PULPITS JOIN
ATTACK ON
TAMMANYCHRISTIAN AND JEW UNITE IN DENUNCIATIONNew Yorkers Called on to Rescue Their City from Band of Political Highlanders Led by Ignorant Despot.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

New York, Oct. 24.—With the exception of a reception at the Hotel Astor to William H. Hearst, independent or civic alliance candidate, for mayor, political activity in greater New York today centered almost wholly in the pulpits.Hearst spoke at the reception in the afternoon, but both the independent William J. Gaynor and Otto T. Ban-nard, rested. All, however, will deliver many speeches until election day, November 2. In some pulpits politics was touched upon with as much vehemence as orators showed last week; in others pastors confined themselves to veiled reference to service and prayer.The issue of the defeat of Tammany hall, said Rev. Dr. S. A. Mc-Arthur of the Calvary Baptist church.
"Tammany is the vilest political organization the world has ever known.
There is not today in any land such a band of political pirates as that of Tammany hall. Its present boss is inmate of our mayor."When our mayor was studying science and philosophy in Princeton the present boss of Tammany hall was washing glasses behind a bar in the "gas house district." This man is now king of New York. It is amazing that intellectual, patriotic Americans submit to the rule of the coarse, ignorant, tyrannical czar. Such a rule brings contempt upon New York and dishonors the name of the United States.
There is not today in any land such a
Tammany hall. Its present boss is inmate of our mayor."Rabbi Stephen Wise at the Free synagogue declared that the time was fraught with danger to the multitude of Jewish people in New York by reason of a delegation of thirty-three Jewish ministers who "self appointed representatives of Hebrew communities in this city."
"They are ready to do anything," he said, "for from time to time, it is said, in ignorance that leaders of Tammany hall are friendly to the Jews. I deny such a friendship. It should be dishonoring to the Jews."Rev. Charles F. Aked, of the Fifth avenue Baptist church, popularly known as "Rockefeller's church," spoke on "The Church and Politics," saying:
"America's one conspicuous failure is in her office; her misgovernment is her reproach, a scandal to our civilization. And all the while we are the poorer for the genius of the American people, the good, kind, brave people, who are Americans, do not wrest the government of the cities from the hands of the plunder, debauch and disgrace them."MAGAZINE ARTICLE BRINGS STUNG REPLY FROM GAYNOR
New York, Oct. 24.—William J. Gaynor, democratic nominee for mayor of New York, granted an interview today in which he attacked the writer of an article in the current issue of McClure's magazine, which declared that in girls is fostered under Tammany rule. Characterizing the article as "misleading trash," Judge Gaynor said:"New, none of your newspapers has my permission to use this without saying you asked for it. I am not volunteering it. You asked for it." The writer is a man of political and racial bias. It strikes out in almost every line. He has the traits of ignorance, superficiality, recklessness and irresponsibility to falsify which are the chief characteristics of the Hearst writers and which people have not on to at last. What a grand article could be written on the subject hated of this miserable trash."He is just a vulgar, bigoted fellow trying to make political capital. The fact is, as everyone knows, who has to be grveled, that New York is the most democratic of the large cities of the world, with the largest per centage of Jews of any of them. And yet there are impure minded political and race birds, whose delight is to lie about this Jewish race here as they respect and in others. They are a detestable lot and I hope for an opportunity to make them shut up or get out."We all look with profound reverence upon the great body of our clergyman—Jewish, Protestant and Catholic, who are constantly working for the moral welfare and uplifting of our people, calling in the assistance of the civil government to aid them when necessary, and who steadily, gradually and constantly, do so much good. But these few detestable sen-sationalists, notoriety seekers and political and racial bigots are deserving of contempt. This writer shows for mean bigotry that fills his soul he does not scruple to ascribe the only he mentions to the Jews as a race. I believe I am as familiar with the inbred and innate virtue of women of the Jewish race here as I am with the inbred and innate vice of men, and I say that this man is naturally untruthful of Jewish womanhood and manhood."Boss Murphy Cites History.
Charles E. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, who dismissed the charges as ridiculous yesterday, came out with a statement tonight in which he cites a few "historical" facts, arguing that such conditions exist, responsible officials, elected by the people, should be held to account. He said:"That during the time in which George McClellan and Seth Low were mayors of New York; Jerome and Eugene A. Philbin were district attorneys of New York county; that Commissioners Bingham, Mc-Adoo, Partridge and Green were at the head of the police department; that Charles H. Hughes, Frank W.
Hughes, Ben J. Odell and Theodore Roosevelt were governors of thestate, with the right to remove the mayor, the district attorney and the commissioners at any time for failure to perform their duty.""Yet it has remained for a man who is almost a total stranger to New York, but who speaks as if from the intimate knowledge of a lifetime, to make a statement which reeks with falsehood and is entitled to no credit whatever, save such as would be given to any other grossly exaggerated, excited partisan campaign story."General Theodore Bingham, recently deposed police commissioner, when asked today if he thought the "white slave" traffic really existed here, said: "There is an immense traffic of that sort in New York of this there is no question. It was nearly two years after I became police commissioner that I first began to realize the extent and peril of such traffic and took steps to suppress it. The police arrested many women, but when they found that the men behind them seemed to be wealthy and of strong political influence, they became discouraged."

nounced tonight that Charles F. Murphy and the entire executive committee of Tammany Hall will attend the Carren in Brooklyn Tuesday. Murphy was a bitter political enemy of Mc-Carren.

minister of foreign affairs, is circulating an address among the Catholics sult to the civility of the French people and the Catholic religion.

