DR. COOK HIDES FROM WORLD HIS FRIENDS PUZZLED

BELIEVED ON VERGE OF NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Storm of Criticism Affects
Health of Man Who Braved Rigors of Frozen North, Is Explanation of Friend.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
New York, Nov. 27.—Dr. Frederick
A. Cook dropped completely from public view today. Not even John R.
Bradley, whose money was behind his polar expedition, knows where the explorer is tonight.

Confiding his secret to only one man and perhaps to his wife, the explorer slipped quietly and mysteriously
away leaving behind him a string of puzzled and exasperated friends
and a debate more acrimonious than that which followed his announcement of September last that he had discovered the north pole on April 21, 1908.

Charles Wake, an insurance man,
appears to be the only one who knows
the whereabouts of Dr. Cook.
Dr. Cook and Wake is firm in his resolve to keep his lips sealed until Cook himself sees fit to take the public into his confidence.

In the meantime concern is expressed over the condition of Dr.
Cook's health. Although some of his friends maintain he has borne up well
under the continued strain of lecturing and preparing his data, as opposed to this an intimate associate of the doctor said tonight, Cook appeared to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown when he conferred with him
Monday night. This friend, who is a newspaper man, issued a statement
tonight, quoting Dr. Cook as saying:

"If this thing keeps up a few months longer, I will be in the insane asylum."
This is the statement in part.

"On Monday night I called at the Gramatan Inn and conferred with Dr. Cook. He was in an extremely nervous condition and I was convinced that unless he took a long needed rest
he might suffer a nervous breakdown."
He told me he had been advised to go abroad in order to be in easy reach of Copenhagen if his presence were required and that at the same time to get a much needed rest.

"Dr. Cook has taken me into his confidence and I have been permitted to examine the original data. There is a possibility that Lord Balfour will reply to this with an amendment
proposing that a change in the system of taxation of such importance should be referred to the people. The premier's motion, of course, will prevail
and then it will be up to the government to decide whether the house
shall be prorogued or merely adjourned."

The decision of the government will be of the greatest importance so far as financiers are concerned as the only authority now existing for collecting the income tax and other duties
rests on the resolutions passed immediately after the introduction of the budget. If parliament is prorogued these resolutions will come to an end and the collection of taxes will have to stop.

SUFFRAGETTE MAKES TOUR OF INSPECTION OF JAILS

Denver, Nov. 27.—J. Ellen Foster, one of the best known suffragettes in the United States is in Denver on a tour of the jails of the country. Mrs.
Foster is sent out by the department of justice at Washington to make an investigation of conditions of the penal institutions.

Mrs. Foster came to Colorado in 1894 during the campaign for woman suffrage and took a leading part in the fight. She will make a tour of the state penal institutions.

Car Crew Exonerated.

Los Angeles, Nov. 27.—The coroner's jury investigating the automobile and trolley car collision Thursday night, which resulted in the death of Nicholas Jacobs, a well-known contractor, his two sons and two daughters, and the injury of five other members of the family, returned a verdict today exonerating the crew of the electric car.

Denver Lawyer Inherits Fortune.

Denver, Nov. 27.—Benjamin B.
Laska, a Denver attorney, left today
for New York, where, it is said, he has inherited a large fortune by the death of his father. The elder Laska was a Russian Jew who is asserted to have made a vast fortune in New York. Young Laska left home in his youth and for a time followed the occupation of a musician, but later took up the practice of law.

ALABAMA MAY FOREVER BAR SALOONS

PROPOSED PROHIBITION CLAUSE IN CONSTITUTION

Vote Tomorrow Will Decide
Fate of Anti-Liquor Legislation; Campaign Most Bitter
in State's History.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 27.—The voters of Alabama will decide Monday whether they will make the provisions of the manufacture and sale
of intoxicating liquors a part of organic law of the state. The question of whether the state constitution is to be thus amended was submitted at a special session of the legislature called by Governor Comer last August.
That session was one of the most bitter in the history of the commonwealth and the campaign which followed and which closed tonight was no more peaceful.

The amendment which would forever bar liquor from the state is the crowning feature of the most drastic anti-liquor legislation ever introduced in any state.

The bill prohibits the manufacture,
sale and keeping for sale of alcoholic
and malt beverages, with the exception that alcohol may be sold for medical, scientific and mechanical purposes and wine for sacramental purposes under such regulations as the legislature may prescribe.

Another provision would give to the legislature power to prohibit citizens
from keeping liquor in their homes.

This is put forth to meet the recent ruling of the supreme court that liquor is a commodity which can be possessed and stored in such quantities as its owner may see fit, so long as he does not offer it for sale.

The fight in the campaign just closed has been marked by more bitterness than has attended any other political issue in years. Both United States senators and five congressmen are opposing the amendment. Governor Comer, Lieutenant Governor Gray
and Speaker Carmichael are supporting the amendment.

SAN FRANCISCO CUT OFF FROM WORLD

Brief Interruption of Telegraph Communication Gives Rise to Alarming Rumors of Another Disastrous Earthquake.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
San Francisco, Nov. 27.—The failure of an engine in one of the big power houses, caused by a low tide
shutting off the water from the condenser, interrupted all telegraphic and telephone communication with the outside world for a few minutes tonight, but isolated San Francisco long enough to give rise to a flood of rumors throughout the country that the interruption had been caused by an earthquake.

For about twenty minutes the hundreds of wires running east, north and south were all silent. As soon as the trouble in the power house was repaired and communication restored, many telegrams of inquiry
from all parts of the country deluged
the local telegraph, newspaper and press offices.

The fact that Portland, Salt Lake
and Los Angeles telegraph offices reported to the east that they could not raise San Francisco tended to give some credence to the rumor of an earthquake.

The interruption was so brief that the local telegraph offices did not even have time to start their auxiliary power plants.

THOUSAND ORPHANS LEFT DESTITUTE AT CHERRY

United Mine Workers Will Raise
$100,000 Relief Fund for Widows and Children of Dead
Comrades.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
Indianapolis, Nov. 27.—The United Mine workers of America will attempt to raise $100,000 as a permanent relief fund for the widows and orphans
of the victims of the Cherry, Ill.,
mine disaster, it was announced today.

President Lewis estimates 1,000
children have been made homeless.
While the Red Cross society is attending to immediate needs of the destitute at Cherry, Mr. Lewis believes a fund should be raised for the care of the children in the future.

SHOOTING OF JOHNSON AN ACCIDENT

INQUEST FINDS NO EVIDENCE OF SUICIDE

In Absence of Anything to Prove Self Destruction
Theory is Not Adopted
by Coroner's Jury.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal]
Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 27.—
That Harvey Johnson, the son of Oscar Johnson, the St. Louis shoe magnate, came to his death by accident yesterday was the verdict of a coroner's jury which convened at Coeles, or Windsor's ranch, near the scene of the tragedy. "We find that death was probably due to an accident," is the jury's verdict. The members of the jury went to the scene of the accident, which is not far from Windsor's, viewed the promises carefully, looked at the remains and examined several witnesses. At a final session held at the ranch it was decided to issue the foregoing verdict.

Those familiar with the immediate circumstances surrounding the death of the young man are skeptical as to the accident theory. In the absence of absolute evidence, however, showing premeditated self destruction, the jury agreed that there was nothing to warrant a verdict of other than accidental death, presumably by reason of the careless handling of a revolver.

The body, which has been prepared for shipment by Undertaker F. H.
Strong of Albuquerque, will be sent tonight accompanied by E. L. Collins to St. Louis for burial. Mr. Collins is a traveling salesman for the firm of Roberts, Johnson and Rano, of which the father of the dead young man is a member.

It has been ascertained that when the ranger entered the bungalow attracted by the shot, and found Johnson dead with a hole in his temple
and the smoking revolver at hand, indicating that the young man had been studying a short time before the tragedy.

GOVERNMENT SEIZED ITS OWN PROPERTY

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 27.—Upon instructions from Attorney General Wickersham, M. L. Temple, United States district attorney in the southern Iowa district, today dismissed the case brought against 318 sacks of bleached flour seized by government
officers at Fort Des Moines last summer.

The fact that the flour was government property at the time of its seizure was given as the reason for the dismissal.

MILLION ACRES ARE RESTORED TO ENTRY

Montana Land Withdrawn for Propose of Providing Homes for Indians Again Thrown Open

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
Washington, Nov. 27.—About 1,000, 000 acres of land in eastern Montana
heretofore withdrawn for the purpose of making allotments to the Rocky Boy band of Chippewa Indians, have been restored to settlement and entry by Secretary Ballinger.

Sixty per cent or more of this area
is embraced within pending entries or selections, and of the remainder a considerable portion is not susceptible of cultivation. A large number of settlers are already within the restored area and that not application for will be subject to entry prior to March 1 next.

Arrangements for the allotments to the Rocky Boy band contemplate their location on a portion of the Blackfeet reservation. There are about 150 members of the band who
at times have been very troublesome
and their proposed settlement on the land just restored to entry has been strongly objected to by the citizens of Montana.

The restoration is made subject to the selection and location of applications for allotments of certain members of the Turtle mountain band of Indians, which is understood to be satisfactory to the settlers.

EDWARD HASN'T HEARD HE'S TO ARBITRATE CLAIM

London, Nov. 27.—A high authority stated tonight that King Edward
had not been invited as yet to arbitrate the dispute between the United States and Chile. The latest official information received in London was to the effect that the arbitral between the two countries had not been finally agreed upon and until this was accomplished, it is held here that to formally invite anyone to arbitrate the matter would be premature.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 27.—Paul and

of Sam Weber, a brother of Ed, it was alleged, by one of the Dunham brothers.

from a river in which she took shelter
from a violent storm last month and that Chinese farmers have demanded

EXPLAINS ORIGIN OF CRATERS ON THE MOON

INTERESTING ADDRESS BY PROFESSOR SEE

Naval Astronomer at Mare Island and Would Upset Theories Long Held by Scientists and Cites Strong Proof.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Extending and completing his researches on the origin of the planets and satellites of the solar system, Professor T. J. See, naval astronomer at Mare Island, gave tonight to the Astronomical Society of the Pacific an explanation of the origin of the craters of the moon, and then proceeded to apply the new theory to the obliquity of the planets which, he said, overcame the last difficulty in the way of the "capture theory," recently advanced by him as supplanting the nebular hypothesis of Laplace.

Professor See announced that the lunar craters were undoubtedly due to the impact of smaller satellites against the surface of the moon, and not to volcanic action, as had been generally believed since the time of Galileo. The view that the lunar craters might be due to impact, he said, had occurred to Proctor as long ago as 1873, and had been mentioned as a curiosity by Newcomb in 1878, while it had been more fully developed by Dr. C. K. Gilbert of the United States Geological Survey in 1892. But the impact theory had never been accepted by geologists or astronomers, and was not mentioned in any recent works on astronomy, so great has been the force of traditional opinion in favor of the volcanic theory.

Professor See, however, pointed out detailed reasons which, he claims, were absolutely decisive against the volcanic theory and remarked that there would now be less difficulty in seeing the truth of the impact theory than formerly because he had recently proved that the moon is not a part of the earth thrown off by rapid rotation, but a planet captured from space. The new theory of the capture of the moon, he said, had been favorably received by the scientific world, but it would be of still greater use in bringing to light other discoveries, such as those announced tonight.

Dr. See said the typical crater on the moon was a very large circular depression with steep walls inside and sloping walls outside, and a small peak in the center, with the top of it below the average level of the lunar surface. If any one supposed the crater to be volcanic, it was impossible to account for the depressions where the craters stand, and no forces directed from within could dig out the circular trough about the peak in the center. Then, too, the way the craters lie over one another shows that they are nothing but satellite indentations. About the newer craters, as Copernicus, Tycho, Aristarchus, etc., the bright rays radiating in all directions show that at the time of the collision the force of the impact was such that matter was melted, vaporized and driven out from these centers in all directions. A satellite hitting the moon might have its temperature raised to four thousand degrees or higher, and the bright rays from the craters were due to the scattering of highly heated matter.

The blazing of the moon in target practice, which is shot into the target was familiar to officers of the military service, and the flattening and spreading of the projectile was such as to give a peak in the center of the cratered shell, while at the same time a rim is formed around it, just like that seen about the craters on the moon. But the shot fired in the night sky compared to target practice on earth is as nothing compared to that in the heavens where satellites from twenty to fifty miles in diameter, had been hurled against the lunar surface with a velocity of over a mile a second, and thus produced blazing conflagrations sometimes covering the whole side of the moon.

Professor See pointed out that many of the craters are largely covered with craters of smaller size, and that the craters are of different ages, which had fallen from such configurations. There is no air about the moon in which it could long remain suspended. He said that the moon had never had any seas or another bodies of water, and that the lunar mountains were entirely due to impact of satellites against the surface, but thought that most of the great collisions had occurred before the moon was captured by the earth, and therefore while the moon was still revolving in the region now occupied by the asteroids. The smaller asteroids are about the size of the falling bodies which have produced the large lunar craters— from twenty to sixty miles across. This is about the size of the planet Eros, which approaches nearer the earth than any other known planet.

The roughness of the surface of our moon shows how many hard knocks it has received in the past. Every planet has gone through a similar experience, but those having atmospheres and oceans like the earth have suffered such great geological changes that they have long since lost all trace of ancient battering, while those without atmospheres have survived on the airless and waterless moon, to show in the terrible grooves by which worlds are formed, declared Professor See.

