GEOGRAPHERS PLAN VISIT TO COPENHAGEN

NATIONAL SOCIETY WILL EXAMINE COOK RECORDS

Government Declines to be Drawn Into Polar Controversy by According Official Recognition to Committee.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Washington, Nov. 4.—Refusing to be drawn into the Cook-Pearry controversy, the state department today declined a request that it cable American Minister Kegan at Copenhagen to request of the University of Copenhagen permission to examine the records of Dr. Frederick A. Cook when they are submitted to that institution.

The request was made by a delegation from the National Geographic society which will appoint a committee to visit the foremost Danish scientific institution to which Dr. Cook is to submit his records. The desire to have the request go through the official channels was made at conferences between Assistant Secretary of State Huntington Wilson and Messrs. Gannett, Edson, former president of the board of trade of Washington, Grosvenor, editor of the official organ of the society, Gore and Colville, all prominent members of the National Geographic society.

The request was made on the ground that the examination would be made by scientists of attainments particularly valuable in the adjustment of the polar problem.

The department took the request under advisement and later decided it could not accede to it. It was felt that action would constitute official recognition of Commander Peary as against Dr. Cook; that any unusual action on its part might be interpreted as an endorsement of the claim of one or the other of the two explorers as to priority of discovery of the pole.

The members of the committee who will go to Copenhagen for the Geographic society will be provided with the usual letters of introduction from the state department to the American diplomatic officers abroad, asking that the committee be given all courtesies or assistance consistent with the official duties of the diplomatic department. Letters of this character are frequently issued to citizens traveling abroad.

Determined effort will be made by the committee to secure the Cook data. Dr. Cook will be afforded every opportunity to place his records or any information bearing on the trip by the committee, which soon after its appointment will communicate with him directly. This committee will advise Dr. Cook of the recent action of the society's board of managers in awarding a gold medal to Peary and a medal to Captain Bartlett, who navigated Peary's ship to the far north and back, and of its virtually "marking time" as to other polar claims pending investigation and research.

It will advise him of the committee's desires to have any data he may be willing to present.

A cablegram signed by Professor Willis L. Moore was sent tonight to the University of Copenhagen, announcing that it is about to send representatives to Copenhagen and requesting that they be given the courtesy of attending the official examination of Dr. Cook's papers.

The National Geographic society, it was said tonight, stands ready to honor Dr. Cook with a medal similar to the one conferred upon Commander Peary if he can prove as clearly as the latter did that he reached the North pole.

The three representatives who will proceed to Copenhagen will be selected from the following committee, which was appointed tonight to investigate whether or not any one reached the pole prior to 1909:

Henry Gannett, chief geographer of the United States geological survey, Rear Admiral C. M. Chester, U. S. N., retired; O. P. Tittman, superintendent of the United States coast and geodetic survey, and Professor Howard Gore, a noted mathematician, who has made expeditions to the Arctic region. This committee will report to the board of managers of the National Geographic society.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 4.—Cyril St. Armand of Thurso, 10 years old, was today sentenced to six years for horse stealing. When 8 years old he was convicted of an attempt to wreck a Canadian Pacific railroad train. His youth enabled him to escape sentence for this and a number of burglaries which followed.

MOCK HEROICS IN STEINHEIL MURDER CASE

FRENZIED FRENCHMAN ACCUSES SELF OF CRIME

Demented Actor Sought to Shoulder Ghastly Crime to Save Fair Defendant, is Theory of Paris Police.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Paris, Nov. 4.—Dramatic situations followed fast, one upon another, in court today where the trial of Mrs. Marguerite Steinheil, accused of having murdered her husband and stepmother, Mme. Japy, was continued.

As on the opening day of this sensational case, all Paris was wrought to a high tension.

Mme. Steinheil was again on the stand dressed in a mourning gown, a dramatic, though pathetic figure, fighting hard for life. In the midst of her inquisition by the presiding judge, her attorney, M. Aubin, with melodramatic effect, suddenly pushed to the fore a man, whom he declared was a witness to the crime.

M. Aubin read a letter signed "Jean Lefevre," asking that he be permitted to confess and then he pointed out the man and said:

"This is Jean Lefevre."

Mme. Steinheil gazed at him wearily and after he had made a rambling statement, in which he said that, disguised as a woman and wearing a wig of red hair, he had helped to commit the murders, she declared she could not identify him as one of the murderers whom she had previously described.

The presiding judge promptly ordered Lefevre's arrest and investigation of his statement. A search of the man disclosed two photographs, one of Mme. Steinheil and the other of the house where the crime was committed. Lefevre was locked up as a vagabond.

The police thus far are inclined to believe the man's self accusation belongs in the category of incidents well known to criminologists, where an individual, half demented by the reading of the case and possibly fancying himself in love with the prisoner, has resolved to sacrifice himself for a fascinating woman. Lefevre's description of the crime coincided with the original version upon which Mme. Steinheil now insists.

As the proceedings were closing, the first direct mention of the late Felix Faure, a former president of France, was heard. Much of the interest in the case lies in the friendship that existed between Mme. Steinheil and the late president and several times the prisoner made vague reference to "a high political personage, who had been my friend."

The direct reference to the president was made in connection with a discussion of the incident of finding an invitation to an exhibition at the Steinheil home together with pieces of a visiting card of Mme. Maseline, with the name of a customer written in which Mme. Steinheil asserts was dropped by the fleeing assassins.

Responding to a question as to whether it was at the home of Mme. Maseline at Havre she met President Felix Faure, the prisoner replied, "No, it was during a trip in the Alps."

The judge did not pursue this line of inquiry further, owing to the many trying ordeals of the day and the fatigue which the prisoner showed, her lawyer asked for an early adjournment, and the hearing was brought to a close by the judge referring to the accusation against Frederick Harrison, an American newspaper man, but the prisoner persisted that she had never definitely accused him, but had only said he resembled one of the assassins.

A summary of the day's evidence shows that the judge failed to shake Mme. Steinheil's original version of the crime. She admitted intrigue, but heatedly denied she sent her mother to solicit money from lovers and she insisted her husband had never profited by her own immoral life. Admitting willingly, she beseeched the judge to pardon her faults. She defended herself by saying that, since she did not live with her husband as his wife, she longed for sympathy and love.

When confronted with the inconsistencies in her stories, she justified them by saying she had lost her head when harassed by journalists and detectives, and had thus been led to believe that those whom she had accused were probably guilty.

wrong gag. She asserted she had no motive in dying her gowns.

On further examination before a magistrate, Lefevre said his name was Rene Colliard and that he is an actor. He admitted he had not the slightest connection with the crime and had merely acted on a chivalrous impulse to save Mme. Steinheil, of whose innocence he was convinced. He was ordered detained pending verification of his identity.

CUTTER UNABLE TO FIND STEAMER IN DISTRESS

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—A wireless telegram received tonight by the Merchants' exchange from the revenue cutter McCullough stated that the government ship had been unable to locate the steamer reported on the rocks between Tomales and Bolinas bays, north of the entrance of this harbor.

The McCullough asks for more definite information as to the location of the supposed wreck.

SHOOTING FOLLOWS FIGHT OVER FARM

Mount Vernon, Ill., Nov. 4.—Frank Brockman was shot and seriously wounded today by D. B. Archer. The affair occurred in the Third National bank and because of prominence of the men involved caused a sensation. The trouble arose over a farm, the possession of which is in dispute. Archer is reported to have assaulted Brockman earlier in the day with a knife, Brockman knocking his opponent down.

There was a sudden scattering when the hose was turned on, the majority quickly taking to shelter in saloons and stores.

Tonight a large body of men went to the Masonic temple, where it had been announced that a mass meeting would be held. The hall was engaged several days ago, the official in charge not understanding what the purpose of the meeting was. When it was learned that it was for a demonstration by the leaders in the so-called free speech crusade the contract was cancelled.

The members of the order, however, made a show of insisting upon occupying the hall and several hundred of them assembled in the vicinity. The presence of a large body of police prevented trouble. Only thirteen arrests were made today.

Those previously arrested and sentenced to the rock pile refused to work and have been put on a bread and water diet in jail.

TURKS OCCUPY DOUBTFUL POSITION

GOVERNMENT TO DECIDE WHETHER THEY ARE WHITE

On Question of Their Color Depends Their Right to Naturalization; Department of Justice to Decide.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Washington, Nov. 4.—The federal government department of justice tonight took a hand in the controversy over the question whether Syrians, Turks, Persians, Egyptians, Arabs and others of that racial kin are of the white race and so entitled to naturalization as American citizens, or of the yellow and therefore to be excluded from the privileges of citizenship, as contended by Chief Richard K. Campbell of the bureau of naturalization of the department of commerce and labor. William H. Parr, the attorney general's assistant, charged announced tonight that instructions would be sent to the United States attorneys throughout the country to hold in abeyance all proceedings opposing naturalization of applicants of the races referred to until the matter can be further investigated.

The agitation following the widely-disputed ruling of Mr. Campbell has become embarrassing to the state department, which, as announced yesterday, has been negotiating for a reciprocal naturalization treaty with Turkey. As the matter stands now, a citizen of Turkey may renounce his citizenship under that government with impunity—as long as he keeps off Turkish soil. The setting of his foot thereupon at any time thereafter makes him by that act again a Turkish subject.