JOINT DEBATE

ON CENTRAL

BANK

CONGRESSMAN FOWLER

CHALLENGES ALDRICH

Deposed Head of Committee on

Banking and Currency Unequivocally Opposed to Commission's Scheme.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 24.—Charles

N. Fowler, congressman from the Fifth New Jersey district, and former chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, today addressed an open letter to Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, chairman of the monetary commission created by congress, and also chairman of the finance committee of the senate, challenging him to a joint debate in one or more cities on the subject of a central bank.Mr. Fowler writes he is opposed to the establishment of a central bank under existing conditions because he believes with it would come most discouraging and disheartening favoritism and the ultimate destruction of our purely individual and independent form of banking. The letter follows:"Just before you started for Europe in August, it was said in the press that as a result of a meeting of the monetary commission of which you are chairman, a central bank was to be advocated by your commission, and that upon your return you would proceed with a view of instructing the people upon our financial and currency matters and recommend a "central bank.""After your denature there was an evidently inspired and well organized propaganda in favor of a central bank, conceived and carried on for the purpose of preparing the way for your home coming and your arrangements to swing around the circle and initiate the people of the United States into the mysteries of your central bank plan.""Inasmuch as I am convinced that the one thing above all others that this country does not want is a central bank because it will not effect or accomplish the necessary reforms, but in that and will make a bad condition immeasurably worse, therefore—in order that the American people (who I know will decide this most important question now pending before them for consideration and determination, right, as they did that of the gold standard, if only they be given an opportunity of having both sides of it fully presented and thoroughly discussed)—I now challenge you to a joint debate upon the following propositions:"First—A central bank will not effect nor accomplish the necessary reforms of our finances and currency, it will accentuate many of our present evils and precipitate and develop other evils of most serious nature.""Second—Our financial and currency problems must be solved on economic lines of an entirely different character."

"I assert you cannot successfully and beneficially superimpose a monarchical form of banking upon nearly 25,000,000 individual, independent, freebanking institutions which have grown up and developed in harmony with the principles of our republican form of government and are themselves republican in form and character."
"To establish a central bank in this country under existing conditionswould be undemocratic, unrepresentative and un-American and inimical to the general welfare of the people, because with a central bank will come a most discouraging and disheartening favoritism, the gradual breaking down and ultimate destruction of our purely individual and independent form of banking.""I will meet you in joint debate upon the above propositions at one or more of our leading cities, up to one hundred or more of them, if you choose, at such times and upon such conditions or terms as may be agreed to by us heretofore."

DE LARA'S RELEASE

LOOKED FOR TODAY

Los Angeles, Oct. 24.—The $3,000 necessary to secure the release on bail of Gutierrez de Lara, has almost been raised and it is probable that he will be released tomorrow. C. Ridgeway, government immigration inspector here, denied a statement printed this morning that De Lara was being held at the request of the Mexican government. "Mexico had nothing to do with it," he said.De Lara in a statement issued from the county jail again asserted his innocence of being an alien anarchist and declared that his conviction could be obtained only on perjured testimony.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Rufus W.

