great obligations to our board of education, who have taken so much interest in our work and a personal notice of each member of the class.

The time has come when we must bid farewell to our high school and enter the school of life—although we may receive instruction from greater seats of learning, we will always hold dear the memories of Santa Fe.

At the close of these exercises our high school days are over and we shall step into a period of the most wonderful development since the creation of the world. We shall see tented towns transferred as if by magic into great cities. We shall see men delve into the very bowels of the earth and bring forth the rarest of gems and the purest of metals. Men shall dive to the very depths of the ocean and study the science of its uttermost rocks and corals. We shall see men conquer the sky and fly like the wild fowls of the air. We shall see men take the very lightning of the storm from the skies and force it to do their bidding. These are the wonders we must encounter as we set sail out on the sea of life.

Picture if you will Abraham Lincoln as he stood before the state convention at Springfield, Illinois, in 1858 and delivered that famous oration, "A house divided against itself cannot stand," and molded the opinion that decided the fate of a nation. And then after that dreadful war to be able to give that inspiring Gettysburg address to his countrymen. Such thoughts as those fill us with hope and urge us on to higher and nobler ideals. Or the thoughts of Frances Willard in her famous speech at Atlanta, Georgia, when she said, "History shows us with what tenacity the human race survives. Earthquake, famine, and pestilence have done

STELLA HUTSON

CLASS WILL

(Anna Dorman.)

Be it remembered that we, the Senior class of the Santa Fe high school of the state of New Mexico do make this our last will and testament in manner following. That is to say—

We order and direct that all our debts, just and unjust, mostly unjust, shall be paid with all inconvenient speed by Mr. Bernard Spitz.

Misses Dorothy Safford and Dorothy Hayward bequeath unto the Juniors their extra brains, the said Dorothy's having affirmed that they possess more grey matter than they know what to do with. No doubt the Juniors will be grateful for this much needed gift.

Also to the Juniors, the Seniors leave their desks including every ink spot and the view. Also any stray bits of candy and notes which may have been left behind.

To the Sophomores we leave a fine example of studious youth. We hope they may profit by it.

To the Freshman the Seniors order that a book on artistic designs and colors for pennants shall be sent as a memorial of this class. Also there will be given a beautiful 1913 pennant as a proof to the fortunate Freshies that "a thing of beauty is times, but her hearty laugh has brought her many friends in spite of her escapades. Everytime she gets caught in some mischief her exclamation is "My country 'tis of thee." She joined the present class in the Freshman year. As "Mrs. Popp" in the play Gertie is a fine one at hen-pecking. She spends most of her time hunting for Sennacherib and can usually be found with Jean.

Marion Burroughs—"Chub" joined the Seniors at the beginning of this year's second semester and at once made friends with her classmates. She soon became very popular with all, particularly with a certain Junior. "Chub" was born at Denver, April 4, 1896, and since then her usual occupation has been sending Cupid on a message. Apropos, her favorite expression is "Gee, it was funny." She took the part of "The College Widow" in "A College Town." She can always be found with Ed.

Lella Laws—Lella was another late addition, but was a very welcome one. She is Dignity personified and as a consequence has no nickname. In fact the only undignified thing Lella ever does is to say "O gee." Her general occupation is studying and generally in Miss Staley's room.

Lulu Krick—Commonly known as "Lu." She was born in Santa Fe, March 16, 1895, and joined the class this year. You can hear her saying "For the love of Mike" most any time. When she joined our class we didn't know what to expect next. Her general occupation is telling secrets and she can generally be found at the telephone.

Jean Law—"Jimmie" was born at Antonito, Colo., July 14, 1895. She joined the class in the seventh grade and ever since her classmates have heard her say "Well I should smile." As Mrs. Twigg in the class play "Jimmie" presented an image of sleepiness quite different from her usual liveliness. As one of the artists of the class Jean is always looking for the sunny-side of life. Anyone who wants to find "Jimmie" can look at the piano and there she is playing classic-rag time.

Florence Anna Dorman—Generally known as "Doormat" and "Banana." Anna was born in New York City, May 28, 1895, coming to Santa Fe in 1902, and joining her class in the Sophomore year. Her favorite expression is "Ding bust it" and she is usually occupied in laughing or crying as her favorite stunt is getting hurt. She can always be found with "Mim." "Doormat" was Miss Jane Cavendish in the Senior play.

Wallace Eugene Fiske—He is called by several nicknames but the most common are "Fisky" and "Wallingford." Wallace was born at Santa Fe January 8, 1896, and joined the class in the fourth grade. He has been with it ever since and has been class 1896. He joined the class in the eighth grade and ever since his classmates have heard his "Say," at every turn. He took the part of Major Kilpepper in the Senior play and made quite a hit, even with the real Aunt Jane. Frank is a very good-natured likable person and it is a well known fact in the high school that no one ever saw Frank angry. As some one said his general occupation was doing nothing and he could be found anywhere resting.