Mr. Parr said he would take up the matter with Attorney General Wickersham when he returns to the city next week and that perhaps would get in touch with the state department and the department of commerce and labor.

The matter was discussed today between Mr. Parr and Acting Secretary Erle of the department of commerce and labor and it was said that the latter approves of having action suspended until the matter can be carefully considered.

Rustum Bey, the Turk in charge of affairs, conferred with Secretary of State Knox in the same connection. He declared that he was very much pleased with his reception and with the secretary's statements in connection with American-Turkish relations.

WALLA WALLA MAN WINS PRIZE IN LAND DRAWING

Walla Walla, Wa., Nov. 4.—After a day and night vigil since October 19, in front of the local government land office, the patience of A. Newlow of Walla Walla was rewarded today when he was given the right to the first claim on the 2,000 acres of land opened for entry in Benton county, Washington.

The opening this morning was marked by exciting scenes when 27 applicants, who had besieged the office throughout the night, engaged in a struggle to secure a position that would give them the right to select the first claim. Police interference was necessary to restore order. Newlow's claim is said to be valued at $22,000.

FIRE HOSE USED TO SUPPRESS SOCIALISTS

COLD BATH SCATTERS WOULD-BE ORATORS

Spokane, Wn., Nov. 4.—The fire department was called upon today to disperse a large number of Industrial Workers of the World who had refused to comply with police orders to move on. Some of the men showed fight and the whole crowd was given a cold water shower bath.

There was a sudden scattering when the hose was turned on, the majority quickly taking to shelter in saloons and stores.

ROBBED OF OVERCOAT AND LAST DOLLAR BY TRAMP

Plucky Youth, Undismayed by Suffering and Misadventure, Wants Only Opportunity to Work.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Chicago, Nov. 4.—If policemen who listened to the story of a blind boy today had power over a tramp who stole the child's overcoat and all the money he and his brother had, the thief would spend the rest of his life inside prison walls.

The officers were moved alternately to rage and sympathy by the story of Joseph Leonard, sixteen years of age, and his brother Samuel, two years younger and blind. The boys were picked up on the street today and cared for at the Harrison street police station.

The Delaware and the North Dakota are the first battleships built for the United States navy to use oil as fuel. The showing is understood to have been satisfactory.

It is interesting to note that the Delaware is equipped with reciprocating engines. The North Dakota is the first American battleship of the first class to have turbine engines installed.

Captain Edward C. Evans, who narrowly escaped death when the tug Nezahum was sunk off Cape Ann several months ago, was in charge of the North Dakota today. A working crew of 400 men pushed the vessel to her record performance.

Beginning at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning the North Dakota is to be put through the second test, a four hours' run at 21 knots. It is expected that an average of about 21.75 knots will be developed. Within six months, it is expected the North Dakota and the Delaware will take their places in the van of the American navy's line of sea monsters and will then rank as the greatest battleships in commission throughout the world.

IRISH LEAGUE CHIEF COMES TO RAISE MONEY

TAFT REMAINS CHURCH LOYAL ON WATER WAGON

REAL MINT JULEP FAILS TO TEMPT HIM

Insidious Concoction, Placed Before Him at Breakfast, Untouched When Presidential Repast is Finished.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 4.—A real mint julep failed to tempt President Taft in Macon today. It had been brewed with consummate skill and reposed, apparently harmless, in a green topped glass that had harnessed of frosting on the outside. It was placed before the president at breakfast in the Bartlett home.

The president looked at the inviting mixture, smiled and then got busy with a beautiful southern breakfast. He had plenty to eat, including waffles, quail, fried chicken, sausage, steak, broiled ham, broiled chicken and grits.

"If this is what you would call breakfast, I wonder what dinner would be like," commented the president.

The mint julep remained in the glass when the president left the table. Its ultimate fate is a bit uncertain, but the president did not drink it—that much is sure.

The president's principal utterance of the day was at the Macon fair. In it he sought to define more exactly than he has in the past the limitations placed upon the executive and the responsibility that should rest upon congress.

"I doubt not after I am out of office," he said, "I shall be able to look back and see where I might have done things in the exercise of power that would have filled me with a consciousness of it, but I am bound to say that under existing circumstances the thing which impresses me most is not the power I have to exercise under the constitution, but the limitations and restrictions to which I am subjected."

"But our forefathers builded well and they knew what they were doing, and I am not, in favor, even if it seems to me that a particular provision ought to be omitted, of changing the constitution every time you run against the sharp edge of something that indicates that you are only mortal and that the forefathers, in making the constitution, distrusted our human nature."

"My friends, that leads me up to one little sermon and that is, the wisdom and necessity of following the law as it exists. I know that some of you are in the midst of enthusiasm of reform there is an impatience with legal limitations and statutes."

"I do not think, and I am sure you will agree with me, that that is the best way of getting rid of a legal limitation that interferes with progress. The best way is to have the people understand that the limitation ought to be removed and that the statutes of our government ought to conform so far as may be to our highest ideals and ambitions; but that the first thing that we have to do after arousing the people to the necessity of a change is to change the law and not rely upon the executive himself to ignore the statutes and follow a law unto himself because it is supposed to be the law of higher morality."

"I have said that much because I have noticed a tendency among some of our best fellow citizens to hold the executive responsible for not doing a great many things in which it is the business of my friends in congress to lead the way and for the executive to follow after they have laid down the rules. That does not rid the executive of the responsibility of recommending changes in the law and as I intend to recommend a good many measures at the next meeting of congress I have taken this method of intimating to you where the responsibility would be if those measures do not pass."

Mr. Taft arrived here at 7:45 tonight. He will remain here until tomorrow. He is due to arrive in Washington next Wednesday evening.

The president was the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet tonight.

MRONAUT COMES TO GRIEF IN ATTEMPT TO FOLLOW TAFT

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 4.—While attempting to follow the automobile party to the head of which President Taft rode through Savannah tonight, Fred Owens, an aviator, had a thrilling experience in a dirigible balloon, narrowly escaping death.

He sailed from Forsythe park extension while a big government searchlight played on the craft. Just as Owens and another airship turned in behind the parade two hundred feet in the air, a wire on Owens' motor broke and the motor stopped. A high wind was blowing and it tossed the helpless airship upwards to 1,000 feet and drove it toward the ocean.

Owens was "lost" for fifteen minutes while the searchlights sought him and thousands of persons scattered to send him aid should he fall. Several times he was almost swept from his seat but the airship finally was brought down in safety.

CHURCH LOYAL TO SCIENTIST LEADER

MRS. STETSON'S COURSE APPROVED BY FLOCK

Accused of Mental Malpractice and Other Grave Offenses First Reader is Exonerated at Stormy Meeting.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]

New York, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Augustus E. Stetson, formerly head reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in this city, was exonerated today of charges of "mental malpractice" in the report of a special board of inquiry presented to the congregation of two thousand persons.

The exonerations were endorsed by the members but a portion of the board's report which concerned Virgil O. Stricker, her successor as first reader, was referred back for further consideration. The meeting of the congregation was stormy. It lasted six hours and it was only after a heat of debate that the congregation voted its endorsement by a close margin of the report in Mrs. Stetson's favor.

Twenty-eight charges had been made against Mrs. Stetson at the instigation of the board of directors of the mother church in Boston.

The most important charges were, in effect, that Mrs. Stetson's teachings had tended to alienate from Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy and that Mrs. Stetson had been guilty of mental malpractice in bringing Christian Science to bear upon people who did not welcome it, "by hypnotism, mesmerism and similar methods."

The report, which came after four weeks' examination of witnesses, the taking of 1,000 pages of testimony and thirty-five sittings of the board, asserted that "These false reports were engendered and developed by malicious animus against Mrs. Stetson, and they were circulated by persons who did not properly protect themselves against aggressive mental suggestion, as enjoined by our beloved Mother."

The committee sums up Mrs. Stetson's work for the church as follows: "She has promoted in a marked degree the moral and spiritual progress of the members of this branch church. She has freed great numbers of them from sickness and sin to which they were in bondage previous to their coming to our church here. She enabled many of them to acquire such an understanding of Christian Science, such a love and loyalty to Mary Baker Eddy and such conservation of and obedience to God's divine principle that they too have been enabled to free many of their fellow men from sin and sickness in their various parishes."

Mrs. Stetson was not present.

FATE OF GRAFT CASES REMAINS IN DOUBT

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—In reply to interrogations as to what disposition would be made, in view of the election results of many cases clogging the court calendar and which arose from the graft investigation, Assistant District Attorney Henny said tonight that he could make no statement until he had conferred with District Attorney Langdon. Langdon is out of town at present and Henny said that no discussion of this subject had been held before his departure. Henny has been directly in charge of the prosecution of all graft cases.

RAILROADS FIGHT LOW RATE LAW IN OKLAHOMA

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 4.—A determined fight between the state corporation commission and a number of the larger railroad companies in Oklahoma to test the constitutionality of the 2-cent fare law and certain freight rates began in the United States district court here today before Judge W. C. Hook.