Peckham, justice of the supreme court of the United States, died at his summer home at Altamont, at 8:15 tonight.Death was due to a complication of diseases—heart trouble, Bright's disease and hardening of the arteries contributing. Justice Peckham had been in ill health for some time, but his condition was not considered serious until recently. Following adjustment of the May term of the United States supreme court he came on from Washington with Mrs. Peckham to spend the summer at Altamont, expecting to return for the beginning of the October term.A few days ago his condition became such that his physicians said he was likely to die any time or might linger for several months. Up to a few days ago Justice Peckham exhibited considerable strength and was able to be about the house. The circulatory disturbance which contributed to his death was first noticed about six years ago.Governor Hughes tonight expressed deep regret when informed of the death of Justice Peckham.
"Justice Peckham," he said, "was one of the greatest justices this country has produced. In ability and strength of character he was worthy of the best traditions of the bench. His service in the supreme court was one of the finest contributions he has made to the nation."Rufus W. Peckham, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, was born in the city of Albany, New York, November 8, 1835. His father was a native of Albany county, and had been district attorney of the county, justice of the supreme court of the state, and, at the time of his death, was also a member of the New York state senate. He was married to a daughter of D. H.
Arnold, an old New York merchant and at that time president of the Mercantile Bank in New York city.
In 1859 his father was in that year elected to the bench of the supreme court, and the son formed a partnership with the former partner of his father, under the firm name of Tremain & Peckham, which continued until the death of Mr. Tremain in December, 1878. In 1868 Mr. Peckham was married to a daughter of D. H.
Arnold, an old New York merchant
and at that time president of the Mercantile Bank in New York city.
In 1868 he was elected district attorney of Albany county; was subsequently corporation counsel of Albany city, and in 1882 was elected a justice of the supreme court of the state.
While serving as such he was elected, in 1885, an associate justice of the court of appeals of New York state, and while occupying a seat on that bench he was, in December, 1895, appointed by President Cleveland an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States.ANNOUNCEMENT SHOCK TO ASSOCIATES ON BENCH Washington, Oct. 24.—The announcement of the death of Justice Peckham, while expected, came as a shock to his associates on the bench and in official circles. Everywhere expressions of regret were heard.Justice Peckham was a democrat and, before taking a seat on the bench, gave much attention to politics in New York. He was born in Albany, N. Y., November 8, 1835, and had been on the bench, state and federal, for twenty-six years. He came from the court of appeals of his native state.Mr. Peckham's first office was that of district attorney of Albany county.
He was elected in 1868. He afterwards became an associate a corporation counsel for Albany, member of the supreme court of the state and assistant justice of the state court of appeals. He was the last of President Cleveland's democratic appointees to the federal supreme court. Chief Justice Fuller and Justice White being the other two. He took his seat in January, 1896.Among his chief distinction was that of giving his (the chief justice) duties of the court. He accepted no outside appointments and undertook no work not connected with the high tribunal.
He was married, but went little in society. He accepted no invitations to public functions and made no public addresses after taking his seat as a justice.Cases involving rights of corporations received special consideration at Justice Peckham's hands and he was author of some of the court's most noteworthy opinions of recent date along this line.Among them may be mentioned the case of the Consolidated Gas company of New York, in which he held that while rates fixed by the legislature must allow a fair return on investment, federal courts could not interfere to declare them invalid unless they were so unreasonably low as to be confiscatory. One result of that decision was to cause the return of several millions of dollars to consumers of gas in New York city.Several of Mr. Peckham's corporation decisions dealt with the Sherman anti-trust law as applied by railroads.
These included the joint traffic and transportation cases, in both of which he held the law to be applicable. He also prepared and delivered the opinion of the court in the case of Attorney General Young or Minnesota, in which he held that the federal courts could interfere with the execution by state courts of an unconstitutional state law.Justice Peckham's bearing was distinguished and his manner affable.
He was an agreeable and entertaining conversationalist and highly popular with his associates.When the news of his death was broken to surviving members of the supreme court, four of all appeared to be deeply affected, although the end of their fellow jurist had been looked upon as merely a matter of hours.Chief Justice Fuller said that the passing of Justice Peckham was a severe loss to the American bench.
"It is a great loss to the country," he said. "Justice Peckham was one of the ablest jurists who ever sat on the American bench. He was absolutely pure in mind and thought and free from everything that would prevent him from rendering an honest judgment."He had strong political convictions, but when on the bench he knew no litigant's politics and cared nothing for them. His sole desire was to administer the law as it was and to give each party in each case his just rights.
I had a great personal affection for him and he was one of the purest men I ever knew."Other members of the tribunal spoke in similar terms of Justice Peckham's life and service. The justices are so closely bound together by common ties that the passing of any one of them is sorely felt.In the absence of any order from Chief Justice Fuller, the court was adjourning tomorrow out of respect to the memory of Justice Peckham.
It is understood, however, that the court will meet tomorrow without touching the calendar.None of the officials would discuss tonight the probable successor to Justice Peckham, as the court is determined to keep the subject of succession until after the death of the departed jurist. It would be a violation of the proprieties. The names of Frederick N. Judson of St. Louis, former secretary of War Luke E. Wright, the present secretary J. M. Dickinson, Henry M.
Hoar, counsel for the state department and solicitor general in the Roosevelt administration and Solicitor General Bowers have been prominently mentioned.Mr. Judson is known to command the respect and firm friendship of President Taft. He was appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate rebates on the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, in company with the present governor of Ohio, Judson Harcourt. The final report recommendations of the two investigators did not meet with the complete approval of President Roosevelt and they resigned.Shortly before the opening of the campaign last year Mr. Judson wrote a magazine article explaining and applauding Mr. Taft's decisions in labor cases. Although a democrat Mr. Judson gave Mr. Taft all the credit for the decisions, which he maintained were models of justice and established a clear line of judicial procedure to be followed in disputes between labor and capital. The article later was used as a republican campaign document.The names of Counselor Hoyt and Secretary Wright, Secretary Dickinson and Solicitor General Bowers have been suggested whenever the report has arisen concerning the probable retirement of Justice Peckham.
But to honorable withdrawal from active duty. Three of the men owe their entrance into public life to President Taft, while he has frequently voiced his admiration of Mr.
Hoyt's legal acumen.Although there is no rule to govern the appointment, the vacancy by retirement will probably go to a democrat. In this event Hoyt and Bowers would be eliminated. No action will be taken until after Mr. Taft's return.New Home for Classical Drama.
New York, Oct. 24.—The New Theater, a home for assisting drama and men who do not regard the enterprise as a commercial venture, is now practically completed and will openits doors November 8 with Sothern patra." It is hoped in the words of the management, to make it "as distinctly a domestic and civic institution as the Comedie Francaise."

Tokyo, Oct. 24.—The reception in America of the visiting Japanese embassy has done much to open the people of Japan as an exceedingly pleasant surprise.It was realized that courtesy would be extended to the visitors but the president's talk of widespread dislike of the Japanese gave the impression that the reception might be rather perfunctory and only as a return for the courtesy and hospitality extended to the American visitors in Japan.Reports received by the foreign office in Tokyo setting forth the manner in which the commissioners are being entertained have been published broadly and created a most agreeable impression.Caving Mine Threatens Village.