EIGHTH GRADE

The graduating exercises of the Eighth Grade took place yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Catron building. The members of the class were neatly attired and made a beautiful appearance as they sat in a half circle on the stage. The exercises were called off according to the program previously printed in this paper. One good thing was especially noticeable and that was the self-possession in which the speakers acquitted themselves without any prompting. The girls of the class sang three selections appropriate to the occasion in a very pleasing manner, with Miss Bishop the musical director at the piano. Then followed the presentation of the diplomas by Hon. Jose D. Sena, president of the Board of Education, in a short address, giving some very appropriate advice to the class.

At the close of the above exercises, Mr. Sena gave a little talk on the importance of writing in the schools and awarded a few prizes as follows:

In the grammar grades the first prize, a silver medal, was awarded to Joe Roybal of the Seventh grade. The second prize, a silver medal, was awarded to John Hernandez of the Fifth grade.

In the primary department the first prize, a silver medal, was awarded to Adelino Romero of the Third grade, and the second prize, a silver dollar, was awarded to Florence Wiese of the Second grade.

Another second prize, a silver dollar, was awarded to Altagracia Silva of the Second Ward school. These prizes were for making the greatest progress in penmanship during the last term. The following received honorable

ATHLETICS

(By Dorothy Safford.)

Our athletics have been a success this year. 'Tis true we have been handicapped by large railroad fares, yet we played football and won three of five games. We played basketball and though we met defeat at Las Vegas when they came here we reversed the score. In baseball we were unfortunate, next year we are in hopes to do better for we know there is some good baseball material coming from the eighth grade.

In track we stand well, though we lost in the dual meet with Albuquerque, yet a score of 48 1-2 points against 55 1-2 points was not bad, considering the size of the two schools. Next year we are in hopes to bring the banner given by the University of New Mexico for the state championship to Santa Fe.

The following is our organization for the year:

FOOTBALL.

Captain, Whipple McCormick; manager, Edward Cartwright.

BOYS' BASKET BALL.

Captain, Wallace Fiske; manager, Elmer Friday.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS.

The achievements of last year's Freshmen in high school events has been successful in every way, from basketball to track, we have been well represented.

In our studies we have stood high and have made an unparalleled record which when reviewed upon graduation, will be ample recompense for the efforts put forth.

Don't forget, our class is the largest and best in the school. You will find the silver and gold with plenty of loyalty to the class, the board of education and Santa Fe high school.

SOCIAL WRITE-UP

(By Dorothy Hayward.)

The students of the Santa Fe high school all agree in thinking that the past year has given us some very pleasant social times. Another year will have to offer more attractive entertainments to efface from the students minds the joys of this last season and of course this will be very hard to accomplish, without the brilliant class of 1913.

Senior Stunts.

In the month of November the Seniors were delighted by being made the guests of Miss Staley, our popular Latin teacher. The invitations were all accepted with pleasure and when the looked-for date arrived all were on deck. The evening was passed by playing all sorts of games and acting charades and later on a delicious repast was served and when the guests left, one and all declared that the first Senior class party of the season was a great success.

Junior Banquet.

When the Seniors were notified of a banquet to be given in their honor after the Oratorical contest in November, that night lost some of its horrible aspect and was looked forward to almost with pleasure. It took place in the Domestic Science

Senior and Junior "Hike."

In March when the weather was deciding to be warm, the Seniors and Juniors concluded to have a "hike." Bishop's ranch was the chosen camping place and after the walk of three miles it seemed good to gather around the camp fire and have supper. Some of the cats mysteriously disappeared with several of the boys but everyone had plenty of bacon and after the walk home by moonlight everyone was tired but happy.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner's Party.

In the month of May the Wagners invited the Senior class to a party. The evening was spent with guessing games and so forth, several prizes being awarded. Later on when foolish limericks were made up Mr. Lougee was unanimously chosen winner. A generous spread was served which everyone enjoyed immensely and when the party broke up all agreed that Mr. and Mrs. Wagner made charming entertainers.

Gertrude's Gormley's Party.

The Seniors all realized that May was their last month to be together and wished to have all the fun they could, so all were delighted when Gertrude announced a prospective party. Everybody came early and stayed late, games were played and everyone enjoyed a "dry jag." After the liberal refreshments were eaten everybody danced until twelve when the party was found to break-up after bidding good-bye to their charming hostess.

Fiske's Party.

The party that closed the class affair of 1913 was held at Wallace Fiske's on Friday night after the graduation exercises. Everybody was determined to have the best time yet and all knew that they would have a good opportunity to do so.

JUNIORS DOINGS.

Helen Winter's Party.

The first social event enjoyed by the Juniors was given Friday night January 10, 1913, at the home of Miss Helen Winter. The evening was spent playing cards after which delicious refreshments were served.

Domestic Science Dinner.

In the first part of April the Junior and Sophomore girls entertained the board of education at a six o'clock dinner. The repast was cooked and served entirely by the girls under the direction of the Domestic Science teacher, Miss Hutson. Everyone enjoyed it and we are sure the girls can secure a position as chief cook in any of the respective homes of those who enjoyed the dinner.

Consuelo Bergere's Party.

On April 18, 1913, Miss Consuelo Bergere entertained the Junior class at a delightful dinner party. The dining room was tastefully decorated in maroon and white and everyone enjoyed themselves immensely.

Bernard Spitz's Party.

