ASTOR'S YACHT UNITED STATES MAN Y NARROW REPORTED IN WINS BARREN ESCAPES IN SAN JUAN VICTORY IN FLAMING MONDAY OIL CASE SHIP

Red D. Liner at Willemstad With News That Missing Vessel Was Safe in Porto Rico Harbor a Week Ago.

FRIENDS NO LONGER FEAR FOR MILLIONAIRE'S FATE

Government Calls Off Revenue Cutter Sent in Search of Nourmahal; Porto Rico Still Cut Off from World.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Tampa, Fla., Nov. 22.—At 12:30 this morning, wireless communication with Guantanamo was established here and a partial confirmation of the safety of the Nourmahal, at San Juan, was secured. The wireless station at that point reported having heard messages early today to the effect that the Nourmahal was safe in port. Efforts to raise San Juan have been unsuccessful.

The steamer Mascotte of the P. & O. line, which reached here yesterday evening, reported hearing a portion of the message to the same effect yesterday.

Sunday night is usually an off night at the wireless station and it is exceedingly difficult to get any of the stations to answer.

SAFE AT SAN JUAN

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 15. Willemstad, Curacao, Nov. 21.—(Bulletin)—John Jacob Astor's steam yacht Nourmahal was safe in the harbor of San Juan, P. R., on November 15, according to the report brought here by the Red D. liner Caracas today. The Caracas reports that the Nourmahal arrived at San Juan on November 14, and that she was there on the 15th.

WELCOME NEWS TO ANXIOUS NEW YORKERS. New York, Nov. 21.—News from Willemstad, Curacao today that Colonel John Jacob Astor's yacht Nourmahal was safe at San Juan, P. R., on November 15, coming on the heels of last night's alarming report that a derelict sighted, north of Cuba, might be the Astor yacht, was a welcome relief from the anxiety which his relatives and friends had expressed here since the West Indian region was cut off from communication by the hurricane two weeks ago.

The news was passed along to Douglas Robinson and Nicholas Biddle, trustees of the Astor estate, and Mr. Biddle promptly filed messages with the wireless and cable companies to Mrs. Astor, who sailed for Europe on Wednesday last on the Lusitania, soon after obtaining a decree of divorce.

At the time of her departure the anxiety over Colonel Astor and his son, Vincent, had just begun to develop seriously, but Mrs. Astor was considerably upset, especially concerning the son.

It was in answer to instructions broadcast to Associated Press correspondents in and around the West Indian region that the information came from Willemstad today that the Caracas, a Red D. liner, had arrived there and reported the Nourmahal safe at San Juan, on November 15.

When Colonel Astor sailed from New York, it was with the particular purpose, he said, of avoiding "meddling persons." In that purpose the steamer and interruption of cable service, certainly carried out his wishes, for it is not known here whether he has yet received cablegrams advising him that Mrs. Astor obtained her divorce.

The yacht carried Colonel Astor, his son, Vincent, who was 18 years old last week, Vincent's tutor, Hans Kallenborn and a crew of forty-five men and officers.

WILL ATTEMPT TO GET SAN JUAN ON WIRELESS

Key West, Fla., Nov. 21.—When the wireless station closed today the operator reported no word has come from any of the numerous craft attempting to locate Colonel John Jacob Astor's yacht Nourmahal. The station will open at 2 o'clock Monday morning when an effort will be made to get into communication with the wireless station at San Juan, where the yacht was reported to have been on November 15.

REVENUE CUTTER ORDERED TO ABANDON SEARCH

Washington, Nov. 21.—A wireless message reached the United States revenue cutter service today stating that John Jacob Astor's yacht, the Nourmahal, had been discovered riding in safety inside the harbor of San Juan, P. R. Captain Worth C. Fox, in command of the service, was so satisfied with its genuineness that he sent a wireless dispatch to the revenue cutter Yamacraw, which was engaged in searching in West Indian waters for the missing yacht, to return.

General Counsel for Standard and Attorney General of Missouri Both Agree as to Effect of Verdict.

DOES NOT ORDER THE COMPANY DISSOLVED

Distribution of Shares of Subsidiaries Ordered, Which Will Have No Effect on Control of Corporation.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] New York, Nov. 21.—Mortimer F. Elliot, general counsel for the Standard Oil company, said today in commenting for the first time on the decision against the company handed down yesterday by the United States circuit court at St. Paul:

"I have seen what purports to be the text of the decree handed down by the United States circuit court yesterday. The company will take an immediate appeal to the United States supreme court and will cheerfully abide by the verdict of the highest court in the land, whatever that may be.

"Arguments in this case began last April and we are glad to have reached an opinion. I don't mean we are pained with the opinion itself, but we are glad to get it whatever its nature.

"The decree does not order a dissolution of the Standard Oil company; that is a misunderstanding. What the decree orders, as I now understand it, is that the company shall distribute among its stockholders of whom there are approximately 5,000, its holdings.

President Taft and Secretary Knox at White House Conference Decide on Course of Vigorous Action.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Washington, Nov. 21.—Following a conference with the president at the White House tonight on the Nicaraguan situation, Secretary of State Knox authorized the following statement:

"If certain representations of fact which have been made to the state department concerning the Groce and Cannon cases are verified by inquiries that have been made, this government will at once prepare a demand on the Nicaraguan government for reparation for the death of these two men."

LEAGUE ISLAND NAVY YARD TO SEND MARINES

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Active preparations are being made at the Philadelphia navy yard for the sailing of the cruisers Dixie and Prairie. The latter is expected to sail for Panama on Thanksgiving day with 400 marines.

TRANSPORT ORDERED TO SAIL FOR PANAMA

Washington, Nov. 21.—For two hours tonight President Taft conferred with Secretary Knox on the Nicaraguan situation. The secretary, accompanied by Henry M. Hoyt, counsel of the state department, reached the White House shortly after nine o'clock. Mr. Knox previously conferred with Assistant Secretary Huntington Wilson.

It was announced neither the secretary nor the president had any further to say on the subject.

Passengers Give Graphic Account of Fire at Sea Which Destroyed North Pacific Liner St. Croix.

BRAVE SEAMEN OVERCOME FIGHTING TO SAVE VESSEL

Bursting Ammonia Pipes Drive Crew to Decks; Refugees Hungry and Footsore Cared for in Los Angeles.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Los Angeles, Nov. 21.—Famished, nearly exhausted and garbed mostly in borrowed clothes the 105 men, women and children who were passengers on the steamer St. Croix which burned and sank last night off Point Duma, 18 miles up the coast from Santa Monica, arrived here today. With them came the 78 officers and members of the crew, likewise exhausted and destitute.

The survivors had walked, ridden and made their way to Santa Monica as best they could from the isolated landing place.

Mrs. L. A. Wallace, of Berkeley remains at the beach city in a hospital with her six months' old baby. Mrs. Wallace was severely injured about the lower limbs when an eye-bolt securing a davit rope broke and the boat she was in plunged bow-first into the sea. She and the baby, with the fourteen other occupants of the boat were thrown into the water, but were rescued by her husband and two other men who dived from the upper works of the burning vessel.

"Herbert, the 6 year old son of Charles Veilbaum, of San Francisco, was saved at the same time by Edward Norris, a ship's quartermaster, aided by Mrs. Grace Thomas, wife of a racing man, of Victoria, B. C., who proved herself heroine.

Captain Frederick Warner, came into Santa Monica among the last of the shipwrecked throng. Some of these had toiled afoot over the four miles of rough mountain trails. Others, all women, who had been frightened into helplessness were brought on stretchers, born by foot-sore men.

Captain Warner graphically described the burning of his ship and the rescue from the vessel of the passengers.

"When the first alarm was given Warner ordered full speed astern to prevent the ship's forward movement fanning the flames which he said were bursting from the ports.

"Only a half hour elapsed from then until the ship had been deserted, several who had fallen into the life boats in the hasty scramble for the life saws had been picked up and the sailors had begun a four hours pull for the shore.

"I was in my cabin when someone ran to my door and shouted, 'captain, the ship is afloat below the second cabin.' I hurried to the first officer, Mr. Miller, in the next cabin, to take charge of the watch below and went on the bridge and ordered full speed astern to stop the ship's headway in order not to fan the flames which I saw bursting from the after ports.

"An alarm was sounded. Each man of the crew sprang promptly to his station.

"Mr. Miller soon had five lines of hose rigged. The ship had come to a full stop and the passengers were placed in the boats when the first officer reported that the ammonia pipes of the refrigerating plant had burst and that the pungent vapor was overwhelming his men. The fire was gaining aft to the second cabin. The apparatus started somewhere in the second cabin and the powerful draft was drawing it down through the shaft to the boiler room.

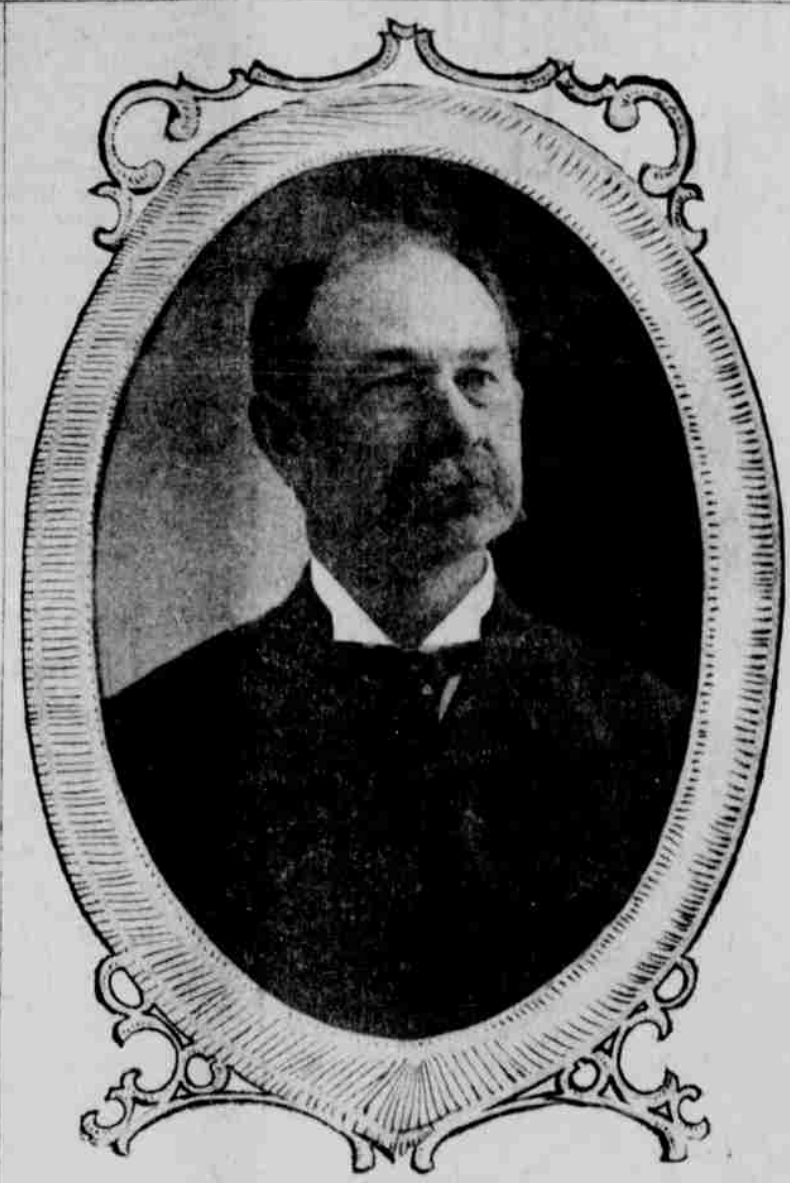

"By this time the fire fighting force was being overcome, men after man, and the hose lines were abandoned. Realizing the fight then was hopeless, I ordered the men up from below and the fire room cleared.

"At no time was there any serious confusion. The passengers all provided themselves with life preservers. Mrs. Wallace afterward said that it was a life preserver that enabled her to keep herself and baby up after they had fallen into the water.

"Boat No. 1 was the first to be filled and I ordered it cast loose. An eye-bolt on the stern post drew out and the boat up-ended. This threw some of the passengers into the sea and slightly injured a few.

"It was then that Mrs. Wallace and little Veilbaum went overboard. I saw several men jump over to the rescue. Immediately I shouted to let the other davit rope go and the boat righted itself immediately.

"In a moment those who had fallen overboard, or had jumped into the sea were back on board, the boat was bailed out and on its way outside the line of danger. A few life rafts were manned but these were abandoned and those on them were taken into the boats."

JUDGE IRA A. ABBOTT
Of the Second Judicial Court, Probable Next Governor of New Mexico.

NEW MEXICO MAN TO GET JOB SAYS ABBOTT

District Court Judge Non-Committal As to Report He Will be Made Governor of New Mexico.

URGED DELIBERATION IN APPOINTMENT

Generally Believed Albuquerque Jurist is Choice of President as Successor to George Curry.

"I have not been a candidate for governorship," was as near as Judge Ira A. Abbott of the Second Judicial district court, would come yesterday to denying the Chicago story of his appointment as published yesterday in the Morning Journal. Judge Abbott returned on the limited yesterday from Washington, where he was recently summoned to confer with the president, Secretary Ballinger and Attorney General Wickersham about New Mexico matters, chiefly the matter of a successor to George Curry as governor of the territory.

While Judge Abbott is somewhat non-committal as to whether he has actually been made a positive or tentative offer of the position it is generally believed that he is the choice of the president and Mr. Ballinger for governor, a choice which meets with the approval of the people, not only of Albuquerque but of the territory in general. The high place Judge Abbott is known to occupy in the regard of President Taft, coupled with his recent urgent summons to come to Washington all go to confirm the belief that he can have the position if he wants it.

Judge Abbott was shown by a Morning Journal representative yesterday the Chicago dispatch of Sunday morning, announcing the publication in the Chicago Journal of the positive statement, based on his Washington correspondence, that Judge Abbott will be the next governor.