Oakland, Oct. 24.—The balloon race contrary winds.The "Queen of the Pacific," entered by Wilkesbarre, Pa., was the only one and the light east wind carried her toward the bay. Within ten minutes the valve rope was pulled and the bal-

Nairobi, British East Africa, Satur-companied by his son Kermit, Elmer Heller and H. J. Cunningham, left for Nyro early in August with the intention of getting a bull, cow and calf elephant. Although better elephants are obtainable in the Nile country of Uganda, Colonel Roosevelt wanted to get an elephant in the East African district, so that Heller could have a better chance in the cooler climate of killing the skin in good condition.Major Morris and Louie were to shoot the bull, which was to be a mammoth collection to New York and then fill out their caravan for the expedition to the snow line of Mount Kenia (19,340 feet). They started on the third and fourth of September, respectively, and made their first camp at Kamiti ranch, which belongs to Hugh H. Cleary. They were then to march by easy stages over the Nairobi river, the Nalund river and the Nalund river, which was the scene of a diamond rush in 1906 which proved fruitless, over the fine concrete bridges at the Thika and Chumbe rivers, where they would cross the beautiful falls at the junction of those two rivers, thence past Pundu Milla (Zebra), the fine farm of Messrs. Smith and Rutherford and so on to Fort Hall (native name, Maraga-tu).Meanwhile Colonel Roosevelt was not idle and already killed he has got a fine bull elephant with tusks measuring about eight inches each.

TEN THOUSAND AT ANNUAL FAIR OF QUAY COUNTY

FINE AGRICULTURAL SHOW AT TUCUMCARI

At Age of Seven Years Lusty Young Eastern County is Making Rest of Territory Look to Laugels.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Tucumcari, N. M., Oct. 24.—Though hardly out of swaddling clothes, Quay county is putting on the airs of county fully grown. Seven years of age, this lusty young county is enjoying its third annual fair and is proving without the shadow of a doubt its possibilities as an agricultural section.

This, the third day of the fair, shows no abating of the enthusiasm, both of the townspeople and the visitors. Yesterday it was estimated that there were nearly ten thousand people out on the fair grounds. The street parade yesterday morning was a credit to the town in view of the fact that it was not decided that there would be a fair until within the last few weeks and but little time was left for preparations.

The fair opened on Wednesday under typical skies with a speech of welcome by Mayor Alex Street in which he turned over the city's keys to the visitors and spoke of the county's progress in the last year. In the afternoon a good game of ball, the first in a series between Tucumcari and Nara Vista, was the principal event, the score being three to two in favor of Tucumcari. A free barbecue on the grounds each day has been a notable feature, supplying thousands with barbecued beef, mutton and plenty of bread and coffee.

The awards bestowed on the outs in the parade were announced last night and resulted in the first prize of $25 being given to the out representing the Ship of Progress, which was a very unique and clever representation of the development of Tucumcari, given in attractive figures, showing the progress in agricultural products, schools, business, city improvements, railroads (those here and those on the way), building, banking, dairy and farming interests, and Tucumcari's two newspapers, "The Chief" and "The Progress." The array of figures was indeed amazing and convincing. The second prize was awarded the float on which rode the queen of the carnival, Miss Catherine Dunham, and her maid of honor, Misses Koch, Plunkett, Kana and Krannawitter, escorted by the Bell Ranch polo players and those of Tucumcari. The handsome hardware display of C. C. Chapman captured the third prize. In the afternoon a polo game between Bell Ranch and Tucumcari was very interesting and resulted in a score of 5 to 2 in favor of the Bell Ranch boys. Both teams played the game with the most uniformly good from Chicago by the Bell Ranch owners. They rode some good horses and played a fine game. The second of the series of baseball games was called at dusk with Tucumcari ahead.

The Tucumcari brass band in their handsome new uniforms made a fine display and furnished some good music. The fair ball yesterday evening was the social feature of the week and was largely attended. The agricultural exhibits were surprisingly good despite a dry year; the float from De Yampert's farm near Tucumcari, the exhibit from Obar and that from Hudson all attracted much attention and favorable comment. A watermelon in the De Yampert exhibit weighed sixty-six pounds and has just returned from the Dallas fair where it was also exhibited. Another watermelon was a pumpkin weighing 78 1/2 pounds in the Obar exhibit. Both were raised without irrigation. In fact, the exhibits have any day farming exhibit ever put up beat all to pieces. We have a productive county and time will prove our claim. The Obar exhibit was the best on display. In their exhibit of alfalfa there was one plant with roots thirteen feet long. And this is the truth.

PEACOCK FATHER TAKES LITTLE STOCK IN FIGHT TALK

Honolulu, Oct. 24.—The Honolulu Post says that James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson will never meet in the fist arena is indicated by an interview made public today between the Rev. J. M. Work, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church here, and Rev. J. H. Jeffries, father of the undefeated heavy weight, who is visiting here.

Mr. Jeffries is a minister of the Presbyterian church, whose home is in Los Angeles, was asked his opinion concerning his son's career as a prize fighter.