The Junior class was entertained again by Bernard Spitz, Friday night May 16. Games were played and everyone had a fine time.

Sophomore Capers.

In December the Sophomores had a surprise party on Irma Stephens. They were having a nice time when some rude upper classman stole some grub, but there was plenty left and everyone was good-humored about it, so all agreed to having had a delightful and exciting time.

Helen Knapp's Party.

In April the Sophomore class was entertained by Miss Helen Knapp. They played games and had a good time generally, both before and after the delicious refreshments were served.

Freshie Frolics.

In February the Freshies were entertained by Anna Kaune. During the early part of the evening forfeit games were played and much amusement was caused when the forfeits were redeemed. Later in the evening delicious refreshments were served and then the young people listened to Rev. Smith tell of his travels in Europe. When the party finally broke up everyone was truly sorry to leave.

Evelyn McBride's Party.

In April the Freshmen were invited to a surprise dinner on Evelyn McBride. The dinner was fine but there is a doubt about the surprise.

First High School Sale.

In March the high school students united in planning a sale to aid the two basketball teams in bringing the Las Vegas teams here to play. Then the necessary funds were low. Everyone worked with a will and the sale was carried out successfully, as well as enjoyably; and no one objected when the objects drawn in the fish pond were gathered up and resold. Twenty-one dollars was cleared and as a result of the effort made, two good games were witnessed.

First High School Dance.

In March one of the most joyfully anticipated events of the school season was realized without a flaw. The genial and gallant president of the school board, Mr. Sena, treated the scholars to a dance. There were generous refreshments and a fine floor. Everybody went attired in gala rig and festive smiles and not one smile faded during the evening. The happy event concluded with a thrice hearty cheer for the generous donor, and will long live in the memory of all.

"BLOOD IS THICKER THAN WATER"

Without good red blood a man has a weak heart and poor nerves. Thinness of the blood, or anemia, is common in young folks as well as old. Especially is it the case with those who work in ill ventilated factories—or those who are shut up indoors in winter time with a coal stove burning up the oxygen or emitting carbonic (acid) gas. This blood, or blood which lacks the red blood corpuscles, in anemic people may have been caused by lack of good fresh air breathed into lungs, or by poor digestion or dyspepsia. Sometimes people suffer intense pain over the heart which is not heart disease at all, but caused by indigestion. Whatever the cause, there is just one remedy that you can turn to—knowing that it has given satisfaction for over 40 years.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

is a blood cleanser and alterative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and vigorous instead of tired, weak and faint. Nowadays you can obtain Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery Tablets, as well as the liquid form from all medicine dealers, or by mail, prepaid in $1 or 50c size. Address R. V. Pierce, M. SIEZE OPPORTUNITY IS JUDGE POPE'S ADVICE

home a point by leaning forward and extending one hand.

He was listened to with marked attention, and his shafts of wit were received unroariously.

The judge said in part:

"Members of the class of 1913, I congratulate you as a class; I congratulate each one of you on having arrived at this evening of graduation. I notice that the young men are a hopeless minority in this aggregation of sweet femininity (shouts of laughter). You young ladies, are in the majority to night and will remain in the majority. So it was since creation, and so it always will be. And there are those who will declare that not only will woman stay in the majority, but she also will have the last say (laughter and cheers).

"As I stand here tonight, I recall another entertainment—I have the program here—and I find that it was the closing exercises of the schools of Santa Fe just twenty years ago. Those exercises were held at Gray's opera house in this city. For those of you who can not turn back your memory twenty years, I shall say that the opera house was next to the jail (laughter). I noticed that on this program was a song, 'Where are you going, my pretty maid' (laughter) and I find that in the duet appeared the name of your fellow citizen, James B. Read. (More laughter).

"I have been informed that all of the members of this class of twenty years ago have been married except one—a man—and he is in the penitentiary." (Laughter which lasted several seconds).

Reasons for Joy.

Turning to the class, Judge Pope continued: "I congratulate you this evening; I congratulate you that you have your graduation exercises in this splendid building—that you are no longer next to the county jail, but up near the federal building. (Cheers). "I congratulate you, ladies, that you have been graduated at a time when you may take part in government—that you will be able to vote at school elections—aye, sit on school boards and direct schools!" (Applause).

Commenting on the education they had received, the jurist said:

"We welcome you as the favored and finished products of our public school system. The purpose of our school system is to do justice to the community. Public education is not a modern discovery. It goes back to the Christian era. I find that the Puritan government, many centuries ago, insisted that the children be trained to do three things and do them well. They were:

"To ride a horse.
"To handle the bow.
"To tell the truth.

"The first article in this curriculum is still considered of value today and is taught in New Mexico. (Applause). The other two—well, they may have

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Beatrice, Neb.—"Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. R. B. Child, Beatrice, Neb.

The Other Case.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but my husband thought I had better write to you and I did so, stating my symptoms. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

Word About New Mexico.