In a second paper presented tonight Dr. See explained the obliquity of the planets by the impact of satellites against their surfaces. He said he had discovered the cause of the obliquity from the case of Jupiter, whose axis is nearly perpendicular to the plane of his orbit. At one time, Jupiter's obliquity was larger than that of the earth, or even Saturn, twenty-eight degrees; but as the greatest of the planets had gathered in satellites moving about the sun in planes having the average position of the Jovian orbit, the equator had been tilted down almost into coincidence with it. In this way, had arisen the small obliquity of Jupiter, and a similar influence had acted upon the other planets. Saturn's obliquity would practically disappear if that planet could gather in enough satellites to make the mass as large as that of Jupiter. The obliquity of our earth, on which the seasons depend, is smaller than that of Mars, and Professor See said that the obliquity of Venus probably was smaller yet, not exceeding twenty degrees. He ascribes the high obliquity of the systems of Uranus and Neptune to the original positions of those planets, their equators never having been greatly tilted over by the capture of satellites.

The small obliquity of Jupiter gave the true clue to the cause at work, and the face of the moon showed how all planets had been pelted by falling satellites during the immeasurable ages involved in the development of our system, which was originally of much greater dimensions than at present. The solar system was formed from a spiral nebula, the outer border of which originally extended to some extent like at thousand times the distance of the earth from the sun. Most of the other nebulae of the heavens are of immense extent, and Professor See said he had proved that the nebula which formed our solar system was no exception to the general rule. In conclusion, Dr. See announced that he had now proved that the planets had been captured by the sun, and that their orbits had been gradually reduced in size and rounded up under the secular action of a resisting medium; that the satellites likewise had been captured by their several planets, and had had their orbits transformed in the same manner; finally, that the moon had been captured by the earth, and the craters on its surface had been formed by the impact of satellites, when the moon revolved among the asteroids or further out. The time involved in the formation of the solar system was to be reckoned in billions of years, and something like four hundred million years may have elapsed since the moon was captured by the earth. In conclusion, he said all the principal phenomena of the solar system were now fully explained in accordance with known mechanical laws, and astronomers had gained an unexpected light on the origin of the systems of the universe.

PORTO RICAN RIVERS FLOOD PLANTATIONS

Serious Loss of Property from Floods in Sunny Isle.

San Juan, P. R., Nov. 27.—The incessant downpour of rain since November 19 has caused heavy damage to property throughout the island. The rivers are raging torrents overflowing the country. The rain, however, was accompanied by only a light wind. The sugar, tobacco and pineapple plantations have suffered great loss. Many acres of sugar cane and pineapple land on the northern coast have been flooded and the Yabucoa and Humacao sugar districts on the southern coast have been inundated.

Landslides on the military road from San Juan to Ponce and Guayama obstruct traffic and delay the mails.

Boy Bank Robber Paroled. Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 27.—William McKay, the 15 year old Jacksonville, Fla. boy, who, with Earl Bullock, robbed the State bank at Emporia, near here on November 11, was today paroled by Judge Means of the juvenile court. Bullock committed suicide rather than surrender to a posse at the time of the robbery.

QUICK WORK WITH NEGRO CRIMINAL

Woman's Assailant Caught, Identified and Sentenced to Life Imprisonment Within Few Hours of Crime.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] McAlester, Okla., Nov. 27.—William Jones, a negro, pleaded guilty to attacking Mrs. John King near here and was sentenced to life in the penitentiary.

Earlier in the day Mrs. King, when taken to the negro's cell to identify him, attempted to shoot Jones with a revolver she had hidden in the folds of her skirt. The bullet went wild, however, and before the woman could fire a second shot she was dragged from the cell.

Jones was given a speedy trial on account of the intense feeling against him. A jury quickly tried to take him away from the police.

BLUEJACKETS LAND IN NICARAGUA IS REPORT

Navy Department Unable to Confirm Advices From Greytown That American Force Has Entered City.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Washington, Nov. 27.—A rumor seized currency here late tonight that American bluejackets had been landed at Greytown, Nicaragua, today. The report could not be confirmed. Naval officials disclaimed knowledge of the landing and declared that it such were the case the navy department would have been notified.

Read Admiral Potter, chief of the bureau of navigation, said tonight that the Des Moines is not at Greytown and that so far as the department knew the vessel was at Port Limon, Costa Rica.

The congress of Nicaragua does not exist today, according to a wireless message received here tonight, from General Estrada, leader of the revolutionists, by Senor Castillo, representative at this capital of the revolutionist party. The message says that all members of the congress are in the penitentiary or are fleeing.

It was signed by Colonel F. Golza, in command of some of the insurgent forces at Bluefields.

Although it was currently rumored that a large quantity of arms for the insurgents would be shipped on the steamer Marietta Di Giorgio, which sailed for Bluefields late tonight, its manifest showed no such articles.

Completion of Mountain Section of South American Trans Continental Line Celebrated in Chilean Capital.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Santiago, Chile, Nov. 27.—The tunnel of the Transandean railway was pierced today and the event was made the occasion of a great celebration. The Transandean railway project was approved by the Chilean congress in 1902 and the first section of the railway was opened in 1906. This section reaches from Valparaiso to the foot of the Andes where the tunnel begins. The Chilean section of the tunnel was opened March 15, 1908 and the work of piercing the Andes has progressed rapidly, American methods and machinery being used.

The tunnel is five miles long and the highest in the world. The line now reaches to the summit of the Cordillera and will join a railroad of the same gauge from Mendoza. The completed line from Arica to La Paz will be about 200 miles long and will cost about $15,000,000.

MANN TO MAKE EFFORT TO AVERT TRADE WAR WITH THE DOMINION

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Washington, Nov. 27.—Congressman Mann, chairman of the special committee on wood pulp and print paper of the last congress, who prepared the provisions on these items as first reported to the house by the Payne tariff bill, but who was overruled by congress in the final passage of the tariff law, took the position today that the country may well be alarmed at the danger of a tariff war with Canada, growing out of the tariff on wood pulp and print paper under the Payne act. Mr. Mann will introduce in congress several bills and bring resolutions relating to this subject. One measure is a joint resolution to postpone the application of maximum tariff from April 1, next, to January 1, 1911.

Another provides that the general maximum tariff of the United States shall be held not to apply to wood pulp and print paper imported from Canada.

Mr. Mann has prepared and will introduce a bill which provides that wood pulp and printing paper shall be admitted free of duty when imported from Canada, under the condition that the country may well be alarmed at the danger of a tariff war with Canada, growing out of the tariff on wood pulp and print paper under the Payne act. ELOPING DAUGHTER LEAVES FATHER'S CORPSE IN ROAD

Georgia Farmer Who Caught Up With Runaway Couple Shot Dead in Fight.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] Camilla, Ga., Nov. 27.—Because he pursued his eloping daughter, H. T. J. Sellers, a wealthy farmer, was shot and killed today.

Sellers overtook his daughter, who was going away with Columbus Huey. A quarrel for possession of the girl took place and Sellers was shot. The police say that Huey and Miss Sellers, leaving the girl's father's body in the road, hurried on, intending to complete the elopement with a wedding.

The sheriff and a posse, when the killing became known, at once started after the fleeing couple. Huey was captured several miles from the scene of the tragedy and lodged in jail here.

The girl, who was Miss S. Eulen Sellers, declares they have been married and that she will not attend her father's funeral. She stated tonight, and the same story is told by Huey, that her father threatened to kill her unless she went home with him, when he caught the eloping couple, and that he put his hand to his pocket as if to draw a weapon. She says Huey then fired, killing Sellers instantly.

ARTILLERYMEN FAIL TO HIT BALLOON

Army Airship Passes Unscathed Through Heavy Fire at Sandy Hook; Cause of Failure Kept Secret.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire] New York, Nov. 27.—An anchored balloon sent up off Sandy Hook today at a continuation of the army's first test of aerial warfare, passed unscathed through a fire from a gun specially designed for the purpose. Twenty shots in all were fired, but none hit the bag. The results of the experiments are being kept a secret, but the outcome of today's test became known tonight. The balloon was fired upon at a height of about 200 feet, but whether the failure of the special gun to destroy it resulted from the weapon's inefficiency, or poor marksmanship could not be ascertained, because of the secret policy adopted in connection with the tests.

MUCH WANTED WITNESS IN WARRINER CASE GONE

Girl Stenographer, Who Owned Fashionable Gowns and Automobile Disappears.

Cincinnati, Nov. 27.—Miss Brockway, stenographer and bookkeeper in the office of Frank Condon, cashier of the United States survey office department is mysteriously missing. Miss Brockway is wanted as a witness in the case of Charles L. Warriner, former local treasurer of the Big Four railroad, who is under indictment, charged with embezzling the railroad's funds, amounting, it is said, to $642,000.

Miss Brockway was the social companion of Miss Jeanette Stewart Ford, the woman indicted in connection with the Warriner case. Miss Brockway made an application for a leave of absence, but without waiting for action by her superior disappeared. Her trunk was sent to a railroad station. Her salary was $1,500 a year. She owns an automobile and wears fashionable gowns.

SPAIN WILL WITHDRAW HER TROOPS GRADUALLY

Madrid, Nov. 27.—The cabinet has decided gradually to recall the troops from Morocco and to send the remainder home immediately. President Morphy Precedent tonight said Spain, having attained its end, would not continue to forward the campaign. The Spanish government had enough to do to civilize the small territory already occupied.

Referring to Spain's relations with Portugal, the premier said a step had been taken in the direction of a fraternal rapprochement and closer commercial ties.

Twenty Dollars for Two

You would not trade twenty dollars' worth of butter for two dollars' worth of veal. Yet we can name bright farmers, right in this neighborhood, who feed young stock butter fat worth 25 to 35 cents a pound, when all meal would be just as good for them. If you feed milk set and skimmed by hand, you are leaving one-quarter to one-half the butter fat in the milk. You are feeding valuable butter to produce cheap, calf fat or pig fat, gentlemen, that don't pay.

THE SHARPLES TUBULAR CREAM SEPARATOR will save that cream—stop that loss—and put you that much ahead. Come and see the Tubular. Let us explain how and why it's the cleanest skimming, lightest running, most durable and easiest handled cream separator made. The Tubular is very simple. We will be pleased to take it all apart and explain exactly how it will pay for itself one to three times each year in increased dairy profits.

SPLENDID WELCOME HIGH ALTITUDE OF TENDERED TO THE EL PASO FATAL VARSITY HEROES FOR HORSES

IMMENSE CROWD ATTENDS
THE BIG CELEBRATION

U. M. N. Football Men Feted in Magnificent Style; Red Fire
and Speech-making, Preceded by Parade, Make Things Lively.

The intense enthusiasm which has been in evidence in Albuquerque since Thursday night as the result of the signal victory achieved by the University of New Mexico eleven over the Arizona team at Tucson on Thanksgiving day, gathered and burst with protestantism last night in the city's sports arena, where the varsity heroes, who returned from the Arizona pueblo shortly after dark yesterday morning.

It was indeed a royal welcome, remarkable for its spontaneity and sincerity, which was extended to the varsity squad last night. In fact never before in the history of university affairs in Albuquerque was there
more genuine enthusiasm displayed.
The demonstration commenced at 7:30 o'clock, the parade being formed in front of the Morning Journal offices. Michael McGuinness, attired in a checkered director's gown, was marshal of the display and successfully directed the formation. Following the two bands came the freshmen and sophomore in white night shirts and carrying blazing torches. The student body and some members of the faculty led in behind, after which followed the fully-borne carrying the varsity heroes. A huge banner bearing the inscription, "Champions of the Southwest," flapping to the breeze
from the tails, told the reason for the demonstration. A large float laden with a bevy of pretty girls students of the Varsity brought up the parade.

Husky freshmen and sophomores
received a "shout" from the crowd
as they passed, and the parade was accompanied by a demonstration

Headed by Leonard and Linde-man boys' band and the Indian band playing "Hail the Conqueror Here Comes," the parade traversed
the main streets of the business section, halting at Central and Second streets, where a huge bonfire had been kindled and a temporary stand erected for the accommodation of the spectators.

Speeches were delivered by Attorney Hugh J. Collins, who assisted in coaching the Varsity men into shape
for their battle with Tucson, Dr. J. H.
Worth, manager Lawrence Lee of the football squad, and others.

Ginger and enthusiasm abounded at the rally and the demonstration was a magnificent success from every point of view.

The festivities of the evening commenced with a pleasant social dance
held in the Elks' ball room, the dance being attended by quite a number of varsity students and their friends.

SUTTON AGAIN BEATS
SLOSSON AT BILLIARDS

New York, Nov. 27.—George Sutton, of Chicago, defeated George Slos-
son of New York at tonight's session
of the world's championship 18 1/2 ball
billiard tournament at Madison Square Garden. The afternoon game between Firmin Cossignol, the French champion, and Harry P. Cline, of Philadelphia, resulted in another defeat for the Frenchman.

The Sutton-Slosson game went 32
frames, Sutton winning 500 to 427.
Slosson played an uneven game, his high innings being overcome by steady runs of single figure scoring.

Cline defeated Cossignol 590 to 461,
the game going 40 frames. Cossignol
lost his game in the first ten frames
playing in his poorest form of the tournament and scoring only 42
points to his opponent's 163.

Cline now leads in the tournament
with a record of four games won out of five played. The worst Cline can possibly get as a result of the remaining competitions is a draw for he has no more games to play, and every other player has lost at least one game. Cline's percentage is .800

while Demarest and Sutton are tied at
.750.

MISSING LIFEBOAT
TURNS UP SAFE

Captain and Eleven Men, Given
Up for Lost, Picked Up by Columbia River Lightship.