Mr. Jeffries is reported to have said: "Life is all one big fight, one way or another and it might as well be prize fighting as any other kind of a fight."

When asked as to whether his son would fight Johnson in the near future Mr. Jeffries is said to have said: "My son never will fight a negro and I don't believe he will fight any other person again in his life."

RUMOR OF IMPORTANT RAILROAD CONSTRUCTION

Said Santa Fe Surveyors Are Now in Field Between Rincon and Carlsbad With Texas Connection in View.

A rumor going the rounds in railroad circles just now and which is receiving considerable attention points to important railroad construction in southern New Mexico in the near future. It has been impossible to obtain authority for this rumor, but its persistence has created interest. It is to the effect that a corps of Santa Fe surveyors are now in the field between Rincon and Carlsbad, New Mexico, locating a line which will form a new Santa Fe transcontinental line across southern New Mexico and Arizona. The line, it is said, will connect up the present Silver City line at Rincon with a point in Texas, east of Carlsbad, and connect the west end of the line from a point near Whitewater with the Arizona lines. It is said that the surveying corps has been in the field for some time and that they are now well on the way to Carlsbad.

ARTESIA SCHOOL IS CONSIDERED A GOOD LOAN

PACIFIC MUTUAL TO MAKE LARGE ADVANCE

Club Prepares for Big Exhibit at Chicago; Two Firms Sell $70,000 Worth of Real Estate in a Week.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Artesia, N. M., Oct. 22.—Lea A. Phillips of Los Angeles, counsel for the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, was in town several days this week at the request of the local agent of that company, J. J. Sullivan. He came to look into the situation with a view of making a large loan to the Methodist college here. Mr. Phillips says while it is not the policy of his company to make loans to any institutions, he is so impressed with the future of the institution, as well as the Artesia country in general, he decided at once they would make the loan. Mr. Phillips, together with the president within the last few weeks, made another trip to Artesia and other towns in the valley.

H. B. Henning, secretary of the Territorial Bureau of Immigration, with E. E. Wilson, traveling agent of the industrial department of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, were in town Thursday interesting the citizens generally and the Commercial club in particular in the proposed exhibit from this section to the Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held in Chicago November 27 to December 4. A called meeting of the directors of the club was held and it was decided to send the exhibit. Mr. Gayle Taylor, chairman of the committee appointed to get up the exhibit, is enthusiastic over the idea and will make every effort to make the exhibit a credit to this section.

The home-makers' extensions to the valley continue to be instrumental in bringing many desirable citizens to the Artesia country. In three days this week Talbot, Reina & Brown sold $47,000 worth of land to parties who have just returned from a tour of the entire western part of the country. Most of this land was sold for $25 per acre. Gilbert & Collins sold the Schuster place for $24,000. This farm is two miles east of town and is already well improved. Several other smaller sales were made.

ROSSELL MASON SINGS PRAISES OF NEW MEXICO

J. S. Lea in National Capital Attending Convention of the Scottish Rite Talks Statehood.

Morning Journal Bureau, 612 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., Oct. 22. J. S. Lea of Roswell, N. M., who is here in Washington attending the convention of the Scottish Rite, is at the hotel. Mr. Lea is a typical New Mexican; tall, broad, steel-blue eyes, bluff and blunt of manner and speech. Like most all New Mexicans, Mr. Lea wears a buff-colored slouch hat tilted over the forehead at an angle of thirty degrees southwest.

"New Mexico is a great country," said Mr. Lea. "It is the greatest state in the Union after we are admitted. There is a fortune for everybody who settles down with us and land for everybody. The Scotch Rite have been well prospered that we have, and you find the finest and most loyal Americans right in our own country of New Mexico."

Mr. Lea, continued to sing the praises of New Mexico, there being a thousand verses to the laudation, each one treating on a different product of the territory. The first was the territory's cattle, producing quantities, the second on its mines, the third on cotton, and so forth.

"New Mexico ought to be and will be admitted as a state to the Union this coming session of congress. We are entitled to it," continued Mr. Lea. "We have the population, the schools, the roads, the pro rata capital, the intelligence, the loyalty, the atmosphere and every ingredient which constitutes a great state."

"Who will be the next United States senators?" That's hard to tell. You see we have never had a chance in New Mexico to really find out the political complexion of our territory. I am a democrat, but I must say that Governor Curry is all right; he is a good fellow. Yes, his name and that of Delegate Andrews have been mentioned as senatorial possibilities—and there are others."

James G. Finch of Socorro, N. M., is also here attending the Scottish Rite meeting.

In the opinion of Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock, there are no immediate prospects for congress making an appropriation for a new postoffice and federal building for Tucson. When the cabinet officer made this statement to a representative of the star yesterday he emphasized the fact that it was not authoritative. Although at the head of the postal department of the United States government, Mr. Hitchcock, of course, does not know what action the congressional committee will take.

"Although Tucson may need such a building badly, I do not think that any action will be taken in this matter in the near future," said Hitchcock. "The condition of the treasury does not warrant it and the consideration of the statehood bill will likely delay action in the matter."—Tucson Citizen.

ALBUQUERQUE - NEW MEXICO

IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

Notwithstanding the fact that President Taft spent but a few hours in New Mexico, it turns out that his sayings and doing while in the territory have attracted and are still attracting fully as large a share of public attention as any other feature of his trip.