Telling of this land of opportunity, the judge said that he had recently read some interesting statements concerning New Mexico. He continued: "I found them in a big red book sent out recently by the government. In this book there was a supplement of the state we love so well—New Mexico. (Applause). I find that flattened out, New Mexico would have an altitude all over of five thousand seven hundred feet; it is the fourth state in size; it is the forty-fourth in population; the population at the last census is 327,000, but ten years ago it was 195,000, a splendid increase when you consider that the average increase is but 20 per cent! I believe New Mexico is on the upgrade. We have 2.7 persons to the square mile, although in the county of Socorro we have but on person to a square mile. I imagine that person is a lonely person. (Laughter). The country at large has thirty-one persons to the square mile.

"But what most impressed me was illiteracy. Ten years ago thirty per cent of our population was classified as illiterate and now but twenty per cent. I know of no better tribute to our public schools and our private schools as well than this showing, and I say to you tonight that one may well look forward to the future with confidence!" (Applause).

Turning to the class, motto: "The educated man has wealth within himself." Judge Pope continued: "There is a great truth in that sentence; at the same time, it must not be distorted. Education is not EVERYTHING! Many people have education and yet they do not amount to anything. And a good many people have little of what we call 'education' and they have achieved fame and power.

"Take the case of Abraham Lincoln. I dare say his school days, added together, did not amount to a year. We know that George Washington spelt that 'a' 'hat', 'satin' as 'sat-in' and 'clothes' as 'cleathes'. But Lincoln was great; Washington was great.

Concluding Advice. Concluding his address, the orator gave the graduates a few "chunks of wisdom," urging them to cultivate an ideal, and hitch their wagon to a star, declaring that there are plenty of stars in the armament that have not been pre-empted.

He laid great stress, too, on the value of hard work and said that the drones will not get anywhere in the business or professional world. He emphasized the importance of mapping out a course and following it and told incidents of the folly of misdirected energy. Then he drove home the importance of seizing opportunity and held the example of Theodore Roosevelt.

Judge Pope was applauded vigorously as he took his seat.

More Music. Then there was more music, this time a duet by Miss Phyllis Mayne and Miss Marion Burroughs who sang "O that the two were maying." As they sang, joyously, the breath of spring filled the auditorium. The applause testified the appreciation of the duet.

Closing Address. It was Miss Lella L. Laws who had the honor of delivering the closing address and she acquitted herself of the task in a graceful manner. She told of the four years of hard work and of the kindness shown the pupils by teachers and directors.

Diplomas Presented. As president of the board of education, Mr. Sena then presented the diplomas, saying a few words before handing out the "dips." He complimented the pupils on their work and he told how others, who had gone before them, had reflected credit on their alma mater.

As each pupil grasped the satin-bound parchment, the audience cheered wildly.

Final Selection. Miss Mayne, Miss Burroughs and Miss Jean Law sang a trio, "Voice of the Western Wind," which was the final number of a delightful program. Showers of Good Wishes. The graduates formed a receiving line and a throng passed by grasping each by the hand and extending congratulations. This proceeding required a half hour or more. Then the graduates proceeded to a room at the left of the entrance to the hall where they found masses of flowers and a stack of presents from relatives and friends. There were many bouquets of roses, pink and white, tied in the lavender color of the class of 1913.

Following this pleasant feature of the evening, the class gathered at the home of Mrs. Fiske where they were entertained.

VACATIONS BEGIN

It is rather interesting to note what the Santa Fe school teachers have planned for their summer vacation. In a little while they will be widely separated, one going as far east as Maine and others as far west as the Golden Gate. The first to leave Santa Fe was Miss Clara Palm, who returned to her home in Austin, Texas, Thursday noon. Miss Palm was the kindergarten teacher who for the past two years has endeared herself to her little people and the patrons of the Santa Fe public schools. There is no question about it—Miss Palm had a place in the hearts of the little folks that will be hard to fill. It was really pathetic Friday and Saturday mornings while the other pupils were returning for their books, to note some of the little 5-year-olds standing around with curious eyes asking: "Where's Miss Palm?" She had gone to Texas to accept a position nearer home.

Miss Green, the first primary teacher will spend the summer with her people in Birmingham, Alabama. She will leave about June 1st.

Miss Harvey is planning to spend the months of July and August in California, renewing the acquaintance of college days.

Miss Gilderleeve will spend most of the summer vacation in Santa Fe. Miss Harrison expects to spend the greater part of the summer vacation in California.

Miss Abbott will leave June 1st for Berkeley, Calif., to spend the summer months in the University. She will pay special attention to the study of folk lore games and playground recreation for school children. Miss Abbott will gather valuable information and suggestions for the next May Day fete.

Miss Smith has not fully decided how she will spend the summer, but a part of the time will be spent in Santa Fe.

Prof. Wood will enjoy his vacation here. He may attend the National Teachers' association in Salt Lake City in July.

Prof. Longee expects to leave soon for his New England home in Bangor, Maine. After a short visit with his mother he plans to take advanced work in one of the eastern universities.

Miss Hutson and Miss Staley will go back to their old homes for the summer, the former in Illinois and the latter in Oklahoma.

Miss Sena will be in Santa Fe the greater part of the summer. Miss Sena has a number of private students of Spanish and she will be kept very busy.

Mrs. Martin will spend the summer studying at the Chicago Art Institute. She is also planning to spend some time with the artists' colony in ancient Taos.