The railroads are asking for a temporary injunction forbidding the enforcement of these rates, and Judge Hook heard arguments on the plea in abatement filed by state officers, who declare the railroads have not exhausted their relief in the state court and that the federal court had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Judge Hook announced that he would hand down an opinion next Monday or Tuesday.

FRANCE HONORS AVIATOR

Paris, Nov. 4.—At a banquet given tonight to Count de Lambert, the aviator, M. Marthou, minister of justice, presented him with the club's gold medal and announced that the government had awarded him the Legion of Honor. He is made the recipient of these distinctions because of his daring aeroplane flights last month from Jaxay to Paris and high above the Eiffel tower.

VETZRA BOASTED OF CRIMINAL CAREER

Austrian Believed to Be Slayer of Crown Prince Rudolph Had Burglar Tools; No Move to Exhume His Corpse.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Denver, Colo., Nov. 4.—Was Louis von Vetzra, otherwise known as Frank Wyckoff, who now lies in a pauper's grave at Riverside cemetery here, really Baron Louis von Vetzra, of Austria, and by many believed to be the slayer of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria, and his own sister, Countess Marie Vetzra?

That is the question that the Austrian legation at Washington is endeavoring to clear up through the local consul, George von Griville.

An investigation was begun upon telegraphic orders from Washington, and grew out of a telegram from San Francisco from an unknown source requesting funds to bury Louis von Vetzra, who died in this city October 26. The local consul at once sought the aid of Mayor Speer to locate the body of Vetzra.

It is evident that the Austrian government is more than ordinarily interested in identifying the man, though Consul von Griville declares so far as he knows the baron never came to the United States, and he is not aware that the baron's whereabouts, if he is alive, is known to his government.

The police have been tracing the career of Frank Wyckoff. They have learned that his real name was Louis von Vetzra and that he lived a secluded life in this city. He was a consumptive and penniless in his last days.

According to Frank Lane, a lodging house keeper with whom Wyckoff, or Vetzra, stopped and with whom he was on friendly terms, the mysterious Austrian disposed of a kit of burglar's tools within a week of his arrival here. He made no secret of his criminal career and often boasted of his success. It is said that he often mentioned his wife, whom he claimed was living at the Columbian house, San Francisco.

No preparations have been made for exhuming the body from its grave in the pauper's field for identification.

VIENNA INTERESTED IN DEATH OF VETZRA
Vienna, Nov. 4.—Interest has been excited here by the reported death of Baron Louis von Vetzra at Denver, and the government has sent a dispatch to the Colorado authorities asking confirmation of the report. Baron von Vetzra's name has never been mentioned publicly since the night of the tragic death of Crown Prince Rudolph, when he disappeared and has not been heard of since. He was the brother of the beautiful Baroness Marie von Vetzra, who was found dead beside the crown prince.

BOLD THIEVES ROB EXPRESS OFFICE IN DAYLIGHT

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 4.—William Dobson, cashier of the Canadian Express company here, was struck down today in the company's office at the Grand Trunk station and a package containing $14,156 taken from him by two unknown men.

The robbery was committed in broad daylight with a score of the station employees within twenty feet of the office. Dobson was alone at the time. The two men entered the office and one asked if a trunk had arrived for him. As Dobson stooped over to get his "on hand" book one of the men reached over the counter and hit him behind the ear with a sandbag or a piece of gas pipe. Five minutes later Dobson was found unconscious and the money was gone.

There will be a grand coroner's inquest at the new Mount Olive Baptist church, 1212 West 12th avenue, Sunday, November 7, at 2 p. m., by the Parkside Lodge No. 13 of Masons, the Eastern Star Lodge of Ladies and the K. HALLEY COMET TO CROSS SUN ON MAY 18 NEXT Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 4.—Halley's comet will pass across the sun's face on May 18 next, if the calculations made by Father G. M. Searle, C. S. P., the New York astronomer, received at the Harvard observatory today, prove correct.

Father Searle based his intricate calculations from observations made at Mount Hamilton, Cal., September 12, 13 and 14, and at Williams Bay, September 25 and October 15.

Considering the table of deductions, Father Searle gives a geocentric conjunction in the longitude of the comet with the sun on May 18, 6.18 Greenwich mean time; the comet's geocentric latitude being then plus four degrees fifteen minutes. Although the result cannot be of course be accepted as final, it seems quite probable that there may be a transit.

The Greenwich time referred to by Father Searle is about 2.15 a. m. May 18, or 9.15 a. m., May 19, eastern standard time.

SEA GIVES UP BODY OF MURDER VICTIM

Corpse Recovered Off Long Beach, Cal., Identified as That of Los Angeles Mining Man.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—That the body recovered from the ocean off Long Beach three days ago was that of Beverly Fuller, a local mining man, and that Fuller was murdered, is the belief expressed by friends who have seen the remains.

Fuller had been missing since October 21. The body could not be identified absolutely owing to its decomposed condition. Fuller came as this city recently from Fulling, Pa., a rope maker who had been in the city for some time.

NO SUCCESSOR FOR PECKHAM UNTIL CONGRESS MEETS

Unwritten Law of United States Supreme Court Forbids Re-cess Appointments to August Tribunal.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, Nov. 4.—Unless President Taft decides to veto the precedent, which, as a lawyer, he is unlikely to do, no justice will take the place on the supreme bench vacated by the recent death of Justice Peckham before the assembling of congress in regular session next December.

All of the surviving justices, with one exception, were nominated for their positions during the sessions of congress. The exception is Justice McLean, who was appointed by President Hayes, November 29, 1877, and although he had already received his commission, Justice McLean refused to take his place on the bench until December 16 following, during which time his nomination had been passed upon by the senate.

There is an unwritten law of the august court itself for which which is likely to be respected, for it has been the unbroken practice of all presidents to advise with the members of the court before filling vacancies on its bench. The objection to the seating of a justice during a recess of congress is that the failure of the senate to confirm his nomination would seriously impair the weight of any decision on important cases in which he may have participated.

Therefore, while it is regarded as possible that President Taft may make his selection in advance of the assembling of congress, the actual appointment, or at least the commission, will be withheld until the senate shall have an opportunity to pass upon it.

Warriner, depositor of the Big Four railroad, is said to have confessed today that the shortage in his accounts, variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000, was due to his paying blackmail to a man and a woman for the last three years.

Warriner is said to have declared that he paid the blackmailers in all $75,000. The man to whom this money was given is said to have been an old employee of the Big Four and to have had knowledge of an earlier shortage in Warriner's accounts. POLICEMEN GUARD SHAKEY COURT BUILDING

Serious Tangle Inevitable as Result of Enforced Suspension of Criminal Business in New York.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) New York, Nov. 4.—A cordon of 150 policemen stood guard today around New York's $2,000,000 criminal courts building, which the inspectors have suddenly found threatened with collapse.

All traffic on the surrounding streets has been stopped. Meanwhile workmen are shoring up the cracked walls and constructing a shield across Lafayette street to protect the subway beneath, in case the building suddenly falls.

Court officials spent today harrying around in search of new quarters. An enormous number of cases are still on the criminal court calendar and the cessation of business means a serious entanglement.

The construction of the subway is blamed by engineers for the tilting of the foundations. The engineers expressed the hope tonight that the building may be saved by foundations driven deeper into the earth.

VARSITY FOOTBALL TEAM LEAVES FOR BOULDER

First Game to be Played in State of Colorado by Locals Will Not be a Walk Over.

The University of New Mexico football team left last night on Santa Fe train No. 3 for Denver and Boulder, Colo., at which latter place they will play tomorrow against the eleven of the University of Colorado. The 1909 team of the University has the distinction of being the first Albuquerque eleven to play a game with a Colorado institution, and that the boys will acquit themselves with credit, it is assured. In view of the recent crushing defeat administered by the locals to the El Paso Military institute and the splendid material in this year's variety team, it may be certain that whether they win the game at Boulder or not they will represent New Mexico's leading educational institution with credit and give the Coloradoans a first class run for their money. The fact that the Boulder team expects a victory by the score of only about 10 to 0 shows that they are inclined to take a conservative view of the situation and do not look for a walk-over. The team will be joined by Manager Lawrence Lee at Denver, and while in Denver will make their headquarters at the St. James hotel.

Much depends on the result of the varsity's first invasion of Colorado. Whether or not they win from Boulder, if they hold down the score and play real football it will mean annual dates hereafter with the big schools in Colorado. Denver university is already after Manager Lee for games with New Mexico next season. Coach McElhinne, who left with the varsity aggregation last night, is willing to put up a little money to the effect that the varsity will play real football at Boulder, and his confidence is the result of a long and wide knowledge of football as he is played and a careful study of the material he has in hand here. The line-up of the Albuquerque eleven will be as follows, subject to change:

HOUSE OF COMMONS PASSES FINANCE BILL

London, Nov. 4.—The house of commons tonight passed the third reading of the Finance bill, 379 to 142.

The conservatives had counted upon a score of liberal abstentions, but apparently only two liberals joined the nationalists in abstaining from voting. The bill will be formally passed on its first reading in the house of lords tomorrow, the debate on the second reading, which will determine its fate, beginning November 22.