The speech at Albuquerque, for instance, grew out of a commonplace occasion, not materially different from scores of others which have been deemed worthy of no more than a mere mention in the news dispatches, but the fate of John Barleycorn, as the case may be, so shaped things here that circumstances brought about conditions which have caused the Albuquerque speech to receive more general attention at the hands of the press in every part of the Union than any other utterance by the president during his entire trip, except only his address at Winona, in which he undertook to expound the real republican doctrine, and to outline the policy of the administration. And it is especially worthy of note, in this connection, that there is everywhere an expression of profound satisfaction on account of the fact that Mr. Taft, on this occasion, left no room to doubt the fact that when circumstances require it, he can lay aside the personal smile and strike right out on the shoulder. For particulars, see a distinguished attorney from Texas.

IN A NEW ROLE.

Mrs. O. H. Belmont has written a story book for children which is almost ready for the publisher's hands, and if it were not for the great demands made upon her time by suffrage work the set of tales would have been among this year's holiday offerings.

As a story writer, Belmont appears in a new guise, for few if any of her most intimate friends have had the slightest inkling of this gift. The book was begun several months ago and has been written for her own pleasure and for the entertainment of her grandchildren, the two sons of the Duchess of Marlborough.

The book will be handsomely illustrated, Mrs. Belmont says, she herself having arranged personally with a well known French artist to make the drawings, and it will be a volume of unusual interest.

It has not been decided by the author to what purpose the funds from the sale of the book will be placed, but it would not be at all surprising if they were devoted to the cause of woman suffrage, in which Mrs. Belmont is interested.

LET'S BE FAIR.

"It is conceded, even by Albuquerque, that Socorro can play ball," Socorro Chairman.

We object to that word "even," as unfair. There are a great many things which Albuquerque considers that Socorro can do. Indeed, there are very few if any things within the province of a town the size of Socorro which Albuquerque does not concede that Socorro can do, when she backs down to it.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY.

The equality of opportunity in the United States never had a better illustration than is given by the Oklahoma Times in an article on the career of B. F. Youkum, who has recently acquired control of the "Katy" system and thus become the head of the three principal lines traversing Oklahoma. The gist of the comment is contained in the advice to all ambitious young men: "Youkum's example" by following the example of thrift, energy, honesty and efficiency which has brought this railroad manager such remarkable success.

Mr. Youkum was born in poverty. As the Kansas City Journal puts it, he was even born in Texas, and in a sparsely settled portion of the Lone Star state at that. He earned almost his first money selling fruit trees, traveling in a rented backboard all over the made promising sections of that expansive commonwealth. Today he is one of the great railroad magnates of the country, a living refutation of the pessimistic cant that all the big opportunities in America have been "gobbled up" by the "tariff barons," the financial octopi and the multipliers of great wealth. The secret of his success, just as it has been the secret of every other career like his, was that he outgrew his success. He sold up many times that he became too big for the track.

business. Scores of similar examples could be cited. Only the other day a former pack peddler died almost a millionaire, one of the greatest merchants in Kansas, and the leading spirit in the first development of Excelsior Springs.

If more young men would look down steadily to business, instead of watching the clock and envying the prosperity of the boss, they would stand a much better chance of becoming railway magnates, merchant princes or capitalists of industry. Let them Youkumize and Harrimanize and Edmanize themselves and they will find that success is greater or less degree has been calling for them all the time. At least they will fail while trying, instead of failing to try, and will have the comforting consciousness that they did their best.

HOW NOT TO GET IN.

If a young man were a clerk in a big mercantile house, and hoped at some time to become a member of the firm, the very surest way to defeat his ambition to get in would be to deliberately abuse the firm for not taking him in at once. The proprietors of the establishment would regard such a course on his part as the best reason they could have for requiring the young man to wait a while. And the same facts hold good in the matter of statehood. The blatant ignorance of certain democratic politicians and newspapers in demanding their "rights" and abusing the president and members of the senate and house, who hold the matter in their hands, is one of the surest of all ways how not to get in. It convinces the firm that it is better for the young man to remain where he is till he learns more about the business.

THE ONENESS OF MILLIONS.

There has been much comment, wise and foolish, on President Taft's discovery of the oneness of the United States, our uniformity in language, thoughts, clothes, customs and manners, which has attracted the attention of all thoughtful people who have had occasion to "twine" around the "circle" of the United States.

James Bryce called attention to this phenomenon. Mrs. Humphrey Ward, a keen observer of peoples, noticed the extraordinary effects of this assimilation during one of her western trips. Walter Bagehot, in his illuminating work on "Physics and Politics," prepared the world to understand it by pointing out that the signal factor in making dissimilar people one, under a central government, was a faculty of unconscious imitation. Promote this faculty and various peoples tend to be resolved into a common type, with similar ideas and even approximate physical looks.

But no other people have displayed this assimilation on so grand a scale as is revealed among the 90,000,000 of the United States. Without any actual dialects in our English, our points of view, the very cut of our clothes, the very shape of the head, tend to be one. Mrs. Ward saw no difference in styles, especially among the women at the remotest railway stations. Our social customs, our manners and even our morals—immoral, witness the divorce craze—tend to become standardized. Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year's day, Easter, in church and at home, become more and more alike the country over.