Superintendent Wagner will remain here the greater part of the summer. During June he will conduct the Santa Fe county institute and in July and August will serve on the state board of examiners. He expects to attend the National Educational association in Salt Lake City in July.

Miss Schneppe will take her vacation here. She had planned to attend the N. E. A. but has changed those plans.

Miss Laws will be with her parents near Estancia.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT

A great feature of the closing week of school was the exhibit of art work.

penmanship and other hand work displayed about the rooms and halls in the Catron school. All the teachers made a fine showing of the hand work done during the year.

Mrs. Martin, the supervisor of drawing, is certainly to be congratulated on what was done in her department and the sewing work and wood working departments were represented with great exhibits.

PARKHURST'S PHOTOS

The photographs of the high school graduates and teachers that appear in this edition were taken by Dr. T. Harmon Parkhurst. Dr. Parkhurst also took a number of pictures of the May Day fete and field contests which have received much favorable comment.

WALK 32 MILES FOR SHOPPING

Holland, Mich., May 24.—The co-eds of Hope college have established records for long distance hikes, which have placed the members of the track team in the shade.

Miss Fredina Harmeling of Grand Haven, Miss Margaret Ossward of Zeeland, and Miss Georgiana De Long, of Maurice, Ia., completed a long distance hike to Grand Rapids, covering the distance of 32 miles in nine hours.

The girls started at 5 o'clock stopped for lunch at Grandville and when they reached Grand Rapids spent several hours in shopping.

was held at the Library hall. The dance was given by the efforts of the pupils and everything went off well. The music, floor, eats and company was good, so everyone was sorry to go after "Home, Sweet Home" was played for the third time.

Second High School Sale. The track team worked to attend the meet at Albuquerque to be held May 3, and as money was scarce the girls decided to help the boys give a sale to raise the necessary funds. The entertainments for the sale were even better than those given at the first one, a mock wedding, circus, Japanese tea gardens, fish pond and all sorts of other attractions being offered. Twenty-two dollars was cleared and all were repaid for their work by the satisfaction of having the boys make such a good showing at the meet.

Third High School Dance. There will be a dance to celebrate the close of the high school year and everyone wants to make it an especially gay occasion as it is the seniors' last bit of high school fun. It is to be held at the Library hall, Saturday, May 24th, the money necessary to carry it out being furnished from the proceeds of the class play and the Juniors are to do the work. Everyone hopes this last high

FAREWELL ADDRESS

(By Jose D. Sena, President of Board of Education.)

My Dear Friends: The honor of presenting you with your diplomas upon your successfully completing the course prescribed by our high school, has fallen to me, and indeed I consider it a great honor, during the time that I have so far served as a member of the school board and particularly for the last two years as the president of the same, coming in contact with you almost daily in the performance of my duties, you have endeavored yourselves to me and at this time I shall only take a few minutes of your time for a very few remarks.

I have no doubt that you are happy on having reached this goal and being now entitled to a diploma for your faithful work during the past years, and I congratulate you indeed, but before the final parting let me say to you that whatever path in life you may choose hereafter let your efforts in that line be as successful as you have been in your studies. Let your standard be honesty and faithfulness in every respect as thus only will you reach the last strand in the ladder of success.

While I believe that education is equal as necessary to the young lady as to the man, still I believe it is still more important to the young man, as he has been designated more so as the producer and not the consumer, and here I wish to advise the young men to choose a profession and in that profession make a name for yourselves in after life. I believe that some of you will, perhaps enter college in a higher institution of learning and try and acquire more knowledge. This indeed is very commendable, as certainly you never can know too much. I am very proud of the fact that one of the Santa Fe high school boys has been successful in entering Annapolis academy and in that way getting for himself a position in which I have no doubt he will give credit to himself and to this school. You all know that your former companion Arthur Gallup has received an appointment and has successfully passed his examination and on yesterday was sworn in as a midshipman representing New Mexico and particularly Santa Fe. What he has done others of you can do, as it only needs energy without which we never can succeed in anything.

I am pleased to have noted the attention with which you have listened to the remarks of Hon. William H. Pope. I hope that these remarks will be instilled into your hearts and that you will remember them in whatever path of life you may choose.

In conclusion, let me say on behalf of the members of the board of education of this city and of the faculty of this school that we wish you all success and God speed.

SAID SHE WOULD FAINT

Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles.

Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint. I took Cardui, and it helped me immediately. Now I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did. Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strong-building tonic medicine for women, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times.

Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs.

Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it.

BLOODHOUNDS ARE ON TRAIL

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 24.—Bloodhounds are following trails and bands of men are searching Westmoreland county for the assailant of 14-year-old Grace Johnson of Blackburn, whose maltreated body was found near Trafford. The body was secreted in some bushes alongside a road that led from Johnson's home to the schoolhouse.

The girl left for school about 5 o'clock but never returned. When she failed to return home at 5 o'clock the parents thought she had been detained for rehearsal for an entertainment. When darkness fell, however, they became anxious. Inquiry among neighbors and friends informed the father his child had not been at school. He sought assistance from volunteer firemen at Trafford and searchers were called by the fire whistle.

One of the firemen stumbled over the body of the child in his search.