Liberals Encouraged by Showing.—London, Nov. 4.—The liberal papers this morning are pleased that the budget has left the house of commons backed by a solid majority representing the whole strength of the party, including the labor members. The only matter of discontent is the refusal of the nationalists to support the budget.

The abstention of the nationalists is a declaration of war against the house of lords.

In connection with the idea that the lords had declined to reject the budget, a mysterious paragraph appears in the Daily Telegraph, a strong unionist organ, declaring that nothing had yet occurred that can be taken as defining the lords' attitude. On the contrary, says the statement, the peers will approach the consideration of the bill unperturbed and untrammelled. This paragraph possibly foreshadows the intention of the house of lords to amend, instead of totally rejecting the budget.

Low Powell to Fight Wolfast.—San Francisco, Nov. 4.—Low Powell, whose defeat of Johnny Frayne placed him in the top line row of lightweight, was matched tonight for a twenty-round bout with Al Wolfast before the Mission Athletic club November 27. LAST SURVIVOR OF REBELS BEATEN IN FAMOUS FEUD GOES TO JAIL

Member of House of Hatfield Pleads Guilty to Elopement With Girl of Tender Years in California.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Los Angeles, Nov. 5.—With an eloquent plea that he had committed a crime and was willing to "take his medicine," but imploring the court to release him from prison before he became a gray haired old man, J. W. Hatfield, one of the last survivors of the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud in Kentucky and West Virginia and a rough rider who fought at San Juan, told Judge Davis today in the superior court that he had run away with a fourteen-year-old girl, Pearl Eastman, of Ventura county because he wanted to marry her. He was sentenced to five years in San Quentin, the minimum under the law.

Hatfield's brief and simple recital of the story of his life brought tears to the eyes of the listeners.

"I have done wrong," the prisoner said, "and I want to be sentenced, judge, and to serve a prison term, but I don't want to come from prison a white-haired man. I want a chance to be a good citizen and to help my old mother when I come out."

"I want to marry this girl. She was willing, but her grandparents would not let us. I was a hired man on their place at Ventura. When her grandfather opposed our marriage we ran away." Back in Kentucky that was no crime.

"My father was killed from ambush by one of the McCoy's. My mother has no money left to support her. I served in the Spanish war at San Juan. I have been a ranger in Texas and Arizona and have been a deputy sheriff in California. I know I have violated a law and want to pay the penalty."

He accepted sentence without a word.

Strangler Murder Mystery May Be Solved.—Schenectady Man Claims Ability to Explain Series of Ghastly Tragedies Which Startled Denver Under-World in 1894.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Denver, Nov. 4.—The unsolved mystery of Denver's "strangler" murders in the fall of 1894 was again brought into prominence today by the receipt by a local paper of a letter from W. E. Williams, of Schenectady, N. Y., in which he announces he can give information in regard to the person who committed the crimes.

The writer concludes with the statement:

"I shall expect adequate compensation for the same."

The letter was turned over to Chief of Police Armstrong at once. He has wired the authorities at Schenectady to get in touch with Williams.

In September, October and November, 1894, three women in the under world of Denver were strangled to death. In each case signs of a terrible struggle were evident.

LABOR TROUBLE BLAMED FOR DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—Dynamiters tonight blew up $100,000 worth of steel appliances and construction in the new plant of the Corbin McKinnery company in the Cuyahoga river bottom and wrecked the tracks of the Newburg & South Shore railroad.

Nicaraguan President Claims He Has "Liberator" and Followers on Run; Conflicting Reports.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

New Orleans, Nov. 4.—After a lapse of several days, the local Central American colony received news from the front today. From Bluefields and the Atlantic ports of Nicaragua came reassuring advice to the sympathizers of General Estrada, the leader of the revolutionists, saying that "the liberator" was daily gaining strength in men, arms and ammunition and that President Zelaya is making no move to regain the territory taken by the revolutionists.

From Managua, the capital, and from Pacific coast points came still more news to the local friends of the administration. President Zelaya himself called that there had been a severe engagement near El Chila and that the enemy had been defeated. He gave few details, but said it was a glorious victory. President Zelaya's cables were directed to General General Alschul.

"President Zelaya assures me," said the consul, "that there has been some terrific fighting and that the enemy is thoroughly panic-stricken. No lot of casualties is given, but the rebels have been badly beaten. There is no doubt about that. President Zelaya says that the work of his Maxim guns is more than satisfactory."

GOVERNMENT FORCES MOVE ON REBEL STRONGHOLD.

New Orleans, Nov. 4.—Cable messages received today by Consul Alschul of Nicaragua, signed by President Zelaya, state that the government forces have fought their way through Paso de las Juntas, near El Chila, and are advancing toward Rama, one of the principal bases of the revolutionists.

The total amount of bounty which may be authorized for Class 2 is $150,000.

To obtain the foregoing bounties the rates of wages paid by any person must not be below the standard rates prescribed by any commonwealth or state industrial authority.

A Deal in Timber.—A timber merchant was sitting in his office one day musing sadly over the general depression in the wood trade, when a quiet looking young man entered.

"Do you sell hardwood?" asked the stranger.

"Yes," replied the merchant, rising with alacrity, and hoping devoutly to book a large order. "We can supply any quantity on the short notice, either in the log or the plank."

"Oh, I don't want so much as that," said the youth, shifting his feet uneasily. "I just want a bit for a fiddle bridge."—Tribune.

Occupants of Milwaukee Tene- ment Have Close Call When Flames Destroy Flimsy Structure.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 4.—The cries of a 15-month-old baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cohen, probably saved eighteen persons from death in a fire today which damaged the tenement in which they lived.

The mother was awakened by the fire, one pulling at her arms and crying in terror. Mrs. Cohen saw the fire at once and rushed with the baby to the street, where she and her husband awakened others in the building.

A CLOSE CALL IN VIRGINIA.

Strange as it may seem the democratic party had a close call in Virginia at the election last Tuesday, and had it not been for some very energetic work at the close of the campaign, and a straight-out bargain with the liquor interests it is said now that there was for democracy more than a fair probability of going into the ditch. Because the democratic candidate for governor was a prohibitionist the liquor interest was very much dissatisfied, and there was serious danger of a "split" in fact, that the saloon element would bolt the ticket, and that would have meant sure defeat for the party. Just on the eve of the election, Senator Martin, who is acknowledged democratic leader of the state, called the leading liquor men into council and put it squarely up to them that they must support the democratic ticket, or the party would leave them to their fate with the Anti-Saloon league. And from Martin further agreed that if the liquor men would stand up to the rack he would guarantee that the administration would not attempt to do anything contrary to the interests of the saloon business. Upon that basis the liquor men and the prohibitionists stood shoulder to shoulder for the ticket, and carried it to victory. But it looks decidedly likely for the democracy that it should be necessary to make such a disreputable bargain, and enter into such a hypocritical combination to save the party from defeat, even in the old Dominion. It gives ground for an apprehension that the solid South is no longer above suspicion, and needs to be kept out of the way of temptation.

DOES IT BAR THE OPEN DOOR?

A copy of the agreement entered into between China and Japan, regarding the exploitation of Manchuria, has been received in Washington. It is a matter of much more than ordinary international interest because of the general belief that the United States government intends to protest against its execution, on the ground that it gives Japan undue prominence in Manchuria, and therefore contravenes the "open door" policy in China. The full text of the agreement is as follows:

The imperial government of Japan and the imperial government of China, actuated by the desire to consolidate the relations of amity and good neighborliness between the two countries, by settling definitely the matter of common concern in Manchuria, and by removing for the future all cause of misunderstanding, have agreed upon the following stipulations:

Article 1.—The government of China engages that in the event of its undertaking to construct a railway between Hailuogang and Fushen, it shall arrange previously with the government of Japan.

Article 2.—The government of China recognizes that the railway between Tientsin and Yinkow (Newhang) is a branch line of the South Manchurian railway, and it is agreed that the said branch line shall be delivered up to China simultaneously with the South Manchurian railway upon the expiration of the term of concession for that main line. The Chinese government further agrees as to the extension of the said branch line to the port of Yinkow (Newhang).

Article 3.—In regard to the coal mines at Fushen and Yentai the government of Japan and China are agreed as follows:

(a) The Chinese government recognizes the right of the Japanese government to work the said coal mines.

(b) The Japanese government, respecting the full sovereignty of China, engages to pay the Chinese government tax upon coal produced in those mines, the rate of such tax shall be separately arranged upon the basis of the lowest tariff for coal produced in any other place in China.

(c) The Chinese government agrees that in the matter of the exportation of coal produced in the said mines, the lowest tariff of export duty for coal of any other mines shall be applied.

(d) The extent of the said coal mines, as well as all the detailed regulations, shall be separately arranged by commissioners specially appointed for that purpose.

and the Governor of Mukden agreed upon with the Japanese consul general in the fortieth year of Meiji, corresponding to the thirty-third year of Kuangsu. Detailed regulations in respect of such mines shall in due course be arranged by the viceroy and the governor with the Japanese consul general.