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
Astoria, Ore., Nov. 27.—The lifeboat containing Captain Snyder, one passenger and nine members of the crew of the steamer Argo, which put off from that vessel here the craft was about to founder off Tillamook Bay
Friday night, reached the Columbia river lightship at 4 a. m. today. The eleven occupants were taken aboard the lightship and will be sent into As-toria as soon as the present southwest storm abates sufficiently to permit a transfer being made to some other craft.

The news of the safety of the missing boat, which had practically been given up for lost, was brought here by the harbor tug Wallula, which arrived late today. The Wallula was able to get close enough to the lightship to talk with persons aboard that vessel
through a megaphone, but the sea was too rough to permit the Wallula to take off the shipwrecked men.

The safe arrival of the life boat today, coupled with the rescue of another containing nine persons that night, accounts for all the crew and passengers with the possible exception of one man, an Italian. In addition to the three known to be drowned and reported last night, it is believed an other American lost his life.

The Argo showed indications of tossing turtle last night and Captain Snyder ordered all on board to take to the boats. Mate Johnson commanded one boat and Captain Snyder
another. The two boats became separated in the mist and rough seas.
Johnson's boat cruised around and was picked up by the Okish, which had been beating up and down the coast in the vicinity of Tillamook bay
in an effort to locate the Argo.

M'BIRNEY LEAVES FOR HOME

Oklahoma Man Who Coached
the Varsity Squad to Victory Regretfully Severs Connections With the Team.

It was a regretful bunch of Varsity football men who bid a last farewell to S. T. McBirney, for the past six weeks head coach of the New Mexico
football squad, at the Santa Fe depot
last evening, prior to Mr. McBirney's departure for Tulsa, Okla. Mr. Mc-Birney hoped to remain with the Varsity boys until after their game with the Aggies next Wednesday, but was compelled to abandon the idea, being called to Tulsa to resume his position
as cashier of the Bank of Commerce
of that city.

Mr. McBirney, beyond a doubt, developed the Varsity men to the highest state of efficiency ever reached by a gridiron squad in the history of the institution. The thanks and appreciation of not only the Varsity students and faculty but of citizens in general are due to Mr. McBirney for his unswerving perseverance in his efforts to make the eleven the champions of the southwest.

Assistant Coach Conwell and Hugh
J. Collins will take the Varsity men in hand and work them out for the game with the Farmers Friday. This game will probably be the last the boys will play this season, although St. Vincent college of Los Angeles and the Cadets of Roswell are anxious to secure a tryout with the Varsity be-

MINER DESCRIBES WORK
ON CUNNINGHAM CLAIMS

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 27.—The land
office inquiry into the validity of the Cunningham coal land claims, valued at $50,000,000 in the Katalla district of Alaska, was adjourned today until next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in Spokane after the testimony of Squire C. Chogura, who was foreman of work on the Cunningham claims
for three years, had been taken.

Chogura, who is the locator of the eleven coal land claims known as the Checum
group, north of the Cunningham
group, is a practical miner. He testified that the work done by his men, mostly Indians, was prospecting to make known the extent of the coal deposits. Much work had been done on trails to enable the men to reach their camps and carry supplies.

Police Commissioner Baker gave it
as his opinion that such a gathering
would be in violation of the law and
that the police would be forced to prevent its taking place. The commissioner held that the New York
police law makes it a misdemeanor to even promote a public fight here.

MRS. CHRISTY SEEKS TO TAKE DAUGHTER FROM HER ARTIST HUSBAND

[By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire]
Zanesville, O., Nov. 27.—The hab-itus proceedings brought by Mrs.
Marion J. Thompson, Christy, wife of the artist Howard Chandler Christy, began today.

Mr. Christy was present in the crowded court room but the announcement was made that his wife was detained in New York and would not be here until next week.

After considerable preliminary fev-ering C. L. Lemert, counsel for Mrs.
Christy, asked that the time for the hearing be extended, as Mrs. Christy was unable to be present. He continued by moving that the child, who was in court with her father, be placed in custody of the sheriff.

Lemert Durban vigorously objected
and demanded that the child be left in the custody of her father. After considerable argument the court ruled that the girl should remain in her father's charge, his lawyer promising she would be produced in court when necessary. The court set the hearing for December 17 and 18, at which time it was announced several witnesses would be present from New York to testify.

Mr. Christy declined to state whether or not there was any foundation
for the rumors of a reconciliation.

TAFT CONGRATULATES SUCCESSFUL RIFLEMAN

Washington, Nov. 27.—President
Taft today sent letters of congratula-tion to Midshipman H. O. Roesech, winner of the national individual
rifle match against 824 contestants;
to Midshipman Andrew Denny, winner of the prize match, and to Mayor
W. R. Martin, of the Second New Jersey Infantry at Elizabeth, N. J., winner of the title of military rifle champion of the United States for 1909 by securing the highest aggregate score in the national individual and the president's match at the national rifle tournament. To the young men at the naval academy the president said:

"You of the navy are not supposed to specialize on rifle practice, but what you gain in skill in the use of the small arm will be of inestimable benefit to you in directing the fire of great guns."

While upon the face of things it may appear that a sailor has little use for the rifle, yet outside of the actual value of such skill as a military accomplishment the records of the navy show that ability to use
the small arm always makes the possessor better able to direct effective
fire from the big guns aboard ship.

LAW MAY INTERFERE WITH OPENING BIDS FOR FIGHT

New York, Nov. 27.—Indications
today were that the law would prevent the proposed gathering in Mad-opened.

Police Commissioner Baker gave it
as his opinion that such a gathering
would be in violation of the law and
that the police would be forced to
prevent its taking place. The commissioner held that the New York

NINE TRUE BILLS RETURNED IN LAS VEGAS

CHARGE OF ARSON IS SUSTAINED BY JURY

Territorial District Court Busy With Various Criminal Cases in the Meadow City.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 21.—The territorial grand jury spent another busy day and returned nine indictments. The petit jury, after being out all night, returned a sealed verdict of guilty this morning against Julio Chavez, charged with burning a warehouse at Chippell belonging to Albino Salazar.

In the case of the territory versus Lou Giese charged with embezzlement of $100 of the east side fire department funds while the treasurer of that organization and indicted by the grand jury, the trial began this afternoon.

Isidro Jaramilla, charged with having forged a check bearing the name of Solomon Luna, pleaded not guilty. His trial is set for Monday.

Mrs. Virginia De Teitelbaum was brought before the court under a writ of attachment charged with contempt of court in disregarding a summons to appear before the grand jury.

Joaquin Labrado and Gerónimo Aracata, who have been in the county jail the past month awaiting trial for breaking the seal of a Santa Fe car, were arraigned yesterday afternoon. The men were found guilty and sentenced to one year in the penitentiary, but Judge Mills remitted the sentence on the ground that while the men did break the seal on the car, they evidenced no attempt at theft but were merely trying to secure a ride. Both are natives of Old Mexico and not familiar with the laws of this country. On request of the authorities fifty Mexican men and women have been returned to Mexico.

Julio Montano and Pannilo Medina, charged with receiving stolen property and having in their possession a saddle belonging to Alfred Kroening, have been indicted. Medina was also indicted for stealing a horse belonging to Pannilo Jones and Montano for receiving stolen property belonging to Dr. R. D. Lester of Wagon Mound.

At a called meeting of the board of education held last night at the city hall a resolution was offered by John A. Ross providing that the public schools should not reopen Monday, as the local condition regarding diseases was such as to make it unwise to open the schools at this time. The resolution was adopted.

AFTER DATA FOR ANNUAL REPORT

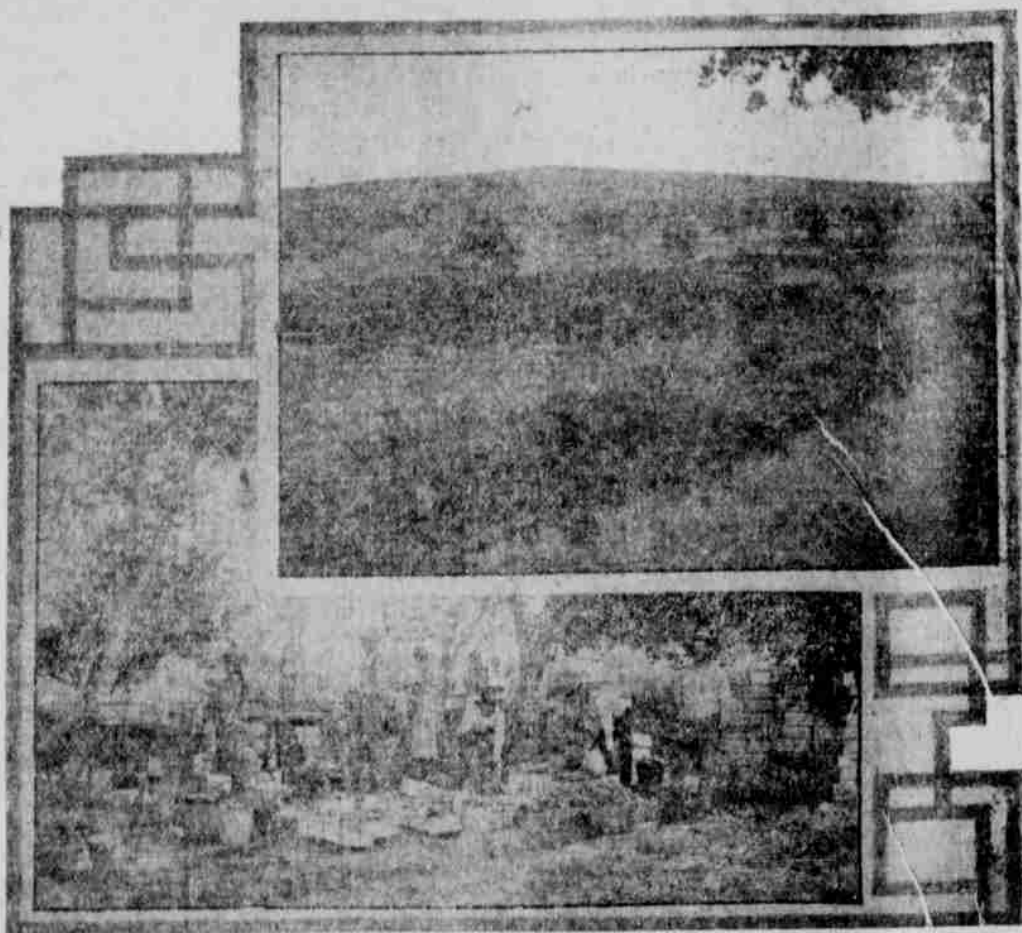

Territorial School Superintendent Completing Manuscript of Yearly Statement of Educational Progress.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—Seeking complete data for the annual report on the public schools, Territorial Superintendent Clark has sent out the following circular to county superintendents:

We are completing the manuscript for the annual report of the public schools of the territory for the year 1909-1910. I would like to publish in this report a brief statement and description of one phase of the material prepared by each county superintendent and touching upon the following points in particular: The actual condition of the rural schools in the county; their difficulties; their obstacles; their needs; the definite plan of the county superintendent for improvement of the same.

Please call upon the various teachers of your county for an accurate report of the school number of children attending in each of the eight grades used in the public schools that is, the number of boys and girls reading in the first reader, the number in the second reader, etc. Make this a true report for the schools of your county in session during the present fall. I plan to summarize the reports of the county superintendents, touching the point of grading of the children and to print it under the following head: "Results of children of rural schools (excluding all schools of four or more teachers). Enclosure, 10c." Please make your report correct and file same in this office on or before December 21, 1909.

Actual results of irrigation in great northwestern empire of San Juan county, N. M.

Homes For Hundreds Made by Great Projects in the Home of Big Red Apple

First of December Will See Water Turned Into Citizen's Ditch by Which Waters of the San Juan River Will Irrigate Eight Thousand Acres; Hundreds of Acres Will Be Planted in Apples, Alfalfa and Grain in the Coming Spring.

[Special Correspondence to the Morning Journal] Artes, N. M., Nov. 20.—The first ditch will be water turned in the citizen's ditch for the first time. This ditch is 22 miles long and covers an area of 8,000 acres of land on the San Juan river. It heads above Blando and ends several miles below the Salinas mesa. Its successful completion is due to the efforts of the land holders under it. Headed by C. E. Grover, W. G. McClure, F. W. Townsend, J. M. Thomas, C. N. Hare and many others, bonds were issued and sold to Chicago capitalists for building the ditch. Several hundred acres of wheat, alfalfa and grain will be put in, which will be welcome. San Juan farmers have been looking up so much alfalfa land and planting alfalfa that there is a great scarcity of hay and grain as well.

Engineers C. E. Grover and J. M. Thomas, crossing the ditch at the first water turn under the canal, which was organized last spring, and located the west side of the Artes river from Artes. Thence the first ditch organized under the irrigation district has passed by the San Juan river, and the preliminary work that the ditch is feasible and water that can be used will cover some 2,000 acres.

Thousands of hundreds of new homes will be made in San Juan county in the many new irrigation projects, and the time of this county is a fair season with good crops. A great season will be made that a small number of people can live in comfort and success.

Fairview Cowmen Engage in Gun Battle. Jim Taylor and Ike Fitch Scrap It Out With Revolvers on Thanksgiving Day.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Hillsboro, N. M., Nov. 21.—Word was received here today of a Thanksgiving day gun fight at Fairview, sixty miles north of here in Sierra county, in which Jim Taylor and Isaac Fitch, two well known cattlemen, shot each other, both inflicting fatal wounds. Details of the affair are lacking, but it is thought that the fight resulted from a dispute over some matter connected with the cattle business. Both men have the reputation of being quick on the draw and it is presumed that they went after their guns simultaneously, neither one getting the drop on the other.