The man-hunt was taken up also by troopers of the state constabulary and Allegheny county detectives from this city. These are following up every report of strangers being seen but no arrests have yet been made.

PULLS DONKEY'S EAR, NEVER AGAIN

Davison, Mich., May 24.—There are those who go down to the sea in ships and then again there those who go down to a watering trough with a donkey.

Leon Blockwell, of Davison, will choose ships hereafter when there is going to be done. Leon led his father's donkey to the trough and tried to make him drink by pulling his ear. The donkey lost interest in the trough and began walking on Leon and chewing his right arm. A neighbor beat the brute off with a pitchfork and carried Leon into the house.

A doctor thinks the boy will recover.

30,000 VOICES.

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Santa Fe people are in this chorus. Here's a Santa Fe case.

Miss Adela Arias, 106 Griffin St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "The splendid results I obtained from Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago has been permanent and for that reason, my confidence in them has increased. I suffered from a dull, heavy ache in the small of my back and was subject to headaches and dizzy spells. I always felt tired, had no ambition and was in poor health when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. It did not take long to cure me and from that day to this, I have been free from kidney complaint. I willingly confirm the public statement I gave in January, 1907, telling of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills."

Unique School Plan—In speaking of her summer school, Mrs. W. G. For this purpose, I will have a large tent classroom erected in the orchard of the old Buval Place on the south side. This is an ideal location for a school of this kind. In addition to the common school branches the children will be given physical education and special art work. I desire the school to demonstrate what can be accomplished with shorter hours, fresh air, more direct methods and no home work. These are subjects that have been recently much discussed in the Woman's Club and among the school people of Santa Fe."

NERVOUS ON STAND IS MISS TRUE

KEEPS HER HANDS GOING WHILE ANSWERING QUESTIONS—AN IMPORTANT BIT OF COURT RECORD UPON WHICH HINGES THE WHOLE CASE.

The hearing in the case of Mrs. M. C. Stevenson against (Mrs. D. True and others, still occupies the attention of Judge Abbott, in the district court.

Miss True was on the stand nearly all day and the evidence that she gave and the cross-examination by Mr. Renahan, for the plaintiff, was interesting.

The testimony given by Miss True revealed some interesting things. The witness showed her nervousness, though seemingly calm, by the constant use of her hands. She held a pencil and kept moving it about, rubbing it between her palms, pulling a ring off her finger and putting it back on again, twisting one finger about the other and incessantly working her hands, while she worked her mind before answering the rapid fire of questions that was propounded to her by Mr. Renahan.

Armed with a little filing case of memoranda Miss True underwent the ordeal of giving evidence and answering the pointed questions that were put to her.

The exhibits of the defense show that Miss True wrote several letters to the government authorities, which Mrs. Stevenson's attorney claimed were written to discredit Mrs. Stevenson in the eyes of the ethnological bureau.

To every inquiry on the part of Mr. Renahan as to whether she has not written such letters for the purpose alleged, and as to whether they were not evidences of bitterness and flippancy toward Mrs. Stevenson, Miss True was prompt with a negative answer.

Mr. Renahan asked Miss True if she sold the ranch and received a check of some $4,800 from Mrs. Stevenson for the ranch, which only recently she had written to the government, calling it a government ranch, and if she did not know when she wrote the letters to the government that the ranch belonged to the government, etc. Miss True replied with the usual "No."

Mr. Renahan asked her if her purpose was not to discredit Mrs. Stevenson with the authorities at Washington, knowing that the ranch belonged to Mrs. Stevenson. The witness continued to reply in the negative.

Stress was laid by the defendant on the fact that the ranch had a sign on it, that it was a government camp, and that the United States flag flew over it. Mr. Crist in support of the conclusion to be gained that the property was government property asked Miss True if she saw a beef head over a door and a sign of a butcher shop, if she would not think that it was a place where meat was sold. The smile was one that elicited smiles from both plaintiff and her lawyer, and was inferentially taken by the audience to convey the idea that the Sars and Stripes could not fly anywhere with out indicating that the premises were government land.

Asked by Mr. Renahan to specify what was the government orchard and the government hay field which was mentioned, Miss True admitted that she did not know, though she had written regarding them to the government.

Mr. Renahan asked Miss True if she had stated in the morning that the whole amount due from Mrs. Stevenson in the maintenance of the ditch in question was not $395, and one-half of it was $170, and then to make the last figures jibe with the first afterwards changed the first amount claimed, to be only about $343, Miss True again answered "No."

Again Mr. Renahan asked how she made $170 half of $395.

Questions came thick and fast and Miss True twined the pencil faster and faster between her fingers.

One important piece of testimony was asked to be stricken out.

The following bit of the record of the court was very interesting as upon its conclusion hinges the whole case:

Q. You may state, Miss True, whether at the beginning of the irrigation season of 1912 the owners of that ditch, with the exception of the petitioner in this case, proceeded to operate the ditch under the terms of that donation?

A. They did.

By Mr. Renahan: Object to the answer and move to strike it out on the ground there has been no intelligible proof of a donation. There has been some indefinite statement on the subject I did not understand. It was not a clear idea, at least I did not get one.

By the Court: I did not understand there was any offer and acceptance of the action there in the meeting.