Article 5.—The government of Japan declares that it has no objection to the extension of the Peking-Mukden railway to the city wall of Mukden. Practical measures for such extension shall be adjusted and determined by the local Japanese and Chinese authorities and technical experts.

It witness whereof the undersigned, duly authorized by their respective governments, have signed and sealed the present arrangement in duplicate in the Japanese and Chinese languages.

The fourth day of the ninth month of the forty-second year of Meiji, the twentieth day of the seventh month of the first year of Hsin Tung.

GAMBLERS' WAR IN CHICAGO.

Here is a picture of existing conditions in Chicago which is more than a little surprising. It is not drawn by some envious rival, for the purpose of injuring the place, but is a plain statement of facts, which we find in the leading editorial column of one of the leading journals of the city. The following is from the Inter Ocean:

"The gamblers' war" reopened in the loop district Sunday night. Two buildings in which were gambling houses were damaged by bomb explosions.

The character of the tenants who were plainly the target of the dynamite was evident to the most cursory inspection.

Incidentally, the police tried to deny that these tenants were gamblers, and there is the same old statement that gambling has been suppressed.

In the last twenty-seven months there have been thirty-seven crimes of this kind in Chicago. Thirty of them have been clearly acts of war between factions of gamblers.

The police know who these gamblers are. Yet there have been few arrests and no convictions. The following conclusions are unavoidable:

1. There is a faction of gamblers so fully "protected" that the police dare not interfere with them.

2. On this "protected" faction an "unprotected" faction makes war with bombs.

3. The police dare not arrest the bomb-throwers lest on their trial they show how their rivals are "protected" by the police.

The news of these repeated and unpunished crimes of violence goes all over the country, to the injury of every business man of Chicago and to the blackening of the city reputation.

They hold up Chicago before the world as a city whose police force is so committed to criminals or so compromised with them that it dares not punish the most atrocious violence conceivable.

SUPER-NORMAL KNOWLEDGE.

There is one thing, says Professor William James in the current American Magazine, for which I wish to be on record, and that is, that in the midst of all humbug there is really a supernatural knowledge. By this I mean knowledge that cannot be traced to the ordinary sources of information—the senses, namely, of the automatic. In really strong mediums this knowledge seems to be abundant, though it is usually spotty, capricious and unconnected. Out of my experience such is (and it is limited enough) one fixed conclusion dogmatically emerges, and that is this, that we with our lives are like islands in the sea or like trees in the forest. The maple and the pine may whisper to each other with their leaves, and Conant and Newcomer hear each other's foghorns. But the trees also communicate their roots in the darkness underground, and the islands also hang together through the ocean's bottom. Just so there is a continuum of cosmic consciousness, against which our individuality builds but accidental fences, and into which our several minds plunge, as into a mother sea or river.

AN IMPENDING CRISIS.

All observers of the signs of the times admit that England is upon the verge of a crisis such as the country has not lately faced before in all the years of its long history. Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George declares: "There are ominous signs that we are approaching one of the greatest constitutional struggles waged in this country in two hundred and fifty years. Today, the storm center in Great Britain presents a political cyclone. The frantic efforts made by Protectionist Tories to defeat the budget prove that they are fully alive to the fact that, when it becomes a law, it will be much more difficult for any succeeding government to carry through the protectionist scheme of passing on the burden of taxation from the banking accounts of the rich to the bread and meat multitude."

This is the real issue on which the momentous general election will be fought in January, for whether the budget goes through or is rejected by the House of Lords, an appeal to the country is certain after the holidays. Party feeling has already attained a pitch of savage bitterness. The Scotch Lord Advocate, Mr. Macdonald, expressed a doubt as to whether the old age pensions would be secure if a balance had to be placed on Tory Protectionist policy to provide for them.

Arthur Balfour, fearful of the effect on the working class vote if the idea of a balance had to be placed on Tory Protectionist policy to provide for them.

There seems to be special satisfaction all over the country with two of the results of Tuesday's election—the turning down of Tammany in New York, and Henry in San Francisco.

The famous Du Pont family, which bosses the Little State of Delaware, socially, industrially and politically, is torn by a warfare of women, and unless the suit brought by Mr. Alfred I. du Pont against Mrs. Elizabeth Bradford Du Pont is withdrawn or settled there will be the greatest shaking of any bones that has ever taken place in the little commonwealth and startling scandals will be spread upon court records.

A Washington report says a largely increased activity in the industrial field is indicated by the September figures of internal commerce as reported to the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

True Flavors

With great care, by a process entirely his own, Dr. Price is enabled to extract from each of the true, select fruits, all of its characteristic flavor, and place in the market a class of flavorings of rare excellence. Every flavor is of great strength and perfect purity. For flavoring ice-cream, jellies, cake, custards, etc.,

"deliberately calculated lie" and the gentleman himself as a "dishonor to his profession and dishonor to his race."

Use returned to these charges of Balfour, whereupon Henry Chaplin, ex-Cabinet Minister, rejoins Mr. saying: "He is guilty of a scandalous, atrocious falsehood and deliberate tissue of lies."

These are the current amenities among the leaders of British politics. The Tories calculate that the general election will result in such reduction of the Liberal majority that the Liberal will be wholly dependent upon the Irish vote, and that in these circumstances, King Edward will refuse to give Asquith carte blanche for creating the new peers necessary to force the budget through the House of Lords, and that a further crisis will then follow, with another appeal to the country on which the Tories hope to come in victorious. If, however, this Tory calculation is falsified, they will have risked everything and lost, as with the Lords' veto power limited, their greatest weapon will be broken.

One of the boldest robberies which has been attempted in the vicinity of Silver City for many years occurred some time Saturday or Sunday, when a wagonload of household goods, furniture, etc., was stolen from Dr. S. A. Milliken at the old McGregor place, which is about half a mile north of town. The thieves drove up a big wagon in the absence of Dr. Milliken and carried off everything it would hold.

Now that the increasing shortage of freight facilities is being impressed upon the railway and industrial world the Engineering News makes the pertinent suggestion that the remedy does not lie alone in the ability of the railways to buy additional freight cars. A great deal might be done toward the reduction of the delays in the movement of freight, a result to which shippers as well as railways might contribute. That a contributing cause of the shortage is the willingness of shippers to use cars for the storage of goods is one of the first acts brought to light by even a cursory study, but the next thing that will strike the student is the vast field that still remains for conquest by railroad managers in the direction of increased efficiency in moving freight.

The statement comes, not from hostile critics of the railways of the United States, but from experts of the railways themselves, from whose computations has been deduced the fact that the average miles per day traveled by the average freight car in this country is only about 22 miles. If the average speed of freight trains be assumed to be ten miles an hour—not an extravagant allowance—this means that the average freight car is moving on its journey only 2 1/2 hours out of the 24. The remedy for such conditions as here indicated is just as important to the transportation companies as to the shippers, for in either case it means increased expense or loss.

If instead of having to find the billion or more dollars needed for additional freight cars and motive power, the railways could attain greater efficiency in the use of the equipment they already possess, the country would be saved the additional interest tax, for it is the country at large which, after all, has to bear the burden of the railway debt.

country houses and great estates if one has no time to visit them and enjoy their beauty? Why should one seek through agents, the most exquisite works of art, if he cannot find more than a casual half-hour in which to view them? What are wife and children, if you are always hastening about the world, far too preoccupied to give them any serious thought, or to receive the pleasure which their company could afford you?

Triumph in the wheat pit or in the stock exchange, and your success will be tainted by the stores which those who care for you will have to read in every newspaper. Become the target of a thousand house-evolved speakers on the stump, who depict you as a sort of devil; give your nights and days to self-defense, to circumventing mendicants, to holding fast what you have, won—and then say whether the burden of great wealth is not almost too much to bear.

Your very charities are mocked at. Your most public-spirited actions are distorted, and your motives are held up to ridicule. You have no time for God or man or for your own true self, if your mind is wholly set upon the burden of your wealth, which in the end will blight the brain and wither up the body.

And yet there is one sole satisfaction—it is a satisfaction: Millions of your fellow countrymen and countrywomen will believe, beyond all doubt, that you are really happy, and will envy you.

COPPINGER SAW SERVICE UNDER THREE FLAGS

VETERAN ARMY OFFICER EXPIRES IN WASHINGTON

Held Commission in English Yeomanry; Fought for Pope Against Garibaldi and for Union in War of States.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Washington, Nov. 4.—Gen. John J. Coppinger died tonight at his residence here of pneumonia.

General Coppinger belonged to one of the most ancient families in the south of Ireland. At an early age he received a commission in one of the yeomanry regiments then raised in England for service in the Crimean war, but was mustered out at the close of hostilities without seeing any active service.

He then received a commission in one of the papal regiments and served during the campaign of 1860. He was taken prisoner at the defense of the Larocca gate and was made a knight of St. Gregory for his services.

On his release he was invalided home and at the outbreak of the civil war received a commission in the United States regular army on the recommendation of Archbishop Hughes. He was made captain of the then Fourteenth infantry, September 30, 1861. He was severely wounded at the second battle of Bull Run, and was made colonel of the Fifteenth New York cavalry January 17, 1863.