CANNOT TAX ARMORIES USED BY BOARD OF CONTROL FOR PROFIT

In reply to a request from the secretary of the board of control of the Silver City national guard armory, Attorney General Clancy of this city has handed down the following interesting opinion:

Albuquerque, Nov. 24, 1909. Major S. A. Milliken, Secretary Silver City Armory Board of Control, Silver City, N. M. Dear sir: I have to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 20th inst., in which you inform me that in order to meet the expenses of furnishing, heating, lighting, etc., the board of control of the Silver City armory decided to rent the hall for various purposes to which it is suited, and to give occasionally a ball or other form of popular amusement for which an admission fee can be charged, but that it has been notified that it will not be allowed to do so except upon taking out a license and paying a special tax as for a place of amusement. I note also the fact that you further say, in the letter, that all funds obtained from the use of the armory building are applied to the expense of its equipment and maintenance.

I assume that the license and special tax required must be under the requirement of section 4146 of the compiled laws of 1897. I am of opinion that the board of control and the property under its charge, are not subject to any such tax under the circumstances and conditions stated in your letter. As a general rule property of the government is not subject to taxation, even when there is no statute exempting it, but there is a specific statute in this territory, so much of which as needs to be considered in this connection is as follows: "The following property and no other, shall be exempt from taxation: Property of the United States and of this territory, counties, cities, towns, and other municipal corporations, when devoted entirely to public use and not held for pecuniary profit."

Where all funds obtained from the use of the armory are applied to public purposes connected therewith, I believe that it cannot be said in any proper sense of the term that the armory is held for pecuniary profit. I have known of cases in New Mexico where county commissioners have rented the courthouse for such purposes, the proceeds going into the county treasury, and I have never heard it suggested that, therefore, the county ought to pay a tax. The territory is the owner of large quantities of land donated by congress, a great deal of which is leased, and the money paid for rental is devoted to the public uses for which the donations of land were made. These lands are held for pecuniary profit quite as much as your armory, if used as stated in your letter, and yet the suggestion that such lands should be taxed would not find any support from any one. The board of control of the armory is a mere agency of the territorial government and cannot be subjected to taxation any more than the territory itself.

It is to be admitted that in some jurisdictions in the United States, there may be found decisions of the courts not entirely in harmony with my opinion, but so far as they are well-founded, I believe that investigation will show that they are based upon local constitutional provisions unlike any which are in force in New Mexico. If the armory should be used for the purpose of gain, which would not be applied to the legitimate expenses of the board of control, a different question would be presented. If, for instance, the board of control should undertake to lease the building to any person for use as a place of amusement, so that he would hold it as a means of pecuniary profit to himself, by attempting to make more out of it than he would have to pay to the board of control, then that person might be subjected to the occupation tax prescribed in the compiled laws.

Yours very truly,
FRANK W. CLANCY,
Attorney General.

GO TO NEW MEXICO YOUNG MAN SAYS SOLOMON LUNA

COMMITTEEMAN HOPES WE'LL BE ADMITTED

He Doesn't Know Where Jeremiah Will Stand; Forest Service Man Relapses Into Newspaper Business.

Morning Journal Bureau, 613 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.

New Mexico is going to make a strong bid for statehood at the coming session on congress, and Republican National Committeeman Solomon Luna, who was in Washington to confer with the president, thinks that the territory and also Arizona will win the fight.

Neither New Mexico nor Arizona will maintain a strong lobby as was the case in the last congress, when, it was said, the chances of the two territories were largely prejudiced on that account. President Taft has promised to recommend the granting of statehood in his message to congress.

"The president is favorable to statehood," said Mr. Luna. "He promised the people of New Mexico in a speech at Albuquerque that he would recommend statehood and work for it, and we are depending largely upon that promise for success."

"I don't know what attitude Senator Beveridge will assume when the statehood question comes up, but I hope it will be more favorable than heretofore."

"We believe that New Mexico is fit for statehood at this time. The population of our territory is upward of 400,000, and there is no state in the Union that is spending more money for education than is the territory of New Mexico. We have four large higher educational institutions—the Territorial University at Albuquerque; a military institute at Roswell; a School of Mines at Socorro, and an Agricultural College at Mesilla Park besides three normal schools in other parts of the territory."

"All of these institutions are filled to their capacity, and we shall have to enlarge them to make room for those who are waiting to enter. "There is no better place in this country for young men to go. New Mexico has many undeveloped resources, and so soon as we get the capital and statehood New Mexico will be one of the great sections of this country."

Willis G. Brown of this city, connected with the government forest service, has purchased a weekly newspaper in Raton, N. Mex., for which place he and his family will soon depart. Mr. Brown anticipates making a daily of his paper in the near future. He was formerly connected with the government printing office, but recently transferred to the forestry service.

Postmasters commissioned: George W. Kemper at Ford, N. Mex.; Carl Case at Judson, N. Mex.; James E. Ratson at Enders, N. Mex.; Isaac N. Woodman at Vinton, Taos county, N. Mex.; Charles C. Manning at Fort Defiance, Ariz.; William H. Welch at Goldroad, Ariz.

Cooley of Alamogordo, will go to town to appear for the prosecution in the case of Deputy Sheriff Charles White, charged with the fatal shooting of Pedro Aguilar during a drunken row in Aguilar's saloon at Tularosa Saturday night a week ago. There is said to be considerable local feeling in the matter over there and it is accordingly deemed best to have the attorney general present at the trial.

IRRIGATION SHOW A GOOD ONE SAYS R. E. WILSON

Santa Fe Industrial Agent Writes Governor Curry New Mexico's Showing Has Some Class To It.

[Special Dispatch to the Morning Journal] Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 21.—That the New Mexico exhibit at the Chicago Land and Irrigation Exposition is at the United States Land and Irrigation exposition made by Santa Fe industrial agent R. E. Wilson in a letter received by Governor Curry as follows:

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 24, 1909. My Dear Governor: I suppose Mr. Henning has written you concerning the exhibit by the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration concerning his exhibit. It is one of the best exhibits held in this city. I want to add a few words to any reports you may have so far received. The exhibit made by Santa Fe industrial agent R. E. Wilson in a letter received by Governor Curry as follows:

Considering the fact that no effort had been made to get together an exhibit until the first part of October, I think the showing is a remarkable one. The attendance at the exposition far exceeds my expectations, and I don't know of an exposition that has been held in Chicago since the world's fair that has attracted as much serious attention as the United States Land and Irrigation Exposition. It is to be regretted that there was not sufficient money raised to provide more space for the exhibit, and it is also to be regretted that an earlier start was not made, but New Mexico can feel proud of the fact that it has a much more representative exhibit at this exposition, than has many of the wealthier and more populous western commonwealths.

Yours very truly,
R. E. WILSON.

WESTERN RAILROADS BUYING ENGINES BY SCORES

AMERICAN MUSIC COMING INTO ITS OWN

Rock Island and Santa Fe Make Big Additions to Motive Power; Giant Engines Reach Topeka En Route West.

As never before in their history the western railroads are buying new motive power to handle their immense freight and passenger traffic. The Santa Fe, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, Chicago & Alton, Burlington and a number of other western trunk lines, have recently added to their equipment by purchase of from ten to thirty new engines.

One of the new Mallet type of passenger engine purchased by the Santa Fe has reached Topeka where it will be inspected by the motive power officials, and after being fully tested will be sent to the mountain for fast passenger service.

The Santa Fe has also received a few new freight engines which were recently ordered, also of the Mallet type. The freight engines are 112 feet in length and have eight pairs of drive wheels, each of them sixty-three inches in diameter. The freight engine boilers are eighty-four inches in diameter, and, with the tender, weigh 450 tons.

These freight and passenger locomotives, thirty in number, represent an outlay of $1,500,000, the largest equipment purchase ever made by the Santa Fe.

The Burlington road has recently received a number of their new type "monkey motor" engines, a type manufactured only within the past year. The engines are placed on the outside and only two are required where four formerly did the work. The Rock Island has also received a number of engines of this type.

The Missouri Pacific last spring placed an order for twenty freight locomotives, a number of which have been received and are now in use on many portions of the system.

Announcement has just been made of an order placed by the Chicago & Alton for ten new freight engines of the largest size of the Mallet type. These will be delivered in March.

Work has been started by the track gang on the construction of a more convenient and better-fitted off-spring at the Santa Fe yards in San Bernardino for the purpose of unloading commercial oil.

Rumors are now afloat among railroad men that the Tonopah & Tidewater line is shortly to be taken over under the management of the Santa Fe system.

Santa Fe men are much interested in the speculation as to whether this line, the intention of their company, and although local officials are unable to confirm or deny the rumors they state that such a move would not be a surprise to them.

Since the Tonopah & Tidewater was placed in operation it has been the general sentiment that it was practically a Santa Fe line and the traffic agreement between the two roads has been such that they were operated almost as one system. The cars of the Tonopah road have been handled on Santa Fe passenger trains between Ludlow and Los Angeles and the two managements worked harmoniously together on all matters.

Farmington is to have a new hotel. It is to be a two-story brick building with twenty-five guest rooms, a fine office room, a large dining room and toilet and bath rooms. It is to be heated by steam and lighted by electricity. The hotel will be built early next spring and will be one of the best on the western slope.

Candidates for Musical Honors Can Be Recognized Now—3 days Without Having Had a Trip Abroad.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal)
Boston, Nov. 21.—The American trained musician's day is at hand, as just shown specifically at one of the concerts in Sanders theatre of Harvard university, when for the first time in its history the celebrated Boston Symphony orchestra accompanied a soloist who has never studied or played abroad.

The case is typical of the advance of music as a profession in the United States. Up from the South, or out of the region which before the advent of the gold seekers' sixty horse power automobile was "the great American desert" comes the ambitious young man or young woman—in two instances out of three it is a young girl—ambitious to excel Nordica or Samaro, to win fame, to acquire the satisfaction of perfect mastery of a wonderful art. Tradition has marked out the course. The first elements of the calling, it is decided in the family discussion around the evening lamp, shall be acquired in an American city. Here the physical comforts are greater. Here one does not freeze in an unheated attic or risk asphyxiation with a charcoal stove. Here one does not encounter Bohemianism that spells degradation, or the grasping hand ever outstretched for American dollars. Later, it is thought, for the sake of the cachet of European experience and a European reputation, a few lessons will be taken abroad, under the master who happens to be the vogue in Paris or Munich or Milan. Then a debut will be arranged in some provincial town, even at a price which staggers the imagination of the simple minded parents in the distant American community. Thereafter with the dearly bought reputation and experience the young musician will return to enter the competition in the home country, to sing or play so much better than others as to gain the favor of audiences which have become as critical as any in the world.

So many of the great performers now prominent, were trained at first in an American conservatory, later in one of the European centers of musical education.

But today a temptation to complete the educational processes right here assails the aspiring candidate for musical honors. There are opportunities now for graduate study of music in Boston, New York and other cities. Many of the strongest musicians of Germany, Italy and France have accepted positions as teachers in the United States. If money is an object the young man or woman, after laying the foundation of manual proficiency, finds that in a large American city where one has an acquaintance with the musical leaders of the place it is always possible to earn the honest dollar with which to continue the cherished studies. There are chances to sing or perform on the organ at churches, to teach in private schools, to secure social engagements, to play in orchestras at summer resorts. Even the grand operatic chorus is at last opened to native Americans.

With connections of this sort formed, the American student for utilitarian reasons if for no other, decides against the contemplated finishing course in Europe. If the whole process of graduating into professional work can be accomplished pleasantly in charming associations, and without financial strain, in one's own country, why go elsewhere to endure privations and run up debts?

From Petersburg, Virginia, came one of the most notable exponents of this new Americanism in music. Miss Florence Fern Larrabee, who was chosen on November 18, to be the soloist of the second Cambridge Symphony concert, holds, as just indicated, the distinction of being the first American pianist who has not studied abroad to be given the honor of this place of prominence at one of the regular concerts of the most famous of American orchestral organizations. Incidentally it was also significant of the new place of honor which American music has that her special part of the program was the second concert in D minor by Edward MacDowell, the gifted composer whose untimely death interrupted the career of one of the most promising musicians of modern times. American performers now interpret serious works by American composers.

Miss Larrabee's progress has been similar to that of many southerners of artistic temperament who have taken advantage of the facilities for study of music, the fine arts or literature at the ancient Puritan capital, now grown into the foremost center of American higher education. Coming from her Virginia home in 1905 she entered the oldest and greatest American school of professional music, the New England Conservatory, founded in 1852 by Dr. Eben Tappan. For three years she studied with Carl Stanny of the faculty, receiving a diploma as a graduate of the piano-forte department.

Under the tutelage of pianists, made it clear to teachers and friends that their estimates of the Virginia girl's powers were not exaggerated when in December, 1907, he listened to her performance of his Concerto in

A minor, in which she was accompanied by the New England Conservatory's orchestra. The great Polish musician expressed himself as delighted with Miss Larrabee's interpretation of his composition, and at the close he took the copy from which she had played and inscribed upon it these words:

"With congratulations upon a very fine performance of this concerto. J. Paderewski."

Last February Miss Larrabee appeared in an important recital at Jordan hall of the Conservatory building and she was one of the artists who appeared before the members of the Musical Art club at their concert in Potter hall last April.

On the same day that Miss Larrabee played at the Musical Art club concert she gave a private recital in Mr. Stanny's room in the Conservatory building, her audience being Max Fiedler, director of the Boston Symphony orchestra, who, like Paderewski, was much impressed with her capabilities, as has been shown now that she has chosen her as soloist for this second symphony concert.