By Mr. Crist: The testimony was they agreed to it.

The Witness: Yes, every man present.

Q. In order to get this clear, please state fully everything that took place there; every word you said that you can recall, every word anybody else said you can recall, then state the action of the meeting.

By the Court: I don't want all that conversation, I simply want the action taken in the meeting.

Q. Just limit your statement, Miss True, to a statement of what you said you would do; in other words, what you offered to do and what the result of your offer was?

use in keeping up the intake this spring. The offer was accepted.

By the Court: Do I understand that $32 was to be paid in for use of keeping it up this spring?

By the Witness: Yes.

By the Court: Or was the $32 to be paid in for the proportion of work you claimed to be due for the construction of the ditch originally?

By the Witness: It was originally for the construction of the ditch, that would have been Mrs. Stevenson's proportionate share as nearly as we could figure it for half the sum that would have been due had she participated in the construction of the ditch.

By Mr. Renahan: I object to this testimony and move to strike it out on the following grounds: 1st, that the ditch commission could not by any acceptance made by it of the offer lay any burden upon Mrs. Stevenson.

In other words the ditch commission had to authorize contractual or delegated to bind Mrs. Stevenson to any condition.

2nd, that an imposition of a charge of $32.00 upon Mrs. Stevenson as a condition for the granting of this alleged donation would be invalid and improper as it attempted to charge one party and to excuse other parties, all of whom would, or should, have proportionate interests in the subject of the alleged donation.

3rd, it does not appear that Miss True had anything to donate for it has not appeared that she was granted by the state engineer any right to make an appropriation of water independent of the prior appropriation of the San Leonardo ditch.

4th, it does not appear that she had any valid right of way to donate over the lands of the Indians, for the so-called or alleged right-of-way in that land or grant of land, or right-of-way, must be evidenced by writing and no writing has been presented.

5th, because it now appears from the testimony of this witness that the $32 required were for the keeping up of the intake this spring and it does not appear that any request or demand was ever made upon Mrs. Stevenson to contribute $32 for such purpose.

6th, that as the witness testifies it was originally for the construction of the ditch, it now appears from the testimony that original purpose was departed from without any notice to Mrs. Stevenson that the $32 was required for the up-keep of the ditch this year, or the maintenance of the intake.

7th, that the attempt made by the testimony of the witness to say that Mrs. Stevenson is bound because of some action of a representative sent to attend an election and meeting of owners for the purpose of an election could not have any effect whatsoever because the authority sought thus to be shown to exist in Roybal does not appear to be within any grant of authority from Mrs. Stevenson, the purpose of the meeting being an election and an agent has no power to bind the principal except within the scope of the agency and that agency be shown in manners legal.

U. S. SEEKS TO RE-INDICT HAYNE

New York, May 24.—The department of justice has decided to seek the re-indictment of Frank Hayne, and Wm. P. Brown, of New Orleans, Eugene Scales of Texas, and Col. Robert M. Thompson of New York, on the charge that they conspired to corner the cotton crop of 1909.

This was learned today when subpoenas were issued by United States District Attorney Marshall for the appearance next week before the federal grand jury of the witnesses upon whose testimony the indictment now standing against the four men was found.

The document contains flaws, it is understood, which the government feared might prevent conviction. It charges that, with James A. Patten of Chicago, the defendants conspired to create a bull pool with the intention of artificially raising the price of cotton in order to obtain a profit of $10,000,000.

Patten pleaded guilty last February to the sixth count of the indictment, known as the "contract count" which alleged that the defendants contracted to buy all raw cotton produced in 1909 and to hold it out of the market until November, 1910. He was fined $4,000 and by an agreement with the department of justice the other counts were nolle.

ARMY OFFICER AND WIFE CHARGED WITH STEALING DISHES.

Wife of Captain Cecil of the U. S. A. is Plaintiff and Says They Were Worth $500.—Commissioner Takes Testimony.

Houston, Texas, May 24.—Testimony was taken here today at a hearing of charges that Lieutenant Joseph L. Wier, United States army, and his wife, Mildred Wier, stole dishes worth $500, from the wife of Captain J. S. Cecil, U. S. A., at Fort Mackenzie, Wyoming, about a year ago.

The testimony was taken by a commissioner in an effort to determine whether there were grounds for returning Lieutenant and Mrs. Wier to Wyoming for trial.

An affidavit by Lieutenant Wier was read, declaring that Captain Cecil had offered to end the entire matter if Wier would pay him $1,000 in cash and resign from the army. The affidavit said Wier refused the offer. The hearing adjourned until June 3.

EXTRA TABLES FOR SCRIBES AT TRIAL

GREAT EXCITEMENT OVER ROOSEVELT LIBEL SUIT WILL BRING AN ARMY OF NEWSPAPER MEN TO MARQUETTE.

Marquette, Mich., May 24.—William T. Belden, chief of counsel for George A. Newell, defendant in the Roosevelt libel suit, returned today from Chicago where he was engaged yesterday in assisting in the taking of depositions to be used at the trial.