By way of explaining the foregoing facts the Philadelphia Public Ledger says:

At a time when in Europe national and racial dissimilarities are asserting themselves, what makes for this oneness in America? One universal factor that especially promotes unconscious assimilating uniformity on every breakfast table and around the evening lamp by night, is the American newspaper. Complimented weekly and monthly by the magazine, this unifying publicity, which leaves no part of the United States in ignorance of what the other parts are doing, works its wonders.

And, despite the fact that nearly 241 publications in foreign languages, from Arabic to Russian, serve the special needs of nearly 12,000,000 aliens, the great fact remains that the persistent daily and weekly and monthly reiteration of American ideas is a uniform English language, in largest part, wrought this miracle that assimilates the whole world.

And in saying this one does not ignore the influence of the American school. But school days are soon over, while the teachership of the American newspaper is continuous and persistent, in season and out of season, and works its wonders hour by hour and day by day during youth, maturity and even old age.

AGRICULTURAL CHEMISTRY.

Again there is a reminder that there is room to get back to the soil in the east, as well as in the west. Opportunity for wheat growing has been exploited in Rhode Island. Now it appears that Vermont raises more wheat and corn to the acre than Illinois and in the older states there has been an increase of production within a generation. The soil of Europe, cultivated much longer, is yielding more than it did twenty-five years ago. The need is of fertilization, as well as of rotation of crops. This may mean that the smothering of nitrogen from the air and putting it back into moisture, as is done at Niagara, is only the beginning of a great development in agricultural chemistry.

For the first time since the early part of 1907 the railroads of the east, especially those having a large coal tonnage, are late to face with a new famine. In serious cases the situation becomes in the mining regions of Maryland that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has begun distributing coal only on the percentage basis.

Oklahoma has forbidden the piping of its natural gas beyond its boundaries. But the gas company has procured an order from a federal court restraining the state officials from interfering. The case will go to the supreme court.

It is the prediction of the governor of South Carolina that in five years the south will stand solidly for prohibition. Then the famous greeting between the executive of that state and its neighbor can be laid away in lavender.—Boston Transcript.

In other words, Judge Anderson believes that the Panama canal lined indictments were a bit of Bwana Tumbi grandstand play. There's a suspicion of this kind in other quarters.—Courier-Journal.

For the second time within the past two weeks the New York Post of Wednesday last split an initiative in discussing the Cook-Pooley controversy. Never before have we known the Post to take a subject quite as much to heart.—Washington Herald.

The Washington Herald says it would "tremble for United States Judge Anderson, of Indianapolis, if he were at large in Africa and might be any wise to mistake for a 'dip-dip'."

As for Hawley, he is not a builder of new roads, but an upholder of old ones. Instead of constructing he is merrily, but, as in the case of the others, he needs unlimited nerve and money and unbounded optimism in the coming greatness of his country.—Philadelphia Press.

An investigator in New York, Eugene Smith, has reached the conclusion that the cost of crime in the United States foots up not less than $100,000,000 a year.

A naval officer is said to have perfected a marine engine that will make it necessary for the nations of the world immediately to rebuild their navies. It is hoped that the ultimate consumers and taxpayers will hail this news with due patriotic fervor.

DAYLIGHT TRAIN ON SOUTH END NOW ASSURED

Will Go on Immediately Following November Time Card Meeting Which Comes in About Three Weeks.

The long-delayed and long-needed daylight train on the Rio Grande division of the Santa Fe, between Albuquerque and El Paso, is now finally determined on and the new train will go into service immediately following the November time-card meeting, which will be held in Topeka probably the second week in November. The exact date for starting the new service has not been set and will not be until after the time-card meeting, but it will probably follow that meeting within a few days.

The train will probably leave Albuquerque immediately after the arrival of the number 2 passenger train from the west at about 8:30 and will El Paso at about the same time in the morning.

The new train will be a vast convenience to the traveling public and will be of particular benefit to Albuquerque and the towns between Albuquerque and Las Cruces. The present schedule makes all travel between Albuquerque and El Paso in the middle of the night and at hours that are most inconvenient for the people of Las Cruces, Socorro, San Marcial and other points.

The new train will enable Albuquerque people to get to El Paso and Socorro in the morning, while it will enable the people of those towns to get here for the evening and return to their homes at midnight. It will also considerably relieve the troubles of the traveling public in Silver City and Deming who have business in this part of the territory and will be one of the most important improvements the Santa Fe has made for New Mexico.

Alfalfa Beds Gird Mine.

The shipping of hay for the season has shown a decided place, although a goodly number of the farmers are sending a quantity of their product for the alfalfa in price which is sure to come. It looks very much as if alfalfa will reach the high price this winter that it has brought the lower years. Those who have the hay will be able to get a good round figure for it this winter.—Hagerman Messenger.

Nature As She Is Faked

(Hillock Review.)

Tired by a herd of barons, or wild hope, for several hours as the result of a foolish shot into the midst of the alfalfa, was the experience undergone by Ernest Durbin and George Tucker, of the Copper Queen hotel staff, while hunting in the Lincoln mountains last week. They were returned from their precarious position by George Northrop, who on a stroke of the hotel, who rode up on horseback and dispersed the dogs, after killing three of them.