"I don't know how the report published in the Chicago Journal could have originated," said Judge Abbott. "When I saw the president a short time before I left Washington Thursday, he said to me, 'I am going to appoint you as governor of New Mexico. I was called to Washington by a telegram from Attorney General Wickersham for consultation on matters relating to the department of justice. The president, however, did me the honor to ask for my opinion in regard to various gentlemen who had been mentioned for the governorship. I urged upon him at the last moment, the advisability of waiting until he could hear from citizens of the territory, who are well acquainted with men and affairs here, as to who would be the best man for the place. I thought he seemed disposed to follow such a course. Personally I have not been at any time a candidate for the governorship, although, naturally, I can not prevent the people saying what they choose about the matter. I believe the president is desirous of appointing a resident of New Mexico to the position.'"

Choice Evidently Satisfactory to the People.

The news published yesterday morning in the Morning Journal to the effect that Judge Ira A. Abbott is expected to be the next governor of New Mexico excited great interest in this city yesterday, and from the general expression of opinion there is no doubt that his selection would be more satisfactory to the public generally than any other that could be made.

Business men and average citizens, who are interested in a business administration for the best interests of the people at large, irrespective of politics, were particularly pleased at the announcement. Judge Abbott, during his residence in this city, has earned the respect of everyone. He has attended strictly to business and his administration of court affairs has been marked throughout by strict integrity and judicial impartiality. He has kept entirely free from political entanglements of any kind, but has been a close observer of conditions in the territory and has consequently acquired a broad knowledge of New Mexico people and affairs, which would prove invaluable to him in the executive position.

Judge Abbott is generally regarded as a man of more than judicial ability; is conservative and careful but at the same time a man of decision of character and with the courage of his convictions. In fact, there is no valid objection that could be brought against him, and he could be relied upon to administer the affairs of the territory with an eye single to the general welfare and the betterment of conditions in every way.

It is generally hoped that he will accept the position at this time when a wise and impartial administration means so much to the people of New Mexico.

TRAVELER'S ORDER LOSES $27,000

Books Show Big Shortage, But Treasurer is Given Vote of Confidence; Suicide Book-keeper Blamed.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] St. Louis, Nov. 21.—Louis T. Labadie, national secretary and treasurer of the Travelers' Protective association of America has resigned and the board of directors today accepted the resignation. A shortage of at least $27,000, it was announced, exists in the books of the order.

The directors, in accepting the resignation, gave him a vote of confidence and he will continue with the organization in a minor capacity.

Labadie, in a statement issued tonight, said the records of the William Henrich, head bookkeeper who committed suicide July 27, show a shortage but the auditors have not been able to show the exact amount.

FACES CHARGE KNOWN DEAD 92 OF SLAYING 20 SAVED AND HATTON GIRL 198 MISSING GIRL AT CHERRY

Mounted Police Arrest Epimienta Sanchez Alleged to Have Committed Ghastly Crime Near Los Tanos.

WILL KEEP PRISONER AWAY FROM SANTA ROSA

Suspect Taken Into Custody in Small Town in San Miguel County Forty Miles from a Railroad.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Charged with the fiendish murder and assault of Sallie Hatton between Santa Rosa and Los Tanos, N. M., September 25 last, Epimienta Sanchez was arrested today at Los Colonias, San Miguel county, forty miles from the railroad.

By mounted Policemen W. E. Dudley of Alamogordo, and A. A. Sena of Los Vegas, following a long and patient pursuit of their quarry by these officers. News of the arrest, with no details, was received by Captain Fred Fornoff of the mounted police in Santa Fe today. What will be done with the prisoner is not known. He may be brought here to be placed in the penitentiary for safe-keeping and on the other hand the officers may take their prisoner to Tucuman or Alamogordo.

The officers will not take the risk of taking their man to Santa Rosa as the feeling in that section is so intense on account of the unspeakable crime that a lynching would certainly follow.

Mounted Policemen Dudley has been detailed on this case from the first and long after the people of Santa Rosa and Los Tanos had given up the capture of the criminal, Dudley later assisted by Sena, kept working quietly and industriously, picking up one clue after another and following it to the end. What the evidence is against Sanchez is not known, but it is understood to be strong.

The story of the assault and murder of young and pretty Sallie Hatton as she was riding from Santa Rosa to her home in Los Tanos, is still fresh in the public mind, one of the most terrible and cold-blooded crimes ever committed in New Mexico. The body of the girl, horribly mutilated, was found in a lonely arroyo and her clothes and belongings and horse were discovered later. The trail of the murderer appeared to lead to Santa Rosa, but in spite of days of tireless searching by practically all the residents of Santa Rosa and Los Tanos, the man had covered up his tracks so skillfully that not a trace of him could be found. Dudley followed one supposed clue after another to Hutchinson, Kan., only to find he was on a false scent.

A pitiful feature of the tragedy was the death some weeks ago of the dead girl's father from a broken heart, following days and days of brooding over the terrible death of his daughter.

UNION EMPLOYEES OF HOMESTAKE MAY STRIKE

Resentment Over Open Shop Order Sent Out by Company.

Lead, S. D., Nov. 21.—Union employees of the Homestake mine voted tonight in mass meeting to ask permission of their parent bodies to strike against the order that no union men are to be employed after January 1, 1910.

Practically all of the workers are members of the Western Federation of Labor. The meeting was attended by 2,500 men.

The local manager says he has no authority to withdraw the obnoxious order.

Shipwrecked Yachtsman Safe.

Paris, Nov. 21.—A dispatch from Puchal, Madeira says Eugene Higgins and his friends arrived there well. His yacht Varuna which went ashore on the northwest coast cannot be approached as the seas are high and breaking over her. The captain says the yacht was out of her course for some reason unknown and he maintains that there was a strong and unusual current which carried the vessel into the shoals.

Henderson, Neb., Nov. 21.—The annual conference of the Mennonite Brethren of the United States began here today in the local church of that denomination. Nearly 4,000 delegates from all over the United States and a number from Canada are present.

Rescue Band Works Nobly All Day Sunday Without Adding Any to Number of Survivors. Ten Bodies Recovered.

DAY OF FUNERALS IN STRICKEN VILLAGE

Hope Held Out for Many Still Imprisoned Though Help Must Come Soon to Save Them from Starvation.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Cherry, Ill., Nov. 21.—Twenty saved, ninety-two known dead and 198 missing was the record at the St. Paul mine tonight. What had promised to be Cherry's real day of thanksgiving ended in a night of hope deferred, or despair.

Ten dead were brought to the surface today and thirty-seven more dead were located in the second level, but were not brought up on account of black damp.

At the end of the day no living man or boy had been added to the list of the twenty rescued yesterday.

All day the tolling of church bells resounded in Cherry and Spring Valley. Eighteen bodies were interred.

At the mine a dozen coffined victims remained awaiting removal, while a score of caskets were piled nearby for the bodies which are to come. Services for the dead were held outside the churches into which Customer Main deemed it inadvisable that the bodies be taken.

From the yet unopened graves in which the Roman Catholic dead were placed, the priest hurried to the mine entrance, where, with a second priest he waited to administer the last rites for the dying should his services be needed.

Mayor Connolly telegraphed President Taft at Washington last night that twenty men had been rescued and that 150 were believed to be alive.

"The men they brought up could not have lived more than a few hours longer," said one despairing woman. "If they don't come up today they'll come up dead."

The rescuers worked as if this was their belief. The fire in the second level was forced back and early in the afternoon the workers could pass it. The black damp was the obstacle that proved insurmountable to the men.

Through it the bodies of thirty-seven men could be seen. Preparations for the taking out of thirty-seven bodies visible to the explorers were rushed when the morbid throng about the mine had thinned.

That the bodies might have been taken up earlier was admitted by those in charge of the work, but they thought of the scenes that would have ensued.

In the main level the work of the rescuers went on unceasingly. Delays of eager miners succeeded those whose strength failed. Those who staggered from the pit mouth were surrounded instantly and a babel of questions were hurled at them.

"We can see the bodies. There are piles of them. They are dead, boys, all dead," was the reply of the first and those who followed gave no more cheering answers.

"But they could be living back there, they could be alive, tomorrow couldn't they?" came a voice from the group about one.

"No chance," began the miner, then paused, as he saw the trembling hands of the old man who had pressed to his side.

"Why, sure, didn't the others come out?" was the quick reply. "Don't you worry, it'll be up soon."

The pressure of the crowd was not the only reason which led the rescuers to delay in bringing bodies to the surface. Black damp was present where the dead lay in a group, just as they had fallen when their lives were snuffed out. "Klondike," who had worked among the dead in many mine disasters, "Bab" Murray, who also holds black damp in considerable contempt, and others, are said to have volunteered to remove the bodies to clear a passage for a further search for any who may remain alive in the further recesses of the gallery.

Conservative counsel prevailed and the hoisting of the bodies was delayed until the noxious gases had been sucked out by the big ventilating fan.

Richard Newson, president of the Illinois board of mine inspectors, clings to the belief that many yet live.

"Scotchmen are the most resourceful miners in the world," he said, "and there are twenty-two of them down there dead or living. I can see no reason why they should not have found some refuge just as did those who came up yesterday. But eight lads have passed and we must hurry if they are not to perish of thirst and starvation. Everything possible to hurry on the work of exploration is being done."

It was reported tonight that labor leaders, who have been making a quiet investigation of the disaster have called a meeting for tomorrow.

PATHEIC LETTERS

WRITTEN IN GLOOM
Cherry, Ill., Nov. 21.—Letters written in their underground prison by the twenty miners rescued after yesterday's mine disaster. The two Piggitt brothers, Joe and Salvatore, wrote several short notes but all of the same tenor, save that in one a desire was expressed that their funeral be embellished with a brass band. On of the most touching was written by John Lorimer to his wife Sadie.

Lorimer is a young Scotchman from Ayrshire, which country he left ten years ago. He is an experienced miner, and, like his wife, a constant attendant at church.

"He just laughs and says he will go back to the mine when he is well, although I'd be willing, after what has happened, to support him myself if he would only get safer work," said Mrs. Lorimer. "Heaven knows he has been a good man these three years we've been married. Never stopped beyond the door at night except on lodge nights."

As was the case at the house of each of the score of men rescued alive yesterday, Lorimer received in his bedroom many callers, some of them relatives and others who wished to congratulate him on his escape.

Lorimer's letter written in the face of death, as were the others following, "Dear Wife—I am still living although it is now 4 o'clock Sunday morning and there is little hope, as the black damp is getting the best of us. There are 21 of us altogether here. Dear wife do not grieve; we will meet again. God bless you. Believe in Him. He will take care of you. I guess we will meet in a better land. When you get this let them know at home (Scotland). That is all dear. God bless you."

"YOUR LOVING HUSBAND"

One of the Piggitt letters signed by the two brothers concludes with this vein:

"We desire a hand with our funeral and we wish to be buried side by side."

Another portion of the letter refers to "our miserable tomb, where five of us still live, although without knowing whether we shall ever emerge alive."

All the farewells were written on paper from the mine book carried by Walter Waite. Waite had the only lead pencil in the group and it passed from hand to hand in order that all might write.

One instance of the self sacrifice of the more sturdy prisoners was related by Lorimer today.

"Walter didn't think that was his name—was thirty years old and the weaker among us," said Lorimer. "Our greatest suffering came from thirst for only thumbfuls of water could be got from the seepage. Walter grew so exhausted that he could not stoop over but had to lie on his face to drink. We made holes in the ground with our fingers and then waited for the slow seepage of the water into them. It kept us busy but we always were feverish with thirst. I tell you that when a little water filled into a hole there wasn't a man but craved it. But the stronger men frequently passed their turn to let the old men drink."

ENTOMBED MEN FIGHT

TO SAVE SICK COMRADE

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 21.—The story of a desperate fight waged in the depths of the mine by one faction of twenty-one entombed miners against another, over the scant water supply was told here today by the Antonios, one of the rescued men.

According to Antonios's account the saving of the sick man was accomplished only after one group, headed by a branny miner whose name all refused to divulge, had been overpowered by the others. Bitter personalities were exchanged, blows struck and finally knives were drawn. There were three sick men in the party. A group headed by Cleland and Waite insisted that the sick men should have the first call on the water supply that seeped into the shallow pits. At last one other man, physically stronger than the others, tried to take the water from the sick.

"We found someone was pushing Wadonczak, the weakest of the party, away from the water and stealing it," said Antonios. Wadonczak was too weak to resist. After he told us a secret guard was established over him and we soon found the man who was stealing the water. We gave him a bad beating and he resisted, finally drawing a knife. We felled him with an axe handle and dragged him into a corner. After we had no trouble.

"During the last two days the feeling of rebellion died out, and we all became friends again."

FIFTY MEN ON STRIKE

IN DANGEROUS MINE

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 21.—Dissatisfied with the conditions in the shaft and the management fifty miners in the Marcellus coal mine went on strike last night. They say the mine owners refused to improve their property and that as a result of the strike the mine may be permanently closed. The situation at the mine was affected by the local disaster, although discontent among the workmen antedated the St. Paul mine fire.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 21.—The wireless operator here said tonight that at 5 p. m. today he caught this message from a ship at sea:

Speaking to the cutter Yamacraw, the wireless operator learned that the vessel had been ordered not to proceed further toward the north coast of Cuba, where the submerged wreck was sighted.

UNITED STATES WINS

BARREN VICTORY

in the stock of subsidiary companies. This distribution, I further understand, is ordered to be effected on a pro rata basis of apportionment. That is to say, the heaviest holders of Standard Oil stock would receive a proportional number of shares in the stock of subsidiary companies."

Mr. Elliot was asked what course the company would adopt if the verdict of the lower court should be upheld in the higher court.

"That," he said, "is something I shall be better prepared to discuss when I have seen the opinion by which the United States circuit court justifies its decree."

Henry Wellman, who represents the attorney general of Missouri in that state's suit against the Standard Oil company and conducted the examination in New York of the officers of the company, takes a view similar to that expressed by Mr. Elliot. He sums up the situation as "a theoretical victory."

"I cannot see," he said, "that any practical effort is to be expected. It seems as if the best the government can do is to order the sale of the property, and in that case the money, of course, goes to the present stockholders in some form or another. There is no confiscation, no punishment, as there would be in the case of criminal proceedings with the imposition of a big fine."

The case is similar to that of the coal roads which were forced to separate from their coal business and it is difficult to see, even if the decision is upheld by the supreme court, how the government can prevent the control of Standard Oil properties remaining in the same hands, even if it is sold up into its constituent properties. This has been the case in every suit in the past in which the law has compelled the dissolution of combinations. They have simply been put into different shape and have gone along more compactly than ever."