Under the supervision of Judge R. C. Flannigan, the court room where the suit will be heard, was filled with extra tables and chairs to accommodate the crowd of newspapermen who will be here to report the case when it goes to trial Monday, probably in the afternoon. According to the present program, Judge Flannigan will be occupied during the forenoon in hearing motions on the regular calendar in the course of which "Roosevelt vs. Newell," will come up. These motions out of the way, the court probably will be adjourned until after noon, when work of obtaining a jury will begin.

"DOCTRINAL UNITY" HOPELESS TASK IN PROTESTANTISM

Detroit, Mich., May 24.—"Doctrinal unity is a hopeless task in protestantism; the only doctrinal unity I would stand for would have to be on the basis of the doctrinal views of a particular sect, I believe," said Dr. Shailer Matthews, dean of the School of Theology of the University of Chicago and president of the federal council of churches of Christ of America, in an address before the Northern Baptist convention today. Dr. Matthews was discussing the movement towards unification of all Protestant denominations.

If the federal council attempted to compile a creed that would embrace all denominations, he said, it would be a creed so like the new testament that it would be a useless task to compile it.

Previous to Dr. Matthews' address, the convention has received the report of the executive committee of the federal council of churches of Christian America and had listened to remarks by Charles S. MacFarland, secretary of the council, who recommended that the council adopt resolutions calling upon civil authorities of San Francisco, the state of California, and officials of the Panama-Pacific exposition to keep the exposition free from exploitation by commercialized vice. Resolutions to that effect were adopted.

The representative of the federal council showed that twenty-eight Protestant denominations are now enrolled on its banners.

STEAMER STRUCK MINE AND SANK

London, May 24.—The steamer Nevada with 200 passengers on board today struck a mine on the Gulf of Smyrna, and sank, according to a dispatch from Constantinople to the Exchange Telegraph company. The Nevada was owned by The Hadji Dages company, and ran in the eastern Mediterranean.

Smyrna, May 24.—The steamer Nevada with 200 passengers on board struck three mines in succession today in the gulf of Smyrna and sank. Only eighty of the passengers and crew are reported saved.

The mines were strewn in the coast waters by the Turks to prevent attack by the Greek fleet during the Balkan war.

IMPRESSION CORRECTED.

Charleston, W. Va., May 24.—Eugene V. Debs Socialist leader, former Congressman Victor Berger, and Adolph Germer of Illinois, accompanied John M. Moore, a leader representing Governor Hatfield and Paul J. Paulson, member of the international board of the United Mine Workers of America into the paint and Cabin creek fields this morning. It is expected they will return tomorrow night and visit the new river field.

Mr. Berger, in a statement this morning, said:

"I have an entirely different impression to the one I previously had of West Virginia's executive and his attitude toward the workingman," while Mr. Debs told the governor:

"You have been placed in a false light. I have said some harsh things of you in print but now I will correct them."

Much data and information was laid before the labor leaders by the governor.

HINDU RECEIVES FIRST PAPERS OF NATURALIZATION.

San Francisco, Calif., May 24.—First naturalization papers have been granted by the United States district court here to a Hindu, Dalta Kumar, who is a native of India and a missionary. The applicant was informed that the government reserved the right to withhold final papers.

The recommendation of the chief naturalization examiner, George A. Crutchfield that the papers be granted was based on a recent ruling of a federal court in Washington that a high caste Hindu was of Aryan descent and eligible to citizenship.

PROGRESSIVES PRESCRIBE MEDICINE.

not only unjust but contrary to the fundamental principle of representative government. Assuming that the will of the majority of any organization ought to prevail, it must be a real, not a fictitious majority. An actual majority will not long submit to an actual minority.

"The present system enables a minority of Republicans to control national conventions, dictate party nominations and determine party declarations and, however praiseworthy, may have been the motive for its original adoption, it is no longer defensible.

"We earnestly desire the restoration of the Republican party to full strength and power. Its principles are sound, wise, patriotic and the body of the party will apply those principles to the conditions of modern times in an enlightened, unselfish way if they have a fair opportunity to do so. To give them their fair opportunity is the sole object of our request.

So long as the voting Republicans in certain sections of the country have from eight to fifty times greater representation in a national convention than the voting Republicans in other sections of the country, it cannot be said that the act of the convention is the act of the majority and discontent followed by revolt are the natural results.

"The existing rule promulgated by a convention held more than thirty years ago relating to the manner of selecting delegates needs revision. Some of the states have passed primary laws and others will pass them, that are not in harmony with the rule, and some provision must be made that will remove the conflict. We content ourselves by stating what seems to be an obvious conclusion: That we must either accept these primary laws or we have no Republican following in the states which have enacted them.

"We believe that it is more logical that Republican national committees should assume office prior rather than subsequent to future Regular Republican national conventions. We believe that some methods should be devised and put into effect before the next regular Republican national convention whereby the unhappy contests which have marked the seating of delegates in past Republican national conventions should be reduced to a minimum and settled without seat and partisanship which have so often marked them.

"We have pointed out these matters in order to show how essential it is that there shall be a readjustment prior to the call for the convention of 1916, indeed prior to the campaign of 1914. The country ought to know before there is another alignment, that these changes have been made."

Washington, D. C., May 21.—Practically unanimous sentiment developed in favor of holding the convention next year.