The party had become separated during the day, Durbin and Tucker being together, while Northrop, mounted upon a horse, was in another canyon. While going through a patch of scrub oak Tucker suddenly sighted a wild hog calling and thinking the animal was alone he fired at it immediately. The wounded pig commenced to squeal and the rest of the drove broke through the underbrush, ready to attack anything which had caused their companion the pain he evidently complained of.

A small tree was fortunately near at hand and without ado Durbin and Tucker sought its shelter, leaving their rifles on the ground while the hostile pigs gathered about the foot of the tree and with angry grunts awaited their descent. Fortunately a code of signals had been arranged for between the members of the party, and three shots from the six-shooters of the men up the trail brought Northrop to the rescue. He had little difficulty in dispersing the animals with his horse, although with their long tusks they would have undoubtedly have wrought him injury had he not been mounted.

The party brought with them the skin of one of the slain hogs, which was as well as two deer skins. They killed a quantity of small game also.

Snap Shots From the Southwestern Sanctums

Oh, Cheer Up!

And now, fellow William Howard Taft and propose to dictate what kind of a constitution this territory shall adopt if it expects his support for statehood. Statehood is the one thing above all others that all good New Mexico democrats desire, but if we have to pledge ourselves to certain lines in state policy which may involve our principles, dignity and honor, we will not do so. Let us have a more honorable line.—Lakewood Progress.

A Drawing Card.

The Santa Fe railway officials report that more first class tourist travel is being booked for next year via the Grand Canyon than at any previous year. The Canyon is a drawing card and it is estimated that the number of visitors in 1910 will be more than double of the record breaking business of 1909.—Williams News.

Out of Debt.

The county commissioners at their last meeting paid every cent of incidental indebtedness due and payable at that time, all of which is great credit to them and a credit to the county. There are but few counties in New Mexico that are financially so well off as Santa Fe county.—Hillside Advocate.

Right From Eden.

From the various products on display at the Quail county fair now being held in Tucuman, one would not think that there was a drought here, but rather a flood from the garden of Eden, and had plausibly directed into Tucuman, as do the sightseers.—Monterey Republican.

Flow Deep.

It is now up to the farmers of this section who want to raise good crops next year to get out an take advantage of the water and leave their ground deep, deep, deep. The soil here, on account of the long dry spells, should be broken from eight inches to a foot, the latter is the best depth. Under the water is to be put in to the fall, the work of the plow is all that should be done until spring, then the ground should be again plowed and thoroughly prepared for seeding. This course allows the rain and snow to sink rapidly down to the bottom of the loose ground, and then the distance into the soil under the plow, and the water will be extremely long dry spell that will enable the soil to draw all the moisture out of the ground.—Texas Trumpet.

BIG COLONIZATION PROJECT PROPOSED FOR YAVAPI COUNTY

Present Date, Oct. 21.—Yavapi county is on the eve of one of the most important transactions that has ever taken place in its history and through the disposition of two gentlemen who have recently reached this section it is very probable that in a few days hence a large tract will be taken over. The men who desire to reclaim a vast acreage are said to be the Messrs. C. C. and H. J. Billington of Commerce, Va., who reached Prescott a few days ago from that city. These gentlemen are now in the Skull and Kibbony lodge region, investigating the possibilities of their enterprise.

From that point they will go to Congress Junction to see the country and after that section is viewed they will return to the north of Prescott where that point will be looked over. C. C. Billington visited this section early last summer and so well impressed was he that he has returned to more fully investigate what he believes is an inviting proposition and which he is anxious to consummate at the earliest practicable date. He states that the land he desires to reclaim is abundant in this section, but the main difficulty that faces him is in devising a plan for the impounding of the necessary water supply for irrigation purposes.

The purpose of these men is said to be to bring into a state of cultivation as large an acreage as possible, and the method they will pursue after will be to cut down the tracks. The fertility of the soil adjacent to Prescott makes this some an attractive one and with the assistance of limited irrigation they are optimistic about the project.

Tucson tried to keep the privilege of meeting and entertaining the Hon. Frank Hitchcock, chairman of the national republican committee and postmaster-general of the United States. Mr. Hitchcock is the son of a prominent man in the present national administration, and his coming among us is an honor of great political significance. The admission of Arizona to the union has long been a controversial subject due largely to an absolute lack of knowledge of the country, its resources and its people. It has often been charged by a congressional committee of which Beveridge was chairman. They entered the territory at Gallup, rode along the Santa Fe to Ash Fork, then by way of Phoenix to the territory at Yuma. They did not come into Pima, Graham or Gila counties, where the weight of wealth and population lay. They did not come to see and in that respect were extremely successful. Their report to congress was not other than they intended it should be at the time they left Washington. Others, some of them false of Arizona, have endeavored to belittle the importance of the territory and were forced to learn the poverty of the territory by what they saw through the "de windows. Probably they thought what General Sherman, as he stood on the rear platform of his car and looking over the desert near Maricopa, said "well this is a hell of a country." And so they believed. It has been shown and will be shown by Mr. Hitchcock. He has always been a friend of the southwest and on his return to the capital he will have the data to prove his conviction that Arizona is deserving of the same consideration as any other such weighty responsibility.