Miss Larrabee's recent honor is typical of many which have come in the past year or two to advance all of whose education has been carried on in this country. From Nevada came Alice Mabel Stannaway, now of the faculty of the conservatory at the American Athens and one of the foremost singers of the newly inaugurated Boston Opera company. Roscoe Whitehouse, formerly of Lorain, O., for several years regarded as among the most gifted of the young men at the big music school in Boston, has lately been selected to fill the place of dean of the faculty of a Texas college. Harold Cole left the conservatory to fill a position as head of the organ department of an Illinois college, while Henry Snow went from Boston to be supervisor of music in the public schools of Raleigh, N. C. Such instances could, of course, be multiplied almost indefinitely. In this way American music is coming to its own—by successes which are being achieved by young musicians who have not found it necessary to renounce their allegiance to their native land or to assert in interviews and public addresses that art stands no chance in the land of the dollar.

CITY SCHOOLS WILL CLOSE DOORS FOR TWO WEEKS

Pupils and Teachers to Enjoy Lengthy Holiday Vacation This Year, Commencing December 17.

There will be joy in the ranks of the pupils and teachers of Albuquerque city schools today as the result of an announcement made yesterday by the board of education that the schools will close for the Christmas holidays on December 17 and will not resume until January 2.

This generous act was agreed upon at a recent meeting of the school board and Prof. W. D. Sterling, the decision being made public yesterday. The vacation to be given this year is nearly ten days more than was given last year, because of the fact that the schools last year some ten days of the schedule during the irrigation congress last October.

Of the thirty-five teachers in the schools many will go to nearby resorts to spend Christmas and New Year with their friends and others, who live in the southwest will go home for the holidays.

AGED PROSPECTOR CASHES IN WITH FORTUNE IN REACH

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 27.—Just as he was on the point of realizing a fortune from his mining claims which he had held for many years, George W. Guise, an aged prospector, died yesterday morning at the city hall from the effects of a fall into a disused shaft of the Union Mining company in the Winifred district.

Guise has been a miner in the district for many years. He held twelve valuable claims just west and north of the Fortuna properties. He worked those claims practically alone and held to them with the firm conviction that some day they would bring him a second fortune and permit him to retire for the rest of his life. Guise lost every dollar he had in Denver during the panic of '93. He was at that time building a sixty-room apartment house and several other buildings when the crash came. He then took up the claim in the Winifred district. Some time ago he was offered $15,000 for a part of his holdings. He refused this and a just later refused $25,000 in cash. He continued pitting away at his claims till Tuesday when he accidentally fell into an old shaft, breaking both legs, dislocating his shoulder and inflicting injuries from which he died after being brought to Phoenix by wagon, a distance of twenty miles.

Guise had been camping alone and looking after his properties. Tuesday, Superintendent Nichols of the Fortuna, asked Guise to look after his property while he came to Phoenix. Guise moved over to Nichols' camp and found there were no matches. It was just growing dark so he went to the bunk house of the Union where he was supplied with matches and stopped long enough to take supper. He started back in the dark about 8 o'clock. Some time later Tom Treadwell and Walter Hastings of the Old Kentucky mine heard the dogs barking and went out to see what had happened. They were led by the dogs to the mouth of the old shaft and heard Guise groaning at the bottom. They got ladders and timber and found Guise unconscious at the bottom. He had fallen about twenty-five feet. Road Overseer Linville and William Lewis had their lumber wagon at the mine and agreed at once to bring Guise to Phoenix, the nearest point to a physician.

Mr. Hallinger bleated a protest. Then he took the place. Have you noticed how none of these gentlemen ever want an office? How it is only by the "greatest personal sacrifice" they could accept it. How in the end they always take it. And yet there are cynics and folk of sour stomachs who insist that patriotism and a willingness to sacrifice self upon the altar of the common good are dead in the land.

Mr. Ballinger Is Unaffectedly Democratic.

Mr. Ballinger, Snake-Killer, reform mayor of Seattle, became superintendent of the Government Land Office. True to his employment, he did for that land office what St. Patrick did for Ireland. When he got through not a graft-rattle, not a fraud hiss, not a croak anywhere to be heard. The land snakes were gone. With brown and law, besom of dismissal, Snake-Killer Ballinger had swept them out.

Mr. Roosevelt was working as a lawyer never worked to make Mr. Taft his successor. Brother Charles Taft, down in Cincinnati was spending $1,200,000 of his wife's money—inherited from her iron-mongering father, old Dave Sinton—in the same good cause. Mr. Ballinger inspired by so much and such high example, began to get busy along similar lines.

Mr. Ballinger caused himself to be named National Committee-man from his state of Washington. He saw to it that he was sent delegates to the Chicago convention. He maneuvered himself delicately yet sufficiently upon the convention's platform committee. On all occasions and in every corner he was for Taft and Taft alone. Also he showed himself as apt for politics as any Irishman.

To Mr. Ballinger, as debts of politics are counted, Mr. Taft owed much. It was the expected thing that Mr. Ballinger should be invited into the Cabinet.

It was just as expected, that being invited, he would come. He was invited. He did come. He was now to the destruction of the Glavinies and the dismay of the Pinchots. It might be sublimed, too, that he is there to the advantage of the public and the truth in no wise be over-run.

In figure, Mr. Ballinger is wiry, alert, and gives forth a clean-strain impression that belongs only with the thoroughbred. He has a good forehead, a good jaw and a nose and mouth that might be worse. His eyes are brave, bright, honest; his gaze is level and steady. Much of his hair has remained true to him, but in the severity of what service it has seen it could not refrain from turning a discouraged gray. Also when he took his Cabinet oath he sported a disadvantageous mustache which I hope he has since seen cause to lay aside.

Mr. Ballinger, after the western spirit, is unaffectedly democratic. He meets men as one who respects himself, also respects them. He does not wear the manner of one who expects to find his inferior. Still less would he remind you of him who fears he may meet his superior. Never does he pose or seek to transcend his dignity at the humbling expense of another.

He has two tall, slim boys in college. Unlike his father he has beamed up a moderate store of gold. His home in Seattle is what local literateurs call "palatial."

Mr. Ballinger can laugh. There's sanity in mirth. Gloom is to him a kind of unsound mind. He is serious and often the insane. Mr. Ballinger can see a joke and crack a joke. Folk like him; he owns a genius for the popular. In this he has the better of every other of the Cabinet eight.

He has two claims to fame. He wrote "Ballinger on Community Property," and brought Roosevelt, Mr. Roosevelt's famous hurdle horse. It was upon Roosevelt that the late president, now lion-hunter, used to jump down the throat of so many cameramen. The best thing about Mr. Ballinger in Mrs. Ballinger. She has fineness, beauty, education, elevation, sense and as a social pathfinder might well be hailed the feminine ICI Carson. She knows her way through every mountain range of etiquette and is as much at home above society timber-line as she would be in the foothills.

Also she sees to it that Mr. Ballinger, who is not sartorially a fanatic—wears out as many evening clothes as he does garments of the sun-up sort. To know Mrs. Ballinger is to believe in Mr. Ballinger. If it had been for her I'd have had no reason for writing.

SAN MARCIAL FIESTA SUCCESSFUL

Wallace Crawford on Black Hawk Takes First Money in Races; News Notes From the Southern City.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]
San Marcial, N. M., Nov. 26.—The fiesta at old town was a great success and drew large crowds each day. At the races Wednesday, Wallace Crawford on Black Hawk took first prize of $15.

The Thanksgiving ball given at the opera house last night by the Ladies' Altar society was a success, socially and financially. About seventy couples attended. Ed's cafe furnished the supper, which was pronounced one of the nicest spreads of the kind ever served on a similar occasion.

Mrs. Hugh Williams of Denning, Mrs. Gilbert Talbot of Albuquerque, Miss Margaret O'Rear of Paraje attended the ball here last night.

There was a wrestling match at old town Wednesday between Robert Farrington and Ed Anstey. The former guaranteed to throw the latter three times within an hour and made good his promise, the first time requiring but one minute and 30 seconds, the second time 7 minutes and forty seconds, and the third time ten minutes. Farrington is the middle-weight champion of the United States navy and is employed at Ed's cafe. Anstey is a pupil of Frank Gotch and is a bootmaker in the shops.

W. H. Randall, well known throughout this section as the Royal Highlander lodge organizer, spent the past week here with friends.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Graham was baptized at the Catholic church by Rev. Mr. Pelzer Wednesday. The sponsors were an aunt and uncle, Miss Virginia and John Floyd. The child bears the name of John William.

A Santa Fe concert will be here December 4.

Gray Hagan ate Thanksgiving dinner in Albuquerque.

The Episcopal ladies are planning a bazaar and supper for the evening of December 16.

There is to be a boxing match under the auspices of the Athletic association at the opera house, November 30.

Miss Edith Whitmore goes to Albuquerque this week to spend the winter with her cousins, the Elmer Watsons, who recently moved there. Miss Whitmore came from Purcell, Okla., several months ago. She is a composer of no mean ability and upon several occasions has rendered the Standard office valuable assistance.

Parties have leased the opera house for six months beginning December 1, and a moving picture show will be conducted by Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Miller, who have had experience in this work in California. Mr. Miller has been in the employ of the Santa Fe as an engineer and will lay off for the present. The opera house is owned by the San Marcial Improvement company, with J. E. Nichols agent.

SANTA FE STEALS MARCH ON CLOVIS

Quietly Builds New Track at Night to Avoid Threatened Injunction, Which Could Not Issue on Thanksgiving Day.

[Special Correspondence to Morning Journal]

Clovis, N. M., Nov. 26.—To avoid an injunction threatened by interested property owners the Santa Fe Railroad company quietly stole a march on these citizens Wednesday night when they laid a new spur on another street paralleling a present spur. As the following day was Thanksgiving and a legal holiday there was no danger of legal action until the job was done. Hundreds of laborers laid a mile or more of track in twenty hours, grading, ties, steel and all watched by a considerable crowd of interested citizens. The new track is on Curry avenue and its building was opposed by property owners who have holdings on the other track.

CO-OPERATION WITH SANITARY BOARD IS URGED

TUBERCULIN TESTS FOR COWS EXPLAINED

Work Highly Important Both From Standpoint of Public Health and Economy Says Secretary.

Urging the importance of the work of testing dairy cows with tuberculin and asking co-operation from the public the secretary of the Cattle Sanitary Board has sent the Morning Journal a circular explaining the plan, accompanied by a letter as follows:

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 26, 1909.
Albuquerque Morning Journal.

Gentlemen:—In order that the public, which is most concerned shall have a better understanding in regard to the work of the testing of dairy cows with tuberculin, under the direct supervision of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, we herewith hand you a statement explaining the matter, and trust that your interest in the territory at large and the interests of your subscribers will prompt you to call attention to the good which is to be derived from animals and food being in a sanitary condition; the protection from the danger of the spread of tuberculosis, which is already present in our health-seeking population, and will give the same space in your valuable paper.

Yours truly,
E. G. AUSTEN,
Secretary.

The last legislature passed a law known as Council Bill No. 34, which provides for the repression of contagious and infectious diseases among cattle and horses and provides for the extirpation of such diseases and to protect the public health. The Cattle Sanitary Board is charged with the responsibility of enforcing the provisions of this law. The law is an excellent one and properly enforced, will place New Mexico in the front ranks among the states in the progressive movement to protect the public health and insure the sanitary condition of the meat and milk producing animals.

The Cattle Sanitary Board has secured the co-operation of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry in conducting a tuberculin test of the dairy cattle of the territory. The work has been organized and the testing is now being done by competent veterinarians. During the winter all dairy cattle in towns having a population of 500 or more inhabitants, and all dairy cattle from which products are sold in said towns, will be tested for tuberculosis. By next year it is probable that the work will be extended to include all dairy cattle in the territory.

The symptoms of tuberculosis are not sufficiently prominent, except in advanced stages, to enable one to diagnose the disease by physical examination. The cattle must be apparently in good health and yet have tuberculosis in such form that they are capable of spreading the disease. Consequently it is necessary to use some diagnostic agent in locating the disease. For this purpose the tuberculin test is recognized as being the most certain means of diagnosing the disease.

The tuberculin used in making the tests is the sterilized and filtered glycerine extract of pure cultures of tuberculous germs. It is the cooked product of the germs but does not contain any of the germs. It cannot, therefore, produce the disease and is as harmless as so much distilled water. When injected into a healthy animal no results whatever follow, but if the animal has any tuberculosis a decided reaction takes place, and the temperature of the animal rises.

All animals which are found to be tuberculous will be condemned, and destroyed and the owner paid for such animals on a basis provided for in the law.

The work is important both from a standpoint of public health and economy. The agricultural interests are developing rapidly and as the climate conditions are favorable for the breeding and raising of fancy stock, the time is not far distant when this industry will be an important one in this territory. By eradicating the small amount of existing infection and testing all incoming breeding animals it will be a comparatively easy matter to keep the herds free from tuberculosis and thus save heavy losses in the future.

This is a matter in which every inhabitant is interested and the public should fully support and co-operate with the authorities in the work.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. ALBUQUERQUE - - - NEW MEXICO

THE "INSURGENTS" ROUTED.

How easy it is to be mistaken, especially in politics. First read this, from the current number of "Success," a magazine which is one of the chief organs of the "insurgents," who are going to put the regular republican organization out of business, beginning with the utter destruction of "Cannonism," said "Success."