FEDERAL ATTORNEY SIMS

SUMMONED TO WASHINGTON

Chicago, Nov. 21.—United States District Attorney E. W. Sims, who was one of the prosecuting attorneys in the case before Judge Landis when the Standard Oil company was fined $2,240,000 for alleged violation of the Elkins' rebate law and his assistant, J. H. Wilkerson, left for Washington today. It was said the trip is on business connected with Saturday's decision against the Standard.

COMMENT ON DECISION

Cleveland, O., Nov. 21.—"I simply can not comment on the decision of the United States circuit court on the government's complaint against the Standard Oil company," said John D. Rockefeller, at church today.

VENEZUELAN FEAR CASTRO IN EXILE

PRISONS FILLED WITH FRIENDS OF EX-DICTATOR

Serious Unrest in Republic Due to Plots of Deposed Ruler is Claim of Existing Regime.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Caracas, Nov. 21.—Former President Castro, an exile in Santander, Spain, is accused daily by the highest officials of the Venezuelan government of attempting to foment a revolution against the Gomez reign. The continued agitation caused by the wholesale arrests of Castro partisans by the recent sensational split in the liberal party when an attempt was made to reorganize it and by the near approach of the next session of congress which will elect a constitutional president, has stirred political feeling, causing unrest and uncertainty.

Either a serious condition does exist in Venezuela due to steps being taken by the overthrown dictator to wreak vengeance on President Gomez or there is an object which inspires the government to make it appear that Castro is busy conspiring with his followers. This object, opponents of Gomez say, is perhaps to justify the wholesale arrests which have been made.

Everyone believes Castro never will rest until he has made another effort to ruin those who are responsible for his downfall. Times are hard for Castro's friends in Venezuela today. The following are among many notable languishing in the same prisons which they once filled with their enemies.

Rafael Mendez, Castro's boon companion and financier who made millions for himself, Simon Bellow, Castro's brother-in-law, Trino Castro, Castro's brother, R. Castells Chapele, the chief of the Castro party in the late congress and General Celestino Peraza, leader of the opposition in congress.

Peraza was imprisoned because he was about to start a newspaper to oppose the election of President Gomez. Many of the best friends of Gomez believe the reorganization of the liberal party now going on threatens the present administration and that at the last moment congress will bring forward a man to oppose Gomez. Such able and faithful supporters of Gomez as General Leopoldo Baptista, who was the brains of the reaction against Castro, and Ramon Ayala, first vice president of Venezuela, have emphatically refused to serve in the party organization or to countenance it in any way.

MUST EXPLAIN EXECUTION OF AMERICANS

retary for the White House would discuss in any way the pending difficulty with Nicaragua and both the president and Mr. Knox refused flatly to make any comment on the presidential talk.

The secretary carried a formidable array of papers when he entered his carriage to drive to the White House and Counselor Hoyt also carried a bulging portfolio.

The only other event of importance that transpired in the day was the dispatch of orders to the transport Buffalo on duty on the Pacific coast to sail at once for Panama. The navy department's instructions to the commander of the Buffalo were clear and explicit and the vessel was expected to sail tonight from Pichilique bay, California, after taking on adequate supplies of coal and provisions.

This ordering of the Buffalo south on hurry-up schedule is taken to mean that the government is making ready to throw a column of United States marines into the Nicaraguan turmoil for the protection of American lives and property.

While the five hundred marines are scattered generally over the canal zone, they can be concentrated quickly in Panama by means of the railroad. Any expedition against Nicaragua in which the marines figure would be undertaken on the Pacific side of the isthmus. The Buffalo would land the men at the port of Colon, 40 miles from Managua.

The authorities tonight insist that the dispatch of the Buffalo is not to be accepted as meaning an expedition is to be launched against the Zelayan government but that the vessel is ordered south to be in readiness should occasion suddenly arise.

The Buffalo carries six guns, is of 4,585 tons burden and her engines develop 3,600 horse power. The vessel will be driven at top speed to Panama where on her arrival, her commander has been instructed to report immediately to Washington.

WEDDING PARTY DASHED TO DEATH

Three Lose Lives as Result of Chauffeur's Attempt to Light His Cigarette.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Cuthbert, Ga., Nov. 21.—Three persons are dead and two probably killed in a fatal automobile accident here late tonight.

The dead: CURTISS WILLIAMS, of Fort Gaines, Ga. JAMES SHEPARD, of Edison, Ga. H. SHEPARD, of Edison, Ga. The injured: Miss Helen Mattox, aged 20, Coleman, Ga.

Miss Mary Mattox, aged 16, Coleman, Ga. The accident occurred as the party was returning from Cuthbert to Coleman.

With the purpose of being married, James Shepard and Miss Helen Mattox, accompanied by Horace Shepard, a brother of the groom and Miss Mary Mattox, a sister of the bride-to-be, secured an automobile at Fort Gaines late this afternoon, and were quickly driven to Cuthbert by Curtis Williams. Upon reaching this point all the ministers refused to marry the couple on account of their youth, neither of them having passed their twentieth birthday. After being unable to secure the services of a minister the party hastily left the town. Speeding along at a rate of thirty miles an hour, while attempting to light a cigarette, Williams lost control of his machine, crossing a thirty-foot bridge over the Central of Georgia railway, and the party was dashed to the railroad tracks below.

WHOLESALE POISON PLOT STARTLES AUSTRIAN ARMY

Captains, Recently Promoted, Receive Gift of Deadly Pills; One Tries Dose, Dying Almost Instantly.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Vienna, Nov. 21.—An extraordinary attempt at wholesale poisoning among military officers here has caused a sensation. A large number of officers just promoted to captainships in the general staff, have received through the mail sample boxes of pills. These were accompanied by a circular recommending them for nervous debility. One of the officers, Captain Mader, took some of the pills and died almost immediately. An autopsy revealed presence of cyanide of potassium and that death had been caused by this poison.

A further investigation showed that all the pills contained cyanide of potassium in large quantities, and also that many of the first lieutenants attached to the staff but not promoted had not received pills. The circulars were signed "Charles Francis," and bore a false address.

All attempts so far to solve the mystery have failed and it is suggested that the poison may have been sent out by some disappointed officer or that the poisoning is an anarchist outrage.

PLAIN TALK FROM PULPIT OF RICH NEW YORK CHURCH

New York, Nov. 21.—"I deny the right of any man to exploit the land while there are hungry stomachs to fill," declared Dr. Haywood, pastor of the wealthy Baptist church of the Covenant.

"I let my property," he said, "to tenants for quite as little as will pay taxes and the expenses of one girl whom I am putting through college."

"The intellectual gymnastics of the average New York preacher when confronted with the text 'I am easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven,' are pitiable. I have known two rich religious men in my life. One is dead and the other is on the Bowery. He has given mil-

GOOD PROGRESS ON ISTHMIAN CANAL

Report of Chief Engineer Goethals Interesting Resume of What Has Been Accomplished During the Year.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire)

Washington, Nov. 21.—Satisfactory progress in the construction of the Panama canal is shown in the annual report of the isthmian canal commission for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1909, made public by the secretary of war today.

The report deals with the organization of the work, construction and engineering problems, civil government of the canal zone, the sanitary conditions which were greatly improved and the cost of the canal.

While the report contains few facts which have not been printed from time to time and scarcely any comment by Colonel Goethals, chairman of the commission and chief engineer of the work, it affords an interesting resume of what has been accomplished during the year.

Live News From New Mexico and Arizona

What's Doing all Over the Great Southwest

MAY NEED TROOPS TO OVERAWE BAD HOPIS

OLD TROUBLEMAKERS ARE BACK AT ORAIBI

Two Chiefs Trying to Rule Pueblo at the Same Time; Palefaces Ordered to Leave the Village.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Gallup, N. M., Nov. 21.—More vague and disquieting rumors about the pernicious activities of the Hopi Indians at Oraibi, Ariz., are coming in here daily. The latest news is that the Indians have served notice on all white people in Oraibi to leave at once or look for trouble and the palefaces, accordingly, are leaving the village. It is believed a demonstration by troops from Fort Wingate will be necessary to overawe the hostile Pueblo and bring them around. The recently returned chief who has served a prison sentence at Hualapai for making trouble some years ago, insists in resuming his leadership, and his successor appointed three years ago by Superintendent Reuben Perry now at Albuquerque, also wants to hold on to his job, and all sorts of complications have resulted. Antonio Armijo, keeper of a store at Oraibi, was ordered to leave, and closing his store he went to Kaan's canyon and notified the Indian agent there, Lorenzo Hubbell and Agent Milton, who went to the Pueblo, and are holding a session with the malcontents to bring them to terms. If they remain stubborn the troops will be at once notified.

It will be remembered that three years ago factional strife became so acute among the Hopi Mesa that a detachment of cavalry went to Oraibi and took a bunch of the bad braves prisoners and took them to Fort Huachuca, where they were imprisoned. These same men gathering around the ringleader chief, are at the bottom of the present trouble.

MINING MAGNATES INSPECT SANTA RITA CAMP

Millions of Dollars Represented by Visitors at Copper Mines; Wealthy Woman's Will to be Contested.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Silver City, N. M., Nov. 20.—Millions of dollars were represented by a party of mining capitalists who have just left for the east after an inspection of the Santa Rita mining properties lasting several days. The party was headed by C. M. McNell, president of the Chino Copper company. The party has previously inspected various southern Arizona mines in which the McNell members are interested.

The visit of these men is expected to mean more extensive work in the rich Chino properties.

Besides McNell, the party consisted of Charles Hayden, of Hayden & Stone, New York; A. Chester Beatty, a prominent mining engineer, of New York; Sherwood Aldrich, of Colorado Springs, president of the Ray Consolidated Gila Copper companies; Maxine Furland, of the Paris banking firm of Dupont and Furland; D. C. Jackson, of Salt Lake, vice president and general manager of Ray Consolidated Utah Copper and Gila Copper companies; W. H. Hinkley, of Boston; S. W. Mould, a mining engineer, of Los Angeles; and Henry Kramb, of Salt Lake, consulting engineer of the Inspiration and Ray Consolidated Copper companies.

The last payment on the famous Philadelphia mine at Hanover was made through the American National bank in this city last Saturday by the Philadelphia Copper Mines company, to Frank C. Bell, the former owner and operator of the property, says the Silver City Enterprise. Mr. M. S. Nord, from St. Paul, Minn., a stockholder and director of the company, represented the home office of the company at Milwaukee on this occasion. The payment amounted to the sum of $18,250 and completes the final transaction in the sale of the property made over two years ago. The purchase price being $75,000. The deed to the property was handed over to Mr. Nord and placed on record.

The Philadelphia Copper Mines Co. now owns the property intact, the title being passed upon by the well-known local firm of attorneys, Harlow & Harlow and being OK'd by them.

The Philadelphia Copper Mines Co. was organized in 1897 under the laws of New Mexico with a capitalization of $250,000 divided in 250,000 shares of the par value of $1.00 each. J. W. McAlpine, who organized the company, is the president and most of the other officers and directors are well-known business men and mining investors of Milwaukee, where the home offices of the company are located.

The late Miss Nannie Jackson, who died on November 2 at the Cottage Sanitarium here, left an estate valued at a quarter of a million dollars and the will left by the woman will be the subject of an interesting legal contest according to advices from Columbia, Tenn., the home of the deceased. Practically all of the money is left by her will to Rufus C. Jackson of Silver City. A Tennessee paper says:

"Miss Jackson was unmarried, a member of the wealthy Jackson family of Mt. Pleasant, one of the most prominent families of middle Tennessee. For many years she had been in poor health. She, with her three brothers inherited an estate valued at about $1,000,000. Her brothers, Charles Jackson and Cranberry Jackson, will be the antagonists.

"Miss Jackson left to the Old Woman's home at Nashville $5,000, and an equal sum to some charity in New York. Her will also provides for the erection of a costly mausoleum. The residue of the estate was given to Rufus Jackson, former editor of the Mt. Pleasant Chronicle and at present residing in Silver City, New Mexico, for the benefit of his wife's health."

$275,000.00 FOR IMPROVEMENTS AT FORT BAYARD

Heavy Expenditures by Government Will Make Sanitarium One of Greatest Institutions in the World.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Silver City, N. M., Nov. 20.—The government is going to spend some $275,000 next year in improvements at Fort Bayard, which will make the institution there one of the greatest of its kind in the world. Advertisements for bids for the work will be placed in November, the contracts will be let shortly after the first of the year, and it will take a year or more to finish them.

The improvements consist of three double and one single set of officers' quarters; power plant, consisting of pumping, refrigerating, ice-making and lighting plant for the entire post; one double and one single ward for the enlisted men; one double set of hospital sergeant's quarters.

Three double sets of officers' quarters are now nearing completion. Each is two full stories and a half in height and steam-heated. They are constructed of concrete brick made on the ground by Contractor Harlan and will be pebble dashed with red-tile roof, the tone-color of grey walls with red roof being a most harmonious one. The verandas are very broad and two stories in height and add very much to the comfort and appearance of the quarters. As each of these quarters cost over $25,000, some idea of their immense size and the modern conveniences with which they are provided, can be gained. Three more of the same size are to be erected during the coming year, also one single set for the use of the commanding officer.

The power plant will be built across the road from the present plant and will just double in capacity that plant. Everything, including the generators, the boilers, and the ice-making compressors, will be in duplicate so that in case of accident to one part there will be no resulting inconvenience. The lighting plant will have a capacity for 3,000 sixteen-candle power lights and also lights for exterior purposes so that Fort Bayard will in the future be a brilliantly illuminated place, both interior and exterior.

The two wards, one single and one double, will accommodate about 150 patients. There is already one set of double wards on the grounds so that with the two additional wards, the tents will be done away as there will be accommodations enough for all the patients inside the ward buildings. These buildings are comfortable, commodious structures so arranged that the beds can be rolled out upon the sleeping porches at night and into the wards in the morning, the wards being heated by steam heat. As soon as the contract for the new ward buildings and officers' quarters are let, the present wooden barracks, three in number and the four double and one single set of officers' quarters (adobe) will be sold to the highest bidder. The barracks although erected a number of years ago are in an excellent state of preservation.