After the war he served mainly on the frontier as captain in the Twenty-third infantry, major in the Tenth infantry, lieutenant colonel in the Eighteenth infantry and colonel in the Twenty-third infantry. He was commissioned brigadier general April 25, 1895, and commanded the department of the Platte until the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. He was made major general of volunteers in July, 1898, and commanded the Fourth corps. He was retired for age on October 11, 1898.

General Coppinger married Alice Blaine, eldest daughter of the late James J. Blaine, in February, 1883. Mrs. Coppinger died in 1899, leaving two sons, Blaine and Connor Coppinger, who survive. Since his retirement he has resided in Washington. He was for years one of the governors of the Metropolitan club, to which office he was re-elected but a few days before his death.

The funeral will be held Sunday morning.

these companies had shipped misbranded liquors into the state. Judge Cotter held this action caused the shipper to lose standing in court.

Attorneys for both companies promised there would be no more misbranding of liquors by their clients, and on this representation the court allowed the companies the privilege of renewing their application at a later date.

Judge Cotter refused to pass on the question of whether soliciting business through the mails was an offense, holding that even if it were that fact would not deprive the complaint of its standing in court.

SUFFRAGETTES TO STAND TRIAL FOR ACID THROWING

English Women Who Attacked Election Officers and Attempted to Destroy Ballots in Serious Predicament.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] London, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Chapin, the militant suffragette, who made an attack on a polling place in the Bermondsey election last Thursday, was committed for trial by the magistrate at the Old Bailey today on the double charge of "having unlawfully meddled with the ballot box and caused grievous harm to the presiding officer."

Mrs. Chapin broke a bottle containing corrosive acid on a ballot box with the apparent intention of destroying the ballots which the box contained. The acid, little of which found its way into the box, splattered upon election officials, one of whom was severely burned.

Miss Alison Neilson also was committed for trial charged with a similar attempt to destroy ballots in another booth at the same election.

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

Baldness is Too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age.

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over thirty-five years of age as new employees.

Almost 65 per cent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our word or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair or baldness, to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the more asking. There is no formality expected and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here where you live, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we record our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer except that we are certain that we can substantiate it in every particular. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Albuquerque only at our store, The Rexall Store, The J. H. O'Reilly Co.

WALSH PLEADS FOR REHEARING OF CASE

Petition Filed in United States Circuit Court of Appeals Asking New Trial for Chicago Banker.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Chicago, Nov. 4.—A petition for a rehearing in the case of John R. Walsh, the convicted Chicago banker, was filed today by attorneys for the plaintiff in error in the United States circuit court of appeals. The petition sets forth that the opinion of the court in its decision upholding the verdict of "guilty" from the court below, was based upon a "misconception of the case and the rules of law applicable."

Guarantors of the Walsh note for $7,000,000, held by the Chicago clearing house, it was learned today, have transferred $1,000,000 in real estate to the First National bank as agent for the clearing house, to secure the interest on the note.

This interest, running over $7,000 per annum, was recently defaulted. The income from the property turned over will pay this interest and care for similar charges.

BEING GOVERNOR OF NEW MEXICO NOT JOY SAYS LEA

Roswell Man in, Washington Nominates Nathan Jaffa as Successor to Curry; Cameron Sure of Statehood.

Morning Journal Bureau, 613 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., Nov. 4.

J. S. Lea of Roswell, N. M., who was seen at the National hotel today, said that although he is a democrat, he believes that Governor Curry tried his best to give the territory of New Mexico a good administration.

"If there are charges against him," said Mr. Lea, "I won't believe them until they are conclusively proven to me. It is no easy matter to be governor of New Mexico. The territory is full of the shrewdest politicians, who are continuously scheming."

Asked who he would recommend as successor to Governor Curry, Mr. Lea said: "If I were a republican I would appoint Nathan Jaffa, Curry's lieutenant governor. He is a highly respected citizen of the territory, and has the confidence of everybody irrespective of political conviction. He is as honest as the day is long, and no one can say anything against him."

Ralph Cameron, delegate to congress from the territory of Arizona, recently arrived in Washington, bringing with him his usual supply of enthusiasm in statehood.

"I believe we will get it this time," said Delegate Cameron. "There are many indications that the opposition we have met with in the past in our territory is subsiding. The vote in the house in the last session elected that we have nothing to fear there."

"Our case was approved on its merits. The vote indicated the opinion of the people of the United States, as expressed by their representatives."

The people of Arizona believe that the parts in the present favorable to them will show such a marked increase when the question again comes up there will be no difficulty in adding the territory to the list of states."

MINNIE ARBOGAST ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Wife of Wealthy St. Paul Butcher Convinces Jury That She Never Slew Her Husband.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] St. Paul, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Minnie Arbogast, who for the last two weeks has been on trial here on a charge of having murdered her husband, Louis Arbogast, a wealthy butcher, on May 13, was acquitted this afternoon.

Louis Arbogast was murdered while asleep in bed about 4 o'clock in the morning. His head was crushed with an ax and the bed was soaked with gasoline and set afire.

Mrs. Arbogast and her four daughters were in the house when the crime was committed and none of the daughters was able to say definitely what occurred. The bloody ax was found hidden in the cellar of the home and was identified by the hired man, who said he had used it the day before the murder.

A woman's undershirt, bloodstained, was identified by one of the girls as belonging to her mother. A blood-stained skirt and other apparel was also offered in evidence but not identified.

Louise Arbogast, the eldest daughter, is under indictment on the same charge as that preferred against her mother, and will be tried in a week or two.

BLUE LAW CRUSADE IN KANSAS CITY ABANDONED

Four Thousand Indictments Against Alleged Violators of Sunday Law Dismissed by Judge Latshaw.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Kansas City, Nov. 4.—More than 4000 indictments returned in a "Sunday blue law" crusade, made by Judge William H. Wallace, a year ago, were dismissed by Judge Latshaw today. Prosecutor Virgil Conkling moved that they be dismissed, in keeping with a pre-election promise.

The Wallace crusade was the most spectacular ever attempted here. Immediately following his appointment to the criminal bench by Governor Folk, in 1908, Judge Wallace announced that he intended closing the town on Sunday. He called a special grand jury to return indictments against all persons who worked or kept their places of business open on the Sabbath.

Hundreds of indictments were returned daily.

Theoretically the special mark of the indictments, blanket indictments were returned against whole companies. Only nine cases were tried.

Immense Enterprise Now Well Under Way at Highrolls

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER PROJECT STARTED

Five Thousand Horsepower to be Generated for Huge Hotel and Cottage Colony Near Alamogordo.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Alamogordo, N. M., Nov. 3.—The Alamogordo Water Power company, which is building a plant that will develop three thousand hydro-electric horsepower, has just had a directors' meeting at High Rolls, at which H. La Salle, an expert engineer of Alamogordo, was elected general manager and chief engineer of the company. The president of this company is Merrill H. Fisher, who is proprietor of the Alamogordo Light and Power company. Mr. Fisher first began the preliminary work on this big project nearly two years ago, and about six months ago succeeded in financing the venture. C. L. Cory of San Francisco, a consulting engineer for the Southern Pacific railway, is also interested in this project.

Monday a force of fifty workmen, under the direction of T. M. Morton, an experienced engineer, will begin the construction of the pipe line and conduit leading from High Rolls to the brink of Box canyon, where the water will have a fall of 1000 feet. While the plant now under construction will develop only 3000 horsepower, the conduit will be built for 5000 horsepower, and later the plant will be increased to that power. The new cottage colony and the big hotel now getting under way at High Rolls will be lighted by power from this plant. A transmission line will be built to convey the power to Alamogordo and Tularosa, and it will be used throughout the valley for pumping for irrigation purposes. In general usefulness and far-reaching results it is one of the biggest enterprises ever launched in this section of New Mexico. The construction work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

The High Rolls Development company is making plans so fast and going about the work in no business-like way that there is no longer any doubt that the big resort, comprising a modern hotel and a colony of 100 new cottages, will be ready for occupancy by the middle of next May. Planners, architects, engineers, in fact all the machinery necessary to equip a complete planning mill and work shop, were shipped yesterday from the manufacturer. This means that every piece of the lumber used on the job will be worked up on the ground.

The plans and specifications, prepared by an Alamogordo architect, have already been completed. A force of men is now at work, and has already gotten out sufficient stone to build the foundation work for the hotel and all the cottages. As soon as the planning mill machinery is received the actual construction work on the cottages will be commenced. Instead of letting out the work under contract, the company will employ its own superintendents and foremen in charge of the building.

Since such an immense quantity of excellent native stone was found available, it has been decided to build the hotel entirely of stone. The hotel, however, will not be erected or owned by the company. This will be financed by Merrill H. Fisher and H. La Salle, both of whom, however, are interested in the company.

W. C. Rose, general superintendent of the Alamogordo Lumber company, carried the plans into El Paso a few days ago and showed them to the general offices of the El Paso & Southwestern. They expressed surprise and admiration.

The timber sales at Alamogordo station for the month of October amounted to $7745.25. This was a heavy month's business for this season of the year. The sales sometimes run as high as $2000 during the spring months. Postal Telegraph receipts for the month of October were $164.85. This is about normal.

CLOVIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ELECTS ITS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Clovis, N. M., Nov. 3.—Last night the newly-elected board of directors of the Clovis chamber of commerce met and elected officers for the coming year.

J. Foster Scott, a prominent realty owner and pioneer of Curry county, was elected president. R. B. Oldham, cashier of the First National bank, first vice president. M. Berle, a broker and insurance man, second vice president. R. A. Bayne, who has been serving as secretary since the resignation of O. L. Owen two months ago, was elected secretary, and Mayor E. H. "And I want to see this made a good organization for our whole section of the county. PUTNEY VS. SCHMIDT AND STORY BEFORE DISTRICT COURT

Long Drawn Out Case Involving Affairs of Former Banker Broyles of San Marcial Nearing Conclusion.

The case of Putney against Schmidt and Story in the district court is nearing its end. The defendant has nearly concluded his evidence, when there will be a small amount of rebuttal, it is stated. The case is being tried before the jury on special issues submitted by the court, on which the court has given the defendant the affirmative. The issue is whether the plaintiff, acting by and through his agent and attorney and employees, had through fraud and manipulation induced the defendants to sign the note and mortgage by telling them that the plaintiff had had an expert book accountant to examine the books, accounts and business of J. N. Broyles, and that the result of such examination showed Broyles to be worth $25,000 over all his last debts and liabilities, that his general merchandise business was in fine shape and he was doing a good business in his store, that he needed ready cash and if he could get it would take care of all his debts; that Broyles was perfectly able to take care of the loan and safe financially, and ten thousand dollars would pay all his outside debts and give him plenty of money with which to run his bank. Schmidt and Story attempted to prove that Mr. Good, who did examine Broyles' books and accounts, was Putney's employee and acted for him. The plaintiff's evidence tends to show that such is not the fact, and he claims he has shown completely by overwhelming evidence that Mr. Good was not Putney's employee, and any statement that he may have made was not as agent of Putney.

The plans and specifications, prepared by an Alamogordo architect, have already been completed. A force of men is now at work, and has already gotten out sufficient stone to build the foundation work for the hotel and all the cottages. As soon as the planning mill machinery is received the actual construction work on the cottages will be commenced. BEST IRRIGATION SEASON ENDS AT CARLSBAD

PLENTY OF WATER UNDER PROJECT DESPITE DROUGHT

Largest Acreage in History Planted This Year; Demand for Feed Stuff at High Prices Is Steady.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal) Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 2.—The irrigation season for 1909 under the Carlsbad project closed today after a continuous run of water from March 15. It has been a successful season from beginning to end. Though the rainfall has been the lightest ever known in this part of the territory, the water supply of the Carlsbad project has been sufficient at all times to meet all demands. More or less water has also been spilling back into the river during the season. A larger acreage has been under cultivation than at any time in the history of the project, not excepting the banner year of 1902. The field crops, like corn, cotton and sorghum, have turned out well. In fact, these crops are more every year. Alfalfa planting has been more extensive this season than at any time in the past and excellent results have been obtained. Alfalfa has brought $18 a ton at the present time. Kaffir corn in the head $15, and kaffir corn fodder and sorghum are worth about $7 a ton. The local demand for feed stuff is increasing every year, and even this year, with the biggest crop of alfalfa ever produced, there will be little feed available for the feeder of lambs and steers.

The construction of the Carlsbad sewer system is progressing very satisfactorily. The ditch machine is working rapidly and the crew laying the tile is following closely. The work will be completed in a short time, when Carlsbad can pride itself on the finest sewer system in the whole Southwest for its size.

SANTA FE TRAIN PORTER CHARGED WITH THEFT

Charles Edwards of Albuquerque Arrested in Las Vegas and Released on Bail; Will Have Hearing Today.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal) Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 4.—This morning the authorities here were notified by wire from La Junta to detain Charles Edwards, a Santa Fe train porter running between this city and Albuquerque.

It was learned that Edwards was accused by James Edison, a passenger on the Santa Fe en route to his home in the east from California, Edison claimed that the porter required a small gold timepiece, a pocket and a small amount in coin from the handbag belonging to Mrs. Edison, and the theft was not discovered until No. 8 reached La Junta, Colo.

Edwards told a straight story when taken into custody and late this afternoon secured his release on bail. The hearing will take place tomorrow morning before Judge Murry in the justice court.

The complaining witness continued his trip east and it is believed by his friends that Porter Edwards will be able to prove his innocence in the case. He is married and has a family living in Albuquerque and has always borne a good reputation.

Prominent Jesuit Dies. Today Rev. Fr. Gaudin Venerable, S. J. died at the Jesuit college here and will be interred tomorrow in a private cemetery on the college grounds. He was prominent among the Jesuit fathers and had resided in Las Vegas for the past thirty years.

CANDIDATES BY THE SCORE POP UP FOR GOVERNOR

The Boys in Santa Fe Have a List of Sixty-three who Would Take the Job if President Taft Insisted.

"If you believe the boys in Santa Fe there are about three dozen and ten candidates for the governorship of New Mexico to succeed Governor Curry," said an Albuquerque man yesterday, who has just returned from the capital. "The boys showed me a list which contained sixty-three names, and expected to be named candidates for the executive chair and they claimed it was only a partial list. The list includes probabilities, possibilities and has-beens and is a pretty fair political "Who's Who in New Mexico." You ought to see it. It's a wonder. There are candidates from every nook and corner and from every county and cross-roads and the boys who have the list claim it is on the square.

"Then they carry another list, entitled 'Men-who-wouldn't-have-the-job-if-it-was-tendered-to-them-on-a-platter.' This list is even more interesting than the other. The United States marshalship is a pretty scrap all right, but it's a sideshow compared to what the outlook promises about March first, when the question of Governor Curry's successor comes up for determination."

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. Cures backache and irregularities that if neglected might result in Bright's disease or diabetes. J. H. O'Reilly Co.

CROWD ARRIVES IN RUSSET DAWN TO SECURE SEATS

Early Birds Get Pick of Tickets to Musical Course at Elks' Theater; Special Rates for School Pupils.

No, gentle reader, it was not an early greeting to the milkman, neither was it a sale of violet scented stationery at half price yesterday at Matson's. It was a gathering of some of the wise subscribers to the Elks' Theater music course, and to paraphrase an old saying, the early birds caught their particular choice of seats for three of the greatest musical attractions that have visited this city.

Seriously, though, about one-half of the subscribers came in yesterday and made their selections, which means that, besides saving three or four dollars on each set of tickets bought they will not be required to worry any further regarding the location of their seats for David Furber, Fritz Kreisler or Madame Schumann-Heink.

It has been rumored that the prices of single seats for all three attractions will be from 75 cents to $2, but this scale applies only to the Bispham recital next Thursday night.

In compliance with several requests the management has decided to make a special rate to pupils of the schools and has placed the matter in the hands of Miss Caroline Strong, director of music for the schools. All applications for such concession should be made to Miss Strong, care Central school.

It is requested that all subscribers to the list call as early as possible and make their selections to the end that the list be disposed of by Tuesday, at which time seats for the Bispham recital go on sale.

EXEMPLIFICATION OF FIRST DEGREE BIG SUCCESS

Six Candidates Take Initial Step on Their Journey to Knighthood in Columbiad.

The first degree of the Knights of Columbus was exemplified to a class of six candidates in K. C. hall last night, the degree work being unusually impressive. The beautiful lessons taught in the first degree were brought home to the candidates in an admirable manner by the different officers of the degree team. The degree work was witnessed by a large number of members of Albuquerque Council and visiting brothers from out of town councils. Splendid music during the degree was rendered by the Columbiad choir, consisting of Joseph B. Scott, organist; Eugene G. Conroy, Bernard C. Appaduna, J. Wallace Henshield, Frederick Balling, William White, Frank A. McHugh, H. J. Sandoval and Herbert Asselin. The degree team was composed of the following members: Marcus P. Kelly, grand knight; William A. Kelscher, deputy grand knight; Francis E. Wood, chancellor; John J. Tierney, warden.

The candidates who received the initial degree of their journey to knighthood were: T. J. Shea, Jr., J. McDonald, H. J. Kelscher, Ambrose Chavez, T. Youngs, Albert J. Labonte. The second degree will probably be exemplified some time within the next six weeks or two months. At the conclusion of the ceremonies last night a very enjoyable social session was held, during which a lunch was served. Plans and vocal solos were rendered by J. E. Scott, Eugene Conroy and other members of the Columbiad choir. Mr. Scott delighted the knights with a number of his brilliant prose and musical selections. There were other stunts which brought down the house and an altogether pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent by those in attendance.

PUBLIC LOOKS FOR SOMETHING GOOD IN "RINGMASTER"

Shubert Production Making Hit in Los Angeles; Will Leave Tomorrow Night En Route to Albuquerque.