"In spite of all that President Taft says in defense of the regulars, the revolt continues to spread and Cannonism is doomed. Scarcely a day passes now that we do not hear of further disaffection from the ranks of the house oligarchy. Congressman Fowler's attack on Speaker Cannon made a lasting impression upon the public mind. Congressman Herbert Parsons has given the disgraceful details of Cannon's deal with Tammany hall last spring to save the house rules from defeat. From the states where the insurgents grow come the gratifying news that the people propose to defeat the organization men now in congress and to send to the next congress either progressive republicans or democrats, pledged to renounce Cannon and all his works. There is every indication that the movement to which this magazine and its readers gave assistance in its early stages is soon to culminate in sweeping out of power not only Cannon, but his whole crew of obstructionists and corruptionists."

Having looked on that picture, now look on this. Having been told in such positive terms what the insurgents were going to do to Cannonism, how let us see what they are actually doing. A special election was held in the sixth congressional district of Illinois last Tuesday to choose a successor to Ex-congressman Lorimer, who has been promoted to the senate. It was the first chance the insurgents had been given to show their strength. The sixth is a district in which they were thought to be particularly strong. Their candidate, in opposition to the candidate of the regular organization, was supported by every prominent republican paper in Chicago except the Inter-Ocean, which stood alone in defense of "Cannonism." And here is the result, as given in the Chicago papers Wednesday morning:

"William J. Moxley, regular republican, was elected congressman from the sixth district yesterday by a plurality of 6,277. He polled 14,284 votes."

Dr. Carl L. Barnes, independent republican, was second in the race. He polled 8,317 votes.

"Frank E. Ryan, democrat, was third, and came in with 6,414 votes."

"The victor carried every ward in the district. He also carried the country towns."

"His total vote was only 137 less than that of Ryan and Barnes combined. Official returns may place it above their total."

"These, on the surface, are the results of the most remarkable special election that has been held in Chicago for years."

"Under the surface there are results that are more important. They are:

"The vindication of the stand of the republican majority in congress and of President Taft on tariff legislation."

"Repudiation by Illinois voters of the attacks upon Speaker Cannon and the republican party leaders which were made a feature of the sixth district campaign."

"There is not very much in that result in the way of encouragement for the handful of discontents who were going to disrupt the republican party because it stood by the old landmarks, and refused to be governed by their personal wishes. They had expected to crush the regular organization under a veritable landslide of popular indignation, and go up to congress next week with wreaths and laurels of victory all over their heads. But it's all off now. The straw which was to have shown how the wind was setting like a cyclone into the sails of the insurgents, is pointing right at Uncle Joe. The men who were to have been sent to congress to renounce Cannon and all his works have concluded to stay at home, and Uncle Joe can give his cigar an extra tilt."

DO NOT SEEK TROUBLE.

One reason why so many fail, or plod along in mediocrity, says Orison Swift Marden in Success Magazine, is because they see so many obstacles and difficulties. These loom up so threateningly that they lose heart to win. They see so many difficulties that they are in a discouraged condition much of the time, and this mental attitude is fatal to achievement. It is confidence and hope that call out the faculties and multiply their creative, producing power.

The habit of dwelling on difficulties and magnifying them weakens the character and paralyzes the initiative in such a way as to hinder one from ever daring to undertake great things. The man who sees the obstacles more clearly than anything else is not the man to attempt or do any great thing. The man who does things is the man who sees the end and defies the obstacles.

Napoleon did not see the Alps which seemed impassable to his generals; that is, his confidence that he could take his army over these mountains into Italy was so great that the difficulties which seemed overwhelming to others had no power to discourage him.

I have never known a person who magnifies difficulties, who talks a great deal about obstacles, to do great things. It is the man who persists in seeing his ideal, who ignores obstacles, absolutely refuses to see failure, who clings to his confidence in victory, success, that wins out in whatever he undertakes.

OUT OF THE WOODS AT LAST

Congratulations to President Spitz, of the Commercial club, are now in order. He has definitely succeeded, in negotiating a long-time loan, on terms that can be complied with from the present revenues, which will enable him to fund all the mortgage indebtedness of the institution and put the club on a sound financial basis, with the property of the organization in its own name, and not subject to disturbance from any source for generations to come.

The negotiations which Mr. Spitz has been carrying on ever since he assumed the duties of the presidency of the association have at length been concluded, all the terms have been definitely agreed upon, and it only remains now for the formal features of the transaction to be closed up to enable the organization to clear away all of its annoying financial difficulties, and put it on its feet, where it can again become a power for good in the progress and prosperity of Albuquerque.

Negotiations had been pending with the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company, of Los Angeles, for a loan of thirty-five thousand dollars, at a low rate of interest, and to run, practically, for any length of time that the club may desire. Certain minor points had been in controversy, but an official telegram from the company's manager in New Mexico was received yesterday morning stating that the company had conceded all the points of difference, and stood ready to close the deal. This will enable the club to clear off all the obligations on the real estate, and own its own home, in which all club members will thereafter hold an equal interest. There will remain a comparatively small amount of outstanding obligations to be cleared up, but these can be conveniently attended to, and taken care of by the enterprising spirit of our own people.

Special credit for the present happy deliverance of the club from its pressing financial difficulties is due to the energy of the president, Mr. B. Spitz, and to the kindly assistance of Mr. F. R. Schweitzer, the territorial manager of the Pacific Mutual Life, in setting the facts of the case before his company, but particularly to the Pacific Mutual Life company, itself, which for the express purpose of exhibiting its friendly disposition toward Albuquerque, and its desire to lift the Commercial club out of a very embarrassing position, has granted terms more favorable than it generally gives, and for this purpose has declined loans that it might have made on terms more favorable to itself. The exhibition by this company of such a spirit of friendliness to Albuquerque, and in such a practical way, cannot fail to be appreciated by all citizens of the place.

AN ESSAY ON CATS.

The German colonial office announces with all the customary ponderosity of German official documents, that "official cats are to be appointed to all the public buildings in Togoland in which natives congregate, such as schools, hospitals and prisons, in accordance with a decree of the high honorable government of the colony duly issued to that effect."

Togoland is a German possession on the west coast of Africa. It is further announced that the "said high honorable government has been officially advised that the number of cats in coastal towns should be increased, where not now existing, to at least one to each house and three to the larger houses." From all of which it appears that the German colonial office is going systematically and with customary German thoroughness into the promotion of cats in the West African possessions.

And here the Chicago Inter-Ocean breaks in to say that many Americans will be disposed to smile at these official documents, to wonder why the German government thus makes an official animal of the cat, at least in Togoland, and to surmise that the colonial office in Berlin may soon have some troubles with the familiar American "cat joke." They may have visions of the colonial office stormed by increasing legions of small boys with cats, demanding ten pennings or so per cat, as per advertisement in the newspapers.

However, the intentions of the colonial office are good and the method it has adopted to ward off the bubonic plague from the West African possessions is of proved efficiency. Rats spread bubonic plague, and cats kill the rats, and so prevent them from spreading the plague. In fact, the problem of preventing the introduction of the plague, and of suppressing it when it has appeared, is largely a problem of suppressing the rats.

Three or four years ago an English physician and public health officer in India, who had had a very hard time in trying to stamp out the plague in certain villages, applied his mother wit as well as his scientific knowledge to the problem. He discovered that these villages had plenty of rats and no cats at all. Their inhabitants were mainly of certain castes which regard the cat, especially of the Mary Jane variety, as an unclean animal which to have about at all is a religious pollution.

Yet, when all is said and done, no sort of rat trap is so automatic, continuously operating, and so independent of human attention as the cat. Later the same physician reported that he had, after much argument, been able so far to overcome the religious scruples of these "mild Hindoo" villagers as to induce them to entertain Thomas cats, and that favorable results were expected. He also hinted that contributions of Thomas cats would be acceptable.

Since then the public health authorities of the various Asiatic towns under European control are coming to give more attention to the cat and less to "serums" and "antitoxins" in their struggles with the plague. Hong Kong now has an ordinance providing for the maintenance of at least one cat to every dwelling house, with three or more cats to each warehouse or other large building.

Thus made an official animal by formal action of the German and British governments, the "household, necessary cat" of our ancestors, despite the anathemas heaped upon it by our health experts a few years ago, is coming back into its own.

MR. RIPLEY ON THE RAILWAYS.

At the recent annual banquet, in New York, of the American Railway Business association, Mr. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe, expressed at some length his opinion as to the relations existing between the railways of the country and the people, and the extent to which the general government may properly go in the regulation and control of the roads, with a view to protecting the interests of the public. There was a time, he said, when a railway president might say with impunity, "the public be damned," but that time he declared had long since passed, and continuing he said:

"In this country the people rule—and in the long run that system, that method, or that personality that does not meet the approbation of the public can not succeed. Acknowledging as we must that the public is all powerful, the question is, how may we satisfy our masters and thus mitigate our woes and preserve our properties?"

First—We must realize, as I think we all do (after a series of very hard knocks), that the railroads are not strictly private property, but subject to regulation by the public through its regularly constituted authorities—that the government may reduce our earnings and increase our expense has been sufficiently proved.

"Second—To meet this situation we must endeavor to get into touch with public opinion. Perhaps you will smile when I say that for years I have read every article on railroad matters in each of the papers published along our ten thousand miles of road—not an easy task for a busy man—but while I have waded through much chaff I am sure it has resulted in some returns."

"Third—The avoidance of action seriously counter to public opinion except for compelling reasons."

"Fourth—The disposition to explain these reasons through officers and employees of all grades. Generally the loudest criticisms come from those who are not anxious to know the truth."

"Fifth—Efforts to improve in service in many cases without hope of reward and for the deliberate purpose of winning public approval, such as better stations, improved heating and lighting devices, better equipment, better terminal facilities, repainting of grades, etc.—all with due regard for the rights of those whose money we are expending."

Lately, back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by inflammation of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all druggists.

COUNSEL PROPOUND
HYPOTHETICAL
QUESTIONS

Attorneys in Torres Murder Case Query Physicians as to Whether or Not Plaintiff Was Insane.

Hypothetical questions, propounded by attorneys for both the prosecution and defense, occupied a large part of the day in the district court yesterday in the case of the territory versus Leopoldo Torres, charged with the murder of Louis Benfield, who it is alleged was poisoned to death with a stove damper in the city jail on April 5 last. The case for the territory was completed at 4:30 o'clock and the work of presenting the defense was begun, an adjournment being taken at 5 o'clock until 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

The territory used three witnesses in an effort to prove that Torres is of sound mind, evidently anticipating the insanity plea to be made for Torres.

Dr. J. F. Pearce, city physician; Dr. C. A. Frank, county physician, and Dr. De La Verne, all of whom stated that they had more or less experience in insanity cases, rendered testimony regarding examinations made by them on Torres on different occasions during the several months he has been held in jail awaiting trial. All three medical men stated that it was their opinion that Torres was sane.

On cross examination by Attorney M. U. Vigil, counsel for the defendant, the physicians admitted that they were not experts on mental diseases and would not presume to render an expert opinion as to the sanity or insanity of a patient.

Asked as to whether or not a man would be sane or insane who would jump through a plate glass window without any apparent motive, Dr. Pearce declared that it was his opinion that such an act could be committed by a sane man. Dr. Pearce, however, gave a conflicting answer and stated that he believed such a man would be insane at the time he did the act.

Torres, it will be remembered, created a sensation on the Sunday before his arrest by hurling himself head first through a plate glass window in a North Third street saloon, receiving severe lacerations as the result of his feat.

Dr. Pearce, who dressed the man's wounds, declared that the man was intoxicated at the time he was jumping up the eels caused by Torres' collision with the glass.

When adjournment was taken at 5 o'clock Dr. Pearce was the only witness who had been examined for the defense, he being called as a witness for the defense after completing his testimony for the territory.

A number of witnesses remain to be placed on the stand for the defense and it is expected that the case will not go to the jury before Monday night.

WAS MISSIONARY TO THE CUBANS

Death of Mrs. W. A. Nicholas Removes Woman Prominent in Religious and Philanthropic Activity.

Mrs. Demina Mitchell Nicholas, aged 37 years, wife of Rev. W. A. Nicholas, field worker for the New Mexico Children's Home society, died at St. Joseph's hospital at 3:15 o'clock Saturday morning as the result of a five week's illness with blood poisoning, during which she suffered severely. The trouble started with a trifling scratch on the hand which later developed into the malady which the most skilled medical attendance was powerless to conquer.

The remains will lie in state to be viewed by friends this morning at Strong's chapel. The funeral will be held at 1:45 p. m., at the Baptist church in the Highlands, the Rev. John A. Shaw, pastor, officiating. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union members and the directors of the Young Woman's Christian Association will attend the services in a body. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

The death of Mrs. Nicholas is deeply felt among the many friends who learned to love and respect her during her comparatively short residence in this city.

After leaving West Virginia, where Mr. Nicholas was engaged in church work for many years, Mrs. Nicholas went with her husband as a missionary to Cuba, where she was extremely successful in the work and where two children were born. Mr. Nicholas found it necessary to come to the southwest for his health and was for three years pastor of the Baptist church in Silver City, where he came to Albuquerque over three years ago to engage in the work of the Children's Home society, always with the invaluable assistance of his wife. Mrs. Nicholas entered actively into the work she loved in this city and was a most useful member of the W. C. T. U., being also a director of the newly organized Y. W. C. A. and instrumental in starting it so successfully in this city. She was a singer of unusual gifts and her voice was heard frequently at the Baptist church and on various public occasions elsewhere. She was a woman of singularly attractive personality and strength of character and will be greatly missed. Six children are left motherless: Vida, the oldest, aged seventeen; Alice, Carl, Fern, George, and Alida. Besides the bereaved husband the deceased is also survived by four brothers living in the east. Mrs. Nicholas was married just eighteen years and one month ago. The family home in this city is at present at 214 South High street.