The water supply of Fort Bayard is at present sufficient for all needs, although in the future it may have to be increased by a pipe line to the Clinch Springs near Pinos Altos. The present supply is obtained from three wells sunk in the creek bed and averages from 275,000 to 300,000 gallons daily.

LIVELY SCRAPPING AMONG UNTRIFIED IN CURRY COUNTY

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Clovis, N. M., Nov. 19.—Last night nearly one hundred and fifty democrats and interested spectators of Clovis precinct met in Owen hall to enter their protest at the methods of the organization of the county by Temporary Chairman C. R. Worrall, and to put out a ticket of ten candidates for the office of prosecuting attorney for Clovis precinct. The election for this precinct will be by ballot and will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow afternoon from 2 o'clock until early in the evening.

The democrats who met last night have been already labeled by the opposite wing of the party as "insurgents" or "bolters," and it is already quite evident that the campaigning which began early this morning, and which will last until the polls are closed tomorrow night, will be most strenuous.

"We do not desire to have, nor do we desire the name 'bolters,' as has been so generously applied by the Worrall element," said a prominent democrat who took part in last night's meeting, "but we are determined that the democratic party shall be run by the majority and not by one lone man and a few of his office-seeking political aspirants."

Chairman Worrall feels equally confident of his position as leader of the party, and seems to have all confidence in the outcome of the final election, which will be held in Clovis early in December to name the county chairman and other officers of the county organization, as he believes that the majority of the country precincts are with him. The objection raised against Chairman Worrall is that he is alleged to have sought an unfair advantage over the other members of the party, in the organization of the county precincts under the direction of Territorial Chairman Fitch. The democrats who returned from Albuquerque yesterday, where they attended the meeting of the territorial central committee in that city, made a strenuous fight in the committee appointed to inquire into the contest to have Worrall removed. However, there was only a compromise agreed upon, which seemed to leave the two wings of the party further apart and more determined than ever.

"This will give the republicans of this strongly democratic county a chance, now that the majority party is split divided," said a leading C. P. man today. "We hope to win on the merit of our candidates, however, but this division in the democratic camp will help some."

Both divisions of the party have outbatted this morning, which are being freely distributed throughout the city.

AGENT PURDY IS TRANSFERRED TO GALLUP

FORMER ALBUQUERQUE MAN GETS CHANGE

Some One Takes a Pot Shot at Harvey Moore; Avery Turner First Man to Enter New Mexico by Rail.

T. E. Purdy for many years agent for the Santa Fe company at Albuquerque and one of the most efficient and popular officials that ever served in that capacity here, has been transferred to Gallup from Williams, where he has been since leaving here and he will at once assume charge of the agent's office at the Carbon City.

Earl J. Nordyke, for a long time cashier in the Williams ticket office and agent at Holbrook and for the past few months agent at Ash Fork, succeeded Mr. Purdy as agent at Williams.

Mr. Purdy left at once for Gallup to relieve K. H. Gillette, the agent there. "The change came as a surprise to me," said Mr. Purdy in Williams. "I was not asking of looking for the appointment as agent at Gallup. I was well satisfied with my job although the Gallup agency pays more. My family loves Williams and I hate to leave here for it is a good town to live in."

Alex A. Johnston, the agent at Holbrook, has been offered the Ash Fork agency. He was earlier in the Williams depot previous to his appointment at Holbrook. It is understood that Mr. Johnston has declined and will remain at Holbrook.

HARVEY MOORE DUCKS WHEN SIX SHOOTER STARTS

They have been using Harvey Moore for a target over in Clovis, but at last someone no bullseyes were reported. Harvey was for many years connected with the Santa Fe offices here and his many Albuquerque friends will be interested to learn the result of the target practice. The Clovis Post tells it this way:

"One Mr. Wolfenbarger by name, who it seems was over anxious to secure a small bunch of diners in the form of a pay check for services rendered the Santa Fe Railroad company, and by reason of said said being under a garnishment the agent was unable to turn upon until said garnishment was satisfied, became suddenly mail at our agent, Harvey J. Moore by name and it came to pass that a shot was fired in the direction Harvey ran. The trouble as stated above, came up over a pay check which was in Mr. Moore's possession which under the law he could not turn over until the satisfaction of the garnishment was settled. Mr. Wolfenbarger could not see in this direction and at which moment he exposed a smoke pole, said by those about to be of large cannon size. After the shooting and counting of those not punctured, police assistance was secured and Mr. Wolfenbarger is now incarcerated in the county jail and Mr. Moore and his office force are doing double service in their respective place down at the depot."

EVERY TURNER FIRST MAN TO COME IN BY RAIL

It is not generally known that Avery Turner, vice president of the Peoos and North Texas railway, and the Southern Kansas Railway of Texas, and for years head of the Peoos valley system of the Santa Fe was absolutely the very first man to enter the territory of New Mexico by rail. Mr. Turner has been a prominent member of the railroad party accompanying the senate irrigation committee and while in El Paso he told the story as follows:

"It was back in 1870 when the Santa Fe tracks were laid across the Colorado line on the way to Santa Fe. At that time I was in charge of the track laying gang, and F. M. Hulse, who by the way, is with our party today, was chief engineer in charge of the operations."

"There was a husky young fellow, stronger than any of us who had boasted that he would run the first engine into the territory. We let him talk. But when we reached the place where a stake, and the husky man drove us all away from the engine and he ran it over the new bit of track. Then he crowded with his whistle, and made a great racket about what he had done."

Foiled the Other Man.

"Well, we let him crow. Now, when we had gone on for a quarter of a mile or so, I slipped off from the rest, and ran the engine on over the new track. And I was the first man to enter New Mexico by rail. Yes, we had driven the stake only to fool the husky man, and he never knew it until long afterwards."

"When the road was completed to Santa Fe, I was the first passenger conductor on the first regular run. We ran a little three coach train in those days. Later we put on a chair car, and it was a strange one from a modern viewpoint. The chairs were the 'sleepy hollow' kind, and they left the conductors on as that the floor was like a skating rink whenever the train stopped suddenly. But it was considered very fine then. That was in 1880."

Rapid Rise.

And so it was that Avery Turner told the story of a first invasion by rail of a territory which is now honeycombed with railroads. From that position of passenger conductor on the initial run, his rise was rapid. In 1881 he was appointed trainmaster at La Junta. And then he became superintendent of middle and southern division in Kansas and Oklahoma, which position he held seven years. For three years he served as assistant general superintendent in Topeka, and later was made superintendent of the Chicago and Kansas City division. Then he became vice president and general manager of the Peoos valley branch, active management being resigned but a few months ago.

CURIO SALES GOOD

SAYS Supt. JOHN STEIN

As a thermometer of trade the curio business cannot be lost. That is what John Stein, superintendent of the Fred Harvey company says, and Superintendent Stein should know.

Curios are a luxury that are purchased only with the spare change that is a margin on the investment in prosperity, the superintendent says. For this reason the business of a curio shop is the first to feel the heavy hand of hard times.

"The year 1906 was our banner year for the business enterprises conducted by the Fred Harvey company," is the way the superintendent sizes up the business situation the year preceding the public, in an interview by the El Paso Herald.

"The year 1908 was an improvement over the 1907 trade, for that was when the west felt the hard times the worst. While last year was not as good as the 1906 business, it showed a decided improvement. This year our business is going to break all records, even that of the prosperous 1906. Trade has been good at all of our places during the entire year and the Christmas trade promises to be the heaviest in years. The El Paso establishment of the Fred Harvey company is doing more than its share to boom the year's business and the company's interests here are in excellent condition at present."

While in El Paso Superintendent Stein made a large importation of local and Mexican goods for the different curio shops which are run in connection with the Harvey houses along the line of the Santa Fe.

Commenting November 15th, the coast lines have appointed four new officials as inspectors of transportation and switching, the appointments being as follows: A. F. Hunt, agent San Bernardino; C. C. Thompson, chief clerk to General Superintendent J. L. Hibbard, Los Angeles; G. H. Myer, chief clerk to E. J. Gibson, superintendent Winslow; and K. H. Gillette, agent at Gallup, N. M. Mr. Gillette's district covers the valley division from Bakersfield to San Francisco and branches with headquarters at Fresno, where he will reside.

BROTHER OF GALLUP MAN IN MINE AT CHERRY

Smith Has Not Heard Fate of Entombed Relative; Two Hurt in Mine Accident at Carbon City.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Gallup, N. M., Nov. 20.—George A. Smith, the well-known stone mason of this city, is anxiously awaiting news of the fate of his brother, who was one of the unfortunate miners entombed in the St. Paul mine at Cherry, Ill. He received word by wire this week from his daughter, Edna, at Cherry, saying that his brother was one of the victims, and has had no news as to his final fate. He has asked instructions as to the care of the remains if his brother is dead.

O. Lorenzini nearly lost his life at the Southwestern mine near here this week as the result of being hit in the head by pieces of rock, thrown by an exploding blast. His nose was broken and face badly cut. J. T. Garcia was also hurt at the same mine by being caught and crushed between a car and a post. He will likely recover.

The Crescent Oil and Land company's big well drilling rig has arrived here and is being hauled to the oil fields, 15 miles northwest, where it will at once get busy drilling for oil.

Holding Sack for Switchman

A Santa Fe switchman named Duffey left Gallup suddenly this week and it is currently reported that he left behind him a number of anxious creditors. The Gallup Republican says:

Tuesday morning the "Duffey enterrers" got together to try to figure out what happened. The known losses and the amounts are as follows:

Judge Brown, room rent, $18; Geo. M. Beach, board $20; John Gordon, clothing, bar bill and cash loaned, $26; D. Rolfe, pool bill and cash loaned, $22; Opera House bar, $26.

And there are several precincts yet to hear from. Bob Burke is the only one who had a claim that got his money. Burke seems to always have a "hunch" and seldom gets wrong. Duffey had a lot of good friends in Gallup, but some of those who trusted him are feeling a little bit nervous as we go to press.

It is said that Duffey's real name is Fletcher and that he had cause for using an alias.

SAN JUAN COUNTY WATER CASES DECIDED

Important Irrigation Projects Affected by Decisions by Judge McFie; Cases Will be Appealed by Losers.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal] Aztec, N. M., Nov. 19.—Two cases of far-reaching importance to the future development of San Juan County were decided here today by Judge John R. McFie. The cases came up on appeal from the territorial board of water commissioners and were entangled in the Arizona river, some 2,100 second feet being included in the Turkey application. As against 120,000 acres claimed by Turkey under his project Burke & Furman, by reason of taking a lower heading, claim but 89,000 acres.

Judge McFie decided that in granting a water appropriation that had its heading in Colorado the territorial engineer exceeded his authority and it is ordered that such appropriation be stricken from the records of the engineer's office. H. C. Allen of Denver, R. C. Abbott of Santa Fe and J. M. Palmer of Farmington represented Burke & Furman, while Hiram Hann of Santa Fe represented Turkey. The case, it is said, will be appealed to the territorial supreme court.

The case of Young & Norton vs. M. C. Hinderlider concerns storage of the waters of the La Plata river in this county. This case was decided by the territorial engineer favorable to Young & Norton, but his decision was reversed by the board of water commissioners. The project of defendants in the district court here comprised some 5,400 acres, while that of the plaintiff embraced 14,900 acres. The 5,400 acres came under the larger project. In point of priority of filling the water application of Hinderlider had preference.

In summing up this case Judge McFie ruled that the greatest good to the largest number of people required that the Hinderlider project be given preference. He therefore ordered that the engineer of the territory recognize in application of Hinderlider. This case, it is also said, will be appealed.

The next session of the territorial supreme court will be held in January next and it is possible that these cases will be advanced and determined quickly.

The backers of both Burke & Furman and Hinderlider are said to be Colorado capitalists who stand ready to begin construction work upon the determination of the water rights controversy. The land covered is unquestionably as fine fruit and farming land as there is in the west.

SOUTHWEST NEWS NOTES

The Carlsbad Argus entered upon its twenty-first year last week as a dispenser of the news to the Pecos valley in particular and the territory in general.

With life apparently extinct only a few hours, the body of an unknown Mexican was found the other morning near the S. P. & P. railroad track, on the Duke ranch, three miles north of Prescott.

The school district in which the little town of Logan, N. M., is located sold bonds last week under the direction of C. H. Chennault, county treasurer, to the amount of $6,500, at 6 per cent and a premium of $165 was paid.

Ida M. Farrell, editor of the San Marcial Standard, was one of the losers in the Hualapai town lot scheme and she takes her loss thusly: "Most of us can stand it to lose a few dollars in a land scheme, but we hate to lose the neighbors think we are suckers, that hurts our pride."

Looked in a huge kee chest and left to perish, says the Tucson Citizen, George Nelson succeeded in bursting open the door in time to prevent an attempt to rob the Cabinet saloon at an early hour the other morning. The kee chest in which he was locked is located in the basement of the saloon, and in order to prevent the robbery he was compelled also to break through a trap door leading down into the basement which had been purposely closed against him. He captured the alleged robber single-handed, with only a mallet as his weapon.

JUDGE ABBOTT FOR GOVERNOR.

The dispatch of yesterday morning, announcing the appointment of Judge Abbott of this city, to be governor of the territory, was received by the people of Albuquerque with universal satisfaction, the only expression of regret being in the fact that the statement was not as positive as the people would have had it. Although the dispatch was carefully guarded in its language, and left room for some element of doubt, there are excellent reasons for believing it to be true.

First, because Mr. Abbott is a careful, able and conservative man, well versed in the law, and thoroughly in sympathy with the policy of the Taft administration to make the law paramount to the wishes of the officeholder.

Second, because as governor of New Mexico he would conduct the affairs of the territory in a manner that would reflect credit upon the office, among people at home and abroad.

Third, because he has never been identified, or suspected of identification with any of the scheming political gangs of the territory who aim to manage the public affairs for their personal aggrandizement, and

Fourth, because the Chicago Journal, through which the news comes, is one of the most careful and reliable papers of the country, without a trace of "yellow" in its columns, and therefore its news statements are always regarded as worthy of credence.

A GIGANTIC CONSPIRACY.