Reports from Los Angeles are that "The Ringmaster" with its strong company is making a powerful impression on the theater-goers of the Angel city, where the company is now just closing a two-week engagement. The play has packed houses every night, it is said, and there is no doubt that Albuquerque people will have a chance to see one of the best and most talked of plays of the season at the Elks' theater Monday night. The company, with its special cars, will leave Los Angeles tomorrow evening immediately after the Saturday matinee, so as to assure its arrival here early Monday morning.

The Messrs. Shubert, who are responsible for the production of this fascinating play, have discovered in Miss Olive Porter a playwright of rare ability. They have established at the Bijou theater, Brooklyn, a stock company, where all plays that have a possible chance of success are given an elaborate production.

It was here that "The Ringmaster" was first tried, and immediately approved by the press and public. Miss Porter was formerly employed as correspondent to one of Wall street's leading brokerage firms, and it was from the correspondence of these giants of speculative finance that she gained sufficient material to write this most meritorious play. The story is that of a financial battle waged between Hillary, who is designated as "The Ringmaster" of Wall street, a man of unscrupulous principle, and Le Baron, a young man perfectly honest, who is in love with Hillary's daughter. She returns his love, but declines his offer of marriage because he lives a life of luxurious idleness; she endeavors to persuade him to a life of speculative activity. He finally agrees and opens an office on Wall street, and is asked to join forces with Hillary in putting through a gigantic deal.

Le Baron discovers that Hillary's motives are dishonest and refuses to have any hand in the transaction. Hillary agrees to drop the deal providing Le Baron will keep the nature of his intended swindle a secret. Le Baron agrees, gathers a party of friends, embarks on his yacht and sets sail. Hillary changes passage on an Atlantic liner and starts for England. A wireless message to Hillary from his confederates is oddly intercepted on the yacht by Le Baron, revealing to Le Baron the fact that Hillary is pushing the deal close, notwithstanding his promise to drop it. Le Baron immediately sets sail for New York, and the fight for supremacy begins. This leads to the climax of the third act, which brings down the curtain amidst thunders of applause. Bright flashes of comedy penetrate the play, and the love interest is not forgotten in this truly wonderful story, which may be classed as one of the great theatrical successes of the season.

Seats on Sale This Morning. This morning, with the opening of Matson's book store, seats will go on sale for "The Ringmaster," and it will be wise to show up early, because from all reports the demand for these seats is going to be a rush.

CARRIZO IS NOW SEAT OF LINCOLN COUNTY

Judge Cooley Holding Court There and New Town Appears to Have Won the Fight.

Although the legal action has not been finally concluded, Carrizozo appears to have won its fight for the county seat of Lincoln county, which went to that place from the famous old town of Lincoln some time ago upon a vote of the people of the county, which declared in favor of Carrizozo. The people of Lincoln at first accepted the decision of the ballots, but later filed a petition for an injunction restraining the removal of the seat of government. The temporary injunction was granted, but upon hearing the permanent injunction was refused by Judge Cooley, and he opened court for the first time in Carrizozo on Monday of this week. This action is considered to settle the matter and to establish Carrizozo as the county seat.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED AFTER LONG CHASE

New Yorker Wanted for $107,000 Frauds Arrested by Post-office Inspector in German Capital.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Berlin, Nov. 4.—Martin Kaufmann of New York was arrested tonight by former United States Postoffice Inspector Henry G. Hill on the charge of frauds amounting to $107,000 in connection with the Cotton Goods Converter company of New York.

For a long time Kaufmann was considered one of the most trustworthy business men of New York. His partner, M. A. Isaacs, had such implicit confidence in Kaufmann's integrity that, according to Hill, he induced a number of his friends to take shares in the business.

The business proceeded satisfactorily for six months until a Cincinnati merchant named Plum, who had invested in the company, asked a customer to settle an outstanding account which the customer declared was not due. An investigation of the company's accounts followed and resulted in the discovery of a number of falsified entries amounting to $107,000. Kaufmann in the meantime had disappeared.

Postoffice Inspector Hill was placed in charge of the case. It was known that Kaufmann had sailed for Europe but no clue could be found until his wife, who is in business in Lawrence, Mass., dropped a paper containing a photograph of a hotel. Neither the name of the hotel nor the name of the city was mentioned but a window was marked and above it were the words, "this is my room," in Kaufmann's handwriting.

After many difficulties the hotel was located in Vienna, where Kaufmann resided under the name of Marvin Kent. He had ordered that his mail should be sent to a tourist's office in Berlin. He called there this afternoon and Hill accosted him. At first Kaufmann stoutly denied his identity. Later he admitted that he was the man and was arrested. He now awaits extradition papers from the United States.

FAMOUS MINE CASE GOES INTO COURT ONCE MORE

Compromise Mine Which Has Figured in United States Supreme Court Has Another Battle to Fight.

Attorney E. W. Dobson will leave tonight for Carrizozo, where he goes to appear as attorney for the Compromise Mine company, owners of the famous Compromise mine in the White Oaks district of Lincoln county. In a suit involving a considerable portion of the mining company's holdings. The history of the litigation involving this mine, which is one of the most valuable in Lincoln county, is an interesting chapter in the legal annals of New Mexico. Five years ago, or more, the ownership of the property came into question, and the late William B. Childress, one of its owners, carried the case through the New Mexico courts and to the United States supreme court, where he won a complete victory.

No sooner had the final court given its decision than it was discovered that claims had been filed on which overlapped more than one-half of the property of the Compromise company. This latter action is the one in which Colonel Dobson is to appear in the new county seat of Lincoln county.

MORSE NOW CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE ATCHISON

Succeeds W. B. Story, Jr., Elected Vice President in Charge of Construction Engineering.

The appointment of chief engineer of maintenance of way of the Santa Fe system, with headquarters at Chicago, has been made to Charles Adelbert Morse, until recently chief engineer for the lines east of Albuquerque. He assumed his new position November 1, with headquarters at Chicago. His successor has not been named.

Mr. Morse succeeds W. B. Story, Jr., who was recently elected vice president in charge of construction engineering. Heretofore Mr. Story was chief engineer of the system, in charge of both the construction and maintenance, but when Mr. Morse's appointment goes into effect separate offices for each department will be installed at Chicago. Mr. Morse will have charge of the maintenance of the entire system.

He has been chief engineer of the Santa Fe at Topeka since September 1, 1906. Before this he was chief engineer for the coast lines of the Santa Fe. His appointment is a reward of effort and efficiency.

He was born at Bangor, Me., January 1, 1859. He received his education in the public schools of that city and also graduated from the engineering department of the University of Maine.

He came to the Santa Fe in January, 1886. Ten years after he was made resident engineer of what was then called the Chicago division, with headquarters at Fort Madison, Iowa. From this place he was transferred several times until he was appointed to the position he now holds.

Remember: Friday evening, November 5th, is the date of the social hop to be given by the philanthropic department of the Woman's club. The music will be in charge of Mrs. Cavanaugh, and the price of admission will be fifty cents.

CARVING SCRAPE AT ALAMEDA FAMILY ROW

Pereca Alleges Senas, Father and Son, Persecuted Him and He Went in to Restore Peace in the Family.

Two complaints of assault with deadly weapons which were before Justice of the Peace George R. Craig yesterday against Antonio Lucero y Pereca, who was brought to the county jail Wednesday afternoon, charged with having beaten Manuel Sena with a beer bottle and carved up Nestor Sena with a knife, developed into something of a family ruction. The case had not been concluded yesterday afternoon, the plaintiffs and defendants bringing down a considerable number of witnesses from Alameda.

The Senas, father and son, charge that Pereca, the elder Sena's son-in-law, wantonly and without provocation started in Tuesday night to exterminate his wife's relations. Pereca seems to have had a pretty fair start from the appearance of the two Senas men who are the complaining witnesses in this case. The elder man has numerous bruises about the head and face and the son has an equal number of savage knife wounds in his face. Pereca claims that the Senas annoyed him and that family relations were not pleasant. He appears to have taken rather a violent course to restore peace. Pereca will probably be bound over to the grand jury.

William Coleman Cook Chosen by County Commissioners to Succeed M. J. McGuinness Who Has Completed Course.

At a brief meeting of the board of county commissioners yesterday morning the resignation of M. J. McGuinness as indigent student at the University of New Mexico was received and accepted, and William Coleman Cook was chosen to fill out the unexpired term. This appointment to the University of New Mexico is made under a law of the legislature of 1907, re-enacted in 1909, by which each board of county commissioners is entitled to appoint one student to any one of the several territorial educational institutions for a term of three years, the student to receive instruction free of cost. A considerable sum in the aggregate is appropriated by the legislature to pay the expenses of these students. One student has already completed his work in the University under this law. McGuinness, who has just retired, has completed his course and Cook, the new appointee has two years of the term for his work.

CORN LIQUOR SPREADS THE DEADLY PELLAGRA

New Reason Why Frail Humans Avoid Kenney's Famous Product.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 4.—Not alone corn and the ordinary products of food made from that cereal, but the distilled spirits of that grain, corn "liquor," plays an important part in the cause of the disease pellagra.

This was declared today at the second day's session of the national conference on pellagra by more than one distinguished physician. There is a growing conviction, according to several speakers, that pellagra already is attacking horses, cows, hogs, etc., as well as human beings.