The pall bearers will be: L. O. Anderson, J. M. Sadler, J. A. Hammond, J. A. Maser, William Whitwell and A. Holmboe.

ATTENTION WHITE RIBBONERS.

All members of the W. C. T. U. will assemble at the entrance of the Baptist church this afternoon at 1:45 to attend the funeral services of our sister Demina Nicholas. By order of the president, Dr. M. Cartwright.

LAP DESKS

Have you ever considered what a convenient thing is a Lap Desk? When you have started to write a letter did you ever have to turn every thing upside down in the house for the paper; then, if you can, find the ink; next, get out a search warrant for penholder and pens; and then, lo and behold, that lot of stamps you bought not long ago is stuck away in something, but no telling where. In a lap desk the whole business is kept right together in a compact, neat leather desk that you can chuck in your trunk or suit case, and take with you if you have to migrate. Then there is another advantage, you can easily move it to any place you wish without inconvenience.

When you are racking your brains about what to select this year for that friend, just settle the matter and get a Lap Desk. What could be more appreciated? We have them from $1.25 to $5.00.

STAMPS MAY BE PRINTED ON COLORS

Postmaster General Considering Novel Plan to Prevent Confusion for Public and the Postal Service.

Morning Journal Bureau, 612 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.

Because of the confusion often experienced by the public and the postal service on account of the printing of postage stamps of different denominations in like colors, Postmaster General Hitchcock is considering the advisability of printing some of the stamps on colored paper.

The difficulty heretofore experienced has been due to the lack of sufficient strongly contrasting colors for so many denominations. This has made it necessary to use inks of different shades of the same colors. The result is that the 1-cent green stamp is confused with the 8-cent olive, the 2-cent purple with the 5-cent lavender, the 5-cent dark blue with the 15-cent light blue, and the 6-cent orange with the 10-cent yellow. It is believed the use of colored paper will make the stamps readily distinguishable under artificial as well as natural light.

In pursuance of this scheme the 10-cent stamp will be printed experimentally in a rich brown ink on yellow paper. The effect is very pleasing, and the postmaster general considered this in selecting the combination, although his principal object was to make it easy to determine the denomination of the stamp at a glance.

The new 10-cent stamp will be placed on sale as soon as a supply of yellow paper bearing the usual watermark can be manufactured and the stamps printed. If the experiment proves successful it will be extended to other stamps of the higher denominations.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has ordered that placards be posted in all United States postoffices calling the public attention to the parcels post service to foreign countries. During the past few months parcels post conventions have been entered into by this country with practically every civilized nation of the world.

The postmaster general has signed a fraud order depriving the Erie Manufacturing company, 5645 West Lake street, Chicago, further use of the mails. Under this name E. F. Hansell has been engaged in a scheme for obtaining money through the mails by means of false and fraudulent pretenses in disposing of a line of cheap jewelry.

On investigation the inspector learned that Hansell had been engaged for several years in selling the trashiest kind of alleged jewelry, exclusively through the mails. He advertised to give "free" a solid gold-plated watch, equal in appearance to a $25 gold watch, to boys and girls or any one selling twenty pieces of his handsome jewelry at 10 cents each. When the addressee sent in name, jewelry was to be sent postpaid and when sold the $2 was to be sent to Hansell and the free gold watch would be forwarded.

For some time complaints have been received at the postoffice department from parties having fallen into the clutches of Hansell by remitting their $2 and who were unable to get the promised watch, and from some having sent the $2, who were subsequently annoyed by receipt of dunning and threatening letters, intimating that they were withholding the money to defraud the Erie company.

Among the more recent complaints, one reached the department from the British ambassador at Washington, in which it was stated that an English schoolboy in New Jersey had received unsolicited a package of this alleged jewelry and had at once returned it to the Erie company. Nevertheless the lad continued to receive threatening duns, until finally, in boyish desperation, he attempted suicide, and by the merest chance he was prevented from accomplishing it.

It has been disclosed by the inspector that the trash sold by Hansell as jewelry is manufactured at Providence, R. I., and costs him $1 for 144 pieces. The twenty pieces, for which he receives $2, costs him with the 2 cents postage, when mailed to the party who sells it for him, about 16 cents, while the gold watches which he offered and only occasionally sent as premiums, cost 40 cents apiece.

Hansell admitted these figures were correct, showing conclusively the mendacity of his statements when disposing of his goods to the public. The postmaster at Chicago has reported that the Erie Manufacturing company received on an average of 1284 pieces of mail a day.

Census Director Durand has received from Assistant Director William F. Willoughby the general schedule for the census of agriculture, April 15th next, which Mr. Willoughby, in conjunction with Prof. Le Grand Poirer, chief statistician for agriculture, and the advisory board of farm economists and other agricultural experts has been formulating during the summer.

Director Durand has approved the form and subdivision of the inquiries and has ordered nine million copies of the schedule to be printed by the government printing office in readiness before January 1st, although they will not be placed in the hands of the 45,000 farm enumerators until the usual time before the enumeration date. It is believed there are nearly seven million separate farms in the United States, each requiring a separate schedule.

The schedule is printed on both sides of a single sheet, 12 inches long and 16 inches wide, of white erasing paper, 26 by 32 inches. There is a three-inch wide column of instructions to enumerators on both left sides of the sheet so that it can be cut off after the filled-in schedule has been returned to the Census bureau. This makes the schedule smaller in size and better adapted for handling in tabulation than previous schedules. A separate book of instructions to enumerators supplements the schedule information.

The nine million copies will contain 4,500 reams of paper, which, counting 52 pounds to the ream, will make a weight of 234,000 pounds. The charge for printing, including the cost of paper, will be $12,550. The schedule is so standardized that it will feed on the perfecting press used at the government printing office, which makes 9,000 revolutions per hour and a product of 35,000 per hour, as against the old flat-bed process used on the 1900 schedules with a speed of from 1,200 to 1,500 revolutions per hour. It will take about three weeks to print them with the press running sixteen hours a day.

BIG WATERWAYS MEETING HELD NEXT MONTH

Sixth Annual Convention of National Rivers and Harbor Congress Will be of Great Importance.

Morning Journal Bureau, 612 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., Nov. 27.

The Atlantic Deep Waterways convention, which closed its sessions at Norfolk, Va., on Saturday the 29th instant, marks for this year the end of waterway conventions that have for their purpose the advocacy of a particular waterway project.

These conventions, beginning in September on the Pacific coast, have been during the past three months in practically every important section of the country and on December 8, 9 and 10 the special advocates of different waterway improvement projects will assemble at Washington, at the Sixth Annual Convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, to advocate in contradistinction of what the local conventions have been held for, a waterway policy and not a waterway project.

At this convention there will come together representatives from all sections who will argue for the time being every local project and nothing will demand of the federal lawmakers that a waterway policy be enacted and put into effect which they know will in turn benefit their particular project as they can demonstrate the worth of same.

President Taft who addressed the Norfolk convention has attended three different waterway conventions in the past forty days and his utterance on the subject of waterway improvement has shown a depth of understanding and study of the subject possessed, if at all but few men in public life. At Corpus Christi, Texas, he characterized tersely the past dealing by congress with river and harbor improvements, "as a procession of jerks." At New Orleans he plainly stated that the worth of any particular river or harbor improvement, no matter how strongly advocated, must first be carefully examined by a board of United States engineers and by them favorably reported upon before the government can be expected to begin work thereon.

In this statement he assumed the exact position of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, for in its advocacy of improved waterways and the adoption of a policy that would provide the funds for same, it has always held that every waterway project should be endorsed by the engineers and accepted by the United States congress before it could participate in the benefits of the policy advocated.

During the past five years there has been a wonderful awakening of public sentiment toward the necessity of improving the natural channels of transportation of the country, for with the growth of population, and the consequent growth of tonnage to be moved, the railroads have proven themselves, under normal conditions, to be entirely inadequate, and the serious freight congestion of three years ago, which practically paralyzed the industries of the nation, seems in the renewed prosperity and activity of the people to be again rapidly approaching.

The waterway sentiment which has been aroused has been done by true friends of the cause who have realized that until there has been adopted and put into effect a general waterway policy, no special projects, no matter how beneficial they may be to special sections of the country, or how strongly advocated by the friends thereof, would move forward to completion any faster in the future than they have in the past, unless the old order was changed.

The National Rivers and Harbors congress has been preaching this doctrine until every section of the Union is now fully aroused to the fact that all special projects must give way to a waterway policy which when put into effect, will be of direct and immediate benefit to every section that has a genuine claim for the improvement of a river, the deepening of a harbor or the building of a connecting canal or channel.

The American company is now working two shifts on the Bonanza group of claims in the Sierra county district. The management of the company reports good progress and that a full car shipment of high grade ore will be sent to the smelter by the first of next month. While work has been only in progress a few days the showing of ore in both the Bonanza and the American is most satisfactory to its present manager, who will prosecute work on the properties as fast as possible. These two properties are considered among the best in camp.

A very pretty ante-nuptial event was the dance given by Miss Grace Borradale in the Woman's club Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Lisa Diekmann and Mr. Thomas Danahy. The dining hall of the club was beautifully decorated in flowers, ferns and red hearts. The table was very elaborately decorated, two huge hearts joined with an immense red satin ribbon, how forming the centerpiece, while dainty heart-shaped place cards marked the place of each guest. Twenty-five couples attended and a delightful evening was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sterling entertained a few of their immediate friends on Thanksgiving evening especially in honor of the new pastor of the First M. E. church and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Otto. The diversions of the evening were guessing games, music and readings. Each guest contributed further to the amusement of the company by performing a "stunt." Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess. The guests present were Rev. and Mrs. Otto, Dr. and Mrs. Blair, Miss Emma Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Keeping, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cartwright, Miss Keeping, Mrs. Broth and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hammond.

Mrs. George Simms entertained a number of friends at the first of a series of informal bridge parties at her home on Kent avenue Friday evening. Mrs. Simms was assisted by her daughter, Miss Mary Simms. A profusion of red roses and ferns formed the decorations and a dainty luncheon was served. The invited guests were: Mrs. J. E. Saint, Mrs. A. A. Keen, Mrs. F. H. Kent, Mrs. Margaret Medler, Mrs. J. L. Brooks, Mrs. Margaret Medler, Mrs. G. L. Brooks, Mrs. T. McLaughlin, Mrs. D. M. Macpherson, Miss Irene Saint, Miss Spaulding and Miss Simms.

Among the many social events in honor of Miss Lisa Diekmann was a delightful 1 o'clock luncheon given by Mrs. Erna Fergusson at her home on West Central avenue Friday. The home was very beautifully decorated in pink carnations and ferns. The luncheon table was especially pretty; three baskets of pink carnations graced the center, while hand inscribed place cards bearing the initials of the bride and groom elect marked each guest's plate. The invited guests were: Mrs. Otto Diekmann, Mrs. Danahy, Mrs. Frank Huning, Mrs. Frank Strong, Miss Eugenia Keleher, Miss Margaret Keleher, Miss Mary Simms, Miss Mildred Fox, Miss Grace Borradale, Miss Catherine Strickler and Miss Beattie Baldridge.

Mrs. Charles White was a charming hostess Friday evening when she entertained a few friends at an informal dinner party in honor of Miss Lisa Diekmann and Mr. Thomas Danahy, whose marriage will occur during the Yule season. The home was very prettily decorated for the occasion, red hearts, flowers and ferns forming the decorations. The dining room was especially pretty, with decorations of red hearts, ribbon and with heart-shaped place cards.

Those who partook of Mrs. White's hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Danahy, Miss Lisa Diekmann, Mr. Thomas Danahy, Miss Grace Borradale and Mr. Thomas Captain.

The Thanksgiving dinner served at 1 o'clock on Thursday at the Young Women's Christian association home was beautiful in appointments, substantial and appropriate in every way to the occasion, some sixty being served, so that it was really a social function and an exceedingly pleasant one at that. The rooms, which were darkened and illumined by candlelight were most effectively treated, the candlesticks being encumbered, carrots and other fall vegetables, while the centerpieces on the tables were

ART DEPARTMENT IS FLOURISHING

Embryo Artists at St. Vincent Advancing Rapidly Under Direction of Expert Instructor

That the art department of St. Vincent academy is prospering this year as never before is indicated by the rapidly increasing membership in the various classes, which are being started from time to time to accommodate both new beginners and those desiring to take a post graduate course in special work.

The art department is under the direction of a skilled teacher who has devoted a life time to the work of canvas and china painting, who besides possessing aptitude and talent for art, has a remarkable capability for teaching and developing talent in others, imparting correct technique, skill and invention.

The classes in the art department have in their ranks many young ladies and women who are availing themselves of the unexcelled opportunity of obtaining expert instruction in this city, the worth of which will compare favorably with that imparted at the art institutes of the large cities.

It is likely that an art exhibit will be made at the academy some time during the winter. Visitors are welcome at the art rooms before and after school hours.

PACIFIC MUTUAL COMES TO AID OF THE CLUB

LOAN NEGOTIATED TO PUT IT ON ITS FEET

Long Step Toward Stronger
Organization; Insurance Company Sees Splendid Investment Field Here.

Negotiations were closed by wire yesterday for a loan of $25,000 by the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company of Los Angeles to the Albuquerque Commercial club, the loan to be practically for as long a time as desired by the club and at a very reasonable rate of interest.