The wholesale removals for cause, in the New York custom house, that have been made within the last few days, taken in connection with the unparalleled disclosures that have been made in the sugar trust affair, there can no longer be any question as to the action which congress must take in the matter, and must take with the least possible delay. A thorough and searching investigation by a committee of high standing ought to occupy a foremost place on the program of the coming session, such a committee ought, to call before it not only the officers and employees of the customs service who are concerned, either as accessories or accused, but the high officials of the government and of the sugar trust whose names have figured in connection with the matter. The simplest mind can now see that the time is past when a "political pull" can count for anything.

The public demands the facts, and it will wait patiently for their disclosure in the slow process of litigation. It is not alone the scandalous character of the frauds alleged and the magnitude of the robberies charged to agents of the company which make such congressional investigation inevitable. Justly or unjustly, the integrity of a branch of the government itself has been challenged to the recent depositions, and it is the business of congress to sift such charges.

Of the incredible baseness of the conspiracy practiced against the government and against their competitors by the managers of this great corporation, there is, unfortunately, no doubt whatever. Men or corporations who make partial restitution when confronted with one set of charges of infamous financial practices, and who creep under the statute of limitations when confronted with another set, do not have to wait long for the public to make up its mind regarding their guilt or innocence. The question of a statutory bar is one of the prosecutions, on which Judge Holt sustained the trust's contention and on which Attorney General Wickham has appealed to the supreme court for a final interpretation of the law, is a delicate one, which rests very largely on the language of the anti-trust act itself. But a congressional committee is bound by no statute of limitations. Its power of inquiry and investigation is supreme, and this is pre-eminently an occasion on which to exercise it.

NEW FOES TO PNEUMONIA.

The initial success of the new methods of treating pneumonia which have been applied independently at the Tufts Medical school and by physicians from the Harvard Medical school at the Massachusetts General hospital encourages the expectation that medical science is at last on the track of a specific remedy for the baffling disease. These facts are given the public by the New York World, which further says:

In the Tufts treatment a vaccine composed of sterilized pneumonia germs or pneumococci is injected to combat the disease. Only six out of thirty-four unpromising cases of pneumonia in which the remedy was used resulted fatally, while but two of forty-nine ordinary cases so treated were lost.

The Harvard treatment has a romantic interest for the reason that it embodies a practical application of Metchnikoff's theory of the disease-resisting function of the white corpuscles of the blood. A serum of extract made of white corpuscles and administered in forty-one cases of pneumonia proved efficacious in saving thirty-six.

The merit of the Harvard remedy, if it stands the test of experience, is the possibility it contains of a prophylactic serum or antitoxin against other germ diseases. It is not ten years since Metchnikoff discovered the active agency of the leucocytes or white corpuscles in attacking and destroying noxious germs in the human system. If they can cope with the pneumococci, which are among the most virulent of bacilli, why can they not be utilized to check the inroads of other malignant germs?

It is not claimed for either remedy that it is more than a promising experiment cautiously conducted by conservative medical investigators and still remaining to be confirmed. But the inference is reasonable that in the search for pneumonia serum in the patient's blood may lie the nucleus of a revolution in pathological methods.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

Thus far forty-nine of the principal cities of the United States have adopted some form of commission government and are proud of it, and thirty-three more are preparing to vote on the question of adopting it. Sooner or later, the principal towns of New Mexico will fall in line and except for the fact that New Mexico is accustomed to trailing behind when it comes to innovations of that kind, Santa Fe, Roswell and Albuquerque would have adopted the commission form by this time—Santa Fe New Mexican.

A LIFE TAKEN EVERY HOUR.

One human being is killed every hour and one injured every ten minutes of the day on American railroads, according to W. L. Park, general superintendent of the Union Pacific Railroad company, in a statement made at the annual meeting of the New York and New England Association of Railway Surgeons at the Academy of Medicine, in New York.

"The casualty report of all our large railroads," said Mr. Park, "is akin to the report of the commanding general of an army in time of war, except that on the railroad there is no cessation—a steady grinding, and crumpling of human flesh and bone under the juggernaut of modern car wheels."

According to Mr. Park, 8 per cent of the railroad accidents in this country are wholly due to the negligence of employees. This brought up the question of education of railroad men, a subject which the various railroad companies long have been considering, so that the percentage of accidents may be reduced. Mr. Park stated that the railroads were an integral part of the body politic and once they were guaranteed "their constitutional rights and exemption from emotional impulses or political plundering," they would be the safest highways on the face of the earth.

The question of laws against trespassing on railroads was discussed by W. H. Truesdale, president of the Lackawanna railroad, who said every state should pass a law prohibiting tramps and other trespassers from riding beneath and on top of trains so as to evade payment of fare. Deaths due to this are the greatest cause of litigation against railroads.

J. D. M. Hamilton, claims attorney of the Santa Fe system, in discussing violations of law by railroads admitted that many companies were technically guilty of the charges. But the wrong done by one company, he said, should not be charged to all.

STRIKE IT HOT.

From village blacksmith to a fortune of $200,000 in the sudden transformation of Mason Grover, of Bidwell, Ohio. For many years he has been at work on a simple process for the immediate conversion of iron into steel, and his years of effort have been crowned with sudden success.

Recently he has been negotiating with the United States Steel corporation, and it is announced that he will receive $200,000 for his discovery.

ABOUT CANADIAN NAVY.

It would be difficult, says the New York Herald, to conceive of a weaker argument in favor of the Canadian navy project than the one put forward by its line supporters—namely, that Canada without a navy would become the prey of Germany in the event of a war between that country and England.

In the first place, says a war is by no means inevitable, though the jingoism, to give the devil his due, are doing all in their power to bring it about. Fortunately, however, a decidedly anti-jingo spirit has begun to manifest itself in both England and Germany, and influential organs of public opinion such as the Daily Express, the Kreuz-Zeitung and other widely read newspapers are working strenuously for the establishment of Anglo-German amity upon a solid basis. There is consequently no reason to believe that the efforts of a few

VARYING OPINIONS ON THAT JOB OF THE GOVERNOR

Mann Again.
The resignation of Mr. George Curry as governor of the Territory of New Mexico is causing a great stir among the politicians of the territory, as to who will be his successor. Already a number of good men have been mentioned for the place, but we are thinking that President Taft will have the final say in this matter, yet, it is but loyalty to our fair territory that the people of New Mexico have the say in this appointment.

The Montoya Republican suggests the name of Judge Edward A. Mann and we heartily agree with this suggestion.—Willard Record.

Willie, or Will He Not?

Mr. Lawshe, firmly and sadly, but decidedly says that he does not want to be governor of New Mexico, and that he is simply moving his family to this territory because of its (the territory's) general healthfulness and all around adaptability for an ideal residence. Either Mr. Lawshe is as careless with his statements as a Peoria valley crop-reporter, or he is an honorable and upright gentleman, whose friendship should be cultivated and whose opinions should be respected. If, next March, Mr. Lawshe succeeds Governor Curry as head and shoulders of the Sunshine Territory, it may be safe to assume that he belongs to the same tribe of the crop-reporters, which is that of America, but if Nathan Jaffe, Will Robinson or some other good man is appointed governor, nothing can be too nice for Mr. Lawshe, as a man who prefers New Mexico to all other places for a home, when he could live anywhere in the United States.—Pecos Valley News.

HOME-MADE SCRIPTURE.

A reader of the Morning Journal, at Raton, sends us the following note, which explains itself:

"Raton, N. M., Nov. 18, 1909.
"Editor Morning Journal.—In looking over your report of Mr. W. J. Bryan's talk in Albuquerque, the 16th, I note he is reported quoting the Bible as stating that 'money is the root of all evil.' Would like to have Mr. Bryan say where he finds such statement in the Scripture. Yours truly,

"H. L. ANDRES."

Our correspondent should remember that Mr. Bryan's Scripture quotations, like his financial notions, are somewhat promiscuous. It is true that Paul told Timothy that "the love of money is the root of all evil," but we are not aware that money itself is anywhere denounced in the Scriptures. On the contrary, it seems to have been regarded by Bible writers generally as a very desirable commodity. And judging from the price Mr. Bryan charges for his lectures, he is of that opinion, also.

WILL REJECT THE BUDGET.

Lord Lansdowne, leader of the majority party in the British house of lords, having given formal notice of a motion to reject the budget prepared by the house of commons, renders certain an appeal to the country, with a possibility, and even a probability of a result which will carry with it the abolition of the upper house.

Lord Lansdowne's motion will be couched in the following words:

"I move that this house is not justified in giving its consent to this bill until it has been submitted to the judgment of the country."

On the rejection of the budget it is expected that the premier will move in the house of commons a resolution strongly condemning the Peer's action, affirming the sole right of the house of commons to deal with matters of taxation and declaring the Peers' attempt to force a dissolution to be unconstitutional.

INVADING NEWFOUNDLAND.

Another of the many projects for the utilization of Newfoundland's vast unoccupied interior is that of the Salvation Army, which plans to establish farm colonies in connection with its emigration department in England.

A representative of the army is in Newfoundland conferring with the government officials, regarding the proposed settlement. A tour, beginning this week, has been arranged for him through the section believed to include the most likely sites for the location of the colonies.

At the Suffrage Meeting.

O, where is my wandering ma to-night?
O, where can my mother be?
She hid her forth to the suffrage fight.
And hasn't come home to tea.
The range is cold on the kitchen trail.
The cupboard is bleak and bare.
For mother has gone to the county jail.
For pulling the speaker's hair.
O, where is my wandering ma to-night?
My mother, O, where is she?
She dwells in the "box" while papa's socks.
Are holey as they can be!

Manager Kirchman Declares in Interview at Socorro That Men Contested by University Would Have been Withdrawn

Thirteen Thousand Mile Trip From Green River to Needles Filled With Thrilling Incidents.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 21.—After having penetrated the Grand Canyon from end to end and completed the longest trip ever made on the turbulent Colorado river, Julius F. Stone, president of the Central National bank of Columbus, Ohio, and party, reached here today.

The party started September 12, and for 1,300 miles from Green River, Utah, to the Needles, Cal., overcame the dangers of Grand canyon, Marble canyon, Cataract canyon and scores of lesser gorges and rapids in rowboats. At intervals between shooting the rapids in these gorges, the party obtained 2,000 photographs of hydroglyphs made by Indians in past ages and records carved in the rocks by the De Julian French party of 1836.

Mr. Stone had planned the trip for eleven years. He was accompanied by Nathan Galloway and S. S. Dubendorf, of Utah, who acted as guides and by Raymond Cogswell, of Elery, Ohio, a photographer, and C. C. Sharp, a business associate. Mr. Sharp left the party at Hite, Utah.

"We are the third party to complete the trip," said Mr. Stone, "the first being that headed by Major Powell, in 1895.

"We made but four portages. After fifteen miles in Cataract canyon we found the wreckage of a party evidently composed of two men and a boy. A coat which we picked up was marked with the name of C. W. Hadley."

"In the first place, Manager Kirchman of the School of Mines team, says that one of the articles in the contract for the game was that Manager Lee of the University team, should send down transportation for the miners to Albuquerque and return, and that Manager Lee failed to comply with this agreement. The agreement was in line with the practice that has prevailed whenever the School of Mines team has played an inter-collegiate game, the rule working both ways.

"In an interview published in the Albuquerque Morning Journal this morning, Manager Lee is quoted as saying: 'In my opinion, the plan was to have us advance transportation to Albuquerque, and upon their arrival here they would hand in their list of men, containing the names of Donovan, Howell, Bentley and Kirchman, four men who were barred from the game with the Aggies at Mesilla three weeks ago and who have absolutely no right to play on any college football team.' Mr. Lee is quoted as saying: 'I am not afraid to play on any college football team, and as to every essential fact in the foregoing statement quoted, Mr. Kirchman had already consented to the withdrawal of Donovan's name, Powell had not been seriously considered as a possible member of the Miners' team, Bentley is in no sense whatever and never was, a professional football player, none of these three men were barred from the game at Mesilla, and whether Kirchman has a right to play on the Miners' football eleven is an open question.

"To the interview given by Mr. Lee to the Morning Journal, two conditions of mind seem to make themselves especially manifest. In the first place, Mr. Lee is very much afraid that the Miners are not disposed to play fair, and, in the second place, Mr. Lee is very much afraid that the University's football record in point of cleanliness to say no more than that the record of the School of Mines will bear comparison with that of the University. In regard to the first, Mr. Lee is quoted as saying: 'I am not afraid to play on any college football team, and as to every essential fact in the foregoing statement quoted, Mr. Kirchman had already consented to the withdrawal of Donovan's name, Powell had not been seriously considered as a possible member of the Miners' team, Bentley is in no sense whatever and never was, a professional football player, none of these three men were barred from the game at Mesilla, and whether Kirchman has a right to play on the Miners' football eleven is an open question.

DESTROY THE BIRDS AND FORESTS WILL BE DESTROYED

Well Known Naturalist Tells Great Part Feathered Family Plays in Assisting in Regeneration and Preservation.

"Destroy the birds and in a comparatively few years the insects will have multiplied to such an extent that trees will be denuded of their leaves and much timber rendered valueless by wood-boring insects," was the interesting declaration made to a Morning Journal representative Saturday by Mr. Frank Rush, a well-known naturalist who is in the city for a few hours before starting on a trip to the Manzanito national forest.

Mr. Rush is probably better informed on bird and animal life than any other man in the west. Officially Mr. Rush is supervisor and game warden of the Whelan national game preserve in Oklahoma. Officially he has many official duties, such as raising buffalo, antelope, deer and other like animals, which are rapidly becoming extinct. Privately Mr. Rush has a hobby for studying bird life and knows a great deal about them. Mr. Rush deplores the needless slaughter of thousands of birds annually. Asked as to how birds could be protected against the irreparable persons, who wantonly murder them, Mr. Rush replied that almost all states have fairly good game laws, which if they could be enforced, would properly protect them.

"If our school boys and girls could be educated to realize the economic value of the birds and encouraged to study them more," said Mr. Rush, "the loss of birds would be materially lessened. I desire to shoot birds or to rob their nests. There are parts that every individual can play in lessening the natural dangers of bird life and while individual efforts may amount to but little, the collective results will soon be felt in the bird world.

"It is the duty, and should be the pleasure, of every citizen to do all in his power to protect the birds and encourage them to remain about our houses and in our forests.