President Spitz of the club has been in communication for some time with F. B. Schwenker, New Mexico manager, with headquarters here, and with the officers of the company in Los Angeles, with the foregoing gratifying result. This long time loan practically places the club on its feet and is a long step toward a bigger, better, stronger commercial organization for this city. The club is enabled to fund the mortgaged indebtedness, take over control of the splendid building in its own name, and in short to take a brand new start.

NEW MEXICO SPLENDID FIELD FOR INVESTMENT

"I am very much pleased indeed that this loan has been successfully negotiated," said Mr. Schwenker yesterday.

"The company not only has a deep interest in the welfare of Albuquerque but believes this is a first class investment of money. The company has built up a splendid business in Albuquerque and New Mexico and believes there is no better field for investment and no better section of the country to boost. In short, the company thinks this is good business and is anxious to further in every way the development of Albuquerque and its tributary district."

"This is only one of a number of investments the company is making in New Mexico and it intends to make a number of additional ones in the near future. The Pacific Mutual has faith in Albuquerque and the territory."

Hope to Win Trophy.

"As an indication of the large business of the company in this section," said Mr. Schwenker, "I received a wire tonight from headquarters that so far we are in the lead in the contest for the challenge cup offered for the most new business written in the months of September, October and November. This contest covers all agencies in the country, and as there are only a few more days left there is every prospect that we shall win the cup, which is a rather high honor. This record in itself makes it easy to see why the company is glad to make investments in Albuquerque."

DESSERTERS FALL INTO HANDS OF THE POLICE

A telegram from the commander at Fort Wingate, received by Chief of Police McMullen shortly before midnight last night, requested that officer to be on the lookout for two cavalrymen who had deserted from the post. An hour or so later Policemen Marquette and O'Grady found the men, Herman Symancy and George Loch, in the railway yards, where they were about to board a freight train. The faithless soldiers were locked up and will be held pending the arrival of an officer from Fort Wingate.

DUGGER BUSY TRYING TO PERSUADE FRIENDS THAT HE ISN'T MARRIED

It is the explanation reason for Jack Dugger the well known young Associated Press operator who presided with considerable éclat Thursday afternoon as best man at the wedding of Miss Carrie Burnett to Mr. Martin in the Highlands. Mr. Dugger was seen in public Thursday evening with a well known young lady, clothed in immaculate evening dress, and both carrying tremendous bouquets of flowers and this gave rise in part to the persistent rumor that he had entered the bonds of wedlock with the bride. The bride at the nuptials referred to.

It has leaked out that, upon the arrival of the minister, the latter mistook the best man and the bridegroom for the nuptial pair and began rehearing them for the ceremony. The rehearsal had preceded to that point where the minister asked the supposed prospective groom to place the ring, which he carried for the real groom, upon the finger of the blushing young lady. The bewildered best man, it is said, managed to become coherent at this critical stage and explained the mistake barely in time. If reports are true, it was a close squeak for Dugger.

ANOTHER POST MAN IS ARRESTED

W. E. Schie Taken Into Custody Upon Request of Denver Chief of Police.

W. E. Schie, associated with Arthur L. Meigs, in soliciting business for the Denver Post, was arrested at noon yesterday by Chief of Police McMullen, as the result of a telegram from Chief Armstrong of Denver, requesting that Schie be taken into custody and held until the arrival of an officer from Colorado.

Meigs was arrested Wednesday night on a charge of embezzlement, preferred, it is understood, by the Denver Post people. An officer is expected to arrive tonight to take the men back to Denver.

Meigs and Schie have employed Attorneys E. W. Dobson and Thomas N. Wikstrom to represent them and an effort was made in the district court yesterday to secure a writ of habeas corpus. The motion for the writ was not argued, however, the court being occupied with other matters.

Mei Summers, tax assessor for Bernalillo county, returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit to Jemez Springs.

National Committeeman Solomon Luna is expected to arrive in the city on his return from Washington tonight on train No. 1.

Harold H. Moore of Los Angeles, traveling passenger agent for the Santa Fe coast line, was an Albuquerque visitor last night. Mr. Moore has spent the past two weeks piloting a party of Canadian business men on a tour of the Pacific coast, the Grand Canyon and other points of interest. He bid farewell to the party at Santa Fe last night.

W. J. Gephord died last night at 6:15 o'clock at his home, No. 117 North Hill street, of consumption. The deceased, who was born and raised in Grand Rapids, Mich., came to Albuquerque about seven years ago from Kalamazoo in quest of better health.

He was a skilled cigar maker by profession and had been employed in Henry Westfield's establishment for several years. He was a member of the Elks' lodge and of the cigar makers' union. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

WOMAN BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY

Old Town Justice Decides That Evidence is Strong Enough to Hold Miss Ortiz for Arson.

Miss Delaida Ruiz de Ortiz against whom a warrant was sworn out by Demetrio Garcia some days ago, charging larceny, was yesterday bound over to the grand jury by Justice of the Peace David Perea, following a preliminary hearing, which covered nearly two days. Counsel for the defendant did not offer any evidence in an attempt to contradict the testimony presented by the prosecution and asked that the case be dismissed. The court overruled the motion, however, deciding that the evidence against the woman was strong enough to warrant holding her over under a $1500 bond. The bond was furnished and Miss Ortiz released from custody. It is alleged that the defendant fired some furniture in the house of Demetrio Garcia in Old Town on November 22 last.

SIMON OFF FOR THE REFORMATORY

Five Juvenile Criminals Leave for Territorial School of Correction at Springer.

Simon Mondragon, his brother Eli and three other lads, Roy Adams, Stuart Wells and Paul Owens, left yesterday morning for Springer, where they will be entered as students at the territorial reform school. The boys were taken to Springer by Sheriff Jesus Romero and two deputies. Simon and Eli are scheduled to remain at the institution for the period of one year. Adams has an indeterminate sentence of from one to two years to serve. Wells has from one to three years and Owens from one to two years to remain at the school. All five lads have given the authorities more or less trouble during the past two years, proving themselves incorrigible.

Young Simon Mondragon, who is scarcely nine years old, has led the police a merry chase, being connected with more than a half dozen burglaries in the business district.

Big Damages for Rancher. Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 27.—A. K. Rothwell has been awarded $117,850 by a jury to cover damages done to his ranch through the filling of the pathfinder reservoir. The verdict is a victory for the reclamation service which went into court because it contended that an award of $192,000 made by a board of appraisers was exorbitant.

The Poor Ticket Agent and His Troubles.

No, children, this is not a convicted criminal behind the bars you see. He is merely a patient, long suffering hard working and ambitious depot agent for a railroad company.

All day long he stays behind the bars. If he did not, people would come in and tell him funny stories, and the railroad does not approve of it.

Once in a while he hears the dear little birds outside, but he does not let get among them, for they are dear and little because they are spring chickens at 88 cents apiece, and the only reason he hears them is because the express company hauls the coops right past his window. He does not greatly enjoy this, because nobody has as yet invented a spring chicken whose natural perfume is like that of roses. Instead, they smell decidedly chickenish as the coops are wheeled past.

Every month he figures on selling passengers about fifteen thousand tickets very nice. He has thousands of different sorts in his great cases and must have a speaking acquaintance with all of them. Just as soon as he learns the

READY FOR CHRISTMAS

Our contention now is, and always has been, that a store's ambition should be to serve the community at large to the best advantage—and, as we ourselves are firm believers in the early shopping movement, we think it is a matter that should be taken seriously by the shoppers of our city—whom we believe are willing to help the merchants and the hard working shop people by shopping early. This with a natural desire to avoid crushes which are so usual a few days before Christmas—also knowing that leisure in purchasing bring better results—these should combine to bring you out early to shop—early in the day—early in the week—early in the season. With us this week will see the opening of the Christmas shopping season. We have already on display a large and splendidly selected stock of holiday goods. We are showing everything practical that can be desired as a gift. You may perhaps think this is rather early to shop for the holidays. We do not, and we feel that our many customers will co-operate with us in this and thus justify our efforts in trying to make your holiday shopping more agreeable. We all know that the bulk of the Christmas shopping is done by the women. We believe then for their own comfort and convenience they will show their appreciation of our efforts to have them shop early, and thus aid materially in making the Christmas season shopping both to themselves and to us a work of pleasure instead of a fatiguing rush and turmoil.

prices of each and every one in the case, the presidents of the great railroad systems get together, or the traffic managers of the passenger departments meet, and bid him forget it in a nice little circular of 345,000 words, which he is expected to memorize by Saturday, the twentieth, because on that date the one-way rate to Jimerotown will be $1.65 instead of $1.66, and a large number of similar changes will take place on or about that day.

His work is very monotonous. It consists largely of selling tickets to people who change their minds after the seventeenth coupon has been filled out and in making reports to all sorts of officials. It becomes so much of a habit, this making of reports, that he makes out one for himself every night.

He occasionally varies the monotony by posting a train on the bulletin board and in telling people that the chalk marks were right when he put them there, and if the train is later it lost time after it passed the last telegraph station.

He makes out a report to the sleeping car people, showing how many little ends the striped marbles have pushed out of the slot, and makes another one to somebody else, showing how many tickets he showed the sleeping car people had been pushed out of the slots by the striped marbles.

He hands out folders, answers questions by phone as to train time and tells anxious inquirers at the window that he doesn't know just the hour the eastern connection will reach Cincinnati, or assures someone that if Aunt Jane didn't come in on that train he doesn't know where she is or why.

Then he sits down to work on his weekly and monthly report to the auditor and his business report to the general passenger agent, not forgetting that the president is to have a copy of it.

And when all the trains are in he sighs with relief and sits down again to make up the daily report from which his remittances are made, and prepares his remittance for the treasurer, showing previous day's sales, locks the safe, wipes his pen, pulls down the window, kicks the cat out and goes forth a free man, only to remember that he wasn't sure he closed the ticket case.

When this is settled he is through and need worry no longer over the day's work. Then he wonders if anybody foisted a bad $5 bill on him, and he wonders if everything in his reports will look as right to the officials as it is.

But you can't have a good job without troubles—Santa Fe Employes' Magazine.

Hark, the Angels Weep!

Unless the receipts of the New York theaters take a decided turn for the better between this writing and the end of December, the managers—or shall I say the backers?—will have little cause for holiday joy.

The plaint this year is not one so easily remedied as when non-attendance is due to poor plays. Although everybody knows that it is difficult enough to find good ones, yet, when the critics and the public unite in proclaiming the play bad, your manager at least knows why he is not doing any business. But when the newspapers and the people who do go enthusiastically declare that the show is a winner of the first water, and the box-office showings fail to match up with the expectations thus awakened, then indeed is the poor manager at his wits' end. And such is, for the most part, the state of things just now prevailing in the opening weeks of the season.

I have in mind at least three new comedies that have received very high endorsements, and that are unquestionably good entertainments, and yet they are not doing anything like a turn-away business. Indeed, as I come to read this in the proof, two have been retired from the boards.

Now, this is not very awkward for the manager—or, again, is it the angel who will suffer?—but also most discouraging for the playwright. Hitherto the latter has felt that all he needed to do was to write a good play and get it produced and wealth would be his almost instant portion. Now he is obliged to face not only the hazard that his play may be condemned on the first hearing, but the prospect that even if it is well received, there will be no occasion to requisition a special policeman to keep ticket-purchasers in line. In fact, I should not be at all surprised if Eugene Walter were to be the last—for the present, at least—of the line of playwrights who amassed a fortune from their art.—Matthew White, Jr., in Munsey's Magazine, for December.

comparing life "at home" with life in Canada. "How much better we do it in the old country!" and so and so forth. The superior workman is apt to look with lofty contempt upon what he calls new fangled tools and, to him, strange methods in use in the workshops. He insists (too frequently at the risk of his job) in humdrum through on an antiquated system, a system to which he has been accustomed in England, and which to his muddy and obsolete brain appears the best.

"The Canadian complaint is that the Englishman will not be taught, that he resents dictation, and if compulsion is the order he is prone to retaliate with a sullen and exasperating automatism."

"This complaint is not confined to the workshops. Out on the wheat fields and cattle ranches of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Englishman's want of adaptability is a byword, while his whimpering and complaining have earned for him the sobriquets of 'English kicker,' 'English disgruntler' and 'English broncho.'"

"The story of the advertisements, 'No English chumps need apply,' is no fairy tale. W. Duffie, the editor of the Manitoba Free Press, who was a member of the Imperial Press Conference, confirmed it to me in Winnipeg. The advertisements appeared in the Free Press, and said Mr. Duffie were caused by the sheer exasperation of the Manitoba farmer with the English laboring emigrant."

Who Shall Expurgate the Bible?

Moreover, who is to undertake the task of expurgation? Shall it be the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty or the Women's Christian Temperance union? Shall we have a hundred expurgations undertaken by a hundred different men? It is obvious that the portions to be excised are not only in the Old Testament but in the New Testament also. Is St. Paul's instruction to "take a little wine" to remain? Is his declaration that "it is better not to marry" to stay? Moreover, should not something be done to reconcile Paul and James by "toning down" one or the other in his description of faith and works? And if we tone them down, who will then believe their words?

Will one expurgate do for all nations? In the United States we should certainly omit the prohibition of marriage with a deceased wife's sister, but this passage seems peculiarly dear to English moralists. Will the proposed pruning suffice for several generations? How often must we expurgate in order to keep our Bible up to date? We are landed in a tangle of absurdities and impossibilities. We do not want a Bible modernized and mitigated, diluted and sterilized. We want it in full rugged virility, with all its unshorn strength, with its brutal rebukes of brutality, and its stout blows at stout-hearted and defiant sin. An expurgated Bible is a lifeless cadaver.—President Faunce in Van Norden Magazine.