"Many of our birds are becoming scarcer each year while a few are, already practically extinct. The chief forces which work against the increase of bird life are the elements, accidents, and predatory animals. Death from natural causes, such as old age and disease is more than counterbalanced by natural increase."

Discussing the importance of preserving the lives of birds from a forestry standpoint, Mr. Rush declared that few people realize the important part the feathered messengers play in preserving the timber.

"It has been found by observation," said Mr. Rush, "that a cuckoo consumes daily from 50 to 400 caterpillars, while a chickadee will eat from 200 to 500 insects, or up to 4000 insect or worm eggs. One hundred insects a day is a conservative estimate of the quantity consumed by each individual insect eating bird. Furthermore, the birds of the forests which subsist on the seeds, fruits and insects of the forests are largely responsible for the broadcast sowing and natural reproduction of our timbered lands. When you see a bird eating seed, fruit or nuts, you may be sure that that bird is a sower of that same seed to some extent at least. As sowers of forest seeds, the Jay, the Cedar Waxwing, and almost every kind of woodpecker are among the most valuable in this respect. Birds do not always eat all the seed they gather, but sometimes carry them many miles before letting them fall to the ground, and in this way our feathered foresters of long ago have helped plant our forests."

SANTA FE APPRENTICE SCHOOLS SUCCESSFUL

On October 2 a school for the education and instruction of apprentices was established at Clovis, N. M., where is located the principal shop on the Belen cutoff. A. L. Gunther, a graduate of the apprentice school, was appointed apprentice instructor, says the Santa Fe Employee Magazine.

The school opened with fifteen boys, and this number will be increased from time to time as the work in the shops increases and additional men are employed.

Mr. Riley, master mechanic, who formerly held a similar position at El Paso, was very much in a scheme whereby the apprentices at the smaller points will receive a modified form of instruction. Often there are only two or three boys at some of the smaller points, and it is not possible to have a regular instructor, but these boys will be provided with the same appliances as are furnished the apprentices at the larger places, and they will be visited periodically by the nearest apprentice instructor and taught the same course that is now being taught in the regular apprentice schools. By December 1 all the apprentices on the system will be receiving the benefits of the Santa Fe liberal offer to assist them in mastering their chosen trades.

There are now established on the Santa Fe system schools as follows:

It is quite flattering to the Santa Fe to see so many other roads adopting similar systems for the instruction and training for the instruction of apprentices, and on account of the excellent results that are being obtained on this road, a number of the manual training schools in the large eastern cities have written for the prospectus and have inquired in detail as to the method used in training these boys.

Business on Boston Market Comparatively Quiet; Territories Selling in Moderate Quantities.

In spite of the fact that a number of mills were represented on the Boston market this week business was comparatively quiet for it is now a between-seasons period and consumers are not in need of additional heavy supplies of wool, says the Boston Commercial Bulletin. On Wednesday there were twelve mills represented here and although nearly all consumers bought some wool the aggregate purchases of the week are by no means heavy. It is estimated that the activity is probably covered by 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 pounds. The majority of mills now have enough raw material on hand to last for general requirements during the present light weight manufacturing season and until heavy manufacturing season begins the bulk of the business will probably be of a filling-in order. No manufacturers, other than those making staple lines of goods, can say at this time what fabrics will be in greatest demand during the heavy weight season soon to open, and in consequence wool requirements cannot be determined now. Some of the week's business was confined to taking sample bags of wool suitable for heavy weights although some fair-sized sales of remaining staple and clothing wools were also made.

The woolen mills are unquestionably in possession of considerable more orders than has been the case for a long time, principally on account of the high cost of woads, and it is expected that this success will continue if clothing wools are maintained at current prices. However, if prices are advanced materially under active business, the trend is very likely to revert to the worsted fabrics. Carded wools are receiving such a call now simply because prices are lower than on the more favored combed goods. Activity in the worsted, neglected fabrics is thus responsible for a larger call for coarse wools of all descriptions.

Selections now available are relatively poor, after the heavy buying of choice stock within the past two or three months, but on the poorer offerings obtainable prices are being very firmly maintained in value and nothing less than top prices procures any raw material. Sales of all kinds of wool are being made frequently and in some houses the aggregate business is quite substantial and encouraging.

Comparatively few transactions in Australian or South American wools are reported, chiefly because the supply in dealers' hands is small. The bulk of the 5,000 bales bought at the last London auction, in addition to about 2,000 bales purchased privately after the sales, were taken for manufacturers' account so those wools did not increase the stocks in Boston materially. Territory wools, both grease and scoured, are receiving the greatest attention, and remaining offerings are being cleaned up steadily. Fleeces, however, are more or less neglected, and consumers of these wools will buy little additional until the Australian market on 60s and 64s is established so that the value of dealings may be more accurately determined.

As stocks of domestic wool show a new Australian and South American steady decrease here, the marketing of American clips assumes more importance to both manufacturers and dealers, though the prices that sheepmen will ask for the new domestic clip are also occupying a place in dealers' minds.

In territory wools, practically all available stock of both combed and clothing grades are selling in moderate quantities. Staple Oregon sold this week on a basis of 25 cents grease, while the best lines are held at 26 cents. Some Wyoming is also moving at 25 to 27 cents in original bales, but the supply is steadily diminishing.

Montana wool is difficult to find. Both New Mexican and Texas fall wools are being inquired for. The latter will be available soon, but it is understood that only a comparatively insignificant amount of the former will be shown, owing to the fact that the staple of the spring clip is thereby damaged. Furthermore, there is a better call for staple New Mexican, and growers, consequently, prefer to preserve this wool in staple and quality.

COMMERCIAL CLUB FOR RICARDO ORGANIZED

Lively Village Expanding Rapidly Into a Good Sized Town; Homesteaders Arriving in Numbers.

(Staff Correspondence.) Ricardo, N. M., Nov. 19.—Ricardo has given another token of its determination to break into the metropolitan class by the recent organization of a full-fledged commercial club which has put its several and collective shoulders to the wheel and is now pushing vigorously for a bigger and better town.

Ricardo is well located as a trading point and as has been said, has its future all before it, with very little past to regret or praise. Ricardo now has two general stores, a grocery, a drug store coming, a hardware shop, a lumber yard and blacksmith shop, two hotels and a restaurant, and a beautiful concrete depot erected by the Santa Fe at a cost of $10,000. Ricardo is blessed with splendid water supply. In the immediate vicinity of this town some 200 homesteads have been located, and at present following a shocking account of the drought the homesteaders are again beginning to arrive regularly. There is perhaps more good land open to entry here than anywhere else along the entire frontier, and the business opportunities of all kinds for the newcomer.

The land is good, sandy, close land and feed crops raised hereabouts this year will excel those raised anywhere else in eastern New Mexico. Many farmers as a result of their first year's work will sell anywhere from $100 to $500 worth of feed stuff aside from that needed for themselves. Although the severe dry season has caused some failures there are no discouraged farmers around here and everybody is optimistic and boosting.

Irrigation is now being discussed around here and this spring many of the farmers will drill wells and erect windmills and tanks for watering their crops. There was a fine rain recently and therefore will be plenty of moisture for fall planting.

Ricardo also boasts of a U. S. commissioner, a justice of the peace and other opportunities of civilization and is growing in a manner that warrants the most optimistic expectations. There is a good school and church with large union Sunday school and the population is composed of the most intelligent and hardy farmers.

A SURE WAY OUT QUICK RELIEF

It is a Positive Fact That in Not One Out of a Thousand of Supposed Kidney Cases Does the Trouble Really Lie with the Kidneys.

Perfectly all the so-called kidney troubles, including Bladder Trouble, Albuminuria, Gravel, etc., are actually caused by a diseased condition of the blood, and can be cured by the use of GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES.

There are of course many other remedies offered with the Bladder which are also greatly relieved by the use of GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES. Full information is given in the printed matter enclosed in each box.

The Bladder is the receptacle for discharges from the kidneys. Under normal conditions nature disposes of the contents of this reservoir in the Bladder promptly and without pain. Once information is given, however, the contents may be retained for an unusual length of time, thus producing much pain and discomfort, or may be excreted with abnormal frequency and be the cause of much inconvenience and trouble. All such cases are almost invariably cured by the use of GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES.

GOLD MEDAL HAARLEM OIL is put up in two forms, in CAPSULES and BOTTLES. Capsules 25c and 50c per box. Bottles, 15c and 25c. At all druggists. Be sure that you obtain the Gold Medal Tilly brand, otherwise you will get an imitation. Literature free.

SKYSCRAPERS ARE CRUSHING LIFE OUT OF CITY

NEW YORK BUILDINGS ENDANGER PUBLIC

Experts Say Subway Shows Signs of Immense Pressure Above; Criminal Court Building Cracking.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

New York, Nov. 21.—Slowly toppling toward great public catastrophe, many millions of tons of building structure are being found to menace human life today throughout this congested island. While the great pile that houses the criminal courts is still bending earthward till its walls show from seams each day, a vigorous investigation has just been organized to test the towering structure of all Manhattan. Along the burrows of the giant subway moil the city's engineers have today also covered much more askew and sagging than they dare to fully tell. Beneath the weight of many a huge skyscraper the anchoring piles are being reported as alarming to any student of pressures. Million on million must be spent before the building roots of this town are properly placed. It is assured, and the test of time is sure to work havoc to humanity here unless this is done once.

Fight or Famine.

With each quart of milk advanced to a full 9 cents, and cream and butter raised to prohibitive prices for the poor, the people of this city are today facing such a fight or famine in dairy supplies as has been seldom seen here. Following the rising demands of the milk trust, all food and drink products based on dairy goods are already being held at higher cost in every grocery, restaurant and drug store in town. While widespread infant mortality threatens to scourge the poorer quarters through the starvation forced by the milk kings, the public temper is rising to the danger point. Strong men may stand the clutch of the milk trust, but the weak, the aged, the sick and the poor must suffer helplessly the iron-handed extortion of the milk magnates. On the farmers of the outlying country the hard-pressed city consumer is today relying for the only relief that seems possible in these trying times. Already there is talk of an independent milk producers' agency to fight the trust, and everyone is looking to see this talk come true.

Practical Patriots.

That true patriotism is not dead in this money-mad metropolis is being shown today in the start that is being given here to a movement for all Americans to honor the last wish of George Washington. To the man who is proving still to be first in the hearts of modern New Yorkers, it is proposed to erect a $2,500,000 memorial building at the country's capitol for all the learned societies of the nation and thus to carry out his most cherished ideal for "the promotion of institutions for the general spread of knowledge." Headed by the Congress Washington Memorial association and endorsed by the nation's leaders in science, art and letters, this new patriotic project seems today assured of the support of the people in every section of the country. Already the dollars of many contributors are beginning to pour in from all over the land to Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, who is receiving this tribute to Washington's memory at No. 25 East Sixtieth street, in this city. Though the leaders of this campaign are counting on New York to do its share, they declare the subscriptions of practical patriots throughout the country are bidding fair to outshine the gifts of the city folk.

Horse's Hour.

Clearly marking the dawn of the day of the high-bred horse among the wealthy classes of this country, Gotham's annual horse show is being wound up today with more success than it has achieved here in many years. That the motor mania is in no way causing the sun to set on the popularity of the fashionable driving or riding animals has been demonstrated in every hour of this record exhibit of their owners and breeders. Billions of American fortunes have been represented about the tan banking, while the galleries were constantly packed with the plainer people, to whom the horse is still a prime point of interest. For all its growing whirl of automobiling, this town has shown a lingering love for the four-footed friend of man.

Marriage Making.

To furnish a nuptial annex to many of the big hotels here is the novel plan announced by several experienced landlords today. Sudden and repeated demands for suitable surroundings for off-hand weddings at these hostilities have led the progressive landlords to consider seriously the building of complete marriage chapels to be operated as part of their plant. Just as they hold ballrooms available to rent for social events, the hotels are proposing to devote one of the wings to the marriage market. Many strange needs are met in the metropolis, but the ready-to-serve chapel is counted the most odd of them all.

Chauffeur Fatally Hurt.

Los Angeles, Nov. 21.—The Franklin entry in the 150-mile auto race at Ascot park today plunged through the fence at the first turn and the driver, Guy Irwin, was seriously, probably fatally injured. He was thrown forty feet and had not regained consciousness late tonight.

R. McIntyre, mechanic on the Franklin, was only slightly injured. The Apperson "Jack Rabbit" won in 3:42.

Automobile Crash in Mexico.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—An automobile driven by Hector Casous, son of former Ambassador to the United States, Joaquin Casous, collided with another machine here tonight. Young Casous suffered a broken collar bone and C. H. Rathbun, of Tampico, was seriously injured. The machine, while making 50 miles an hour, veered, upset a baby carriage and crashed into another car.

LUMBER INDUSTRY SUFFERS IN 1908

Interesting Figures on Lumber, Lath and Shingles in Forthcoming Census Bulletin.

Morning Journal Bureau, 613 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.

The facts and figures contained in the forthcoming U. S. Census Bureau bulletin on lumber, lath and shingles in 1908, discloses in most striking manner the adverse conditions obtaining in the lumber industry during that year. The annual federal report on the statistics of forest products is compiled by a committee of experts from the census bureau and the forest service. The census is represented by W. M. Stewart, chief statistician for manufactures, and J. E. Welch, expert chief of division; while R. S. Kellogg, assistant forester, and A. H. Pierson, forest assistant, represent the forest service.

A comparative summary of the total values for the several groups of forest products investigated for the calendar years 1907 and 1908, follows:

Lumber, lath and shingles, 1908: $541,545,640; 1907: $707,095,469.
Cross ties, 1908: $56,280,568; 1907: $78,958,695.
Pulpwood, 1908: $28,047,473; 1907: $32,369,276.
Tannin and tanning extracts, 1908: $21,861,719; 1907: $21,265,547.
Slack coopers stock, 1908: $16,900,651; 1907: $15,800,253.
Tight coopers stock, 1908: $14,406,442; 1907: $19,807,370.
Poles, 1908: $5,928,824; 1907: $5,081,708.
Veneer, 1908: $7,891,431; 1907: $6,436,727.
Wood distillation, 1908: $5,899,426; 1907: $5,194,181.
Totals, 1908: $698,262,175; 1907: $897,941,726.

The heavy decrease in the total value reported for 1908 reflects the ascertained falling off in the industry. As a result of the business depression, the quantity of lumber, 23,224,369 thousand feet board measure, produced in 1908, was less than that for any other year for which reliable data are available since 1900. The quantity cut of lumber per active mill showed by the reports for 1908 was but a little more than 1,000,000 feet, as against nearly 1,400,000 feet per mill in 1907. The bulk of this decrease, it is stated, was undoubtedly due to smaller production. The gradual rise in the average value is apparent from the fact that the price in 1900 per thousand feet at the mill for all lumber produced was $11.12; in 1904, $12.76; in 1906, $16.54; in 1907, $14.56; and in 1908, $15.27 in 1908.

While the value of lumber decreased 23.1, or 3.3 per cent, in the number of mills engaged in the production of lumber, there was a decrease of 7,391,763,000 feet, or 32.5 per cent, in the total quantity of the output. In the case of most of the states reports were secured from a greater number of active mills for 1908 than for 1907, while on the other hand, the cut in 1908 was generally less than in 1907.

Washington, which had remarked first in lumber production for several years, still held this place in 1908, although in quantity the cut of this state was closely approached by that of Louisiana. Nearly all of the lumber manufactured in Washington was of Douglas fir, while Louisiana was first in the production of lumber of two important kinds, yellow pine and cypress. Heavy decreases in the production of Douglas fir and yellow pine were general in 1908, while the cut of cypress was nearly the same in both years, hence the decrease in total production in Louisiana in 1908 was less marked, being only 8.4 per cent while the decrease in Washington was 22.8 per cent. While Mississippi suffered a decrease of over one-tenth in the quantity of its output of lumber in 1908 as compared with 1907, it advanced in rank from fourth to third place, as a result of the very heavy falling off in the output of Texas, which dropped from third place in 1907 to sixth place in 1908. The cut in Arkansas decreased about one-sixth, but nevertheless, the state advanced in rank from sixth to fourth place.

Wisconsin and Michigan, with decreases of about one-fifth, held fifth and seventh places, respectively, in both years. In recent years the production in Michigan has been decreasing steadily, falling in 1907 below the two billion mark for the first time in nearly forty years. Since 1880, however, Michigan has cut nearly 100 billion feet of lumber, in a production which has not been approached by that of any other state.

The output in Wisconsin, its nearest competitor during the same period, was probably less than 75 billion feet. The reported output in Georgia was 6 per cent greater in 1908 than 1907. This apparent increase, however, was due chiefly to the fact that, through the aid of special agents in obtaining reports from delinquent manufacturers, a fuller canvass of the mills was secured in 1908 than in the previous year. Small increases in output are also shown for Idaho, Massachusetts, Oklahoma, Utah and Wyoming.

Yellow pine had been far in the lead as a lumber producer for more than a decade previous to 1908, and this supremacy was more than maintained in that year, when its cut amounted to 23.8 per cent of the total cut from all species, and in spite of a decrease of 1,978,813,000, or 15 per cent, in the output of this species in 1908 as compared with 1907, Douglas fir ranked second both in 1908 and 1907, though with a decrease of 1,072,758,000 feet, or 22.6 per cent, in the output for the latter year as compared with the former. White pine while ranking third in both years, showed a decrease in the output for 1908 of 847,787,000, or 20.2 per cent, from the output in 1907. Though still maintaining their relative rank, oak and hemlock fell off 947,249,000 feet and 842,113,000 feet, respectively, or about 25 per cent each. The decrease in spruce, 18.2 per cent, was close to the average decrease for all species, and the reported cut of western pine was less than in 1907 by 16.5 per cent. Only slight decreases occurred in maple and cypress. A decrease of 24.2 per cent in the cut of yellow poplar caused this wood to drop from ninth place in 1907 to tenth place in 1908. Decreases which were heavier than the average occurred in redwood, cottonwood and white fir, while increased cuts were reported for elm, cedar, larch, tamarack, balsam fir, tupelo, walnut and cherry.

Concerning the shingle production in 1907 and 1908 by species, it is stated that for every kind of wood, except chestnut, the average value in 1908 was less than in 1907. The average value of shingles of all species was $1.35 per thousand in 1908; $1.55 in 1904, $2.04 in 1906, $2.25 in 1907, and $2.00 in 1908. Nearly 75 per cent or more than 9 billion of the shingles manufactured in 1908 were of cedar. Of these the western cedars furnished about 7,000,000,000, or nearly 92 per cent, and the eastern cedars, mostly the white, supplied about 1,600,000,000, or slightly more than 17 per cent. Of the western cedar shingles, Washington supplied 7,255,760,000 or nearly 95 per cent. The cut of cypress shingles in 1908 was 1,355,041,000, or 9.5 per cent of the total 1908 output. Louisiana supplied 56 per cent, and most of the rest were produced in Arkansas, Florida and Mississippi.

The total cut of lath in 1908 was a decrease of 676,918,000 or 18.5 per cent from the cut in 1907. In Washington most of the lath manufactured in 1908 was of Douglas fir, in Louisiana of yellow pine, and in Minnesota of white pine. No state and no species led decisively in lath production. The average value per thousand of all kinds of lath was $1.86 in 1907, $2.05 in 1904, $2.01 in 1906, $2.55 in 1907, and $2.27 in 1908.

SENATORS DEVOTE DAY TO CARLSBAD PROJECT

Water Users Association Members Crowd Court Room to Hear Views of Distinguished Visitors.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Carlsbad, New Mex., Nov. 20.—The senate committee on irrigation that has been inspecting reclamation projects in the west spent yesterday afternoon on the Carlsbad project. In the party were the chairman, Senator Thomas H. Carter, Senator Francis E. Warren, and Senator Wesley L. Jones. Frederick H. Newell, director of the reclamation service, Louis C. Hill, supervising engineer, W. M. Reed, district engineer, W. C. Kouns, general manager of the western division of the Santa Fe railroad, E. Brinker, traffic manager, Avery Turner, and other officials of the Santa Fe railroad.

The party started in a special and devoted the afternoon to the inspection of the irrigation works, as McMillan reservoir, Avon reservoir, etc. At 4 p. m. the senators met the water users under the Carlsbad project. Interest in the visit of the senate committee was great and the attendance of water users was very large. The court room being crowded, some time was used to discussion of conditions, the senators having many questions to make. The meeting closed with addresses by the three senators present. At 8 o'clock a dinner was given at the Schiltz hotel, and at eleven the party started east.

This is the first time that the project has been visited by so large a party of high officials of the United States since the inception of the project in 1904. The senators expressed their pleasure of having met the people of the Carlsbad project, and assured their kindly interest and assistance in the future. Stated was incidentally mentioned by all the senators, who expressed hope that New Mexico would soon be admitted.

TWENTY BILLIONS WORTH OF PEOPLE

CASH VALUATION OF NEW YORK POPULATION

Babies Worth $90 Each; President Faces Serious Pie Problem on Thanksgiving; Gotham Gossip.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

New York, Nov. 18.—That there are $20,000,000,000 worth of people in New York and that the country's most valuable crop figured in cold cash is neither corn, cotton nor wheat, but human beings, the surprising statement just made here as the result of recent investigations. According to the figures which have been compiled the population of New York alone taken only as human units capable of creating and producing is worth twenty times the national debt, while for the whole United States the figure reaches the enormous total of $250,000,000,000. Compared to this a billion-dollar corn crop sinks into insignificance. Careful tabulations have been made showing the not cash value of a human being at various ages. At birth, according to these figures, the value is $90; at the age of five, $950; and at the end of the first decade $2,000. From the ages of twenty to thirty the human being is most valuable, having a not cash worth as a producer of $4,000, at the former age, and $4,100 at the latter. At fifty the value of the human unit has declined to $2,900, while at the age of 80 years the figure is minus $700, the unit not only having lost its productive power, but being a burden on the producers as well. The average value for all ages is about $2,000. Nearly $400,000,000 worth of babies—value $90 each—is the annual record, while $300,000,000 worth of people die every year—the magnitude of the latter figure being accounted for by the mature age and the correspondingly greater value of many of the victims. Of these 1,500,000 deaths annually, it is figured that 40 per cent, or 600,000, are preventable, so that the national treasury may lose of human beings is over one billion dollars—practically the value of the corn crop. Three million people, it is figured, are always on the sick list, this total of 3,000,000 years of illness annually netting a loss of another billion dollars. But in spite of these losses, which large as they may seem are comparatively insignificant, the value of the human crop is increasing at a rate which stamps it indubitably as Uncle Sam's greatest asset.

If President Taft partakes of mince pie on Thanksgiving day there are strong indications that he will establish a precedent by doing so on the lawn in front of the White house. He does not include in his menu, however, the probable loss of the pie-makers vote in this city, and probably in other parts of the country as well. The choice between these alternatives which faces the nation's chief executive at present is due to the striking New York pie-makers, who have already made this article of food extremely difficult to obtain in the greater city. Finding themselves with plans of time on their hands the members of the association decided to utilize it by constructing a mammoth mince pie to be sent to the president for his Thanksgiving dinner. Compared to the ordinary pie would not amount to a single mouthful. A gigantic pie pan was specially constructed for its cooking, capable of occupying an oven in which one hundred pies of the ordinary size are baked simultaneously. Likewise an amount of mince meat has been prepared for this pie which would fill a couple of barrels. But now that all preparations have been completed for the world's greatest mince pie it has been discovered that its dimensions are too great to permit its passing through the White house doors, unless it be turned on edge. This, of course, is out of the question but the undaunted pie makers insist that they will deliver the pie on the lawn in front of the executive mansion. It will then be up to the president to rally forth and partake of his pie cold, or by refraining from so doing to lose the great American pie vote.

Gloom in large chunks seems to have descended on various parts of the city of late. Tammany hall is gloomy over the result of the election which means four lean years with no jobs to hand out, and no finger in the letting of fat municipal contracts. The famous Bowery is gloomy over the defeat of one of the Sullivan clan, it being to the Sullivan family that this district has always looked for everything it wanted—from graft to police protection; and now last of all Broadway is steeped in the gloomiest gloom of all. This last affliction comes as a result of the happening, but from the report of Dr. Wiley at Washington, to the effect that he had discovered injurious acids in certain champagnes and recommended that the importation of the beverage be prohibited. Champagne has long been known as Broadway's regular drink, and what the Great White Way said as without it is an awfully light question. Probably the lights would cease to twinkle, and its holiday celebrations be no more. A million dollars is spent on champagne along Broadway every New Year's eve and proportionately large sums every night in the year. What the elimination of champagne would mean to Broadway was indicated by the wall of sorrow which they raised over the increased price due to the new tariff. But lacking it altogether the Great White Way would much resemble porridge without salt.

Such a swapping of stories as has never before been known will take place here next week when the National Travelers' Protective association, which numbers some 35,000 members, meets at the Hotel Astor and inaugurates its story-telling competition. Of course not all of the members will be present, but the several hundred traveling salesmen who do attend will be able to keep stenographers and judges busy. Traveling men have long been famous as spinners of interesting yarns culled from their experiences in all parts of the country, but to select the best story or the best story-teller would seem to be a task of herculean proportions. The association now has more than 200 posts scattered through thirty-two states. One of its most active members is City Comptroller Metz, who will enter the prize story-telling contest.

So far as the exportation of grain is concerned, New York, the greatest port in the United States, is practically dead. For nearly thirty years European grain shipments from this port have been steadily decreasing, and the freight rates steadily increasing until today grain shipments from this port have practically ceased. As a last resort in the effort to place New York the grain exporting map once more an appeal is to be made to the Interstate commerce commission. So serious has the condition become that at the present time, in the middle of the open season, when grain should be moving outward heavily steamships leaving Montreal are fully laden, while those from this port are practically empty. At least fifteen big grain elevators are standing idle here, and unless some radical change is soon accomplished, it will not be many years before New York has no export trade in grain left.

Winchell Still on the Job. Chicago, Nov. 21.—I have not resigned the presidency of the Rock Island railroad and have no present purpose of doing so, said B. L. Winchell, on his return from New York today. "Beyond this you will have to excuse me from discussing the affairs of the company."

Pedestrian Passes Clovis on Cross Continent Hike Two Days Ahead of Veteran's Schedule.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Clovis, N. M., Nov. 21.—A German boy by the name of Lange, is in Clovis today, on his way from the Atlantic coast somewhere in New Jersey, to the Pacific, trying to beat the already splendid record of endurance established by Weston, who made a remarkable record by walking from ocean to ocean a short time ago. Lange told a representative of the Morning Journal that he expected to beat the record of Weston by at least a week. He already has two days advantage to his credit, having made an average of about forty miles a day since he left the Atlantic coast. Yesterday coming over the plains country between here and Amarillo, he made fifty-eight miles, the best record for any one day yet. Lange is a man of about forty-five and appears strong in body and jovial in spirit. He is selling post cards and scenes along the road to make his expenses.

The eastern and northern parties have made quite a little comment on the trip of the German. He is not just sure of his entire course over the mountains yet.

Worrall Faction Wins Out in Hot Factional Fight for Supremacy in Curry County Democracy.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)

Clovis, N. M., Nov. 21.—Yesterday witnessed one of the hottest primary elections that has ever been pulled off east of the Pecos, it is doubtless safe to say. The occasion was the election of twelve commissioners for Clovis precinct, to act with the members previously elected in the outlying precincts of the county, in naming a chairman for the democratic organization of Curry county, and the issue was whether the Worrall faction should rule or whether committee members should be elected untrammelled for any chairman. C. R. Worrall is the present temporary chairman of the county organization, being named by Territorial Chairman Elitch soon after the organization of the county. He was well schooled in ward politics up in his native state of Indiana, and says that he has come to show the sleepy democrats of this section what it means to get up and hustle. There were nearly one thousand votes cast in the Clovis precinct yesterday. The polls were opened from 2 in the afternoon until 8 o'clock at night, and voting was fast and furious. The Worrall faction, evidently had been hard at work in their little organized circle, for several weeks, and as the opposition had only a couple of days to get out their ticket for committee-men, and in which to explain their position, their defeat was inevitable. The Worrall ticket got a majority of about 250. There was the most intense excitement all the afternoon yesterday and last night before the close of the polls. Every business man in the city was drawn out for expression on the question, and all took a more or less active part. Only the timely intervention of bystanders prevented several fights among prominent men, who had got warmed up as a heated pitch over the announced trickery and cunning tactics of their opponents. "This is the most unfortunate thing that could ever have befallen our party," said a prominent democrat of the county in speaking of the situation to a Morning Journal reporter. "And," he continued, "the unfortunate part is that it is only fairly begun. The old line democrats of Clovis and Curry county are not going to stand by and see such political trickery employed by one lone man, and against the interest of every other old line party man in the county."

The goal for which Judge Worrall is working is the position of chairman of the county organization, and this will not be settled until the delegates of the various precincts meet early in December to determine this point. During the mad rush in automobiles with loads of voters, being carpenters, bricklayers, masons and ditch diggers to the polls late yesterday afternoon, a man was run down by a machine of a taxicabman and was pretty badly hurt. The streets were too badly crowded for two blocks to scarcely allow the passing of a carriage, and several like accidents were narrowly averted during the rush of vote gathering politicians.

German Walks to Alfalfa Plant of Pre-eminent Range Value.

Among the numerous valuable forage plants, which the branch of grazing of the forest service is experimenting with on overgrazed ranges, alfalfa (Erodiumcicutarium), a plant of pre-eminent forage value throughout the deserts of California, Arizona and New Mexico is now being given special attention.

Throughout the southwest this highly valuable range plant furnishes the bulk of the feed in the spring of the year before most of the grasses and forage plants are valuable for grazing. It is just such a plant which is needed in many of our more northern forests, and accordingly, several experimental plantings have been started this fall.

The factors which influence most the growth of alfalfa in the southwest are: (1) mild winter temperatures, (2) winter precipitation, (3) altitude as influencing precipitation and temperature, and (4) the character of the soil. On many of the overgrazed ranges in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Wyoming, it is thought that the conditions governing the growth of this plant are favorable, and if it does succeed it will make an admirable addition to the forage supply.

One of the peculiar features concerning the seed crop is that under the most favorable conditions it will not germinate to any appreciable extent shortly after the seed has matured. At first it was feared that the seed was of very low vitality, and that little would result from sowing it. However, that was a mistake. The seed to germinate well must be dormant in the sun and water through the summer, and when the fall rains come it sprouts readily. Laboratory tests show that it germinates from 80 to 95 percent when left in its natural habitat during the summer, but when collected and protected from the weather it germinates only 5 to 15 percent. Accordingly, in sowing alfalfa in the future it will be necessary to scatter the seed immediately after collecting it in the spring, or place it in seed vats specially constructed for the purpose, where it can be subjected to the heat of the sun and sown later in the season. The exact physiological change which takes place in the seed when subjected to the weather is not known, but apparently the seed coat or protoplasm is differentiated in some way.

A new and unique industry is being developed about three miles south of Silver City. It consists in gathering "bear grass" which grows in great abundance on the ridges and sides of the hills south of the city and shipping it to St. Louis where it is used in the manufacture of brooms, scrubbing brushes, etc., and is said to be fine for that purpose. Charles Bottom, a pioneer resident of Silver City, has a force of fifteen or twenty men at work with teams, gathering the grass, chopping off the dry ends and baling it into small compact bales which are taken to the stockyards and there loaded into cars for shipment. He has already shipped several cars of the grass and netted a neat profit from it.

Captain R. C. Markley, who has been on a six weeks' trip to his former home in New Jersey, and other eastern points has returned to Silver City in company with W. A. Heather and O. O. Baker, from San Antonio, Texas, where they attended the convention of the National Mottah Growers' association, which was organized September 23rd in Silver City. At the meeting tentative approval was given to the plan for a central warehouse in the east, but not to the disparagement of a system of local warehouses, which were declared valuable adjuncts to any central system which may eventually be adopted.

The soiree at the Columbus hall last night will be one of the social events of the season. Do not fail to be there.

REMIRO CASTOR IN THE RING FOR MARSHAL

LAS VEGAS MAYOR ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Well Known Republican Wheel Horse in San Miguel County Formally Enters Field for Appointment.

(Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal)

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 21.—Scoundino Romero last night formally announced in the Las Vegas Optic his candidacy for the position of United States marshal for New Mexico to succeed Croigham M. Foraker when the latter's term expires.

Mr. Romero is understood to be out for the job until the last nose is counted and will bring considerable influence to bear to secure the coveted plum. Mr. Romero, who is mayor of the old town of Las Vegas, and has held that position for several terms, is one of the most influential republicans in the territory, a member of a family which has been composed of influential republicans for many long years past. He is a son of Eugenio Romero, the veteran republican war horse of San Miguel county. Scoundino Romero has been a member of the central republican committee of San Miguel county since he was of age, and has the distinction of having carried the county, the stamping ground and residence of O. A. Larrazolo, for W. H. Andrews in the last election for delegate to the handsome majority of 600, which is going some, and which undoubtedly clinched the election of Mr. Andrews at a time when votes were badly needed. Mr. Romero is a colonel on the staff of the governor. He was born in Las Vegas in 1862, and was educated in the schools there, and in St. Mary's college, Kansas. He is at present clerk of the district court for the Fourth judicial district.

TEN SOLDIERS ARE HELD, SUSPECTED OF ROBBERY

Five Guards En Route to Fort Leavenworth With Five Prisoners Detained on Suspicion of Having Cracked Safe.

A curious incident occurred at the Santa Fe depot shortly after 10 o'clock last night when Police Commissioner O'Grady took into custody ten United States soldiers, nearly all belonging to troop M of the Fifth United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Wingate. Five of the men were in charge of five prisoners whom they were taking to the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. All ten men were taken off of eastbound Santa Fe train No. 3 and detained as the result of a telegram received from Lieutenant Wagner, commanding officer at Fort Wingate, who asked that the men be held in Albuquerque until his arrival on train No. 2 at 3 o'clock this morning.

According to Lieutenant Wagner, the safe at the exchange at Fort Wingate was robbed of $100,000 Saturday night. He requested that the five guards be detained under guard and the five prisoners be put in jail, to await his arrival. The local officers complied with the request and the men were forced to gather up their traveling equipment and personal effects and march in a body to the police station, where they were thoroughly searched. All the men denied strenuously that they had anything to do with cracking the safe. They stated that they knew of the robbery before they left Fort Wingate yesterday morning.

Some of the men treated their detention as a huge joke. Others chafed under the humiliation and declared that they would take the matter up with the secretary of war.

A curious feature of the case is that nearly $400 was gathered from the ten men when they surrendered their personal effects. The coincidence struck some of the temporary prisoners as exceedingly funny, although all of them were able to tell where they got every cent of the money.

It is thought that the mystery will be cleared up this morning upon the arrival of Lieutenant Wagner who may have definite information as to the party who committed the robbery.

Labor Union Leader Shot Dead.

Cleveland, Nov. 21.—Frank Krug, president of the local Iron Molders' union, died today from a bullet wound in his head. He was slain and shot Saturday night outside a saloon where they knew who shot him.

The soiree at the Columbus hall last night will be one of the social events of the season. Do not fail to be there.

UNITED KINGDOM ABSORBED IN POLITICS

This Week Expected to Witness Culmination of Great Fight Over the Budget.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) London, Nov. 21.—The United Kingdom is more absorbed in politics now than for many years and the coming week will see the culmination of the fierce warfare that has been carried on over the budget. The house of lords is expected to vote Thursday on Lord Lansdowne's resolution calling for the rejection of the budget.

Before Thursday most of the leaders in the upper house will speak on the question. Lord Rosbery's effort for the conservatives and that of the earl of Halsbury for the liberals are awaited with the utmost interest. Probably the largest number of lords were mustered for the vote since the rejection of home rule. About 450 are likely to be assembled and not more than one-quarter of these will support the budget. Most of the politicians predict that when the question goes before the people at the general elections in January, it will be impossible to wipe out the great liberal majority and that the liberal government will be returned but with a comparatively small majority. The betting at Lloyd's is 3 to 1 in favor of the liberals. The liberal leaders declare that the issue is whether the hereditary chamber shall rule the country.

GHASTLY TRAGEDY AT CHICAGO

Brute Beats Aged Fisherman and Stabs to Death Man Who Attempted to Stop It.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Chicago, Nov. 21.—The beating of an aged man with an iron bar and the murder of a man who attempted to stop it, were the features of a tragedy in a lonely hut on the lake front here today.

Andrew Heil was stabbed in the heart by Charles Bonfield, after Heil had attempted to stop Bonfield from beating George Krapp, an aged and feeble fisherman. The hut had been Krapp's home many years.

Bonfield had entered Krapp's hut to ask him to get a hatchet for him and because Krapp did not move quickly enough, Bonfield started to beat him with an iron bar, according to the police. Krapp ran out with Bonfield in pursuit, when they met Heil and three companions, who attempted to stop him. Bonfield ran into the hut for a knife and at the door met Heil and stabbed him. Bonfield was arrested.

NEW POSTALS TO BEAR PORTRAIT OF MCKINLEY

Washington, Nov. 21.—Designs for the new postal cards to be issued by the government have been approved by Postmaster General Hitchcock. The cards will be furnished to the post office department by the government printing office in accordance with a contract effective on January 1, 1910.

On the ordinary card, the head of the late President McKinley will appear as now, but a much better likeness of the martyred president has been selected. On the small card, intended for index purposes and social correspondence, a likeness of President Lincoln will appear. The two-cent international card will bear a portrait of General Grant.

A novel and pleasing innovation has been made for the reply postal card. On the first half will appear a portrait of George Washington while the stamp on the second, or reply half, will be a likeness of Martha Washington.

HIS FRAT BROTHERS TO HONOR COMMANDER PEARY

New York, Nov. 21.—In honor of "Brother Peary," the Delta Kappa Epsilon has planned one of the largest college fraternity dinners ever held for Saturday night, December 18, at the Hotel Astor.

Commander Peary is a member of Theta chapter, D. K. E. at Bowdoin college. Two years ago the fraternity dined the explorer and at time gave him the fraternity flag which Peary took with him and unfurled with the stars and stripes at the pole.

MINEING SEASON IN ALASKA PROVES PROSPEROUS

Gold Camps Have Increased Output According to Geologist of United States Survey Just Returned.

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire) Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—"The season of mining in Alaska has been a prosperous one," said Alfred H. Brooks, geologist in charge of the Alaska work of the U. S. geological survey, who has just returned to Washington from his annual "swing around the circle" in the far north-west. "While dry weather and other unfavorable conditions have curtailed the placer gold production at Nome, most of the other camps have either maintained or increased their output. Figures of gold output are not yet available, but it seems probable that the production for 1909 will be between nineteen and twenty million dollars. The low price of copper has not encouraged mining of that metal but about half a dozen properties shipped ore during 1909. It appears probable that the Alaska copper output for the year will exceed four million ounces."

Another season's field work in the exploration and surveying of Alaska has been completed by the geological survey men. Thirteen parties, working in various portions of the territory during the season, the investigations covering country containing both quartz and placer gold deposits, silver, copper and coal, as well as inquiry into Alaskan water resources. The work outlined for the season was all successfully carried out and many important results were obtained. A general preliminary statement will be printed and issued as soon as it can be prepared some time next spring.

Study of Coal Deposits.

In view of the recognized importance of Alaska's bituminous coal deposits a detailed survey has been made of the Matanuska coal field. The resulting map will be used as a base for delineating the coal bearing strata and by the time this important field is reached by the Alaskan Central railway, of which over 70 miles have already been completed, detailed information regarding the distribution and magnitude of the coal deposits will be available. This railway will also afford access to the Willow creek district, where some quartz veins carrying high gold values were opened up in 1908.

"Railroad construction," said Mr. Brooks, in speaking of the Chitina copper precinct, "is being energetically pushed on the Copper River valley. Trains are now running on 75 miles of the road and probably 25 miles more will be completed this fall. This road will connect the copper deposits of the Chitina with the water on Prince William sound." Detailed geological mapping of the best developed portion of this important copper district has been completed.

Lode Deposits at Fairbanks.
Mr. Brooks also visited a geologic party at Fairbanks, engaged in the preliminary study of the newly discovered gold quartz of the region. Although no large ore bodies have been found, said Mr. Brooks, "some of the veins carry high values and appear to be persistent. Pyrite, arsenopyrite, stibnite, sphalerite, galena and free gold are found in a gangue of quartz. Prospector reports the occurrence of telluride ores, but specimens tested in the survey laboratory show no evidence of tellurium. Veins from an inch to twelve feet or more in thickness have been opened up in a dozen localities. The development work is chiefly surface prospecting, but some deposits have been followed to a depth of nearly a hundred feet by shafts and tunnels. The indications are sufficiently encouraging to warrant more extensive prospecting."

Exploratory Surveys.
Two important pieces of exploratory work were accomplished, one in the region of the Cook inlet and one over an area between the lower Yukon and Seward peninsula. Diamna, about 100 miles long, and Lake Clark, a narrow lake about 50 miles in length. Copper and gold-bearing quartz and a little placer gold have been found in this region, but they have been but little developed. Exploratory surveys in the country lying between the Yukon and Norton bay show that the region extending southward from longitude 141 degrees holds out but little promise of containing valuable mineral deposits. To the west of this line, however, there are metamorphic rocks which may be auriferous.

Geologic work was done by one party in the gold and copper regions of the eastern Kenai peninsula and important information obtained concerning its geology, geography and mineral deposits.

Measurements of stream flow, in order to determine the quantity of water available for placer mining during the open season, were continued this year by the survey engineers in the Fairbanks, Birch creek, Hot Springs and Rampart districts, and also in the various placer camps of the Seward peninsula.

Water Power Cheapens Mining.
Water power also plays an important part in the mining industry of southeastern Alaska, since their utilization will permit the mining of low grade ores which can not be commercially exploited by the use of coal power. For this reason an engineer of the water resources branch of the survey visited this field in order to familiarize himself with the water powers involved and to obtain a basis on which to plan systematic work.

Another party spent the summer in carrying reconnaissance surveys from Yukon to the Koyukuk and thence to the Chandalat. The annual gold production of the Koyukuk among the

In accordance with the practice of making detailed surveys of the important mining districts, the geologic mapping and study of the ore deposits of the Berners bay district, was completed this summer. This district, though dormant at present, possesses some valuable lode quartz deposits. These surveys were also carried southward to the Eagle river district.
